

Area's Christians Await Start Of Graham Crusade Sunday Night

...years ago the apostles the mission: "Go ye into all the world and preach the gospel to every creature." (Mark 16:15)

...evangelists their lives to the Word. One of the most famous is Billy Graham, who has preached to millions of people during a week long crusade beginning Sunday night.

...preach each week in Jones Street Baptist Church, 31-Sept. 30, 1-2 Oct. 1-2. The crusade will seat 1,000 people. All at the expense of the church. The crusade officials are planning for capacity crowds. The crusade will be held on Sunday and Saturday nights.

...Preparation for the crusade has been under way for several months. A bus will take Methodist congregation members to the crusade. The First Baptist Church has approximately 15 members who will serve as counselors, and most of the choir will sing with the Crusade Choir.

...Westview Baptist Church is canceling their Wednesday night service, (as is First Baptist) but Westview will hold Sunday evening services.

...Other churches throughout the city are planning to observe their regular worship schedule.

Millions of Listeners

Graham, 56, is said to have preached the Gospel to more millions than anyone in history.

Born in North Carolina and ordained by Southern Baptists in 1940, Billy Graham's Crusades have been held in virtually every state in the United States and more than 50 other countries. Since the late 1940's, Mr. Graham's schedule has left little time to indulge in his favorite hobbies of golf, swimming and jogging or to be with his wife, Ruth, and their children at their Montreat, North Carolina, home in the mountains.

Graham married Ruth McCue Bell, and the couple has three daughters and two sons.

His books, "Peace With God," "The Secret of Happiness," "My Answer," "World Aflame," and "The Challenge" have been read by millions and the author has been the subject of several biographies and personality features in the world's leading magazines and newspapers. "The Jesus Generation," Graham's newest book (1971), sold 200,000 copies in the first two weeks after publication. It has been published in 15 languages. His

New York, Los Angeles, London, and South Korean Crusades probably stand as high water marks of his career as an evangelist.

A graduate of Florida Bible Institute (now Trinity College) and Wheaton College, Graham has received honorary doctorates from many institutions. He is author of a column, "My Answer," which appears in many of the nation's foremost newspapers on a daily basis.

Wide Range

His counsel has been sought by Presidents and his appeal to both the secular and non-secular worlds is shown by the wide range of groups that have honored him. These recognitions range from addressing the President's National Prayer Breakfast to the Gold Award of the George Washington Carver Memorial Institute in 1963, from the Speaker of the Year Award in 1964 to the Salvation Army's Distinguished Service Medal. Graham regularly is listed as one of the "Ten Most Admired Men in the World" and has been named "Man of the Year" by TIME magazine.

Founder of the Billy Graham Evangelistic Association, he leads the weekly "Hour of Decision" program which is broadcast by more than 900 stations around the world.

Leading singing for the crusade will be Cliff Barrows, music director for the Billy Graham Team.

Barrows said, "The Christian faith is a singing faith, and a good way to express it and share it with others is in community singing."

His familiar and friendly voice has been heard on "The Hour of Decision" for the past 25 years. He also serves as program director for that broadcast.

Cliff Barrows has been the man responsible for the music in Billy Graham Crusades since the beginning — in the mid-40s. They have been together sharing the Gospel in almost every country in the Western World.

Specific Follow-up

Part of the effectiveness of a Billy Graham Crusade lies in its follow-up program, which is a specific, precise and very definite process.

According to Crusade spokesmen, from the moment a person comes forward in response to the invitation, that individual is brought into close contact with a trained counselor. The counselor is of the same sex and approximate age group as the inquirer and has an open Bible to help him think through what the Scriptures say about the situation and to commit the entire matter to God in Prayer.

Information from the counseling card is mailed within 24 hours to a pastor in the inquirer's community. Ordinarily, this will be the pastor of the church to which the individual belongs already, or a church he would normally attend or one in which he has a special interest.

The pastor also gets a letter asking him to make immediate contact with the inquirer. A series of letters is sent to the inquirer from the crusade office to encourage him in his new life and to urge him to apply these four basic rules to his Christian life: pray daily, read the Bible daily, give evidence of his new faith to others around him and find his place in the work and fellowship of the local church.

