Wrecks Top Slaton Police Report List

Seven traffic accidents — five of them last Friday — topped the list of police investigations in Slaton during the last week. Another bomb threat, burglaries and vandalism also were on record.

Wrecks last Friday included:

A 1974 Ford truck driven by Albert Jerold Sumner of Lubbock and a 1974 Dodge driven by Nola Pearl Bennett of Lorraine, colliding at U.S. 84 bypass and Woodrow Rd.

A 1975 Ford driven by Kathleen H. Shockley of 810 S. 15th and a 1969 Chevrolet driven by Helen Robison Jones, 735 S. 15th, colliding in the 700-block of 15th.

A 1971 Ford driven by Danele Garcia, 320 W. Lynn, striking and killing a Hereford calf on FM 41 west of U.S. 84.

A 1970 Chevrolet driven by Ray Pequeno Jr., 915 S.

7th, and a 1973 Chevrolet pickup driven by Donnie Ray Walton, 555 W. Crosby, colliding in the 100-block of N. 9th.

Last Thursday on 20th near Division a 1969 Chevrolet driven by Norma Shue Pike, 905 S. 18th, and a 1973 Plymouth driven by Alice J. Cook, 950 S. 20th, were involved in a collision.

And on 19th near Division Monday, a 1972 Chevrolet driven by Cruz Aguirre Rodriguez, 120 W. Edwards, and a 1975 Pontiac driven by Marilyn Wolf Wade, 1515 W. Lynn, collided.

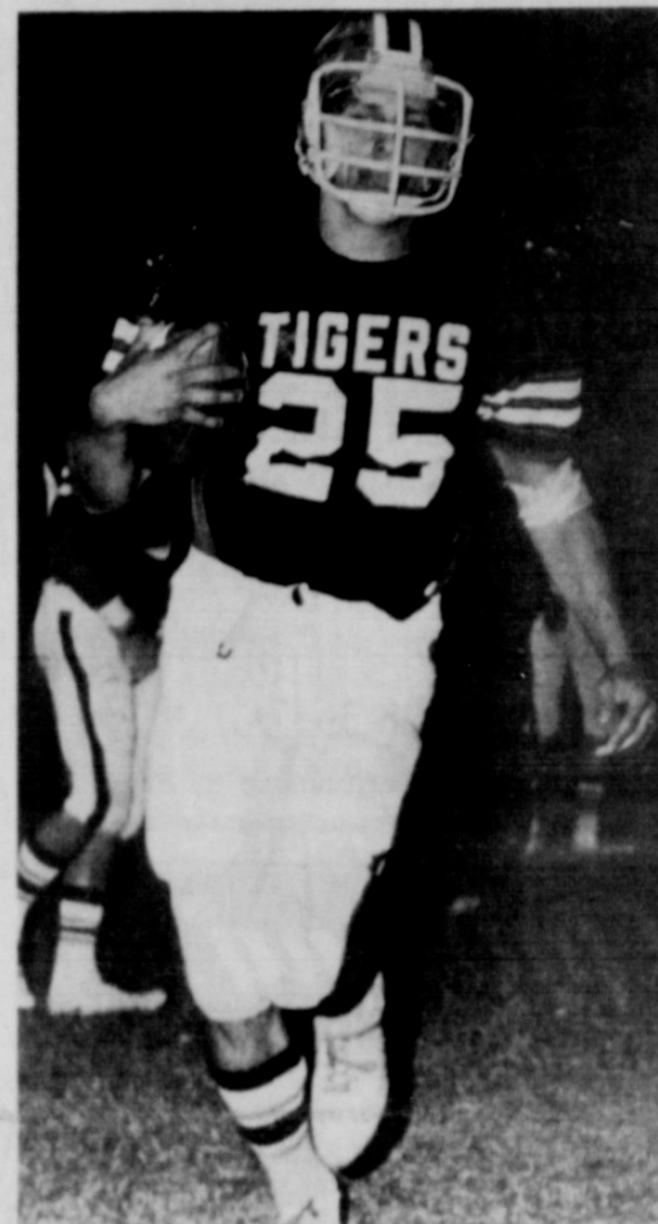

The residence of Josie Villareal, 142 Texas, was burglarized according to a report filed Sunday. Missing were a 21-inch Zenith TV set, 10 8-track tapes and 24 records. Total value of the missing items was set at $314.

