Local Man Shoots Self During 'Game'

A Slaton Latin American shot himself to death while playing cowboy with his children at his home last Saturday night. Slaton police said Alfredo Hernandez, 24, placed a 22 rifle barrel against his head and pulled the trigger while kneeling on the floor of his home. An inquest verdict of death by self-inflicted gunshot wounds was returned by Justice of the Peace George H. McCleskey.

Playing With Sons

Hernandez' wife told officers the man had been playing with his two sons, ages 3 and 2. When one of the boys pointed a toy pistol at his father and threatened to "shoot" him, the man replied "that's just about what I need," officers quoted the woman as saying.

Reaching under a nearby bed, Hernandez pulled out the rifle and placed its barrel against his forehead. His wife, shouting for him to stop, ran to the door and called to her father, who lives across the street. As she called, his wife told officers. The man fell backward following the shot.

Funeral services were held at 1 p. m. Monday in Our Lady of Guadalupe Church in Slaton. Burial was in Englewood Cemetery under direction of Williams Funeral Home.

Survivors include the wife; two sons; his mother, Mrs. Sarah Hernandez, Austin; the grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Juan Hernandez, Slaton; and three sisters and four brothers, all of Slaton.

Zoning Ordinance Is Okayed By City; New Plat Gets Approval

The second and final reading of ordinance 173, the new zoning ordinance, was read at the meeting of the Slaton City Commission Monday night.

The ordinance, complete with map, will be ready for public inspection shortly after June 15. A map is currently being prepared.

In addition, Pastor W. L. Roche and his attorney, Carl Cobb, presented a new plat on a proposed addition in the southwest part of town. The plat was okayed, along with the dedication deeds, subject to the approval of the city attorney, Claude Cravens.

The commission also purchased a billing machine for the water and tax department, and a truck, for use by the street department. The truck was purchased from Slaton Motor Company, which presented low bid of $2,250. It is a 1½ ton, six cylinder truck.

In other action, the group voted to close the alley in block 189, West Park Addition, and okayed the extension of water lines in block 182, West Park Addition, to take care of new houses in the area.

The additional money will be used to purchase new equipment for the program. This is the fourth year the program has been in effect and it is supported by the city in the absence of a city recreational program.

Local Observance Of Dollar Day Set

Slaton merchants are making a concentrated effort to give shoppers of this area outstanding bargains next Monday, June 1.

The first monthly Dollar Day will be observed here with stores offering outstanding values in clothing, furniture, drugs and sundries and most anything you might want.

Some 3,000 four-page circulars will be printed carrying the ads of participating Slaton merchants. Home delivery is scheduled for Slaton on Sunday, so local residents are urged to be on the look-out for the circular. Out-of-town residents will get the ads through the mail, probably Monday morning. They will be mailed Saturday by noon, but delivery is expected to take until Monday.

Stores offering exceptional buys include Anthony's, O. Z. Ball & Co., Wheeler's, Webb's, Walton Drug, Western Auto, Slaton Hardware and Teague Drug. Others who may participate, but who have not as yet indicated they will for sure, include T. G. & Y., Lasater-Hoffman Hardware, Self Furniture, and others.

Be sure to read the circular to find out about bargains to be offered in all the participating stores. This has been described as the outstanding values presentation by Slaton merchants in months.

The Dollar Day proper will be the first Monday of each month. Some stores are planning to have two or three-day sales in connection with the promotion. Their individual ads will let you know how long the values will be in effect. Whatever you need, don't fail to be in Slaton next Monday!

Parade, Ceremonies Herald The Opening Of Baseball Play Here

The baseball season got underway in Slaton Monday in a big way.

The opening of Little League and Pony League play was heralded with a downtown parade, official season-opening ceremonies at the home plate of the Little League Park and two games that night.

In those opening games, in Little League, the Indians defeated the Cardinals by a score of 12-2, and in Pony League play the Cubs downed the Tigers, 12-1. The downtown parade saw members of each Little League team in both the major and minor leagues stride down Lubbock street, around the square and out to the park, members of all Pony League teams, representatives of the new American Legion Junior Baseball team, umpires and part of "next year's crop" of Little Leaguers.

