Parents' 'Blessing, Guidance' Is Asked by Football Coach

"We want, and must have, the blessings and guidance of you parents in order to put our athletic program over here in Slaton," coach Leonard Ehrler told the more than 50 parents, who attended the Football Parents Meeting Friday night.

Speaking before the fathers and mothers in the High School Auditorium Ehrler said, "We are trying to acquaint you with, and sell you on, a good athletic program here in Slaton. There is probably no greater influence in the guidance of a boy than his parents. There is no such thing as a bad boy, there are only neglectful parents."

Set of Training Rules
Each person who attended was given a set of training rules for use in aiding their boys to become mentally and physically fit for the coming football season. Mothers were asked to hang the rules in the kitchen, for easy reference, when a question about training rules comes up in the household.

Ex-Lubbock coach Goobar Keys was present at the meeting as a representative of Sports Center of Lubbock. He demonstrated the football equipment including suit, padding, and shoes that the team will wear in the coming year.

First String Suits
The first string suits will consist of black jerseys with red stripes on the sleeves, white trousers trimmed with red and black, and black helmets.

Coach Keys dressed two of the boys on the stage of the auditorium so that those present could see just where each piece of equipment is worn and the protection it affords.

The team will be divided into three strings blacks, reds, and whites. The blacks will be first stringers, and so on down the line. "The boy who plays on the first string will be the boy, who has earned the right to be there," Ehrler stated. "Under such an advancement system we expect the boys to really get out and work—the black jersey spot on the team will offer the incentive to the boy."

TEXAS TECH CHOOSES SLATON

The Slatonite is proud to announce that Slaton and its newspaper have been chosen by a Texas Tech Journalism class for on-the-job training in the weekly newspaper field.

The seven students enrolled in the class will take over the operation of The Slatonite next week, and the April 13 issue will be the result of their efforts. They will spend a week in Slaton gathering and writing the news for the paper.

We of the paper feel honored, not only for ourselves, but also our community as a whole, that we were picked from many cities in the state served by weekly newspaper.

These students are not just coming down here on the spur of the moment, they have been analyzing and studying our paper and community for several months and already know who we contact for news each week. They have their news assignments for the coming issue and will be contacting many of you throughout the week for news.

There is no doubt in our minds, here at the paper, that the residents of this city will make these temporary Slatonites feel welcome and will extend the same friendliness and cooperation that we at the paper have long enjoyed.

The class and their instructor, Dr. William E. Hall, will start their work on Friday, which incidentally is one of our busiest days, and will stay with us until the paper is out Thursday. It will be their paper, the staff here will remain on hand for any help that they might need during the week.

We know that the residents will join us in extending to these seven students a hearty welcome to our community.

ON THE MARCH

The present age may come to be known as the Age of the Colonial Revolts. Egypt, India, Burma, and Ceylon have freed themselves from Great Britain. That power has found it expedient to grant home rule to Malaya and the Gold Coast of West Africa. The Sudan is setting itself up as an independent state. France has fared no better, having lost Indo-China, and apparently being on the way to losing North Africa as well.

Now an assertion of the forgotten men has manifested itself in France's Pacific colony of New Caledonia, known to most Frenchmen chiefly as a penal colony. The Melanesian population has received the political recognition of being granted membership in the French parliament. Now the natives and poorer French settlers have joined in electing Maurice Lenormand, a Frenchman with a Melanesian wife, to Parliament on a platform resembling that of our New Deal.

The old established interests do not like it, but they will do well to make considerable concessions. The Pacific Islanders are on the march, like the native population of British Asia, French Africa and Indo-China.

WHY WE NEED A READY RESERVE

The Army's all-important mission is to uphold the interests of the United States, in a shooting war, in cold war, or in peace. During time of peace its major mission is to deter aggression. To successfully deter aggression, its ability to fight and win must be so convincing that any potential enemy knows in advance that aggression on his part would not pay.

