One Cotton Picker Dead Another in Jail

Lossie Darden, colored, was shot about 8 o'clock Tuesday morning on the farm of J. T. Lokey, near here, by Emmett Thomas, another negro. It is said that the negroes engaged in a little argument which resulted in the shooting.

Darden was taken to Lubbock for treatment where she died at 7 o'clock Tuesday evening.

Thomas tried to make his get-away but was pursued to the canyon by Special Officer W. B. Jones of this city, and J. T. Lokey, where he was captured and turned over to Sheriff Holcomb of Lubbock, and now occupies a cell in the county jail.

About the only regrettable incident of this affair is that the farmers of this section are deprived of two cotton pickers to help gather the bumper crop of fleecy staple.

Third Red Cross Roll Call Extended 10 Days

Dallas, Texas, Nov. 10.—Heavy rains throughout the State has made it necessary for the directors of the Third Red Cross Roll Call in Texas to announce that the campaign will not be concluded on Armistice Day, as originally intended, but extended ten days, closing Nov. 21st. Roll Call Director Prather has been urged from many sections to allow an extension of time owing to the inability of teams in many places to get out into the country.

Bad transportation facilities also resulted in the miscarriage of many bundles of supplies, and it became necessary to get buttons and supplies by special messenger from St. Louis. These were distributed in many instances by special messenger in order to insure their arrival. In securing the Roll Call buttons from St. Louis, State Director Prather was strongly suspected of being a "bootlogger," and when he went through the sheds of the Union Station in Dallas and received a bundle from the steward of the dining car, he was politely requested by detectives and several policemen to step aside and allow himself to be searched. When the representatives of the law found he was only "bootlegging" Red Cross campaign buttons they allowed him to go free while the crowd laughed at the officers.

Soft and laundered shirts in all materials, grades and prices are to be found at DeLONG'S.

INFANT MR. AND MRS. C. B. SMITH DIED LAST FRIDAY

Clarence Hannan, aged eight weeks, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Smith of this city, died last Friday in Wichita Falls, while the family was there on a visit to Mrs. Smith's mother, Mrs. G. W. Campbell. The little fellow was sick only two or three days.

The remains were brought to Slaton, and the funeral was conducted at the Methodist church by Rev. T. C. Willett at 11:30 o'clock Sunday morning. Burial followed in the Slaton Cemetery.

FATHER MRS. A. L. ROBERTSON DIED AT ELKHART SATURDAY

Mrs. A. L. Robertson of V. Ranch, received a telegram Saturday announcing the death of her father, B. Grigsby, at Elkhart, Anderson County, that afternoon about 5 o'clock. She left immediately for Elkhart to attend the funeral. She was accompanied by her daughter Muff, and her sister, Mrs. Ernest Bryan of Sweetwater.

Mr. Grigsby was about 80 years old and was one of the most highly esteemed and respected citizens of Anderson County.

Directors Slaton State Bank Met Tuesday

The directors of the Slaton State Bank held a meeting Tuesday afternoon, at which time B. M. Holland was formally elected vice president and cashier of that institution. Mr. Holland recently came here from Taylor County and assumed the active management of this bank. He is a thoroughly experienced man and understands the needs of the customers of this section of the State, which insures good business for the Slaton State Bank.

Mr. Holland is a man of very progressive ideas, believes in town building and boosting, and will always be found ready and willing to co-operate in any movement that will tend to make Slaton a better town.

He invites you to call at the bank and get acquainted.

TO TRADE: 83 1/2 acres good Denton County land to trade for residence property in Slaton. This land is producing extra good revenue, and is close to good town. See W. DONALD at Slatonite office.

FOGGY?

If Bilious, Constipated or Headachy take "Cascarets."

Tomorrow the sun will shine for you. Everything will seem clear, rosy and bright. Your system is filled with liver and bowel poison which keeps your skin sallow, your stomach upset, your head foggy and aching. Your meals are turning into poison, gases and acids. You cannot feel right. Don't stay bilious or constipated. Feel splendid always by taking Cascarets occasionally. They act without griping or inconvenience. They never sicken you like Calomel, Salts, Oil or nasty, harsh pills. They cost so little too—Cascarets work while you sleep.—Adv.

Important to all Women Readers of this Paper

Thousands upon thousands of women have kidney or bladder trouble and never suspect it.

Women's complaints often prove to be nothing else but kidney trouble, or the result of kidney or bladder disease.

If the kidneys are not in a healthy condition, they may cause the other organs to become diseased.

You may suffer pain in the back, headache and loss of ambition.

Poor health makes you nervous, irritable and may be dependent; it makes any one so.

But hundreds of women claim that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, by restoring health to the kidneys, proved to be just the remedy needed to overcome such conditions.

Many send for a sample bottle to see what Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder medicine, will do for them. By enclosing ten cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., you may receive sample size bottle by Parcel Post. You can purchase medium and large size bottles at all drug stores.—Adv.

In Event of the Past.
The most embarrassing moment of my life was not long ago. I was entertaining a company of friends and making reference to a time past, I said to my daughter (who is married) absent-mindedly: "Don't you remember. It was when your mother and I called on you," and every one laughed.—Exchange.

Cotton Statistics.

Preliminary statistics issued by the United States bureau of the census give the number of bales of cotton ginned from the growth of 1919 prior to September 1, 1919, as 138,993 bales, as compared with 1,038,079 bales for 1918, and 614,787 bales for 1917. These figures include 1,129 round bales for 1919, 53,178 for 1918 and 23,716 for 1917. The number of bales of sea-island cotton included is 30 for 1919, 266 for 1918 and 2,838 for 1917. The statistics for 1919 are subject to slight corrections when checked against the individual returns of the ginners being transmitted by mail.

A Joke on an Englishman.

An Englishman, unfamiliar with the American negro, and a guest in a southern home, showed much interest in the dark-skinned race.

"Do all of your negroes speak English?" he inquired on the first day of his visit.

"Oh, no," was the prompt reply of his host, who greatly enjoyed a little joke; "they speak their own language. Come along with me and listen."

Approaching an aged negro he inquired: "Wha' hoo?"

"Wha' hoo?" asked the negro.

"Wha' boss?" replied the employer.

"Ober dah," was the final response.

"How extraordinary!" commented the visitor.—Everybody's Magazine.

Roosevelt Memorial at Oyster Bay

COMPLETE PLAN OF ROOSEVELT MEMORIAL

FORUM FOR DISCUSSION OF NATIONAL QUESTIONS

A DIGNIFIED open-air theater, to be known as the Roosevelt Forum, built along the lines of a Greek amphitheater and utilized as a nonpartisan meeting place by patriotic Americans for the discussion of grave problems affecting the future of this country, is one of the features of the proposed park at Oyster Bay. The plans already have been approved by the Roosevelt Memorial association.

Electus D. Litchfield, architect, who designed the monument to President McKinley at Columbus, Ohio, and who has executed other important commissions, has been engaged by the Roosevelt Memorial committee at Oyster Bay to carry out these plans for the memorial park. Mr. Litchfield lives at Oyster Bay and was a neighbor of Colonel Roosevelt. Therefore he is familiar with the park site.

Mr. Litchfield thinks a forum such as has been suggested for the park had have met with the approbation of Colonel Roosevelt.

York Sun. Memorial association also feel that such a forum could be made most useful in our national life in carrying out in a useful and vital way the ideals and teachings of Theodore Roosevelt.

Mr. Litchfield's Vision.