Ceremonies at the Little League Park saw Mayor Clark Self throw out the first ball following an invocation by Rev. C. M. Fields, pastor of the Westview Baptist Church. Also taking part in the ceremonies were County Commissioner George Green and Little League president Bud Endlund.

The first game of the season was played that evening. Later, the Pony League got the season off to its start with its first game.

The first game for the American Legion team is scheduled for June 3, here, against Brownfield.

THROWS OUT FIRST BALL—Mayor Clark Self threw out the first ball Monday evening as the Slaton Little League season got underway officially. Shown here "catching" for the Mayor is Little Leaguer Paul Troutt. Both the Little League and the Pony League got the summer season underway with games Monday.

20,000 Population By 1970?

J. D. Holt, one of Slaton's successful business men, who is recovering from a serious accident, and who is interested in the growth and business activity of our town, predicts that Slaton will have a population of 20,000 by 1970 unless some unforeseen setback in the development of the nation, or of this area, occurs.

He believes the businesses of Slaton and of this area should prepare to grow along and develop with the increase in activity and to be able to care for the steadily increasing demand that is to come.

Mr. Holt bases his estimate not only his own observation but also on estimates that he has secured from several other men who are in closer contact with the development of this part of the South Plains than he is. 20,000 is the expected population if an oil field is not developed in the Slaton area. If it does, according to his figures, there will be no limit to our growth, altho, he points out, oil fields do not bring the boom and bust conditions that they once did.

Should such an optimistic increase come to Slaton it would not necessarily mean that each and every business institution in our city would grow and prosper in accordance with the growth of the town. In fact, it would likely be disastrous to those that fail to keep up with any increase demands that would be made upon them. More stores and business institutions would come here, competition would become keener and the concerns that survive would have to expand.

It does not take a great amount of optimism to foresee that Slaton will expand, in fact it is expanding at an accelerated pace each year, and the business men of the area should plan for a future Slaton that will be one of the outstanding smaller towns of West Texas. To grow too fast could be as disastrous as to stop growing at all and it is going to take some safe, sane and deep thinking on the part of the business men of the town to keep us on an even keel. Let them get at it. A. M. J.

A lot of the automobile accessory advertising we see today, sorta reminds us of the following: which may or may not be true: "A certain automobile owner who read the auto advertisements, installed a new carburetor that was guaranteed to save 20% in gasoline consumption. Then he installed some special spark plugs that were guaranteed to increase his gasoline mileage 20%. Then he put in an intake superheater that was also guaranteed to save 20% in his gasoline consumption. Then he installed an overdrive that was guaranteed to save 20% in his gasoline consumption. Finally he drained his crankcase and put in a new oil guaranteed to make the motor run so smoothly it would save 20% of the gasoline use. So now, with a fuel economy guarantee of 120% he has to stop every hundred miles or so and bail out the gasoline tank to keep it from overflowing. However, like many of the auto advertisements, the story may be exaggerated to some extent.

Eugene Field, during his newspaper years, was always in debt. One day a friend named Smith blew into town and told Field he was going to stay right there until he collected the money Field owed him. That day Field's newspaper printed the following: "John Smith, of Quincy, is in town. He came to look over one of his permanent investments."

She was quick on the trigger. Her husband asked: "Why do you weep at a sad play over the sorrows of people in whom you have no interest?" And she answered: "I don't know unless it's for the same reason that you cheer wildly when a man with whom you are not even personally acquainted, makes a home run."

He was applying for a driver's license, and when the officer asked what he would do if he were driving at high speed and his brakes failed to work, he gave a very interesting reply. He said: "I'd hit something cheap."

Chesterfield said: "Put your learning, like your watch, in a private pocket, and do not pull it out just to show you have it. If you are asked what o'clock it is, tell it, but do not proclaim it hourly and unasked, like the watchman."

THE AMERICAN WAY

The Bitter Truth

The Sounding Board

(Editor's Note: Our free-wheeling commentators over Texas go after the Texas Legislature, the tobacco industry and John Jacob Astor among a sundry thing. Read what they say and start worrying.)

