Quarterly Reports Show Deposits, Loans Gain

The hours of 6:30 p.m.-9 p.m. have been designated for "Trick or Treat" in Muleshoe on Monday night, Halloween. Youngsters are asked to stop only at houses that have porch lights on.

L. T. Johnson said the x-ray machine at West Plains Medical Center is broken and replacement parts will not be available prior to Trick or Treating for Halloween.

He said he regrets very much that he will be unable to x-ray the youngsters' treats, but suggests that parents carefully check their children's treats for any abnormalities.

Progress Baptist Church is hosting a Revival October 30-November 2.

Evangelist Chuck Tripp will lead the four day revival, with Roy Donaldson directing the music.

Theme for the revival is "Jesus Is The Answer." Evening services will start at 7 p.m.

Sunday will be Family Night; Monday is Pack the Pew Night; Tuesday is Friend's Night and Wednesday is Youth Night.

Charles Fisk, the pastor said, "Our goals for this revival is to uplift our spirits and show others the way of salvation. We hope to see you there."

Are you ready for spooks and goblins? The Muleshoe Girl Scouts are sponsoring a Haunted House Monday night at the former Cat's Meow, on West American Blvd. across the highway from Muleshoe Motor Co.

Admission will be only $1 to allow you to be scared out of your wits, and it will be open 6 p.m.-10 p.m. complete with all the sights and sounds of Halloween.

There will also be one special "Not So Spooky" room for the little kids! Included will be surprises and refreshments, as well as a lot of fun.

PATIENTLY WAITING FOR THE TIME TO CHANGE--All decked out in her pajamas, and with her favorite sleeping partner, her Teddy Bear, three year old Eva Pylant, is waiting for the clock to reach 2, so she can set her clock back and go to bed. Actually, if you set your clock back an hour before retiring on Saturday night, you will be all ready for six months of Central Daylight Time. If you didn't set your clock back, you will find yourself one hour early for church, work, or Sunday dinner. The time will go back to Daylight Savings Time in April. Eva is the daughter of Dick and Lol Pylant, and has a big brother, Brett. (Journal Photo)

Muleshoe Mules Fall Victim To Victory Hungry Chieftains

As the Muleshoe Mules, their fans drove home from Friona Friday night, their minds must have been on the many strange football plays they watched during the evening.

It was a night of contrasts, with many mental mistakes on both sides, and not really a very well played ballgame for either team, despite the Friona Chieftain victory of 23-0.

Friona scored in each quarter, while holding the Mules out of the end zone steadily throughout the game.

Andy Langfitt had a big night for the Muleshoe Mules, and was all over the field through the game.

Other Mules that turned in rather decent performances were a couple of players who have been moved up from the JV, Juan Perez and Hector Sanchez.

However, despite each and every play attempted, the Mules failed to get into the end zone.

Friona scored in the first quarter on their first possession of the game, after making it to paydirt after 15 plays on a three yarder. They then added two extra points on a pass.

CofC Fields Questions On By-Law Changes

More than 20 members of the Muleshoe Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture were at the Muleshoe City Hall at 6:30 a.m. Thursday for a CofC membership meeting.

In his first meeting after being named President, Robert Montgomery conducted the meeting.

He explained that the meeting was called to consider proposed changes to the CofC By-Laws.

However, one of the By-Laws NOT considered for changes was one that was perhaps violated by the Chamber of Commerce itself in conducting the meeting.

Under Article XII, Quorum - Section One reads: A quorum shall be declared when seven (7) members of the Board of Directors are in attendance. At any meeting of the Membership of the Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture, twenty-five members, in good standing, present shall constitute a quorum, provided notice of such meeting is published to general membership ten (10) days prior to such meeting.

In that event, the CofC did not have a quorum regardless, because no media was notified of the membership meeting by the Chamber of Commerce until two days before the meeting.

The CofC Board was proposing the following changes:

Article IV - Investments
Section 2 Any member whose investments are unpaid for a period of one month after date of Inflation? A depressed economy? Low prices for local and area grown commodities? Well, all of this may be true, but according to figures for the third quarter of 1988 from area bank statements show the banks are staying strong, steady, and gaining still on deposits and loans.

For the most recent reporting data from the third quarter, ending September 30, 1988, deposits at local and area banks totaled $232,395,535.

When compared with September 30, 1987 figures of $219,334,081, it shows a gain in deposits in the last year of $13,061,454.

For the same period of time, during the past year, the local and area banks saw an increase in loans of $6,363,930. Loans at the banks were $108,702,165 ending September last year, and for the same time this year, were $115,066,095.

