THE STANDARD DIAMETER OF FREIGHT CAR WHEELS IN THE U.S.A. IS 33 INCHES. PLACED TREAD-TO-TREAD, THE WHEELS OF THE 2 MILLION FREIGHT CARS IN SERVICE IN THIS COUNTRY WOULD REACH 8300 MILES — A DISTANCE GREATER THAN THE DIAMETER OF THE EARTH.

ANDREW JACKSON WAS THE FIRST PRESIDENT OF THE U.S.A. TO RIDE ON A RAILROAD TRAIN (JUNE 6, 1833). TWO YEARS LATER HE ADJOURNED A CABINET MEETING IN ORDER TO WITNESS THE ENTRY OF THE FIRST TRAIN INTO WASHINGTON, D. C.

SINCE THIS TIME YESTERDAY, PASSENGER TRAINS IN THE UNITED STATES HAVE CARRIED 1,500,000 TRAVELERS ON JOURNEYS TOTALING 100 MILLION MILES.

JUST TALK

by A.M.J.

Proving that it does not pay to make sassy cracks about the women, I walked into a friend's home last week and the first thing his wife said was that I am going to get my few remaining hairs pulled out along with some eye scratching, shin kicking, and tongue lashing. These dire threats were made because I wrote of her conversation with my wife concerning the glamour of the new style glasses give the modern woman.

In my "Just Talk" on August 4th I stated that I considered the new glasses as being very unglamorous and that they made folks look like men from mars, hobgoblins and cross-eyed gargoyles. As this friend of ours, or perhaps I should say of my wife's, as I am probably in the outcast list, had bought herself a high priced set of the new fangled spectacle frames and while she was telling about how much glamour the new frames added to the modern woman's appearance, I could see my wife fingering her 1948 model glasses. She finally asked the "glamour glass gal" to let her try on the glamour glasses. They are practically giving them away at from $25.00 to $37.50 per set and I feel an upheaval coming on. It's the man who pays and pays and pays.

"Fellows who drive with one hand are usually headed for the church aisle; some will walk down it, others will be carried," says Editor Donald S. Fellows, Catskill Mountain Star, Saugerties, N. Y.

After being a double bed enthusiast for many, many years, and after bucking because my wife wanted and bought a twin bed bedroom suite I must now admit that she was right, as usual.

While she is not a fog horn snorer she does on occasions snore in the fashion that an old farmer used to call "cooling coffee." A deep drawing in of the breath and then exhaling in a long whooshing sound that makes sleeping hard on the other fellow. She says that I twist like a whirling dervish the minute I go to sleep and that on cold nights she used to have to get up and get herself a complete set of cover if she did not want to freeze! That I did such a thing I vehemently denied but she often had the extra covers to prove it.

While she has not quit "cooling coffee," I do not bother about it for I usually go to sleep before she does and I can turn and twist to my hearts content. Several times I have awakened in the morning with my head at the foot of the bed and my feet sticking off the sides but I sleep a lot better than I used to do, and if I do not go to sleep when I first go to bed she does not gripe because I keep her awake and it's visa versa, too.

There are a few folks who keep everything about them in order, pack a hand bag so that the tooth paste never turns over, the shoe polish never gets on the underwear and the jar of preserves never oozes on their best clothing. The men in this classification always have pencils, pocket knives and fountain pens with them and when they use a handkerchief it is always clean folded and neat and at their desk there never is a slip of paper on the top, the letter basket is never slopped over all important information is right at their finger tips.

It sometimes irritates me for I have never been able to find a place in the summer time to store a pencil, knife and a fountain pen without having the appearance of an olive stuck on a tooth pick. The only places I can find to put a pencil, or a fountain pen is awkward to carry around in a pair of slacks as a mattress; there is no place in a pair of slacks, that I can find, that will accommodate a handkerchief so that it does not look like a dish rag when you drag it out, and I suffer from hay fever all summer. My desk is a baffling place for every one but me as I keep everything out on top so that it is easy to find and I believe in variety for places to put things. Finding them is good mental exercise and this method does away with the tiresome task of having to keep things in order. What difference does it make if you look like a olive on a tooth pick, a lot of folks like olives.

Every summer I spend a good part of August climbing up our two peach trees trying to bat down peaches so that they will not get squashed from falling or get over ripe and I thought that this summer, after most of the fruit got ruined by an early freeze, that I'd save most of the skin on my shins, but the freeze was not thorough enough. Way up in the top of the peach trees about two dozen peaches ripened and it has been up to me to get them down without bruising them. For a man with a protruding belt line, weighing 190 pounds and about as agile as an oyster, this is quite a task and if there is any one who knows what to do for a stiff back, skinned ankles and a mean disposition I'd like to get the information. The only good idea I have had to date is cutting down the trees.

With atom bombs, air conditioning, television, radar and modern hair does the world is getting into a mess and if the atom bombs do not get us before long the world will be a queer place to live in with the weather manufactured to suit your taste, with most folks sitting around in the semi-darkness watching the world stirring even on a video screen and the women ginger-caked up until they will be looking like everything but a human being.

Think of the future, trips to Mars, pills for food, and everybody with nothing to do but push buttons and listen to hissing noises as the machinery goes into action. Perhaps the atom bombs should be dropped before something goes too far.

Leaders Push Annual Seed Program

A better quality wheat crop is the objective of a concerted campaign against diseases being conducted by agricultural leaders in Oklahoma and Texas. Posters urging farmers to clean and treat their seed wheat are being distributed throughout the winter wheat sections of the two states, pointing out that wheat treated with "Ceresan" usually gives better stands and higher yields, in addition to controlling stinking smut.

Official poster of the 1950 campaign is shown above being inspected by Fred Dines, left, Catching-Dines Grain Company, Crosbyton, Texas; Dr. A. M. Schlehber, center, Agronomist specializing in cereal grains at the Oklahoma Experiment Station; and K. E. Soder, right, Secretary of the Texas-Oklahoma Wheat Improvement Program.

