City Fathers Raise Water Rates Monday

Hereford Still Among Lowest

By BOBBY Templeton
Brand News Editor

Following an extensive discussion on the high natural gas rates facing Hereford citizens, the Hereford City Commission Monday night raised water rates here by as much as 30 per cent. The commissioners were gathered in a regular monthly meeting at city hall.

Representatives of Pioneer Natural Gas Co. were present in force to voice opinions differing vastly from those of city fathers, who have been prompted by City Manager Dudley Bayne to discontinue the monthly cost of gas adjustment for local citizens. See related story on this page for the details of that discussion.

BESIDES RAISING WATER costs, the City Commission approved the release of certain units for the current city paving program on streets in the eastern portion of Hereford. Released were residences in units 11, 13, 14, 15 A & B, and 18 A & B.

Residents along the streets are participating in the program which requires them to pay proportionate costs of the paving. The city funds part of the cost. In such a program, all residents on both sides of the streets must agree to participate. Releasing the particular units was a necessary legal step.

The commissioners were told that some homestead owners haven't signed, although they are expected to after they see the other streets being paved. Numerous citizens in Units 16 A & B and 17 A & B haven't signed even though they want it.

Some problems had been experienced in getting payments processed from about five residents for a total cost of about $12,250. Bayne said the city would do what it could to collect the money.

The water rate ordinance was unanimously accepted by all five commissioners after Bayne made a presentation concerning the effect of increased costs. It was increased from the current 30 cents per 1,000 gallons to 40 cents for residents inside the city. It will become effective Oct. 20 and be reflected on the December bills.

THE COST OF HOOKUPS and disconnections was hiked from $1 to $5 to cover the costs of those who don't pay.

The minimum usage level of 2,000 gallons of water a year was not increased in price. About 4,900 customers exist on the minimum level or less for a total consumption of 117,600,000 gallons a year based on an August water rate study.

Bayne said that the minimum usage provision would enable those on limited incomes to maintain current prices while the higher levels "would catch all the big users."

Those using water outside city limits will have to pay 48 cents per 1,000 gallons.

The increase in rates vary from a high of about 30 per cent for those using above 10,000 gallons a year to three per cent for those consuming only about 3,000 gallons a year. Average increases are 14 per cent for those using 10,000 gallons and 24 per cent for those using 25,000 gallons.

The exact rates are figured from $3.40 for a usage of 3,000 gallons to $42.40 for a usage of 100,000 gallons.

THE CITY WILL COLLECT about $72,800 more a year at the 40-cent rate as opposed to only $36,400 at a 35-cent rate. Bayne told commissioners that the 40-cent rate was needed to cover costs of bonds and general increases due to inflation.

Even though prices were increased, Hereford charges less than most Panhandle towns. Compared at a 5,000 gallon level, Hereford will now charge $4.20 while other cities will charge the following rates: Amarillo, $4; Canyon, $4.45; Dalhart, $5.50; Pampa $4.50; and Borger $5.25.

All city commissioners including Emory Brownlow, Stan Fry, Paul Abalos, Frank Barrett, and Mayor Jim Sears were present.

Pioneer Defends Gas Pass-Through To City

After presenting a summary showing that gas rates in Hereford have increased almost 300 per cent from January, 1974, to December, 1975 City Manager Dudley Bayne told city commissioners, "We have a long cold winter coming and I think it (gas prices) will eat us up."

The statement was addressed to about four Pioneer Natural Gas officials who were present for a City Commission meeting Monday night at city hall.

The summary showed that the cost of natural gas has risen from 22.32 cents per thousand cubic feet (MCF) in January of 1974 to 88.88 cents per MCF in December of 1975. Since its inception, the monthly cost of gas adjustment or 100 per cent pass through has enabled Pioneer to charge customers for all increased prices incurred in the field.

Bill Lampe, Pioneer vice president, said that Pioneer is actually only experiencing a 70 per cent pass through and that a problem has existed with the definition of a pass through. Also he claimed that a deficiency is present in Hereford in relation to the fair rate of return the Pioneer is supposed to receive. This was admitted by Bill McMorries, engineering consultant for the city, at a hearing before the city fathers held in February of 1976.

Bayne contested the statement in relation to factors used in figuring the fair rate of return. He challenged the officials concerning Pioneer's alleged receipt of an eight per cent rate of return on its West Texas city system. Lampe and Harry Walden, another Pioneer vice president, immediately said that the company was not receiving near that amount.

When asked how a recommended 65 per cent pass through would affect the company, Lampe said, "we're already deficient here, and a lower rate would honestly hurt us."

The company officials said the pass through is figured as only 70 per cent since a six-week lag period exists from the time the company is out money for gas and the time it is able to bill for it and recoup lost costs. Other factors include franchise and state taxes.

After a lengthy discussion on factors used in the computation of the company's profit, Pioneer agreed to furnish city fathers with the gas division's figures used in its annual statement of condition. These will include such information income, depreciation, net profit, and costs.

Although Pioneer had no formal presentation to make, Lampe said the company plans no curtailments above about five per cent for power plants and about three per cent cutbacks on its overall average annual distribution.

After a question from Mayor Jim Sears, he said that if all the curtailment occurred in January, it could be 60 per cent. "We never have curtailed at the 100 per cent level ... and no more than for a 72-hour period.

Past curtailments in this area have occurred in 1973 for Holly Sugar Inc. for a short period and four times since at 25 per cent levels. Actually, Holly has about 50 per cent curtailment even though 25 per cent curtailments are requested since the sugar beet harvest is a "campaign type" operation.

City commissioner Frank Barrett emphasized, "As it is now, we're not doing our job for the people of Hereford. We're sitting back without checking into it without rate hearings."

He explained that rate hearings make the company bring information to the City Commission and provide proof of operations. With the pass through, the company doesn't have to approach the commission.

Special Blood Bank Drive Slated Here Wednesday

In recognition of World Service Day, Hereford's Noon Lions Club is asking local citizens to make a special effort to give blood donations tomorrow.

The blood-mobile from Coffee Memorial Blood Center at Amarillo will be stationed at Hereford Community Center from 10 a.m.-2 p.m. Wednesday. The special blood bank drive has been organized in hopes of boosting Hereford's "blood credit" as the Coffee Center.

A blood bank official stated today that Hereford's credit level has dropped to a low deposit and donations are needed of fresh blood immediately to raise this sagging account of life fluid.

A local Lions spokesman stated, "You can share your life this week and it won't cost anything except a little time by contributing blood to the blood bank."

