

COLLISIONS--An outbreak of vehicle collisions last week left two persons dead in the Slaton area. Left is the scene of a collision Monday which claimed the life of Leo Bernard Kitten, 80, of Slaton, who was driving the car at right. The car behind the stop sign was driven by Sherry Howard of Wolforth, who was not seriously injured. In the photo at right is a late model pickup which was driven by Nicky Patterson of near Slaton, who suffered serious injuries when this pickup and another pickup driven by Curtis Gickhorn collided head-on near Union last Thursday. Photos of other wrecks appearing on this page also were made this week. (SLATONITE PHOTOS)

Burglaries, Wrecks Head List Of Police Activities

Burglaries and wrecks headed the list of Slaton police activities during the last week, with the most serious accident being on Monday when Leo B. Kitten of Slaton died following a collision at U. S. 84 and Woodrow Road.

At 9:43 a. m. Tuesday a wreck occurred at 8th and Lubbock when a 1972 car driven by Norma Kinchalo, 955 W. Dickens, collided with a parked car owned by M. H. Carlton, Rt. 2, Slaton. Total damage to the two vehicles was estimated at $375.

A 1969 pickup driven by Lottie Shelton, Post, and a 1971 auto driven by Lois Hollingsworth of Slaton, collided at 9th and Post highway about 5:40 p.m. Sunday. Total damage was estimated at $500.

Hart Diaz, operator of a service station at U. S. 84 Bypass and FM 400, reported the station had been burglarized of approximately $37 from vending machines, and that the intruders also took a set of screwdrivers valued at $19 and a radio valued at $35. Entry was gained by removal of panes from a window on the west side of the building.

Mark Scott, 210 S. 4th, complained that his home had been burglarized Tuesday, listing loss of unusual coins valued at $200, and a picture valued at $25.

Joe Williams, 885 S. Collins, reported two incidents of vandalism to his car. Mrs. Christesson, wife of R. O. "Chris" Christesson, a security officer at Buffalo Springs Lake, was victim of a head-on collision just before noon Saturday on FM 835 near the entrance to the lake. She was the only passenger in her car, and the lone occupant of the other vehicle, Lynn Harralson of Lubbock, was seriously injured. He was taken to Methodist Hospital.

Two pickups collided with terrific force two miles south of Union, or about 14 miles west of Slaton, Thursday. Both drivers were injured, but most seriously hurt was Nicky Patterson, 26, who lives at the scene of the accident. Patterson, who was admitted to Methodist Hospital in a critical condition, suffered broken ribs and internal injuries when his pickup, headed south, collided head-on with a pickup driven by Curtis C. Gickhorn of Rt. 3, Wilson. Gickhorn was treated at Mercy Hospital and released. Patterson was pinned in the wreckage for some time.

Also on Thursday, Willie Tyrone, 920 Johnson, Slaton, suffered a broken arm and broken leg when his 1961 model car struck a county maintainer driven by Roy Kuykendall 1.2 miles north of Slaton city limits on FM 400. Tyrone was admitted to St. Mary's Hospital, Lubbock.

At 12:30 a. m. Saturday, Wayne Saunders Smith, 54, of Lubbock, suffered injuries not believed serious when his 1961 car traveling west of Crosby St. in Slaton jumped the curb and struck a parked 1964 car in the 1100-block of West Crosby. The car then backed across the lawn, striking a wooden post in the yard at 1115 Crosby, according to the investigating officer's report, then headed forward, traveling north across another lawn and onto the porch of the Tipton Culver residence, at 305 N. 18th, knocking down a brick porch pillar and coming to rest near the porch.

Total damage was estimated at $800.

Sidewalk Sale, Flea Market Are Successful Here

Slaton merchants who participated in the Sidewalk Sale and Flea Market agreed this week that Saturday's promotion was a big success.