This ability is not measured in terms of weapons, equipment, and active forces alone. It is also based to a very great extent on the existence of a trained, fully equipped and manned Ready Reserve. One cannot over-emphasize the need for a trained Reserve. We must at all times recognize that the tools of war, however vital a role they may play in any conflict, are useless without men who are trained to use them.

The very nature of global war decrees that the Army become increasingly flexible and mobile. It also decrees that a high state of preparedness exist at all times in both our active and Reserve forces. Our Army, like the age it is a part of, is constantly changing. It is forever developing new tools and new techniques, and its men must know how to use and apply them.

No longer can we afford to spend long months after a conflict begins in preparing our Reserves for their vital role. This training must be timely and continuous. Those of us who have shared life on the battlefield know all too well that it is neither fair to the individual nor his country for a man to enter combat without adequate training.

Today—through the Reserve Forces Act of 1955—we have a means of assuring our country of a strong, reliable, and Ready Reserve. This Act offers the youth of this country a means of discharging their military obligations without disrupting their careers or education—an unprecedented opportunity that every young man should seize.

To the employer who cooperates in the training program, it offers among other things a better satisfied labor force, more responsible employees, and fewer men required to be away from the job for thirty to forty-five days of annual training. To the United States it offers the assurance of a fully manned, well equipped, and adequately trained Ready Reserve.

The size of our active Army and the future of this Nation rest upon the success of our Reserve program. To insure posterity the same blessings of democracy which we cherish, it is necessary that the youth of America be aware of their responsibility to their government, and meet it faithfully.

One youngster of ten says that when he grows up he intends never to vote for those people who keep campaigning for more schools. Strange how this childish attitude persists in some grown-ups.

The Reds managed to win the Winter Olympics rather easily. It was probably a case of the Russian athletes winning or being sent to Siberia for further winter conditioning.

Let's not be too hasty in limiting energies. Once a limit is placed on what a man will do, there is a limit on what he can do.

STRENGTH FOR THE WEEK

The Eyes of Faith
Rev. Malcolm E. Hoffman

"Blessed are they that have not seen, and yet have believed." John 20:29

Christ arose from the dead on Easter Sunday. His appearance was a visible defiance of the powers of Satan. His appearance was the victory over the grave. This made an impressive fact to those who saw Him that first Easter Sunday. Most of the disciples, bewildered by the events of the past three days, did not believe that Christ arose. Then suddenly He appeared to them. Their doubts and fears were gone. God's own peace came into their hearts.

How glorious that first Easter day ended! But Thomas wasn't there. And when the others told him, he did not believe. He wanted to see for himself.

The next Sunday the disciples, including Thomas, were together again. Suddenly Christ was there. He smiled at Thomas, "Reach hither thy finger, and see my hands; and reach hither thy hand, and put it into My side: and be not faithless, but believing."

Thomas was kneeling now and saying, "My Lord and my God!" Gently the Master spoke, "Because thou hast seen me, Thomas, thou hast believed: blessed are they that have not seen, and yet have believed." It was good that Thomas wanted to know the Lord through his own experience. But he should also have believed those who had already seen the Master.

"Blessed are they that have not seen, and yet have believed." Thus Jesus speaks to us today. We do not see Him with our eyes, nor touch Him with our hands. But He wants us to believe those who knew Him when He was on earth, and who told us about Him in the New Testament. He came to show us the love of God, and to save us from sin. He wants us to have faith in Him, that is, to love Him, trust Him, and give ourselves to Him. We see Him through the eyes of faith, as we rely on the recorded witness of His resurrection. When we do this, then our sins are forgiven, and we are God's children. Then we feel the power of the risen Lord in our lives.

Farm Equipment Use Expanded

Southwestern farmers have greatly expanded the use of machinery on their farms during the past two decades. The effects of this rapid adoption of mechanical equipment is the subject of study by a group of rural social scientists in the region.

"Factors Associated with Agricultural Mechanization" is the title of a publication issued jointly by the agricultural experiment stations in the five states in which the study was conducted, Arkansas, Louisiana, Mississippi, Oklahoma and Texas.

