Tech Midwinter Forum to Be Discussed at Community Forum Here Tonight at 7

A Community Forum will be held tonight at 7 p. m. at Slaton High school, to select representatives to attend the "Voice of West Texas" Midwinter Forum at Texas Tech in 22 and 23. The Slaton group will discuss work group topics which will be highlighted at the Lubbock forum, and how these topics can be applied to use in the Slaton area. The topics include "The General Water Problems," "Depletion of our Mineral Resources," "Broadening the Base of the West Texas Economy," "Revitalizing Community Life in West Texas," "Needs of Special Segments of Our Population," "Adapting Agriculture to Regional Conditions," "Adapting Housing to the Environment," and "Maximum Use of Governmental and Private Agency Resources." Lee Vardy, who is in charge of the local forum, stated that the group would be dismissed by 8:30 p. m.

thirteen persons were jailed here over the week end, according to Chief of Police Bill Daniels. Charges were drunkenness, fighting, and theft under $5. Traffic tickets were issued six persons, for driving without a license, imprudent driving, excessive noise (mufflers), running a stop sign, and permitting an unlicensed driver to operate a vehicle. Charges of fighting were filed by local officers against Felton Leroy Gross, Post Negro, after the complainant, C. A. Connelly, failed to press charges. Connelly was stabbed in the left side of his throat about 8 p. m. Sunday. Gross was apprehended by the Garza County Sheriff's Department, and returned to Slaton. A window peeper was reported about 10 p. m. Saturday on South 16th street. Police officers were unable to locate anyone. One report of two runaway girls was received, along with a report of a stolen billfold, coat, shotgun and belt. The billfold contained about $70 cash. An engineering crew found a cash box about two miles southeast of Slaton. The box had been broken in to, and contained an empty money sack.

St. John's Lutheran Church, Wilson, to Celebrate 40th Anniversary

St. John's Lutheran Church of Wilson will observe its 40th Anniversary on Sunday, Jan. 27, in a morning worship service at 10:30 a. m. The Rev. E. Herber of St. John's Lutheran Church, Thrall, Texas, former pastor of the Wilson congregation, will be anniversary speaker. The local pastor, Malcolm Hoffman, will serve as liturgist for the service. In conjunction with the anniversary observance, this will also serve as a homecoming for all former members of the congregations. Immediately after the anniversary worship service a Pot-Luck on meal will be served in the church basement. The Luther League will have a service of prayer and praise at 2 p. m., thanking God for His blessing during the past 40 years, and praying for His continued guidance. All former members and friends of the congregation are extended a cordial invitation to attend the observance and homecoming, according to the Rev. Mr. Hoffman. Slaton doctors Monday expressed concern over the water situation in Slaton. Lack of chlorination in the local water system could possibly be the reason for the large number of intestinal diseases which regularly occur in Slaton, a spokesman for the group said. Slaton water receives some chlorination, but there is no automatic chlorinating machine to keep a constant check on the water. Samples of local water are furnished the State Health Department

Bedding, Children's Clothes, Shoes Badly Needed at Slaton Welfare Center

A call went out this week from the Slaton Welfare Center for children's clothing, children's shoes, and bedding. A representative of the Welfare Center stated that they were out of clothing suitable for wear by children. Clothing may be brought to the Welfare Center, located on the second floor of City Hall on Tuesdays or Saturdays from 9:30 until 11:30 a. m. or from 1:30 until 4:30 p. m. Ladies will be at the Center during those hours working on clothing. Donations of canned goods, as well as cash will be most welcome, and can always be used. Available Through Pastors The Welfare Center spokesman said that they were ready to serve those in need at anytime, whenever a need arose. Persons should contact one of the pastors in Slaton, who in turn will contact someone at the Welfare Center. A good supply of clothing for adults is on hand at the center, but there is a great need for clothing for children, including children's shoes, as well as bedding. Clothing may be brought to City Hall at any time, even though the Center is not open, and the custodian will put the clothing inside the room. 'Buy, Scare or Kill'—The Story of Duval

Franz Rosenwald in this week's story of the Duval County Empire, tells of the "Buy, Scare or Kill" fling in Texas' notorious Duval County, and how the actions which took place there were parallel to actions taken when the Nazi terrorists were loose in Germany. This is the fourth in a series of articles concerning the rule of George Parr, and some of the things which took place during his reign.

