By BAD

It is kind of pleasant to be a neutral, to watch a contest in the spirit of the hill-billy who, when a wildcat ran into his wife's cabin, climbed up on the backhouse and remarked, "This is one fight I'm going to enjoy, because I don't give a darn which way it comes out."

For those of us who have already disposed of the smoking habit, this may be something of the spirit in which the official indictment of cigarette smoking as a cause of cancer is viewed. Not that we are unfeeling or cold to the sufferings of those who are afflicted with a habit they cannot shake. It is simply that we feel a little superior; we can afford to be philosophers. Didn't we break the habit?

But to be honest, very few of us former smokers are entitled to any credit for will power. It flatters the ego to regard ourselves as stronger of mind and discipline than some of our fellow creatures. But are we? To be truthful, No.

I can speak from some experience in the premises, because I stopped smoking twenty years ago after a remarkable career in the habit, and not since then have I drawn a breath of it in form other than another's fumes.

You may be inclined to reply to that as did the sot to the teetotaler who kept boasting that nary a drop of the demon rum had crossed his lips in a lifetime. Said the sot, "You 'ave my sympathy."

But if it sounds like bragging, it ain't. I claim no credit for the abrupt and permanent abstinence that I undertook. A lot of people with much greater will power than I am still smokers although their reason confirms the criticisms made of it and they would like to stop.

As a matter of fact I think there is too much insistence upon pure will power, when the real secret of control is not teeth-gritting, but desire. That is why of the 70 million smokers in the United States there will still be about 69,999,999 after the verdict of the blue ribbon panel of doctors on the evils of the weed is read and digested.

The most of them don't want to quit badly enough. If they did, they would.

To stop smoking, or any other habit, a person simply must want something more than he wants the pleasures the habit gives him. He must desire the benefits of abstinence rather than the joys of indulgence. It's a matter of choice.

I doubt that smoking in moderation causes any ill effects of a consequence to outweigh the pleasure it gives. But in my case I couldn't be moderate. If I had had enough will power, perhaps I could have limited my smoking to two packs a day or less, and continued the habit.

I happen to be one of those persons who are peculiarly susceptible to the disadvantages of tobacco smoking. When you can hear your bones rattle as you walk, when your insides feel like they are hung on hooks, when the most appetizing foods taste like cotton and every cold germ you meet takes residence, the benefits of being a normal human being become mighty appealing.

The report of the doctor's committee is a studied, logical and reasonable document. Most of the 70,000,000 cigarette smokers in the country will, no doubt, admit conclusions. But don't panic and unload (Continued on Page Four)

An Eastland County Opportunity . . .

The population explosion and increasing educational demands of our flourishing technology have focussed grave attention upon the capacities and limitations of our educational system, and in particular, the growing burden upon our colleges and universities. Not only is enrollment in institutions of higher learning increasing by leaps and bounds, but the technical requirements of our society are adding more courses to the educational formulae.

There is increasing talk of the possibility of adding the first two years of college to the high school years already provided by our system of public schools.

In this respect, Eastland county stands at a door of opportunity, limited in the most serious sense by the problem of finance. Needless to say this is a great and possibly insurmountable problem.

But the opportunity is intriguing, and worthy of at least speculative thought in view of the almost certain prospect that, sooner or later by some means, local or national in character, an upward expansion of the public school system is bound to occur.

Eastland County has two accredited Junior Colleges offering the Freshman and Sophomore years of Senior College. Both are well established, well integrated in the national secondary education complex, admirably staffed and conscientiously operated.

If some means could be worked out whereby every graduate of a High School in Eastland County could be assured of two years of college training in either of these institutions on the same basis that a High School diploma is offered, it would mean not only increased educational benefits to the county's youth, but great economic benefits to every community in the county.

Not the least of these benefits, as we see it, would be the attraction of younger families to the county in the prospect that this training would be available to their youth at the reduced costs made possible. It would mean a great saving in money to be retained in the economy of the area.

Another advantage would be the improvement it could bring about in local High Schools such as ours, through location of college type courses in these schools under an expanded collegiate program.

Still another advantage would be the impetus toward consolidation of adjoining county rural districts with such as ours in the prospect of the higher educational facilities.

There are other advantages, such as improvement in cultural conditions, the attraction that resources of college trained labor have for industry, and the increasing opportunities for careers and employment which a creative atmosphere inspires, but these are enough to suggest that the opportunity is one in which self-limiting prejudices should be put aside and the possibilities objectively assessed.

As a proposition it is "avant garde" as the fancy linguists of art and fashion are wont to say, but it is not too far in advance of the present to be clearly foreseen as a fact of the future.

And it is all the more worthy of serious thought because it could be a step toward putting our section in appealing leadership in the field of public education — a field basic and determinative, indeed, in the progress of our society.

Blast Wrecks House; Two Families Lose

A terrific midnight explosion, attributed to faulty butane equipment, early Tuesday destroyed a farm house on the Clinton Wilson farm, 2 1/2 miles north of Rising Star, scattering portions of the dwelling over an area 50 to 100 yards in radius. Completely destroyed also were household furniture and other goods belonging to the families of Eugene Keel, who was moving out of the residence, and Bobby Allen, who was moving in.

None of the members of either family were at the house. The Keel family were staying with Mr. Keel's mother, Mrs. L. M. Keel, and the Allens had moved a part of their furniture and effects into the building, and were planning to complete the move Tuesday.

The Keels lost all of their furniture, their clothing and other household effects, which they had stored in one room of the house while they looked for another residence.

Damage was not estimated, but it would total several thousand dollars.

The explosion was heard clearly in Rising Star where many residents thought it was a sonic boom. C. N. Huddleston of the Rising Star Fire Department, drove a fire truck to the area and discovered the blasted residence. There was nothing that the firemen could do and he did not turn in an alarm.

Many Rising Star people who had gone to bed were aroused by the unusual nature and force of the blast.

Among the furniture that Mr. Allen moved into the residence were some new stoves which he had just purchased.

The residence was on a farm belonging to Clinton Wilson of Cayanosa, Texas, and Mr. Allen was employed by him.

The blast was placed at about 12:30 Tuesday morning.

Tots Badly Burned As Gowns Fire

Two small daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Merrill of Pioneer were reported in fair condition at Hendricks Memorial Hospital this week where they are being treated for burns.

