

New Radio Tower Aids Area Law Enforcers

By DAN WELTY
Brand Staff Writer

Workmen erected a new radio tower Friday afternoon on the parking lot of Hereford's city hall that will put Hereford and Deaf Smith County law enforcement officers on a new statewide radio network.

The self-supporting tower stands 200 feet above the pavement and weighs 12,000 pounds. The tower was pre-fabricated, trucked to Hereford and assembled laying flat in the parking lot that separates city hall and the fire station.

A huge crane set the tower in place on three concrete pads Friday afternoon after workmen had installed antenna at the top. The tower will serve as a base for Hereford city police, the Deaf Smith County Sheriff's office and the area Department of Public Safety.

THE TOWER is being erected as part of a statewide switch to a new type of radio for law enforcement officials. The new radio is equipped with either five or six channels, allowing officers a choice of channels.

Each department will have one channel on the radio. There will be a Hereford police department channel, a sheriff's office channel, a New Mexico state police channel, a Texas DPS mobile unit to base channel, and a DPS unit to unit channel.

With the addition of extra channels, officers will be able to communicate with less interference from other stations and officers. In addition, the range radios will be able to receive and transmit will be lengthened.

A SEPARATE CHANNEL will be reserved for relaying calls through the Oldham County repeated station. The repeated station, in effect, picks up incoming signals and boosts them to stations further away. In this manner, Deaf Smith law enforcement officers on business far from the base station will be able to communicate with the base. Range will be increased to 40 miles from unit to base station, while unit-to-unit range will be increased to 80 miles.

In the past, with only one channel, emergency situations have become tense when officers in need of help were unable to break in on radio conversation. With the new system, officers are assured of constant communication with the base station on one channel or another.

The radio tower in Hereford will not actually be receiving and sending signals until complete installation of new transmitters and receivers at the base of the tower along the north wall of the fire station. All vehicles will have to be outfitted with the new radios also. Completion of the project is expected within two months. The statewide system should be operational by Jan. 1975.

THE CITY of Hereford is planning to install the present radios in city

That feller on Tierra Blanca Creek says keeping secrets from your wife is about as hard as sneaking daylight past a rooster.

The Cyprus fighting raged this week and the Greeks were unhappy with the U.S. No wonder: We've given the Turks $170 million in military aid this year and only $71 million to Greece.

School gets underway again here Tuesday and we join others in welcoming the new teachers to Hereford. The chamber will honor the new teachers with a banquet on Aug. 27. School bells signal the end of vacation time and the "summer slump"—if you had either one! Football and the busy fall season is just around the corner.

Discipline is necessary for every child to learn, but the lesson requires a wise teacher.

A TV program on activities in Hereford and Deaf Smith County is scheduled next Saturday at noon on KGNC-TV. Susie Hickman, Miss Hereford, is one of the participants and she will also be in Perryton Saturday for the national Miss Wheatheart contest.

We heard several informative speakers while attending the West Texas Press Association convention in Lubbock last week. One of these was Burl Hulsey, president of Texas Electric Service Co. and West Texas Chamber of Commerce. He stated that the energy crisis is still with us, even though many people thought it ended when they could fill up their gasoline tanks.

Hulsey said the goal of national self sufficiency in energy requirements is within our reach, if we are willing to pay for it. It would require doubling coal production, increasing nuclear power capacity five times, stepping up oil and gas production one and one-fourth times, producing huge quantities of oil from shale and synthetic fuels from coal.

Estimated cost of these goals is $600 billion in capital expenditures. To put this in perspective, it cost about $25 billion to put a man on the moon.

Another thought-provoking talk came from Arthur Duggan of Littlefield, former head of Water, Inc., and long associated with the water conservation movement on the South Plains. Duggan says water is already a problem and it could become critical in a few more years. Within the next two decades, the water shortage could create a panic unless something is done to alleviate the situation.

The small town of New Deal, just north of Lubbock, has run out of water—as many readers may have noticed in recent newspaper reports. The city wells have gone dry and city officials have resorted to buying water from

Classes Begin Tuesday; New Teachers Welcomed

THE BUSINESS of education begins here Tuesday when classes open at 8:30 a.m. in the Hereford schools.

Registration was conducted all day Friday and will continue Monday.

Bill Phillips, administrative assistant, estimated enrollment would peak at about 6,500, slightly higher than last year's figure of 5,525.

Hereford schools' 58 new faculty members will be welcomed at a dinner at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday at the Civic Club, an event sponsored by the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce.

NEW FACULTY members and the schools at which they will work are as follows:

Bobby Anderson, Lynette Barefield, Gary Goodin, Patricia Hill, Raymond Jenkins, Lester Kirkland, Tom Saul, Lonnie Whitfield and Priscilla Williams, all at La Plata Junior High. Donna Jo Anderson, Shelley Burelson, Tony Calkins, Jana Beth Giles, Pamela Louder, and Virginia Tarlton, Stanton Junior High; Phil Barefield, Margaret Higgins, Robert Keyes, Susan M. Lindemann, Lois Matchett, Don Moore, Roy Shipp, Carolyn Steele, Richard Stewart and Janice Wilks, Hereford High School.

Also, Virginia Barrera, Beverly Lambert and Juanita Moore, Shirley Elementary; Jacqueline Book, Ophelia Echevarria, George Fox, Lily Goodin, Mary L. McKinney, George Ochs and Marsha Wifiget, Tierra Blanca Elementary; Ann Bowling, Deborah Butler, Orinda Eikman, Janice Galley, Janice Mixson, Carolyn Ray, Aurora Salinas, Veda Sliger and Bertha Trevino, Aikman Elementary; Betty Boyd, Janice Newsom, Robert Ray and Darlene Suthers, Central Elementary.

ALSO, MICAH BRYAN, Carol Sims and Diane Wood, Bluebonnet Elementary; Naomi Hare, Terry Ann Kosub, Rhonnie Stewart, Jerry Walls and Davaughn White, Northwest Elementary.

Phyllis Cornelius will be school nurse and Marynell Rudder will be the speech therapist for the school system.

Classes will not be held on the following days:

Monday, Sept. 2, Labor Day; Friday, Nov. 8, Texas State Teachers Association District XVI; Thursday and Friday, Nov. 28-29, Thanksgiving Day; Monday, Dec. 23 to Jan. 2, Christmas and New Year Holidays; and Monday through Friday, March 24-28, Easter.

MH-MR Names Director

A former Hereford resident has been named as the director of the Mental Health-Mental Retardation Center here, it was announced this week by Bruce Coleman, chairman of the District 3 board of directors.

KEITH SCHROYER, a VISTA volunteer here several years ago, has been formally approved as the new director and will assume his duties Sept. 1. Schroyer recently received his master's degree in social work from the University of Florida.

Schroyer will replace Don Elwell, who recently resigned to enter college again for advanced degree work.

SCHROYER and his wife, the former Ednice Vasquez, have two children. Mrs. Schroyer is also a former resident, coming to Hereford a number of years ago as director of the Migrant Ministry program.

County Commissioners Resume Court

Finances, Furniture Top Agenda

County finances, a discrepancy in furniture-provided for the new library, and formulating a policy for use of the library's Heritage Room were topics of discussion when Deaf Smith County Commissioners met Wednesday afternoon in a continuation of their regular Monday session.

During a discussion on the new budget, Commissioner Marcus Latham suggested the county postpone bids for a new road grader because of the expense involved in issuing warrants for the purchase. Latham suggested using revenue sharing funds due later this year, or buy the equipment out of next year's budget.

THE COURT had approved advertising for bids on the maintainer for Precinct 4 during the regular meeting Monday. Donald Hicks, Precinct 4, pointed out that the purchase was recommended at this time due to an anticipated increase in price of the equipment. He added that the federal revenue sharing funds had been earmarked for road improvements.

After a brief discussion on the matter, the court decided to postpone bids on the maintainer until a later date. Latham, Hicks and County Judge H.C. Williams made the decision as Bruce Coleman and Earl Holt were not present for the meeting.

COMMISSIONERS had requested representatives of the Sperry Rand Corporation to be at the meeting to discuss furnishings for the new library. The library lacked a couple of items which were on the plans and had two extra chairs not ordered. After a brief discussion, it was determined the missing items were inadvertently omitted in a revision of plans. The company agreed to furnish the other items at no extra cost, however.

Mrs. Gwen London, librarian, met with the court for the discussion and also asked for commissioners to determine the policies on use of the meeting room in the basement of the new library. After a brief discussion, commissioners decided to study the feasibility of employing a custodian to open and close the building

City Concert Association Launches Member Drive

MEMBERSHIP ENROLMENT for Hereford Community Concert Association will begin Sept. 3, with renewals accepted through that week and the annual campaign for new members scheduled Sept. 9-13.

Mrs. Paul Scott has been named drive chairman by the board of directors, and the campaign goal is 1,100 members, enough to fill all seats in Hereford High School where the concerts are held.

The board has also announced the "hold" attraction for the 1974-75 season; the King Family will appear in February with a varied evening of vocal and instrumental music. This group is well known through television broadcasts.

TWO OTHER programs will be booked after the membership drive in accordance with Community Concert policy of enrolling members and having finances in hand before engaging talent.

Commissioners also agreed on a tentative rule of not allowing any organization to use the basement for storage, since library periodicals and newspapers are kept in the area. The court will discuss policies to be set when all commissioners are present for the meeting, it was stated.

Mrs. George Warner, board president, announces that the membership fee will be the same as last year, $10, with special rates for student tickets and family members.

Community Concert programs are open only to members, who must enroll during the annual campaigns. The Hereford association has arranged reciprocity with Clovis and Canyon associations so members may attend concerts in any of the three cities on one membership card.

MRS. SCOTT will soon announce the list of captains appointed to conduct the drive here; each captain will recruit several workers to solicit memberships during the enrolment period.

After 27 Years

County Home Demonstration Agent Retires

Argen Draper will be honored with a retirement party Sunday, Aug. 25 from 3 to 5 p.m. in the fellowship hall of the First Baptist Church. The Home Demonstration Council will host the event and the public is invited to attend.

Mrs. Draper is retiring this month after serving as a County Home Demonstration Agent for over 33 years. She has served in that capacity in Deaf Smith County for over 27 years, moving here from Hemphill County.

"Deaf Smith County has been good to me," she said. "This county has many resources but the outstanding thing is its people. I've served three generations of some families, and believe me, it has been my pleasure."

Mrs. Draper and her husband, Tom, who is a farmer and stockman, reside seven miles south of Hereford on the Dimmitt Highway.

MRS. DRAPER'S mind was made up when she graduated from Wellington High School that she wanted, to someday become a home demonstration agent.

"My parents had very little to give me when I left for Texas Tech to go to college, but they wished me well, and I was on my way," she said.

Times were not easy then, but she was determined a woman could obtain a college degree if she wanted it bad enough.

Ten years passed before she obtained a Bachelor of Science degree from Tech in 1940. After one year of college, she was allowed to teach school, so in order to pay for her education she taught for nine months each year in Kesler Common School District and would attend college during the three summer months. She taught for seven years and had from three to 13 students in eight grades to teach.

"It took me 10 years to finish college, but so what, some don't finish in 40," she said. She went on to earn a Master of Science degree from Texas Woman's University in 1964.

She was assistant in the clothing department at Texas Tech from 1938-40, and then served as Home Management Supervisor for Farmers Home Administration from 1940 to 1942.

THE POPULATION of Hereford is over four times what it was when the Drapers moved here. "There weren't many paved streets back then," she said. "I remember Highway 385 was being paved."

County Car Demolished

Deaf Smith County sheriff's office car was totaled Thursday when it collided with a pickup east of Hereford. The car was being roadtested by a mechanic at the time of the accident. No one was injured.

Mechanic Wrecks County Car

A Deaf Smith County sheriff's office vehicle was declared a total loss Thursday after a collision while the car was being road-tested by a garage repairman. No one was injured in the accident.

According to Sheriff Travis McPherson, the 1972 model Oldsmobile has been placed in Joe's Auto Clinic for a tuneup on the transmission. After repairs had been made, a mechanic, was road testing the car.

While returning from east of the city, the mechanic began to pass a pickup pulling a goose-neck trailer. The pickup apparently turned out of the right lane into the path of the car, and the two collided.

Although damage to both vehicles was severe, neither driver was injured in the accident. The accident occurred one-half mile east of the city limits on Highway 60 about 1:55 p.m. Thursday.

McPherson said the county vehicle was a total loss, and was being used as a sheriff's unit before the accident. He was not certain when a replacement unit would be purchased by the county.

C Of C Eyes Industry

Reports on industrial development and membership highlighted the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce board of directors meeting held Thursday morning in the conference room at the C of C. President Roy Faubion conducted the regular monthly meeting.

Bill Albright, executive vice president, reported for chairman R.C. Hoelscher on the industrial development committee. It was revealed that a major industrial prospect recently met with an industrial team in the C of C office. Tom Burdett said after meeting with the woman representing the company that he felt Hereford has as good a chance as other towns under consideration. She did not reveal the company she represented.

ALBRIGHT reported that the chamber office has recently sent several letters to industrial prospects. He also pointed out that the C of C is also encouraging industry already in Hereford to expand. He said statistics show that 20 per cent of industry is new and 80 per cent is from expansion. Albright said that he, Mike Patrick and Lee Umsted attended an industrial seminar in Snyder recently.

Almost 200 letters are being mailed to members of the C of C to encourage them to sign a new member for the C of C. More members are needed in the C of C in order to have a healthy operating budget. Dues have remained the same in spite of inflation, and the board hopes new members are the answer to balancing the budget.

It was reported that a Lubbock architect visited recently with the Special Action Council and discussed the possibilities of converting the Central School building into a civic facility. Of course this would only be considered if the school is willing to transfer the building to the city and county, and if the city and county are willing to accept it.

SEPTEMBER 10 was set by the board as a tentative date for the chamber's third quarterly meeting of the year. The meeting will be held at noon in the Civic Club Center. The meeting will be for members and guests. Included on the program will be Lynn Porsch who will tell about her activity in horsemanship training. A change in the by-laws pertaining to postage will be submitted for a vote.

Burdett reported on a House bill pertaining to registration under the lobby control act. He had received an opinion from the attorney general's office on the act, but reported that he had requested County Attorney Andy Shuval to request an official ruling so the C of C would know where it stands.