City Commission Hears Sewer Survey Report Monday; Votes Improvements

The Slaton City Commission Monday night heard a report from G. P. Parkhill and Chester Green, representatives of Parkhill, Smith, and Cooper, Consulting Engineers, Lubbock, on their recently-completed survey of Slaton's Sanitary Sewer system. Copies of the report were left with commissioners, and after study, the engineers will return for the final presentation of the survey. Present at the meeting were commissioners H. T. Swanner, T. A. Worley, and Mayor-Pro-Tem B. H. Bollinger. Mayor Lee Wootton and Commissioner Wayne Liles were not present at the meeting. In the survey report, findings as to the future needs of the sewer system, as well as the present needs for expansion were pointed out. In other action, commissioners granted Howard Hoffman, Slaton representative on the Canadian River Water Authority, to pursue methods of financing the project by government means. At a recent meeting of the Authority, it was pointed out that all means of private financing had been exhausted. The Commission also accepted a low bid of $1,487.80 from Byron-Jackson Co. of Lubbock for a pump for the booster station on the water system located southwest of Slaton. Bids submitted varied $569 from the highest to the lowest. Construction of eight more bunks in City Jail was authorized at the request of Chief of Police Bill Daniels. Repair work on the existing eight bunks was also approved.

Hustle and Bustle of Presidential Party Makes One Glad To Be Common Citizen

After hours of waiting the Presidential plane arrived, the immaculate honor guard stood at attention and the President of the United States emerged from the veils. As he walked from the ramp to a black Cadillac, literally hundreds and more hundreds of pictures were made. As the car roared away there was a mad scramble by more than 200 newspaper reporters for their busses to follow the procession. This was the beginning of two days of unusual activity that was very interesting and new experience for the writer. Invitation Tendered Last week an invitation was received for The Slatonite to be represented when President Eisenhower visited Clovis, New Mexico, on his drouth inspection trip. Acceptance had to be sent in advance. The trip there was made late Sunday afternoon and the night spent at the Clovis Hotel. Here was the first evidence of the impending stampede. The hotel was crowded with people from over the western section of the country and many national newsmen. We carried a rancher from Iowa out to the Clovis Air Base Monday morning with us. The press first met at the Officer's Club, where a close inspection of identification was made. We were issued a special pass, after which the group was given a briefing of events to come. Exact details of where we were allowed to be and the exact time to be there was given. News Room Available In this large room were telephones, tables, typewriter, information releases and six teletype machines. Every facility for getting news to the nation was there. Some 200 newspaper reporters, photographers, television and national wire service people filled the room. Everywhere there were people putting the last touches to their cameras. They were cleaning them, adjusting them, and trying them out. It seems that every make and kind of camera in the world was assembled in this one place, from the large newsreel camera to the smallest snap shot type. After the briefing at 10:30 a. m. there was nothing to do but wait until 2:30 p. m. for the president. During this time lunch was enjoyed at the Club. Familiar Faces Among those present that we enjoyed being with were John W. O'Brien of KUB, Lubbock; Donald Wooten of the Crosbyton newspaper; H. A. Tucker Jr. of the Dumas paper; Neil C. VanZandt of the Gaines County News and Kenneth May of the Avalanche-Journal. The call finally came to board the special buses that were provided by the Air Force Base. We were taken to the flight line where a special section was provided very close to where the President would pass, in order that pictures could be made. Protection Impressive It was impressive to watch the men assigned for the protection of the president. They were everywhere, dressed in civilian clothes. Invariably they were between the people and the president. Some 10 thousand people were there. The President was dressed in a brown flap hat, brown suit and gray overcoat. From his looks he was in exceedingly good health.

His cheeks showed color and his walk was brisk. False Alarm An incident happened that was quite amusing. The band started playing, the honor guard was ordered to attention and the flags unfurled as a large plane approached the field. When it landed it was not the President's plane but a commercial flight. This had to be done all over again about five minutes later for the correct flight. Two flags were displayed. One was the Stars and Stripes and the other was the presidential flag.

The President's coat of arms was on the flag in all its colors and designs. This was a very beautiful sight. The four large buses of newsmen followed the procession out to a farm nearby operated by Raymond Worrell. Last year's crops were still in the field as they were not large enough to even harvest. The bus that we were on arrived after the first part of the group was already there. The sight that greeted us was a large group of people hurrying off the busses in (Continued on Page Five)

NEW SAFETY DEVICE

One of the leading automobile manufacturers has made a new safety device standard equipment on some of the new models. The device is an alarm buzzer which can be set for a certain speed. Once that speed is reached the alarm sounds, letting the driver know that he is exceeding the speed limit.

