Yanks Widen Saipan Beachhead Despite Fierce Jap Resistance

US Warships Also Hammer Guam Island

By LEIF ERIKSSON
U. S. PACIFIC FLEET HEADQUARTERS, Pearl Harbor, June 17 (AP)—Battling determined Japanese resistance, United States marines and army troops have expanded the beachhead on southern Saipan to a maximum depth of 2 miles along a five and one half mile front, Adm. Chester W. Nimitz announced tonight in a communique.

In frenzied fighting through Thursday night and Friday assault forces made gains averaging 1,500 yards and captured the village of Himarishu, more than half way across the island from the beachhead.

These developments were reported shortly after it was disclosed that American warships had bombarded Guam for the first time since that former U. S. outpost in the Marianas was captured by the Japanese in December, 1941.

Before dawn Friday, Jap defenders of Saipan, numbering an estimated two divisions (30,000 men), launched a determined counterattack.

The enemy thrust, supported by tanks, was hurled back. Twenty-five Jap tanks were destroyed and the enemy cost in lives was heavy.

The communique said the area now controlled by the American forces on the southwest side of Saipan extends from a point outside the key town of Garapan five and one-half miles southward to Agilan.

Agilan is a village nearly halfway across Saipan's blunt southern end. Before launching their counter-attack, the Japs maintained many steady mortar and artillery fires on American positions throughout the night.

American warships countered with shelling of enemy strong-points. After repelling the Jap counter-thrusts, American assault troops launched the offensive which pushed forward for general advances of 1,500 yards.

Reviewing The Big Spring -Week- Joe Pickle

We are doing fair—but only fair—on our bond purchases. If you haven't bought all you can, do it Monday without further delay. Applaud Allied invasion of France, the landing on Saipan and the bombing of Japan with bond purchases.

After all, there has been perhaps no more momentous week of the war so far as we are concerned than the past one. Cherbourg is all but ours now. We have a foothold in the Marianas. We have plastered Guam. We have hit Japan again. We have taken Elba. If this doesn't evoke appreciation from us at home—then we aren't worthy of it.

City officials aren't trying to scare anyone with dire reports on the water situation. They aren't kidding even just a little bit. If we don't cut down on consumption somehow, we may run out of water. In the face of this, it is beyond us how some can still be careless about its use.

Flag Day was observed last Wednesday and it has been suggested many would like to know some respects due our national emblem. Here are a few: Civilians salute it by placing hand or hat over heart; it is saluted six paces before and after it passes; in rooms the flag should be to the right of the speaker; displayed with other nations flags, it is on the right; hung over streets, the union should be up and to the east or north, it should be flown only between sunrise and sunset; worn flags should be cremated with proper ceremonies; the flag should

RAF Retaliates As Nazis Hurl More Flying Bombs

Robot Planes Cause Damage

By NED NORDNESS
SUPREME HEADQUARTERS, Allied Expeditionary Force, Sunday, June 18 (AP)—British bombers struck back at the Germans early today as the Nazis continued to fire their flying bombs at southern England.

(The German radio said that the Berlin area was being raided.) A great fleet of RAF planes crossed the east coast during the night, headed toward the Reich, after other Allied bombers had delivered a series of powerful blows throughout the afternoon and early evening against the Pas de Calais coast of northern France from which the Nazis are launching their pilotless plane bombs.

The pilotless, jet-propelled planes were disclosed yesterday to be an astonishingly simple weapon—a death-dealing over-wing rocket equipped with wings and loaded with a ton of explosives.

In the newest attacks they came over the coast low and singly every few minutes. Several of them flew through some of the heaviest anti-aircraft fire of the war as Britain shifted its ack-ack defenses to counter the devilish plane-bombs.

Damage was caused in various localities and a number of persons were killed or injured. One of the flying bombs was reported to have wiped out four houses. One missile exploded in a street, causing serious casualties.

(German radio commentators let their imagination run free in describing reports of the consternation caused in England by the robots.)

(One Berlin broadcast credited a Stockholm dispatch as saying the British government had ordered a state of emergency.)

GOP PREPARES FOR CONCLAVE WALLACE HUBS DEMO DISCORD

By D. HAROLD OLIVER
Associated Press Staff Writer

The advance guard began moving on Chicago yesterday and today (Sunday) for the preliminaries leading up to the June 26 republican national convention which the party's national committee said last night would attract 25,000 spectators for a stream-lined four-day session.

New York party officials were due to open headquarters in the Stevens hotel tomorrow for initial operations in behalf of Gov. Thomas E. Dewey for first place on the GOP ticket.

Headquarters for Gov. John W. Bricker already has been opened in Chicago.

New York state headquarters will be in charge of Edwin J. Jackie, state chairman, and J. Russell Sprague, national committeeman.

French Take Elba As Allies Gain In Italy

By LYNN HEINZLERLING
ROME, June 17 (AP)—French troops landed today on Elba, five miles west of the Italian mainland, and by nightfall had won control of one-fifth of that Napoleonic exile island against German resistance which Allied headquarters described as strong at some places. Nearby Pianosa was secured quickly without opposition, but the German garrison and coastal artillery were making a scrap for Elba's 65 square miles.

Conquest of Elba would keep the Allied sea flank abreast of the advance on the mainland, where Allied troops today rolled steadily forward toward the Germans' Pisa-Florence-Rimini line.

Known as "Detachment B," the French attacking Elba were commanded by Gen. Jean De Lattre De Tassigny and transported and supported by American, British and French naval units. Allied air forces that included French squadrons, bombed the island.

(The Berlin radio said the landings were made both at the south and north ends of the island, one of them just west of its major city of Porto Ferrato. A German communique told of heavy fighting "still going on" against a "weak German garrison" defending the island.)

British Eighth army troops drove 12 miles north of Orvieto and occupied Monteleone, about 45 miles east of Grosseto. A bit farther east, armored elements pushing north from Todi reached a point 13 miles south of Perugia, reported held by the Germans in some strength.

In the Adriatic sector, the British made contact with partisan forces already in possession of Teramo, 15 miles from the coast and 30 miles northwest of Pescara. The Mediterranean air force took a heavy toll of enemy craft in widespread attacks, destroying 70 at a cost of 12 heavy bombers and nine other planes. In addition, fighters attacked enemy concentrations in Yugoslavia, destroying a large number of motor vehicles.

De Gaulle on the other hand is believed here to want to come to Washington for the purpose of seeking recognition.

His response through diplomatic channels left the way open for a decision not to come since it was based on the expressed provision that "circumstances" will permit the trip.

If he does come, it is generally agreed among White House advisers that he will be accorded the full honors and courtesies due a visiting dignitary.

This purpose reflects the general impression here that President Roosevelt presently holds no intention of modifying his decision against recognition. What he is said to hope for from a meeting with De Gaulle is some agreement on military cooperation in a man to man talk.

John B. Quinn, manager of Lieut. Com. Harold E. Stassen's pre-convention headquarters meanwhile said there was "a strong possibility" the former Minnesota governor would be the republican Presidential nominee.

Bond Drive 40 Per Cent Of County Quota

Campaign Off On Two Weeks Schedule; Cosden Buys $150,000

An increase in sales over Saturday brought the Fifth War Loan drive up to almost 40 percent of the overall quota and to one-third of the E-Bond quota. But these figures, while encouraging, are still behind the amount needed if the drive is to be completed in two weeks.

E-bond sales stood at $153,377 and the overall sales at $628,394. The E-bond quota for the county is $435,000 while the overall quota is $1,590,000.

However, reports were beginning to be received from communities surrounding Big Spring. Morris community was the first to check into bond headquarters as being "over the top." The community had exceeded its goal of $7,950.00 and was still selling bonds.

Cosahoma to date has sold $9,427.50 in E-bonds and $444.00 in other bonds and was still plugging away confident of making its quota soon. Knott community while not reporting exact figures said that sales were going fine there.

Out-of-town firms continued to write in their pledges to buy bonds in the county. Cosden Petroleum company purchased $150,000 in bonds Saturday while Burton-Lingo Lumber company pledged to buy $7,000. Higginbotham-Bartlett pledged $5,000; Independent Eastern Torpedo Company, $5,000; Planter's Gin Co., $1,000; Burr Stores, $4,000; Sears Roebuck, $2,000; and Shell Pipeline wrote it would buy ten times the amount purchased by its employees in Howard and other counties.

Adding interest to the bond sales was the Fighting Fifth Board set up in the Empire Southern Gas company. With each figure representing a seat in the theater for the bond premiere show on June 22nd, several names of soldiers had already been inscribed on the board.

Pat Kenney, co-chairman of the drive, urged that bond buyers stop at bond headquarters in the gas office to write in the names of the soldiers to whom they wish to dedicate the bonds they purchase.

The board shows the invasion emblem chosen by General Eisenhower and worn by the invasion troops overseas. One Gold Star name, Lieut. John Bailey, recently reported killed in action, has already been dedicated on the board.

Also continuing through next week will be the bond programs each evening at 9:30 over KBST. The station reported Saturday that it had sold $975 in bonds on the Friday night show with Mrs. Russell Manion and Mrs. Alice Muncie taking orders for bonds over the telephone at the station.

One correction in plans has been announced by the executive committee concerning the bond show on June 22nd. It had been planned to have a stage show but this has been postponed to a later date. Bond buyers attending the show will have for entertainment the picture premiere, "Going My Way," starring Bing Crosby.

Kenney, co-chairman of the drive with Ted Groehl, pointed out that there is always a danger as one drive follows another, of people becoming a little "tired" and complacent. But, it was pointed out, there is no slackening or complacency in the way our armed forces are doing their job. There can be no slackening on the home front.

Invasion experience also has shown, production officials said, that heavy truck production—now running about 25 per cent behind schedule—will have to be jerked up to schedule immediately as a means of military transport in lieu of shattered French railroads.

Individual purchases totaled $35,466,829.50, or 15 per cent of the quota for individuals. Series E sales were $22,164,106.25, or 17.7 per cent of the series E quota.

Fifty Japanese Planes Are Destroyed On New Guinea

By LEONARD MILLIMAN
Associated Press War Editor

At least 50 Japanese planes were destroyed Friday in a surprise raid on their "last offensive air base on New Guinea" while big guns of American warships for the first time shelled the former U. S. naval base at Guam, Allied communique announced last night and today (Sunday).

United States Mitchell bombers destroyed the bulk of the 50 planes on the ground at Sorong, on the northwestern tip of New Guinea, Gen. Douglas MacArthur reported today. Escorting Lightnings shot down the rest. Other enemy air bases in the Southwest Pacific have been knocked out.

Reds Within 25 Miles Of Viipuri

LONDON, June 17 (AP)—The Russians smashed within 25 miles of Viipuri from two directions today, capturing Perkiarvi on the main railway of the Karelian Isthmus and Kuolemajarvi on the coastal rail line, Moscow announced tonight, and the port of Viipuri itself was understood to be in the process of evacuation.

Big Gain Urged In Tank Output

WASHINGTON, June 17 (AP)—An "extremely heavy" increase in the production of tanks, caused by reports from the invasion beachhead that their expenditure was running three times the anticipated rate, has been ordered by the military high command.

The demand resulting from clashes of Allied armor with Field Marshal Erwin Rommel's panzer divisions will mean that United States plants which halted tank production some months ago must reopen their production lines, well-informed government sources said.

The new demand indicated an abrupt change in military thinking, for tank production was de-emphasized after the campaign in North Africa, when tank destroyers and mobile artillery cut the Nazi armored units to pieces. American tank production schedules were cut more than half at that time.

Invasion experience also has shown, production officials said, that heavy truck production—now running about 25 per cent behind schedule—will have to be jerked up to schedule immediately as a means of military transport in lieu of shattered French railroads.

Front-Behind-The-Front—French Effecting Sabotage Plan

By RICHARD KASISCHKE
SUPREME HEADQUARTERS, Allied Expeditionary Force, June 17 (AP)—The Allied supreme command hailed a successful front-behind-the-front in France today with a special communique proclaiming that the French underground army had executed a master plan of sabotage and open resistance to the Nazis since the invasion began June 6.

The communique said French guerrilla operations were "in full swing," despite the fact that neither the supreme commander, Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, nor the Fighting French leader, Gen.

Charles De Gaulle, had yet issued any general "call to arms" to the French people.

The French have been receiving from the Allied command daily broadcasts of instructions, news and warnings, however.

"Multiple and simultaneous cases of sabotage coordinated with the Allied effort," were credited by the communique with considerably delaying the movement of German reserves to the Normandy battlefronts.

It said sabotage of German traffic had completely stopped road and rail movements in the Rhone valley and that the French towns on the most direct routes to Finland's second largest city were enveloped as Gen. Leonid A. Govorov's troops captured more than 120 populated places in another day of fierce fighting, Moscow's broadcast communique disclosed.

Both Perkiarvi and Kuolemajarvi are just under 25 miles from Viipuri, which Finnish dispatches reaching Stockholm said had been ordered emptied of civilians.

Another wave of the Red army, sweeping up the eastern side of the isthmus despite the natural obstacles of lakes and marshes, captured Raasul on still another railroad, Moscow said, indicating that the width of the Finnish front had been widened to more than 65 miles.

While the center of the Russian drive up the isthmus reached within 25 miles of Viipuri, advance patrols and reconnaissance units probed even closer.

The thunder of Soviet big guns could be plainly heard in the Finnish port.

Govorov's infantry forces, said to total at least six divisions, were being supported by planes and tanks and for the first time were reported using rocket-firing cannon.

Headquarters communique No. 24 issued just before midnight merely announced that "Allied forces have pushed deeper into Normandy" in gains which swept through St. Sauveur and reached the Vire-Et-Vaute canal south of Tilly-sur-Seuilles on the British end of the front also were captured, it said.

Thousands Of Germans Face Entrapment

BULLETIN
NEW YORK, June 18 (AP)—CBS Correspondent Larry Le Seur reported from France tonight that American troops had reached the western side of the Cherbourg peninsula, cutting off the port of Cherbourg.

