Personally Speaking

By E. M.

Of course I've always considered Darrouzett the most important little town in the Panhandle but even at that I didn't realize just how much power it did drag around these parts until the other day when I saw the following headline in a neighboring newspaper:

PROUDLY BROKEN,
WHEAT SEEDING
STARTED MON.

Meeting At Darrouzett
Last Friday To Make Arrangements

When breaking the dry spell depends upon Darrouzett arrangements, that really proves we do things around here, doesn't it?

Course this has nothing to do with the question of Darrouzett's influence or the above headline but I might as well quote another headline found in the same paper while I'm about it.

PLAN ORGANIZE
LIPSCOMB CO.
SCHOOL SUPPL'S

Sunday Afternoon Rain
And Continuing All
Night

Folks, you might as well darn up the red flannels, pull the bed socks out of hiding, and get ready for a hard old winter because cold days are certainly coming. At least chickens around here seem to think so. Those on one farm nearby have started growing double feathers already. The two I saw showed the quill tip supporting two separate plumes.

That conclusion about the cold spell may be all wrong. The chicks may just be trying to keep up with the demand for feathers for the new Empress Eugenie, alias female derby, hats.

Anyway if it isn't one of the two, tell why and give 10 reasons.

Some cartoonists really have a keen sense of humor. One especially clever cartoon that I saw recently depicts a stern papa bird sitting on the fork of a tree limb with his youngest offspring crouched fearfully on the shaking end of the same branch. "All right give her the gun," says the papa bird.

Another one shows the wrestling team going out for football. Ten pairs of men are doled up in various contorted half-Nelsons and other wrestling holds. The twenty-first man is all tied up in a knot, while No. 22 marches proudly away from him, bearing the pigskin for a touchdown.

Methodist Leaguers Plan Picnic Friday

Members of the Methodist Epworth League will hold a picnic supper on the G. A. Jenkins place east of town on Friday evening, according to an announcement made by Miss Ruby Messner, League president.

The group will meet at 6:30 at the school house. Glen Hennigh recreational chairman of the League assisted by a social committee, will be in charge of entertainment.

Girls are asked to bring baskets of food and the boys, fruit or soft drinks, according to Miss Messner. All young people in the community are urged to attend whether or not they are members of the League, Miss Messner said.

Community Chest Is Begun By Ladies Aid

A Community Chest project is being started by the Methodist Ladies Aid Society, according to Mrs. A. Blair Grubb, president.

The purpose for the new activity of the group is to provide clothing for needy people in the community, Mrs. Grubb said. Contributions of old clothing for the chest will be appreciated.

Ladies Aid members will also do quilting work, and will tie comforts for 75 cents apiece, Mrs. Grubb announced.

The Sunset Grange has purchased coal in two carload lots during the past week, according to A. C. Baldwin, business manager.

Members who find a great saving by this method of buying may place another order soon. Coal is bought thru the Darrouzett Co-op. Association.

Hard Times Social Is Planned For S. S. Class

You'uns er requested to bring yersels to a harde tim' sashel at the parson's parde, Tuesday nite at ate er clocke.

"The ladsy are requested to ware there caliker er gingham dres. The gents er requested to ware there overhalls.

"This sashel is on account of the friendliness uv Mister Grubb's S. S. clas."

Young married people who belong to the Sunday School Class taught by Rev. A. Blair Grubb received the above invitation this week.

Formality is to be utterly banned for the evening while the members forget that they are dignified school teachers, preachers, business men and housewives and have just a jolly good time in their "caliker er gingham dreses and overhalls."

Flood lights installed total 15,000 candle power. The twenty large lights on 40-foot poles are set at 60 foot intervals around the entire field, making it almost as bright as day. Every effort is made to give

Spelling Director Announces Rules

Mrs. J. E. Speer Gives Changes In Contest

Some radical changes have been made in the Spelling contest rules of the University Interscholastic League since last year. Mrs. J. E. Speer of Darrouzett, who was elected Director of Spelling in Lipscomb county, has made a summary of these changes as a reminder to new and old teachers.

Mrs. Speer states that before last year the contest has been based solely upon the spelling list issued by the League Bureau, Division of Extension. This year, however, the contest is based not only on this list, but on words in the State Adopted spelling book. Preparation of students for the contest, therefore, will involve a mastery of words from both sources.

Teachers are also cautioned that the contest involves plain writing as well as spelling; every letter in a spelling paper must be clearly legible.

The Constitution and Rules of the League are now available, and teachers in member schools may secure a copy by addressing the League Bureau, University Station, Austin, Texas, Mrs. Speer announced.

