Customers Question High Gas Bills

By BOBBY TEMPLETON Brand News Editor

It is common knowledge that rising prices are occurring in all sectors of the economy, but it is just recently being fully realized just how much inflation has sparked increases in local natural gas

..... IF YOU tell a man there are 300 billion stars in the universe, he'll believe you. But if you tell him a bench has just been painted, he has to touch it to be sure. . . . . .

IT'S TOUGH to write a controversial story when the "good guys" are on both sides. That's what happened to us last week in the report of the city commission

The article had to do with the city's problem in getting truck bids submitted according to specifications. Editor Bobby Templeton says he reported the facts as presented at the meeting but, looking back, thinks the conflict may have been "overplayed." There was no intent to belittle local firms, "I was just trying to stress the city's dissatisfaction with manner in which the bids were handled,"

TWO of the dealers involved feel that their side of the story needs to be presented. One dealer said he'd like all the dealers to meet with the commission and work out the problems on submitting bids. That sounds like a sensible approach to the matter.

With the February mailing of bills by Pioneer Natural Gas Co., area residents have flooded the local gas company office seeking justified reasons for the larger bills this month. Actually, the bills have been rising one to two cents a month over the past 12 months, but winter weather has caused a number of bills to reflect what seems like an over night jump in charges to customers.

"A LOT OF CUSTOMERS have come into our office this week and I have been trying to explain why the bills are higher," said Nicks Fariss, district manager for Pioneer. "However, it's not easy since it (the computation of charges) is a complicated matter and I don't think many people understand." The prices charged by Pioneer resulted from an agreement passed by the Hereford City Commission during the early part of 1974, allowing the gas company a 100 per cent monthly pass through to customers on increased costs of gas paid by Pioneer.

The agreement is similar to those passed by most of the Panhandle cities serviced by Pioneer. Amarillo is the exception since it uses a well field, solely designated for the city.

Previously the company had been on an annual pass through, but company officials indicated this did not allow them a proper return on the investment made.

On the 20th of each month Fariss furnishes the city with the amount gas bills will go up. The figure, known as "a cost of gas adjustment," is computed at the Amarillo home office and has ranged from a 5.25 cents per MCF (thousands of cubic feet) increase to about a one cent increase each month since March 1974. The city has 10 days to contest increases.

SINCE THE PASS through was granted, gas bills have increased 31.16 cents per MCF per month.

The amount of an average can not be precisely determined, but based on about an average useage of 25 MCF a month, bills have gone up from $19.95 to $28.13 representing a 41 per cent increase from this same time last year.

Dudley Bayne, city manager, said he advised that the utility company not be granted the monthly cost of adjustment.

"It doesn't matter to Pioneer how much they pay for their gas since they can h to the cu Bayne said. He has scheduled a discussion of the adjustment at the next

County Commissioners Consider 18-item Agenda

The first meeting in February was a relatively routine session for Deaf Smith County Commissioners' Court Monday, and they moved through most of the 10-item agenda during the morning.

Action included the approval of a renewal application with Panhandle Region Planning Commission for an assistant D.A. grant; approval of a request from Juvenile Officer Larry Watson for a part-time secretary; approval of the monthly and year-end fire reports; approval of the First National Bank of Hereford as the official county depository, and approval of monthly

COMMISSIONERS also approved several transfers of funds and reviewed the December, 1974 financial report as presented by treasurer Vesta Mae

Criminal D.A. Andy Shuval explained the application to PRPC needed to be processed, but commissioners had until March 1 to make a definite decision on the grant for an assistant DA. Shuval will present evaluations for the need of the assistant at another meeting.

Watson appeared at the meeting to explain his request for part-time help in the juvenile office. He pointed out that the county judge's secretary had been helping with the paper work, but the

of Love Thwarted

increased activities of the office now created a need for a half-time secretary. Commissioners approved the request and suggested that the secretary might beemployed through the Manpower

The year-end fire report showed a total 282 fire calls, with 140 listed within the city limits and 142 outside the city. Total expenses of the fire department were listed at $47,948. On the basis of a near 50-50 proportion, the county's cost was figured at $23,974.