The two, Teresa Sue, 4, and Robin Ann, 2 1/2 years, were seriously burned Sunday morning when their gowns ignited from a stove at which they were warming.

They were taken to Rising Star Hospital where they were given emergency treatment, and then transferred to the Abilene hospital by Higginbotham ambulance for special treatment.

The older child received third degree burns over most of her body, and the younger severe burns over her back. They are in Room 601 of the hospital.

Peace Officers Ass'n Meet Here Monday Night

Rising Star was host to the Eastland County Law Enforcement Officers Ass'n at a dinner at the Elite Cafe Monday night. City Officials and Constable Blake Forehand acted as hosts to the regular monthly meeting of the association which is rotated among the communities of the county.

Sgt. Roger Sosebee, county chief of the Highway Patrol at Eastland, was chairman of the meeting. County Judge Scott Bailey, Sheriff Lee Horn and members of his department; city police officers from Ranger, Eastland, Cisco, Gorman and Rising Star; constables and justices of the peace and members of the State Highway patrol stationed in the county were present, along with many members of the State Highway Patrol from Abilene, Coleman, Brown and other communities.

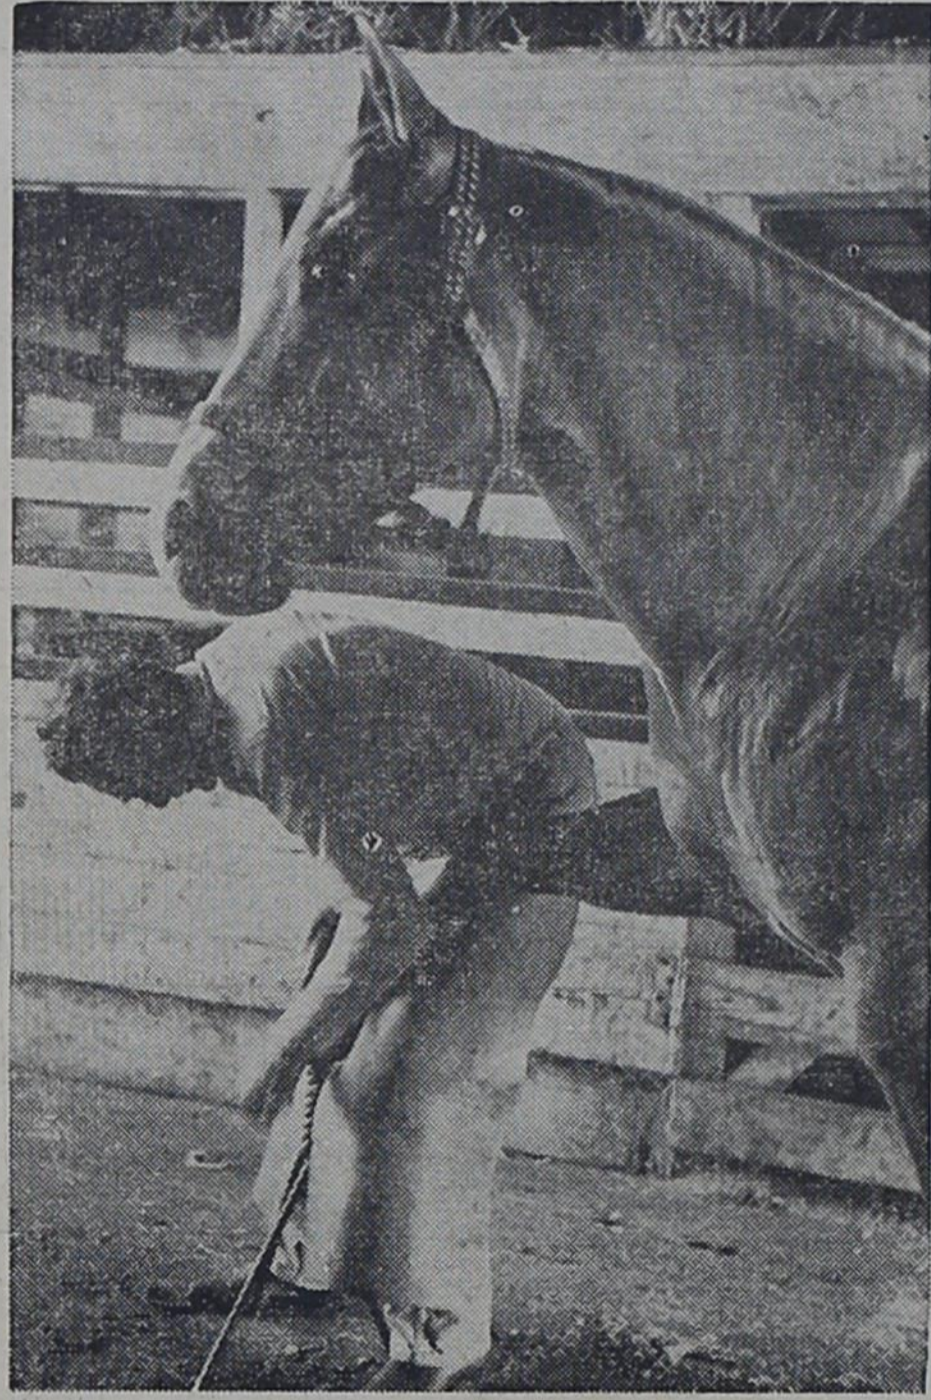

The group ate a steak dinner and then listened to an interesting discussion of police communications by Maurice Cole of Midland, Region Four supervisor of communications for the Department of Public Safety.

The next meeting will be held at Eastland on February 10.

CHAMP RETIRES — Cutter Bill, world's most honored quarter horse, "hangs up his shoes" this week as he retires to stud at oilman Rex C. Cauble's ranch near Crockett, Texas. Concluding a year in which he reigned as the World's Champion Cutting Horse, the eight-year-old palomino retires as the nation's top-ranking cutting horse stallion with his stud fee pegged at $1000.

N. Main Blinkers 'Possible'

Possibility that blinker caution lights would be installed on North Main street to slow down traffic as it passes the High School was held out by State Highway Engineers at a meeting with the Rising Star Chamber of Commerce Tuesday noon.

The meeting at the Elite Cafe was attended by District Highway Engineer E. M. Pritchard and Ass't. Dist. Engineer G. L. Smith of Brownwood and County Highway Engineer R. F. Haun of Eastland.

Mr. Pritchard pointed out that the Highway Department is limited in its authority to make such installations by the terms of the Uniform Act regulating traffic on highways.