Harold Hudson in The Ochiltree County Herald: You have to hand it to the tobacco industry—just four short years ago the industry was reeling from the attack by prominent medical men, charging that cigarettes were responsible for much of the lung cancer and heart failure in this land of ours.

The industry met these attacks head-on—with the introduction of filter tips on their "coffin nails."

They have sold filter tips with such intensity that last year, 158 saw the highest consumption of cigarettes in American history—with most of the increase attributed to filter tips.

Any smoker knows the simple facts of smoking—but he will go to almost length to keep on smoking.

It is elementary that since tobacco tars give cigarettes their taste and nicotine gives them their kick, they are obviously weakened in taste and kick to the degree that their smoke is filtered.

Therefore, the smoker who turns to filters merely increases his consumption to maintain the daily pre-filter quota of tar and nicotine and eludes himself into thinking this isn't unhealthy at all.

There are some benefits from this increased cigarette smoking. First of all the tobacco companies are making money and paying taxes. The tobacco farmer is getting a good price for his products. The federal and state governments are benefiting from the tax revenues. Doctors and hospitals are taking care of over-smoked patients and if you want to be realistic about it, the funeral parlors are attending to the final rites of those smoked out individuals.

Still the smoke goes on. Relatively few of the millions hooked by the cigarette habit will ever kick it short of dire poverty or cancer or thrombosis. Many smokers wouldn't rebel then.

The Hamilton Herald and Ducks: The English language is very confusing. Many words sound similar that have no relation whatsoever, and to a child's mind it causes great concern. A little 6-year-old girl had a time getting it straight that she and her parents are Presbyterians. About the time she did she went to a park zoo and heard an adult remark that "ducks are vegetarians." She was somewhat astounded at this information. She exclaimed in surprise, "I didn't know ducks went to church."

The Petersburg Journal makes short and to the point comments: "John Jacob Astor, III, complains that he is down to his last $3,000,000." Poor fellow! Let's send him some CARE packages.

The kind of broken English spoke on by Castro is fine for making evasive answers to embarrassing questions.

From an untrustworthy source comes the report that for several weeks the song, "When It's Spring time in the Rockies," has been sung in this revised form:

"Will Spring Ever Come to the Rockies?"

—SOUNDING BOARD—
The Canyon News is not pleased with the Legislature:

Wagoner Car, speaker of the house, said Saturday in Amarillo that he wanted to defend the legislature against charges of "do-nothing." He said the legislature has done lots of spade work, and it will probably be able to pass the tax and appropriation bills during one 30-day special session.

The legislature's number one duty is to decide how much the state is going to spend and how much how to get the money. That's what is should do during the regular session. If it does not, then it hasn't done it's duty.

This legislature has not done it's duty. It's done any number of other things, but it hasn't done what it was supposed to do. We think that makes this legislature a "do-nothing" legislature. Bah!

—SOUNDING BOARD—
The Hamlin-Herald News on advertising: This bit of subtle talk was copied from the weekly bulletin of the Upland Rotary Club of the Upland (Calif.) News: "You should advertise!" the ad solicitor told the proprietor of a small neighborhood store. "No sir! I'm agin' it," was the emphatic answer. "But why?" asked the newspaperman. "Advertisin' don't leave a man no time," the man replied. "I tried it once last year an' was so doggone rushed I couldn't get in no fishin' all summer."

—SOUNDING BOARD—
The Colorado City Record on sportsmen and landowners: Although not always recognized, a definite link exists between sportsman and landowners for better conservation.

This fact was pointed out in plain talk fashion recently by A. V. Sheppard, who heads the Soil Conservation Service staff here for Mitchell County Soil Conservation District.

In a speech before Kiwanians the conservationist traced the link of sportsman and landowner to the heart of conservation—proper use of land within its capabilities for the best balance in conservation of soil, water and wildlife. Both lose from improper use of land.

The fact has been proved again and again that when you take land out of its capability and try to use it beyond its capacity, then the landowner loses because there is no return from livestock or farming from barren land.

ren land. The sportsman at the same time should realize, too, there can be no wildlife on barren land. For when land is taken of its capability, then every dove, quail, deer and turkey is driven out.