By JAMES M. LONG
SUPREME HEADQUARTERS, Allied Expeditionary Force, Sunday, June 18 (AP) The U. S. Ninth division, which shattered the Germans at Bizerte in Tunisia, teamed up yesterday with the 82nd airborne division in a powerful break-through of German lines which put the Americans on high ground only four miles from the west coast and virtually cut in two the Cherbourg peninsula.

Thousands of German troops were on the verge of being trapped inside Cherbourg port, 14 miles north of the corridor drive west of captured St. Sauveur, said a front dispatch from Don Whitehead, Associated Press correspondent. The west coast road was under American artillery bombardment.

Lt. Gen. Omar N. Bradley, ground commander who led the Americans to their triumph of Bizerte in May, 1943, was directing the swift break-through which had rolled to within a mile of St. Lo-d'Orville on the west coast road—last possible German escape route out of Cherbourg.

Some front dispatches said the Germans were fleeing southward to escape the American trap, but General Bradley earlier had predicted a last-ditch German stand in Cherbourg, whose harbor is vital to the Allies in order to hasten supplies and reinforcements.

German broadcasts last night, however, began minimizing Cherbourg's importance, which could mean Nazi resignation to its eventual isolation and capture. Civilian refugees said the Germans already were forcing civilians to evacuate the city.

American troops were fighting fierce hand-to-hand battles in the streets of Montebourg, 14 miles southeast of Cherbourg.

North of St. Sauveur, Whitehead said, the Yank infantrymen broke across the Douve river. They rode on tanks and fired machine-guns as the armored units plunged through shallow waters in the historic drive to seal off Cherbourg.

American airmen were strafing the German lines of retreat out of the area.

One front line correspondent through St. Jacques-de-Nehou, four miles northwest of St. Sauveur and seven miles from the west coast, in a swift exploitation of German disorganization.

The two American divisions had heavy support from artillerymen. Whitehead said their fire already had effectively cut the west coast road.

"Pin Up Girl" At Ritz Is Pin Up Hit

20th Century-Fox's wonderful ways with musicals are again manifested at the Ritz theatre where "Pin Up Girl," starring Betty Grable is showing Sunday and Monday.

Dedicated to laugh, love and the pursuit of happiness, this song-and-dance, laugh-and-romance extravaganza frames Betty Grable like her picture pinned up on the walls of her fans throughout the world — and as such, hits a new high in sheer screen entertainment.

The studio that brought the memorable hits, "Coney Island" and "Sweet Rosie O'Grady" to the screen let out all the stops in making "Pin Up Girl" a truly brilliant and eye-filling thing of beauty from beginning to exciting finale. They have surrounded Betty with a cast of outstanding screen talent, including John Harvey, Martha Raye, Joe E. Brown, Eugene Pallette and Charlie Spivak and His Orchestra. Since it's music that counts in a musical, "Pin Up Girl" is studied with no less than eight new hit songs by Mack Gordon and James Monaco. And judging from how they sound as sung by Betty Grable and Martha Raye, and played by Spivak and his boys, they're songs you'll undoubtedly be hearing at the top of the nation's hit parade.

As the pin-up sweetheart of millions of service men the world over, Betty Grable is, of course, her own superb, scintillating self, even when she is called upon by the delightful intricacies of the plot to assume the disguise of a prim and bespectacled stenographer.

"Pardon My Sarong"

Abbott and Costello in their brief but spectacular career have portrayed detectives, cowboys, sailors, soldiers, mechanics, and carnival spiliers.

In their newest Universal comedy "Pardon My Sarong" which opens at the State Theatre Sunday they will appear as bus drivers who later become castaways on an uncharted south sea island.

According to advance announcements, the new vehicle takes the famous comedians halfway around the globe in a combination chase, treasure hunt and encounter with a tribe of south seas dancing beauties.

Virginia Bruce has the leading feminine role and the very imposing cast includes Robert Paige and Lief Erikson. Other notables

In the line-up are Lionel Atwill, Nan Wynn and Samuel S. Hinds. Entertainment novelties are promised by the appearance of Tip, Tap and Toe, dancers, the Saronga Dancing Girls and the Four Ink Spots of radio, stage and juke-box fame.

Many new numbers are listed in the musical score which was supervised by Charles Frevin. Selections include "Island of the Moon," "Lovely Luana," "Vingo Jingo," "Do I Worry," "Java Jive" and "Shout, Brother, Shout." The last three numbers are presented by The Four Ink Spots.

Three well known Hollywood movie scribes wrote the original screen play. They are True Boardman, Nat Perrin and John Grant.

"Lady Takes A Chance" Featured At The Queen

It's easy to predict plenty of attendance for "A Lady Takes a Chance" with the cuddlesome Jean Arthur and the husky John Wayne co-starring in the sprightliest, funniest and most romantic comedy to come this way in a long, long time. The movie is playing Sunday, Monday at the Queen.

It's all about a New York bank clerk who finds that her cherished dream of making a 17-day all-expenses-paid bus trip to the Pacific Coast and back isn't what it's cracked up to be — at least until she reaches Oregon and a bucking broncho hurls a tall rodeo rider on top of her and knocks her flat. The rider, by the way of apology, shows her the sights of Fairfield. She misses her bus, quarrels with her bewildered new acquaintance, hitchhikes across a lot of desert and has varied and hilarious experiences that will delight everybody right up to the sparkling ending.

Don "Red" Barry and Lynn Merrick.

"Black Parachute" Showing At Lyric

For months, newspaper headlines have been full of the great battle being waged by the underground in many of the conquered and Nazi occupied territories. Now Columbia has taken a leaf from the notebook of world events and is bringing "The Black Parachute" to the screen of the Lyric Theatre Sunday. "The Black Parachute" has been acclaimed by preview audiences as one of the most exciting headline stories yet to come out of Hollywood.

Telling the adventures of a Yank news correspondent (Larry Parks) who parachutes into the thick of a group of Balkan mountaineers struggling to free their captured King (Jonathan Hale) from the Nazi invaders, it is said to outdo those headlines themselves in timeliness and interest.

Jeanne Bates is said to be just as lovely as she has always been in such Columbia pictures as "The Racket Man" and "Chance of a Lifetime," while Osa Massen, Danish-born actress, recent addition to the Hollywood scene, is said to bring a seductive lure as the treacherous quixing who almost gets Larry Parks.

Other players whom reports have it bring life and color to this tense drama are Ivan Trisault, Trevor Bardette, Art Smith and Charles Waldron.

county was replacing rotary with cable-tools after heading an estimated 30 barrels of fluid, about half oil and half salt water, every five hours while swabbing. The oil, testing 3 gravity, came through perforations in 7-inch casing from 5,555-75 feet after treatment of the Strawn lime with 3,000 gallons of acid. The water may be from a lower zone that was plugged off.

The well is in the C NE SW 34-L-GH&SA, 3 1-2 miles north and a quarter mile west of Cooper Gas Co. No. 1-C Page, the first oil producer, but only 1 1-2 miles north and a quarter mile east of Cooper No. 1-D-39 Page, highest structurally of six gas and distillate producers. Gas from the five Cooper wells is piped by Lone Star 48 miles to the West Texas Utilities Co. water and electric plant at San Angelo.

Helmerich & Payne No. 1 D. S. Wright, Cochran county wildcat 660 feet out of the southeast corner of labor 19-97 Brewster CSL, cored lime showing porosity and staining from 4,901-21 feet and cemented 7-inch casing to test.

Honolulu and Devonian No. 1 R. B. Payton, Garza county wildcat C SW SE 14E1-TTTR, drilled plugs from 5 1-2 inch casing cemented at 3,544 feet and was swabbing to test promising San Andres lime to 3,592 feet, where a retainer had been set to shut off sulphur water.

Selitz-Comegys & Selitz of Wichita Falls started No. 1 Wm. Cameron & Co. Inc., proposed 6,500-foot wildcat in Cochran county 660 feet out of the southeast corner of labor 9-86-Greer CSL, 2 1-2 miles east of Morton. The firm has a 6,000-acre block acquired from Homer L. Crain of Lubbock, who assembled it recently.

Three-quarter mile southwest extension to the Russell Clear Fork lime pool in northwestern Gaines county, Shell No. 1 Dr. E. H. Jones, C NE NE 49G-GCCSD&RGNG, swabbed and flowed 236 barrels of oil, out only four-tenths of one per cent by basic sediment, after deepening to 7,780 feet and treating with 1,500 gallons of acid. It had flowed 18 barrels hourly at 7,600 after acidizing.

Cass, Pomeroy & Co. Inc. of New York acquired from Fred T. Hogan and Tom Sloan of Midland leases on 3,000 acres in southeastern Gaines county on which it reportedly will drill a wildcat soon, its third in the county.

L. L. Ingraham of San Angelo spudded No. 1 M. B. Pulliam estate, scheduled 1,750-foot wildcat in western Tom Green county, seven miles west of San Angelo, C SE NW 12-4-H&TC. The test will be only a quarter mile east of M. D. Bryant and others' No. 1 Pulliam, recently abandoned at 820 feet after striking sulphur water.

Phillips No. 1 Ada C. Price, southeastern Pecos county wildcat which set a world's depth record in passing 15,004 feet and drilled to 15,279 feet, was reported swabbing after gun perforating 5 1-2 inch casing from 15,195 to 15,240 feet, high in the Ellenburger. Lower zones were said to have been barren. Location is the C SW NW 11-101-TCRR.

Col-Tex No. 1 A. C. Miller, first Ellenburger test in West Texas' oldest pool, the Westbrook, opened in 1920, had had no shows of consequence in exploring the Ellenburger to 8,131 feet. The formation was topped at 7,973 feet, 8,838 feet below sea level. The test is in the northwest quarter of section 22-28-1N-T&P.

Sponsors Entered In Annual Reunion At Stamford's Rodeo

STAMFORD, June 16—Several West Texas cities and towns have named their sponsor to the Texas Cowboy Reunion, July 3 and 4, according to R. E. Hall, chairman of the sponsors' committee, and, judging from the number of inquiries received, a record number of cow-girl sponsors will take part in this year's show.

First town to designate a sponsor was Spur, where Muri Barot was named. Other towns who have named sponsors, and their sponsor, include, Haskell, Eva Has Gay; Big Spring, Louise Ann Bennett; Wichita Falls, Barbara Richardson; Colorado City, Mrs. Wayne McCabe; Benjamin, Mrs. Bobby Burnett;

Albany, Marilyne Howsley; Throckmorton, Mrs. Margie Somerville; Shamrock, Sally Jim Small, and Guthrie, Waddell Rucker.

The sponsors will be part of each arena performance. They will be judged 30 per cent on riding ability, 20 per cent on togs and equipment, 30 per cent on the performance of the horse, and confirmation and equipment will rate 20 per cent.

A special handmade saddle will be awarded first place winner, and prizes will be given through fourth place. A ball in the pavilion on the night of July 3 will honor the visiting cow-girls, when they and their escorts are formally presented.

First Gardens in 1700

NEW ORLEANS—Louisiana's first garden was made in 1700 on land bought for a knife and an ox, and was laid out as a church garden, according to Sarah Butler of Baton Rouge, La., one of the founders of the Louisiana Garden Club Federation. She said that Spanish priests were responsible for probably the first garden in the United States, built in Florida in the middle of the 17th century.

MONTGOMERY WARD'S STATEMENT to the Special Investigating Committee of the HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

"THE FACTS WARD'S HAS RECITED SHOW:

1. The Post Office aided the union during the strike at Wards and sought to excuse its actions to this Committee by misrepresenting the facts.
2. The National Labor Relations Board gerrymandered the bargaining units at Chicago to insure a union victory, and to force union representation upon the retail store employees who by remaining at work during the strike had clearly shown their rejection of the union.
3. The National Labor Relations Board has given a wholly false excuse for its action.
4. The War Labor Board, and the Attorney General, to distract attention from their own illegal acts, have untruthfully attacked Ward's lab or policies.
5. The War Labor Board violated the law by granting a contract to the union when the union had refused to prove that it had any legal right to represent Ward's employees.
6. The War Labor Board, by ordering the retroactive reinstatement of maintenance of membership, would have made impossible the holding of a fair election among Ward's employees. Obedience to that order would have forced Wards, before the election was held, to discharge the many employees who had exercised their right to resign from the union.
7. The National Labor Relations Board and the War Labor Board conspired together to bring about the seizure of Ward's properties to enforce an order which they knew to be illegal and unfair.
8. The War Labor Board and the Attorney General have sought to prevent Wards from obtaining a hearing in the courts on the illegality of the Board's orders, while seeking to impose those orders upon Wards by force.

These facts show that the Post Office, the Department of Justice, the National Labor Relations Board, and the War Labor Board, with the approval of the President, have acted together to give illegal and unfair assistance to the CIO union at Chicago.

Ward's experience ever since the passage of the Wagner Act has shown that the unfairness and prejudice illustrated by these actions is the common method by which these agencies are using the prestige of the government to force the surrender of the liberties of employers and employees everywhere.

By their policies of giving unfair and illegal assistance to labor unions, these bureaus have destroyed the established procedure of collective bargaining and have encouraged labor strife. Mr. William M. Leiserson, Chairman of the National Mediation Board pointed this out in a recent address, saying:

"The unions . . . have come to depend on the Government to give them what they could not gain by collective bargaining with employers. And now, when the giving must stop because of the burdens of war and the necessity to control inflation, they turn in resentment again at the Government like children against over-indulgent parents . . .

"Government agencies are perhaps more responsible for the present labor situation than the unions and their leaders. The dependence of workers' organizations on the Government is as much the result of their policies as of union policies."

By seeking to force Wards to obey an illegal order while depriving Wards of a hearing in the courts, these agencies have shown their lack of respect for our Constitution and the fundamental rights which the Constitution guarantees. The Constitution is no longer the supreme law of the land if those whose rights are threatened are deprived of an opportunity to obtain the protection of the courts.

From its experiences, Wards draws the conclusion that these many bureaus have formed a machine for purchasing political support from labor organizations.

