Mrs. Electa Williams, Motel Operator, Former Chief Operator, Buried Jan. 23

Funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon at First Baptist Church for Mrs. Electa Williams. Mrs. Williams died Monday morning following a brief illness.

She was formerly Chief Operator with Southwestern Bell Telephone Company here, having served in that position for over 30 years. At the time of her death she was operator with her sister, Mrs. Lora Wicker, of the El Lora Motel, which was recently completed.

Mrs. Williams came to Slaton in 1924 with her husband, V. P. Williams, who preceded her in death in 1953. He was an engineer with the Santa Fe Railroad here.

She joined the staff of the telephone company in Slaton in 1924, and became Chief Operator later that year. She held that position until her retirement this year, after a dial system was installed. Mrs. Williams had worked with her sister, Mrs. Wicker, who served as Slaton's evening Chief Operator for about 30 years.

Mrs. Williams and her sister were honored at a retirement luncheon by Southwestern Bell Telephone Company in September.

A member of Westview Baptist Church in Slaton, Mrs. Williams was also a member of the Order of the Eastern Star.

The Rev. Bryan Ross, pastor of Westview Baptist Church officiated at the services, assisted by the Rev.

Mrs. Electa Williams

W. F. Ferguson.

Survivors, in addition to Mrs. Wicker, include another sister, Mrs. Ella Sears, Snyder; a brother, Lee Bean, Houston, and a foster daughter, Mrs. Loren Cullar, Abilene.

Pallbearers were Melvin C. Kunkel, H. H. Gore, C. A. Porter, Roy Bass, B. B. Castleberry, and G. E. Taylor.

Burial was in Englewood Cemetery, under the direction of Williams Funeral Home.

Loss of Memory Prevalent In Duval County Witnesses

Cases of "couldn't remember" were common among residents of Duval County whenever they would appear in court against the ruling dynasty of the Duchy of Duval.

A striking comparison is made in this week's article on Duval County dictatorship, appearing on the editorial page, between George Parr's reign of terror in South Texas and the Nazi terrorists of Germany.

Mesdames S. W. Clark, Fred Tudor, Alvin White, A. A. Trawick and George Green spent Monday in Big Spring at the Veterans Hospital. These women represented the American Legion Auxiliary of Slaton and spent the day working at the hospital. On February 4, there will be a one-day training school for hospital work and according to Mrs. Green, a large number of Slaton women are expected to attend.

Mr. and Mrs. Allen Jacobs of Lubbock spent last Sunday with Mrs. Jacobs' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry L. Preston.

Rotary Magazine Topic of Program Given Thursday

Bruce Pember spoke to the Slaton Rotary Club last Thursday on the "Rotarian" magazine. Included in his discussion was mention of the various types of stories contained in the magazine.

"To read the Rotarian will put more Rotary in Rotarians," Pember said.

T. E. McClanahan was in charge of the program.

Guests at Thursday's meeting included Arlie Medson, Bob Johnson, both of Lubbock, and Abe Kessel of Dallas.

Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Martin, Lucille and Mike left Saturday for their home in Castro Valley, Calif. after a month's visit with Mr. Martin's parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Martin and his brothers, B. C. and Calvin. They also visited with Mrs. Martin's parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. Martin, in Lubbock, and with relatives in Brownfield, Fort Worth, Oklahoma City and Portales.

Recent guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Mabry were Mrs. Mabry's sister, Mrs. E. H. Moody, and Mr. Moody of Idalou, her cousins, Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Pool of Lubbock and the Mabrys' daughter, Mrs. A. C. Bolton, Mr. Bolton and son James, of Lubbock.

Children's Clothing, Shoes Requested from Merchants, Residents for Welfare Center

A representative of the Welfare Center said this week that they were in desperate need for clothing and shoes for children. Cash contributions were also needed to buy medicines for the sick who are unable to buy their own.

Merchants who have damaged or soiled merchandise that is unfit for sale were urged to donate such articles to the Welfare Center, where it could be put to good use.

MULTIPLE CAUSES

A phenomenon such as juvenile delinquency cannot be fully explained by one cause. In all such social manifestations, the safest assumption to make is that of multiple causation. In attempting to understand this problem more clearly and to cope with it, more than one source needs to be investigated.

For there are both psychological and individual as well as sociological factors. There might even be a historical factor. The violence and danger in modern history have created a climate in which the mature must daily grope among anxieties and devils of despair.

Wars and rumors of wars, revolutions, tyrannies ruling in more than a third of the world do not create the best climate of hope and confidence. Often it is doubtful as to how much of a future youth can really look forward to. This is something which we must meet directly, striving to provide a better cultural and intellectual climate for youth.

There are obviously many other and possibly more individual psychological factors involved in this dangerous and painful situation. But the question of a cultural and intellectual climate is not unimportant and must be worked at so that it will possibly be improved.

A BASEBALL GREAT

Baseball fans will regret the retirement of Bob Feller, the 38-year-old Cleveland pitcher. Feller has been universally recognized by fans and baseball men as one of the truly great pitchers of his time. He seems a certainty to be elected to baseball's Hall of Fame when he becomes eligible to be voted on.