LAVON NIEMAN, president of the Women's Division, reported that Susie Hickman, Miss Hereford, will be Hereford's entry in the National Miss Wheatheart contest in Perryton Aug. 24. Susie also rode in the Castro County Roundup parade in Dimmitt Saturday. It was also reported that Susie would appear, with other Hereford citizens, on KGNC-TV Saturday at noon on Aug. 24. Hereford, Deaf Smith County, roping activities, agri-business and different facts of what is going on in Hereford will be featured on the program.

Albright reported to the board that the supply is very low on the brochures for Hereford. The board looked at several brochures from other cities. The group voted to make a request to the city and county for funds to order 50,000 brochures which will last approximately three years. The city and county had helped in this respect when the last brochures were purchased. The C of C office has been responsible for the distribution of the brochures over the years.

Faubion appointed Burdett to serve as chairman of a nominating committee. Four new directors will be nominated to serve three year terms on the C of C board. Retiring from the board will be Burdett, Dick Montgomery, Faubion, and Hugh McCrary. Nomination of a new Women's Division president will be made at the board's September meeting.

ATTENDING the meeting were Larry Warters, Artho Gonzales, Andrew Kershner, Ray Seale, Terry Caviness, Faubion, Montgomery, Burdett, Nieman, Albright and office secretary, Betty Willson.

Lubbock in tank trucks. They are in the process of building a small pipeline to Lubbock for water. Abernathy has also reported a dwindling supply, and Lubbock is not in a position to go into the water-selling business.

We were living in Lamesa back when the Lake Meredith project was getting organized, and we remember there were organized groups in Lamesa, Lubbock and other cities who fought the proposal as a waste of tax money. The opposition claimed the whole thing was a scheme to provide the sportsmen of the North Plains a fishing hole with the South Plains people helping to finance the project.

Common sense prevailed and leaders with foresight led the move to vote the bonds that made the Canadian River project possible.

Hospital Board Studies Budget

A public budget hearing for fiscal 1975 will be conducted following the regular monthly board meeting of the Deaf Smith County Hospital District Tuesday morning.

Directors will hold their regular meeting beginning at 7 a.m. Tuesday in the conference room at Deaf Smith General Hospital. The budget hearing will follow the meeting.

Items on the regular agenda include a report from the medical staff, financial report for July, and miscellaneous reports by the hospital administrator.

CORRECTION

In an article in Thursday's Brand concerning the new budget for Hereford Independent School District, an error was made on the amount of cancelled delinquent taxes.

The amount was listed as $7,042.87 when it should have been only $742.87. Orpha Click, school tax assessor-collector, explained this total represented "double assessment" or property assessed which was not actually in the school district. The school does not cancel delinquent taxes which are properly assessed.

Click also explained that his office had completed the rolls on delinquent taxes and will send out notices to the taxpayers who are delinquent. The total delinquent roll now totals $208,099.

The school board held a public hearing and gave formal approval on the 1974-75 budget in the Monday meeting. The new operating budget totaled $5,560,150 — an increase of about $292,850 over the previous year.

The tax rate was retained at $2 per $100 valuation and the assessment ratio remains at 45 per cent of actual valuation.

Father Of Two Residents Dead

The funeral of Martin J. Homer, 56, of Groom, father of Mrs. Neal Lueb and Tim Homer of Hereford, was conducted Saturday morning in the Catholic Church at Groom and burial was in that city.

Mr. Homer died Wednesday in an Amarillo hospital. He was a farmer, a native of Groom and a veteran of World War II military service.

He is survived by his wife, four daughters, two sons, three sisters, two brothers and two grandchildren.

Other changes have been that more farmers now live in the city limits, the shopping centers have been built and the schools have changed. Central was the grade school and Stanton was high school back then, she remembered.

When Mrs. Draper came here as H.D. agent, there were 15 home demonstration clubs with 300 members and the same number of 4-H Clubs and members. "Making 32 meetings a month was part of my job," she said. Soon after she came, the commissioners employed an assistant. She has directed training of 11 assistant agents over the years.

There are fewer H.D. Clubs now but many more other women's clubs. At the time she came, there were only four women's clubs and the women also were quite active in church groups.

"Times have changed and we have found that holding county wide mass method meetings are beneficial to the women." There's always big attendance at the sew fairs held at the Bull Barn and these are open to all women, whether a member or not.

list of accomplishments in 1974. The Hereford Lions Club named her as Citizen of the Year in 1957 and the same year the National Home Demonstration Agents Association selected her for the Distinguished Service Award. She also received a Superior Award from Texas A&M University in 1968.

She is a member of the Church of Christ. Other affiliations include Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce and Women's Division, American Home Economics Assn., Texas Home Economics Assn., Texas Agricultural Workers Assn., Texas Safety Council, charter member of County Home Demonstration Agents Assn. of Texas, Epsilon Sigma Phi, Phi Upsilon Omicron.

A PUBLIC SERVICE rendered by the H.D. Clubs years ago was serving the Chamber of Commerce banquets. They were held in the fire hall or a church and the women would serve over 350 people. "One of the most rewarding things in home demonstration work is to see people develop in leadership. I can see H.D. women in leadership all over town and would to think they developed this in H.D. Club," she said.

TEACHING HOUSEHOLD management, home arts, clothing and leadership development are the main goals of the H.D. Clubs. "If a woman learns everything three or four agents know, she has a good bit of knowledge," Mrs. Draper quipped.

Any woman is welcome to join a H.D. club. There are no dues and she can call 364-3573 to be assigned to a club.

Mrs. Draper has shared her views, news and recipes in a column, "H.D. Chatter," in the Hereford Brand regularly for over 20 years. This column has been quite popular and receives a lot of comment.

IT IS NO WONDER that Mrs. Draper was named to Marquis Who's Who of American Women. This was added to her

WHEN ASKED WHAT her plans are now that she is retiring, Mrs. Draper said, "I'm just gonna demonstrate living at home. My retired friends tell me that in about a year I'll be wondering how I ever worked."

Kiwanis Hears Tech Forecast

Tech Coach at Kiwanis

Texas Tech's defensive coordinator Richard Bell spoke before the Noon Kiwanis Thursday, outlining Tech's Red Raiders for this fall and praising Hereford's James Harris.

Cheerleaders Sell Schedules

WT To Open Fall Drills

West Texas State University's Buffaloes open fall football drills Thursday, Aug. 22, after meeting the previous day with news media. West Texas State's annual press day will start at 12 noon, Wednesday. Following lunch with the press the Buffalo footballers will put on game uniforms for a picture-taking session at Frank Kimbrough Memorial Stadium. Wednesday evening will be Meet the Fan Night for the Buffaloes. "Our players maintain a busy schedule once practice starts, but that evening will give them the opportunity to meet with our fans," said head football coach and athletic director Gene Mayfield. "We plan to make the Meet the Fan Night a fun-type of event," he said. "We want all of the fans to come to the stadium that evening and we will make it possible for our players to meet and talk to them." Mayfield and his staff will start preparing the players Thursday for their opening game Sept. 14 in Des Moines, Iowa, against Missouri Valley Conference rival Drake. The first of five home games is Sept. 21 against New Mexico State. Other home games are Sept. 28 against Wichita State, Oct. 5 against Southern Mississippi, Nov. 2 against Lamar and Nov. 16 against North Texas State. The New Mexico State, Wichita State and North Texas State contests are all NVC games. Eddie Day has been hired as the athletic trainer for the Buffs of West Texas State University. Day is a 1974 graduate of the University of Texas-Austin, where he served as a student trainer for five years. He earned a B.S. degree with a major in physical education while serving under University of Texas trainer Frank Medina. Day was a student manager and trainer for four years at Hardin-Jefferson High School in Sour Lake. Day has been a member of the National Athletic Trainers' Association as a student and is a member of the Southwest Athletic Trainers' Association.

Richard Bell, defensive coordinator at Texas Tech, told the Noon Kiwanis Thursday that the Red Raiders are going into the season determined to win 12 games and accept no losses. Bell, who has been at Tech since 1970, praised freshman James Harris, saying Harris would provide the Tech Football program with leadership that would be a definite contribution. Bell went on to outline football fortunes at the Lubbock school in the upcoming year. He said the Red Raiders will be a young team this fall, with only five offensive and five defensive starters returning. One of the big spots to fill will be that of quarterback. Joe Barnes will be a tough act to follow, but there are several players eyeing the spot. The most promising, Tommy Dunavin, is coming off a knee injury. Quarterback seems to be a question mark in the mind of the Tech coaches, thought. The Red Raiders will have a wealth of running backs, including Larry Isaac, named Newcomer-of-the-Year in the Southwest Conference last season. John Garner and James Moley will add depth, along with Rufus Meyers, recovering from a knee operation. Coach Bell classed the wide receivers as good. Lawrence Williams, Calvin Jones, Jeff Tobe, Willy Kent and Ricky Bates will all be given chances to catch the ball. The line is another question mark of the Raider offense. Tommy Lusk, Jim Frazier, and Floyd Keeney are promising to fill some of the spots. Bell talked less about the defense than offense, but pointed out that the line would be stronger on defense. Kim Bergman, Gary Monroe, Ray Henning, David Knaus, and Ross Murphy are all returning lettermen. Bell also has good depth in the defensive ends. Tommy Combs, Larry Hamilton, Wesley Smith and Tommy Howard will be among players at that spot. The linebackers and secondary are question mark areas for the Raiders. For linebackers, the Raiders will have Randy Lancaster, Tom Dyer and Harold Buell. Bell said the secondary and the linebackers will have to prove themselves in game situations. Curtis Jordan and Randy Olsen will play in secondary positions. Overall, Coach Bell said the SWC would be a more interesting conference this year. He said the teams are more balanced and that almost any team could win the conference.

Other actions at the Noon Kiwanis included presentation of Bobby Byers with Kiwanian-of-the-Month award.

Comment On Sports

BY PETE FRITCHIE

WASHINGTON, D.C.—Lee Trevino, winner of the recent PGA tournament, says he will play in next year's Masters-as if he is doing the golf world a favor. In the past Trevino has made ugly remarks about those who run the Masters. The truth is that the Super-Mex encountered people and manners he did not completely understand at Augusta. The reflection is not on the atmosphere and customs of the Masters but on Trevino. Trevino has made much of his Mexican background, at times seeming to demagogue about the majority race in this country. While this makes him popular with agitators and anti-establishment people, it is due to the cheap publicity stunt by others. The Masters will welcome Trevino like any other great golfer; but Masters personnel should not be abused by any competitor, not are bad manners in order, and one hopes next year Trevino can refrain from any behavior in poor taste.

SEASON TICKETS for Hereford home games are selling like hot cakes. The administration office reports that 541 Whiteface fans have already paid for their tickets, with 220 firm promises and more expected on the way. Last year's season ticket total was 789, and sales this year are expected to surpass that mark way and beyond.

Football season. The big Red Band (as director Randy Vaughn instructs us to call them) has been practicing those precision marching drills and shining up the old brass horns this week. Director Vaughn promises new and exciting halftime shows this fall.

Fans will be given until Aug. 23 to buy season tickets. A book of five tickets to each of the home games is $10. For the first time, single game tickets during the season will cost $2.50. In other words, you can save 50 cents per ticket by buying now.

THE BRAND LIBRARY contains an old hardbound book entitled "My Favorite Football Stories By Red Grange." The Galloping Ghost put together a few of the classic newspaper stories and articles that have helped to immortalize the game and we were leafing through it the other night. We crossed a story written by Grantland Rice, and it contained the following poem:

FOOTBALL'S ANSWER

They reform me each new season
As they point to each new fault,
And their hands are turned against me
As they crowd me to the vault.
But amid the growing clamor,
They still know around the clan,
I'm the soul of spirit
And the maker of a man.

WORD HAS IT that several good seats in Section B are still available, and many seats in Section C can be had. No chair seats, though. Seems a shame a fine facility like Whiteface Stadium should have so few chair seats.

To us, though, it's not football unless you sit on a bench and get splinters, wrap up in a blanket, and spill hot chocolate when the team scores a touchdown.

RICHARD BELL, TECH'S defensive coordinator is no stranger around the Whiteface locker room.

According to Bell, he spent most of last January and February around Hereford trying to convince James Harris Tech was the place to be.

MONDAY WILL BE press day at the home of the Herd. Coach Larry Dippel and staff will have the boys report for a morning practice and then come back that afternoon for picture taking by the press.

AND THE HERD IS not the only bunch getting ready for the

O, I know I'm far from perfect
When the autumn leaves turn red,
When the tackle's neck is furrowed
By the half-back's heavy tread;
But you hear them still admitting
As they put me on the pan,
"He's the soul of spirit,
And the maker of a man."

Perhaps I'm overfeatured
In the headline's stirring plea,
Perhaps I'm more important
Than a mere game ought to be;
But with all the sins they speak of
And the list is quite a span,
I'm the soul of spirit,
And the maker of a man.

Wary Cattle Leaders Uneasy Over Losses

AUSTIN—Texas cattle leaders are voicing uncertainty about the future and the future of beef production in the state according to Agriculture Commissioner John C. White.

Reports of their uneasiness—based on financial loss, continuing price increases and a six percent drop in beef consumption—have been coming directly to White and to the Texas Department of Agriculture's market news office in Amarillo.

White said cattlemen fear that if current conditions worsen, the result may be a significant cutback in beef affecting everyone from the rancher who depends on his herd for a living to consumers who want beef on the table.

White said some of the biggest problems are centered in feedlots where 250-500 pound feeder calves are fattened to 600-1,000-pound slaughter steers. In recent months cattle feeders have been losing money every time they sell a steer.

Several factors are involved: In September feeders were buying calves for 55-60 cents a pound.

Meanwhile the price of grain sorghum, wheat, corn and feed additives continued to rise. National figures show that weight gain costs in the summer of 1972 were 20 cents a pound. By last summer they had climbed to 36 cents. Current costs have increased to around 50 cents per pound.

One Amarillo feedlot reported paying $5.35 per hundred pounds of corn in mid-February. Other reports revealed payments as high as $6.05 per hundred pounds delivered.

"These purchases indicate that weight gains in the future could run as high as 60 cents a pound," White said.

According to TDA figures, slaughter steers in late February and early March have been selling for 45-47 cents a pound. Thus, if a feeder paid $210 for a 350-pound calf in September, doubled its weight at 50 cents a pound or $175 and sold it for $315, he would have lost $70. Some feeders are complaining of losses up to $150 a head.

"Several people have stated that it is not worth the risk to put any more cattle in the feedlots when optimum conditions could net a $40 profit and current conditions might lead to losses as high as $200 a head in the future," White said.