Wards has long believed that, when the public awakens to the degree of coercion used by the administrative agencies of the government to force employers and employees to accept union restrictions in which they do not believe and which without such coercion they would avoid, it will rise in indignation. The public will demand that those appointed to office in these agencies act with simple fairness and obey the law or be removed from power.

The facts Wards has recited show, finally, that the President, to force Wards to obey an order known to his advisers to be unfair and illegal, ordered Ward's property seized by force.

The President's action in ordering the plant seized was the usurpation of a power not granted him by Congress and denied him by the Constitution he was sworn to uphold and defend.

The seizure of Ward's plant developed a spontaneous and continuing public indignation which resulted in this investigation. This indignation is easily interpreted. A free American people will not accept dictatorship."

MONTGOMERY WARD & CO.
SEWEL AVERY
Chairman

This is the concluding summary of the statement made by Wards on June 6, 1944 to the Special Committee of the House of Representatives investigating the seizure of Ward's properties. The full statement will be gladly forwarded to any reader upon request.

Prospects Of 20 Bids Loom On Water Jobs

Prospects were that at least 20 bids would be submitted Monday afternoon when the city commission meets to let contracts on the development of eight water wells and on pipeline and well connections.

Members of the commission will open the sealed bids at 2 p. m. and the contract for units of the projects, which have been estimated at a cost of $609,000, will be let.

Bids on the pipeline project will likely be submitted by the American Cast Iron Pipe company, Dallas, M. F. Fisher and Son, San Antonio, McClellan, Brown and McClellan, Waco, Sherman Machine and Iron Works, Oklahoma City, Okla., Ben Siro and company, Dallas; United States Pipe and Foundry, Dallas; W. P. Brothers, Roswell, N. M.; W. E. Callahan, Dallas; Continental Construction Company, Fort Dodge, Iowa; Couch Construction, Texas City; W. G. Cubbum and Company, Dallas; E. L. Dalton Dallas; Peter Kewit Sons, Denver, Colo.; Lippert Brothers, Oklahoma City, Okla.; Ernest Lloyd, Fort Worth; Floyd Malcolm, Abilene; Robert McKee, Dallas; P. O. Montgomery, Dallas; Carey W. George Construction, Mobile, Ala.; N. P. Van Valkenburg, South Gate, Colo.; Brown and Root, Austin.

Bidders for the well project will probably be Ewing and Dorn, Big Spring; Layne Texas, Dallas, Kent and Preston, Fort Worth; Alide Wells company, Denver, Colo.; George L. Taylor, Plainview; Bailey Musser company, Wichita Falls and Ward Preston, Fort Worth.

Professor Would Change Calendar

AUSTIN, June 16 (AP)—Dr. J. W. Baldwin, University of Texas professor, advocates a new world calendar of 364 days with equal quarters of 91 days each.

Dr. Baldwin says the calendar, adopted in 14 foreign countries, retains the 12 months basis with the first month of each quarter having 31 days and the other months 30 days.

In order not to disturb regularity of seasons the 365th day is observed as Saturday, December 31, a world holiday, but not marked on the calendar. For Leap Years, an extra day, June 30, is added at mid-year. Also the dates of the month are frozen on the same days of the week every year. Christmas would always be on Monday, for example.

Mother Has Just Cause For Pride

Mrs. Mary J. McBride, Malden, Miss., widow, regretted she could not come here to attend the exercises in which her son, 2nd Lt. Daniel F. McBride was commissioned and given his bombardier wings, so she wrote Col. John P. Kenney, commanding officer, about it.

"It is with a deep sense of pride and gratitude that I am answering your letter relative to my son's graduation as a bombardier and officer in our wonderful army air forces.

"Much as I would like to be present at my son's graduation exercises, it is physically impossible for me to be there. However, my thoughts and prayers will be with Daniel and his classmates on that occasion, just as they are always with our fine brave boys everywhere. You see . . . I have six other sons in the service besides Daniel . . . seven in all. I have one more boy, but he is still too young.

"Thank you again for your nice letter of invitation, and may you continue your good work of training our boys for victory." Sincerely, Mrs. Mary J. McBride.

Jungle Actors Shy DANVILLE, Ill. — Mrs. Osa Johnson, world-famous woman explorer and widow of the late explorer, Martin Johnson, who has been in Hollywood, as well as most of the world's jungles, told a meeting here recently at which she was guest speaker: "The best actors come from the African jungle, not from Hollywood. Of course," she added, "the difficulty is getting the jungle actors in front of the camera."

Natives Won't Return To Tarawa Atoll Where Many A Yank Lies 'Neath A Cross

By ELMONT WAITE (Substituting for Hal Boyle) ABEMAMA, Gilbert Islands, (AP)—Natives never will return to barren Betio Island, where more than a thousand American Marines lie beneath their white crosses.

That is the opinion of one British colonial officer. He thinks perhaps after the war the little isle in Tarawa atoll may become a sort of shrine. After all, its capture followed the bloodiest battle in Marine Corps history.

Virtually no palm trees remain. It takes 20 years to grow a producing palm tree in the Gilberts, this official said, and natives cannot live without productive palm trees. So they won't return.

And since the Gilbertese natives own the land in their islands, someone must pay for the war's damage to their property.

Major F. G. L. Holland, British commissioner on Abemama, who escaped from Tarawa's Jap garrison "with the assistance of about five miracles," explained it like this:

"The British government must repay these native landowners in the Gilberts for each coconut tree destroyed by the occupation forces—for each taro-root pit which has been wrecked."

It isn't often that a British colonial commissioner will authorize a direct quotation, but it's doubtless fortunate that he authorized this one for American Marines on Tarawa have the mistaken idea that Britain is 'charging America $5 or $8 (the rumor varies) for every tree they ruined.

Even the figures were erroneous. Major Holland said he didn't know what the payment per tree will be, and a commission probably will have to determine it but the British will pay it, not America.

Each Gilbertese native family owns at least one strip of land. Usually extending clear across his island from lagoon to sea. In Abemama, most of the natives are quite wealthy and own several strips.

Like a Real Trouper

SPRINGFIELD, Mo. — Miss Theima Ruth Davis, valedictorian of the graduating class of the Mansfield high school here, stood before an audience of over 1,000 persons recently and unfalteringly gave her address to the class while the body of her brother, Sgt. Lowell M. Davis, who was killed in a plane crash the week before, lay at her parents' home not far away.

Three Lost Planes Found Near Ixtepec

MEXICO CITY, June 14 (AP)—The wrecks of three military planes were found yesterday near Ixtepec, State of Oaxaca, with the bodies of four lieutenants and a sergeant, all Chileans, aboard. The announcement was confirmed by Chilean Ambassador Oscar Schnake Vergara.

Neither he nor the local military authorities could say whether there were other victims of the accident.

The defense ministry was advised by aviation officials of Ixtepec that the planes belonged to a group of five which had set out from Kelly Field, San Antonio, Texas, about a week ago, en route to Chile.

Radium's radio-activity lasts for centuries, and is only about half dissipated after 2,000 years.

The United States either produces or furnishes raw materials for about 98 per cent of the synthetic vitamins for Allied and friendly nations, according to the Department of Agriculture.

Interpreting The War News— GERMANS WAGING LOSING BATTLE AGAINST WIDENING BEACHHEAD

Consumption Of Water Causing Some Concern

For several months city officials have harped on the acute water situation in Big Spring and even resorted to legal restrictions on consumption, yet some people have not yet been impressed with the seriousness of the situation. B. J. McDaniel, city manager, said Saturday.

Consumption still stands at a million and a half gallons per day. At the present time the city is pumping one-third of that amount from Powell lake, which likely will go dry during the weekend. This will throw the entire burden on section 17-18 and on section 33, said McDaniel.

"With the beginning of warmer weather, people have started using air conditioners," says B. J. McDaniel, who explained that additional water is used in the cooling system. "Before air-conditioning was invented, people did without very well, and now when it is almost imperative, it seems that we could do without them again," the city manager pointed out.

He thanked citizens who are regarding the restrictions and stated that the majority of Big Springers were cutting down on the use of water. "But we must continue to do so," he said.

Raymond Rathke was fined $50 and his driver's license suspended for six months when he appeared in city court Saturday on a charge of reckless driving.

weekend pointed up striking events elsewhere on the global war front.

The appearance in Japanese home skies of the B-29 super bombers had a definite grand strategy bearing on Allied hopes of cutting the struggle short against Japan as well as Germany.

Flying from bases in China the B-29's broke all bomber records for distance and speed as well as striking power. Just how far they flew to accomplish their first major war mission is undisclosed. But the attack left Tokyo in no doubt that the Japanese home front is now vulnerable to repeated and devastating assaults from the air.

It is now being proved again in France, as it was in Russia and on every great battlefield in history, that the infantry still is the queen of battles. All the rest of the vast equipment of modern armies is designed to help the infantry do its decisive job.

There was something else under proof in Normandy at the weekend. That is Nazi ability to contain the Allied bridgehead in France without resort to strategic reserves in men and planes.

Once the Normandy beach fronts are punctured in sufficient width and depth to set ashore powerful Allied armies and equipment it seems clear that the foe must either join battle with all he has soon or relinquish a huge segment of France.

While informal estimates from the front say up to a third of all German troops available in the west have now been brought into action in Normandy, that probably means only tactical reserves. It remains to be seen whether they will risk an ultimate stand or fall back sweepingly to interior and shortened and better articulated fronts.

Picnic Will Be Given

A picnic will be entertainment for the Business and Professional Women's club Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock at the city park. All members are invited.

Mrs. Jack King returned recently after visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Kuykendall of Seminole. Mrs. King received word of the illness of her brother, Frank Kuykendall of Red Hill, N. M. and a former resident of Big Spring. He is in the Albuquerque Hospital.

The French national anthem, La Marseillaise, was written in 1792 by Claude Joseph Rouget de Lisle.

Two Who Broke From Howard Co. Jail Are Recaptured In Odessa

Two men who "broke jail" in Big Spring Thursday night were arrested Friday night in Odessa and Sweetwater, Mrs. A. J. Merrick, sheriff, announced.

Dairy Feed Rates To Be Reduced

Dairy feed payments for May and June sales will be issued, beginning July 1, at a lesser rate than the March-April payments being issued, the AAA office announced Saturday.

Present payments are 60 cents per hundredweight of milk and eight cents per pound of butterfat sold, while payments for May and June and July and August sales will be 45 cents and six cents, respectively.

Payments from Sept. 1 to March 31, 1945, are to go to a high of 70 cents per hundredweight of milk and 10 cents per pound of butterfat, however.

No payments have been issued in the last week, most producers already having received subsidy payments for March and April sales.

CHAMPION HIKER AT 90

IUSWICH, Mass. (UP)—Charles Poor, former excursion boat skipper, told friends on his 90th birthday that he expected to continue his sports activities "for another 10 years — at least." He's the town's undisputed hiking champion and no one can remember the last time he failed to appear for his match with the Thursday Nighters' Bowling League.

and Charlie Johnson, charged in Howard county with assault and attempt to take personal property and with theft, tripped a combination lock to their cell, using a mirror on end of a stick to see the combination and a wire to move the lock. They then broke a bar, which had been welded, on a window of the second floor of Howard county jail. They squeezed through the small hole, barely large enough for a man to go through, broke a hole in the screen and dropped to the ground.

Kelly was arrested by the sheriff at Odessa and will be held there pending transfer to the state penitentiary. An alarm had been broadcast and telephone calls made to officers in this vicinity. It had been presumed Kelly would go to Odessa where his wife lives. Kelly had been in jail here since June 6, when he surrendered. He had escaped several days prior to that from Aspermont jail, after his removal from the penitentiary to Aspermont on a bench warrant to face trial on a burglary charge.

Johnson was arrested May 19 after an attempted holdup of the previous night in front of Big Spring hospital. Two complaints were filed in justice court, one alleging he assaulted S. M. J. Benson and attempted to take personal property and the other that he stole a wheel, tire and tube.

Johnson was arrested by the chief of police at Sweetwater, Denver Dunn, chief deputy, and Johnny Ralston, deputy at Coshona, went to Sweetwater Saturday to return Johnson to Big Spring. Three other prisoners in the same cell did not escape.

Recruiting Office To Remain Open To 8 P. M.

Uncle Sam apparently isn't relaxing on recruiting. Orders that the army recruiting office here remain open until 8 p. m. have been issued by the secretary of war.

The office, in the basement of the federal building, will be open from 9 a. m. to 8 p. m., said Lt. Dede N. Cook, officer in charge. Purpose of remaining open late is to serve persons who work during the day and might wish to visit the recruiting officer later.

US Casualties Set At 16,000 For Invasion

By DON WHITEHEAD WITH THE AMERICAN FORCES IN FRANCE, June 17 (AP) — American army casualties totalled 3,283 dead and 12,600 wounded up to midnight last night in the first 11 days of the invasion of France, and the beachhead has become "absolutely secure," the Germans having "lost their last chance to drive us back into the sea," Lt. Gen. Omar N. Bradley announced today.

Obviously in good spirits, the tall, weather-beaten Missourian who commands American forces in France appeared for the first time before a group of beachhead correspondents and gave them a report which confirmed his pre-invasion confidence that the campaign would be carried out without the bloodbath predicted by the enemy.

Bradley said casualties on the central beachhead, where the First division and elements of the 39th had landed, were higher than was anticipated, but that on the other hand, casualties on the peninsula beachhead were lower.

(The American casualties in action to date were expected to exceed those of the British or Canadian, not yet announced, a dispatch from London said, because the American First and 29th encountered heaviest fighting when they ran into a German division holding maneuvers on the difficult beach. In 24 hours of fighting they advanced only 100 yards in some places, while, on the other hand, both British and Canadians made original landings comparatively easily, encountering their heavier fighting later.

Amarillo Attorney Heads 8th Regional War Labor Board

WASHINGTON, June 17 (AP) — Walter T. Madden, Amarillo, Tex., attorney, today was appointed chairman of the eighth regional war labor board at Dallas.

