

Fire Department Honored As Top Slaton Organization For 1954

Slaton's Volunteer Fire Department was honored as the most outstanding organization of the year at the 29th annual Chamber of Commerce banquet held Friday night at the Clubhouse.

A capacity crowd of 150 persons attended the event, which featured an address by Delbert Downing, manager of G. W. Midland Chamber of Commerce; installation of new Chamber officers and presentation of awards.

Named as the outstanding woman of the year was Mrs. Cecil Scott, while Mrs. R. A. Thompson was recognized as the "most successful homemaker in Texas." Melvin Kunkel was installed as president, succeeding John Wiley. Other new officers installed were: Hobart Trimpa, vice president; and Fred Schmidt, treasurer.

'Search For Truth'
Philosophy, poetry and family humor were wrapped up in neat package by Downing as urged men to "search for the truth."

The popular speaker declared "You should increase your faith in your family, in your home, in yourself, in your neighbor and in God. . . . And you find God when you find your neighbor." He expressed optimism on one hand and criticized fear on the other.

"I am opposed," he said, "to men who are scared—scared to work for both their corporation and their community. . . . I feel sorry for little, tiny men who are afraid to serve on their city council or their school board because somebody might get mad and it will hurt their business."

"I don't think America can ever be taken over by communism. I am just too naive. . . . I do know that fear diminishes when truth increases."

He urged merchants to become conscious of their responsibilities and keep trade in their community and to assist with improvements and progress in their home town. Downing was introduced by Bob Trimp, master of ceremonies and retiring director of the Chamber.

'Good Year'

Retiring President Berkley said that he felt 1954 had been a reasonably good one. He cited a tax improvement program completed by the Chamber and praised the loyalty and cooperation of Slaton citizens. He said the top object for 1954 was securing a first class motel for the city and at plans for re-routing the Lubbock-Snyder highway had halted.

Incoming President Kunkel, district manager of Southwestern Public Service Co. and civic leader, declared "I have a big pair of boots to fill in trying to take Berkley's place."

Kunkel said the Chamber will continue efforts to secure a motel and "we will do everything we can to keep the highway going through the heart of our city. With the cooperation of our citizens we will keep Slaton going forward and make it one of the greatest cities."

In announcing the volunteer fire department as the outstanding organization of the year, Kunkel said "No other group has done much for the city. The members give of themselves and their time to serve you in Slaton. They are out in darkness and in cold weather to give you protection. They maintain their equipment for your use, and it is as good as any in the United States."

Low Insurance Rate

Kunkel pointed out that Slaton enjoys one of the lowest fire insurance rates in the state due to regular training and excellent equipment of the fire department. In accepting the plaque presentation, Fire Chief Wilson said "This is quite a surprise. We feel great honored and want to assure you that we are at your service 24 hours of the day."

Slaton Bank Will Offer Prize In Soil Conservation Contest

Citizens State Bank of Slaton is offering one of the cash awards to be given in the Lubbock County 1955 Soil Conservation contest, which will be conducted in the public schools.

Mrs. Alton Strickland of Lubbock, business manager for the district, said this year's subject is "Why We Must Conserve Our Soil and Water."

County prizes include: Western Cottonseed Co., $50 to author of the best essay; Hancock Manufacturing Co., $25 to the second; Brown Supply Co., $15 for the third; Citizens State Bank of Slaton, $10 for the fourth; and Farmer's Corner, $5 for the fifth.

State winner will receive an expense-free vacation trip, and cash prizes totaling $250 and handsome medals also will be offered.

Any boy or girl in Slaton Public Schools may enter. The essay must be original and not over 300 words in length. Essays must bear name and address of writer, along with the "Lubbock County Soil Conservation District No. 108," to identify the district in the state contest. All essays should be mailed by Feb. 10 to the district office or business manager, 2021 36th, Lubbock. After being judged for the five county winners, all essays will be forwarded to Ft. Worth for consideration in the state contest.

Mrs. Strickland said students interested in entering the contest should learn about their soil conservation district and the work of its five district supervisors, talk to soil conservation leaders, find out how conservation farmers and ranchers are working to keep land forever healthy and productive, think about the need for giving care and treatment to our great assets—our soil and water—and then write.

POLL TAXES CONTINUE TO SELL SLOWLY

Only 200 poll taxes had been sold in Slaton up to Tuesday noon with the deadline 10 days away, Jan. 31, Mrs. F. A. Drewry, deputy tax collector, announced.

With 1,300 poll taxes being sold in 1954, Mrs. Drewry said it appeared there would be a "last minute rush" to secure the certificates.

One of the certificates costs $1.75 and will enable the holder to vote in city and school elections and any special election that might arise.

Mrs. Drewry's office is located at 136 S. 8th St.

Slaton Men Attend Waterworks Meeting At Post

Eight Slaton citizens attended the regular monthly meeting of the Permian Basin Water Works Assn. in Post Tuesday night.