An increased number of seed cleaning and treating establishments are operating this year to provide this vital service to more farmers throughout the wheat area.

"Yes," said the fat man, "my size doesn't worry me, because everywhere I walk around, people laugh at me, and that makes me feel small."

The new hardware clerk prided himself on always having a snappy comeback.

"Do you keep refrigerators?" the timid-looking woman inquired quietly.
 "No," he snapped, "we sell them."
 "Anyway," she said, as she strolled toward the door, "you'll keep the one you were going to sell me. Good morning."

"What is the name of your car?"
 "I call her 'Shasta'."
 "Because she's a 'daisy'?"
 "No, because she has to have gas, she has to have oil, she has to have air, she has to have something all the time."

Young Husband: "It seems to me, my dear, that these pancakes are rather heavy."
 His Bride: "Then I'm afraid you're a poor judge, for the cookbook says they are light and feathery."

Coffee Helped to Melt Icy Wastes Antarctica for Byrd and 41 Men

Explorers Drank 16 Gal- lons of Stimulating Beverage a Day

COFFEE—hot and lots of it—was the drink that made the greatest contribution of any beverage to the success of the Byrd Antarctic Expedition. In the long, bitterly cold months during which the forty-two men made history upon the ice of Little America, they drank sixteen gallons of coffee a day. At the base, on the trail with the dogs, in the air, hot coffee helped to fight off the penetrating cold and to stimulate tired brains and muscles. As one member of the Expedition put it: "We melted the ice with coffee."

How thoroughly the expedition was equipped to attain its objective is illustrated by the medical record of those fourteen months on the ice. There was not a trace of an epidemic of any kind. There was less individual sickness than such a group of men would be subject to at home under ordinary living conditions. And—most important of all—the men were consistently cheerful. Perhaps the most potent factor behind this amazing record was diet, which was entirely in the hands of George W. Tennant, chief cook. There are many men of the Byrd Expedition who will say that Mr. Tennant was its most important member. Beside being chief cook, he was the one and only cook for the forty-two adventurers whose main diversion on many days was eating. For fourteen months he began his labors at 5 o'clock in the morning and stayed at the range until 8 at night. Nor did he confine his menus to simple, easily-prepared dishes. Every Sunday, for instance, there was roast turkey with all the trimmings, and to top it off he made pie and ice cream. Holidays and the birthdays of every man on the expedition were celebrated with feasts—he baked more than fifty birthday cakes during the long stay on the ice.

All Food Was Frozen

"I never stinted the men on anything," Mr. Tennant said. "I figured out nearly one hundred cake recipes while we were down there so that they wouldn't get tired of it. Everything I had to cook with was frozen—eggs, butter, lemons, meat—but it was of the best quality."

"Every morning the first thing I would do was to put two and a quarter pounds of coffee in a four-gallon pot, fill it two-thirds full of water until it boiled, and then add the rest of the water. As soon as the first four gallons of coffee began to go I started a second pot, and there was a pot of it on the stove every minute of the day. I used nine pounds of coffee a day—sixteen gallons—and I guess they would have drunk more if I'd have had time to make it for them."

Twice As Much Coffee

"On account of the cold, the men got away with a great deal of hot drinks—coffee, tea, cocoa, chocolate and some prepared beverages that were real good. But they drank over twice as much coffee as all the rest put together. "Coffee braced the men up and stimulated them when they had work to do, and it made them cheerful when they were just sitting around wishing they had something to do. When they came in off the trail they almost knocked me over getting to the pot that was always steaming on the stove. In some ways, I think coffee was about the most valuable thing we took down to Little America."

Large Grain Crop Gathered Here

According to reports this section reaped one of the largest grain crops in the history of the South Plains, which have proved a boon to many farmers whose cotton crops were hauled out or who did not gather as much cotton as their neighbors.

Grain has long been a paying crop in this area and alcohol plants have often been recommended as worth while manufacturing enterprises for the South Plains so that grain could be used for the manufacture of alcohol.

The many uses of alcohol in industry makes it a very necessary item during war times and it is possible that an alcohol plant might be located in this area.

How to Roast Corn

Here's the way to roast corn. Turn back the husks and strip off the silk. Lay the husks back in position. Line up the ears on your backyard grill, over hot coals. Keep turning ears for 15 or 20 minutes, until husks are dry and browned. Break off the husks and the corn is ready to eat. Put out plenty of butter and big salt and pepper shakers.

Freezing Poultry

Preparation of poultry for freezing is easier than for any other method of preservation.

Before Revolution Russians Welcomed New Year Heartily

Pre-revolutionary Russia welcomed the New Year with booming cannon—a hundred shots fired at midnight.

The observance of the New Year on January 1, according to the Gregorian calendar, was instituted by Peter the Great in 1700. The evening of December 31, known as St. Sylvester's Eve, was the time for great fun and enjoyment.

In Petrograd (later St. Petersburg, and now Leningrad) the streets were gayly decorated with flags and lanterns, and thronged with merry-makers. After the booming cannon ushered in the New Year, the Czar formally received the good wishes of his subjects.

On New Year's Day the Winter Palace was opened to society. Festivity reigned throughout the city, hospitality and charity were the watchwords from palace to cottage, at least, at New Year's time.

The mythical Ovsen was supposed to be around about this time. He was usually depicted astride a boar, symbolically associated with the pork served for New Year dinner and the symbolism of Aryan descent.

Ovsen's name (so like the French words for oats) suggests his influence over matters pertaining to the harvest. Since earliest times, Russian boys were accustomed to go from house to house, encouraging everyone 'across' the gulf between the Past and Future Year, while scattering oats and other grains in petition for a bountiful harvest.

