Arranging to Open a First Class Studio

F. L. Huff Will be Manager of New Business Here --May Open Studio This Week

Arrangements are being made by F. L. Huff, an experienced photographer to put in a studio at this place some time soon.

Mr. Huff informed us that he had ordered new and up-to-date fixtures for his business, shipped out of Dallas this week, and that he believed he would be able to open up for business near the last of the week.

A new waterproof tent will be erected on some prominent lot here in town. It being the intention of the proprietor to arrange his business in a way to turn out first class work.

Mr. Huff comes here from Davidson Oklahoma, but is not a stranger to a great many people in this part of the country as he has worked in this neighborhood at different times.

The Reporter in behalf of the town welcomes Mr. Huff and his business in our midst and predict for him a nice business. Look for his ad in next week's issue.

Joined Hands in Wedlock Wednesday Evening

Horace B. Turner And Miss Hattie Ruth Ross, Were the Contracting Couple

Wednesday evening promptly at seven o'clock at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Ross of the city, Rev. Leslie Robeson was the officiating party in a marriage ceremony that united Mr. Horace B. Turner and Miss Hattie Ruth Ross.

The bride is the youngest sister of the editor's. And of course we think she is pretty and sweet and that she possesses every necessary accomplishment to endear a girl to the heart of young man.

The groom who is manager of the Odell Lumber Company at this place. Who came here three years ago from Whiteright to accept a position at the yard. By close application to his business, he was promoted to management of the Company's affairs in the town. And has also made many friends in this country since his arrival in Odell.

The wedding was a quiet affair only members of the bride's home and a sister of groom Miss Eunice Turner from Whiteright, being present.

Mr. and Mrs. Turner are at home in their new residence the groom recently had built in the city.

Odell Folks

Astonished Druggist

We sell many good medicines but we are told the mixture of buckthorn bark, glycerine etc., known as Adler-i-ka, is the best we ever sold. Odell folks astonish us daily by telling how QUICKLY Adler-i-ka relieves sour stomach, gas on the stomach and constipation. Many report that A SINGLE DOSE relieves these troubles almost IMMEDIATELY. We are glad we are Odell agents for Adler-i-ka. A. C. Daniel, druggist.

M. M. Williams and Miss Mary Hughes Marry

At Three O'clock This Evening To Sail Out on Life's Matrimonial Sea--Popular Couple

Today at the home of Rev. A. B. Hughes, south of town. Mr. M. M. Williams and Miss Mary Hughes, with clasped hands met at the nuptial altar and took the solemn marriage vow that made them man and wife. Rev. Hughes performing the marriage ceremony.

The wedding of this popular young couple will be no great surprise to their many friends in this country. As it has been rumored for some time that they were seriously considering taking up life's journey together. Miss Mary is one of the community's most popular young ladies. Whose sweet disposition has served to make her acquaintance, friends. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Hughes one of the prominent farmer families of the neighborhood, who are well known over the county from reason of their long residence.

The groom is the son of Mr.

and A. A. Williams, who with his parents moved to this country about two years ago from Colorado City. Since that time he has conducted himself in such a way that has made him many friends around Odell. Who will all agree, that the bride of this sketch has made a wise choice in selecting Mack, as he is familiarly known for a companion.

Mr. Williams has recently accepted a position with W. T. Collins to manage one of farms near town. Where he and his newly wedded wife will go to housekeeping.

Relatives and friends of the wedding couple who accompanied them to the Hughes home where they married were: Misses Edna and Bessie Archer, Dollie Williams, Clara Hughes, Mrs. L. L. Boutwell of El Paso, and Roy Hughea.

The Reporter joins the friends of Mr. and Mrs. Williams in extending congratulations and wishing for them nothing less than a long life of much happiness and prosperity together.

Henry Flowers, one of the well known Doans' farmers was here with cotton Tuesday.

Mrs. S. S. Farley and daughter Miss Janette, were at Vernon Tuesday.

Texas News Condensed
State Happening and Industrial
Notes of Texas

Alpine—Heavy carload shipments of cattle are leaving this point daily for the various markets in and out of the State. Ranges are in excellent conditions and the cattle fine and fat.

Kirbyville—A number of local citizens recently held a get-together meeting and organized a Progoessive League here. The first official act of the organization was to name November 21st as Trades Day for this town.