The federal government's withdrawal of diethylstilbestrol (DES) from use in finishing cattle also has increased feeders' woes by slowing weight gain and increasing its costs. An appeals judge recently overturned the DES ban on the grounds that those advocating its use were denied due process. However, feedlots have appeared reluctant to gear up for DES again, fearing the Food and Drug Administration will overrule the latest decision. Companies have not started producing it in large volume.

Cattlemen's problems continue at supermarkets where consumers are not buying beef in the volume they once did. In 1972 the average per capita consumption of beef in the United States was 116 pounds. In 1973 this figure had dropped to 110 pounds. "When carcass beef rises to nearly $80 per hundred pounds, the housewife begins to buy less beef," White said.

Who? Why all this talk about getting back to normal? Who would recognize himself?

H³ HUSTLE HUSTLE HUSTLE

By Bill Albright, Executive Vice President Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce

They say that if you can recognize the problem, you've got it half whipped... well, then, that should be good news... because we do have a problem... it's identifiable and we desperately need to whip it... It's not a new problem and it's really quite a basic one. The diminishing supply can not keep up with an ever increasing demand. And what supply is available becomes unbelievably valuable. In some cases a substitute can be found - in others, there is no substitute. So where does that leave us?

I guess we could apply another old saying - "Make the most of what you have." To me that means don't waste, get full value from what's available, find ways to reuse, economize, save, and another good word... innovate... use initiative and imagination to come up with better ways of doing things which will require less expenditure of a given resource. Sounds like a pretty simple solution doesn't it?... It is...

but it's also pretty difficult to get people to face up to it till there's a real crisis.

Just knowing there's a threat to our well being isn't enough. There is a shortage and it's going to get worse... only maybe it won't happen in this part of the country or if it does, it won't happen to us, or we've been through this before.

Well, it seems to me that the smart solution is to fare up to reality... acknowledge that a real problem exists and we can help solve it. Thru a solid program of conservation. SAVE SAVE SAVE.

What resource have I been talking about? Could be WATER, ELECTRICITY, FOOD, FERTILIZER, PLASTICS, BUILDING MATERIALS, GASOLINE, MONEY... almost anything. Make a wiser use of what we have! There is one element which never seems to diminish here in Hereford and that's HUSTLE HUSTLE HUSTLE.

Church Says Farewell To Grahams, Canslers

A farewell reception for the Steve Graham and Mac Cansler families, who are moving to cities in South Texas, will be given Sunday in the Fellowship Hall of First Baptist Church following evening services. Graham, who came to Hereford two years ago to be youth director of First Baptist, is relocating in Fort Worth where he will attend Southwest Baptist Theological Seminary. The 24-year-old associate pastor and his wife, Jennifer, have a son, born Friday. Graham is originally from Enid, Okla.

Mr. and Mrs. Cansler, long-time ranchers in the Hereford area, are moving with their two children to Austin where he will be supervisor of a chain of drive-in restaurants.

Mrs. Cansler, the former Ruth Ann Allison, is a member of U'Allegria and Music Study Clubs. She and her husband are graduates of Hereford High School. Their children are Allison, 4, and Keith, 4 months.

TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN, Tex. — Views of citizens on how to save current assets of the Texas coast while permitting its orderly economic development are being sampled in a series of public hearings.

Hearings are a major initial step in development of a Coastal Zone Management Plan.

More than 150 representatives of business, labor, agriculture, industry and environmental groups outlined expectations for the plan at a workshop here last week.

Need for a balance between economic development and protection of natural resources emerged as the key element for the CZM plan.

CZM is concerned with economic development, urban population growth, water supply, local control, residential and resort home development and power plant siting.

Hearings are slated for August 13 in Harlingen, August 28 in Corpus Christi, September 5 in Victoria, September 12 in Beaumont, September 23 in Houston, September 24 in Galveston and September 27 in Austin.

The technical phase of the program starting in the fall will seek to arrive at estimates of demands on coastal resources, assess capability of resources to support the demands and to evaluate possible management mechanisms.

After more hearings in 1975 and 1976, final recommendations resulting from the plan will be made to the legislature in September, 1976.

DPS CHECK ASKED — Gov. Dolph Briscoe asked a full report on intelligence activities of the Department of Public Safety.

Briscoe said he would not rule out a separate citizens committee inquiry into DPS surveillance of individuals, but he will look at a DPS report before asking any further probe.

Surveillance activities of DPS came under critical scrutiny due to an agent's report on Robert W. Pomeroy, who led a citizens' group opposing a nuclear power plant near Fort Worth. DPS Director Wilson Speir has apologized for the Pomeroy report, and noted that it was never made a part of DPS permanent files since Pomeroy was not engaged in illegal activity.

Meanwhile, the state Senate's Jurisprudence Committee will have a select sub-committee headed by Sen. Oscar Mauzy of Dallas checking into the Pomeroy case and, generally, into invasion of privacy issues.

AG OPINIONS — Atty. Gen. John Hill held the state Office of Traffic Safety isn't authorized to sell T-shirt with a "drive friendly" logo to finance a traffic safety program.

In other recent opinions, Hill concluded: Willacy County cannot use federal revenue sharing funds to support its hospital district or a non-profit clinic for low-income residents. Texas Tech University can purchase group term life insurance from mutual companies for its faculty and staff.

Blood donors over 18 are entitled to the same compensation as those over 21, regardless of a state statute.

Parttime employment as social workers is not prohibited under the dual employment prohibition of Texas law.

A statute exempting from forced sale for taxes homesteads of persons over 65 is constitutional.

A county may locate its juvenile detention facility in the same building as its county jail, as long as juvenile and adult offenders do not come in contact with each other.

A district judge may assess as court costs reasonable investigators' fees for social studies called for in the family code.

APPOINTMENTS — Dr. Hugh Meredith has been named president of Sul Ross State University, effective September 1.

Kenneth Decker has been promoted to agent-in-charge of the 122-member DPA narcotics service, and Benny C. Boyd is assistant agent-in-charge.

Robert G. Welsch of Corpus Christi will succeed J. C. Roberts as Texas Highway Department district engineer in Abilene.

Rights Commission adopted a final determination of water rights in the Cibolo Creek Watershed of San Antonio River Basin.

The area was the first in the state to receive a complete adjudication of water rights under the 1967 Water Rights Adjudication Act.

The determination and the entire record of the proceedings will be filed in district court in San Antonio. The watershed contains parts of Kendall, Bexar, Comal, Guadalupe, Wilson and Karnes Counties.

PRISON PLAN CARRIED OUT — Agreed on procedures were used to handle the Fred Gomez Carrasco siege at Huntsville prison, according to Governor Briscoe.

Briscoe said a variety of contingency plans had been approved for any emergency at the prison.

He said he is convinced that under the circumstances Department of Corrections Director W. J. Estelle Jr. "did all that was humanly possible to protect the lives of hostages and, at the same time, (to) protect the people of the State of Texas."

DPS named Ranger Capt. J. F. "Pete" Rogers to investigate how guns and ammunition were slipped into the prison to Carrasco.

A Walker County grand jury is also investigating the incident, in which Carrasco, another inmate and two women hostages were slain during a breakout attempt after the longest prison revolt of its kind in U. S. history.

Home Insurance Corroded By Inflation

If "inflation" were a person, it would be an olympic gold medal winner this year, for being able to climb so high at such a fast pace.

"Inflation is with us, and we should do what's best to keep up," suggests J.O. (Jim) Smith Jr., chairman of the Texas Insurance Advisory Association. "This is especially true when it relates to building or maintaining a home."

Smith recommends that Texas homeowners ask themselves this question: "How much would it cost to replace my house today?" Before answering, Smith says, consider how long ago an estimate was made. "Even if homeowners have checked as little as a year ago, the figures probably are out of date."

TO ILLUSTRATE the point, Smith cites figures that show that $100 worth of construction in 1967 would have cost $152 in December, 1973, an increase of more than 50 per cent.

The Consumer Price Index (CPI) of the U.S. Department of Labor reveals more about the upward trend.

For instance, $100 worth of house maintenance and repairs in 1967 would have cost $162.20 in March, 1974, according to the CPI. In other areas, the $100 value in 1967 has jumped in 1974 to $179.80 for repainting living and dining rooms; to $180.50 for reshingling roofs; $159.50 for re-siding houses.

"With these costs skyrocketing," Smith points out, "many may find themselves faced with repair and reconstruction costs that far exceed their insurance coverage. It's surprising that most people don't even bother to check, until it's too late."

Smith says inflation increases the need for homeowners to know and understand their insurance policies — and for them to get an accurate idea of what it would cost to replace their homes with today's financial conditions.

"IF SOMEONE has a special package policy, commonly called a homeowners' policy," Smith says, "then there are some advantages when partial damages to the home occur."

He said the "replacement cost provision" is the key. This goes into effect when the home is insured for at least 80 per cent of its value. For a $30,000 home, this would be $24,000 of inurance coverage. For a $35,000 home, this would be $28,000 of insurance. For a $40,000 home, this would be $32,000 of insurance.

"If the policy is for at least 80 per cent of the value of the home, claims involving damage to the building are settled on the basis of the full cost of replacing or repairing," Smith says.

"In other words, no deductions would be made for depreciation, as is customary in settling insurance losses. This point is important, because a lot of people think if they just have insurance, it will totally replace whatever is damaged. They forget about depreciation, and they can be disappointed."

To illustrate further how the replacement cost provision works, Smith mentions this specific example: "Assume that painting and other interior decorating in a house has a life of 10 years. After five years, smoke damages the interior. Under the replacement cost provision - which goes into effect when the policyholder has insured his home for 80 per cent or more of its value - the full costs of repainting and redecorating would be paid by the insurance company. Without the provision, the insurance company would pay only one-half the loss because it has depreciated one-half of its original value."

SMITH SAYS the TIAA recommends that anyone not sure of the replacement cost of their homes have their insurance agent provide the name of someone who can appraise it. "With inflation, it's obviously most important not to delay checking out the policy, and if necessary having the home appraised for today's market." Smith of Dallas, is a resident vice president of Reliance Insurance Companies, in addition to serving as TIAA executive committee chairman.

The TIAA is an advisory organization with membership consisting of insurance companies writing approximately 90 per cent of the property insurance in Texas.

Ada Announces Income Increase

Ada Resources, Inc. announced for the three months ended June 30, its first quarter of operations, net income increased 87 per cent and revenues increased 82 per cent over the pro forma results for the period ended June 30, 1973. Unaudited operating results for the three month period ended June 30, 1974 show earnings of $1,148,000 or 22 cents a share, compared with $614,000 or 12 cents a share pro forma for the same period a year earlier. Revenues were $3,291,000 for the quarter ended June 30, 1974 compared with $12,763,000 for the pro forma period a year ago. "Increases resulted from improved profit margins and the performance of all divisions operating at near 100 per cent capacity," said K.S. Adams, Jr., president.

Adams emphasized the company is making no predictions on year-end expectations, but rather prefers to demonstrate its performance quarter-by-quarter during the first year of operations.

"Our recently refinanced $3.4 million short-term loan agreement included a line of credit which will be used to supplement cash flow to expand our energy exploration activities," Adams said. "Oil and gas exploration for our own account should contribute more to future earnings as our activities are expanded."

WAKES 'DEAD' BOY

SHEFFIELD, ENGLAND - A four-month-old boy believed to be dead "woke up" when the policeman taking him to a hospital turned on the siren on his patrol car. A doctor said later that the siren brought the child back to life.

Coffee To Boost Beef Industry

"Put your coffee break money to work for the beef industry" is the advice of Hereford Cowbelles, who are hosting a Silver Coffee Offering Tuesday morning, 9-12 noon, at Community Center.

Local Cowbelles will be serving coffee and "delicious goodies" with all proceeds going towards the promotion of beef, according to Mrs. Olen Caviness, treasurer.

"We are offering a chance to enjoy your coffee break with friends, while supporting the cattle industry, which is the hub of our community," said Mrs. Caviness.

At 10 a.m. Cowbelles will recognize those who have contributed to the Beef for Girlstown Project.

The public is urged to attend.

Hot Brakes

Firemen were called to the intersection of Highway 385 and Park Avenue early Friday morning when a gravel truck's brake locked and overheated. The driver had been unaware of the brake locking and continued driving. Firemen were wary of a diesel tank that developed a leak near the overheated brake, but doused the area with water until the brake cooled.

Loyalty Oath for Teachers?

May a public school teacher be required to take a loyalty oath? Yes, provided that the oath stays within constitutional bounds.

Consider the case of a high school teacher who balked at swearing to uphold the state and federal constitutions.

"I just don't like the whole idea of loyalty oaths," she explained in a court hearing. "They are an infringement upon my freedom of conscience."

But the judge said this kind of an oath was nothing more than is expected of most public officials, up to and including the President. He quoted the following comment from the United States Supreme Court:

"Obviously the framers of the Constitution thought that an affirmation of minimum loyalty to the government was worth the price of whatever deprivation of individual freedom of conscience was involved."

Nevertheless, some oaths have been thrown out by the courts for going too far.

Another case involved a declaration that the teacher had never lent "aid, support, or advice" to the Communist Party. Wouldn't this apply, a court wondered, to everyone who had ever supported any cause that the Communist Party had also happened to support?

The court concluded that it was unconstitutional to require an oath "in terms so vague that men of common intelligence must guess at its meaning."

Also rejected was a requirement that teachers submit an annual list of every organization to which they had either belonged or contributed during the previous five years.

The court felt that such a requirement intruded upon the teacher's right of free association. The court said there were all sorts of outside relationships that "could have no possible bearing upon the teacher's occupational fitness."

Energy Shortage Topic For Lions

The "energy shortage" was the program topic Wednesday at the Hereford Lions Club regular weekly luncheon meeting when C.M. Sprowls, environmental engineer for Phillips Petroleum, appeared as guest speaker.

There is not really a shortage of oil and gas in this country, reported Sprowls, "only a shortage of the ability to develop our resources." He predicted the shortage would last a minimum of two to five years, due to the time lag between the demand and the ability to supply those demands.

Speaking of the many factors involved in the energy shortage, Sprowls compared it to an iceberg since many of the problems are not readily visible. He claimed low profits for the petroleum industry the past decade have discouraged further investments and expansions. The government has put an "unrealistic price structure on natural gas," he added.

While there has been a growth in demand for oil and gas due to an affluent society, the business climate for the petroleum industry has not produced the incentive for expansion and exploration. Sprowls noted.

"The situation is improving, but it is not due to growth in the United States; there is increased production worldwide," he stated. "We need to create a business climate that will encourage oil companies to invest and develop our resources."

Some factors that could help the situation, according to Sprowls, would be the development of the Alaskan pipeline; the development of more deep-water ports for super tankers; and the construction of new refineries.