"At the head of the auditorium," says Mr. Litchfield in describing his plans for the park, "there would be a rostrum, having its west front built somewhat in the form of a Greek theater and providing a stage upon which may be seated the performers at open-air concerts for the people. Within its walls I had hoped there might be a reception room and a small hall, somewhat in the nature of a supreme court room in the capitol at Washington, where would be gathered from time to time once every two or three years, or two or three times a year, as in the opinion of the trustees of the Roosevelt forum the occasion may require, a few of the great men of the country, who shall there discuss before the whole nation the grave questions that will affect conditions in this country as a result of the war's aftermath."

This beautiful park to the memory of a great American will embrace about forty acres and titles to the property have been examined and surveys made. When completed this park will have an athletic field, tennis courts, bathing beach and pavilion, the theater, a great flagpole 150 feet high and a beautiful promenade, arched by elm trees in the center of which will be a lagoon.

The idea of William Loeb, Jr., chairman of the Roosevelt Memorial committee at Oyster Bay, and other members of the committee, is to have a park that will provide in the best and most healthful way amusement facilities for the country at large; a park that will have an individuality and atmosphere suggestive of the life and spirit of Roosevelt. The colonel was a practical man who combined artistic ideas with common sense execution, and the Roosevelt Memorial association does not want a park that would not have met with the approval of the colonel himself. As a matter of fact Colonel Roosevelt himself very much desired such a park at Oyster Bay and publicly expressed his views on the subject.

How the Park Will Look.

The general appearance of the Roosevelt Memorial park as it will finally look is described thus by Mr. Litchfield:

"On the axis of the main approach, standing out in firm silhouette against the sky, the bay and the distant center island, should be a great flagpole with a monumental base, which will be forever reminiscent of the colonel's intense love for the American flag. At the end of the lagoon there should be a fountain, and beyond it a long approach from the west between thickly planted native American shrubs and low-growing trees; laurel, wild honeysuckle, dogwood, beech and ash forming a dense dark foliage in contrast to the gravel walks, the reflection of the sky in the lagoon and the bright deep blue of the bay itself."

It has also been suggested to the Roosevelt Memorial association that as aims are the most beautiful trees for the park it would be an excellent idea to call upon the farmers of Long Island and Connecticut to donate specimen elm trees to the association.

The site of the proposed park is of great natural beauty. The ensemble effect would be somewhat similar to the beautiful park at Versailles, where the peace conference was held, but it will be typically American in spirit and conception. There will be no attempt on the part of the architect to imitate the Versailles scheme. The proposed lagoon will look like a diamond set in green jade, and, through a fringe of elm trees the spectator will get a glimpse of the Roosevelt forum. Over all will wave the Stars and Stripes that the colonel loved so well. In every way the aim will be to suggest the virile personality of the man who was first, last and all the time an American.

Referring to the flagpole with monumental base which forms, in a way, the center of the formal scheme, Mr. Litchfield suggested that some day the base might be the final resting place of the great man's mortal part.

May Cost $1,500,000.

The cost of the memorial has been variously estimated, beginning with sums less than $1,000,000. But those who have studied the plan feel that $1,500,000 should be raised to assure its complete realization. Although the memorial is in some extent local, in a larger view it concerns the whole nation. The sum given is very small, if it be distributed over the population. School children alone could and would give an appreciable part of it. Indeed, since Oyster Bay stands for the Roosevelt home life, it is peculiarly appropriate that the nation's children should take a special interest in such a memorial, as they did in the restoration of Washington's home at Mount Vernon.

It is interesting, in view of the present movement, to recall the fight that was made several years ago by some of the citizens of Oyster Bay for a park—a fight that resulted in failure, but which aroused the interest of Colonel Roosevelt, who did what he could at that time to arouse the enthusiasm of his fellow townsmen over the project.

"For years the townspeople declined to take any action to secure the just rights which a few of them had infrequently enjoyed," wrote Colonel Roosevelt during the winter of 1918 in describing this unsuccessful battle for the park: "Then the selfish misconduct of one or two property owners who sought to deny all proper access to their beaches roused a feeling which manifested itself in a foolish and vicious effort—at one time a mob effort—to destroy the docks and thereby prevent the property owners of access to their sailboats. The motive seemed to be less to secure their own rights than to interfere with those of whom they were jealous. Recourse to the law finally settled the right of the property owners to their docks and their duty to keep openings in the docks so that the clammers and the rare wayfarers along the beach would not be interfered with."

"But this did not help those farmers or villagers who occasionally wished to come to the beach for bathing or boating. A few public-spirited persons therefore started a movement for a park, with a long stretch of beach, on which public and private bathhouses and bath houses could be erected. Various well-to-do persons, none of whom would ever have used the park, agreed to furnish half the money if the town would furnish the other half. It was voted on at the next election.

"I rode down to the polls with a friend, a hired man—a good, upright, hard-working citizen, who lives some miles away from the water, who owns a small property and is therefore a small taxpayer. After voting I found that our two votes had neutralized each other; he voted against the park; and the park proposition was beaten by the votes of the smaller taxpayers who lived inland and from among whom the chief beneficiaries of the park would have come. (The holdface is Colonel Roosevelt's.) These men had felt vaguely jealous of the richer property owners near the water and had sympathized with the movement to interfere with them; but they were not willing to incur the small expense necessary in order to establish such collective ownership of a portion of the waterfront as would enable them to enjoy their rights along it."

EASY NOW TO SAW LOGS AND CUT DOWN TREES

Only one man, or even a boy, with the improved Ottawa Engine Log Saw can easily cut twenty-five to forty cords a day, and at a cost of less than 2c per cord. This machine, which outdoes all others, has a heavy-duty saw driven by a powerful especially designed 4-cycle gasoline engine. It's a fast money-maker for those using it, and does more than ten men could do, either cutting down trees, sawing logs, or buzzing branches while you rest. When not sawing, the engine can be used for other work requiring power.

The entire machine is mounted on truck wheels to make it easy to move to the trees or logs, and from cut to cut on a log without stopping the engine. For moving on the road, the truck wheels are placed parallel with the skids and the rig hauled straight ahead. The wheels turn on a two-way spindle. You do not have to take them off, but can change direction of wheel travel by merely taking out a pin.

The Ottawa can be fitted for sawing down trees. It cuts level with surface of ground, thereby getting all the timber and leaving no stumps sticking up. An automatic friction clutch stops the saw in case of undue resistance. Two men can fall forty to fifty trees a day in ordinary timber.

The whole outfit is compact, simple, durable against a lifetime of hard wear. It sells for a low price and is fully guaranteed for reliable operation in the hands of every one who has trees to cut down and logs to work up.

Full information and low factory price to you can be had simply by addressing the Ottawa Mfg. Company, 2724 Wood St., Ottawa, Kansas.

UNCLE SAM MERCHANDISING.

Granger News For a long time Uncle Sam has posted on the walls of postoffices of the United States the prices at which he could do job printing, telling just how much a given number of envelopes would be printed for. He operates this government printing on money collected from the job printers of the country along with others, then does the printing for the job printers' patrons at a price that yields no profit. The printers have complained long and loud but all to no purpose. Now Uncle Sam is posting prices of dry goods, groceries, etc., and we believe the printers are going to get some help in trying to persuade Uncle Sam not to set up in competition with the business concerns of the country from which much of the revenue that goes to pay running expenses of the government comes. Dry goods men and grocers now know how the printer has felt about it.

BAPTIST 75 MILLION CAMPAIGN NOW WELL ORGANIZED

Dallas, Texas, Nov. 12.—The Southern Baptist 75 Million Campaign has entered its fifth and final month with the Texas forces well organized, under instruction and rapidly getting ready for Victory Week, Nov. 30 to Dec. 7. Dr. F. S. Groner, State Campaign Director, and those associated with him at state headquarters, have full confidence in victory. Heroic action on the part of the leaders has lifted the campaign out of the mud and every report coming to headquarters brings cheer and optimism.