For the local banks, which includes Muleshoe State Bank, First Bank of Muleshoe and First Bank of Bovina, deposits are shown to be $75,956,000 closing out September, 1988, up $8,784,000 from the reported amount of $67,172,000 reported for the same time a year ago.

Last year, on September 30, loans at the same banks were $40,892,000, and this had increased by $4,750,000 to the $45,642,000 combined total on September 30 this year.

First Bank of Muleshoe and First Bank of Bovina, showed combined deposits of $44,386,000 on September 30, 1988, up $15,217,000 from the $29,169,000 reported by First Bank a year ago.

At the same time, their loans increased by $6,413,000. Loans were $15,716,000 closing out September last year, and on the same date this year were $22,129,000.

For the same period of time, Muleshoe State Bank dropped back in both deposits and loans. Their deposits were $38,003,000 at the end of September, 1987, and had decreased $6,433,000 to the $31,570,000 reported on Cont. Page 6, Col. 3

Heritage Group Discuss Plan For Fundraiser

R. A. Bradley, president of the Muleshoe Heritage Foundation Board of Directors, was in charge of the regular meeting of the board Monday night at the Depot.

A review of the previous meeting was given by the president. He related that a tour was made of the Janes Ranch House to survey the progress that has been made. Stucco work on the outside has been completed, and work will begin soon on the porch stairway and steps.

SPS will begin work to modernize and improve the electrical wiring to the Heritage buildings.

Paving the streets and building sidewalks around the Depot were discussed.

Pat Prater presented the idea of locating, in the future, an Outdoor Theater on the Heritage grounds.

Fund-raising plans were presented and discussed by the board. An old-fashioned Box Supper, sponsoring an auction, and sponsoring John Erickson, the author of "Hank, The Cowdog," series were explored.

Members attending were R. A. Bradley, Clifford Black, Chuck Smith, Mary Moore and Elizabeth Watson.

Regular meeting for the Heritage Board is the third Monday of each month at 7 p.m.

Sports Magazine Gives Grant To DeShazo School

Dr. Lawrence Ward, superintendent of Muleshoe ISD, announced Thursday that DeShazo Elementary School has been chosen by "Sports Illustrated" magazine to participate in a nationwide reading program, the "Sports Illustrated For Kids," reading team.

Mrs. Roxie Johnson, the PE/Health teacher at DeShazo, wrote the grant and will teach the program during fourth and fifth grade health classes. She said that the goal of the program is to get teachers, parents, and students working together to make reading fun.

The first issue is expected in early January, and all fourth and fifth graders will get their own copy of the kid's version of the magazine.

There will be no cost to the Muleshoe ISD because a group of corporate sponsors will provide the magazine to any school selected as a grant winner.

Retired Teacher Remembers A Full, Active Life

(Editor's note: It's time for another In Profile, and we are sure you will enjoy just a little of the story of this remarkable woman, who, although not a local person, has been well known in Muleshoe for many years. Come along and meet Mariet Lamb, and enjoy a few of her adventures.)

Mariet Lamb, who was born in the year before the 'turn of the century,' in Hazel, Kentucky, is modest, retiring and every inch the 'lady.' For many years, she has made her home in Los Angeles, California, and the 89 year old sister of Gil Lamb, had many adventures while teaching school and all during her lifetime.

Her one concession to age is not coming to Muleshoe during the wintertime, preferring to stay in the warmer climate of Los Angeles, where she now makes her home in a retirement village --and to take up part of her time, "takes care of some of her older friends," both of whom are 91 years of age.

Miss Lamb drove her own vehicle until October, 1987, when she voluntarily stopped driving, although her driver's license doesn't expire until 1990. "I stopped driving on October 1 last year," she said, "I won't ever forget it because it was the day called 'Earthquake Day' in Los Angeles."

Now, she gets around on the bus, by taxi, and by air. An accomplished world traveler, she still travels to Muleshoe, although she hasn't traveled overseas for the past few years.

To celebrate her 80th birthday, she flew to London, to meet with friends she had made while living in London for three months in the 1960's after retiring from teaching. From there they flew to the Greek Islands to celebrate her birthday.

She has also traveled all over Europe and in the Orient.

Although Miss Lamb started out in Kentucky, when she was around 10 years old, she and her family traveled, by train, to New Mexico, as her mother had health problems.

After spending the first year in Alamogordo, the family moved to Roswell, where she graduated from Roswell High School.

It took more than one attempt for Mariet Lamb to complete her college education. Periodically, she would take off for a year to help when her mother was very ill.

She became a teacher at an elementary school in the country before she completed her college work. After teaching English there for a year, she moved to California.

But, one of the great adventures of her life was becoming the teacher in the small school in New Mexico.

"My very first teaching job was in 1920, after I got a letter from a friend in Lovington, N.M. telling me they needed a teacher at a little school," she remembered.