Sunset Grange Beats Sophia At Baseball

Sunset Grangers vanquished the Sophia baseball team by the narrow margin of one point at an exciting 11-inning game at Sunset on Sunday afternoon. Final scores were 11 to 12. The scores stood 10 to 10 at the end of the ninth inning and 11 to 11 at the close of the tenth.

Sunset men who helped officiate at the game were Clinton Hennigh, Sunset manager, and Dexter Gilger who served as one of the umpires.

Sunset officials stated that the game would probably be the last one that the Grange would play this season.

The game was scheduled for last Sunday but rain during the second inning made it necessary to postpone play.

Mrs. Lee spent several months at Darrouzett last spring at the homes of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Hill and Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Carter.

Members decided upon the spelling match in which everyone who attends is to participate, at the meeting of the group last Friday night.

Five Join Group

Five new names were added to the membership lists at the meeting. They are: Mr. and Mrs. John Martin, Mrs. George Russell, Mrs. Stella Beck, and Miss Vivian Keaster, who teaches in District No. 12.

Talks were given by Mrs. Ray T. Hennigh, Fred Mullings, and J. E. Speer, all faculty members.

The organization gave a vote of thanks to Isaac Stephenson for making a piano bench and to J. T. Mosley for training and finishing it.

Petty Thieving Breaks Out

Another case of petty thievery occurred near Darrouzett last Saturday. This time a farm house was ransacked in broad daylight while the owners were shopping in town.

Nearly all the clothing in the house was taken, together with such small articles as handkerchiefs, razors, and shampoo oil.

Last week newspapers at Booker and Beaver reported several instances of petty thievery.

Is an epidemic of robbery sweeping the locality? Whether or not that is true, something should be done to protect people's possessions and to punish dishonest persons.

Musical People Are Appreciated

Darrouzett is very fortunate in having a number of residents, musically inclined, who are both willing and generous with their talents.

Whenever their services are needed at church or community programs, these individuals give both time and energy. They are always found ready to help out even on very short notice.

In some places people sometimes refuse to do what is asked of them with the excuse that they cannot do as well as someone else or that they have not had the training that so-and-so has had. People are really appreciated when they do their best, regardless.

Again I repeat that Darrouzett is fortunate in having a group of musical people who give freely of their services.

MY DAYS

By MILDRED J. SPEER

Each day new beauty comes to me
That I long to express;
Each day my heart sings a fresh song,
And there's no one can guess
The lovely happiness in me.

One day I see a tiny child
With sweet questioning eyes;
Delighted I gently lead it
Listening to its cries
Of joy at this my lovely world.

Another day and it is a friend

With whom I share my joys;
We talk about common things;
About my girls, her boys.
We thrill in beauty of service.

One day a tramp comes to my door;
He is not ugly to me;
He's beautiful if he will tell
Of beds beside the sea
And nights spent underneath the stars.

Then there's another day—quiet day—
When it's cold; no one calls;
I look deep within myself;
Silence reigns; beauty falls
On my heart; content visits me.

Editor Finishes Year

Time certainly slips by fast. It was one year ago last Monday that the fellow you refer to as editor drove into Shattuck with his family.

And during that year we have spent among you an effort has been made to really live up to that good slogan, "Smile and Speak First."

Born and reared on a cattle ranch in the Chickasaw Nation, being friendly with folks who enjoy that sport also, just comes natural with us.

A WEEKLY SERMONETTE

By Arthur B. Rhinow

MAN IS SPIRIT

A little worm, not quite an inch long, and resembling the needles that grow on cedars, crawled along the wood with a peculiar locomotion that attracted my attention, so that I stopped working, for I felt instinctively that I was to be treated to a sermonette.

It would draw itself up so that it looked like the eye in the well-known look and eye combination, and then shoot forward. Again it would stop for a while to feel or scent surroundings in a way that indicated great strength. The tiny hands of one end would hold onto the wood with a powerful grip while the rest of the body projected itself into space and waggled to and fro.

"What strength," I exclaimed to myself. "Where is there a man that could duplicate that feat?"

We have seen athletes who would grasp a perpendicular bar, one hand above the other, and extend the body horizontally. But man's body is proportionately much shorter and less heavy than that of the worm. Besides, the athlete's performance is unusual, while it is perfectly natural for the worm to do this.

So far as muscular strength is concerned man is a weakling compared with the animals of field and forest, with the ant as well as the elephant.

But he does not have to be ashamed of his weakness, for he is spirit. It is foolish for him to emulate the animals, for he is destined to be powerful in a different sphere. He is never a strong man until he is strong in spirit.

