We are told that deaf people will soon be able to carry on a conversation over the telephone. A new instrument called the sound spectrograph, which translates any sound into a visual pattern, was recently demonstrated to the Acoustical Society of America in New York City.

It was announced that with a small amount of training deaf persons can learn to read the patterns and literally see what the party at the other end of the line is saying.

The spectrograph is said to have been invented by a group of doctors connected with the Bell Telephone laboratories.

It is said our American forces in Germany have purchased butter, cheese and milk from Denmark to be delivered before December 15. Other agricultural products are also included.

About 6,128,000 pounds of butter and around 3,000,000 pounds of cheese have been specified. These products will bring around $4,000,000 to the industrious population of the little country.

The popular radio singer, Kate Smith, has recently completed fifteen years on the air and all that time with CBS. It is said during these years she has made 6,300 personal appearances to help worthy causes.

Her friends say she has probably launched more song hits than any other popular singer but she is careful to launch only those songs that she feels are right for her. She studies them and her flair for phrasing is likely to make the composer feel that she sings his song exactly the way he wants it sung.

The pompous dentist asked his new patient whether he had been to anyone else before coming to him.

"Only to the village druggist," the patient replied.

"And just what idiotic advice did he give you?"

The patient looked up innocently. "Why, he just told me to come to you."

First Communist: "Nice weather we are having."

Second Communist (grudgingly): "Yes, but the rich are having it, too."

A boy attending Sunday school for the first time, was being catechized by his teacher.

"Now where does God live?" asked the teacher.

"I think he lives in our bathroom," chirped the youngster.

"Why do you think that?" gasped the teacher.

"Well, every morning Daddy goes to the bathroom door and yells, 'God, are you still in there?'"

One year-old cork trees, developed during the war, are being distributed, free to farmers and city dwellers in the area around Redlands, California, it is said, to be grown into shade trees.

The trees are prized for their beauty and the excellent shade they provide.

From the Tatler and Bystander:

It is not at all hard to write funny paragraphs. All you have to do is to procure a pen, some paper and ink, and then sit down and write them as they occur to you. It is not the writing, but the occurring, that is hard.

In a recent poll it is said the well-known Dr. Gallup discovered that 66 per cent of those polled in the United States would rather ride with a man driver, and only 12 per cent with a woman driver.

There must be a reason for this.

MISS LORETA ALLEN ADVISES HOUSEWIVES TO CHECK ON LIGHTS

Since electric lamps should be arranged in homes for the best service and for attractiveness, Miss Loreta Allen, county home demonstration agent, advises housewives to make check-ups in their own homes for possible improvements.

Be sure there is enough light when and where it is needed, Miss Allen says. A table lamp should be equipped with a bulb or bulbs totaling at least 100 watts. And a floor lamp with reflector should have a minimum of 150 watts. Lamps should always be bright enough for tasks for which they are used.

Lamp shades should all be flared to spread light over a wider area. Any lamp shades with dark-colored linings should be removed as they soak up as much as 50 per cent of the light that would otherwise be reflected for use.

Height of table lamps is important. They should be tall enough to spread light over the intended area. Glare, also, should be checked on. An unshaded bulb should be used only in storage rooms, clothes closets, or similar places.

Lamps should be arranged to avoid shadows. For close work, the light should come from the left for right-handed persons and vice versa for those who are left-handed.

Sharp contrasts of light and dark within a room are hard on eyes, as they must keep adjusting to different amounts of light. Lamps with glass or plastic reflectors under the shade will do away with these contrasts.

Lamps properly arranged will bring less eye strain and more beauty, Miss Allen concludes. They bring attractive furnishings and color combinations to life.

ALFALFA HAS GREATER VALUE AS SILAGE THAN WHEN FIELD CURED

To the dairyman, alfalfa has greater value as silage than when it is field cured, according to recent studies of the USDA's Bureau of Dairy Industry.

