

A WEEK AT A TIME

by J. M. RANKIN

WOULD GO AMERICAN

Advocates of citizenship must be executed by all persons receiving employment under the terms of the Emergency Relief Appropriation Act of 183s if their employment is to be continued after March 5, it was announced today by State Works Progress Administrator H. P. Drought. At which announcement we rise and cheer as vociferously as possible. We can't possibly lose any sleep about aliens who have been here long enough to get Relief Employment, but don't have citizenship papers. We are no Nazi, but we are ready to go American that far.

CONQUERING THE CONQUERORS

Those of us who used to shudder at the stories of Chinese Tong wars and of Chinese hatchet men who blandly committed murder upon the slightest provocation, may now smile appreciatively at the stories of assassination coming from Japanese-infested China. It seems that Japan wants to put a puppet king on a Chinese throne and go back to Japan and pull the strings. But every time a Chinese official signs up with the Japs, there is a quiet little assassination of said Chinese official that has signed up. It is getting so monotonous that Japan can hardly get any signers-uppers. Chinese patriots have long since stated their assurance that they have ways to conquer their conquerors. It may turn out that way.

HELP IN THE BATTLE

If a newspaper serves a community at all, one of the services should be a service of economy. The Slatonite is privileged each week to bring into the homes of its readers news of local people certainly. But it also brings each week news of Slaton merchants who are helping in the battle against high living costs. When business men here at home believe in their merchandise and in their service so they are willing to send the news into the homes of the people, then they show they want your business, they tell you they want your business, they make a definite bid for it, they are entitled to your consideration.

Personalities In The News

E. S. Day, school inspector from the State department of Education, will be accompanied here Friday by Claude L. Hale, Lubbock county school superintendent, to make a general inspection tour of the Slaton schools system.

Studies will be made of the entire plant on health conditions, instruction service, library facilities, standards for affiliation, keeping of records, etc., said Joe E. Webb, superintendent of the schools.

J. M. Rankin, owner-editor of the Slaton Slatonite and H. S. Crews, left Monday for Austin on business. Rankin returned to his duties late Wednesday.

Frank Drewry, school tax assessor-collector, requests that every citizen of Slaton cooperate with him when he begins the house to house canvass March 1st. Very often, not knowing the nature of the call, busy housewives have evaded the assessor, and in that way hindered his progress. In the interest of yourself and child, be ready to admit Mr. Drewry anytime after Wednesday, March 1st.

Agricultural Ass'n. To Meet In Union

Regular monthly meeting of the Slaton Agricultural association, with P. G. Meading as chairman, will be held at 7:30 o'clock the evening of March 2 at Union, where it was called off February 2 on account of cold weather. The association meets the first Thursday night in every month, rotating meeting places in Slaton, McClurg, Posey and Union, the communities comprising the organization.

The association was organized for the two-fold purpose of building community spirit and mutual fellowship and for discussion of various of the farmers' problems. Three features of the program are education, entertainment and promotion of personal welfare throughout the various communities.

Other officers besides Meading are Mrs. W. W. Long, vice president; and Mrs. C. Z. Fine, secretary. A. C. Strickland, vocational agriculture teacher in Slaton schools, is chairman of the program committee.

Miss Clara Pratt, Lubbock county home demonstration agent, and John Palmore, assistant Lubbock county agricultural agent, are aiding in furthering the program of the organization through home demonstration and 4-H club work.

"All business men who are interested in the farmers' problems are invited and urged to attend our meetings," Meading said.

Or Do We Have Any Traffic Problems?

(An Editorial)

One of our neighboring towns had a traffic problem—nay, it had many traffic problems. But nobody meant any harm by failure to observe the traffic laws that were on the books. And everybody wanted to get along with his neighbor so they just rocked along.

Then one afternoon when cars were parked at a lot of places where they shouldn't have been and trucks were parked in violation of the ordinances, a little lad dashed out between two cars and under the rear wheels of a car whose driver never even saw him. They buried the little fellow a few days later. And now everybody observes the traffic laws of the city. But the little boy can't be called back.