He asked that the City of Rising Star direct a letter to his office setting forth the need for the signals.

"We are as interested in your problem as you are," he said.

The conference was called following an accident last November when Georgann Johnson, 15-year-old high school girl was struck and seriously injured by a car in front of the High School.

Among those present was Timmy Johnson, father of the child, who asked earnestly for safety measures that would guard against future accidents of the kind at the school and other places of public gatherings. He pointed out that the Funeral Home and the First Baptist Church are located on the street, over which U.S. Highway 183 passes through the city, and that each location offers a distinct traffic hazard because of speed limits that appear to be too high.

He and other members of the group insisted that a variable speed limit which sets a maximum of 30 miles per hour during school hours and 50 miles per hour at other times is ineffective.

Prior to the conference, the chamber of commerce voted to set the date for its annual dinner for Friday, February 28.

Details of the program are to be worked out by a special committee.

Thursday the court was scheduled to hear the case of Chester Crouch, charged with assault with intent to murder in the shooting of Cisco Police Chief S. E. Parkinson.

Two Rising Star men were in the special 50-member venire called for possible jury service in the court this week. They are L. T. Burkhalter and J. A. Fleming.

Rising Star Cage Teams Drop Openers Tuesday

The Wildcats played their first district games Tuesday night and both teams lost to Blanket rivals.

The girls lost their hard-played game by a score of 46-33. It started as a close game, with a first quarter score of 7-7. Blanket started a slow but sure break-away with a half time score of 18-12. The girls had a bad break when two of their starting guards, Anna Ezell and Cherry Maples, fouled off early in the third quarter. Judy Lewis was high point for Rising Star with 14 points and Sandra Teague was runner-up with 11 points. Ann Damron was high point for Blanket with 29 points and Linda Edgar was runner-up with 12 points.

4 Men Jailed On Forgery and Theft Charges

Three out-of-state men and an Eastland man were in county jail at Eastland this week charged with forgery and theft after a career of exciting, if questionable activities culminating in a chase at Carbon Thursday of last week.

The men were named in the charges as Edward Etue formerly of Indiana; Robert Bruce Sheetz of Maryland, and Jimmy Don Poe of Eastland, whom the men met during a period in California.

Three checks, each in excess of $30, to which the name of an Eastland doctor was forged, were said to have been cashed at a Cisco store, a Ranger liquor store, and another place of business in Ranger.

The quartet were also charged with the theft of two guns from a pick-up belonging to Pete Warren of Eastland.

The group were taken into custody by officers of the sheriff's department.

School Men Attend Austin Conference

Supt. Sam Jones of Rising Star, Supt. G. B. Rush of Ranger, Supt. Travis Hillard of Olden, Supt. Wendell Seibert of Eastland and Supt. T. M. Burleson Files For Re-Election

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 11, 1964 — Congressman Omar Burleson has filed for reelection with the Chairman of the Democratic Executive Committee of Eastland County for the Democratic Primary Election on May 2, 1964. Burleson was elected to the 80th and succeeding Congresses from the 17th District. He is Chairman of the Committee on House Administration of the House of Representatives, and a ranking member of the Committee on Foreign Affairs.

The boys lost their game by a score of 60-44. The boys were behind all through the game but they put up a hard fight trying to overcome the Blanket boys. Larry McKinnerney was high point for Star with 24 points and James Cox was runner-up with 6 points. Tyler Damron was high point for Blanket with 22 points.

The Cats play their next game Tuesday night, Jan. 21, when they journey to Zephyr.

Holly Named Fire Dept. President; Bishop Is Chief

Roy Holly was elected president of the Rising Star Volunteer Fire Department for 1964 at a recent meeting of the department.

J. W. Bishop was elected chief. Other officers are Paul Maxwell, vice-president; Jimmy Wilson, assistant chief; Kenneth Willett, secretary-treasurer, and Elgie Crisp, Gene Keel, and C. N. Huddleston, crew captains.

Mr. Willett, secretary of the department, said that firemen in responding to alarms encounter some of their difficulties because of traffic and the crowding of spectators about the scenes of the fires.

He asked that traffic pull to the curb when an alarm sounds and give the fire trucks right-of-way, and that people who drive to the scene of an alarm take care to stay out of the way of the firemen and cause no unnecessary interference with their work.

It frequently happens, he said, that cars running to the scene of a fire actually run over fire hoses and do damage to them.

E. L. Jackson Ends Four Decades Of Service In Retirement From WTU Co.

A career in the electric industry that has spanned more than four decades came to a close on January 1 when Assistant District Manager E. L. Jackson of Cisco retired from active service with West Texas Utilities Company.

Mr. Jackson's district included the Rising Star office of the WTU Co.

Jackson began his long career with WTU in 1923 when he moved to Albany from Mena, Arkansas, and assumed his duties as local manager for the towns of Albany and Moran.

In 1937 he moved to Cisco where he served as line foreman for the Cisco District until he joined the U. S. Navy in 1943 for service in World War II. Following his release to inactive duty on November 2, 1945, Jackson returned to Cisco and assumed his duties as an assistant district manager.

Born in Ozark, Illinois, in 1898, Jackson moved with his family to Batesville, Arkansas, when he was five years of age. He attended the Batesville Public Schools and following graduation from high school in 1916, attended Arkansas College at Batesville for one year and the University of Arkansas for one year.

His first experience in the electric industry was with the municipal light plant in Batesville. In 1920 he was employed as manager and operator of an electric company in Gurdon, Arkansas, and the following year moved to Vian, Oklahoma. There he served as manager and operator of the electric plant of the Commonwealth Public Service Company. In 1922 he was transferred to Mena, Arkansas, as local manager, and the following year resigned to start his long career with WTU.

With Engineers In War

The only interruption in his more than 40 years service with WTU came during World War II when he was given military leave to serve as an officer in the U. S. Navy Civil Engineering Corps. After training in Virginia and Hoboken, New Jersey, Jackson went overseas with the 35th Naval Construction Battalion at Manus, Admiralty Islands. Later he was transferred to a Naval Supply Depot on Los Negras Island where he was supervisor of the electric system and telephone operations.

