

City To Let Bidding on $700,000 Building

By PAUL SIMS
Managing Editor

Bids will be let for construction of a new city hall at 2 p.m. Tuesday, Oct. 31, it was announced Monday by the Hereford City Commission.

There will be at least five bidders for the $700,000-plus one-story building, City Manager Dudley Bayne told commissioners in a brief meeting Monday in the 52-year-old City Hall which will be razed for parking space when the new building is constructed next year.

Bayne said that architect Tommy Huckabee of Andrews had been in contact with five construction companies—three from Amarillo and two from Lubbock. The city manager recommended that the bid-letting date by Oct. 24.

Commissioner Emory Brownlow argued that the date recommended by Bayne would not allow other companies enough time to bid on the construction.

"I just wonder if everybody that wants to bid it by then can bid it," Brownlow said. "I don't think we're being fair with everybody. I know the architects have people who they want to bid it and cut out everybody else."

Bayne said he was surprised that five companies had agreed to bid.

"I'm not," Brownlow said. "We should get about 10. I just don't like some favorites getting a two-week jump on everybody else. I do think we need to get it done as quick as we can but still give everybody a fair chance."

The commission then agreed to set the date at Oct. 31.

In other business, commissioners: --gave permission to Pitman Industries to build a 60x60 hangar at the Hereford Municipal Airport.

--had the second reading of an amendment to the city's Hereford Cablevision franchise.

--accepted a bid of $258 per trash container for 50 containers from Packmore.

--refused to change commission meeting times.

Marsh Pitman asked the commission if

USDA Pushes Passage Of Interstate Gas Policy

WASHINGTON (AP) — Interstate shipments of natural gas for agriculture use "should be well protected" against interruptions by new legislation headed for final action in Congress this month, says the Agriculture Department.

The Senate approved a conference report on new natural gas legislation last week and the House is scheduled to vote on it on Oct. 12.

A background paper issued Monday by USDA says that the Natural Gas Policy Act has two major provisions of concern to farmers and agribusinesses — Section 206 b relating to "incremental pricing" and Section 401 about gas for "essential agricultural use" and natural gas curtailment policies.

The USDA background paper said that:

—The measure defines agricultural use as gas used for "agricultural production, natural fiber production, natural fiber processing, food processing, food quality maintenance, irrigation pumping, crop drying, or as a process fuel or feedstock in the production of fertilizer, agricultural chemicals, animal feed or food."

—Under the provision, the secretary of agriculture will certify to the secretary of energy and the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission the amount of natural gas needed for agricultural uses for "full food and fiber production."

—Within 120 days of enactment of the measure, the secretary of energy "shall prescribe and make effective a rule on non-curtailment policy for interstate pipelines concerning the non-curtailment of natural gas for essential agricultural uses." The Federal Energy Regulatory Commission will implement the rule.

Further, the report said, the commission "in consultation with the secretary of agriculture" then will determine if alternative fuels are "economically practicable and reasonably available" to meet the certified needs of agricultural producers.

"If both criteria are met, the uses will not qualify for a curtailment priority," the USDA said.

However, the commission in determining "economically practicable" fuels "shall not include a requirement to switch to high cost alternatives" to natural gas, it said.

"For example, this should rule out forcing farmers to convert natural gas-powered irrigation pumps to any other energy source in the near future because alternative fuels are sharply higher priced," the report said.

As a further backstop, the "secretary of agriculture may intervene" in curtailment proceedings by the commission when it implements this section of the measure, it said.

On pricing, the legislation directs the commission within 12 months to "implement incremental pricing pass-through to industrial boiler facilities served by interstate pipelines."

The bill "focuses the incremental cost of acquiring new supplies of natural gas to be billed to large industrial boiler facilities served by an interstate pipeline" until they reach the energy equivalent price of alternative fuels — generally, No. 2 fuel oil.

As outlined in the USDA report, the commission will place the incremental

'Average' Taxpayer Paid 13.7% of Total Income

WASHINGTON (AP) — If there were such a thing as an average American taxpayer, he or she or they would have earned $13,263 last year and paid 13.7 percent of it in federal income taxes. That meant working the first seven weeks of the year just to come up with the $1,814 due Uncle Sam.

Those who earned less had to work a shorter time to pay their federal taxes and those who earned more had to work longer, sometimes a lot longer.

For example a person with an income of $50,000 or more a year probably owed at least 31.1 percent of it in federal taxes and was still working for the government when May 1 rolled around.

But there is no "average" taxpayer — just millions and millions of ordinary people lumped into categories by Internal Revenue Service computers.

The IRS said Monday that on 85.2 million 1977 returns processed so far, taxpayers reported $1.13 trillion in adjusted gross income. Of that, $154.6 billion went for federal income taxes.

The income and tax of the "average" taxpayer — which could be a couple filing a joint return — is found by dividing the total income and total taxes paid by the total number of returns processed.

But since the report includes so many individuals with so many different factors affecting their lives and tax returns, the mythical average taxpayer does not fit precisely into some of these further breakdowns provided by the IRS report:

—Those 42 million taxpayers making under $10,000, by far the largest group, accounted for less than two-tenths percent of the total adjusted gross income reported and paid 5.9 percent of the taxes, or $9.2 billion. Paying 4.7 percent of their income in federal income taxes, they had to work about 2½ weeks to get the money.

—The 14.1 million taxpayers reporting from $10,000-$15,000 income accounted for 15.4 percent of total income and paid 10.6 percent of the taxes, or $16.5 billion. In a 9.4 percent bracket, it took them about five weeks to work out their taxes.

—The second largest group of returns, 27.7 million, was from taxpayers reporting $15,000 to $50,000 income. That broad and varied group loosely referred to as the middle-income level accounted for 57.5 percent of the income and paid 60.2 percent of the taxes, or $93.2 billion. In a 14.3 percent bracket, they had to work 7½ weeks or more to earn their federal taxes.

—Those 1.3 billion reporting income of

Grain-Marketing Course Scheduled for Thursday

The second session of a grain marketing shortcourse, sponsored by the Deaf Smith County Elks Committee, will be held at 7:30 p.m. Thursday at the Community Room of the Hereford State Bank.

Featured speakers for the session, which is designed to help area farmers obtain better income from this year's feedgrain crop, will be Dr. Roland Smith, grain marketing specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, and Fred Bruegel, president of Bruegel & Sons Inc., a grain elevator firm headquartered in Dimmitt.

Smith will review government program details, rules to be followed by producers in making decisions, and how to follow market signposts.

He will also discuss the use of Commodity Credit Corporation loans in conjunction with other marketing alternatives and the use of the storage hedge.

Bruegel, who has been involved in the marketing of corn, wheat, milo and soybeans since 1956, will speak on "How I Think a Farmer Can Get More Money from the Grain Market."

All interested area farmers are invited to attend the shortcourse.

Hill, Clements Spar over Probe

By The Associated Press

Democrat John Hill and Republican Bill Clements battled for the important South Texas vote Monday as they argued over Hill's part in a 1975-76 Webb County grand jury probe into alleged corruption.

"Totally false," Hill told Austin news conference about published reports that he dragged his feet on the Webb County probe because he had "lots of friends in Laredo."

Hill presented Texas Ranger Ramiro Martinez, Laredo District Attorney Charles R. Borchers and Ray Bravenec, a member of Hill's organized crime task force, to prove that Bravenec and others played an active part in the grand jury probe. One person was indicted and given a probated sentence.

"It is a sad day for the citizens of Webb County and all of Texas when we learn that our interests come second to the political ambitions of any politician," Clements said in a statement. "John Hill apparently has violated the public trust and his own oath of office. His reported inaction in regard to the Webb County cover-up brings into serious question his integrity and his entire career in public office."

"This incident indicates that Mr. Hill has only selectively enforced the law and has used his office where it benefits him

United Way Volunteers To Organize

United Way drive captains and workers will organize the fall campaign, which officially starts Oct. 11, at 7 p.m. Thursday in the Medallion Room of Deaf Smith Electric Cooperative.

Gary Baker, United Way campaign chairman in Amarillo, will speak at the meeting.

Others who are interested in working in the campaign should also attend the meeting, according to President Paul Sims.

United Way volunteers have announced a goal of $199,815 and have promised that participating agencies will not need to conduct separate fund drives if the goal is met.

"We are asking for a lot of money because the United Way will fund these agencies 100 percent," Sims said. "The people of Hereford need to realize that there is no longer a need for several fund drives in the community."

"Separate fund drives raised over $100,000 for these agencies this year. Hopefully, the people who gave to the agencies will support them through the United Way."

politically," Clements said.

He told the Austin news conference that the Webb County investigation was one of 20 investigations made by his department in all areas of the state. "Under my leadership, the attorney general's office has participated in more local grand jury investigations of public corruption than any of my predecessors," he said. "More than 120 indictments have resulted."

Sen. John Tower, R-Texas, said in a statement that former Congressman O.C. Fisher had endorsed his re-election

Formulas Change, But Love for Coaching Remains

By DON INGRAM
Sports Editor

Hereford, athletics, and coaching have one major thing in common. That synonym would be Cuby Kitchens.

Kitchens has been directing sports traffic in this area for some 23 years.

And during that time, he's seen many Hereford youngsters grow up and develop into outstanding athletes.