According to reports in the office of Dr. T. V. Neal, state organizer, fully 1500 churches have been fully organized for the final stroke. Among the associations first reporting 100 per cent organizations are Coleman, Tarrant, Burleson, Williamson, Austin, Jones, Scurry, Big Springs, Henderson, Cherokee, Nacogdoches, Canadian, Trans Canadian, Collingsworth, Childress, Palo Duro, Union, Baylor, Throckmorton, Panola, Archer, Enon, South Panhandle, Red Fork.

From now until the end of the campaign its issues and its vital importance in meeting the needs of the enlarged world-program of the Southern Baptists will be presented in every district, county, association and church of Texas. Many speakers are coming from other states to make their appeal for the raising of Texas' quota, $16,000,000 plus. There will be many good, enlarged Decsssss etao shrdlu uq rallies and field days.

Most of the churches are organizing "victory schools" for the training of their forces, so as to make victory week easier. Five thousand church boosters are now busy stirring up interest in the campaign and 2,000 four-minute speakers are telling its message. Literature is going forward from the state headquarters by the ton. In the next three weeks every church and the last member is to be reached through campaign literature, as well as by the spoken word.

H. L. Kokernot, organizer for the San Antonio district, has just announced that he will give $50,000 to the campaign. His home is in San Antonio. The big individual gifts in the state have now reached a total of nearly $500,000.

HURRY! YOUR HAIR NEEDS "DANDERINE"

Get rid of every bit of that ugly dandruff and stop falling hair.

To stop falling hair at once and rid the scalp of every particle of dandruff, get a small bottle of "Danderine" at any drug or toilet counter for a few cents, pour a little in your hand and rub well into the scalp. After several applications all dandruff usually goes and hair stops coming out. Every hair in your head soon shows new life, vigor, brightness, thickness and more color.—Adv.

BLACK-DRAUGHT A FAMILY MEDICINE

Some Kind of Stomach Trouble With Cramps and Terrible Pains Made This Oklahoma Man's Life Miserable Until Black-Draught Relieved Him.

Chickasha, Okla.—Mrs. J. W. Walker recently said this: "We use Black-Draught as a family medicine and think it is the only liver medicine made. My husband makes it up and uses it as a tonic as well as a laxative. I use it for headache, sour stomach, a full heavy feeling after meals, which I suppose is indigestion, and it certainly does me a lot of good."

My husband had some kind of stomach trouble—we don't know just what. It would strike him just any time in the day and cramp or pain him just terribly bad. Someone told him how to make a tea of the Black-Draught, which he did. It did him so much good, it removed the cause and cured him. Since then we have praised the Black-Draught to our friends, and gladly do so."

Seventy years of successful use has made Thedford's Black-Draught a standard, household remedy. Every member of the family at times needs the help that Black-Draught can give in cleansing the system and preventing or relieving the troubles that come from constipation, indigestion, lazy liver, etc.

Try Black-Draught. Sold by all druggists.—Adv.

PERFECT HEALTH IS EVERY WOMAN'S BIRTHRIGHT

Houston, Texas.—"I was in a terribly run-down condition of health after a siege of ptomaine poisoning, and then the influenza. I could not seem to regain my strength, and was really not able to do my household work. I knew I needed a good tonic and builder and remembered how my folks used to regard Dr. Pierce's remedies in my girlhood days, and then I decided to take Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. I am now taking the second bottle and it is doing me a world of good. My strength is returning rapidly and I feel better in every way."

"I am glad indeed to recommend the medicine that is doing me so much good and do not hesitate to give this statement."—Mrs. Gertrude Sell, 2117 Common St.

Beaumont, Texas.—"One of my sisters became quite a sufferer periodically and would have fainting spells. She doctored, but did not improve. Then, three years ago, a friend advised her to try Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It helped her right away, and she has been in a healthier condition ever since that time."

"I would never hesitate a moment in recommending Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription to all young girls who suffer, I have such great confidence in it, seeing how it helped her."—Mrs. Mary E. Brammer, 1979 Harrison Ave.

When a girl becomes a woman, when a woman becomes a mother, when a woman passes through the changes of middle life, are the three periods of life when health and strength are most needed to withstand the pain and distress often caused by severe organic disturbances.

At these critical times women are best fortified by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, an old remedy of proved worth.

THIS WEAK, NERVOUS MOTHER

Tells How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Restored Her Health.

Philadelphia, Pa.—"I was very weak, always tired, my back ached, and I felt sickly most of the time. I went to a doctor and he said I had nervous indigestion, which added to my weak condition kept me worrying most of the time—and he said if I could not stop that, I could not get well. I heard so much about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound my husband wanted me to try it. I took it for a week and felt a little better. I kept it up for three months, and I feel fine and can eat anything now without distress or nervousness."—Mrs. J. WORTHLINE, 2842 North Taylor St., Philadelphia Pa.

The majority of mothers nowadays overdo, there are so many demands upon their time and strength; the result is invariably a weakened, run-down, nervous condition with headaches, backache, irritability and depression—and soon more serious ailments develop. It is at such periods in life that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will restore a normal healthy condition, as it did to Mrs. Worthline.

INDIGESTION
Caused by Acid-Stomach

Millions of people—in fact about 9 out of 10—suffer more or less from indigestion, acute or chronic. Nearly every case is caused by Acid-Stomach. There are other stomach disorders which also are sure signs of Acid-Stomach—belching, heartburn, bloating after eating, food repulsing, sour, gassy stomach. There are many ailments which, while they do not cause much distress in the stomach itself, are, nevertheless, traceable to an acid-stomach. Among these are nervousness, biliousness, stiffness of the liver, rheumatism, impoverished blood, weakness, insomnia, melancholia and a long train of physical and mental miseries that keep the victims in miserable health year after year. The right thing to do is to attack these ailments at their source—get rid of the acid-stomach. A wonderful modern remedy called EATONIC now makes it easy to do this. One of hundreds of thousands of grateful users of EATONIC writes: "I have been troubled with intestinal indigestion for about nine years and have spent quite a sum for medicine, but without relief. After using EATONIC for a few days the gas and pain in my bowels disappeared. EATONIC is just the remedy I needed."

We have thousands of letters telling of these marvelous benefits. Try EATONIC and you, too, will be just as enthusiastic in its praise.

PISO'S

remnant of aplomb. He kept his eyes from looking full at her, and as he saw her thus close at hand, and coming nearer, a regret that was dumbfounding took possession of him. For the first time he had the sense of having lost something of overwhelming importance.

Lucy did not keep to the right, but came straight to meet him, smiling, and with her hand offered to him. "You—you—" he stammered, as he meant to say was: "Haven't you heard?" "Haven't I what?" she asked; and he saw that Eugene had not told her. "Nothing!" he gasped. "May I—may I turn and walk with you a little way?"

"Yes, indeed!" she said cordially. He would not have altered what had been done; he was satisfied with all that—satisfied that it was right, and that his own course was right. But he began to perceive a striking inaccuracy in some remarks he had made to his mother. Now when he had put matters in such shape that even by the relinquishment of his "ideals of life" he could not have Lucy, knew that he never could have her, and knew that when Eugene told her the history of yesterday he could not have a glance or a word even friendly from her—now when he must in good truth "give up all idea of Lucy," he was amazed that he could have used such words as "no particular sacrifice," and believed them when he said them! She had looked never in her life so bewitchingly pretty as she did to-day; and as he walked beside her he was sure that she was the most exquisite thing in the world.