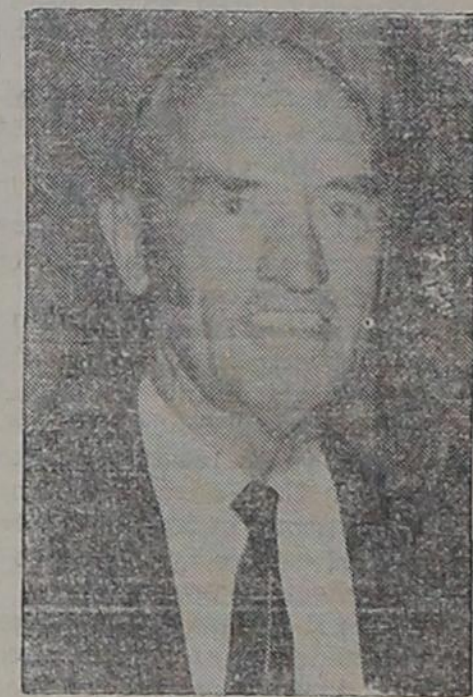

During his tour of duty in the Pacific Jackson served with a Navy repair unit in Brisbane, Australia, and with the Naval Air Transport Service in the Admiralties and the Philippines. Other temporary assignments took him to Noumea, Milne Bay and Finschhafen, New Guinea, and Pearl Harbor.

During his many years residence in Cisco, Mr. Jackson has been one of its leading civic workers. He is a member of the First Baptist Church, the Masonic lodge and the American Legion. At the present time he is a director of the State Military Preparedness Commission, and was appointed by the Governor of Texas as a member of the Veteran Affairs Commission.

Last month Jackson was appointed a member of the National American Legion Distinguished Guests Committee by Daniel F. Foley, National Commander of the American Legion.

Mrs. Jackson is the former Elsie Payne of Batesville, Ark. They were married in 1922 and have two sons and two daughters. Mrs. Frank R. Arrington and family reside in Ventura, California, where Mr. Arrington is a field engineer for a drilling specialist company. The Arringtons have two sons, Richard and Robert.

Mr. and Mrs. Pat Ryan live in Marfa where Mr. Ryan is publisher of the Big Bend Sentinel.

E. L. JACKSON

The Ryans have five children, Patrick, Kevin, Kathleen, Allison and Martha.

Edwin L. Jackson lives in Garland where he works as an engineer for the Ling-Temco Corporation. They have two daughters, Elizabeth and Elaine.

The other son, Robert Jackson, lives in Midland where he is coach of the B team and a history teacher at Midland High School. The Robert Jacksons have one daughter, Rebecca.

Mrs. Burkhead President of North Star Club

The North Star Home Demonstration Club held its regular meeting on January 7.

Officers for 1964 are Mrs. Lee Burkhead, president; Mrs. W. V. Fenter, vice-president; Mrs. Jesse Perry, secretary-treasurer; Mrs. Mabel Ralston, council delegate.

The telephone committee consists of Mrs. Carl Irby, Mrs. Susie Coursey, and Mrs. Kelsey House.

Mrs. W. V. Fenter was elected as nominee to attend the T. H. D. A. Convention.

Three members attended the program at Eastland January 10 on "Food for Older Folks."

The Club meets the first and third Tuesdays of each month, and visitors are always welcome. The next meeting will be on January 21, and the program will be given by the agent, Mrs. Beverly Nicholson, on "Getting to know your Sewing Machine."

A discussion on Parliamentary Procedure was given by Mrs. Lee Burkhead on January 7.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Childers and Mrs. Perry. The door prize was won by Mrs. Pierce.

TEENAGE MARRIAGES

Today an increasing number of teenagers become married before finishing their educations; a few continue their studies, but the majority drop school entirely. Some of these marriages are quite successful, but again the majority of these end in unhappy separations.

Marriage is a serious contract—a contract that should be kept for the remainder of one's life. Most states require that a young man be twenty-one years of age before he is allowed to vote, but the laws will permit him to marry five or six years younger. This is completely unlogical since marriage is far more serious than voting and involves many more implications.

Many young people confuse physical attraction with love. They enjoy being with a person and are convinced that they are in love. Is this the kind of love that can last for fifty or sixty years? A person does not fall in love; he falls prey to physical attraction. A person can only grow in love.

Teenagers may marry to rebel against parents. When parents disapprove of the marriage openly, the couple is often more determined than ever to be married. If the parents will suggest postponement of the marriage and give the couple a chance to be together and understand each other completely, chances are great that the couple will see faults in each other and be less convinced that their marriage would be wise.

A successful marriage involves some sound preparation by both people involved. A plunge into marriage at such an early age is a definite sign of immaturity; immaturity is partially responsible for dissolving many marriages. Grow up, teenagers; prepare for your marriage and make it successful.

"UPWARD AND ONWARD"

How glad we are to see the end of this week! This is the week of mid-term tests and, believe me, it means cracking the books—right, Roger.

The Cisco Junior Combo Band will entertain us on January 21st. We are certainly looking forward to that.

Our basketball teams started district play this week so these next eight games are going to count—that means backing from fans!

The Stage Band is getting quite active; they have several meets scheduled in the future.

This ends our English Literature study; I really hate to see it close and dread grammar! Mid-term only gets us more involved in our other subjects. Typing brings more units, while Civics, American History, and Biology brings us more chapters to read and study.

Gossip???

Sharon D.—does Cecil bug you?

Jimmy R.—L. P. won't help stand up for your bad tactics!

Cherry M.—I have always wondered what those squeaks were—now I know, bless your heart.

KNOWLEDGE COMES BUT WISDOM LINGERS

Well, as everyone knows mid-term is finally here. The tests are Thursday and Friday; and then we turn out for the weekend and come back all fresh and ready to finish the second semester of the '63-'64 school year. The second semester is always very exciting for the Juniors because of their Junior-Senior banquet; and of course, knowing that they will be Seniors next year. I have heard many people say that they would not give a "nickel" for the good-times and even the bad ones that they had during their Junior and Senior years in high school; although, these Juniors can hardly wait to get out!!! Wild Bunch! Ha!

The Juniors haven't been doing much to speak of except studying for the mid-term tests. They are very anxious to see if they are going to get their exemptions and sometimes too anxious because they sometimes get let down. The Junior English class makes a change from literature to grammar, which is still taught by Mrs. Claborn. The civics class switches from The Executive Department to the Administrative Agencies and Territories. In plane geometry, we do not have a change—still trying to solve problems. HA! Most of the other classes will run on the same basis this semester as last.