The apartment of Joe

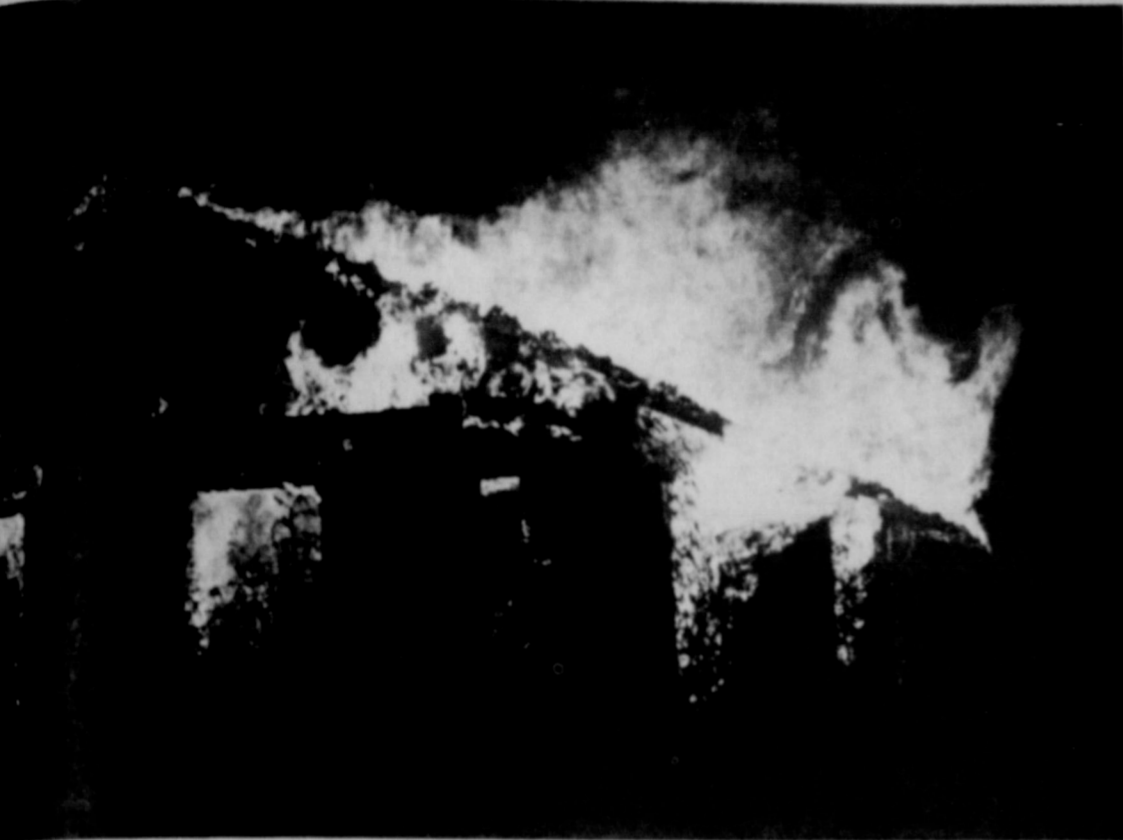

Arellano, 315-A E. Crosby, was burglarized, he told police last Thursday. Missing were a Zenith stereo valued at $200, and an RCA radio.

Last Thursday another bomb threat was made at Slaton High School, but a search turned up nothing. A probably the state with

super-tough contest this week as they go to Post, ranked in the top 10 Class AA teams in the state. The Antelopes are unbeaten in four games, and the game is homecoming for Post.

Unless the Tigers suffer a letdown after a tremendous effort against DC, they will give the Post team a busy evening, however.

Despite losing four out of five games so far, Slaton has scored just four points less than the opposition (55-59), and lost its games by 1, 8, 5 and 4 points.

Passes Caught

Gary Aycock caught three passes, Darrell Bednarz four and Tim Bourn caught one Friday as Slaton's hitherto inept passing attack suddenly began working, with Quarterback Mike Tumlinson hitting the mark accurately and the receivers suddenly hanging onto the ball.

The Tiger defense, led by middle linebacker John T. Basinger, did a great job on the bigger DC team, and tackled viciously during the game. Tumlinson was sacked three times trying to pass, but for the most part the offensive line did well in holding out or moving out the giant Mustangs.

There were a half dozen places where Slaton could have won the game if something different had happened, rather than what did happen. If the Tigers had not lost five fumbles—especially one right at the DC goal line in the third period—or if Slaton had not drawn a 15-yard penalty which kept DC's touchdown drive going when it appeared stopped. Or several other "ifs" which did not materialize. But no amount of moaning over missed opportunities puts any points on the board, nor does the fact that Slaton had the edge in statistics. Despite the disappointing outcome, it was a great game by the Tigers, and local fans were (and are) quite proud of their youngsters.

Can't Hold It

Slaton fumbled and lost the ball the first two times the Tigers had the ball. After the first fumble, recovered by End Ricky Lehnert, the defense held DC and Kevin Munn kicked a 37-yard field goal to put the Mustangs in front 3-0 with 9:26 left in the first period.

Slaton fumbled the kickoff after the field goal and again DC recovered; this time it was Rex Avara. Quarterback Jackie Bailey hit Lehnert with a 5-yard pass, but Slaton held again, and this time a field goal effort, from the 33, was no good, and Slaton took the ball on the 20. McClesky ran for 11 yards, then lost 7 on a bad pitchout. Slaton was held, and Tumlinson punted 38 yards, with John T. covering well downfield to halt the return at the Mustang 40.

Denver City's Jeff Ham broke through the line to go for an apparent touchdown on a 57-yard run, but a clipping penalty brought the ball back to the Slaton 36. After an incomplete pass and a 2-yard loss, DC tried another pass, which bounced off the receiver and was intercepted by Steve Wood, who ran it back about 20 yards to the Slaton 41.

Big Slaton Gain

Tumlinson then found slotback Aycock on a 28-yard pass to the Mustang 32. McClesky ran 10, then Aycock 3 to a first down at the DC 19. A pass was incomplete, and McClesky on two runs moved it on down to the 12. But on fourth and 3, McClesky was stopped for no gain and the Mustangs took over. Loran Roberts, Arlie Limmer and John T. led defensive line charges that forced a DC punt just as the quarter ended, with Slaton on the wrong end of a 15-yard penalty as the punt was received.

Starting the second, Avera recovered an Aycock fumble at the Slaton 37, and the Mustangs ran on down to the Slaton 13 before Roberts recovered a fumble for Slaton. Slaton moved downfield, but was held, and Tumlinson boomed a punt 60 yards and dead on the DC 3. The defense held, and the Mustangs punted out to the DC 37. Tumlinson hit Bourn on a big 31-yard strike to the 5, and three plays later, Tumlinson tried a sneak from less than a foot away, bounced off the middle of the line and just fell over the goal line to score with 1:48 left. Roberts' PAT attempt was just wide to the right, and it was 6-3 Slaton at halftime.