Tigers To Butt Heads With Tulia Hornets

Levelland and Slaton football teams bashed each other around in the heat of the day last Friday, and Slaton coaches this week were fairly pleased with the result, even if the Lobos did outscore the Tigers 3-2.

Coach Eddie Cook pointed out to a large crowd of players and fans at Monday night's booster club meeting that Levelland scored twice near the end of the scrimmage on pass plays which caught some of Slaton's reserve defensive backs out of position. Until then, Slaton had led after scoring one time on defense as Ernest Gipson intercepted a pass and returned it for a score, and once on offense as Bill McClesky rammed over from a few yards away.

The Slaton junior varsity outscored the Levelland and JV Friday.

This week, Slaton will take on Tulia in a scrimmage at the Hornets nest. Freshmen and junior varsity teams will scrimmage at 6 p.m. and the varsity squads will get together about 7:30 p.m. Tulia has one very fast back, Raymond Williams, a track star also, and the Hornets expect to have a good team this season.

Films of the Levelland scrimmage did not pan out, but films will be made of the Tulia scrimmage and will be shown next Monday night at the Tiger Club meeting in the Chamber of Commerce at 8 p.m.

A large crowd turned out to "meet the Tigers" at Monday night's special session of the Tiger Club in junior high. Freshmen, junior varsity and varsity players and coaches and cheerleaders were introduced, and Cook also observed that 60 seventh graders and 42 eighth graders are out for those teams.

The head coach reiterated that the varsity Tigers have fine spirit and attitude this season and said, "I know you'll be proud of these boys before the season is over...and I certainly hope it will be a long one."

Edwin Knight, business manager of the school, announced that season tickets are now on sale at the school offices, 300 S. 9th, at $10 for the five home games, starting with the Sept. 5 opener here against Colorado City.

SUNDAY, the Billy Graham Crusade eight-day campaign in Lubbock at the Jones Stadium. We certainly urge everyone to go to the crusade, but urging will have little noticeable effect on the stadium undoubtedly will be overflowing anyway.

Now was talking about how much must take to operate a crusade on a large scale, and another one nearby that it makes no difference, since a rich Father. He also said he wanted to see all those big gains at the stadium, predicting the score about 40,000 for the Lord and zero evil every night.

...of scoring and football... it's just about time for Texas' major league football to get going, and everywhere you go fans of their local team are optimistic that this is sure going to happen. For some, it will be; for others it will be disappointment, but they'll stay and support their youngsters.

...my own youngsters will be going to Howard College in Big Spring, Texas. They have a very nice football stadium. I haven't lost a football game in the last several years. They dropped the sport about a year ago. Now they have this fine stadium and I think the high school uses it.

$7,000 Worth Of Tools Taken In Burglary Here

A huge quantity of tools valued at a total of about $7,000 was stolen by burglars who struck Bryant Farm Supply on N. 20th St. in Slaton last week.

Police said the burglars forced a door to gain entry early last Wednesday morning and must have been in the building for some time to escape with so many tools. The itemized list of tools stolen in the break-in took three typewritten pages on the police blotter.

During the week, police investigated several wrecks, none with major injuries. On Tuesday a 1973 car driven by Karla Datherine Schuette of Lubbock and a 1972 auto driven by Richard Thurman Moore of Rt. 2, Wilson, were involved in a collision at U. S. 84 access road and W. Division.

On the same day at N. 16th and Hockley intersection, a 1973 car driven by William J. Klattenhoff, 850 W. Crosby and a 1972 car driven by Irene Belyeu Elliott, 600 N. 20th, collided.

In the 300-block of W. Garza Monday a 1969 auto driven by Mae Bennett Jeffries, 325 S. 10th, was involved in a collision with a 1969 station wagon driven by Beverly Curtis Edwards, 315 W. Garza.

Austin Lee Jones reported that the East Side Cafe on E. Division had been burglarized, with several coin-operated machines forced. Missing was about $75 in coins, plus a .410 shotgun and 50 to 60 packages of cigarettes.