This is all for the Juniors this week but hope that you will be back with us next week.

Junior reporter, Linda Burkhalter

LIVE AND LEARN

Finally this week is over, and we have finished mid-term tests; this means that half of our school year is over.

In our studies this week, by the way we still have them, we are winding up mid-term late work. In English we are finishing our semester of literature and soon will be issued our grammar books. The Home-making II girls are finishing their study from "Red Cross Home Nursing;" while, the Ag. II boys are studying a unit on "Tractor Maintenance." In World History we are studying Chapter 15, "The Industrial Revolution."

Becky urges each one of us to pay his dues up to this month.

The basketball girls will start district play January 14. ing a fine job this year. They The Sophomore girls are do- are Ginger Bishop, Sharon Lewis, Linda Ezzell, and Brenda Harris. Keep up the good work, girls.

Until next week,
 Marcia

BUILDERS OF TOMORROW

The first semester has already flown past, and we find ourselves in the middle of mid-term exam week. Everyone is studying hard for at least one test; we are now realizing that daily attendance pays off!

The Freshman class would like to announce the enrollment of a new student; Diane Starks formerly attended Cross Plains and she rolls our number up to thirty-eight, and we hope she enjoys Star. We are proud to have you, Diane.

Georgann Johnson, who will not be able to attend school for some weeks, has asked me to tell everyone how much she appreciates all that you have done for her and to say thank you for all the cards and gifts.

The Algebra I students are having to write equations or inequalities from open sentences; and, believe me, it is not easy!! We have been receiving six weeks' tests during the last few days in General Science.

The English I class is still reading "David Copperfield," and we turned in themes or outlines on Charles Dickens recently. Remember, kids, it takes three book reports for each half, so we had better get them all in, as well as our poetry. The Homemaking I girls had a test Monday over the final reports on First Aid.

The sixth period P. E. girls are still doing the same thing; taking exercises and practicing basketball. The boys' and girls' teams had two games last week; they played Scranton and Early, and both games took place in our own gym here at Rising Star.

Through the grapevine, I have heard—

About F.S.'s new hobby—but did he have to try it on her?

That B. C. and S.S. saw "Tammy and the Bachelor" together.

TOWARD NEW HORIZONS

This week the Home Ec. girls are in the process of mid-term tests.

The Juniors are studying Family Life and Marriage; they have had a test on it.

The Sophomores are studying First Aid. Some of the reports are very interesting; right, Jiny and Carolyn?

GIRLS' SPORTS NEWS

Here we are back for another week of news.

Since our last correspondence, the basketball teams have played a game with Early and started District. We hope everyone will come to these games and back the Wildcats to a successful season.

The sixth period P. E. girls are still exercising and playing basketball. On the days that the boys have the gym, the seventh period P. E. girls exercise in the recreation building. On the other days, the basketball and P. E. girls exercise together.

The basketball girls are still working toward a higher average on their free throws and a smaller one on their fouls.

That is about all for this week; join us again next week. Until then,
 Sharon Lewis

298 Local People Checked Social Security in 1963

298 persons in and around Rising Star took pains in 1963 to find out for sure about their rights and responsibilities under social security, according to H. L. Weatherly, field representative from Abilene district office who visits Rising Star regularly.

Weatherly knows the above because he had that many personal interviews on his visits, with 76 claims applications for retirement, disability, or survivor benefits being filed with him.

He suggests that every person past the age of 62 who has not already checked up on potential social security checks, as well as those of any age under 65 who have not become so severely disabled that they are unable to do any substantial gainful work, make certain to see him on one of his future visits here. He will be in Rising Star on February 10 at 10:30 o'clock AM at the City Hall.

Mrs. Lee Clark had as her guests during the holidays, her two cousins, Mrs. Leta Newby Shelton of Brownwood and Mrs. Jessie Simpson of San Angelo.

Mrs. Daisy Woodruff was visited recently by her daughters, Mrs. Zelmer Glover of Snyder and Mrs. Waler Barber of Kenedy.

Mrs. Jack Embry of Abilene was here Monday, Jan. 6, for a visit with friends. The Embry family lived here for a number of years, when he was with West Texas Utilities Co. They moved from here to Bradford, where Mr. Embry died. Their children, Bettie Bob and Jack, attended school here.

Mrs. Wilburn Scott returned Jan. 2 from a visit during the Christmas holidays with her daughter and family at Hereford, Texas. Her son, Rex Scott, from Oklahoma joined her at Hereford. Her daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Reese, have lived in Hereford for a number of years. Mrs. Reese is a teacher in the public school and Mr. Reese is an adult probation officer for that district. Mrs. Scott visited Mrs. McWhirter in Abilene on her return home. Winfield Scott of Fort Worth visited his mother, Mrs. Wilburn Scott, on Monday, January 6.

More Effective Persuasion . . .

With a sense of helpless outrage we read that Uncle Sam—dear old paternalistic, big-hearted Uncle Sam, champion of democracy and the refuge of liberty—is now accused of colonialism, aggression and other assorted crimes popular in the revolutionary lexicon compiled and edited at Moscow.

It comes about because of a conflict over sovereignty in the Panama Canal Zone.

It is preposterous. Doesn't Panama owe its very existence as a nation to the fact that Uncle Sam built a canal across the isthmus republic, its economic prosperity to the existence of the canal, and its national security to the immense strategic value of the canal to the western hemisphere and the world itself?

Without the canal, wouldn't it be little more than a banana republic, if indeed that? And what would happen if the United States were to turn the canal over to Panamanian control? Is there any doubt that the communists would follow up any such retreat with results very unfavorable, to say the least, to the defenses and political freedom of the western hemisphere? They, too, are well aware of the significance of the Big Ditch.

There is the little matter of a precedent, too, the Suez crisis a few years ago when we supported Egyptian nationalism at the expense of English and French control. It is a very embarrassing ghost.

Viewing the situation there and knowing in our own conscience the integrity, goodwill and utter reasonableness of our government in the matter, we can wonder how much of the unbiased truth History has preserved of many of those crises and incidents which loom large in the patriotic records of the past. It is a sobering thought.

One thing is certain. If the teachers at that Canal Zone high school had used a paddle right justly there would have been less spark, if any, to ignite an explosive situation.

You've got to apply the persuasion where the brains are if it is effective.

More Commonsense, Less Theory . . .