They are: Bob Brasfield, Stanley Ratliff, F. E. Perry, O. N. Alcorn, B. H. Bollinger, Forrest Davis, George Willis and Paul Rakes.

Davis, association president, presided for the business session.

The program featured an address by Lubbock City Manager Steve Matthews. He said the way communities may best effect the changes in city governments to keep in stride with progress is by planning together to grow better, rather than bigger.

Slaton Haircuts To Remain At $1

Haircuts remained at $1 in Slaton's four barber shops despite a 25 cent increase in Lubbock on Jan. 11.

Three of Slaton's barbershops are members of the Lubbock Barbers Union which voted to increase the cost of haircuts.

One local union barber said that he did not attend the meeting and that his shop did not contemplate a price increase.

"All we know is that prices are still $1 here and we don't know if they will go up or not," he said.

According to union rules, local shops might be forced to forfeit union cards if they fail to raise prices.

"We don't think this will happen as we are located out of Lubbock," the spokesman said.

The Lubbock price increase did not affect shaves, shampoos and other services.

Has Broken Leg

SIX-YEAR-OLD BOY BECOMES 'PET' OF MERCY HOSPITAL

Six-year-old Larry Doyle Hays of the Posey community, who spent Christmas in Mercy Hospital with a broken leg, will go home within the next few days, but the precocious youngster says he would like to stay in the hospital until next Christmas.

Larry, a diminutive blonde-headed lad with bubbling spirits, quickly became the hospital "pet" when he was admitted Dec. 15; and hospital attendants joined with his parents and friends to make it the best Christmas ever for the youngster.

There was a sparkling red wagon for Larry to ride in when his broken leg mends, scores of other toys, a cowboy suit and gun to make Larry's Christmas bright—despite the fact that his broken leg was kept suspended high in the air by a pulley system.

Roy Rogers Fan
A typical Plains boy, Larry is a great fan of Roy Rogers, the western movie star.

"If he (Roy Rogers) was to shake my hand, I wouldn't wash it for a year," he declared.

Dr. R. G. Loveless

Dr. R. G. Loveless Honored by Rotary As Past President

Dr. Roy Gordon Loveless of the Plains Clinic staff at Lubbock, was honored this week as a past president of the Slaton Rotary Club.

Dr. Loveless served as president in 1935, when the club received national recognition through the International Rotary magazine for winning first place in the national contest, "What Rotary Has Meant To My Hometown." The late Rotarian, Roy A. Baldwin, wrote the article with the club receiving a nice cash award and well-deserved recognition.

Dr. J. Elbert Loveless of Lubbock, a nephew of the honored past president, was present and introduced the honored guest.

Born near Lovelace, Hill County, Tex., on June 4, 1897, to John Quincy Loveless and Lula Gordon Loveless, he attended the public schools of Hillsboro. He was graduated from high school in 1916 and worked his way through Southern Methodist University. In 1926 he married Miss Katherine Bills of Dallas, and that same year entered Baylor University College of Medicine, which was located in Dallas at that time. He worked in a drug store at night and attended medical school in the day, and in 1930 was granted the degree of Doctor of Medicine and Surgery.

He interned for one year at St. Paul Hospital in Dallas and then was associated with his uncle, Dr. J. C. Loveless in his hospital in Lamesa for a short time.

In June of 1932, Dr. Loveless purchased a small office—clinic in Slaton and practiced here until 1944. During this period he served at various times as director of the Board of City Development, Chamber of Commerce, Retail Merchants and Rotary Club.

During 1944-55 Dr. Loveless did post-graduate work in the Chicago Eye, Ear, Nose and Throat Hospital at Parkland Hospital, Dallas. In September of 1945 he moved to Lubbock, where he has since been active in this specialty.

Two Uranium Finds Officially Reported In Slaton Area; Detail Reports Awaited

Two uranium finds were officially reported this week in the Slaton area.

The uranium ore deposits were discovered on the farm of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. McKinny, located 1½ miles southeast of Slaton; and the branch of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Young, 4½ miles north of the city.

Grade of the ore on both properties is awaiting an assay report.

McKinny, 73, found the uranium ore on his 40-acre farm located 1½ miles southeast of the city.

He has farmed in the Slaton area 33 years and on this particular farm 11 years.

The uranium ore is in a 150-yard square hill on McKinny's farm. In the center of the rocky hill is a 150-foot irrigation well that McKinny uses to raise cotton and corn on the property.

"For years I have tried to plow and plant crops on this rocky hill and was always fascinated and interested by the unusual and various types rocks that my plow uncovered," McKinny said.

Texas University Report

Last Christmas, McKinny showed some of the calcite type rocks to a son-in-law from Houston that was visiting in his home. The son-in-law sent some samples of the rock from McKinny's farm to the geology department of the University of Texas.

The University of Texas professors reported the rocks definitely containing uranium and advised McKinny to have detailed tests made to determine if the ore had commercial possibilities.

McKinny advised Mrs. R. D. Bisbee, manager of the Slaton Chamber of Commerce, Monday of the university's report. At his request, Mrs. Bisbee contacted the geology department of Texas Tech at Lubbock for possible further detailed analysis of the uranium ore.