Town and Country Chevrolet reported that a 1974 Buick station wagon had been stolen from their lot last Thursday.

Donations Continue; Facilities Improving

Donations made to Mercy Hospital are continuing to come in, and improvements in facilities are being made as quickly as finances will allow, said Arnold Ingraham, hospital administrator.

"I want to thank everyone who has made a donation to Mercy. We appreciate all the gifts given to the hospital. We want our hospital to be the best we can make it, and all the donations are helping us improve our facilities," said Ingraham.

Ingraham said he would like to publicly acknowledge those who have donated money for machinery and other facilities at the hospital.

The list of donors include Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Alspaugh, the Lions Club, the American Legion, Mrs. Virgie S. Hunter, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Deavers, Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Abernathy, Mrs. Jimmie Jean Edwards, Forrest Edwards, Elise Guinn Nowlin and the Nursing Home Auxiliary.

Although much equipment has been purchased, more is still needed. Ingraham said among the equipment needed is a breathing machine, an electrical leakage tester, a portable suction machine, an isolation cart, two electric typewriters, a laryngoscope, an otoscope and a cautery unit for surgery.

According to Ingraham, many of the discrepancies found by the Joint Commission earlier in the year have been corrected. "The first estimate for making the needed improvements was $29,000. But now, I think we can do it for about $4,000." According to Ingraham, the lower estimate reflects modifications and the use of some new ideas of Ingraham's.

Since Ingraham embarked on his improvement plan, the hospital has contracted a new fire alarm system which is directly connected to the fire station. They have gotten an automatic switch for the generators so that they come on automatically in case of power failure. They have also contracted for a new PA system.

Also on the advice of the Joint Commission, the hospital now has a consulting pharmacist and a consulting dietician. A radiologist and an anesthetist have also come to Mercy Hospital on a part time basis.

In two weeks, a new recovery room, across from surgery should be completed.

Approximately $3,800 will be given to the hospital Thursday during the weekly Rotary luncheon when a representative of the Bicentennial Committee turns over the proceeds from the July 4 celebration.

"Yankee Doodle" Auditions Scheduled Next Week

Auditions for parts in the Bicentennial play "Yankee Doodle" by Aurand Harris will be Tuesday and Wednesday nights from 6 to 8 p.m. in the Clubhouse.

Because "Yankee Doodle" is a musical review, those wishing a singing part should present a musical selection at the auditions.

Those interested in helping with costumes, makeup, lighting, sets, etc., should also come to the auditions.

The play will be presented this fall. It is sponsored by the Bicentennial Committee. "Yankee Doodle" is panorama of history made from a combination of the known and the new in scenes of action which are filled with surprises, suspense, patriotism, pathos and especially humor. Women carefully into the script, Mort Stine's music emphasizes the appropriate historical period of each selection as well as the spirit of joyous celebration.

All types of talents are needed. If you are interested in theater, music, or just having a good time, please come to the auditions and make your talents known.

Improvement Is Goal Of Southland Eagles

The 75 edition of the Southland Eagle football team features a new coaching staff and a young team determined to improve on last year's no-win record.

Head football coach James Thomason and his assistant Jerry Hahn have a team of 14 boys, eight of whom are returning letterman.

Veterans on the team are Kendon Wheeler, Bobby Flores, Nathan Wheeler, Curt Wheeler, Junior Buxkemper, Ricky Cardona, John Chaffin and Paul Eckert. "We have a fairly young team this year," said Thomason, "we're basically juniors and sophomores."

A scrimmage with Whitarral last Thursday gave Eagle fans a chance to see their team in action for the first time. The practice sessions ended 3-3 and Thomason said the scrimmage went well.

Likes Defense

"It looks like our defense is going to be our strongest point," said Thomason. "We have Flores and Buxkemper up the middle and Cardona, Chaffin and Steve Cisneros as good defensive backs," he said.

Thomason described the offense as "Still a little rough." He said they are still looking for the right combination - the best player for each position.

From the Thursday scrimmage, Thomason noted that the weakest part of their game at that time was pass protection. "We just didn't give our quarterback enough time to pass."