Harlingen—Growers in this section say that the strawberry crop is ripening fast and prospects are bright for gathering and marketing some of the luscious fruit this month. A splendid yield is forecasted by the farmers in this territory.

Floresville—Probably the heaviest pecan crop in years is being gathered here this season. The nuts are in demand on account of their excellent flavor and are being sent to all parts of the State at a good profit to the producers. Last week more than 25,000 pounds were gathered and sold.

Orange—A big syrup refinery with a daily capacity of between 2,500 and 3,000 gallons is being constructed here. The plant will soon be ready for operation and will only cater to wholesale trade. With a syrup factory in this country, farmers will devote a greater acreage to cane growing in the future, according to the owners of the project.

Greenville—The adaptability of Sudan grass in this section has been proved through experiments carried on at the local Chamber of Commerce Experimental farm, situated near here. Several acres of land was devoted to this product this year and the yield averaged 500 lbs. of seed and eight tons of hay per acre. Fifty acres will be planted to this seed next season.

San Benito—For the purpose of encouraging the growing of citrus fruits and flowers to a greater extent in this section, the Rio Grande Horticultural Society of this city has named November 27th and 28th as the dates for holding a horticultural show here. A large exhibit of products is being arranged and prizes will be given those showing the best displays.

HOLLAND'S MAGAZINE, appearing every month, is a veritable ray of sunshine to every member of the household. Each number contains plenty of wholesome, inspiring stories for the grown-ups, a well maintained Children's Department, a section devoted to practical help along the lines of cooking, sewing, embroidery, and various other lines of housekeeping. "The Mail Bag," containing letters on subjects of public interest from readers all through the South, is eagerly watched for from month to month. Everyone that appreciates the real worth of a truly good magazine knows the value of Holland's.

EVERY MAN interested in farming, whether as a profession or as a matter of pastime, will find much of interest and profit in Farm and Ranch. Besides being of real value in the solving of his many problems and offering to him new and practical ideas in the carrying out of his work, the paper is a catalogue of nationally advertised goods that may be relied upon. Each number contains a department called "Our Farmers' Directory," which is a market and exchange place of Southwestern farm needs and products, and is watched by half a million readers weekly.

THIS family newspaper will keep you posted on all the local happenings. Telling you of the joys and sorrows of your friends and neighbors, and in fact, serving as a medium of information about everything going on in this community. Such state and foreign news as we think will be of interest is also published, and no home is complete without a copy of this paper each week.

What Tearing Down The Home Town Cost An Iowa Farmer.

(Editors Note)—The following article was given us for publication, which is a German farmers view regarding mail-order house patronage and what it leads to:

We farmers need awakening to the fact that we have unmistakably reached the period where we must think and plan, I am one of the slow German farmers that had to be shown, and I am now giving my experience that others may profit, for knowledge is more expensive now than ten years ago

Twenty-nine years ago I began my farm career. I had an old team and $50. Our furniture was mostly home-made—chairs, cupboard and lounge made from drygoods boxes, neatly covered with ten cent cretonne by my girl wife. We rented eighty acres. Being a boy of good habits I got all needed machinery and groceries of our home merchants on credit, until fall crops were sold. The first year was a wet season and I did not make enough to pay creditors. I went to each on date of promise and explained conditions, paying as much possible and they all carried the balance over another year. They continued to accommodate me until I was able to buy a forty acre piece of my own

As soon as I owned these few acres the mail-order houses began sending me catalogues, and gradually I began sending my loose change to them, letting my accounts stand in my home town, where I had gotten my accommodation when I needed it.

We then had one of the thriftiest little villages in the state—good line of business in all branches, merchants who were willing to help an honest fellow over a bad year and a town full of people who came twice a week to trade and visit. Our country town supported a library, high school, band, ball team, and we had big celebrations every year. A farm near a live town soon doubles in value. I sold my forty acres at a big advance and bought an eighty, gradually adding to it until I had 200 acres of the best land in Iowa. I then felt no need of asking favors, and found it easy to patronize the mail-order agents that came almost weekly to our door. I regret to say that I was the first in the country to make up a neighborhood bill and send it to a mail-order house. Though we got bit every once in a while, we got in the habit of sending away for stuff.