Kitchens actually has been involved in athletics longer than the 23 years he has coached.

The former Herd basketball coach has been active in sports since his 9th grade. He wouldn't offer us that starting date!

Kitchens moved here from Groom and immediately became involved in Herd sports. Cuby believes coaching has to be one of the most rewarding professions in life, especially when you make it your life.

He says basically, athletes and coaching have not changed but adds, "With today's trends and everything, kids are a little more mature. They see more sports today than kids did in the past and learn earlier about them."

Kitchens cautiously agreed that today's youngsters may be better educated, more physically able and more versatile than their counter-parts in the past.

But quickly adds, "Sports however is basically the same. You've got to have the basic ingredients to do well...it's as simple as that."

"You've got to have good coaching formulas, defense," and, if your a roundball fan like he is, "good shooting."

Cuby, who attended WTSU playing basketball from 1946 through 1948 and was head basketball coach here 14 years, says coaching today's athletes is not much different than before.

"Different coaching ideas and formulas get introduced and used, but really it all gets back to the same blocking, tackling, defense and shooting."

Cuby won't pinpoint any particular individual Hereford athlete as being the best adding, "There have been many good and outstanding athletes come through."

Kitchens, head coach at Stanton Junior High, says you can sometimes see future

Railroad Commission

Approves Rate Hike

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) - The Texas Railroad Commission approved a 5 percent general increase in railroad shipping rates Monday - a move that will increase Texas railroad incomes by $11 million annually.

Rates for recyclable products, some rubbers goods and newsprint were increased by 3 percent. Increases will take effect Oct. 20.

The new rates reflect increases granted earlier this year by the Interstate Commission.

The commission also approved a 7 percent rate hike requested by the Texas Motor Express Association, which will give haulers $382,600 in annual revenue.

In other action, the commission ordered a 120-day suspension of gas service rate increases requested by Lone Star Gas Co. outside the cities of Olney, Kaufman and Canton.

An identical rate increase has been proposed for customers inside the cities, but the municipalities have not acted upon it. Commission policy is to allow local government bodies to negotiate rate increases within the utility before approving similar rates in outlying areas.

Commission Chairman Mack Wallace also announced creation of a 12-member committee to study commission policy on determining demand for Texas-produced natural gas.

Prisoners Testify

Against Penal System

HOUSTON (AP) - A 60-year-old man who has spent the past 17 years behind bars testified Monday, he had filed numerous lawsuits against the Texas prison system and "at least 50 complaints this year concerning violations of the rights of inmates."

Lawrence C. Pope, convicted of bank robbery and armed robbery, was the leadoff witness for the plaintiffs in a lawsuit challenging the way Texas prisoners are handled and seeking major changes in the penal system.

Pope said that in his job as a prison janitor he was forced to dust 3,000 books at least once a week, "and I have to climb up to reach them without a ladder and I am allergic to dust."

And, he testified he was forced to strip for a search by Texas prison guards four times each day.

During cross-examination, Pope admitted he frequently had filed lawsuits and complaints and had "at least 14 apple boxes filed with legal material."

Eight inmates have filed class action suits against the Texas Department of Corrections and state Prison Director Jim Estelle.

Court To Decide

Car-Stopping Validity

WASHINGTON (AP) - The Supreme Court, beginning its new term by taking action in more than 800 legal disputes, said Monday it will decide whether police may stop motorists to make random checks for driver licenses and car registrations.

In one of the busiest days in its 188-year history, the nation's highest court also:

-Refused to disturb an Illinois law barring prospective fathers from the hospital delivery room when their wives' giving birth involves surgery.

-Cleared the way for reputed Mafia figure Anthony Giacalone, a prominent figure in FBI investigations into the 1975 disappearance of former Teamsters boss Jimmy Hoffa, to be imprisoned for tax evasion.

-Left intact a court-ordered plan that forces the Philadelphia Police Department to hire one woman for every four men.

-Indicated that it sees constitutional problems in state laws that ban virtually all advertising by veterinarians and veterinary clinics.

The justices agreed to hear the appeal of Delaware law enforcement authorities after their state's highest court ruled that police may not randomly stop motorists.

Unless police believe some crime has been committed, such stops are unconstitutional, the state court ruled.

Man Dies Again

After Auto Accident

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) - For the second time in a week, 19-year-old Roger T. Ragland of Dripping Springs has been declared dead—the victim of an automobile crash.

A spokesman at Austin's Brackenridge Hospital said Ragland, who showed signs of life 12 hours after being declared dead following the accident last week, died at 6:35 p.m. Monday.

Ragland suffered massive head injuries in the accident last Wednesday and doctors at the hospital told his family Ragland was dead. He was put on a respirator after his family agreed to let doctors remove a kidney for a transplant.

Ragland's family, meanwhile, called a funeral home and the funeral home gave Ragland's death notice to newspapers.

But as doctors prepared last Thursday to remove Ragland's kidney, they noticed movement in his legs. An electroencephalogram was performed to measure Ragland's brain activity. A neurosurgeon called Ragland's family and informed them of the life signs.

Following brain surgery, Ragland clung to life on an artificial life support machine. He remained in critical condition until his death Monday.

"The error that was made—the real tragedy—was that the family was told he was dead. It is a semantic thing. At that time, there was no question his injury was so severe that there was no hope for his recovery," said Dr. George Beathard late Monday.

Police Report

A 25-year-old Hereford woman was arrested Sunday afternoon at Safeway Supermarket on West Park and charged with shoplifting.

Esperanza Lopez, 306 Ave. H, told police that someone stole a red over white 1970 pickup from her backyard some time Monday. Police are investigating.

Hereford Day Care Center, 215 Norton, reported that someone threw a rock through a window, valued at $20, sometime over the weekend.

Maria Badillo, 335 W. 2nd, told police that a dress, purse and earring were stolen from her house between Sept. 25 and Monday.

Crown Auto Sales, 1315 E. Park, reported the theft of a tire and wheel. Police said the items were taken over the weekend.

Paul Harvey News

Horizons for Women

The horizons for women have been pushed back beyond the kitchen window—a rather long way beyond.

Fortune magazine recently sought and found the women who graduated from Harvard's Business School five years ago—and they are doing all right!

When Linda Taylor enrolled in Harvard Business School in 1971 she was a "pioneer." Men students in those days were asking, "What are you doing here?"

Linda told them what they wanted to hear: She would laugh and reply, "I'm just here to get a man."

But she knew better. She graduated with the class of '73 and today Linda Taylor helps to oversee the $500 million pension fund of the United Mine Workers.

Female enrollment at other business schools got going about the same time.

But what Fortune sought to do was to follow the fortunes of the Harvard class of '73. Here's what they discovered:

On average, they are now 32 years old. They are all over the world working in banking, consulting, sales and marketing, advertising, accounting, money management, corporate planning, college administration and government.

Almost all are in positions theretofore considered "men's jobs."

Judith Gehrke finished in the top 5 percent of that Harvard class; she now has a planning job at International Paper and, on the side, runs a business of her own called "Design Lines."

She works from 7 a.m. to 11 p.m. each day.

It can be argued that these graduates at a propitious time; the Labor Department had just decreed that companies with government contracts had to hire more women.

But that assist notwithstanding, these graduates' accomplishments were not gratuitous.

Lisa Spector, investment banker, was named a vice president of White Weld (now Merrill Lynch) last August.

If any married women in the class have found that their careers conflict with their marriages, none says so.

Most respond that the job of being a wife combines very easily with the paying kind.

Partly because with two incomes these couples can eat out a lot.

Ask them about conflicts with motherhood, and some will concede that the tug between children and careers is powerful.

Which may explain why only six of the women are mothers and only two of those are employed full time.

Most are postponing the "children decision" until nearer the end of their childbearing years.

How are these women doing compared to men of the same class? Among those on salary the median income is $32,250.

Except for a few male superstars, the women enjoy a median income almost equal to that of men from the same Harvard class.

Almost. Not quite. Yet.

Chamber Congress Opens

LAKE BUENA VISTA, Fla. (AP) - It was one of President Carter's finest feats of timing and luck.

"I now declare the 26th Congress of the International Chamber of Commerce open," intoned the president - just moments before thunderclaps, lightning and a downpour ended any further outdoor festivities at Walt Disney World Sunday night.

Wiped out by the unusual October rains were a gala Main Street parade, a champagne party and a fireworks display which Disney officials said would have been the park's biggest extravaganza since opening day seven years ago.

Almost 2,000 delegates from 66 countries are attending the week-long conference of the Paris-based chamber, which represents about 5,000 business organizations in 95 countries.

Maret Represents Local Service Unit

DALE MARET The Hereford Salvation Army Service Unit will be represented by Mr. Dale Maret, Salvation Army Field Representative.

It has been announced by Mr. Vance D. Crume, service unit chairman.

Maret's appointment to Region 5 was announced recently by Mr. Dan Eddy, Texas director of development for The Salvation Army.

Region 5 is a designated 29-town area that includes Hereford and covers all of the Panhandle and much of the South Plains.

The Hereford Salvation Army Service Unit is a member of the United Way of Deaf Smith County Inc.

In his capacity as field representative, Maret will work with Crume and the Hereford Service Unit committee and will act as a liaison between the service unit, The Salvation Army Corps in the area and Texas Division Headquarters located in Dallas.