Southland is now playing eight-man football, but due to UIL rule changes will switch to six-man next year. "Six-man football is an entirely different game," said Thomason. "There's really nothing we can do to prepare for it this year. It will be a total change." Thomason did say the junior high would play six-man this season.

First Game

Southland's first test will be a game at Wellman Sept. 5. The rest of the season schedule is as follows: Borden County, home, Sept.

12; Klondike, away, Sept. 19; Dawson, home, Sept. 26; Loop, away, Oct. 3; Fort Davis, away, Oct. 10; Whitarral, away, Oct. 17; Patton Springs, home, Oct. 24; Smyer, home, Oct. 31; and Grady, there, Nov. 7.

Homecoming has been set for the Patton Springs game, Oct. 24.

Thomason deemed Smyer as the toughest opponent for the Eagles. "They're big," said one team member, "and they're always hard to beat."

Thomason comes to Southland from North Side in Vernon, where he was basketball coach and assistant football coach. This is his second year to coach football and his fifth for basketball. He also teaches history.

Hahn was at Quail last year where he was junior high basketball coach. This is his first year to coach football and his second for basketball. Coach Hahn also teaches science.

EASY CHEESE SAUCE

Many homemakers have learned that real mayonnaise is a good ingredient for making hot sauces and casseroles. Here's a new twist on making ham rolls with tender crisp leaves of spinach and fast cheese sauce which cooks over low heat in just 5 minutes.

To make the ham rolls, allow 2 thin slices cooked ham for each serving. Roll 2 pieces spinach in each slice of ham. Serve with hot cheese sauce. Use Cheddar, plain American, Parmesan, Gruyere or crumbled blue cheese.

QUICK AND EASY CHEESE SAUCE

1/2 cup Hellmann's or Best Foods real mayonnaise
1/2 cup milk
1/2 cup shredded cheese

In a small saucepan, stir together real mayonnaise, milk and cheese. Heat over medium-low heat about 5 minutes or until heated. Serve over hot cooked vegetables, ham and vegetable dishes or fish. Makes about 1 cup.

TWELVE MONTHS TO MAKE A TELETHON

Every year when the Jerry Lewis Labor Day Telethon Against Muscular Dystrophy goes off the air after 21 1/2 long, entertaining hours, everyone goes home exhausted, collapses and forgets about it until it's time for the next one, right? Wrong!

Before Jerry Lewis, or producer Arthur Forrest, or anyone on the production staff has time to sleep, meetings are called at the Hotel Sahara in Las Vegas, and at stations across the country to analyze what elements worked most effectively and what didn't. Then, the following day, still more meetings take place for in-depth analysis of the show.

Then about three months before the next Telethon, the operation goes into high gear. Volunteers sign up for phone duty and to organize transportation for those who are appearing on hourly 10-minute segments of the super-show aired by local Telethon affiliates.

For the national Telethon, staged in Las Vegas, the talent coordinators intensify their efforts to book celebrities, arrange for transportation and lodging, and work with the producer to schedule appearances during the 21 1/2 hour show.

All across the country more than a thousand people participate in the planning stages of the Telethon. On Labor Day, the number of people involved in the Telethon at its more than 190 stations and at the origination in Las Vegas adds up to tens of thousands. And they all have the time of their lives, helping others!

later our parsonage was built where the grape arbor was. Our Ladies Aid, now called the Christian Women's Fellowship, has never since been disbanded. We did all kinds of things to earn money. We sold names on a calendar, for one thing. And we used the store where Browning-Marriott is now and every Saturday we made and sold hamburgers, cakes, and pies.

Finally we started our church building. Every man in the church helped dig the basement. It was so long before we got the ground floor building built that we were called "the groundhog church!" The basement floor was dirt for a long time after we started meeting in it. We had a wooden platform for the piano and the rostrum. One time after finishing a hymn, one of our men missed the stepdown and fell. He said it was high time we got a floor, so he started building a floor, and others helped."

