

Mother Nature Destroys What She Created

Wide Spread Damage to Crops Reported

HAIL-THRASHED CROPS NORTHEAST OF HEREFORD
...Where Mother Nature carried out a whim

By JIM STEIERT
Brand Farm Writer

Farmers in widely scattered areas of the county were still summing up the damage at presstime after Mother Nature turned fickle late last week and decided to strip in minutes the crops she had spent months in growing.

HAIL RANGING from marble to baseball size pummeled crops in a swath which crossed the county Thursday and Friday from southwest to northeast, resulting in heavy crop damage in some areas.

Heaviest damage reports came from northeast of Hereford, with damage also reported to the north and southeast of the city.

Juston McBride, county agent, estimated damage to wheat at 50 per cent in a belt which began just west of the Summerfield community and extended northeastward to just west of Hereford.

McBride estimated the width of the belt at 2-3 miles.

McBride also reported erratic damage in a strip 2-3 miles wide to the southeast of the city.

HAILSTORMS FRIDAY night just missed Hereford but struck on the northern outskirts of the city. Crops north of the city along Highway 385 were damaged in a belt which extended northward for several miles.

Corn, milo, onions and other crops suffered heavy damage in an area approximately 7.5 miles east and 6 miles north of Hereford, where apparently the heaviest hailstorm occurred. The most severe damage continued northward for about 2.5 miles, then tapered off near farm road 1062.

Leaves were stripped from tall corn plants, onions were pounded and other crops suffered severe batterings in that

School Board Discusses Possible 22 Per Cent Increase in Taxes

By BOBBY TEMPLETON
Brand News Editor

The Hereford School District is presently contemplating an increase in school taxes of about 22 per cent for next year as the result of the school finance legislation passed this year. However, this figure could vary depending on how the local administrative officials can best use the new formula for receiving state aid.

At a special meeting called Tuesday to consider a preliminary budget report for the 1975-76 school year based on information confirmed at a meeting in Amarillo to hear explanations of the new bill from representatives of the Texas Education Agency, it was held early Tuesday.

However, Bill Phillips, administrative assistant for finance, said, "We didn't learn much more than we already know. We were much further along (in our figures) than any other area school district."

The board undoubtedly made teachers happy by approving continued payments high above the state minimum. The board acted on the annual salary supplements so teacher contracts could be finalized. The state approved $1,400 annual increases in teacher salaries.

Teachers holding a bachelor's degree and a valid Texas certificate will be paid $800 additionally and a teacher with a masters degree and any valid certificate will receive $1,000 above the state minimum. Non-degree, registered nurses will receive $500 with special education teachers and teachers with 18 hours above a masters degree will receive $100 more. These had been $200 and $150 respectively.

Non-degree and degree, no valid certificate employees were lowered from $600 to $500 in supplements.

THE BUDGET REPORT, delivered by Phillips, detailed the anticipated revenues from local and state sources based on the present situation of the district. Basically, the bill states a more flexible formula for computing state aid, which is received through the Minimum Foundation Program. It is the program that has always been in existence for distributing state funds to local districts.

The program came under controversy about three years ago when now famous Rodriguez case was decided in the U.S. Supreme Court. It contested the fairness of the state's system for school finance and the state has since tried to equalize the program.

The legislation is considered to have improved the situation, but does not address itself to fully equalizing local property taxation in relation to state aid distribution.

The principal language of the bill has been interpreted to help the districts which were taxing as close to the 100 per cent level as possible and hurt those which used low evaluation percentages such as in Hereford.

As part of the MFP, each local district is given a local fund assignment (LFA), the portion which each district in essence contributes to the total program. This is the main factor that hurts or helps most districts since it is subtracted from the amount received in state aid.

HEREFORD'S LFA was double for next year to $1,164,000. Actually the local share would have been higher except the bill stated no district's amount would be more than doubled.

However, this $582,000 loss in state aid is counter balanced by about $400,000 more anticipated for special programs and allocations such as the educationally disadvantaged, driver education, transportation funds, special education and the operating and maintenance fund. So the district is expected to experience a net loss of about $182,000.

The main portion of state aid for the district will be figured for personnel through teacher units based on the average daily attendance. These are weighed values such as a unit value of 2.0 for a superintendent, 1.50 for a principal and 1.0 for a teacher.

A total personnel allocation has tentatively been computed based on the following numbers of employee's and their salaries: one superintendent, $24,732; nine principals, $147,235; three

Hospital Breaks Even For May

'AMA Is Not A Union,' Hospital Board Told

By JOE LACKEY
Brand Staff Writer

Dr. A.T. Mims, in his monthly medical staff report, told the Board of Directors of the Deaf Smith General Hospital in its regular meeting Tuesday morning that the American Medical Association is not a union and does not direct malpractice strikes.

Dr. Mims also discussed plans for a new in-service educational program for hospital personnel involving a closed-circuit television hookup from the University of Texas Medical School at San Antonio.

Ron Welty, hospital administrator, explained that the monthly financial report indicated that the hospital "just about broke even for the month of May."

AFTER CONCLUDING regular business, involving the financial report and the medical staff report, the board then went into executive session to discuss the possibility of labor unions organizing in the medical profession, and the possibility of labor unions organizing in the medical profession, and the possible impact of this situation on hospitals. This was described in the open session as a "personnel matter" which could properly be discussed in closed session.

In his discussion of the malpractice insurance controversy, Dr. Mims said that doctors are not forced to belong to the American Medical Association (AMA) or other national medical organizations. Their purpose in existing, he said, is to help promote good medical care all across the nation, and to prevent the passage of bad laws through Congress or state legislatures which might have a detrimental impact on the practice of medicine.

"They don't tell us what to do," Dr. Mims said. "The doctors currently practicing are too individualistic to permit this."

He said that the anesthesiologists who went on strike in San Antonio were not "AMA directed."

DR. MIMS ALSO MENTIONED attempts on the West Coast to form unions in the medical profession.

The closed-circuit television hookup discussed by Dr. Mims will cost the hospital about $55 a program. The programs are broadcast every other Thursday at noon.

In general, Dr. Mims said, the hospital staff is "busy at times, and not busy at others—things are kind of up and down."

He expressed general satisfaction with the way hospital affairs are going.

WELTY, in his monthly financial report, said that net revenue for the district for the month of May amounted to $125,802, with net expenses totalling $126,566, leaving a net deficit of $764. Welty said that indigent care for the month cost the hospital $3,943, explaining the small deficit.

Welty said there was a $60,000 increase in the district's cash on hand during the month of May. The reason for this, he said, involved an "adjusted

Capacity Crowd Expected At Kids Inc. Banquet

A crowd of 1,400 is expected to crowd the Bull Barn Friday night for the annual Kids Inc. sports banquet, which will honor members of the Bronco baseball leagues, the Pony Leagues, and the girls' softball leagues.

Highlights of the banquet will include a featured speech from Denis Menke, and the naming of all-star teams, most valuable players, coaches of the year, as well as the coveted sportsmanship awards.

The banquet begins at 8 p.m. Friday night.

The Hereford Rotary Club will serve a barbecue dinner at the banquet. The banquet is sponsored by the Hereford

State Bank.

Menke, the featured speaker, was a star infielder in the major leagues for a dozen seasons. He played for the Houston Astros, the Atlanta Braves, and the Cincinnati Reds.

Menke was known as a good average hitter who also possessed some power. He was also viewed as a good defensive ballplayer.

The highlight of Menke's career came when he played with Cincinnati in the 1972 World Series, won by the Oakland Athletics.

Tickets for the banquet are no longer available.

That fellow on Tierra Blanca Creek says some people's finances are in such a mess you'd think they were getting advice from the government.

Before long, "a dollar to a doughnut," may be an even bet.

oOo

Did you notice the government is thinking about printing $2 bills again? Sounds fine to us, but a study made by Harvard business students indicates that 73 per cent of Americans don't like the $2 bill because it means bad luck. Anytime I have any denomination of greenbacks in my wallet, I feel lucky!