A Salvation Army service unit is a committee of volunteers who perform the same service of helping those in need in their community as do uniformed Salvation Army officers in Corps town.

Hereford service unit committee members who serve with Crume are Neil Cooper, vice chairman; Lola Faye Veazey, treasurer; Jewel Smith, welfare secretary; and members J.B. "Johnny" Pool and J.R. Johnson.

"If a kid has talent, it will show up even in the early grades. But there are often kids with hidden ability that won't show up until the later grades."

For that reason, Kitchens believes in playing as many youngsters as possible in every sport.

As for as Hereford producing enough good athletes to compete, Cuby firmly thinks local athletes have competed, do compete and will compete well for Hereford in the future.

When you talk with Cuby Kitchens, you not only talk to a Hereford coach, but a Hereford supporter and more important a believer in Whiteface athletes.

While we talked, the school phone rang and someone on the other end questioned Kitchens about one of his athletes, perhaps one tardy to class or a bit in trouble.

Within 18 months of enactment, incremental pricing "is to be applied to other industrial facilities" served by

But the legislation also provides "interim exemption" from incremental pricing for any agricultural facility that uses natural gas, the report said.

While not specifically identified, we would expect the secretary of agriculture

Cardinals Might Consider Age, Health of Pope Candidates

VATICAN CITY, (AP) - The death of Pope John Paul I only 34 days after his election has made health an important new factor in the election of his successor. It may affect the tradition that the pontiff should be over 60.

"Health does count; this is a demanding position," said Cardinal Humberto Medeiros of Boston as he arrived for the funeral of the pope Wednesday and the conclave starting Oct. 14 to elect his successor.

Cardinal Franz Koenig of Vienna referred to the papacy as too trying a task and Cardinal Leo Suensens of Belgium called it a burden. John Paul, the morning after his election, characterized it as "a danger."

The last pope under 60 was Pius IX, who was 54 when elected in 1846. His reign lasted 32 years, the longest in history. Since the popes have ranged in age from Benedict XV, who was 60 when elected in 1914, to John XXIII, 77, at his coronation in 1958.

Both John Paul I and Paul VI, his immediate predecessor, were elected at 65, considered the ideal papal age. But Paul's reign lasted 15 years and ended after several years of slowly failing health.

John Paul succumbed to a sudden heart attack. He suffered from rheumatism, and a niece said he was "delicate," that he had to be careful about what he ate and "cold and heat." But he was not known to have had a history of heart trouble.

Microwave Cooking To Be Demonstrated

DIANE BIM

Various tips on microwave cooking will be demonstrated by Diane Bim, home economist for Southwestern Public Service, at 12:20 p.m. Thursday, Oct. 12 in the center ballroom of the Community Center. Her program, which is being presented free to the public, will be part of Women's Emphasis Days, Oct. 10-12. The three days of programs come under the sponsorship of the Chamber of Commerce Women's Division.

Mrs. Bim will prepare several dishes during her demonstration. She was invited to participate in Women's Emphasis Days by the public affairs committee of the Women's Division.

Mrs. Bim is employed by SWPS to serve as a consumer representative for customers in many areas related to electricity in the home. She has programs available on microwave ovens, portable appliances and wise use of energy. In addition, she works with customers on an individual basis and also with future customers in school classes.

She is married and has one son. Her memberships include West Texas Home Economists in Business and Soroptimist.

Soph Supper To Be Held Friday Night

Hereford High School sophomores will hold their annual supper Friday from 5 p.m. to 7 p.m. at the Hereford High School cafeteria. Tickets will be $2 for adults and $1.50 for children under 12.

The sophomores will be serving sloppy Joes this year and the annual queen candidate will be Sharon Lowrie.

All sophomores encourage the public to attend.

The smallest mammal is the pygmy shrew, which is only 1 1/2 inches long without its tail, and weighs only one-eighth of an ounce.

Becky Bower, 4, and Jami Bower, 8, are among the many who will be modeling Saturday, in the Alpha Iota Mu style show, in the high school auditorium. Flowers West will be providing the decorations. The public is urged to attend. Admission will be $1.

Cake Workshop Held By Club for Novices

Betty Henson and Kathy Holmes were the keynote speakers Thursday and Friday mornings during a cake decorating workshop for new members of Sweet 'n' Fancy Cake Club. The first day of demonstrations was held in the Community Center and the workshop concluded the next morning in Pioneer Natural Gas Flame Room.

New members practiced the techniques they had learned by decorating cakes with the guidance of veteran club members.

In attendance were Ellen Thames, Joyce Geiger, Valerie Fuston, Kathy Veld, Bev Hammond, Frances Garcia, Carol Hinton, Alice Koenig, Yolanda Guerrero, Margaret Gamez, Elida Balderaz, Isabel Cervarez, Elida Alogzo, Erlinda Quintana, Grace Gonzales, Regina Warren, Shirley Brown, Susanna Gonzales and Nancy Carlisle.

Judge Nelson Selected Spelling Bee Director

The director for Deaf Smith County's 1979 Spelling Bee has been named.

He is County Judge Glen Nelson located in the courthouse.

The date of the county competition will be announced at a later date by the director, but will be held before April 1, 1979. The winner will compete in the Amarillo Globe-News-West Texas State University co-sponsored 31st annual regional competition on April 28 in Amarillo.

The county's champion will be one of 46 area winners to compete in Amarillo. Top award will be an all-expense trip, courtesy of the Amarillo Globe-News, for the regional champ and one parent, to Washington, D.C. during the week of June 4.

A $200 scholarship to West Texas State University will be one of the awards going to the 1979 regional champion, named in April. The scholarship is to be given by Mrs. Patriel Parker of Happy, Texas, mother of Gene Parker, bee coordinator. He is director of placement at the university.

There will be numerous other prizes with the top 15 finalists in the district contest receiving special awards.

Brand new "Bee" certificates, suitable for framing, will be given to every contestant, including those who spell at the classroom level.

The four states represented include the Panhandle of Texas, parts of Oklahoma, New Mexico and Kansas.

Students who wish to get an early start in preparing for the 1979 AGN-WTSU contest may order copies of the new "Words of the Champions" direct from the newspaper. The booklet, containing in excess of 500 new words, sells for 30 cents. Orders may be addressed to: Spelling Bee Editor, Amarillo Globe-News, p.o. box 2091, Amarillo, Texas 79166.

The national sponsors, Scripps-Howard Newspapers in Cincinnati, establish the rules of pps-Howard Newspapers in Cincinnati, establish the rules for competition. Any student who has not reached his/her 16th birthday or gone beyond the eighth grade at the end of the current school term, may compete. Jim Wagner is national director.

The AGN-WTSU offers elementary students a unique opportunity to take part in the National Spelling Bee. A Junior Bee is also sponsored for boys and girls in the sixth and lower grades. Each county may select a separate Junior Champion (from fifth and sixth grades only). The County Junior winners will not compete in regional spelling unless they win both titles. The decision to let fifth and sixth graders compete in the secondary contest is up to each county director. The secondary contest is referred to as "Senior Bee".

Each county's Junior Champion and Senior Champion will be invited to a luncheon to be held in Amarillo on April 28 prior to the regional elimination event.

Spelling Bee Editor for the newspaper is Mrs. Jeane Bartlett.

Additional information concerning the Bee may be obtained from the Amarillo Globe-News or West Texas State University.

Husbands Honored By YHT Members

Young Homemakers met Saturday night in the home of Mrs. Bud Kelly. The program for the night was September Social.

Husbands of the Young Homemakers were honored with a Crazy Diner Supper. Serving the supper were Mmes. Jim Culpepper and Jim Campbell. Members enjoyed a game of "Who Am I" and "Party Bridge." Scoring highest in bridge was Mrs. Campbell and scoring lowest was Mrs. Kelly. Visitors for the evening were Mr. and Mrs. Steve Gilbert.

Young Homemakers next scheduled meeting is Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. in the Fellowship Hall of the Church of Nazarene. Mrs. Campbell will be giving the program which will focus on Christmas decorations. The public is encouraged to attend.

YOUR GARDEN
Rock Gardens

A better-looking garden can be little more than a stone's throw away if you turn your stones into a small rock garden. A successful rock garden recreates the natural beauty of mountainsides—in miniature. For small gardens, a scree—a bed of stone chips—provides an easily constructed setting for rock plants.

A slightly inclined site is best, and it should be located at the base of a rocky outcropping, as in nature.

PTO Meeting Set

By CHARLES LYLES
Family Night at Aikman Elementary will be Thursday, October 5. Family Night activities and a school program highlight the first meeting of the Aikman Parent-Teacher Organization (PTO) during this school year.

The meeting will begin at 7:30 p.m. in the Aikman School auditorium. The fourth grade students will present the program. Children's Holidays, under the direction of Mrs. Joan Latham. The program will include a musical tour through the holidays of the year.

Aikman's first parent-teacher organization began in 1957 with 44 members. In 1963, the 191 members voted to become the Aikman School Parent-Teacher Organization, an autonomous local organization with no state or national affiliations.

In past years, PTO has provided trees for the playground, pictures for the halls in the new wings of the school, playground equipment, choir risers, tumbling mats, furniture and appliances for the teachers lounge, a new trophy case, and photography equipment for the school.