"I was not in college that year, I was staying home with mother for a year to help take care of her."

"I rode in a mail car, loaded with mail and merchandise, mainly tires, that poked over the seat and poked me in the back of the neck," she added.

Miss Lamb said it was raining very hard and she was wearing an imitation beaver hat. She said the mail touring car had perforations in the roof, and the rain was dripping through. "The hat started hanging in rolls around my face," she said, with a grin.

She said the car came to some sand that it could not go through, so they stopped at a rural house where arrangements had been made to eat lunch. A covered wagon, with two men driving, was waiting to take on the mail and merchandise at that point.

After paying 50 cents for a meal and the transfer of the mail being made, she and the two male drivers started off to Pearl, N.M., where she was to teach.

She said the two men sat on the seat and she was seated on mail sacks. "On the way I entertained them by reciting poetry," she said. "I don't know what made me think they would appreciate being entertained with the recitation of poetry."

Teens Eat Poorly, Most Know Better

Most teenagers know what constitutes a healthy diet, but still tend to make food choices that may lead to a lifetime of poor eating habits.

According to a recent Gallup poll of 375 12-17-year-olds, 87 percent of teens surveyed said they put "a lot" or "some" effort into a healthy diet.

However, the teenagers listed potato chips, corn chips, cookies, candies and ice cream among their top snack food choices. Hamburgers, cheeseburgers, pizza and luncheon meats ranked among their top lunch choices.

About 63 percent of the teenagers said they learned about cholesterol in school, but less than a third were able to identify cholesterol-rich foods, such as butter and eggs.

"Skipping meals, snacking, eating away from home, eating fast foods and going on fad diets are common teenage eating patterns," said Dr. Mary Kinney Sweeten, a nutrition specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service at Texas A&M University.

In spite of their eating patterns, Sweeten said the nutritional status of teenagers as a group is good, except for a few problem nutrients. For example, adolescents have higher requirements from iron and calcium, but many teens, especially girls, don't get enough.

"Teenage girls tend to drink soft drinks instead of milk which may contribute to low calcium status. Yet they need the calcium to build bone mass which will help prevent osteoporosis late in life," she said.

"While teenagers' eating patterns may do little harm while they're young, they are also forming habits which probably will not serve them very well as adults," said the specialist.

Parents can help insure their teenager's nutritional status by making sure that meals eaten at home are balanced, containing lean meat, poultry or fish; vegetables and fruit; whole grain products; and dairy foods, Sweeten said.

Offering plenty of nutritious snacks, such as fruit, low-fat yogurt, unbuttered popcorn or oatmeal cookies rather than high-fat snack foods may also encourage better eating.

"It's not too soon for older teenagers to begin thinking about their cholesterol intake either," said the nutritionist. "Health authorities recommend that adults get no more than 300 milligrams of cholesterol per day, but by the late teens many boys are getting 500 milligrams or more and girls intake levels are at about 300 milligrams per day."

Teenagers can start gradually reducing cholesterol intake by choosing low-fat or skim milk and other reduced-fat dairy products; eating a plain hamburger instead of a bacon double cheeseburger or cutting back on chocolate bars.

All teenagers, and especially those from families with a history of heart disease, high blood pressure or obesity, can reduce their future health risks by working on a healthier diet today, said the nutritionist.

Creative Living

By Sheryl Borden

Information on making cookies and microwave candymaking will be featured on "Creative Living" on Tuesday, November 8 at 12 noon and repeated on Saturday, November 12 at 2 p.m. on KENW-TV. (All times are Mountain.)

Joy Best is the Extension Home Economist in Roosevelt County, and she will share her recipes and expertise at cookie making and baking. She will present recipes and suggestions for making a variety of cookies—bar, rolled, pan, shaped and filled cookies.

The flashback segment will be on microwave candymaking with Connie Moyers, Marketing Home Economist with Southwestern Public Service Co. in Clovis. Candymaking doesn't have to be saved for the holiday season and by using the microwave oven, the preparation and clean-up is much easier. Connie will share several microwaveable candy recipes.

Spice cookery and computerized pants patterns will be featured topics on "Creative Living" on Tuesday, November 8 at 9:30 p.m. and on Thursday, November 10 at 12 noon. Polly Murray is the Manager of Consumer Affairs with McCormick & Co. in Baltimore, MD, and each of the recipes she will share makes use of spices. Polly will tell about the company's free spice tip recipe cards that are available in most supermarkets throughout the country. Each recipe card presents three or four different ideas to try—all using spices in various combinations.

Laura Varney is the president and founder of Clothing Design concepts in Manhattan, KS, and the flashback segment will be on computer to each person's individual measurements. These patterns are of particular value to people with special fitting problems, but everyone can benefit from them.