The $2 bill was discontinued in 1966 and didn't enjoy wide circulation before that—apparently because a lot of people thought they meant bad luck.

We have penned remarks recently concerning the belief that control of our lives in this country is passing from elected officials into the hands of bureaucrats. This past week we read an interesting article in The Reader's Digest which has to do with the same subject. It is titled "Our Rotting 'Fourth Branch'."

In addition, we ran across a satiric essay written by Congressman Andrew

Heritage Concert Here To Feature Chamber Singers

"Americana," a musical program with a patriotic theme, will be staged by Hereford Chamber Singers at 8 p.m. Tuesday in Hereford High School auditorium.

American songs with historical significance will be performed in celebration of July 4th and the U.S. Bicentennial, under direction of Bill Devers.

Tickets are available from any Chamber Singer or at Hereford State Bank, First National Bank and the Chamber of Commerce office. Admission prices are $2 per adult and $1 for each public school student. Tickets will also be sold at the door Tuesday night.

Proceeds from the concert will defray travel expenses for the Singers, who will be attending the convention of Texas Choral Directors Association August 1 in San Antonio. The local choir, which was organized this past autumn, received a special invitation to perform at the TCDA assembly.

Wheat Harvested

The combines are finally rolling in the Hereford area following delays from recent torrential rains and hail. This large John Deere was being used on the Shipley and Jacobson farm about nine miles north of town. Some good wheat harvests are being reported with some as high as 37 bushels an acre for dryland and about 50 bushels an acre for irrigated wheat.

Caviness Gets Degree From Trinity University

Trinity University conferred baccalaureate and masters degrees on 636 students at its May 1975 commencement ceremonies in San Antonio, Tex. Baccalaureate degrees were presented to 542 students—the largest number ever at a Trinity University spring commencement. The previous high was 524 Baccalaureate degrees presented in May 1974. Masters degrees were presented to 106 students.

Dr. Marion Bruce Thomas, Trinity Vice President for Academic Affairs and Dean of the University, delivered the commencement address entitled "The Class of 1975."

Thomas will retire as Vice President and Dean at the end of June after 28 years of service to Trinity University.

The academic degrees were conferred by Trinity University President Duncan Wimpress.

One student from Hereford was among the graduates. Steven Elton Caviness of 129 Texas Avenue received a Bachelor of Arts in psychology.

Scouts Plan Roundup

"President's Roundup" will be the theme for the Llano Estacado Fall Roundup for 1975, and President Gerald Ford will serve as honorary chairman for the South Central Region.

Jack Bryant, Program Vice-President, announces the chairman of the Llano Estacado President's Fall Roundup will be Mr. K. B. Watson of Amarillo, President and Chief Executive Officer of Pioneer Corporation.

Under Watson's leadership, six district-roundup chairmen will direct the roundup program to recruit over 2,000 new members this fall.

The roundup dates will be from September 1 through December 31, 1975. Special recognition will be given to Cubs and Scouts who recruit new members, and, new this year, adult recognition for recruiting new adult members into Scouting.

The roundup will officially kick-off at a Council training and orientation meeting on July 10, 1975.

WTSU Schedules Law School Admission Test

The Law School Admission Test, required of applicants for admission to most American law schools, will be given December 6, 1975 at West Texas State University. Registration materials may be obtained from WTSU after August 1.

The test will be administered by the Educational Testing Service under the policies of the Law School Admission Council, a nonprofit corporation comprised of one representative from each of the law schools accredited by the American Bar Association or the Association of American Law Schools.

Applicants are advised to make separate application to each law school of their choice and to ascertain from each whether the Law School Admission Test is required.

The objective test will be given in the morning. It is designed to measure mental abilities deemed important in the study of law and thus to aid law schools in determining the academic promise of their applicants.

The "Law School Admission Bulletin," which includes sample questions, registration information, and a registration form should be obtained by applicants at least six weeks in advance of the testing date.

The registration form and fees must be postmarked thirty days before the testing date to avoid the late registration fee and to guarantee being tested. Late registration closes on the postmark date 23 days before the date the test is to be given.

Track Team Scores Well

Several record-breaking performances highlighted the West Texas AAU Junior Olympics Preliminary Track and Field Meet held at Whiteface Track Saturday.

More than 290 entrants competed in the meet.

Although competitors from all over the Panhandle participated in the meet, Hereford's track and field team placed several individuals and teams among the winners.

In the intermediate boys division, James Mays of Hereford set a new record in the 880, running a 2:10.6, which cut two seconds from his own old record. Ricky Matchett finished second in the 880 with 2:21.6.

Richard Olsen of Hereford finished second in the intermediate boys' shot, with a distance of 32-10.

Also in intermediate boys, Hereford's 440 relay team, composed of Richard Olson, Joe Walker, James Mays, and Ricky Matchett finished first in 50.5.

In the junior boys division, John Josseland of Hereford finished second in the shot with a distance of 30-9. Benny Graves finished sixth in this division in the 220 with a time of 29.0.

Harold Terry of Hereford finished third in the junior boys' 100 with a 12.1 time.

Joyce High of Hereford, with a 13.8, tied for fourth in the midget girls' 100. Lori Abracht, also of Hereford, ran the 50 in 6.6 for second place. In the midget girls' long jump, Shirley Hutton placed third with a leap of 10-11 1/2, and Deborah Rogers followed in fifth with a jump of 10-10 3/4.

In the midget boys division, Wayne High won the 50 with a 6.8, Jeff Coup finished fourth with a 7.1, and Julius Sanders was sixth with a 7.2. Julius Sanders won the high jump in this division with a 4-3; and Steve Barrett was third with a

View From The Plains
 BY J.D. PEER
 TEXAS PARKS AND WILDLIFE DEPT.

Lake Theo Park near Quitaque has been opened for day use only by the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department.

The 14,000 acre park composed of a 70 acre lake and Caprock country will furnish fishermen, hikers, campers and sightseers an opportunity to view the Texas High Plains country when it is completed.

"The park lake opened June 20, 1975 and visiting hours will be from 8 a.m. to 9 p.m. daily," Dennis Wynn, new manager of the park said.

"Boats 19 feet or longer and motors of 12 horsepower or more shall not be permitted on Lake Theo," Wynn continued.

"This rule is in the state park regulations for all lakes under 225 surface acres in size."

Other restrictions for Lake Theo include no water skiing and every boat shall carry a US Coast Guard approved life saving device for each person and each child 12 years of age or younger shall wear a US Coast Guard approved life saving device while on the lake.

No overnight camping will be permitted until facilities are completed by the parks division.

Anglers will find excellent bass and sunfish populations in the clear, deep lake. Access to the lake for boats is limited and the loading or unloading of boats will have to be done without a boat ramp for the present time. The abundance of cattails along the lake's edge has increased the use of inner tube floaters and water wagons.

Park visitors might have the opportunity to view the Aoudad sheep that were first stocked on the Geisler Ranch in 1968.

Action Intense As Tourney Opens

The Deaf Smith County Tennis Tournament, sponsored by the county's Chamber of Commerce, gets underway today here at the two courts on Avenue H, the two city courts on Plains Avenue, and the four high school courts.

Romero To Wrestle

Ricky Romero returns to the Bull Barn Saturday night on a wrestling program sponsored by the Hereford Lions Club.

The Mexican speedster meets ex-lumberjack Bobby Jaggers, a Vancouver, Washington citizen who weighs in at 260 pounds.

Killer Brooks, a 270 pound wild man from Detroit, Michigan, gained attention from the fans two weeks ago in his first appearance here. Burly and bearded, he teams up with the Alaskan against Scott Casey and Johnny Starr.

The Alaskan, taller than his partner but tipping the scales at the same weight, is an ex-lumberjack like Jaggers. In fact, the Alaskan proclaims himself "King of the Lumberjacks."

Their opponents make up in speed what they lack in weight. Casey, at 235, comes from Dallas, and has made a meteoric rise for a man so young in the sport.

Johnny Starr is from Nashville, Tennessee, and won instant popularity in his initial appearances here. A mere 228 pounds in a world of sport increasingly dominated by giants, Starr is the son of a wrestler.

