Dollar Gains New Life on Foreign Markets

A $10,000 pledge to the United Way campaign was made by the Hereford Lions Club during a regular weekly luncheon meeting Wednesday. Lion president Gayle Cotten, left, presented the piedge to Lynton Alired, one of the drive committee members for UW of Deaf Smith County. Club members voted the big gift Wednesday after Raymond White, another UW drive committee member, had presented a campaign appeal for the one-gift concept being emphasized by United Way this year.

Lions Club Contributes $10,000 To Hereford United Way Effort

The United Way of Deaf Smith County got another big boost in its campaign Wednesday when the Hereford Lions Club voted to contribute $10,000 to the community fund drive.

Gayle Cotten, Lions Club president, said directors of the club had discussed the one-drive concept for the 12 local voluntary organizations and had appeared as guest speaker to discuss the recommended the big gift for United Way. Club members discussed the action Wednesday during the regular luncheon meeting and voted to give the $10,000.

Volunteers To Discuss Campaign during Meeting

Everyone associated with the United Way campaign in any way is being invited to Friday afternoon's crucial report meeting, it was announced today by UW president Paul Sims.

"We need everyone there so everyone will know exactly where we stand and what we need to do in the final month of the drive," Sims said concerning the report meeting scheduled for 5 p.m. Friday at Southwestern Public Service.

Sims said captains, workers, United Way board members and agengy directors are being urged to attend the meeting. "We have got to have more participation in this meeting than we had last week," Sims said.

At last week's first report meeting, UW volunteers reported a total of $44,088, about 22 percent of the $199,815 goal, as having been collected or pledged. For the United Way, it was the best initial report in the organization's 21-year local

Hance, Bush To Tangle

The public is invited to hear a debate between U.S. 19th Congressional District candidates Kent Hance and George Bush at 7:30 p.m. Friday in the Hereford Community Center.

Each candidate will give a 15-minute statement on his position, then both will field questions from the news media and others in attendance.

It will be one of the last meetings for the candidates prior to next Tuesday's general election.

Hance, a Democrat, is a state senator from Lubbock, while Bush, a Republican, recently moved to Lubbock from Midland where he was an independent oilman.

The winner in the race will replace retiring George Mahon in the House of Representatives.

This week, Rotarians pledged $3,800 and Lions voted to give $10,000. Sims called the two civic clubs' actions "tremendous shots in the arm for us. If everyone in Deaf Smith County had the attitude that these two clubs have, we could raise a million dollars. And all we're asking for is $199,815."

The third official report meeting will be at 10 a.m. Friday, Nov. 10. The time was changed from 5 p.m. in order to not conflict with the Hereford-Lubbock Coronado football game.

Last Year's Farm Exports Set Record

WASHINGTON (AP) - Farm exports set another record in the last fiscal year and government experts say there is a good chance the string will continue in

The Agriculture Department announced Wednesday that the value of farm exports in the year ended Sept. 30 rose almost 14 percent to $27.3 billion from about $24 billion in 1976-77.

Officials have not projected a dollar figure for exports this year but have indicated that a "modest" increase may

They caution that much will depend on 1978-79 crop prospects in other areas of the world, including the Soviet Union. The Soviets, a big buyer of U.S. wheat and corn last year, have not indicated how much they may purchase in 1978-79.

Meanwhile, USDA said it was the ninth straight year that the value of farm exports set a record. The surge began in 1969-70 when exports totaled $6.9 billion and climbed to $8.2 billion two years

Clayton urged all citizens to study the amendments and make their decisions at the polls on Nov. 7.

President Gayle Cotten announced that Tom Carter had been appointed to the club's board of directors to fill the vacancy created when Servio Gamez resigned to move to Plainview. He also announced the addition of two transfer members into the club--Darryl Zevely from North Carolina and Forrest Blalock from Hale Center. Cotten said the club had always supported the United Way, as well as contributing again to some of the UW agencies. "We have not contributed this much before, but we want others in the community to join in the spirit of the one-drive concept and give generously for these local agencies," Cotten said. Raymond White, one of the drive committee members for the United Way. presented the United Way appeal to the club prior to the vote by the members. He pointed out that it was a good way to support a number of local voluntary community organizations in just one gift.

"I don't feel that this sets a precedent for the club-each year the officers will have to study the situation and recommend a contribution of which the club is capable of making," said White. He added that this is a critical year for the United Way and volunteers would appreciate "a big boost from the Lions."

LONDON (AP) - The dollar surged back to life on foreign exchanges after President Carter announced new measures to bail out the beleaguered currency. Foreign government officials generally approved the plan but some newspapers rebuked Carter for not acting sooner.

The dollar, which closed in Tokyo at 178.80 yen Wednesday, soared to 188 when trading began today, then slipped back and closed at 186.025.

One banker warned America's trade deficit, inflation and reliance on foreign energy supplies must improve in three months or the dollar will return to a downward trend.

The Bank of Tokyo's chief dollarwatcher, Economic Research Chief Iwao Takesada, said, "The big question is whether the U.S. government will take fundamental measures to improve its balance of payments position."

But Japan's Finance Ministry and the Bank of Japan said, "We are sure that joint intervention by the Japanese, U.S. and other governments in the foreign exchange market will help stabilize the international monetary situation."

The dollar closed at 1.8450 German marks in Frankfurt on Wednesday, up from 1.7365 Tuesday. In Zurich, it closed at 1.57 Swiss francs, up from 1.4840. In Amsterdam, the dollar jumped to 1.9950 Dutch guilders, up from 1.8760.

In London, the pound sterling closed at $2.01, compared to $2.0877 Tuesday. Gold, the traditional inflationary hedge, fell $17.25 to close at $225.00 an ounce. In Zurich, the metal closed at $234.75, down from $243.875 Tuesday.

The strengthening of the dollar means more buying power for American tourists and Americans working abroad who are paid in dollars. Savings in theater tickets. restaurant meals and apartment rents, among other things, are certain to follow.

A Common Market official in Brussels who declined to be identified remarked, "We've been saying for a long time that there was no relation between the dollar's recent very low value and the real estate of the U.S. economy, which is still basically sound.

"This should have the good effect of raising the dollar's standing. But I would stress that these new measures are technical. There still must be continuing strong measures to cut inflation in the United States and especially to reduce its enormous energy consumption, which is unconscionable.

The West German government said Carter's moves "underscore in an impressive way the determination of the American partner to fight inflation, to strengthen the dollar and stabilize the situation on the foreign exchange market."

The Swiss government and national bank said they noted "with great satisfaction . . . the impressive package of measures decided by the United States to fight inflation and strengthen the dollar.

"The Federal Council and the national bank are convinced the program of action will have the intended effect and contribute to the normalization of exchange rates that is vital to the Swiss economy.

Britain's Financial Times called the action "dramatic."

Wholesale Prices Soar Again, Indicate Inflation To Follow Suit

WASHINGTON (AP) - Wholesale prices rose 0.9 percent in October for the second straight month, a sign that inflation may worsen, Labor Department figures showed today.

The department's report showed that the price of food, before it reached the grocery store, rose 1.7 percent for the second straight month after declining during the summer.

Even worse, the report showed prices rising at some of the fastest rates of the year at the early stages of production.