We are nearly all home folks in Slaton, and we don't mean any harm as we ignore many of the traffic regulations that were drawn for the protection of life and property. We hope it won't take a tragedy to bring us in Slaton to the relentless enforcement of the law that has been practiced on the Texas highways this past year with such splendid results. We have adequate laws and ordinances for safety. They could be enforced. Enforcement might mean a few one dollar fines—or maybe two or three in some instances. But many thousands would be cheaper than the life of one little boy or girl.

Or do we have any traffic problems?

He was a member of the Methodist Church of long standing and was also affiliated with the Odd Fellows and the Masonic orders. Funeral services were conducted Friday morning at 10:30 at Williams Funeral Chapel, Rev. J. O. Quattlebaum officiating.

He is survived by one son, W. G. Elkins, Santa Fe employee, who with his wife was at the bedside when death came. A brother, J. N. Elkins of Oklahoma and two sisters, Mrs. Ella Midyett and Mrs. Betty Brafield, both of Ewing, Ill. were unable to attend the funeral.

Tech Ex-Students Club Organized

Organization of an association of ex-students of Texas Technological college was perfected in a meeting attended by approximately 25 former students in the community club house here Monday night.

Raymond Lee Johns, manager of the Slaton Chamber of Commerce, was named president. Other officers elected were: Bennington Reed, Junior High school instructor, vice president; J. M. Rankin, editor of the Slaton Slatonite, secretary-treasurer.

Those attending the meeting will be charter members of the organization.

A combination resolutions and constitution committee was named by Johns. Those appointed were Jim Nevins, Slaton band director; Joe E. Webb, superintendent of Slaton public schools; Mrs. Mary Frye, head of the Slaton High school department of speech and dramatics; and Mrs. J. G. Wilhite, instructor in the Junior High school. A constitution will be drafted for presentation at a called meeting soon.

Calvin Hazelwood of Lubbock, secretary-treasurer of the Texas Tech Alumni and Ex-Students association, was temporary chairman for election of officers.

Hazelwood showed color motion pictures of the Texas Tech-St. Mary's Cotton bowl football game and the Tech-Loyola game.

Mrs. Frye presented a musical reading, "The Last Song," with piano accompaniment by Marion Bechtel, Slaton High school student. A quartet, composed of Melvin Sisk, Morris Ward, Miss Joan Drewry and Mrs. Merle Heaton, sang, "In The Gloaming," accompanied on the piano by Mrs. Lillian Butler.

Accompanying Hazelwood here were Joe King, Texas Tech student and staff member of the Texas Tech magazine, published by the alumni association; Arch King, graduate of the college; and W. E. Street, professor of industrial arts at Tech.

During the meeting a telegram from Marshall Formby, Tech graduate and county judge of Dickens county, was read. Formby was to have attended the meeting.

School Regulations Given For Parents

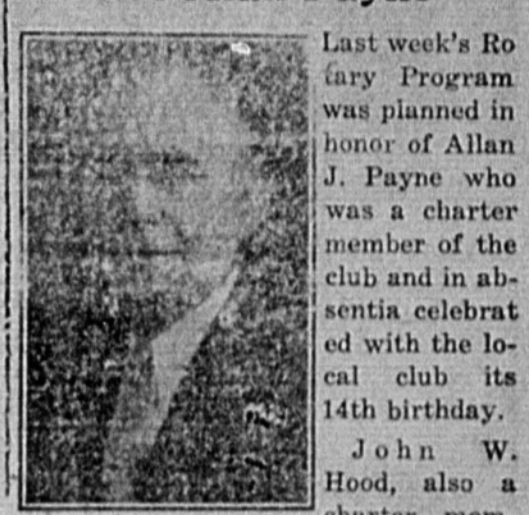

So that no one, student or parent, shall become confused concerning the procedure followed in the high school it has been asked that this bit of information be published in this issue of the Slatonite.

(1) Regulations of the State Department of Education specify that no student shall be permitted to take more than four subjects in the high school unless he or she is rated in the high 25 per cent scholastically of the entire high school.

(2) Band is now a fully accredited subject in the high school curriculum and a student may be permitted to take such a course each year if he so desires and still be in a position to get all his required work off.

