From The Editor's Window

The bloodiest and most horrible war in all the world's history is now being fought between Germany and Russia. Thousands upon thousands of men are being slain every day. The two leaders of this terrible war are the two leading dictators of the world today and nothing that has ever transpired in world history equals the thirst for power and gain and the utter disregard for humanity that these two dictators have. We are referring to Hitler, the German dictator and Stalin, the Russian dictator. In a few instances we have heard these two terrible monsters referred to as the world's greatest dictators. There is nothing great about either of them. They are monsters of hate, greed, selfishness, jealousy and sin of all kinds. They have no love for their own people nor for anything else, except to exalt and bring what they call glory to themselves.

The way they are going about obtaining this self-exaltation is not glory. It is anything but glorious. They have kept their own people down in dire poverty and hard labor for many weary years and made them believe they were persecuted and down trodden by the outside world promising that they would one day lead them out, when all the time they were looking forward only to their own selfish, ambitious aims. Their people believed these stories only because they did not read and keep themselves informed as to what was really going on in the world. Instead, they listened to propaganda put out by these monsters and, their minds already warped by speeches and promises and tales of world persecution, they were finally duped into the war which has brought—only sorrow, misery, blood-shed, starvation, privation of every kind, and a general upheaval of all the world.

Have they profited any by all this? They have not, and none of them now living will ever see the end of all this devastation, for should the fighting cease there will be many more long years of hard labor and privation, in rebuilding what the hand of greed and selfish ambition has torn down.

The people of our own great country should be against war and we believe they are. It is an awful thing to contemplate and while we should do every thing possible to help the war sufferers in other countries we should at the same time be watchful and turn deaf ears to the propaganda that sweeps over every land in huge overwhelming waves at times like the present.

Miss Molly O'Daniel, daughter, of Governor and Mrs. O'Daniel, will be married to Jack D. Wrather, Jr. of Tyler on the evening of July 31, and the Governor has cordially invited the people of Texas to attend the wedding. "We would like to hear from all of you folks who will come, so we can arrange to have enough of the wedding cake to go around," said the Governor in his message to the people.

Friends of Governor O'Daniel have presented him a fine new Lincoln Zephyr automobile with Texas license plates No. 1, in which to make the trip to Washington as senator-elect from Texas.

Mrs. O'Daniel selected the custom-made maroon plaid covers that will protect the upholstery of their splendid car. The seat covers were selected to match the color of the car.

We admire the spirit of our young soldiers when they were recently disciplined by their General for acts out of harmony with army rules.

A few members of congress and parents undertook measures against General Lear on account of the discipline, but the soldier boys came instantly to his rescue by inviting outsiders to stay out of army affairs and attend to their own.

We love the boys for that. It shows a number one loyalty that every soldier should have and we rejoice that our soldiers have the right spirit. They are young and full of pep and energy and at times, as is perfectly normal with every American, overstep their bounds but they are also sensible and loyal and are willing to take the consequences.

Mr. and Mrs. Jodie Isenhower spent the week end visiting with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Williams and Mrs. W. M. Isenhower, returning to their home at Ingleside Sunday afternoon.

Also Loren Everett who owns the Humble filling station, is constructing a nice new private garage at his home east of the square on the Bankhead highway. Charlie Davis is doing the carpenter work on the building which will be a nice asset to the place when completed.

ATWELL LADIES AIDED IN ALUMINUM DRIVE

The Atwell Home Demonstration Club women gathered aluminum two days the past week. There were several pieces discarded and every lady was glad to help in our defense program.

The meeting for Thursday, July 24th, at 2 p.m. was a flop as there was no one present except the reporter, so there is nothing to report from that meeting.

Several Farmers Dusting Cotton This Last Week

Several farmers in the Putnam community are dusting their cotton with Arsenic. The machines are not very expensive, and the dusting is cheap and the increase in the yield would not have to be very much more to be a paying proposition.