Madden, formerly a part-time public member of the eighth regional board, was unanimously appointed by the War Labor Board to succeed Floyd T. McGown, who resigned to enter private business.

The board "complimented Garland Farmer, vice chairman and part-time public member of the eighth regional board, for his splendid work as vice chairman and as acting chairman during the interval since the resignation of Mr. McGown."

Guam, 1,300 miles to the northeast, was heavily bombarded by battleships and cruisers spearheading the central Pacific drive toward the China coast. Both actions occurred Friday local time or Thursday U. S. time.

The bombardment was a possible prelude to a second invasion of the southern Marianas. It came as Marines and infantrymen fought for Asitlo air-drome on nearby Saipan island, and Allied infantrymen in southeast Asia took two stiffest steps toward reopening the Burma Road to China.

Capture of Asitlo would give the Americans one of the oldest air fields in the Marianas and their closest base to the China coast.

Japanese columns, trying to cut off American air bases in eastern China, virtually encircled Changsha and swept on down the Hankow-Canton railway toward Lukow, 25 miles below Changsha. Infiltrating Nipponese soldiers disguised as civilians were employed in the sanguinary battle for Changsha.

Chinese Burma Road fighters, trying to reestablish a land supply line to united air fields in China, captured Kamaling. It was the enemy headquarters in Mogaung valley and one of three major Japanese bases in north Burma. Japanese reinforcements, poured in over jungle trails to aid their virtually encircled comrades at the other two Burmese bases—Mogaung and Myitkyina.

Ways Sought To Tap New Source Of Oil

WASHINGTON, June 17 (AP) — Millions of barrels of true petroleum are locked in the sandstone of six coastal California counties, and federal chemists are trying to develop a commercial extraction process, Interior Secretary Ickes said today.

If the experiments of the bureau of mines are successful, Ickes said, "literally mountains of petroleum" will be added to the nation's dwindling reserves.

Oil will be produced in quarries instead of wells, and dynamite will bring it from the earth instead of pumps, he added.

The bureau of mines said the California rocks, unlike the oil shales of other states, are saturated with a true petroleum similar to that taken from ordinary oil wells.

FD Scores But Still Signs Oil Bill

WASHINGTON, June 17 (AP) — Vesting control in congress of the amount of petroleum to be taken from the Elk Hills, Calif., naval oil reserve is both objectionable and unwise, President Roosevelt said today in approving legislation authorizing the pooling of government and Standard Oil of California holdings there for operation as a unit.

"I regret to say," the president declared in a statement, "that in several particulars this act departs from principles of government which have been long established and x x x would vest the congress with what amounts to executive powers over administration of the naval petroleum reserves."

Asserting he signed the legislation to meet an immediate wartime need, the president continued:

"This legislative assumption of executive functions takes form in requirements that the secretary of the navy, even with presidential approval, may produce from the reserves only those quantities of fuel congress specifies; and that the navy secretary may not condemn lands or enter into joint or unit contracts, or other contracts and leases, without previously consulting the naval affairs committees of both the house and the senate."

The Week

never be allowed to touch the ground.

Brisk bidding is expected Monday when two important contracts on the city water project are opened. It is possible that this might mean savings of several thousands of dollars to the City of Big Spring.

Lt. Grover C. Bilsard, Jr. deservedly received the Distinguished Service Cross (the third such award to be given a Howard county man) last week. To us his is one of the most thrilling stories of heroism and downright "guts," for that's what it takes to pilot a plane for hours with one leg shot off and the other all but gone.

We fanned ourselves somewhat vexed over an extended power failure last week because it caught us just before press time. However, we concede first place to the women caught in crucial stages of cooking, drying, etc. at beauty parlors.

Hereford breeders completed their organization last week. This unit can do much toward the ultimate of farm feeding for success might hinge eventually on quality of the animal. It may in time mean better steaks for you.

Signs are more hopeful for opening of the freezer locker plant for some material has been received. However, not all of the necessary lockers are here as yet and no opening date can be forecast.

Our fire losses were $3,000 last month. All we have to do is keep that up and we never will earn a reduction in our stiff fire rates.

It is good to hear that Llena agreed to finish one tennis court at the high school stadium and that others may follow suit. This is action on the recreational program instead of talk.

FDR Delegates Appeal To Court

AUSTIN, June 17 (AP)—Attorneys for Texas' pro-Roosevelt democrats today asked the state supreme court to take prompt action in a suit to compel printing of electors names on the primary ballot so that Texans wishing to vote for the democratic presidential nominee "shall not be deprived of their suffrage."

A brief filed by 12 attorneys for the Roosevelt faction presented a seven-point argument contending that action of the regularly constituted convention on May 23 in only conditionally binding its electors to vote for the party's nominees wiped out custom and precedent and made the filing of the mandamus proceedings necessary.

The regular convention's electors were instructed to vote for any democrat holding views in harmony with resolutions adopted by it.

The pro-Roosevelt action's brief argued that while it has never before been necessary to invoke the statute providing that electors be voted upon in the primary election, the action of the regular convention in only conditionally binding them to vote for the party's nominees made this course necessary. The court will hear oral arguments Monday.

Misguided Patriotism Rapped By Professor

AUSTIN, June 17 (AP)—Dean W. R. Woolrich of the University of Texas engineering school said today that it is "misguided patriotism that praises a young man who files a B-29, yet maligns a young man who helps to create that super-fortress."

The engineering dean in a statement said that he was becoming alarmed "at Hitler's busy helpers who frequently call me and frantically demand to know why there are so many students in the university who 'ought to be carrying a gun.'"

"Such unjustified attacks are causing many young men whose technical skills or aptitude qualifies them for rare and vital tasks in production to halt their training or to quit their jobs and enter the army, thereby actually hampering the production end of the war," said Woolrich.

One of his sons was killed in combat as a member of the Royal Canadian air force early in the war.

Some Cheese To Be Point-Free Today

WASHINGTON, June 17 (AP)—The Office of Price Administration today announced that all rationed cheese except American cheddar cheese, cheddar products and other cheese in group one on the ration chart will be point-free for the two weeks beginning 12:01 a. m., Sunday, June 18.

OPA explained the temporary action, taken with War Food Administration approval, because in the coming fortnight soft cheese stocks will be at the highest level of the year.

Cheddar and cheddar products and other group 1 cheese continue at ten red points per pound on the ration chart values, OPA said.

Kidnaping Charge Filed At Abilene

ABILENE, June 17 (AP)—Mrs. Elizabeth Ann Hinajosa, charged with the abduction of 3-year-old Janet Bies, today waived examination trial before Justice of the Peace W. J. Cunningham, who set her bond at $5,000.

The 18-year-old defendant, wife of a soldier, was arrested after the Bies child was recovered to day after a night-long search.

Chief of Police Virgil Waldrop said the child was the daughter of Mrs. Audra Bies of St. Paul, Minn., sister of Mrs. William Gutzkow to whom Janet was returned unharmed.

Police quoted Mrs. Gutzkow as saying she allowed the child to go shopping with a woman she met in an Abilene restaurant. When the little girl had not been returned in two hours, Mrs. Gutzkow went to the police, officers stated.

Clark Schooley, reporter for the Abilene Reporter-News and journalism instructor at Hardin-Simmons University, discovered Janet at one of the college's dormitories for families of service men.

War Labor Urged To Stay On Job

An urgent appeal for all war workers to stay on their jobs and for men not now in war production to apply at the United States Employment service for information on where men are needed most was issued Saturday by H. A. Clark, manager of the Big Spring area office of the USES.

The War Manpower commission has pointed to loss of war materials and consequent drain on stock piles in the United States "which must be replenished on immediate schedule if the United States is to successfully complete its invasion of Germany."

Manpower must be produced to staff all essential industries and the WMC has assumed the responsibility. Controls for producing the manpower are to be placed in effect, as recently announced, on July 1. The new controls will not supersede the present Employment Stabilization plan, but the plan will be augmented to include non-essential labor and employers, Clark stated.

From now until July 1, intensive training of USES personnel will be completed to place in operation machinery for sharing workers in this area with sections of the country where shortages exist.

Rehearing Suggested On Insurance Case

CHICAGO, June 17 (AP)—The National Association of Insurance Commissioners today recommended that the insurance supervisory official of each state "request his attorney general to consider the desirability of cooperating in securing a rehearing of the insurance case before the United States supreme court."

The case referred to in the report of the association's executive committee, adopted by the convention, was that in which the supreme court ruled insurance was commerce subject to regulations governing interstate commerce.

There was no indication from any point in southern England of unusual movements of the population. In fact, reports from localities struck by the weird projectiles said normal life was being conducted. Reports from the damaged places said persons who went to shelters generally had escaped unhurt. A considerable portion of the robots have been destroyed by anti-aircraft fire.

ICC Hears Proposal For Uniform Rates

WASHINGTON, June 17 (AP)—The interstate commerce commission heard from southwestern spokesmen today proposals for a uniform system of class rates on all rail freight moving between the Atlantic coast and the Rocky mountains. Southwestern interests entered the hearing for the first time to add their demands to those of deep south states for parity with the east on rates applying to manufactured goods. Industries seeking to locate in the southwest, the region's spokesmen contended, turn away when they realize the high cost of exporting manufacturers.

Class 43-2 — Bombardier Grad Lost On His Way To Furlough In Australia

Lt. Howard S. Davenport Jr. of Dover, N. J. has apparently seen lots of action, but we have no details of his activities other than he has been operating from Africa, Sicily, Italy and Egypt in the order named, and is now flying against the Japs from a base in India. He has the Air Medal with 3 clusters.

Lt. John Clancy of Lakewood, Ohio has been pounding the Nazis from his 8th Air Force base in England for about six months now. He has the Distinguished Flying Cross and the Air Medal with four clusters.

Lt. John B. Bassler Jr. of Roaring Springs, Pa. went overseas in October of '43 and was assigned to the 8th Air Force as a bombardier-navigator. On December 30th last he took off in his twin-engine bomber for his seventh raid on Hitler's Europe. His bomber "Satan's Sister" was ripped open by several Messerschmitts soon after crossing into Germany, and the entire crew was listed as missing in action. Two weeks later, however, on January 13th of this year, word was received that Bassler and his mates were prisoners of war in Germany. Lt. Bassler had the Air Medal at the time he was downed.

Caught in a vicious crossfire over the Marshall Islands on January 19th last, both engines of the B-25 were knocked out, and it crashed into the sea. Lt. Joe Colopy Jr. of Rock Springs, Wyo., the bombardier-navigator, went down with his plane. Joe's Purple Heart was sent to his dad.

"If I do say it myself, I have dropped some pretty ones," writes Lt. Lyndon Young from his Gilbert Islands' base in the Pacific. Last heard from a couple of months ago, Young had then completed his 23rd mission in that theatre, and has the Air Medal with clusters and the Purple Heart with one cluster. Did not write much about his wounds, except to hint that he "caught a few fast ones" last January. Lt. Young, who hails from Salem, Indiana, has been in the Pacific theatre since early last fall.

With at least 20 millions behind him, Lt. Paul Castellotti of New York City was on his 21st mission over Germany last March 18th when his Liberator failed to return. Nothing has since been heard from the ship or any of its crew members. Lt. Castellotti held the Air Medal with 3 clusters.

Late in July of '43 Lt. Robert Chapin Jr. of Hartford, Conn. left for Australia. In the first part of October he moved on to a base in New Guinea. On November 3rd last, Chapin's Mitchell bomber took off to blast a Jap base on the Northeastern coast of New Guinea. Forced down by enemy fire, it crashed into the sea. Fellow airmen told of seeing a raft filled with men appear in the neighborhood shortly after the crash, and expressed the belief that all members survived the crash. No official word, however, has been received as to their fate. On January 26th and March 8th, two intercepted Jap broadcasts carried Lt. Chapin's name as their prisoner, but since the War Department cannot confirm this officially he is still listed as missing in action.

The only thing we could learn about Lt. Aldo Castagnoli of New York City is that he's been with the 8th Air Force in England for about 8 months now.

Lt. Richard Wilson of Washington Court House, Ohio studied navigation at Honda, later taking a course in Radar. He is now touring the States, lecturing on Radar.

Landing in Australia in August of '43 Lieutenant Justus Bachman of Throckmorton, Texas was soon bombing the Japs from a base in New Guinea. On the 28th of January last, he took off for Queensland to spend a furlough in Australia. His plane never reached his destination, and has not been heard from since. Lt. Bachman was a bombardier-navigator on a B-25.

After leaving Big Spring, Lt. Wilbur Pearson of Austin, Texas was assigned as a bombardier in a few months ago to take special training in Radar. His course now completed, he expects to go overseas any day now.

Lt. Frank J. Campbell Jr. of Pocatello, Idaho has been serving as a bombardier instructor at various schools throughout the states. He is at present stationed in Salina, Kansas.

Lt. Andy Doyle of Brooklyn, New York is now a bombardier instructor in Hawaii. He's been over seas since the middle of last year, and has seen plenty of action, being wounded twice and decorated a number of times. "The first time I was wounded, it didn't amount to much," said Doyle, "but the second time, last January, the Japs really hit the jackpot."

"We were returning from a raid over the Marshalls that day, and a whole flock of Zeros moved in on us from all directions, with guns blazing. They caught me in both legs, and I lost so much blood that I never would've pulled through it the boys hadn't given me a transfusion right there in the plane. Whoever it was who donated that blood plasma, well, it sure saved my life!" Lt. Doyle is in pretty good shape now, and has been on duty as an instructor for the last six weeks.

Mexico Asks Return Of 20,000 Natives

MEXICO CITY, June 16 (AP)—Mexico herself asked the return of her 20,000 nationals now working illegally in the U. S. Because they "have been victims of discriminatory treatment and received less than prevailing wages," the foreign minister said today.

The ministry's formal statement was issued after newspapers here prominently displayed stories of the U. S. roundup of Mexicans.

The return of these workers will not affect some 45,000 other farm workers who have gone to the United States under contracts approved by both governments.