The report attempts to answer a number of heretofore puzzling questions. Among these are: To what extent is farm mechanization related to the migration of people from farms? Does mechanization tend to increase or decrease farm tenancy? Does it increase or retard the farmers' levels of living? Are the operators of highly mechanized farms more likely to be employed in off-farm jobs than the operators of the lesser mechanized farms?

A total of 53 economic sub-regions were studied in the five states. Texas had the three areas of highest mechanization. These were the High Plains cotton area, Panhandle wheat area and the Rolling Plains in the order named.

The authors, all rural sociologists, are A. L. Bertrand, Louisiana State University; J. L. Charlton, University of Arkansas; H. A. Pedersen, Mississippi State College; R. L. Skrabanek, Texas A. and M. College; and J. D. Tarver, Oklahoma A. and M. College. The study was done in cooperation with the Farm Foundation and the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

A copy of the report, Southwest Regional Bulletin No. 6, may be obtained from the Agricultural Information Office, College Station, Texas.

SOME YOUTHS DO NOT NEED HUNT PERMIT

AUSTIN, Tex.—Persons under seventeen years of age do NOT need regular licenses to hunt or fish in Texas, according to the Executive Secretary of the Game and Fish Commission.

In a clarifying statement, he said some confusion has been caused through a new state law exempting persons sixty-five years of age or older from buying hunting or fishing licenses which has a companion measure decreasing that persons under sixteen years of age did not have to buy licenses. An old law exempting residents under seventeen was not repealed hence this statute still prevails.

The Executive Secretary emphasized that young and old in the free category must obtain exempt licenses when hunting deer because of the deer tagging law affecting all hunters.

Soil Reservoir Should Be Filled Prior to Planting

Do you irrigate properly and in time to prevent loss in crop production? Everyone does not fully understand that the soil reservoir should be filled to field capacity in the anticipated root zone depth prior to the time for planting a crop.

This pre-planting irrigation may be applied as late as just prior to planting, or as early as several months before planting. The time element depends on the water supply available to cover the land.

The operator of the irrigation system should know the available moisture capacity of the soil, and he should be able to estimate the soil moisture present at the time of irrigation and obtain by difference the amount required to replenish the soil. Usually six to eight inches of water is applied to an acre of land when applying the pre-planting irrigation. Just because the soil seems "wet enough" does not necessarily mean that the soil is filled to a five to six foot depth. The top two or three feet may be wet and still have three or four feet of dry soil beneath it.

As has been shown by the Lubbock Experiment Station, great benefits can be had from sufficient pre-planting irrigation. With 13.2 inches of rain, dryland produced 165 pounds of lint per acre; one April pre-planting irrigation of eight inches yielded 420 pounds per acre; and April, June and August irrigation of 16 inches produced 588 pounds. The greatest benefit coming from the difference in dryland and one pre-plant irrigation with the increase of 255 pounds per acre.

To get the greatest irrigation efficiency and conservation of soil and water, it is necessary to have an irrigation system where the application can be controlled. For example, sloping land with a varying grade along the row makes it hard to determine how much water is being applied along the length of the row. On the other hand, level rows and borders and graded rows and borders with a steady grade, not sufficient to cause erosion, can be figured for the time needed to irrigate and for the amount of water applied to the soil.

Twenty-nine countries belonging to the League of Red Cross Societies have contributed emergency relief valued at $200,000, for the 60,000 men, women, and children made homeless by the Greek earthquakes of late April.

Many Farmers Have Not Paid Employment Tax

Thousands of farmers have not paid their 1955 self-employment tax in filing their 1955 income tax return, according to Mr. Ellis Campbell, Jr. District Director of the Dallas District of Internal Revenue Service.