Feller learned to pitch by throwing stones on his father's farm in Iowa. He was discovered by the Cleveland scout, Cy Stapnicka, and when he broke in with Cleveland at the age of 17 he became an immediate sensation. As a teen-age rookie in his first season, he equaled the record by striking out 17 of the Philadelphia Athletics in a nine-inning game.

He planned a campaign to break Rube Waddell's record of 343 strikeouts in a season, and accomplished this feat by whiffing 348 batters in 1946. At first a fire-baller who overpowered the hitter, he developed a good curve and pitching savvy. All told, he won 266 games. He would easily have hit the 300 mark but for his period of military service, which ran from 1942 to 1945.

Pitchers as great as Feller are rare. But he was well rewarded. During some of the postwar seasons he received an annual salary in the neighborhood of $80,000. That will soften the blow of retirement. His number—19—also is being retired. This has never been done before by the Cleveland Club. It is a tribute to one of the outstanding ball players of our time.

LAMENT FOR ATTICS

Discovery by the Detroit Institute of Arts that what it thought was an obscure 15th century Flemish painting is really a priceless Jan van Eyck masterpiece has stirred our hunting and acquisitive instincts once again. We have always cherished a secret dream of finding a forgotten Rembrandt in the attic.

The trouble is, the American attic has gone into decline. Time was—and the older generation will remember this—when it was the perfect place for the kids to play on a rainy afternoon. It was the place where you dumped the library edition of Scott's novels and Grandpa's old silk hat. Aunt Matilda's wardrobe, whalebone and all, mouldered under the eaves.

But we have become, or are becoming, a nation of ramblers and ranchhouses. The only thing in the attic is complicated yards of electric wiring. Here and there the old house, its hospitable roof sheltering generations of family mementoes, holds its own against the rising tide of efficiency apartments and split-level "contemporaries." Someday we are going to buy one—and, lo! there, wrapped in old newspaper, covered with dust, nestling against the ancient brick chimney, there'll be a First Folio Shakespeare!

POSTJUDICE

We need a new word in the English language. So Emeritus Prof. Frederick K. Morris of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology told the graduates of Ohio's Hiram college. That word is "postjudice."

We are all familiar with prejudices. Practically everybody has them. These are judgments before we know the facts. Postjudices would be judgments after learning the facts, and should be much more common than they are.

On second thought, there is a word in the dictionary to express the idea of postjudice. That word is "knowledge."

Big time television is accused in some quarters of monopoly. We looked at the report twice to make sure that what was said was monopoly and not monotony.

Duval Methods Closely Parallel Repression in Hitler's Germany

By-FRANZ ROSENWALD

SAN DIEGO, TEX.—The Parr family, ruling dynasty in the malodorous Duchy of Duval, was in the boss business long before Adolph Hitler was ever heard of in his native Germany.

Hitler was painting bad picture postcards and living in a Vienna flophouse while Tsar Parr was running things high, wide and handsome in this sun-seared section of Texas.

As a German, and reputedly a bit of an expert on dictatorships (I've seen the Red kind and the Brown, or Hitler, kind), I've been asked to look at Duval from that point of view. I came, I saw and I shuddered. Duval was too much like home.

Let anyone consider a Hitler Germany-Parr Duval comparison as an invidious one, remember that I'm making no such comparison. I don't have to. History beat me to it.

Let's look at a curious, and disquieting, situation in Germany at this moment. Then we'll look at an interesting incident just a few months ago in the Grand Jury room in the Duval County Courthouse here in San Diego.

In West Germany "ex-Nazis" are being brought to trial on all sorts of charges harking back to the days of Hitler, war crimes, theft of public funds, graft, political murder.

A few years ago these same men were mousy, quiet, biding their time. Today they're arrogant, truculent, threatening.

In court they thunder at the judge and thunder at the jury, daring them to convict. The day is coming, and soon, they shout, when the "right" will triumph, when the hated foreigner will be thrust from the sacred soil of the Fatherland. On that day true Germans will know what to do. They'll punish the enemies within and the enemies without.

This courtroom strategy is working like a charm. The frightened jurors are acquitting the Nazi bully boys one after the other.

Now let's get back to the Grand Jury room in the Duval County Courthouse here in San Diego.

Red-headed George Berham Parr, of Duval, has been hailed before the jurors and questioning him is Sidney Chandler, assistant to Attorney General John Ben Shepperd. Chandler doesn't get very far with the Duke. Parr stands on his constitutional rights, invoking the "Fifth Amendment"—that a man may remain silent if his testimony might incriminate him or even tend to incriminate him. Then the jury adjourns and Chandler mops his brow in frustration.

"Sidney," Parr said, "I've got something to say to the jury." Chandler, curious, told him "Go right ahead."

Parr turned quietly to the jury and eyed each man in turn. He knew each man by his first name, and he reminded them of that. One grand juror was a Parr tenant, another an employee, several owed him money.

Then Parr's voice rose in fury to a crescendo. He shook his fist in the face of each man, shouting that soon there would be a new State government in Austin, a new government in Washington—and George Parr would again be firmly in the saddle. Then there would be a reckoning, a settling of scores.