It is well for us to develop our bodies for the sake of health, but we are not really human unless mind and spirit are dominant in our lives. Then we subdue the monsters of the animal world, and more than all, our hearts touch the heart of the Almighty.

Man is most himself when he is most like God.

HARD TIMES IN TENNESSEE

Omaha, Aug. 28—To the editor of the World-Herald: A friend in west Tennessee writes the following:

"Holler Rock Junc., Tenn.—There seems to be so much talk about our so-called republican prosperity, I believe 'tis my duty to write my views on the same and help to analyze the situation as far as possible so's we can make up our minds we had ought to change our ways of living and so forth.

"I have taken my own case for instance. I see my mistakes and many others have acted likewise. I bought an auto instead of a farm and it is worn out, but the farm I figured on is still o. k. I invested in a radio instead of a cow, and the radio gives statis instead of milk.

"I am feeding five nice hounds which answer to the names of 'Red,' 'Red Wing,' 'Slobber,' 'Jake,' and 'Bay Rum,' instead of five pigs. I had our piano tuned instead of the well cleaned out. I spent all of my cash in 1928 and used my credit in 1929 and traded up my future wages for 1930 in installments, so hard times caught my in bad shape last fall.

"If I had spent my last hundred dollars for flour and meat instead of gas and oil I would have been o. k. I built a nice garage last year instead of covering my barn and I loafed in the mountains a week or two instead of being in the pasture fixing it so's my cow won't get out, but she's dry and mortgaged to boot for two blankets my wife bought from an agent instead of paying the preacher.

"I'm on a cash basis now, but ain't got no cash. I am tied to the end of my rope and the man I am working for is busted on account of nobody wouldn't pay him and his cotton wouldn't sell because nobody wouldn't buy cotton clothes. All the gals wear slick silky stockings and silk underwear right here in our cotton patches. I had $4 saved up for a rainy day but it turned dry and I spent the $4 for inner tubes.

"I tried hard to make both ends meet with a turnip patch, but when I got turnips ready to sell, everybody else was selling turnips for nothing and the market was glutted. I am worried plum to the bone and my wives kinfolks are coming over next Tuesday to spend two weeks.

"Write if you hear of any relief from the government coming down this way. I am willing to be either a democrat or a republican for a few weeks if that will help out any."

Please note the change of time for the evening services.
Eighty-two were present at Sunday School on Sept. 27.

Have we remembered to pray for our own spiritual condition? Have we prayed for our neighbor? For the one who has done us a wrong? Do you remember the missionary in your prayer? In place of that word of criticism against the church, did you spend that time in prayer for it? Have you prayed for your pastor today? When you have prayed do you try so far as is in your power to make your prayer come true? When you have done that do you believe that God will do the part that you cannot do?

Prayer is an untouched resource of the church with boundless possibilities wrapped up in it. Have you tried to unloose it in your life?

Father and mother do you know where your boy or girl it at night? Are you careful as to the company that they keep? Do you love them enough to correct them gently but firmly? Have you instilled in them the principles of righteous living? If you have not, you need not wonder why they get into trouble. Instead of blaming the child so much, first ask yourself the question, "have I been careful enough in instructing him or her in this way?" Most usually the child goes wrong not in spite of his training but because of a lack of it at the right time.

The message you thought was so good, did it cause you to live differently, or was it meant just for your neighbor? How much time did you really spend in preparing yourself to be in the right frame of mind for the service? Did you study your Sunday school lesson before you came?

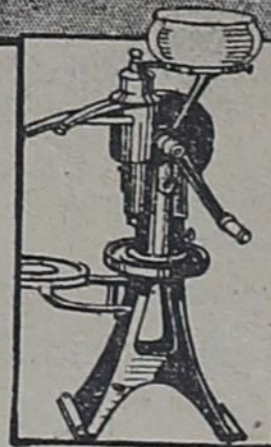

When the Roll is called up Yonder, will you be there?

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Russell, Mr. and Mrs. Ira Russell and children, Miss Bernice Russell, and Kenneth Russell of Follett visited relatives here on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Phillips, Mrs. John W. Redman, and Herschel Wa'e Taylor visited Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Hill on Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Mosley and son, Lloyd, accompanied by Miss Ruth Friend, attended the theatre at Per-ryton on Saturday night.

Hi-Lites

The basket ball boys who wear tennis shoes during the noon hour, have been changing their shoes and washing their feet at one o'clock. They say that they feel more comfortable the remainder of the day; Those sitting near them in the school room say they, too, feel more comfortable.