"The individual can help by communicating with his Congressman and letting him know how you feel," Sprowls said. He distributed sheets that contained a sample letter, how to write congressmen, and the addresses of the officials.

President Wayne Lady presented perfect attendance pins to Byron Terrell (5 years) and Ed Line (10 years) during the meeting. A number of guests were also recognized. The speaker was introduced by Ray Seale, program chairman.

TV COMMENTARY

IF THERE IS a quarrel afoot about the quality of TV offerings, one must in fairness remind himself of the mouth watering appetite of the tube. When television sits down to dine, it devours reams of material without beginning to gratify its ever constant hunger.

IN DAYS OF YORE, if the Elizabethans had indulged in TV by programming Shakespeare every day, he would have been done to a frazzle in a week.

GIVING Shakespeare his due, one can say with assurance that there isn't enough top-notch writing or first rate thinking in the whole world to keep paramount programming on the air via the telly every day, day after day.

A WEE, small voice might suggest shyly that perhaps there's too much TV in our lives, but surely it would be blasphemy to hint such an ill of our electronic totem. In case there's somebody about who wishes to turn king's evidence, this writer didn't say it.

WHAT THE VIEWER must do is to be selective in his viewing. Embrace your best and tune-off the rest. Choose to visually chew on only that which particularly fits the fancy. Watching anything else could be said to be counterproductive as far as time is concerned.

CBS will rebroadcast its news special "1943" on September 8. The show covers the fighting of the Second World War and is well worth viewing.

ALONG THE FRIO

By MRS. OWEN ANDREWS
Brand Correspondent

Guests at Frio Baptist Church Sunday were Rev. and Mrs. Gene Joplin and children. The Joplins are from Plainview and also visited her sister and family, west of Hereford.

Among those for the Cheryl Cole-Sal D'Amato wedding were the Herman Vinsons, who now have moved to Childress. Vinson is to be a high school counselor there. He was in the Pampa school system the last few years.

Mrs. Don Mobley and Mrs. Raymond Mobley came during the week to visit the Mobley family and Mrs. Don Mobley also went to Hollis, Okla., to visit her relatives. Other members of their family came the last of the week to be here for the Cole wedding.

Visiting the Jim Brooks one day last week were her brother, Earl McClenon, Mrs. McClenon, their granddaughter, Jennifer and friends, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Cox, all of Comanche, Okla. The visitors had been on a "camper" trip to Colorado and on the evening they were here they camped in Palo Duro park and went to see "Texas".

Here to visit their mother,

Mrs. J.E. Warrick, and others in the family are Mrs. Derrail Culp and sons, Keith and Chad, of Wilcox, Ariz. and Mrs. Don Weems and son, Michael, of Tucson. Their brother, Ronnie, had been to Arizona to visit them and the ladies came as he returned home.

Recent visitors of the Joe Ed Andrews were her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Haseloff, of Abilene, and grandmother, Mrs. Hattie Haseloff, of Vernon.

Mr. and Mrs. Harlan Barber spent the weekend attending a reunion of the Franklin family, Mrs. Barber's relatives, at Colorado City. They were accompanied from Lubbock by her aunt, Mrs. Laura Franklin.

Here the first of the week to visit the Harlan Barbers were his sister, Mrs. Paul Barron, Mr. Barron and their son, Wayne, of Lorraine.

Genie Robbins recently spent several days with her parents, the Frank Robbins, while she was recovering from a tonsillectomy. She is employed with Texas Instruments, at Lubbock and is a junior at Texas Tech. She moved into an apartment with two girl friends.

Food costs continue to spiral up, sad to relate. Economy's still the watchword in most American families.

Fortunately, the summer months make that economy easier because a hearty salad can be the mainstay of the meal. Everyone is familiar with the old favorite, potato salad, when fortified with frankfurters, cold cuts or deviled eggs.

There are others, too. One favorite is a tuna salad which can be made in many ways. Another is poached fish fillets to which is added a bit of shrimp or crab meat; the latter two are fairly expensive, but they are neatly extended with plain fillets, flaked and cooled.

Still another interesting main dish salad calls for noodles, cooked and chilled. Then they're mixed with cottage cheese, dairy sour cream, caraway seeds, grated raw carrots and radishes.

Or, what about mixing cooked, chilled noodles with cubes of Swiss or Muenster cheese and some crunchy foods like chopped celery and green pepper, then ringing the bowl with bright, cheery cherry tomatoes? If you like, add just a taste of meat with thin-sliced smoked ham from a 3-ounce package or sliced, spunky salami.

Bullock Visits City To Say 'Thank You'

BOB BULLOCK

Bob Bullock, Democratic nominee for State Comptroller, was in Hereford this week to say "thank you" to the voters of Deaf Smith County who gave him a 77.9 per cent majority in the May primary.

Bullock won the Democratic nomination with the largest percentage vote of any contested statewide race. He carried all but one of Texas' 254 counties.

Visiting every county in Texas during the primary, Bullock said he "prefers to talk to the people personally instead of hiding behind words and gimmicks ground out by clever public relations people."

The size of his victory shows the people support improvements and reforms he recommends for the Comptroller's Office, Bullock said.

Bullock, 45, gained statewide acclaim as Secretary of State. He also has served as Assistant Attorney General and a member of the House of Representatives. He is a veteran of the Korean Conflict and lives in Austin with his wife Amelia and son, Bobby.

During the campaign Bullock has called for an end to faulty collection methods which he says cost the state millions of dollars a year by "fly-by-night" operators.

Bullock also has promised to cut down the amount of red tape facing businesses in handling and paying state taxes. Other reforms urged by Bullock have included quicker processing of city sales taxes by the state.

"I'm fully confident that the people are more than anxious to see that their hard-earned tax dollars are carefully collected and wisely spent," Bullock said.

Annual Homecoming Event At Bippus

Visitors from a number of cities joined residents of the Bippus community and former residents who still live in the county, at the annual Bippus Homecoming last Sunday at the community church in northwestern Deaf Smith County.

Recognition was given several residents and former residents. Mrs. N.O. Phillips came farthest to the reunion, from Coleman. Mr. and Mrs. Eldon Fortenberry had the most members of their family present.

Mr. and Mrs. Clint Homfeld were the oldest couple present, David Fortenberry the youngest person. Mary Ruth Weaver announced these distinctions, and Mrs. Jack Weaver presented nine-year attendance pins to Charlene, Mary Ruth and Joe Don Weaver and the Homfelds.

Mrs. Charles Higgins was re-elected president of the Homecoming Association for next year. Mrs. Edwin Morrison vice president and Mrs. Wayne Sifford secretary. Aug. 15 was set as Homecoming date for next summer.

Welcome by Mrs. Higgins opened the afternoon program which included a memorial service conducted by Clint Homfeld honoring residents whose deaths occurred the past year: Chester Dodson, Mrs. Chloe Bippus, Sid Henderson, W.J. Frost, Mrs. Roscoe Pinnell and Hugh Fortenberry.

The Rev. Gene Brock gave the prayer and youth of the community led hymns to close the memorial. A reading by Mrs. Kenneth Homfeld, songs by Charlene Weaver and, accompanied by Stephanie Fortenberry, by David Fortenberry, were part of the program.

Joe Don Weaver showed slides and reported on work by Baptist Student Union members at a church children's home this summer, in which he took part.

Regrets at missing the Homecoming, with greetings to those present, were read by Mrs. Jimmie Bradley from Mr. and Mrs. W.H. Dodson, Mrs. Mary Chapman, Sadie Lee Oliver, the Rev. and Mrs. Noel Mills.

Formal Opening

Joe Castillo, left, Bobby Medina and Jimmy Moreno, officers of an organization formed to open the Wishing Well Ballroom at 201 N. Main, a family recreation hall, pause with the Rev. Joe Gilligan of St. Josephs Catholic Church during Friday night's Grand opening. The Rev. Gilligan blessed the building, which will be available for weddings, banquets and other occasions.

Knowing Burial Choices Eases Confusion Expense

BY JOHN L. HILL
Attorney General

Planning funeral arrangements can be a difficult, confusing task — and an expensive one, too. It is hard to make such important decisions in an atmosphere of grief and sadness, harder still to seek out the facts necessary to make informed decisions at such a time.

It may be easier for Texans to make responsible choices should the need arise if they have gathered sufficient information in advance about legal requirements, alternatives to the traditional funeral service and burial, and what questions to ask when arranging a funeral.

As for legal requirements, contrary to what many think, there is no Texas law requiring embalming, although in most cases it is a practical necessity.

The State Health Department, the agency with the authority to set regulations in this matter, requires only that a body held more than 24 hours either be embalmed or refrigerated, unless death was due to communicable disease, in which case it must be embalmed.

If a body is to be shipped by common carrier, it must either be embalmed or enclosed in an airtight metal casket encased in a shipping case, or in a casket encased in an airtight metal or metal-lined shipping case.

THERE IS ALSO no Texas law that says a casket or other burial container must be placed in an airtight vault before final disposition, although some cemeteries — both municipally owned and private — do have such a requirement.

As a matter of fact, as the Texas Funeral Directors Association points out, there is nothing in Texas law that requires a family to use the services of a licensed funeral director.

The specific requirements of the public health and vital statistics laws of the State would make it extremely difficult, if not impossible, however, for an untrained person to handle, transport, or bury the dead. And any person performing such services for the public or for a fee must be licensed as a funeral director or embalmer.

A growing, although still decidedly small, segment of the population is investigating and choosing alternatives to the traditional funeral service and burial, according to some studies.

Some persons choose cremation, others donate their bodies to medical schools, or will certain organs such as kidneys or eyes to organ banks. Still others join memorial societies which handle the details of burial, cremation, or body donation at a lower than average price for members who pay a fee to join.

While any of these alternatives generally will be less expensive than a traditional funeral and burial, many people choosing them do so not only for economy but for reasons of personal preference. It's worth noting that persons who donate organs still have the option of a traditional funeral and burial.

FOR THAT majority of Texans who still favor the traditional funeral and burial, our Consumer Protection attorneys strongly advise acquiring information in advance when there is time to think logically about such matters. They suggest that you consider, the following when making funeral arrangements: Are you or your friends and family familiar with the funeral home and its reputation for good service?

"This book has some good stories in it." — Brandi, third grader at Northwest Elementary School this fall, shows Tanya, 5, around the First Baptist Kindergarten which she once attended. They are the children of the Burns Hamiltons of 235 Centre.

Hereford, Texas, Sunday August 18, 1974

"Don't eat the crayons even if they are pretty colors," advises Tracy, 7, to Kyle Carnahan, 4 as they discuss what to expect in kindergarten on the sunporch at the home of their parents, the Jim Carnahans, 241 Ranger. Tracy has been through first grade as well as a year of kindergarten.

Some children who are starting their first year of school will receive preliminary pointers from older brothers and sisters. The little "rookies" will join other students Tuesday morning Hereford schools begin classes.

"First grade rooms are down that way," — Brian Lady shows his sister, Alison, as they stand in the entry of Northwest School. They belong to Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Lady of 225 Aspen. Brian is 7, ready for second grade, and Alison is 6.

"This is your teacher and she's nice!" — Sister Wendelina welcomes Ivona Herr, 5, who will be attending kindergarten at St. Anthony's Parish School. Introducing them is Charlet, 6, a kindergarten pupil last year and now ready for first grade. They are the daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Raynold Herr of 103 Aspen.

Miss Fortenberry Bride Of Roger Neal Sanders

White flowers and lighted tapers flanked an arch of green leaves to form the background for the marriage service of Miss Stephanie Darlene Fortenberry and Roger Neal Sanders Friday evening in the Assembly of God Church.

Mr. and Mrs. Eldon Fortenberry, 520 Star, are the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Sanders of Summerfield parents of the bridegroom.

The Rev. Homer T. Goodwin, pastor of the church, conducted the ceremony in which Mr. Fortenberry gave his daughter in marriage.

Candelabra holding hurricane lights were set on either side of the archway at the altar, and farther to the sides white pedestals held bouquets of gladiolas and chrysanthemums. Mothers' pews were marked by triple-branched candelabra.

The bride's cousin, Miss Connie Brown of Amarillo, was her maid of honor and David Wiggins was best man. Bridesmaids were Misses Valerie Bridges, Rhonda Fanning and Debbie Hoover, paired with Mike Bridges, Randy Thompson and David Fanning, groomsmen.

Brothers of the couple, Steve Fortenberry and Kevin Sanders, acted as ushers. Terri Barton, flower girl, and her brother Lance, ring bearer, are the bridegroom's niece and nephew, children of the Dick Bartons of Weatherford.

David Fortenberry, the bride's brother, and Eddie Moeller, nephew of the bridegroom, lighted candles before the ceremony.

Wedding music was by Miss Vickie Kendall and the Rev. Ricky Pfeil of Amarillo, accompanied by Mrs. Orval Galley and Miss Donna Kendall. Songs were More, Follow Me, and as the couple knelt for a prayer by the Rev. James D. Jones of Plainview, Savior Like A Shepherd.

Of white organza over taffeta, the bride's gown was styled with lace ruffles around a deep yoke, the wrists and the hemline which shaped into a chapel train. The bodice had an empire waistline and lantern sleeves. She wore a diamond and pearl pendant, the bridegroom's gift.

A lace halo cap embroidered with seed pearls held her bouffant veil which fell in two tiers, fingertip length. She carried white roses, stephanotis, babybreath and ivy tendrils on a white Bible borrowed from Miss Hoover.

Luck pieces in her costume were her paternal great-grandmother's wedding band and her mother's blue wedding garter.

The maid of honor wore a sleeveless princess dress of royal blue knit with short-sleeved bolero jacket.

Bridesmaids' dresses were in the same style but of blue-flocked white knit. They all wore white picture hats trimmed with medallions in royal and powder blue and white satin bows. Each carried a single red rose.

With a red rose and white carnation in her hair, the flower girl was dressed in royal blue with pinafore in the lighter shade embroidered in royal blue heart design. She scattered petals from a lace basket.

Parents of the bride were host in their home for the wedding reception. Gold and crystal candelabra held deep blue tapers on the table, with the bride's bouquet at the base.

White lace overlaid the blue cloth.

Miss Teresa Love of Bridgeport ladled punch while Miss Connie Welch of Lockney served the tiered cake which was set on a base of four hearts, ornamented with white roses and forget-me-nots and topped with bride-and-groom figurines and a cluster of sugar bells.

In the reception houseparty were Mmes. Lewis Fanning, John Goodwin, George Brown Jr., Jean Paulser and James D. Jones. Miss Deborah Phillips was at the guest book and Kelvin Moeller of Amarillo, the bridegroom's nephew, presented scrolls to guests as they registered.