Onion Flavor

Heating chopped or sliced onion in a little fat helps draw out and distribute the onion flavor in stews and stuffings. Many good cooks let sliced onion stand in French dressing awhile before mixing the salad, as a means of stretching flavor.

Miss Payton Here To Visit Father

Miss Dolly Payton, a senior at the College of Saint Teresa, will spend the Christmas holidays at the home of her father, J. W. Payton, of Route 1, Slaton. Vacation started after the last class December 20, and classes will be resumed at the college January 8. Campus activities preceding vacation included an all-college Christmas party, with each class presenting a part of the evening's entertainment; a Christmas pageant given by the sophomore class; a two-piano concert; a program by Florence Mercur, American pianist; and a number of Christmas parties and sleigh rides sponsored by College clubs.

OUT OF GODFREY'S TEABAG. Illustration of a boy's face.

Some of those musicians on my show are pretty high-tony. Every Monday night one of them takes a taxi to Carnegie Hall—then he slips his violin into a paper bag and sneaks over to this studio.

I hear that song, "Good Night, Irene," is still going strong. It looks like they're having as much trouble getting Irene to go home as they had getting Chloe out of the swamp.

I get a lot of fan mail from people who don't know very much about television. For instance, they ask me the difference between a kinescope and a "live" show. Catch me some time and you'll know—on a kinescope I'm dead. I look like the ads that say, "Don't let this happen to you." In fact, some of my friends thought I was a preview of the Fred Allen show.

As the dog said to the leader of the flea circus, "I can't carry the show alone."

Lying will always get you in trouble. I lied once so I could get into the National Guard, I told them I was seventeen when I was really fifteen. So now I'm sixty when I'm really only thirty-one.

Streptomycin
Streptomycin, costly and scarce until recently, is now coming into wide use in treating diseases of livestock and pets. It is one of the group of antibiotic drugs obtained from molds that grow in the soil. Veterinarians report that it gives excellent results against certain types of kidney infection in dogs and against swine erysipelas in turkeys. It also is being used in combination with other drugs in treating infections of cattle, including bovine mastitis.

THIS and THAT FROM HERE and THERE

DRIFTING SANDS — Our mind wanders back again to the Korean situation. Back in 1860 we had a revolution here. The north called it a rebellion, the south called it a civil war. No one interfered. For four long years men of the blue fought the gray. They invaded each other's territory.

The north blockaded southern ports. No cotton got through to England. Thousands of men were thrown out of work in Birmingham and Sheffield. Pressure was brought on the government of Great Britain to intervene and lift the blockade. They didn't do it. The issue was settled and the slaves were freed. A united country resulted.

Upon free labor we have built a great nation. Who knows but what the Koreans might have settled their difficulties and forged a new nation.

China, Korea and Japan and other Asiatic countries have a land problem. The land has gradually been gobbled up by the few. The landlords exact 60 to 75 soil. In cultivation for thousands for years it has been so depleted to such an extent that it will not feed the people.

Chiang Kai-Chek is the leader of the wealthy, his Red opponent is the leader of the poor and discontented. He has promised relief, and China's starving millions has grasped as a drowning man at these promises. Too bad, they couldn't have settled their difficulties without the aid of Red, Russia or the United States. —The Andrews County News.

SKETCHBOOK — We'll laugh madly the next time we hear a woman complaining about slaving all day over a hot kitchen stove. We almost froze to death Tuesday morning while frying eggs and link sausages after our appetite went through one of its mid-morning quirks and got us out of bed at 3:30 a. m. To top it all, water lines were frozen so that we had to melt ice cubes to make coffee.

Things are coming to a pretty pass when the warmest place you can find in the house is inside the refrigerator. — The Olton Enterprise.

YOURS TRULY — Near tragedy struck a Wink home this week — and it should be a warning to all of us.

Tuesday morning, Mrs. Ferrell Tinsley lighted the gas stove in her son's bedroom at 6:30. About one hour later she returned to find Ralph Everett Tinsley, 14-year-old youth, sprawled on the floor, overcome by gas fumes. He didn't remember ever getting out of bed, but evidently subconsciously, had tried to leave the room. First aid and medical treatment of Dr. Plinke brought the lad around and he is reported fully recovered at this time—but another hour or less in the fume-filled room might have caused a tragic loss of life.

So this advice is given—and at the urgency of Mrs. Tinsley, who hopes it will not happen to anyone else in the community—be very, very careful in sleeping in a closed room where a gas stove is burning. With the sudden cold spell this week, many of us have dug out our heaters and hooked them up—dirty and not in proper adjustment. The fumes from such stoves are lethal. Let's be careful. —The Wink Bulletin.

EDITORIAL — Today, Thursday, December 7, is the 9th anniversary of Pearl Harbor Day. Rather than one of those anniversaries we celebrate; this is a day we solemnly remember for its infamous implications.

It is fitting, at a time when our soldiers are again dying in Korea, that we should pause and recall a war which some say was never ended.

It is fitting that we hold it as a duty, in war or in peace, to force ourselves to remember what sudden treachery can do. We must realize, no matter how hard we search for the combination to a peaceful world, that to protect ourselves we must be prepared for possible war.

Pearl Harbor is a symbol of our way of living; our entire civilization, can be crippled and destroyed within a matter of minutes.

We must remember Pearl Harbor, in order to be better able to arise should another such episode take place. — The Fort Worth Star-Telegram.

Master Showman Phineas T. Barnum got his real start in show business by managing the affairs of a remarkable juggler who had an equally remarkable dislike for soap and water. Once Barnum had prevailed upon the worthy gentleman to take a bath, he had no trouble building him into a popular entertainer. The world's greatest showman and founder of the Barnum and Bailey Circus, was born July 1810.