Police Department Begins Operation Identification

Police Chief Larry Williams announced the beginning of a year-long crime prevention program today with the kick-off of Operation Identification, a property marking program designed to thwart burglars and help the Slaton Police Department return stolen property.

"Crime prevention is a vital part of law enforcement," Chief Williams said. "If we can stop some of the crimes before they happen, not only will we have a safer community, but also we'll be saving some tax dollars, since the money that would be spent to handle the increased case load of the country's rising crime rate would be channeled to more productive areas."

Operation Identification is the first project in the crime prevention public information and education program starting today here as well as Lubbock County Sheriff's Office and Lubbock Police Department. These two agencies are assisting with the initiation of the program.

The project's objective is to make individuals more aware of steps they can take as private citizens to arrest the growth of crime. The primary target of this year's activities is burglary.

The regional crime prevention program is funded by the Criminal Justice Division of the Governor's office with federal funds from the Law Enforcement Assistants Administration. Partially matching the local funds also support the project.

Crime prevention is a relatively new concept for law enforcement whose duties have previously been involved with crime "after-the-fact." This project, however, concerns itself with the preventive aspects of crime control and seeks to enlist public participation which is vital to its success.

Operation Identification is aimed at marking property with an easily-traced identification number and is only one portion of the overall crime prevention effort. Once an article is marked—usually with the owner's driver's license number—it carries his "brand" and is, therefore, more difficult for a thief to resell and easier for the owner and law enforcement officers to positively identify if recovered. The return of stolen property marked in Operation Identification is made easier.

Buck Luttrell, crime prevention specialist for PBRPC, will work with the participating law enforcement agencies in implementing their crime prevention program. Luttrell is a graduate of the Texas Crime Prevention Institute.

"We recognize that existing law enforcement forces would be completely inadequate to handle the total burden of a crime prevention in addition to their current activities, and that the responsibility for crime prevention, as well as crime control, is with the public," said Chief Williams.

"Therefore, our first responsibility is to let the public know what they can do to prevent crime, using whatever means we can—media, speeches, brochures, and person-person contacts. The first phase of the program is designed to enlist the support, understanding and participation of citizens," Chief Williams added.

During the year the participating police and sheriff's departments will try to reach as many people as possible. "Public awareness of the fact that there is a problem is the crux of the matter," Chief Williams said. "The more the public knows of the crime problem and steps it can take to prevent it from ever occurring, the less trouble we are all going to have with crime."

Information on Operation Identification is available through participating law enforcement departments.

DPS To Open Drivers License Office Here

Justice of the Peace Arvin Stafford announced this week that a Drivers License Office will be opened in Slaton next month.

The Department of Public Safety will operate the office each Wednesday from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. in the Corporation Court Room of City Hall.

According to Stafford, renewals and the issuance of licenses will be carried out.

The office, due to open Nov. 5, will be a great convenience to Slaton and area residents who previously had to make a trip to Lubbock just for an address change or renewal.

The Drivers License Office in Lubbock is now open until 6:30 p.m. on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday.

GUARD AGAINST THEFT—Slaton Patrolman Mike Whitley is using an engraving pencil to mark Mayor John Landreth's TV set with his driver's license number. Police Chief Larry Williams, right, looks on. The engraving pencils are available at the Police Department and may be checked out to citizens wishing to mark their possessions as part of the Operation Identification program. (SLATONITE PHOTO) not quite sure just what the Lubbock-Journal is trying to prove with stories on the failure of the police to solve the brutal murder of a school wife, Deborah Williamson. The paper far out in many crime cases in the couple of years, perhaps with more the motive of seeing justice done. If any of the murders are solved, the newspaper would like to contribute to the solving of any cases they keep writing about. But one impression that the A-J goes too far to tell the police how to run their department, and may even have hampered investigation in some cases. We're wrong in such speculation, we really don't know the background stories of any of the cases. But we are weary of reading about a case that is happening.

During the year the participating police and sheriff's departments will try to reach as many people as possible. "Public awareness of the fact that there is a problem is the crux of the matter," Chief Williams said. "The more the public knows of the crime problem and steps it can take to prevent it from ever occurring, the less trouble we are all going to have with crime."

Information on Operation Identification is available through participating law enforcement departments.

An educational and recreational fringe benefit of membership, the camp is partially free, in all cases, to junior members of the fraternal order, and by recruiting two new members, adult or junior, for a lodge in a current membership campaign, the junior Hermann Sons may further cut the cost of the camp down to as little as $5 for the week.

Gordon Claims Top Prize

With 125 entries trying for the top money in the weekly football guessing game in the Slatonite, a youngster who just turned 12 Saturday (the minimum age for a contestant) won first prize of $10. Robert Gordon, 850 S. 11th, missed only three games.

Eight contestants missed just four, but the tie-breaker scores of Quinton Farley (18) of 350 N. 20th and Darrel Bednarz (24) of 915 S. 21st earned them second and third place.

Dalton Wood did better than any of the other four Gutter Guessers this week, missing just 3 of the 13 games, and moving from third into second, swapping places with Bill Ball, who did lousy. Ball missed eight, and Joe Sparkman barely stayed in first place after missing seven. Pete Williams missed only four, and stays in fourth, but just one game behind Ball, who is making his move toward the cellar. Right now, J. W. Holt is still in the cellar, having missed six last week.

Farm Bureau Urges Letters

Lubbock County Farm Bureau President Andrew Kitten of Slaton said farmers and ranchers in the county are being urged to write President Ford requesting that the ban on grain sales to Russia and Eastern Europe be called off.

Letters should be addressed to President Gerald R. Ford, Washington, D. C. 20500 or to Honorable Henry A. Kissinger, Secretary of State, Washington, D.C., 20500.

The national affairs committee, headed by Carrol Chaloupka of Dalhart, is contacting Farm Bureau members in this letter writing campaign, the local farm leader said.