Arresting officers along our highways have often heard speeders offer the excuse that they did not realize how fast they were travelling. Anyone who has ever driven on a long trip over good roads realizes how easy it sometimes is to exceed the speed limit without being aware of it. The alarm buzzer could end all that.

It is good to see automobile manufacturers give attention to the problem of improving highway safety. It is all very well to build the finest engines possible, to improve the looks and efficiency of cars with sleek, new designs. But what is needed even more is the kind of thinking that will help make automobiles instruments of transportation and communication—not deadly weapons.

NEW TEST OF GUILT

A new qualification for office has been set by the New Jersey state senate. It has just rejected the appointment of Judge John O. Bigelow to be one of the board of governors of Rutgers university. The reason given was that as a lawyer he had represented a Newark schoolteacher who, when testifying before the House Committee on Un-American Activities, had invoked the Fifth Amendment to the Constitution as a reason for not testifying.

This is carrying guilt by association further than it has ever been carried before. Previously all persons accused of crime were held entitled to lawyers to defend them, and these lawyers were not for a moment charged with becoming, thereby, their partners in crime.

Defense of a supposed or actual criminal has always been held part of a lawyer's duty when he was called upon to undertake such a task. The American Bar Association's Code of ethics contains such a provision. No wonder that New Jersey bar associations are up in arms against this strange new doctrine.

HUNTERS AND HUNTED

Anyone who thinks he has troubles can gain a measure of wry comfort from considering the plight of the natives of Uganda, in the heart of Africa. They're being eaten by lions. For some bizarre reason, this bald statement of fact has a tendency to strike people on the funnybone.

People, that is, who are not in the lion country. For those who are, it is no joke. The joke, if any, lies in the fact that numerous would-be lion hunters in the United States have offered their services with the claim that they were "dead shots for squirrels" in their youth.

Uganda game officials say they would welcome experienced riflemen. But they are a little skeptical about squirrel hunters. As one of them put it, "We are looking for executioners, not for fresh supplies of meat for the lions." Just mild that over, all of you fellows who think it would be nice to squeeze in a week of lion hunting between now and deer season.

MOUNTAIN OF DEBT

Americans are deeper in debt than they have ever been before. By year's end, it is estimated, public and private debt combined will be more than 700 billion dollars. That is an awesome sum, and in contemplating it one might well become a bit nervous.

The coin has a brighter side, however. Tangible wealth is increasing at a much faster rate than debt is. National income also is rising faster than debt.

As a result, we are doing better proportionately than we were at the end of World War II. At that time, our debts amounted to almost three-fourths of our total tangible wealth, whereas now debt is only about half as big. In comparison with the low year of the depression, 1933, we are even better off. Debt is now slightly more than twice the annual national income, but in 1933 it was more than 300 percent above national income.

The debt-to-income ratio is thus fairly healthy. But seven hundred billion dollars is a high mountain of money. It seems sensible, while peering up at that mountain, to suggest putting away a bit more each week. Though that could mean postponing the acquisition of some things we want, an increase on the credit side of the ledger is mighty comforting.

A London marriage expert is being sued for divorce. This should not hurt him professionally—look at all those bald-headed barbers who still manage to keep selling hair restoratives.

SMOKE RINGS

STRENGTH FOR THE WEEK

To walk with God is one of the most blessed experiences that a man can have. The Word of God has much to say about the blessedness of walking with God. On the other hand the Bible also does not leave us in doubt regarding the consequences of disobedience.

"Then spake Jesus again unto them, saying, I am the light of the world: he that followeth me shall not walk in darkness, but shall have the light of life." John 8:12. As we walk through life the darkness is often so heavy and the problems are so many and so perplexing that we do not know how to find the way alone. But Jesus has come into the world for this very purpose, namely to be a light. And He assures us that when we become His followers His light will drive away the darkness.

He promises us that when we follow His guidance and direction then we will have confidence in all our perplexities. Yes, He even promises that His imparted wisdom will solve all our problems. Is there any valid reason why we should not walk with God and follow His guidance and direction? Imagine being in a cave or in a mine. All around is darkness, and there seems to be no way out. Suddenly you see a light flash. What a welcome sight that is! But much more precious is the heavenly light that shines forth in the person of Jesus Christ. Into this light we cannot only enter, but we can walk all the way.

"I heard the voice of Jesus say, 'I am this dark world's light; Look unto Me, thy morn shall be bright.' I looked to Jesus and I found In Him my star, my sun; And in that light of life I'll walk Till traveling days are done."