"Lucy," he said huskily, "I want to tell you something. Something that matters."

"I hope it's a lively something, then," she said, and laughed. "Papa's been so glum today he's scarcely spoken to me. Your Uncle George Amberson came to see him an hour ago and they shut themselves up in the library, and your uncle looked as glum as papa. I'll be glad if you'll tell me a funny story, George."

"Well, it may seem one to you," he said bitterly. "Just to begin with; when you went away you didn't let me know; not even a word—not a line—"

Her manner persisted in being inconsequent. "Why, no," she said, "I just trotted off for some visits. Don't you remember, George? We'd had a grand quarrel, and didn't speak to each other all the way home from a long, long drive! So, as we couldn't play together like good children, of course it was plain that we oughtn't to play at all."

"Play!" he cried.

"Yes. What I mean is that we'd come to the point where it was time to quit playing—well, what we were playing."

"At being lovers, you mean, don't you?"

"Something like that," she said lightly. "For us two, playing at being lovers was just the same as playing at cross-purposes. I had all the purposes, and that gave you all the crossness; things weren't getting along at all. It was absurd!"

"Well, have it your own way," he said. "It needn't have been absurd." "No, it couldn't help but be!" she informed him cheerfully. "The way I am and the way you are, it couldn't ever be anything else. So what was the use?"

"I don't know," he sighed, and his sigh was abysmal. "But what I wanted to tell you was this: when you went away, you didn't let me know and didn't care how or when I heard it, but I'm not like that with you. This time I'm going away. That's what I wanted to tell you. I'm going away tomorrow night—indefinitely. Lucy, this is our last walk together."

"Evidently!" she said. "If you're going away tomorrow night."

"Lucy—this may be the last time I'll see you—ever—ever in my life."

At that she looked up at him quickly, across her shoulder, but smiled as brightly as before, and with the same cordial inconsequence: "Oh, I can hardly think that!" she said. "And of course I'd be awfully sorry to think it. You're not moving away, are you, to live?"

"I don't know when I'm coming back. Mother and I are starting tomorrow night for a trip around the world."

At this she did look thoughtful. "Your mother is going with you?"

"Good heavens!" he groaned. "Lucy, doesn't it make any difference to you that I am going?"

At this her cordial smile instantly appeared again.

"Yes, of course," she said. "I'm sure I'll miss you ever so much. Are you to be gone long?"

He stared at her wanly. "I told you indefinitely," he said. "We've made no plans—at all—for coming back."

"That does sound like a long trip!" she exclaimed admiringly. "Do you plan to be traveling all the time, or will you stay in some one place the greater part of it? I think it would be lovely to—"

He halted; and she stopped with him. They had come to a corner at the edge of the "business section" of the city, and people were everywhere about them, brushing against them, sometimes, in passing.

"I can't stand this," George said, in a low voice. "I'm just about ready to go in this drug store here, and ask the clerk for something to keep me from dying in my tracks! It's quite a shock, you see, Lucy!"

"What is?"

"To find out certainly, at last, how deeply you've cared for me! To see how much difference this makes to you! By Jove, I have mattered to you!"

Her cordial smile was tempered now with good nature. "George!" She laughed indulgently. "Surely you don't want me to do pathos on a downtown corner!"

"You wouldn't 'do pathos' anywhere!"

"Well—don't you think pathos is generally rather fooling?"

"I can't stand this any longer," he said. "I can't! Good bye, Lucy!" He took her hand. "It's good bye—I think it's good bye for good, Lucy!"

"Good bye! I do hope you'll have the most splendid trip." She gave his hand a cordial little grip, then released it lightly. "Give my love to your mother. Good bye!"

He turned heavily away, and a moment later glanced back over his shoulder. She had not gone on, but stood watching him, that same casual, cordial smile on her face to the very last; and now, as he looked back, emphasized her friendly unconcern by waving her small hand to him cheerfully, though perhaps with the slightest hint of preoccupation, as if she had begun to think of the errand that brought her down town.

Lucy remained where she was until he was out of sight. Then she went slowly into the drug store which had struck George as a possible source of stimulant for himself.

"Please let me have a few drops of aromatic spirits of ammonia in a glass of water," she said, with the utmost composure.

"Yes, ma'am!" said the impress-able clerk, who had been looking at her through the display window as she stood on the corner.

But a moment later, as he turned from the shelves of glass jars against the wall, with the potion she had asked for in his hand, he uttered an exclamation: "For goshes' sake, Miss!" And, describing this adventure to his fellow boarders, that evening, "Sagged pretty near to the counter, she was," he said. "I hadn't been a bright, quick, ready-for-anything young fella she'd 'a' flummixed plum! I was watchin' her out the window—talkin' to some young s'lety fella, and she was all right then. She was all right when she came in the store, too. Yes, sir; the prettiest girl that ever walked in our place and took one good look at me. I reckon it must be the truth what some you town wags say about my face!"

At that hour the heroine of the susceptible clerk's romance was engaged in brightening the rosy little coal fire under the white mantelpiece in her pretty white and blue boudoir. Four photographs all framed in decorous plain silver went to the anthracite's fierce destruction—frames and all—and three packets of letters and notes in a charming Florentine treasure box of painted wood; nor was the box any more than the silver frames, spelt this rousing fire. Thrown heedily upon live coal, the fine wood sparkled forth in stars, then burst into an alarming blaze which scorched the white mantelpiece, but Lucy stood and looked on without moving.

It was not Eugene who told her what had happened at Isabel's door. When she got home, she found Fanny Minafer waiting for her—a secret excursion of Fanny's for the purpose, presumably, of "letting out" again; because that was what she did. She told Lucy everything (except her own lamentable part in the production of the recent miseries) and concluded with a tribute to George: "The worst of it is, he thinks he's been such a hero, and Isabel does, too, and that makes him more than twice as awful. It's been the same all his life; everything he did was noble and perfect. He had a dominating nature to begin with, and she let it go on, and fostered it till it absolutely ruled her. I never saw a plainer case of a person's fault making them pay for having it! She goes about, overseeing the packing and praising George and pretending to be perfectly cheerful about what he's done. She pretends he did such a fine thing—so manly and protective—going to Mrs. Johnson. And so heroic—doing what his 'principles' made him—even though he knew what it would cost him with you! And all the while it's almost killing her—what he said to your father! She's always been lofty enough, so to speak, and had the greatest idea of the Ambersons being superior to the rest of the world, and all that, but rudeness, or anything like a 'scene,' or any bad manners—they always just made her sick! But she could never see what George's manners were—oh, it's been a terrible audition! . . . It's going to be a task for me, living in that big house, all alone; you must come and see me—I mean after they've gone, of course. I'll go crazy if I don't see something of people. I'm sure you'll come as often as you can. I know you too well to think you'll be sensitive about coming there, or being reminded of George. Thank heaven you're too well-balanced." Miss Fanny concluded, with a profound fervor, "you're too well-balanced to let anything affect you deeply about that—that monkey!"

The four photographs and the painted Florentine box went to their cremation within the same hour that Miss Fanny spoke; and a little later Lucy called her father in, as he passed her door, and pointed to the blackened area on the underside of the mantelpiece, and to the burnt heap upon the coal, where some metallic shapes still retained outline. She flung her arms about his neck in passionate sympathy, telling him that she knew what had happened to him; and presently he began to comfort her and managed an embarrassed laugh.

"Well, well—" he said. "I was too old for such foolishness to be getting into my head, anyhow."