"Both farmers and live-stockmen have a lot at stake in this issue," the county FB president said. "The principle of free access to markets is involved. It was beef being boycotted two years ago. Today it's grain being banned and threatened with boycotts."

In his own letter to President Ford, Kitten said that labor union leaders should not be permitted to dictate when and where farmers and ranchers can sell their products and at what price.

He reminded the President that farmers had been promised access to world markets when they planted this year's crop of grain.

Kitten told the President that export restrictions damage the reputation of the United States as a reliable supplier of farm products.

Kitten said there is a danger that government-to-government trading will destroy the market system upon which farmers and ranchers rely for their livelihood.

The Speaker Reports by Bill Clayton Texas House of Representatives

October 7, 1975

The proposed new state constitution has cost more than $4.5 million and has been two and one-half years in arriving. Now there is but one last hurdle.

You, the voters of Texas, will have the final say November 4 as to whether the time and money spent to streamline the present 100-year-old document was worthwhile or in vain. I believe the new document will give our state the tools it needs to carry on government efficiently. But, I urge you to study the changes carefully and then decide for yourself.

When you vote remember that the efficient administration of Texas government hinges directly on the quality of the state's constitution. Whether you are concerned about taxes, education or the administration of our government, there are changes in the proposed charter which will interest you.

I have outlined here changes which you will want to note.

Legislative Article—Annual sessions would replace biennial sessions. In odd-numbered years the legislature would meet 140 days and 90 days in even-numbered years.

Although already provided by law, the revised article requires all state legislators to be elected from single-member districts.

It provides for a compensation commission to recommend salaries and allowances for members. Under present law, changes in legislators' salaries must be approved by a majority of state voters.

Executive Article—The governor would be granted new powers, making him a more effective chief executive. It would allow him to appoint chairmen of all state agencies and gives him the authority to remove those appointees for stated reasons. A majority of the membership of the Senate could reject such removals.

The revised article establishes an executive department within the executive branch, consisting of the governor, other elected state officials, appointed secretary of state and others as designated by law. Through this system, agencies in the executive branch are made more accountable to the governor.

To allow the governor to become better informed before entering office, funds would be appropriated and he could require reports from state agencies.

All terms for gubernatorial appointees expire between February 1 and May 1 of odd-numbered years. This would allow an incoming governor to make appointments to major state agencies immediately.

Periodic legislative review of state agencies is required and most state agencies would self-destruct in 10-years unless renewed by the legislature.

The governor is required to submit a budget, although the legislature may elect not to use it. The new charter allows the legislature to grant added fiscal authority to the governor by statute.

Judiciary—Most prominent change is the establishment of a unified judicial system consisting of a supreme court, courts of appeal, district courts and circuit courts. The judges of the Court of Criminal Appeals becomes judges of the new Supreme Court, which have both civil and criminal appellate jurisdiction. There is a limited right of appeal in criminal cases by the State in the revised version.

Voting and Elections Article—A citizen of the United States who is at least 18-years-old and meets residency requirements can vote unless that person has been convicted of a felony and is incarcerated or on probation for that felony.

The legislature may provide by law for additional limitations on voting by those convicted of a felony. Property ownership can be a qualification for voting in property tax or tax bond elections.

Education Article—Major change in the article would guarantee each student equal educational opportunities. The legislature began to address this problem with a $653.3 million school finance bill. Fifty million dollars of that appropriation went into equalization aid to poor school districts. The proposed constitution continues the general policy of equalization but would allow for local enrichment.

State ad valorem tax of ten cents of the $100 valuation is retained for the benefit of state colleges and universities outside the University of Texas and Texas A&M systems. Both UT and A&M continue to draw from the permanent and available university funds along with all the colleges in their respective systems.

Finance Article—State property taxes are prohibited after 1977, except for the ten cent higher education tax and the two-cent tax for state building.

Uniform standards and procedures for appraising property and ad valorem taxes are required, and each county must have a single appraisal of property within its boundaries.

Separate formulas are established for appraising farm, ranch and timber lands.

Other provisions allow property tax exemptions for persons 65 or older, and for veterans organizations, non-profit water corporations and persons in need because of disability or economic circumstance if the Legislature elects.

There are also revisions requiring a two-thirds vote for the legislature and a majority vote of the voters to approve a state debt. It closes the loopholes in the present pay-as-you-go provision.

Local Government Article—The revisions are far-reaching and allows county voters to create additional offices, combine duties and functions of offices or eliminate offices. Voters may also grant ordinance-making powers to the governing body of the county. The citizens can shape the type of County Government they desire.

General Provisions Article—Among items detailed are provisions for requiring the quality of the environment to be protected. It establishes a goal of access to comprehensive health care for all Texans.

Mode of Amending the Constitution—Present provisions remain intact except for additions which require that the question on whether to call a constitutional convention be put to a vote every 30 years.

I think that after reviewing the changes you will find the proposed charter is not as controversial as many might have thought. The pockets of opposition appear to be centered around special interest groups. This document will be a constitution for every Texan—from Texarkana to El Paso and from Orange to Dumas.

Pirates Improved In Losing Effort

BY BILL AYRES
COOPER S.I.D.

The Cooper Pirates played their best game of the season Friday night against the Post Antelopes, despite the fact the Pirates lost 29-8.

The Pirate defense proved they had put it together by holding the Antelopes to one first down and very little yardage during the entire first quarter. The Pirate offense showed that they could move the ball on the ground as well as in the air. However, the Post defense kept a tight hold on the Pirates, never allowing them to break loose for long yardage. The two teams spent the entire quarter knocking each other around only to have the quarter end with the score 0-0.