Buy, Scare or Kill Him -- That's The Duval Rule For Successful Bossism

By—FRANZ ROSENWALD

SAN DIEGO, TEX.—The first thing any smart dictator does is destroy the freedom of the press. Dictatorship, whether it be called Nazism or Bossism, and a free press cannot exist together.

In a later article I want to tell you how the press played an indispensable role in the collapse of the Duval Duchy.

But right now I want to talk about Manuel Marroquin, who was beaten because his little newspaper published things the boys didn't like. It's a lot like other beatings I've seen in other places, half-way around the world.

The first Nazi storm trooper I ever saw was at a Hitler birthday rally in the Berlin Sports Palace.

He was a smiling, affable fellow, booted, wearing a Sam Brown belt over his neat khaki shirt. On his left arm was a swastika, emblem of good luck. At his side hung a dagger in its sheath.

Hundreds of his fellows were scattered about the huge hall, all smiling, all good natured, selling photographs of Der Fuehrer and copies of "Mein Kampf."

My storm trooper worked in a bakery not too far from my home. I knew him well. He was a bit on the rotund side, jolly, and he wouldn't hurt a fly.

This was long before Hitler came to supreme power in Germany.

Hitler made his grand entrance—and a man near me laughed at the strutting little bantam rooster with the funny moustache.

My mild-mannered baker was on him in a second, beating him in the face with his fists, tearing his glasses off and flinging them in the aisle. Another storm trooper moved in, deliberately crunching the glasses under his heel, his dagger drawn and pointed at the man who was being beaten.

Nobody in the vicinity moved, and the ovation for Der Fuehrer roared on. The storm troopers hustled the man out. My mild-mannered baker returned in a few minutes, jovial, smiling, selling his pictures of Der Fuehrer.

The first pistolero I ever saw was just the other day in the Windmill Cafe in San Diego, Texas.

He was a smiling, affable fellow, booted and wearing a neat khaki shirt. Belted to his side was a .45 in a holster.

That same day I tape recorded the story of Manuel Marroquin, publisher of a little political paper called "New Duval," a paper dedicated to the destruction of the dictatorship of George Berham Parr.

The incident, the parallel with the peace and resisting arrest. He was acquitted in court. A Jim Wells County court.

Let's take one more parallel case—and there are literally hundreds that might be cited. We'll consider Manuel Sanchez, a grocer. He's a Latin-American and his name is Spanish. The name is curiously, close to that of Don Quixote's roly-poly squire in the famous Cervantes satire. But this Sanchez, also a roly-poly man who weighs over 400 pounds, isn't tilting at windmills.

Manuel Sanchez' name might have been Schultz and he might have lived in Berlin. His experience would have been the same.

Sanchez' sin in San Diego was to vote—and talk—against the machine of George Berham Parr.

Sanchez' business was placed under a strict boycott. He was threatened. People on relief (and these are many in Duval, particularly at election time) were ordered not to trade with him. His business was ruined. He might just as well have had "Juden" soaped on his window and storm troopers posted at his door.

In Hitler's Germany the terror hours were at night. It was a favorite sport of the storm troopers to route suspected enemies of the Reich out of bed, line up the family and glare powerful flashlight beams into their eyes. The troopers would say nothing, just stand back of the lights. Sometimes this would be repeated night after night for weeks. Eventually some member of the family would crack and blurt out a confession. The next stop would be a concentration camp.

Manuel Sanchez and his family were subjected to the same treatment in a modified form. Parr's bully boys would drive up to the Sanchez home at night and throw the blinding beams from strong flashlights into the faces of Sanchez and his family, into the frightened eyes of Sanchez' mother, who was ill. Sometimes George Parr took a personal part in these expeditions.

Hitler's storm troopers didn't bother to get search warrants when they pulled a raid. Parr's men at least went through the motions. Parr's sheriff obtained an illegal warrant and ripped Sanchez' store apart in a search for alleged narcotics. Sanchez was smart enough to get witnesses. No narcotics were found.

The story of a dictatorship cannot be fully told except in terms of living people—and we could go on and on with stories of Duval, each story with a counterpart in the Germany that I knew, the Germany from which I escaped. There's the story of Cristobal Ybanes who was personally beaten by Parr who swung a rifle at his head. But why go on?

Manuel Marroquin's story illustrates the pattern. A smart dictator and a spunky newspaper don't mix. That's one of the big reasons why the Duval machine broke down, as I'll tell you about in another article.