The wholesale price figures give consulters an early indicatin of what to expect in coming months. Many of the costs eventually are passed on to retail

The inflation rate for the year has been nearly 10 percent, but the government had been counting on prices to ease by the end of 1978. The October increase, if averaged out over an entire year, would be about 11 percent.

Israeli Foreign Minister Moshe Dyan, who flew here from Washington on Wednesday, said talks with State Department officials produced "relatively good progress" toward a peace treaty, but stressed the importance of the Vance-Begin session.

"Many points we do not have a mandate to agree upon or even to discuss will come up between" the two, he said. The session, to be held in Begin's Regency Hotel suite on Park Avenue, also will deal with U.S. aid to Israel.

State Department press officer George Sherman said Wednesday that U.S. aid is not "a condition to concluding the treaty," except for a U.S. commitment to finance two new airfields in Israel to replace Sinai facilities given up in the proposed peace pact.

Begin will receive the New York City Council of Churches' "Family of Man" award tonight. His trip will also take him to Los Angeles for a speaking engagement and a week-long visit to Canada.

He joined the White House on Wednesday in downplaying reported hard feelings between him and Carter. "We've had very cordial exchanges in

Stock Market Jumps

After Buck News

NEW YORK (AP) - The stockmarket reacted to a new government program to bolster the ailing U.S. dollar by scoring its largest single-day gain in history, indicating that it can stomach high interest rates better than inflation and the erosion of the dollar.

But wary analysts say it will take more than a single day of euphoria to determine whether Wall Street has passed a major turning point after its ne-October slide.

On Wednesday, the Dow Jones average of 30 industrials soured 35.34 to 827.79, breaking the previous single-day record of 32.03 points, set on Aug. 16, 1971, after then-President Nixon announced imposition of wage-price

Other leading market indicators, among them the indexes of the New York and American stock exchanges, also scored their largest gains on record.

The upsurge marked a dramatic change of mood from the last 12 trading days in October, during which the Dow lummeted 104 points.

The stage for the rally was set Wednesday morning when the Carter administration and the Federal Reserve disclosed a series of steps designed to shore up the depressed dollar in foreign exchanges - including an increase in the discount rate by a full percentage point, to 91/2 percent.

Most of the initial clean-up efforts have related to sewage and the construction of municipal and industrial treatment plants that purify the wastes before they are discharged into waterways.

Treatment technology focused on withdrawing the so-called oxygen-demanding pollutants that smother stream life.

Future efforts will focus on toxic chemicals that to date have suffered from "inadequate attention," says Jorling. Although the chemicals sometimes enter the waterways only in extremely small amounts, some such as cloroform and benzene are known to cause cancer in humans and laboratory animals.

There also are the problems of pollutants entering the water from sources such as farms." Fertilizers and pesticides applied to soil are carried by rainwater into nearby waters.

Jorling also says EPA must focus on major urban-industrial areas where bacteria levels often are hazardous, especially in streams where streamflows during the summer often are inadequate to dilute human or livestock wasteloads.

The General Accounting Office, the investigative arms of Congress, estimates another $174 billion will have to be spent by government and industry by 1984 to achieve the fishable and swimmable goals mandated by the Clean Water Act.

It questioned whether the expense was justified.

Jorling, however, says there is no sign the people are lessening in their support of pollution control programs. California residents approved a $375 million water pollution bond issue at the same time they enacted the tax-restricting Proposition 13, he noted.

MILES CITY, Mont. (NEA) - It's 10 p.m., time for the nightly news on KYUS-TV, and anchorman Dave KYUS-TV. And has been since 1959 when Rivenes and a businessman friend bor-

It's a curious performance. Some might say an unprofessional one. But viewer complaints will do no good, for aside from being anchorman at KYUS-TV, Dave Rivenes is news director, production supervisor, station manager, and owner of this tiny, altogether singu-lar prairie television outlet.

Tiny? KYUS is the smallest TV station in the United States. There are 210 television markets in the nation, and KYUS serves the 210th:
Miles City-Glendive, here in eastern Montana, an area of 8,400 homes. "We are smallest and proud of it," Rivenes says. "Who in hell wants to be next to the smallest?"

says. "Who in hell wants to be next to the smallest?"

To be sure, KYUS delights in its bantamweight distinction. Recently, during a weather report, rainwater began seeping onto the set, and Rivenes, who is also the meteorologist, gleefully told viewers that "we've got a flood in the station!" He then excused himself and noisily began mopping up noisily began mopping up the mess.

By the way, Rivenes did not just end the weather report during the flood. He turned the microphone over to his technician, a young chap in a soiled T-shirt. "I'm no weatherman," the technician yelped. "You are now," Rivenes replied. Meantime, the basset hound was seeking higher ground on a chair.

Actually, according to Rivenes, the exchange between the technician and himself was "just fun." Since KYUS only has four station employees, including Rivenes and his wife Ella, no one is margly a technician one is merely a technician. Staff members do it all, from selling airtime to replacing fuses to mopping Rivenes, for instance, of-ten takes over for his wife as host of the afternoon cooking show. "I'm not Julia Child," he says, "but I think I have a certain flair. One time I prepared my special recipe for corn flakes and bananas. And then, on a follow-up show, I had a nice variation:

a businessman friend borrowed $300,000 to build the first and only television station in Miles City. "Even way back then we had a distinction," Rivenes recalls. "Everyone said we were the TV station most apt

That prediction has never come true, but, even now, 19 years later, the economics of KYUS are shaky. Rivenes admits the station usually loses money: last year it was $14,000. Still, the original $300,000 loan is close to being cleared and Rivenes insists — well, expects — the station is here to stay.

Which means that Rivenes will go on indefinitely reading purloined newspaper articles on his news show. He says he uses the clips be-cause he can't afford to lease a news wire. Anyway, he doesn't really steal all that much from the N.Y. Times, because he says viewers here are more interested in good news than world news.

And good news is what they get from KYUS. Rivenes announces the potluck picnics and the blood-mobile dates. Whenever pos-sible he features an appeal for a lost dog. Actually, even the food commercials are good news, says Rivenes. "I get to keep the perishables, and that means my staff gets to eat."

The beat is also up regarding regular programming. The NBC network accounts for 13 hours of daily broadcasting, and Rivenes fills four more with local happiness. "Anything is better than Hogan's Heroes," he says. One smash show on KYUS is a spelling bees matching third graders from around the region.

from around the region.

Then there is the participatory side of the schedule. Rivenes invites nearly everyone in to become a star. When Congressman Max Baucus is in town, he sometimes gives the weather.
And once, while interviewing other politicians, Rivenes had Lt. Gov. Ted Schwinden, a Democrat, read an announcement of a Republican rally.

Rivenes, says the idea at KYUS is to have a good time. And the only allowance for wrinkled brows is during the daily editorials. For example, Rivenes is forever rapping the Montana Public Utility; he says the cheapskates refuse to advertise on his station, "so we advise everyone to turn off their electricity."

But wouldn't that also mean turning off KYUS-TV?