The second quarter was dominated entirely by the Antelopes. The first score for the Antelopes came early in the quarter when Fullback Perry Baker carried the ball on an end sweep from three yards out for the score. The kick for the extra point by Halfback Garland Dudley was fumbled putting the first 6 points on the board.

Post Scores Again
A little more than two minutes later, the second Antelope score came on a quarterback keeper. Bryan Davis kept the ball, came around the end and dashed 32 yards for the score. Davis then threw a pass to Matt Allison for the two-point conversion and the Antelopes led the Pirates, 14-0. With 2:19 remaining in the quarter, Davis again kept the ball, dashed around the right end and ran 30 yards downfield for the score. The kick by Dudley was good, putting the Antelopes ahead 21-0 as the half ended.

The third quarter was a repeat of the first. The defensive units of both teams proved to be a little too much for the offensive units. Each team struggled in vain to move the ball, only to have the defense stop the progress.

In the fourth quarter the Pirates appeared to be making a comeback. Quarterback Kelly Choban began to pass the ball more as well as guiding the ground attack well. However, it was the Pirate defense that set Cooper up for their only score. With 7:13 remaining in the quarter, the Antelopes fumbled a Pirate punt on the Antelope 17-yard line. A pass from Choban to Raymond Jones from 16 yards out put the Pirates on the board. Choban then hit Jones again for the two-point conversion to make the score 21-8.

Pirates Threaten
As the quarter progressed, the Pirates came close several times to scoring again, but were unable to take the ball in. Twice on fourth down situations, the Pirates tried to fake punt play, neither of which worked.

As the quarter moved into the final minutes, the Antelopes closed the door on the Pirates by adding another 8 points to the score. With 1:58 remaining in the game, Davis threw a 27-yard pass to Mike Shepherd for the score. Davis then handed off the ball to Edward Price, who took the ball in for the 2-point conversion to close the game at 29-8.

This Friday, the Pirates will travel to Denver City to face the Mustangs. Cooper will be looking for their first win, while the Mustangs will be up after their narrow win over Slaton.

TEXAS TALK

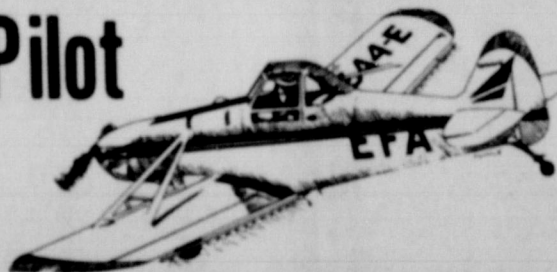

By FRED MYERS

Some of the facts were hard to find. During the uproar about the grain sale to Russia the farmer came off as the fall guy. To keep things in proper perspective let's look at facts that were hard to find in the headlines. It takes one bushel of wheat to make seventy (70) loaves of ordinary white bread. Give or take a couple depending on wheat quality and milling methods. If wheat prices increased one dollar per bushel, then it takes less than a degree in calculus to figure out the increase is less than one and a half cents per loaf. The news media has a hang up on bread being a dollar a loaf. If bread were going to be a dollar a loaf... and if that increase were to be caused by farm prices... then wheat would have to go up FORTY DOLLARS A BUSHEL. If it happens you'll have less to read since the efforts used producing this column will be diverted to plowing up the back yard... the front yard... the neighbor's yard.

PERSPECTIVES IN LEARNING

By Hazel Brown, President, Harry Lundeberg School

EDUCATION TO DEVELOP A SYSTEM OF VALUES

There is much uncertainty today about values in our changing society. Some people feel we are losing our values and that there seems to be no means of return.

The older generation tends to fear for the future of the young people. They see a world of instability and find it very difficult to adjust. The young people, however, seem to be searching for new values and are finding little support or guidance from their parents. To the schools, therefore, has fallen the mantle of teaching the acquisition of values.

The youth of today have more freedom to seek new values than any other group. They have accepted this freedom and seem to find the search for new values a form of motivation. They have so many materialistic things available to them that acquiring or accumulating wealth has little merit or reward. We see the results of their search in the many fads and tastes of this generation. One has to wonder just how much this has to do with acquiring values. Do a person's values change when he gets his hair cut or when he buys "Three Dog Night" records rather than those by Elvis Presley? Fads really have little relationship to basic values. If we can accept this premise then we can begin to teach values which are basic to all generations.

Educators and parents can help young people develop the necessary values by teaching them to have an objective and an open mind. To retain values, in spite of unique situations, a person must be taught to be flexible, adaptive and creative—always ready for the unexpected.

It isn't easy to select the values and attitudes which everyone needs to learn. There are so many different social groups and subcultures holding different values. But

We can never tell them what to value but we can help them to develop their abilities for making responsible choices in establishing their own systems of values. Hazel Brown is president of the Harry Lundeberg School in Piney Point, Md.—a maritime training center which has developed a successful vocational/academic program.

the acceptance of constant change and lack of stability has to be recognized, and learning to cope with change and to accept a certain amount of insecurity are the necessary elements for survival in this technical space age.

We should teach empathy for differences and acceptance of human rights. The respect of other people, their attitudes and beliefs, is essential. The world we live in gets smaller every year. Today's youth will be facing new ventures which we can't even imagine or project. If we can teach them the value of respect for others, then they will gain enough self-confidence to claim their own self-respect in any situation.

There are certain common denominators that are a part of a democratic society which must be accepted. These values and attitudes have to be learned if the democratic way of life is to continue and to be cherished.

We must also teach that the process of education is significant to all members of society. The values and attitudes we cherish can be continued if we teach the importance of education in solving problems and in dealing with life's situations. If our young people are taught to use their abilities effectively within the society in which they live, they will be able to examine what they believe and then establish their priorities.