"No, no!" she sobbed. "And if you knew how I despise myself for—forever having thought one instant about—oh, Miss Fanny called him the right name: that monkey! He is!"

"There, I think I agree with you," Eugene said grimly, and in his eyes there was a steady light of anger that was to last. "Yes I think I agree with you about that!"

"There's only one thing to do with such a person," she said vehemently. "That's to put him out of our thoughts forever—forever!"

And yet, the next day, at six o'clock, which was the hour, Fanny had told her, when George and his mother were to leave upon their long journey, Lucy touched that scorched place on her mantel with her hand just as the little clock above it struck. Then, after this odd, unconscious gesture, she went to a window and stood between the curtains, looking out into the cold November dusk; and in spite of every reasoning and reasonable power within her, a pain of loneliness struck through her heart. The dim street below her window, the dark houses across the way, the vague air itself—all looked empty, and cold and (most of all) uninteresting. Something more sombre than November dusk took the color from them and gave them that air of desertion.

The light of her fire, flickering up behind her, showed suddenly a flying group of tiny snowflakes nearing the window-pane; and for an instant she felt the sensation of being dragged through a snow-drift under a broken cutter, with a boy's arms about her—an arrogant, handsome, too-conquering boy, who nevertheless did his best to get hurt himself, keeping her from any possible harm.

She shook the picture out of her eyes indignantly, then came and sat before her fire, and looked long and long at the blackened mantelpiece. She did not have the mantelpiece repainted—and, since she did not, might as well have kept his photographs. One forgets what made the scar upon his hand but not what made the scar upon his wall.

New faces appeared at the dances of the winter; new faces had been appearing everywhere, for that matter, and familiar ones were disappearing, merged in the increasing crowd, or gone forever and missed a little and not long; for the town was growing and changing as it never had grown and changed before.

It was heaving up in the middle incredibly; it was spreading incredibly; and as it heaved and spread, it befouled itself and darkened its sky. You drove between pleasant fields and woodland groves one spring day; and in the autumn, passing over the same ground, you were warned off the tracks by an interurban trolley-car's gonging, and beheld, beyond cement sidewalks just dry, new house-owners busy "moving in." Gasoline and electricity were performing the miracles Eugene had predicted.

But the great change was in the citizenry itself. What was left of the patriotic old-stock generation that had fought the Civil war, and subsequently controlled politics, had become venerable and was little heeded. What happened to Boston and to Broadway happened in degree to the Midland city; the old stock became less and less typical, and of the grown people who called the place home, less than a third had been born in it.

A new spirit of citizenship had already sharply defined itself. It was idealistic, and its ideals were expressed in the new kind of young men in business downtown. They were optimists—optimists to the point of belligerence—their motto being "Boost! Don't Knock!" And they were hustlers, believing in hustling and in honesty because both paid. They loved their city and worked for it with a plutonic energy which was always ardently vocal. They were viciously governed, but they sometimes went so far as to struggle for better government on account of the helpful effect of good government on the price of real estate and "betterment" generally; the politicians could not go too far with them, and knew it. The idealists planned and strove and shouted that their city should become a better, better, and better city—and what they meant, when they used the word "better," was "more prosperous," and the core of their idealism was this: "The more prosperous my beloved city, the more prosperous beloved I!"

These were bad times for Amberson addition. This quarter, already old, lay within a mile of the center of the town, but business moved in other directions; and the Addition's share of Prosperity was only the smoke and dirt, with the bank credit left out. The owners of the original big houses sold them, or rented them to boarding-house keepers, and the tenants of the multitude of small houses moved "farther out" (where the smoke was thinner) or into apartment houses, which were built by dozens now. Cheaper tenants took their places, and the rents were lower and lower, and the houses shabbier and shabbier—for all these shabby houses, burning soft coal, did their best to help in the destruction of their own value. Distances had ceased to matter.

The five new houses, built so closely where had been the fine lawn of the Amberson mansion, did not look new. When they were a year old they looked as old as they would ever look; and two of them were vacant, having never been rented, for the Major's mistake about apartment houses had been a disastrous one. "He guessed wrong," George Amberson said. "He guessed wrong at just the wrong time! People were crazy for apartments—too bad he couldn't have seen it in time. Poor man! he digs away at his ledgers by his old gas drop-light lamp almost every night—he still refuses to let the Mansion be torn up for wiring, you know. But he had one painful satisfaction this spring: he got his taxes lowered."

Amberson laughed ruefully, and Fanny Minafer asked how the Major could have managed such an economy. They were sitting upon the veranda at Isabel's one evening during the third summer of the absence of their nephew and his mother; and the conversation had turned toward Amberson finances.

ALL TOGETHER—BOOST.

We can knock it, we can rap it,
We can kick and we can scrap it,
But lets advertise our town another way;
Let us laud it and applaud it,
Lets commend it and defend it
Till the world shall know we mean just what we say.

We can raze it, we can break it,
We can make it or forsake it,
Just by the way we talk about our town;

We can boost it, we can shove it,
We must talk it, we must love it,
If we want it to go up instead of down.

Why not sing and shout its praises—
Mention all its happy phases—
Show the universe the best town on the map?

Boost it at the store or table,
Boost it when and where we're able—
All together now—lets boost and
"can" the rap.

RICHER THAN THE NEWSPAPER
STORIES.

Bert Hill, editor of the Republican-Record at Gage, says that Gage has a news medium which puts the papers on the shelf. A woman of that town does not take the local papers because she can depend on the milkman and the grocery boy to bring her the news, and the class of gossip they peddle is richer than the newspaper print, anyway.

HOPE ON.

Hope on, hope ever, and the time shall come,
When man to man shall be friend and brother,
And this old earth shall be a blessed home,
And all earth's family love one another.
Hope on, hope ever.

Williams-Thorp.

Wesley Williams and Miss Viola Thorp were married at high noon last Monday at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Thorp, in South Slaton. Justice of the Peace Paul P. Murray officiated in his usual impressive manner, using the ancient Roman ring ceremony.

The parlor and dining room were beautiful with decorations of chrysanthemums and ferns. After the ceremony the bridal party and the following guests were served an excellent dinner at this home: R. L. Harkleroad and family, T. J. Thorp, Mrs. Bessie Hoover and three children, B. F. Hoover, all of Slaton; Mr. and Mrs. I. V. Williams, Miss L. B. Williams, Miss L. D. Williams, E. G. Jones, Mrs. E. M. Jones, John Harris, of Lorenzo.

The groom in this happy event came here from Lorenzo several weeks ago and holds a responsible position at the McDonald gin. The newly-weds will continue to make Slaton their home.

The Slatonite joins a host of friends in extending congratulations and best wishes.

Poverty Party.

What was said to be a poverty party was given by the Baptist ladies at the Woodmen hall last Thursday night. Of course it was well attended as the major portion of any community always have suitable clothes for an occasion of this kind, and it is a rare thing that they feel like taking them anywhere else. However, the affair was a very enjoyable one from start to finish and the costumes worn furnished a good deal of the amusement.

Pumpkin pie, hot chocolate, coffee, and cake were served during the evening, which netted the ladies about twenty-five dollars.

Features of the occasion were Bolshevik addresses by Pastor J. H. McCauley and Missionary L. W. Williamson. They claim that their audience was highly pleased. We have not had time to verify this.

This poverty party idea is a little different from any other form of entertainment yet inaugurated in Slaton and from all accounts proved most popular.

Public School Notes.