COUNTY JUDGE SAM MORGON presented comparative figures to the commissioners, revealing that the percentage of county fires and the cost was up over 1973. The county shore the previous three years ranged from 37 to 45

The First National Bank submitted the only bid for a depository pledge contact. The bank raised the interest rate on certificates of deposit and surplus funds to six per cent.

Commisssioners approved the transfer of some $22,000 into the Road & Bridge salary funds. The money came from revenue sharing funds which were in a CD in the amount of $71,870. With interest, the transfer will leave $50,000 to be placed back on a certificate of deposit. All commissioners were present for calendar and elected principals of all schools to three year contracts at a regular meeting Tuesday night.

Board members also heard a discussion of the school nurse duties, reviewed the Hereford Bilingual Workshop and discussed the in-service schedule for teachers on Feb. 21.

The Hereford School Board of Education awarded a three-year

insurance policy to the Plains Insurance

Agency, approved the 1975-76 school

Two bids were submitted for the school's total insurance policy which provides coverage on 80 per cent of the $11,106,314 value of the buildings. The actual coverage is $8,900,000.

School Insurance Bid Passed;

Principals' Contracts Extended

THE BIDS were presented by Bud Eades of Plains Insurance Agency and Ken Rogers of Lone Star Agency. Both submitted estimates for one and three year policies.

When asked, Eades advised that the three-year policy was a better buy. Bobby Viegel, board member, moved that the lowest three-year policy be accepted and the motion was unanimously passed.

Plains' three-year premium bid amounted to $53,471, which was $39 below Lone Star's bid. The Lone Star bid. on a one year policy was $18,842, which was $35 below the one submitted by Plains.

The 1975-76 school calendar was accepted as written, although discussion arose over the week-long Easter holiday. It was suggested that the holiday be shortened and the starting date of the school year be moved up to compensate.

However, Superintendent Roy Hartman said this might create complications in connection with days the schools must make up for bad weather. The holiday remained the same from Monday, April 12—Friday, April 16.

Other holidays include Christmas,
Dec. 19—Jan. 5; Labor Day, Sept. 1; and Thanksgiving, Nov. 27 and 28. In-service training days include Aug. 14, 15, 18 and 19; Oct. 13; Nov. 7 and 14; Feb. 26 and

27, 1976; and May 29, 1975. Principals elected to contracts are as follows: Jerry Don George, high school; Ray Todd, Stanton; Pat Hughes, La Plata; Philip Shook, Tierra Blanca; Howard Birdwell, Shirley; Charles Duvall. Northwest; Bill McCarley, Central; Rodney Laubhan, Bluebonnet; John Poindexter, Aikman; and Don T. Martin, assistant supervisor of Special Education. Those who were on one year contracts included Laubhan, Poindexter and Martin. The usual procedure for new assignments such as these is to put the person on a one-year contract and then extend it to the regular three-year contract once the first year is successfully

Two Candidates File For City Commission

Two candidates have announced their intentions of running for city commission seats in the upcoming election. However as of Wednesday morning, only one person had announced for the school board election.

Paul Abalos, incumbent in Place 1 on the city commission, has filed for re-election to the position. Emory Brownlow, a general contractor in Hereford, filed early in the week for the Place 2 position on the city commission. Place 2 incumbent is Dr. H.A. Caviness. No candidates have filed for the mayor slot, now held by Jim Sears.

James Gentry is the only candidate who has announced intentions for a spot on the school board. He will be aiming for the Place 1 position now held by Hugh Clearman. In the school board race Places 1,2 and 3 will be open. Jim Arney is the incumbent in Place 2, Bobby Viegel is incumbent in Place 3. The last day to file for the city election is March 2 with the election to be held April 1, the first Tuesday in the month. Absentee balloting will be held March

The school board election is set for Saturday, April 5 and the deadline for filing is March 5. Absentee voting begins March 17 and continues through April 1. Abalos, the incumbent for Place 1 on the city commission, is 38-years-old and is involved in several endeavors in Hereford. He is director of Community School Involvement program for the Hereford ISD, is a partner in the Abalos Family Restaurant and sponsor of a Spanish language program on KPAN. He and his wife, Pilar, have five children.

"I am asking the voters of Hereford to re-elect me to a second term on the commission as I feel that having served for two years has given me sound experience in serving the best interests of every citizen," Abalos told The Brand.