BY CLARK SELF, JR.

RELAXED ELEGANCE is probably the mood and effect most homemakers strive or long for in furnishings.

It is a result that can be achieved with many different decorative styles, from Mediterranean to modern.

Large pieces, with their strongly dominant lines, are, interestingly enough, relaxing and reassuring. With their massive proportions, they are often exceptionally comfortable and functional, which adds to the relaxed mood.

Beautiful woods are also both elegant and inviting, as furniture craftsmen have known for centuries. Finely crafted details, so popular in furnishings from French Provincial to hand-carved Mediterranean pieces, draw the eye and hold it, creating a restful effect. Psychologists tell us that sitting and looking at a beautiful object is an excellent way to relax and dissolve tensions.

Materials, too, can be elegant and at the same time invite you to sit down and make yourself comfortable. Soft velvets, which have returned to popularity, are just one example.

You'll find just the right furnishings to create that elegantly relaxed mood you want in your home when you inspect our new displays. Our trained home counselors can help you coordinate your needs, your furnishings — and your budget!

on McClesky runs. The hard-running tailback then headed for the goal line, but was hit very hard about the 2. fumbled and the ever-present Avera recovered in mid-air, to be tackled on the 6.

Denver City then put together four first downs by running, but on fourth and four at the Slaton 40, Geron Stricklin and some friends of his threw the runner down hard and Slaton took over. McClesky ran 9, then Charlie Haynes made a couple and a first. McClesky then swept end for 6, behind a good block by Haynes. Tumlinson was hit very hard trying to pass, the ball shot backwards and DC recovered again, this time on the Slaton 40.

John T. (Boom Boom) Basinger really crunched Ham after a 2-yarder, then Brad Eblen and Clarence Hammons flattened DC's Richard Haynes for a 2-yard loss. DC finally was stopped again, trying for a first down on fourth.

In the fourth period a Slaton drive ran out of gas at the Mustang 40, and Tumlinson punted over the goal line at 7:20 left, with Slaton still leading 6-3. Here, Slaton drew the disastrous 15-yarder after DC appeared stopped at the Mustang 26. Then the visitors hit an 18-yard pass, a couple of short runs, then Ham broke away to get 25 yards for the killing touchdown, with just 3:27 left. Munn kicked the extra point.

Bednarz Grabs Four
Slaton was not through. Bednarz caught passes of 9, 11, 17, and 9 yards in a last-gasp drive that carried the Tigers to a first at the DC 17. Slaton hurler Tumlinson was injured, and Wood moved to quarterback. Wood threw a good strike toward Haynes at the goal line, and the Tiger halfback was hit hard by the defender in what was very close to being interference, but it went as an incompleteness that could have been the ball game for Slaton. Just as the game ended, Ham intercepted a Wood pass to assure the sick result.

McClesky again went over 100 yards, gaining 116 in 29 carries. Greg Basinger joined Roberts, Limmer, John T. and others in a good defensive effort.

John Johnson led the Slaton JVs to a 21-14 win over the Lubbock High sophomores Saturday, increasing the team's season record to 4-0.

Johnson rushed for three touchdowns on runs of 70, 50 and four yards. Edward Kitten kicked the three extra points.

Lubbock's scores came on a one yard run by Roy Bocanegra and a 50 yard sprint by Armando Guerrero.

Best Team Lost, Tiger Club Told

Approximately 30 enthusiastic Tiger fans turned up for the Monday night meeting of the Booster Club.

Prior to the viewing of the Slaton-Denver City game film, Tiger coach Ed Cook told the crowd "I just don't believe the better team won Friday night."

Cook praised the effort of the Tigers saying "We had 100 per cent effort out there. The boys worked hard and played a fine game."

Throughout the showing of the film, both Cook and coach Tommy Boyd pointed out the excellent blocking done by Charlie Haynes. "Charlie played a good game," said Cook. "He was there nearly every time we needed him."

Cook also told the Booster Club that John T. Basinger and Russell Heinrich turned in a good performance. "They had their hands full with the bigger DC players, but they kept right on them."

The Avalanche-Journal story Saturday morning said Slaton was plagued by a case of fumbleitis. Cook explained that "these fumbles didn't just happen. Most of them were caused by our man getting hit and having the ball knocked out of his hands."

The meeting ended on an optimistic note as Cook told the members "We'll play Post a good game. We can win it. I don't believe, and our boys don't believe for a minute that we're out of the district race."

Booster Club members agreed to sell bumper stickers and Tiger red and black hats at the freshman and junior varsity games tonight. Very few of the hats remain, and they sell for $3.75. Bumper stickers are $1 each.

Band Exes To Meet Here

A get together for all Tiger Band exes will follow the homecoming game with Roosevelt Oct. 17.

Band exes will meet in the band hall immediately after the game.

This year will mark Bill Townsend's 25th year as the Tiger band director.

BY DALTON WOOD

I'M WRITING THIS because something to say to the Slaton Tiger players, something which I honestly nearly every Tiger fan will agree. Well, you are a great team, and really proud of you for the hard-hitting football you have been playing.

You say you're disappointed at being discouraged and sick of playing your and still not being able to win the Well, we're disappointed, too, but not just in the way things have turned out. I'll say flatly that as long as you play you did Friday night against Denver we'll never be ashamed of you, whether you win or not.

In five games, we've lost four, by and 4 points, and despite having won the opponents have scored only 10 points than we have. Tullia and Olton of state-ranked AA teams, last Friday Dimmitt 7-0 and Abernathy respectively.

Okay, so we've been snakebit. Let about those games now, because nothing we can do is brood about what have been. If you need a slogan, let this one: "Never Look Back!" Instead look to the next five games, starting Saturday. They will be plenty tough; they're state-ranked, it's their homecoming, and undoubtedly expect to beat us by three touchdowns. I honestly think we can't there and hammer Post into the ground.

