The varsity has an open date this week, but that doesn't mean football action in Hereford has come to a standstill, as Phillip Soliz, above, will attest. Soliz is being checked over by high school trainer Larry Walls Thursday night after injuring a knee against Lubbock High in a junior varsity clash. Lubbock won the game, 8-7. See story, inside.

Amarillo Plant To Get Neutron Bomb Components from Colorado

GOLDEN, Colo. (AP) - Mass production of plutonium components for neutron warheads probably will begin soon at the Rocky Flats nuclear weapons plant northwest of Denver, a plant official said on Thursday.

The plant, owned by the federal government and operated by Rockwell International, is the only facility in the country for making the plutonium parts essential to modern nuclear weapons.

James Nicks, the Department of Energy's assistant area manager at the plant said authorization to begin mass production of plutonium parts of neutron bombs can be expected in the wake of President Carter's decision to produce those parts essential to neutron warheads.

Carter's press secretary, Jody Powell, announced Wednesday that the president had ordered the production of the crucial elements of neutron warheads, but did not order that they be assembled and deployed.

Nicks said the production of neutron-warhead components "will be a matter of diverting present resources to that system." The plant produces the plutonium components for a certain mix of nuclear weapons, he explained, and that mix will be changed to meet the requirements of Carter's decision.

The components produced at Rocky Flats, which is located 17 miles northwest of Denver, will be shipped to the Department of Energy's Pantex Plant in Amarillo, Nicks said.

Rocky Flats officials said in July 1977 that Rocky Flats had produced the plutonium components of neutron warheads for underground tests conducted in Nevada.

Nicks said the production of neutron-warhead components will have no appreciable effect in the weapons-production rate or size of the work force at Rocky Flats.

Employment has increased from 2,800 persons to 3,100 persons over the past 15 months "because of a general overall increase in the production rate" at the plant, he said.

The neutron weapon most frequently discussed by U.S. officials would be a small warhead that could be palced on Lance missiles and 8-inch artillery shells.

Neutron weapons are designed to produce twice the deadly radiation of a conventional nuclear bomb but less than one-tenth the explosive power. They are designed to kill enemy soldiers without causing widespread destruction of property.

Republican gubernatorial candidate Bill Clements says opposition to the recently passed federal energy bill by his opponent, Democrat John Hill, is "a carefully orchestrated public relations move."

USDA Says Farm Workers' Illiteracy Higher

WASHINGTON (AP) - Rural America "has a serious illiteracy problem, particularly among minorities and those who live on farms," a new Agriculture Department study has found.

The study on rural education said 30.2 percent of the black men and 19 percent of the black women over age 25 in rural areas fit that description in 1975. That's triple the illiteracy rates for urban blacks.

Among blacks on farms, the figures were 41 percent for men and 31.9 percent for women.

The rates were slightly higher for Hispanics, wrote Frank A. Fratoe of the Department's Economics, Statistics and Cooperatives Service.

For white outside central cities and suburbs, the rates in 1975 were 4.9 percent for men and 3.4 percent for women - or about 68 percent greater than the illiteracy rate among metropolitan white men and 21 percent higher than among similar white women.

For all races taken together, the rates were 2.6 percent for men and 2.2 percent for women in the suburbs and 5.3 percent for men and 4.8 percent for women in cities.

Among all rural residents, they were 6.6 percent for all men and 4.7 percent for all women but 7.1 percent for men and 5.1 percent for women living on farms.

The study defines a functional illiterate as a person who has completed less than five years of elementary school, rather than a person who can't read or write.

Those findings were just one aspect of the 38-page report that describes from an educator's viewpoint an underdeveloped country-within-a-country, where one out of every six residents is officially poor.

Such findings are certain to become a factor, at least behind the scenes, in federal farms policy, which now rewards large-scale farmers who are decidedly not poor.

Some policy-makers in the Carter administration feel strongly that the government should spend less money propping up inefficient farmers or those undercut by foreign competition and instead focus on finding other work for them.

That's where Fratoe's study could become important. He notes that functional-illiteracy rates are higher among older residents and farmers. That will present barriers to a purely economic approach to farming's problems.

New Directors Named During Chamber Meeting

By PAUL SIMS
Managing Editor

Incumbent Milton Adams, Earl Brookhart, Jake Webb and Joan Coupe Thursday afternoon were approved as Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce directors for next year.

The chamber board, which forsook its usual early-morning monthly meeting in an effort to get more directors out, voted to accept the four after they were voted on by the chamber membership.

Mike Carr Thursday attended his first board meeting as new chamber manager. Carr told the board that the new job would be "one of the greatest challenges of my life and something I have looked forward to."

Carr said his short-term plans include upgrading the chamber bulletin and working on delinquent members.

Carr, who is still business committee chairman, reported that the committee's recent investments seminar was a success, averaging more than 30 persons at each of the three meetings.

Economy Improves In Quarter

WASHINGTON (AP) - The inflation rate slowed to 7 percent annual rate during the summer and the economy grew at a steady, moderate rate, the Commerce Department said today.

The third-quarter inflation rate was the smallest of the year and followed a rate of 11 percent in the spring.

However, other economic indicators have pointed to a new surge in price increases, and President Carter is preparing to announce now, tougher anti-inflation measures in a broadcast address to the nation Tuesday night.

The Commerce Department said the economy grew at an annual rate of 3.4 percent in the June-September quarter. That is about average for the year and is encouraging to some government economists.

That growth rate would mean the economy is strong enough to keep most people employed but would not aggravate inflation, they say.

The 3.4 percent third-quarter increase (See INFLATION, Page 2)

Carr also reported that last week's Women's Emphasis Days attracted a lot of participation from Hereford women. "And I learned how to sew," Carr joked.

Charlie Bell, chairman of "Strictly Bull (And Under Attractions)", reported that plans for the show, scheduled for Nov. 13-15, are progressing well. The show also is being billed as the Hereford "Follies," and is to be produced by a New York company and is to involve strictly local talent.

Margaret Formby is program chairman of "Follies," Bell announced. Others involved in the production include publicity chairman Jim Tucker, ticket chairman Bill Johnson, finance chairman Sherry Hoover, talent co-chairmen Jan Walsler, Bell and Susie McGee, stage manager John Claypool, props manager Rex Manley, wardrobe director Jane Fawell, make-up director Daleine Springer and steering committee members Speedy Nieman and Mack Tubb.

Board member Joe Shollenbarger, chairman of the January chamber banquet, recommended that tickets be sold at $10 each for the affair, which will feature renowned Jerry Clower as speaker.

Directors approved the recommendation, adding that tickets will be available (See CHAMBER, Page 2)

Grain-Theft Charge Reduced to Mischief

By PAUL SIMS
Managing Editor

District Judge Wesley Gulley Thursday reduced the grain-theft charge of Albert Murillo to misdemeanor criminal mischief and fined him $1,000 after Murillo's attorney tried to suppress certain evidence on the grounds that sheriff's deputies did not obtain a search warrant during their investigation.

Amarillo attorney Charles Fairweather, who represented Murillo, and prosecutor Jerry Smith, Deaf Smith County assistant district attorney, asked Gulley to reduce the charge following a recess in the 22nd District Court trial.

Murillo had been charged with the June 19 theft of several thousand pounds of barley from Big-Tex Grain located eight miles north and two miles west of Farm-to-Market 1057. An air compressor and several tools also were taken in the incident.

A jury of 10 women and two men heard testimony from chief deputy Art Burton that he and deputy Dean Butcher followed a trail of barley for approximately 16 miles from the Big Tex elevator to Murillo's house on the morning of June 19.

Burton said the trail of barley "where it spilled off the vehicle" led the two deputies east on a county road for two miles, across FM1057, east on the county road for three miles, south on another road for three miles, east for three miles, south for three miles, east for three miles and across U.S. Highway 385.

"Then we went two miles east and then two south on North Progressive and a mile east then a quarter mile south. The trail led us to near some hog pens and a house, Burton said.

Fairweather, at that point, asked for a halt to the testimony, and Judge Gulley ordered the jury to leave the courtroom.