The Mexican request for the return of illegal immigrants was made during a recent meeting of both U. S. and Mexican immigration service officials here, the ministry said. It added Mexico had asked their return not only because of discrimination against Mexicans in the U. S. illegally but also because Mexican farms needed their services.

Arrangements have been made to care for deported Mexicans when they arrive on this side of the frontier and to send them to areas where jobs are waiting for them, the statement added.

Amazonian Indians first discovered and utilized cocaine, an ingredient of the coca plant.

Miss Taylor And Lieut. Webb Are Married In All Saints Episcopal Chapel In Austin

Miss Doris Elizabeth Taylor, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Edward Taylor of Austin, became the bride of Lieut. James Louis Webb, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Webb of Big Spring, Sunday, June 11 at 8 p. m. at the All Saints Episcopal chapel in Austin.

The Rev. Joseph Harte read the candlelight ceremony before an altar banked with white gladioli, stock and carnations.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a colonial wedding gown of white marquisette fashioned with a basque waist and off-shoulder yoke edged with rows of lace which extended down the front of the bouffant skirt and formed in a large applied bow in the center of the long train. The full-length illusion veil bordered in matching lace was attached to a coronet of pearlized orange blossoms. Her only jewelry was a strand of pearls. She carried a colonial bouquet of white roses and stephanotis.

Nancy Reed of Austin attended the bride as maid of honor, and Mary Miller and Mrs. Norman Walker, both of Austin, were bridesmaids. All wore identical full-skirted gowns of imported tucked white organdy designed pinafore style and trimmed with ruffles of white eyelet embroidery. They wore Dutch caps and mittens of matching material and carried bouquets of red roses.

The bridegroom was attended by Ensign Larry Robinson as best man and by Naval Cadet Bill Street, Joe Dougherty and Lieut. Norman Walker of Austin as ushers.

Virginia Dechard, organist, played the traditional wedding marches and accompanied Alex McConnell who sang "Ave Maria" and "Because."

Reception
Close friends, relatives and out-of-town guests were received at the reception at Normandie Arms, home of the bride's parents, by the bridal couple, their parents and members of the wedding party.

Those assisting in the house party were Mrs. George Sutherland of Lubbock in charge of the bride's book. Those at the serving table were Lou Ella Clayton of San Antonio, Dale Buchanan of Austin, Fay Keith of Austin, Mary K. Lattimore of Fort Worth, Vera Mae Bettison of Galveston, Frances Flourney of Dallas, Paula Oliver of Corral, Ark., Mrs. Rod Rawlinson and Mrs. Ben Wayne

SISTER ACT: The bride and her flower-girl sister are dressed alike in old-fashioned tiered d'espriit gowns and halo bonnets, with identical colonial bouquets of carnations, roses and forgetmenots. The bride wears a diamond necklace, little sister a brilliant-studded "love letter" charm on a slended gold chain.

Greig of Austin.
The wedding cake, embossed with white confection roses and encircled with white satin ribbon and tulle, was placed before a large mirror which reflected the lighted candelabra and white floral decorations on the serving table.
The mother of the bride chose a grey dinner dress with gloves and headpiece of fuchsia and a corsage of matching flowers. The mother of the bridegroom wore a floor-length gown of soft blue crepe with a pink rose corsage.

Wedding Trip
For a wedding trip to New Orleans, Mrs. Webb chose a light weight dusty blue gabardine suit with brown accessories for traveling. Her corsage was an orchid. The couple will be at home in Victoria where the bridegroom was commissioned as a pilot recently.

The bride was graduated from Austin high school and attended the University of Texas where she was a member of FOO, Pratz, honorary service organizations, and was a Bluebonnet Belle nominee.

A graduate of New Mexico Military Institute, Lieut. Webb attended the University of Texas where he was a member of Chi Phi fraternity. He attended high school in Big Spring.

Out of town guests for the wedding were Mrs. Sam J. Callaway, Sr., and Mrs. Sam J. Callaway, Jr., Fort Worth; Mr. and Mrs. Fount Taylor, Mrs. Roger Gideon, Stephenville, W. E. Taylor, Macon, Mo.; Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Flourney, Frances Flourney, Dallas; Mr. and Mrs. George Sutherland, Lubbock; Dr. and Mrs. Charles E. Bivens, San Antonio; Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Webb and Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Smith.

Fathers Will Be Honored

At least 100 Big Spring fathers should be in the USO club Monday evening to be honored at the Father and Son banquet which will be entertainment for the men at 8 o'clock.

All fathers wishing to be a "Dad" for a service man should call the USO and register before 3 p. m. today. Howard Bell, director, said, "We are particularly anxious to have all men who have sons in the service to come, however, we want any man who can come to do so." When the men register, they will be assigned some covered dish to bring to the banquet, and this takes the place of any admission or plate charge. Baked ham is being furnished by the club.

GSO girls who will set the table are Ruth Griffin, Clarinda Sanders, Dorothy Dean Sain, Betty Bob Ditz, Jeanne Johnson, Elizabeth Stanford. Those who will serve at the banquet are Maxine Moore, Winona Bailey, Helen Duley, Nellie Gray, Beth Ludeke and Maurine Word.

Thirty-five Work At Red Cross Room

Thirty-five women turned out for rolling bandages in the Red Cross surgical dressing room Friday, said Mrs. Bernard Fisher. There still remains a large amount of our quota to be reached, she continued, and we are still looking for the help of new workers as well as the old ones.

Bridge and rummy will be entertainment and hostesses will be Mrs. Charles O. Dickerson, chairman, Mrs. Charles Kinsey, Mrs. J. W. N. Lee, Ms. J. E. O'Brien. During the business meeting Tuesday morning nominations will be made for new officers. At the following meeting July 4, election will be held and officers installed will serve for a six month period.

HD Reporters Club Toured Herald Plant

Members of the Home Demonstration Reporters club made a tour through the Big Spring Herald plant Saturday following a business meeting at the HD agent's office.

During the business session, reports of reporters were discussed and analyzed. It was announced that pictures will be taken of different achievements of the clubs made during the year and put in the club scrapbooks.

Next meeting of the Reporters club will be in September. Those present were Mrs. J. E. Brown, Mrs. W. F. Heckler, Mrs. Leslie Bryson, Mrs. Joe Myers, Mrs. Shirley Fryar, Rheba Marie Boyles.

POURTRAIT WEDDING GOWN: All ready to step into a silver frame is this New York design of cobweb lace with long sleeves and yoked bodice trimmed in a froth of ruffles—sheer loveliness for the summer bride. She carries white roses and wears a fingertip net veil held to her coiffure with a satin band and a pearl brooch.

Get-Acquainted Coke Party To Be Given

Big Spring girls will be hostesses at a get-acquainted coke party in the Cadet Club at the Bombarrier Field Sunday afternoon from 4 o'clock until 8 o'clock. All cadets stationed at the field will be entertained and are special invited. Cadet wives and dates will also be guests. "This is the first of this type of entertainment to be given at the Cadet club," said Mrs. Lynette McEhannon, cadet hostess.

Transportation will be furnished from the Settles at 3:45 o'clock for invited girls. Refreshments will be served and members of the post orchestra will furnish music for the party.

Miss Dugan, Cadet Smeal Are Married In Single Ring Ceremony At Church Here

Mr. and Mrs. Brady Dugan of Bloomsburg, Pa., and A-C-A Wayne Smeal, son of Mrs. Alma Smeal of Morrisdale, Pa. were married Saturday evening at 9 o'clock in the East Fourth Baptist church.

Rev. W. H. Colson read the single ring ceremony. The bride wore an informal white jersey dress and white accessories. Her shoulder corsage was of red roses.

Mrs. Dugan was attended by Mrs. Frank Cathey, who was matron of honor. Mrs. Cathey wore a navy blue dress and white accessories. Her corsage was of red roses.

Frank Cathey was the best man. Leslie Cathey sang "I Love You Truly" and Mrs. Wanda Wits was accompanist. Mrs. Wits also played the traditional wedding music. The couple will be home at 904 Gregg. Cadet Smeal is stationed at the Bombarrier school in Class 44-12.

Marriage Revealed

The wedding of Gladys Edwards of Birmingham, Ala. and L. I. Nicholson of Big Spring, formerly of Dixon, Miss. was solemnized Saturday, June 10, at 4 p. m. in the Broadway Baptist church at Fort Worth. The pastor officiated.

The couple met several years ago while teaching in Louisiana. Mrs. Nicholson is a graduate of Mississippi college and has studied at the University of Alabama and Columbia University. She was teaching at Ramsey High school in Birmingham prior to her marriage.

Mr. Nicholson is a graduate of Mississippi State college and studied at the University of Texas. The bride wore a navy blue sheer dress with pink lace dicky for the ceremony. Her hat was blue silk and other accessories were blue.

The couple is at home temporarily at the Tex hotel. Mr. Nicholson is materials man for Northern Ordnance.

Couple United In Single Ring Ceremony Read Here

A single ring ceremony was read June 3 in the home of the bride's parents by Rev. W. L. Porterfield, when Miss Joyce Marie Gaylor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Gaylor of Big Spring, became the bride of Cpl. Melvin Gill, son of Mr. and Mrs. Billy Gill of Big Spring.

The wedding vows were read by candlelight before a mantel banked with fvy, sweetpeas, baby breath and fern.

On either side was floor baskets of pink and yellow spring flowers. On the center of the mantel was a candle holder with white candles.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a powder blue tailored suit and white accessories with a shoulder corsage of pink carnations. She wore a locket which was 50 years old and belonging to Mrs. Ida M. Johnson of Santa Marie, Calif.

Mrs. John Pruitt, matron of honor, wore a dress of floral design with a shoulder corsage of yellow gladioli. Her accessories were black.

Sgt. John Pruitt was the best man.

Mother of the bride, who lighted the candles, wore a gold-colored tailored suit and black accessories.

Mrs. Gill, mother of the bridegroom, wore a beige dress and beige accessories. Following the ceremony a reception was held in the home of the bride's parents.

The table centerpiece was of pink lilies and baby breath with pink candles on either end.

A three-tiered wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and bridegroom was served by Mrs. Davis Evans, sister of the bridegroom.

The couple is at home at 606 Nolan following a wedding trip to San Antonio. For traveling the bride wore an eyelet pique suit with white accessories.

Mrs. Gill is a graduate of Big Spring High school and is employed at the First National Bank. Cpl. Gill graduated from Abilene High school and attended Hardin-Simmons University until he enlisted in the Air Corps. He is now stationed at the Bombarrier school.

Trim-As-A-Pin Feminine, Natural Girl Rates Tops With The Man In The Service

SOMETHING FOR THE BOYS: Counselor Mary Stuyvesant shows a Junior hostess of the Girls' Service Organization how to apply rouge to achieve natural ray glow.

By BETTY CLARKE

AP Beauty Editor

The girl who rates tops with the man in the service is the feminine, natural girl who looks trim-as-a-pin. A soldier has to be spic-and-span himself, so he thinks a lot about feminine good grooming.

Mary Stuyvesant, beauty counselor to the Girls' Service Organization, has talked to hundreds of service men to get their slant on points they notice most in girls they meet.

Here are some of the things they told her:

"We like hair that has a plan. Sure, we like it long, but short hair can look nice, too. The important thing is to have a style—don't just let it hang."

"Don't be a sheep in men's clothes," they say. They definitely veto slacks, and dark severe colors. Dressy dresses win out over sweaters and skirts. They like us feminine and frilly—a flower or a bow in the hair, a lacy, flowered handkerchief. Even in uniform you can contrive that feminine touch.

Do remember it's the soldier who "brings up the rear!" A dipping hemline or crooked stocking seams are in the limelight, the minute your back is turned. So are down-hill heels.

"We go for the girl who keeps herself in press," they declare. "If she looks right out of the laundry, she's for us." It's a good rule to press clothes each time you wear them. And don't take chances on your white things. Collars, handkerchiefs, gloves should hit the suds after every wear.

What about make-up? "Sure we like it," say the men. "But we do like to see the girl's face!" They veto, to a man, the pointed look that goes with an overdose of make-up. They vote, almost to a man, for that "clean, scrubbed look."

So work for a good clear skin with everything you've got—scrubbers, fresh fruits, cold cream and scrubbing.

Here are some other points that come up on makeup: Is your rouge on but not showing? Do you go easy on mascara? Don't miss your real eyebrows when you put on the pencil. Same goes for lipstick. Beware of smudged edges, scarlet smears on teeth.

How about lots of brushing? Not just your hair, but your shoulders—in fact your entire costume—should have a daily brush-off.

"Save us," said one, "from the female grapevine." That hunched-up look doesn't inspire confidence. Make a practice of standing tall, sitting straight and developing that confident, poised bearing which is a big ingredient of charm.

Some of the behavior breaks the men find annoying are: Tugging at stockings, fussing with clothes, powering in public, combing hair. One said, "When a girl starts combing her hair at the table, I feel like pulling out a razor and shaving." Little annoyances like chewing gum while dancing, nervously tapping off cigarette ashes and biting nails don't escape their notice either.

"Women," said one sergeant, "do these little annoying things because they're not sure of themselves."

Our men at war seem to look to their feminine companions as a source of confidence. It's up to the gals to keep up their morale.

Rev. Porterfield Returns

Rev. W. L. Porterfield returned Friday evening after attending the South Central Jurisdictional Conference in Tulsa, Okla. June 12 through June 15.

During the conference two Texas men were consecrated as bishops stated Rev. Porterfield. Eight states are included in the conference. They are Oklahoma, New Mexico, Nebraska, Arkansas, Missouri, Kansas, Louisiana, Texas.

Billy Satterwhite Honored At Party

Mrs. Bob Satterwhite entertained her son, Billy Bob with a party on his fifth birthday anniversary Friday in their home.

Favors were toy jeeps and games were played. Gifts were presented to the honored guest and refreshments were served.

Those present were Sonny and Betty Tidwell, Doyle and Wesley Phillips, Edmond Burke, June Ann Johnston, Mike King, J. Gardner, Tommy Hammond, Dickie and Carla Jean Madison, Paul Wyman Palmidge, Joel Walters, Jimmie and Bennie McCrary, Luan and Marilyn Hicks of Lubbock, Gordon Madison, Dale Young.