Aikman's PTO members seek to improve the welfare of our children in the home, school, and community. PTO strives to improve the home life of Aikman students and unite the home and school in the teaching and training of children.

Mortician Attends National Meeting

Charles Watson of Gilliland-Watson Funeral Home was among those leading funeral directors attending the 61st Annual Meeting of National Selected Morticians at the Crown Center Hotel, Kansas City, Mo. Sept. 26-29. He was accompanied by his wife, Marlene.

As a member of NSM, Watson met with other leading funeral directors from North America to further foster responsible funeral service in the consumer and public interest, and to meet the bereavement needs of modern day society.

Membership in National Selected Morticians is by invitation only, said the Executive Director, Dr. Frank W. Miller. Membership is limited to outstanding privately owned establishments, and is extended only after a thorough evaluation of standards of service, facilities, and a history of exemplary performance in developing an excellent reputation for responsible funeral service.

Each member funeral home in NSM has pledged its adherence to a rigid Code of Good Funeral Practice. Failure to comply with provisions of this Code of Good Funeral Practice results in termination and forfeiture of membership. NSM firms may be found in key cities across the United States and Canada, with international members in England, Scotland, Wales, Ireland, Sweden, Belgium, Bermuda, Mexico, Philippines, Guam, Australia, New Zealand and Sri Lanka.

All kinds of people belong to cooperatives. More than 23 million American families are members of one kind of co-op or another. They have joined together to provide themselves with all kinds of goods and services.

Through cooperatives, people market farm products and buy farm supplies, fuel oils, gasoline, and even groceries.

Other cooperatives provide their members with credit, health care, electricity and telephone service. Still others provide housing, insurance and other services.

Whatever the human need, people can fill it themselves through cooperatives.

Tax Cut, ERA Amendment To Get Senate's Attention

WASHINGTON (AP) - More time for the proposed Equal Rights Amendment and a tax cut for some Americans highlight the Senate agenda for what may be the next to last week of the 95th Congress.

Both issues have already been dealt with in the House, although the tax cut is expected to be back there again after a House-Senate conference committee has arrived at a compromise measure.

Meanwhile both houses are bracing for an expected veto of the $10.2-billion public works bill they passed despite President Carter's strong objections.

On another issue, Senate Majority Leader Robert C. Byrd, D-W. Va., said over the weekend that the prospects for Senate passage of the Humphrey-Hawkins jobs bill are "fairly good."

Leaders of both houses say they are aiming at adjourning Oct. 14.

The House voted on Aug. 15 to push the deadline for ratification of the ERA back to June 30, 1982, from the present cutoff of March 22, 1979. On Thursday, Senate opponents said they were abandoning their planned filibuster.

While a final vote is set Friday, what could be the crucial vote will come Wednesday on an amendment to permit state legislatures that have already ratified the ERA to reverse themselves during the extra time period.

Backers of the ERA say this amendment would wipe out the advantage of the extension.

Sen. Jake Garn, R-Utah, leader of the fight against the extension, said Saturday that 53 senators, three more than needed, had told him they would vote for the amendment.

Sen. Birch Bayh, D-Ind., the pro-extension leader, said earlier the vote was "too close to call." Byrd predicted Saturday it would be "very close."

The ERA, which would prohibit discrimination on the basis of sex, needs to be ratified by 38 legislatures to become part of the Constitution. It has been approved by 35, but the legislatures of Idaho, Kentucky, Nebraska and Tennessee have rescinded their approval.

Debate on the tax bill will probably begin Thursday, Byrd said, with a vote possible the following Monday. The bill would cut the government's tax take by $23 billion and would reduce taxes for single people earning about $15,000 and for families of four or more earning under $20,000.

The Carter administration, contending the bill is too costly, says it favors the wealthy by making deep cuts in taxes on capital gains, the profits from the sale of assets owned a year or longer.

The House-passed bill would cut taxes $16.3 billion. Carter favors a cut of about $20 billion.

4-H Firsthand

LOCAL 4-H'ERS TO CELEBRATE NATIONAL 4-H WEEK

The two hundred 4-H members in Deaf Smith County will be among 5.5 million across the United States celebrating National 4-H Week, October 1-7, 1978.

This year's National 4-H Week is designed to reflect on the fact that 4-H offers youth of all backgrounds an opportunity for personal growth and development and, at the same time, to broaden their interests and concern for others.

In Texas, the 4-H program is conducted by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service of the Texas A&M University System. 4-H continues to be a highly flexible program and continues to expand and adapt to the changing needs and interests of young people.

Project areas continue to expand, providing youth with many "learning-by-doing" experiences that will help them grow into productive, contributing members of society. 4-H helps youth learn skills to cope with real-life situations today as well as to prepare for the years ahead.

"Hats off" to all 4-H members, their parents, volunteer leaders and businesses for making the 4-H program what it is today - a dynamic, action-oriented program for action-oriented youth.

Court Won't Enter State Welfare Spat

WASHINGTON (AP) - Told that Congress already has resolved the issue, the Supreme Court Monday refused to interfere in a seven-year dispute between Texas and federal welfare officials.

The justices said they will not study an effort by the Texas Department of Human Resources to collect $92.7 million from the federal government's Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

"Congress now has enacted legislation that terminates the dispute between the parties and authorizes the payment of funds to settle this and similar claims asserted by the states involved," U.S. Solicitor General Wade McCree told the high court.

At issue were provisions of the Social Security Act that give states federal matching funds for services to the aged, blind and disabled.

Texas applied for such matching funds in 1971 and won initial approval. Later, HEW concluded that certain services provided by Texas were not reimbursable under federal law and held out the $92.7 million.

"Although this case would not become moot until the funds have been appropriated and paid, the new legislation deprives this case of any prospective significance," McCree told the court.

He added that Texas could expect its money "before the end of the year."

Private pension plans now cover more than 30 million U.S. workers, The Conference Board notes. Half of all corporate employees are now covered by these retirement plans, up from 20 percent in 1950. More than $900 per worker was paid into private pension funds in 1975, with employers accounting for 90 percent of the contributions.

Ann Landers

Teenage Sex

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I am a 16-year-old girl with a great big problem. There is nobody I can talk to except my girl friends and they don't know any more than I do. My mother would kill me if she knew what I have been doing so that's out. You are my only hope.

I've gone steady with three guys in my life and had sex with all of them. I lost my virginity when I was 14. The big love affair didn't last very long. The guy was 17, got into trouble with the law and left town.

My next hot crush was "Rick," and I was 15 then. "Rick" was neat but my folks didn't want me to go with him because he was 19, had a beard and no job. We'd meet on the sly and had sex a lot. When I thought I was pregnant he dropped me. It turned out to be a false alarm and I dropped him.

The guy I'm going with now is terrific. But I'm having the same trouble. I realize my luck can't last forever. I'm sure to get pregnant one of these days and there will be hell to pay. My folks will throw me out of the house.

None of the three guys ever used any protection. They all seemed to think that's up to the girl. I've heard a lot about the pill but that means going to a doctor and I can't do it. The same for a diaphragm. I know I should use something, but what?

I used to think you were square, but I gained a lot of respect for you when you told the mother of a teenage girl that once kids start to have sex they won't stop. You advised her to give her daughter "the facts." Well, that's what I need, and so do lots of other teenagers. Please don't let us down. I'll call myself-Jill.

DEAR JILL: You need more information than I can give you in this limited space so I'm going to recommend a very frank pamphlet called "The Hassles of Becoming a Teenage Parent." It is put out by the U.S. government and it's free. Write to: Family Planning Clearinghouse, Box 2225, Rockville, Md. 20852.

Be sure to enclose your name and address. I urge parents of teenagers to send for it, too. Your kids will appreciate your interest. If you want the pamphlet in Spanish, please say so. It's available.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Our best friends, a couple with a young child, have two cats and two medium-sized dogs. These animals dominate the house.

The cats sleep on the dining table and are fed on the kitchen counter. The dogs sleep alternately with the child and the couple. The odor of cat urine permeates the house. When supper is over, Sara puts the plates on the floor for Fido and Rover to finish whatever there is. It is absolutely sickening.

We enjoyed Sara and Jack's company very much before the animals came to live there. We want to continue to enjoy their friendship but the unsanitary conditions in their home are more than we can take. Please, Ann, tell them they are going to lose us (and others) if they don't clean up their act.—Sick in San Francisco.

DEAR SICK: YOU told them and if you want to make sure they see it, send them this column, and sign your names. They deserve to know the score.

Voice of Charlie McCarthy Stilled With Death of Bergen

LOS ANGELES (AP) - There'll be no more insults from wooden-headed, wise-cracking Charlie McCarthy; his voice is forever stilled.

And gap-toothed Mortimer Snerd is a real dummy once more.

Their creator, premier ventriloquist Edgar Bergen, died Saturday in his sleep after a heart attack.

Bergen, who modeled McCarthy after a cocky Irish newsboy 56 years ago, will be remembered at funeral services Tuesday in Beverly Hills.

The 75-year-old entertainer died four days into an 11-day farewell engagement at Caesars Palace in Las Vegas, in what was to have been his final road tour.