Farmers became subject to paying the self-employment tax during 1955 for the first time. Mr. Campbell stated that it appears that many farmers feel that self-employment tax coverage is optional for farmers. This is not true. Under the provisions of the new self-employment tax law, the farmers became subject to this tax on the same mandatory basis that they are subject to income tax. Farmers should carefully review the self-employment tax instructions before filing their tax returns. These instructions require study before the farmer can determine whether he is subject to self-employment tax and, of course, whether he will eventually be eligible for Social Security benefits under the law.

It's predicted there will be at least 31 million new gasoline buyers in the U. S. in the next ten years.

Evans School Contract to Be Let Thursday

Bids will be opened and the contract let for construction of a new Evans High School at a meeting of school officials and contractors April 12 at Slaton High School.

The new school will be constructed in the southeast part of the city at the same site as the former school which burned to the ground in January. Construction of the building will complete tentative plans made some years ago by school officials in which an adequate plant for the local system was planned.

The seven room building and auditorium will be of semi-fire-proof construction similar to the other buildings in the district. Two rooms will be devoted to homemaking and natural science classrooms. All new furniture will be used throughout.

Plans are in the working-drawing stage at the firm of Butler-Kimmel Co., Lubbock architectural firm. Present plans call for a brick exterior, steel deck, plaster and exposed glazed tile interior partitions, terrazzo and vinyl asbestos floors and a warm air heating system. Floor space is estimated at 6,500 square feet.

Construction is expected to be complete in time for the school term beginning in September, according to school officials.

Evans School Contract to Be Let Thursday

Bids will be opened and the contract let for construction of a new Evans High School at a meeting of school officials and contractors April 12 at Slaton High School.

The new school will be constructed in the southeast part of the city at the same site as the former school which burned to the ground in January. Construction of the building will complete tentative plans made some years ago by school officials in which an adequate plant for the local system was planned.

The seven room building and auditorium will be of semi-fireproof construction similar to the other buildings in the district. Two rooms will be devoted to homemaking and natural science classrooms. All new furniture will be used throughout.

Plans are in the working-drawing stage at the firm of Butler-Kimmel Co., Lubbock architectural firm. Present plans call for a brick exterior, steel tile interior partitions, terrazzo and vinyl asbestos floors and a warm air heating system. Floor space is estimated at 6,500 square feet.

Construction is expected to be complete in time for the school term beginning in September, according to school officials.

Highlights and Sidelights FROM Your State CAPITOL

By Vern Sanford
Texas Press Association

AUSTIN—Texans are going to have their say, if candidates have their way.

Most candidates seem to be falling into the same pattern. They want letters from the "folks"—telling them to run for office.

Some want 10,000 letters—some 25,000. Some just want letters.

It's a new way to solve the postal deficit.

Sen. Price Daniel said he received, within a week, more than 25,000 letters.

Another "letter man," W. Lee (Pappy) O'Daniel, says he's been getting them by the basketful.

Ralph W. Yarborough reports that he has received reams of unsolicited letters urging him to run.

Another gubernatorial candidate, J. Evetts Haley, had this to say, "I didn't have to ask a single soul—much less 25,000 people—if I could run."

Johnson Challenge

In a fiery verbal blast, Texas Press Association president Russell W. Bryant of Italy told more than 100 newspapermen and women at a North and East Texas Press convention in Tyler that C. T. Johnson of Austin is ineligible to become a candidate for Lt. Governor.

Bryant distributed copies of a deposition taken in the 128th District Court at Austin on Oct. 1, 1955 in which Johnson testified under oath that he spent only $125 in traveling the length and breadth of Texas while campaigning for Lt. Governor in 1954.

According to Bryant, Johnson testified he had driven 12,000 to 15,000 miles and that his total traveling expenses for the entire campaign period, as reported by him to the Secretary of State, amounted to $125—for gasoline, oil, tires, repairs, batteries, lodging and meals.

Filing of an inaccurate campaign expense report excludes Johnson from becoming a candidate, under state laws, Bryant said.

"You and I know that there isn't a standard make automobile on the road today that doesn't cost nearly two cents a mile for gasoline alone," Bryant told the convention delegates.