He changed his name in order not to trade on his father's reputation.

In the opener, Ray "Candy Man" Candy, a 295 pound black wrestler from Atlanta, Georgia, meets Hurricane Hernandez, 235 pounds.

Hernandez is versed in karate, and has boxed professionally.

The "Candy Man", who loves children, seems to always have sugar treats for kids at ringside, and not-so-sugary lumps for his opponents.

Action starts at 9:00 p.m.

PREScription for a tired MIND

This man suffers from fatigue—yet, the doctor can find no reason for it. Perhaps he suffers from a sickness of the soul. Medical science can do little to help this man, only God can cure him. If you suffer from this illness, attend your church—there you will find relief from fatigue, rest for a weary soul, a prescription for a tired mind.

Facts About Social Security

By MAURINE A. TRAVIS

Q. I'm presently receiving social security benefits while attending college. Will I receive my benefits during June, July and August since I do not plan to attend summer school?

A. Yes, your benefits will continue uninterrupted if your period of nonattendance is not longer than four months, and if you plan to resume full-time attendance in the fall semester.

Q. I am inquiring for my mother-in-law, who became a widow last week. She has asked me to help her get her social security started. She is 63 but has never filed for social security. What kind of records will she need to furnish when she files?

A. She will need to furnish the social security number for her husband and herself, proof of her age, and her marriage certificate. If her husband was employed last year, she should furnish his 1974 W-2, or if self-employed, furnish his 1974 tax return. She can call the social security office if she would like, and they will complete her application over the telephone.

Q. It looks like I will need to file for disability benefits, as my doctor tells me I will not be able to work again. Should I bring a statement from him when I come in to file?

A. No, when you apply we will get the names and addresses of your doctors from you, and our disability agency will contact the doctor for a medical report.

Ogletree said, "and they use a variety of presentation techniques, including the use of multi-media films, slides, and video tapes."

Ogletree, Texas compensation coordinator for Liberty Mutual Insurance Company, said that the Southwestern Insurance Information Service will work with any group "to present the facts, figures, policies, procedures and outlook of workmen's compensation and how it affects you."

Sweetheart Recognized

Rotary Told of Residential Crimes

The Hereford Rotary Club enthusiastically gave their outgoing sweetheart, Shyla Thomas, a standing ovation during a special recognition presentation the club's weekly luncheon Monday.

It was designated Shyla Thomas Day and she was given a present from Buddy Peeler, outgoing president, after he praised her for serving the club during the past year. Miss Thomas was accompanied by her family including her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Thomas.

The 1975 Hereford High School valedictorian plans on attending the University of Texas at Austin.

During the luncheon, crime prevention officer Dean Butcher presented a film entitled, "It's a Matter of Time." It dealt with the rising number of residential thefts and explained what can be done to prevent them.

An imagined professional thief narrates the film and tells what $20 worth of prevention hardware can do to discourage thefts.

Butcher continued the discussion after the film by recommending that all residential citizens request the security surveys offered through the county sheriff's office. It involves recommended devices for "locking in valuables and locking out thieves." It is free and puts no obligation on the resident.

Also the local law enforcement with the help of the city police department offers vacation home and neighborhood watch programs to prevent thefts during extended trips.

"The majority of home thefts are committed by amateurs and a little prevention can go a long way," Butcher said. "In Deaf Smith County, 59 residential burglaries have been reported this year, so there is crime here."

When asked, he said that a dead bolt lock was a strong deterrent to most thieves. "They like to get in quick, get the loot, and get out quick," he said. "The professionals take a little more time and use obituaries and wedding stories in newspapers to find out when residents will be gone. This allows them the time needed to steal more."

Windows, are not usually a worry, he explained, since it causes noise and "burglars want to avoid that."

The Rotarians are presently gearing up for the Kid, Inc. barbecue at 7 p.m. Friday at the Bull Barn. About 1,400 are expected to attend.

A Ladies night will be held at 7 p.m. Monday at the Caison Steak House.

INSUR-MATION

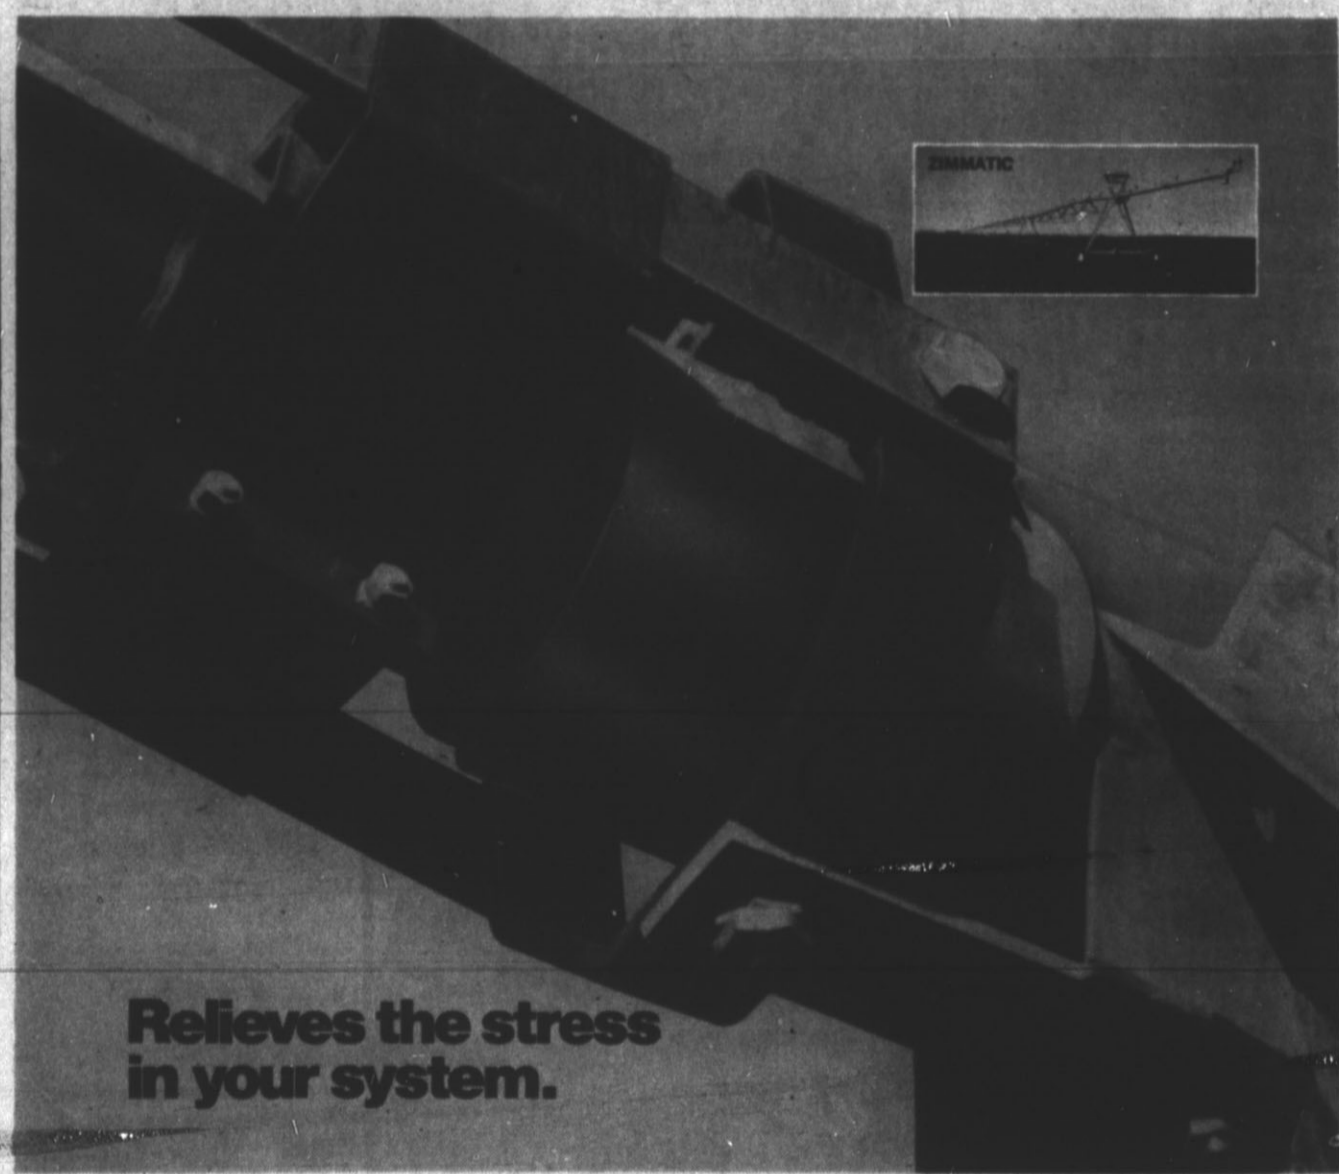

What is IRA? Can it be used by everyone?