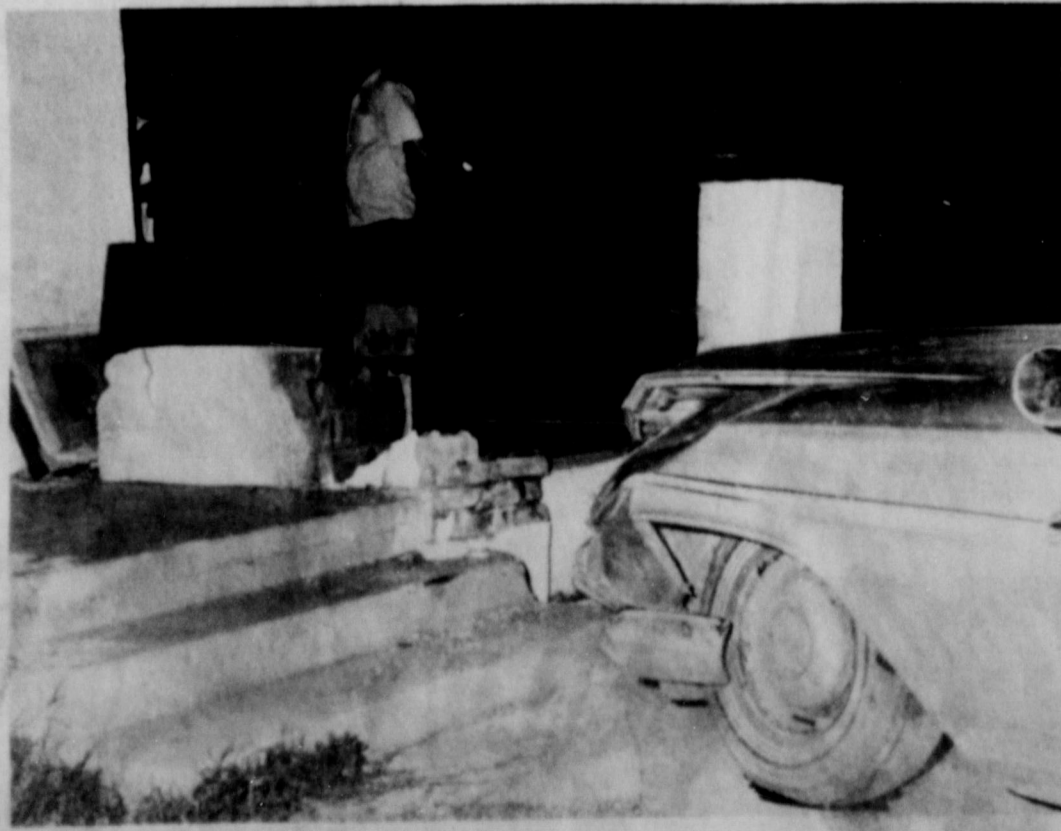

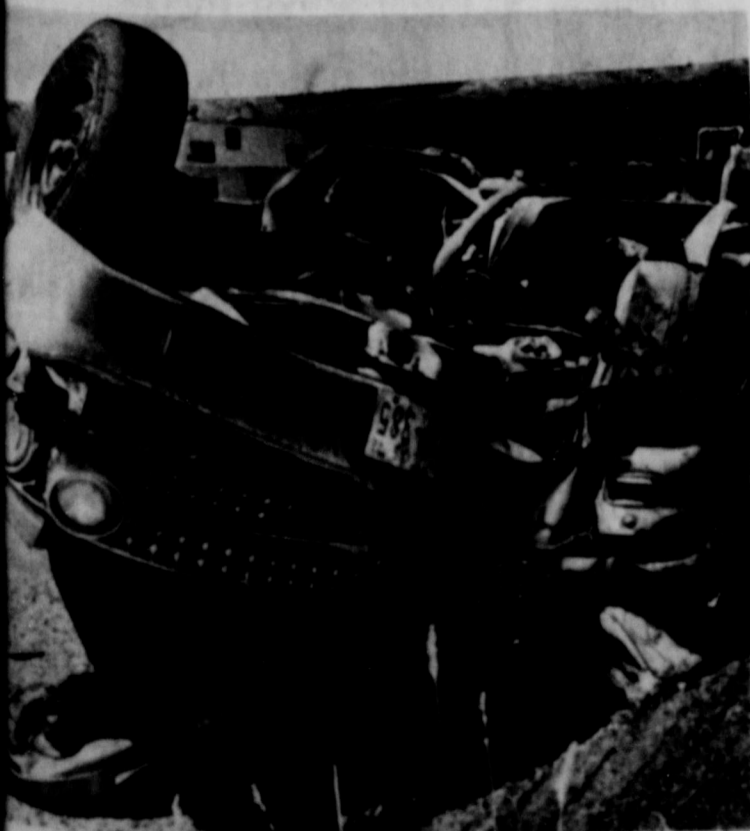

One merchant said he had triple the volume of sales of the best Saturday he ever has had in many years of doing business in Slaton. Another who normally has good Saturday trade said his firm did about double the usual amount.

Members of the Retail Trades Committee of Slaton Chamber of Commerce met Tuesday to assess the flea market and sale and agreed that the only disappointing thing about the operation was the lack of participation by some merchants in the sidewalk sale and by individuals and organization in the flea market around the square.

Those who did set up booths to sell articles around the square reported sales were good, and one organization said it took in $90.

Another flea market and sidewalk sale is planned for Oct. 14, and those at Tuesday's meeting began making plans to generate more enthusiasm and participation for the next one.

by Willie Tyrone, who was injured when his vehicle was in collision with a county maintainer. Center photo shows how

Tests Given At Evans Center

Pre-school students in the Day Care Center at Evans Multi-Service Center recently underwent their annual diagnostic tests as part of the physical examinations required for all children entering the program.

The tests are done each year for the benefit of the children to test for disease and abnormalities, and is a co-operative effort between Mercy Hospital and the Community Action Board of Lubbock.

Mercy Hospital provided the equipment and personnel to conduct the tests at the center. Sister Carmel, medical technologist, and Rosemary Quintero, laboratory assistant at Mercy, worked with the children.

"We feel this is a step in the right direction to raise the health-care level of our community" said Phillip McDonald, administrator at Mercy Hospital. "Early detection can solve many of the health problems facing us today."

Most of the tests were done several weeks ago, with the medical staff returning this week to work with children who were absent during their previous visit, according to Mr. Taylor, administrator of the Center.