Probably, Rivenes says, but he doesn't worry about such details. He has enough on his details. He has enough on his mind trying to keep the basset hound from knocking over the camera. Besides, he grins, "I'll tell you the truth: sometimes I wonder if anybody is watching us

Team Action Slated

A rare treat comes to wrestling fans this Saturday night, as Hereford Lions Club officials announce the signing of Dick Murdoch and Blackjack Mulligan in top tag team action. They will take on the oriental team of Mr. Pogo and Mr. Sato, the Japanese assassins managed by Arab Scandor Akbar. Murdoch, the fabulous Texan from Waxahachie, is 6'4" and 290 pounds. Mulligan is 6'7" and 300 pounds. Mulligan hails from Eagle Pass, Texas.

Scott Caseywill get a rematch with Dennis Stamp in the semi-main. Last week the referee did not arrive on time for their match, and as Dory Funk Jr. officiated they went to a draw. Funk ruled an overtime and a point system, and Stamp beat Casey on points. Casey will step in at 225, giving away a 10 pound weight edge. Casey hails originally from the Dallas-Fort Worth area, and was a standout in high school football at Pascal High in Fort Worth. He has been everything from a hairdresser to a salesman for security systems, and is known to his peers as the Tommy Manville of wrestling. Stamp was All-American in wrestling at Minnesota's Concorsia College, and honorable mention All-American in football. Rip Hawk, 232 pounder College recruiters knew about Greenville quarterback Mason Nathaniel before last Friday night - now everybody knows. including the Highland Park Scotties.

"We hadn't gotten too much attention before last week." Greenville Coach Pittman Keen said. "And I don't think too many people outside of college recruiters were aware of what Mason could do."

What Nathaniel did against Highland Park was complete eight of 13 passes for 162 yards, rush 20 times for 154 yards, including touchdown runs of 80 and one yard to earn mention this week in The Associated Press Schoolboy Honor Roll.

Nathaniel pitched to 1,000yard rusher Ricky Simmons another 20 times for 133 yards and when it was over, the Lions had finally won a close one, 28-27, and earned the No. 10 Class 4A ranking in the state.

"I'd say that was Mason's best game," Keen said. "He had a good one against Plano last year but this was even better. He's both a runner and a

"We try to pitch it out to Ricky but defenses like to take away the pitch man so Mason winds up running a lot."

Nathaniel will get to do some more running this week when the Lions take on defending state champion Plano. Despite Nathaniel's efforts a year ago. Plano beat Greenville in the final two minutes of the game and went on to win the state

In fact, the Lions, 5-5 last year, lost four of their five games in the final two minutes. Greenville is 7-0 this season while Plano is 6-1, losing only to Highland Park.

Channelview split end-kicker Stewart Avant also turned in a decisive performance as the Falcons, only 2-5, nipped state ranked Huntsville 25-22.

Avant, 6-2, 200, passed 24 yards for one touchdown off a fake field goal play with eight minutes left in the game. With 2:10 to go he caught a 24 yard touchdown pass and a two-point conversion to tie the game and added the winning points with a 45-yard field goal that hit the cross bar and bounced good as time ran out in the game.

It was Avant's second career field goal try.

Pasadena quarterback Dirk Ingram hit six of six passes for 230 yards and engineered touchdowns on three consecutive plays in the fourth quarter for a 40-40 tie with South Houston. Ingram completed 11 of 20 passes for 364 yards for the entire game.

Corpus Christi King running back Hub Aston, 5-7, 152, turned in one of the guttiest performances of his career against Robstown then learned after the game his father had suffered a heart attack.

Aston rushed 146 yards on 13 carries and scored two touchdowns on offense and intercepted one pass in a 47-14 victory. Aston's father, Paul R. Aston. died shortly after the game.

In other outstanding individual performances: -Wylie's Ricky Blackman rushed 94 yards on six carries. scored three touchdowns and intercepted three passes in a 54-0 rout of Lake Dallas. Blackman now has 12 interceptions for the season. Against Lake Dallas, Blackman ran for touchdowns of 64 and one yard and broke one interception for a

-Prosper running back Marvin Williams rushed 19 times for 240 yards and three touchdowns in a 28-0 shutout of Ana.

-Plainview's Ervin Davis rushed only four times but gained 115 yards and scored on runs of 84 and 12 yards in a 49-15 rout of Hereford. Davis also caught touchdown passes of 51 and 27 yards to give him 14 touchdowns for the season.

-Bret Clark of Robert Lee rushed 241 yards in a 59-18 victory over Miles marking the fourth time this season the 5-9 runner has gone over 200 yards. Clark now has 1,426 yards rushing.

-Larry McCoy fueled Madisonville's 31-28 upset of Rockdale with 235 yards rushing on 27 carries. He scored on runs of three, two and 55 yards and kicked a 25-yard field goal for the victory margin.

-Oscar Guzman of Donna had touchdown runs of seven, 18 and 44 yards in a 29-8 victory over Laredo United and finished with 238 yards on 19 carries. Guzman has rushed 1,200 yards through seven games.

-Odem cornerback Richard Rodriguez intercepted four passes and safety Armando Aleman got three more thefts that helped their team beat Refugio 18-8.

Close SWC Race Developing

DALLAS -- All individual statistical leaders retained their positions after Saturday's Southwest Conference play. but a close race is developing for the conference rushing crown between Texas A&M's Curtis Dickey, Texas Tech's James Hadnot and Houston's Emmett-King.

An average of 1.4 yards per game separate the trio. Despite being held out of last Saturday's game vs. Rice, Dickey kept his rushing lead with a 109.7 average in six games. Hadnot, with Tech idle last week, stayed at 108.5 yards per game while King's 123 yards against Arkansas Saturday moved him to a 108.3 norm for the year.

The closest rusher to those three. Randy Love of Houston, is nearly 20 yards per game behind teammate King.

Texas Tech's Maury Buford retained his national punting lead at 46.7, while Luke Prestridge of Baylor is at 44.2 and '76 national champ Russell Erxleben of Texas is at 42.7.

Other individual leaders stayed reasonably comfortable. SMU's Mike Ford is completing 20.9 passes per game, better than seven a game ahead of second-place Randy Hertel of Rice. Though Mustang Emanuel Tolbert was shut out in receiving Saturday, he still is catching a pass a game more than second-place Craig Richardson of TCU, 5.7 per game to Richardson's 4.7.

Texas A&M remains the leader in three of the six team statistical categories with Texas, SMU and Rice claiming the other three. The Aggies lead total offense, rushing offense and total defense. They were passed by the Owls in pass defense, Rice allowing 104.4 yards per game through the air, though opponents are only trying 13.7 passes per game while their running at the Owls 63 times a game.

The Longhorns passed Arkansas in defense against the run, allowing 117.1 yards per game. SMU retains their fat lead in passing offense, throwing more than 100 yards a game more than second-place Rice. Mustang Mike Fod is producing 276.3 yards per game in the air. In total defense, the Aggies still lead, allowing 229 yards per game, but Texas is on their heels, giving up only seven yards a game more.

To go along with their total offense lead, A&M leads team scoring with 30.6 points a game while Texas allows the least scoring at 11.6 per game. The Aggies are second in scoring defense allowing 14.1 per game.

Season team bests remained in tact this week, while individually, Johnny Lam Jones of Texas tied TCU's Phillip Epps with his 100-yard kickoff return against SMU. Epps had gone the distance against Rice Oct.

Returns Show NFL TV Ratings Down

By HOWARD SMITH AP Sports Writer

If the early returns mean anything, television has not been getting its money's worth out of its new contract with the National Football League.