Recent studies showed that cows on silage produced about seven per cent more milk than those on hay. At the beginning of the trials, the silage contained nine times as much carotene as the hay, but at the end the silage was 14 times as rich in carotene, because the hay lost carotene at a higher rate. In addition, cows fed silage, gave milk much higher in vitamin A potency. The protein content of dry matter was found to be 21 per cent in the silage and 15 per cent in the hay.

J. W. Davis, assistant dairyman for the A. and M. College Extension Service, says he believes this study and others similar will stimulate increased interest in trench silos in Texas.

Journalism Program At Baylor University

A revised and expanded journalism program at Baylor University has been approved by the curriculum committee and will be fully installed next fall, with 21 courses to be offered by a staff of three men, announces E. L. Callihan, journalism department chairman.

These 21 courses do not include some summer work which will be offered to public school teachers and administrators interested in school publications and publicity.

Next fall a full-time assistant professor will be added to handle camera journalism, advanced reporting, feature writing, laboratory work in reporting and editing and certain other phases of the journalism program, it is revealed.

Through the cooperation of the publishers of the Waco papers, advanced reporting students will

ROAD CONTRACTS LET IN CALLAHAN COUNTY PAST WEEK

More contracts on Callahan county highways. Low bids were tabulated by the State Highway Department at Austin Tuesday on Callahan county road projects which will provide better paved routes from Abilene to Coleman and Brownwood.

One project are 8.5 miles on U. S. 183 from the Coleman-Callahan county line northward, and 3.2 miles on State Highway 279 from Cross Plains to the Callahan-Brown county line. Low bidder was F. R. Reeves and Sons, Austin, at $94,396.20. Engineering and contingencies will bring total cost above $107,000. This will close the last gap on that road from Coleman to Albany now under construction and slated for July 15 completion in the sector from Albany to Baird.

MEASLE EPIDEMIC REPORTED SWEEPING CALLAHAN COUNTY

From reports Callahan county has an epidemic of measles. The report in a 12-county area about Abilene 175 cases of communicable diseases were reported by the health department.

Measles were high in the county with 58 cases reported in Callahan county, 30 of these were mumps a good second with 37 cases, with Callahan county again ranking top.

Other figures for the area showed 22 chicken pox, 10 dysentery, 20 gonorrhea, 13 cases of influenza, 3 measles, 7 syphilis, 1 scarlet fever, 2 whooping cough and 3 pneumonia and malaria.

PRESIDENT SIGNS BILL INCREASING POSTAL WORKERS PAY

President Truman signed into law Tuesday a bill giving most all postal employees a $400 yearly raise. Those who don't get the raise of $400 are 4th class postmasters who received a 20 per cent raise and part time workers who receive 20 cents hourly.

All of the increases are retroactive to January 1, 1946. Approximately 400,000 workers come under the measure. The total cost was estimated at approximately $160,000,000 annually.

Postal workers received a $400 annual increase July 1, 1945. Supporters of the newly signed legislation said however, that it was required to make up for added living costs and a reduction since last July in the number of hours worked by most employees. The cut in hours eliminated overtime pay received by men of the post office employees.

Gib Sandefer Seeks Seat in Congress From 17th District

Gib Sandefer, rancher, lecturer and former business manager of athletics of Hardin-Simmons University, and for years manager of that institution's world famous Cowboy Band, has announced his candidacy for Congress from the 17th district, and is planning an intensive campaign throughout the district prior to the Democratic primaries July 27, 1946.

Sandefer, known throughout the world as "That Fellowship Man of Texas," doesn't make any claims of being a great statesman, nor does he have any designs for reforming Congress or the world.

"My friends have been after me for several months to make this campaign," Sandefer said in announcing his formal entry into the campaign for Congressman Sam Russell's seat in the House of Representatives of the nation's Congress.

"I think I know the people of West Texas, and if elected to Congress I'll go there as their representative and will work for their best interests, and will work, first and last, for the welfare of the district I represent."