Two weeks earlier, he had announced plans to retire and donate his wooden sidekicks - top-hatted, monacled McCarthy, dull-witted Snerd and spry spinster Effic Klinker - to the Smithsonian Institute.

Bergen was born in Chicago on Feb. 16, 1903, to Swedish parents, who ran a retail dairy business. The inspiration for Charlie McCarthy came to the young Bergen in 1922 in the form of a newsboy who sold papers in his neighborhood.

Bergen sketched the newsboy and took the drawings to a carpenter who made the dummy's head for $35. Bergen carved the body himself.

Early in his career, Bergen worked in nightclubs and on the vaudeville circuit. He first gained national fame when he joined the Chase and Sanborn Coffee radio show in 1937.

He received a special Academy Award in 1937 for his work in film shorts and musicals. He appeared in about 20 short films and several million-dollar musical productions, such as "Goldwyn Follies" in 1938. That was followed by movie appearances with red-nosed comedian W.C. Fields, including "You Can't Cheat an Honest Man" and "Song of the Open Road."

Bergen leaves his wife, Frances; his actress-photographer daughter, Candice, and a 17-year-old son, Kris.

Funeral services were scheduled at All Saints' Episcopal Church in Beverly Hills, to be followed by private interment.

At Wits End

BY ERMA BOMBECK

There's one thing I've always said about fishermen. They may not always catch fish, but they at least know why.

It's too late in the day.

It's too early in the day.

The water level is down.

They're spawning.

The rain stirred 'em up.

The atom bomb screwed up the lakes.

You need a boat.

You need waders.

They aren't biting on worms (avocados, sauteed shrimps or peach melba).

It's too hot.

It's too near an Army base.

They're too small to take the bait.

They're too large to bite.

They haven't bitten since the Democrats took office.

Without a doubt, fishermen are the most imaginative sportsmen who ever sat on a bank and tried to outsmart a fish that has 1/1000 their size, 1/1500 their weight and 1/50,000 their brain.

Probably the best reason I've heard to date was when my husband straggled home a few weeks ago from a day at the lake. The only fish he caught were on his hands.

"What happened?" I asked.

"The lake is polluted with Kimberlys," he said.

"What are Kimberlys?"

"Kimberlys are three-year-old children who run around the lake screaming. I got one! I got one! They trip over the worms and the entire can falls in the water—enough to feed every fish through a nuclear attack.

"Kimberlys throw rocks into the water when they get bored. Not little pebbles, but rocks that are five times their size and you wonder how they can lift them. Sometimes they fall in the lake and you lose your pole assisting in the rescue.

"The payoff is when Kimberlys throw in sticks and the dog swims over your line to retrieve them."

"That's terrible," I said. "Why didn't you just move on to another spot?"

"I couldn't. Kimberly caught her limit and I hung around trying to see what kind of bait she was using."

Color

Color, an electromagnetic wave phenomenon, is a sensation produced through the excitation of the retina of the eye by rays of light. The colors of the spectrum may be produced by viewing a light beam refracted by passage through a prism, which breaks the light into wave lengths. Customarily the six primary colors of the spectrum are thought of as red, orange, yellow, green, blue and violet.

Carter, Waldheim Pledge Lebanon Problem Solution

WASHINGTON (AP) - President Carter and Secretary General Kurt Waldheim of the United Nations have jointly pledged to do all they can to develop a framework for a political solution to the problems of strife-torn Lebanon.

Carter and Waldheim discussed the continuing Lebanese crisis for 10 minutes Sunday night when they met near Orlando, Fla., before they addressed the annual meeting of the International Chamber of Commerce.

A joint statement issued after their talk said the two men urged universal observance of a cease-fire in Lebanon, racked for months by recurrent civil strife between Christians and Moslems.

The statement said Carter and Waldheim "urged that a framework be developed for a political solution of the crisis in Lebanon and agreed to do all they can to this end."

Carter went to Orlando after stopping at Cape Canaveral, Fla., where he awarded the Congressional Space Medal of Honor to six pioneering astronauts.

The occasion coincided with the 20th anniversary of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration and Carter's own 54th birthday.

The skein of birthday observances was kept intact when Carter and Waldheim addressed an audience of businessmen from 80 nations in front of the flood-lit turrets and spires of Disney World's "Magic Kingdom" castle. Sunday was the seventh birthday of the giant amusement complex.

Carter's conversation with Waldheim was interrupted briefly when former president Gerald R. Ford, the man he defeated in 1976, telephoned birthday greetings.

"He has been extremely helpful to me," Carter said of Ford.

The president, who has begun focusing attention on Lebanon following his success at the Mideast summit at Camp David, Md., was hailed by Waldheim for his mediating role between Egypt's Anwar Sadat and Israel's Menachem Begin.

Waldheim said Carter displayed "remarkable skill and statesmanship" at Camp David and added, "His willingness to commit his high position, his time and his energy to the goal of just and lasting peace in the Middle East is an encouraging development for the world community."

High Court to Review Random Traffic Checks

WASHINGTON (AP) The Supreme Court said Monday it will decide whether police officers may randomly stop motorists to check driver's licenses and car registrations.

The justices agreed to hear an appeal by Delaware authorities who claim their state courts were wrong to ban such random stops as unconstitutional.

The court's eventual decision could affect police procedures in all states.

New Castle County, Del., police officer Anthony Avena was on road patrol the night of Nov. 30, 1976 when he stopped a car being driven by William J. Prouse III.

Avena had not observed any traffic or equipment violations but stopped Prouse for a spot check of his license and registration. As he approached the stopped car, Avena detected from a partly open window the smell of marijuana. He then observed a cellophane bag containing plant-like material, and, after searching Prouse, found marijuana in the driver's pocket.

Prouse was charged with possession of marijuana but asked his trial court to suppress the evidence because it had been obtained in an illegal detention.

The trial judge agreed with Prouse and refused to admit the seized marijuana as evidence.

State prosecutors then appealed to the Delaware Supreme Court, but lost again.

The state's highest court ruled that "a random stop of a motorist in the absence of specific articulable facts which justify the stop...is constitutionally impermissible and violative" of the Constitution's protection against unreasonable searches.

Bees Use Magnetic Pathfinding

Princeton, N.J. (AP) - Honeybees appear to use the Earth's magnetic field to find their way when the sun, stars or landmarks are not visible, according to a Princeton University professor.

Biologist James Gould, 33, says bees can use the magnetic field to navigate because of a compound of iron and oxygen, called magnetite that is present in bees' abdomens. Each honeybee carries millions of crystals of magnetite and the crystals appear to rearrange themselves in response to changes in the bee's position in the magnetic field. Gould said.

Redskins Scalp Cowboys, 9-5

By TOM SEPPY
AP Sports Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) - It was, according to Washington defensive captain Diron Talbert, a matter of shutting down the National Football League's No. 1 offense, and especially the NFC's leading rusher, Tony Dorsett. "We stopped them rushing, we stopped their passing," said Talbert after the Redskins' 9-5 victory over the Cowboys Monday night. Talbert remembered, when reminded, that the Cowboys were the top scoring team in the NFL. "But basically, we pursued Dorsett and we tackled him. We stopped his long runs." The Washington defense stopped the Cowboys when it was necessary, including six plays from the 7-yard line and four from the 2 in the third quarter and also late in the fourth quarter on a controversial play.

"It was kind of sloppy," said Dallas Coach Tom Landry. "We have no excuses. We just didn't put it in there." The Redskins won their fifth straight game against no losses this season before a sellout crowd, including President Carter, taking a two-game lead in the NFC East on Mark Moseley's field goals of 52, 42 and 27 yards. Dallas, the defending Super Bowl champion, is now 3-2. "Last year, I missed three field goals against Dallas here and it cost us a game," said Moseley. "As Texans, neither me nor my dad ever heard the end of it."

"I'm just now coming around," said Moseley, a native of Livingston, Texas. "I had a slow training camp and the leg is finally beginning to feel strong." The Cowboys' only offensive score came on a 19-yard field goal by Rafael Septien after the Washington goal line stand in the third quarter. They got a safety when Redskins quarterback Joe Theismann voluntarily ran into the end zone on the final play of the game. The Cowboys complained about an official's call on third-and-eight at the Washington 13 late in the fourth quarter, Dallas quarterback Roger Staubach threw what the Cowboys thought was a completed pass to Drew Pearson near the goal line, but the official ruled it out of bounds. "I thought I caught the ball," said Pearson. "I caught the ball on the shoulder pad and got hit by Redskin cornerback Joe Lavender. He hit me and then I was sent out of bounds. I thought I saw an official say it was good and then another official overruled him. That's the way it goes." Landry said: "I thought he fumbled out of bounds and it should have been a completed pass. But who knows whether we would have scored anyway." Staubach, who also thought Pearson was in bounds, said: "We should have scored three times, they played well and got only nine points. We just didn't score."

Houston Stratford Jumps to 4th Place

By The Associated Press

Temple, Garland and Arlington Lamar, the big three in Class 4A of The Associated Press Schoolboy Football Poll, held firm positions this week but Houston Stratford moved from sixth to fourth following an impressive showing last week.

Defending 4A state champion Plano helped Stratford's ascent when it lost to Highland Park 16-7 and dropped into 10th place this week.