I. G. Mobley purchased a machine and dusted his crop and has used the machine in dusting several other crops. One machine can dust all the cotton in the community under the reduction the government has this year. The machine will cover ten or twelve rows at a time and one day a person could go over a large farm. No reports as yet as to what success the dusting will be; but it increases the production in other places and no doubt, that it will have the same effect in Callahan county.

J. B. RIFFE REPORTS EVERYTHING LOOKING WELL AROUND ATWELL

J. B. Riffe of the Atwell community was in town Saturday morning and stated everything was looking good in the Atwell territory. He said he had a fine fruit crop, most of it was gathered. He stated that there was very little cotton planted in his community; but what they had looked good with very few insects, and the corn crop was made and they had the best crop, that had been made in several years. He also said that the watermelon crop was the latest he ever saw; but thought they would have a good crop later on in the summer and fall.

BOBBIE WILLIAMS WINS HONORS AT THE MERKEL AND ANSON

Bobbie Williams was in the News office Saturday afternoon and stated he had attended the rodeo at Merkel on July 18th, and had won the first place in broncho riding and second place in the bull riding contest. This is second time Bobbie has entered the riding contest in the Merkel rodeos and won honors both times.

Mr. Williams attended the old settlers reunion and rodeo at Anson Friday and won first place there. The saddle bronc riding was a money affair and Bobbie was the only rider to stay with his mount. James Clark won second place in bronc riding at the Anson rodeo Friday.

Among those calling at the News office and setting their subscriptions dates ahead were: Mrs. Ida Rogers, M. D. Heist, Miss Tassie Jackson and Mrs. W. P. Tompkins of Brownwood.

Mr. and Mrs. Altis Clemer and son Curtis visited with Mr. and Mrs. Glover Johnson Sunday.

The Pioneers

Dedicated to those men and women who followed the setting sun in their Westward surge to establish new homes, subdue nomadic Indians and build an empire. Their ranks now thinned by the toll of time, a cross section of these hardy old pioneers will convene in annual reunion at Clyde, August.

From peaceful homes in an older state
Cross swollen streams and arid plains,
Came pioneers to hew their fate
And plant sturdy, courageous strains.

Young brides, still in their teens
Strapping men, tanned by the sun
Prairie scooners with ducking screens
Babies clad in plain home-spun.

It was a bold and valiant band
That tackled the challenging job
To win and till a virgin land
And conquer the Indian Mob.

The ring of axes and buzz of saws;
Saw forests thinned and homes arise,
Churches built for the Master's cause
Schools begun under Western skies.

So it was, our heritage came about
Not by chance or idle dreams,
But through pioneers brave and stout
Who tilled the land and harnessed streams.

It was they who made America great
In spite of famine, flood and foe
A land of freedom, this our fate
God, help us, keep it so.

—Jack Scott

We predict for her a successful source in business college, worthy and efficient enough to fill any vocation to which she may aspire, always active in church and league work in the Methodist church, work her interest as well as her charming personality will be greatly missed. Their many friends wish for them every success.

The Independent Schools Have 59% Of Population

According to county superintendent of public education B. C. Christman, there are 17 school districts in Callahan county, thirteen common school and four independent districts.

The independent districts are: Baird with 630 schoolastics, Clyde with 475, Cross Plains with 461, but, Victoria district has consolidated with Cross Plains which gives Cross Plains the greatest number of schoolastics in the county and Putnam with 190 and transfers from Union and Hart of about 84 giving Putnam a total of 275.

The four independent districts have 1842, while the 13 common school districts have only 1,259, making a total of 3101 in the county. The independent districts have 59 percent of the school population.

ROBERT WALKER IN SATURDAY MORNING FROM ADMIRAL

Robert Walker of the Admiral community was in Putnam, Saturday morning and reported everything going about as usual in that community, in discussing crops, he stated his wheat was better than the average making about 12 bushels per acre and weighing 54 pounds per bushel. He said his oats threshed out about 43 bushels per acre.

In talking of other crops he stated cotton was looking good, but there was no acreage. Mr. Walker stated it looked like cotton would be a good price; but there would not be enough of cotton to bring any money if it was worth 40 cents per pound. He does not think very much of the control program and thinks the only thing has been done, it has made it harder for the small farmer, and the wealthy, immensely rich at the expense of the poor farmer.