Liberty Bell Facts
Despite popular belief, the Liberty Bell did not crack when the Declaration of Independence was read in Philadelphia on July 8, 1776. It cracked 59 years later when it was rung for the funeral of Chief Justice John Marshall.

Our horoscope says that next week is bad for travel, and our bank book confirms it.

FOOT NOTES
BY MARGRET BARTLEY

Guess what we heard today! Slaton Schools will start Aug. 17. Sure sounds like a short summer when you think there are only four weeks left until THE DAY. Teachers begin their school-work Aug. 14.

So here it is time to get in those summer vacation plans if you've not already. If you sew, the machine should be going fast and furious for the next few weeks. And, we've got to work in all those little things we had planned for the summer months.

Slaton's Sidewalk Sale and Flea Market brought in quite a bit of traffic to the city Saturday. There weren't as many people taking advantage of the selling spaces on the square as was expected, but I'll bet there are several who wish they had.

My kids had been wanting a croquet set, and were real happy when we found one in the flea market. They were impatient to get home and start having fun! None of us know just exactly what the rules are, so we decided on some general things to go by. That was fine--until Mama left the scene and the rules began changing.

Big brother, as leader of the group, usually got the rules changed to go along with his particular problem. When Sister had a question, it was OUT of the question! And Little Brother wanted three strikes for his turn. Needless to say, after the brawl, everyone came in (by force) and went to bed for an afternoon nap (also, in separate rooms). I'm not so sure that particular bargain was such a bargain after all. By the way, did you ever trip on that unseen wicket in the grass?!!!

We understand that plans may be underway for another of the Flea Market days here. If you missed out on Saturday's Sale, get your stuff ready for the next one!