Mr. and Mrs. Sanders left after the reception for a trip to Kentucky and other Eastern points. For travel she was dressed in a navy and white knit and long-sleeved jacket with tie band at the waist. Her corsage was from the bridal bouquet.

After this week the couple will be at home in the Summerfield community where Sanders farms. He and his bride are both Hereford High graduates, she with the class of 1974. She was a member of the National Honor Society and Future Business Leaders. A 1973 graduate, Sanders has been active in 4-H Clubs and was the County Gold Star award winner last year.

His parents entertained the wedding party at the rehearsal supper Friday evening in their home.

Out-of-town wedding guests included the bride's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Robin Fortenberry of Lockney, Mr. and Mrs. C.W. Vittow of Plainview; the bridegroom's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Sanders of Idalou, Mr. and Mrs. George Brown of Olton, Mrs. Bryan Hughes of Houston, the Durrel Fortenberrys of Lockney and Mrs. Marisa Fortenberry of Canyon.

To Wed Rancher

Engagement of Miss Linda Stengel to Donald Adams of San Jon, N.M., is announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert C. Stengel, who reside west of Hereford. The couple plans to marry Sept. 14 in St. Anthony's Catholic Church, and live near San Jon where Adams is a rancher and farmer. The bride-to-be attended West Texas State University the past three years as an animal science major, after graduation from Hereford High School. She is employed at Boots And Saddles shop here.

OES Honors Its Founder

Mrs. Charlie Noland sketched early history of the Order of Eastern Star as she gave the program for the Hereford Chapter this week, honoring Robert Morris, founder in the United States in 1850 of the order which stemmed from a Masonic group organized in Europe in 1765. His birthday falls on Aug. 31.

An invitation to a Friendship Night program at Muleshoe Sept. 1 was read. Refreshments were served in a social period by Mmes. Noland, Audrey Powell and Al Sauter.

Garden Club Plans Fall Activities

A fall flower show, annual event for Hereford Garden Club, will be held Oct. 11 with Mmes. R.L. Layman, Ben Childers and Art Manjeot as the committee in charge, it was announced at a called meeting in the club's garden center Friday afternoon.

Mrs. G.N. Garner, yearbook chairman, distributed books outlining programs of the coming season.

Plans were made for a plant sale in September, the date yet to be decided, and for the annual club pilgrimage.

Perhaps if we could forget our troubles as easily as our blessings we would live better.

McCathern-Sealy Vows Said In Friday Wedding

Joined in a Friday evening ceremony, Miss Kathy McCathern and Kim Sealy exchanged vows in First Baptist Church Sanctuary and are on a Florida Honeymoon. They are to return next week to a home northwest of Hereford.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald McCathern, 419 Centre, and the bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Elzie Judd of Lubbock. The Rev. Steve Graham, associate pastor of the church, officiated at the wedding.

Paired bouquets of white snapdragons and spiral candleabra marked the altar area where the bridal party stood. Given in marriage by her father, Miss McCathern was crowned in white chiffon over taffeta, with trim of wide lace scallops dotted with seed pearls. The empire bodice was designed with square neckline and full sleeves gathered to lace ruffles at the wrist.

Slightly flared, the carpet-length skirt had lace stitched down the front for a redingote effect, and more of the lace edged the tulle veil which formed a circular train. Her bouquet was a cascade of white roses with babybreath in varying shades of blue.

Honor attendants were Mr. and Mrs. Earnie Murphey, Misses Vicki Alford and Kim Wilson and Mrs. Jeff Deavenport were the bridesmaids. Alan Wilson, Bruce Sossaman and John Wilson the groomsmen.

The bride's attendants were dressed alike in powder blue chiffon embossed with a flower pattern in blue and white, worn over blue satin. Made in empire style, the dresses had short circle sleeves. Nosegays of pastel blue pompons and daisies with royal blue babybreath were carried.

Young members of the wedding party were cousins of the bride, Kristie Cassels as flower girl and Kelly Cassels ring bearer, both children of the Dwayne Cassels. Ushers were Doug Phillips, Chuck Durham, Johnny Earl Alford and Harold McNutt.

Before the ceremony Kolleen McCathern, sister of the bride, and Patty Durham, niece of the bridegroom, lighted candles and Mrs. Craig Poarch sang solos, Walk Hand In Hand, First Time Ever and Wedding Song. Mrs. Ken Walser played organ accompaniment and the marches.

At a reception in the church fellowship hall, the couple and their parents greeted guests before Mr. and Mrs. Sealy left for a week in Miami Beach, Florida.

Mrs. Bruce Sossaman and Miss Pam Kerr served the cake and Miss Twanaha Kendrick the punch, from a table centered with white snapdragons and daisies in a candleabra arrangement. Misses Tammy Durham and Shirley Head were at the registry table.

The wedding cake was based on five heart-shaped layers with a miniature waterfall in the center, its three tiers topped with satin bells.

For travel the bride wore a pink pantsuit. She was a spring graduate of Hereford High School, where she was on the rodeo team and drill team. Sealy, employed with McQuigg Farms Inc., completed high school studies here in 1972.

Wedding guests included from other cities, Mr. and Mrs. A.S. Traweck of Lubbock, the bride's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. A.A. Traweck of Slaton, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Roberts of Morton, Mr. and Mrs. Dean Gardner of Houston.

Miss Hereford In Perryton Pageant

Representing Hereford in the Wheatheart of the Nation beauty pageant at Perryton Saturday evening will be Susie Hickman, Miss Hereford 1974, who will also appear in the parade that morning. She is one of 28 beauties from four states entered in the annual pageant.

Sponsoring the Hereford entry are the city's Jaycees and the Women's Division of Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce. The latter group conducted the Miss Hereford Pageant in which Miss Hickman won her title, and supplied some of her wardrobe for the Miss Texas pageant at Fort Worth.

At Perryton the Hereford blonde will appear in a one-piece red swimsuit and in a lilac chiffon formal with glittering sequins on the bodice, which she wore at Fort Worth in July. For the first time in the Perryton pageant, Miss Wheatheart will be crowned in the bathing suit competition rather than the formal dress parade.

The pageant is set for 8 p.m. in Perryton High School auditorium. Hereford residents will be in the audience; Mr. and Mrs. John Bunch plan to go from the Jaycee organization, and probably others.

Selection of Miss Wheatheart of the Nation will climax a week-long celebration in Perryton, with rodeo performances, a demolition derby and motorcycle rodeo, a carnival and on Saturday, the parade and Old Timers Reunion. A dance will follow the pageant.

Outdoor Dance Scheduled

Square dancing outdoors, with the whole community invited, is planned by Merry Mixers Club beginning at 8:30 p.m. Friday on the parking lot in front of TG&Y Store.

Couples who want to dance are invited to join in, and everyone is welcome to look on, the club's president couple, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Kuper, announce. There will be no admission charge.

The Merry Mixers' regular caller, Stewart Rowan, will be there to call the dances.

Comings And Goings At King's Manor

By FAY GAUGGEL

Mrs. Bob Mapes of Walsenburg, Colo. visited Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. Pearl Mapes. She is also visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Elzey Teague of Dimmitt.

A.W. Tooley has spent the last two weeks with his son, Wendell Tooley and family at Floydada.

Mr. and Mrs. T.M. Thompson of Iowa Park and Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Thompson of Lubbock visited their mother and grandmother, Mrs. Maggie Thompson Sunday afternoon on their way home from Ruidoso, N.M.

Mrs. Louise Vaughan accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Burl Rogers to Littlefield Aug. 10 for the funeral of Horace Woodard of that city. Mr. Woodard is a brother-in-law of Mr. Rogers. Mrs. Vaughan saw several old friends there. She lived for a number of years in that area.

Mr. and Mrs. S.T. Beltz of Amarillo visited Ophelia Dotson and Leota Moore Thursday. They brought Carl Coffee, a cottage resident who has been hospitalized in Amarillo recently. The three of them returned in the afternoon to Amarillo.

The Rev. and Mrs. J.W. Polk of Paducah were houseguests of Lucile Naylor last week. Mr. and Mrs. E.T. Naylor of Amarillo were visitors in the Naylor home Saturday afternoon.

Mrs. Pearl Mapes spent four days in the home of Mrs. A.A. Hare and her daughter, Naomi Hare of Hereford.

Evadne Cox returned this week from a 10-day tour with her daughters and their families to Colorado. First she went to Colorado Springs with Mr. and Mrs. Don Bagwell and their family. There Mr. and Mrs. Joe Dilli of Fort Morgan met them and after returning with them to Fort Morgan, they attached their house trailer and started for the high country up Poudre Canyon above Fort Collins.

Several days were spent exploring different camp sites, trails, fishing spots and enjoying picnic lunches in beautiful surroundings, some at a height over 10,000 feet. Back to Fort Morgan, the Bagwells came by to pick up their passenger and all returned home after thoroughly enjoying the outing and the change of scenery.

Bobby and Bera Boyd led our sing song last Thursday evening. They and their two youngsters are what we call Hereford's Musical Family. They passed out song sheets with words only and after Bobby's coaching us slightly we sang thru it to the end.

We were fortunate enough to have Marvin Gregory at the piano, and he played a medley of familiar hymns without score or notes. That rare ear of his triggers off improvising hands and he plays with a coordinating of brains and hands—Chiefly God-given talents.

The audience insisted until the Boyds rendered a duet typical of their style which is always pleasing. Bravoes to Bobby and Bera-Boyd!

(How's that for alliteration?)

On Wednesday Aug. 21 at 7 p.m. in King's Manor Memorial Garden Room some guests of the Manor, Mr. and Mrs. George Gauggel of Honolulu, Hawaii will give a short concert of string music from 7 to 7:45. Mrs. Bill Devers will accompany them at the piano.

All lovers of music who care to come will be most welcome.

Tickets For Last 'TEXAS'

Performances of 'TEXAS' continue to attract full houses. However, there are seats left for Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, the last week of the 1974 season.

In order to insure good performances, even in case of accident, every part is understudied, and each understudy has the opportunity to play at least once during the season.

As each performer has many duties; every appearance in a new role of a major actor, involves changes in responsibilities for many other people in the production.

Since demand for seats grows toward the end of the season, people interested in attending are urged to make reservations in advance. They may call at 2010 Fourth Ave. in Canyon, At Cooper and Melin or Ward's in Amarillo telephone 806-655-2182.

Members Of Family Attend 6th Reunion

The Urbanczyk family's sixth annual reunion was attended by 120 persons Sunday at Thompson Park in Amarillo. Family members include descendants of the late Felix Urbanczyk, who moved to Hereford in 1937.

Those going to the reunion were Mr. and Mrs. Ed Dziuk Sr., Mr. and Mrs. Arhart Reinart, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Mazurek with Sammee, Pam, Lesa, Scott, Joey, Mandy and Tori, and Mr. and Mrs. Tony Urbanczyk with Kevin, Mark, Brian, Chris and Gregg.

Other relatives came from Houston, Dallas, Pampa, Panhandle, Farwell, Clatide, White Deer, Skellytown, Groom and Santa Ana, Calif.

The Urbanczyks were among the first Polish settlers in White Deer, where three brothers moved. Their original American home was in Panna Maria.

Their father, Anton, was five years old when his family came from Poland with others of their nation.

They landed in Indianola on the Texas coast in 1854, migrated to Panna Maria and later moved to Munday. John Urbanczyk went to White Deer in 1910; his brothers Ben and Felix followed in 1911.

The brothers are now deceased but are survived by three sisters, Mrs. Adela Bichsel of Panhandle, Mrs. Will Jungman of Littlefield and Mrs. Wanda Decker of Munday.

Home Wedding Conducted In Canyon

A home wedding in Canyon was conducted for Miss Leta Gail Fite, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John M. Fite of that city, and Joe Harold Childers of Hereford and Canyon, son of

Mrs. Ella Mae Childers of Plainview, former Hereford resident. Dr. Strauss Atkinson of Plainview, Baptist missionary, officiated for the wedding in the Fite home Thursday evening. A fan arrangement of pink, yellow and white daisies flanked with gold candelabra in front of the fireplace was the setting for the ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Childers, brother and sister-in-law of the bridegroom, were honor attendants, and their daughter, two-year-old Carrie Jo, was junior bridesmaid. John Wilmeth of Amarillo, cousin of the bride, carried the rings. Her brother, David Fite, lighted candles before the service.

A summer bridal gown of white dotted Swiss was worn by Miss Fite with a waist-length illusion veil gathered to a headpiece of pearl flowers. Ruffled lace sprinkled with tiny pink embroidered daisies outlined a deep yoke on the dress bodice, circled the high neckline and the short puffed sleeves.

The softly gathered skirt had a wide flounce of the material at the hemline, with a ruffled heading. Her grandmother's wedding ring was tied into the bride's bouquet of pink rosebuds, daisies and baby-breath.

The matron of honor wore pink dotted Swiss, in empire style with puffed sleeves and skirt ruffle. Her small daughter's dress was in identical fashion, buttercup yellow in color. Each carried a nosegay of pastel daisies tied with pink and yellow ribbon streamers.

A reception followed the ceremony, with Miss Carol Coleman at the guest book. Mrs. Leo Wilmeth of Antiarillo served the wedding cake and Mrs. Jerry Jones of Dallas was at the punch bowl; both are cousins of the bride. Mmes. Lon Fanning and Alice Koch were also in the houseparty. Covered with ecru lace over yellow, the table was centered with yellow tapers in silver candelabra. The tiered cake was decorated in sugar daisies and lovebird figurines.

For a trip to New Mexico mountains, Mrs. Childers wore a pink dress with corsage of pastel flowers, and white accessories. The couple will be at home by midweek at 2300 Sixth Ave. in Canyon.

The bride is a senior in West Texas State University, majoring in kindergarten education, and is employed at Cornette Library on the campus. Her sorority is Delta Zeta.

Employed with Armour and Co. in Hereford, Childers holds a BA degree in economics from North Texas State at Denton. He is a graduate of Hereford High School.

His grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Grady Parsons of this city, were among out-of-town wedding guests. Others in addition to his mother were Mr. and Mrs. Greg Foster of Dalhart, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Parsons of Amarillo.

Spice-Rice Party Given For Bride

School friends of Stephanie Fortenberry, who was married to Roger Sanders Friday evening, gave her a spice-and-rice party Tuesday in the Melvin Hoover home. Hostesses were the Hoovers' daughter, Debbie, Diana Watkins, Sandy Watkins and Rhonda Fanning. Rice bags were prepared for the wedding reception. Guests, who had attended Hereford High with the honoree, each gave her a favorite recipe.