(3) If a student desires to take a course in band during each of his four years in high school, it is recommended that he work for 18 credits during

Slaton Rotary Club Honors Alan Payne

Last week's Rotary Program was planned in honor of Alan J. Payne who was a charter member of the club and in absentia celebrated with the local club its 14th birthday. John W. Hood, also a charter member of the club reviewed the history of the club and noted some of its worthy achievements, but held before the assembly the thread of the continued service of Al through all the years. Secretary Johns read the names of the charter members, the names of the men who had served as president of the club and the names of all who had served as secretary; Alan Payne's name was on every list. If he had read the names of the Rotarians who have never missed a meeting for those fourteen years, or seven hundred and thirty weeks, Payne's name would also have been in that list.

Mrs. O. D. Groshart was guest musician at the meeting and besides playing spiritedly for the general singing, favored the gathering with several piano selections and a vocal solo.

Billy Lokey Winner In Advertising Contest

Billy Lokey was first place winner in the last of a series of misspelled word contests conducted by the Slatonite and Slaton merchants. There is no doubt that the Slatonite ads were read. Advertisers report as high as fifty people calling at their places of business to check spelling of trade names of products advertised.

After Billy gets his $1.50 for first prize, the five theatre tickets will be distributed to Bonnie Mercer, Roy Meyers, Mrs. E. J. McKinney, Herman Carruth, and O. W. Richardson.

The judges decided there were 38 misspelled words on the page. The tickets are available at the Slatonite office and entitle the winners to see any of the Palace attractions of this week, the powerful "Trade Winds" Saturday night prevue, Sunday and Monday, and later in the week the New York censored picture, "Yes, My Darling Daughter" are first class attractions showing here at prices far lower than neighboring towns offer for similar first-run pictures.

Building Activities

H. M. Zimmerman, Bud Woolever, and Charlie Whalen all have had their homes re-roofed this past month; J. S. Brewer and family moved into their new home, a 4-room frame building in South Slaton; Fred Whitehead and Tom Boatwright erected feed shelling barns at their mill in North Slaton; Bill Hutfless has an addition of two bedrooms to his home on South 5th street, soon to be completed; and Ben Klattenhoff remodeled his tenant house near Idalou with sheetrock. Higginbotham-Bartlett reports a new carpenter shop at their lumber yard.

Chevrolet Leads Again In Sales

Texas' automotive registration figures for the year 1938, made public today, show Chevrolet in first place in the state, as in the country at large.

Chevrolet, the figures reveal, registered 37,691 passenger cars and trucks in Texas in 1938. This represents 39 per cent of the state's total passenger car registrations in the low-price group, and 38.7 per cent of truck registrations in Chevrolet's weight class.

This showing in 1938 gives Chevrolet leadership in seven out of the past eight years for passenger car sales in Texas, while Chevrolet trucks have led in seven out of the past 10 years.

his four years, which will have been duly completed at the time of his graduation.

(4) Latest bulletin of regulations from the State Department of Education bulletin, schools not meeting standards set forth by that body may be reported to a special committee which may, according to gravitation of the violation of standards, warn, suspend or drop said school from its affiliations.

Age-Old Fight Between President And Senate in Vicious Revival

Current Squabble, Involving Senators Glass and Byrd, Invited by President Himself; Mr. Roosevelt's Attempt To Discipline Senate Serious Political Mistake.

By WILLIAM BRUCKART
WNU Service, National Press Bldg., Washington, D. C.

WASHINGTON. — Through nearly all of our nation's history, there has been a continuing controversy concerning the respective rights and prerogatives of the President of the United States and the senate. It has alternately smoldered and burst into flame. It has been characterized by vicious outbursts from one side or the other at various times and it has made or destroyed the political fortunes of a great many men.

Washington has been regaled with a fresh revival of the controversy in the last several weeks. The fundamental differences are the same as they always have been. There are, however, new names and new faces and obviously the political fortunes of individuals who have entered upon the public stage in recent years are bound up in the boiling kettle. Like the earlier embitterments over these rights, this one will prove nothing in the way of a tangible solution.