One grand juror described the scene to me this way: "He yelled and screamed so loud you could hear him in Alice ten miles away." County employees came out of their offices and stood on the stairs outside the Grand Jury Room, listening in awe. Parr's harangue went on for twenty minutes.

"I respect you as Grand Jurors," he raged, "but only so long as you sit in this room. Outside of this room I don't have to respect you a G... D... bit, not a damn bit. Outside of this room I do as I please. Remember that! Remember that, all of you!"

That Grand Jury, white-lipped and frightened, listened — but right there the parallel ends. Unlike the cringing jurors in Germany that jury in Duval braved the threat of wrath to come and voted thirty-one indictments against members of the Parr machine.

We'll take just one more example of intimidation, an effective weapon in the hands of any efficient political boss or any dictator. Here in San Diego those terms are interchangeable.

On Monday, July 16, my writing partner and myself sat in the courtroom room in San Diego, District Judge C. Woodrow Laughlin presiding. The suit, brought by Manuel Trevino and Manuel Olivares, was to contest the results of last April's civic elections in San Diego when Parr forces captured four out of five seats on the city council.

The action was of particular importance because if it succeeded in unseating one of two Parr men, Alberto Garcia or Leopoldo Sepulveda, the Duke of Duval would have been stripped of his private army, the San Diego police force.

Here's the way it works: Never in its long and stormy history has San Diego had a police department. None was needed because the sheriffs of Duval County and Jim Wells County, together with their deputies, were well able to handle things to the taste of George Berham Parr. At one time Duval County alone had as many as 200 deputies, gun-slinging pistoleros. Some people put the figure as high as three hundred.

But Parr no longer controls the sheriffs. So the San Diego council dutifully gave him a police force with Manuel Amaya, former deputy sheriff, as chief. Amaya and his constables are officially paid $50 each per month. Under Texas law a peace officer must be paid at least $40 per month from the public purse before he has the right to pack a pistol.

I have talked to these men, sat with them in the Windmill Cafe, favorite haunt of Parr supporters. They eat well, dress well, have their own cars and show no signs of poverty. Yet their official pay is less than $12.50 per week. Parr reputedly makes up the difference out of his own pocket.

I watched these men in action in Judge Laughlin's court room that hot and sleepy afternoon. It was a job of straight, out and out intimidation of witnesses. One lone Texas Ranger, Wiley Williamson, sat near the judge's bench, keeping a wary eye on the scene.

Parr's policemen, their 45's loosely holstered, circulated about the big room, here whispering into the ear of a witness, there patting another on the back, digging playful knuckles into the ribs of yet another.

The policemen were smiling, jovial, friendly. But the witnesses weren't smiling. They had fright written all over them. Through a Spanish interpreter the witnesses, dozens of them, were sworn in as a group. Then the questioning began, with the interpreter relaying the questions and answers. It was amazing how much the witnesses couldn't remember. Their voices were hardly audible.

They couldn't remember, for example, whether they'd ever been convicted of a crime and so lost their right to vote. Or whether they'd received pardons from the governor and so regained their civil rights. One after the other they shuffled to the stand, and one after the other they "could not remember."

My partner and I were in the courtroom for but part of one afternoon of the four day hearing. That was enough to see Farrism in action.

At the conclusion of the hearing Judge Laughlin ruled that one Parr man, Leopoldo Sepulveda, had lost his seat to Manuel Trevino. The election of Alberto Garcia was confirmed, but the anti-Parr forces now had a three to two majority on the city council. The case was immediately appealed. The Parr man keeping his seat for the time being.

Thus George Berham Parr keeps his police force.

(Note: since this article was written another election was ordered by a higher court and Parr lost control of the city government. Thus his last means of keeping his pistoleros armed was taken away. Earlier he lost control of the Commissioners Court after a months-long series of court battles with Attorney General Shepperd, and saw his old enemy Donato Serna installed as Duval County auditor after more than a year of resistance which took the case up to the Texas Supreme Court. Putting an impartial man in the county auditor's position, Shepperd explains, was the key to blocking Parr from the misuse of county funds. The San Diego city government was Parr's last ditch, from which he is now evicted.)

STRENGTH FOR THE WEEK

We have been considering the blessedness of walking with God. And here is another gracious word for all those who walk with God. "There is therefore now no condemnation to them that are in Christ Jesus... who walk not after the flesh, but after the Spirit." Rom. 8:1-4.

Condemnation because of sin; this is the cause of fear everywhere. And this is no invention of priests and preachers in order to scare people, as some would claim. Neither is this a figment of an overwrought imagination, as others would claim. But this is a terrible reality. The smoke of sacrifice that rises from ten thousand altars testifies to the burden of consciences that are troubled by the fear of condemnation. And there is every reason to fear, for the wages of sin is death.

But to them that are in Christ Jesus there is no condemnation. These have passed out of the dark realm of fear into the joyous arena of freedom in Christ. Now there is freedom from the punishment of sin, and freedom from the power of sin. And the reason for this, because they walk not after the flesh, but after the Spirit. Now a new principle is controlling their lives. The love of sin is gone, and the love of Christ has taken its place.