Tomorrow's blood campaign is in addition to the monthly drive supported by the Chamber of Commerce Women's Division, which gleaned only 26 pints last month.

The blood bank is a non-profit organization, not affiliated with the Red Cross or any charitable agency. It is supported by the citizens, hospitals and doctors of Amarillo. Blood is available from the bank for anyone in this region upon request of a hospital or qualified physician. The Coffee Center is a member of the National Clearinghouse of Blood Banks. Through this membership, donors may obtain blood in other parts of the country and have donations made to their credit in Amarillo, in case of illness or injury.

Should one need a blood transfusion, a $35 per pint blood bank charge will be placed on the individuals' hospital bill. Then, if blood is donated at the blood bank in that person's name within thirty days, partial credit will be given to defray the blood bank fee on the hospital bill.

Founded in 1950, the Blood Bank is sponsored by the Potter-Randall County Medical Society. The bank is supervised by a Board of Directors appointed by the Medical Society.

Coffee Memorial Blood Center has become noted as one of the outstanding blood banks in the country with the most modern techniques and services. Its laboratories and equipment make possible the latest treatment of blood diseases with the usage of current blood components.

United Way Launches Campaign

The United Way of Deaf Smith County launched its annual campaign drive this morning when volunteer workers met at Civic Club Center to receive packets and information concerning the 1977 budget.

The goal for the 11 participating agencies is $102,274--the largest budget ever adopted by the United Way and the most agencies ever included by the community organization.

Roy Faubion, local insurance agent and civic worker, was guest speaker for the "kickoff breakfast" and he urged volunteers to "sell the ideal of total community involvement" in making their solicitations. The work of all these agencies must be accomplished, stressed Faubion, "and the United Way is the simplest and most efficient way to get the job done."

Practically all the money secured by the United Way stays in Hereford, claimed Faubion, "either directly or through returned services." He added that "it is silly for someone to decline giving because they don't like this agency or that... all the agencies serve worthwhile purposes and their allocations have been checked and approved by local citizens."

LYNTON ALLRED, United Way president, presided at the breakfast meeting. Speedy Nieman, campaign chairman, and Gayle Cotten, treasurer, explained the solicitation procedures and distributed the packets to the division chairmen and workers.

"The budget is much higher this year, but it is a realistic total for the 11 agencies involved, and it is an amount that can be attained through fair-share giving and the payroll deduction plan," Nieman told the workers. "Our per capita giving here has been traditionally low, partially because we've had a small budget and partially because we have no sold employees on becoming involved in their fair share through payroll deduction," the campaign chairman added.

"We can depend on the business community to come up with its fair share again this year, but the success of the drive may well come in signing up individuals to support the United Way with their fair share gifts. The payroll deduction plan is a painless way to accomplish that part of the drive," stated Nieman.

THE CAMPAIGN has five division chairmen this year. They are: Bill Johnson, corporations and wholesale; Marie Griffin and Mary Parker, retail business; Lynn Brisendine, professional; Buddy Peeler, public employees, and Virgil Slentz, agricultural.

Each division chairmen selected captains to help them make the calls in the division, and each captain has signed up workers to call on each firm and institution. Workers will be stressing the payroll deduction plan for employees, asking them to consider a gift of one hour's pay per month as a fair share.

In this manner, for example a worker who earns $3 per hour will be asked to give $36 as his fair share for the 11 agencies. On payroll deduction, this would be just 69 cents a week coming out of his check--a little more than 6 cents a week to each agency.

Two new agencies were added to the United Way this year--the Hereford & Vicinity YMCA and Family Services Center. The budget and admissions committee approved the Y for a funding of $30,000--the largest single allocation in the budget. Allred explained that this was needed because of the overall

Arms Policy Expected

WASHINGTON (AP)--President Ford is expected to announce soon new policies to restrain the spread of nuclear weapons, including international control of spent atomic fuel and sanctions against nations violating anti-weapon safeguards.

Portions of the White House plan parallel suggestions outlined by Democratic presidential nominee Jimmy Carter, especially proposals he made in a speech last month. Carter is calling the Ford plan "a last-minute patched-together attempt to cover-up the failure of Republican leadership."

UAW-Ford Talks Stall

DETROIT (AP)--The United Auto Workers and the Ford Motor Co., after successfully maneuvering through the major issues in a new contract, reportedly have stalled over secondary matters.

Negotiators recessed late Monday night and planned to try again today to reach a settlement that would bring an end to the three-week-old national walkout against Ford.

Announcement of a tentative new accord for 170,000 striking workers in 22 states had been expected Monday, but sources said the secondary issues could not be resolved.

Economic Growth Falls

WASHINGTON (AP)--The government's report later this month on economic growth is expected to show that the U.S. economy grew at a disappointing rate of about 4 per cent in the third quarter of the year.

This is the opinion of economists both in and out of government who are puzzled about why the economy has bogged down after such promising growth earlier this year.

Butz Still Wants To Campaign Despite Resignation Over Slur

WASHINGTON (AP)—Earl L. Butz, having resigned as agriculture secretary because of the furor raised by a racial slur he made against blacks, says he still wants to campaign in the farm belt for President Ford.

Butz, who had tears in his eyes when he announced his resignation Monday at the White House, said he is determined to "continue to work tirelessly" for Ford's election.

White House spokesman Ron Nessen had no comment when asked if Ford intended to accept Butz' offer to campaign. But James A. Baker III, the Ford campaign manager, said he would discuss the idea with Butz.

"Let's face it," Baker said, "a lot of agriculture people out there support him."

A source close to Butz said Butz may be used by the Ford Campaign Committee's Farm Division. "I think you may hear a good deal from him. There will be a lot of platforms that he can take either through the committee or as a private citizen," the source said.

A number of farm spokesmen expressed regret over Butz' departure and said he was not a racist.

Butz had referred to blacks as "coloreds" and used some obscene and derogatory language to describe what he said were the only three things they wanted in life.

His comments, made in a conversation with John Dean and singers Pat Boone and Sonny Bono aboard an airplane in August, were published in Rolling Stone and New Times magazines.

Butz apologized publicly for the remarks, and according to the White House, was severely reprimanded by Ford on Friday. The White House said Ford had not demanded Butz' resignation, and Nessen refused to say what Ford might have done if Butz had tried to remain on.

Ford, in accepting the resignation, told reporters Monday that it "has been one of the saddest decisions of my presidency." Describing Butz as a "close personal friend," Ford said he felt the secretary was "wise enough and courageous enough to recognize that no single individual, no matter how distinguished his past public service, should cast a shadow over the integrity and good will of American government by his comments. For that reason I have accepted the resignation of this decent and good man."