Refreshments were served from a table appointed in blue and white, colors used in wedding decorations.

Supper Is Prelude To Club Year

Nearing the start of a new club year, Palo Duro Extension Club members invited prospective members to a salad supper Thursday evening in the REA Medallion Room. This club is composed of very young homemakers and some of its guests were this summer's brides.

A housewares sales party was combined with the salad supper, and casual conversation was the main entertainment. Guests were invited to join the club for meetings of first and third Mondays of each month in the coming season. The initial September meeting will be postponed a week because of the Labor Day holiday.

Mmes. Tony Gorman, David Vines, Lynn Fisher, Joe Don

Daniels, Micky Brisendine, Richard Dickson and Tony Carter were the supper guests, while Mmes. Mike Oberiski, State Norvell, Ted Coleman and Jimmy Yeager played hostess.

After 13 Years Schools' Food Service Director Is Retiring

BY SUE COLEMAN
Women's Editor

FOUR cafeterias were in Hereford Public Schools' food service program when Ruby Smith came 13 years ago as its director; she is retiring at the end of this month with double that number under her direction.

Things have changed in cafeteria administration during her tenure; and even more since she first worked in school lunchrooms in 1960. Mrs. Smith has studied, asked questions and observed other schools in order to keep up with them.

Most of the changes have been due to federal involvement in the school lunch program, with resulting regulations not only as to quality of the food served but as to planning for nutritive values.

"WHEN I first began working requirements were not so strict; you just cooked a meal of things kids liked," she says. "Now menus must be checked and approved in advance by government inspectors, and a meal must have a specified amount of Vitamin C, for instance, even if it's in a food they don't like. But we consider their likes and dislikes as well as nutrition standards, and try to give them what they like."

Mrs. Smith has acquired a pretty good idea of school children's food preferences and prejudices in four different school systems.

SHE BEGAN work as kitchen supervisor in Dimmitt schools in 1960. After four years the Smiths moved to New Mexico and she was employed in the school at Holliman Air Force Base and then in Albuquerque. Training for her work was acquired in short courses at Santa Fe and Las Cruces. After she came to Hereford she went to Lubbock for summer classes and attended workshops in other cities, playing hostess for one here in Hereford.

"We got pretty good courses in basic things like menu planning and buying, and learned more when we put them into practice on the job," she says. "I learned a great deal, also, by just asking questions of state and district supervisors, and salesmen from the supply firms. I never minded asking when I didn't know."

SHE KNEW from experience, when she began work in cafeterias, a lot about cooking because she had a big family to prepare meals for. Now the children have scattered to their own homes but she says "My husband still enjoys food and so I cook meals at home and do lots of baking."

Ruby and Clifford Smith live at 432 Star. His work is also with the school system, on the maintenance staff. Two of their children, Mrs. R.A. Crist and Don Smith, live in Hereford.

The others are Mrs. Earl Fulkerson of Albuquerque, Betty Wilson of San Diego, Lloyd of Tulsa, Clifford Jr. of Burbank, Calif., and Dale of Los Angeles. The family includes 12 grandchildren, six great-grandchildren.

MRS. SMITH was born in Coalgate, Okla., and her family came to Texas in the 1930's.

"We came to Dimmitt and learned just what was meant by the Dust Bowl," she smiles. And the Smiths stayed long enough in West Texas to decide that they will continue to live in Hereford after retirement.

She will be succeeded as food service director by Trudie Gray, who has had seven years experience and has worked since May as Mrs. Smith's assistant to prepare her for taking over. She has been manager of the cafeteria at La Plata Junior High for six years.

A NATIVE West Texan, Mrs. Gray was born at Goree in Knox County, and grew up there. She and her husband, Jack Gray, lived for a time in Amarillo before moving to Hereford 16 years ago.

The family home is at 616 Ave. I and the youngest daughter, Vicki, is still at home, a junior in high school this year. Her older sister, Billie Anne Willson, lives in Amarillo, and another, Jackie Hearon, in Lindsay, Oklahoma. The only son, Sammy, is stationed now at Ft. Polk, La., in the U.S. Army service.

Mrs. Gray enjoys sewing as a hobby when she has time. She has attended courses for cafeteria managers three summers and expects to continue learning more about her job through study as well as experience.

Appropriate Gifts

Ruby Smith, left, was presented a plaque with a message of appreciation from food service employees in the Hereford Public Schools, at a recent party honoring her on retirement as director. Trudie Gray, who will take her job, also received a gift—a baseball bat tied with a red ribbon, with a suggestion that she may find it useful.

4-H Center Report Promises Early Use

By Argen Draper

A RELEASE from Brownwood states that construction on the Texas 4-H Center is on schedule and the center should be ready for our use early in 1975.

It reminds me to again thank each of you for your part in Deaf Smith County reaching our goal for contributions to the center. Our bean suppers are still being discussed over the state.

REMEMBER the heart seminar year before last and the cancer seminar this year? Tuesday, the family living youth steering committee will meet in Amarillo to tabulate suggestions for the program for 1975.

PURELY personal: There are two wise kittens at our house who are ringing the door bell. The door bell is attached to a leather strap.

With the strap blowing in the wind, the kittens became intrigued and swatting at the strap, jangled the bell. Of course, we made a big deal of such native intelligence and we hope it is a permanent arrangement.

A confession: When we fall at bedtime to pull the strap inside, the clanging at midnight isn't so cute.

TO JACK Buse. Here is a recipe for super dog batter which you might like.

SUPER DOG

1 c. flour
1/4 c. corn meal
1 t. salt
1 t. dry mustard
2 t. baking powder
3 t. sugar
1 egg
1/2 c. milk

Combine all ingredients and mix thoroughly. Dip wieners in batter and fry in deep fat.

COTTAGE CHEESE COOKIES

1/2 c. fat
1/4 c. cottage cheese
1/4 c. flour
2 t. baking powder
1/2 c. sugar
1/2 t. salt

With two teaspoons, drop mixture about 2 inches apart onto ungreased cookie sheet. Bake near center of oven about 15 minutes or until light brown. Take from sheet at once. Makes about 4 dozen cookies. (Add 1 c. nuts and/or 1 c. coconut if desired.)

In answer to a request for carrot cookies:

CARROT COOKIES

Turn on oven and set at 350 degrees.

Sift into three quart bowl, 2 c. sifted all purpose flour, 1 c. sugar, 2 t. baking powder. Add and mix well, 1 c. soft shortening, 2 eggs, one-third c.

Blend fat and cheese thoroughly. Gradually add sifted dry ingredients. Form into a loaf or roll; chill overnight; slice thin.

Bake on greased baking sheet at 350 degrees for 10 minutes or until delicately browned.

Bank Employees Attend Meet

Two Hereford State Bank employees, Mrs. Irene McKinster and Mrs. Sherry Hoover, recently attended a three-day seminar in Dallas designed to educate bank personnel on Special Organizational Services (SOS).

Hereford State Bank is one of 800 banks in 47 states with a combined total of 1,200 advisors to provide SOS, a service which aims at settling business and personal affairs of a person who has died, at no cost to the deceased's family.

The banks participating in the program stress that SOS is a supplementary service to that provided by legal and other professionals.

Also, the service is available to anyone in the community, Mrs. McKinster said, regardless of whether they are a member of the SOS bank.

Small Talk

By SUE COLEMAN
Women's Editor

FOR a short trip next weekend, how about driving to Perryton Saturday and cheering for the Hereford entry in the Miss Wheatheart pageant that evening in the high school auditorium?

Several members of the Jaycees and Jaycee-Ettes, also the Chamber of Commerce Women's Division, which are sponsoring a representative from this city in the beauty pageant, have tentative plans to go but they'd be happy for more local supporters to be there.

Our entrant, of course, is Susie Hickman, Miss Hereford 1974, and she has 27 competitors for the title.

THE OLDEST city in the U.S., St. Augustine, Fla., was explored by Violet and Joe Reinauer in a side trip while they were in Florida last week.

Their main purpose was to visit the families of their sons, Jim and Bob, both stationed in Florida as officers in the Navy. They came back home Thursday after the rather quick trip east.

THAT sparkling diamond necklace Kathy McCathern wore with her bridal costume Friday evening was the gift of the bridegroom, Kim Sealy. And it showed up beautifully with the low square neckline of her wedding dress.

WHEN we write accounts of half-a-dozen or more weddings every week, and describe the brides' dresses, we grow super-sensitive to styles in wedding gowns and to tell the truth pretty tired of the most popular.

This summer the very high necklines have been high style and a lower neckline looks good to me, even if it's just for a

Booklet Sent To Civic Clubs

The West Texas State University Speaker's Bureau booklet is now being distributed to civic organizations around the Golden Spread. That announcement was made Monday by Keith Winter, West Texas State's Director of Development.

According to Winter, "the Speaker's Bureau booklet will enable program chairman to select from over 300 topics and over 100 faculty and staff members from West Texas State.

The Speaker's Bureau was started last Fall by Wayne Hughes, the University's Broadcast Bureau Chief. The initial information on the program was in a pamphlet, also mailed to the list of over 100 organizations.

The new 27 page booklet lists the available speakers by topic as well as providing biographical material on each of the participants.

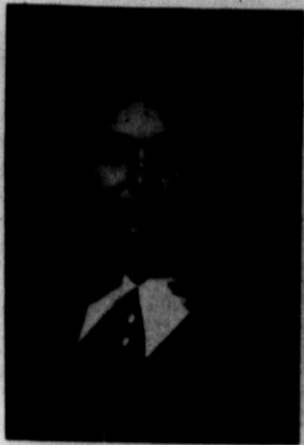

Anyone interested in further information on the Speaker's Bureau can contact Wayne Hughes, Broadcast Bureau, Box 788, WT Station, Canyon, Texas 79016; Telephone 656-3963.

change. Besides, it's bothered me that all the wedding shoppes have described these up-to-the-chin collars as Victorian.

My idea of Victorian fashions are those associated with the late queen in her heyday, with necklines cut down to here, waists squeezed in to their tiniest, and hoop skirts over ruffled petticoats.

"Of course Victoria reigned for more than 60 years and her name could be given to several very different styles; but it seems odd to use it of fashions at the end of her reign, when she was a plump old lady in widow's weeds.

To me, that period is Edwardian, but then I don't always agree with the shoppes' description of dresses, anyhow.

BASICS. What is a gardener? We write about gardeners, talk of gardeners, are gardeners; and enjoy the results of their efforts.

Nelson Coon, on the staff of The American Horticultural Society, links a gardener with horticulturist. In a recent article he stated that a gardener is not a botanist who prepares his dried specimens (hortus siccus) nor a farmer who grows things in a field (agricultura). He is a cultivator of gardens (hortuscultra).

This definition really does not satisfactorily narrow the role of the gardener in the right perspective. What, in fact is a gardener... what do you think? Readers Digest Encyclopedia Dictionary defines it: One who practices the art or the science of growing garden products... One who tends gardens (soils) and is skilled in this art.

In the broad scope of gardening, we find people who are specialists. Even in home gardening most of us have special plants which we favor over others, therefore many kinds of gardens and gardeners are found.

At present there is heavy emphasis on growing food in backyard gardens. Those who do not have backyards or other space, are raising fruit and vegetables in tubbed containers, on roof gardens, mini-gardens of herbs for the gourmets.

It is really great the way gardeners are now using fresh, tasty vegetables from their gardens. Just this morning a friend brought me a bag of fresh snap beans, prepared for cooking. Another gave me new potatoes, onions and cucumbers, GOOOOOOO!

One motive of the horticulturist is to create beauty, to aid our environment. Vegetable gardens are beauty spots.

They can be planned to carry out many of the requirements of good landscaping. I have planted beets with moss roses and they make a very attractive beauty spot in the backyard.

Many needs can be fulfilled through gardens. One is gardens for the blind. To create such a garden, one needs to study flowers which have fragrance, so that the blind may be able to identify the different kinds. Also texture is another way the blind can learn names and different foliage of plants, and form of the flowers.

A late addition to the Amarillo Council Garden Center is the walled garden for the blind. It is most interesting and is worth anyone's time to visit, to enjoy its beauty through sight, touch or smell.

Wide paths have been included so wheelchair patients can visit the garden. Planting areas are in various heights so these people can reach out easily to touch and enjoy.

Flowers grown for their fragrance are: Geraniums, the foliage and stems when crushed create a delightful aroma. Practically all of the dyanthus family have a pleasing fragrance, especially the carnation. Foliage also has interesting form.

Petunias are excellent, with sweet odor and foliage of different texture. Roses, very fragrant, are not for gardens for the blind because of their thorns; there is one exception, the miniature, as the thorns are not so large. Herbs are also suggested.

Another kind of garden which is becoming more and more popular is a cacti and succulent garden. This type offers many challenges.

Rock gardening can be used in the plotting of rock gardens. Rock hounds derive much pleasure from sharing in these types. The rocks add color, form and interest, which is very creative.

Women's Forum Schedule Fixed

Dates and program subjects for the three 1974-75 meetings of Deaf Smith County Women's Forum were selected by the executive board Thursday in the home of Mrs. Sam Long, new president. Hostess clubs were assigned for each meeting.

The season will begin Sept. 30 with a program on the general theme of Nutrition. Lone Star, Ceramic Art and Garden Beautiful Clubs will be hostesses. This meeting and others to follow, will be at a covered dish lunch in Community Center, open to all women of the county.

At the winter meeting, Jan. 27, topic of the program will be Government. Music Study, La Afflatus Estudio and Bud-to-Blossom Clubs will have hostess duty.

The annual Fine Arts program is scheduled for Apr. 28 with Summerfield Study, Pioneer and Hereford Garden Clubs as hostesses.

Board members at the planning session with Mrs.

Long, were Mrs. O.G. Hill Sr. and Mrs. Bruce Brown, vice presidents, Mrs. Tom Carter, treasurer, Mrs. A.B. Higgins, reporter, and Mrs. Sam Morgan, correspondent.

Partners in Progress

Deaf Smith Chamber of Commerce launched a "one-on-one" membership drive this week with a goal of increasing the overall support of the community organization without raising dues. Each member will be given the name of just one prospect to contact and explain the benefits of the chamber.

The C of C is a unique organization. It is a partner to every business and every citizen. You are benefiting from the activities of the chamber even if you are not involved as a dues-paying member.