IRA is the Individual Retirement Account which became effective September 2, 1974. It allows a person to tax shelter a percentage of his income into an IRA qualified plan up to a maximum of 15% or $1,500 whichever is less. No individual who is covered by another IRS approved retirement pension or profit-sharing plan may participate in IRA. These funds may be placed in almost any investment the individual would desire. For example, insurance companies use retirement income life insurance plans and deferred annual premium annuity plans. These are self-trusted and after retirement have a built-in annuity factor that will be advantageous to the individual.

Relieves the stress in your system.

You're looking at Lindsay's patented Uni-Knuckle. It works on the same principle as a universal joint. Allows overhead pipe in a Lindsay Zimmatic center pivot to move up, down, back or forward with no stress on the system.

Inside the Uni-Knuckle is a split sleeve coupler and rubber boot. This keeps the joint water-tight, even when the system is running over extremely rough ground. The boot is a special compound, selected for long life.

Of course, as time goes by, you may have to replace a boot or two. That happens with any coupler. But with a Zimmatic you don't need 10 men and a boy to do the job. There's no internal joint to worry about. No need to prop up and disconnect the line. The Uni-Knuckle stays in place, supporting the line. You just reach in, remove the split metal coupler and old boot. Slip in a new one, put the coupler back in place. You're in business again. When it comes to making repairs, the Uni-Knuckle relieves the stress on your system, too.

In case you're wondering how the Uni-Knuckle handles twisting action in the line caused when one tower is going downhill and the next is going uphill -- it doesn't. Lindsay takes care of that with a separate flex feature. It's patented, too. We'll be glad to show you how it works, tell you about all the other features that make Lindsay Zimmatic the new leader in center pivot irrigation systems.

The Abundant Life

Don't Be Skimpy

By BOB WEAR

Many good activities fall short of accomplishing the maximum which is possible, and which is needed. Much is lost because of "giving insufficient or barely sufficient attention; or effort; or funds for".

Some things may not suffer as much as others; though they are handled in a "skimpy" manner; but even these would be better, if given full attention; or full effort, or adequate funds. Just "getting by" is usually undesirable, and can be a very serious mistake.

WE ARE OFTEN "SKIMPY" with our efforts, we often fail to give maximum efforts in many things. Some of these may not be as important as others and being "skimpy" with our efforts toward these may not be of any great significance.

We should realize, however, that this "skimpiness" may be a basic trait of our character that should be corrected. It is very difficult to fluctuate from great effort to little effort, according to our evaluation of what we are doing.

OUR FAILURE TO APPLY the best effort in what we do is certainly a big mistake. This failure may be caused by laziness; or it may be due to lack of interest; or it may be that we are a shirker; or it may be some other flaw in our character.

In all things worth our consideration, a sound guideline is, "don't be skimpy".

We can be "skimpy" in many ways, and whatever the way; it will always be a loss to us. Oftentimes our "skimpy" action will hurt the cause of which we are a part, and lessen what should be truly worthwhile accomplishment. It is a great personal loss, too.

It should be our aim to increase our efficiency in every phase of our personal life; in all of our doing and giving. We can reach this aim, if we remember the injunction: "don't be skimpy".

"IT IS MORE PROBABLE that the average man could, with no injury to his health increase his efficiency fifty per cent." -W.D. Scott.

The good life is out of our reach, until we begin to do our best. We may not do as well as some other people, but we will be happy with what we do. What we do will be better than some persons do, but this is not the point. The point is, for our personal well-being, and not to be outdoing someone, we must "not be skimpy" in our doing and our giving.

Wise generosity, which means doing and giving according to our capability, is the key to abundant living. We may not be able, in some situations, to do all we would like to do; or give all we would like to give. This may disappoint us, but it is not damaging to us. "DON'T BE SKIMPY" is the guideline that will lead us to satisfying and rewarding life conduct.

Camp Fire Girls Earn Swim Festival Honors

Camp Fire swimming honors were bestowed on 17 Adventure Girls during a Fun and Swim Festival Saturday at Hereford City Pool.

Events for swimmers and non-swimmers were entered by 43 Camp Fire Girls with stars awarded to the winner of each contest. Mrs. Jimmy Dawson and Mrs. Arthur B. Clark coordinated the program. Assisting with the competition were adult leaders, including Mmes. Lee Drake, Charles Weatherford, Gerald Hamby, David Rettman, Sam Mazurek, Jerome Friemel, Albert Cherry and Marvin Finley.

Red Cross Safety instructors who judged swimmers ranking were John Gilliland and Mmes. Frank Zinser Jr., Arthur Robinson and David Brumley.

Members of Horizon and Discovery Clubs volunteered their help. These youth included Lisa and Karen Drake, Sammie and Tommy Cherry, Cherie Anstey, Le Ann Hughes, Laura Clark and Margaret Brumley.

Blue Birds and Adventure Club Girls received swimming emblems for participation in the swim meet. Winners in each event were:

Intermediate swimmers—(1) T-shirt relay race, team #2, including Mandy Goodfellow, Carie Jones and Connie Weatherford. (2) Balloon race, Carie Jones, 1st; Mandy Goodfellow, 2nd; Daris Duggan, 3rd.

Beginner swimmers—(1) Kick board race, team #2, including Shaunella Beavers, Mandy Mazurek, Annette Dawson, Julie Bruns, Beth Clark, Du Ann Rettman and Wendy Roe. (2) Spoon Ping Pong race, team #2, including Kalina Herr, Mandy Mazurek, Connie Weatherford, Anna Beth Friemel, Darlene Stovall, Julie Burns and Sheila Herr.

Non-swimmers—(1) Spoon ping pong race, team #1, including Shannon Morrison, Du Ann Rettman, Wendy Roe, Ashela Peters, Karen Friemel and Jeannine Thomas. (2) Jelly fish float—Darlene Stovall, 1st; Georgis Collins, 2nd; Annette Dawson, 3rd.

Following completion of scheduled events, the assembled group swam leisurely prior to being served hot dogs and soft drinks. Refreshments were served by a committee with the assistance of D'Lynn Davison, a 1975 Horizon Club graduate.

Good Luck Party Scheduled

Best wishes will be extended Monday evening to Miss Hereford Monica Herring, who is to vie for the state pageant title July 9-12 at Fort Worth, during a general membership meeting of the Chamber of Commerce Women's Division.

All local residents are invited to attend the quarterly WD assembly, which will begin at 8 p.m. in Community Center.

Miss Teen Hereford Donna Kendall and Miss Hereford will be introduced by county extension agent Joyce Shipp, who has helped the latter coordinate her wardrobe for the Miss Texas contest. Miss Herring will give a preview of her showing at the state finals by presenting a selection at the piano and modeling two formal evening gowns which were gifts from the Women's Division. Miss Kendall will provide added entertainment by performing several vocal numbers.

Innovative and basic aspects of interior decoration will be subjects of a panel discussion moderated by Linda Yocum. Participating in the forum program will be Ann Orr, Leatrice Clark and Pat Clark. This forum has been organized by Mrs. Joe Henry, who is chairman of this upcoming meeting.