Undersecretary of Agriculture John A. Knebel became acting secretary.

After Butz resigned, Democratic presidential nominee Jimmy Carter said that "the way this whole embarrassing and disgusting episode was handled by President Ford shows a continuation of lack of leadership."

The Pioneer officials noted that rate hearings would increase costs that the company has been trying to save-for customers. "We think we've been doing you a good job."

New Violin Method Tried By Children

The Suzuki String Method was practiced by several youngsters Sunday evening for the congregation of First United Methodist Church.

The innovative method, which stresses the cultivation of artistic appreciation in children, involved youth ranging in age from 3 years old to third grade students.

The group that performed here Sunday evening was accompanied by Mrs. Barton Grooms, who is the daughter-in-law of Dr. Jordan Grooms, local Methodist minister. Mrs. Grooms is an Amarillo teacher of violin and a member of Amarillo Symphony.

The Suzuki Method will be the subject of the lectures and clinics Wednesday and Thursday at West Texas State University. Robert Kendall, a professor at Eastern Illinois University and one of America's well-known exponents on the Suzuki technique, will conduct the WTSU forum.

All lectures and classes are open free to the public.

The String Teaching Method was conceived 30 years ago by Shinichi Suzuki, president of Talent Education Institute in Japan. The method evolved from his observations that a child's learning abilities depended heavily on his environment. From this theory, came a technique Suzuki called "the educational method of the mother tongue," which he applied to violin teaching.

The objective of Talent Education, says Suzuki, is "to cultivate artistic appreciation in a child, not to make a musician out of every child we teach."

Young Virtuosos

Mrs. Barton Grooms of Amarillo brought a sampling of a class of young violinists Sunday evening for a performance for her father-in-law, Dr. Jordan Grooms, and his congregation at First United Methodist Church. Mrs. Grooms is a proponent of the Suzuki String Teaching Method, which emphasizes a child's awareness of the fine arts, regardless of age or ability.

Ann Landers Guest Critized

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I recently attended a bridal shower for my sister. Twenty guests came and every person brought a gift—except one. She is a close relative.

We checked and double-checked each gift and card and couldn't find a thing from this certain person. The woman deliberately came empty-handed, ate dinner and helped herself to numerous glasses of punch.

We were all shocked. My sister was hurt and puzzled. The question is: Should we say something to her? Also, should we invite her to the wedding?—Anxious To Know

DEAR ANXIOUS: Well!!!! Never have I heard of anything so despicable in my entire life. Imagine, coming to shower without a gift! How low can you get? That woman should never be invited to anything again so long as she lives. In fact, now that the Supreme Court has reinstated the death penalty in some states, maybe you can have her electrocuted.

I've received hundreds of letters from women who say they have been invited to as many as four or five showers for the same bride. They view the whole shower scene as a gigantic ripoff, and I must say, your letter lends a great deal of validity to their complaints. Sorry, girls, you rattled the wrong cage.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: My husband and I go with this couple (I'll call them the B's). The fellow is obnoxious. After he's had a few drinks he gets fresh under the table which is the cheapest approach I've ever heard of. I've lifted his hand off my knee at least a dozen times. What I'd like to do is slap his face.

Last night six of us were going out to dinner (the B's included.) When I told my husband I didn't want to sit next to Mr. B I had to explain why. Would you believe he turned the whole thing around and made it MY fault? He says no guy in his right mind would make such passes unless he'd gotten plenty of encouragement.

Could I be initiating this sort of thing without realizing it? Please tell me. I am—Nauseated.

DEAR N.: I doubt it. Drunks don't need encouragement.

When the booze goes on active duty, the judgement goes on furlough.

Your husband's vote of no confidence in understandably shattering. Next time that eight-handed idiot starts playing games, give him a swift kick in the ankle and ask his wife to change places with you. No explanation need be given.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Many thanks for your wonderful answer to "Slipping A Little." It made my day.

I, too, found myself forgetting names and misplacing articles and worrying that maybe I was becoming senile. Your suggestion that the women put things where they belong was excellent. I've tried it and it works.

And thanks too, Ann, for admitting that you too are having trouble remembering things. That made me feel a lot better about myself.—An Admirer From Atlanta.

DEAR AD: You're sweet to write but I can't remember the letter.

Discover how to be date bait without falling hook, hook, line and sinker. Ann Landers' booklet, "Dating Do's and Don'ts," will help you be more poised and sure of yourself on dates. Send 50 cents in coin along with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request to Ann Landers, P.O. Box 1400, Elgin, Ill. 60120.

At Wit's End ...

By ERMA BOMBECK

A parking garage in Kansas City has a little button that you push and an attendant helps you find your car.

I don't know about you, but I haven't been so excited since I saw a sale on black towels.

It's about time. For years, cars have been wandering away from where their owners park them. They don't get far... just enough to drive a motorist crazy.

The "color" system never worked for me. Why would anyone assume that a woman who can't remember what car she drove would remember that she parked it on the "yellow" level, in the "E" section?

There's only one system I know that women use and it's quite ineffective. It's the old association trick. I am parked on the green level in the I section, ergo, my grass is green and we use iron on it keep it that way. Iron begins with an I. Thus, we leave the car I tell the girls, "All we have to remember is that the grass is green because of the iron we knew where we parked the car."

Seven hours later, as we return from shopping, I turn to Eunice and say "What was it I was supposed to remember?" "When?" asks Eunice blankly.

"When I parked the car."

"There was oil leaking underneath."

"No, I'm trying to remember where I parked it... something about color. Something growing."

"It was your son who outgrew his pants."

"Was it living?" asks Diane.

"Yes."

"Is it a movie star?"

"Is it bigger than a bread box?"

"I think so. Wait a minute. I got it! Grass!"

"And what color is your grass?" asked Eunice.

"Brown."

"And how did it get that way?" "Neglect," "It's simple," she said. "We're parked on the brown level in the N section." Kansas City is 1,200 miles from my home...but it'll be worth it to commute.

Aikman PTO To Convene Thursday

Aikman Parent Teacher Organization will convene at 7:30 p.m. Thursday at the elementary school. The Aikman faculty will be introduced and a short business meeting is slated.

The program will be presented by Aikman fourth graders under the direction of Mrs. Johnny Latham and fellow fourth grade teachers.

First Aid Workshop Is Thursday

The public is invited to a first aid workshop to be held at 10 a.m. Thursday in Hereford Community Center. The program is presented free of charge and all citizens are welcome.