Burton, under examination by Fairweather, testified that he found a large pile of barley near the hogpens, the stolen tools next, to the pile and the air compressor in a wellhouse "which was open."

Burton said he and Butcher confiscated the tools, took them to the sheriff's office and called Richard Mickler, Big Tex assistant manager, to identify them.

"We took him to the barley, showed him the barley and the air compressor which he identified," Burton said.

Burton said he knocked on the door of the house. "A lady advised that He (Murillo) was at work," Burton said.

The deputy testified that he left his name with the woman.

Murillo, according to Burton, appeared at the courthouse later that day and was arrested.

"Did you at any time obtain a search warrant?" Fairweather asked.

"No," Burton said.

"Did you at any time obtain the consent of Albert Murillo to search his property?" Fairweather then asked.

"No," Burton replied.

Tower Contributions Surpass Krueger's from Interest Groups

WASHINGTON (AP) - Special interest groups have contributed thousands of dollars to both candidates in the U.S. Senate race in Texas, but incumbent Republican John Tower appears to be their favorite, according to Common Cause.

The citizens' lobby group reported in a special study released Thursday that Tower and his Democratic challenger, Rep. Bob Krueger, have received contributions from the same big business or special groups.

"These interest groups are making sure they will have easy access no matter who wins the Texas race," said Fred Worthener, a Common Cause vice president. "It's like backing both teams in a football game - you're bound to have a winner."

However, Common Cause said Tower received much larger contributions from almost all groups than Krueger did.

Tower received about 70 percent of the total of specific special interest group donations listed by the lobby group and more than 80 percent of special interest group contributions reported by both candidates to the Federal Election Commission through Oct. 1.

The special interest contributions were less than 10 percent of the total contributions reported by each candidate.

Of the $112,170 in 46 specific contributions listed by Common Cause, Tower received $79,395.

Common Cause said reports filed with the FCC through Oct. 1 showed Tower with $220,390 from special interest groups compared with $65,022 for Krueger.

A United Way Agency

Epilepsy Association Affects Local People

High Plains Epilepsy Association, the newest Deaf Smith County United Way agency, provides assistance to 17 Hereford residents, according to local representative David Burns.

Burns, who has been involved with the organization for three years, serves as a liaison for the agency in Hereford.

"I provide information over here about the center, and I'm the United Way contact over here," said Burns, a local pharmacist.

"The association locates jobs for epileptics, provides treatment for them and does a lot of public-relations work trying to remove the stigma that epilepsy is a type of mental illness. It's not a mental illness. It's a malfunction in brain transmissions, and it's treatable.

"It can be controlled. The agency has a neurologist who's on call. The agency arranges treatment for people who can't afford it or have no other way of getting it."

Until this year, Hereford's epileptics who could not afford treatment were treated by using Amarillo United Way funds.

"As an example, there was a little girl here who had to have some surgery a couple years ago. It was paid for out of Amarillo money and it was expensive," Burns said.

"That's why we're asking for Hereford United Way money."

High Plains Epilepsy Association has been allocated $2,700 by the local United Way. Money raised will be used to benefit only Hereford epileptics.

Texans Favor Death For Several Crimes

HUNTSVILLE, Texas (AP) - Eighty percent of the Texans who responded to a crime survey favor capital punishment for crimes ranging from murder to child abuse, according to figures from the Texas Crime Poll.

The 642 persons answering the poll favored the death penalty for murder, rape, treason, armed robbery, arson, kidnapping, terrorism and child abuse convictions. The questionnaire was mailed to 1,000 people.

But only 74 percent of those replying to the poll conducted by the Sam Houston State University criminal justice center, said they would serve in a capital murder case jury.

"Individuals most likely to favor the use of the death penalty are the better-educated, higher-income whites," Dr. Raymond Teske, director of the poll said. "Those individuals least likely to support use of the death penalty are lower income blacks with less than a high school education."

Eighty-five percent of the respondents said probation should not be allowed for persons convicted of violent crimes and 72 percent said they do not support pleas of not guilty by reason of insanity.

Three-quarters of the respondents said courts are too easy on convicted criminals and 62 percent said crime victims are not treated fairly by the courts.

Carter To Sign ERA Extension

WASHINGTON (AP) - President Carter is signing the resolution extending the ratification deadline of the Equal Rights Amendment even though the Justice Department says his signature is not necessary.

The signing was scheduled today at the White House.

In testimony before the constitutional rights subcommittee of the House Judiciary Committee, John Harmon, assistant attorney general in charge of the Justice Department's Office of Legal Counsel, has said, "Our opinion is that this matter would not have to go to the president."

Harmon said in the testimony last year the department believes court decisions have established that the president has nothing to do with the process of amending the Constitution or with "the accompanying obligation...to pass on the timeliness of the ratification."

On the other hand, Charles L. Black Jr., a law professor at Yale University, said he believed the extension "ought to be submitted to the president for his signature." Black said a 1978 Supreme Court decision excluding the president from the amending process was "inadequately reasoned."

Gig Young, Wife Die In Shooting

NEW YORK (AP) - A diary on the bedroom desk in actor Gig Young's luxury apartment was open to Sept. 27 and proclaimed in big letters: "We got married today." Nearby, Young, clutching a revolver, lay dead, his bride's body sprawled beside him.

In the next room stood the gleaming Oscar the handsome veteran actor won as the fast-talking dance marathon pitchman in "They Shoot Horses, Don't They?" - marking what he called the "greatest moment of my life."

Young and his 31-year-old wife of three weeks were found shot to death Thursday night - the victims of what police said was an apparent murder-suicide.

Police said the 60-year-old actor apparently shot himself in the head at about 2:30 p.m. after killing his wife, German-born Kim Schmidt, in their midtown Manhattan apartment.

Their bodies were found on the bedroom floor. A .38-caliber snub-nose revolver was in Young's hand.

Police said they had no explanation for the deaths, and that no suicide note was found. There was no sign of a struggle in the apartment, which was undergoing redecoration.

Young, who played the debonair sophisticate in scores of movies, once lamented that his career had never brought the leading role he desired.

Pope To Visit Poland In First Trip

VATICAN CITY (AP) - Pope John Paul II's first visit abroad will be to his native Poland, and Polish President Henryk Jablonski may extend a formal invitation Monday, Vatican officials say.

Bishop Ladislav Rubin, the highest ranking Polish prelate in the Vatican, before John Paul's election, said there was no official confirmation. But he said he had "no doubt" the pontiff will travel to Poland on the 900th anniversary of the death of St. Stanislaus, Poland's patron saint, in May 1979.

St. Stanislaus, bishop of Krakow, was slain by King Boleslaus in a Krakow church in a medieval church-state conflict. He is buried under the main altar of the Krakow cathedral.

"I am convinced John Paul II will go to Poland because St. Stanislaus, the martyr bishop, headed the same diocese from where he left for Rome and for the conclave that made him pontiff," Rubin said.

Cardinal Karol Wojtyla, now Pope John Paul II, was archbishop of Krakow until his election Monday as the first non-Italian pope in 455 years.

Vatican Radio said the Polish bishops already had formally invited John Paul II to attend St. Stanislaus' celebrations.

The Abundant Life

BE PLEASANT

BY BOB WEAR

SOME PEOPLE ARE PLEASANT, and some are not; and there are so, usually, regardless of circumstances. Then, there are people who are pleasant one time; but unpleasant another time. Some of these variations can be accounted for, but others are inexplicable.

Some persons, all of us to some extent, perhaps, permit the happenings in the environment to control their mood. Some are unpleasant, regardless of happenings.

WE MUST BE PLEASANT. We must let this be the dominant mood, even though some variance is to be expected. We can be good-natured people.

WE APPRECIATE PERSONS who develop and maintain a "good nature." Unfortunately, there are some rather strong views that this life quality is something we are born with, or perhaps without; that we are, more or less, just one way or the other; that there is nothing we can do about it.

With the view we are born with an unalterable temper, we are assuming an unnecessary handicap. It may be that, by birth, some persons find it easier to be pleasant; however, there is no basis for the attitude, "I'm ill-natured, and I can't help it."