Pro football ratings are down slightly on NBC, down more than slightly on CBS and barely up on ABC.

Is this the end of the TV sports explosion? Has overexposure finally caught up with the NFL? Is there panic in high places?

Hardly, according to Val. Pinchbeck, the NFL's director of broadcasting.

Four Important reasons

GEORGE BUSH WON'T HAVE TO COMPROMISE HIS PRINCIPLES.

Most of us in this district are conservative. George Bush is a conservative, and he'll be free to represent this philosophy in Washington. His opponent, however, would have to "go along to get along" with the party's leadership, which doesn't always agree with our position.

THE ELECTION OF GEORGE BUSH WOULD BE A CLEAR SIGNAL TO WASHINGTON OF HOW WE FEEL. If we want to send a message to Washington that we don't agree with the domestic policies of the current administration, George Bush is the Excluding pitchers and designated hitters, only two of these players were regular starters for their clubs in 1978 - Pete Rose of Cincinnati and Darrell Evans of San Francisco.

Rose is a star who cannot be expected to shine that much longer. His departure would hurt the aging Reds, who have failed to make the playoffs the past two seasons. But with players like Johnny Bench, Joe Morgan and George Foster on the roster, the Reds could hide a good-glove, no-hit man like Ray Knight at third. Still, the Reds will definitely miss Rose.

Miami Place-Kicker Has Versatility countless times on television, establishing himself as one of the National Football League's all-time leading placekickers. Garo Yepremian will long be remembered for his panicky pass after a blocked field goal that was turned into Washington's only touchdown in the Late in the first half of Sunday's victory over Baltimore, Strock, Yepremian's holder, grabbed the snap and threw a 7-yard touchdown pass to Vern Den Herder.

Yepremian pointed out that Baltimore defenders didn't bother to cover him as he rambled into the end zone. "I was wide open. It was my chance to demonstrate that my

What is the yield limit per acre for corn? No one, of course, can be sure. "Genetically, we don't see a ceiling," said Paul H. The bill, passed by the Senate AAM Rejects Program

American agriculture movement leaders today agreed to denounce and reject the president's anti-inflation program, and called the guidelines themselves inflationary.

'The President's program calls for more imports, which we believe are inflationary, at a time when we should use more American production to help the trade deficit abroad," stated an AAM spokesman.

"The President promised to hold prices below cost of production by maintaining huge surplus supplies. A healthy agriculture has never caused inflation. Raising the price of farm products on the export market would help balance the trade deficit caused by imports of oil and other goods," he continued.

"It is the feeling of most Americans that the wage and price spiral is evidence of inflation, but the basic cause of inflation, is deficit spending by the federal government, and a basic misunderstanding of economics by the Carter Administration," he concluded.

It is also widely held that Carter's advisors oppose the Bentsen Bill, especially since it addresses, even mildly, the President's

Water District To Call Election

A full slate of business is on the agenda for the next meeting of the Board of Directors of the High Plains Underground Water Conservation District No. 1 which is to be held November 6 at 10:00 a.m. in the offices of the District at 2930 Avenue Q in Lubbock.

One of the major items of business for the directors will be for them to call an election to be held January 20,1979. The election will be for the counties comprising Precinct 3 (Bailey, Castro, and Parmer counties) and Precinct 4 (Armstrong, Deaf Smith, Potter, and Randall counties). To be elected are the board of directors members for Precinct 3 and 4 and two county committeemen from each of the counties in the two precincts.

The Board will consider Commerce. changing the county committee precinct boundaries in Randall County and will consider the appointment of Johnny Sluder to serve out the unexpired term of Randall County committeeman Joe Albracht, who has moved out of the water district. Sluder is a farmer in the northwest part of Randall

County. In other business the directors will; consider the purchase of replacement vehicles for field use, consider the purchase of neutron logging equipment, receive information from and provide information to the Lubbock Property Owners Association, and consider the district's membership in the West Texas Chamber of

Also on the agenda will be numerous monthly routine business items and the manager's report on the status of District programs. ACA Claims

Beef Bill Misrepresented

WASHINGTON (AP) - The American Cattlemen's Association says recently passed amendments to the meat import law are being misrepresented.

The bill provides a so-called counter-cyclical formula for allowing meat into the United States. Basically, it allows more meat to enter when domestic production is up and less when domestic production is down.

"The statements I have heard suggest that the critics either don't understand the legislation, or, for reasons they are not revealing, they are more concerned about cattlemen in other countries than they are about the U.S. beef industry and U.S. consumers," the association said. Carter has not indicated whether he will sign the bill.

Corn Harvest 73 Percent Complete

WASHINGTON (AP) - Farmers are making good progress in harvesting this year's bumper corn crop, says the Agriculture Department.

As of Oct. 29, about 73 percent of the corn acreage was harvested, well ahead of the pace a year ago of 68 percent and the average for this time of year of 63 percent, officials said Tuesday in a weekly weather

The soybean crop was about 72 percent harvested by Oct. 29.

ABILENE, Tx. - Steve Hoover, son of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin L. Hoover of Hereford and a member of the Hardin-Simmons University varsity tennis team, won the number four divisional title of the Midwestern State University Team Tennis Tournament Oct. 20-21 Wichita Falls.

Hoover, a 1977 graduate of Hereford High School, posted a 4-2 record in singles and doubles competition to capture the crown. His win boosted the Cowboys to a team championship over pre-tournament favorite North Texas State University.

Earlier this year he won the division four singles champion ship of the H-SU Fall Team Tennis Invitational Tournament.

EAST RUTHERFORD, N.J. (AP) - Scouts will be viewing three, and possibly four, college football games Saturday, looking for teams to play in the Garden State Bowl, the newest of the nation's postseason football games.

Robert G. Harter, New Jersey Sports Authority executive director, said the schedule calls for more scouting Saturday. Nov. 11.

Harter said the four games to be scouted this Saturday are: -Navy, 7-0, vs. Notre Dame.

5-2, at Cleveland. -Pittsburgh, 5-2, at Syracuse,

-South Carolina. 4-3-1, at North Carolina State, 5-2.

In addition, scouts might attend the Maryland-Penn State game. Both teams are 7-0. Harter said the committee hopes to select a Northeastern "home" team to go against "the best available team from the rest of the nation."

Let's Cook Longtime Country Girl To Longtime Sitter To Be Recognized

Brand Staff Writer

"One year I picked 5 bales of cotton." states a true-to-life country girl, Mrs. Henry Williamson.

Mrs. Williamson was born and raised in Montague County, situated 25 miles from Decatur. Being reared on a farm along with five brothers and three sisters, Mrs. Williamson shared the laborious work of farmer.

"We got up before breakfast and milked the cows, then we had to churn the milk to make butter. I worked in the fields part of the day, then I'd chop the cotton and thin the corn for the rest of the day. Sometimes we'd take time out to play ball. After we'd shell the corn we had picked, papa would take it to the mill and have the millman grind it. I was always picking fruit from our orchard also," she added.

Growing their own garden Mrs. Williamson's family didn't buy much groceries at the store , except their staples: sugar and coffee.

"I would walk 2 miles to school every morning," said the robust woman of 82, stating that the small rural school housed an average of 10 children.