John Gilliland, who has received paramedic training will be the featured speaker and will give a demonstration on the basic rules of administering first aid. He will also be available to field questions from the audience.

Refreshments will be served following the program.

Gardners Promote Restive Therapy

The theory of therapy through local design was put into action Friday morning by members of Bud to Blossom Garden Club, who visited Westgate Nursing Home.

Dried flowers and other plant foliage were supplied by the club women for approximately a dozen residents of the nursing home, who "worked with concentration and enthusiasm" on the floral arrangements. The resulting bouquets were used to decorate the home's dining tables and rooms of various residents.

The program was a special interest to a guest, Joan Hoyard of Lubbock, who serves as therapist on the National Council of State Garden Clubs, Inc. The state council representative took photographs of the innovative event and praised the club for initiating such a program on a local basis.

Mrs. Donald Paetzold was welcomed as a new member during the garden club's business meeting.

Nursing home residents who participated in Friday's project were Mmes. Ray Coneway, Lena Minifee, Gladys Lair, Ellen Loyd, Mildred Ramey, Amanda Baca, Jessie Boardman, Ruby Hewitt, Emma Payne, Hazel Cleveland, Mary Seigler, Faye Jung and Myrtle Perry.

Club members in attendance included Mmes. Robert Betzen, Gaylon Bryan, W.H. Gentry, Sam Long, O.T. Mitchell, Jess Robinson, B.W. Sisson, Paetzold and Miss Gladys Setflif.

Females Invited To Football Forum

A women's football clinic is scheduled at 10 a.m. Wednesday in the field house on the south end of Whiteface Stadium. All interested women are invited to attend, free of charge.

Head Coach Fred Upshaw will be the main speaker at the female workshop and will review the basic rules and regulations concerning the gridiron sport. He will demonstrate the usage of football equipment and will explain the safety purpose of each device.

Coach Upshaw will invite his distaff audience to ask questions concerning football. He will also present film excerpts from local high school football clashes.

Theoretically, cheese may be made from the milk of any mammal, from the aardvark or the yak, including the dolphin, most frequently used, of course, is the milk of cows, sheep or goats. The quantity of milk available for cheese becomes an important factor since it takes 10 pounds of milk to produce one pound of cheese.

Queen Victoria is reported to have received a one-half ton Cheddar cheese as a wedding present. That means the cheese started out as 10,000 pounds of milk.

Would you like to have a dessert without making it? Try cheese and fruit. For a different combination, team Blue cheese with honeydew melon or pears.

Dr. Lamb

No such thing as spot reducing

By Lawrence E. Lamb, M.D.

DEAR DR. LAMB — I would like some information on getting rid of fat in certain areas of the body. I read that when you lose weight or fat, you lose it over your entire body. The weight I gain seems to settle in my hips and seat. I'm not overweight, I just need rearranging. How do I get rid of fat in one place and stay the same or not get skinny in the other areas that are just fine?

Also, could you tell me what exercises are good to flatten the derriere?

DEAR READER — I've got news for you. You are overweight. There is no such thing as spot reducing. You have to be on a general weight reduction program to get rid of fat even if you seem skinny in some areas, such as the face.

You have two problems, loss of muscle mass in the face, neck, arms and gain of fat below the chest. The way you go about rearranging yourself is to recognize you have two problems, not just one.

It is a perverse aspect of nature that causes us to lose fat in our face first and last in the abdomen and hips area. A good program is to do exercises to build up muscles in the skinny places and be on an exercise diet program to lose calories and get rid of the unwanted fat deposits.

Do isometric exercises for your face. That means contracting each group of facial muscles that you can identify several times each morning — between three and ten times is enough for each group.

Also do exercises that use your arms and chest muscles. Push-ups, pull-ups and wind-mill exercises are all good. Be sure to use exercises that help pull your shoulders back to maintain good posture for you. These are movements of the arms in a backward fashion as you do if you are swimming the backstroke.

You can help tone up sagging muscles in the abdomen with sit-ups and you can tone up that "derriere" with old fashioned bumps and grinds.

To help you in your rearranging program I am sending you The Health Letter number 3-7, Girth Control: Avoiding The Big Middle.

Bulldogs Make Move In AP Grid Ratings

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON
AP Sports Writer

The Georgia Bulldogs supplanted UCLA as the No. 4 team in The Associated Press college football ratings today, moving up to challenge Michigan, Pitt and Oklahoma, the 1-2-3 clubs for the second week in a row.

Georgia's impressive 21-0 triumph over Alabama booted the losers out of the Top Twenty for the first time since 1970 and shot the Bulldogs from sixth to fourth.

Besides Alabama, Penn State's perennial Eastern champs also were missing from the rankings for the first time since mid-1970 when they were beaten by Kentucky 22-6 for their third consecutive setback. However, the Nittany Lions were back in the rankings by the end of the 1970 season. Alabama was not.

Michigan held down the No. 1 position for the fourth week in a row with a 31-0 triumph over Wake Forest. The Wolverines received 52 first-place votes and 1,182 of a possible 1,200-points from a nationwide panel of 60 sports writers and broadcasters.

Runner-up Pitts, a 44-31 winner over Duke after piling up a 37-7 lead, received three first-place ballots and 992 points. Last week, Michigan led the Panthers, 1,208-972 with 61 panelists voting.

Oklahoma retained third place with three No. 1 votes and 914 points after downing Iowa State 24-10. Then came Georgia with the other two top votes—the first of the season for the Bulldogs—and 870 points.

UCLA slipped from fourth to fifth and Ohio State went from eighth to 10th after the Rose Bowl rivals played to a 10-10 standoff.

Georgia's rise also dropped Nebraska from fifth to sixth. The Cornhuskers had to rally to defeat Miami, Fla., 17-9.

Maryland stayed in seventh place by beating Villanova 20-9 while Kansas climbed from ninth to eighth with a 34-24 victory over Wisconsin.

Rounding out the Top Ten are Missouri, a 24-3 winner over North Carolina, and Ohio State. Missouri was 12th a week ago.

The Second Ten consists of Southern Cal, Florida, Boston College, Notre Dame, Texas Tech, Texas A&M, Arkansas, North Carolina and Louisiana State.

Last week, it was LSU, Missouri, Southern Cal, North Carolina, Boston College, Mississippi, Texas Tech, Notre Dame, Florida and Penn State. Ole Miss fell out following a 10-0 loss to Auburn.

Texas returned to the rankings after a two-week absence while Texas A&M and Arkansas got back in after one-week vacation. Texas trounced Rice 42-15 while A&M downed Illinois 14-7 and Arkansas trimmed Texas Christian 46-14.