Parents attending were Mrs. J. B. King, Mrs. J. L. M. Gardner, Mrs. Clyde E. Young, Mrs. Clyde Johnston, Mrs. Carl Madison.

Sending gifts were Pvt. and Mrs. B. A. Graham, Vada Wood, Mrs. Rufus Miller, Bernice Edwards, Mrs. Joe Scott.

Cubs Take Reds 2-1 In 10 Innings, Bums Win

CHICAGO, June 17 (AP) — The Chicago Cubs, who had been waiting since opening day to repeat their inaugural victory over Cincinnati, concentrated their waiting in the batter's box today and capitalized on Lefty Arnold, Carter's wildness for a 2 to 1 decision in a ten-inning hurlers' duel.

Claude Passeau, who held the Reds' offensive to a seventh inning homer by Shortstop Eddie Miller, walked and scored the winning run from third as Billy Nicholson drilled a single down the third base line with two out in the extra inning.

Carter walked home the Cubs' other run in the fourth with two successive passes after Roy Hughes smashed a single off the rookie pitcher's glove and Phil Cavarretta singled to left.

The bases were still filled with none out in this frame when Andy Pafko, the Cubs' freshman center fielder, lifted an infield fly to Miller, who lost it and Cavarretta was trapped between third and home for a double play. Carter then got Don Johnson on a grounder. Johnson also assisted him from another jam in the sixth after Gee Walker's fumble of Hughes' single and two more passes filled the bases, Johnson hitting into an inning-ending force-out.

Carter allowed only six hits, all singles, in suffering his second defeat against two victories. Passeau hung up his second win and ended a three-game losing streak for his club, who also had lost four straight to the Reds since beating them, 3 to 0, in the season's opening game.

PHILADELPHIA, June 17 (AP) — Held to one hit for eight innings by Bill Lee, the Brooklyn Dodgers combined three hits, a walk and two errors to score four runs in the ninth and defeat the Philadelphia Phillies, 4-3, today. Whit Wyatt gained credit for his first victory of the campaign.

BOSTON, June 17 (AP) — The New York Giants earned an even split with the Boston Braves, taking the second game 5-5 after having lost the first, 5-1, today. The Braves rallied in the ninth of the nightcap to score three runs on a home run by Tommy Hoimes with two on base.

NEW ROCHELLE, N. Y., June 17 (AP) — Bronzed Byron Nelson, the tall Texan transplanted to Toledo, Ohio, turned the $13,333 New York Red Cross open golf tournament at Wykagyl into a one man show today.

The former P.G.A. and National Open king ripped the rugged layout apart with a six-under-par 66, the best round of the tournament, to reach the three quarter mark of the 72-hole medal play test a dozen under even figures with 204. That gave him a five-stroke lead over his nearest foe and a stranglehold on the $2,666 first prize.

Five strokes back, after a par-busting 69 today, was Sergeant Vic Ghent of Atlantic City, while Mike Turnesa of White Plains, N. Y., who started the third round tied with Nelson, was third with 212 after a 74 today while threw him eight strokes off the pace.

Harold (Jug) McSpaden of Philadelphia skidded to 75 for a 214 total, where the winter tour champion was knotted with Herman Barron of White Plains, who came up with a par-shattering 68 today.

The hard luck guy of the day was Gene Sarazen, the squire of Darien, Conn., who came up to the last hole three under par, with a chance to go high among the leaders. However, his third shot, a shot chip, hit the flag as the caddy of one of Sarazen's playing partners held it, and skidded across the green. There was a two-stroke penalty for hitting the flag. He finished par for 217 strokes. That put Sarazen in a five way tie for ninth place, instead of in a three way tie for fourth.

Sam Byrd, Detroit star who won last week's $17,500 Philadelphia Open, added a par 72 to his previous 74 and 73 for a 219 total.

Miss Bundy, third seeded in the tournament and No. 5 nationally, succeeded as champion Pauline Betz, whom she upset Thursday in the semifinals.

In her march to the title, Miss Bundy won ten straight sets with the loss of 25 games. Her triumph over Miss Betz was by almost identical score, 7-5, 6-3. Miss Bundy is a student at Rollins College, Fla.

NEW ORLEANS, June 17 (AP) — President Billy Evans of the Southern Association said today he believed it was a "mistake" to start Dick Callahan, new Orleans prep league pitcher signed by the Boston Red Sox last week, in Class AA baseball.

The Red Sox paid Callahan $15,000 for his contract and farmed him to the Louisville Colonels of the American Association where he will report Monday.

"Callahan will find pitching double-A ball a lot different from high school ball," Evans said. "He'll have to have control and stuff with it. Experienced players make it pretty rough for a kid. Maybe this boy is good enough to make the grade right off but if he were my prospect I'd give him the same money and let him pitch in a lower league where he'll learn all the tricks and build his confidence."

Baylor Bears To Return To Grid Play In 1945

WACO, June 17 (AP) — Baylor University will return to Southwest conference football in 1945, President Pat M. Neff announced today.

The school did not participate in 1943 but at a meeting of the athletic committee, it was decided to place the rest of the conference on notice that the Golden Bears would be in the grid grind next year.

Manpower and transportation problems were given as the reasons for being out of the conference the past season and Baylor will be unable to boast a team this fall but when Athletic Director Ralph Wolf returns to his desk in September, one of his first jobs will be to draw up a schedule for 1945.

The announcement of football resumption next year is being made now so that other conference members can be governed accordingly in making their 1945 schedules. The other six members of the conference have carried on without a break despite strained manpower situations.

Baylor was one of the three members of the conference that did not have a Navy unit from which to obtain football players. Arkansas and Texas A. and M. were the others but they found sufficient men in the student bodies to field teams.

Baylor continued to have basketball teams in 1943 and 1944 but dropped other sports. No plans have as yet been made for resumption of competition in baseball and track.

Medics And Section B Win Friday Nite

Section B tripped the Bombers 6-4 and the Medics measured Ordinance 6-0 Friday evening in softball games played under the lights at the city park and which counted in the standings of the enlisted men's league at the Big Spring Bombardier school.

The Medics counted all their runs in the fifth inning and Welke of the Medics did the only extra-base hitting with a double. Barkley hit a three bagger for Section B in the first game.

Score by innings: R H E Bombers . . . 020 002 0-4 4 2 Campbell, Reich and Smeister; Mullins and Dearmond.

R H E Medics . . . 000 000 0-6 9 1 Ordinance . . . 000 000 0-4 3 Melcher and Habercamp; Sulpola and Betz.

Production of manufactured goods in Brazil increased ten times between 1911 and 1938.

Goodfellow Field To Meet Local Team

With a juggled batting order and a record of long hitting practice as medicine, the Big Spring Bombardier School hopes to break a three-game losing streak at 3 p. m. today against Goodfellow Field at San Angelo at the W. 5th and San Antonio diamond.

All baseball fans are invited to witness the contest. Seats for approximately 1,000 spectators have been provided.

No material change in team personnel is anticipated although the starting catcher assignment has not been definitely announced, the choice being between Shultz and John Kowalski. Stewart probably will go to the mound and H. E. Hammond in reserve.

Batting order has not been released, but it is almost certain there will be some shake-ups in order to bunch hitting power. The Big Spring team lost two games last week by narrow margins due to failure to hit at the right time.

Line-up for the locals will include J. Kemp, second base; John Millard, shortstop; Joe Smeister, third base; Pat Ramsey, first base; Nicholson, left field; Kirk, center field, and Kenny Carr, right field.

Entries must be filed by Aug. 26 and any youngster who had not attained the age of 21 on Jan. 1, 1944, is eligible to compete. However, no caddy entries will be accepted.

There will be the usual prizes for medalist and runner-up champion and runner-up in each flight and consolations and driving contests. There is no entry fee.

Defending champion is L. M. Crannell, Jr., of Dallas.

Charlie Parker In 50th Victory

NEW YORK, June 17 (AP) — Coming from behind in the final strides, Charlie Parker, San Antonio schoolboy, chalked up his 50th successive sprint victory in taking the 100-meter dash of the National A. A. U. junior track and field championships at Randall's Island.

The 17-year-old Texan, slow off his mark, was clocked in 11.1 seconds as he nosed out Bill Mathis of Cardozo high school, Washington, D. C., and Don Campbell, 18-year-old sprinter from Sterling, Colo., who matched Parker's 10.9 clocking in the trial heats, but was last away from the starting line and could do no better than fourth.

Bill Hulse of the New York A. C., national 800-meter champion, easily won the senior 1500-meter title, crossing the finish line 40 yards in front of James Rafferty, his teammate from the New York A. C., being clocked in 3:54.3, which is 9.3 off the world record.

J. Dempsey To Head Dallas Sports Show

DALLAS, June 17 (AP) — Top sports personalities, now in uniform, will gather around Lt. Comdr. Jack Dempsey, former heavyweight boxing champion of the world, as guests at the war bond sports wrestling show here Tuesday night, the Dallas war finance committee said today.

In addition to Commander Dempsey, of the U.S. Coast Guard, others will include:

Lt. (jg) Dick Todd of the U.S. Naval Base, Grand Prairie, one of the all-time greats of pro football and former Texas A&M College Aggie; Lt. (jg) Freddie Wolcott of the Naval Base, great Rice Institute track star who still holds the world 220-yard low hurdle record and shares the 120-yard high hurdle mark; Lt. Ben Hogan of Fort Worth Army Air Field, professional golfer; and others.

Dorothy Bundy Grabs Title

DETROIT, June 17 (AP) — Smooth stroking Dorothy May Bundy of Santa Monica, Calif., whose mother and dad both were national champions, captured an American title of her own today by defeating Mary Arnold of Los Angeles, 7-5, 6-4 in the women's finals of the national clay court tournament.

Meanwhile, top seeded Francisco (Pancho) Segura of Coral Gables, Fla., and second ranking Billy Talbert of Indianapolis advanced into tomorrow's men's finals by winning in straight sets. Segura eliminated Pfc. Rex Norris of Lansing, Mich., and Buckley Field, Colo., 6-1, 6-1, and Talbert downed Petty Officer Ralph Dilley of Cleveland, 6-0, 6-0, 6-2.

Miss Bundy, third seeded in the tournament and No. 5 nationally, succeeded as champion Pauline Betz, whom she upset Thursday in the semifinals.

In her march to the title, Miss Bundy won ten straight sets with the loss of 25 games. Her triumph over Miss Betz was by almost identical score, 7-5, 6-3. Miss Bundy is a student at Rollins College, Fla.

Number Of Positions Open At Local Post

A large number of positions, in urgent need of being filled, are open at Big Spring Bombardier school, it was announced Saturday.

Immediate appointments may be made for positions of janitors (male colored), senior mechanic helpers, junior aircraft welder, aircraft electrician, aircraft engine mechanics, junior aircraft propeller mechanics, automobile mechanics, automobile mechanic helpers, senior laborers, male storekeepers and electrician.

Persons interested may apply to Mrs. June Hansen, secretary of the local civil service board, in the civilian personnel office at the bombardier school. Persons now employed in essential activities need not apply.

POSTWAR RE PATTERN

CHICAGO (UP) — Railroads will put up a vigorous fight for postwar travel business with faster trains, low fares and, above all, vast improvements for passenger comfort. This pattern for the future was indicated in interviews with high officials of 71 railroads owning 98 per cent of the country's passenger cars, recently released by the Pullman-Standard Car Manufacturing Co.

Cement Job Run On Wild Test In North Howard

After being held up a month by heavy volumes of air and water, operators hoped Saturday they had sealed off trouble in the J. C. Karcher, et al No. 1 J. C. Caldwell, northern Howard county wildcat.

Repeated efforts to cement the section from which the air and water were coming met with failure and Saturday, after cementing 10-inch string and running a squeeze job on 200 feet, operators prepared to drill out and see if it would hold or be necessary to shift to rotary. Location is 1,980 feet from the east and 660 feet from the north lines of section 32-32-3n, T&P.

To the north in Borden county Northern Ordinance No. 1 Clayton & Johnson, section 32-31-4n, T&P, was picking up drill stem at 6,615 feet after resuming operations. Northern Ordinance No. 1-A A. M. Clayton, section 12-34-4n, T&P, was drilling at 2,313 feet in anhydrite.

West of Big Spring, the John B. Hawley, Jr., No. 1 Bruce Fraser, section 7-33-1n, T&P, pumped three barrels of oil and four of water on a short test run Friday. The John B. Hawley, Jr., No. 1 Allison, section 6-33-1n, T&P, was cleaning out at 3,130 feet following a shot.

North of these two the John B. Hawley, Jr., No. 1 Guitler estate was moving off spudder in section 2-, B&C, and in section 8, B&C, No. 2 Guitler estate was waiting on spudder at 3,149. Still further to the north in the Knott area, the Northern Ordinance No. 1 Spaulding cored from 3,317 to 3,527 feet. It is located in section 7-32-2n, T&P.

In the Moore area southwest of Big Spring John B. Hawley, Jr., No. 2 Thompson, section 14-34-1n, T&P, was waiting on spudder at 3,155 feet and No. 1 Thorp, section 24-34-1n, T&P, was halting at 3,276 feet.

No test has yet been taken on the Cosden & Gutherie No. 1 Pauline Allen, northeastern Howard county well just above Vincent. On some 12-hour pumping runs it has pumped as high as 30 barrels. Location is in the southeast corner of section 57-20, La-Vaca.

Cosden No. 3-B Read, in the southeast quarter of section 48-30-1n, T&P, cleaned out to bottom at 2,930 feet after a 460-quart shot and prepared to run tubing. In the northeast quarter of the section, Ray Oil No. 2-A Read was running tubing for a test.

Red Cross Stays With Forces On Invasion

Keeping alongside the military — at home and in the invasion and other fighting abroad — the Red Cross has received additional recognition from the military in that its field directors wear the divisional patch on their left shoulders and their field dress does not differ from that of the soldier.

Max J. Blue is Red Cross field director at Big Spring Bombardier school.