THIS FOWL IS FAIR

A barbecue recipe on which you can stake your reputation as a cook, this turkey has a saucy dressing that makes it taste better than you probably thought a bird could be.

BARBECUED TURKEY STEAKS

Have the meat man electric-saw a large frozen turkey crosswise into 1 inch slices. Cut large center slices in half for the grill; remove and reserve gizzards and bony ends for other uses. Brush the frozen steaks with Barbecue Sauce (below) and thaw at room temperature. Grill 5-6 inches from the coals, about 20 minutes in all, until cooked through. Turn and baste often with the barbecue sauce.

BARBECUE SAUCE

- 1/2 cup oil
 - 1/2 cup Bourbon
 - 1 onion, sliced
 - 2 cloves garlic, mashed
 - 1 teaspoon crushed black peppercorns
 - 1 teaspoon salt
 - 1 tablespoon vinegar
- Blend well, use to marinate and broil turkey steaks. Makes about 1-1/4 cups.

WHAT YOU SHOULD KNOW ABOUT ULCERS

Ulcers, the badge of many a successful business executive, is worn by more people than you would think. Approximately 5 percent of the American population has an ulcer at some time during their lives... and it is not limited to the battleground of the business world. Anyone — housewife, student, truck driver — may have one. Even small children have been known to develop them.

Just what causes them is not definitely known, but doctors believe that severe mental and nervous strain causes a disturbance of the nerves that control the blood supply to the stomach lining, thus weakening it and permitting the juices to attack it.

Ulcers are formed when the gastric juices attack the weakened lining. When there is no food in the stomach, juices act on the lining as if it were food and digest it.

Pain is the outstanding symptom of an ulcer. It causes a burning, gnawing or aching sensation in the pit of the stomach, just below the breastbone. There is no one treatment for ulcers because the disease varies in different people. The most important thing is to seek treatment early while the ulcer is mild. Under proper treatment, which includes rest, diet, and medicines, the pain of ulcers can be relieved in about 10 days, but it takes several weeks for the sores to heal.

Ulcers are usually controlled by special diets prescribed by a physician. Even aspirin, long considered safe and harmless, may act as a severe gastric irritant to patients with a peptic ulcer, many of whom are intolerant in varying degrees to aspirin. In these cases an effective alternative to aspirin such as Tylenol® analgesic tablets can be used.

It is very important to follow the physician's orders, for an ulcer that is not properly treated can lead to more serious trouble. Special treatment in the hospital, sometimes including surgery, may be necessary to reorganize his life to avoid emotional stress, worry and overfatigue. He must also respect hunger pains, making sure that he takes food immediately whenever these begin.

Even after the ulcer is healed, physicians recommend some restrictions in diet and way of life, because improper eating and living may result in another ulcer.

HOW OUR TRUCKS HELP US

Every store in town is stocked with merchandise brought by truck, rolling by day and night to see that the products we want are handy when we want them.

economy: increasing operational efficiency to the maximum under existing laws; constantly improving safety; and maintaining round-the-clock schedules.

Trucks get the call because they can go anywhere there's a road. Unlike boats, trains, or planes, trucks have no physical limitations on where they can haul goods. The most remote spot in America can be reached by truck.

The hand tools like those above are made handy by trucks like those below.

Without the economical, reliable transportation supplied by trucks, most goods would be available only in the areas where they were produced. What would be the purpose of mass producing a product, if there were no way to move it profitably into the market place?

The trucking industry is an important part of the good life in our country. Their record isn't perfect. No one's is. But they're working 24 hours a day to improve it.

NEWS OF FLYING

FLIGHT FACTS

Did you know that: Flying isn't just for the young. Although the largest number is in the 25-29 year old bracket, nearly 20 percent of the private pilots qualified for their licenses after age 40. About 15,000 private pilots are over 60 years old.

Flying isn't just for the rich. Sixty percent of today's private pilots earn less than $20,000 a year.

The cost of learning to fly is about equivalent to a winter's skiing or country club dues, according to Piper Aircraft Corp.

A small Piper single engine airplane travels two to three times the speed of the family automobile and at 14 to 18 miles per gallon.