The current fight must be said to have been invited by President Roosevelt. Perhaps, his course of action was urged by some of the "inner circle," which so often has wrongly advised him lately, men who do not know politics and who ignore political history—but the fact remains that the President carried the fight to the senate, and there are more than a few observers who expect that he will come off a bad loser.

Mr. Roosevelt, as I have reported in these columns earlier, was insisting upon his own selection for political appointments where the senators from a particular state were not receiving his smiles. The procedure was not pleasant but there was no sensational outcry from the senators concerned until the nomination of Judge Floyd Roberts, to a United States district judgeship, was sent to the senate. Mr. Roberts was picked without consultation—even over others recommended—with Senators Glass and Byrd of Virginia. It proved to be the signal for a riot.

Advisers Reckoned Not With Senatorial Courtesy

After the manner of senate procedure, Senators Glass and Byrd rose in their places in the senate and pronounced Judge Roberts "personally offensive" to them. That was enough. The senate, as it has done so many times before, promptly rejected the Roberts nomination by the terrific jolt of 72 to 9. It was such a slap that even the Virginia senators were surprised at its overwhelming character. It surely made the fact abundantly clear that Mr. Roosevelt could not get away with his theory namely, that a President can pick nominees without "the advice and consent of the senate" as the Constitution specifies. But it did not have that effect.

And here was where the President made a great political mistake. He sought to discipline the senate by publication of a letter to Judge Roberts in explanation of the senate's action. He scored Senator Glass and he tarred Senator Byrd. They were almost guilty of conduct unbecoming gentlemen.

It was rumored that the strategy of the "inner circle" was to have Mr. Roosevelt smear the two senators and thus create a serious defection in their own political machines in their native Virginia—which anyone acquainted with Virginia politics will tell you is much easier said than done. It was reported even that Mr. Roosevelt would send up another name without consulting the two senators and if that were rejected to send up still others. That, believed the "inner circle," would slowly force disintegration of the Glass-Byrd support.

But the President and his untrained political advisers reckoned not with senatorial courtesy. Now, senatorial courtesy is an intangible thing. No one ever has been able to define or describe it. One simply has to say that it exists and let time prove the statement. The proof always can be found, and the action of the senate on the Roberts nomination, and since, certainly seems to demonstrate that the senators will fight for their rights, or what they believe to be their rights, on a collective basis. Each sticks by the others; none knows when he may need the same kind of help.

Senate Is Thoroughly Embittered at Roosevelt

Thus, after several weeks of this lashing back and forth—because Senators Glass and Byrd did not fail to tell the country what they thought of Mr. Roosevelt's action—we find the senate thoroughly embittered at Mr. Roosevelt and Mr. Roosevelt saying, repeatedly, that the senate is trying to usurp the powers of the Chief Executive. As I said, that fundamental difference has existed since the formation of our government. It is going to continue to exist because of the form of our government, its system of checks and balances, and it will exist as long as our system of political parties obtains.

Coldly and without bias, it must be said that each side to the battle predicated its conclusions and conception of its rights upon a thirst for more power. Mr. Roosevelt, as President, conceives that he should be boss; the senators, as representatives of sovereign states, conceive that they are the elected representatives and they are not going to have a single individual, even though it be the President of the United States, dehorn them of the strength that an election by popular vote gives them.

Moreover, the President must do political knitting. He must keep the weave as free of knots as is possible. In the case of the present incumbent, it is quite apparent that he desires to be complete boss of his political structure. He had a taste—indeed, a full meal—of it for five years when a subservient congress vastly earned the sobriquet of rubber stamps. I imagine that he liked it; anyone would, if that person is really human. When some of his rubber stamps became blurred and did not print clearly what he said they should print, Mr. Roosevelt, like any other ruthless politician, was going to get rid of them. He tried that in the "purge" during the last campaign, and failed. Many persons are sure that the present flame is intended to destroy this type of opposition.