Previous to her marriage to Henry Williamson in 1916, Mrs. Williamson recalls her courtship with "Little Henry William-

"It's so dear to me the way I met him. I had heard about him, and I wanted to meet him. Oh, everybody talked about Little Henry Williamson. Well, one day I went home with a little girl friend of mine that was his neighbor, and he and his cousin came by. They were fixing to go down and pick some watermewatermelon patch, and she had a lot of watermelons.

go pick some watermelons and ne and his cousin came on horseback. There was this gate at this little girl's house and you had to open it to get through. Another one of his cousins came by in the buggy and I said I'll open the gate for you if you give me a ride. I was a smart aleck then, she confessed.

"So I opened the gate and he came through and I got in the buggy and he took me on. The other girls came on later. But anyway I was feisty and I went on down to the watermelon patch with them and they picked out a great big ol' watermelon." Remembering her first impression of her husband, she reminisced, "I can just see him now when I said 'I'm going to carry that watermelon.' He said, 'you can't carry that watermelon.' I said, 'I can too' and I just picked it up and went on back to the house with it.

'We were eating the watermelon and he was sitting on a dead tree. I got my little piece of watermelon and went over and sat down by him," related Mrs. Williamson is a sly snicker. "He just looked at me. After that day, I didn't see him anymore, til Christmas, and he and these other boys came to Newhart community for a party. And that's when we started our courtship," she

Mrs. Williamson married by tradition in a buggy by a favorite creek of the community's. "I still have my wedding dress." She described the 62-year-old dress of white knit trimmed with delicate ribbons all around it.

the military. Mrs. Williamson's love for children is apparent in that she is known as a longtime babysitter of Hereford. "I love children, I've kept some from the age of 2 months til they started school. One night during the football game I had 30 children in my home," commented the vigorous moth-

Besides babysitting, Mrs. Williamson enjoys cooking, knitting and crocheting. She knitted for the soldiers during both World Wars. She has finished a Navijo afghan and is presently working on a pillow cover. During the day, if she is unable to find something to busy herself with, Mrs. Williamson will go to the kitchen and prepare a batch of cookies for her friends and neighbors.

Mrs. Williamson is a member of the Methodist Church where she taught in the children's division for more than 30 years. She enjoys listening to religious music and the local news every morning.

After allowing this writer to sample some of her home-made cookies, Mrs. Williamson conceded in letting The Brand share her mother's recipe for sugar cookies, and a special of her own, Angel Lemon Pie.

Bangle Day to Benefit Lung Assn.

The Key Club and Leo Club of Hereford will conduct a Bangle Day Friday, from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. in both Hereford Banks and Saturday, 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. in Sugarland Mall.

The promotion, sponsored by The American Lung Association of Texas, Top of Texas Area, is similar to American Legion Poppy Days and is a way of raising funds to supplement those raised through Christmas Seal donations. A small, red, double-barred cross lapel pin is given in recognition of each contribution to the Lung Association.

All club members will be identified by name tags that bear the double-barred cross, official emblem of the American Lung Association. Stations will maintain a large supply of free literature on asthma, emphysema, chronic bronchitis, influenza and the common cold.

Funds contributed to The American Lung Association of Texas, Top of Texas Area, go to finance such services to Panhandle residents as training sessions for small town medical personnel in the prevention and treatment of infant respiratory distress syndrome, care of the nursing home lung disease patient, seminars and medical society programs for medical professionals, symposiums for the general public and school assembly programs that educate in proper care of the respiratory system, including what to do about air pollutions, avoidable and unavoidable ones.

At Wits End BY ERMA BOMBECK

People applaud the weirdest things.

On talk shows, for example, any mention of any state will get a round of applause from people who have not necessarily lived there, but who have just heard of it.

Strict morality will bring people to their feet like a starlet who proclaims, "I refuse to appear nude in a movie," or "I'd like to see peace throughout the world."

But the thing that really brings down the house is the age of an old person. Longevity does not go unrewarded. A few weeks ago on the Phil Donahue Show I admitted to writing five books, giving birth to three children, being married 29 years, and being extremely kind to my mother. None of these amazing feats moved the audience.

However, when a young man in the back row stood up and asked, "How old are you?" and I responded, "I'm 51," I nearly got a standing ovation. Do you know what it feels like to see people on their feet, with tears of admiration in their eyes paying homage to a vintage year?

I always thought that was the kind of recognition reserved for a man who was a water boy in the Civil War and remembers passing a cup to Robert E. Lee.

Since when did 51 become a vintage year, for crying out loud? Where were they when I reached 40 and needed them? The year my eyes couldn't read a menu until it dropped on the floor. All the fillings dropped out of my teeth and had to be replaced. My kids began to spell in front of me. My body stopped manufacturing iron.

Ever since that appearance, I've been trying to figure it out. Were they applauding because (a) they thought I was older and were relieved to hear I had a few good years left; (b) they thought I was going down the other side of the mountain and looked pretty good for my declining years; (c) they conceded I was rather lucid and could still cross my legs at the ankle without help?

For all you people who clapped (and you all know who you are), let me set the record straight. I was not in the lobby buying popcorn when Lincoln was

I do not know the verse to the Beer Barrel Polka.

I do not remember Mark Twain when he had black hair. I thought Boot Hill was a Cancellation Shoe Store.

Phil said they probably clapped because I was so honest and had no sensitivity about my age.

I thought he knew me better than that.

Shopping Tips Offered For Handicapped Buyers

COLLEGE STATION - Some special hints can make grocery shopping easier for the handicapped, says a food and nutrition specialist.

Disabilities present at birth or due to accident, stroke or rheumatoid arthritis can make grocery shopping difficult for the homemaker with limited use of one or both arms--it's estimated that about 12 percent or 45 million homemakers are affected by some type of physical disability, Mary K. Sweeten points out,

Precautions Involved In Exercise

COLLEGE STATION - Exercise--but take some precautions before beginning any program.

Recently people have become interested in a variety of exercise including jogging. racquet ball, tennis, swimming, and many more, to promote physical fitness, points out Carla Shearer, a health education specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

Everyone needs exercise on a regular basis; however, they should exercise some precaution when entering into any program, the specialist advises.

Ms. Shearer suggests consideration of the following before beginning an exercise program:

1) Don't try to do too much too

It's advisable to get a medical check-up before starting a program of vigorous physical activity.

For those over 25, it's wise to include a cardiogram in the pre-exercise exam.

2) Don't push yourself too far. Stop exercising immediately if you experience extreme fatique, tightness or pain in the chest, abnormal shortness of breath, lightheadedness or

In these cases, check with a doctor again about the exercise that you are doing.

Although exercise is recommended on a daily basis, when suffering from a cold or fatigue, discontinue vigorous exercising.

3) Let the body warm up before strenuous exercise.

This period of gradual warm-up minimizes muscle and joint problems. Five to 10 minutes is usually sufficient to child's life, she says. loosen joints, stretch muscles and speed up circulation.

4) After exercising, allow the body time to cool down slowly.

During vigorous activity. blood goes to the arms and legs. Muscle movement helps blood return to the heart.

If the muscular activity is abruptly stopped after vigorous exercise, the return of blood will slow down. By gradually lessening the strenuousness of the activity, the body can return to its normal condition.