"Like my good friend, the late Will Rogers, once said, I have never met a man I didn't like, and I don't expect to meet one I don't like during the forthcoming campaign. Regardless of what the verdict may be on July 27, I'm looking forward to having a little fellowship with the voters of this district during the next few months," Sandefer added.

"And if the voters of this district think I can best represent them in Congress, I'll go up there and have a little fellowship with the boys in Washington; tell them about the needs and problems of the people of my district, and of the possibilities for future growth and development of this great section of our state."

Sandefer, a son of the late Dr. Jefferson Davis Sandefer, president of Hardin-Simmons University for 31 years, and of Mrs. Sandefer, virtually grew up on the campus of the institution his father headed for almost one-third of a century. Following graduation in 1927, Gib remained to assist his father in the development of the institution into one of the leading schools of West Texas.

In the years that followed Gib was business manager of the school's athletic program and as such was able to bring nationwide recognition to Hardin-Simmons University. He also was manager of the colorful Cowboy Band, and it was due to his genius in making the right "contacts" that the band toured 12 foreign countries on three continents, traveling some 500,000 miles spreading the tradition of the Texas cowboy in music and spirit.

During World War II Gib served as representative of the American Red Cross in far-flung combat areas of the global conflict. He spread his "fellowship" tent in Africa, Italy and in the China-Burma-India theater. In a personal conquest of Burma, Gib took his "fellowship" right to the end of the Ledo road and learned that a war at its worst or best is hell on earth. It was while serving with American and Allied troops in the muck and mire of the Burma campaign that Gib became even more convinced that only through world fellowship and a more thorough understanding of the other

Railroad Labor Act Followed, What Has Been Gained? Nothing

JOHN LEE SMITH VISITS ABILENE TUESDAY EVENING

John Lee Smith, lieutenant governor of Texas was in Abilene Tuesday night enroute to Burnet where he was to speak to a high school graduating exercises Wednesday night.

Mr. Smith, long an advocate of labor claims court in Texas, the candidate said contracts should be subject to enforcement just as any other such agreement.

Mr. Smith said in a prepared statement, "The chickens are coming home to roost. For the past ten years the government at Washington has coddled the great labor unions for reasons of political expediency. It has steadfastly refused to do anything about strikes and has allowed the irresponsible power of the labor unions to have full play in enforcing union demands.

"Now that widespread strikes have halted reconversion and of course, production, these gentlemen are beginning to realize the bitterness of the broth they have brewed for themselves."

Editor: As the writer sees things, Mr. Smith is absolutely correct. The labor unions are just one class of American citizens. Then why should they be permitted to have special treatment that no other class have, that of having what is known as fact finding boards to settle their differences instead of going to the courts just as any other citizen.

If this country ever gets out of the mess that it is in, it will have to repeal all of the present labor laws and fact finding boards, and place jurisdiction of all disputes between labor and capital in the courts of our land for adjustment and select a jury to try cases by council on both sides.

CLYDE MAN BEING TREATED FOR CASE OF RABIES AT HOME

People handling cattle should be careful. A Clyde man is receiving vaccine from a local physician it is reported, after a tussel with a calf on his place.

The calf was said to be having fits. Its owner went into the pen and tussled with it. Slobber from the calf got into a sore on his hand. His physician took precaution, sent the calf's head to the Pasteur Institute at Austin which wired the physician back the test showed positive.

Terrell Sledge Veteran to Oppose Connally for Senate

Kyle, Texas.—Terrell Sledge of Kyle has announced his candidacy for the United States Senate subject to the action of the Democratic primary election in July and has paid the $100 filing fee to the State Democratic Executive Committee.

Sledge, age 42, was born in Kyle, where his grandfather settled in the 1870s. He is a graduate of the University of Texas, class of 1925, and was selected as a Rhodes Scholar, and attended Oxford University in England.