The Top Twenty teams in The Associated Press college football poll, with first-place votes in parentheses, season records and total points. Points based on 20-18-16-14-12-10-9-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1.

Switzer Rates Texas Contest A Stalemate

By RON JENKINS
AP Sports Writer

NORMAN, Okla. (AP)—Oklahoma Coach Barry Switzer stopped just short Monday of predicting a 0-0 tie when the Sooners take on Texas in their annual shootout at Dallas.

But Switzer said a scoreless contest might not be that far-fetched, if not for the fact that "we've both got great field goal kickers."

Oklahoma's Uwe von Schamann is healthy for the battle, but Texas' fine punter and placement kicker, Russell Erxleben, was reported on crutches Monday with a bruised shinbone suffered in the Steers' 45-13 clobbering of Rice.

Texas Coach Darrell Royal said he nevertheless expected Erxleben to be "playing and kicking by Saturday."

Switzer, facing sports writers and broadcasters at his weekly press luncheon, said the Sooners and Longhorns have a common problem—inexperience at quarterback. Texas will start walk-on Mike Cordaro, with Ted Constanzo also expected to see action.

Junior Dean Blevins, who saw little backup duty a year ago, leads the Sooner wishbone but has yet to live up to expectations.

If neither team can establish field position and "we both have a long way to go, I think we're both in trouble," said Switzer.

For the first time he has been head coach, Switzer said he will lack confidence when he leads the Sooners down the Cotton Bowl ramp.

He said the last three years he had a measure of confidence because of "who was walking down that ramp with me."

The two-time defending national champions are unbeaten in four games, but they haven't exactly demolished their opposition.

Switzer said it is evident Oklahoma missed the talents of departed seniors Steve Davis, Joe Washington, Tinker Owens and Billy Brooks on offense and the All-American defensive trio of Leroy and Dewey Selmon and Jimbo Elrod.

The Sooners, who had to score twice late in the fourth quarter last week to defeat Iowa State 24-10, have won five straight over the Longhorns, three under Switzer.

Asked if that would be a psychological edge, Switzer said, "If it is, I think it would dwell with them. It's something we'd like to keep going, but... I think our football team will be scared. We've got great respect for Texas and I think they have that for us."

Speed merchant Johnny "Lam" Jones flashed for touchdowns of 45 and 13 yards in Texas' rout of Rice, but Switzer said the biggest problem for his defense will be slowing down "Big Earl," referring to powerful Steers fullback Earl Campbell, and containing wide receiver Alfred Jackson.

"Those two guys will beat you," he said.

He said Jackson was the best split receiver he had seen at Texas, including Cotton Speyrer of a few years back, adding, "Alfred Jackson looks like Brooks and Owens rolled into one."

The play of sophomore linemen Reggie Kinlaw, Richard Murray and Phil Taylor against Iowa State was encouraging, Switzer said. Although the Cyclones were able to have success on offense, Switzer said that was due to part to the Sooners' inability to move the ball on offense.

He said the Cyclone defense gained his respect but added that Oklahoma line didn't block well and there was poor execution of the option play.

Returning to Texas, Switzer said the Steers should have the edge defensively because of experience and size in the line. He singled out Brad Shearer and Earnest Lee and "an exceptional linebacking is that they're all seniors."

Lions To Name A Coach Today

By LARRY PALADINO
AP Sports Writer

PONTIAC, Mich. (AP)—Detroit Lions owner William Clay Ford was to announce today the successor to embattled Coach Rick Forzano, who resigned Monday.

The resignation ended three weeks of speculation that his job was on a win-or-else basis.

Forzano submitted his resignation as head coach and it was accepted by owner William Clay Ford, the National Football League team said in a terse statement late Monday. A club spokesman said Forzano would hold a news conference, then an announcement would be made on his successor.

There was no indication whether Forzano was asked to resign by Ford, who has issued his win-or-else ultimatum. The Lions beat Atlanta then to save Forzano's job—but followed up with a one-point loss to Minnesota and a 24-14 loss to underdog Green Bay last Sunday.

Forzano said his resignation was "strictly voluntary" and had nothing to do with Ford's statement. "I respect Mr. Ford as the owner of the Detroit Lions, as a person, and hope he will always be my friend."

Ford had indicated General Manager Russ Thomas was tied to that ultimatum, but Thomas did not join Forzano in resigning. Said one Lions' player: "I can't imagine Russ Thomas resigning."

Forzano said he first thought about resigning around Wednesday of last week.

"I felt the football team was deserving of a coaching change at this time," Forzano said. "There are problems that I, Rich Forzano, could not correct and felt that maybe they could be corrected if I were no longer coach.

Forzano refused to elaborate on what the problems were.

Sunday's loss to the previously winless packers was the straw that broke Forzano's back. The Lions could have gotten back into the central Division race in the National Conference with a triumph, but instead fell to 1-3. The other losses were to division opponents Chicago, 10-3, and Minnesota, 10-9.

The suddenness of the resignation, plus the announcement that a successor would be named immediately, suggested that someone from the staff—or at least someone familiar with the organization—would replace Forzano, whose teams have wound up with 7-7 records in his two years.

One possibility was Rey Dempsillino an assistant in 1975 who became head coach at Southern Illinois University. The Salukis won three games the last three years, but this season are off to a 3-1 start.

Jim Carr, the team's 43-year-old defensive coordinator, played pro football for 10 years and was an assistant at Minnesota, Chicago twice and Philadelphia of the NFL before joining the Lions last season. Defense has been Detroit's strength and that made Carr a prime head coach candidate.

Igal Football Contest Winner

Saleh Igal of 208 Greenwood walked away with first place in the Brand's football contest this week, missing only three games on the list.

Eight other entrants missed only four guesses in this week's contest, and as a result, a four-way tie for third place occurred.

Kenneth Wieck, 510 Ave. J took place on his tie breaker point total guess of 32. The Hereford-Amarillo score was 31-0 for a total of 31.

Wieck's wife Debbie, R.L. Blakely, and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Williamson all tied for third on their point-total guesses of 35.

Thus, Igal receives the first-place award of $15, Wieck wins $10 for second, and the other four will split the $5 third place award.

Igal missed only the Littlefield upset of Floydada, the 22-21 Abernathy win over Muleshoe, and the 10-10 tie between UCLA and Ohio State.

This week's contest matchups appear inside today's issue. Entries must be deposited at the BRAND office, or mailed to Box 673 before 5 p.m., Friday.

One entry per person allowed; entrants must be at least eight years of age to be eligible.