Sheppard, who mixes a keen practical outlook with the technical side of conservation, urges sportsmen and landowners to recognize their common bond and work together in a common cause.

—SOUNDING BOARD—
The editor of The Floyd County Hesperian has the cotton mill headache:

Cotton Mill Headache. The ultimate destination of practically all cotton produced on the high plains is the spinning wheel. The spinning mill being the customer of the cotton grower what he may be finding out about the cotton he attempts to convert from fibre into fabric is important in Floyd County. Complaints from the mills charge that one practice of growing popularity on the plains impairs the quality of the cotton. This they speak of as overheating and excessive cleaning. Overheating probably affects little plains cotton, except in unusual years, but in order to gain a high grade for the farmers cotton gins have gone all out with more and more overhead cleaning devices. The producer gains a grade which sometimes nets him 22 per cent more for his cotton. But, says the mill men, the fibre is irretrievably damaged in the process. End result is the mill pays not only more to buy but more as well to process. The reasoning does not jibe with the logic which is being followed in our area. But the mill is the customer and what his experience tells him is important to any county that produces in the neighborhood of 100,000 bales of cotton annually.

The boy with the biggest inheritance in town.

The story of the gift that took a lifetime to make...

Like all grandfathers, he thinks the world of his grandson. Like all grandfathers, he'd give him the world, if he could. And, in a way, that's what he's done during all the rewarding times they have always spent together. He has tried to give his grandson a gift that will last the boy a lifetime, a gift that has been a lifetime in the making.

Faith . . . Faith that has been the strength and nourishment of his own life . . . that's what he has tried to show the boy, day by day. Faith in God, in himself, in his parents, in the town they live in, in the people he calls his neighbors. And so, every week, you'll see them, grandfather and grandson, worshipping with the rest of the family, at their church.

If you would like to leave as much to your children and to your children's children . . . remember this: only if you yourself have Faith, can you hope to give it in any measure. Begin this week to find the Faith for your life. Worship with all the family, at your Church or Synagogue.

Find the strength for your life . . . worship together this week

Around and About Slaton

Concerns in Slaton that handle insecticides and fertilizers report that this has been one of the best seasons for these products. More residents are interested in planting flowers and lawns than ever before. One of the products most in demand is a mixture of grub worm destroyer and fertilizer that is spread on lawn which gives the grass better growth and at the same time kills the grub worms that cause big brown spots.

The extended wet weather has provided breeding places for mosquitoes and flies and if the county and city health departments are on their toes we will be hearing and smelling the fogging machines.

A lot of weeds are creeping up in the alleys and in the park ways of the down town business district as well as in the alleys all over town. They are mostly individual problems and should be so considered.

Baseball seems to be getting the attention of the young men now but it won't be long before the swimming meets will start and the Slaton teams will no doubt be in the news.

There is a shortage of houses to rent in Slaton and Slatonite classified ads bring quick results.

There has been a lot of talk about dogs running loose but little has been done about it. Even the most ardent dog lovers are in favor of controls of some sort for there are a lot of dangers, both to dogs and to the public, besides rabies when dogs run loose.

Sand lot adult baseball teams are springing up in most all sections of town and the sale of liniment and bandages should show a sharp increase for several months to come.

The styles in men's straw hats this year run from those that make a man's head look like a sharpened pencil to those so wide that he could easily be mistaken for a flying saucer, or a condor about to take flight. They are interesting to watch as long as there are no well filled pedal pushers out.

One of the most attractive streets in Slaton has been South 18th where the home owners have cultivated a large number of roses and other colorful flowers. It is worth the gasoline to drive out there.

Elaine Boyle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Boyle has been sick with the measles. She is getting along fine.

Mrs. R. C. Ayers is feeling somewhat better now.

Local Pontiac Dealer Wins Knudsen Trophy

In recognition for a peak sales performance during Pontiac Motor Division's recent "Car of the Year Sales Campaign," Kendrick Pontiac has been awarded the coveted Knudsen Trophy.

The award, named for Pontiac General Manager S. E. Knudsen, will be presented to all Pontiac dealerships equalling or exceeding predetermined new car sales objectives for the period of February 21 through April 20.