"Creative Living" is produced and hosted by Sheryl Borden. The show airs on more than 100 PBS stations in the United States, Canada, Guam and Puerto Rico and is distributed by Pacific Mountain Network, Denver, CO. Viewers can request copies of printed materials offered on the show by calling on KENW-TV's toll-free telephone lines between 8 a.m. and 5 p.m. In New Mexico, the number is 1-800-432-2361, out-of-state: 1-800-545-2359 and Portales and Roosevelt County: 562-2121.

Local Couple's Granddaughter Receives Approval On Travel Stuff

Travel Stuff, the brainchild of Patricia Ragsdale McCarty, president of Great World Travel, Denver, Colo., received final approval by the Denver City Council Oct. 17. The concession was obtained via the 30 percent Affirmative Action Guideline at Stapleton International Airport in Denver for minority and women-owned businesses.

Ms. McCarty is a 1968, graduate of Friona High School and is the daughter of Waneen Ragsdale, and the late Mack Ragsdale. Buck and Maxine Ragsdale are her paternal godparents, and Jinks and Zora Mae Beller are her maternal grandparents and financial advisors that the odds were profoundly stacked against a new travel agency, due to the highly competitive nature of the industry in the Denver Market.

"This represents an enormous opportunity, and I am very grateful to the Affirmative Action Program and the City and County of Denver for targeting the new Mini-Mall area for small business," Ms. McCarty continued, "In addition to the convenience of airport ticket pick-up for my clients, this gives my travel agency a marketing edge in selling user-friendly software. Any client with my software package will have the ability to make their own travel arrangements via personal computer and modem, then collect their tickets at Travel Stuff."

In addition to the travel agency and concession at the airport, Ms. McCarty recently formed a meeting planning and convention services division called Meeting Innovations, LTD. In order to position itself for expected growth in the segment of the Denver market, Denver expects the Muleshoe area. Travel Stuff will offer unique and hard to find travel accessories, along with an array of gadgets, personal and business accessories, soft luggage, and gift items for children and adults at surprisingly affordable prices. Additionally, the concession will house a satellite ticket printer and facsimile machine for Great World Travel.

Once Travel Stuff opens in January, 1989, Great World Travel will be the only travel agency in the State of Colorado capable of printing airline tickets inside Stapleton International the fifth busiest airport in the world. The concession will be located between Concourse C&D, main terminal, in the soon-to-be-completed Mini Mall.

maturity shall not be eligible to vote, and if in arrears for three months after date of maturity, the membership may be forfeited by a majority vote of the Board of Directors at any duly called meeting, but forfeiture of membership shall not relieve the holder from any contractual obligations to the Chamber. Any member may be expelled by a two-third vote of the Board of Directors, at a regularly scheduled meeting thereof, for conduct unbecoming a member or prejudicial to the aims or repute of the Chamber, after notice and opportunity for a hearing are afforded the member complained against.

Only the portion "unpaid for a period of one month" was changed, and that to three months.

A request to have the 'contractual obligations' was explained that a member, even though they may 'drop out' as a member, is still obligated to pay any back dues, whether they voluntarily dropped out or not.

Another proposed change was Article VI Board of Directors in Section 3: The directors shall meet at least once a month on the third Thursday at the City Hall at 7 p.m. was changed to a place and time to be determined by the board.

In Article X Committees, Section was changed from "The executive committee will be composed of the President, the Vice President, Treasurer, Manager and Past President of the Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture.

Following a proposal from a member, and a second, the manager was deleted as an 'officer' of the Chamber, and Article VIII Officers, Section 1 will read: "The officers of the Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture shall consist of the President, Vice Presidents, Treasurer, Past President. Officers will be voted on by board of directors.

Another change concerned absences by a member of the Board of Directors. Now, the member MAY be dropped after three consecutive absences.

The next meeting for the proposed changes will be at 6:30 a.m. on Thursday, November 10, at the Muleshoe City Hall.

At the postmistress's house, they asked where the school teacher was supposed to stay. She was told with Mr. I. A. Willis. She said the men told her he was 'cranky, and complained all the time. He was 75, and his wife, 65. They told her he was 'awful' to get along with.

"I was just 20 years old, and didn't know what to expect," she said. "Mr. and Mrs. Willis were just darling to me," she said. For lunch each day, Mrs. Willis prepared ham and biscuit for her to take to school. They only bought ham and salt pork for meat, and did not eat the ham, saying, "the ham's for the teacher."

Miss Lamb said that each Saturday, Mrs. Willis would cook a huge pot of 'frijole beans' which would be warmed over every day until the next Saturday, when she would start over and cook another pot of frijole beans.