Around 30,000 women now hold private pilot licenses.

It takes a minimum of 40 hours—20 with instructor and 20 solo—to qualify for a private pilot's license.

Small airplanes are used more for business purposes than for personal recreation.

Approximately the same number of people travel by small airplane each year as ride the commercially scheduled airlines.

BRICK-IN-THE-TOILET-TANK USELESS

If you have a brick in your toilet tank with the idea of saving water with each flush, better take it out and start building a patio or fence with it.

The idea of placing a brick in a toilet tank to conserve water is "ridiculous," says Fred E. Schmuck, former chairman of the board of the Association of Industry Manufacturers (Plumbing-Cooling-Heating-Piping).

Schmuck is vice president of Fluidmaster, Inc., a California-based manufacturer of adjustable toilet ballcocks, so you might say he's got an ax to grind because ballcocks regulate water level in the tank.

But he's knowledgeable about plumbing, and puts his money where his mouth is, backing his claim with statistics.

Schmuck's statement is in response to municipal buying and distribution of bricks. Cities such as Cherry Hill, New Jersey, for example, have purchased 34,000 bricks in the hope of saving 34 million gallons of water annually.

"The brick in the tank plan is a pure case of environmental emotionalism," says Schmuck, "with well-meaning citizens oversimplifying a problem, wasting their time and money and passing the useless program on to other communities."

"The brick-in-tank theory ignores the actual operation of the tank. When the toilet is flushed, the tank ball or stopper reseats and stops the flushing action with two or three inches of water remaining. This water will keep a horizontally placed brick continuously submerged, and will cover more than 30 percent of a vertically placed brick.

"In order to displace water which actually flushes, any object placed in the tank must be above the minimum drainage level. Thus, the horizontally placed brick will do no good at all, and savings from the vertically placed brick is greatly reduced. "A tall, weighed (filled with water) plastic bottle left standing in the tank will conserve far more water," notes Schmuck. Better still is lowering the upper water level an inch or two by bending the float ball downward, or by installing an adjustable ballcock.

"Lowering the water level by two inches — and in our tests this has not adversely affected the flush — results in more than five times the water savings than that of a vertically placed brick. More than 20 gallons per day for the average family. And this is at no cost to cities for the purchase and distribution of bricks."

According to Schmuck, "more water is lost by people warming showers with both cold and hot taps on than can be saved with a brick. A leaky toilet tank or faucet will lose more water than this. And running a half loaded dishwasher can easily waste as much as 30 gallons per day."

"No gimmick can beat an educational program promoting water thrift. And unfortunately, the 'brick-in-the-toilet-tank' plan is one of the more wasteful and least effective efforts," concludes Schmuck.

New rates for long distance calls within Texas.

With Discount Periods and a new One-Minute Rate, you may be able to save money.

Rates for Long Distance calls within Texas have just changed.

For you—the telephone customer—it means most rates are going up.

But you may be surprised to learn that rate changes won't necessarily bring higher telephone bills.

Because with our new discount for dialing your own calls, you can better control your Long Distance costs.

In some cases, you may be able to save money on your Long Distance bill by taking advantage of these rates.

For example, there's a new one-minute rate on all calls that you dial yourself—without the operator's help.

Under the old rate, the initial rate period was for three minutes. Now on One-Plus dialed calls the initial rate period is one minute.

That means you can save by reducing the length of your call.

Nights and Weekends there will be a 40 percent discount.

So, if you call later in the day or night, or on weekends, you're going to get the lowest rates possible.

But if you place calls through an operator, rates for these Zero-Plus calls will be higher, at any time—night or day. These include calls from a coin phone, collect, credit card and calls billed to a third number.

The initial rate period of three minutes will continue for these and other operator-assisted calls.

And, person-to-person calls will cost more than any other type call.

Wilson Board Has Meeting

The Board of Education of the Wilson Independent School considered a lengthy agenda during their Aug. 19 meeting, voting on 13 items.

One of the major actions taken by the board was setting the tax rate. Members voted to set local maintenance at $1.40 and interest and sinking at 39 cents, for a total tax rate of $1.79 for the 75-76 school tax year.