Fiesta Set At Guadalupe

Guadalupe Catholic Church, 700 S. 4th, Slaton, will hold their Mid-Summer Fiesta Sunday from 1 p.m. until 9:30 p.m. Proceeds will go toward the building fund for the new church and rectory. The ground breaking ceremony was held two weeks ago and work on the new project is underway.

Music, food and games will be on the agenda all day, hopefully providing fun for the whole family. The dunking board will be in use, and the men of the parish will participate in a Miss America Contest.

Refreshment booths will include hot dogs, barbecue hamburgers, tamales, tacos, frito pies, corn on the cob and watermelon. Everyone is invited to attend.

Rains Continue In Slaton Area

The drain plug was yanked out of a cloud over Slaton Tuesday night, and 1.50 inches of rain was dumped on the city in about 30 minutes, making rivers out of streets and calling a halt to the second game of the area Little League Tournament here. No violent weather was reported in connection with this rainstorm or with a shower which came during the night Monday. Monday night's rain totaled .50 inch, according to city officials.

Beef Cattle Short Course

Set Aug. 21-22

Activities of the 22nd annual Beef Cattle Short Course AUG. 21-22 at Texas A&M University will center on "Improving Reproductive Efficiency," a follow-up of last year's event. "With each percent increase in calf crop, the Texas cattle industry adds $7 to $8 million to agricultural income," Beverly pointed out. "The rancher who maintains a barren cow for an entire year sacrifices the profit on three to five weaned calves.

The short course will emphasize genetic factors, death loss and disease. Recent studies on double muscling in beef cattle also will be discussed, and animals with this trait will be on exhibit.

In addition to Texas A&M speakers, program participants will be from the U. S. Range (Montana) the University of Florida and Colorado State University. They will talk on such topics as artificial insemination, crossbreeding, cow and bull fertility, and use of certain drugs to induce early calving and re-breeding.

The moon's gravitational pull affects more than the oceans. A full moon directly overhead may lift the North American continent six inches, and the Earth's atmosphere may bulge out a mile or more toward the moon. ## Cottonseed Research Nets High Protein Content Foods

Cottonseed once presented a disposal problem after it had been separated from the lint in ginning. Now it can be utilized to provide high protein food for millions of people. This is noted by the National Cotton Council in describing research leading to the economical production of cottonseed flour for human consumption. The project at the Department of Agriculture's Southern Marketing and Nutrition Research Division in New Orleans resulted in a way to remove gossypol from the seed. Gossypol's toxicity made it a major obstacle to adding cottonseed and its protein to human diets.

Gossypol is present in the pigment glands of cottonseed. Glandless varieties of cottonseed have been developed but have not been available universally. The first fully satisfactory way of removing gossypol is the liquid cyclone process developed at USDA's New Orleans laboratory.

The USDA explains that "the flour, concentrate, and water-insoluble isolate can be used in breads, biscuit mix, spaghetti, macaroni, crackers, and similar foods.

"Although some of these foods are often substituted for meat in meals, they are generally low in protein compared with meat. High-protein cottonseed products could also be used in a variety of other foods.

"Frankfurters and sausages containing cottonseed flour had excellent flavor and texture. The water-insoluble (acid soluble) isolate can be added to citrus drinks to fortify them with protein."

The Plains Cooperative Oil Mill at Lubbock is building a $1.3 million plant to make protein flour out of cottonseed. It is expected to be operational by the fall of 1972.

General Manager John Herzer says initial capacity will be 25 tons per day but the plant is being designed for almost immediate expansion to twice that capacity if the demand for cottonseed flour is there.

"Cottonseed flour has several advantages over competitive products," he explains. "It has excellent flavor and color, is high in amino acids, and doesn't settle out when blended with liquids."

"Soft drink manufacturers, for example, are interested in using it to develop high-protein drinks. It can be used as an extender in meats and for baking purposes."

Thought For Food

Ham is a happy choice for the outdoor grill. Prepare a whole boneless ham on the rotisserie, slice on the grill or cubes for kabobs. For varied flavor appeal, baste with a favorite sauce. Calories in beef cuts such as round steak, sirloin tip roast and T-bone steak, and in pork cuts such as loin roast, chops, tenderloin and baked ham, total under 250 calories per 3 1/2-ounce serving of cooked lean meat.