Now that Lyndon Baines Johnson, a man who knows what it means to earn a dollar in the sweat of his brow, has become President of the United States, we can hope for a lessening of the influences of these economic quacks and Harvard doctrinaires at Washington.

Not that we can expect any abrupt about-face in administration policy. The most we can look for is a discreet trimming of sails to the winds of public opinion. There are certain political expediences and administration traditions which must be served, and the radical conservative who fails to realize this is doing his cause and his country an injustice.

Nor should we even hope for a silencing of those ultra-liberal professors whose theories have made such a contribution to the tragic erosion of our economic commonsense. Truth is confirming in controversy, and controversy is an essential ingredient of our national democratic formula.

The most we can hope for is that there will be enough practical experience and commonsense restored to the higher echelons of government to make the controversy meaningful.

We need theory to lead the way, but even more we need the wisdom of experience to apply it. The engineer is as necessary as the architect.

RECORD TIME

We're approaching that time of the year when you'll start riffling through stacks of old checks, receipts, statements, etc., to see what you can do to whittle down your income tax.

If you're like the average Texan, the record-sorting will be quite a chore, for most people overlook the advantages of a simple record-keeping system.

Used to be a family's important data was confined to the flyleaf of the family Bible. But life's gotten complicated since then.

Now you need to keep track of birth certificates, insurance policies, social security, income tax matters, automobile titles, etc. You can make life easier for yourself, and your family when you are gone, if you follow a few simple rules in setting up our do-it-yourself record system.

1. Get a heavily bound notebook folder or file holder as a central collecting point for all the records of your affairs.

2. Put your especially important papers in your safe deposit box, but make a list of those papers and a brief summary of their contents to put in your home file.

3. Get for your files copies of birth certificates for all members of the family. Add your marriage license or at least a statement as to when and where you were married and by whom.

4. Insert your will or a copy of it. If your will is kept elsewhere, include a note telling where it may be found.

5. During the year, put into the file your income tax withholding statements and receipts for expenditures which may be deductible. Then keep a copy of each year's tax return in the file.

6. Make a list of all the stocks and bonds you own and where they are.

7. List all the places you have lived and worked and the names of persons there who you know. Include the schools you have attended and the dates you left or were graduated.

8. If you may have benefits coming under a profit-sharing plan where you work, make a note of that too.

9. If you're in doubt about whether an item should be included, put it in.

This takes time initially, but it will save you both time and worry in the long run.

Screwworm Cases Are Decreasing, Say Livestock Men

MISSION — The number of screwworm infestations being detected in the Southwest is steadily declining and screwworm eradication workers are marshalling all available forces to overwhelm the livestock pest this winter and bring about eradication.

Texas farmers and ranchers have been detecting less than 100 cases per week; at the same time, production and release of sterile screwworm flies is reaching all-time high proportions. Last week, nearly 150 million flies were released.

During November, livestock producers in 84 Texas counties reported 860 screwworm cases. During the same month last year, 2,710 infestations from 163 counties were recorded.

Cold weather has apparently driven most of the native screwworm flies into the South Texas Plains area where they can normally survive the winter, program officials said. They expect, however, that occasional cases will occur outside of this "overwintering area."

J. Revis Lindley of Colorado City has been visiting here with his aunt, Mrs. S. L. Rankin, and cousin, Mrs. Francis Davis and children of May.

TEXAS SALES TAX TABLE 1963

Each year thousands of Texans call, write or visit Internal Revenue Service offices to obtain the amount deductible for sales tax. The table is printed here for your convenience. Wayne Gibbens Seeks Return To Texas House Democratic State Representative Wayne Gibbens from Stephens County has filed for re-election to the House of Representatives.

Although Gibbens is seeking his second term from District 63, he is actually seeking his third term to the House of Representatives. After serving one term from the old 75th District, Gibbens was placed in a new District by the 1960 Redistricting Bill with another incumbent, whom Gibbens defeated. The new District is the 63rd District and includes Callahan, Eastland, Palo Pinto, Shackelford and Stephens Counties.

During the last Session of the Texas Legislature, Gibbens received top committee assignments which included his serving as Chairman of the Contingent Expense Committee and membership on the Committees on Rules, Agriculture, Revenue and Taxation, and Oil and Gas. When the Legislature adjourned, Gibbens' demanding Legislative activities continued into the interim when he was named Chairman of the Finance Committee of the Texas Legislative Council, a research and Bill producing arm of the legislature. Also, he was given membership on interim committees to be concerned with Conflict of Interest and the Legislative Internship Advisory Program and the Preservation of State Records.

In addition to these assignments, Gibbens has been named on two different occasions by House Speaker Byron Tunnell to represent the State of Texas at Interstate Conferences.

Gibbens is a graduate of Breckenridge High School and the holder of a Bachelor of Arts Degree in Government from Texas Tech. He was married in June of 1963 to the former Beth Cannon of Madisonville, Texas.

Gibbens stated that he will issue a formal statement of his candidacy and program at a later date.

"Wait In Line" Prospect as Car Inspection Lags

AUSTIN—The director of the Texas Department of Public Safety, Col. Homer Garrison, Jr., today reminded Texas vehicle owners that the 1964 vehicle inspection deadline will soon be upon them.

He reported that some 60 per cent of the allotted inspection period has elapsed and only 20 per cent of the vehicles have been inspected.

"If this trend continues, vehicle owners can expect to have to wait in line in order to get their vehicles inspected by the April 15 deadline," he said.

Garrison pointed out that Texas experienced its worst traffic fatality record in 1963 and vehicle defects were involved in some of these fatal accidents. He urged all Texans to begin the new year with safe vehicles and to keep them safe throughout the year. He added that vehicles involved in traffic accidents should be re-inspected after repairs have been made.

How to be smarter than your wife (on the subject of Savings Bonds)

Of course, there's no question about who's smarter at your house on most subjects. But to remove any doubt as to who knows more about U. S. - 7. A Bond that costs $18.75 will:
 - Grow to $25 and stop
 - Keep on growing if you don't cash it in
- 8. You can have somebody else buy your Bonds for you.
 - true
 - false

ANSWERS

- 1. 7 1/2 years is correct.

- 3. Generally speaking, true. You must be either a resident; a citizen living abroad; or an employee of the U.S., military or civilian.
- 4. In spite of the fact that Bond-buying was nearly universal during the war years, the correct answer is 1963.
- 5. You're right no matter which answer you checked.
- 6. False. Any bank will redeem your E Bond anytime after the two-months' holding period.
- 7. A Series E Bond will keep growing for 10 years past maturity. Extension is automatic.