Meanwhile, the aged but active farmer, was apparently unconcerned regarding the prospects of uranium riches.

To Help Children

"My wife and I have just about already lived out our lives. If I should come into a lot of money, I would like to do things for my five children." All of the children are married and live in other communities.

"The only thing I know of that I would like to do if I became wealthy is hunt and fish," he declared.

McKinny said that if the uranium on his farm had commercial possibilities, he wouldn't be interested in mining it but would sell his rights to a private concern.

Mr. and Mrs. Young, well-known Slaton pioneers, said the discovery of uranium ore was made on their property by a private company. The company said that uranium was definitely present on the property.

Detailed Report

The ore body, situated approximately 5 to 6 miles nearly due east of Buffalo Lakes and 4½ miles north of Slaton, extends from the edge of the Caprock into the Canyon.

A showing of ore was reported found on the property previously when a reconnaissance exploration survey was conducted. It is reported that later detailed work with the use of scintillation equipment led to the exact location of the ore deposit.

Slaton Rangers Launch Membership Campaign; Supper Planned Feb. 14

A membership campaign is underway by the Slaton Rangers and will continue through Feb. 15, John Fondy, newly-elected president, announced Monday.

Both active or inactive members are being solicited by the riding organization with businessmen particularly urged to become affiliated, Fondy said. During the membership campaign, initiation fees of $5 are being dismissed, with only payment of $1 a month dues.

The Slaton Rangers are a member of the West Texas Sheriff's Posse Association and members, dressed in colorful regalia, ride horses in parades and other events throughout West Texas.

Climaxing the membership campaign will be a supper entertainment for members and families at the Clubhouse on Feb. 14.

A prize is being offered for the person securing the most members for the non-profit organization during the campaign.

Officers recently elected by the group include: Fondy, president; W. T. Joiner, vice president; J. L. Tims, secretary-treasurer; and Charlie Yates, wagon boss. Named to the clothing committee were Bob Elbert, M. E. Bruedigam and C. C. Swope. Riney, Bruedigam, Swope and Elbert also will serve as directors along with Buford Powers and Pete Lancaster.

The Rangers have been invited to ride in the colorful parade of the Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show on Jan. 28.

Slaton Girls Raise $242 For March Of Dimes

Kick-off of the 1955 March of Dimes campaign was held Saturday with Homemaking girls of Slaton High School collecting $242.43 in a solicitation of the downtown business area, Floyd Jordan, chairman, announced Tuesday.

Despite inclement weather which limited the time of active solicitation, the girls made a very good showing, Jordan said.

The Homemaking girls have set a goal of $500 and plan to solicit the business area each Saturday until they raise that amount.

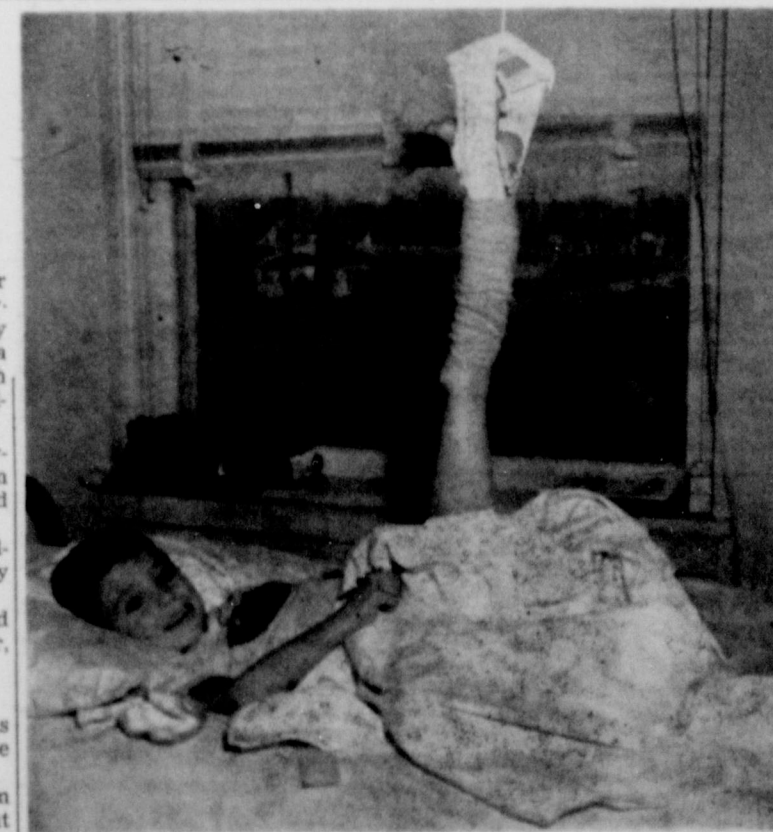

Slaton Boy Scouts distributed containers in business firms where citizens may deposit coins for the benefit of the March of Dimes. The Boy Scouts also plan to erect posters in the downtown area.