Blue called attention to the part the Red Cross is filling in the invasion. "The American Red Cross, like the mighty army it serves, was ready for invasion," he said. "Red Cross workers have swung into service along with the combat units, keeping faith with the millions of Americans who have contributed to this cause for the benefit of their sons at arms."

PREDICTS HOCKEY BOOM

URBANA, Ill. (UP)—Coach Vic Heyliger, of the University of Illinois, predicted that following the war sportsmen will see a boom in ice hockey. "Ice hockey has all the requisites for a popular intercollegiate sport," he said. "Once we educate college audiences to the sport it should take its place along with college football and basketball."

Cross Says Milk School Helpful

Information helpful now in meeting increased milk demands and in better serving the public in the future when more milk is available, was given to milk producers who attended the four day milk school of instruction which was held at the Settles hotel Monday through Thursday.

The school, sponsored by the Big Spring-Howard county health unit in cooperation with the chamber of commerce and local dairies, featured talks by Prof. K. M. Renner, Harmon, and Strickland of Texas Tech and A. E. Prather of the State Health Department.

V. A. Cross, city sanitarian, stated at the close of the school that through talks which were given by these dairy experts, milk producers and handlers in this vicinity have gained valuable information on better serving the increased demands with better and cleaner products.

Cotton Gains After Showing Early Loss

NEW YORK, June 17 (AP)—Cotton futures closed from 10 to 40 cents a bale higher today after early losses as much as 85 cents.

Volume was small as traders awaited final action on price control legislation. Leading spot firms continued to liquidate holdings in July anticipating first notice day June 27.

Handbills Traced To War Prisoners

DALLAS, June 17 (AP) — The Eighth service command said today that leaflets which appeared in Central Texas cities criticizing Allied censorship and making extravagant claims of Allied invasion losses were mimeographed by German prisoners of war at a camp at Mexico.

The sheets appeared at Corsicana and Hubbard. The Eighth service command said they were "handbills, half sheets of mimeographed material prepared on a mimeograph machine in the German officers' compound at Mexico."

Prisoners had access to the machine to print theater and church notices, said the command.

The sheets bore the mimeographed signature "American Soviet Committee"; said that in the first three days of the invasion the Allies suffered seven divisions annihilated, 64 warships sunk, 1,300 gliders destroyed, 1,435 planes lost, and declared "invasion bleeds Allies to death."

A bundle of the leaflets, tied with a ribbon, was dropped by a work party of prisoners on the road between Corsicana and Corsicana, the command said.

CONDITION IMPROVED

ST. LOUIS, June 17 (AP)—The condition of nine-year-old Casper Gerdis III of Sinton, Tex., who was flown to St. Louis in a navy transport plane from Corpus Christi, has improved, his father, Casper Gerdis Jr., said tonight. The lad has rheumatic fever.

Cattle Exceed Pasture, Say Farm Leaders

Recommendation that all publicity possible be given to the condition under which there is a surplus of cattle compared to pasture available was made by several farmers and ranchers meeting Saturday afternoon in the office of O. P. Griffin, county agent.

Figures were cited showing that in the nation there are 10 per cent more cattle than in any other year, the former peak year being in 1934, and that pasture under average weather conditions will care for 5,000,000 less than the number of cattle on farms. Livestock authorities are recommending marketing of cattle as soon as they become fat enough.

The situation in Howard county is the same as that over the nation, with practically all farms overstocked, said Griffin. There is not a surplus on the larger ranches, however, he said.

Those attending the meeting included Louie Hutto and S. F. Buchanan, ranchers, R. N. Adams, Ross Hill, and L. Z. Shafer, farmers, and A. L. Cooper, manager of Big Spring Livestock Commission.

Tree Dulls Perception

"I am going to try to tell what a wonderful tree we have here in Howard county. This tree is located on the east side of the courthouse square. Now to you who come from East Texas, a tree might mean just a tree. It is not so much about the tree that I want to write but what goes on under it."

"I would like to say right here that this tree is called 'The Tree of Knowledge.' In the warm summertime its shade is a refuge for Old Age Pensioners and for others who are not yet old enough to be Old Age Pensioners but hope to be someday. Here one can learn how to run the government, how to win the war, how to make everybody well-to-do and happy. Why yes, you can even learn here how to make plenty of money."

"Well, for the past several months our main source of news has not been in circulation. I will say for myself that my only source of news has not been from the Ft. Worth Press, Big Spring Daily Herald and by radio. But what a great boon it is going to be to those who sit on the shady side of the 'Tree of Knowledge' that O'Daniel is again going to issue his paper."

"Of course, I feel like he will do so if enough of the Old Age Pensioners send in their donations to the tune of about $500,000. (You see, I ran out of noughts). I feel that it will not be necessary for me to subscribe for O'Daniel's paper, for I will be able to find one under the 'Tree of Knowledge.'

"I recall the time I sat under this self-same tree and heard O'Daniel say that everyone over 65 years old would receive $30 per month pension. And later when he was a candidate for senator, I sat under this same tree and he said there would be no gas rationing, the war would be over soon and that he was going to do all he could to help Roosevelt win the war."

"Please draw your own conclusions. Do you not think we have a wonderful tree?" W. H. Hart, 211 NW 2nd street, Big Spring.

Strom To Develop New Addition In East Big Spring

Announcement of the acquisition of a 51-acre tract in east-central Big Spring for the purpose of developing an addition to be known as Central Park was made Saturday by Carl Strom, local realtor.

Strom acquired land east and north of the football stadium which lies within the city limits. Development of the section would close the gap between Highland Park on the south and the Boydston addition on the north. Strom also listed 62 additional acres to the east of his proposed addition but which lies outside of the corporate limits.

Both areas are part of the old Birdwell ranch which was carved out of open country by John Birdwell, colorful pioneer and early day Texas ranger and Howard county sheriff. Part of the acreage was carved into residential areas and in the early 20's valuable gravel deposits were exploited to top what since has become US 90 and US 87 highways. Still later the Big Spring rodeo association secured its site on the extreme eastern end of the tract and the city bought a parcel out of the east end for development as a park. Similarly, the school district acquired acreage east of the city's holdings for a future high school and possible junior college site, and of course, for location of the stadium.

Strom said plans for subdividing the area between Highland Park and East Ward school would be completed before he placed the addition on the market.

Maintain The Pressure

The South As Problem Child

By FRANK GRIMES
Herald Staff Writer

Southerners deeply resented President Roosevelt's assertion several years ago that the South is America's economic problem child. They have resented the comments of others picturing the South as the poorest section of the country.

But what we resent when outsiders say it we can say of ourselves. The South is one of the poorest sections of the country.

The reasons are many, some unavoidable, some not. The South, of itself, could not avoid the horrors of reconstruction. It was beaten to its knees in a gallant but hopeless fight. Its industry was destroyed, its commerce scattered, its countryside devastated, its people impoverished. And instead of adopting Lincoln's viewpoint and trying to assist the South to recover quickly, succeeding congresses and the carpetbag rule made it as hard as possible to stage a comeback.

The South is condemned for staying so long with one crop system of agriculture—cotton. It was difficult if not impossible to break away from this system without outside help; the South had no place else to turn, since its industry had been destroyed.

The South still wears the givens of sectional discrimination in the matter of freight rates, which are slanted in favor of the industrial East and against the South and Southwest. The South never can revive its industry until these rates are equalized.

It is but a statement of fact to say that the New Deal has never lifted a hand to correct this evil.

When WPA was established the South was again discriminated against, because its relievers were allowed a great deal less than relievers in other parts of the country. It was cheaper to live in the South, said WPA. In other words, the South was poor and could go on being poor.

In fixing wage ceilings, once more the South was discriminated against by Washington. A differential was made in favor of other sections and against the South.

Those who prate so much about the economic plight of the negro in the South forget or overlook the fact that this economic blight is shared by millions of whites. If the rest of the country wants to raise the economic level of the Southern negro all it has to do is to raise the economic level of Southern whites. White and black share their poverty; white and black would share their prosperity.

If the Southern negro has been exploited, it is equally true that the whole South has been exploited.

The South is discriminated against by some other states, which erect unconstitutional tariff barriers against her cotton and other products by imposing outrageous taxes against products in which they are ingredients. This thing will go on

How important has been the damage effected to Japanese steel production by the sensational bombings delivered by United States Super-Fortresses remains to be seen. One can only hope that it is as great as our enthusiasm over the attacks.

We can, however, appraise other results of the bombing without having to wait for information to trickle through from the enemy about the immediate effect. For one thing, the attack brings into focus a new and mighty weapon at the disposal of the Allies. Here apparently is the plane about which General Hap Arnold spoke so confidently and prophetically about a year ago in addressing air cadets at San Antonio. Indeed, the B-29 does dwarf the big Flying Fortresses (B-17's) and the B-24, and even our massive transport planes. Its speed is known to be considerably in excess of 300 miles per hour and it literally outruns even fighter planes. Seemingly, its range is far wider than possible with any of our previous bombers.

We should not, however, jump to wild conclusions. The fact that some of these new strato-bombers were shot up a bit and that probably they all did not return refutes the rose-colored gossip that they fly entirely above the range of anti-aircraft, or that fighters cannot get to them. While a great weapon, they are not invincible and it will do us good not to set our expectations beyond their capacities.

Aside from the fact that the appearance of this new airship should forcibly warn the enemy of what is in store for him, the fact that we are able to deliver this bombing with an accompanying greater display of power in bombing the Bonin Islands, Korea, and actually gain beachheads in the Marianas should serve as a sobering reminder to the Axis that we have such a tremendous reserve of strength that we can start a major invasion in Europe one week and launch a terrific power drive in the Pacific the next.

If this conveys to the enemy the handwriting on the wall—and surely it must—then we may expect only one thing and that is increased desperation in his fighting.

Thus, we should not forget for a moment that these bombings on Japan were effected from Chinese bases and that our military situation in China today is about as grave as it has been at any time since Japan launched its all out attack on that unhappy land. Realizing that we now can strike the homeland with our lash based in China, we may expect to see desperate efforts to push us completely out of China and away from these bases. Across the globe we may expect the Germans to stiffen and to fight back with the fury of a doomed man.

What we must do in every way possible—on the homefront as well as in military ranks—is to keep the pressure on until finally even desperation will no longer avail.

until and unless the South, in retaliation, finds a way of erecting tariff barriers against the products of the North and East, such as manufactured goods and processed foodstuffs. But this is a bad policy and solves nothing.

All the South asks and needs is an even break, something it hasn't had since the Civil War.

Capital Comment—Palace Politics Puzzle Over South

By GEORGE STIMPSON

WASHINGTON (Sp) — The mixup over presidential elections in Texas and several Southern states has got the palace politicians in Washington a bit worried. If the November election should turn out to be close, this situation might result in almost anything happening.

Because of the invasion of Europe, Senator and Mrs. Tom Connally postponed until later a tea for a group of Texas friends which they had announced.

Persons over 65 years of age, though comprising less than 10 per cent of the population, were involved in more than 65 per cent of Washington's fatal accidents so far this year.

The adoption of babies became such a racket in Washington that Congress passed and President Roosevelt signed a so-called "baby-broker" bill to prevent irresponsible and mercenary agencies from arranging for the adoption of children.

The latest anti-Wallace scheme is to try to compel President Roosevelt to accept his former favorite, Sen. Alben Barkley of Kentucky, as his running mate. From all I can learn, the President is still holding out for Wallace.

"Reports of Committees: The following report was submitted: By Mr. Connally, from the Committee on Foreign Relations, H. R. 341. Joint resolution requesting the President to urge upon the governments of those countries where the cultivation of the poppy plant exists, the necessity of immediate limiting the production of opium to the amounts required for strictly medicinal and scientific purposes."

Teh Du Pont Co. says that after the war zippers will be made of a new plastic material.

I think I have unearthed evidence confirming my suspicion that Cong. Wright Patman is veering toward the democrats. Here is what Wright said the other day:

"Many people and especially businessmen have been bamboozled by the Republican speech-makers that the Republican Party has been the party of prosperity. Yes, it has been the party of prosperity for big business, but it has also been the party of depression for small business."

Speaking of the resolution to postpone court-martial proceedings against the ill-starred Pearl Harbor commanders, Con. Sam Russell, of Stephenville, said: "This is no time to play politics with a serious question like the one we are confronted with now. I abhor such, and I am sure the people of our country do not appreciate playing politics while we are fighting for our very existence."

The Thrill That Comes Once In A Lifetime

Everything Changed For Rita's Hair

By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD — Rita Hayworth's red hair has turned London's Hyde Park a dusty pink—grass, shrubs, trees and benches. It's an impressionistic version of the park for "Tonight and Every Night," and nature was changed for the color camera to conform, chromatically, to Rita's coloring. Someone suggested doing it the other way around, by dyeing Rita's hair a light green, but somehow the idea wasn't taken seriously. It might have been fun, at that.

Listen to some of the scenes of "Laura" and you are struck by their similarity, in feeling, to "Rebecca." Characters talk about Laura, who is dead, just as they did about Rebecca, also deceased. But Laura (Gene Tierney) isn't really dead. She returns after the detective (Dana Andrews) has fallen in love with her—through working on the murder case. . . . "Laura" is the picture over which Jennifer Jones, 20th Century-Fox, and David O. Selznick are having lawsuits. . . .

Paul Muni has given up his old dictaphone in favor of a phonograph recording device as an aid to memorizing his movie speeches. Denies, however, that he pre-records merely to hear himself talk. . . .

Jackie Coogan, yesterday's boy star, is returning to pictures—but only as a character in "Objective, Burma," Errol Flynn starrer about U. S. glider fighters and paratroopers now campaigning in Asia.

Coogan's exploits in that war theater inspired the fictional character of Lt. Jacobs, played by William Prince. . . .

Bob Crosby's new picture has him, for the first time, minus his baton and band. Bing's kid brother still sings, however, in "Kansas City Kitty." . . .