Emroy Brownlow has lived in Hereford since 1946 and is the third generation in his family to serve the community as a general contractor. He and his brother currently run Brownlow Brothers, and are concerned mainly with commercial building in the city.

Brownlow is a member of the Planning and Zoning Board. He and his wife Dorothy have four children.

Heart Sunday Plans Made

Plans for Heart Sunday in Hereford are continuing with the local chapter of Creating less of an impact than the American Heart Association in their drive for the 1975 Heart Fund. Headquarters for the drive Sunday, Feb. 16, will be centered at the City Fire Station. Volunteers will be available that day to pick up donations, and will be on hand at the fire station.

Helen Nelson, general chairman at the local level, said early in the week that persons who were not contacted by Heart Fund volunteers may drop checks in the mail to her or either of the Hereford banks. Checks should be made payable to the American Heart Association.

DR. JESSE PERALES, working with the local chapter of the American Heart Association, recently emphasized the mportance of identifying and controlling high blood pressure as a means of reducing risk of heart attack and stroke.

"High blood pressure," he said, "can take years off your life. It's a disease within a disease, and is a contributing factor in 500,000 of the more than 680,000 deaths in this country each year from heart attack and stroke. That's why its control is so important."

THE VERY NATURE of the disease doctors sometimes call hypertension makes it essential that patients get regular blood pressure tests and follow their doctor's advice to control it.

Persons wishing to contribute to the Heart Fund may call 364-5552 or 364-2123 that day between 1 and 6 p.m. to make

$215,208 Spent In Cost-Share Conservation

The Deaf Smith County ASC Committee reports that during 1974, Deaf Smith County used $215,208 in conservation cost-share assistance.

This represents the total funds expended under the 1973 Rural Environmental Assistance Program and the 1974 Rural Environmental Conservation Program. These funds helped solve conservation problems on 186 farms in Deaf Smith County.

The farmer elected ASC County Committee administers these programs through their supervision of the county office of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service.

The Committee members for 1975 are Jim Perrin, Clarence A. Betzen and R.D. Senior Citizens Form Organization originally anticipated, only about 60 area persons grouped at the Community Center Monday night to formally establish a Deaf Smith County Senior Citizens organization with the unanim acceptance of a steering committee.

The organizational meeting was called to garner enough support from older residents to first form the group, then proceed with finding a building inwhich senior citizens may gather on a permanent basis, whenever they want for recreational functions.

THE STEERING committee, compos ed of 16 members, will nominate a slate of officers, draw up a set of by-laws for the charter, schedule meetings and select other committees to carry out specific business. They are scheduled to meet at 4 p.m. Monday Feb. 17 at the Chamber of Commerce building.

the injury that caused it. When Leonardo da Vinci was working on his painting "The Last Supper," he became angry with a certain man. Losing his temper he lashed the other fellow with bitter words and threats. Returning to his canvas he attempted to work on the face of Jesus, but was unable to do so. He was so upset he could not compose himself for the painstaking work. Finally he put down his tools and sought out the man and asked his forgiveness. The man accepted his apology and Leonardo was able to return to his workshop and finish painting the face of Jesus.

CONGRATULATIONS to Lester Wagner and all the gang at Hereford Parts & Supply on the observance of the firm's 30th anniversary in business here The whole organization will meet next at a covered dish supper scheduled at 6 p.m. Monday, Feb. 24 at the Rural Electric Cooperative building.

Mrs. Leona Seavey, the original spokesman for the group, initiated the organization to procur a building. She appeared before the County Commission-ers Court and the City Commission to appeal for verbal and possible financial help. She was told by both governing bodies that a non-profit organization would have to be formed before consideration could even be given for financial help, possibly through federal revenue sharing.

Presently, Mrs. Seavey is affiliated with the local chapter of the American Association of Retired Persons, which she said was too restrictive. "The AARP requires us to hold seminars on wills, insurance, social security and the like. All we want to do is have fun," she recently told the city commissioners.

The meeting got off to a slow start but picked up pace as discussions were pted by suggestions from Criminal District Attorney Andy Shuval, C. of C. executive vice president Bill Albright.