A PLEASANT DISPOSITION is valuable in the family; in the marketplace; and in every other aspect of desirable human associations. In both social life, and business life; we, if we have any choice, prefer to be with pleasant persons. Of course, we try to get along with unpleasant people; but we usually avoid them, when we can.

IN THE FAMILY, the good nature will help create and sustain the climate in which the best in family life can grow and prosper. It is the principal manifestation of the love which is essential to a strong family unit.

IN THE MARKETPLACE, the business world, the good nature is the most attractive community. Everything else being equal, the business establishment with pleasant personnel will be the most desirable. This is one of the most valuable assets.

IN PERSONAL SELF-IMPROVEMENT, we are being wise if we work constantly to manage our thoughts and conduct our general behavior so that we are pleasant. We must feel pleasant, and make our self-expression such that the people whose lives we touch will realize that we are pleasant.

WE MUST NOT WAIT until everything is just the way we think it should be, in order to be pleasant. If we do, we will never be very pleasant.

OUR TASK, ONE OF THE MOST IMPORTANT, is to develop "pleasantness" as a basic, a constant, and a dominant personality trait.

Simpler... But Costlier

WASHINGTON (AP) - When the time comes to file federal income taxes in 1979, most taxpayers will find the process a little simpler because of the tax bill just passed by Congress. But simplicity has its price.

As many as 2 million couples or single people would pay higher taxes because Congress voted to eliminate the existing individual tax credit in the name of simplicity.

Millions who itemized deductions would no longer be allowed a federal tax break for the state and local gasoline taxes they pay.

The 25 tax brackets in current law would be reduced to 15 for couples and 16 for single people. This simplifies the tax laws and allows somewhat higher earnings before the individual is pushed into a higher tax bracket - a move calculated to partially offset the effects of inflation. However, it simplifies the filing process for relatively few people because most taxpayers already need only look at a table to determine how much they owe.

The changes, if President Carter signs the tax bill, will apply to the 1979 tax year. Most taxpayers would not encounter them until they file their 1979 returns in early 1980.

Here are some details: TAX CREDITS - Current law allows a taxpayer to reduce taxes owed by $35 for oneself, a spouse and dependents. A four-member family would subtract $140 from its tax bill. That's simple enough.

But in an effort to spread some tax relief to middle-income single people and small families, Congress had allowed an option to the straight $35-per-person credit. Instead, a taxpayer - individual or family - could take a credit for 2 percent of the first $9,000 of taxable income, or a maximum credit of $180.

The Internal Revenue Service found a lot of taxpayers were confused by the option and many made mathematical errors. So now, Congress is getting rid of the credit and the option.

As a substitute, the current $750-per-person exemption would be increased to $1,000. GASOLINE TAXES - Ending the gasoline-tax deduction aims not only to eliminate mathematical mistakes but to make it more attractive for people to stop itemizing deductions and start taking the standard deduction.

About three-quarters of the 88.5 million individual tax returns now use the standard deduction; nearly all who itemize claim a deduction for state and local gasoline taxes. Repealing the deduction would cost these itemizers an average of about $30 more a year in federal income tax.

The IRS has always had problems policing the gasoline-tax deduction because there is no easy way to determine the accuracy of the mileage driven and the fuel efficiency of a car when a taxpayer claims the deduction.

'Phase II' Scheduled

WASHINGTON (AP) - President Carter has requested broadcast time at 10 p.m. EDT next Tuesday to announce his "phase II" anti-inflation program to the nation. It was learned Thursday.

The program, which administration officials have said will include voluntary guidelines of 5-7.5 percent in annual price increases and 7 percent on wages, has been in the works for months.

Alfred Kahn, chairman of the Civil Aeronautics Board, is Carter's "leading choice" to become administrator of the new anti-inflation program.

Washington for conferences on the energy bill, which President Carter is expected to sign soon.

Commission Chairman Mack Wallace said that when Carter proposed the energy bill in April 1977, one of the principles was that it be equitable to all sectors and income groups.

Wallace said the legislation passed by Congress is not "burden" on the intrastate market. "We are 60 percent of the intrastate market," Wallace said.

He said under the legislation, intrastate prices will rise, but sales volume is expected to decrease.

Many provisions of this bill are ill-conceived and both administratively and financially burdensome to Texans," said Poerner.

He added, "While this commission is preparing to comply with the provisions of the bill, it is known to the president's office and in the halls of Congress that we reserve the right to fight in court to correct an injustice to our producing state."

Major purchasers of Texas crude oil asked for 3,492,014 barrels of oil a day in November, a decrease of 15,466 from October. Oil company spokesmen indicated that the lower nominations did not reflect a decrease in demand, but merely was an attempt to bring nominations in line with lease restrictions.

As usual, the huge East Texas field was restricted to an 80 percent allowable.

Here are the nominations by major purchasers of Texas crude oil for November, in barrels per day:

- Amoco, 304,000 down 6,000.
- Atlantic Richfield, 170,000.
- Chevron, 62,499.
- Cities Service, 100,000.
- Continental, 56,000.
- Diamond Shamrock, 36,000.
- Exxon 637,000 down 3,000.
- Gulf, 134,000.
- Marathon, 67,460.
- Mobile, 345,000.
- Phillips, 115,000.
- Shell, 240,500.
- Sun, 119,000 down 1,000.
- Texaco, 122,500 down 1,500.
- Union of California, 85,000.

One White House official said "lengthy discussions" are under way concerning the new job, and another official said Kahn is among several possible candidates for the position. Kahn himself was not immediately available for comment.

Carter has said for weeks that he soon would announce a new program that would be "tough" but "fair" and short of mandatory wage and price controls.

Administration officials said today the announcement will come on Tuesday. Industry sources said Carter had requested major broadcast networks to grant him air times beginning at 10 p.m. EDT.

The toughened-up program comes after the weaker anti-inflation program Carter announced earlier this year, when he held pay raises for federal workers to 5.5 percent and called for business and labor to show restraint.

However, inflation has shown signs of worsening since then, and Carter's advisers have been working for months on a new package.

Some administration officials have predicted the new program will include voluntary guidelines of about 5.75 percent per year on prices and 7 percent per year on wages. But White House press secretary Jody Powell has warned reporters that such reporters may not prove accurate because the president hasn't yet made the final decisions.

And in a speech Tuesday, AFL-CIO president George Meany complained that news leaks about the coming anti-inflation program are prompting businessmen to raise prices now to avoid the predicted restraints.

White House aides, asking not to be named, have said they are seeking a new "administrator" for the new anti-inflation program but that the administrator won't be a replacement for Strauss.

Strauss "will continue to play a major role" in the new anti-inflation program, the aides say. Strauss, whose primary job is chief U.S. trade negotiator, has said publicly that the trade position is too demanding for him also to run an expanded anti-inflation effort.

Inflation

in the gross national product, the total retail value of the goods and services produced by the nation, followed a jump of 8.7 percent in the second quarter and a decrease of 0.1 percent in the first quarter.

However, the department said the first two quarters were disrupted by the coal strike and exceptionally cold, wet weather. Some of the rebound continued in the third quarter.

"If the strike and weather effects are set aside, real GNP probably would have increased in the range of 3 to 4 percent in each of the quarters," the department said.

The GNP figures are adjusted to account for seasonal variations and inflation. Before this adjustment to calculate "real" GNP, the GNP stood at an annual rate of $2,141 trillion in the third quarter, the department said.

The economy is "basically sound and healthy, well situated for a continuation of moderate but steady economic growth," Courtenay Slater, a Commerce

Department economist, said in a recent speech.

Some economists were worried that consumers would stop buying as many cars, houses and other products last summer and that the economy would slow down.

But more people get jobs and others built up their debts as demand for both consumer and business products continued.

So instead of a slump, the problems facing the administration is higher prices. President Carter plans to announce his new anti-inflation program to the country Tuesday night.

Administration officials have been describing the program to business and labor leaders, telling them it will include voluntary guidelines of 5.75 percent for annual price increases and 7 percent on wages.

However, White House officials have cautioned that Carter has not made a final decision on it.

Alfred Kahn, chairman of the Civil Aeronautics Board, is Carter's leading choice to become administrator of the new anti-inflation program, according to several administration officials.