Jane Wyatt (in "None But the Lonely Heart") had to unlearn many things she had been taught before she decided to become an actress. The daughter of the late Christopher Hilopp Wyatt and of Euphemia van Rensselaer Wadlington Wyatt was reared on society's precepts. . . .

"I remember," she says, "a time when I was 16 and one of my mother's friends was taking me to a party near Hyde Park in her best limousine. Suddenly a truck shot out of a side road and shoved us into a ditch. We stayed right side up, but the fenders were crushed, the windshield was cracked, and the chauffeur was thrown out of the front seat. I became hysterical. . . .

"My mother's friend, though jarred and ruffled, sat calmly as a queen on her throne and waited for the chauffeur to pick himself up and open the door. 'Quiet, Jane,' she said, pushing her bonnet back from her eyes. 'Remember, a lady never shows emotion!'"

When Jane went into the theater, where emotion is stock in trade, it was one of the first rules she had to shelve.

Today And Tomorrow What Is Post-War Period?

By WALTER LIPPMANN

The term "post-war" very much needs to be clarified and defined. It is now used to cover everything that may happen from the day of the armistice to the end of the twentieth century. As a result there is no meeting of minds. When one man is talking about what needs to be done immediately, another about what might be done at the end of one, two, or three years, and another about what ought to be done in the much longer future, they are not talking about the same problems. Naturally they find themselves at cross-purposes.

The true post-war period is not the whole future but that period during which we shall be dealing with the direct consequences of this war. We cannot in fact jump over this transitional period and we must not jump over it in our thinking. It is the period in which the armed forces will be demobilized, industry reconverted, internal and external war debts accounted for, military commerce transformed into civil commerce, provisional governments replaced by permanent ones, the special regime during which the enemy states will be on probation, and the occupied countries are re-dressing the balance.

Some of the phases—for example, the American demobilization and reconversion—will be shorter than other phases—for example, the probation of Germany. But all of them together are the post-war period which will last, if we may judge from historic experience, about fifteen years after the armistice. Not until this post-war period has been passed are we likely to know whether the world has reached a more or less settled peace, such as prevailed in the nineteenth century, or whether the post-war period has become a pre-war period as it did between 1931, when Japan seized Manchuria, and 1933, when Hitler rose to power.

Our great task in all fields of endeavor is to manage this post-war period so that 15 or 20 years hence political relations are essentially stable and economic conditions are workable. If we succeed, we may pitch high our hopes, and look confidently upon plans for collaboration among the free peoples.

But we must not make the cardinal mistake of 1919 and think, as Wilson did, that the special difficulties of the post-war period can be dealt with by a universal institution, in theory permanent, but new and untried in fact. Nor must we make the Hoover mistake at Paris of dismantling the war machinery before the war conditions have been liquidated, or the Republican party's mistake under Harding of proclaiming a return to normalcy when the state of the world is still abnormal.

The divisions among us arise in considerable degree from a failure to make clear the distinction between the transitional measures of the post-war period and the state of things we wish to reach at the end of the period. Senator Taft, for example, announced the other day that it would be "like pouring money down a sewer" for the United States to participate in the proposed international monetary fund which is to be discussed at the coming Bretton Woods conference. The Senator believes that currencies cannot be stabilized without first "taking all the other steps necessary to get a country on an exporting basis," and to this end he recommends direct financial agreements with Great Britain, Russia and other countries.

But Mr. Taft would not have needed to throw so much cold, unclean water on a project which is being worked on by many of the ablest men of all the nations, if he had understood, or if they had made it plainer, that the international monetary fund is not designed to solve the immediate post-war problems. Surely it is not foolish to recognize that special relations for the post-war period must come to an end, and as soon as practicable be replaced by more permanent arrangements.

The same clarifying rule needs to be kept in mind in our discussion of the peace organization. If we think of it as the institution which settles this war and enforces this peace settlement with our enemies, we shall end in a whole series of dilemmas. The military commitments needed to enforce the demilitarization of Germany and Japan over a period of, say, 15 years, should constitute such an array of force that the very idea of challenging the settlement cannot enter the minds of the Germans and the Japanese. To array that force the great powers, and all the smaller ones con-

The battle for the World is on!

Now that the chips are down . . . now that our men are writing decisive history with their blood . . . There can be no halfway measures for us. The greatest battle in the history of the world must be matched by the greatest war loan in the history of the world. That's what Uncle Sam says . . . the same Uncle Sam for whom your brothers and sweethearts and husbands are fighting and dying this very minute. They, in the front lines, are throwing in everything they have. We, behind the lines, must do the same. Remember, this is the battle for the WORLD. Our world. And we've got to win it. That's why Uncle Sam expects every dollar, like every soldier, to do its duty. Put this Fifth War Loan over: buy more War Bonds than you think you can!

Washington—KAISER IS MODERN P. BUNYAN

By JACK STINNETT

SAN FRANCISCO — Not since Pecos Bill rode into camp on a mountain lion, using a live rattlesnake for a quirt; or since Paul Bunyan arrived to shake down San Francisco, using big redwoods for toothpicks, has the west had a hero like Henry J. Kaiser.

To California and the rest of the Pacific, the big, burly industrial magnate is a miracle man. He strides up and down the coast from Seattle to San Diego; hops off to the nation's capital; and gives the industrial east a piece of his mind, and returns to find the west hanging on his every word.

Kaiser's reputation is based on fabulous accomplishment. A whole network of production from raw materials in the western hinterlands to finished ships and super planes stems from his four floors of central offices in midtown Oakland just across the bay. Industrial California has mushroomed in a couple of years until only production centers like Detroit, Pittsburgh and Chester, Pa., can claim any comparison.

But if Henry J. Kaiser stopped there, the Pacific coast probably would be relegating him to limbo. He doesn't. The west has one great worry. It's simply what's going to happen when this is all over. California alone has added more than a million population since the last census and billions of dollars in wartime contracts. Kaiser is operating five huge shipyards in the San Francisco bay area, to mention only one section. Once sprawling little Richmond, for example, had about 20,000 population. Now it has about 100,000.

Communities and states like these that don't look ahead are living in a fool's paradise and most Pacific coasters know it. The thing that makes Henry J. Kaiser the fabled character that he is out here is that he has answers for everything. Perhaps you've already heard of Kaiser's post-war plans for building supercargo and passenger planes, for high-speed trains to replace the rolling stock rapidly shaking to pieces under the pressure of wartime transportation.

Kaiser doesn't stop there. There's hardly a fortnight that he doesn't come out with some new scheme for keeping the west in the industrial picture and the west gobbles it up—simply because it is positive that what Henry Kaiser has done over and over again in wartime, he can do once more in peacetime.

What makes California credulous is that Kaiser makes it sound so easy and in the past has never failed to make good his words. If the industrial east wants to stay that way, it had better start figuring how to beat Kaiser to the draw. Ten or 15 million people out here think he's the fastest man on earth.

MEN'S WEAR OF CHARACTER

Forced Down, Sgt. Garrett Spent Seven Days In Burmese Jungles

Liaison, when applied to flying, is a four-bit word to cover up some pretty risky operations in small craft.

Sgt. Garrett, who was cited for his heroic work in the India-China-Burma theater where he is a member of Col. Phillip Cochran's (Flip Cochran) unit, in a little hedge-hopper, carrying out missions over enemy territory and being engaged in observation work.

One of Sgt. Garrett's experiences includes a seven-day enforced stay in the jungles when he was forced down. He almost had abandoned hope of discovery when a plane spotted him.

When his plane landed, the first thing that Sgt. Garrett did was to collect wood "to keep a fire going that night. Three of the natives who had come to the plane but would not come close to me or to the ship saw what

S/SGT. LOYD G. GARRETT

I was going to do and send some others after the wood and also had a bamboo shelter built close to the ship.

Although that was a friendly gesture, he was not too certain of his hosts and after he fixed his bed beside the fire he couldn't sleep with "10 of those guys sitting on the other side of the fire watching me." Next morning he tried to find ways to pass the time and the natives appeared to want to help but neither could understand the other.

The impasse lasted all that day and finally late in the evening Sgt. Garrett decided to chance a slumber. His awakening the next morning was an especially joyous one for "I knew then they would do me no harm. They brought me some fruit and eggs. I got some water from their spring and boiled it so I had plenty to eat and water to drink."

Wild animals abounded in the area but fire kept back the leopards, elephants, tigers, etc., at night, and they would not come around in the day. When he finally did get back, he learned that many had given him up for lost. Sgt. Garrett was the first member of his unit to go down and he concedes that it was quite an experience and "worth a thousand dollars." However, he is not wishing for another one.

Active in this area as a drilling superintendent for Noble Drilling Co., Garrett had worked in the Seminole and Odessa areas before he enlisted Sept. 15, 1942. He trained at Tonkawa, Okla., Plainview, Lamesa (where he got his wings), with the 121st Liaison squadron at Morris Field, Charlotte, N. C., and then at Raleigh, N. C., before assigned to the India-Burma theater.

Except For Few Buildings— JAPAN IS MASS OF FLIMSINESS

By RUSSELL BRINES

Associated Press War Editor

SAN FRANCISCO, June 15

The Japanese depend upon medieval fire-fighting methods and the confused, if sweating, labor of thousands to combat bomber-strewn devastation.

Volunteers have worked patiently for years to perfect a civilian defense system which high-ranking Japanese officers before the war admitted would be useless against a rain of incendiary bombs.

Except for the steel-concrete sections and new factories of Tokyo and other main cities, Japan is a crowded mass of wooden flimsiness. In peacetime, professional firemen made no effort to extinguish a well-started fire, but dynamited houses at either end of unusually long blocks to localize rapidly-spreading flames.

I have watched many air raid drills in Tokyo. Long bucket brigades—the water slopped badly by eager men and women— and sand were the chief weapons against the wartime holocaust the militarists expected. Pedestrians huddled near buildings during simulated raids for they had no other shelter.

Each neighborhood has its various permanent air raid squads, incapable of more than slight relief for the wounded.

Professional firemen and equipment are reserved to protect vital factories.

So interspersed are vital objectives and residences that widespread distress is unavoidable.

Yet, when I left Asia as a repatriate in late 1942, there was no evidence that even sustained air assaults would cause morale to crack.

Stock Market Having Boom

NEW YORK, June 17 (AP)—The stock market's post-invasion boom continued at full speed yesterday under a new wave of buying that sent the Associated Press 60-stock composite to the highest figure recorded since late 1937.

With volume at 1,664,480 shares, first million-share Saturday since December, 1941, many leading industrials and rails extended the week's advances by fractions to around 2 points.

The carrier stocks were uniformly strong. Steels, farm equipments, coppers and specialties were nearly as good. Chrysler showed another gain and Douglas, up 2 1-4 points, was the strongest of the aircrafts.

At its closing level of 55.2 the 60-stock average was up .3 of a point on the day and up 2.2 points on the week for the widest six-day rise since early January, 1942.

Bonds had some strong points, particularly among rails, Chicago wheat closed 1-2 cent lower to 7-8 cent a bushel higher. Cotton futures advanced 10 to 40 cents a bale.

The broad character of demand reflected confidence of an early victory over Germany, a confidence which was later "bulwarked" by the bombing of Yawata and other heavy attacks on Japanese positions.

D-Day Near In Rate Struggle

An economic D-Day for West Texas, Texas and the southwest is nearing, thinks the West Texas chamber of commerce, on the question of inter-territorial freight rates.

The WTCC and its affiliated Freight Rate Equality Federation have sent counsel to Washington or final hearing before the Interstate Commerce Commission—the arguments in the case—in the national rate investigation that was launched under the Transportation Act of 1940, barely at WTCC instigation.

Final arguments before the ICC opened last Wednesday, and will continue for ten days, on Docket No. 28310, covering class rate relationships—ratings and classifications—and Docket No. 28300, covering the structure of class rates as between all territories of the United States.

The WTCC believes the critical and decisive hour is at hand now in the long struggle for rate equality—the struggle in which West Texas, the state and southwestern rate some have arrayed against them powerful industrial interests of the north and shipper groups of states within official freight territory.

Since 1938 the WTCC has campaigned against the present level of rates, contending it penalizes the West Texas territory to the extent of 60 per cent average in excessive freight charges over those prevailing in official territory. The ICC has before it the recommendation of two of its examiners that uniform freight ratings and classifications be instituted forthwith for the nation.

Men Needed To Accompany Boys To Scout Camp

H. D. Norris, Boy Scout executive, announced Saturday that additional men are needed to accompany scouts from the Big Spring district, who will leave July 3 for Philmont, scout camp at Cimarron, N. M.

Men who accompany the boys are out no expenses except for food to and from the camp. Those planning to accompany the scouts are Jake Morgan, W. D. Berry, Eira Phillips, Cy Nabors, Pat Kenney, Carl Blomshied, J. B. Apple, Charles Watson, Hayes Strippling and Jack Roden.

"Since around 100 boys from the Big Spring district are planning to attend, even more men are needed," Norris pointed out. He also urged scouts to see him for physical examination applications which should be in this week.

The group will leave Big Spring Monday, July 3 and will spend the night in Las Vegas, N. M., probably at an army camp, sleeping in the barracks and eating breakfast in the mess hall, Norris stated.

W. D. Berry will be in charge of the senior scouts who plan a different camp program which will include excursions to further up in the mountains.

Boys can attend Philmont at a cost of $15, which is an exceptional low price for the activities included and the recreational program provided.

Carl Blomshied, camp activities chairman for the scout council, is in charge of preparations and boys who have already paid camp fees are Charles Lovelady, Charles Moody, Kenny Thompson, Jack Ewing, Roy Lee Pool, Clifford Forch, Murph Thorp, Jr., J. C. Horn, Billy Thorp, Donald Williams, Bobby Jo Blumh, Bo Bo Hardy. Deadline for paying fees is June 22.

Bombardier School Group Aids In Bond Rally At Lamesa

A group of enlisted men from the Big Spring Bombardier school, accompanied by Major W. E. Turner, public relations officer, participated in a bond rally at Lamesa Saturday afternoon.

Ordnance displays which included chemical warfare items, were shown and camouflage tactics demonstrated.