Gradually our merchants lessened their stock of goods—for lack of patronage. Finally we began to realize that when we needed a bolt quickly for machinery, or clothing for sickness or death we had to wait and send away for it, which wasn't so pleasant. One by one our merchants moved to places where they were appreciated, and men of less energy moved in. Gradually our town has gone down; our business houses are "tacky" in appearance, a number are empty, our schools, churches and walks are going down—we have no band no, library nor ball team. There is no business done in the town and therefore no taxes to keep things up. Hotel is closed for lack of travel. Go down to the depot when the freight train pulls in and you see the sequel in mail order packages.

Five years ago my farm was worth $195 an acre today I'd have a hard matter to sell it at $165 an acre. It is "too far from a live town"—so every farmer has said that wants to buy. He wants a place near schools and churches, where his children can have advantages. I have awakened to the fact helping to pull the town, it has cost me $5,600 nine years. Like the majority of farmers, I didn't figure far enough ahead.

This sort of business means the going aways with country towns. What will it mean to farmers to have only a few large cities at a distance of 500 or 1,000 miles? What are we going to do our children, who are demanding even better advantages than we had?

Those cities we help to build return no favors; they take our money but offer no credit in time of need. If we want high schools etc., we must raise the money and build near our farm homes or send our boys and girls to the cities at great expense, amidst temptations of which the farm has no equal. Neither am I the only awakening farmer. These mail order agents that come to our homes every week are becoming a nuisance, and making it unsafe to leave women and children alone on the farm. With warm cordiality we take these strangers into our homes, often as one of the family, and we sometimes we paid in having them entice our girls to the city.

These are some facts that need consideration. I have decided that the safest proposition all around is for the country people to look after their own interests, and build up their own country towns that bring value to their farms. Let those who want to patronize the city mail-order house go there to live, getting their living where they give their patronage. The remainder of my life will be given to building up the home town that I helped to pull down. Brother farmers, you can take my advice or get your knowledge the way I got mine.

HANS GARBUS.

Putting Them "In Right."

A Canadian who had been on a pleasure jaunt to New York tells of an incident of Gotham's amusement life. He went to the Carnegie lyceum. It's a big place with several different entertainments going on at the same time in various parts of the building. On this particular day they had moving pictures of Victor Hugo's "Les Miserables" on the ground floor and an orchestra concert upstairs. High-brow music-lovers and patrons of the movies would have got all mixed up in looking for their respective places of entertainment if it had not been for a big-voiced negro porter who stood at the stairs to announce in stentorian tones: "Dis way to de Symphony concert. Less Miserubble downstairs."

Hook and Eye.

The scene was a teachers' training college; the class one of girls; the lecturer on phonetics a gentleman with a nice taste in sarcasm. "This sound," he said, "has for symbol something even you can all remember—a dress-maker's hook; just the ordinary thing you are all familiar with." As he spoke, says the Manchester Guardian, he drew the symbol in chalk on the board, and the worried pupils all laughed. Even they—to borrow the professor's remark—knew that the "hook" depicted was an "eye."

Ozone Stimulates Yeast.

A new application of ozone has just been put into use by brewers. They have discovered that the fermenting power of yeast is greatly increased by subjecting it to the influence of ozone for five minutes. The power develops only after about two days. Ozone has an inhibitive action upon objectionable organisms.

COULD SCARCELY WALK ABOUT

And For Three Summers Mrs. Vincent Was Unable to Attend to Any of Her Housework.

Pleasant Hill, N. C.—"I suffered for three summers," writes Mrs. Walter Vincent, of this town, "and the third and last time, was my worst. I had dreadful nervous headaches and prostration, and was scarcely able to walk about. Could not do any of my housework. I also had dreadful pains in my back and sides and when one of those weak, sinking spells would come on me, I would have to give up and lie down, until it wore off. I was certainly in a dreadful state of health, when I finally decided to try Cardui, the woman's tonic, and I firmly believe I would have died if I hadn't taken it. After I began taking Cardui, I was greatly helped, and all three bottles relieved me entirely. I fattened up, and grew so much stronger in three months, I felt like another person altogether." Cardui is purely vegetable and gentle-acting. Its ingredients have a mild, tonic effect, on the womanly constitution. Cardui makes for increased strength, improves the appetite, tones up the nervous system, and helps to make pale, sallow cheeks, fresh and rosy. Cardui has helped more than a million weak women, during the past 50 years. It will surely do for you, what it has done for them. Try Cardui today.