Old Line Democrats Seek To Regain Party Control

Nor are the senators, not just Glass and Byrd alone, but all of them, blameless, if one desires to turn purist. The senators have their political machines. They seek always to keep those machines well oiled, smooth running. Upon the functioning of the machines depends whether the senators can be re-elected time after time; upon that machine depends the retention or the loss of the power which every politician loves. I imagine they can not be blamed for that, any more than the President can be blamed for wanting to keep his hand on the throttle. That is politics.

Selection of the men to judicial jobs, or to any other political post in the nature of a plum, is vital to maintenance of machines. Politicians continue as leaders only so long as they can dominate the scene and get for their followers the things their followers want.

But in the current battle there is somewhat deeper disagreement between the senate and the President. It is too well known to warrant more than mere reference here that old line Democrats are determined to regain control of the Democratic party label. They have had more than enough unpractical direction from the regiment of college professors, crack-pots and long haired dreamers without political training. Many of them will tell you unhesitatingly that continuation of Democratic party control in the hands of such men will be destruction of the party and its conversion into a vehicle guided by socialists, communists and a complete rainbow of colors. Naturally, they want to adhere to Democratic doctrines and Democratic principles. And that is the line of cleavage.

The result? I doubt that Mr. Roosevelt can win over the senate.

Wants Judges Who Will Be Friendly to New Deal

The other phase of the differences is less clear. I can report it only as the belief of quite a few senators. Some of them believe it, definitely. I give it here simply as a subject for thought.

By insisting upon his own choice of nominees for judgeships in the federal courts, Mr. Roosevelt is attempting to place men in the judiciary who will be friendly to all of the New Deal laws, or so some members of the senate and the house firmly believe. That is to say, the belief is held that Mr. Roosevelt is seeking to do by use of the appointive power that which the congress refused him the power to do when it killed off his scheme to pack the Supreme court of the United States with six new justices. By filling the judiciary—the federal district courts and the circuit courts of appeal—with men known to be favorable to new deal laws, insurance against adverse decisions is provided for years to come, or so some of the senators and representatives will tell you.

It would be only incidental, if the above analysis is correct, that Mr. Roosevelt would build a fresh political machine completely subservient to him. It would be only incidental, but it would be a fact.

WHAT to EAT and WHY

C. Houston Goudiss Helps to Answer the Question: What to Eat During Lent?

By C. HOUSTON GOUDISS

A CLERGYMAN friend of mine once remarked that in his opinion, Lent lasts far too long. He had reference, I believe, to the fact that in a swift-moving age, people might be more apt to keep Lent faithfully, if it terminated in a shorter period than 40 days.

Many homemakers, I feel sure, would echo his sentiments, but for a rather different reason! Numbers of them, I know, find the six weeks of Lent the most troublesome of the entire year. Their difficulty lies in planning meatless meals that satisfy hearty appetites. And since the weather is often bitterly cold in late February and early March, families usually seem hungrier, and harder to satisfy, than at almost any other season.

A Chance for Variety

Lent does challenge the homemaker to exercise imagination and ingenuity. But it also provides a golden opportunity to get out of a menu rut, if you happen to be one of those people who follow a set formula most of the year. It may, likewise, offer a chance to make some significant savings in your food budget.

Most of us feel that meat makes the meal. And it cannot be denied that its savory extractives give it a most appetizing and intriguing flavor. But there are a number of other foods which contain proteins of equal biological value. Furthermore, nutritionists hold that it is desirable to obtain protein from a number of different sources. That is because different protein foods contain varying amounts of different amino acids; and by eating a variety of protein foods, we can best obtain a wide assortment of these "building stones" of the body.

For Meatless Meals

Fish comes to mind, first of all, as a main dish for the meal that does not include meat. For those who are far from the source of supply of fresh-caught fish, there are the quick-frozen varieties, the dried and salted fish, such as finnan haddie, shredded codfish and block cod, and 27 types of canned fish and shell fish.

Canned salmon is one of the least expensive of all protein foods. And so many things can be said in its favor that one nationally known food authority referred to it as the most nutritious animal food that could be had for children over six. It is a notable source of minerals, especially calcium, phosphorus and iodine, and contains vitamins A, D, and G.