He has been a farmer-stockman since returning to his home town, Kyle (Hays county) in 1928 and has operated his own farm during all these years.

Sledge is a Methodist, member of the American Legion and a World War II veteran. He is married and the father of a young son. He served 3½ years in the army, of which 2 years were, in foreign service, and since his return from the army in addition to running his farm has also edited a newspaper, The People's Business, which has distributed 200,000

AUTOMOBILE PRICES TO BE ADVANCED BY OPA TO 5 PER CENT

OPA announced this week that they were going to allow the automobile manufacturers another raise in the price of cars from 1 to 5 per cent. Of course, everyone knew at the time the administration was so free with appointing finding boards, that labor would get just about what they wanted and the general public would pay higher prices for everything they used. There no such animal as raising the price of labor without a general rise in the price of merchandise, as there is no other way of paying the differential costs in the way of price raises. But the question is this, industrial labor are the best paid people in the world and why should any raise in wages be permitted at this time? The price rise has already taken up the workers increase in pay and he isn't any better off, but the great majority are much worse off than they were before labor was given the raises.

It is time the American people were taking stock and finding out just what we are doing and just where we are headed.

GRAIN CROP WILL BE BETTER THAN IT WAS EXPECTED

According to reports from farmers coming into Putnam, grain is beginning to turn and it will be only a few days' until the harvest will begin and most farmers report grain will be better than they thought it would a short time ago. From the reports it indicates that it will average around 12 to 15 bushels per acre. However, some grain will make better yield, and may make as much as 20 bushels.

B. L. Boydston, wheat buyer at Baird and Putnam, informs the writer that he is putting in a fan that will handle the wheat this year. The wheat will be blown in the car. Heretofore, it has been handled in the old way, with shovels, throwing the wheat in the car and then throwing it back in the ends with a shovel, which was a slow and hard process.

Putnam has lost most of the grain business the past few years from various reasons, but Mr. Boydston is going to make a big effort to bring this grain back to Putnam again this year.

Cellophane tape now on sale at the Leader office.

Now that the procedure of the railway labor act has been followed through to the end in several cases, it may be interesting to pause a moment and recapitulate just what has been accomplished.

Fifteen operating unions, having agreed to arbitration, after negotiations and mediation, received from an arbitration board an award of a 16 cent hourly wage increase, as compared with original demand for a 30 cent hourly increase. They have signed contracts at the increased scales and have received checks for the increase dating back to January 1 of this year.

They have also filed new wage demands for an additional 14 cent increase, presumably the difference between what they wanted and what the arbitration board appointed with their agreement said they should have. Net accomplishment so far as settling the dispute is concerned, nothing.

Three operating brotherhoods also agreed to arbitration after negotiation and mediation failed. The history of this case follows closely along the one mentioned above.

To the extent that the results of fact finding are, in the terms of the railway act, recommendatory only, as contrasted with the agreement of the unions to accept the awards of their respective arbitrators, the action of the trainmen and engineers in refusing to accept the fact finding recommendations at least lacks the unsportsmanlike tinge of the action of other unions.

Further, the trainmen and the engineers now hold the whip hand among the unions, because they under the law re-instate their strike date after 30 days have elapsed from the date on which the fact finding board handed its recommendations to the president. They have already done that, setting earliest lawful date as May 18. Here, then, the accomplishments flowing through the long procession of railroad labor act are also exactly nothing.

No fair minded man could object to having laws passed that will make both industry and unions who make contracts, binding on both.

BAYLOR UNIVERSITY PREPARING FOR THE 1946-47 ENROLLMENT

Waco, Texas, May 25.—Reservations for the housing units which are being converted from the former barracks located at Blackland Army Air Field, and which will be ready for use in the fall, are now being accepted at Baylor university, according to Dr. Roy J. McKnight, Baylor business manager.

Designated for married veterans enrolled in Baylor, 140 of these units have been allocated to the university by the government and will be ready for occupancy by September. Each barracks building will be converted into four apartments, both furnished and unfurnished.