5) The key to physical fitness is regular daily exercise--not just on weekends.

'Now-and-then' exercise will not help to build and maintain physical fitness.

In fact, some experts believe if you can't exercise regularly, you may be better off not to exercise at all.

If it is impossible to do daily exercising, exercise at least three to four days a week--alternating rest days and exercise days.

But, exercising only once a week will usually only provide you with sore muscles.

IN WASHINGTON

Martha Angle and Robert Walters How does it look in Illinois?

CHICAGO (NEA) - Unless the Republicans surprise everyone with a sweep on Nov. 7, the off-year elections of 1978 are not likely to offer many clues to Jimmy Carter's re-election prospects for 1980.

But that doesn't mean this year's balloting has no relevance to presidential politics. On the contrary, for at relevance to presidential politics. On the contrary, for at least three men who are eyeing Carter's job with more than casual interest, the Nov. 7 results will be crucial.

One is California's Gov. Jerry Brown, the president's most likely Democratic challenger. The second is Senate Minority Leader Howard Baker Jr., R-Tenn., and the third is GOP Gov. James R. Thompson of Illinois.

All three are up for re-election this year, and all three must not only win but win big if they are to remain credible as presidential contenders for 1960. Which imposes added strains above and beyond the ordinary pressures of a campaign, especially for "Big Jim" Thompson.

Thompson, 42, became a figure to be reckoned with in national politics when he won the governorship two years ago by a record-shattering 1.4 million votes, a 65 percent margin. But the very size of his 1976 victory is what makes his election sticky; it is a hard act to repeat.

Thompson, a former federal prosecutor who made his name fighting corruption in Chicago, was blessed two years ago with an inept and unappetizing Democratic opponent put forward by the machine of the late Mayor Richard J. Daley.

This time, he wasn't nearly as lucky. The Democrats prominated their attractive and aggressive state controller.

This time, he wasn't nearly as lucky. The Democrats nominated their attractive and aggressive state controller, Michael Bakalis, 38, who has made a career of winning elections that were considered hopeless.

Furthermore, Bakalis and his fellow Democrats who control the state legislature managed to steal the initiative last summer on the big issue of 1978 — tax reduction.

last summer on the big issue of 1978 — tax reduction. They did so with a property tax rebate bill that Thompson felt obliged to veto for budgetary reasons.

Ever since then, the tax issue has dominated the gubernatorial campaign. Thompson belatedly countered his opposition with his own drive to put a referendum on the ballot asking voters whether the state constitution should be amended to impose a ceiling on taxes and spending. The referendum, however, is purely advisory and contains no specific formula.

The petition drive for the "Thompson proposition" was scarred by charges of forged signatures and other irregularities, and cleared a court challenge only Oct. 18—a bit close for comfort, since Thompson had already decided to peg his entire campaign to the proposal.

Bakalis is still pushing his property tax rebate plan, but with Thompson spending $400,000 for television advertising geared to his own proposition, it appears that the governor has recaptured the lead on the tax issue.

Thompson is also getting unexpected help from a family

Thompson is also getting unexpected help from a family drama. His first child, born in August, was recently hospitalized 10 days with bacterial pneumonia. Every parent in Illinois felt a rush of sympathy for the governor and his wife, and even though the baby is now home and doing fine. Thompson is besided with a wattern doing fine, Thompson is besieged with questions about her health. And he doesn't hesitate to volunteer a progress report on those rare occasions when nobody asks.

Timely Advice Offered For Buying Firewood

COLLEGE STATION - With winter weather just around the corner, homeowners will soon be making preparations for sitting by a glowing fireplace. But these dreams of a warm fire and a cozy fireplace may go up in smoke if the wrong type of wood is purchased, cautions a forestry specialist for the Texas Agriculture Extension Service.

'Since firewood purchases are not covered by consumer protection laws, it is the responsibility of the buyer to shop and choose the right type of wood," points out Dr. Mike Walterscheidt.

"Price comparisons may be difficult since firewood may be sold by the standard cord, the face cord or the truck load," he

A standard cord is 8 feet long. 4 feet wide and 4 feet high, or 128 cubic feet. Off the other hand, a face cord measures 8 by 4 feet on the face of the stack, with the wood cut into smaller pieces. The face cord measures of the first 10. about 1/3 to 1/2 of a standard cord.

prices is to calculate the cubic feet of wood. Measure the stack and multiply the length by the width and by the height." suggests the forestry specialist. Following this advice will also keep the unwary buyer from making a mistake out of what appears to be a bargain. Cubic feet measurements should also be used on truck loads of firewood.

After the truck is unloaded and the wood stacked, multiply the length, width and height of the stack in feet and divide by 128 to obtain the portion of a cord you have. For example: 6 feet x 2 feet x 4 feet equals 48 cubic feet; 48 divided by 128 equals .38 or about 1/3 of a standard cord. A good rule of thumb is that a standard 1/2-ton pickup without heavy-duty says Walterscheidt. "Live oak, hickory, white oak, post oak, red oak and pecan are excellent, long-burning woods with a high heat output. However, pine and eedar are softwoods that make excellent kindling but produce only short-burning fires."

A combination of softwood for kindling, hardwood for heat, and fruit or nut wood for aroma will make shopping around worthwhile, contends the for-

As Governor, Bill Clements is determined to plow back some of the profits to the farmers and ranchers who have worked so hard to earn them.

Bill Clements hasn't always worn a shirt and tie to work. For many years, he earned his living working from daylight to dark, generating a lot of sweat and a little profit.

As a farmer himself, Bill Clements knows firsthand the problems of rising costs, declining markets and regulations that limit the effective marketing of farm and ranch products.

The inflation cost squeeze threatens to drive many hard-working farmers and ranchers out of business.

Bill Clements knows that as Governor he cannot stop the waste of federal money. But, as Governor, he can do something about how the State of Texas taxes farmers and ranchers and spends their Maximize exportation, minimize regulation for more agricultural profits.

Increased farm production expense caused by government-induced inflation and overregulation is seriously depressing farm income. Bill Clements believes the best long-range solution for these problems is a vigorous exportation policy. Not more government regulation and restriction. Long-lasting improvements in agricultural net profits can be achieved only through prices received in the marketplace, not dictated by the government.

We must expand our competitive position in world markets, and avoid undue governmental interferences with market-oriented agriculture. Unlike the liberal economists in government, farmers know that they cannot borrow themselves into prosperity. Bill Clements knows this, too. That's why he believes farmers will fare better under a market system than under any type of government-managed system.

The importance of a beef import quota. Bill Clements favors a change in the beef import quotas which would decrease foreign imports when domestic supplies are plentiful and increase these imports only when domestic supplies

He also believes that all imported beef should be labeled as such and required to meet all USDA . standards.

A fairer tax program for agriculture.

One of the greatest problems for farmers and ranchers has been the increased burden of Bill Clements intends to alleviate this burden. He has already made precise public stands to do so.

Bill Clements testified before the special session of the legislature advocating the increase of the inheritance tax exemption, and the proposed constitutional amendment which would allow agricultural land to be taxed at productive value rather than market value.

Bill Clements also fought for an increase in the Homestead Exemption and for repeal of the state ad valorem taxes.

Elect a doer, not a talker.