A new brand of chewing gum can be bought in town for a penny a package; some say, although the quality is not as good as the nickel package, that it is good enough for use at school.

Kenneth Jenkins, a senior, received aid in locating Asia on the World Map from Orval Chappell, a junior.

What Grade Rooms Are Doing

Edited by MRS. LELA HENNIGH and MRS. RUTH WRIGHT

Third and Fourth Grades

The third and fourth grades have been making animal books for nature study; all but a few are finished and ready to be graded. The class now has a better knowledge of animals and their habits; this work will be followed up with lessons on the treatment of animals and making of posters to correspond with the lessons.

The fourth grade has been studying pioneer life in geography. A log cabin is being built on the sandtable to portray the home life of the pioneer.

Manuel Kirchman was absent from school on Monday and Tuesday.

Gertrude McGee is health inspector for the fourth grade this week, and Frances Fausset for the third grade.

The fourth grade was awarded a prize on Friday for having kept their side of the room neater for a whole week than the third grade. The third grade, however won the prize for having the best conduct during the week.

The fourth grade gave a "Safety First" play in Mrs. Wright's room on Friday morning. This play was learned in health class. Both grades are now studying about the dangers of fire and a play entitled "The Restraint of Fire" is being learned to emphasize its dangers and prevention. This play will be given in assembly Thursday morning.

Beulah McGee brought a turtle to school Tuesday morning. The class decided to make a study of turtles in nature study class.

Fifth and Sixth Grades

The fifth grade reading class made some very attractive little booklets, conveying the thought expressed in the poem, "The Arrow and the Song." Every day for a week each good and each bad deed are recorded in these booklets.

Mr. Speer visited our room during sixth grade geography class Friday afternoon. He mentioned several interesting things concerning our town; one of which was how Darrouzett secured its name.

Bunches of colored grapes were made in drawing class and are now decorating our windows.

Everyone enjoyed making brightly colored clothespin birds to pin on a wire along our wall. As soon as we tire of looking at them, we are going to take them home to pin in our own room.

Sleep posters were made in health class last Thursday and Friday. We enjoyed this very much and are showing some improvement in poster work.

Our room organized a Good English Club last Thursday. Oscar Taylor was elected president, and Teresa Frass secretary. The purpose of this club is to improve our written and spoken English.

Erma Hennigh has made the geography class more interesting by bringing two large sea shells, a large cocoon, and a book entitled, "Florida in the making."

The Reo Royale in the sixth and seventh grade spelling race is still in the lead by seven miles. The Dodge has gone 17 miles and the Reo 24 miles.

In the fifth grade spelling Marie Bellah is leading the race across the United States. Teresa Frass is second and the remainder of the class are running along nip and tuck in an attempt to forge ahead.

Longhorns to Play Lipscomb Boys Friday

The Darrouzett boys' basketball team, the Longhorns, played the town team Friday September 25. Although the Longhorns played well they were defeated by a score of eleven to twelve.

It has been announced by the Darrouzett coach, Mr. Mullings, that the Lipscomb basketball boys will play the Longhorns next Friday, October 2, at the local court at Darrouzett.

Primary Room Notes

By MRS. J. E. SPEER

Betty Jane Frass furnished the primary room with some real entertainment on Monday morning when she told them about her trip to the Amarillo fair made with her parents on Friday afternoon. Betty Jane told of riding horses, cars, and wheels; of seeing snakes and monkeys; and of seeing the fattest person in the world. Her story was the next best thing to attending the fair.

Dolores and Patty Powell spent Saturday night with Dorothy Woods.

The first grade took their first field trip on Friday; they went to the creek near the school house, and gathered grasses and flowers, also, some small limb from the trees.

When they returned they built a river in the sandtable, and placed trees, grass, and flowers on the bank. They had made squirrels and birds during their busy period, and these were placed in the trees. Ducks sailing on the water, and a diving board made the sandtable look very real. The third and fourth grades were invited in to see the sandtable.

Mr. Speer visited the primary room on Tuesday morning.

The second grade made some very interesting posters in reading this week; they read a story about how a little girl might play in the rain, and then made posters showing girls with umbrellas, raincoats and rubbers.

Dorothy and Raymond Stranske spent Monday night with Helen and George Helfenbein.

The presidents of the various classes and the recently elected host of each of the two high school rooms will serve on the council.

Members are: LaVelle Garvin, Freshman president; Coeta Terrel, president of the Sophomores; Florella Woods, Junior head; and Doris Montgomery, senior president; Lewis Woods, host of Miss Montgomery's room; and O. C. Elfers, host of Miss Friend's room.