Kahn would supplement Robert S. Strauss, the president's special trade negotiator who wants to concentrate on international trade talks. But Strauss would still play a major role in the inflation fight.

In a speech Tuesday, AFL-CIO President George Meany complained that news leaks about the coming anti-inflation programs are prompting businesses to raise prices now to avoid the predicted restraints.

trespassing and said that any evidence concerning the barley, tools or air compressor should be suppressed.

Smith said to Gulley that the evidence should be suppressed because "every piece of barley they followed from the second they left Big Tex was in plain view. They were following the individual piece of barley... they touched this point where they observed the large pile of barley."

Smith said that the evidence was not only the large pile of barley," but the trail of barley-in the light of that fact, the officers were within the law in searching the premises."

Gulley ordered a recess in the trial. Upon returning, Smith and Fairweather agreed to a reduction in the charge from felony theft to misdemeanor criminal mischief. Munro pleaded guilty to that charge and was fined $1,000 plus court costs and ordered to pay Big Tex restitution in the amount of $1,059.50.

Energy Plan To Be Fought

DALLAS (AP) - Attorneys general from Texas, Oklahoma and Louisiana said Thursday they will file a joint lawsuit challenging portions of the new federal energy law.

"Our contention is that there is no constitutional authority for the federal government to control the price of natural gas within a state," said Texas' John Hill, who met with attorneys General Larry Derryberry of Oklahoma and William Guste of Louisiana.

He said a portion of the law that would set in motion new expenditures would also be challenged. Hill said the suit would be filed in Oklahoma City shortly after the anticipated signing of the bill by President Carter. The two agreed that all costs of the suit would be divided equally among the three states.

Derryberry will file an additional action dealing with conversion costs to residents of his state in making the switch of natural gas to coal.

Hill said the joint decision could include some aspects of mandatory allocation.

The attorneys general and their staffs will meet again Oct. 26 and Hill said he hoped their suit would be ready to go at that time.

XEA Learns About New Campus

The inspiring story of Girlstown, USA, was related Tuesday evening by Marshall Cooper, executive director of the three campuses, to members of Xi Epsilon Alpha, Beta Sigma Phi Sorority. The speaker showed a film and told how the concept of Girlstown became a fact during the meeting here.

Cooper, who formerly served as a juvenile officer at Andrews, announced that 5 acres of land near Lubbock have been donated for the establishment of a new campus. This location will be in addition to campuses already in operation at Whiteface, Berger and Austin. Cooper, who lives at the Whiteface campus with his family, revealed that there is a need for a number of items, such as tennis shoes, linens, towels, rags and toiletry articles.

After Cooper's presentation, chapter members made plans to visit the Whiteface campus. XEA will be donating a stereo system to Girlstown with proceeds from their recent Grocery Giveaway project.

In other business, presided over by Barbara Kendall, members were reminded of the Thanksgiving dinner to be held Nov. 2 at First National Bank.

Halloween-oriented refreshments were served by Dixie Williamson and other members of the executive board.

Attending the meeting were Ailene Tindal, Opal Glenn, Joanne Richburg, Cheryl Bulard, Bonnie Decker, Nan Gauthreaux, Toni Jones, Sandy Owsley, Karren Ruland, Lillie Shipman, Mary Sledge, Pam Stephens, Jan Walser and Janey Lou Whitaker.

Stepping It Off

The Hereford High Steppers stepped out for the West Texas State University Homecoming Parade which wound through Canyon's packed streets Oct. 14. The WTSU Homecoming activities Oct. 12-14 brought thousands of individuals onto campus to participate in the Pigskin Review, the carnival, the bonfire, the barbecue and a successful football match against Lamar University.

Final Plans Made For Tourney

Final plans for the Benefit Bridge Tournament, scheduled Tuesday, Oct. 24, at the Community Center, were made Tuesday night by members of Kappa Iota Chapter, Beta Sigma Phi Sorority meeting in the home of Lynn Carter.

In addition to the door prize of a card table and matching chairs, prizes will be awarded to the high-scoring, second high-scoring and low-scoring players. Tickets, priced at $2, will be sold at both local banks Monday and Tuesday. Admission will be available the night of the tournament at the door. Proceeds of the event will benefit Girlstown, USA.

In other KI projects, it was announced that prints have been received from the photographer who made family portraits recently as a sorority fund-raising project. The pictures will be distributed Wednesday and Thursday at the Community Center.

Members discussed plans for a Halloween party to be held for members and their husbands Saturday, Oct. 28.

A speaker from Plainview presented a program in opposition to the Equal Rights Amendment, stating that "the amendment is too general and through due process of law, women already have equal rights."

Mrs. Carter and Poppy Head were hostesses to Karen Abney, Nanette Ashby, Cheryl Betzen, Marcia Boyer, Cindy Burns, Suzanne Howell, Kathy Johnson, Dolores Jones, Donna Jones, Marsha Jones, Marilyn Leasure, Kathy Paetzold, Judy Stoy, Judy Wall, Donna Warrick, Mary West and Marsha Winget.

LAE To Help Host DSC Women's Forum

La Afflatus Estudio Club will be among the clubs hosting the meeting of the Deaf Smith County Women's Forum, Monday, Oct. 30, it was announced during LAE's regular meeting Tuesday afternoon in Pioneer Natural Gas Flame Room.

Alberta Higgins, president, called the business meeting to order. It was also reported that Jennie Terrell will be hostess at the club's next meeting, Nov. 7 in the Flame Room. Judge Sam Morgan is expected to present a program on ethnic groups in this area.

Mrs. Terrell was program chairman Tuesday and introduced Marjorie Lasiter, director of special education in Hereford Independent School District, as the program speaker. She explained the duties and responsibilities of her position, stating, "Many of the problems we deal with are parent problems instead of child problems."

The second half of the program was presented by Janet Welty, caseworker with the Family Services Center. Mrs. Welty described her job and the problems encountered in family services.

Madelite Bell and Della Stagner were hostesses during the social period. In addition to those already named, members present were Pet Ott, Aileen Johnson, Irene Markham, Lydia Hopson, Lucille Hughes, Ailene Montgomery, Mary Leland Whiteside, Opal Elliston, Ora Morgan, Eva Gilliland and Emily Suggs.

Cosmetic Appearance Discussed

"A New You" was the program topic presented to El Llano Study Club by Daleine Springer of The Face Place Monday evening in the home of Mrs. John Jacobsen. Mrs. Jim Bookout was cohostess.

Mrs. Labry Ballard, president, called the business session to order and requested reports from standing committees. No new business was introduced.

Members in attendance were Mmes. Pete Caviness, Fain Cesar, Ed Coplin, R.W. Eades, Boyd Foster, Tom Hamlett, Elmer Kimball, Lloyd Kirkeby, Wayne Amstutz and Baxter London.

The club's next meeting is scheduled Nov. 20 in Mrs. Caviness' home.

Lamaze Classes To Begin

The next series of Lamaze Childbirth Preparedness Classes are scheduled to begin Monday, Oct. 30 for expectant parents whose due dates fall between Dec. 1 through Jan. 25.

The fee for the six weekly classes is $25.

Interested persons must pre-enroll by contacting certified instructor Penny Jessup at 364-6435.

Special Show to Be Unveiled Saturday

The Chamber Women's Fine Arts committee will present the musical comedy, "Gypsy," tomorrow in the new wing of the Community Center from 7:30 until 10 p.m. Admission charge will be $2 for adults and 50 cents for children.

The Women's Division of the Chamber of Commerce is working on a Christmas Tree project in which a living Christmas tree will be planted on the Courthouse lawn. The tree will be lighted and decorated each year for the Christmas season.

"Gypsy" will be presented by Meredith Wilcox, dramatist, and Jane Gulley, soloist. The Art Guild, with Eunice Petersen as chairman, will stage an art exhibit adding to the evening's entertainment.

All proceeds from the presentation of "Gypsy" and the art show will be used toward the Christmas Tree project. Tickets may be purchased at the Chamber office, at either bank, or from members of the Fine Arts Committee.