So we just thought we'd let you know still our team and we're just proud to bust over the way you've been playing just keep on and the law of averages swing things our way on the close, we'll beat the heck out of some people. Remember to look ahead—Never!

Eagles Stomp Tigers

By MICHAEL PATSCHKE

Roosevelt's Eagles, after a week's layoff, got back on the winning track in a big way last Friday, blitzing Frenship 34-0 in the district 5-AA opener for both teams.

After a 30-minute delay in the first quarter because the lights wouldn't work, RHS back Roy Sansom went right on the option and scored from 5 yards out, capping a 70-yard drive. The PAT was no good and Roosevelt led 6-0 with 5:56 left in the first.

With 9:12 left in the half, QB Roger Daniels hit End Richard Adams in the end zone from 12 yards away, and with Adams' kick, it was 13-0. Roosevelt added still another score before the half ended as Daniels hit Manuel Carter for 25 yards and a TD. Adams again kicked the point to make it 20-0.

In the third period, Sylvester Jackson went 5 yards to score. Adams kicked again, and it was 27-0.

Charles Baker went up the middle for 6 with 3:22 left in the third. Adams kicked once more and it was 34-0.

Doug Gentry had another outstanding game for Roosevelt on defense, while Sansom was a leader on Eagles rolled up a total of 353 on offense, making 26 first downs to 10 for Frenship.

This week Roosevelt plays host to unbeaten Littlefield in a homecoming game, which is not a district contest.

Sansom gained 65 yards in 13 trips; Jackson ran 11 times for 63 yards, as the offense.

David Gutierrez and Gary Snowden combined for 15 tackles for Frenship, and Ricky Williams gained 105 yards for the Tigers.

The spirit of this world has blinded the minds of those who do not believe, and prevents the light of the glorious gospel of Christ... from shining on them. (2 Cor. 4:4, Phillips.)

On that last weekend in September, the Colorado mountains again beckoned the plains-dwellers to see the glory of the golden aspen. As my wife and I drove southeast early in the afternoon, we noticed that on our left the aspen leaves were dull and lifeless, while on the right they shimmered with golden light.

"How dull the leaves look," my wife remarked. Then the sun rays shone on the leaves and the mystery was solved. "Look!" she exclaimed. "See how they glow when the sun shines through them!"

Beauty of spirit and deed is often found in the world; but the feeding of the hungry, giving refreshment to the thirsty, offering hospitality to a stranger, helping to clothe those in need, comforting the ill or imprisoned — all these acts take on a special, selfless beauty when the light of Christ's love shines through them.

Prayer: Father, I do try to live in the spirit of Your Son, but sometimes my motives are mixed. Help me to let Christ's light shine through my life and actions so that people may know that it is through Him that light comes. Amen.

The St. Joseph School Memorial Fund has been officially set up to receive memorials. Many people like to give memorials for their loved ones who die, or for friends who pass away.

There is no greater way to memorialize them than in a contribution to an institution that has as its primary objective the religious and moral training of children, that is, Christian Education.

When you wish to make such a memorial, send the contribution to one of the members of the committee, either Mrs. Roger Kitten or Mrs. James Bednarz. It can also be sent directly to the school. We ask you to remember St. Joseph School when you think of giving memorials for your loved ones and your friends.

by Kenneth Madding. A ho-ho-ing Jolly Green Giant was Don Taylor. Virginia Cash popped up as Jack-in-the-Box and Ronda Robot, complete with antennae, was played by Debbie Reynolds. David Collins, as George Porgie, "kissed the girls and made them cry." The scene then moved to the famous country 'n' western duo, Porter Wagoner and Dolly Parton, portrayed by Jody Deatherage and Schuyler Trimble.

A private initiation followed that evening.

FFA GIRLS

The belief that only men can be farmers is simply not true any more. This point is proven by the Future Farmers of American organization, which has nine female members this year.

These girls are Donna Odom, Katherine Odom, Tricia Isom, Terri Dunn, Norma Pierce, Patti Pior, Debbie Weise, Dorothy Gillian, and Cindy Bloxom.

FFA sponsor Wayne Kahlich said that the girls are expected to meet the same requirements as the boys.

There are several reasons the girls have for being in FFA. Many of them plan to major in agricultural courses in college. Some of the girls simply enjoy raising crops and taking care of animals.

How do the boys in FFA treat their female classmates? Debbie Weise, senior, said, "They treat you like one of the guys." She said that there are a few exceptions, but on the whole the boys are very nice to the girls and try to help them any way they can.

Tricia Isom, senior and FFA Parliamentarian, was asked if she thought she did as good a job as the boys. She replied, "You betcha!" There are several different views of girls being in FFA. Neil Taylor, principal, commented, "We need more of them."

Class Writes Two Letters

Two thoughtful letters appeared in the Slatonite office last week. Both were from the second grade class of Mrs. Annette Moore's at West Ward, and each was signed by the entire class.

One read: "Dear Mr. Wood, Thank you for putting our picture in the Slatonite. We liked Miss Martin's story. We think you have a good paper."

The other read: "Dear Miss Martin, We thank you for taking our picture. We think you are nice and a good reporter."

Junior High Jottings

By JACKIE FOX AND JANA HAIRE
At Junior High this week we are having a contest between the 6th grade, 7th grade, and 8th grade to see which class can bring the most labels from certain products.

The labels that are collected in this contest will be used to buy new equipment for the school. Whoever wins this challenging contest each month will get a party, so let's keep that spirit up and keep bringing those labels.