Regular bus service will be provided between the air field and the university.

The final and last payment has been made on the State's apportionment to the public schools of the State of Texas. The schools have received the final state salary aid payment on rural aid schools.

All schools have been paid in full, according to their application. It is pointed out that the state salary payment for the past school term has been over $28,000 to Coleman county. Of course, other counties have received aid in the same proportion to Coleman based on the number of scholastics registered in the county.

FROM GRAZIN' ABOUT IN SHACKELFORD COUNTY LEADER MAY 23

We've become so terribly upset during the last two weeks what with strikes tying up the progress of the whole United States and Canada, that we've hardly put anything into this column for fear we might say the wrong thing and get arrested for libel. But this we've decided: that our country has a ruler worse than Hitler and we should sweep around our own doors before going around the world again to help the neighbors get out from under such iron rules.

Why the Nation tolerates John L. Lewis and allows him to rule the world is more than we can understand. We've had patience and sympathy for President Truman all along, knowing that he was laboring under the most difficult circumstances, but if he does not use his authority pretty soon to curb the powers of old John L. we may lose all respect for him too.

With a war won, so to speak, we all looked forward to living in a state of peace and freedom, but instead, we have taken up some of the abominable traits of the countries we fought for doing the very same things.

We pride ourselves in living in a free country and then we let a few selfish people rule the entire country by tying up all the industries with strikes. We stunted and saved to buy bonds and help win the war to maintain freedom. Now we wonder if all this is the reward (?) for fighting a war! Then on top of all the strikes that paralyze the whole country, we are attempting to feed a hungry world to keep down more turmoil and strife, and still we have no peace nor freedom. Why we, as the people who are supposed to control our own government, do not do something about this is puzzling us more each day. Why not start a movement to have old John L. deported to Germany or Japan?

Editor: The writer thoroughly agrees with what is said above about John L. Lewis and other labor leaders. But why not place the blame on the parties who brought on the present situation? The president and Congress is in the same position that an umpire of a baseball or a football game. The umpire is supposed to umpire the game so that it will be fair to each side. In this case the umpire has failed of its duty and have been playing on one side of the game for the past 14 years. We are now reaping the harvest of coddling labor since 1932. Since when did labor get the right to club other workers and industry into submitting to their whims for their own special benefit? They have no such rights and should be put back in their place at once.

RATICIDES TOO POTENT TO BE GENERALLY RELEASED

Scientists have developed some excellent raticides recently, but they're still too deadly and too potent to be released generally to the public.

Until these can be made available safely, folks should make the best use of the controls they have at hand, advises J. E. Poore, assistant district agent for the Rodent Control Service. When mixed with attractive feed materials, red squill gives food results with both Alexandrian and Norway rats, those most commonly found in Texas, Poore says.

He also recommends that use of poison be supplemented with rat-proofing where this is practical. Removal of food for rats and of harboring places also is an aid in control.

GIB SANDEFER—

man's problems and way of life can the future peace of the world be assured.

After returning to this country, following overseas service, Gib made a 42-state tour for the War Advertising Council in behalf of the American Red Cross. In recent months he has continued to further his worldwide fellowship and educational ideas as a speaker for the National Dinner Clubs and the Associated Club Network, of which the Knife and Fork Club is a part.

Speaking of the forthcoming campaign, Gib says, "It's going to be a pleasure to do business with the voters of the 17th district and I am looking forward to having a little fellowship with the people encompassed in these 12 counties."

Sandefter presents a concise, yet comprehensive platform for the consideration of the people of the 17th district. It follows:

For GI Joe and his sister Jane—The help and encouragement of a grateful country, in every way that can be accomplished. For the war's disabled: All they need, at whatever the cost.

For the farmer and stockman—A legislative program geared to their needs, responsive to their wishes, and guided by their advice and consent, administered as far as possible by the farmers and stockmen themselves through boards representing their local or regional interests.