Capitol Area to Grow

Texas' Capitol area soon will take on a new look. Gov. Allan Shivers showed the Austin City Council plans for the expansion, and addition of two ultra modern buildings, plus nearly three blocks of additional grounds.

Sites, maps and architects' sketches for the new State Office Building and Supreme Court Building were presented to the council.

Both will be three million dollar structures. The Court Building will be located a block northwest of the Capitol, and the Office Building a block northeast. They will face the Capitol and be joined by a 1 1/2-block mall across Congress Avenue. Space for additional parking areas also is included in the plan.

Shivers also announced that the entire quarry near Marble Falls, from which granite used in construction of the Capitol was taken, has been re-opened. It is planned to use granite from the same source for the new buildings.

Shivers is chairman of the state building commission which plans to begin immediately to acquire the necessary sites for the expansion. Contracts probably will be awarded next fall.

Financing of the building project, largest in the state's history, was made possible by a constitutional amendment allocating the surplus from the Confederate pension fund for state buildings.

Law Enforcement Needs Studied

Vigorous action on many fronts is needed to combat Texas' climbing crime rate, said speakers at the Attorney General's Conference on Law Enforcement in Austin. Some conclusions, after the four-day conference.

By Attorney General John Ben Shepperd: Travis County should have an extra district court, two grand juries and a special appropriation for the district attorney's office.

By Department of Public Safety Director Homer Garrison Jr.: Since soaring juvenile delinquency can be principally laid to parents' failure to provide good citizenship training, Texas should have a law holding financially responsible parents of youngsters who wantonly destroy property.

By Prison Board Member Dr. George Beto: Texas Prison System needs $8.5 million to build housing for increased number of inmates, and must find additional profitable industries to offset upkeep costs.

By James P. Economos, director of the American Bar Association's traffic court program: All persons charged with moving traffic violation should be required to appear personally before the traffic court judge.

By Author-Attorney Earle Stanley Gardner: Law enforcement has suffered from the outmoding of corporal punishment in the home and school.

Texas Acreage Cut

Acreage of principal Texas crops will be reduced by about 660,000 acres this year, the U. S. Dept. of Agriculture announced.

Accounting for most of the reduced acreage will be drops in cotton, rice, peanuts, corn and oats. Flaxseed, Irish and sweet potatoes also will be curtailed. Only hay acreage will be increased, and wheat will remain unchanged.

Short Schools

Fifty students from the State School for the Blind are receiving swimming lessons. The Austin Lions Club is paying all custodial fees, and the Girl Scouts and Red Cross Water Safety Corps are taking part in the project.

Dr. J. E. Peavy of the State Health Department announced that polio cases this year showed a gain over 1955. Cases reported total 140, against 92 last year. More than 40 per cent of children under 10 have received at least one anti-polio shot, he said.

Public hearing on a petition of Railway Express Agency for increased first and second class express rates on interstate traffic, is set by the Railroad Commission for April 4.

Men's Breakfast Has Eight Men Present Monday

The First Christian Men's Breakfast Monday morning had eight men present. Elmer Nelson cooked for the 6:30 a. m. breakfast.

The breakfast meets each Monday in Fellowship Hall of First Christian Church, according to the Rev. Edwin Gorom, pastor.

Mrs. Francis Perry is spending this week in Arlington visiting her sister, Mrs. H. W. Cooper, and her brother, Jack Patterson, and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Larkin Taylor spent Sunday near Morton visiting Mr. and Mrs. Roy Lewis.

Better Vision Care Needed To Aid Reading

Better vision care is needed to make it easier for Americans to read, says the South Plains Ophthalmic Society.

"In many European countries newspapers and books are read by a much higher proportion of the population than in America," Dr. Carl L. Dean, president of the society said. "In the United Kingdom 611 daily newspapers are sold every day per 1,000 inhabitants, according to a UNESCO report. In Sweden the figure is 490. In the United States it is 353.