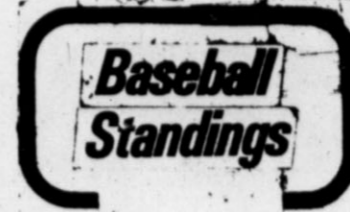

Stratford, which rolled up 41 first downs in beating Lamar Consolidate 40-6, then leaptfrogged San Antonio Churchill into the No. 4 position. Huntsville in 3A, Mount Vernon in 2A and Farmersville in A also maintained their No. 1 billings.

Churchill slipped to fifth this week followed by Corpus Christi Carroll, Odessa Permian, Highland Park, LaPorte and Plano to round out the top 10. No other 4A teams challenged for the rankings. Huntsville, after a 40-0 shutout of Aldine Eisenhower, polled 16 of 18 possible first place votes and held a 175-146 point margin over runnerup Gonzales. Beaumont Hebert and Brownwood, with one first place vote each, remained third and fourth.

Gainesville with 13 points, McKinney with 11 and New Braunfels with eight were among other 3A teams receiving consideration from the panel of Texas sports writers and sportscasters.

Tahoka was the lone casualty in Class 2A, losing to Crane 7-6 and falling into 10th place this week. Mount Vernon held off a run at its No. 1 position by No. 2 Newton, which trailed in points only 165-161 and in first place votes 9-5.

There were two losers and a tie victim in Class A. No. 3 Wellington lost to 2A ranked Childress 43-12 and fell to eighth this week. Garrison dropped from the poll after a 14-7 loss to Troop and was replaced by Iraan. Haskell remained as the No. 6 team following a 13-13 tie with Stamford. Seagraves narrowly miss the A top 10 with 23 points compared to 25 for No. 10 Charlotte. Franklin and China Spring each received 10 points.

Court Upholds Ruling

WASHINGTON (AP) - Oakland A's owner Charles O. Finley has been rebuffed by the nation's highest court in a suit he filed against baseball Commissioner Bowie Kuhn over Finley's aborted $2.5 million sale of three baseball stars. The Supreme Court Monday decided not to hear a challenge to lower-court decisions supporting Kuhn's action blocking the 1972 sale of pitchers Bert Blyleven, Blue and Rollie Fingers and outfielder Joe Rudi.

Facing the loss of the players at the end of the season as free agents, Finley attempted to sell Fingers and Rudi to the Boston Red Sox for $1 million and Blue to the New York Yankees for $1.5 million. Kuhn blocked the sale, charging it would not be "in the best interests of baseball" because it would leave the A's, who had won three consecutive World Series from 1972 to 1974, with little chance to compete effectively. Finley filed suit over the action, charging that Kuhn's move was an effort to drive Finley out of baseball.

$22 Million Bid Let For Aggies

COLLEGE STATION, Texas (AP) - A $22.8 million contract let Monday to W.B. Zachry Co. of San Antonio for expansion and renovation of Texas A&M's Kyle Field and construction of adjoining athletic and physical education facilities. Work is to begin Nov. 27, two days after the Aggies final home football game this fall.

Construction involves addition of a third deck to each side of the stadium, a three-story press box, two four-story buildings and renovations. Seating will be increased to approximately 71,000, making Kyle Field the third largest stadium in the state. Memorial Stadium in Austin seats 79,000 and the Cotton Bowl in Dallas can accommodate 72,061 fans.

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) - Race driver Sonny Eaton, who has not regained consciousness since he collapsed just after receiving the checkered flag at the Indianapolis Speedrome Sunday, remains in a coma and in critical condition, according to doctors at Community Hospital.

Eaton, of Silver Spring, Md., suffered a heart attack after finishing seventh in the national Figure-Eight championship race.

Doctors said Eaton, 35, collapsed over the steering wheel of his 1965 Corvair. He completed 344 laps in the three-hour endurance race, which was won by Kenny St. John of Indianapolis with 454 laps.

Eaton's heart stopped beating, but an emergency medical technician got it going again with massage. Eaton, vice president of Maryland Auto Race Fans, was the Figure-Eight champion of the Beltsville, Md., Speedway this year.

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) - Showers that dampened Kansas City Monday night were expected to end this afternoon in plenty of time for the 7:30 p.m. CDT beginning of the first game of the American League playoff series between the Royals and the New York Yankees.

The National Weather Service said the showers would bring temperatures down to the uppers 50s and lower by the game's end. Winds were expected to be northwesterly at 10-15 mph, coming in from the stadium's left field. For the second meeting of the playoffs Wednesday afternoon, the weather service said there would be sunny skies with temperatures in the 70s and light, variable winds.

PITTSBURGH (AP) - University of Pittsburgh football Coach Jackie Sherrill says he'll talk with Artrell Hawkins about resuming his college career after a jury acquitted the halfback on rape charges.

Hawkins, who rushed for 1,499 yards in his senior year at Johnstown Area High School, was suspended last spring when the charges were filed. "I'm happy for him that he has been vindicated on all charges," Sherrill said Monday.

"After talking to Artrell, I never felt the young man was guilty," Sherrill said. Hawkins, 21, married and the father of three children, was acquitted by an Allegheny County jury on charges that he picked up a 22-year-old female hitchhiker last May 10, drove her to a spot in nearby Scott Township and raped and beat her.

Okies, Trojans Pace AP Football Poll

AP Sports Writer

Oklahoma held onto first place in The Associated Press college football poll today, while Southern California moved into the second spot and Arkansas dropped from second to fourth. Michigan also climbed ahead of Arkansas into third place, while Penn State and Texas stayed in the fifth and sixth positions and Texas A&M replaced Alabama in seventh.

Oklahoma, 4-0 following a 45-23 victory over Missouri, received 38 of 63 first-place votes and 1,226 of a possible 1,260 points from a nationwide panel of sports writers and broadcasters. Southern Cal, third last week, moved up to second with a 30-9 triumph over Michigan State. The Trojans received 14 first-place votes and 1,166 points. Michigan rose from fourth to third with six first-place votes and 1,093 points following a 52-0 rout of Duke. Arkansas, which had to come from behind in the second half to defeat Tulsa 21-13, slipped from second to fourth with three first-place votes and 1,062 points. The Razorbacks had been runnerup in every previous poll this season.

The other two first-place ballots went to Penn State, which clobbered Texas Christian 58-0 and received 1,049 points. Texas received 917 points for a 24-7 triumph over Texas Tech. Texas A&M went from eighth to seventh with 853 points following a 58-0 rout of Memphis State. The Aggies traded places with Alabama, which needed a second-half rally to beat Vanderbilt 51-28. Pittsburgh remained in ninth place by defeating North Carolina 20-16. Florida State, the only member of last week's Top Ten to lose Saturday, fell from 10th to 18th by dropping a 27-21 decision to Houston. The Seminoles were replaced in the 10th position by Nebraska, which jumped from 12th following a 69-17 mauling of Indiana.

The Second Ten consists of Louisiana State, Maryland, Colorado, Ohio State, Iowa State, UCLA, Stanford, Florida State, Auburn and North Carolina State.

Last week, it was LSU, Nebraska, Ohio State, Missouri, Maryland, Colorado, Iowa State, UCLA, Georgia and Stanford.

Auburn and North Carolina State appeared in the Top Twenty for the first time this season. Auburn whipped Tennessee 29-10 while N.C. State trounced Wake Forest 34-10. They replaced Missouri, which lost to Oklahoma, and Georgia, which was beaten by South Carolina 27-10.

NEW YORK (AP) - Harness racing driver Herve Filion had one string of nine years where he led all drivers in victories on eight occasions. But how about that ninth time? "Golf became an obsession with me," Filion said, "and I dropped from a record 637 winning rides in 1974 to 247 in 1975. That put me in eighth place in the standings. At last time I was berating myself for the putts I had missed earlier in the day, instead of concentrating on the race. I had to cut down my playing golf from once a day to once a week. My victories increased."

Roger Hamilton won the Max-Man Division while Paul Jorde was 2nd in the 100 Class. Mark Paetzold was 3rd in the Mini 80, Martin Paetzold 4th in the 250 Class and Kenneth Paetzold 5th in the Mini 80. Doug Kelley was 5th in the 250 Class. There will be a motorcycle race at the Hereford Course the 1st Sunday of every month through the winter months.

Yankees Hang On for AL Victory

BOSTON (AP) - Reggie Jackson, still in full uniform with No. 44 on his back, walked into the Boston Red Sox clubhouse, carrying a bat in one hand and a can of beer in the other.

Jackson, the New York Yankees' millionaire slugger, was a gracious winner Monday. After 162 games in which they built a 99-63 record identical to Boston's, the Yankees hung on for a 5-4 victory over the Red Sox in a one-game playoff, just the second tiebreaker in American League history.

The Yankees get a chance now to defend their 1977 World Series championship.

The New York victory was one hour old, and most of the Yankees were getting ready for a flight to Kansas City and a best-of-five playoff with the Royals for the pennant.

In the Boston clubhouse, the Red Sox quietly accepted defeat, satisfied with a stretch drive that fell short despite eight consecutive victories and 12 of 14 before the playoff.

The Red Sox were wishing each other a happy winter. Then, in walked, Jackson, who had hit his 27th homer leading off the eighth inning, a shot into the center-field bleachers which proved decisive.