Senator Preston Smith

With the formal opening of the 55th Texas Legislature Jan. 8, Austin once again became the center of important activity necessary to operate the largest state in the union.

For the next 120 days, the 150 members of the House of Representatives and 31 Senators will be at work considering new bills, levying taxes and appropriating funds.

The 55th will be an experienced Legislature by usual standards. In the House, 94 Representatives were re-elected, and in the Senate there are only 8 new faces this term, counting mine.

Highlight of the opening ceremonies was the introduction of House Speaker Waggoner Carr of Lubbock. Amid the applause of hundreds gathered in the House galleries, Carr was handed the gavel that designated him Speaker of the House.

Carr had been in Austin a month making preparations for the session. He clearly outlined the need for early consideration of appropriation of funds. And, naturally, taxes will rank high on the list of "first things" to be handled by the House.

During the next 60 days, the Legislature will act on bills and resolutions. Starting with the second 30 days, at hours when the House and Senate are not in session, committees to which bills have been referred for study will hold public hearings.

It is during that second 30 days of the Legislature that you, as a private citizen, have your strongest voice in state government. . . . for it is during this time that you can appear before the committees to voice your approval or objection to any legislation pending.

All in all, the opening of the 55th Legislature ran according to schedule, with dignity, color and excitement. Even after serving three terms in the House, the opening days of a new Legislature never fail to impress me with the responsibilities and pride that go with serving in public office. It's good to be back. And while I'm here, this non-political column will report regularly on what's going on in the massive chambers and halls of your State Capitol.

Highlights and Sidelights FROM Your State CAPITOL

AUSTIN, Tex.—Texas' 55th Legislature is down to business with a "first things first" agenda.

House members agreed to Speaker Waggoner Carr's plea to give top priority to appropriations. A $2,000,000,000 appropriation bill is proposed by the Legislative Budget Board. It would require no new taxes. But it does not include such strongly-backed items as the teacher pay raises.

Members of the House Appropriations Committee, headed by Rep. Max Smith of San Marcos, already have begun their dollar-by-dollar deliberations. Said Speaker Carr, as they began, "You are the key to the whole session."

A host of other controversial problems will be pushing for attention. Among them:

1. Long-range, state-wide water conservation. Sen. George Parkhouse of Dallas, chairman of the Water Resources Committee, is asking for prompt action. Sixteen bills, two constitutional amendments were presented by the committee.

2. School integration. Rep. Joe Chapman of Sulphur Springs, circulated a Texas Manifesto which pledged signers to support legislation to help preserve school segregation.

3. Election code revisions. Rep. Joe Pool of Dallas proposes a law requiring a run-off between top candidates in special elections for U. S. senator and congressman-at-large. He wants it passed on an emergency basis to apply to the upcoming race for Price Daniel's place. Republicans are protesting vigorously.

4. Lobby control and legislative ethics. Rep. Zeke Zbrank of Dallas says he will introduce a bill requiring lobbyists to file monthly financial reports.

KEY POSTS ASSIGNED—Though new faces abound—56 in the House, seven in the Senate—honors, as usual, went to old hands.

Sen. Otis E. Lock of Lufkin, veteran of nearly 20 years in the Legislature, was elected Senate president, was elected Senate president-elect pro tempore. It is the top Senate honor, second in line to the governorship.

House Speaker Waggoner Carr of Lubbock is a fourth-termer.

Rep. Max C. Smith of San Marcos, now in his seventh term, drew the important House appropriations committee chairmanship. Other key chairmen in the House are Frates S. Seeligion of San Antonio, revenue and taxation; W. S. (Bill) Heatly of Paducah, state affairs.

Other returning lawmakers hold remaining House chairmanships. They are: aeronautics, Vernon J. Stewart of Wichita Falls; agriculture, Harold B. Parish of Taft; banking, Thomas R. Joseph of Waco; claims and accounts, W. A. Stroman of San Angelo; commerce and manufacturers, W. W. Glass of Jacksonville; common carriers, J. B. Walling of Wichita Falls; comptroller's accounts, Louis H. Anderson of Midland; congressional and legislative districts, Malcolm McGregor of El Paso; conservation and reclamation, Leroy Saul of Kress; constitutional amendments, Jack Welch of Marlin; contingent expense, Louis Dugas of Orange.