REVIVAL TO START AT UNION BAPTIST CHURCH

Remember the date August 3rd and 4th.

EASTLAND COUNTY HAS 7,230 PUPILS IN PUBLIC SCHOOLS

Eastland County has 7,230 schoolastics according to the last census report in 1941, according to announcement of the county superintendent of public school in the county. Cisco, comes first with 1,503, Ranger second with 1,230 and Eastland 1,038. The common schools have an enrollment of 1,877 while the Independent schools have 5,353. ## THE PEANUT CAPITAL OF AFRICA

What cotton is to the South, peanuts are to Dakar and West Africa. President Roosevelt in his address last week as a larger point to the Americas, over one-half million tons of peanuts are shipped each year.

The French first came to this part of Africa in 1804, but it was some years later before they established a colony there. Dakar is now a city of about 90,000 people, 86,000 of which are natives. You will remember reading in the papers last year about the attempt made by the Free French and the British to capture this important port.

Did you know that people living in and around Dakar go hunting for chickens just as we hunt for rabbits, quail, etc. The chickens live in the brush and are as wild as any other wild game found in Africa and have to be shot like other wild birds.

WOMEN IN BRITAIN FIND RATION MELT BULGES

LONDON — Women who for years have been trying to find a diet which would reduce those unwanted bulges have discovered that rationing is the ideal thing.

Many women are regaining slim lines they thought had gone forever. They are not only getting slimmer, but also fitter, as is generally agreed by medical men, factory welfare officers and dietitians.

People now are in a better state of health than they were before the war, and many older people who suffered in health during the last war say that they feel much fitter in this one.

Do not despise the little things of life—you may have to ride in one yourself, sometime.

When a motorist sees all the roads marked, he knows he is approaching a good live town.

A widow is always to be envied—she knows all about men, and all the men who know all about her are dead.

Callahan Countians Writing Fate On Sales Of 3.2 Brew

Callahan countians were going to the polls Thursday to write the fate of 3.2 beer sales. Indications were that between 1,500 and 1,700 votes would be tabulated.

Strongest absentee voting was reported at Baird where it was estimated that possibly 100 such ballots would be counted.

Opinion was divided as to what the outcome of the referendum would be. Cross Plains, however, was generally conceded in the dry column as a result of the overwhelming majority rolled up by the pros in the recent local option election in this precinct when beer sales were discontinued. Baird, on the other hand, was regarded as the county's wettest box. Antis there predicted they would carry the box by a majority of 200 or more.

Due to the fact that tabulation of returns will not take a great deal of time, results of the election were expected to be known over the entire county by 8:30 Thursday night.

As the Review went to press Thursday morning voting was off to a light start in Cross Plains. Estimates were that between 250 and 300 votes would be polled here, probably only 70 percent of the city's voting strength.

No concentrated effort has been made in this part of the county by either the wets or the dries. Both factions are reported, however, to have been more active in other localities, especially at Baird and surrounding vicinity.

Peaches

Peaches everywhere—plentiful, cheap, fine in quality—these should be now on family tables and in pantry shelves for winter use—Peach weeks have been proclaimed for July 24 to 31 and August 7 to 14—So let's check up on up-to-date methods of conserving peaches—

A standard bushel of peaches weighs 48 pounds and should yield about 30 pints jars or 20 quart jars. This bushel of peaches if a light syrup is used, will need about 3 lbs. of sugar. For a light syrup to each three cups of water use one cup of sugar.

Preparation for Canning

Immerse the peaches in boiling water until the skins will slip easily. Plunge into cold water. Remove skins, cut peaches in halves, discard pits. To prevent darkening, and the loss of Vitamin C, drop the halves immediately into a solution made by dissolving a tablespoon salt and 2 tablespoons vinegar in one gallon of water. Rinse fruit with clear water.