Simons Tops Panel

Local broadcaster Tom Simons matched the best record of the year to date (22-4) to pull even with Irene McKinster for second place among the Fearless Forecasters panel this week.

Simons missed only the 10-10 tie between UCLA and Ohio State in the College and Pro half of the list last week. He missed the Littlefield upset of Floydada in the high school section as well as being wrong on two others.

BRAND sports editor Bob Nigh had his best week of the year also, and registered a 20-6 mark. Nigh's misses on the SMU-Memphis State and W. Texas-Texas Arlington were the difference in his and Simons' score.

BRAND publisher Speedy Nieman still holds the lead he built up early in the season, but has faltered somewhat in the last two polls.

Nieman has an 91-39 mark on the year, but both McKinster and Simons are close behind at 89-41. Nigh is currently fourth at 86-44, while BRAND editor

Bobby Templon is last with an 82-48 standard.

Nieman, McKinster, and Templon all posted 18-8 marks last week, as the panel as a whole posted its best record.

Percentage-wise Nieman leads with a .700 mark. McKinster and Simons hold second with .685. Nigh is at .662, and Templon is hitting at a .631 clip.

The consensus column is one ahead of Nigh at 87-43, and has a .669 percentage correct mark.

The Littlefield victory over Floydada was the big shocker of the week, and only Nigh and McKinster correctly predicted the Vega win over Panhandle. Simons was the only panel member to pick Texas Arlington over West Texas.

Richburg, Torres Headed For Dallas

The ratings of Monday Night Football should take a drastic upswing in the Hereford area November 15. On that date two local youths, Aubrey Richburg and Rodney Torres, will brighten the screen.

The two local youths will participate in the Regional Punt, Pass, and Kick competition at halftime of the Dallas-Buffalo game as a result of their winning the district championship in their respective age groups.

Richburg, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Richburg of 213 Elm, and Torres, son of Mr. and Mrs. Natividad Torres of 609 Blevins completed the third leg of their journey to the Super Bowl next January.

The Hereford pair have come through local, regional (Amarillo), and District (Oklahoma City) competition so far to earn the trip to Dallas and a spot on national TV.

Richburg won the 13-year-old division in Oklahoma City last Saturday, while Torres matched the feat in the eight-year-old division.

Orval Watson Ford, of Hereford, will send a representative along with the boys and their parents to Dallas. All expenses will be paid by the Ford Motor Company.

"This is the first time in ten years that boys from Hereford have made it to the Regional competition," Clint Sims, of the local dealership said.

Allred-McWhorter Take Tennis Title

Lynnton Allred and Cindy McWhorter combined to win the Championship Division of the Hereford Country Club Mixed Doubles Tennis Tournament Sunday.

The tournament was played both Saturday and Sunday, and included A and B Divisions in addition to the Championship group.

Cal Garrett and Wanda Payne joined to take the A Division title, while Tommy Bowling and Naomi Schroeter won the B Division crown.

Finishing behind Allred and McWhorter in the Championship Division were Jerry Payne-Kylene Gentry, second, and Dave Hopper Kim Rose, third.

Lewis Block and Beverly Jayroe teamed to take second place in the A Division, while J.W. Robinson and Helen Ann McWhorter finished third.

In the B division Bob Gentry and Betty Carrothers won second place, ahead of James Gentry-Jenny Cassels, who finished third.

PUC Sets Dates, Categories For Bell Telephone Case

The Texas Public Utility Commission has grouped parties wishing to intervene in the Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. rate case into four categories. These groups determined among themselves their lead counsels for the rate hearing, which is scheduled to begin at 9 a.m., Monday, Nov. 1.

The groups and their lead counsels are:

(1) General Services Administration, representing the federal government (lead counsel: William H. Smith, Jr., GSA-Dallas)

(2) Texas Municipal League, representing cities; and Texas Attorney General's Office, representing state agencies (lead counsel: Don Butler, Texas Municipal League)

(3) Texas AFL-CIO, ACORN, Common Cause, Texas Consumer Association, South Texas Consumer Association, Arrowhead Community Action Association (lead counsel: Carol Barger, ACORN)

(4) Communication Workers of America, all radio-telephone utilities, Texas Retail Federation, Texas Alarm-Signal Association.

These four groups will present their own cases during the basic revenue requirement portion of the Bell rate case.

Individual cities filing for intervention would be grouped within the 10 rate groups proposed by Southwestern Bell during the rate pattern portion of the case. The rate portion will decide how the total revenue requirements, if any, would be allocated among the various rate categories (residential, commercial, private lines, director assistance, etc.). Each of the rate groups must notify PUC of their lead counsel by Friday, September 24th. The 10 groups of municipal intervenors and the individual members of the four basic groups of intervenors would then participate in the rate pattern segment of the case.

Although one lead counsel is named for each group, additional attorneys could participate in the rate case. The only stipulation made by the Commission is that only one attorney per intervening group examine a witness. However, a number of attorneys within an intervening group could examine various witnesses.

Following is the timetable PUC has used for the Southwestern Bell rate case.

September 1, 1976: Application filed

September 13, 1976: Deadline for filing interventions.

September 20, 1976: Pre-hearing conference for purpose of classifying all intervenors.

September 24, 1976: Deadline for filing all information requests among parties (replied must be filed 20 days after request is filed).

September 29, 1976: Pre-hearing conference to consider objections to requests for information.

October 6, 1976: Deadline for PUC to set hearing date on rate increase request (already set on Sept. 20).

October 7, 1976: Effective date of rate increase as proposed by Southwestern Bell.

October 26, 1976: Deadline for filing of intervenors' cases and protests to proposed rate change.

October 29, 1976: Pre-hearing conference to discuss procedural aspects of rate hearing.

November 1, 1976: First day of rate hearing.

January 4, 1977: Rate increase may go into effect under bond.

February 3, 1977: Expiration of 120-day suspension of proposed rates (from Oct. 7). (Rate may go into effect without bond unless PUC orders additional 30 day suspension.)

Humphrey Will Undergo Surgery

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, D-Minn., was to enter a New York City Hospital "for probably major surgery to correct a bladder condition," his physician said Monday.

Dr. W. Debnay Jarman said in a statement that Humphrey was to enter Memorial Sloan-Kettering Hospital late Monday for treatment for a bladder tumor condition previously described as a borderline form of cancer.

"Since his last checkup in September, which revealed a changing character of a bladder tumor, Senator Humphrey, has undergone a series of tests at Bethesda Naval Hospital which confirmed the necessity of this operation," Jarman said.