Although less than 10 percent of the people live on farms today, it's estimated that about 40 percent of all jobs in the United States are related somehow to agriculture. Related fields include marketing, processing and transportation of food products, plus the manufacturing and distribution of equipment and services needed by the modern farmer. Last year Americans ate 100,000 tons of yogurt, about one third more than they ate in 1969, and six times the amount consumed twenty years ago.

Accidental deaths on Texas farms and ranches in 1971 took the lives of 203 persons, according to the Texas Safety Association. ### Nursing Home News

We were treated with music this week by Waylon Stephens, grandson of Mrs. Florence Stephens. He and his family were visiting from New York, and Waylon played piano for us.

Our sympathy goes to the families of Clarence Johnson and Ira Crooks. These two men were residents of our home and were very active. Ira had made so many pillows and sold them in our craft nook.

Daisy O'Conner and Ollie Vermillion have recently re-

The wolf also shall dwell with the lamb, and the leopard shall lie down with the kid. —Isaiah XI, 6
Technology has brought mankind to a "modern" world, has left footprints upon the face of the moon. Christ was born in Bethlehem, beneath the star of peace, to show the way in life and death, and yet we have learned to love one another so little, for so short a time. Look to the young, the child of man, the kitten or cub, the calf or the kid. We are not born with a sense of intolerance, with hate in our heart. We can find a way to keep love in our hearts, to bring peace to the world.

Egg Inspection Protects Consumer

COLLEGE STATION --- Shell eggs will come under the Egg Products Inspection Act as of July 1, 1972. This will bring a change in the marketing of "restricted" eggs, a move to protect the consumer. "Restricted" eggs consist of all checks, dories, leakers, in- edibles, incubator rejects and loss eggs, explains Dr. David B. Mellor, poultry marketing specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. All checks and dories must be shipped only to U.S. Department of Agriculture inspected egg processing plants for processing. All other restricted eggs must be destroyed or denatured so they cannot be used for human consumption. The specialist adds that restricted eggs will be monitored by the USDA at egg packing plants and hatcheries at least once every three months after July 1. "All shell eggs used by businesses for meal preparation must be U.S. Grade B or better in quality. Texas Grade B or better would also meet this requirement. This does not mean that restaurants, bakeries and other institutions must use shell eggs," says Mellor. "However, if shell eggs are used, they must be Grade B or better."

Not only are sellers prohibited from marketing restricted eggs, but users are prohibited from buying them. Thus bakeries, restaurants and institutions will not be allowed to purchase checked or dirty eggs from any source, even a producer. The Food and Drug Administration will check the business users periodically to insure compliance with the law. According to the specialist, there are four main exemptions to the federal law, providing these do not conflict with the Texas Egg Law. First, producers with 3,000 or fewer hens are exempted. However, even with this exemption, the market is limited because business users are prohibited from buying restricted eggs from any source. Those producers selling only their own production on premises or on an egg route directly to households are also exempt. So are egg packers selling directly to household consumers. The fourth exemption concerns producers who sell to a packer but do not sell eggs to consumers, retail stores, restaurants or institutions.

"The decision to bring shell eggs under the act was an action to protect the consumer," points out Mellor. "In the past, checks and dories were available for sale to consumers at various businesses. Concern over sanitation and cleanliness resulted in this action."

PREVENT FARM FIRES PROTECTION NEEDED

Fires, explosions, and burns claimed the lives of 30 Texas farmers and ranchers, or members of their families in 1971, according to the Texas Safety Association. The statewide safety organization reminds that one of the agri-businessman's first priorities should be adequate protection against the dangers of fire. The July 1 estimate of standing cotton acreage on the High Plains, made by Plains Cotton Growers, Inc. and the Lubbock Cotton Exchange, shows 2,602,000 acres of cotton in the 25 PCG counties surrounding Lubbock. This compares with 2,499,700 planted acres and 2,324,400 harvested acres in 1971. While the estimate is called the "July 1 estimate," according to Joe D. Unfred of New Home, chairman of the PCG Estimates Committee, calculations were not made until July 5, and acreage lost to hail prior to that time was taken into consideration. Discussion in the committee meeting July 5 indicated that from 100,000 to 150,000 acres of cotton was planted on the Plains and lost to adverse weather too late for replanting.