Also in the area of taxes, the board voted to stop the practice of discounting taxes for early payment for the 75-76 school year. The delinquent tax roll was approved by the board and it was voted to mail 1975 tax statements in Sept.

In other action, the board accepted the resignation of Mrs. Zell Dickerson and of Mrs. Kay Ella Bruedigam. They also voted to employ Mrs. Sara Elaine Seagler at $200 above the state schedule as a teacher in the junior high, subject to assignment.

The board also voted to use only certified people as substitute teachers, to accept the Wilson Oil Company bid for gasoline, to purchase liability insurance for the Board from Jim Strange and Associates for the coming school year, to construct a sidewalk from the band hall to the gym, and to approve the amended budget as presented.

ACCENT ON HEALTH

Nursing home residents in parts of East Texas are the beneficiaries of a new program that has been developed by the Division of Dental Health of Texas Public Health Region 7. The goal of the program is to help nursing home residents improve and maintain their oral health.

According to Dr. Lloyd Cole, Director of Dental Health for the Tyler-based Public Health Region, the program consists of two 2-hour training sessions for nurses and nurses' aides. The training begins with a basic introduction to oral hygiene, including instruction in caring for one's own teeth. Films and other audiovisual aids are used to dramatize the importance of good preventive dental health practices.

Next, the nursing home attendants are carefully taught the most effective procedures for cleaning patients' teeth and gums. Dr. Cole says that many nursing home residents are able to care for their own dental health, once they have been given some instruction and assistance. Other patients, however, need a good deal of personal attention and help: they may be bedfast, chronically ill, or, in some cases, not fully conscious.

Futhermore, the great majority of nursing home patients suffer from the effects of many years of what Dr. Cole calls "dental neglect." Those patients who still have their natural teeth often have numerous cavities and gum disease that ranges from mild to severe. Even patients who wear dentures are subject to dental problems, including gum disease and mouth sores caused by dentures that don't fit well or that aren't cleaned regularly and properly.

There is no legal requirement in Texas for nursing homes to provide dental care to their residents. Thus, most nursing home patients must rely on their own personal dentists, and, unfortunately, this means that dental care is minimal—particularly for the bedfast and immobilized resident. Public health agencies are hard-pressed to find the funds and the manpower to meet this special need.

A few of the larger city dental health programs do provide limited dental care for nursing home residents and other elderly citizens, but there have been no funds available in the past to provide this service on a statewide basis. Earlier this year, the Texas Department of Health Resources began a limited program funded through the Title XIX Medicaid program, under contract with the Texas Department of Public Welfare. This program enables older Texans who are eligible for welfare assistance to have dentures made and properly fitted by private dentists.

Meanwhile, however, programs like the one developed in Public Health Region 7 can help to fill the gap. A number of studies have shown conclusively that simple oral hygiene procedures, practiced regularly on a daily basis, can prevent the majority of dental diseases.

Dental health is especially important for the older person, whether or not he is a nursing home resident. According to nursing home personnel, nutrition is the most common problem among older people. Poor diet can be linked to many life-threatening diseases. For an older person, already weakened by illness and the infirmities associated with age, maintaining an adequate diet can be a real struggle. Bad teeth and sore gums certainly don't help.

Furthermore, dental diseases can lead directly to other illnesses. Tooth decay and gum disease are both caused by bacteria; if these bacteria are allowed to gain an upper hand, infections can spread through the digestive system and into the rest of the body.

That's why the dental health program for nursing home residents is so important. Unfortunately, Dr.

Cole says that he doesn't know how long it will take to train the attendants in each of the 150 or so nursing homes throughout the 36-county Public Health Region. In most cases, the two training sessions are conducted by a dental hygienist or a community service aide on two consecutive days; the training is followed by three or four follow-up meetings, spaced about three weeks apart. Whenever possible, Dr. Cole says, each nursing home will be visited by the dental health personnel at least once every six months thereafter, to help deal with any special problems that may have arisen. But there are at present only two members of the Public Health Region staff who are working on this program.