The chamber desires your support in time and talent, and it is especially important for you to financially cooperate with more than 400 of your fellow business men who make up various committees and who are taking time to help you. Membership dues, which are tax deductible, amount to less than 20 cents a day. It's not a gift...it's an investment in the continued growth and prosperity of our community.

Community pride is a trademark of hustlin' Hereford. The chamber needs your support in its efforts to make it a still better community!

Since The Cave Dweller

Need has always been the "Mother of Invention." A shortage of good, dry caves and a need to get out of the weather no doubt prompted the construction of the first man-made shelter.

Fortunately, in those primitive times no government was around to set up a housing authority with the power to ration caves, penalize the inventors and builders of houses and regulate their profits and production. If there had been, most of us would probably still be living in caves waiting our turns to get into a thatched hut or a bearskin tent.

Some of the bad effects of government interference with the workings of the free market are graphically set forth by Mr. Walter B. Wriston, one of the nation's leading banking and financial industry executives, in a July Reader's Digest article, entitled "The Trouble With Government Regulation."

As recorded history proves, there have always been plenty of problems and shortages of one thing or another. The great whale oil shortage of post-Civil War years saw the price of this fuel, used widely for artificial lighting, go up to $2.25 a gallon — a 100 per cent increase over the 1859 price.

There were those who demanded that Congress do something to stop such profiteering. But there was no rationing, no excess profits tax and the price was allowed to rise.

As The Digest article notes, throughout American history the free market has worked to solve problems of scarcity. Prices moving upward... motivate the consumer to consume less and the producer to produce more, and... spur someone on to develop a new product that is better and cheaper. Shortages become a crisis when government intervenes to frustrate the ability of the free market to function.

One way to ensure the perpetual shortage of oil and gas in the U.S. today would be to set up a government agency to produce them or a regulatory bureaucracy to control the distribution, marketing and pricing of these products.

As Mr. Wriston concludes, "Whether it is whale oil, baby chicks or energy, control by a bureaucracy is no match for the free market in the allocation of human and material resources for the good of everybody."

Gas To Stay High

Rumor has it that gasoline prices are likely to decline substantially, with the inescapable inference that abundant supplies are just around the corner.

The truth is the prices are not likely to decline very much, if at all, and the supply of petroleum products depends to a great extent upon whether public policies open the way for aggressive exploration and development by the oil industry. No one else can do the job, and some concept of what is involved is provided by the vice chairman of one of the country's leading oil companies.

He says, "We are facing some huge capital expenditures over the next decade if the nation is to become relatively self-sufficient in energy. Conservative estimates place the capital needs of the domestic petroleum industry at approximately $600 billion through 1985."

"Tremendous further sums will be required to meet the capital needs of other energy suppliers, such as the utilities and the coal companies. Whether or not funds can be obtained on such a scale remains to be seen."

"It will clearly require earnings above historical levels... Actions to limit profits within these industries, or to increase their tax load further, will simply condemn the nation to increasing energy shortages and increasing dependence on unreliable foreign sources."

"If we are going to succeed in making the adjustment to the new energy environment which is shaping up, public support will be essential, and a prerequisite to public support is public understanding of the issues."

"From all the evidence, we do not yet have either the necessary understanding or the support."

Spreading fairy tales about gasoline prices and gasoline supplies in no way contributes to a better understanding of the basic energy issues that now confront this country.

The Sunday Brand, Hereford, Texas, Sunday August 18, 1974

Talk of Texas

BY JACK MAGUIRE

FOOTNOTE TO HISTORY —

Fifty-seven years ago this month, 150 Negro troops stationed at old Camp Logan mutinied and turned Houston into a city of terror.

The soldiers, members of the Third Battalion, 24th U.S. Infantry, had been sent to Houston less than four weeks earlier to assume guard duties at the new training camp. Houston's white leaders had objected to having armed blacks in a city where racial tensions already were high, but the troops had been sent anyway.

As expected, incidents began to occur almost immediately. The soldiers defied laws segregating passengers on streetcars and Houston police retaliated with arrests and beatings. On the night of August 23, 1917, racial tension finally reached a point where it exploded into a riot. About 150 of the soldiers mutinied and marched into Houston. When the night of terror ended, 13 whites and seven soldiers were dead.

The next day most of the rioting troops were rounded up and placed under military arrest. Eventually 118 were tried by Army courts. Thirteen were summarily executed, 16 others were sentenced to hang and 53 were given life in prison. Later President Woodrow Wilson commuted ten of the death sentences to life.

The court-martials, that resulted from the mutiny and riot were the longest, and affected more soldiers, than any in the history of the U.S. Army.

IT'S THE LAW — In Texas, it's possible to be arrested and fined for doing nothing more criminal than ordering fried fish in a restaurant!

For many years, it has been against the law to sell any kind of game fish. Now if a diner unknowingly eats black bass or crappie served up in a restaurant, he is as guilty as the cafe owner of violating the game laws.

Last spring, game wardens raided a Tyler restaurant after somebody leaked word that the chef was serving fried crappie. They not only arrested the owner, but also hauled off seven customers who were eating the fresh-water fish. The owner paid $438 in fines and court costs. The fish dinner cost the customers $35.30 each in fines.

TRAVELING TEXAS — If there ever is such an unlikely thing as another Indian attack in Young County, the citizens there will be ready. They are the only taxpayers in Texas who still own a fort.

Fort Belknap, near Graham, has been restored after an expenditure of about $70,000 in cash, plus donations and furnishings, murals and even trees. Mrs. Barbara Ledbetter, Young County historian, says that the fort also is unique among Texas restorations because it has a separate building to house archives of the area.

YOU'LL WANT TO KNOW — That there is still one rancher in Texas who breeds mules for the market.

He is Ernest Black and he breeds the Hybrids on his 76 Ranch in Montgomery and Walker Counties. He produces the mules by breeding a jackass and his quarterhorse mares.

Right Man For The Times

In only three days in office, President Ford has already spread considerable balm on the wounds of a suffering nation. If in the end, that should prove the theme of his entire presidency, he will have won a special spot in the hearts of his countrymen.

Any new President enjoys a honeymoon, of course, and at this moment in history the emotions behind that tradition are more heartfelt than ever. The new presidency marks the end of the agonies of the impeachment battle, which were all the more painful coming as they did atop all the other tragedies and divisions that have engulfed the last three Presidents. At this time a new President, a new beginning, is bound to draw a deep response from nearly any American.

In this role, Gerald Ford is perfectly cast. Plain. Earnest. Simply spoken. Willing, with the habits of a life-long legislator, to embrace as friends all men of all political persuasions. Displaying, despite widespread doubts about his staff and his preparation, a sure grip in the transition and a clear strategy for setting the flavor of his administration. Setting out, as in his handling of the press, to correct some of the sore points that made his predecessor so divisive a figure. In all, an impressive start.

How long this mood will last we would not hazard to guess. The institutional conflict between the presidency and the press, for example, is bound to reassert itself to some degree. More importantly, large political battles lie ahead. The economy has been mismanaged so badly and for so long that its problems cannot be corrected without pain, and painful policies will cause divisions. In foreign affairs the policy of detente has passed through the stage of glamour into one of intellectual and political testing. All these will be challenges to the embryonic era of good will, but in meeting the challenges Mr. Ford's personality and background give him a better chance than most.

In these past few days it has been fascinating to watch the reaction of those destined to oppose Mr. Ford's policies as they opposed Mr. Nixon's. Even in praising the new President they have been staking out the economic issue, calling for more of the same old new approaches that caused the trouble to begin with. Yet in its total impression the praise has been generous and even appreciative.

To take a small but telling point, our haphazard sampling suggests that even the most cosmopolitan are touched rather than repelled by Mr. Ford's call for prayer. Their assessment seems to be while Richard Nixon postured as a Middle American, Mr. Ford is the genuine article. It is as if, being proved in decisive respects right about Mr. Nixon, they welcome the opportunity to demonstrate that they really do not oppose the values he repeatedly invoked.

More important for the long run, Mr. Ford is not the overt threat to his opponents that Mr. Nixon always was. Richard Nixon was an extraordinary man with extraordinary ambitions. We now know that he was marked for extraordinary failure, but until the dimensions of Watergate became clear no one could entirely gainsay the chance that he would succeed in changing the entire political complexion of the nation, ending the long-standing liberal dominance of political policy. A poker player at heart, he was willing to take high risks for high stakes.

Mr. Ford is manifestly an ordinary man. His ambition is to discharge faithfully the immense responsibilities thrust upon him. That this is enough for any man called to the presidency might be a neat summary of the lesson of the last decade. We have had enough of the extraordinary, enough of high risks. As a nation we now suspect we have been wrong in expecting our Presidents to be oversized men.

This is a time for stewardship, and Mr. Ford is a man for such times. He brings us patience, and we can hope, the kind of calm wisdom ordinary men often have. He brings us above all a quality of steadiness, and we hope he can redeem the promise, for steadiness is above all what the nation now needs.

Funeral Decisions Can Be Expensive

An ancient Roman philosopher once said that we are all equal in the face of death. All of us at some time are equally touched and saddened by the death of a relative or friend.

And many of us must, at that trying time, take on the responsibility of arranging a funeral.

What the majority of people faced with such a difficult task too often forget, or dismiss appropriate to the occasion, is that decisions about funeral arrangements are also major decisions — decisions involving hundreds, even thousands, of dollars.

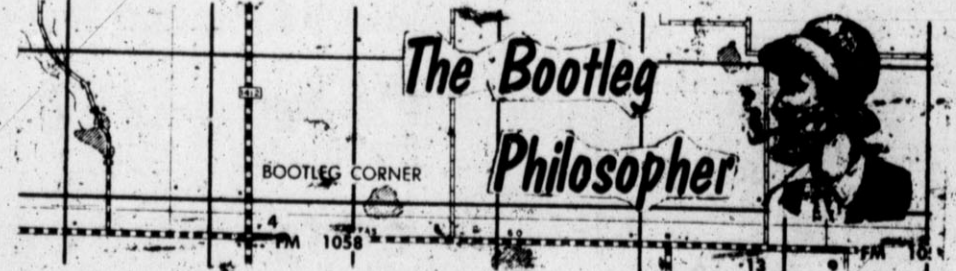

It may be easier to prepare ourselves for the possibility of making such decisions, however, if we learn in advance what we may be called upon to decide.

Perhaps the first thing to determine is who shall make decisions about funeral arrangements. Some consumer experts recommend that a relative outside the immediate family or a close family friend be entrusted to make preliminary arrangements, with the immediate survivors having final approval.

While it is natural to say "price is no object" at such times, the responsible consumer will want to make decisions that are in keeping with the way the deceased lived, and will arrange a funeral that is both appropriate and affordable.

The Texas Funeral Directors Association points out that there are four categories of funeral charges to consider:

1. Those involving the funeral home facilities and staff, the casket, and other merchandise purchased from the funeral home.
 2. Those relating to disposition, such as cemetery lot and charges, cremation and cost of urn if desired, or mausoleum crypt.
 3. Gravestone, monument, or marker, or niche for urn containing ashes.
 4. Other expenses, such as clergyman's fee, limousines (if not included in funeral charge), flowers, newspaper notices, police escort, and out-of-town transport of the body.
- This and other information can be provided by a trained funeral director who is licensed by the State Board of Morticians and whose experience in such matters can be a great help.

Editor's note: The Bootleg Philosopher on his Deaf Smith grass farm on Bootleg Corner works around the edges of truth-telling, his letter this week reveals.

Dear editor: I have about decided maybe that everybody in this country ought to decide not to believe anybody.

What went on in Washington is one thing, even the revelation that some Boy Scout leaders were lying about how many boys they had enrolled in order to get more Federal money was bad enough, but I guess the final straw came when it was revealed that the new World Football League has lied about how many tickets it sold at its opening games.

ACCORDING TO an article I read the other day, the head of one team announced that 64,719 fans paid their way in to see a nationally televised game, and while there were that many in the stands, only 6,200 actually paid to get in. The rest were given free tickets so the stadium would be packed and things would look good on television. This leaves a person with no place to turn. If he didn't see the game how does he know the report of the final score is even right? It'll spread everywhere. It's one thing for example to doubt the weather forecast for tomorrow, but to doubt if the figures on how much it rained yesterday are true, leaves everybody floundering.

If we have to take everything that's said or printed with a grain of salt, I'm going to clean up by buying stock in a salt mine.

WHAT THE country needs I guess is not only elected officials who tell the truth but ordinary people as well.

However we don't want to rush into this too fast. If everybody in government and out started telling the truth all at once it might be too much to believe. We've got to work into this gradually. Personally I won't mind answering truthfully any question you put to me if you'll let me pick the questions.

Yours faithfully, J.A.

Money For Rail Crossing Safety

Every highway-rail crossing holds a potential for serious accidents. It is a legitimate concern of government at every level, and now grade crossing safety has become a new national priority.

For the first time in history, federal Highway Trust Fund money is authorized specifically for rail-highway crossing safety projects. Another historic first is the availability of federal money for crossing projects off the federal aid highway systems.

The Association of American Railroads (AAR) has issued a brief pamphlet directed to local authorities for the purpose of making local leaders aware of federal money that can now be obtained to assist in removing the perils of rail-highway crossings. "The purpose of this pamphlet," says the AAR in an introductory note, "is to provide a guide for follow-up action at local and state levels."

Special attention is called to the Federal-Aid Safer Roads Demonstration Program, created by Section 230 of the Highway Act of 1973. The Act authorizes $250 million in funds for improvements to correct designated safety hazards on public streets or roads not included on any federal-aid system. The authorization covers a three-year period. The money is intended primarily for use by local authorities on safety projects for which other state or federal funds are not available. The elimination of hazards at railroad-grade crossings are among the projects eligible for inclusion in the Demonstration Program.

Removing grade-crossing dangers is a recognized obligation of government. As funds are made available for this purpose, it is incumbent upon state and local officials to cooperate as closely as possible with federal efforts to carry out that obligation.

Traveling Teens To Savor Europe

By KERRIE WOMBLE
Brand Staff Writer

To give local young people a taste of other cultures and social climates is the reason four Hereford teachers will be taking more than 40 students to Europe next summer.

In June, Mr. and Mrs. Randy Farr and Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Logan, all teachers in Hereford Independent School District, will accompany 41 junior high and high school students on an extensive trip through seven countries abroad.

According to Bruce Logan, who took a group of young people to Europe last year, the journey is designed to combine education with recreation. The 30-day itinerary will include visits to France, Switzerland, Italy, Austria, Germany, Holland and England.

THE TRAVELING teens, primarily students from La Plata Junior High and Hereford High Schools, are not acquainted with the foreign languages, money systems and other cultural aspects they will be confronting.