Jordan announced that a campaign was also underway in Evans High School to raise funds.

The Ladies Study Clubs of Slaton will sponsor a Mother's March, probably in the early part of February, Jordan said. Officers or delegates of the various ladies study clubs will meet at 2 p.m., Friday, Jan. 21, at the Chamber of Commerce office to map routes for the Mother's March.

DAM NOT DEAD—YET

Amarillo's refusal to go along with the other 10 cities of the Canadian River Municipal Water Authority except on its own terms has set up a menacing roadblock to long-preserved efforts for a water supply in Northwest Texas. To say anything else would be to ignore the facts. But, even so, Amarillo's last-minute about-face, assertedly because of a difference in opinion on the financing question, has not killed the project. At least, that is the opinion of those closest to it; those who know the most about it and those who have worked hardest on it.

Whether or not the other 10 growing cities of the South Plains and Panhandle can carry the Canadian project to completion without Amarillo is a moot question and one upon which study will immediately begin. However, the prevailing opinion among the Authority's leaders, outside of those representing Amarillo, is that the latter city eventually will go along with the rest of the communities involved. They believe public opinion in Amarillo will force that issue—either through its present representatives, or by the alternative of selecting others.

But no matter how disappointed we in Lubbock may be over Amarillo's defection from the group—no matter how disappointed those in other cities may be—this much was proven in Plainview Monday: The rest of the cities met Amarillo's about-face with reassertion of determination to put the project across. Mayor Curtis' hopeful suggestion that "perhaps others have changed their minds, too," was countered with swift and forthright statements to the contrary.

Amarillo has many pressing local problems, financial, water and others. Those of us in Lubbock sympathize with Amarillo, because we've had our problems, too, and have met them.

But Amarillo is taking a very grave responsibility in insisting upon playing quarterback, upon adoption of a policy of "we think we're wiser than the rest of you, therefore our decisions must be yours." Should Amarillo's tactics result in killing the whole project, they could result not only in injuring every one of the 10 other cities involved, but ruining itself in the process.

We cannot believe the rank and file of Amarillo citizens want to take that risk. We don't believe even Amarillo's present representatives on the Authority will want to take it, either, after they think the matter over—perhaps with a little prodding from some of their less cautious neighbors.—Lubbock Avalanche.

PROMISING PROPOSAL

Something which at first blush appears new in international relations has been proposed by the Texas Good Neighbor Commission, an official organization of the State of Texas dedicated to the improvement of Texan-Mexican co-operation and understanding.

The commission has invited the four Mexican states which border on Texas—Tamaulipas, Nuevo Leon, Coahuila and Chihuahua—"to join Texas in the formation of a five-state organization to study border problems, bring together the appropriate department heads and experienced officials of the five states and, as the occasions arise, other recognized organizations dedicated to the improvement of our relations, with a view to recommending from time to time the adoption of workable measures designed to effectuate a permanent policy of co-operation, unity, and sincere man-to-man friendship."

Behind the objective is the commission's belief that the people residing along the border and in daily contact with its problems best understand them and could be of material assistance to their governments in solving them.

It is no misplaced conception and the proposal has merit. A vast amount of U. S.-Mexican misunderstanding has originated in areas far removed from the international frontier and has engendered ill will and inflammatory publicity which could have been avoided. The misunderstandings over the question of migrant farm workers from Mexico is a case in point.

Despite its unique character, a regional consultative arrangement which would straddle an international boundary is a grass-roots approach both simple and realistic.—Ft. Worth Star-Telegram.

Texas Press Association members elected William Ferguson, of the old San Antonio Times, as their president in 1955 at a convention in Ft. Worth. After the meeting, many of the newspapermen took an excursion to the Indian Territory of Washita.

One thing that is apparently changeless is the ratio of words to action in Congress. The verbiage far outweighs the accomplishment.

Christian Character In Expression Toward Men

Let us consider the three christian graces that pertain to man's expression toward man. These are long suffering, gentleness, and goodness. Long suffering means to be patient, not easily provoked, long endurance, patience under offense.

Gentleness means to be mild, meek, not rough, or harsh, or severe. Goodness, as applied to christian character, means, having the qualities which the moral law requires; virtuous; pious; religious, opposed to bad, vicious, wicked, or evilness. As a good man, a good woman, or a good act.

Jesus, himself, gave us many examples of these christian graces. He was long suffering in bearing the attack of the religionists of his day. He was reviled, but he reviled not. Everywhere he went he was always doing good, many

It's the style hit of the year!

YOU can take our word for it when we tell you this:

The first time we put eyes on the 1955 Buicks, we really raised a cheer.

To top the looks of last year's Buick—the car that moved Buick into the top three of the nation's best sellers—that was something.

That gave us two hits in a row, we figured—and it seems we figured right.

For with these stunning new 1955 Buicks, we're getting even more noses pressed against our showroom windows than last year—and more folks coming in to look and study and drive and buy.