The retired teacher said all of her clothes were ordered from Montgomery Ward.

The new teacher had 14 students, with many of the boys around her own age, and certainly taller than she was.

One of their favorite things was to gather around the organ and sing songs, such as "Carry Me Back to Old Virginia."

She remembered that everything went fine until one day when it had snowed. She allowed the students 30 minutes for lunch, but some objected to the 30 minutes, and two or three students didn't come back into class. She sent notes home with the students, suspending them for a week. She also wrote the superintendent.

One night, in retaliation, while the students were still angry, they overturned her privy.

After consultation with the superintendent, the local school board, and parent meetings, the students came back to school.

At the end of the school year, the students all had to pass a state exam. Miss Lamb said she drilled and drilled the students, and they all passed. As the school year was concluding, the school had a party, including a program, and all families came. They had sandwiches, other food and coffee. A dance was held in the school room until midnight, with all of two musical instruments for the dance.

They told her, "Nothing is too good for Miss Lamb."

Although she could have stayed, she elected to move on to California.

After Mariet Lamb attended the University of New Mexico for two semesters, her mother died of her lingering illness, and Miss Lamb enrolled at the University of Wisconsin. In Wisconsin, she stayed in a house with several other students.

One of the students from the house went on a date with a man who called her and told her he remembered her from Chicago, her home town.

The man took the girl out, raped her and turned her loose. He wanted to see her again, and so her wouldn't kill her, she agreed to see him, then immediately left the college. In the next semester, the man called for her.

Miss Lamb, who answered the telephone, told the man she was not in school anymore, and asked for his name. She recognized his name as that of the rapist. He then asked for a date with her.

Miss Lamb agreed and accepted a date. After that, she immediately called the police, who hid across the street. The man arrived in a pickup truck for the date. And, when he got out of the vehicle, he was arrested by the waiting officers.

She said that the Madison, Wisconsin newspaper headlines the next day read in big, bold letters, "Wisconsin Coed Captured Man Who Attacked Chum."

When Miss Lamb went to California in 1929, she moved to Los Angeles. Her first teaching assignment was at an elementary school in the suburbs, where she taught Language Arts.

By the time she retired from the teaching profession, 41 and one half years after beginning her career, she had taught at three different high schools, and was chairman of the English Department for the Los Angeles School System.

A former student, who worked as a reporter for the Los Angeles Times, was doing a review of the movie, "Up The Down Staircase" and compared the movie to the "best teacher he ever had, Mariet Lamb."

To this day, Miss Lamb and the student are very good friends.

As a resident of Kingsley Manor Retirement Home in Los Angeles, Miss Lamb was delighted to find among the more than 200 residents, a former neighbor from Roswell, N.M.

"I check on Prue several times a day," she said, "and help give her medicine, check her windows, make sure she is comfortable, and get her ready to see her family."

"I also have another elderly friend. She's 91 and lives in an Alhambra Convalescent Home. She doesn't have any family left, so I take the bus to help take care of her," added the retired teacher.

Until a year ago, Miss Lamb drove the freeways to Alhambra to check on her friend, but now, takes the bus, and has to change, before she gets to the convalescent home.

She attributes a lot of her agility to walking a lot, at least a mile or two a day. "I am very fortunate," she added, "that I can walk unaided, so many can't anymore."

Although she has had a heart attack, has conquered cancer and phlebitis, she still counts herself as a very fortunate person.

"As you get older, your memory fails, and you aren't as sharp as when you were younger," she added. "One of the worst things that can happen is to reach for a word you know well, and can't remember what it is."

As a deaconess in the Christian Church, Miss Lamb does not miss church, although she has to now take a bus.

Theater continues to be a favorite recreation, although it is somewhat harder now to try to find a taxi following a performance, so her theater attendance is more limited than in the past.

In Muleshoe, she is visiting with her brother, Gil Lamb, and in the home of her niece, Magann Rennels.

Magann says, "Aunt Mariet is an inspiration to all of us, daddy, Jack (Rennels), the boys, Gil-robert, Payton and Grayson and myself."

Miss Lamb fully expects to make her yearly visit to Muleshoe again next year.

Booster Club Asked For Renovation

On Tuesday October 25, the Junior Varsity football team was highlighted by the Athletic Booster Club. Next Tuesday, November 1, at 7:30 p.m., the Boosters will highlight the Varsity Team.

Dr. Robert Lepard was a guest at the meeting. Dr. Lepard has been checking on the locker rooms at junior high and has asked the Booster Club to donate enough money to renovate the rooms.

The Boys' Varsity dressing room needs new lockers that lock, new carpet, new paint and carpet in the rest of the Boys' dressing rooms. They also need to be painted.