A new relationship in which the grace of God shines on them. And in this new relationship of grace men can walk confidently with their God.

"Redeemed, restored forgiven Through Jesus' precious blood, Heirs of His home in heaven, O praise our pardoning God! Praise Him in tuneful meaasures, Who gave His Son to die; Praise Him whose sevenfold treasures Enrich and sanctify." F. A. Wittig, Pastor Immanuel Lutheran Church

PURINA BOOST-R-AID

"Gives chickens a boost... When they need it most!"

Just add it to the drinking water

Any number of things can put a chicken "under the weather". Vaccination, colds, disease, even a change in temperature. They go into a slump mighty fast... but getting them snapped out of it and back in production is often a long, money-losing chore.

That's why Purina built Boost-R-Aid... a powerful formula of important vitamins and aureomycin. You just add it to the drinking water after disease outbreaks or other stress periods... no change of feeding program or handling individual birds. Results often come fast—even before you expect them!

Pick up some Boost-R-Aid next time you're in and keep it handy. Never know when you'll need it!

Highlights and Sidelights FROM Your State CAPITOL

By—Vern Sanford
Texas Press Association

AUSTIN, Tex.—Gov. Price Daniel has lined up an impressive array of goals for himself and fellow officials during the next two years.

His message to the Legislature detailed 25 points. He labeled four as "emergencies."

Getting top priority were (1) water conservation (he suggested doubling the proposed $100,000,000 bond program), (2) additional highway patrolmen and other safety measures, (3) laws to facilitate right of way buying for highways and (4) a crime commission to guard against official misconduct, curb lobbying, etc.

Governor Daniel also recommended pay raises for teachers and state employees, local decisions on school segregation, increased old age pensions, abolition of dual banking-insurance operations, more money for insurance law enforcement, improved penal statutes for insurance and security controls, use of state funds for advertising and upping workmen's compensation benefits.

He said he favors a $5,000,000 prison building program, a paid adult parole system, laws to curb juvenile crime, revision of the state constitution, a continued state office building program (including an archives building), improved narcotics laws, study of the needs of the handicapped, election law changes and long-range study of the needs state tax structure.

Legislative comment following the talk was favorable.

Enactment of the total program would almost certainly require more revenue than the state has in sight. Daniel made no flat promise against new levies, except for sales and personal income taxes.

His budget message, to come later, will detail costs with suggestions for new revenue, if necessary.

WELL-HEELED COWHAND—Texas' new temporary U. S. Senator, William Blakely, personifies the Southwestern success story.

He began his career as an Oklahoma wrangler, went on to become a Dallas lawyer, CPA and top-bracket financier. His millions are spread among tremendous real estate and oil holdings, three insurance companies and a controlling interest in Braniff Airways.

His first whirl at politics seems destined for success too. He is a friend, not only of outgoing Gov. Shivers, who made the 11th hour appointment, but also of new Gov. Price Daniel, Senate Majority Leader Lyndon Johnson and President Eisenhower.

Blakely said he will vote with Democrats in the Senate, not upsetting the party's perilous 48-47 majority. Nor will he seek election.

SENATE LEADERS—Key chairmanships in the Texas Senate are in the hands of Sens. William S. Fly of Victoria and Wardlow Lane of Center.

Lt. Gov. Ben Ramsey assigned Fly to the finance committee, Lane to state affairs. Sen. George Parkhouse of Dallas, who headed the interim Water Resources Committee, will be water and conservation chairman.

Senate committee system was overhauled this year and the number trimmed from 39 to 4. All chairmen, except Charles Herring of Austin (state departments and institutions) are returning members.

Others are: agriculture and livestock, George Moffett of Chillocothe; banking, Jarrard Secrest of Temple; claims, David Ratliff of Stamford; constitutional amendments, Jimmy Phillips of Angleton; contingent expenses, Crawford Martin of Hillsboro; counties, cities and towns, Frank Owen III of El Paso; education, Doyle Willis of Fort Worth; game and fish, Abraham Kazen Jr. of Laredo; insurance, Searcy Bracewell of Houston.

Also, interstate cooperation, Otis E. Lock of Lufkin; jurisprudence, R. A. Weinert of Seguin; labor and management, Carlos Ashley of Llano; legislative, congressional and judicial districts, Martin; military and veterans affairs, Ray Roberts of McKinney; governor's nominations, Lock; oil and gas, Dorsey B. Hardeman of San Angelo; privileges and election, W. T. Moore of Bryan; public health, Mrs. Neveille Colson of Navasota; rules, Weinert; transportation, Jop Fuller of Port Arthur.

STEAKLEY SWORN IN—First executive appointment approved by the Senate was Austin Attorney Zollie Steakley, Gov. Daniel's choice for Secretary of State.

Steakley's swearing-in by Chief Justice John E. Hickman followed within 24 hours. It was the new streamlined oath authorized by one of last November's constitutional amendments.

Quipped Governor Daniel, a spectator; "I'm glad they left out that part about never fighting a duel, because I've almost had to do some of that recently."

Steakley's immediate predecessor, Tom Reavely, has joined an Austin law firm to be known now as Powell, Rauhut, McGinnis and Reavely.