But bold new styling, of course, is just one reason for the sensational success of these great cars.

New power is part of the picture—robust new V8 power in record might—236 hp in the CENTURY, SUPER and ROADMASTER—188 hp in the low-priced SPECIAL.

New performance, too—from the dynamic action of Buick's Variable Pitch Dynaflo* that gives you far better gas mileage in all normal driving and cruising—and full-power getaway or safety-surge acceleration, but instantly, and with infinite smoothness.

So you can see that just looking isn't enough.

You have to take that wheel, try that power, feel that Dynaflo take-hold surge, sample that Million Dollar Ride—and check the hard-to-pass-up prices we're quoting.

We'll gladly help you do all that. Why not come in this week?

*Dynaflo Drive is standard on Roadmaster, optional at extra cost on other Series.

German War Bride Arrives In Slaton

Mrs. Herbert Ehler, a German war bride and an escapee from the Russian zone who would like to forget her past and start a new life in America, arrived in Slaton Friday night, Jan. 7. She boarded a plane at Frankfurt, Germany, at 8 p.m. Thursday and landed in Lubbock at 10:15 p.m. Friday.

Flies From Germany

Mrs. Ehler had been trying for some time to get passage on a ship, but papers were lost and a tangle of red tape delayed her. Finally, with the help of Congressman George Mahon, her husband managed to get her a plane ticket and permission to fly home. The army helped with arrangements and the army personnel will take charge of packing and sending her possessions by ship.

Herbert and Ruth were married Aug. 4, 1954, in Pioneer Kasern Chapel, Hanau, Germany. Herbert returned to the United States on Sept. 22 and was discharged from the army.

The couple met in 1949 at a dance at Fussen. Dancing is one of the most popular recreations in Germany, according to the Ehlers, and dances are held every night. They say styles of dancing are different there. The waltz and tango are most popular, but the samba and mambo are beginning to catch on. The couple planned to be married in 1951, but so many papers were required and because she had escaped from the Russian zone it was impossible for them to fulfill all of the requirements.

Mrs. Ehler's mother died when Ruth was five years old and her father was killed in the war in 1940. She worked on farms most of her life and worked four years as a cook in a German restaurant.

Escapes Russian Zone

It was in 1948 that Ruth slipped across the line to the Western zone. She says there is a great difference in the East and West zones. The Russians still have ration cards and food is scarce. Pay is not good as in the West. Ruth describes the Russians as an uncivilized people with no religion and little chance for schooling. She says people can still be sent to slave labor camps in Siberia for expressing religious convictions.

Mrs. Ehler says there are many German families in which the husband and father has never returned from the war. The families do not know whether these men are still being held by the Russians or have died. They all continue to hope because men return every week. Ruth has a friend whose husband returned New Year's eve after having been missing seven years. He had escaped from Siberia and returned home almost dead, a walking skeleton. He had been beaten and mistreated, and at 33 years of age he looked like a 75-year-old man. He was not willing to talk, and as a rule German families do not question returned relatives about their experiences; they rejoice at having them home again and try to make it easy for them to forget the past.

Enjoys Friendliness

The greatest difference Ruth has noticed in this country and Germany is in the homes. There are more new homes here. In Germany there are no one story dwellings. City homes are from two to five stories and even farm homes are two or three stories. In many sections, livestock is kept on the first floor and the people live on the upper floors of the farm homes.

Mrs. Ehler says she is enjoying the friendliness of our Slaton people. She says, "I had hard times before I met my husband and came to America, but that is all over now. I want to forget all that is past and start a new life." Mr. and Mrs. Ehler are at home at 705 So. 18th St. Mr. Ehler is employed at Continental Oil Co.

Woman Of The Year Award Made At Chamber Of Commerce Banquet

A plaque designating her as Slaton's "Outstanding Woman of 1954" was presented to Mrs. Cecil Scott at the Chamber of Commerce banquet Friday night. The presentation was made by Mrs. Frank Weathered, president of the Athenian Study Club, the organization which sponsored the idea of recognizing a woman of the year.

Eight Slaton women, two members from each of the four study clubs, used a suggested score card to grade nominees and arrive at their choice of Pauline Scott as Woman of the Year. Their identity was kept secret as was the identity of the Woman of the Year until the presentation was made Friday night.

CUB COACH URGES TRAINING, FACILITIES ON GRADE LEVEL

"If Slaton Public Schools is ever to produce a championship football team, proper training and facilities must be provided in the grades as well as in high school," M. W. Kerr, junior high Cub coach, said at a banquet Saturday night honoring the 1954 junior high football squad and pep squad.

Kerr told the 150 students and parents that packed the Clubhouse that he had only 11 boys to report for eighth grade football last year.

"We were short on depth and didn't win many games, but the boys showed a fine spirit and some of them are good prospects for high school football," the coach declared.

A swarm of boys reported for sixth and seventh grade football, and prospects loom bright for a good high school team within a few years providing the boys' interest can be maintained, Kerr said.