Also, this week several classes are doing work in connection with National Fire Prevention Week. Mrs. Scialo's eighth grade English classes are writing themes on fire prevention and other related topics. First place, second place, third place, and honorable mention certificates will be awarded to the writers of the best themes. Everyone is busy researching his topic and learning about fire prevention.

Monday and Tuesday Bob Kern, Fire Chief of the Slaton Volunteer Fire Dept., spoke to the eighth graders and showed a very interesting film about fire prevention called "You and Yours."

This week we asked a few students the question "If you were a teacher in this school, who would you send to the office and why?" We got these replies:

Leslie Brewer—"Mr. Carter for pestering me!"

Lance Bownds—"Craig Mayberry for talking about people's mommas!"

Angela Becker—"Jenny Alford for trying to beat up Carla, Jill and Lisa in basketball."

Julie Haire—"Jerry Graves for hitting me over the head with a book every time he sees me, and for 'popping off' to Mrs. England!"

Chad Sikes—"Tory Taylor for electing me chairman."

The High School's first newspaper this year, The Tiger's Cage, was out-of-sight!! It had a column in it about Junior High School entitled "News For the Blues From Jivin' Junior High!"

We would like to congratulate the High School for such a smashing success. The Junior High thought the first paper was Dynomite!!!

Culver ran 48 yards on a keeper for a touchdown and Bownds carried for the extra points putting Slaton out front 20-12.

The Oakwood defense keyed on Culver, setting up a 92 yard run by Joe Mercer, advancing Slaton 26-12.

Culver scored again on a three yard carry and Gary Bourn caught the pass in the end zone for the PAT. Slaton ended the game with a 34-12 advantage.

Also playing Saturday were Tory Taylor, Shawn Murphy, Scott Beck, and Doug Chapman.

The RAs are playing in the Lubbock Baptist Association league each Saturday in Idalou, and are undefeated for the season.

Slaton RAs Win Again

Slaton's Royal Ambassadors (RAs) extended their winning streak to two Saturday when they downed Oakwood Baptist of Lubbock 34-12 in a six man flag football contest.

Slaton scored first with an 82 yard run by quarterback Glenn Culver. The PAT failed, and Oakwood came back with a touchdown to tie the score 6-6.

Late in the first half Lance Bownds returned a punt for 60 yards and six points. Oakwood again scored and tied the game 12 all.

The Slaton team started moving the ball in the second half and scored 22 points in the final two quarters.

NEW TOOL—The Perryco Grainsaver has been field tested for four years and has proven to be a valuable money-saving tool for the grain farmer. The Grainsaver lifts fallen heads of grain for the combine—saving a large proportion of storm damaged crops. The Grainsaver tines are spring loaded to float over uneven ground, permitting operation at normal speeds. They are easy to install and remove, and work well with a pickup reel.

Retirement Community Is Planned

Tours of model apartments of John Knox Village of West Texas, the Affordable Life-Care retirement community at 1717 Norfolk Ave. in Lubbock, began last Saturday.

The buildings which comprise the Lubbock retirement community were originally constructed for Texas Tech College dormitories, and are currently owned by Northwestern Insurance Company. The property will be remodeled and managed by Christian Services, Inc., a consulting firm which manages retirement communities across the country.

Upon completion John Knox Village of West Texas will have 275 units.

Persons who are 55 or older may apply for residency; for couples, only one need be 55. Qualified applicants pay an entrance endowment based on the size of the apartment they select. A monthly service charge provides every-other-week maid service, weekly flat laundry, complete maintenance of the building and grounds, scheduled free transportation to shopping, entertainment and churches, use of recreational facilities and all utilities except telephone.

National Cotton Crop Forecast Lower

Bad weather has damaged and delayed much of this year's cotton crop, forcing economists at Cotton Incorporated in Raleigh, N.C., to lower their estimate of the 1975 crop size to 8.5 million bales.

The decline, down from a previous estimate of 9.3 million bales, is strengthening prices for producers, says David Cox, Cotton Incorporated vice president for economic research and development.

"Prospects of a smaller than expected crop are currently the biggest single factor behind the recent market price advances," Cox says, although he adds that continuing improvement in domestic demand for cotton has been, and will continue to be, the dominant force in the market.

The Cotton, Inc. crop prediction could change again, says David Jordening, manager of supply economics. "The crop is extremely late in some areas," says Jordening, "so we'll have to keep a close eye on the situation." While production losses have been substantial already, the final outturn from the late crop hinges on the weather, he adds.

Cox notes that the economy is maintaining its gradual recovery and, concurrently, textile mill demand for cotton continues to improve.

However, the overall demand picture is clouded by the export market, where U.S. cotton is priced 10-15 cents above world prices and where foreign demand has been rekindled more slowly than U.S. demand.

Cox says. While Cotton, Inc. is estimating the final U.S. production at 8.5 million bales, Jordening says some observers already are pegging final production even lower as a result of weather, the lateness of the crop, and insects.

Production setbacks were quite severe in several producing regions, Jordening says. Expectations for the Texas crop alone have been reduced from about 3 million bales to 2.5-2.6 million bales, primarily because of extreme temperature variations in the High Plains.

The five-state Mississippi Delta region suffered from cool, cloudy weather and heavy insect infestations, while the southeastern cotton crop was damaged by hurricane Eloise and a week of rain. Cox encourages producers to tie down a profitable price now for some portion of their current crop.

Distances are sometimes deceiving. To be able to see just the tip of a 200 foot oil rig that is 54 miles out at sea, how high above sea level would you have to be (a) 62 feet (b) 262 feet (c) 1,662 feet?

ANSWER "C" is correct. You would have to be standing 1,662 feet above sea level. That means that if you stood on top of the Empire State Building, you would still need a 412 foot ladder to see even the tip of that oil rig.