"You guys could have done just what we did," Jackson told the Red Sox. "I didn't think my homer would end up being the winning run. I didn't want it to be the winner, not with us ahead 5-2."

"But your guys came back, and how. You got two runs in the eighth inning and took us down to the final out with runners on first and third in the ninth. That's too much pressure, man. Kansas City? Let me relax this one."

Yankee owner George Steinbrenner was one of the first visitors to the Boston clubhouse, going immediately to Red Sox Manager Don Zimmer.

"It's too bad that the two best teams in baseball had to play," Steinbrenner said while Zimmer choked back tears.

Earlier, Steinbrenner said in the Yankee clubhouse it was "a shame the teams with the winningest records in baseball had to be in the same division."

Then, noting the Yankees' comeback from those rough days during the ouster of Manager Billy Martin and the hiring of Bob Lemon in late July, Steinbrenner said:

"We got well. We were a banged up, sick team. Don't take anything away from Billy Martin, I'm just sorry we had to meet the Red Sox at this stage."

Lemon, the first AL manager to take over in midseason and go on to a championship, basked in glory. Fired by the Chicago White Sox, he quickly won a job with the Yankees when Martin resigned after some critical remarks about Steinbrenner.

Lemon took command on July 25, seeking only to regain respectability for the Yankees, who trailed the Red Sox by a whipping 14 games on July 19.

"This is unbelievable, just unbelievable," Lemon said. "The Red Sox went into a tailspin and we kept winning. Then we beat them here four straight in early September. Then we beat them two in a row in New York and we were 3 1/2 ahead. But they came back and forced us into a playoff. What more can anyone ask? It's just unbelievable."

Despite the loss, the Red Sox were able to hold their heads high. Their record of 3-14 from Aug. 30 until the victory in New York Sept. 15 will not be forgotten.

The Red Sox did what they had to do down the stretch, catching the Yankees and forcing a tiebreaker with eight victories in a row.

Zimmer was depressed.

"I've gambled all my life and have been in a lot of photo finishes, but this is the biggest I've ever lost," Zimmer said from a truck ready to go to the airport for the trip to Kansas City.

Mike Torrez, who pitched the Yankees to the World Series championship last fall while playing out his option, looked like a $2.6 million loser. Torrez blanked his old teammates on two hits for six innings. Then he surrendered a three-run homer to light-hitting Bucky Dent in a four-run seventh and it was all over.

Jackson put all his muscles into a pitch by Bob Staley in the eighth for the homer and the Red Sox were unable to catch up. Ron Guidry, a runaway winner of the AL Cy Young Award, boosted his record to 25-3 with relief help from Rich Gossage, who came on in the seventh.

Texas, Oklahoma Game Promises Fireworks

By JACK KEEVER
Associated Press Writer

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) - The world will be watching Saturday when Oklahoma, scoring at the rate of nearly a point a minute, meets Texas' quickstriking defenders, says Texas Coach Fred Akers.

Top-ranked Oklahoma has not scored a touchdown against Texas since 1975, but the 1978 Sooners are averaging nearly 50 points a game in their 4-0 season.

No. 6 Texas has allowed only 10 points in winning three and losing none.

They will play before a sell out crowd of 72,032 in the Cotton Bowl at Dallas and a regional television audience.

"This thing goes beyond Dallas, Norman Okla. and Austin," Akers told his weekly news conference Monday. "The game has worldwide appeal. It is a true classic."

To contain Oklahoma, the leading rushing team in college football, Texas must abide by the First Commandment of defensive football, Akers said. "The First Commandment," he said, "is take away the big play, the easy touchdown, the long gainer - and Oklahoma is a big-play team."

"We haven't faced anyone with close to the firepower Oklahoma has," Akers said.

"There is no question," he said, "that Oklahoma has outstanding personnel. It's not that they are just outstanding physically. They're pretty much a senior ball club... And experience to that ability and that's why they're No. 1."

Texas had its best offensive showing of the year in defeating Texas Tech, 24-7, at Lubbock on Saturday, and Longhorn coaches chose halfback Johnny "Ham" Jones as Texas' outstanding offensive player. Tackle Bill Akers was named the top defensive player.

Jones ran 21 times for 128 yards, including scoring runs of 14 and 16 yards. Akers was credited with 15 tackles, 12 unassisted.

Texas, coming off a puncheon 17-3 victory over Wyoming, had 396 yards total offense against Tech, and Akers was asked how the Oklahoma defense compared to Tech.

"They're bigger and faster and more experienced," Akers said of Oklahoma.

The Oklahoma offense is guided by quarterback Thomas Lott, and Akers said, "I've never seen Lott when he didn't look awesome."

No matter what formation Oklahoma is in, he said, "When the ball is snapped, they do the same thing - here they come."

"This is going to be a great challenge for our young football team," Akers said.

Several Texas players are injured, including safety Johnnie Johnson, who tackled Lott at the Texas five-yard-line to preserve Texas' 13-6 victory last year. Johnson has a pulled muscle, and Akers said he could not predict whether Johnson would play.

Akers has a sprained toe and Steve McMichael, the other defensive tackle, also has a pulled hamstring. Jones has a bruised shoulder and safety Ricky Churchman has a bruised hip.

"Whoever is there will fight," Akers promised.

Oilers Win Important Game, Lose Coach

HOUSTON (AP) - The Houston Oilers won an important American Football Conference game against Cleveland Sunday and lost their offensive coordinator Monday when Ken Shipp resigned following a simmering argument with quarterback Dan Pastorini.

"I got a letter from Ken Shipp this morning and he has resigned," Coach O.A. "Bum" Phillips told his weekly news conference. "I hate to see it because he is a good football man and I am the one who hired him."

A week ago, Phillips was fielding questions concerning a one-day walkout by Pastorini, who was upset that Shipp had publicly criticized his play calling in a 10-6 loss to Los Angeles.

Pastorini returned the next day but Phillips announced he would take a more active role in the offensive game plan and that was the format the Oilers used Sunday in edging the Browns 16-13.

"There still won't be much change in the way we do things," Phillips said. "King Hill will handle the passing game, Joe Bugel will handle the runs and I'll oversee the whole thing."

It was one of those bombs that set up a 19-yard Toni Fritsch field goal Sunday with 14 seconds left in the game as the Oilers moved into a tie with the Browns for second place in the AFC Central Division.

"I felt like we beat them worse than the score indicated," Phillips said. "We were able to stop them defensively and we moved the ball on offense. We certainly didn't dominate the scoreboard but I felt we controlled the game."

The Oilers played the game without two of their stars, rookie running back Earl Campbell and ace kick returner Billy "White Shoes" Johnson. But the supporting cast of Ronnie Coleman, Rob Carpenter and Tim Wilson took up the running slack.

"I can't say enough about Ronnie Coleman," Phillis said. "He was our leading rusher a long time around here until Earl came along and he hasn't played much. But he stayed ready and did a good job when we needed it."

The Oilers take their 3-2 record to Oakland Sunday.

Alaniz Wins Grid Game

Armando Alaniz, 626 Ave. F, won the Brand's Football Contest missing just six games and having a tiebreaker of 24 out of a possible ten.

Second place winners tied were in the contest. They were Yolanda Alaniz, 626 Ave. F, and Kyle Streun, 424 Star. The tie resulted with both missing six and having a tiebreaker score of 27.

First place winner will receive $25 while both second place contestants get $12.50 each.

There were 214 entries this go-around according to the Brand advertising department, promoters of the event.

Besides the weekly prizes, grand prizes of $100, $35 and $15 will be offered at the end of the 13-week grid game, sponsored by Hereford merchants and stores.

To be eligible for the season awards, entrants must have at least 11 scores. If an entrant turns in a form each week, the best 11 entries will be judged. Contestants missing seven games included Loran Nixon, Linda Jo Ramakers, Brian Ralhs, Tony Yosten, Priscilla Brogdon, John Guy Ford III, Chris Hodges, Scott Holbert, Douglas Jawovec, Raymond Lueb, Terri Beth Rush and C.E. Rush.

Short

SON OF BOOM-BOOM

QUEBEC (AP) - The Quebec Nordiques of the World Hockey Association were hoping they were getting a chip off the old block of ice when they signed Dan Geoffrion, a fast right-winger who stands 5-11 and weighs 185 pounds.

Dan is the son of the redoubtable Bernie "Boom-Boom" Geoffrion, a long-time star for the Montreal Canadiens and possessor of one of the hardest shots in hockey in his day.

There was a man who lived by the side of the road and sold hot dogs.

He sold very good hot dogs.

He put up signs along the highway and advertised in the newspaper telling how good they were.

He stood on the side of the road and cried:

"Buy a hot dog, Mister?"

And people bought.

He increased his meat and bun orders.

He bought a bigger stove to take care of his trade.

He finally got his son home from college to help him out.

But then something happened.

His son said, "Father, haven't you been listening to the radio and watching TV?"

There's a big depression. The foreign situation is terrible. The domestic situation is worse."

Whereupon the father thought, "Well, my son's been to college, he listens to the radio and watches TV and he ought to know."

So the father cut down on his meat and bun orders, took down his signs and cancelled his newspaper ads and no longer bothered to stand out on the highway to sell his hot dogs.

And his hot dog sales fell almost overnight.

"You're right, son" the father said to the boy.