Cheese in Many Forms

Cheese is another splendid source of protein that should be used more freely, not only during Lent but throughout the entire year. It is high in energy values. And in addition, it contains the milk minerals, calcium and phosphorus, and is a good source of vitamin A. Cheese is so flavory-some that it adds zest to any meal at which it is served. And it certainly should interest the homemaker with an eye to thrift. For a little goes a long way. It is, therefore, an ideal food around which to build nourishing, appetizing and economical meals.

Macaroni, Spaghetti and Noodles
Cheese is especially good when combined with such foods as macaroni, spaghetti or egg noodles. It affords a pleasing flavor contrast. And it helps to balance the menu—in two ways. First, the proteins of cheese supplement those found in wheat from which macaroni products are made. Secondly,

Most homemakers will also want to use eggs more frequently during Lent, because they are so readily available and easily prepared. This is commendable, because besides being a fine source of protein, eggs rank next to milk as a protective food.

Only a few of the many possibilities for Lent have been suggested in this brief review. But surely they give a hint of the many good and nutritious foods a homemaker can choose on those days when she plans meatless meals.

Prince Albert's choice, ripe tobacco is "no-bite" treated for extra-mellow smoothness. And P. A. is "crimp cut," to roll quick, firm, easy. It's a 5-oz. tin too—you get sweet smokes, and lots of 'em!

WHAT TOBACCO goes into Gus Marshall's rollin' papers? "Prince Albert, and only Prince Albert!" he says. "Here's why: With P. A.'s special cut, I can spin 'em up quick, trim, and neat. And P. Weekly News Analysis
White House-Congress Hostility
May Mean 3rd Party for 1940
By Joseph W. LaBine

EDITOR'S NOTE—When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of the news analyst, and not necessarily of the newspaper.

Congress

Few have been able to get along with it. None have been able to get along without it. Those executives who know how to work with it most advantageously will find it the greatest support for the accomplishment of executive processes...

effort to remove patronage from the hands of congress. Though the Byrd-Glass bill supported the Byrd-Glass effort to remove patronage from the hands of congress...

As the rebels prepared to throw out Wisconsin's allegedly red-tinted Thomas R. Amlie, White House interstate commerce commission nominee, several other startling appointments were announced.

Whether Strong Man Batista would accept the example remains to be seen, but Mexico already has one Latin-American ally in this pleasant game.

Legislation. Though Democratic house majority leaders have accepted a modified form of government reorganization (defeated last year), and though the President's $552,000,000 extra defense appropriation will probably pass, White House-congress friendship ends there.

While social security's reserve fund is under fire (because the U. S. borrows all reserve funds), the New Deal's vast relief program is endangered by a growing congressional economy bloc.

Miscellaneous. Anti-White House sentiment took voice in continuation of the house committee to investigate un-Americanism, under which Texas' Martin Dies received $100,000 and a carte blanche to explode all the bombshells he wished. Pending are impeachment proceedings against Madame Secretary of Labor Frances Perkins, charged with harboring Alien Harry Bridges, allegedly communistic west coast C. I. O. leader.

Significance. Since the President and congress seem to be heading down opposite paths, the best guess holds that Mr. Roosevelt is deliberately inviting a split in Democratic ranks leading to formation of a third party for 1940.

Pan America
Protesting Mexican expropriation of American-owned oil lands, Secretary of State Cordell Hull has demanded compensation.

That Senor Cardenas is smugly satisfied with his progress was evidenced by the remark of his chief political aid, Luis Rodriguez, made to visiting Col. Fulgencio Batista, Cuban strong man.

Three hundred miles southwest of Hong Kong and directly in Britain's communication path lies tiny but important Hainan island, generally considered within France's sphere of influence. What both France and Britain have long feared is Japanese seizure of Hainan, despite a 1937 agreement that Tokyo would stay out so long as France blocked munition traffic to China via French Indo-China.

GENERALISSIMO KAI-SHEK
Hainan was only the beginning.

But from his headquarters in far western Chungking, Chinese Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek mourned Hainan's fall as the "beginning of Japanese domination in the Pacific."

Religion
Last August President Roosevelt proposed the intergovernmental refugee committee which subsequently elected American George Rublee its chairman.