For the small business man—

Recognition as the mainstay of the American system, assistance and encouragement whenever he needs it, protection against the powerful forces that would destroy his existence, and a minimum of governmental interference in the conduct of his business.

For national defense—An adequate and alert military establishment, backed by continuing research and experimentation, officered and manned by professional soldiers paid a decent wage, given an equal break in privileges, and made to feel that their career is as honorable as it is ancient.

Foreign affairs—The principle of the Golden Rule, extended to all nations, all-out cooperation with peace-loving peoples who desire only the rights of mankind and the enjoyment of peace and plenty.

Labor—Maintenance of the principles of collective bargaining, with a sharing of responsibility by labor, industry and government; the promotion of live-and-let-live attitude between capital and labor, with the rights of the public to be recognized and protected.

Oil—Continuance of the practice of conservation through cooperation of state and federal government, and the protection of the interests of the producer, landowner and consumer—which in the long run are identical.

Private enterprise—Government's chief concern should be to serve as umpire, to protect the young and the weak against the strong, the honest from the dishonest, and the good from the bad—with as little governmental control and regulation as possible.

Poultry By-Products

Just as pork packers save all the hog but the squeal, leaders in the poultry industry believe that several by-products of poultry dressing plants can be used better than they are now. These products include, among many others, feathers, combs, shanks and feet. Of approximately 100,000,000 pounds of feathers picked from chickens in a year, not more than a fourth are now used by feather processing plants. Most of the feathers are thrown away or are used for fertilizer. Yet feathers are fiber, similar chemically to the wool of sheep or the bristles of hogs.

Farm Woodlots

Although we are not growing timber as fast as we are using it, timber can be grown. With reasonable good management, our forest and farm woodlands can be built up so they can produce all of the wood that we are likely to need for all time to come. It is not necessary that we stop all cutting of old growth timber, or second growth, to conserve our forests. However, in meeting our present needs we ought to apply cutting and management practices that will assure enough new growth to meet future needs.

Save Soap

When doing laundry with a washing machine, put the heavier pieces through the wringer twice before rinsing. This causes the thick foamy suds to fall back into the washer for the next batch of clothes. It speeds up rinsing too.

HEREFORD BREEDERS TOUR

Came through Moran last Thursday at 3:00 p. m. They viewed the herds on the west side of the Hayden ranch, the creek was so high the cars could not drive in. Dr. Charles Harris of the Harrisdale ranch, Fort Worth, made a speech at the ranch where he felt very much at home, and demonstrated some of his fine animals there. The party stopped 20 minutes in Moran and out of state visitors paid us a grand compliment. K. K. Hartman of Denver, Colo., said "your country here from Baird to Moran certainly is the garden spot of the world, your grass land, your wheat is the best we have seen." They viewed our new grain elevator, built by Clarence Gay who believes our wheat farming is the best in this district and a countryside devoted to blooded cattle, hogs, sheep, cotton, fruits, feeds, poultry, gas and oil; and one of the healthiest areas in the U. S. A. A good place to make a home, is Moran. The Hereford tour did us some mighty fine advertising and we hear this is to be an annual event, so more power to your association and come a hundred strong next year, we will be looking for you. Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Ivey of Hereford, Texas were on this trip and visited friends in Moran. District Attorney Thomas Hayden greeted his many friends here with a hearty handshake and a big smile.

Fountain Pen

An unusual type of fountain pen, made at present only in England, is used by the United States army air forces. It will not leak even at high altitudes and can safely be carried uncapped. It is also claimed that the pen will write on soaking wet paper, hold a two-year ink supply, never smear, will write in any position and make carbons without tearing the paper. Manufacture of the pen is expected to be undertaken soon in the United States.