Mrs. Henry stressed that the public is welcome to attend and give Miss Herring "a special hustlin' Hereford send-off." There will be no charge for admission and coffee and soft drinks will be available.

Town Markets Benefit Growers, Consumers

Fresh fruits and vegetables at a reasonable price appeal to consumer palates as well as to their pocketbooks. And community markets can provide just that while at the same time offering an outlet to gardeners who produce more than their families can consume.

Test Suggested For Microwave Baking Utensils

Usability of certain pieces of glassware or pottery for microwave cooking can be tested in a simple manner, Mrs. Lillian Chenoweth, family resource management specialist, said this week.

"Place the dish in the oven along with a cup of water in a glass cup. Heat for 15-30 seconds. If the glassware in question has not become warm, it is suitable for microwave use," the specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System, said.

"If the glassware feels warm or hot, it is best not to use in a microwave oven as it will absorb the microwaves. The cup with the water may also feel warm but only because the heated water made it warm."

She explained that repeated usage of unsuitable glassware or pottery may damage the dish as well as slow the cooking process.

Nixon Crisis Recalled In 'Breach of Faith'

Promises broken by the Nixon Administration and another book by the master of fiction, Frank Yerby, are suggested for good reading by Deaf Smith County Library.

In "Breach of Faith," Theodore H. White chronicles the corruption which culminated with Watergate and the effect this travesty had upon a nation which dotes on noble myths of culture and tradition. The historical story gains perspective as White traces Nixon's political aspirations from the early 1950's and how his cohorts hardened, viewing politics as "a war in which no quarter was given." He also reflects the general reactions of the news media, the judicial branch, Congress and the American public.

Frank Yerby, who has been spinning best-selling narratives for more than three decades, has written another novel entitled "Tobias And The Angel." True to his style, Yerby revives adult romance, adventure and well-defined characterization against a serio-comic background in Mexico. In his 26th book, Yerby has managed to keep pace, producing an acclaimed example of contemporary fiction.

Deaf Smith County Library is open to the public free from 9 a.m.-9 p.m. Monday and Thursday; from 9 a.m.-6 p.m. weekdays and until noon Saturday.

BREACH OF FAITH by Theodore H. White

All nations live by myths, writes Theodore H. White. Nowhere, however, are myths more important than in America. Take away the myths of other people and Frenchmen will remain Frenchmen, Englishmen Englishmen and Chinese Chinese. Nationality descends from their loins.

But take away the myths that bind American together, with their differences of race, culture and tradition, and Americans would dissolve. Theodore White writes, "into a sad geographical expression where whites killed blacks, blacks killed whites and Protestants, Catholics, Jews made of their cities a constellation of Belfast."

This was what the Nixon crisis of 1973-1974 threatened as the nation realized that the myth of their President as a man of law had been betrayed—that equality before law might now become fiction; that Vice President Agnew was a grafter; that the national intelligences had slipped from control; and that, for the first time in history, a President would have to be removed from office.

White starts his story with a masterful account of the last days of Richard Nixon in the White House—as those closest and most devoted to him recognized that he had deceived them, and they must force him out. He then traces the story back to the beginning, twenty years before, when the politics of manipulation were born; how the Nixon team hardened through years of struggle with the liberals into professionals who saw politics as a war in which no quarter was given and the White House was a command post where no rules restrained power.

Here, White unravels the tangle of episodes with fascinated and mystified Americans for two years. How and why were the famous tapes conceived? And why were they not destroyed? What motivated the self-righteous men about Nixon and how did they, step by step, glide across the law and enlist the hustlers, the spies, the thugs of the underground.

He then tells how, as the details became public, American politics responded—and how the press, court and Congress moved, each in its own way, to develop from the story of a bungled burglary an examination of what Americans believe about themselves, about the power of government and the limits that must be set on that power.

Giving credit to Richard Nixon for his achievements as President and peacemaker, White explains how he betrayed his spectacular victory of 1972 by breaking faith, as much with those who voted for him as with those who voted against him.

TOBIAS AND THE ANGEL by Frank Yerby

This is Frank Yerby's twenty-sixth novel, and it may well be his masterpiece. It starts as a wild, extravagant, utterly delightful erotic comedy as young Tobias Tobit, wending his way south to marry one of his identical twin cousins, is initiated into sex by his guardian angel, Angie—a real angel whose lusts and emotions are remarkably human, but whose insights into character and life are far more profound than most of ours.

Included in Toby's misadventures are a Mexican sexpot, a movie star, a gun moll and a nurse so beautiful that Angie keeps her for himself. But after the laughter—horror. For Toby arrives at his cousins' house and, quite rapidly, is drawn into a family that seems to specialize in murder, incest, lies and false identities—all to cover a secret so terrible that, when Tobias discovers what it is, it almost destroys his life.

Tobias and his angel are two of the most original creations in contemporary fiction. They will win you quickly; you cannot help but be drawn into their madly funny and sometimes tragic lives.

Yerby has lost none of his story-telling ability, his passion, his feel for people, his mastery of narrative pace. But in "Tobias and the Angel," you'll discover a new profundity and an awareness of the complexities of human behavior that this most popular writer has rarely before shown.

The greatest force in chemistry is a pretty girl.

Fishing solves a surprising number of problems.

Market Notes Upswing In Produce Supplies

Produce counter variety and increasing supplies are seeing more activity in that section of supermarkets this week.

Cantaloupe and corn supplies are up, so prices are down, Mrs. Gwendolyn Clyatt, consumer marketing information specialist, noted.

"Also, honeydews, watermelons and cherries are on most markets now—with prices moderate to relatively high," the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System, specialist added.

The same holds true for apricots, peaches, nectarines and strawberries.

Mrs. Clyatt reported moderate prices on okra, cucumbers, blackeye and purple hull peas—along with summer squash, radishes and green onions.

"Prices remain relatively high on dry onions and potatoes."

At meat counters, she termed fryer chickens, turkeys and eggs "good protein food choices, pricewise."

Look for best beef values on chuck roasts and steaks, round steaks, ground beef and liver.

Homesewers Get Shortcut Tips

Home sewing today can be done in a shorter amount of time and with less effort if some guidelines are followed, Marlene Odie, clothing specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System, advised this week.

—Purchase the pattern, fabric and all notions at the same time.
—Choose a fabric that doesn't ravel or need seam finishes.
—Choose a pattern that has few details and a small number of pattern pieces.
—Organize sewing and pressing equipment in one area.

—Keep on hand adequate sewing equipment.
—Keep sewing equipment in good working condition.

—Use correct pressing equipment for a more professional look.

—Stitch as many seams at one time that are not crossed by another seam before making a trip to the ironing board.

—Use iron-on interfacing and fusibles when possible.

—The pattern guidesheet offers many tips to make sewing easier—read it carefully before starting to sew.

—Do as much machine stitching as possible—blind hemming stitch, top stitching, stitch in the ditch (a machine stitching in the seamline on the right side.)

GREEN CLINIC

Q: Why do the leaves on a recently planted azalea turn light green then yellow?

A: When the foliage of an evergreen such as an azalea turns pale and ultimately yellow, the most probable reason is that the soil pH is not acid enough. When soil is too alkaline, not enough iron is made available to the plant—and evergreens in particular crave iron. Feed yellowing evergreens with cottonseed meal or another high-acid fertilizer, and supplement this with some micronized iron.

Older Populace Has More Clout

If there seems to be more older people around in Texas today, that's because their tribe is indeed increasing.

Not only are there more older persons (age 65 and over), but their portion of the overall Texas population is expanding faster than ever.

What this all means is that the state's population is becoming top heavy with older people and that they will have more say-so socially, economically and politically.

Such trends as these are described in Bulletin 1150—The Older Population of Texas—a publication just released by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station and the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Author of the bulletin is Dr. R.L. Skrabanek of the Texas A&M University Real Estate Research Center and the Department of Sociology and Anthropology. His associates on the study were Dr. W. Kennedy Upham, now of the State College of Arkansas, and Dr. Ben E. Dickerson, now of Stephen F. Austin State University.