Arrested, Dr. Logan Clendening, nationally known physician, for wielding an ax on a WPA air compressor in St. Louis because it interfered with his efforts to work.

International
Intentionally or otherwise, U. S. Secretary of State Cordell Hull stepped to a microphone the night before congress went to work on President Roosevelt's enlarged defense program.

After offering the standard defense argument that it is a nation's "sacred duty" to arm when the specter of a major war "haunts the world," Mr. Hull staged two surprises.

Announced, by Secretary of the Treasury Henry Morgenthau, a $12,000,000 profit since January 30, 1934, for the highly secret $2,000,000,000 stabilization fund.

HOW TO SEW NO FUSS

by Ruth Wyeth Spears

DEAR MRS. SPEARS: I am a bride of six months and your Book 1—SEWING for the Home Decorator has certainly been a life saver for me.

SAFETY TALKS

MOST farmers probably would scorn the use of industry's steel-toed safety shoes, hard hats to protect their heads from falling objects, and goggles with unbreakable lenses to ward off sparks from the grindstone and splinters from the wood-cutting power saw.

The National Safety Council reports that of 19,500 fatalities in occupational accidents during 1937, agriculture, or farm accidents, contributed 4,500. Trade and service industries were responsible for another 4,500 accidental deaths.

If you really want to make that yellow guest room smart, use touches of brown to add character. I have sketched an idea for you here.

Now is the time for all of us to give our houses a fresh start. Crisp new curtains; a bright slipcover; new lampshades; or an ottoman will do the trick.

Don't Sleep When Gas Crowds Heart

If you toss in bed and can't sleep from constipation and awful GAS BLOATING remember this: To get quick relief you must get DOUBLE ACTION. You must relieve the GAS. You must clear the bowels.

Try it. Then—see your doctor. He probably will tell you to continue with the Bayer Aspirin because it acts so fast to relieve discomforts of a cold. And to reduce fever.

GEORGE AND MARTHA WASHINGTON TEA IN HOME OF MRS. S. H. ADAMS MONDAY

The Methodist Missionary Society met in the home of Mrs. S. H. Adams Monday afternoon February 20th at 3 o'clock with Mesdames Adams, Roy Brewster and Galloway hostesses with a George and Martha Washington tea. Mrs. Brewster, attired in a Colonial costume, received guests as they entered the candle lighted home, and Miss Docia Tucker and Mrs. Pete Haliburton presided at the lace covered tea table. A center piece of the flag draped pictures of Martha and George Washington was used to carry out the patriotic theme and plate favors were tiny American flags.

Mrs. J. D. Holt, president, presided at the regular missionary program, with Mrs. George Culwell, leader, giving "Widening Horizons of the Home." About 35 registered, with Rev. J. O.

A LAW THAT TEXAS DOES NOT NEED

DOCTORS are justified in striving constantly to uphold the ethics of their profession, and to safeguard that public from quacks.

But the legislature should beware of the efforts of the members of any profession to have their special code of ethics given the force of law.

For centuries, medical men have been notoriously hostile to innovations in the science of healing and the relief of suffering. Today, the profession is more tolerant, but wishes of organized medicine do not always coincide with wise public policy.

House Bill Number 148, now on the Texas legislative calendar, is offered as a measure to support the ethics of the medical profession in this state, but, if enacted, its real effect would be to outlaw the chiropractors.

As the chiropractors do not use medicine and surgery, but have methods of treatment peculiarly their own, it is not necessary for them to take a full medicine course, although some do. As long as they give their patients satisfaction, why should those who use other forms of treatment complain?

In forty other states, the chiropractors are licensed under special laws. Why should they be subjected to drastic restriction in Texas? The legislature should kill House Bill Number 148 as it has killed similar measures in the past. It is not to the public interest to deprive the chiropractors of freedom to perfect their science even though there are some persons who question its efficacy.—Dallas Times-Herald.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Jake Taylor, a son, Feb. 16th at Mercy Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Paetzold and family moved Monday from their residence at 145 N. 4th street to 225 N. 3rd street.