Bronchitis in Chicks Chicks sometimes are born with temporary immunity to infectious bronchitis, but you can't depend on it. That is the warning to be drawn from studies made at the Veterinary Research Institute of Iowa state college. The former belief was that if a hen recovers from an attack of infectious bronchitis, chicks hatched from her eggs will inherit a short-term immunity to the disease. But the Iowa studies showed that many baby chicks from recovered hens became infected just the same.

Billie Louise Brown Becomes Bride Of Slaton Boy In Lovely Home Rites

MRS. THURMAN D. REYNOLDS

Mr. and Mrs. George Alfred Brown, Wellington, Kansas, announce the marriage of their daughter, Billie Louise, to Mr. Thurman D. Reynolds, son of Mr. and Mrs. Travis Reynolds of Slaton. The candlelight ceremony took place August 12, at 6:30 p. m. at the home of the bride's parents.

Rev. Ronald C. Grabham of the First Presbyterian church read the double ring vows before the fire place which was decorated with a fan-shaped bouquet of white gladioli flanked on either side by candelabra. Sprays of white gladioli were placed throughout the home.

Miss Betty Sloan sang "I Love Thee" and "If God Left Only You." She was accompanied by Mrs. James Welch at the piano.

The bride who was given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white bridal satin and lace, fashioned with a fitted double breasted bodice, rolled collar, and elbow length sleeves. The double layered lace skirt of arched hemline length fell into a small train. Her fingertip veil of illusion was held by a tiara of satin and seed pearls. She carried a white Bible topped with a white orchid and showered with satin streamers. White satin opera pumps, lace mitts, and an add-a-pearl necklace complimented her gown.

Miss Myra Brown attended her sister as maid-of-honor. Her ankle length gown of sky blue satin and lace was identical to that of the bride's. She wore sky blue satin opera pumps, lace mitts, and a satin and lace helmet hat. Her colonial bouquet was of white carnations and yellow daisies, tied with blue net.

Mr. Jerry Reynolds served his brother as best man, and Mr. G. Stanley Brown, brother of the bride, lighted the tapers.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Brown chose a navy marquisette dress. Her corsage was of gardenias. Mrs. Reynolds, mother of the groom also wore navy and had a gardenia corsage.

For the reception, the bride's table was laid with a hand made Madeira cloth, silver candelabra, and was centered with a three tiered wedding cake. Mrs. G. Stanley Brown, Mrs. Murry Dressback, Miss Letha Brown, and Miss Frances Webb assisted with the serving.

For her wedding trip to Colorado Springs, Denver, and Salt Lake City, the bride wore a navy suit, navy shoes, rose velvet hat and muff. Her corsage was a white orchid.

FAIREY TALES

By Norma Fairey

Have you ever seen anyone as cheerful and full of pep as Norma Lasater always is? I've never seen her in a bad mood. I wonder what her secret is for such a bubbling personality. It is interesting to me to watch people's facial expressions. Some people smile all the time, and when you are around them you can't help but smile with them. Others are always talking about their problems, etc., and people avoid them unless they have problems they want to talk about too. I once knew a brilliant college professor now teaching at Texas Tech, who always seemed secretly amused at something. I was so amazed one day to hear someone else use those exact words in describing him.

And who can keep from laughing when they talk to Claude Craven? His laugh is the kind that lingers in your imagination and makes you cheerful long after you have quit talking to him.

When I read in the paper about the Home Demonstration on candy iced tea, I really became interested. In fact, I was so interested that I called up Mrs. Alton Meeks and asked her for the recipe. You see, I'm an avid tea drinker. I don't particularly like hot tea, but I drink iced tea the year around. If you like your tea sweet, you might enjoy this recipe.

Put 8 tps. of tea in a pre-heated pot containing one pint boiling water. Cover and let stay 5 minutes. Stir and remove. Strain into pitcher and let it stand at room temperature until ready to serve. Pour the tea over 2 pkgs. lemon or lime flavor candy or 1 tablespoon red cinamon candy. Stir until dissolved. Add two pints of cold water. Pour over ice and serve. This makes eight servings and no sugar is necessary. You might save this recipe in case there is ever another sugar shortage.

TEXAS TOBACCO — Hoping that Texas soil and climate will prove suitable for large scale tobacco-growing, L. W. Adams examines a healthy looking crop on his farm near San Antonio. Adams, who has farmed tobacco in Kentucky, says these plants look as good as any he has raised in the "Blue Grass" state.

OPEN LETTER

To Mothers Of Little Gals From 5 To High School Age

How does your daughter grow? With naturally curly hair? If so, we'll cut her hair in a style that will be trim and tantalizing. If not, we'll cut her hair to a perky length and give her a baby-soft permanent wave. No more putting it up every night or after every rainstorm. This plan is not only helpful to you, but good for your child. Most little girls are coquettes at heart. We'll wager a child who looks pretty as she can will be smart as she can—and happier in school.

The first bell is just about to ring! To start the new school year right, send your daughter to

First Prize Goes To Robert Sokoll

One mother was thrilled and many others were delighted with the outcome of the Marinell Portrait contest. Prize winners were announced at the open house held in the studio Thursday night, August 17, from 7:00 to 10:30 p.m.

Probably the happiest mother of the entire group was Mrs. B. H. Sokoll, whose son Robert Wayne, was chosen as the grand winner in the month long contest. As the grand winner, Robert Wayne receives a $75 enlarged portrait, size 16x20, colored in oil. It was not a close race for Robert either, for he scored nearly 100 more points than any other entrant in the contest. His total for the grand prize award was 252 points.

The closest race was in group two, where only 2 points separated the first and second place winners. Of the ten winners and six honorable mention pictures, five were boys, and eleven were girls.

The winners are:
 Group I—two months to two years—First prize, Mark Todd; second prize, Charlotte Wells; third prize, Kenneth Stephens. Honorable mention was given to Teri Park and Janet Kitten.

Group II—three, four, five, and six years—First prize, Sherry Patton; second prize, Nora Jane Mock; third prize, Robin Davis. Honorable mention was given to Curtis Lee Cavin and Elise Edwards.