Bill Clements is a pragmatic conservative who will be agriculture's advocaté in government, both in Austin and in Washington. He will be the farmer's and rancher's best salesman to help with marketing problems, both at home and changes in government.

Bill Clements has a proven record for getting things done. And there's a lot he can do for Texas. But he needs your vote—and your friends' and neighbors' votes—on November 7 to be in a position to do them. Get behind Bill Clements. He'll see that we all come out ahead.

Our state has experienced an enviable record of growth over the past few years. But, as our state has grown, the politicians have tended to pay more attention to the large urban areas than to the rural areas. It's time we turned our attention back to the land and the people who have made our state

Solomon Uncomfortable With Scandalous GSA

Solomon came to Washington hoping to beautify government buildings with art and landscaping. Instead, he is dealing with what may be the biggest U.S. government money scandal

The successful real estate developer from Chattanooga. Tenn., who would rather talk about modern art than bid rigging and kickbacks, became head of the General Services Administration just as it was being discovered as the most corruption-riddled agency in government.

He describes himself as a private man and acknowledges he is uncomfortable being in charge of cleaning up the sleepy agency, where an estimated $100 million annually may have been lost to corruption in recent

"I'm a builder. I'm a creator," he said in an interview. "My character would be the other way - of building rather than destroying - and I'm in a destructive position by the very nature of what you have to.

As a builder, the 58-year-old Solomon became a multi-millionaire. In 1961 he turned one of a chain of drive-in theaters owned by his father in Chattanooga into a shopping center. Today, the firm -Solomon has divested himself of company stock - owns or manages 184 such centers and is the country's largest shopping center developer.

Solomon's background has little in it to show him as a chaser of crooks, but he has been praised by investigators and members of Congress for his determination to rid the agency of corruption.

"One thing about him is that he has hung in there. He could have said, 'I'm leaving. I don't want anything to do with this cesspool.' But he didn't." says an investigator.

Solomon admits that he often has thought of quitting. "I sometimes wake up in the morning and say I've had enough ... I want to get back to Tennessee. I want to go home." he told reporters recently.

But each time, he says, he decided he didn't want to leave "such a mess" to President Carter, whom he and his family supported when few gave the Georgian a chance of becoming president. Vincent Alto, the lawyer Solomon hired to head the GSA investigation, doubts that Solomon will remain into a second Carter term. The frustration of trying to change the bureaucracy is exhausting. Alto says.

Despite Solomon's view of in himself as a private person. associates sav he enjoys the · limelight. When asked to head the GSA, the government's landlord and supply agency. 15 Solomon had two desires: to bring modern business technib ques to government and to WASHINGTON (AP) - Jay "give a lot of emphasis to art and architecture" in federal buildings.

Reflecting his love of art. Solomon's office is filled with artists' models of sculptures that adorn federal buildings and the hallway has paintings by avant-garde artist Peter Max. All were discovered in storage at GSA headquarters until Solomon directed them display-

"I didn't come to Washington to be an investigator," Solomon says, adding that neither he nor Carter had an inkling of the corruption in the GSA over two decades that has brought dozens of indictments.

Since arriving at GSA. Solomon has made changes that rocked the agency, including replacing dozens of middleechelon workers. But his biggest move was to fire Deputy Administrator Robert Griffin, a close friend of House Speaker Thomas P. O'Neill. Solomon said that with Griffin as his top assistant, there was a question about who was boss.

Close associates of Solomon say the agency remains bitterly divided between backers of Solomon and those of the previous regime or of Griffin. And Solomon says he still is unsure that some corruption does not yet go on among the agency's 37,000 employees. To the consternation of some workers. Solomon ordered all office doors kept open as a symbol of the agency's new openness. Symbolic of the bureaucracy's stubborness is that most doors remain closed.

Solomon's supporters concede that he has made mistakes usually, they say, because he is inexperienced with federal bureaucracy and legal questions. The Justice Department, for example, has told him to stop estimating how many may eventually be indicted in the scandal.

His friends say he also acts as if he were still in business. Not long ago, Solomon ordered dealings cut off with a supplier because of alleged improprieties. A federal judge over-ruled the directive, saying wrongdoing had yet to be proved.

"When he was in business and he dealt with a contractor that did not perform, he would never have anything to do with him again," says Jean Allen, one of his top assistants and a friend of 20 years. "It's very hard for him to understand that he can't do that here.'

Sitting next to the fireplace in his spacious 6th floor office at GSA headquarters - adjacent to an anteroom where, it's said, the Teaport Dome scandal was brewed a half century ago -Solomon says he regrets the current scandal has occupied so much of his time.

He adds. however: "My administration of the GSA, if it weren't for the scandal, would probably just be another passing fancy.

Top 100 Human List Sparks Controversy

SAN ANTONIO. Tex. (AP) - began in the dorm discussions. Dr. Michael Hart is a slight. mild-in-nnered astronomer, not a wild-eyed rabble-rouser. But he's become responsible for countless arguments with his new book that ranks his choices as history's Top 100 humans.

"My book doesn't finish any arguments. It starts arguments rather than finishes them." said the Trinity University professor. "I'm getting a variety of letters. about it. Some compliment me and other object that I left so-and-so out because he did this-and-this and should be included."

The key to Hart's choices is an individual's total influence on human history and total impact on the everyday lives of other humans.

Using that criteria. Muhammad got the nod as mankind's Numero Uno, because. "He is remarkable for not only founding a major religion, but for his secular accomplishments as a political leader."

Isaac Newton, the discoverer of gravity, is No. 2 and Jesus Christ came in third. As you can see. Hart's Top Three already has the potential for plenty of bar brawls.

"I'm getting a fair number of letters objecting to Jesus' ranking, saying he should be first." said Hart, 46. "The credit for the founding of Christianity has to be divided between Jesus and St. Paul, whom I ranked sixth.

"Newton played a central role in the rise of science." Hart added. "He set science on its present course."

Hart's list of two women and 99 men - the Wright brothers are listed together as No. 30 hails 37 scientists, most from the last 200 years, compared to only 30 military and political leaders.

Hart, a scientist, explains, "The scientists and inventors changed the way we actually lived. We just have to look around us to see the impact of science.

Hart's book, which includes brief biographies and has sold more than 20,000 copies since April, has its roots in the beer-soaked, all-night dormitory discussions in which we all ranked our Top 100 rock songs. Top Ten blondes and Top Ten major league pitchers.

Asked if any of the objecting letters made him question his own choices, Hart replied, "As I was in the course of writing the book. I was constantly changing the list. No name has been mentioned that I didn't consider. There were several borderline cases. Franklin Roosevelt, for example. If I had extended it a few more, he would have made the list. Even now. I sometimes wonder if maybe he shouldn't be 95th instead of 115."

There is nothing illegal about such fund raising. In fact, a well-stocked campaign chest of ten can aid a congressman's bid for re-election by discouraging opposition. And the funds collected this year can always be used to pay for future campaign expenditures.

State Court Orders Full Trial in Construction Defect Case

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) - The Texas Supreme Court Wednesday ordered a full trial of a construction defect case that could result in broad new warranty rights for homeown-

But the court carefully avoided any implication that its decision should be interpreted as saying at this time that guarantees on new houses extend beyond the usual one-year written warranty.