REMEMBER BY THE OLD TIMER

From Mrs. V. Sills, Olin, Ia: When I was a girl at home in the winter we did our own butchering. We wrapped the meat in an old feed sack or a sheet and hung it from a high limb on the tree to freeze it. It would hang there all winter long, and when we wanted a piece of meat we would go out and saw off the piece we wanted. Dad would hunt rabbits, and when he got home with the kill, he would clean them and then Mom would soak them in salt water for two or three hours. We would then hang them outside to freeze. There was little time to play when garden work was to be done. Mom would can everything in quart and two-quart jars, which were stored in the cellar. All this food sure tasted good when the hard snows came. We always had plenty of meat and homemade bread. We only went to town once a week for supplies, and if it snowed too hard it was a month before we could get to town. But all in all it was a good life and I would live it all again if I had to.

In the second game, North Lynn All-Stars were leading until the bottom of the fourth when Crosbyton came through with two runs to win it 2-1 in a game called after the fourth inning when heavy rain began in Slaton.

Babe Ruthers 1-1 In Tourney Held At Lubbock

Slaton's 14-and-15 year-old Babe Ruth All-Stars, managed by Curtis Aycock, lost a close ball game in the regional tournament at Lubbock Tuesday night, but still had a chance to win the tourney, since it is double elimination. After pounding Frontier 9-1 Monday, Slaton lost to Lubbock American 4-2 Tuesday, although Lupe Valderaz pitched a one-hitter for Slaton. Slaton had only two hits, singles by right fielder Breck Hudson and Al Lewis, catcher. Slaton scored on Gary Aycock's infield fly muffed by the Lubbock pitcher, with Clarence Hammons and Hudson scoring on the error. Three errors by Slaton allowed the runs for Lubbock. Finals in the tournament will be Friday or Saturday. Slaton was to play Levelland Wednesday night. In Monday night's game, Slaton whopped Morton-Frontier 9-1 as Breck Hudson pitched the entire game and gave up only three hits. The Slaton all-stars made no errors and scored nine runs on nine hits. Hudson, Ronnie Smith and Ronnie Valadez each had two hits.

All-Star Baseball Set Texas-Oklahoma Girls'

PLAINVIEW, TEXAS, Special---With ticket sales reaching toward 1500 already, the Texas Oklahoma Girls' All-Star Baseball Game will show off those chosen as the best of high school women athletes. Another tense scoring battle will come to life in Hutcherson Physical Education Center on the Wayland Baptist College Campus in Plainview at 8:30 p.m., July 22, before an expected capacity crowd of 3000. The 24 roundballers to participate in the event have been chosen from the two all-star teams of each state. Texas North and Texas South will meet this weekend in Brownwood. In the 15 years that the North Texans and South Texans have met, the North has clinched the championship every year except one. Nine of the 12 who will take

On Oklahoma were chosen from this year's Northern team. They are Sheila Patterson of Spearman, Janis Irby of Claude, Karen Spain of Stephenville, Rosemary Brown and Linda Cooper of Talco, Joy Williams of Canyon, Cindy Payton of Cooper, Peggy O'Brien of Southlake, and Diane Day of Friona. Tickets for the game are being sold in advance by mail at Wayland Ticket Office, Wayland Baptist College, Plainview, Texas, 79072. When you have a problem you usually do not have to look too far to find people who will be more than glad to give you their advice. They do not have to be experts or even know all the facts, yet they will tell you that you can not go wrong by listening to and following their advice.