"Indication are that surgery will be performed later this week."

Humphrey, who served as vice president under Lyndon Johnson, underwent radiation treatments three years ago for the bladder condition. He also received cancer prevention drugs until last April.

Humphrey, 65, is seeking re-election to the Senate and also has announced his candidacy for the post of Senate majority leader.

Earlier this year, when he was considering becoming an active candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination, Humphrey released a medical report that said the condition had remained stable and that his general health was excellent.

Until he entered the Bethesda, Md., hospital which was described as being in good spirits and maintaining a normal schedule.

Letter to the Editor

Dear Editor,

There is an urgent need for a drastic change in our existing system of medical service in Deaf Smith County. Many reasons exist.

I would like to make mention of at least three of them as follows:

(1) The average individual has a doctor of their choice, or confidence.

Occasionally in emergency cases, we sometimes call the doctor at his home and here is sometimes the reply: Dr. Jones, Smith or whatever the case may be, is not on calls today. Nine times out of 10 in our case others one duty are not able to handle the case.

We realize the cod doctors have to have rest as well as the rest of us. But when a person is seriously ill or at the point of death, whether a doctor is playing golf or on his way to Sunday School, the patient should come first.

(2) About two years ago my son Ralph Scott tore cartilage in his knee but thought it was just an ordinary injury. The following morning, Luther Mays and I carried Ralph to the clinic that we had been going to for about 20 years.

The lady at the desk stated that there was only one doctor in Well, when there is a serious injury, any doctor is better than no doctor. While waiting I was told to go by the business office. I was then called in question about a debt that I owed. I stated that my insurance would take care of the visit. Besides, Ralph had money in his pocket.

After a brief argument Luther and I assisted Ralph to the doctor's office. To my surprise, the doctor refused to look at Ralph's knee after disputing about the bill that I owed.

A poor excuse of a doctor, Mr. Mays and I rushed Ralph to the next clinic where he was treated and recommended to a specialist in Amarillo.

(3) About six weeks ago, my brother Semmie Peters passed out on his job. When he came to he was rushed to the clinic we had been going to.

After being examined he was given some pills that didn't seem to help.

After falling again, it was discovered that he had the wrong kind of pills. Later, he was recommended to another physician who gave him an EKG.

Apparently, there was something wrong with the machine or some one misread it because it was later discovered that my brother had a heart condition and needed immediate attention.

The following Sunday, after the EKG, Mr. Peters had another attack. I called the physician and was instructed to go and get an appointment.

Now in a case of this kind, one doesn't need an appointment, but treatment.

If we don't have the equipment and doctors we need in this county, we need to get them and stop watching people suffer and die needlessly.

If Mr. Peters had not contacted a doctor in Amarillo, and his wife and I had not rushed over there, he might not have made it.

He is the road to recovery from a heart and blood circulation condition.

Jesus, the master healer, did the works.

Workers Party Candidate Accuses Briscoe Of Spying

AUSTIN (AP) — Senate candidate Pedro Vasquez of the Socialist Workers Party demanded Monday that Gov. Dolph Briscoe order the Department of Public Safety "to stop spying on us."

Vasquez said he would try to see Briscoe or a representative of the governor shortly before noon.

He distributed copies of a brief argument Luther and I assisted Ralph to the doctor's office. To my surprise, the doctor refused to look at Ralph's knee after disputing about the bill that I owed.

A poor excuse of a doctor, Mr. Mays and I rushed Ralph to the next clinic where he was treated and recommended to a specialist in Amarillo.

(3) About six weeks ago, my brother Semmie Peters passed out on his job. When he came to he was rushed to the clinic we had been going to.

After being examined he was given some pills that didn't seem to help.

After falling again, it was discovered that he had the wrong kind of pills. Later, he

Sept. 30 letter to Briscoe asking the governor to "order the DPS to halt their investigation of the SWP and that all files be turned over to us-uncensored."

He told a news conference he had not had a reply to the letter.

Describing himself as a "Chicano socialist," Vasquez said the governor "has really gone pretty far with his charge that 'a little Cuba' is being built in South Texas with federal grants from the Ford administration. Who does the governor think will believe that the Ford administration, which spends billions of dollars to prevent little or big Cubas from developing everywhere in the world from Chile to Angola, would fund 'a little Cuba' in Texas?"

He said Texas Democrats "are organizing a vendetta against the Raza Unida party" and the Socialist Workers campaign "wants to express its solidarity" with the party.

Vasquez acknowledged that he is 28 years old. The constitution requires Senate candidates to be 30 or older.

Connally Defends Butz

WINSTON-SALEM, N.C. (AP) — Former Texas Gov. John Connally says if Agriculture Secretary Earl Butz is forced to resign for making racial remarks, then Jimmy Carter should withdraw as the Democratic presidential nominee for statements on lust he made in an interview with Playboy magazine.

When Connally saw a news account of the remarks Saturday, he cast his eyes to the floor, shook his head and uttered, "Oh, God."

Connally was in North Carolina to campaign for Republican congressional candidates.

In Asheville, Connally commented on remarks attributed to Carter's son about evangelist Billy Graham, whose home is in nearby Montreat.

"Jeff Carter's allusion to Billy Graham as a mail-order minister who acquired his degree by payment of $5 is indeed going to hurt Gov. Carter in Texas," he said.

Taxes Taking 23.4% Bigger Bite From Pay

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Labor Department says an average worker in private industry, supporting a family of four, now pays 23.4 per cent more to the federal government for income tax and Social Security than he did a year ago.

The department arrived at that calculation by applying the standard Internal Revenue Service withholding rates against new wage levels. Because the rates are progressive, the over-all tax bite goes up at a higher percentage than income, which rose 6.6 per cent.

The withholding rates, which determine the amount deducted from paychecks, theoretically represent the average tax obligation over the course of the year for those within a given income range. Some individuals of course, pay even more or get a refund when they file their tax returns for the year, depending on whether they have outside income or greater-than-normal expenses.

Americans To Be Released From Mexican Prisons Soon

MEXICO CITY (AP)- Hundreds of young Americans soon will be released from Mexican jails as the result of initiatives taken by President Luis Echeverria to further prison reforms his administration set in motion six years ago.

Just two days before American prisoners went on a hunger strike last month, Echeverria announced he had sent legislation to the Mexican Congress which would give drug violators the right of parole and would amend the constitution to make it possible to sign prisoner exchange agreements with other countries.

The hunger strike fizzled as prisoners began counting the days until they would be eligible for parole.