THE PRINCIPAL speaker was Mrs. Marie Bonifield, technical consultant from the Panhandle Regional Office On Aging in Amarillo. She explained in explicit terms that the group should establish itself as a legal entity with a non-profit charter from the state and start meeting on regular basis after officers are "You probably should meet at least once a month at first, then more often. It's good to start off slow to see which ones are the leaders and then build from that," Mrs. Bonifield explained.

As yet the group doesn't have an official name although it is referred to as the Deaf Smith Senior Citizens. Mrs. Bonifield suggested that an original name

As a representative of the governor's office, she said there was not much money available from her office, but that other government funds could be obtained. This would involve a 25 per cent "in kind" contribution on the local level to match government funds. In kind refers to property such as buildings or other donated assets.

"YOU'LL BE SURPRISED how little money it actually takes as some groups have gotten building on a $1 annual lease basis," she said.

Albright concurred saying that the C of C quality of life sub committee of Goals for Progress (GoPro) might help since it is tentatively seeking the old Central School, a wing of which might be used by senior citizens.

"To do so, however, you must show a

"Actually, the cost of gas adjustment doesn't fully take care of the cost of gas since a time lag (of a month) delays a return in our cash flow," Fariss said.

ALSO JUSTIFYING the increases, he pointed out that Pioneer's charges are lower than such companies as Horston Natural Gas and South Union in Austin. Lone Star in Fort Worth and South Union in Monahans, though, charge less.

Because of its importance, I believe the questions we will be considering in committees during the next four months should be thoroughly presented to the public.

Therefore, it is my goal to try to familiarize you with the past role Texas has played in school finance and what we will be considering this session.

A review of the recent history of public school finance in Texas shows that recent court decisions have greatly affected the significant role the Legislature must take in this area.

In 1971 a federal district court held unanimously in the case of Rodriguez vs. The San Antonio dent School District that the Texas System of financing public schools violated the federal and state constitutions.

The court said that depending heavily on local ad valorem taxes for financing schools made the quality of a child's education dent on the wealth of his parents and neighbors.

However, in 1973 the U.S.

Supreme Court reversed that decision saying it recognized the apparent inequities of the Texas system but could not agree with the lower court that the judicial system should take the responsibility of making school financing equitable.

Furthermore, the Supreme Court said that this responsibility clearly lay with the Texas

It was shortly thereafter that the Legislature, Governor and many interested groups began researching this problem.

The task for creating a sound school finance system is extremely complex. Inadequacies presently exist in the way money is raised and in the way it is dispersed. This session we is dispersed. This session we will need to take into account posals striving to make the system fair do not interferewith the rights of local communities. Nor should we interfere with a taxpayer's ability to survive economically.

Some of the questions we will have to consider this session

☐ What pupil populations will be recognized for funding? In other words will students in different grades and types of programs like vocational and special education be funded differently? The Governor has offered what he terms a weighted pupil approach to solve this problem. All considerations along this line should be given close examina-

What type of student attendance figures will be used to determine the amount of state subsidy given to a local community? The question here is whether to remain with an average daily attendance figure or move to some other means of determining a formula for state

□What types of staffs and staff salaries should school districts have? Presently wealthier communities have greater flexibility because they have more money to attract highly qualified people.

□What is considered a fair tax effort on the part of the local community? And should the local property tax assessments be regulated by uniform state standards?

□Will the Foundtion School Program be financed from state or local revenues? This actually boils down to what percentage of public school financing

Although Clovis used a

Hereford drew 24 personal fouls and guard James Arney was fouled out of the game in the final period. Hereford got 12 points at the charity line with Hull accounting for six in seven attempts.

Clovis converted 14 of 22 shots at the foul line, while Hereford was 12 of 18. Hereford drew one technical foul when an official ruled that guard Brent Sigle slapped the backboard while trying to block a shot.

Hereford took the lead just before the half, pulling away to a 27-24 advantage, but a three-point play and the technical pulled Clovis back out front. The Herd stayed within striking distance until there was about three minutes left. Clovis took a 55-50 advantage at that point, and pulled away in the closing two minutes.

West Texas State has just uch a facility that they call the Activities Center. It cost about $3-million. "Surely," you say, "the City of Hereford, Deaf Smith County and the Hereford independent School District all ogether could never afford a ill like that." Probably not.

But they could furnish the citizens of Hereford with a facility that could have many of the same advantages. It would take long-range judicious plan-ning and a genuine desire to fulfill the needs of the residents of the city and county. After such a facility was made available, it would take at least one trained, full-time supervisor who made a decent salary to keep it rolling.