Browsing With Bev

By Beverley Nicholson, County HD Agent

Although much information has been released recently for homemakers about effective laundry disinfectants, here's some research findings in capsule form which may supplement that from other sources. Agricultural bacteriologists began looking for better laundry disinfectants after they found that normal home laundry methods did not kill all disease-causing bacteria, especially when there was sickness in the family.

The bacteriologists found these suggestions can help make the family wash safe:

1. Pine oil is an effective laundry disinfectant. Select one which contains at least 80 per cent pine oil. The pine oil, which does not affect the action of the detergent, may be added to the wash or rinse water.

2. Liquid chlorine bleach may be used in the first wash water so that the chlorine will be removed in rinsing. Chlorine bleaches are harmful to wool, silk and fabrics which have been treated with resins, so use other disinfectants for these fabrics.

3. Phenolic and quaternary disinfectants are both good, but in most instances must be purchased from stores that have industrial supplies. The phenolic disinfectant may be added in either the wash or rinse water, but the quaternary disinfectant should be added to the rinse, as

You CAN Afford Good Nursing Care and Good Living at Twilite Acre Nursing Home

State Inspected and Licensed - - Approved for The Vendor Program

New! Beautifully Furnished! Staffed and Equipped for Happy Senior Retirement!

BEFORE YOU READ ANYTHING ELSE READ THIS!!

It Could Mean Your Longer Life and Your Happiness!!

Perhaps you, as an elderly citizen, are in need of good nursing care in pleasant, comfortable surroundings. You would like to live at Twilite Acre Nursing Home but you think you can't afford it. You are receiving Old Age Assistance, but neither you nor your family have sufficient resources to pay the difference. So you do not apply.

BUT HAVE YOU HEARD OF THE VENDOR PROGRAM? If not you may find that you are doing yourself and your family a great injustice by not taking advantage of this wonderful program for the care of the elderly in Nursing Homes and Hospitals.

YOU DO NOT HAVE TO PAY all this extra cash for nursing care, if you qualify for Vendor Nursing Care Payments in a licensed Nursing Home, such as Twilite Acre. And most Old Age Assistance recipients can qualify.

As a matter of fact, neither you nor your family may have to pay more than a few dollars per month—and sometimes none at all—for the best possible care.

WHAT IS THE VENDOR PROGRAM? It is a payment made through the State Department of Public Welfare for medical and nursing care in a licensed nursing home for a person who already receives Old Age Assistance payments. He must be receiving an OAA payment to qualify. But the Vendor payment is IN ADDITION to the OAA payment. The amount of the Vendor payment is worked out in each case on the basis of need and the type of nursing care provided.

THERE ARE THREE TYPES OF NURSING CARE as defined under the program—Minimum, Moderate and Intensive, designated as Type I, Type II and Type III. The type needed in each case is determined by a doctor's recommendation, a Welfare worker's investigation, and the health and care history of the applicant.

THE VENDOR PAYMENT is determined from the type of care the Department of Public Welfare can provide for the applicant and the care that the Nursing Home is staffed and equipped to give.

Nursing Homes are classified as Non-Participating in which no Vendor payments can be made; Class I, Class II and Class III.

TWILITE ACRE NURSING HOME IS A CLASS II HOME equipped for a Class III rating.

In a Class II Home, the maximum Vendor payment for nursing care for a minimum type patient is $75.00 per month. For Type II and III patients, the maximum is $96.00 per month. That is what the State will pay the home for nursing care given patients of those needs.

THIS IS IN ADDITION TO OLD AGE ASSISTANCE payments for Food and Lodging, Medical and Drug Bills and so forth.

The Maximum Monthly rate which a Class II Nursing Home, qualified under the Vendor Program, can charge for nursing care and subsistence is $170.00 per month for a Type I resident, and $191.00 per month for Types II and III residents.

IN MOST CASES THE OLD AGE ASSISTANCE

PAYMENT AND THE VENDOR PAYMENT ARE SUFFICIENT TO MEET THE MONTHLY COST WITH ONLY A FEW DOLLARS MONTHLY REQUIRED FROM THE PATIENT OR HIS FAMILY. SOMETIMES NO ADDITIONAL PAYMENT IS REQUIRED.

To be eligible to receive Vendor Payments, a recipient must already be receiving Old Age Assistance. It sometimes happens, where the need is shown, that OAA payments to a resident are increased after he is admitted to the Nursing Home.

