THE PROPOSED CITY CHARTER

Facts in Which All Slaton Citizens Are Interested.

(Editor's Note: After studying the proposed new city charter, upon which Slaton citizens will vote on Tuesday, March 19, and after discussing the charter with various members of the charter commission and other Slaton citizens, The Slatonite believes the proposed charter should be adopted by a unanimous vote of Slaton people when the election is held on March 19. In an effort to help our readers get to clearest possible conception of what the charter provides, we are presenting some brief discussions on some of the main points included in the proposed charter.)

Series No. 2.

Reviewing the points emphasized in our discussion in the last issue of The Slatonite, we would remind you that, among other excellent provisions of the proposed city charter, are the following:

1. The tax rate is unchanged.
2. Better official representation for the people is provided for, due to having a mayor and four commissioners instead of a mayor and two commissioners. Each of the four commissioners will come from a distinct ward, there being four city wards created under the new charter.
3. The laws governing the laying of sidewalks and paving are exactly as have been in force in Slaton since 1925.
4. The fee system is abolished.
5. A cemetery association is created.
6. The Board of City Development is provided for.

And, we would remind you again that the charter as proposed was framed by fifteen of Slaton's leading citizens, men upon whom Slaton people can safely rely to exercise good judgment in every phase of planning for this city's future. These men are: J. S. Edwards, chairman; W. E. Olive, secretary; S. S. Forrest, A. J. Payne, G. J. Catching, W. R. Wilson, W. H. Smith, Dr. S. H. Adams, J. H. Brewer, J. W. Hood, W. E. Smart, S. E. Staggs, P. G. Stokes, T. A. Worley, Sr., and R. A. Baldwin.

Besides these commendable features of the proposed charter, we would now call your attention to a few others:

Economy Provided.

The general provisions of the charter will make for economy in operation of the city's affairs. The charter commission members, being men of conservatism, as well as being progressive men, have been wise in their planning for municipal economy under the proposed charter. To go into a detailed discussion of this subject would require too much time and space here, but a careful study of the charter will impress anyone of the truth of these statements.

No City Manager Now.

The charter commission believed Slaton not yet large enough to employ a city manager. The time may come when that will be a matter of wisdom and economy. However, a provision is made in the charter that when the city reaches a population of 12,000 people, a city manager may be employed. This is an excellent feature.

Initiative, Referendum, Recall.

Under the proposed charter, Slaton citizens will have the privileges of initiative, referendum and recall. That is, municipal legislation, or ordinances, may be proposed by the people, existing ordinances or city statutes, we might say, may be referred to the people to determine if they shall stay in effect, and elective or appointive officers may be recalled by a vote of the people, if such action is deemed wise. In all of these provisions, the methods of accomplishing initiative, referendum or recall measures are such that hasty, unwise action cannot be taken, but the powers are granted so they may be used if occasions ever arise when they should be used.

We repeat that the proposed charter deserves the unanimous support of Slaton citizens when they go to the polls next Tuesday, March 19. To vote for the charter means a more progressive Slaton, a better place in which to live, a chance to expand into a larger city, without the small town restrictions that have handicapped us in the past.

SANTA FE MEN, BUSINESS MEN WILL BANQUET

Railwaymen to Join With Merchants in Feed and Program

At least forty or fifty Santa Fe Railway employees of Slaton will meet next Monday night with Slaton business men at a banquet and program to be held at the Slaton Club House, it was announced today by Horace Hawkins, president of the Slaton Chamber of Commerce.

The meeting is being arranged to permit the rail men and Slaton business men to "get together" to discuss matters of mutual interest for the welfare of Slaton and to get better acquainted with each other, it was stated.

J. A. McGinnis and other Santa Fe men are assisting in making the arrangements, and will see to it that a large attendance is had from railroad circles here.

Detailed announcements will be ready in the next day or two, it was said today.

Fire Station to Be Formally Opened Monday, Mar. 18

Announcement has been made that Slaton's new municipal building and fire station will be formally opened in the evening of Monday, March 18, when a program, appropriate to the occasion, will be given.