Members of the Fine Arts committee include Barbara Lyons, Peaches Reinauer, chairman; Carlie Burdett, JoAn Dwyer, Pat Fisher, Amy Gilliland, Della Hutchins, Virginia Newell, Susie Robinson, Meredith Wilcox, Wanda Newman, Mary Panciera, Eunice Petersen, Margaret Schroeter, Ruth Fariss, Teddy Alexander, Jane Gulley and Dottie Besshart.

Ann Landers Twins With Separate Fathers?

DEAR ANN LANDERS: A while back a reader asked if it was possible for twins to be fathered by separate males. Your answer was "yes." Everyone in our office was google-eyed. It was the topic of conversation for the day.

Will you kindly give us the medical explanation of this phenomenon? We realize you are not a doctor, but then we aren't doctors either, so the simpler the better. -- Data Processing Gang In Passaic County

DEAR ANN: Though I have written many letters to you in

When more than one egg is released the result may be fraternal (not identical) twins. These twins may look no more alike than brothers or sisters born in different years.

If two eggs are released by a woman who has had a very short period of time (two or three days), it is possible that the sperm from one partner could fertilize one egg and the sperm from the second partner could fertilize egg No. 2.

Merely because twins do not look alike does not mean they have different fathers. I want to make this clear. There's enough trouble in the world. I don't wish to create more.

DEAR ANN: Though I have written many letters to you in the wee hours, both by pen and mentally. I decided after rereading them a few days later that the problem wasn't worth bothering you with. This letter is different. I'm mailing it because I need an answer.

About a year ago, we joined a church (Christian) and enjoyed the friendship of the people we met, especially those in the Sunday school class. Shortly after joining we started to receive the church bulletin. A few weeks ago, smack in the middle of page one, was a stinging assault on those who do not tithe the full 10 percent. That article was promptly followed by another strong rebuke -- same subject.

What if we cannot tithe 10 percent? Where does it say in the Bible that it should be 10 percent? And does it mean 10 percent of one's gross or net income?

Is it all right to tithe what you can and increase it when you are able? Two weeks ago, we decided to quit going to church. -- Bugged In Boise

DEAR BUGGED: According to the office of John Cardinal Cody, Archbishop of Chicago, the New Testament has no law concerning tithings. The practice is a carry-over from the Old Testament.

All property is considered a gift from God. One tenth was reserved to be returned through his "sacred ministers." (Book of Numbers XVIII, Verse XXI.) Another tenth was frequently demanded in the form of a tax to the king.

If you cannot tithe ten percent of your gross OR net, give what you can and don't feel guilty. To stop attending church for this reason is a perfect example of throwing the baby out with the bath water.

CONFIDENTIAL to Ashamed of Myself: It has happened to all of us at one time or another. Harriet Ward Beecher said it best: "Speak when you are angry and you'll make the best speech you'll ever regret."

Baptist Missionary To Speak at Rally

The Rev. H. Robert Tucker Jr., a Southern Baptist missionary, will be speaking tonight, Saturday and Sunday during a Mission and Evangelism Rally at Temple Baptist Church.

According to the Rev. J.L. Bozeman, pastor, all interested persons are welcome to attend the rally, scheduled at 7:30 p.m. today, 12 noon and 7:30 p.m. Saturday and during regular worship services Sunday.

Rev. Tucker graduated from Baylor University and Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary. Before his appointment as a missionary, he was pastor of churches in Oregon, Ohio and Athens. He has done evangelistic work in Venezuela and served on the faculty of the Venezuelan Baptist Theological Seminary, as well as pastor of a church in that country.

REV. ROBERT TUCKER

Currently, Rev. Tucker is field representative for western South America, ministering to Southern Baptist missionaries stationed in the countries of Chile, Bolivia, Peru, Ecuador, Colombia and Venezuela. He is stationed in Cali, Colombia. Rev. Tucker also serves as a permanent member of the trustees of the Baptist Spanish Publishing House in El Paso.

He is married to the former Margaret Roberts, who was raised near Tahoka. They have five children, Mark, Elaine, Karen and twins John and Phillip.

Also assisting at the rally will be Clarence Pope, who will present special music during the services.

LIFE IN HAWAII
HONOLULU (AP) — Hawaii led the nation in buying ordinary life insurance in 1977, according to the American Council of Life Insurance. The council said newly purchased life insurance totaled $4,958 per household in Hawaii last year, followed by $4,867 in Utah and $4,789 in Alaska. The United States average was $3,313.

A study at Michigan State University revealed that people who ate two apples a day had fewer headaches.

Miller At Meeting

Bruce Miller of Hereford returned this week from the 7th Province Senate Meeting of Episcopal Churches held in Kansas City, Mo. Miller was the official delegate of St. Thomas Episcopal Church here.

The principal topics of the meeting were foreign missions and finances. Bishops from six states were in attendance.

DO I LISTEN?

I keep reading about "active" listening and realize I am doing very little of it with my own kids. Next time your child starts talking about his feelings, check out these 4 points.

1. Who does most of the talking?
2. How do you respond to your child's message? Do you use traditional "feeling stoppers"? (Judgment, Reasoning, Cheering, Denial)
3. Are you merely attentive or do you actively reflect back the total message emphatically?
4. How would you feel if your messages were handled as you treated your child's?

If you are doing little or not talking, you're employing "passive" listening. Check your tone of voice; the wrong tone can label your child's message. The second point is where I bomb out. I have a pocket full of "feeling stoppers" that keep jumping out!

On the third point, I've found if I restate the feeling and ask if that's right, I'll always get a frank response.

Often my messages are handled on an intellectual level which accomplishes zero!

What I want is warm understanding from the heart and so does a little person.

Weekend Seminar Beginning Tonight

First session of Adventure in Prayer, a weekend seminar at First United Methodist Church, will be at a covered dish supper at 7 o'clock this evening in the fellowship hall for church members and any others who wish to attend.

The message will be given by Dr. Marshall Rhew, associate director of development at McMurry College, Abilene, who with his wife will conduct special services during the next two days. All programs are open to the public, the Rev. William McReynolds, pastor, announces.

Dr. Rhew began his work at McMurry College after retirement from the ministry in 1974. Since 1932, he had served as pastor of churches in Vega, Lueders, Abernathy, Roscoe, Berger, Stamford, Vernon, Sweetwater and Plainview.

He also held numerous places on boards and commissions of the Northwest Texas Conference of the UM Church, and in 1960 was exchange pastor at a church in Yarmouth, England.

His wife, the former Mary Duskin Kenyon of Gainesville, Ga., will assist him in the meetings here.

A native Texan, Dr. Rhew was born at Honey Grove and grew up at Dallas. He attended Texas Tech, then Southern Methodist University where he earned BA, MA and BD degrees. McMurry conferred the Doctor of Divinity degree on him in 1957.

Dr. Rhew will speak at a men's breakfast at 7 a.m. Saturday, a Youth-A-Rama at 6

Lubbock High Edges Longhorns, 8-7

BY DON INGRAM
Sports Editor

Scoreboards often fib about what they represent, but Thursday night here at Whiteface Stadium, it didn't. The Hereford JV Longhorns had it done to them again in another close encounter of the grid kind, as the visiting Lubbock High JV's edged them 8-7 in a game thriller.

Coach Kenney Barnes said it all though following the game. "We played a good ball game, but those fumbles really hurt us!"

The Longhorns led the game at halftime after halfback Brent Self, with several bursts of extra effort and several key line blocks, plunged over for paydirt from the LHS three yard line.

Steve Bartles added the finishing touch, booting the extra point and the Longhorns led 7-0.

Barnes said he felt the team played really well, especially on defense. "We just switched over to that offense, the Wing-T, after using another for five weeks."

Barnes said Norman Hill and Nueves Rodriguez had especially good ball games.

The Westerners obtained their TD after a Longhorn fumble, and secured a two-point conversion try in the fourth quarter to eventually take the scoreboard advantage.

Philip Soliz sustained a knee injury during the game, but Barnes said he didn't believe the injury was serious.

The Longhorns face Lubbock Estacado here next week.

LAPLATA MAVERICKS

The LaPlata 9th grade Mavericks bounced Plainview Blue 27-16 here Thursday.