"American newspapers are larger, so each buyer gets more to read, but the significant fact is that relatively few Americans take advantage of the newspapers and other printed matter available. Television, radio, and motion pictures divert American interests from reading.

"Better vision and more scientific study of typography and layout for reading ease could make reading more popular.

"Headaches or other symptoms after reading rank first among reasons why patients seek vision care. Think how many millions neglect their vision and taper off their reading or stop, probably without realizing it because painless visual inefficiency is often unnoticed."

Dr. Dean said that Americans get the best vision care in the world, but the printed word has greater competition in America, therefore, all aspects of vision in relation to reading need more attention.

IN THE NAME OF THE LAW

CONTRIBUTED IN THE PUBLIC INTEREST BY TEXAS POLICE ASSOCIATION

The Imminent Explosion

By N. K. Dixon, Security Officer, Internal Security Section, Texas Department of Public Safety, Austin, Texas

There is a tremendous explosion in your county. You learn that it occurred at an industrial plant. It resulted in $500,000 damage and five lives lost. A man you know worked at that plant. You now recall that on several occasions you wondered about him; you questioned his loyalty. That recollection might aid the police in an apprehension, although it won't bring to life those men whose right to live was the same as yours.

Espionage, sabotage and subversion are police problems. Problems of the local level as well as of the national level. The illegal activities of the subversive affect every citizen and every walk of life. They affect the peace and dignity of the state. They disrupt the economy and destroy social harmony.

The subversive will incite riot, foment friction and hatred between races and social classes. He will agitate strikes, deny you essential commodities and services. He will instigate violence in strike action. He will employ theft, extortion, vandalism, and even murder for the advancement of the "cause" to which he is dedicated.

In the use of his major weapon, propaganda, he will deliberately warp the mind of the youngster, turning him against God, country and family. He will strive to shake your confidence in your government. He will endeavor to render impotent your police and your courts. He has no regard for truth and fact.

These tactics result in the violations of our penal code. They are inimical to the individual and collective welfare of our citizenry. The police are pledged to enforce our penal code and to protect the citizenry. Now they must add to their ever increasing daily duties the protection of the public against this type of offender. They need your help. They need it before the "explosion."

Because it is an additional police duty, the President of the United States in 1939 requested all law enforcement agencies to cooperate with the federal government in matters of internal security—subversive activities. This request has been reiterated in succeeding years. Since then, and to the present day, your State Department of Public Safety, Sheriff's departments and your constables have complied with this request.

In 1947, Colonel Homer Garrison Jr., the director of your Texas Department of Public Safety, foresaw the continuing spread and growing threat of communism, and recognized it as a police problem. Without additional appropriation he established a special detail working out of his office, and assigned that detail to the gathering of information and evidence of subversive activities in the state of Texas. He further assigned it the duty of developing liaison in this field with local police agencies in order to provide them with a central source of information exchange to better protect their interests.

In 1951 the legislature created the Internal Security Section, a division of the Department of Public Safety, as a specialized unit in this field of police work. In 1954 Colonel Garrison caused his department to conduct a Subversive Activities Control School; the first of its kind to ever be held in this country. This school, originally designed for the training of its own personnel, was expanded to invite certain local law enforcement agencies to enroll specially selected men. Thus, several of our police departments now have personnel trained in this type of police work.

It must be realized that Texas is of strategic importance in any defense measure. It is constantly expanding industrially, militarily, and it is an international border area. It must further be recognized that Communism, though not the only subversive factor, is the enemy that constitutes an immediate threat.

Tightly organized and disciplined, Communism is allied with a foreign and hostile power; a power that has found that through the Communist movement, it does not have to rely upon those of its own nationality to undermine its enemies. In all countries its followers are constantly schooled into a politically and socially perverted frame of mind.

Our constitution provides us with the means of peacefully and legally bringing about any revolutionary changes desired by the intelligent will of the people. It provides safeguards against changes desired by the totalitarian and tyrannical minded minority. But these safeguards are futile if the people do not understand and cooperate with the agencies created to secure these safeguards. Help them before the "explosion."