However, according to Logan, the entourage will study an extensive program of the history, architecture and societies of Europe.

Most of the students harbor interests in other cultures and plan to study at least one foreign language in school later. Some of the youth were inspired by travelogues of older brothers and sisters who journeyed abroad last year.

Jan Reinauer, daughter of the Bill Reinauers and HHS sophomore, was a member of the previous tour group abroad. "Everything is so different over there," she said. "I saw a lot and it was interesting, but I feel like I probably just skimmed the surface. I'm going back to get a broader and more indepth view."

Logan commented, "This is a wonderful opportunity for these youngsters. This type of living classroom experience is an academic enrichment and gives basic insight in dealing with people."

EACH OF the individuals will be responsible for 100 per cent of traveling expenses. Many of the youngsters will depend on a large helping hand from parents, but several are already hiring out for odd jobs.

High school students who will make the trip are Marshall Formby, Dirk VanderZee, Mike Crim, Gary Friemel, Mark Sigle, Davis Ford, Mike Hull, Billy Word, Shawn Frye, Tandy Walden, Laura Ballard, Laurie Close, Miss Reinauer, Becky Friemel, Emma Thompson, Grace Abalos and Don Marshall.

Traveling eighth graders will be Terri Adams, Dale Gibson, Donny Johnson, Scott Formby, Jana Green, Paul Bell, Barry Friemel, Lynn Mitts, Zann Zimmerman, Tammy Fischbacher, Kyle Craig, Denise Cotten and Mike Axe.

Representing the ninth grade will be Linda West, Angela Hartman, Cathy Crim, Vivian Martin, Patty Hendon, Cindy Ford, Lora Coker, Kim Martin, Kathy Wilson, Pam Whitley, Paula Barber and Ricky Hoelscher.

Bake Show Winners

First place in the County 4-H Bake Show Thursday was taken by Rhonda Hagar, who displays her loaf of banana bread with blue and purple ribbons. She will represent the county at the district show in Amarillo. Tied for second place were two sisters, Glenna and Carla West, center and right. Not pictured are Carmela Burgess, who took third place, Micki Merritt and Donna Carr, who tied for fourth.

Orientation Class Plan Made

Plans for a course in Red Cross orientation, to prepare for service with the Red Cross Volunteers here, were discussed at the Volunteers' lunch Thursday at Civic Club Center.

Mrs. Henry Neely, former executive secretary of the County Red Cross Chapter and a longtime volunteer worker, and Mrs. Emil Deitman, current president of the Volunteers, announced that they are ready to reach the orientation course. Any interested residents are asked to notify the Red Cross office between 10 a.m. and 4 p.m. on Monday, Wednesday or Friday, or telephone Genevieve Miller, executive secretary, at 258-7512. Report of 63 hours spent in community service the past month was made by members at the lunch. Mmes. Hill Hutson, O.H. Culpepper, Sam Morgan, Gaylon Bryan, Isabel Martinez, Jim Culpepper and Neely. Work was at Kings Manor, Westgate, Deaf Smith General Hospital in the Meals-on-Wheels program and in home visits.

Banking School

Sam Self, vice president at First National Bank, attended the 24th session of the Colorado School of Banking at the University of Colorado, Boulder, recently.

The school, which is one of five graduate schools of banking in the United States, is cosponsored by the Colorado Bankers Association and the University of Colorado, with cooperation of the Graduate School of Business and Administration.

Bankers are challenged to attain a higher level of achievement and to broaden their understanding of the role that banking plays in the economic structure of the United States. Potential for senior management in banking is one of the criteria for acceptance into the school.

Upon completion of all classes in the series of intensive two-week courses which span the three-year school, including interim assignments, students receive the Colorado School of Banking Diploma at the graduate ceremonies. The 1974 School had 415 students from all over the United States.

IT TAKES TWO.... The Chamber and YOU!

If you have an investment and interest in the past, present and future of our community, you probably know that Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce is doing many good things to make it a better place to live and earn a living.

We challenge YOU to help. We need to increase the overall support of the chamber by enrolling new members. Listed below is an inventory of accomplishments for the first of the year. It's tangible evidence of what you and I can do when we combine our efforts and resources and channel them through our chamber. This has been done in the face of inflation without increased investment to our members.

Also listed below are tasks and projects which still need to be accomplished. That's where you can help if you're not a member of the chamber. Your investment of just 20 cents a day is surely a bargain in becoming a "Partner in Progress."

Projects completed or initiated this year:

1. Conducted YMCA survey.
2. Enrolled 68 new members.
3. Revised data for 1974 Community Survey, Phone Book and City Directory.
4. Conducted training for new Committee Chairmen and Directors.
5. Held new member orientation.
6. Conducted extensive program to promote the Beef Industry.
7. Developed and distributed "Truckin' for Hereford" signs.
8. Supported Annual All Sports Banquet and provided recognition for Athlete of the Year.
9. Conducted Agricultural Tours for groups from Monday, Texas; Kent County, Canada; Australian Beef Producers; Texas A&M Graduate Students and North Carolina Cattlemen.
10. Sponsored OSHA Seminar for Employers and Employees.
11. Coordinated and hosted Community Housing Seminars with HUD, SBA, Farmers Home Administration and the State of Texas Housing Open Hearing.
12. Arranged for Chamber of Commerce direction signs on U.S. 69 and 385.
13. Coordinated efforts to expedite allocation of fuel and conservation of energy.
14. Conducted orientation classes on free enterprise at High School.

CARD OF THANKS
To each and everyone who was so concerned for us during Doodle's recent illness and surgery, we express our deepest gratitude. Our spirits were lifted by the many prayers, messages, cards, visits, flowers and gifts bestowed us. Words alone cannot express our thanks. We ask your continued prayers as Doodle is progressing toward a speedy recovery. God's richest blessings to you all.
Affectionately,
C.O. (Doodle) and Wilma Taylor.

THANK YOU
Thanks to Dr. Hicks, nursing staff, cooks and all who gave me such wonderful care while in Deaf Smith General Hospital.
Thanks to the many wonderful friends who came, sent such beautiful flowers, cards, gifts, for their deep concern and prayers of friends and groups. Thanks to Rev. Roger Knapp, the Presbyterian Church, Odd-fellows, Rebekahs, Legion Auxiliary, Hospital Auxiliary, the many dishes sent in while I was in the hospital and since I came home. We thank our Heavenly Father for all of you! May God's richest blessings be yours!

Realtors Focus On Amarillo Class Designed For Student Sponsors

Although several hundred men and women in the real estate profession in the state participated in last week's Austin Realtors Institute, many others are focusing their attention on the Course I and Course II session in Amarillo, August 25-31," announced Lee Umsted, president of the Hereford Board of Realtors.

Heading the Amarillo faculty will be such men as Judge B. Fite of Dallas, former Texas Farm and Land Brokers president, and Benny McMahan, also of Dallas, who is the chairman of the Texas Association of Realtors education committee. They will be joined by H.P. Hawkins, Abilene appraiser; Albert Gore of Austin, past board president; Reese Henry of San Antonio, TAR Treasurer for 1973; Bill Fair, Dallas attorney; Jim Morgan of Fort Worth, a specialist in investment properties and syndication; and Dan Baker of San Antonio, a motivational speaker.

Helping teachers reach their students is the aim of a new course to be offered in Amarillo this fall by the West Texas State University College of Education.

techniques at the secondary school level," explains Nance.

"What better opportunity exists to learn these skills than within students organizations?" he asks. "Who can better be expected to assist students in developing these skills than the sponsors of these organizations?"

Regular enrollment will be in the Administration Building on Amarillo College Vocational Arts campus, near the Veteran's Hospital, from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. on August 28.

Students taking other courses at WTSU may enroll for this class during regular fall registration August 30 and 31 (Friday and Saturday) on the WTSU campus.

Late registration will be conducted the first class meeting.

For more information contact Dr. Nance, Secondary and Higher Education Department, WTSU, or David Cole, associate director of PESO in Amarillo.

Students coming to the Amarillo Institute will be given special welcomes by Franklin A. Jeffers, TAR president, and Don Mason, often an Institute faculty member himself and a past president of TAR.

Education committee chairman here, Melvin Jayroe, said, "the Amarillo session is drawing a lot of interest from all of this part of Texas."

Tony Meeks of Austin, TAR education director, has announced that registration fees should be sent directly to TAR, P.O. Box 9907, Austin 78766. Course I is open to the general public, but Course II admits only those who have successfully passed Course I.

"Leadership for Sponsors of Student Organizations," Education 502-8, will be team taught by Dr. Jack Nance, coordinator of human relations studies for the College of Education, and Mary Lou Farnum, WTSU assistant dean of student life for women.

The first class meeting is scheduled Sept. 9 at 7 p.m. at the PESO Center, 1601 S. Cleveland.

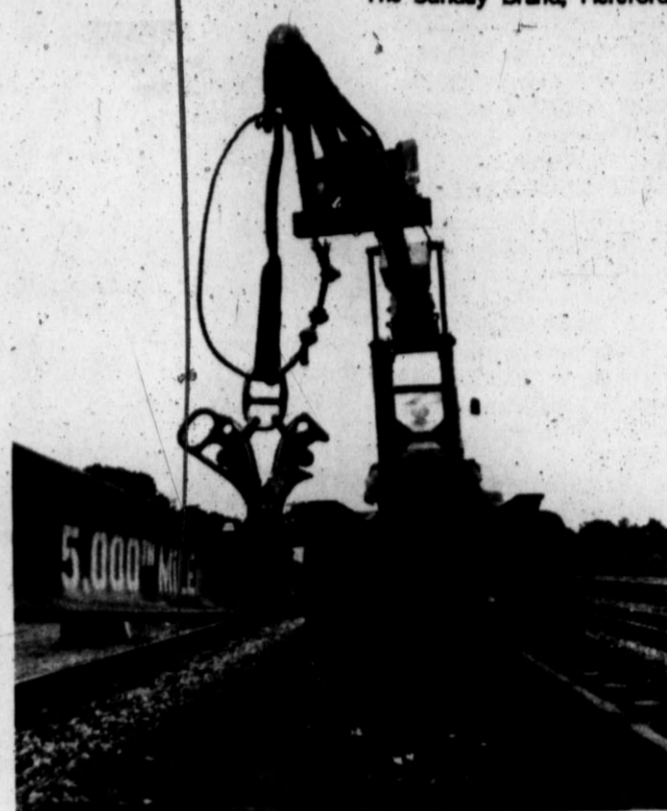

The course, also sponsored by the PESO Educational Service Center, "will be a unique course especially designed to help sponsors of student organizations," says Dr. Nance.

"Too often we assume that sponsors can, by magic, teach students how to get along effectively with other people," he says. "This just isn't true. It takes practice to develop human relations skills of working with people."

The leadership class will deal with topics ranging from group morale, subgroup values and unwritten modes of behavior to the qualities and characteristics of a leader.

The course is a direct spin-off from the "Leadership for Students in Higher Education" class which was taught last spring at WTSU, says Nance.

"Participants from this class indicated the need to have learned leadership skills and

In The Swing Of Things

A speed swing crane is utilized to move the 5,000th mile of welded rail installed in Santa Fe tracks into place. Santa Fe laid its first welded rail in 1947, and anticipates all trackage on principal routes will be welded within the next six or seven years.

Is it true that the best cooks cook by the weather? Yes, there is scientific basis for cooking by the weather. Experienced chefs know that there are certain cakes and icings which cannot be satisfactory made in rainy weather.

Cakes fall and icings turn out too grainy. Certain candies, like pralines, do not become creamy. This is due to the great amount of moisture in the air, which is picked up by the ingredients.

Because moisture has such a great effect on certain kitchen products many recipes are varied—arg slightly different in the dry western states from those recommended in the other states, proof that the weather has a considerable effect on cooking.

150 Celebrities To Head MD Telethon

One hundred and twenty-two celebrities of stage, screen, television and radio have already signed up to appear on the 1974 "New Jerry Lewis Labor Day Telethon" to benefit Muscular Dystrophy Associations of America.

"That's the largest number of stars we've ever lined up for the show this far ahead," Jerry Lewis said in his announcement. Lewis, National Chairman of MDA, predicted that "at least 150 stars" will appear during the Telethon's 2 1/2 hours on the air.

The show, originating from the Space Center at the Hotel Sahara in Las Vegas, with live pickups from New York and Nashville, will be broadcast from 9 p.m. (EDT) Sunday, Sept. 1 through Monday, September 2, over the 172-station coast-to-coast Telethon network. In the Hereford area, the show this far ahead," Jerry Lewis Telethon will be broadcast by KFDA-TV 10.

The Nashville segment of the Telethon will be hosted by Johnny Cash. His guests will include June Carter, Danny Davis and the Nashville Brass.

If You Have Property To Sell - You Must Read This!!!

Dear Homeowner,

In hopes that you might take a moment and read this advertising, I'd like to take this opportunity to tell you about "Our policy" at Carmichael Real Estate. Our advertising program, a tried and proven one, has been established from surveys and studies made by the National Institute of Real Estate Brokers, and educational marketing and merchandising association of Realtors and sales associates. It is based on the experiences of the most highly successful real estate brokers in the country.

Advertising and classified ads are just "one tool" of our complete selling program for the sale of your property. Normally, the majority of buyers will come from signs referrals by friends and clients, national referral services, cooperating Realtors, mail and from our current list of prospects looking for property like yours.

Advertising does not sell Real Estate! But sales people do. Brokers do. Good Real Estate ads are not written to sell, they're written to persuade the prospects to contact our office or sales staff. Only then can we make an effective personal presentation of all the features of your property enabling us to learn and to overcome any objection the prospect might have.

Remembering ads must produce prospects, not sales, you'll understand why we don't tell the "whole story" in an ad. We want the prospect's interest to be excited enough to call for more details. Then and only then can we qualify the caller as a "looker" or a genuine "prospect." If we don't feature every detail your property offers, this is why.

It's not only your individual ad that is working for you, but it's all of our ads. Records show most people seldom purchase the property on which they originally call on office. Prospects from every call on every property we advertise are considered for your listing by our staff, if there is the slightest chance it might "fit his needs." So, even on the day when no ads appear for your property, our advertising program is working for you.

Real Buyers, our surveys show, probably read every available paper on every day. Records prove this prospect has no favorite paper or favorite day to "scan" the ads, nor has he any favorite time of the year or day of the week. Our constant all-over advertising program will miss very few real buyers and your property will be missed by none.

We at Carmichael Real Estate believe in our advertising program, and we believe we can sell your property and obtain for you a fair market value. Call us today.