To Can Peaches

Make a light syrup by boiling for 5 minutes, 3 measures of water to each measure of sugar. Peaches may be packed raw, but a better pack is obtained if the fruit is first simmered in the syrup 4 to 8 minutes, depending on the texture of the peach. Use a kettle or pan large enough to prevent stacking the halves. Do not cook until too soft to handle. Pack at once, placing the halves in over-lapping layers, the concave surface of each half being downward. Fill container with boiling syrup. Process in water bath; quart and pint glass jars and No. 2 plain tin cans 15 minutes.

When packed raw, exhaust the air before sealing by placing the filled containers in a boiling water bath deep enough to come within two inches of the top of the container. Cover the water bath to hold in the steam. Exhaust 5 minutes. After air has been exhausted from fruit, take one container and finish filling others—removed from water bath to seal and put back for processing. This method retains more vitamins and gives full packs. Process in water bath 25 minutes if fruit is firm, and 20 minutes if it is soft.

Crushed Peaches

Skin ripe peaches and prepare as above for canning. Pass the halves through food grinder with end perforated with large holes (better ½ inch holes). Pack at once into cans and to each gallon of fruit add syrup made by 1-1.3 cups sugar and 2 cups water boiled together 5 minutes. Exhaust (as above) 10 minutes. Seal at once and process in water bath 15 minutes for pints and No. 2 cans, 20 minutes for quarts and No. 2 cans.

The fruit can be heated in the syrup to 165°F and packed hot into the cans and sealed at once and processed in the water bath as for canned peaches. This is an excellent way to utilize peaches that have a good flavor but that are undesirable from size, spots that have been cut out, or that are a little too ripe to keep their shape well. Crushed peaches are suitable for serving at any meal.

Peach Butter

Well ripened peaches (freestone) are best to use for making butter. To peel the peaches, dip in boiling water for one-half minute until the skins slip, put into cold water, and peel. Cook the peeled peaches with very little water until soft; put through a colander sieve. To each measure of pulp, add half a measure of 1-2 pound of sugar. Cook slowly and stir frequently until the produce is of the desired consistency. While still hot, pack in sterilized jars and seal.

This can be cooked with less stirring in a slow oven, just stirring occasionally. Clean and label jars before storing in a cool, dark, dry place.

Peach Preserves

Peaches not too ripe that will hold their shape but ripe enough to give a good flavor may be used. Peel and prepare the peaches as for canning. If clingstone peaches are to be used, cut flesh from pits. To each pound or measure of fruit, add three-fourths pound or measure of sugar. Combine sugar and fruit in alternate layers and allow to stand overnight to extract the juice. Stir gently while heating slowly to boiling. Or prepare a syrup by adding 1-2 cup water to each one and three-fourths cups of sugar. Add fruit and boil rapidly. Cook until fruit is tender and clear. Pour into hot sterilized jars and seal. Clean and label jars before storing in a cool, dark, dry place.

Peach Pickles

2 gallons peaches, 1 gallon sugar, 1 quart vinegar (strong), 2 sticks cinnamon bark, 1 tablespoon cloves, 1 tablespoon allspice. White clingstone peaches are preferable. Select firm fruit. Wash well. Remove the thin skin carefully. Cook spicy syrup until thick and pour over fruit and let stand overnight. Drain off juice and boil until thick. Then add fruit. Do not stir, but keep under syrup until tender and pack hot into sterilized jars. Cover with syrup. Seal, polish and label. Store in a cool, dry place.

Sources of Heat For Drying

1. Sun-drying. There is little control of temperature by this method and only where the atmosphere is dry should this be depended upon. Slated or wire trays covered, top and bottom, with thin cloth and cheese cloth, to keep out dust and insects.

2. A ventilated glassed-in box that acts like hot-bed intensifying the sun's heat and so provides a higher temperature, which results in quick drying and can be made a protection from rain is an excellent dryer. Trays can be adjusted in the box for product.

Length of Time For Drying

Sliced peaches dry in three to eight hours; halved fruits in eight to twenty-four hours; and whole fruit in 18 to 36 hours. Often some of the products dry before the rest. In such cases, remove only the thoroughly dried products and allow the rest to finish drying. Regardless of the time mentioned above, the fruit must be dried until a "rubbery" texture exists.