The coach said he had high hopes this could be accomplished through the Cub Club, an organization of parents of junior high football boys, similar to the Touchdown Club which boosts the high school team. This was the first banquet for the junior high football boys sponsored by the newly-organized Cub Club, and Kerr said he hoped it would be an annual affair.

Kerr also urged an athletic program for junior high girls—"even if it's nothing more than physical education classes."

"Experience has revealed that boys and girls engaged in athletics do better in their studies."

The coach introduced each football player present and outlined his accomplishments. Due to a shipping delay, sweaters and letters will be awarded at a future date.

Harriett Perkins, pep squad leader, was recognized and each member presented.

Elton Smith, president, served as toastmaster. Other officers are: Mrs. Smith, vice president; and L. C. Bond, secretary-treasurer.

One of the banquet's highlights included an appreciation gift of an electric shaver to the coach, with Frank Chappell making the presentation.

Supt. Lee Vardy made a brief talk in which he expressed the school's appreciation to the football boys for their efforts.

A group of high school students presented a musical variety program with Sue Wilson in charge. Miss Wilson also gave several musical pantomimes which proved a big hit with the youngsters. Ronald Smith and Tracy Crawford teamed up for vocal duets on "Goodbye," "Till Then" and "Sparrow In The Treetop." Jan Bagby accompanied at the piano.

A delicious chicken dinner with all the trimmings was prepared by the mothers.

Fredric de Vries Will Appear On State Program

Fredric and Marinell de Vries, owners of Marinell Portraits in Slaton, were to leave Thursday for New Orleans, La., where they will appear on the program of the Louisiana State Photographers' Convention.

The session will be held Saturday, Sunday and Monday at the Hotel Monte Lone. The de Vries will present a program entitled "Composition Caboodle," outlining how to arrange elements in a picture.

Styling that's stealing the thunder from the high-priced cars!

The styling spotlight blazes down on a low-cost car this year—for the Motoramic Chevrolet is stealing the show from the high-priced cars with its subtle sweep of line, the brilliant sophistication of its European-type grille, the bold rake of its deep-curved windshield.

And there's even more excitement in the way it drives—the velvety comfort of Glide-Ride front suspension and outrigger rear springs, the handling ease of Ball-Race steering, the flashing performance of the new 162-h.p. "Turbo-Fire V8" engine or the two new "Blue-Flame" 6's. All this—plus the extra-cost options of Powerglide or Overdrive and a full range of power assists. Try a 1955 Chevrolet—now—and you'll know why it's stealing the thunder from the high-priced cars.

This was a very interesting talk in which the Judge told of his work on the bench. Several amusing incidents were given.

"My court is pretty well up with its work in all the counties except Lubbock," said the judge. He went on to explain that an effort is being made to get the Legislature to create another district judgeship in this area due to the overcrowded docket. So far there is not much hope of this being done.

"The civil docket has greatly increased the past few years, but the criminal docket has decreased," said Judge Lindsey.

LILES WILL PREACH AT BAPTIST CHURCH

Wayne Liles of Slaton, who spoke in a layman's revival last week at Phoenix, Ariz., will preach at the First Baptist Church here Sunday morning.

Liles will outline impressions of the Phoenix revival.

The Rev. J. T. Bolding, pastor, extended an invitation to the public to attend.

Dr. and Mrs. T. L. Talbert left Friday night for a few days stay in Denver, Colo., where Dr. Talbert will attend a medical meeting.

$250, which would include the $100 franchise and uniforms and equipment for the players. A roster of 20 players is required, Hammond said.

Games are played on Sunday in round-robin fashion and a tournament climaxes the season. The league is affiliated nationally, with play-offs up to the national title.

While Slaton had a semi-pro baseball team at one time, it was disbanded several years ago. The baseball park is owned by the Slaton Independent School District.

Any Slaton citizen interested in starting a semi-pro ball club here should contact Hammond at Phone 77243 in Odessa. His home address is 721 N. Golder in that city.

Gardening Hints For The Week

Asparagus sprengeri will grow best in a sunny window and so placed that the long shoots of lacy leaves may droop over the side of the pot. In conservatories this plant is very attractive when growing in wire baskets filled with Sphagnum moss, the baskets being hung from the rafters.

Abutilons, or flowering maples should not be given much water during the winter months, unless an early bloom is desired; but they should not be allowed to get so dry that they wilt.

An occasional sprinkling overhead, or dipping in a tub of water will serve to remove dust from the foliage of ferns grown in the house, and also to promote their more healthy growth. Palms should be sponged.

Stocks and clarkias may now be sown in the greenhouse, flowering indoors in late spring.

Small hardy shrubs like Deutzia gracilis, as well as the astilbes and spiraeas, that have been stored away in a cool place for forcing, may now be brought into a cool greenhouse and slowly started into growth.

Week's Question:

Citizens Satisfied With City; Few Have 'Pet' Projects For '55

KEEPS NECK WARM—Mink tails and matched pearls are combined to make this expensive bit of finery for formal wear which was recently modeled in Rome, Italy.