Reflecting the Division's continual rise in 1959 retail sales is the attainment of Knudsen Trophies by more than 55 per cent of the Pontiac dealer organization.

The 69-day peak performance campaign was launched with Motor Trend Magazine's selection of the 1959 Pontiac as "Car of the Year."

James William Clifton of Slaton is among 800 candidates for degrees from Texas Tech this spring. Commencement exercises will be held June 1. Clifton has been attending the School of Engineering.

JUST TALK

BY A. M. J.

By A. M. Jackson

With money being sloshed around by the bucketful, both by individuals and by business firms, it is naturally the subject for much pessimistic discussion and comparison to times when it was as scarce as hot bread at a cafeteria. As old heads at depressions, and catastrophes of that kind, Claude Spence and I got to talking last week, about when most of the banks went "BOOM" in the early thirties and what we did then and what we would do now if the ceiling should fall in again.

Claude admitted that he had at one time buried a good size roll of greenbacks. He had just rescued it from a bank that had folded two days after he cashed his account and he did not trust even a good baking powder can but it was the best he could figure out so he put his $2600. in bills in the can, went out in the horse lot, pulled up a corner post, shoved the can down in the hole and replaced the post over it. Most every night he dreamed about the money and a lot of the time he thought about it when he was awake. About six months after burying the money he needed $600 of it so he dug it up. A lot of rain had fallen and when he opened the can the horse lot had drained a lot of water into it and all the money was sopping wet and smelled like the Leuter feeding lot does after a long wet spell when the western breeze is going full blast. Claude put the money in the bake oven to dry and nearly ran his family to Oklahoma, but finally got it so it was passable. Deciding the horse lot was not a good place for it he folded it in a tight bundle, placed a rubber band around the $2000 that was left and put it into a glass jar and buried it under a post in a high dry corner of the front yard. It stayed there for six months while he watched it and dreamed about it until he could not stand the suspense any longer so he dug it up the second time. It was stuck together so tight that it took three days to peel it apart. There should be a lesson to this tale but it just peters out. All that I can say is that if you spend your money fast and don't bury it then it won't smell so bad.

Not being of a retiring nature I do not wish to hide my few accomplishments under a bucket or even a wash tub. The following letter from a mighty fine lady who used to contribute to the Slatonite, when she lived at Hackberry, is very much appreciated and demonstrates what a few people are missing if they do not read the Slatonite every week.

May 18, '59
2119 21st St.
Lubbock, Texas

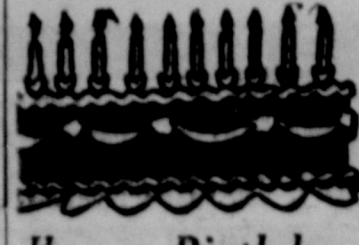

"Dear Mr. Jackson: "I always enjoyed your pungent and clever articles when you were the Slatonite's editor and, only recently I received a copy of the Slatonite, I don't know how long this has been "going on," but I especially appreciated your comments about the little girl on TV who "runs at us" yelling "Look, ma, no cavities." You said just what has needed to be said for a long time.

"I think lengthy, tiresome and repetitious commercials which we have to "endure" often serve only to strengthen our determination to never, never buy—well, whatever is it.

"I just wanted to say I'm glad to know you are still writing because, for us who like to write, there is nothing that can take its place.

Good luck.
Mrs. Nora Billingsley."

JUST TALK—
Last week I saw a woman leading a little tan-knotted dog on a leash and both looked very self-conscious and I snickered to myself but since then I have been wondering if I am not just about as big a fool about dogs as a lot of other folks. Recently our pooch, a cocker, cost me $8.

This Week IN AUSTIN

by Senator Preston Smith

Who is to blame for the special session of the Texas Legislature? In these first days of the 30-day special session factional leaders are looking for a "whipping boy" to take the responsibility of the costly session. The state still faces the problem of retiring a general fund deficit and raising some additional $150 millions to balance the budget for the two-year period starting Sept. 1. Plans to increase taxes in the regular session were met by various opposing groups.

The natural gas industry voiced bitter protests in public hearings against the governor's "severance beneficiary" levy, and the House revenue and taxation committee substituted an increase in the natural gas production tax.