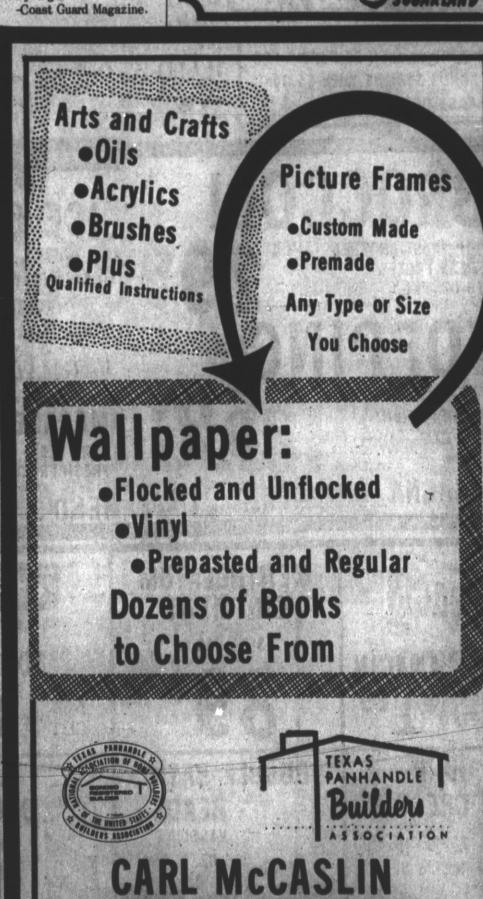

And they wouldn't have to start from the ground up. Why not take the existing Community Center, draw up a long-range lding program. Build one ddition a year until the whole facility is built.

Despite the losses, all three teams finished as runner-ups in the district and all had good season records. Plans continued through the week for the ening of the Hereford Junior High School Tournament that will be co-hosted by La Plata and Stanton. Nine area schools will field teams from their seventh, eighth and ninth grades in the tourney.

Boys Ranch, Dimmitt, Canyon White, Canyon Purple, Plainview Estacado, Plainview Coronado and the two Hereford schools will be represented. All games will be played in the La Plata gymnasium. Games will begin at 1 p.m. Thursday, Friday and Saturday and will continue late into the night.

THE PERRYTON freshmen, whom the Stanton freshmen met for the football championship earlier this season and lost, dominated the scoring against the Dogies Monday night. Perryton led 11-10 at the end of the first quarter and held a

Social Security

Questions and Answers

Q. I am 63 and I get monthly social security payments as a widow. I haven't been feeling well lately. If I need medical care or hospitalization, will Medicare help pay any of my medical costs now?

A. No. Medicare only helps pay hospital and medical bills for people 65 or older, or for people who have been entitled to monthly social security disability benefits for 2 years, or for certain people with chronic kidney disease.

[Have you a question about social occurity? Address it to Travis C. Briggs, District Manager, Social Security Administration, 317 East Third Street, Amarillo, TX 79101. You will receive an answer in this column or by mail.]

Q. I are 63 and I are not the content of these workers?

A. If you pay each of them $50 or more in a calender quarter, you have to report the earnings and send the social security contributions to the Internal Revenue Service before of the month following the closed quarter. Since these two workers alternate, be sure you have their correct social security numbers so each will get proper credit for the ear-

Betanex Introduced For Sugar Beets

NOR-AM Agricultural Products Inc., Chicago announces that the EPA has cleared Betanex post-emergence herbicide for the control of redroot pigweed in sugar beets. The clearance applies to all sugar beet growing areas of the U.S.

Betanex has been field tested two years under the name, Betanal-475. It is being marketed under the name Betanex to conform with recent similarity of product names.

Betanex is an analogue, or chemical "cousin" of Betanal, sugar beet weeds.

Betanex, NOR-AM offers three kinds of post-emergence con-trol: 1) Betanex used alone, where redroot pigweed is the main problem; 2) Betanal used alone, where control of other mustard and kochia, is needed; 3) Betanex and Betanal in a 50-50 tank mix to control redroot NOR-AM's pioneer herbicide pigweed and others.