Alan Wartes threw a 35-yard pass to Alan Delozier for one touchdown, and Bruce Clark ran three yards for another, to make it 14-0 with Aubrey Richburg kicking the extra points.

The third Maverick TD was a one-yard and a 11-yard run by Wartes. Richburg made one Pat, and the other was blocked.

Coach Joe Spahn said the game was the 9th graders' best effort of the year, so far. "We got more points on the board, which is what we needed to accomplish."

Plainview scored on a two-yard run and then again in the waning moments of play on a 25-yarder.

They play Plainview Red there next week at 6 p.m. The Maverick 8th grade battled Plainview Blue there yesterday to a 0-0 deadlock.

STANTON JR. HIGH

Stanton lost a close one here Thursday against Plainview Red.

The score was 12-15.

Coach Cuby Kitchens said Ray Harris collected both Stanton touchdowns.

The running back ran 70 yards on the opening game kickoff for a TD, then made another TD racing 60 yards on an end sweep.

Kitchens said the ball game was a real defensive effort and said Alex Valdez played especially well during the game.

The Dogies play Dumas there Thursday at 4 p.m.

The Stanton 8th grade blasted Plainview 30-20 yesterday, with Aldred Ball making two scores and Charles McDowell grabbing a 20-yard pass from Charlie Garza for another.

Joe Costillo reportedly raced 35 yards for another Stanton TD.

The 8th grade plays Dumas here next week at 4 p.m.

Touchdown Run

The Herd JV's scored their only touchdown in the second quarter when Brent Self used Whiteface blockers and extra effort to dive into the endzone from the three-yard line on fourth down. The Longhorns however were eventually edged 8-7 by the visiting Lubbock Westerners.

Membership Run Scheduled Here

The Hereford Running Club is sponsoring a Membership Run here Saturday, Oct. 28 at Veteran's Park.

The run is being presented by the club to get new members.

According to club spokesman Bill Marquis, the event will commence about 1:30 p.m. at Dameron Park. Runners will jog down Main Street to New York Ave., then on to Veteran's Park.

There, a hot air balloon exhibition is scheduled, if weather permits, said Marquis, along with a band, refreshments and other activities.

The Hereford Running Club was scheduled just recently and has about 30 members.

The Membership run is definitely not a race, says Marquis, and runners will not be running for competition but rather for enjoyment.

The club is attempting to show prospective members the overall satisfaction in running.

"We don't actually meet together and run each month, but each member runs independently as to their own speed and pace each day, or during the week."

ADULT IV DEPARTMENT

Ackers Going With Experienced

By The Associated Press

Texas Coach Fred Akers says he plans to open with experience rather than youth when his eighth-ranked Longhorns take on third-ranked Arkansas Saturday in a matchup of Southwest Conference powers.

Akers will start senior Randy McEachern at quarterback rather than freshman Donnie

Little, explaining that McEachern has "poise and maturity, a settling effect on what is already a young unit."

Akers added that Little would see action for Texas, 4-1 overall and 2-0 in the SWC, the only loss having come at the hands of top-ranked Oklahoma. Arkansas is 4-0 overall and 1-0 in conference play.

McEachern came off the bench last week to rally Texas from a 9-0 deficit to a 26-16 victory over North Texas State.

Arkansas Coach Lou Holtz says McEachern gives Texas more of an aerial threat.

"When McEachern makes the big play, it's usually passing," said Holtz. "Little may run up there and hand it to the receiver."

No matter which quarterback is in there, Holtz is prepared for trouble.

"People around the country may be underestimating Texas," said Holtz. "Their defense is every bit as good as it was last year. And except for Earl Campbell, their offense is as good, too."

The Texas-Arkansas game will be one of six regionally televised contests that ABC will follow with a national telecast of the Pacific-10 showdown between 10th-ranked UCLA and California.

"The UCLA offense has just started to come around, and that scared me," says California Coach Roger Theder.

The 10th-ranked Bruins, who outscored Washington State 45-31 last weekend, are 3-0 in the Pac-10 while California is 2-0 in conference play. Both clubs are 5-1 overall.

UCLA is led by running backs Jesse Owens and Theotis Brown, while California relies on the passing of Rich Campbell, who has already picked up 1,361 yards this season. The Bears uncovered a new dimension last week.

however, when tailback John Williams - a 24-year-old senior who spent three years in minor league baseball before going to college - rushed for 133 yards in a victory over Arizona.

The game has been designated the second Joe Roth Memorial Game, with $1 of each admission going to a scholarship fund named after Roth, the California passing star who died of cancer last year.

"I knew Joe, and he was still competing in the last couple of days of his life. That means something to me," said Williams. "When we go out there Saturday, we can say we're representing a man who would be one of the best athletes in the country if he were still alive today."

Other major games on the schedule include top-ranked Oklahoma at Iowa State, Syracuse at No. 2 Penn State, No. 4 Alabama at Tennessee, No. 5 Nebraska at Colorado, Wake Forest at No. 6 Maryland, Oregon State at No. 7 Southern California

More Rest, Less Brain Helps 'Truck'

By ALEX SACHARE
AP Sports Writer

Leonard "Truck" Robinson feels two factors will improve his free throw shooting - more rest and less thinking.

Robinson sank 13 of 15 free throws, scored 37 points and grabbed 18 rebounds Thursday night, leading the New Orleans Jazz to a 120-115 victory over the Boston Celtics.

In the only other game on the National Basketball Association schedule, the Kansas City Kings beat the Houston Rockets 108-103.

Last season, Robinson led the NBA in rebounding and minutes played, but his free throw percentage was a mediocre 76.40.

"Last year I couldn't make some of the moves I wanted to make because I felt I couldn't make the free throws if I got fouled," he said. "After awhile, some guys started fouling me on purpose, because they felt like I couldn't hurt them at the line."

Robinson said that although he played 46 minutes against Boston, a brief one-minute spell on the bench early in the fourth quarter was all the rest he needed. "I think I was jumping higher in the last three minutes than I was the whole game," he said.

Four of Robinson's rebounds came in the final three minutes as the Jazz held off a Boston comeback that sliced a 15-point deficit at the start of the final period to five.

In 1977-78 Robinson averaged 44.4 minutes per game, a heavy load over the course of an 82-game schedule. He feels that hurt his free throw shooting and hopes to get more rest this year.

"I'm 6-foot-7, but that's small for the big forward spot," he said. "I'm always banging and bumping - all over the court, having to shoot over people, and I get pretty tired. I was shooting free throws well in practice last year, but I'd go to the line tired."

"And I was thinking of too many things - my hands, rotation, guys telling me to bend my legs. I think the best advice is, 'Don't think, just shoot.'"

Pete Maravich scored 23 points for the Jazz, 18 in the first half, and Rich Kelley scored 20. Dave Cowens topped Boston with 24 points and 11 rebounds.

Kings 108, Rockets 103
Scott Wedman scored 17 of his 25 points in the second half as Kansas City handed Houston its first loss of the season after three victories. The Kings led by as many as 12 points in the fourth quarter.

Moses Malone and Calvin Murphy led Houston with 28 points each.

PACKERS IN "HALL"
CANTON, Ohio (AP) — With the induction of linebacker Ray Nitschke into the Pro Football Hall of Fame here on July 29, the Green Bay Packers increased their membership list in the football shrine to 13.