Bankers of the state appeared in Austin against, and therefore took the blame for killing the so-called abandoned property law. Big business brought all the pressure it could muster in order to sidetrack the proposed new franchise tax formula to be applied against their inter-state operations.

These activities alone give the governor a lot of ammunition for public barrage in behalf of his tax program. It is also not difficult to predict the directions the governor will look to find his "whipping boy."

Calling of the special session was not a great surprise to the many legislators who, when the general session opened last January, predicted that a tax and deficit problem of the magnitude of Texas' in early 1959 could not be solved in the 120-day regular session. And there were many legislators who predicted that the special session would be called at that early date.

The governor's tax proposals, because of their variety of interests, required almost full cooperation of the legislators. This was not possible with the Legislature split so many ways in its tax philosophies.

Many Drivers Lost Licenses During 1958

In a recent release from the Statistical Service of the Texas Department of Public Safety, on the number of suspensions of drivers licenses and motor vehicle registrations under the Safety Responsibility Act, 38,323 persons were listed as suspended in Texas during the year 1958.

Of the above numbered suspensions, 15,139 were suspended because of a conviction in court of an offense making the suspension of their drivers license mandatory, such as: driving while intoxicated, driving while under the influence of drugs, aggravated assault with a motor vehicle, negligent homicide with a motor vehicle, murder without malice with a motor vehicle, and driving while license suspended. Another 23,184 were suspended because they had been involved in a motor vehicle accident in which $100 or more property damage was sustained by any one person or in which someone had been injured or killed and the drivers and/or owners were not covered by liability insurance or had not filed proof of financial responsibility with the Department of Public Safety as required by law.

During 1958, there were 623 suspensions placed in effect on residents of Lubbock County. Of these, 253 were for convictions in court requiring suspensions of drivers licenses and 370 were for failure to show proof of financial responsibility after being involved in an accident reportable under the Safety Responsibility Law. The above listed suspensions do not include persons convicted in court or those involved in accidents, who filed acceptable proof of financial responsibility during the year.

There are three methods of showing proof of financial responsibility for suspensions resulting from convictions; they are:

1. A certificate of motor vehicle liability insurance (Form SR-22).
2. A bond in the amount of $15,000 signed by two persons owning real estate equal in value to at least twice the amount of such bond.
3. A certificate of deposit of money or securities with the State Treasurer in the amount of $15,000.

There are five methods of showing financial responsibility for past accidents; they are:

1. A motor vehicle liability insurance policy in effect at the time of the accident (Form SR-21).
2. A release from liability signed by all damaged or injured persons.
3. An agreement to pay damages in installments.
4. An adjudication of non-liability by court of competent jurisdiction in a civil action.
5. Cash security deposit in an amount determined by the Department to be sufficient to pay any judgment for damages that might be obtained against the depositor.

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights by Vern Sanford

AUSTIN—There's a "get on with it" mood among House members during this special session.

House was the target of some criticism after the regular session for having made almost no progress in money-raising. This session the House began processing money bills at a fast clip. Initial action indicated there was less opposition in the House to Gov. Price Daniel's tax program than during the regular session.

Many in the lower house seemed to be in a mood to get as much as possible over to the Senate and "let them worry with it a while." Then, if the finance problem still isn't solved at the end of this session, they hope people won't be saying that the House "sat on its hands again."

Senate attitude toward the various money-raising approach is largely an unknown quantity. No money-raising bill ever came to a vote in the Senate—either in committee or on the floor—during the regular session.

Debt-Paying Bills— Three bills recommended by Governor Daniel to wipe out the $65,000,000 state deficit received first legislative attention. These measures are:

1. "Bookkeeping bill" designed to top $28,000,000 off the Aug. 31 deficit by crediting certain money to this year instead of next year.
2. One-year increase in the corporation franchise tax to bring in $17,000,000. Sponsor Rep. Joe Ed Winfree of Houston called it a "donation by Texas business" toward bailing out state government.
3. Abandoned property act, to transfer to the State Treasury, funds unclaimed for seven years. Estimates vary as to how much it would bring in; sponsors say about $20,000,000 the hicle liability insurance (Form SR-22).