Cost of Government Is $403 Locally

A new study by the Depart-ment of Commerce reveals just in an effort how much is spent, per capita, to keep the wheels of govern-ment turning in Deaf Smith

It shows, also, how the local spending pattern compares with that in other communities cross the country.

The figures are contained in a 65-page report, called com-pendium of government Finances. Periodic studies of this type are made every five years. This is the first one since section of the United States, the revenues, the expenditures and the amount of debt incurred in connection with local government operations.

Detailed for each area is just how much is spent, per resident, for roads, police and fire protection, health, housing, welfare, sanitation, education, administration and the many other functions performed. In Deaf Smith County, the figures show, the cost of such local services amounted to $403 in the year for every man, woman and child in the area.

The comparable cost, in other parts of the country, was $511 per capita and, in the State of Nationally, a sharp increase over the 1967 total of $59.5

Because public payrolls, the price of equipment, the demand for services and the cost of borrowing are all at a high level, the cost of government has gone up proportionately. It has become a problem in almost rising expenses, most comunities have had to turn to ecial fees and taxes and to a variety of miscellaneous charges and tolls.

General revnue collected in Deaf Smith County came to $428 per capita, the report shows, as compared with $403 for ex-penditures. Of the total collected, $267 was from taxes and other local charges and the balance from Federal and state

As for the general debt out-standing locally, it is listed as $280 per capita. Elsewhere in the nation, local debt amounts to $580 per capita and, in the state, to $528.

TROUBLE IS brewing in

Norman Lear, creator of all those no-holds-barred comedy hits, may have gone too far. His latest brain-child "Hot L Baltimore" may be that proverbial straw which broke the camel's back.

The raucous sit-com is based on life in a flea-infested Baltimore hotel which is peopled by the most obnoxious folks ever cast. The hotels tenants include: the manager (a man seemingly sane but dull), the Negro (always crusading for an obscure cause), the old man (a stereotyped cynic), the old woman (sugar wouldn't melt in her mouth), a girl (un-derdeveloped role) the neurotic mother (overdeveloped role) and two "women of the evening" (with typical hearts of

Vocational Education Week Observed

Students at Hereford High School and around the nation are observing Vocational Education Week Feb. 10-14. Vocational director Richard Robinson estimates that over 800 students at HHS and the two junior highs are reached by the vocational program. Five divisions of vocational training offered include Homemaking, Vocational Agriculture, Industrial Arts, Distributive Education and Office Education. Numerous programs spring from these five divisions, with 23 teachers and two administrative personnel involved. The aim of the program is to provide students with skills for future employment in the community. Left, Diane Ward, a dental assistant and Randy Williams, a body shop worker, hold a poster proclaiming the observance. Teacher Ray Barber stands with them. Right, Mrs. Dortha Prowell shows Hank Stringer and Jill Stephans about credit. The course is part of a Consumer Education program under the Homemaking Education program under the Homemaking division of the vocational program.

Nixon Foundation will drop library project.

Social Security tax withholding resumes.

Veleda Women Oppose ERA

In opposition to the Equal Rights Amendment, Veleda Study Club members resolved to write senators and representatives when they met Tuesday in the home of Mrs. Gwynne Owen, 1209 Grand.

This action was prompted by a letter from Mrs. Gwen Reece, director of Amarillo Community College program. Mrs. Reece urged active participation by women in community and national affairs.

Other correspondence read by Mrs. Laurence Ruther included an invitation from the Women's Division of the Chamber of Commerce to the Fine Arts Festival in April. A letter seeking nominations for Most Outstanding Young Woman of the Year was received.

Reports were given from standing committee chairmen. Mrs. J.D. Gilbert was appointed chairman of hostess duties at Deaf Smith County Historical Museum. Veléda Study Club will be the host club during the last two weeks of this month.

The program "Eggs for the Empty Nest" stressed ways for parents to cope after children have left home. Five members analysed the problem and suggested solutions.

Mrs. Hugh Clearman suggested five general projects, especially the fine arts, as constructive pastimes. She said that a woman should look and listen for artistic possibilities in order to gain total satisfaction.