The American Red Cross estimates it will spend $1,000,000 on emergency aid and long-term rehabilitation assistance to the hundreds of families affected by the tornadoes which struck Kansas, Oklahoma, Arkansas, and Texas in late May.

Is it true that when folks used to hear more about hell, they raised less of it.

ingly said she never was much on spanking and can hardly stand for her grandchildren to get spanked.

Although she has always been a very active person she is not allowed to do much of anything now. She loves to sew but cannot use a sewing machine as the doctor has forbidden her to do so. But this doesn't stop her.

Mrs. Santa's Helper

She sews on her fingers and has just completed two can-can petticoats for her small granddaughters' Easter dresses. Then too, Mrs. Santa Claus called her before Christmas and said two of Mrs. Caldwell's granddaughters, Linda and Debbie Robison, had written they wanted dolls and lots of clothes for them for Christmas and she needed help, as she was so busy.

Of course Grandmother Caldwell was happy to help and she made skirts and blouses, dresses, housecoats, corduroy jackets, pajamas, aprons and can can slips for these dollies.

Likes Television

For hobbies Mrs. Caldwell reads and looks at television. She has to stay in bed a great deal of time and does enjoy TV. The Caldwell children gave their parents a television set in September before Mrs. Caldwell had her first attack in November. She says it ran constantly for seven months while she was in bed.

She loves to cook and finds it is a way to relax for when she becomes nervous and gets in the kitchen and the first thing she knows she is relaxed.

The Caldwell's are members of the First Baptist Church although she is unable to attend. She enjoys hearing her children talk of their church work and finds in this a source of satisfaction.

Slaton Women Give Their Favorite Tested Recipes

Mrs. E. T. Caldwell chose for her recipe one she has been using for 34 years and although it is for a chocolate cake she feels sure it is different from most of the recipes.

Chocolate Cake

Part 1
 1/2 cup cocoa
 1/2 cup sugar
 1/2 cup buttermilk
 Mix well and cook over low heat until mixture is smooth. Be sure mixture is cool before adding to second part.

Part 2
 2 eggs
 1/2 cup shortening
 1/2 cup sugar
 1/2 tsp. soda
 3/4 cup buttermilk
 3 tsp. vanilla
 1 1/2 cups flour
 Mix all ingredients together thoroughly and add to first part. Bake at 400 degrees in three layers. Mrs. Caldwell says she usually cooks hers in four thin layers with the filling between each layer.

Filling

2 cups sugar
 1 small can evaporated milk
 Cook over low heat and stir constantly until soft ball stage. Remove from heat and add 1/2 stick oleo. Beat well and add 1 tsp. vanilla. If mixture becomes a little sugary add a teaspoon of milk and blend.

A Family Favorite

This cake is a favorite of her children and grandchildren according to Mrs. Caldwell and when they come home they always want to have the "Black" cake, as they have called it over the years. This makes a very dark cake and the fondant icing and filling adds to its goodness.

Mr. and Mrs. Caldwell have lived on the Plains for a number of years living near New Deal and Morgan before moving to Slaton 14 years ago. Caldwell was a farmer for a number of years but is now a civil service employee at Reese Air Force Base near Lubbock.

He is a painter of airplanes and engravings. This finishing work is very interesting and he likes his work very much. Mrs. Caldwell says one of the most trying times of her life was in 1953 and the early part of 1954 when she had suffered a heart attack and while she was in the hospital her husband fell several feet while painting a plane and broke his leg.

Four Children in Family

The Caldwell's have four children, two sons and two daughters. They are Bruce of Lubbock, Earl, Mrs. Lynn Perdue and Mrs. Dave Robison all of Slaton. They have nine grandchildren which are the apples of their grandparents' eyes Mrs. Caldwell says they are her pride and joy.