Skrabanek says the estimated number of older persons in Texas in 1974 was 1,107,000, a surge of 115,000 since 1970. Compared to the state's total population, aged citizens are increasing at a considerably faster rate.

In 1850, one of 67 persons was in the 65 and older category. By 1970, those figures changed to one out of 11. One out of 10 is expected by 1980.

The sociologist also noted that Texans in the 75 to 80 age group are up 33 per cent in number; 80 to 84, up 51 per cent; and 85 plus, up 75 per cent.

Of course, the reason for this is increased life expectancy through better nutrition and medical care, Skrabanek says. A baby born in 1850 had a life expectancy of about 35 years. Now it's a little over 71 years, or more than double.

So despite all the clamor about environmental pollution and such maladies as cancer and high blood pressure, Texans are staying healthier into older ages.

Skrabanek's Experiment Station research points to more clout by the older generation.

"As older people continue their rapid increase in numbers and make up an increasingly larger share of the total population, they will receive wider public attention.

"They will have a broader role to play in politics, and more attention will be given to their recreation and housing needs, to different kinds of retirement and pension programs and to medical and welfare services," He explained.

Statistics gathered by the sociologist show that only a small segment of older persons—about one out of 20—lives in homes for the aged.

The bulletin also explains just who older people are in Texas.

As expected, most are widows. Their numbers jumped by 100,000 during the past decade. Skrabanek predicts there will be more older widows, and they will control more purse strings and wield more political power in the future.

In Shropshire England, it is said that a piece of hawthorn cut on Holy Thursday will protect both house and person from being struck by lightning.

Scribbles and Scratches

EXCEPTIONAL PEOPLE, such as child prodigies or artisans who create immortal products, are frequently misunderstood, sometimes insane, but always fascinating. One cannot help but be mesmerized by the special fiber which forms the brains, the inspiring skills of the genius, the masters.

Featured on the "Tomorrow" program Monday night was a disarming 9-year-old boy who composes classical music and possesses an intelligence quotient surpassing 200. Masking his marvelous intellect behind a slow southern drawl, the prodigy displayed a conception of science, mathematics, music and other scholarly matters far beyond his years.

Despite his tender age, that strange air, perhaps best described as "eccentricity" was already noticeable in his manners. He appeared to be shrouded inside himself, seeming to not hear (or simply ignoring) the questions of late-night host Tom Snyder. The youngster definitely dominated conversation, voicing his interests and not bothering to see that his answers matched the respective questions.

The captivating portion of the youth's character was his idiosyncratic manner, which marked him as a genius able to shut out the world with intense concentration. This quality is akin to the singularity of Salvadoré Dali, the Spanish artist who is oddly reminiscent of the Old Masters, but whose ego is mastered by none.

In a rare filmed interview with Dali, he expressed a warped, frightening view of life and convinced me that he is insane by conventional standards. His massive weird villa in Spain houses many odd fetishes, which include stuffed giraffes, electric Madonnas and other equally strange artifacts.

Dali's abstract paintings frequently focus on melting clocks, deformed animals and surrealistic subjects, however, he can also paint warm and definitive works. He is a skilled artist.

Dali is a loathsome man (he boasts strong worship for money and enjoys to see animals suffer), yet he has an ingrained charisma, for his is a mind so singular that it is almost hypnotic. Like that 9-year-old, he bears the brand of a very special human who is unforgettable.

It may seem unfathomable, but scientists are experimenting with lifting the voices of artisans from their actual paintings and sculptures. It is even deemed possible that museums will someday be able to broadcast the actual voices of Rembrandt, Michelangelo, Raphael and other top caliber artists.

Carl Brown's name got lost in the shuffle of May graduates from West Texas State University. The son of Mr. and Mrs. Gid Brown of 241 Star, Carl received a bachelor of science degree in biology and was included on the Deans' Honor Roll for the last semester.

The youth plans to begin post-graduate work at the University of Texas School of Medicine at San Antonio. Carl graduated in 1971 from Hereford High School, where he contributed many hours as a trainer in the athletic program. He was also active in Key Club.

It's been 38 years since actress JEAN HARLOW passed away in June 1937. Ticket agencies in Boston are undergoing a very thorough investigation... Time and costs for a new half-hour TV series will average about $115,000 for the coming season, about $20,000 more than last year.

A new "Robin Hood" starts shooting in Spain soon with SEAN CONNERY and AUDREY HEPBURN in the starring roles... "Cabaret" is currently in its 120th week in Berlin... Three books are already out on the market about JAMES CAGNEY and two more are on the way... Records and tapes reached an all-time high of $2.2-billion last year, the highest ever.

MOSES—THE LAWGIVER, with Bert Lancaster, is a six-part Biblical drama which will be presented on CBS on Saturday nights this summer, beginning June 21.

OTHER THAN MOSES, summertime is a thimble as far as TV programming is concerned. Look for an abundance of reruns and a variety of pilots, as networks get a feel for the viewers pulse, looking toward next year.

Project Workers, New Officers

Products from Deaf Smith County will fill these "good luck" bags which Miss Hereford Monica Herring will give to her fellow competitors at the Texas pageant July 9-12 at Fort Worth. Home Demonstration members worked on the pouches during the council meeting Monday. Putting in the final stitches are, from left, Mmes. Jerry Stewart, Leroy Johnson, State Norvell and

Tech Sets Up Roy Furr Memorial

A memorial fund benefiting the College of Business Administration at Texas Tech University has been established at Texas Tech University in honor of the late Roy Furr Sr. of Lubbock.

The fund was initiated Tuesday (June 17) with a $10,000 contribution presented by Retha Martin, board chairman of the Dunlap Co. of Lubbock, to Dr. Jack D. Steele, dean of the college.

The goal of the fund is the purchase and implementation of a mini-computer for the college, Steele said. The computer, with 32 terminals, will cost some $150,000 to install. The computer will aid in offering individualized instruction to business students.

Contributions may be made in the form of checks to the Texas Tech Foundation for the Roy Furr Senior Memorial Fund.

Fabricated Food Defined

Terms used to describe fabricated foods often confuse consumers.
Frances Reasonover, foods and nutrition specialist, explained that fabricated foods are those that have been designed, engineered or formulated from ingredients that may or may not include additives, vitamins and mineral.

This specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System, offered help for consumers in telling the difference among these terms.
"Restoration is adding selected nutrients to a food to restore nutrients lost through processing."

If enough Vitamin C were added to a frozen apple pie to bring the Vitamin C back to the original level of the apples, it could be called a restored food, Miss Reasonover explained.

"Fortification is adding selected nutrients not normally present in that particular food."

"If protein were added to the apple pie mentioned above, protein not being a natural nutrient to this food, it would be called fortification. Another example is adding Vitamin D to milk."

Enrichment is adding nutrients to a food so as to make that food conform to some special standard. Vitamins and minerals added to an ordinary flour to achieve the standard for enriched flour constitute flour enrichment, she said.

"Nutrition enhancement is adding nutrients to a food by fortification, enrichment or restoration. Nutrition is the same as nutritional enhancement."

"Nutritionally-modified foods have had nutrients added to them so that they contain food values at least equal to the natural foods they may replace in the diet."

"An example is textured vegetable protein made from soy with mineral and vitamins added so that it has all the nutrients of the meat it replaces in the diet," the specialist explained.

Simulated foods are designed to completely replace some other food. They are made to look, taste and feel like the food they replace.

Meat analogs, made from plant proteins, are similar to the real meats they replace. Soy milk is designed to replace cow's milk.

"Synthetic foods are those made from materials generally thought of as nonfood sources. An imaginary example might be a product made from corncobs, with minerals and vitamins added for nutrition and sweetened for taste acceptance."

"Synthetically sweetened soft drinks and fruit drinks bear little relation to real fruit juices," she said.

THE HOME GAME BY VIRGINIA TRUAX

BERRY BANTER — Nothing beats fresh berry pies this time of year. To prevent yours from becoming soggy, sprinkle a little flour on the bottom crust before adding berries.