"We certainly are in the middle of a great depression."

Hereford Man's Nephew Trains World - Class Police Canines

Editor's Note: The following was reprinted from the Kansas City Star. Sam Angelo is the nephew of Clay Angelo, of 339 Ave. H in Hereford.
By DWIGHT D. JACKSON
A Member of the Staff
 Last Christmas - while most of us were enjoying worldly goodies and remembering the spiritual reasons for the holiday - international espionage was going to the dogs.
 Late last year, an international intelligence organization infiltrated a European terrorist group and discovered it planned to bomb a passenger airline. Although no one knew which plane was to be bombed, it was said that a flight departing from Rome would be the target.
 The intelligence organization that got the tip, along with Trans World Airlines, requested Federal Aviation Administration assistance. FAA officials conducted Officer William Sowder of the police department's canine unit and requested the use of two bomb detection teams.

 Officer Sam Angelo and his dog, Kuda, and Officer Curtis Welch and his dog, Tip, won a drawing and went flying to Rome.
 What was to have been Christmas spent abroad turned out to be more fatiguing than festive. For 24 days - seven to 13 hours a day - the teams combed Rome's major airport, checking more than 20,000 pieces of baggage.
 Not one explosive device was found. Either the terrorists had been tipped off that baggage was being searched or the tip was incorrect. The teams returned home.

 According to Sowder, only three of every 100 dogs trained becomes a police dog, and only a fraction of those are capable of handling the complex duties of a bomb dog. Kansas City is fortunate enough to have four certified bomb dogs, which is the reason the FAA looked to Kansas City when it needed help.
 "You have to be able to turn a dog on and off like a light switch," said Sowder. "Not every patrol dog can become a bomb dog. The dog must have intense concentration."
 It is the intense concentration, coupled with extreme sensitivity, that sets bomb dogs apart from others. In fact Angelo's dog, Kuda, was specially bred for his work.

Kuda is a fourth generation bio-sensor dog. A bio-sensor dog is extremely intelligent, and has a sense of smell more than 40 times better than that of a human. In addition to his intelligence and sensitivity, the dog is extremely patient. And all those talents make a dog special to his master.
 "The dog does so much for you, that you really get attached to him," Angelo said. "They save a lot of policemen's lives."
 Angelo, in particular enjoyed the trip, because he had the opportunity to visit the land of his forefathers. "It was a wonderful trip and a wonderful opportunity," he said. "I always wanted to go there, but I never thought someone would pay my way."
 "...It was hard and lonesome being away from our families, but, of course, we volunteered."

Hill Denies Report Of Refusal of Investigation

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) - Attorney General John Hill said today a published report that he refused to investigate alleged official corruption in Webb County in 1976 were "totally false."
 Hill, Democratic candidate for governor, called a special news conference to deny statements made in a copyright story in Sunday's Dallas News which quoted Joe M. Guerra of Laredo.
 Guerra said in a statement, the newspaper reported, that Hill refused to pursue a probe of the Webb County road and bridge fund because he said he had "a lot of friends in Laredo."
 "We heard that statement was made in the story," Hill told the news conference, "and I denied ever making the statement before the story was published, but the author did not put that in the story...it is totally false."

 Appearing with Hill at the Capitol news conference were Texas Ranger Ramiro Martinez, Webb County District Attorney Charles R. Borchers and Ray Bravenec, a member of Hill's staff assigned to the organized crime division.
 Hill presented a copy of the county grand jury report which gave "special recognition and appreciation" to the three for their "thorough investigation and invaluable assistance to the grand jury."
 The grand jury report went on to say that "although there is some county property that cannot be accounted for, the lack of accountability and responsibility within the road and bridge department makes it impossible to determine if this property was or was not received and utilized by the county. Furthermore, there is no conclusive evidence of misappropriation of county materials by any one person or group of individuals."

 Borchers told the news conference that he asked the attorney general for help and Bravenec spent about a week working with the grand jury.
 "Furthermore, the publisher of the Laredo daily newspaper was on the grand jury and I assure you if there have been any attempts to hold back on anything this gentleman would not have allowed it," Borchers said.
 Martinez said he personally knew that Guerra met Bravenec in Laredo and that Bravenec was in the grand jury room when Guerra testified before the grand jury.
 Bravenec said that every allegation that Guerra made concerning the road and bridge fund was presented to the grand jury.
 Hill refused to comment when asked about the Dallas News' endorsement Sunday of Republican Bill Clements. "I don't want to go into that at this news conference," he said.

Court Stands By Decision on OSHA

WASHINGTON (AP) - The Supreme Court Monday let stand rulings that the government cannot bar employers from retaliating against employees who refuse to do work reasonably believed to be too dangerous.
 The court thus handed a significant legal defeat to the Occupational Safety and Health Administration.
 Only Justices Harry A. Blackmun and William J. Brennan Jr., voted to grant full review to the government's appeal. The votes of four justices are needed.
 Labor Secretary Ray Marshall now must go to Congress to seek the authority he wants OSHA to have.

 Lower courts ruled that the agency is not authorized to order employees to work and paid back wages when the employees did not first take administrative and legal action.
 In seeking Supreme Court review, government lawyers argued, "A limited right to self-help is necessary to deal with extreme situations for which the administrative and judicial processes are too slow, unless workers are to be left with the cruel choice between their safety and their job."

Press Freedom Suffers With Refusal of Review

WASHINGTON (AP) - The Supreme Court Monday refused to reconsider its ruling, announced in May, that police may obtain warrants to search newspaper offices without first trying to get desired materials through a subpoena.

The justices turned away a request by lawyers for Stanford University's student newspaper to admit, in effect, that the high court made a mistake.

Such requests rarely meet with success.

The May decision grew out of a police search of the Stanford Daily office on the university's Palo Alto, Calif., campus in 1971.

Lower federal courts had ruled that police forays into the premises of someone not suspected of a crime are almost never justified under the Constitution's protection against "unreasonable" searches.

The Supreme Court reversed those rulings, and decided that not even the added free press considerations present in a police search of a news office make such searches unconstitutional.

In practice, the ruling applies to all Americans - in their homes or at their jobs.

Lawyers for the student newspaper, joined by numerous news media organizations, argued unsuccessfully that not requiring police to first try for the information through a subpoena, which can be contested in court, would kill the nation's press and individual freedoms.

The Stanford Daily's "petition for rehearing" was supported in friend-of-the-court briefs submitted on behalf of the American Civil Liberties Union and 63 news media organizations.

Sadat Attacks Critics Of Middle East Accord

CAIRO, Egypt (AP) - President Anwar Sadat Monday attacked Arab critics of the Camp David accords and invited them to join in peace talks with Israel if they think they can do better.

In his first public appearance since returning from Camp David nine days ago, Sadat reported to the Egyptian parliament on the agreements, which have been bitterly attacked by most Arab governments.

Sadat blasted leaders of Syria, Libya and the Palestine Liberation Organization, who say Sadat is guilty of treason for signing the agreements with Israel.

He called Col. Moammar Khadafi of Libya "a child."

But Sadat did not criticize King Hussein of Jordan, whose eventual participation in the negotiations is necessary if they are to succeed. Hussein has criticized the accords but refrained from joining the so-called Arab rejectionists who split with Egypt over Sadat's peace initiative.

"I invite King Hussein to assume his responsibilities," Sadat said. "I invite Syrian officials to take part in the talks to as to deal with the Israeli withdrawal from the Golan." He called on PLO leaders to end what he said were their "farical" differences.

Sadat maintained the accords, which provide for a total Israeli withdrawal from Sinai within three years, would have the same terms applied to the Golan Heights if the Syrians joined the talks. "This is what Egypt was able to do at this stage...We do not claim to have reached a comprehensive settlement, but we have prepared the road toward a comprehensive settlement," Sadat said.

"This is what Egypt was able to do at this stage. If the 'noes', with the Soviet Union behind them, can do better, we will be behind them, clapping and praising them.

"If any Arab leadership can do better, we say to it 'yes' in all sincerity," Sadat continued.

Burns Receives Stay of Execution

HUNTSVILLE, Texas (AP) - James Paul Burns, scheduled to be executed Monday for the torture-murder of an Odessa, Texas, man, won a stay of execution pending a hearing in federal court.

Burns has been on Texas' Death Row for four years, and state prosecutors say he is likely to be one of the first condemned prisoners in Texas to be put to death since 1964.

The 5th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals in New Orleans granted Burns a hearing Oct. 30 on his appeal. If his appeal is turned down there, he could take his case to the U.S. Supreme Court, but Assistant State Attorney General Anita Ashton said Burns is "pretty close to the end" of his legal battle.

Burns was convicted of the 1973 murder of G.W. McDonald of Odessa, a slaying described as "extraordinarily heinous and gruesome" by a federal judge in San Antonio.

Prosecutors said Burns and two other men abducted McDonald at an Odessa drive-in and drove him to a remote spot where they robbed him, stripped him of his clothing, and tortured and killed him.

First Fast Food

There are 15,000 fish and chips shops in Britain. As one of the original convenience foods, fish and chips are supposed to be eaten while out on the street or walking somewhere. Englishmen have been relishing fish and chips for the last 100 years, ever since the Industrial Revolution produced the first factory workers and their need for cheap, quick, and nourishing food.