Since the past week no rain has fallen; the streets of Slaton are in good condition; concrete walks have not been needed the past few days. But, really, would it not be a good thing to have a nice concrete walk running all the way from the public square to the public school grounds? All who are against a proposition like this will please say so, and all who are for this proposition will let it be known by keeping silent, else start something that will result in the construction of such a walk.

Several of the school rooms last Tuesday observed Armistice Day with appropriate exercises. After recess in the afternoon all pupils were given the time off as a recognition of the significance of the day. Of course, the boys and girls, old as well as the young, did not protest against being given that much of a holiday.

Garland Tait, after an absence of a few days has resumed his studies in school. He accompanied his mother on a trip to Port Arthur. While there he saw Miss Burdette Smyth who taught History and Latin in this school the past year. She is teaching Latin in the Port Arthur high school.

By the way, a concrete walk from the public square to the school grounds would actually be a good thing in case it should take a notion to rain again this winter.

Mr. J. O. O'Leary, a representative of the W. M. Welch Manufacturing Company, was a caller at the high school building the first of the week. He exhibited samples of high school diplomas, which put the senior class in a state of anxiety about their fate next spring.

Missionary Society Observed Week of Prayer.

November 3 to 6 was the time set apart and devoted to special prayer when our women of the Methodist Church throughout the land were gathered together in this week of prayer and self-denial. No one who has followed the course of the missionary movement can doubt the power of prayer. So our auxiliary here decided to lay aside everything and assemble ourselves together that we might get a larger vision of spiritual life and fit ourselves for more and better service for our Heavenly Father.

Monday, the first day, was led by Mrs. W. H. Proctor; Tuesday was led by Mrs. S. H. Adams; Wednesday was led by Mrs. W. Donald.

In trust and hope let us face the future looking unto Jesus, the author and finisher of our faith.

PUBICITY SUPT.

Civic and Culture Club.

The Civic and Culture Club met Saturday afternoon, Nov. 8, with Mrs. Lee Green hostess, and Miss Ora Kuykendall as assistant hostess.

The regular literary program was given under the able leadership of Mrs. Ed Tonn. After the very interesting lesson a discussion followed on the Clean-Up Campaign that will be launched Nov. 17th.

The Finance Committee, composed of Mesdames Lee Green, J. M. McCann and S. H. Adams, will offer the following prizes: For the cleanest district, a wagon crossing; for the second cleanest district, a cement foot crossing; the third cleanest, a board foot crossing.

The following were guests of the club: Mesdames Robbie Reynolds, Arthur Green, and Evans; Misses Parker, DeShazo, Shepard, Williams, Witt and Levey.

Refreshments of meat sandwiches, cranberry tarts, stuffed olives and coffee were served.

The next meeting will be Nov. 22. There will be a free concert given Nov. 18 at the high school auditorium under auspices of the Civic and Culture Club. Everybody is most cordially invited to be present. It will be something of a community meet, where all the citizens may come together in a common interest. Be there.

Wonder Berries.

The Slatonite had a pleasant call this week from Carroll Phillips, a progressive farmer living five miles west of town. He brought in a lot of Wonder Berries that were grown on his place. They are very fine for preserving, but are not grown here very extensively. In fact, we do not know of any one else growing them in this immediate section. Mr. Phillips secured the seed from Chicago, and he invites any one that cares to try them to come out to his place and gather all the seed they need, free of any cost.

Naturally Road is Crooked.

For the benefit of automobilists who have wondered why the road from Exeter to Hampton, N. H., is so crooked, it is explained that when the first settlements were being made in New Hampshire, a bear made a night raid on that part of the Hampton settlement known as Wigwam row, and men in pursuit the next morning followed its tracks in the light snow to its watering place at Squamscott Falls, and built the road accordingly.

GIVE GRIT TO AID DIGESTION

Hens Should Have Access at All Times to Supply of Material to Help Grind Feed.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

The hens should have access at all times to a supply of grit or stones of a size small enough to be swallowed readily. Grit is used by the hens to help in grinding in their gizzards the hard grains which they eat. A supply of ordinary gravel will answer the purpose of grit very well. Some one said the turkey shows the least intelligence when small and the most intelligence after maturity of any fowl known. This is true of all the farm fowls. The goose and duck will often go some distance from the poultry range, make a nest, deposit their eggs, sit and hatch, if undisturbed, taking no notice as to whether being watched by human eyes or not. The turkey is very cautious. She will lead one, if she finds she is being watched, away from the nest or where she intends making it, often making a nest and sitting down cozily, until her watcher decides, or is deceived into thinking she is on the nest, but he will have to try it over again. After the watcher has gone away, she leaves her temporary nest for the true one, deposits her egg and usually covers it deeply with leaves or other trash.

WINTER SHELTER FOR GESE

Fowls Are Very Hardy and Open Sheds Are Satisfactory for Cold Weather Season.

Geese do not need shelter except during cold winter weather, when open sheds may be provided. Goslings are not usually hatched until good pasture is available, and need additional feed only for a few weeks. The range of pasture used either for goslings or for geese should be large enough so that the grass will remain clean, or the stock should be moved frequently to fresh land. Coops, barrels, or some other dry shelter should be provided for the young goslings. Geese are very hardy and free from diseases and insect pests.

DOULTRY NOTES

If you would avoid limberneck allow no dead carcasses or maggots on your farm.

It pays every farmer to have a poultry-wired yard for his fowls in which they may be enclosed when desirable.

The hen needs exercise the same as a human being. You can't expect hens to have health and lay winter eggs when huddled up in a small space.

CAMPAIGN WILL SUCCEED, SAY RED CROSS WORKERS

Enthusiasm of Women Workers Is Outstanding Feature of Drive.

ALL RESOURCES TO BE UTILIZED AT CLOSE

House-to-House Canvass Now Under Way in Most Communities—Encouraging Results Are Being Reported.

Vim is being added to the Red Cross drive for memberships now being conducted, by the diligence of booth workers, teachers, women volunteer canvassers, Boy Scouts and many returned soldiers, sailors and marines, who have rallied to the aid of the campaign, reports show.

Campaign officials in charge of the drive at Southwestern Division headquarters at St. Louis announced that while a few communities have fallen below the mark set for them, in general, enrollment in the Red Cross has been heavier than had been expected. Thousands of persons in all parts of the Division—Missouri, Kansas, Texas, Arkansas and Oklahoma—applied for membership yesterday. The drive which opened Sunday, November 2, closes Armistice Day, November 11. Chance of the Southwestern Division equalling or exceeding its quota of 2,000,000 members, set as the number the Division is expected to raise, is very bright, officials of the campaign declared. Edward Hidden, Division Roll Call Director, said that people were responding with a cheerfulness and a unanimity that made the success of the drive seem assured.

Women Hard Workers.

Reports indicate that from the outset women have been enthusiastic, indefatigable workers. That every woman and child in every community in the Division will be given an opportunity to enroll as a member up to and including November 11, is a late announcement from drive headquarters. House-to-house solicitation is now under way in most communities and encouraging results are being announced daily from each state headquarters.

"Our responsibility," Chairman Hidden said, "is to see that not one available person fails to get an invitation to join. We believe that obligation is being fulfilled and that every man, woman and child who is able to comprehend what the program of the Red Cross means, knows that they are not only welcome to the Red Cross fraternity, but that it is a privilege as well as a duty to link up with its membership. The Southwestern Division," he continued, "has always set the pace and the enthusiasm being shown indicates that we may lead the other divisions again. I know of no greater honor and privilege than to be a member of the American Red Cross."

Clergy Endorse Roll Call.