FLOWER FACE-LIFT — To liven up droopy flowers, place stems in hot water for 10 minutes, then plunge into cold water for half an hour.

BETTER BEETS — Fresh beets from the garden become even more special if you add a dollop of sour cream to each portion just before serving.

LEAK NO MORE — A two-quart milk container with the top cut off makes a dandy miniature garbage pail for campers. Even greasy scraps and liquids stay put without leaking!

DOUBLE DUTY — Save all those plastic meat trays your supermarket meat comes home in. They make excellent little containers for storing frozen cookies, cupcakes, biscuits or muffins. Slip into a plastic bag and seal tightly.

Delegates Return From Convention

Four members of Delta Xi Chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma have returned from Dallas where they were among 1,000 delegates at the state DKG convention, which began June 19.

Attending the assembly, which involved the 234 DKG Texas chapters, were officers of the local unit, including Mrs.

Charles Bell, president; Mrs. Dean Bradley, vice president; Mrs. Roland Hairgrove, recording secretary; Mrs. Sue Painter, corresponding secretary.

Stressing a workshop format in preparation for the impending fall school term, the convention cited Delta Xi as an honors chapter for their generous contribution to the state scholarship fund. The local delegation also attended a Founders Dinner, during which Mrs. Bell was saluted and the Hereford Chapter featured as a special segment.

Based at the Sheraton Hotel, the meeting centered on a quote from Ralph Waldo Emerson, "A man's actions are but a picture book of his creed."

Highlighting the three-day convocation was the society's international president, Mrs. Esther Strickland of Columbus, Ohio.

In addition to informative clinics and receptions, delegates took a shopping tour of North Park and attended Dallas Summer Musicals.

Accent on Health

J.E. PEAVY, M.D., Commissioner of Health

There's a lot going for the individuals who can their own food. They save money, use up the bountiful produce from their home gardens and have tasty, nutritious food the year round.

But, says the State Health Department, home canning can be dangerous—even lethal—unless proven canning techniques and recipes are followed to the letter.

With an upswing in the amount of home canning and freezing done in Texas, State Health Department officials are concerned about the possibility of food contamination, especially botulism.

Botulism is caused by a deadly poison—a toxin—produced by a germ found abundantly in the soil. This germ is one of the spore-forming bacteria and is very resistant to normal heat and cold. It can grow without air, which makes it a sinister threat in home canning.

While the germ itself doesn't cause illness, the toxin it produces can be fatal to man. These bacteria are found nearly everywhere, and it's probable that nearly everyone has eaten them many times in their safe, inactive form on fresh food.

But, if these bacteria remain alive through the canning process and continue to live in an oxygen-free state—in a sealed airtight jar or can—they will manufacture the botulism toxin as a product of their metabolism.

That's why in canning it is so important to properly process food so that the food is cooked long enough and at a temperature high enough to kill the bacteria.

Three conditions are necessary for the botulism bacteria to grow. It must have an anaerobic environment (oxygen-free), have lots of moisture and have low acid. It's easy to see how a sealed jar could provide such an atmosphere.

Luckily, despite all the home canning done in Texas and the United States, the number of reported botulism cases are few in number. How many people are made ill by improperly processed foods due to other germs is anybody's guess.

Twenty outbreaks of food-borne botulism, involving 30 cases, were reported to the federal Center for Disease Control during 1974. There were seven deaths. In addition, five cases of wound botulism—caused by the bacteria getting into a wound—were reported.

Texas had only one of those 24 food cases—caused by home-canned chow-chow. And, it had one case of wound botulism.

Of the 24 cases of food botulism, the contaminated product was known in 16 cases. Of these, 15 were due to home canned products and one to a commercially canned beef stew.

The 1974 data, reports the Center for Disease Control, represents the largest number of foodborne botulism outbreaks reported by state health departments since 1935. This increase, says the CDC, probably reflects an increase in home canning and emphasizes the need for educating home canners in proper home canning methods.

Such information, says J.M. Doughty Jr., director of the State Health Department's Food and Drug Division, is readily available. It can be obtained from the United States Department of Agriculture, from Home Demonstration agents, from reliable cookbooks, and handbooks provided by manufacturers of canning equipment. Information also may be available at your local library.

Using the proper equipment and following recipes to the letter is extremely important. Sometimes it may be the proportions of sugar, vinegar or lemon juice which provide protection against the growth of harmful bacteria. Use jars and sealing rings designed for home canning, and follow the manufacturer's instructions on sealing the jars.

If you're in doubt about any foodstuffs which you've just opened, don't be foolhardy enough to taste it. With botulism, there may be no odd taste or odor. But tasting the product—or even taking a long whiff of it—could be your downfall if botulism is concerned. "If in doubt, throw it out!" is the recommendation of the State Health Department.

There's another strong point in favor of the home canner, says Doughty. Boiling the food for a sufficient length of time before eating will kill the toxin. "The toxin is easily destroyed by boiling," he said. All home canned products should be boiled vigorously for three minutes with thorough stirring before serving.

There's a new name in public health in Texas—the Texas Department of Health Resources—but the services offered under the new title will be as effective as those offered under the old title of the Texas State Department of Health.

A few weeks ago the Texas legislature passed, and Governor Dolph Briscoe signed, the Texas Health Planning and Development Act. This new law changed not only the name of your state health department but part of the agency's organization and purpose in order to better serve the state's residents.

The new Department of Health Resources will be governed by a Texas Board of Health Resources that has eighteen members—twice the number that served on the old State Board of Health. The membership of the new Board of Health Resources will include six physicians, two hospital administrators, a dentist, a registered nurse, a veterinarian, a pharmacist, a nursing home administrator, an optometrist, a civil engineer, a chiropractor, and two members of the general public. The members of the Board of Health Resources will serve six-year terms, with one-third of the terms ending in each odd numbered year. The Board will meet once a month at the Department's offices in Austin; in contrast, the former State Board of Health met only once every three months.

Title of the chief executive of the Department, the Commissioner of Health, has been changed to Director of Health Resources. The director will be appointed by the Board and serves at the will of the Board. The law still requires that this position be filled by a licensed medical doctor.

One of the most significant changes for the state health department is that the new law designates the Department as the official state health planning and development agency. Such a state agency is necessary under federal law in order to obtain certain funds. The part of the law dealing with health planning and resources development is vested in the new Department of Health Resources. This will make possible a statewide, coordinated health service.

A new, separate state agency—the Texas Health Facilities Commission—was created to take care of the mandatory certificate of need for health facility construction. The commission will be composed of three members appointed by the Governor to review applications and issue these certificates of need.

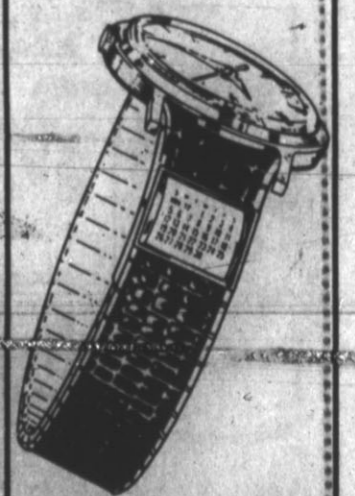

Purpose of this provision of the law is to avoid duplication of health facilities and to prevent escalation of the cost of health care.

The Legislature also created another coordinating mechanism under the new law. The Texas Coordinating Commission for State Health Welfare Services will include the heads of various state agencies and the executive heads of other health-related state agencies as ex-officio members.

The purpose of the Commission will be to assist the state agencies in planning and developing services to meet the needs of the public with maximum efficiency and minimum duplication or overlap. The Commission will carry out a continuing study and analysis of the services and programs of all health and welfare-related agencies, and will make specific recommendations to the state Legislature each year.

4-H'ers Learn Through Travel

Summer is ideal travel time. And this year hundreds of boys and girls will combine vacations and learning through the Texas 4-H and youth program.