2. A bond in the amount of $15,000 signed by two persons owning real estate equal in value to at least twice the amount of such bond.
3. A certificate of deposit of money or securities with the State Treasurer in the amount of $15,000.

There are five methods of showing financial responsibility for past accidents; they are:

1. A motor vehicle liability insurance policy in effect at the time of the accident (Form SR-21).
2. A release from liability signed by all damaged or injured persons.
3. An agreement to pay damages in installments.
4. An adjudication of non-liability by court of competent jurisdiction in a civil action.
5. Cash security deposit in an amount determined by the Department to be sufficient to pay any judgment for damages that might be obtained against the depositor.

first year, $2,500,000 a year thereafter. It was re-written after its defeat last session, but bankers still aren't happy.

First two of these bills received quick House approval. Governor's Permanent Program To cover new money needs for the next two years, the governor is pushing a separate tax program, a "package bill" known as H. B. 7.

It would raise an estimated $161,000,000 in two years. Affected by the bill would (1) natural gas, with a reduction from 7 to 5 per cent in production tax and addition of 5 per cent "severance beneficiary" tax, (2) interstate corporations, with a new and complex taxation formula, (3) utility companies, with an increase in the gross receipt tax, (4) cigarettes, one cent per package more, (5) other tobacco products, except snuff, to be added to sales tax fold, (6) liquor, increase from $1.408 (correct) to $2.50 a gallon sales tax, (7) automobiles, with sales tax increase from 1.1 to 1.5 per cent.

Rep. George Hinson of Mineola is sponsoring the bill.

In the past weeks the governor has been making a vigorous round of conferences and talks, rounding up support for his program. He launched it before the Legislature with a speech pouring fire and brimstone on the heads of lobbyists. He accused the "third house" of causing expensive delays.

Other Tax Bills— As in the regular session, there is no lack of ideas for raising money.

Besides the governor's bills, these have been proposed:

- (1) One per cent tax on all manufactured goods, by Rep. Jerry Sadler of Percella. To bring in an estimated $200,000,000 annually. Businesses grossing less than $25,000 annually would be exempt.
- (2) 1.5 per cent general sales tax, by Rep. Frates S. Seeligion of San Antonio. Food, feed and fertilizer would be exempt.
- (3) One per cent tax on retail sales, one per cent on personal income and three per cent on corporate income, by Rep. Louis Anderson of Midland.
- (4) Five per cent tax on corporation net profits, by Rep. Dean Johnson of Houston.
- (5) Five per cent tax on trading stamps, by Rep. Joe Chapman of Sulphur Springs.
- (6) Graduated oil tax, by Rep. Bob Eckhardt of Houston.

Re-Run On Appropriations— Re-approving the appropriation bills passed during the regular session was no great stumbling block for either House or Senate.

As before, both houses passed bills calling for 1960-61 spending totaling about $2,400,000,000. House bill would require some $333,000,000 from the general revenue fund; the Senate bill, about $20,000,000 less.

Only change on either side was a House amendment to cut off aid to dependent children payments for illegitimate children after the first one in a family. By having more children, said Rep. H. J. Blanchard of Lubbock, unwed mothers get more money from the state. House members agreed the payments encouraged illegitimacy.

Hard part on getting out an appropriation bill will be settling the House and Senate differences in conference committee. No conference group was appointed in the regular session. Some predicted there would be no effort to come to final agreement on spending this session until ways to pay for it had been agreed upon.

Too Much Oil— Texas oil allowable for June will be 282,738 barrels a day less than for May.

Texas Railroad Commission set the statewide flow at 2,904,414 barrels a day on a 10-day producing pattern. It is the lowest allowable since last July. Both independent producers and major buyers asked the Commission for a sharp cut. They said there is a surplus of petroleum and the threat of a glut on the market.

Gone With The Wind— If you inherited some of grandfather's Confederate bonds just look on them as keepsakes. Texas Supreme Court has held that the state cannot pay them off.

Holders of some state Civil War bonds issued in 1862 received legislative permission to sue the state for $46,000 payment on the bonds. Lower courts held the state was not liable because of a general statute of limitations against debts that old. Supreme Court upheld that ruling.