Slaton city officials, and officials of Slaton Volunteer Fire Department, extend a hearty welcome to Slaton citizens to attend the event, and to thoroughly inspect this new and modern building.

Musical entertainment, refreshments and smokes will be features of the program, it was announced.

Rebekahs to Meet Thursday Night

A meeting of Slaton Rebekah Lodge, No. 46, will be held at the I. O. O. F. Hall Thursday of this week, March 14, beginning at 7:30 o'clock p. m. All members of the lodge are urgently requested to attend if possible.—Lillian Tate, Reporter.

"He's My Pal," at Posey School 14-15

Pupils of the Posey school, assisted by some of the pupils of the Slaton schools, whose homes are at Posey, will present a play, "He's My Pal," in the Posey school auditorium Thursday and Friday evenings of this week.

The play will be presented at popular prices, the proceeds to go to the Posey school benefit, it was stated, and the faculty members and student body of that school ask that all attend who can.

ATTEND INSTITUTE.

Rev. B. G. Holloway, pastor of the First Baptist church here; Mrs. Holloway, Miss Clara Thomas and Mrs. E. C. Foster, of Slaton, and Mrs. E. V. Province, of Lubbock, are in Ft. Worth this week attending the State Mission Institute of the Women's Missionary Union. They represent the Plainview district. The institute will convene Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of this week. Mrs. Foster expects to visit relatives at Denton before returning.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan W. Liles and son, Wayne, were in Lubbock Monday night, attending a negro minstrel, staged there by Allen Bros. Post, American Legion. Liles stated a good crowd was there, and that the minstrel was "a real show."

Legion Met in Regular Session Last Friday P. M.

Luther Powers Post, American Legion, met last Friday evening, March 8, at the Slaton club house, in regular monthly session. A good number of the members were present, and an interesting meeting was held.

Principal business attended to was the reports of committees, including a report of the financial committee, by E. H. Jarman, chairman. All reports were favorable and were accepted, especially that of the finance. A. J. Kahlich was accepted as a new member of the post, his application having been approved by unanimous vote.

In celebration of the tenth anniversary of the Legion, it was decided to offer all inducements possible to obtain new members for the local post, and, co-operating with the Legion, Mayor W. G. Reese has issued a proclamation, which appears elsewhere in this issue of The Slatonite, in which all ex-service men are urged to join the organization.

Following a discussion of possible community activities, it was decided to stage a "Battle Royal" in Slaton, to be sponsored by the Legion. J. B. Hankins heads the promotion committee for the event, and announcement as to date, place, etc., is expected to be made in the near future. It was believed by those present that an old-fashioned battle royal will create unusual interest here, and furnish worth-while entertainment.

Dan W. Liles, post commander, presided at Friday night's meeting.

Third Farmers' Auction Sale is Set for Monday

Slaton's third free farmers' auction sale will be held on the east side of the public square next Monday, starting at 10 a. m., according to officers of the Slaton Chamber of Commerce, which organization has sponsored the sales thus far.

Farmers of Slaton territory are invited to bring in their surplus salable equipment of all kinds and have it sold at auction without charge, it is announced. Col. Joe Seale and Col. W. P. Casey, well-known auctioneers in this county who have been in charge of the last two sales, will be here again Monday to auction off the farmers' "for sale" equipment.

Both of the sales that have been held were largely attended, and hundreds of dollars changed hands on each occasion. The crowd next Monday is expected to be the largest one yet.

Slaton Grain & Coal Still in Operation

As has been their custom for the past several years, The Slaton Grain & Coal Company still serves its customers with coal, grain and feeds at their offices and buildings near the Santa Fe tracks, it was stated this morning by Fred B. Tudor, member of the firm.

A large advertisement appearing in last Friday's issue of The Slatonite, might have been misleading, Mr. Tudor stated. This advertisement, he said, was run in this newspaper merely to acquaint their customers with the fact that they now have an up-town store, located just across the street from the postoffice.