"BILL" BOARD—With the legislative session well underway, hundreds of bills have flooded the hoppers. Some of the more significant would:

1. Transfer one per cent of the permanent school fund (now $340,000,000 to the available school fund. By Rep. Louis Dugas of Orange.

2. Create a separate Securities Commission which would combine operations now performed by the securities divisions in the Secretary of State's office and Insurance Commission. By Rep. Barefoot Sanders of Dallas.

3. Empower cities to tax agricul-

Chevrolet shows you some important differences in low-priced cars just by the look on its face!

Wouldn't you say that most of the '57 cars look good from 50 feet away, but what about from 50 inches away?

What does a close-up of the grille tell you, for example? Is it solidly made like the new Chevrolet grille? Or, in comparison does it look less rich in design—feel less strong and solid? Compare the quality and construction of the bumpers and headlights, the fit of the chrome trim.

The more closely you look all around the car, the more clearly you'll see that Chevrolet has the edge in the way it's put together. You'll find, for instance, that Chevrolet is the only car in its field with a lacquer finish... that only Chevrolet Bel Air models give you foam rubber cushions in front and rear seats as standard equipment. These are just a few of the advantages of Body by Fisher. And Chevrolet, you know, is the only low-priced car that has a Fisher Body.

We'll be glad to give you a close-up, comparative look at this new Chevy any time you care to come in. This week, maybe?

Texas Christian University Raise Entrance Requirements For 1957

Texas Christian University at Ft. Worth will tighten its admission regulations beginning next September, by requiring aptitude tests for high school graduates with grades below "C" average and by raising units in designated areas of study from 8 to 12.

The announcement was made this week by Pres. M. E. Sadler, after recommendation by Dr. T. F. Richardson, Dean of Admissions, and approval by the Deans' Council.

"C" Averaged Required
Under the new regulations all graduates of accredited high schools whose transcripts show a "C" average or above and who meet all other requirements will be admitted without condition.

Those whose average is below "C" will be expected to make a satisfactory score on the TCU College Aptitude Test, or the equivalent, if they live in a distant part of the country.

Additional Courses
Present requirements for admission call for 15 high school units, including 3 in English, 2 in History, 2 in Mathematics and 1 in Science. The new regulations will require at least 4 other units either in the same subjects or in Foreign Language, the Fine Arts group or Social Studies, including Civics, Geography or Sociology.

"I do not believe that the new requirements will greatly affect enrollment," Dr. Richardson said. "Of the students we have been admitting on probation with less than a 'C' average 93 out of 100 drop out of school with failing grades in the first semester."

He emphasized that only those students with high school averages below "C" will be required to take the tests. Starting in the spring these tests will be given at TCU on Saturdays for those students living within commuting distance of the campus. They will continue through the summer.

On Condition
In the area of required units of study Dr. Richardson pointed out that some students may be admitted on condition if circumstances warrant, and make up the missing work in the freshman year at TCU.

"The addition of the four required units, either in the basic subjects or Languages, Fine Arts or Social Studies will give the students a better academic foundation," he continued. "Too often units submitted are in non-academic fields such as shop or other technical areas, so that the student is not equipped basically to handle college work."

Complete information concerning the new TCU entrance requirements, as well as the dates for the aptitude tests, may be secured by writing Dr. Richardson.

Recent guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Love were Mrs. Love's mother, Mrs. F. S. Love, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Reid of Clovis, New Mexico, and Mrs. Travis Hendrick of Hereford. Mrs. Hendrick is Mr. Love's sister.

RETURNING AND EXCHANGING GIFTS

With every wedding, birthday, or holiday season, there comes the day-after-the-day-before—the returned gift headache. The season for returning Christmas gifts to stores for exchange is now upon us.

Most business establishments are as cooperative as possible about this annual American pastime, but before getting into any arguments with a reluctant clerk or manager, better take a look at the legal situation involved. You may find that persuasion is more in order than demands for adjustment.

Department stores are under no legal obligation to take back a purchase and refund your money or deliver other goods in exchange just because you changed your mind. Most stores do make refunds and exchanges, but that is because it is their policy to do so—not because they are required to.

However, a promise to refund or exchange merchandise made by the store or the salesman should be honored. Similarly, if a store misrepresents the quality of certain goods or if the goods are defective, you are justified in expecting a satisfactory adjustment. But you have no more legal right to expect a store to refund or exchange because you change your mind about a purchase than the store has to ask you to give back the goods that were sold to you because it didn't want to sell them after all.

Suppose you buy a coat in one store and find that another company has it on sale for five dollars less. Must the store where you bought it take back the coat and give you a refund, or refund the difference in price? The seller is under no obligation to refund the difference, any more than he could make you pay the difference if he discovered that a competitor offered the same coat at a higher price than he had charged for it.

Much the same rules apply to the refund of deposits. Unless it is the policy of a store to refund deposits on articles, or at least apply the amount on the purchase of some other item, the buyer is obligated to go through with the terms of the contract, even though he has changed his mind about the purchase.