Half the diesel oil consumed within the United States is purchased by railroads.

Slaton citizens are apparently satisfied with their city the way it is and have no civic projects that they would like to see completed in 1955.

This was revealed in a survey conducted by The Slatonite last Friday.

Twenty-five persons were contacted at random, and only two persons had a civic project in mind.

The survey was made at the request of the new Slaton Chamber of Commerce officials in order that they might map their activities program for '55.

Mrs. C. E. Dickson, 910 S. 14th, declared that "Slaton needs to secure more recreational activities for its teen-agers, so they won't have to go out-of-town to seek diversions."

Mrs. J. O. Eckles, 1600 S. 9th, said she believed that Slaton needed a general clean-up and home improvement program.

The 23 other persons contacted were indefinite concerning a civic project, but most agreed that there were probably a number of things that could be done to improve the city.

Mr. and Mrs. Elbert Wilson visited Sunday with Mr. Wilson's brother, Carl Wilson, and family of Lubbock.

Car Inspections For '55 Lagging In Slaton Area

Only 10 per cent of Slaton vehicle owners have secured 1955 motor vehicle inspection stickers, H. C. Estes of Lubbock, inspector for the Department of Public Safety, announced here this week.

Deadline for vehicle inspections is April 15, and to avoid a last minute rush as was the case last year, owners should have their vehicles inspected as soon as possible, Estes stressed.

For Lubbock County as a whole, there are 54,019 vehicles registered and only 5,497 have been inspected, Estes said.

There are five approved inspection stations in Slaton. They are: Slaton Motor Co., Williams Buick, Doc Crow Chevrolet, Slaton Implement Co. and Carroll Service Station. Southland Hardware is the approved station in that community.

Estes pointed out that enforcement of the vehicle inspection law is becoming stiffer and all the vehicles should display the '55 green stickers after April 15. Failure to do so may result in a fine from $1 to $200.

Vehicles are checked by the inspection stations for safety of lighting and warning devices, brakes, windshield wiper and horn.

going forward with Slaton

By Bob Moore

The annual Slaton Chamber of Commerce banquet Friday night was a great success from every standpoint. Good food, an interesting and entertaining talk by Delbert Downing, Midland Chamber manager, and recognition of outstanding persons and organizations made a profitable evening—well worth anyone's time and attention.

Perhaps our favorite of the numerous yarns that Downing spun was about the time he and his wife were driving along one of the state highways and noticed a sign reading "Radar Patrolled Highway." His wife turned to him and said: "I bet they never sell any of that stuff with signs that small."

And one of the particularly bright spots of the evening's entertainment was the beautiful organ duets by Mrs. Howard Swanner and Mrs. John Sims. They flawlessly played some of the old-time popular favorites which a person never grows tired of listening to.

To Mrs. R. D. Bisbee, manager, and Melvin Kunkel, new president, and all the officers goes our best wishes for another bang-up year of successful activities in 1955.

First Golfer: "The traps on this course are very annoying."

Second Golfer: (trying to putt): "Yes, will you please close yours?"

Don Britt, the progressive manager of Forrest Lumber Co., will show a free color movie and serve coffee and doughnuts tonight (Friday, Jan. 21), at 7:30. All the friends and customers of the firm are invited by Britt to see the free 30-minute movie which will feature subjects vital to every home-maker and decorator.

This column is in receipt of a copy of the Daily House Journal, which was mailed by Geo. S. Berry of Lubbock, member of the Texas House of Representatives from this district. Mighty thoughtful of Hon. Berry to send handy reference material on events that transpired at the last session of the House.

HERE & THERE: The miniature dirigible that was flying over the new Humble Station in Slaton at its official opening Saturday week ago was quite an eye-catcher and clever promotion stunt . . . And the beautiful woodresses were quite a hit with the lady folks . . . The Rev. Larry Lake, First Presbyterian Church pastor, qualifies as one of the most traveled men in Slaton—born in the Orient, came to the States when World War II broke out, attended college in Colorado, and lived in several other states before coming to our city . . . The Pat Pattersons of Union in town recently "sporting" a new two-tone blue Oldsmobile . . . The welcomed rain last Friday, always appreciated in this dry climate . . . The cheerful smile by the Rev. Ed Gorom, First Christian Church pastor, always has . . . The aversion that Rusty Kitten, Slatonite society editor, has to the color red . . . Unassuming Mrs. Cecil Scot had no idea she was to be named as Slaton's "woman of the year" until her table companion at the Chamber banquet—Mrs. Frank Weathered—was called upon to make the presentation. She made a fine acceptable talk and after she sat down, she turned to her beaming husband and said "What did I say?"

All former army men and especially Slatonite Co-Publisher Richard Perry, who recently went into the service and is stationed at Ft. Ord, Calif., will doubtless appreciate the following taken from Santa Fe Magazine: General: "Confound you, sir, why don't you be careful?" Army clerk: "What do you mean, sir?" General: "Why, instead of addressing this letter to the intelligence officer you have addressed it to the intelligent officer. You should know there is no such person in the army."