Also, counties, Menton J. Murray of Harlingen; criminal jurisprudence, J. E. Winfree of Houston; education, James A. Turman of Gober; engrossed bills, Walter C. Schwartz of Brenham; federal relations, Eligio de la Garza of Mission; game and fish, Cecil Storey of Longview; highways, Jim Moore of Fort Worth; hospitals and special schools, Moyne L. Kelly of Afton; insurance, Marshall O. Bell of San Antonio; interstate commerce, Truett Latimer of Abilene; judiciary, Wade F. Spilman; judicial, Richard C. White of El Paso.

Also: labor, Scott McDonald of Fort Worth; liquor regulation, DeWitt Hale of Corpus Christi; livestock, A. J. Bishop Jr. of Winters; local uncontested bills, Robert W. Baker of Houston; military veterans, Paul Brashear of Cisco; motor traffic, Joe Pool of Dallas; municipal and private corporations, R. L. Strickland of San Antonio; oil, gas and mining, Richard C. Slack of Pecos; penitentiaries, Warren C. Cowen of Fort Worth; elections, Carlton Moore of Houston; public health, J. Edgar Wilson of Amarillo; public lands and buildings, Bob Wheeler of Tilden; public printing, Charlie Heitman Jr. of Nacogdoches; representation before legislature, Reagan R. Huffman of Marshall; rules, R. H. Cory of Victoria; school districts, Alonzo Jamison of Denton.

NEW ERA—Secretaries will be heard, but not seen, this season. This and a number of other innovations are being tried out by the 55th Legislators.

Formerly the lawmakers' secretaries, usually including many University coeds, were on and off the floor all during sessions. House members' secretaries had no desks of their own.

Now the house secretaries have basement offices. Their employers have new private telephone to call their secretaries, other lawmakers' desks and outside.

But banished secretaries can console themselves with pay raises—up from $9 to $10 a day in the House, from $12 to $14 in the Senate. Both are paid seven days a week.

Even so, many observers deplored the passing of the secretarial "beauty parade."

House members also voted to permit radio and television broadcasting of their sessions.

FOUR SEEK SPEAKERSHIP—Campaigning for Speaker of the House in 1959 already has begun. Candidates are Reps. Joe Burkett Jr. of Kerrville, Ben A. Gusting of Kingsville, Barefoot Sanders of Dallas and Will Smith of Beaumont.

Decision will not be definite until after the 1958 elections.

CITIZEN SHIVERS—Gov. Allan Shivers steps out of the Capitol into multiple private business activities.

He will continue to live in Austin where he will serve as chairman of the board of Western Pipe Lines, Inc. He also will oversee his farm and ranch property at Woodville and the Shary estate in the Valley.

His family moves from the mansion to a large rented home while remodeling of their next home, the 100-year-old Pease Mansion, is completed.

In his farewell address to the Legislature, Governor Shivers urged an unemotional approach to segregation problems. He gave his backing to a primary in the special senatorial election.

His departure closes a spectacular public career begun 22 years ago as a state senator from an East Texas district.

velvet ride, its easier-than-ever handling

Love at first sight! That's the case with thousands of folks all over America. And why not? Those Ford Custom models are over 16 distinguished feet long. Those Fairlane models over 17 elegant feet long. And those lower; longer, sleeker lines! No wonder Ford's years-ahead styling sweeps you right off your feet.

But if you aren't sold on looks alone, remember Ford's beauty is more than skin-deep. And a 5-minute Action Test will prove it. Inside you'll find oceans of space to stretch out in.
Breath-taking color schemes. Luxurious upholstery. And thanks to new "Inner Ford" advances, you'll discover the smoothest riding, easiest handling low-priced car ever.

And of course, you'll find new, snappier power to go with Ford's out-of-this-world ride.
It's the same exact brand of get-up-and-go that powered the '57 Ford to 458 national and international power-endurance records at Bonneville Salt Flats, Utah. And there's more of this skedaddle right through Ford's entire V-8* and Six lines. What's more, with a whole host of engineering advances, you can expect traditional Ford economy at its finest.

You bet! 5 minutes in the new kind of Ford

front and then literally running to where the president was. A ground silo was inspected, a nearby field, and the hog field. Everywhere they went, the barrage of picture taking went on. On the inner circle of the hundreds there the flash bulbs flashed and the movie camera cranks turned. Those on the outer parts were continually running around trying to get a place where they could join in. This procedure never varied, whether the president stopped and talked or whether he was walking.