"Clergymen all over the nation have endorsed the Third Roll Call in unqualified terms of approval. Their co-operation is regarded as vitally essential to the success of the drive. The church has the equipment in organization, in buildings already furnished, and in men and women already trained in tasks demanding service and sacrifice. The high standard set by the church itself and its splendid record of work already accomplished impels the Red Cross again to appeal to it to help make the Third Roll Call the finest thing the American people have ever done. The organization is, without doubt, the greatest, the most inclusive and the most efficient charity the world has ever known."

"Not all can volunteer for the actual distribution of relief, but all can have a part. All should be members of this glorious army of armies. The membership fee is only $1. There is no one too rich or too poor, too old or too young, too proud or too humble, to become a 'Red Crosser' and wear the tiny emblem badge of such as love their fellow men."

The President Issues Summons.

"The President of the United States has asked every American to respond and to his call has been added those of every state governor and every other high official in the country. The necessity for the success of the Roll Call is not underestimated by these men, who know what the organization has accomplished and what it must yet do."

"The newspapers have performed immeasurable service in presenting the Red Cross message to the public and that service has been reinforced by faithful endeavors on the part of men, women and children workers. We are gratified very much over the work of these agencies and are very proud that our organization has had the good fortune of commanding such devotion and loyalty."

"For the final days of the campaign every available resource will be thrown into the 'firing line' in order to assure the drive's ultimate success."

DRIVE OPENING MARKED BY "RED CROSS SUNDAY"

FIRST REPORTS TO EACH STATE HEADQUARTERS INDICATE SUCCESS OF CAMPAIGN.

WAR-TIME ENTHUSIASM OF LAST YEAR REVIVED

General Pershing Is Among Prominent Speakers Who Are Devoting Energies to Red Cross in Roll Call Behalf.

With the inception of the Third Red Cross Roll Call, Sunday, November 2, the opening day was observed as "Red Cross Sunday" in thousands of churches throughout Missouri, Kansas, Texas, Arkansas and Oklahoma, and a vast force of men and women workers began the task of garnering Red Cross memberships for the coming year.

Clergymen, in pulpits of all denominations, referred to the humanitarian attributes of the Red Cross in sermons prepared especially for the occasion and Red Cross tributes, in some instances, augmented the usual morning and evening devotional services.

Preliminary reports reaching campaign managers in each state indicate an increasing volume of interest in the drive that augurs well for its successful conclusion. The quota for the Southwestern Division is set at 2,000,000 members, while the nation-wide campaign has for its objective the attainment of 20,000,000 members. Officials in charge of the drive expect the Southwestern Division to exceed its quota by 500,000, and state quotas have been assigned on this basis. The quotas follow: Missouri, 700,000; Kansas, 400,000; Texas, 800,000; Arkansas, 200,000; Oklahoma, 400,000.

The opening of the drive found the Red Cross organization, which slowly has been mobilizing for months, ready for the job in hand. In a manner that recalls vividly the war-time enthusiasm of a year ago uniformed women workers magically have appeared in each city, town and county, to solicit memberships. A house-to-house canvass is now being carried on.

Women Workers Re-enlisting.

Groups of women whose services were rendered so generously during the war have re-enlisted. Canteen workers, nurses and nurses' aids, motor transport corps workers, surgical dressing workers, knitters and garment workers, all are asked to extend their efforts again to the utmost to help establish the Red Cross firmly upon a peace basis. Thousands of clubs and fraternal organizations will observe a "Red Cross" day during Roll Call week by special luncheons, dinners and meetings, at which speakers will tell the story of the Red Cross and its future. In many cases motion pictures illustrative of its work will be shown.

Former Fighters Help.

Returned soldiers, sailors and marines have enlisted in large numbers to assist in the campaign, grateful for the manifold comforts and services provided for them by the Red Cross. As members of the American Legion and as individuals, thousands of returned "Yanks" and "gobs" will become volunteer canvassers for Red Cross memberships during Roll Call, up to its close, on Armistice Day, November 11. In some places veterans of the world war are directing the campaign. All such workers will be in uniform.

Permission has been granted to all present and former Red Cross workers to wear their regulation Red Cross uniforms while engaged in campaign work. This permission applies to all nurses, foreign service workers, field service directors, canteen, motor corps and chapter workers.

One of the most remarkable mobilizations of speaking talent that has ever volunteered for an effort of this kind will go into action for the duration of the drive. Former American Women of national prominence are out on speaking tours for the Roll Call, notably Miss Mabel T. Boardman, of the Central Committee of the American Red Cross, Mrs. Larz Anderson, of Boston, and Dr. Esther C. Lovejoy, of Portland, Oregon. Red Cross nurses, many of them decorated for bravery overseas, are speaking in the interests of the peace-time health program of the Red Cross.

AWARDED $73,000 DAMAGES FOR BREACH OF CONTRACT

Last week the courts allowed Floyd Davenport of Lockney, damages to the extent of $73,000 for breach of contract against J. M. Fulton & Sons, of Calgary, Alberta, Canada, for not closing the deal for the purchase of Sudan Farms, in the southwestern part of Lamb County, which they contracted for last winter at a price of about $200,000. Mr. Davenport was in Amarillo Saturday and when asked what he was going to do with so much farm—he having bought another big farm near Lockney after selling his Sudan Farms—said he hadn't made up his mind yet, but would probably sell one of them. He has just sold the crop of row stuff on the Sudan Farm in the field to the Leo Sheep Company of Rawlins, Wyoming, for $12,000, who will ship in a large bunch of sheep and feed them this winter on the place.—Southwest Plainsman.

BAPTIST WOMEN TO RAISE $15,000,000

FIFTH OF SUM SOUGHT IN FIVE-YEAR PROGRAM WILL COME FROM THEM.

ARE DOING A LARGE WORK

Hospitals, Mountain Schools, Good Will Centers and Church Building Funds Maintained by Them in Addition to Regular Gifts.

MISS KATHLEEN MALLORY
Corresponding Secretary, W. M. U., Baltimore.

Evidencing the larger sphere which women have come to occupy in church life, as well as other activities, when the Baptist 75 Million Campaign was decided upon at the meeting of the Southern Baptist Convention in Atlanta last May, the women, through their regular organization, the Woman's Missionary Union, at once agreed to be responsible for one-fifth of the sum sought, or $15,000,000. This means that the Baptist women of the South will raise for missions of all kinds, Christian education and benevolences, the sum of $3,000,000 a year for the next five years, in addition to their contributions to local enterprises and special work.

Through the channels of the Woman's Missionary Union, with headquarters at Baltimore, Md., the Baptist women of the South have since their organization contributed more than $5,000,000 in cash to various denominational purposes. With the addition of boxes of food and clothing sent to orphanages and other benevolent institutions, the total of their contributions through this channel has reached $5,710,337.11.

Miss Kathleen Mallory is the corresponding secretary of the Woman's Missionary Union, and in appreciation of the service she has rendered in that connection the Baptist women of Alabama have established the Kathleen Mallory Hospital for Women at Lairhow-Fu, Shantung, China, Miss Mallory being a native of Alabama.

Women of many of the other states have also undertaken special enterprises of their own. Those of Georgia, for instance, established the Ayers Hospital for Women at Hwanghai, China, a girls' school at Tumamoto, Japan, the Catherine Bryan Kindergarten School at Cahton, China, and the Mary P. Willingham School for Girls at Blue Ridge, Ga., a school designed especially for the education of girls in the mountainous section of that state.

Many of the other state unions have special projects such as Good Will Centers in the tenement, factory and mining districts, where effort is made to bring more sunshine and enlightenment and love into the home and lives of needy families, especially those of foreign birth; church building funds, scholarships for young women who want to obtain training for special Christian service, and similar undertakings.