Texas Taxes

By BOB BULLOCK, State Comptroller

Austin—When someone owes $10,000 in delinquent sales taxes, you can be sure it's no Mom-and-Pop operation.

Delinquent taxes of $10,000 represents $200,000 in total taxable retail sales. While $200,000 in sales doesn't make one a business giant, it's plenty big enough to expect the business to be run properly, its book kept in order and its taxes paid.

I point this out to emphasize that in our current crackdown on delinquents we are not picking on "the little guys." The figures speak for themselves.

Between May 7 and August 15 we shut down 31 retail operations whose sales tax delinquencies totaled $1.1 million. That represents $22 million in total taxable sales—or an average of $710,000 in sales each. This is not small potatoes.

Look at some of the individual cases which go into making that average: a San Antonio liquor dealer owed more than $400,000 in delinquent taxes and had inventories on hand worth twice that. A Waco appliance dealer owed $112,000, a Dallas concrete firm $91,202, a Houston area pharmacy chain $64,000 and an Austin tire dealer $47,000.

By the same token, we did shut down some "small" operations who owed less than $10,000 and I don't apologize or feel any need to explain. It is very simple that if a delinquent owed, say, $1,500 last year and didn't do anything about it, he will owe probably $2,500 this year—and if left alone will owe $3,000 or $3,500 a year from now.

This is your money, whether it's $100 or $10,000. To let it "ride" only means that many more of your dimes and quarters and dollars are going into pockets where they don't belong.

We will bring into the state and city treasuries the $1.1 million owed by the 31 places we have visited—one way or another.

Since sales tax comes from the pockets, there is for delinquencies, there are delinquents no excuse for something about it.

Accent on Health

J.E. PEAVY, M.D., Commissioner of Health

It's that time of year again when parents should attempt to "safety proof" their youngsters—many of whom are entering school for the first time. Whether walking, riding in a bus or car, or bicycling to school, plans should be made to ensure the safety of every child, reminds the Texas Department of Health Resources.

Darting across streets without looking, crossing at mid-block from between parked cars, and doing bicycle tricks in traffic are just a few of the pitfalls that should be avoided, advises the Health Resources Department.

Parents can caution their children about all careless practices, and they also can show them. If your child is starting to school—or going to a new school—it's a good idea to make the trip at least once with the child. If he will be pedaling to and from school every day—often in inclement weather—you'll want to be doubly sure that your child is observing safety rules. If you're a motorist in the vicinity of schools, be especially wary, says the Health Resources Department.

What are the trouble spots for bicyclists and motorists? Collisions between motor vehicles and bicycles occurs about as follows: Well over half at intersections. Seven out of ten during daylight hours. Most bicycle riders killed or injured in traffic accidents were violating a traffic law at the time of the incident.

Half of the motor vehicle-bicycle accidents involved a violation on the part of the motor vehicle operator. One out of five bicycles involved in accidents had some mechanical defect. Some of the most common traffic violations of bicyclists are (not in order of frequency): Failure to yield right-of-way. (In most cases, the bicyclists did not "see" the car; in some cases he intentionally infringed on the motorist's right-of-way.) Riding in the center of the street. Speed too fast for conditions of traffic and road surface. Disregard of traffic control devices—signal lights and stop signs. Improper use of lights. To avoid such as just described, some safety tips for bicyclists: A skillful bicyclist always has his control. He never fast and he never far. He always hands free to signal. The cyclist must skill in balancing and ing to avoid traffic, hitting object, running sidewalk or bike lane. Parents have the duty to be certain the child has the skill to cope before permitting ride on the street. Every bicyclist should be familiar with laws governing his community, in which he is riding, are usual through the school police. Cyclists must ride on the right side of the road, the flow of traffic, the left, facing traffic. Hand signals used by the cyclist now commonly used for a safe riding practice. Cyclists should avoid crowding between stop signs, or automobile and bicycle. Carrying more than a designed load is dangerous. Two on a bicycle stopping distance or "banana" equipment on bike, appears to carry two. Such case! Never hold a vehicle near attach to the vehicle. Always ride. Trick riding dangerous.