Benson Nearly Shocked

Secretary of Agriculture Benson stepped through the barbed wire fence where the hogs were kept and after getting through found out that the bottom wire that he had missed touching was charged with electricity. One photographer got too close to the president and started to take a picture and a secret service man's hand was put over his camera with the request to move back. Another man reached into a large leather bag for a flash bulb and a secret service man stepped between him and the president until he found out what he was doing. Restrictions were practically nil on the tour as all present had had a thorough screening for safety. The visitor was just one of the bunch with the exception that they would not let him be pushed or crowded too closely.

Navajo Meets Haggerty

While at the farm it was a pleasure to meet the representative of the Navajo Indian Reservation. He wanted to know to whom to turn in his written report. He was referred to Press Secretary Haggerty. He stated that he was a graduate of the Methodist Mission school at Farmington, New Mexico. Later on the outside of the crowd I talked with Mr. Haggerty, but did not know who he was until later.

When the President made his way back to his car, there was again the mad scramble to the buses. The other farms were inspected from the cars as no other stops were made. We were carried back to the Officer's Club. The press session was not held as Mr. Haggerty reported that no conclusion could be made until after the trip was completed over the other states.

Two Hours in Clovis

After a 30 minute wait, the buses were boarded again to go the flight line for the departure of the presidential party. Again the press was given a special section for the picture-taking barrage. The president arrived, walked between the honor guards again, boarded the plane and was off for his next stop. Time spent in Clovis was about two hours.

This time spent in learning about a two hour period of the life of a President make us glad that we live in a small town of six thousand and rate the title of a common citizen.

In our opinion the President is a great man with unlimited patience. His concern for people generally was shown by his actions everywhere he went.

His personal appearance and consideration makes us know that he is just like the rest of us trying to do a job that is almost too big for any one person to handle.

Long Haul Fight Pays Off; Big Lake Boy Makes All-State Guard Despite Polio Bout

From polio patient at Gonzales Warm Springs in 1949 to All-State guard in 1956.

That's a capsule account of the amazing recovery and accomplishment of David Jacobs, 190-pound husky senior student, who captained the Class A Big Lake High School grid team undefeated through its regular season.

Polio in '49

Back in the summer of 1949 when David was stricken with polio, no one dreamed of such a climax to his football aspirations. He entered Gonzales Warm Springs Foundation on Sept. 1, 1949, and remained almost five months. He continued his therapy at home and had periodic check-ups at Warm Springs. He was determined to play football, and in the fall of '51, the medical director gave his consent. So he played on the Junior team that year and the next. His improvement was steady.

As a freshman in 1953, he played on the high school team and, as a tackle, logged more minutes than any other player. A shoulder injury in 1954 kept David out of action for five quarters, but he went on to play as much as any other player on the team.

All-State Guard

As a junior, he made All-District and tied for outstanding lineman in the district, still playing in a tackle position. This year, playing guard, he easily made All-District and then was named on the Fort Worth Star-Telegram's All-State Class A eleven.

Aggressive and alert, David has averaged 155 tackles each of the last three years, blocked six punts in 1955 and two this season, recovered 11 fumbles this fall and rushed the passers so much that Big Lake scored five times with intercepted passes.

David's father, Paul Jacobs, says that the experience with polio taught him consideration, patience, and a tenacity to accomplish his objectives. And, while he has played three years on the BLHS basketball and golf teams, his accomplishments have not been restricted to sports.

Honor Student

Throughout his high school career, David has been on the honor roll and has served on the Student Council. He has held the office of vice-president and this year is president of the student body.

He has fed lambs in 4-H and FFA programs since he was ten and has won numerous stock show ribbons including a first place in the San Angelo Fat Stock Show. He has played tenor sax three years in the school band and has participated in dramatics, taking the lead in the Senior Play in December. On Sundays he has been teaching a Sunday School class for junior boys.

18.17 miles per gallon on North America's toughest truck run!

That's the gas mileage reported by the Cameo Carrier after covering the entire length of the Alcan Highway in less than 45 hours! All six new Task-Force trucks that made the run turned in top scores for performance and economy!

Supervised and certified by the AAA.

New Task-Force 57 Chevrolet Trucks

Six heavily loaded Chevy trucks ran all the way up the rugged Alcan Highway in less than 45 hours! That's cutting more than a full day off the normal running time! They ran right around the clock, stopping only to refuel.

But the important fact about this run was that it proved new Chevy trucks through and through. The Alcan Highway is a supreme test of every truck component. Engines had to prove their power up high-climbing grades and through washouts. Frames and suspensions flexed their muscles over axle-deep ruts and miles of pounding gravel. "And not a single truck turned back or dropped out due to mechanical failure," states the official AAA report of the test. Every model proved its over-all economy by its ironclad ability to stay on the job! Stop by; we'll talk about it.