Through short-term exchange trips, 4-H'ers in the state travel to other Texas counties to learn about the area history, industry and agriculture," points out Yvonne Garcia, 4-H and youth specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. "Intrastate exchanges also help stimulate new program ideas for 4-H volunteer leaders and members."

Several Texas counties conduct two-year interstate exchange programs notes Garcia. These involve travelling one year to a selected county in the United States and then hosting the out-of-state 4-H group next year.

The young people with the help of their county Extension agents and volunteer leaders select a 4-H group similar to their own. For example, a 4-H ecology project group in Texas may visit a similar group in Tennessee to study their educational activities, materials and programs. The following year, the 4-H group from Tennessee will visit the Texas group to see how they conduct their ecology activities. Both groups share ideas and make appropriate changes or additions for the future.

"Families at home can also play an important role in 4-H exchange programs by hosting 4-H'ers in their homes for one to three weeks," adds the 4-H and youth specialist.

Former 4-H'ers interested in international understanding can spend three to six months in one of 35 cooperating countries as an International 4-H Youth Exchange delegate. During their stay, delegates live with host families, studying 4-H programs abroad and sharing customs and traditions.

"As a 4-H exchange or a host family, 4-H can open doors to understanding," contends Garcia.

Battered In Hailstorm

This field of corn located northeast of Hereford was stripped of leaves in a hailstorm Friday night. Heaviest damage from storms Thursday and Friday was reported northeast of the city, with hail falling over widely scattered areas of the county. Most hail-battered corn and milo crops are expected to put out new leaves and grow out of the damage, but the batterings received in the hail may result in reduced yields at harvest time.

Beef Consumption To Be Up For 75?

Will U.S. consumers eat more beef in 1975?

"Most authorities feel that per capita consumption of beef will surpass the record of 117 pounds of last year," points out Dr. Ed Uvacek, livestock marketing specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. "Estimates are placed at 122 to 125 pounds per person."

"It will be difficult to absorb all this beef without lower price levels that have existed in the two years. There are also other factors that will influence beef prices and consumption in the coming months," notes the Texas A&M University System specialist.

Uvacek lists the business recession, high unemployment and the increased cost consciousness of consumers as having a dampening effect on beef consumption. This slight easing in demand along with a heavy slaughter will result in a continued oversupply of beef going into 1976, believes the specialist.

"A large supply of beef at low to moderate prices would normally stimulate consumption, but consumer reaction and preference is often difficult to evaluate," says Uvacek. "The overall state of the economy will have a strong hand in determining consumers' tastes and preferences for beef during the remainder of the year."

"Should beef prices strengthen in the coming months, consumption may drop considerably. One need only look back at 1973 when per capita consumption dropped to a four-year low, due mainly to high beef prices. Will improved prices to producers bring the same situation?"

Report On Cloud Seeding Available

Many High Plains farmers have watched aircraft seed clouds briefly overhead and wondered about the outcome. Those farmers that organized together to pay for the cloud-seeding may also have asked themselves, how well does it work? Some partial answers are contained in a new research report released by the Texas Water Development Board.

Report 193, "An Evaluation of Weather Modification Activities in the Texas High Plains," was prepared by a team of six scientists of Texas A&M University working under contract for the Board. Project leader was Dr. James R. Scoggins, Associate Dean for Research in the University's College of Geosciences.

Cloud-seeding to reduce hail began in the region surrounding Littlefield and Plainview in 1970, and has continued there during each spring-summer-fall season to the present. Sponsoring the operations are two organizations of farmers concerned with the high risk of hail damage to cotton and other crops—Better Weather, Incorporated* of Littlefield, and the Plains Weather Improvement Association, of Plainview. Clouds are "seeded" in these operations by releasing very fine particles of silver iodide into the updraft area at cloud bases, using aircraft equipped with flares that dispense the silver iodide. Hopefully, countless small ice crystals then form in the cloud rather than large hail.

To evaluate results, Dr. Scoggins' team analyzed by computer the available rainfall data in a block of 14 High Plains counties, and numerous statistics on crop damages from hail in this area for 1970-73 provided by the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service of the U.S. Department of Agriculture, the Federal Crop Insurance Corporation, and the Crop-Hail Actuarial Association.

The investigators found remarkably little effect on either rain or hail from these cloud-seeding operations, a sharp contrast with results reported in some states which have different cloud types and weather systems.

The report, for example, notes that threefold to fivefold increases in rainfall from seeding isolated clouds has been reported in South Florida and Arizona, and a 25-per cent increase in snowfall from seeding clouds in mountains of some of the Western States.

In the Littlefield-Plainview region the effect of cloud-seeding has been so small that,

TOWER TALKS
by U.S. Senator for Texas
JOHN TOWER

Water Rights Threat

WASHINGTON—Federal regulations are being drafted that could strangle the liberty and prosperity of millions of American farmers and ranchers with miles of bureaucratic red tape. I'm doing what I can to remedy this situation.

Under proposed rules being prepared now by the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers, the rancher who wants to enlarge his stock pond, the farmer who wants to deepen his irrigation ditch or plow a field, or the mountaineer who wants to protect his land against stream erosion could be required to get a federal permit first.

The proposed regulations constitute "a harassment to farmers and ranchers trying to grow this nation's food supply," according to Secretary of Agriculture Earl Buttz. "Millions of people, as they now operate . . . could be fined up to $25,000 a day and imprisoned for one year for violations" of the new rules, Buttz warned.

The proposed regulations were drafted in response to a federal district court decision last March in a suit brought by environmental groups against the Corps of Engineers and the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA).

The decision of the U.S. District Court for the District of Columbia expanded federal authority over "navigable waters" to include virtually every river, stream, brook, lake, wetland and irrigation project in the United States.

The district court decision is judicial usurpation of the worst sort. It would expand the jurisdiction of the Corps of Engineers far beyond anything possibly imagined by Congress. It would effectively strip the states of their authority to administer those resources which traditionally have been theirs to administer.

What is more frightening, the court decision would require the Corps of Engineers to assume control over the activities of a great portion of our nation's farmers, a further deterioration of the private property rights of individuals. At a time when private farmers are already reeling under economic pressures, the possible expansion of federal control would be an intolerable additional burden.

I have introduced one bill, and cosponsored another, that would negate the effect of the court decision. My bill would amend the federal Water Pollution Control Act to make it clear that federal authority over "the navigable waters of the United States" would be limited to those involving interstate commerce.

The bill I have cosponsored with Sen. Robert Dole of Kansas would go even further to protect the rights of individual property owners and the several states from federal encroachment.

I am hopeful that one or both of these measures will be passed before any Texas farmers suffer from that nefarious court ruling.

Travel Info-Available Through WT Chamber

Travel information may be obtained on towns and attractions located throughout West Texas through the Tourist and Travel Development Department of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce.

Development Director Ed Coltharp, in charge of travel promotion for the Regional Chamber, state, "that the most popular information piece being distributed is the 'Wonderful West Texas' Fun and Adventure Map."

The Fun and Adventure Map is in full color and contains photos and information on some 68 points of interest located throughout the 132 West Texas counties served by the WTCC. The publication is centered around a highway map of West Texas, suitable for travel use, and each attraction in number keyed on the map for easy location.

The Fun and Adventure Map locates many points of interest that might otherwise be overlooked by the traveler and by using the map a most enjoyable and educational vacation or weekend visit can be planned with plenty left over for many visits in the future to Wonderful West Texas.

In addition to the Fun and Adventure Map, individual brochures are available on almost every town and attraction in West Texas.

Mr. Coltharp said, "that the WTCC Tourist and Travel Development Department encourages requests for the various publications and that all information was provided free to the general public."

Requests for information should be addressed to Travel Department, West Texas Chamber of Commerce, P.O. Box 1561, Abilene, Texas, 79604

1/2 c finely chopped chocolate covered almonds
16 Graham crackers
8 whole chocolate covered almonds
Add chopped almonds to 1/2 cup cream substitute. Spread on Graham crackers, place together to make a loaf. Wrap in plastic wrap. Chill overnight. Just before serving spread remaining cream on loaf. Garnish with whole almonds.