Second Sanders Well Pronounced Best in County Oil History

The second deep test on the Lee Sanders place four miles east of Albany has caused more excitement than any well ever drilled in Shackelford county and is pronounced the best prospect the county has ever had for high production. Experienced oil men declare its possibilities are almost unbelievable. The second test, known as the Jones & Stasney-Roark & Hooker No. 1, Sanders, had a good showing when it flowed oil last week at a depth below 4500 feet from the Ellenburger. Several days delay this week caused when the bailer stuck in the hole held up progress and tubing is to be run this week-end. Jones & Stasney-Roark & Hooker skidded the rotary rig from their Sanders No. 1, to spud in their No. 2 Sanders 1,609 feet from the northeast and 1,831 feet from the southeast line of section 582, TEL. They will complete their No. 1, Sanders with a spudder. Fox & Fox-Allied Oil Co. is also starting a new well this week on the Sanders, location near the Allied No. 1, Sanders, first well drilled on the L. A. Sanders place. Shell Oil Co. No. 1, T. W. Lee, being drilled by Roeser & Pendleton, encountered the Caddo lime at 4473 but was plugged back to a depth of 4458 and cemented. After well was treated with 500 gallons of acid it cleaned itself out and indications showed the well would be good for 50 barrels of oil, but officials decided best to drill on down to the Ellenburger. If this lime fails to show production it is planned to plug back to the Caddo and produce from that lime. Allied Oil Co.-Fox & Fox No. 1, R. J. Moberley is drilling below 3,000 feet.

BRIDAL SHOWER

A miscellaneous shower was hosted by friends in the Baptist church basement Thursday afternoon, May 16th, honoring the former Miss Alberta Cline, whose marriage took place April 13, 1946 to O. C. The following program was rendered: Reading, "In the Usual Way," Mrs. Bob Dennis; piano solo, "Spring Flowers," Mrs. Garland Shelton; vocal duet, "Ah Sweet Mystery of Life," Mmes. Joe Allen and Glen Cottle; presentation of gifts, Mrs. J. M. Townsend. Forty-three friends registered in the bride's book presided over by Mrs. Charles Gardner. A number who were not present sent gifts. The spring flower color theme was carried out in the refreshment plate, with silver colored wedding bells for favors. Mrs. Brush is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Cline of Moran, and is a mid-term graduate of the Moran high school with the class of '46. The young couple are building a house in Albany and will make their home there.

ACCIDENT INJURES BOB FORRESTER Bob Forrester was the victim of a painful accident a week or so ago when a pistol was accidentally discharged and shot two or three fingers on his left hand. Bob and Billie Campbell were enroute to Florence, Texas to hunt Indian relics and when they made camp for the night Bob was preparing to shoot an armadillo when the gun went off, a bullet going through the middle joint of one finger. They called Bob's father, Dr. Forrester, and he brought him back to Graham hospital at Cisco where they operated on the hand before coming on home. Bob went through the war in Germany without a scratch and had to come home to get shot. His many friends hope his injuries do not prove serious. Bob plans to re-enter pre-med school at TCU, Fort Worth, to take up his education where he left off when he entered the Army.

MASS PRODUCTION OF HOUSES PROPOSED BY BIG MANUFACTURER

Mass production of homes proposed by one manufacturer. A manufacturer in Ohio has offered to produce 48,900 mass assembled, two bedroom homes annually to sell at an estimated cost of $2,500, if the government will grant material priority and make idle war plants available.

Remember Pepper of Florida, Wagner of New York, Mead of New York and Lucas of Illinois want a labor law passed that will not permit labor unions to interfere with perishable interstate commerce. If you are carrying a load of vegetables or fresh meat, the unions could not stop you. But under the bill proposed if you were hauling a load of post or a load of corn, the racketeers of the union could stop you, confiscate your property or do anything they like, even throw your stuff in the river. That was what brought the war between the Colonies and England, "taxation without representation;" and this is worse as labor unions would not be working under any authority from any source.

Mr. and Mrs. George Biggerstaff were in Baird Saturday morning where they were taking treatment. They both report improving nicely.