The general W. M. U., representing all the women of the Southern Baptist Convention, owns and operates the Women's Training School at Louisville, Ky., which has already sent out 700 trained women for special service in all parts of the world; and has established the Margaret Fund for the education in the Baptist schools of the South the sons and daughters of missionaries on the foreign fields, and the Fannie E. S. Heck Memorial, a church building fund established in honor of one of the greatest leaders Southern Baptist women have known. But money for the support of these institutions as well as that for the payment of the women's pledge of $15,000,000 in the 75 Million Campaign, will be raised by the actual work of the women and through economy and sacrifice. Church fairs, bazaars, suppers, ice cream socials and the like, are frowned upon by the organized Baptist women of the South as unworthy means for raising funds for carrying forward the work of the kingdom of God and their contributions will not come from this source, it is announced.

BETTER PROVISION PROMISED PASTORS

BAPTIST 75 MILLION CAMPAIGN WILL RAISE BIG SUM FOR RETIRED MINISTERS.

CARE FOR THE WIDOWS, TOO

Total of $5,000,000 included On Program For This Purpose—Insurance Feature Also Included.

REV. J. M. RUSSELL
Typical Retired Minister.

While the salaries paid the ministers of Baptist, as well as other churches in the South, have been far too small in the past to enable them to lay aside a competency for old age, a long step in remedying this situation is promised in the Baptist 75 Million Campaign, which proposes to raise $2,500,000 for the relief of aged ministers during the next five years, and then bring this sum up to $5,000,000 during the two years immediately following the campaign.

Looking to the adequate care of hundreds of aged Baptist ministers and ministers' widows in the ranks of the Southern Baptist Convention who are now in need of financial assistance, this body, at a recent session, authorized the creation of the Relief and Annuity Board of Dallas, Texas, with Dr. William Lunsford as corresponding secretary.

Heretofore the average annual salary of Baptist ministers in the South has been less than $500, meaning that a large number of preachers received considerably less than that sum, making it necessary that they engage in other occupations during the week in order to support themselves and their families, and rendering it practically impossible for them to lay aside any money as a support for their old age.

The establishment of the Relief and Annuity Board and the decision to raise $5,000,000 during the next seven years for the relief of the aged ministers already in need of assistance and the more adequate care of the men who hereafter give their lives to the Christian ministry without an opportunity to save up a competency to tide them through sickness or care for them in their declining days, has met with a cordial reception at the hands of Southern Baptists, and it is believed the provision of better treatment for the ministers in their retirement will not only tend to cause young men to look with greater favor upon the ministry as a life work, but will bring the members of local congregations generally to see the need of paying pastors more adequate salaries before these pastors become old and helpless.

By the addition of an annuity feature it is possible for retired ministers to receive an annuity of $500 after they have reached the age of 65, and provided they have been in the minis-for thirty years. If they have served less than 30 years the annuity is reduced by a certain proportion. To participate in this annuity a minister must make monthly, quarterly or annual payments sufficient to bring in an income of $100 per year when invested, on the principle of regular life insurance, while this is supplemented by the denomination. A minister's participation fund is in addition upon the relief fund.

If the minister is disabled at any time after joining the annuity fund, he will receive a certain annuity throughout the period of disability. If he dies his widow will receive an annuity of 60 per cent of what would have gone to her husband as long as she lives, and should the widow die her annuity will be divided among minor children until they become self-supporting, marry or reach the age of 21.

The board has received an endowment of $100,000 from the Baptist Sunday School Board at Nashville not included in the 75 Million Campaign, and this sum will be divided equally between the relief and annuity departments. This enables the board to begin work immediately and assistance is already being given to 285 aged ministers and ministers' widows.

Kidney and bladder troubles don't disappear of themselves. They grow upon you, slowly but steadily, undermining your health with deadly certainty, until you fall a victim to incurable disease.

Stop your troubles while there is time. Don't wait until little pains become big aches. Don't trifle with disease. To avoid future suffering begin treatment with GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules now. Take three or four every day until you feel that you are entirely free from pain.

This well-known preparation has been one of the national remedies of Holland for centuries. In 1690 the government of the Netherlands granted a special charter authorizing its sale.

The good housewife of Holland would almost as soon be without food as without her "Real Dutch Drops," as she quaintly calls GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules. Their use restores strength and is responsible in a great measure for the sturdy, robust health of the Hollanders.

Do not delay. Go to your druggist and insist on his supplying you with a box of GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules. Take them as directed, and if you are not satisfied with results your druggist will gladly refund your money. Look for the name GOLD MEDAL on the box and accept no other. Having Sewing Machines, Igorrotes Possibly Will Send Forth Call for the Fashion Magazines.

Wearing about as little clothing as is possible even in the least sophisticated part of the Philippines, the Igorrotes of Bontoc in the mountain province have little need of sewing; but Bontoc at last has a sewing machine. The first sewing machine ever seen in Bontoc turned up there recently as a prize for the winning team in a tug-of-war contest at a local celebration. Never did a crowd of nearly naked villagers look with more interest at a new object of curiosity than did the simple Igorrotes when the wonder of the sewing machine was explained to them; after which the tug-of-war was contested in the vigorous fashion inherited from generations of tribal ancestors to whom this simple exercise had stood as a great tribal sport. The winning team presumably carried off the sewing machine, and one may imagine that the natives are proud to possess it as a rare and impressive curiosity. But the time has yet to come when a sewing machine will be of much practical importance to the average Igorrote family.

Author Could Not Help but Be Proud of Compliment Which Was So Fairly Sincere.

A young woman who had spent a few years in the bookkeeping line and who wished a different kind of work, found employment in the book store of a downtown concern. At the start she naturally was not well acquainted with the usual customers in the magazine department. But she was there to read? she queried of a handsome and handsome as I am on my way to seek my mate.

"Of course then my feathers are very beautiful for I have made them so by pulling them carefully and making them stand up in fine fashion."

"You're a gay and dashing bird as far as your handsome colors go," said the Gouldian Finch, "and I can see how a Miss Weaver Bird is delighted to have such a bright looking, beautiful mate."

"I am rather delicate here in the zoo but still I do not mind it."

"I do my best work always," said a little Thrush, "trying to eat bad insects. The English sparrow is a bad little fellow. He eats good insects and things which help destroy bad ones."

"But, let us hear why you are laughing, Bird of Paradise?"

"The Birds of Paradise, with their beautiful plumage looking so lovely, were laughing for all they were worth."

"We heard some one say, 'one of them answered, how fine one of us would look on a hat, and we laughed for we knew they would only wish and wish and it wouldn't do them any good. We were safe."

"But then we stopped laughing for one of us said, one of the older members of our family:

"Ah yes, but people shouldn't even wish for such things, for they should know how cruel it is to kill birds for their plumage. And they should know how especially cruel it is to kill us for they do so when we're mating, when we're telling our little mates how we love them and they're telling us how they love us and how we're all going to be happy ever after."

"Then for the moment we become sad. But since then, so many people have come to the zoo and they have talked of how wrong it was to kill the Birds of Paradise for fashions and the Heron Birds and many others."

"So at that again we laughed and smiled and were gay and happy. And when we laughed the people seemed to be so amused and to laugh so hard too as they heard our funny voices so we laughed more and more."

"But mostly we laughed because it has seemed as though people were beginning to see that it was cruel to kill birds for fashions, just as it is wrong to hunt for animals that aren't needed for daily food and nourishment."

"You're safe here," the other birds said, "but it is nice to think that people are glad when they see you that you aren't on their hats."