Mr. Tudor asks that everyone bear in mind that Slaton Grain & Coal Co. are still operating near the Santa Fe tracks as heretofore.

Mrs. J. A. McKinney, of Gainesville, and her son, E. C. McKinney, of Dalhart, were here Monday night visiting with relatives, Dr. and Mrs. E. C. Foster. They left Tuesday morning for Tucuman, N. M., for visits with other relatives.

Local Banker and Faculty Member Wed Here Last Sunday

Performing a beautiful double ring ceremony, Rev. L. A. Webb, pastor of the First Methodist Church, of Slaton, said the words at nine o'clock Sunday morning, March 10, that united Mr. Carl W. George and Miss Grayce Pirtle in marriage. The marriage took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. I. M. Brewer, 435 West Garza St., where the bride, a teacher in the Slaton schools, has been making her home.

Mr. George is cashier of the Slaton State Bank, and is a son of Mr. and Mrs. T. M. George, also of this city. His bride is a daughter of the Rev. Z. B. Pirtle, pastor of the Methodist church at Draw, Texas. She has taught school here for the past three years. The Reverend Pirtle was in attendance at the ceremony, and gave his daughter away in marriage.

Others attending the ceremony were sisters and brothers of the bride, Miss Ruth Pirtle, of Lubbock, who is a member of the faculty of Texas Technological College; Miss Billie Nell Pirtle, teacher in the Slaton schools, and Tom Pirtle, of Lubbock; Mr. and Mrs. T. M. George, Willie George and Miss Maggie Wallace George, parents and brother and sister of the groom; W. E. Olive, active vice president of the Slaton State Bank, and his family; J. S. Tekell and L. C. Young, also of the Slaton State; Misses Tera Baughman and Clarice Smith; J. O. McSpadden, of Blooming Grove, Texas, special friend of the groom; Vestal Lott, of Lubbock, and Mr. and Mrs. I. M. Brewer.

Immediately following the ceremony, the happy young couple left for their honeymoon trip, expecting to visit in Dallas and Ft. Worth. They were accompanied by Mr. McSpadden, T. M. George, Jr., and family, of Blooming Grove, expect to meet the newly married couple in Dallas.

Mr. and Mrs. George expect to return to Slaton this week, and will be at home at 720 South Eleventh St.

Fat Stock Show Will Proceed in Spite of Blaze

In spite of a disastrous fire which occurred Monday at Fort Worth, destroying the buildings housing the poultry, merchants' and agricultural exhibits of the Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show, the Rodeo and Exposition will continue throughout the week exactly as usual, according to a letter received Tuesday by the Slaton Chamber of Commerce from Jack H. Hott, manager of the Fort Worth Association of Commerce.

The fire on Monday caused a loss of $150,000, and one man lost his life, while several others were injured. It is planned to replace the burned buildings with fireproof structures at once, an official announcement said.

Mr. Hott's letter stated that the usual attractions will be held through the week, and prospective visitors should not allow the fire to cause them to decide not to attend the show, he declared.

C. of C. Sells First Bale of 1928 Cotton

Slaton's first bale of 1928 cotton was sold a second time last Saturday. The bale was bought on Sept. 17 by the Slaton Chamber of Commerce, the producer being paid 21 cents per pound for it at public auction. F. G. Grawunder was the grower. The bale sold Saturday for $12.90 more than it would have brought at the regular market price when it was ginned last September.

BUILDING IMPROVEMENTS.

E. N. Twaddle, of Lubbock, formerly of Slaton, has been in Slaton this week, seeing to the remodeling of his two-story brick building on the corner

Accident Sunday Threatens Life Of Santa Fe Man

While switching box cars in the local Santa Fe yards early Sunday morning, Roy Rogers suffered injuries that may prove fatal to him, according to physicians under whose care he was placed following the accident.

Immediately following the accident, in which Rogers' body was painfully crushed, he was rushed to a Lubbock sanitarium in a Foster ambulance, where surgical and medical attention was given. His left foot, having been badly crushed in the accident, was amputated by attending surgeons, and shattered fragments of bones were removed from his hips.