When one selects, orders, and deposits money on the purchase of an article, the store is under obligation to deliver the articles in accordance with the terms of the sale. If the buyer refuses to accept the article or pay the remainder of the purchase price, the seller can take legal action against him, according to the terms of the contract.

The same principles apply to a trade-in allowance on used merchandise towards the purchase of a new article. Such a trade-in allowance is considered the same as a deposit.

FOR RELEASE WEEK OF JANUARY 13 POLIO: UNFINISHED BUSINESS

By mid-October, 1956, fewer than half of the 97,000,000 Americans who should be protected against polio by the Salk vaccine had started the prescribed course of three inoculations. The vulnerable age group is from six months to 35 years.

Chicago Epidemic Proves Value of Polio Vaccination

Chicago's polio epidemic of 1956, the most intensive in the country during the year, underscored the protection afforded by the Salk vaccine, according to the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

Although 1,098 cases were reported up to October 30, with 682 of them paralytic, 699 of those who contracted the crippling form of the disease were children and adults who had received no vaccine. The anti-polio vaccine is designed to protect against paralysis, not against the disease in its mild, non-paralytic form.

Records of the Chicago Board of Health show that of the 682 paralytic cases, none occurred in a person having the full series of three injections; 58 were in persons with two shots; 154 in those with only one shot of vaccine. Thus 470 of the 682 paralytic cases occurred in people who were entirely unvaccinated.

Vaccination in Chicago before the polio outbreak had been confined almost entirely to school-age groups. About 73 per cent of all the cases, paralytic and non-paralytic, were in age

Economic Conditions in Santa Fe Territory Good; High Level Business Expected in '57

The Santa Fe railway system looks forward to a continuing high level of business during 1957, and expects that gross revenues will equal or slightly exceed the revenues of 1956, President Fred G.

Gurley said today in his year-end review and outlook. Economic conditions in Santa Fe territory were generally good throughout 1956, with the exception of some agricultural areas in the Southwest, which continue to suffer from severe drought. Gross revenues from all classes of service are approximately 3% above 1955, although net income is likely to be about 10% below last year because higher costs of conducting the business have not been covered fully by rate increases for the services performed.

Geared to Prosperity

The overall volume of Santa Fe traffic is quite naturally geared to the prosperity of the area served by the railroad, and there appears nothing now to suggest any significant change in the record of growth of population, business and industry in the West and Southwest during the coming year, Gurley said.

The outlook for agricultural production is favorable in most of the areas, although because of the effects of drought and the soil bank program, a decline seems certain in winter wheat production, an important volume commodity for the Santa Fe.

Fight Squeeze

"Continuing increases in the costs of wages, fuel, materials and supplies and payroll taxes are placing the railroads in a position of waging a strong fight against the squeeze that results from inflationary pressures combined with an inability under regulatory policies to get rates more nearly in balance with higher costs.

Even a rate increase, which merely absorbs higher operating costs, would add nothing to the net income on which there are greater requirements for capital expenditures involving replacements at prices much higher than amounts provided by depreciation based upon original costs of old facilities that are replaced," Gurley declared.

Modernization

President Gurley said the Santa Fe has spent large sums in modernizing and improving its plant to keep abreast of growing transportation demands and that substantial expenditures already authorized may not be received until the first half of 1958 under present delivery schedules.

"This reflects our full confidence in the future and in the soundness of our basic economy," Gurley declared. "We have confidence, too, that there will come a wise and sound treatment of the competitive situation in transportation through appropriate modernization of governmental regulations, all in the interest of continuing the vitality of railroad services which have been and always will be so essential to our national defense and the commerce of the country."

Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Nixon and Carolyn of San Angelo spent the week end with Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Privett.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Eckert Jr. made a business trip to Brownfield Sunday.

Heavy Vehicle Federal Tax Returns Due Jan. 31; Forms Now Available

District Director Ellis Campbell, of the Dallas Internal Revenue district today reminded owners of heavy vehicles that Jan. 31, 1957, is the due date of the first returns and payments of the new Federal tax on the use of highway motor vehicles.

The new tax applies to the use on or after July 1, 1956, of highway motor vehicles having a taxable gross weight of more than 26,000 pounds. The taxable gross weight of trucks and truck-tractors is determined according to the empty weight and the number of axles. The tax applies to the use of single-unit trucks with empty weight of 13,000 pounds or more, and truck-tractors with empty weight of 5,500 pounds or more.

The rate of the tax for a full year is $1.50 per 1,000 pounds of taxable gross weight. A full-year's tax for one vehicle will range from $40.50 to $90.00, depending on its taxable gross weight. Each tax year begins July 1 and ends the following June 30. If the first use of a vehicle in the tax year occurs after July, the tax is prorated according to the number of months remaining in the tax year.

A special form (Form 2290 (Oct. 1956)) is provided for reporting vehicles used at any time in July, August, September, October or November 1956, and must be filed on or before Jan. 31, 1957. For each month after November 1956 in which a vehicle is first used, the taxpayer must file a return on regular Form 2290 (Rev. Jan. 1957) before the end of the next month. For example, a return on Form 2290 (Rev. Jan. 1957) will be due on or before January 31, 1957, for vehicles first used in December 1956. Copies of forms may be obtained from the district director.