The Girls' dressing room needs to be carpeted and painted.

The project was voted on and passed by all present at the meeting.

Most of the work will be done by volunteers. If you can help, please notify Dr. Lepard or Coach Wade Littlefield.

Teel Bivins is the Strong, New Conservative Leader We Need in the Texas Senate

His values are our values. He's not a politician; Teel Bivins is a cattleman and a fourth-generation Panhandle native. If elected, he'd be one of only two members in the entire State Senate who makes his living in agriculture. He'll fight against a State Income Tax and oppose liberal legislators who've forgotten how to operate within a budget. He'll bring our beliefs in home and family, hard work, honesty and integrity to the Texas Senate, along with his fresh, new ideas about good jobs, better schools and safe communities. Teel has won the support of Democrats, Independents and Republicans alike because of his positive message and his conservative stand on issues like taxes, spending, education and crime. On Tuesday, November 8, vote for the kind of leadership we deserve. Vote Teel Bivins for the Texas Senate.

Drugs And Chemical Use In Animals Prompt Warning

Producers must follow precisely the label instructions on drugs and chemicals used on food-producing animals or be prepared to face the consequences.

"In an effort to prevent misuse of drugs in meat animals, the U.S. Department of Agriculture has passed regulatory laws to control drug and chemical use," said Spencer Tanksley, county agent with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Producers must use only those veterinary drugs, chemicals or feed additives approved by the Food and Drug Administration, Tanksley said. The substances must be used at the approved dosage rate, and for the specific purpose or treatment of conditions issued on the label.

The use of any drug or chemical within the established withdrawal time prior to marketing is illegal, he said.

Unapproved drug use in food animals is commonly known as extra-label usage and can only be used under the control of a licensed veterinarian.

"Extra-label usage must be in accordance with a veterinarian/client/patient relationship; a careful medical diagnosis; and a determination by the attending veterinarian that available labeled products have been found clinically ineffective," Tanksley added.

"There must be assurances that treated animals have been adequately identified and that extended withdrawal periods have been established before marketing," he said.

Tanksley concluded that the Food and Drug Administration and the Food Safety and Inspection Service of the USDA have the authority to enforce regulatory laws concerning drug and chemical use on animals.

Teel Bivins Gets

Anti Crime Okay

State Senate candidate Teel Bivins on Wednesday received the endorsement of ATTACK-PAC, a grass-roots, anti-crime organization.

During a news conference, ATTACK-PAC chairman and co-founder Richard Collins said Bivins has a strong anti-crime agenda, and would be a welcome addition to the Texas Senate.

"Texas needs Teel Bivins to represent it," Collins said. "The Panhandle and the South Plains need Teel Bivins in the state Senate, and we really need leadership down in Austin, especially in the criminal justice field."

Collins noted that Bivins is in favor of building more prisons, is an "Outspoken critic of gun control," and is pushing for changes in the state's early parole system.

"The number one crisis we have in this state is to end early parole," said Collins. "We need Teel Bivins down in Austin... trying to get strong criminal justice legislation passed."

ATTACK-PAC was formed in 1986 to endorse legislative candidates who would give strong priority to anti-crime legislation.

Bivins said he was pleased with the endorsement from ATTACK-PAC, the largest victims' rights organization in Texas.

"The first duty of government is to protect its citizens, and I don't think Texas is doing that job," Bivins said.

The ATTACK-PAC nod is the second major endorsement for Bivins this week. On Monday, the Texas Farm Bureau announced its backing for Bivins, through its Friends of Agriculture Fund.

Take a Second Look

On your first look, you may think that this little girl is riding a rocking horse, but look again. It is not a rocking horse but a little donkey.

About animals now, and children. Donkeys were one of the first animals to be tamed by man, and are gentle animals when they are not practicing the quality of being stubborn.

The quality of gentleness somehow reminds us of our Saviour, the Wonderful One.

Parents, teach your children about Jesus, who admonished us to let the little children come unto Him. Our Lord would remind us that the little ones are precious to the Father. We invite you to take the children to church this week.

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

Interceptions and fumbles marked the second quarter, but Friona still managed to add three points with a 30 yard field goal with just :51 left to halftime.

During the entire game, both teams were plagued with penalties, although Friona also won that contest with 125 penalty yards to 75 for the Mules.

Interceptions and fumbles still were prevalent in the third, with Chieftains in two consecutive plays dropping the ball while running untouched and no one else near.

In the third, the Chieftains made a four yard TD, but the PAT failed as Friona elected to go for two points.

Lackluster action marked the fourth quarter, but Friona made the final points of the game on a 15 yard pass play at 8:01 of the fourth. Again the PAT failed.