An estimated 100 out of 572 jailed Americans quit eating for 36 hours, but strike organizers called an end to the protest after praising the Mexican government and accusing the U.S. State Department of delaying its response to a Mexican prisoner-exchange proposal.

The prisoners were elated at the prospect of early release from their jail terms, which average about six years. Their hopes have risen even more since U.S. and Mexican negotiators met after the strike and announced they had set November as a target date for reaching agreement on a draft treaty.

The treaty would allow Mexicans in American jails, about 2,000 of them, and Americans in Mexican prisons, to serve their sentences in their home countries.

Americans have been winding up in Mexican jails ever since Operation Intercept, a U.S.-financed campaign against the smuggling of drugs into the United States, began in 1969. Many of the Americans were arrested at the Mexico City airport and charged with possessing cocaine as they arrived from Columbia or other South American countries.

They have complained repeatedly of alleged torture, forced confessions and other civil rights violations when they were arrested. The U.S. State Department said an investigation after a 1974 hunger strike confirmed 250 prisoner complaints.

Dr. Sergio Garcia Ramirez, under secretary of government and head of the federal prison system, appears to be the force behind the reforms, which include a major prison construction program.

He is an international prison reform advocate and is one of the 15 member of a United Nations committee of experts on prevention of crime and treatment of delinquents.

Garcia Ramirez said in a recent interview that Mexico has invested $104 million in new facilities since Echeverria took office in 1970.

"Mexico's reform measures are based on the concept that what is accomplished through imprisonment is in now way the exercise of vengeance- an idea which would be archaic today- or is it the pure and simple detention of delinquents. Rather it is the concept of social rehabilitation," he said.

edition of 80,000 copies could be published, through the Express publishing centers in seven other cities across India would go to press on schedule, officials said.

After the presses were padlocked at about 5:45 p.m., dozens of police officers, some carrying shotguns, milled about in front of the large Express headquarters on Delhi's newspaper row, and reporters stood outside amid rumors the entire building might be sealed off.

Within an hour, however, the police had been pulled off the premises and the newsroom and administrative offices remained open.

Ramnath Goenka, the Express' 73-year-old publisher and founder, was reportedly out of town, but he had predicted further difficulties after his electricity was restored Saturday.

The Express, one of the few English-language papers which has not enthusiastically endorsed Mrs. Gandhi's emergency rule, was put under a government order Aug. 16 to submit all news and advertising copy to government censors before publication.

That order was withdrawn last Thursday, two hours after the electricity was cut off and after six weeks of costly delays in street distribution because of delays in completing the censorship procedure.

Mrs. Gandhi Padlocks Press

NEW DELHI, India (AP)- Prime Minister Indira Gandhi's government, locked in an escalating battle with India's largest newspaper chain, sent armed police to the Indian Express offices Monday and padlocked its presses.

The padlocking came just two days after the Express got its electricity restored by court order after a two-day blackout which the Express charged with part of a government campaign against one of India's last independent voices.

Locking up the presses with a padlock and red sealing wax, officials of the federally controlled Delhi Municipal Corp. told the Express management the action was prompted by a property tax debt of some $100,000, officials of the paper said.

Indian Express officials acknowledged a long dispute over property tax assessment, but claimed the unprecedented way of handling the tax matter was another salvo in the government's 16-month attempt to force the management to take a more enthusiastic editorial line toward Mrs. Gandhi's policies.

Indian Express officials said they would go to court as soon as possible to get their presses freed and to put forth their documentation that the tax dispute was being handled in accordance with the courts.

Bentsen Opponent Short On Funding

AUSTIN (AP)- Rep. Alan Steelman said Monday he is spending money as he gets it and whether he has television spots the rest of his Senate campaign depends on day-to-day contributions.

"I do not have the money in hand," the Republican congressman, who faces Sen. Lloyd Bentsen, D-Tex., told a news conference. "We are spending it as we raise it. I am hopeful we will be able to have TV the rest of the month."

Steelman said there was a "big upsurge" in donations last week after numerous news stories appeared on his political finances plight. "They had a wholesome effect."

He said he has already raised about $600,000, and under his new campaign economy plan hopes to spend $800,000 by the end of the campaign. He said he has spent about $125,000 on TV and hopes to raise another $100,000 for the final four weeks.

Steelman said, in answering a question, that he definitely would not challenge Sen. John Tower, R-Tex., when the senator comes up for re-election in 1978.

"I am running this race because I wanted to challenge Bentsen," Steelman said.

McNamara Appeals For Compact To Wipe Out World's Poverty

MANILA, The Philippines (AP)- World Bank President

Robert S. McNamara said Monday the world has the means to wipe out poverty, but that the industrialized countries have failed to keep promises to provide the money to do it.

McNamara, former U.S. defense secretary, spoke at the opening of the joint annual meeting of the bank and the International Monetary Fund (IMF).

At the same time, the World Bank issued a report showing the United States and Japan at the bottom of a list of economic aid donors and likely to provide even less help to poor countries by 1980.

McNamara appealed for a "global compact" among all governments to wipe out poverty by the end of the century. He said nearly one billion people were living in "human degradation...absolute poverty. "We cannot turn our backs on one billion individuals trapped in it. Absolute poverty is a needless global tragedy... because there are on hand economic and technological means to end it."

McNamara said the developed countries had failed to keep their 1970 promise at the United Nations to give at least .7 per cent of their gross national product in official development aid.

The target has not been met, nor is there any present indication that it will ever be met," he said.

He appealed to the industrialized world to provide more money, for even the poorest countries to spend for development and middle-income developing countries- those with annual per capita incomes of more than $200- to distribute that income to narrow the widening gap between the poor and the elite in their populations.

McNamara also appealed for quick action to keep the International Development Association (IDA) from running out of money by next June.

The IDA provides loans to the world's poorest countries at cheap interest rates for development projects.

McNamara said he wanted the authority to commit $9 billion through IDA over the three years starting in June.

"If we are to prevent a complete hiatus of IDA operations nine months from now, immediate action is required," he said.

McNamara also proposed the dismantling of tariff and nontariff barriers to trade to let poor countries earn more, despite the fears of industrial countries that the policy would create unemployment.

Joseph Warren, in the political foment of pre-Revolutionary Boston, distinguished himself as a political writer, orator, and organizer. In the final phase of fighting the Battle of Bunker Hill, Warren was shot and killed. Buried in an unmarked grave, Warren's body was positively identified nine months later, when the British left Boston, by the two artificial teeth Paul Revere had made for his friend shortly before he died. This is probably the first recorded instance of what has since become the standard procedure of identifying corpses by their dental records.