Group III—ages 7, 8, 9, and 10—First prize, Cherie Arrants; second prize, Pam Strickland; third prize, Pamela Maxey. Honorable mention was given to Jerry Harlan and Margery Hughston.

Portraits of the prize winners and the other entrants will be on display at the studio for about ten days.

Ballot officials were Mrs. Lee Green, secretary at the Retail Merchants Association, representing the mothers; Mr. Lee Vardy, superintendent of school, representing the public; and Mr. B. Fredric de Vries, representing the Marinell Portraits.

Water Reservoirs
 In order to replenish underground water reservoirs, flood water is often diverted across porous earth surfaces.

Anemic Pigs
 Deficiencies of iron and copper, resulting in anemia, are common in pigs raised without access to soil.

Indians' Last Stand
 Battle mountain state park near Pendleton is the site of the last Indian battle fought in Oregon. Marauding Paiute and Bannock tribes created months of terror in north-eastern Oregon until subdued in 1878.

Domestic Rabbits
 Wild animals of several kinds, including wild rabbits, are frequent victims of tularemia, but domestic rabbits apparently do not contract it. Squirrels, rats, field mice, skunks and beavers are among the animals that are susceptible to this disease, which is sometimes called rabbit fever. Certain biting insects are believed to spread the infection to human beings, although most human cases are due to contact with wild animals or water contaminated by these animals.

Albert Rim
 Albert Rim in southeastern Oregon's lake county is described by geologists as one of the largest exposed faults in the world. Where the earth slipped vertically ages ago, the fault rises 2,000 feet above the eastern edge of Albert Lake with an 800 foot lava cap which ends in a sheer precipice.

Aureomycin
 Aureomycin, the golden-colored antibiotic drug, is effective against whooping cough and lymphogranuloma venereum, a minor venereal disease, two Minneapolis doctors report.

Bedding for "Bossie"
 Deep bedding in stalls helps to protect cows against udder injuries.

Live Afloat

Canton, China, might well qualify to be known as the world capital of river folk. Thousands of people live their entire lives there in boats—mostly sampans—afloat on the Pearl river. Some of them, especially women, seldom set foot on the city's streets.

It is estimated that America has seven million arthritis victims.

Slaton Women Give Their Favorite Tested Recipes

Judging by the weather we have been having lately, Summer is not yet ready to depart. Fall must be at least a month away, so we are again looking for something to eat that doesn't require long cooking and heating up the house. When we called Mrs. J. J. Maxey, she told us of a recipe that she makes very often both in warm weather and in cold weather. Her family really goes for this dessert and it really sounds appetizing to me. It is called Eagle Brand Cocktail Pie. Here are the ingredients.

For the pie shell, 16 graham crackers and 1/4 lb. margarine. Melt the margarine and then pour the graham cracker crumbs, which have been rolled, into the margarine. Place in a plate and chill.

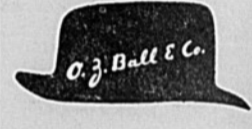

For the filling, 1 can Eagle Brand, 2 eggs, separated, 1/2 cup lemon juice, 1 1/2 cups fruit cocktail drained, Medium sized can, 1/4 teaspoon cream of tartar, 4 tbs. sugar

Blend the Eagle Brand, beaten egg yolks, and lemon juice, and stir well. Then add the fruit cocktail and mix the ingredients well. Place in the pie shell, which has been chilled. Add cream of tartar to the egg white from two eggs, and beat until stiff. Add the sugar gradually. Pour mixture over the pie and place it under the broiler to brown. When the meringue has browned, place the pie in the refrigerator and let it stay until ready to serve. "The longer it stays in the refrigerator, the better it is," says Mrs. Maxey.

Harrison Highway construction is within three miles of the New Mexico line with the base finish. W. V. York, senior resident engineer of the Texas Highway Department said Friday.
He said the job should be completed by August 20. They still lack eight miles of topping.
Mr. York said they would have completed the highway at least two weeks earlier if it had not been for the recent heavy rains, which also caused damage estimated near $5,000.

A concrete ramp leading up to the water of Lake Colorado City has been constructed by the Mitchell County Sportsmen's Club on its 25-acre site adjacent to the west lakeside.
The ramp, 18x255 feet, is designed as a driveway where club members may back up their boats to the water and launch them without unnecessary difficulties previously presented by a muddy bank.

Boll worms and leaf worms have showed up in Kalgary and Canyon Valley in large enough numbers to do extensive damage to cotton and should be controlled at once, County Agent W. R. Kimbrough warned this week.
"You can expect damage from these insects from now until frost, and they should be controlled when they first appear in your cotton fields," he warned.
Mr. Kimbrough told of counting 25 worms on one stalk of cotton in the Kalgary community Monday. Damage could already be noticed in some of the fields.

One half of a normal year's supply of rain fell in Morton during the past month according to figures released by the U. S. Department of Agriculture Office in Morton.
The final total in Morton proper, or more particularly where the gauge is located, was 8.22 inches which farmers agree was more than enough. Naturally the rainfall in the county hit much larger amounts than that in some places. At least one community, Maple, recorded that much rainfall in two days during July.

Lvelland this week was several steps nearer completion of a long-range recreation program.
The Community Recreation Center association authorized shipment of steel for a proposed swimming pool, the city obtained title to land for the proposed city park and title to park site in the 13th addition, yet to be admitted to the City limits.

Twenty city blocks were designated for paving and curbing last week at a meeting of the City Council.
The blocks are to be used as a trial run to ascertain construction costs in the city. Detailed data will be kept on the paving and curbing of the blocks to find out just how much it will cost to pave the streets.

Six tons of DDT, in a talc compound, will be dropped on the city of Brownfield at about daylight, weather permitting, Sunday, according to information received from Mayor Primm.