As the clock ran out, with just :07 left, Friona was still trying to add more points against their traditional opponents, the Muleshoe Mules.

The Mules had 22 carries for -6 yards in rushing to 27 carries for 178 yards for the Chieftains. The Mules completed 8-21 passes for 47 yards, while Friona had 90 yards in passes.

Muleshoe managed six first downs to 17 for Friona.

Next Friday night, the Mules will wind up the 1988 football season when they travel to Littlefield to take on the Wildcats. Gametime will be at 7:30 p.m., so be sure to attend and show your continued support for the Muleshoe Mules, who need your support even more when they are having a 'losing' season.

Valley Grain Will Build In Kentucky

According to the Henderson, Kentucky Gleaner Valley Grain Products, home-based in California, is preparing to build a $10 million corn processing plant at Henderson.

A groundbreaking brunch was held in Henderson on Wednesday, October 26.

In 1978, the Muleshoe Valley Grain Products, Inc. plant was

Alateen Group

Now Meeting

In Muleshoe

Within the last month, a new group has started meeting in conjunction with Alcohol Anonymous in Muleshoe.

Alateen, a fellowship of young Al-Anon members, five to 19 years of age, are youngsters whose lives have been affected by someone else's drinking.

Alateen meets on Saturday mornings at 10:30 a.m. in the old Intercept building behind West Plains Medical Center at 623 West Second Street. Alateens use the double door off the parking lot of the hospital.

Alateens meet to share experiences, strength and hope with each other.

They discuss their difficulties; learn effective ways to cope with their problems; encourage one another and help each other understand the principles of the Al-Anon program.

In the process, they learn that compulsive drinking is a disease; they can detach themselves emotionally from the drinker's problems while continuing to love the person; they are not the cause of anyone else's drinking or behavior; they cannot change or control anyone but themselves; they have spiritual and intellectual resources with which to develop their own potentials, no matter what happens at home and they can build satisfying and rewarding life experiences for themselves.

opened, with a masa plant opened here in 1962.

The Muleshoe facility was the first Valley Grain plant to be constructed outside of California and the Kentucky plant will be the second.

Henderson area farmers will be meeting in the next few weeks to discuss growing thousands of bushels of corn next year.

Valley Grain, which eventually will produce masa corn flour in Kentucky for use in Mexican food products, plans to buy 15,000 tons of yellow and white corn grown under contract in 1989, according to Greg Ransdell, the company's senior vice president.

That is expected to double in 1990, and could double again later if Valley Grain finds an adequate market for its flour in the eastern U.S. and Europe.

Sometime between October 31 and November 4, Valley Grain officials will meet with the Kentucky farmers to explain details of its corn-growing program and to answer questions, Ransdell said.

Among those on hand will be Don Fuller, currently division manager of the Muleshoe Facility and who will manage the Kentucky plant and serve as Valley Grain's division manager.

When Fuller moves to Kentucky, James Turnbow will move into the division manager position in Muleshoe.

After the corn receiving and storage facilities are built, Valley Grain will begin construction of its masa flour plant, where corn will be milled into flour. The masa plant should be completed in 1990, Ransdell said.

Valley Grain expects initial employment to total about 40 persons. The company has begun the process of hiring supervisory personnel, but hiring of production employees won't begin until next spring, Ransdell said.

If all goes well, the company says it could someday employ 150 persons for the Kentucky plant.

Running stocker calves on wheat pasture?

Now, more than ever, IVOMEC can build your profits.

At this year's beef prices, every pound you put on your calves is worth good money. And with IVOMEC (ivermectin) you can put on plenty of extra pounds.

Whenever you have cattle on pasture, you're bound to have parasites. And if your calves have been sold and resold before shipping, you can't know what parasites they've picked up. And parasites steal weight.

But one shot of IVOMEC kills 31 different kinds of parasites—more than twice as many as TRAMISOL® and WARBEX® combined.

IVOMEC kills mature and immature worms, so you don't have to use it again in a couple of weeks. And IVOMEC gets external parasites, too. It does it all with just one simple shot under the skin. No wrestling. No Mess. No stress.

So go with your best shot.

Get IVOMEC.

Record cold temperatures invaded the nation again early this month, as happened in September—when records were set then. Forecasters in September had predicted a warmer than usual October but have missed the mark. They had forecast cooler weather in Florida but were wrong there also—thus far. Warmer than normal temperatures were also forecast for the Ohio Valley—also wrong this far. And in the northeast there was snow the first days in October and many of the post-season baseball games were played in bone-chilling weather—in both New York and Boston. So, where is the much-talked greenhouse effect? Of course, one season or even two doesn't prove the trend is not taking place. But there are doubts about the more alarmist warnings heard this summer. The far north has also experienced strong cold fronts early, though the far west has been warm, generally. Many guessers (and that's what they are primarily) are predicting a mild winter. Don't count on it.