Before a city can accomplish much it must have team-work. Its citizens must cooperate—they must show a willingness to help one another.

A spirit of cooperation and pride in the home city must be instilled into every thought and action of every individual. Cities that are going ahead the fastest show this spirit.

A city must sell itself to its citizens before it can sell itself to the outside world.

In many cities part of the citizens pull one way and part another, resulting in discord among the ones who should pull together.

There is something good in every person. If people knew each other better, they would pull together better. If citizens don't pull together, they will have no pull anywhere.

Cities must be awake to their opportunities and stay awake.

If a city is to succeed, every citizen must assist in the working out of plans for better business and development.

THAT dollars do their duty at the stores of the home city.

Modern merchants advertise and keep up with the times.

They welcome the opportunity to serve. Their merchandise is reasonably priced and of a variety that can fill every need.

Merchants of the home city are friendly. They deserve confidence; confidence in them and the goods they sell.

Confidence is the open road between buyer and seller.

Local merchants aim to keep business by deserving it. Shop with them; they will prove it. They always sell the best by every test.

They maintain quality at prices that are right. Their goods always satisfy.

When you buy from the merchants of the home city you have the satisfaction of knowing that you are buying satisfaction.

IT IS ALWAYS PROFITABLE TO BUY FROM LOCAL MERCHANTS WHO ADVERTISE, BECAUSE THEY HAVE THE WILLINGNESS AND ABILITY TO SERVE YOU WELL.

More Than Compensated

A rich widow had married a rakish young fortune hunter. One day when the honeymoon was about over she remarked, as she stood before her mirror, "Sweetheart, don't all these silver threads among the gold make you regret our romantic marriage?"

The youth contemplated her smartly shingled head a moment.

"Not a bit," he answered frankly. "I can easily put up with the silver threads for the sake of the gold."

Utterly Thoughtless

"You are charged with throwing your mother-in-law out of the window."

"I did it without thinking, your honor."

"We can't have that going on. Suppose someone had been passing underneath at the time?"

Patience Yet

"There's a good time coming."

"So we're all a-humming, but all I've got to say is: It's a good time coming.—E. R.

The Livestock Situation

Substantial improvement in cattle values was an encouraging feature of the Los Angeles cattle market this week and members of the trade generally are optimistic that some further appreciation in cattle values is in order, due largely to the fact that Pacific Coast packers must draw upon other states for a large proportion of their cattle supplies during the next three months. This of course means active competition between Coast killers and Middle Western markets for beef material.

Grass cattle are practically all marketed from California ranges this season and the supply to come from that source, including "caked" cattle, is expected to be of small volume during fall months. Imperial Valley still has a few thousand cattle to market this season, but supplies from that source will furnish only a small fraction of Los Angeles trade demands.

A few shipments of cattle are already coming to the Pacific Coast from the Intermountain country and these bullocks were in good flesh. However, it is believed that a large percentage of Intermountain cattle will be in thin flesh this season because of shortage of feed and water in that section.

There has been very little trading in stocker and feeder cattle so far this season in the Southwest. Some Texas feeder calves have been sold at $25.00 to $27.50, considerably lower in price than during any recent year. Arizona and New Mexico feed conditions are unusually good this season and feeder calves and yearlings are expected to be in splendid condition and carry more weight than in any recent year.

While there may be some difficulty in financing purchases of stocker and feeder cattle this fall, the trade is of the opinion that when a satisfactory price level is established, there will be a broad demand for stocker and feeder cattle on the Los Angeles market. Those closely identified with the market believe that the matter of financing will adjust itself if buyers are able to purchase feeders at prices which they feel will afford them a fair profit on their investment.

RUSSIAN FIVE YEAR TEST

Forsaking the Bible, casting aside all moral laws, part slaves, part free. Should we match any such condition for Agricultural equality? To do so is unthinkable.

We should concern ourselves only to the extent of compassionate feelings for a people so situated and so oppressed.

Brief---Very Brief

Well, the farmers hope they won't be relieved again in 1932. One heroic tractment is about all they can stand.

It is about time for the people of the United States to begin to try to understand what the rest of the world is doing.

Correct this sentence: "Come to my house for dinner; my wife insists that I bring strangers home for meals."

One thing that a man will never understand about women: whether they mean what they say when they smile.

Every politician has his own plan for relief, and before the campaign gets under way he will have two plans.

It is a funny thing, but no matter how broke a man is he can buy gasoline and keep the old family car running.

The mentality of some people can be judged by what they think of reading poetry.

The age of hot air is about at hand, and we don't mean hot air, either.