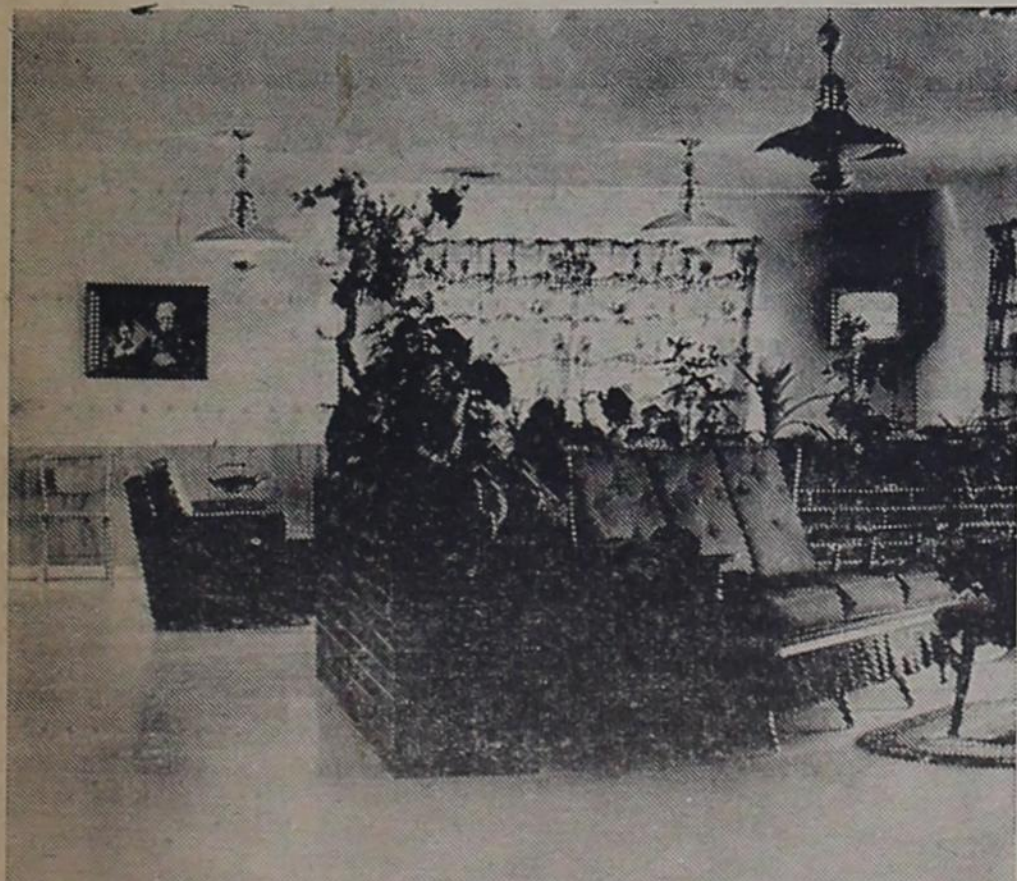

Of course, if a person has sufficient private resources to pay his expenses in a home, he is not eligible for Vendor payments.

BUT WHETHER OR NOT HE IS RECEIVING THIS ASSISTANCE, HE WILL RECEIVE THE FINEST AND MOST ATTENTIVE AND CONSIDERATE CARE POSSIBLE IN TWILITE ACRE NURSING HOME, Rising Star.

WHAT DOES TWILITE ACRE NURSING HOME PROVIDE FOR YOU?

Rates at the Twilite Acre Nursing Home start at $160 per month. They are governed by the Vendor program as explained above. For this sum, the Home furnishes Board and Room, nursing service, laundry service, barber and beauty shop service, recreation and emergency medical care.

The Nursing staff and schedule conform in all details to State requirements. There are two LVNs on duty all day, with a relief, and there is a Registered Nurse on call 24 hours daily.

Each patient receives the diet required by his condition and the prescription of his physician. The patient may either eat in his room or in the dining room, as he or she desires. The food is wholesome and is prepared in a well equipped, immaculate kitchen.

There are 16 rooms and 32 beds in Twilite Acre, furnished with either standard or hospital beds as necessary. Each room is comfortably furnished, with telephone and a nurses call system similar to those used in hospitals.

There are separate rest room and bath facilities for men and women residents, and also separate rest rooms for guests.

The home is centrally cooled with refrigerated air and centrally heated with vented heat.

Recreation facilities consist of a large lobby, with television, adjoining the dining room whose tables can be used for games by those residents desiring this amusement. A large patio is available for warm weather use outdoors. It is planned to show films and have other types of entertainment at the home.

Arrangements are being made to have the Sunday services at the First Baptist Church transmitted to each room where desired.

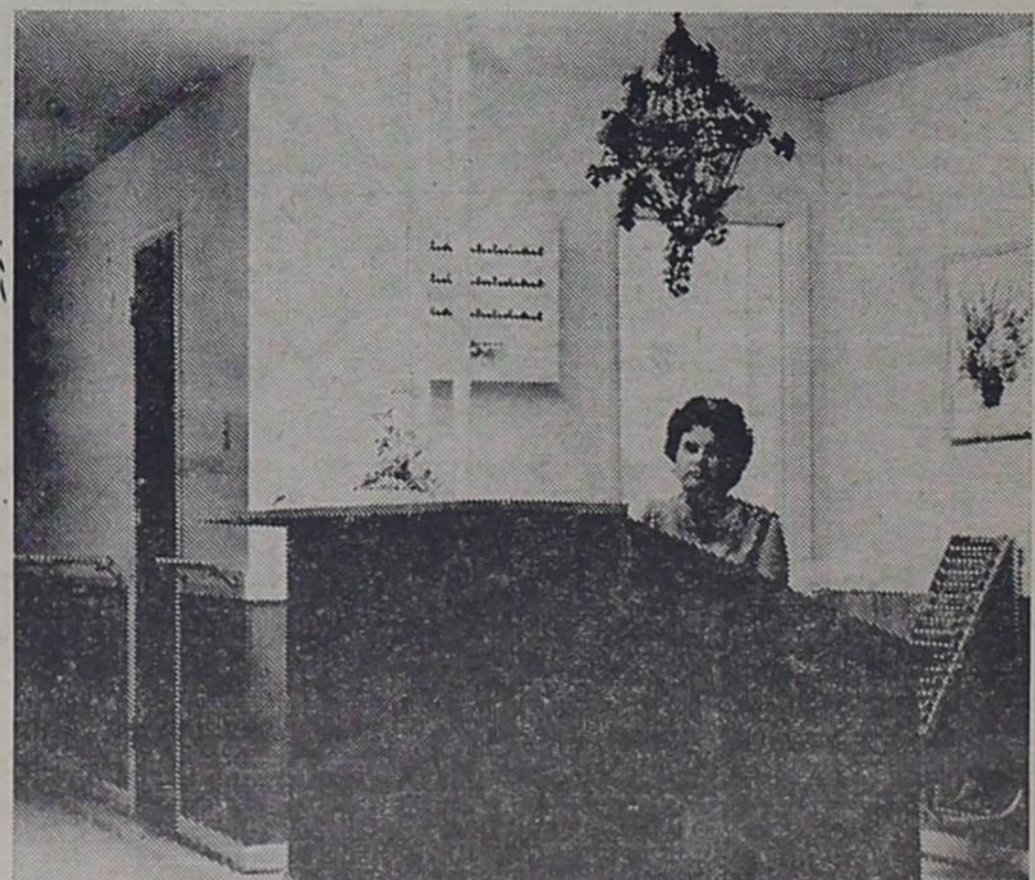

The home is equipped with oxygen and other medical equipment for emergency use, and a physician is on call at all hours.

Twilite Acre Nursing Home is of brick veneer construction, beautifully decorated and conforming in all details of design and equipment to the State Department of Health specifications.

There is no more comfortable, no better equipped and staffed and no more beautiful Nursing Home in this area. It is a wonderful home in which to spend your twilight years.

We invite you to visit and inspect it.

Why Wait? Inquire Now! Investigate the wonderful advantages of a senior life in Twilite Acre, where you can enjoy comfort, good food, competent, sympathetic nursing care and the companionship of your own age level at such small actual cost to you and your family.