The presentation was made by Pete Pearson, head of the sales department. Each of the company's six divisions had a top manager honored, with 400 managers and officials attending the session. The southern division includes Rails, Seminole, Crosbyton, Tahoka, Post and Slaton.

Texas Tech Hen Lays Super Egg

LUBBOCK — An unidentified White Rock hen in the Texas Tech poultry yard had plenty to cackle about today—if she had the strength.

The hen early yesterday laid a five and one-half ounce egg, believed here to be a world record. It is the equivalent in weight to two "large" and one "medium-sized" egg as might be purchased at any grocery store.

Circumference of the egg's long axis was nine and one-half inches; short axis, seven and one-quarter inches.

The egg, still warm, was found at 10:30 a.m. yesterday (Tuesday) by T. T. Perry, manager of the Tech poultry farm.

"When I first saw it, my eyes practically bugged right out of their sockets," Perry exclaimed. "This is the biggest egg I've ever seen in my 35 years in the poultry business."

Upon seeing the egg, members of Tech's agriculture faculty quickly agreed that it was of record-breaking size, as far as they knew.

The tired mother is one of 235 hens that does her nesting in Hen House No. 1 in the Tech poultry yard. All are standard-sized hens. Perry plans to preserve the egg by dehydrating it over a six-weeks period.

MR. R. R. MURPHY
CITY ELECTRICAL INSPECTOR OF AMARILLO, TEXAS

TESTS FOR PROPER HOME WIRING-----

A Is it Safe?
B Is it Adequate?

R. R. Murphy, city electrical inspector, Amarillo, Texas, recognizes the growing home need for sufficient electric capacity. Mr. Murphy, who is building his new home, says, "I'm making sure of plenty of electrical capacity...my wiring is safe as it complies with the Amarillo city code. In addition, it's adequate and will be for years to come".

NUMBER 12 SIZE WIRE MINIMUM

Mr. Murphy has put large enough wire in his house so that all electric appliances get sufficient voltage for proper operation. He says, "I've used #12 wire as minimum on all circuits with larger wire in the heavy duty circuits—#6 for the electric range and #10 for the electric dryer.

100 AMPERE MAIN BREAKER

#6 CIRCUITS PLUS RANGE AND DRYER

ELECTRIC RANGE OUTLET

ELECTRIC DRYER OUTLET

"Here you see 8 circuits with provision for a future 8 more. In addition, there are separate circuits for the electric range and electric dryer. The kitchen, for example, has two appliance circuits for coffee-makers, waffle irons, toasters, etc."

"All I'll have to do here is plug in my electric range. What's more, the wire used is #6 which means that the range will operate at top efficiency. Wire of the right size is an important part of electric appliance operation."

"This is the wiring for the electric dryer as it appears before the three-wire outlet is installed and the walls finished. It's easier to get the right wiring at the time the house is being built. I've planned mine accordingly."

NOT MORE THAN 4 FEET FROM LAMP TO ANY OUTLET

To avoid a tangle of extension cords, outlets should be spaced not more than 12 feet apart. Mr. Murphy here shows Public Service wiring specialist that his complies with this important regulation.

Modern living calls for sun lamps, heat lamps, electric shavers and other uses for bathroom outlets. In both of Mr. Murphy's baths, an electric outlet is placed for maximum convenience.

Public Service maintains an Adequate Wiring department. We will be glad to work with your electrical contractor, builder or architect on your home, office or factory wiring or rewiring.

tive attitude, joined in making his Christmas as merry as possible.

Sister Odellia of the hospital staff, had the highest of praise for the youngster. "You just can't help but love him. He's such a friendly child and seldom complains despite the discomfort of his leg being suspended in mid-air and having to stay in bed all the time."

Camera Shy

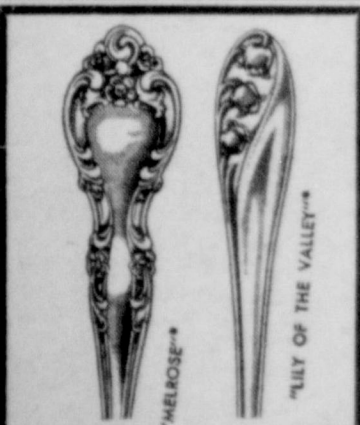

Larry couldn't understand what "all the fuss is about," when a Slatonite staff member visited him in the hospital to take his picture. Someone had recently snapped his picture with an inexpensive flash camera and the bulb had burst, spraying shattered glass over the child. He was extremely "camera shy" and didn't like the bright glare made by the flash unit. Despite his fear of the camera, Larry's independent spirit soon overcame his shyness, and he didn't mind too much having his picture made.

The Hays have one other child, Georgie Mae, 18, a bookkeeper at Slaton Motor Co.

While Larry won't get his wish to stay in Mercy Hospital until next Christmas as he will be going home soon with his leg in a cast, you "can't keep a good man down," and he is already making plans for entering the first grade of school in September.