'Campus Corner'

By Beverly Bland

I don't know about you, but speaking for myself, I am really behind in my lessons. What with all the basketball games being played (and won) by our fine teams, it keeps one rather busy.

From what I hear from the birds, the annual staff is doing a nice job this year. They have completed all class sections except for the seniors, and they sent another shipment to Austin Wednesday.

You've heard that old saying, "accidents do happen," well, one happened in first period study hall Friday when Charlotte Muse was surely leaning back in her chair when it toppled over, dropping Charlotte on the floor, somewhat disorderly. I don't know if I have ever seen that shade of red before or not, but Charlotte could tell you more about that.

It seems that funny incidents are catching, and I for one am glad for makes school much more interesting. Tuesday afternoon in fifth period Texas History, Rudy Dominquez flipped his fountain pen up to the ceiling, where it stuck. At the time the teacher, Mrs. Martha Brown, was absent from the room and when she returned she found everyone looking up. In an effort to get his pen down to earth again, Rudy used Winnie McGraw's purse, which he tossed at the stuck pen. Every time the purse hit the ceiling it looked as if the whole side of the ceiling would cave in. It was terribly funny, even Mrs. Brown thought so. Oh, you want to know what happened to the pen? Well, Rudy is probably using it at this very minute.

The seniors are busily counting the days off the calendar in their haste to leave us. I wonder why! Tuesday night when the Slaton basketball teams were coming home from Lockney, Peggy asked Jerry, "Jerry, what kind of team does Spur have?" Jerry lazily replied, "A basketball team."

Here's a thought to be turning over in your mind: "When you get to the end of your rope, tie a knot in it and hang on."

Tiger Basketball Team Takes First Place Trophy at Dimmitt

Slaton's towering, rebounding Tigers captured first place in the annual Dimmitt tournament, Jan. 3, 4, and 5, by beating Vega in the championship tilt, 58-53.

In the first game Slaton breezed past Nazareth 62-44. The Tigers, although they were cold from outside, ran up a large half-time score, 44-13, behind outstanding work on the backboards by Larry White, Doug Corley, and Jerry Hogue. Slaton's reserves coasted through the last half to finish the game.

In the semi-final tilt, Slaton played an outstanding last half to beat Bula 54-30. At the end of the first half Slaton led 24-22, but they scored 30 points to Bula's eight in the last half. Corley and White led the Bengals' attack.

In the final game, the Tigers blew a half-time lead of 33-26 in the third quarter. With one minute remaining in the game, Slaton was behind four points; but two quick goals by Corley and Hogue tied the score and sent the ballgame into overtime. The Tigers scored nine points to Vega's four to post the victory margin. White and Corley scored 21 and 20 points respectively for Slaton. They were also named to the all-tournament team.

The Tigerettes failed to advance in the tournament as they lost games to Nazareth and Bula. In the tilt with Nazareth Linda Smith made 31 points and Alma Jean Winn, 12 as the Slaton girls were bested 57-46.

Smith and Winn again hit in double figures with 35 and 16 points respectively but it was in a losing cause as Bula trounced the Tigerettes 75-57.

Miss Decker, Mr. Schilling Exchange Wedding Vows

In a recent ceremony held in the St. Phillips Catholic Church in Pep, Miss Martha Nell Decker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Decker, became the bride of Leon L. Schilling, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Schilling.

The Rev. Fred Hyland performed the double ring ceremony Jan. 16 at 8:30 a. m.

Pink and white snapdragons flanked with white tapers in candelabra formed the background for the altar. The music was furnished by Mrs. A. A. Homer at the organ and the St. Phillips choir which sang a Nuptial High Mass.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was attired in an original model gown of white imported chantilly lace and nylon tulle over net and satin. The gown was designed with a high neckline framed with a high collar of embroidered lace and iridescent sequins. The fitted lace bodice had a sheer yoke enhanced with sequins and embroidered lace, and terminated with points at the waistline. The long sleeves ended in points over the hands.

From this stemmed a voluminous skirt made of tulle with deep lace yokes fully shirred. The immense fullness of lace and tulle over net and satin was emphasized by a hoop slip. Her fingertip veil of silk illusion was edged in wide lace and joined to a coronet of seed pearls. The bride carried a bouquet of white roses showered with satin streamers.

Miss Margaret Ann Homer of Pep was maid of honor. Her ballerina length dress was net and taffeta with lace was sky blue. The skirt had rolls of looped taffeta over the net skirt. She carried a bouquet of peach carnations.

The bridesmaid was Miss Shirley Kitten from Slaton. Her dress was peach and made identical to the

Here's A Quick Bread That Brings Compliments

The woman who serves a home-baked loaf of bread always draws compliments from her family or guests. And it's so easy to be on the receiving end of those kind words with a quick loaf that's as easily mixed and wonderful to eat as this Caramel Nut Bread.

Here is a recipe for an ever-popular nut bread with an extra mellow flavor because cereal flakes are used as well as chopped nuts. Take your choice of bran flakes, corn flakes or whole wheat flakes from your breakfast cereal array. They not only add to the flavor, but also give a more interesting texture to the bread—a wonderful partner for the delicate caramel flavor.