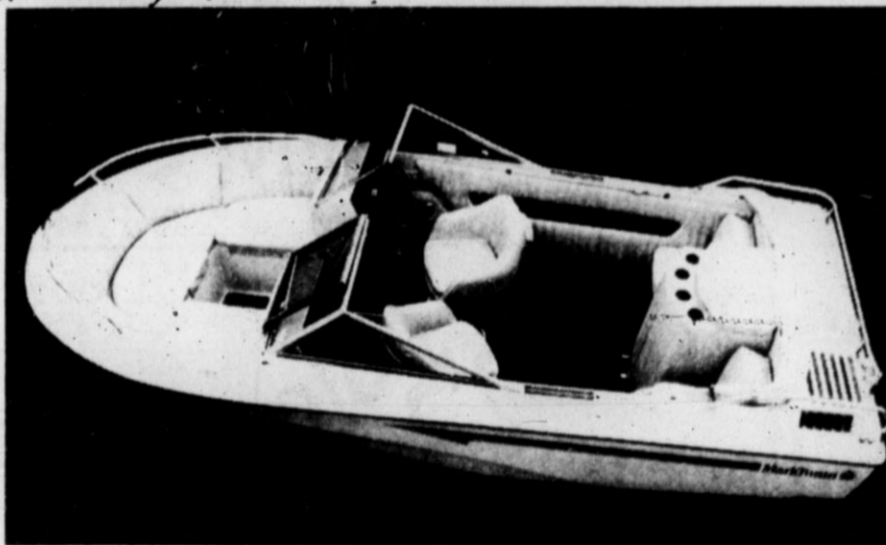

The Chicago Bears, with 16 alumni in the Hall, still lead the list of pro teams represented there. But the Packers now trail by only three names. The New York Giants follow with 11 members.

In a 1954 basketball game against Hillsdale, Bevo Francis of Rio Grande had 45 free throws and made 37 of them.

Cowboys Hoping To Crash-Land Eagles

By BRUCE LOWITT
AP Sports Writer

Just when the Philadelphia Eagles start to fly high, along come the Dallas Cowboys, perhaps to bring them back to earth.

"There's some talk that Dallas isn't as good as last year, but I believe the Cowboys are every bit as potent as in the past. They still have the same people," said Coach Dick Vermeil, whose Eagles own a 4-3 record in the National Conference East and trail the defending Super Bowl champions by just one game. "Of course, everybody plays harder when they play Dallas."

Philadelphia will have to play harder than usual on Sunday if it hopes to snap a lengthy string of futility. The Eagles haven't beaten Dallas since 1974 and haven't won in Dallas since 1965. The Cowboys are favored by about nine points.

Sunday's other games are Washington at the New York Giants, Chicago at Tampa Bay, Cincinnati at Buffalo, Miami at New England, St. Louis at the New York Jets, San Diego at Detroit, Green Bay at Minnesota, Cleveland at Kansas City, Atlanta at San Francisco, Denver at Baltimore, Oakland at Seattle and New Orleans at Los Angeles. Houston visits Pittsburgh on Monday night.

Despite the Eagles' long losing record in Dallas, Cowboys Coach Tom Landry isn't taking them lightly. "They worry me," he said.

What should worry him more is the Cowboys' own showing in recent games, a loss to Washington and an overtime struggle in St. Louis against the winless Cardinals. "We are flirting with playoff potential but we just haven't put everything together at the same time," Landry said. "We've got to start running the ball and get some production from our offensive line."

Quarterback Roger Staubach will set a Cowboys record for career pass attempts when he makes his first against the Eagles. He and Don Meredith have 2,308 apiece. Philadelphia's primary offensive weapon is Wilbert Montgomery, the National Football League rushing leader.

The Redskins were knocked from the unbeaten ranks by the Eagles last Sunday. It seems to be the Giants' misfortune to run into frustrated clubs. A few weeks back Dallas was ambushed by the Redskins, then New York stumbled into Texas Stadium and absorbed a 24-3 pasting. Further, the Redskins have lost three straight to the Giants.

Oakland, tied with Denver at 5-2 atop the American Conference West, will be out to present John Madden with his 100th career victory as a head coach.

St. Louis, already deep in a hole this season, tries to dig its way out with young Steve Pisarkiewicz at quarterback in place of injured Jim Hart. The Jets are also without their No. 1 quarterback, Richard Todd, but Matt Robinson had guided New York to victories over Buffalo and Baltimore in its last two games for a 4-3 record, more victories than the team achieved in any of the last three seasons.

Crenshaw Grabs Lead

MARBLE FALLS, Tex. (AP) - Ben Crenshaw took a seven-shot lead into the final round of the $35,000 Texas State Open Golf Tournament today.

Crenshaw, who fired a 5-under-par 67 Thursday, has a 54-hole total of 201, seven shots better than Don January and Jeff Mitchell, who are tied for second at 208.

The former University of Texas golfer had five birdies on the front side Thursday for a 31, but then had his first bogey in three days at the 219-yard 17th hole.

As golfers teed off for the start of the final round, Miller Barber was third at 209, 1969 U.S. Open Champion Orville Moody and defending champion Bobby Walz were tied for fourth at 210, Dave Eichelberger was a shot behind in fifth at 211, and Randy Petri and Lindy Miller were tied for sixth at 212.

Charles Coody and Robert Hoyt matched Crenshaw's 67 Thursday, but were off the pace at 215 and 216, respectively.

The leading amateur through three rounds was Robert Landers of Fort Worth, who shot 220.

"This is one of the strongest fields of any state open in the country," Crenshaw said.

Only golfers who have made Texas their home for at least the past six months were eligible to compete in the tournament.

Team Action Set

A tag team death match highlights the main event action in Lions Club wrestling Saturday night at the Bull Barn. Mr. Pogo and Mr. Onomi, Japanese martial arts stylists, take on Ricky Romero and Terry Funk. Romero is a trim 221 pound south-of-the-border speedster, while former world champion Terry Funk, 250 pounds, is making a name for himself in movies. He will appear shortly in Sylvester Stallone's Paradise Alley, in a featured role.

Action begins at 9 p.m.

Pogo and Onomi are former sumo wrestlers. Onomi was the amateur champion of all Japan before turning to professional sumo, while Pogo, down from his sumo weight of 400 pounds to 270, was Yo-Dan, or fourth degree black belt in Judo. He also holds rankings in karate and other arts. Onomi, 245 pounds, was trained here nearly eleven months ago by Terry Funk, but his contract was brought up by Pogo's manager, "Sir" Oliver Humperdinck. His style has changed completely since then.

Rip Hawk, stocky 232 pounder now living in Albuquerque, brings a world of experience spanning many years against Super Destroyer in the semi-main. Super Destroyer, masked Los Angeles Grappler, steps in at 250. He has a slow, grinding strategy that relies on endurance and condition.