Choose your model from among Chevrolet's famous economy-proved Alcan Champs! Short-stroke V8's are standard in all heavyweight truck models and in many of the middleweights. They're loaded with modern features and built to take it!

Proved on the Alcan Highway Champs of every weight class!

'Evening With Strauss' to Be Given In Lubbock Auditorium on Feb. 2

A unique opportunity to hear City Opera and Broadway, a choral ensemble, narrator and two-piano operettas of Johann Strauss, together with vocal arrangements of some of his waltzes, will be given Saturday, Feb. 2, at the Lubbock Auditorium when Civic Lubbock, Inc., presents "An Evening with Johann Strauss."

The music will be presented in concert form, with four attractive young soloists from the New York era in 1941 (and revived 1956-57 under Bruno Walter), at least one of their works has appeared in New York every year, produced by either the Metropolitan or the New York City Opera Company.

Mr. Martin has been a leading conductor of the New York City Opera since 1944, and was both conductor and co-author with Mrs. Martin of the book and lyrics for the spectacular version of Strauss' "A Night in Venice," produced for two seasons at the Jones Beach Marine Theater.

Interestingly enough, for their presentation of the romantic music of Johann Strauss, the Martins first met in Vienna, the native city of both Strauss and Martin, when Thomas was assistant director of the Vienna Volkoper, and Ruth an American student of music. Since 1939 they have built a remarkable career in the United States, partly on their well-proved claim that opera can be effectively produced in English if English versions are provided which have a keen sense of theater and an equally keen sense for music and language.

For their present program, the Martins have chosen extensive portions from Strauss' three most popular operettas—"The Gypsy Baron," "Die Fledermaus" and "A Night in Venice"—plus shorter selections from "Princess Ninetta," "Prince Methusalem," "The Merry War" and "The Queen's Lace Handkerchief."

In order to provide an informal atmosphere and create the proper framework for the production, the individual numbers of the program will be introduced by narrator Michael Steele, a well-known actor of Broadway, motion pictures and television.

Tickets for the Lubbock appearance are priced at $3.00, $2.50, $2.00 and $1.00, and are currently on sale at the Auditorium Box Office.

Reports from men who have been assisting with making out income tax reports, are that most all the farmers and business firms in the Slaton area made more money in 1951 than ever before in one year.

Joe Van Ness has opened the Slaton Farm Store at the corner of Lubbock and 8th Street and reports that he has combined the produce department of the Eaves Produce and Grocery with the new business. The Eaves Grocery has sold the produce department to the Slaton Farm Store, but the Eaves Grocery is still in business and going strong.

Approximately 300 Slaton people have purchased their poll tax to date. Mrs. F. A. Drewry, deputy collector says there will be at least that many more before the end of January.

The Slaton Fire Department answered seven alarms so far during the first month of 1952.

The speaker for the 26th annual Chamber of Commerce banquet to be held tonight will be John Ben Sheppard, Secretary of State and one of the youngest members of the Texas Official family.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Kitten moved last week to their new home on the Joplin farm which they bought last year. They were given a surprise house warming the same night.

A new industry in Slaton is the Mazy and Son Company which is producing Mazys Hot Time tamales and chili. The business is located in the building on Eighth Street formerly occupied by the Dickson Hatchery.

The new curtains for the high school auditorium, which were bought some time ago, are now in place and ready for use, according to Supt. Kavanaugh. The curtains are the best quality available, are red in color, and are lined to add to their durability and appearance.

Highlighting the banquet to be held tonight by the Slaton Jaycees will be the presentation of the charter by the State President, John E. Mangum. The newly elected officials of the local club are J. C. Champion, president; R. E. Dunham, first vice-president; W. W. Fitzgerald, second vice-president; and Emrick Kolodziejczyk, secretary-treasurer.

An appeal was made at the Chamber of Commerce banquet last Tuesday night for funds to buy medicine for the treatment of a ten-month old Mexican child living about eight miles west of Slaton who is suffering from military tuberculosis. There is only one drug, streptomycin, that is at all efficacious in treating this form of tuberculosis and it is only very recently on the market. Because of the limited supply of the drug it is very expensive. The physicians in charge of the case report that at least $800 will be required to buy the required amount of the medicine at wholesale price, and a local druggist has agreed to furnish it at cost.

The Slaton Little Theatre had another meeting at the home of Mrs. R. G. Kirkpatrick. Twelve of the 16 charter members were present.