Prospects for a radio broadcasting station for Floydada brightened this week according to Ed Holms, one of the petitioners who have been asking the Federal Communications commission for a license to put in a station here.
Developments include the withdrawal of one petitioner for the frequency sought by the West Texas Broadcasters, Inc. and a petition that the hearing continue.
The Floydada station, as projected would operate on 900 kilocycles, with 250 watts power.

With Terry County in the lead with an estimated 250,000 acres,

South Plains farmers stand a good chance to harvest the largest grain sorghums crops in the history of the area this year. Good to excellent is the report on the crop conditions in the 2,573,000 acres planted to grain in the 16 county area.
Of Terry county's acreage, 245,000 are non-irrigated and 5,000 irrigated. The totals for the South Plains are 2,053,000 non-irrigated and 520,500 irrigated.
The 2,573,000 acres constitute the largest acreage planted to the crop in this area. The acreage is nearly double the amount of land planted to the crop last year, according to a survey completed by Clayton Carter, Lubbock grain man.

Thoughts For A Time Of Crisis

ON FAITH AND COURAGE

This is no time for ease and comfort. It is the time to dare and endure.—Winston Churchill.

The wise man does not expose himself needlessly to danger, since there are few things for which he cares sufficiently; but he is willing, in great crises, to give even his life—knowing that under certain conditions it is not worth to live.—Aristotle.

Let us have faith that right makes might, and in that faith let us, to the end, dare to do our duty as we understand it.—Lincoln.

Whatever necessity lays upon thee, endure; whatever she commands, do.—Goethe.

The strong man meets his crisis with the most practical tools at hand. They may not be the best tools but they are available, which is all-important. He would rather use them, such as they are, than do nothing.—Raymond Clapper.

When we come to realize the nature of the conflict and the issues that are at stake, we too will know that we have still to fulfill our promise, to mankind. We will know that now, more truly than when Lincoln spoke, "we shall nobly save or meanly lose the last, best hope of earth."—Henry Steele Com-mager.

No man is worth his salt who is not ready at all times to risk his body to risk his well-being, to risk his life, in a great cause.—Theodore Roosevelt.

ON THE AMERICAN DESTINY

The preservation of the sacred fire of liberty and the destiny of the republican model of government are justly considered as deeply, and perhaps finally staked, on the experiment entrusted to the American people.—George Washington.

America's independence will implant liberty and make it flourish throughout the world.—Marquis de Lafayette.

We now behold a government which to bigotry gives no sanction, to persecution no assistance, but generously affording to all liberty of conscience, and immunities of citizenship, deeming every one, of whatever nation, tongue or language, equal parts of the great government machine.—Moses Seixas.

Have you not learned that not stocks or bonds or stately houses or products of mill or field are our country? It is a spiritual thought that is in our minds.—Benjamin Harrison.

The United States is the richest, and, both actually and potentially, the most powerful state on the globe. She has much to give to the world; indeed, to her hands is chiefly entrusted the shaping of the future. If democracy is the broadest and truest sense is to survive, it will be mainly because of her guardian-ship.—Lord Tweedsmuir.

The interesting and inspiring thing about America is that she asks nothing for herself except what she has a right to ask for humanity itself.—Woodrow Wilson.

Our country stands before the world as an example of how free men, under God, can build a community of neighbors, working together for the good of all.—Harry S. Truman.

ON THE MEANING OF FREEDOM

Freedom in a democracy is the glory of the state, and, therefore, only in a democracy will the free man of nature deign to dwell.—Plato.

Freedom of men under government is to have a standing rule to live by, common to every one of that society, and made by the legislative power vested in it; a liberty to follow my own will in all things, when the rule prescribes not, and not to be subject to the inconstant, uncertain, unknown, arbitrary will of another man.—Locke.

They that can give up essential liberty to obtain a little temporary safety deserve neither liberty nor safety.—Benjamin Franklin.

Free people, remember this maxim: We may acquire liberty, but it is never recovered if it is once lost.—Rousseau.

Dictatorship involves costs which the American people will never pay: The cost of our spiritual values. The cost of the blessed right of being able to say what we please. The cost of freedom of religion. The cost of seeing our capital confiscated. The cost of being cast into a concentration camp. The cost of being afraid to walk down the street with the wrong neighbor. The cost of having our children brought up, not as free and dignified human beings, but as pawns molded and enslave by a machine.—Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Every man is to be respected as an absolute end in himself; and it is a crime against the dignity that belongs to him as a human being, to use him as a mere means for some external purpose.—Kant.

ON THE HUMAN SPIRIT

God gave man an upright countenance to survey the heavens, and to look upward to the stars.—Ovid.

Lord, grant that I may always desire more than I can accomplish.—Michelangelo.

Great men are they who see that spiritual is stronger than any material force; that thoughts rule the world.—Emerson.

It seems to me that we can never give up longing and wishing while we are thoroughly alive. There are certain things we feel to be beautiful and good, and we must hunger after them.—George Eliot.

It is not to taste sweet things, but to do noble and true things, and vindicate himself under God's heaven as a God-made man, that the poorest son of Adam dimly longs.—Carlyle.

I tell you that as long as I can conceive something better than myself I cannot be easy unless I am striving to bring it into existence or clearing the way for it.—G. B. Shaw.

Did you ever hear of a man who had striven all his life faithfully and singly toward an object, and in no measure obtained it? If a man constantly aspires, is he not elevated? Did ever a man try heroism, magnanimity, truth, sincerity, and find that there was no advantage in them—that it was a vain endeavor?—Thoreau.

Ideals are like stars; you will not succeed in touching them with your hands. But like the seafaring man on the desert of waters, you choose them as your guides, and following them you will reach your destiny.—Carl Schurz.