One of the things she feels strongest about is the punishment of the grandchildren. She laugh-

Amendment Makes Farmers Subject To Tax Law

A large number of farmers are concerned about the self-employment tax law, according to Mr. John R. Robinson, Administrative Officer in Charge of the Lubbock Office. Amendments to the Social Security Law made farmers subject to self-employment tax during 1955 for the first time. Mr. Robinson has set out the five most common questions asked by farmers and their answers for the information of farmers in the Lubbock area.

1. Is self-employment optional or mandatory for farmers? No. If the farmer had the earnings from self-employment of $400 or more last year and did not receive any wages subject to the social security taxes on employees, or if such wages were less than $4,200, he must pay self-employment tax for last year.

2. What form does the farmer need to fill out in order to pay his self-employment tax? He will use Schedule F listing all farm income and deductions to determine net farm profit or loss. Page 4 of this form is used to figure your self-employment tax. This form needs to be filed along with his income tax return, Form 1040.

3. Can a farmer owe self-employment tax and not owe any income tax? Yes. His net income from farm operations is $400 or more and the total amount of his exemptions is more than his net income, then he would be required to pay self-employment tax but would owe no income tax.

4. What is the self-employment tax rate for farmers? If, in the taxable year, he receives no wages subject to social security taxes and his self-employment net earnings from farming for the year are at least $400 and no more than $4,200, the entire amount is subject to the 3% rate.

5. Are farm rents, as such, subject to self-employment tax? No. If the landowner rents his land receiving a crop share or the proceeds thereof, under the ordinary crop-sharing arrangement, he is considered to be receiving rentals from real estate, and such rentals are excluded from net earnings for self-employment.

The over-all demand for eggs and poultry is expected to remain good for 1956. Supplies are expected to be large and prices may be slightly lower.

Telephone Growth Boosts Prosperity

Here are some facts about what's behind your telephone, what it takes to meet the needs of people all over Texas for telephone service.

Last year Southwestern Bell spent $91 million on new construction and $150 million for day-to-day expenses in Texas. In one way or another, nearly everyone in Texas benefited from this expenditure to keep your service going—and growing.

One result, we hope, was the best telephone service you've ever enjoyed. Another result, we are sure, was a healthy boost to the prosperity of the entire state.

For example, $104 million (one of the state's largest business payrolls) went into the pockets of 26,000 Texans who work for the telephone company. And most of this was spent in communities like ours for all the many goods and services which local merchants and businessmen provide.

How Others Benefited From Telephone Activity

Another $1,500,000 went to Texas service stations and garages to help keep the company's fleet of 3,529 trucks and automobiles rolling. This included the cost of 2,919,880 gallons of gasoline, as well as tires, accessories, repair parts and $500,000 in direct labor costs.

Three hundred twenty-six Texas automobile dealers profited from the sale of 589 new trucks and 110 new automobiles to the company.

Those in the building industry were paid $7,500,000 for their work on new buildings, additions, and major improvements. New building activity alone involved 254 different contractors directly and provided enough work to keep 4,500 skilled carpenters, bricklayers, plumbers, electricians, and other craftsmen busy full time for a year.

In addition, we paid $4,665,000 to independent contractors for jobs ranging from tree trimming to laying underground cable conduit.

Another $2,618,000 went to local suppliers of office furniture and fixtures, printing, office supplies, and the hundreds of sundry items to carry on our business. And $840,000 additional went to local people and firms outside the company for building maintenance and odd jobs, ranging from window washing to trash handling.

'56 Construction to Break All Records

This year's construction program will add up to $106 million, the largest in our history.

Many long months of planning and engineering have gone into this 1956 program. It is based on the company's faith that the Texas communities we serve will continue to grow and prosper—and on our ability to attract more, new investment dollars from outside the business.

To meet your needs for more and more telephone service, we must depend on finding people in all parts of the country who are willing to invest their savings in our business.

So, you see, one of the very important factors of good telephone service is the faith of investors that their savings can earn a safe and reasonable return in the telephone business. Another is the public's faith in us as one of the state's most necessary citizens, an important contribution to continuing prosperity.