Storing Dried Products

Conditioning—Food taken from drying trays is not uniformly dry. Portions that are more moist than others may cause mold to develop. To obtain an even degree of moisture, place the products into deep containers and stir each day for 8 to 10 days. This is known as conditioning. If food is too moist after conditioning, return to dryer.

Heat before storing—Heat all products for 30 minutes at a temperature from 156 to 180 degrees F. to protect from infestation by certain beetles and moths.

Containers for storage—All containers for storage of dried fruits should be sealed or closed very tight. Types of containers that make it possible for the product to be examined every month or two are necessary. Any indication of moisture in the container should warrant opening and reheating to 160 F. of stored dried products and re-sealing in fresh containers. Some practical containers are:

1. One half gallon glass jars that can be sealed and moisture detected through the glass without opening and closing containers.

2. Cellophane bags sealed with warm curling iron. This also makes possible the detection of moisture inside the containers.

3. Tin containers with tight fitting lids are good storage containers.

4. If sacks are to be used, they should be kept coated with wax.

Storage of Dried Foods: Store products in small containers that can be used in short time after opening. Dried products must be stored where they are always dry, as in attic or pantry, if it does not receive moisture from the kitchen. Most foods will remain in good edible condition for a year or more if stored in a cool, dry place.

W. Lee Leaving Saturday For Washington; To Take Oath Monday Noon of Next Week

Lee O'Daniel announced Wednesday that he will leave for Washington, D. C., Saturday night and will take his oath as U. S. senator at noon Monday.

O'Daniel will leave Houston by train Monday night at 9:40 p. m. As soon as he crosses into Louisiana, Lieut. Gov. Coke R. Stevenson will become acting governor. When O'Daniel becomes U. S. senator the following day, Stevenson will be in office for the remainder of O'Daniel's term as governor.

The governor was to attend the wedding of his daughter, Molly, to Jack D. Wrather Jr. of Tyler at the executive mansion Thursday at 8 p. m. The next day he was to be a guest at a barbecue and farewell party given by Fort Worth friends.

Saturday at 6 p. m. O'Daniel will attend a similar reception at Hermann park, Houston, after which he will board the train for Washington.

Only Mrs. O'Daniel will accompany her husband to the national capital to take over the seat of the late Morris Sheppard, who served Texas as senator for nearly 30 years.

The governor said he had made no plans to take along his famous hillbilly orchestra, colorful feature of his short political career, as it had been reported he might do.

Unless there is some change in O'Daniel's plans to take the senatorial oath of office at noon on next Monday, Stevenson likely will be formally sworn in as governor of Texas at noon Monday.

Monday, it was said, will be a favorable time for the attendance of Mrs. Stevenson, which is Stevenson's main concern about the time.

One of Stevenson's early duties will be to decide if there shall be a special session of the state legislature to pass a road bond servicing act. Stevenson has no disposition to call a session until the disagreements that prevented such an act at the regular session have been ironed out. It is unlikely there will be a session before September.

There may be a place that could beat one county for colorful politics but I'm going to have to be shown—by-gone campaigns, because the county has tamed down now. But back in the days when the biggest oil boom in history had "fallen down and gone boom", folks had a "morning after" feeling.

For instance, a prosecuting attorney, running for reelection, was opposed by a lawyer who represented the defendants in almost all the criminal cases—so the county attorney referred to his opponent as "a legal scavenger."

A peace officer with a malodorous record handed a campaign card to a voter who said, "Sure, I'll be glad to help you out." And it was two blocks and ten minutes later that the officer figured out what the man had meant.

Yes, sir, they used to take their politics straight in the good old days in that county. PEACHES Nice Peaches, Extra choice, will sell at Orchard or Deliver. RAWSON'S TIN SHOP L. L. BLACKBURN ATTORNEY AT LAW Office, First State Bank Bldg. Baird, -:- Texas