And here's a trick that will give you a glistening top to the loaf. While it's on the cooling rack, brush the top with maple flavored syrup. You can slice the bread as soon as it's cool, then serve it perfectly plain or spread with butter or cream cheese. Wonderful with a generous cup of hot coffee.

Caramel Nut Bread

|--|------------------------------------|
| 2½ cups sifted all-purpose flour | ½ cup chopped nuts |
| ¾ cup bran flakes, whole wheat flakes or 2 cups corn flakes (slightly crushed after measuring) | |
| 1 teaspoon salt | |
| ½ cup brown sugar | |
| ¼ teaspoon ginger | |
| 1 egg, beaten | |
| 1¼ cups milk | |
| ¼ cup fat, melted | |
| | Topping—optional |
| | 2 tablespoons maple-flavored syrup |

Sift together flour, baking powder, salt, sugar and ginger. Combine beaten egg, milk and slightly cooled fat. Add to dry ingredients, stirring only enough to dampen flour. Fold in nuts and cereal flakes, being careful not to overmix. Pour into well-greased loaf pan, 8½ x 4½ x 2½ inches, and bake in moderate oven (350° F.) 50 minutes. Cool on rack. Brush top of loaf with maple-flavored syrup if desired.

Yield: 1 loaf.

It would make some people think if they had to pay a preacher as much for a marriage as they do a lawyer for a divorce.

Men would be a lot better off if they'd quit trying to understand women and just enjoy having them around.

Nowadays Americans think they are pioneers if they have to spend a rainy Sunday without a TV set.

The average American is a real optimist. He thinks he has a good chance to win in any lottery, but there isn't the slightest possibility of his being in a highway accident.

This Week in AUSTIN

Senator Preston Smith

Inauguration of Texas' first new governor in seven and a half years was different in more ways than one.

Evangelist Billy Graham credited the state with being among the first to begin inauguration day activities with a "prayer breakfast" . . . a new U. S. Senator was appointed in a "last official move" by Gov. Shivers . . . and cold and rain forced the inauguration ceremonies into the House chamber.

Billy Graham, special guest at inaugural ceremonies, was apparently favorably impressed with Texas. He said "there is now more emphasis on religion in national, state and local government than at any other time in American history."

Just two hours before Price Daniel was sworn into office, Gov. Shivers appointed Attorney W. A. Blakley to take Daniel's U. S. Senate post.

The question on everybody's mind is: "What does all this mean to Texas?" According to Daniel himself, it means a fight against "further federal encroachment of state's rights," enactment of a strict lobby law, exposure of any misconduct by state officials, a state-wide water conservation program, improved public education and higher pay for teachers.

Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Ward spent the week end in San Angelo. The Wards who were former residents of Slaton had lived in San Angelo for a few years but moved back to Slaton the first of the year.

Visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Brasfield were Jackie Haire of Southland, Billy Roy Williams from Ardmore, Oklahoma, and Mr. and Mrs. Howard Perkey from San Angelo.

John Wayne Richey went with the Texas Tech band for the inauguration in Austin. He left Monday and came back Wednesday of last week.

ther declared that cost of living pay boosts for state workers are in the mill, as well as programs to develop new business and industry for Texas . . . improvements to many of the state's institutions . . . and a balanced budget for the state.

Senator Blakley has stated publicly that he will vote with the Democrats. He is 58 years old and a millionaire.

Before flying to Washington, Blakley would not commit himself on the question of how he would vote in the Senate. But on arrival at National Airport in Washington, he answered, "Of course, I am a Democrat."

These developments, and the statements from both Gov. Daniel and Sen. Blakley, furnish much food for thought to all West Texans. For the general thinker, it looks like things are definitely going to be different. Just how much, time will tell.

Mr. and Mrs. L. D. McCullough moved Saturday to Garden City, Kansas.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Davis and Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Davis and children of Lubbock visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Davis, Sunday.

... more than a car
... more than a truck

LOOK again! IT'S THE NEW FORD RANCHERO

HAULS LIKE A TRUCK! No need to hold back on load. File it on—the Ranchero packs a greater payload than many standard pickups! Power plenty, too—Short Stroke 144-hp Six or either of two Short Stroke V-8's, up to 212 hp, Fordomatic or Overdrive at extra cost.

HANDLES LIKE A CAR! Ball-joint front suspension—first time on any pickup—gives true passenger-car ride. Cab interior is exactly like that of the '57 Ford Ranch Wagon. Power steering, power brakes, power seat and power windows available at extra cost.

Looking at the boldly modern styling of the new Ford Ranchero, you may find it hard to believe that it's actually a man-sized truck. But, you'll find there's a lot of left behind the glamour.

It carries more than half a ton. That's more capacity than many standard pickup trucks offer you. Loading height is less than any pickup. No matter how you look at it, the new Ford Ranchero is a real workhorse.

And it's a show pony, too! The Ranchero looks, rides and handles like a passenger car. Its low, crisp lines have a wonderful way of saying how progressive you and your company are.

The new Ford Ranchero is surprising in many ways. Never has so much style and luxury been packed into so rugged a vehicle at such a low price.