Balloon Show Slides Viewed By Kiwanis Club

By: R. A. Bradley

Twelve members and two guests, made up the list who attended the Muleshoe Kiwanis Club meeting at the Old Corral on Friday morning. Chad Johnson was a guest of his dad, Reggie Johnson, and Benny (Hop-Along) Parker was with his dad, J. O. Parker.

It was good to have these two young men present Friday morning.

President Keith Turner called the meeting to order; Nick Bamert led the club in the pledge to the flag, and Nick Bamert gave the invocation.

Our friendship coin finally came home from Colorado. It did get an elk, but it seems we will not have an elk fry. Since James Roy processed the elk, Nick gave the friendship coin to James Roy Jones. It so happens, the elk belongs to Nick's father-in-law.

Keith announced there will be a board meeting next Monday at 6:30 a.m. at the Old Corral. Keith also said it was good to have Don Clapp and Oscar Hernandez two weeks in a row.

R. A. Bradley gave a slide presentation of a part of the Balloon Festival at Albuquerque. If you have never been to one of these Balloon Festivals, there were about 600 balloons registered this year.

Most of these went up on the last Sunday of the Festival. There were approximately 80,000 people there that Sunday.

These balloons were beautiful of all colors, shapes and from many states and countries. This festival ran for nine days. One thing that is so impressive, is that you are walking right among the balloons as they are being aired up.

If you have never been, be sure and go sometime.

If you go, be sure and take lots of film, because you will be a part of a lot of people and lots of balloons.

Gerald McCathern Speaks Out

Last week, I discussed the adverse effects of imports on U. S. industry and U. S. jobs, and how those losses related to a loss of taxes to the U. S. treasury.

We should also be vitally concerned about the loss of tax-paying businesses and tax-paying jobs as a result of failing energy and agricultural policies.

Because the U.S. has allowed energy policy to be dictated by the O.P.E.C. nations, our oil and gas industry has been devastated during recent years. Not only have thousands of independent oil and gas producers been forced into bankruptcy, but related service and supply companies and financial institutions have also failed by the hundreds of thousands. These failures have resulted in the loss of five million productive, tax-paying jobs. The Texas Railroad Commission has calculated that for every rig that has been stacked, over 200 jobs have been affected.

Likewise, failing agricultural policies during the past eight years have resulted in hundreds of thousands of farm failures, taking with them hundreds of thousands of service and supply companies and the productive, tax-paying related jobs no longer needed by this giant industry.

It is easy to see that the huge budget deficits of the past few years and the increasing problem of balancing the budget is a direct result of the loss of tax-paying jobs in the energy and agricultural sectors.

Certainly we have waste, excess spending, graft and corruption in our federal government and we must demand honesty and efficiency -- but we must also demand that these failing economic policies be reversed. We must implement trade and tax policies which will encourage industry to move back to the U.S. from foreign countries; implement a tariff on imported oil which will remove the O.P.E.C. stranglehold on our domestic oil industry; and implement agricultural policies which will balance supply with demand and return a profit to our nation's farmers at the marketplace.

Such changes in policies will re-create millions of tax-paying jobs for American workers, relieve some of the tax-burden on those who have been forced to carry more than their fair share of the tax load, and have ample funds to balance the budget.

Again I say, we don't need more taxes -- we need more taxpayers.

Teacher Duo At Workshop On Motivation

Muleshoe High School teachers Alice Liles and Lola Pylant participated in the motivational "I Can" workshop held in Dallas on October 13-15.

"I Can" is a program developed by Mamie McCullough for the Zig Zigar Corporation. This company is involved in positive thinking and motivational training for the field of education as well as the business and private sectors. Mrs. McCullough spoke to the entire Muleshoe MISD faculty during inservice training in August and generated a mood of positive thinking with which the teachers could begin the school year.

Mrs. Pylant teaches Health and Marketing Education. She also works with students in the high school student council in fostering positive thinking and student involvement within the school and community.

Mrs. Liles teaches freshman English and Leadership.

The leadership course is based on Zig Zigar's book "See You At The Top" which is also used in the "I Can" workshop. The elective course is designed to enhance students' self-image and motivate positive thinking.

Last week, the mighty Longhorn band received a "3" at the Tech marching contest.

Thursday, Oct. 20, the students at Lazbuddie High were dismissed during activity period to make signs for the homecoming game against the Three Way Eagles. These signs were placed in the halls and gym along with other decorations to show school spirit. The Seniors received the spirit award for having the best sign.