This would place total planted acres in the 25 counties at around 2.7 or 2.75 million acres, up eight to ten percent over 1971 plantings. Normal "abandonment" of cotton from planting to harvest on the Plains runs about 7 percent on the average, and this level of abandonment in 1972 would leave around 2,530,000 acres for harvest. Abandonment in 1971 figured 7.1 percent. Acres allotted to farmers in the High Plains area for payment purposes under the Federal cotton program in 1972 totaled only 1,685,533. Thus the current estimate indicates farmers this year overplanted allotments by about 1,040,000 acres, or 62 percent. Estimated standing acres are 154 percent of 1972 allotments. Looking ahead to the harvest, almost anything can happen, with the final outcome largely dependent on weather. Generally speaking, crop conditions over the area are now described as "good" to "excellent." But there are weak spots. Hockley County in particular has been plagued by hail, wind and excessive rains this Spring, and a big percentage of the crop there will be late. Martin, Howard, Midland and parts of other "dryland counties" failed to get planting moisture early in the season and most of the cotton there was planted after June 5. Overall, it is estimated that about 28 percent of the Plains crop is June 5 or later cotton. Still, moisture conditions are the best seen in years, and a bumper crop, arewide, is a definite possibility.

SAFETY EQUIPMENT OFFERS PROTECTION Personal protective equipment can spell the difference between incident and injury for the agri-businessman, according to the Texas Safety Association. TSA says farm and ranch workers should wear safety shoes especially for repair and construction jobs, machinery operations, and materials handling. The safety group also says protect your eyes with safety glasses or goggles and your head with a "bump" cap or a "hard" hat.

Slaton Rotary Club sponsored the tournament. Worldliness creates its own system of values, truth, and free advice. Yet there is more to life than the things of this world; there are important spiritual values also to be sought. To truly solve our problems we must come for guidance to the source of all goodness - God.

Easter Seal Group Offers Services

The Texas Easter Seal Society can provide the following services for handicapped persons who cannot afford to pay all or part of the costs involved and who are not eligible for help from any other resource, public or private, a representative of the Society said last week.

1. Assistance in paying for physical, occupational, and speech therapy when it is prescribed by a medical doctor.
2. Pay for special diagnostic evaluation (such as orthopedic, audiological, language and psychological).
3. Purchase orthopedic equipment such as wheelchairs, walkers, crutches, braces, etc., when prescribed by a medical doctor. (There is a $200 limit placed on artificial limbs. This $200 is to be used as "seed money" for additional limbs.)
4. Help to defray transportation costs for treatment or evaluation when the family is unable to meet these costs. This is determined by paying 30¢ per gallon - based on 10 miles per gallon, figured on a round trip basis - or by purchasing round trip bus tickets.
5. Assist families and individuals to reach the right person or agency to obtain help.

The Easter Seal Society of Texas cannot provide. People are often eligible for services from public or private agencies but do not know the person, eligibility requirements, or place to obtain the services needed.

Make the Most of Food Dollar

COLLEGE STATION --- "To make the most of your summer food dollar, follow marketing tips in your area this week," Mrs. Gwendolyn Clyatt, consumer marketing specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, said.

According to Mrs. Clyatt, beef and pork prices generally slide down somewhat. Cuts featured in grocery store ads each week still rank as best buys. Usually five or more cuts are advertised, so it's no problem to plan an entire week's menu around these featured cuts.

"Fryer chickens continue in abundance and still rate as one of the best protein buys," the marketing specialist said. "Demand rises during barbecue months. Although specials are expected, they will likely be tagged a few cents higher. Larger supplies of turkeys also stock markets."

Mrs. Clyatt pointed out that dairy products are in the spotlight since June is National Dairy Month.

"There's not a more versatile product in your kitchen than milk and milk products. Each time you use dairy foods, you help insure better health for your family."

Milk doesn't necessarily have to be served in a glass. The specialist said that one and one-third cups of cottage cheese or one ounce of Swiss cheese equal one eight-ounce glass of milk in terms of dairy nutrition. Also equal are one cup of oyster stew, yogurt or pudding made with milk and cornstarch.

"More local vegetables appear in the market," Mrs. Clyatt said. "And quality is good."