QUOTES

I've been reading where criminals are serving sentences concurrently; that is, they serve two sentences at the same time. The criminals and the lawyers may have something, and I've been wondering why we can't adopt something like that for the use of us law-abiding citizens. In a democracy, what's good enough for a convict ought to be good enough for everybody else. What I would like to see is a system of paying your debts concurrently. Say you're a little behind at the grocery store, the meat market, the drug store, the lumber yard, the bank, and a few other places I can't think of right now. Just pay your money into a pool, and every time you pay a dollar to the lumber yard, the meat market has to credit you with a dollar, too. Personally, I believe there would be a lot more debts paid under this system, and if it worked in private business, it ought to work on the national debt, too. We could even rope in the European nations on it, and the whole world would get out of debt fifteen or twenty times faster than it ever will. And think of good will!—H. B. Fox, "Circleville Philosopher" News, Granger, Texas.

I have observed that the fact that one is a dignified highly respected, upright man, means nothing to a banana skin.—Erma Freesman, "Girl of the Gumbo" Tribune-News, Manhattan, Kansas.

We like Tom, Dick, and Harry more when they have Jack with them.—Delmar News, Selbyville, Delaware.

Let's spell it "taxes" to keep us mindful of double-crossing.—Press, Ridgefield, Connecticut.

It's rather easy to determine the sex of a worm. It's a lady worm if it doesn't put out its hand when it turns.—L. S. McCandless, "A Shot of Scotch" Empire-Courier, Craig, Colorado.

When the insultee moves for libel instead of his hip, it's "Broadway," not "Main Street."—"Wise Crax," American, Weiser, Idaho.

You don't have to have ulcers to be known as a successful person, but they help.—The Pendulum, East Greenwich, Rhode Island.

Ruled by Priest-King.

Tibet is a theocracy—governed by priests of Lamaism—the state religion. A form of Buddhism, it makes generous use of legend and superstition. The 14th Dalai Lama, now reigning under a regent and council of priests in the lamasery-palace at Lhasa, was installed in 1939.

Sick Dogs

When a dog vomits, serious trouble may be ahead. But at other times such an upset may occur when there is nothing wrong with the stomach. Veterinarians say excitement, shock, pain, a bitter taste, parasites in the ear canal, or even worry can cause the upset.

DIAGNOSE SICK BIRDS PROMPTLY

One of the common faults found in the management practices of poultry raisers is the failure to recognize and treat poultry diseases before they make headway in a flock. This is especially true in the case of the unsuccessful raiser, who often becomes disillusioned and confused when he repeatedly loses birds to disease.

In the first place, a poultryman must become a student of disease problems. Any grower who ignores the disease factor in poultry raising is certain to be handicapped in his efforts sooner or later.

The successful control of poultry diseases and parasites depends to a great extent on the prompt diagnosis of such diseases. Quick recognition of the disease enables the poultryman to curtail its spread in the flock and keep down the losses.

Observe Birds Carefully Too often the raisers believe killing ailing birds is the best policy, feeling that by eliminating sick birds they can prevent further spread of the disease. Actually, however, it is best to separate sick birds from the other poultry and observe them for additional symptoms. Following observation, a post mortem examination should be performed.

If a poultryman is to make a success of his enterprise, he owes it to himself to become familiar with the symptoms of poultry diseases. All diseases have distinct symptoms. By learning to recognize these symptoms quickly and accurately, the poultry raiser often can detect diseases early and head-off discouraging outbreaks.

General unthrifty condition—Examine birds for external parasites, such as lice, mites, ticks, etc. Also internal parasites. Examine birds' droppings for roundworms or segments of tape worms.

Lameness—Lameness in turkeys may be due to range paralysis, bumble foot, scaly leg, rickets, fracture or bruises.

Diarrhea—This may be caused by digestive disorders, cholera, coccidiosis, fowl typhoid or worms.

Bloody droppings—These may be due to coccidiosis, enteritis, or worms.

Gasping—Gasping symptoms usually indicate disorders in the wind pipe or larynx. "Colds," coryza or roup may also be responsible for the same symptoms.

FIRST OF THE FINE CARS IN VALUE

BIG MOMENT- with a Double Impact

It's a big moment when any new car rolls up to your door and you start out fresh and spanking bright. Think, then, what it's going to mean when that new car is a ROADMASTER like this one pictured here. You'll swing wide the door and slide into a car that's truly fine—and looks it. You'll put foot to treadle and touch off the might of a great, 152-horsepower Fireball straight-eight that's ready to master any road—or anything it meets there. You'll have the silken magic of Dynaflo Drive to simplify your driving, ease your way. A handsome flexible steering wheel, automatic windshield washers, soft Foamtex cushions, and many other items that are "extras" elsewhere are standard equipment here. And that can mean a lot. For instance— Drop in on your Buick dealer. Try out a ROADMASTER. Match it, feature by feature and point by point, with any other fine car on the road. Then get the price. You may well find that you can get not only a new ROADMASTER for the sum you had in mind—but maybe a new fur coat for your wife as well!

FOUR-WAY FOREFRONT. This rugged front end (1) sets the style note, (2) saves on repair costs—vertical bars are individually replaceable, (3) avoids "locking horns," (4) makes parking and garaging easier.

THIS and THAT FROM HERE and THERE

OFF THE RECORD—Most of us have our own measuring stick by which we measure whether we have been a success or a failure. To some success is measured in terms of bank accounts, merchandise, stocks and bonds, farms and crops, ranches and livestock, oil wells and mineral rights. If they have an accumulation of any of these, their yard stick measures them as a success.

Others measure their success by the distance they have climbed the social ladder or the distance they have reached on the road to fame. A great politician, a great scientist, a great surgeon, a great preacher, a great writer and many other greats are looked upon as being a success.

There are others who measure their success by a life that is free of faults and at whose door no blame has ever been laid.

All these are commendable qualities and are tenets to which all of us should strive to have a goodly amount, yet in accumulating them, it seems to me that we should never lose sight of the inches in the great measuring stick which when finally weighed in the balances of justice will decide whether we have truly been a success or a failure.