After children have reached full independence is the time for the parent to develop new ventures. Mrs. George Ritter stated that routine chores are not enough to occupy time and outside interests should be nurtured. She advised charity work, art, sports and games. A poem "Stick Together Family" was read by Mrs. Howard Birdwell, who spoke about joint interests between husband and wife. She proposed involvement in community work, civic clubs, recreation and travel by married couples. Mrs. Ruther concluded the multi-faceted program by defining roles of love. She commented that love is a complex set of responsibilities.

Those attending were Mmes. Birdwell, Clearman, Lloyd Crume, Gilbert, Armon Lauderback, George Olson, Richard Ottesen, John Poindexter, Ritter, Ruther, Billy Wayne Sisson, Bill Walden, Glenn Watts and Frank Zinser.

The next meeting will be Feb. 25 in the home of Mrs. Gilbert, 353 Douglas.

Gardners Urged To Conserve

Home gardens are appearing in backyards, flower beds and on patios all over Texas. And with continued high fertilizer.

Sam Cotner, vegetable specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, offers these suggestions:

1. Have soil tested. Many home gardens are already fertile enough to produce good yields of good yields of most vegetable crops. Soil samples may be sent to the Soil Testing Laboratory at Texas A&M University. Information is available at any county Extension office.

2. Apply only light applications of fertilizer at planting time. In absence of a soil test, use one-and-one-half to three pounds of a complete fertilizer, such as 8-8-8, 10-10-10, or 12-12-12, per 100 square feet of garden area. Thoroughly mix the fertilizer with the soil. Use organic · fertilizer compost whenever possible,

3. If at all possible, use mulch in the garden to aid in moisture retention and to prevent leaching of plant nutrients. 4. If vegetable plants appear to grow slowly or lack good color, sidedress lightly with a lettuce, cabbage and greens be used wisely.

Out Consumer Protection attorneys say "notarized testimonials" exploit the idea held by many people that a notary seal on a document indicates the truthfulness and validity of that document, and therfore it may be deceptive.
The National Notary

Association, an educational organization for notaries public, warns consumers that a notary seal does not guareantee the truthfulness of any document, not even a legal document.

Officials of the association say many notaries themselves may mistakenly belive they are responsible for the accuracy of a document's contents. In reality, a notary seal on a

4. Take depositions. In legal terms, a deposition is a sworn statement made out of court that can be used in court. Such a deposition is recorded by a notary public, then transcribed by the notary or someone under his supervision. The notary attests that the document is valid and that it was given by the person indicated. Not all notaries take such legal depositions.

A deposition can also be taken to mean an affidavit. When a notary affixes his seal to an affidavit, he is certifying that the person presenting the affidavit is who he says he is and that the person swears the statement is true.

The law does not require notaries themselves to determine if a document presented is true, however. So a notary seal on a document stating that someone lost 10 pounds by using a particular device means only that the person signing the document attested to the claim and could prove his identity.

ARTIFICIAL LIGHTING

FOR INDOOR PLANTS Isn't it a nuisance when you have a little corner or you have a little corner or nook in your home that would be perfect for pretty planted things but doesn't have any access to sunlight? The problem is easily solved by getting yourself some artificial sun, either in the form of fluorescent bulbs. Now you descent bulbs, Now, you can't grow any old plant under artificial lighting if there is no sun exposure whatsoever, but choose your plants from among those species which thrive naturally in a dim light environment. Goesan natives vironment, Green natives of the jungle and tropical plants are best suited to growing under artificial lighting.

Depending upon the particular spot that you wish to vegetate either the to vegetate, either the fluorescent tubes or the in-candescent bulb will be mitable. The tubes require rather bulky fixture which needs to be attached to the wall, so it's a bit simpler to start with an incandescent bulb screwed which can be clamped to a nearby shelf. These bulbs are commonly called "grow-lites" and they're available for about five dollars from hardware or plant stores. The disadvantage of the incandescent bulb is that it gives off a great deal of heat and plants must not be placed from it. The lighting intensity is appropriate to the plant's needs, but no plant can stand too much direct heat without withering and browning. If you're going to grow things under this artificial lighting, be prepared to keep the light on for 12 hours a day at least, As you observe the growth behavior of your plants you might want to extend this period to 16 hours daily, but be sure to give them at least 12 for starters. Startling growth may be stimulated by leaving the lights on some plants for 24 hours a day, but there are many varieties which require some dark-ness so it's best not to be overly zealous in lighting up your plants,