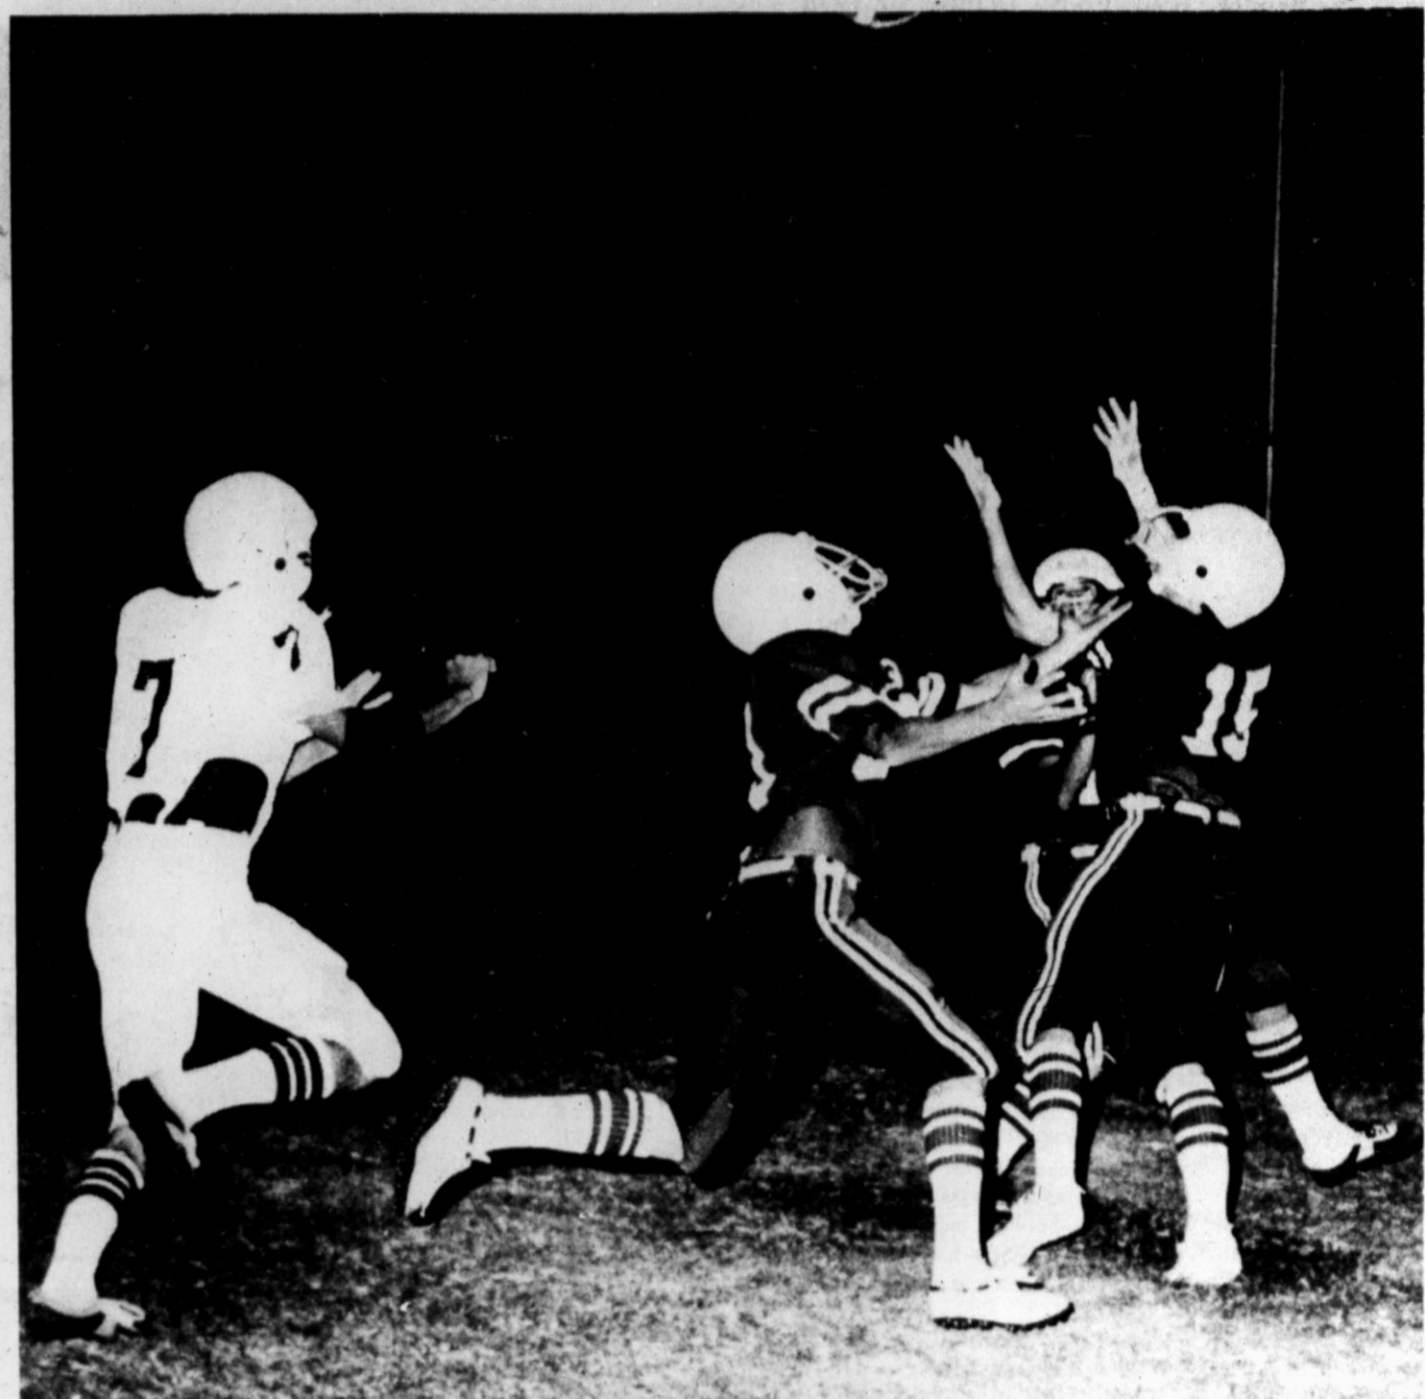

Scott Casey, popular young Dallas Matman, tips the beam at a muscular 228 pounds as he tries to give an abrupt greeting to newcomer Josh Adams, 240 pounder from Houston.

Shorts

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) - Kansas City Royals owner Lucas Kuffman has a rather simple explanation for why Washington, D.C., doesn't have its own baseball team.

"You don't have a philanthropist who is willing to put up the millions needed to buy a club and the more millions necessary to develop it," he said recently when questioned on the matter.

"Also, you don't have a core there to support it, a core of industry that will buy season tickets. You've got a lot of U.S. government workers, and all they do is ask for free tickets."

Pass, Pass, Pass

Longhorn defenders intercepted several Lubbock JV passes here Thursday night and the action shows one in the process here in the last half.

Lubbock won the game though 8-7 despite excellent defensive efforts by the Longhorns.

High is Player of Week

STEPHENVILLE — Turning in 14 unassisted tackles, two assists, and two quarterback sacks against Austin College in Saturday's Texas Intercollegiate Athletic Association game, senior guard Steve Fieszel won the plaudits of the Texan coaching staff and the defensive Fighting Texan of the Week award.

The offensive player of the week award went to speedy Chuck High who picked up 119 yards rushing against Austin College as the Texans notched their sixth win of the season on a 3-0 victory over the Kangaroos. The 119 yards by the senior running back from Hereford marked the third time this season the sprinter from Hereford has rushed for more than 100 yards.

High, 5-11, 180, is currently leading the TIAA in rushing.

In commenting on the defensive play of Fieszel, 6-0, 230 from Irving, TSU coach Buddy Fornes said, "He did an exceptional job for a down lineman. The film showed that he scored real well against Austin College."

The Texans will carry a perfect 6-0 record and 5-0 count against Sul Ross State University at TSU's homecoming game Saturday afternoon.

LANDOVER, Md. (AP) - The Washington Capitals, making their second trade in less than 24 hours, acquired right wing Michael Bergeron from the New York Islanders in return for a second-round 1979 draft choice.

Washington General Manager Max McNab, who obtained center Dennis Maruk from Minnesota Wednesday night, announced the trade Thursday.

Bergeron, who broke into the NHL with the Detroit Red Wings in 1974, was hurt part of last season and only played 25 games for the Islanders.

ARCADIA, Calif. (AP) - Darrel McHargue will miss Sunday's schedule ride aboard pre-race favorite Terlingua in the $100,000-added Oak Leaf Stakes because of a riding suspension.

McHargue, the nation's leading jockey so far this year, was suspended for five days by stewards at Santa Anita Thursday for careless riding. The suspensions will begin Sunday.

Angel Cordere Jr. is expected to ride Terlingua.

McHargue's suspension resulted from an accident in Wednesday's sixth race: In that race, jockey Marco Castaneda went down when his mount fell during the stretch run. The rider was not injured.

DETROIT (AP) - Ed Janka, who coached under Al McGuire at Marquette, has been named to fill one of two assistant basketball coaching vacancies at the University of Detroit.

Janka, 33, was an assistant at Marquette, his alma mater, for two seasons before taking over as head coach at John Carroll University in Cleveland, where he stayed from 1973-77.

FAITH TEACHES RESPECT FOR A GRANDFATHER'S WISDOM

In this age of the ever-widening generation gap, in which youth is thoroughly convinced that it alone has all the answers to the world's ills and even a father often has trouble gaining the attention and respect of his children, a grandfather is that much farther removed from what they consider reality. However, we must realize that our grandparents could not possibly have lived long enough to be succeeded by two generations without accumulating a vast store of knowledge and gaining an enviable perspective on the mysteries of life itself. The faith you acquire at the Church of your choice will teach you to honor and respect your grandparents, because there is much of value that you can learn from them.

Age... carries in it an authority which makes it preferable to all the pleasures of youth.
—Sir Richard Steele

"Remember the days of old, consider the years of many generations: ask thy father and he will show thee; thy elders and they will tell thee."
—Deuteronomy 32:7