Some of the words in this great measuring stick are words of comfort that we pass along to those who are sad or disheartened; deeds of kindness that we have bestowed upon those in need; a charity so forgetful of self that we can give until it hurts when it becomes necessary; a giving of labor and time to help keep our city and the world a safe place in which to live; a faith that can't be shaken; a hope that is never dimmed in the face of disaster; an ambition that calls for the best in life and not satisfied with anything less; a fortitude that never dies and will not accept failure but strives for victory.

—Levelland Sun News

TRENDS—A prominent Presbyterian pastor recently used the following parody on the Twenty-third Psalm:

"The State is my shepherd, I shall not work; It maketh me to lie down on good jobs; it leadeth me by the still factories; It deadens my soul; it leadeth me in the path of idleness for politics' sake. Yea, though I walk through the valley of slothfulness and economic disaster, I will fear no evil, for it will be with me; its dole and paternalism, they comfort me. It prepareth a Utopia for me by appropriating the earnings of the frugal; it filleth my head with fool expectations; my mounting inefficiency runneth over. Surely goodness and mercy shall follow me all the days of my life; I shall live on the bounty of the State forever.

—Crosbyton Review

AROUND TOWN—City Drug employees know a sure-fire way to foil safecrackers. Kenneth Coker discovered it quite by accident but anyhow it works, to a certain extent. One night last week Kenneth closed up at Edwards Pharmacy as usual dropped the money in the cash box, or at least he thought he did. Next morning Wayne Edwards opened up and when he looked for the money he couldn't find it. There was an open can of Kem-Tone right beside the box and he finally fished around in there and sure enough there the money was. Who would ever think of looking in a paint can for money, particularly when it has pastel green paint in it.

—The Sunday Brand

SKETCH BOOK—We see according to an AP feature writer, that women are being given full credit of the innovation of piping constant muted music into banks.

The idea seems to be that women like a friendly and informal atmosphere everywhere, including banks. The canned music people say that one bank, which had studied the figures concerning how much money women control, started serving afternoon tea to customers (women) and also had a beautiful child contest for the offspring (women) depositors.

THE INNOCENT PAY FOR THE STUPID MAN'S PLAY—The Texas Department of Public Safety estimates that 60 Texans are alive today that would have been killed in June traffic accidents were it not for the Highway Patrol's war against speeders.

With June considered a more ideal month for traveling than May, it should mean a great deal to all of us that less lives were lost in June than in May. It should mean a great deal that the trend is down instead of steadily rising as it has been for some time.

To accomplish this task, the Highway Patrol had to arrest more speeders than ever before in the history of the patrol. In other words, to accomplish this task, the Highway Patrol had to ac-

For the Bathroom
The walls and woodwork of a bathroom will require two quarts to one gallon of paint for each coat—depending upon the size of the room. Gloss or semi-gloss enamel should be used because of the frequent presence of moisture and because of the desirability of washing wall surfaces at intervals.

For Better Steaks
Juicier steaks and roasts are now possible. Stainless steel tubes perforated with tiny holes are used to supply water to the center areas of the meat.

usually go out and pull the maniacs off the road. If ever anything was a national disgrace, this is it. Lecturers, driving tests, and arrests seem to do little good. It becomes more amazing everyday how little people behind the wheel care for the lives of others. The problem boils down to something very fundamental. Only ignorance could account for a nation of people permitting this thing to continue.

Sixty are still alive. Were you one of the 3,390 who were caught speeding last month? Were you one of the 733 who were driving while under the influence of alcohol? Were you one of the 879 who took the stupid chance of passing on a hill or a curve?

The horrible thing is that if you weren't one of these you still could very easily be one of the 60 that are living, thanks to the Highway Patrol. The percentage of deaths by accident to the persons who are foolishly breaking the law is appallingly low.

—The Morton Tribune

MALE BAIT—Hollywood film actress Marie Wilson, often and accurately referred to as "the Body," was picked by a bathing suit manufacturer as the girl best qualified to model the newest addition to his line, a suit labeled "Male Bait." Marie is plenty used to new lines—but not of bathing suits.

Antimony Oxide
Idaho's Yellow Pine mine in Valley county produces antimony oxide for paints outstanding in flame resistance and covering power. Its black monazite sands offer great quantities of thorium, potential source of atomic energy.

Cancer Among Women
An estimated 17,000 women in the United States die annually of cancers which are uterine in origin.

The Army's New 'Eager Beaver'

Here's a brand new Army Ordnance vehicle—the "Eager Beaver". The 2 1/2-ton truck, now in full production at Reo Motors' plant in Lansing, Mich., is built for high speed on and off the highway, and is designed to operate normally in sub-zero cold, blistering heat, or with its Gold Comet engine completely submerged in water. Reo has been awarded contracts for approximately 8,900 of them at a cost of about $55,000,000. In the top panel, the "Eager Beaver" is shown "cruising" in Chesapeake Bay, Maryland.

10 base load power plants are operated by your Public Service Company to meet your needs for dependable, low-cost electric service. These 10 power plants are strategically placed approximately 100 miles apart.

These 10 great power plants are tied together by a 2700-mile network of transmission lines. The heart of our system—a 115,000-volt transmission line—makes electric power generated at our Riverview plant available at Carlsbad, New Mexico, if needed.

To further assure you a continuous and economical supply of electricity, your Public Service Company has provided a central load-dispatching center which allocates generation to each plant for most economical operation. In this manner the local area plant is still able to meet increased demand for electric service within its own area when necessary.

To meet your growing needs for electric power, important 1950 plant expansions will be made at Amarillo and Moore County, and a new unit has already gone on the line at Roswell. Yes, your Public Service Company is on the job keeping ahead of the rapid growth of the Panhandle-Plains-Pecos-Valley area.