That issue could arise once the case is decided by a jury and appealed again to higher courts. Builders fear the case could subject them to open-ended liability for defects that appear years after a house is constructed.

The decision returned to a Dallas trial court an $11,300 lawsuit filed by Mr. and Mrs. Victor Richman against Buddy

Watel, who built their house and sold it to them for $55,000 in

In 1974, the front room floors collapsed, allegedly because supporting beams rotted out. The Richman's produced expert testimony that the beams rotted because Watel had neglected to place air vents in the pier and beam foundation of the house. A trial judge threw out the case, saying the Richman's one-year warranty had long since expired and the four-year statute of limitations for contract cases had run.

But the Waco Court of Civil Appeals said this was a damage suit, not a contract case, and the four years did not begin to run until the defect was discovered when the floor collapsed.

The appeals court also said there is an implied warranty in new home construction that extends beyond the one-year written warranty. It said when Watel built and sold the house to the Richman, "he impliedly warrented the house was constructed in good workmanlike manner and was suitable for human habitation.'

While the supreme court entered a notiation that it found "no reversible error" in the civil appeals decision it also said its action should not be interpreted as agreeing that an express written warranty may not limit an implied warranty of good workmanship.

"There are disputed issues of fact to be tried," the high court Watel's appeal said the civil appeals decision, if allowed to stand, could harm builders.

"The effect of the court of civil appeals decision in this cause is to place an open-ended liability on a builder and vendor of new homes for conditions which arise literally years after the home is built and sold and the control of the promises has passed to the purchaser and his successors," the appeal said.

"Without relief from the Supreme Court of Texas. builders throughout the state will be exposed to extended and expanded liabilities or the potential therefore," it added.

HEALTH

Lawrence E. Lamb, M.D.

Gas problems common

DEAR DR. LAMB - We would like to have your comments on the problem of gas. My husband has cut out eating all milk products and almost all fruit and juices. Does activity or inactivity contribute to the problem?

We need an answer soon. DEAR READER — Gas is a common and frequent problem. A high percentage of people who go to see a stomach specialist do so because of symptoms related to gas. About 10 percent of the general population has symptoms from gas reten-

There are two main sources of gas. A major portion of the gas often comes from swallowing air. The problem is people don't realize they're swallowing it, and if you don't know you're doing it, it's hard to stop it. A good trick here is to hold a rubber eraser between your teeth. While doing this it is difficult to swallow. This will alert you to the fact that you are swallowing air and it will give you a mechanism to stop the habit.

The other major source of gas is the fermentation of undigested food. Milk can certainly be a cause in people who have milk intolerance. Large amounts of carbohydrates seem to do this in other people. Then, of course, there are the wellknown gas formers such as beans, radishes, onions; some people have particular foods that are real gas formers for them. If you know which foods cause you gas, it's wise to avoid them. I am sending you The Health Letter number 6-8, Controlling Gaseousness to give you more information about how gas is formed and what you can do about it. Often you need to improve the colon function. Others who want this information can send 50 cents with a long, stamped, self-ad-dressed envelope for it to me

SEPARATE OCCASIONS.

P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY The digestive tract does seem to work better if a person is active. Regular walks seem to help eliminate gas and prevent distention. Patients who have to stay at bed rest often have more gas trouble than usual.

Although activity helps eliminate gas, the ideal situation is to avoid excess formation and to have normal colon function so the gas isn't trapped to cause pain. If you have good colon function, eat the proper food and don't swallow air, you're not likely to have gas problems.

DEAR DR. LAMB — Is

there any information to substantiate or refute the feelings of some that apple seeds are toxic, that if too many are taken into the body serious damage could result? Is it true that grape seeds and apple seeds can get lodged in some way and cause damage to the appendix? I have heard that in extreme cases death has resulted in otherwise healthy people.

DEAR READER - Half true. The seeds of apricots, cherries, peaches, plums or apples are all capable of causing cyanide poisoning. That means you shouldn't eat the pits of these seeds. As a matter of fact, laetrile, made from apricot pits, has caused several deaths from cyanide poisoning. It's unlikely that seeds will tine. There are stories about seeds lodging in the appendix, but the question is was the appendix already diseased before this happened. Patients with diverticu-losis (pockets of the colon) are often advised not to eat small seeds for the same reason. In the normal person, who still has his appendix, the danger of having a seed of any kind impact in it is extremely remote, to the point that it is probably not a practical consideration.

BY PHILIP SEFF, PhD. FJOHN PETRI

DEAR DR. LAMB — Is it a known fact that estrogen pills cause cancer, and what part of the body does it affect mostly? Also, when cancer is found in the human body by surgery, does it grow faster when it is exposed to air? DEAR READER - There are an awful lot of people who take estrogen who never develop cancer. I might also point out that estrogen alone isn't a cancer causing agent, because both men and women normally produce estrogen. In fact, there are several different chemical kinds of estrogen.

At this writing, there has not been a careful separa-tion of the different effects of the different types of estrogen in relation to any cancer effects they may have. This is a relatively pertinent point in determining the danger from taking estro-

With the regular adminis-tration of at least one type of estrogen, there does seem to be an in 'ased rate of cancer of the uterus. This may not be important to the woman who takes estrogen intermittently, meaning for three weeks and stopping for one week. It certainly is not important to the woman who has already had a hysterectomy. It is difficult to develop cancer of the uterus if you don't have one.

Giving additional estrogen is also a poor idea in a woman who has lumpy breasts, or if a woman develops lumpy breasts while she is taking estrogen, usually she should stop it.

Cancer of the uterus and breast are the two main considerations about the relationship of estrogen to can-cer. Otherwise, there is a great deal of evidence in the scientific literature that suggests the administration of estrogen protects a woman's health and prolongs her life. In fact, the statistics for the good features of estrogen far outweigh the statistics that suggest there may be some bad features of estrogen.

Hatchet marred steps

POLLY'S PROBLEM

DEAR POLLY — I hope someone can tell me how to erase or cover ugly marks on cement steps that were made by chopping the ice with a hatchet. The ice was thinner than I thought. — NELLIE DEAR NELLIE — There will doubtless be more ice on your steps during the coming months. Why not wait until spring and then paint them with a paint your dealer recommends for use on cement. — POLLY

DEAR POLLY - I do my laundry at a laundromat and it is not always possible to use machines that are next to each other. So I always carry along a roll of masking tape and put a small piece of the tape on each machine I am using. There is no danger of missing one that has my clothes in it. The same is done with the dryers. — M.I.T.

DEAR POLLY — I use a plastic milk jug with a handle to make a great clothespin bag. Carefully cut out part of the front section — big enough for the hand to go through easily and at least three inches up from the bottom. Next slit the bottom of the handle so the jug can hang on the clothesline. I also puncture a few holes in the bottom for drainage. The jug slides on the line very easily and does not keep falling off. — KAREN

DEAR POLLY — If Helen's husband's shirt collars are just a bit too tight she might try ironing them crosswise. Start in the middle and iron outward in both directions. I find this stretches a collar a little bit. — MRS. R.N.

DEAR POLLY and HELEN — When shirt collars are too tight I not only sew the buttons as close to the edge of the neck band as I can but I use elastic thread. It is surprising how much larger the neckband seems. — MRS. J.P.S.