In addition to these injuries, it is believed that the accident victim is suffering from internal injuries, and attending physicians express little hopes of his recovery.

Rogers and his wife have been making their home on South Seventh street here. The accident victim's father, of near Meridian, Texas, and his wife's brother and sister, also of that place, are at his bedside in the Lubbock Sanitarium.

Letter to Slatonite From Payne Indicates His Condition Better

The Slatonite is in receipt of a letter from our fellow townsman, Allan J. Payne, who is recuperating from his recent illness at the home of his daughter, at Ft. Lauderdale, Fla. Allan writes that he is basking in the sunlight and salubrious climate of the Sunny South, not unlike other animals he had to shed, from 16 oz. to B. V. D.

His letter was in his usual happy vein, we are sure he is making nice progress to a full recovery. His description of southern Florida is interesting, some of us have been over the ground and seen the same sights. He does not mention having visited Key West, Cuba or the Bahamas, or even of having imbibed of barracuda juice. Anyway, his cry is that he wishes to return to the South Plains, especially Slaton. We will welcome him upon his return.

Merchants Hear Sulley Speak at City Hall Here

Slaton business and professional men heard G. W. Sulley, merchandising authority of Dayton, Ohio, deliver an address here Friday night at the city hall. The attendance numbered forty or fifty. L. R. Cypert, local merchant, presided at the meeting. Mr. Sulley appeared here under auspices of the Slaton Retail Merchants' Association, of which Mrs. Lee Green is secretary.

Mr. Sulley's address followed very practical lines dealing with everyday problems with which business men are confronted. He emphasized many phases of better business management and planning, showing numerous ways in which merchants waste or lose profits through bad organization or bad systematizing of their business.

Those who attended the meeting Friday night declared the speaker's address to have been very beneficial, and expressed appreciation of his being secured by the Retail Merchants' association for an appearance here.

INFANT DIES.

An infant of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Ham, who reside on Eleventh St., died early Sunday morning, March 10. Its body was buried in Englewood cemetery Sunday afternoon, following services conducted at the family residence by Rev. B. G. Holloway.

T. P. Hord and M. J. Nelson were in Lubbock Monday night, attending a regular monthly meeting.

STOCK SALES IN CREAMERY ARE BOOSTED

Farmers are Showing Splendid Interest In Project.

A continued campaign of selling stock in Slaton's new creamery was in progress this week, committees being at work Monday and Tuesday placing additional stock among farmers of this territory.

Up to the last previous report, over 60 farmers had purchased stock, and the sales of Monday and Tuesday brought the total to nearly 100 farm subscribers.

The work of Monday and Tuesday followed a message from G. S. Fraser, president of the Red River Creameries, Inc., at Frederick, Okla., saying that the board of directors of his company was anxious to have several more farmers sold immediately, in order that installation of the creamery plant here might be delayed no longer.

The message from Mr. Fraser, received by the Slaton Chamber of Commerce, stated that the company planned to get the plant in operation by the first week in April, as has been previously announced.

A committee meeting of Slaton farmers and business men, held Monday afternoon at the city hall, was attended by 30 or 40 men, and these men went out immediately to sell additional stock to other farmers and business men. These committees met with very satisfactory results, the reports showed.

Beauty Shop Opening Attracts Large Crowd

The formal opening of the Vanity Fair Beauty Shop, held last Thursday, attracted a large number of visitors throughout the day, according to Miss Cecil F. Hastings, owner. The visitors expressed their praise of the attractiveness of the parlor and of the splendid equipment with which it has been provided under the new ownership, Mrs. Hastings said.

A new Frigidine permanent waving machine was installed in the Vanity Fair on Monday of this week, and the parlor is now ready to take care of its customers with the latest processes known in permanent waving, Mrs. Hastings announced.

Junior Class Play Overwhelming Success

The Junior class presented a three-act comedy drama entitled "Higbee of Harvard," Thursday evening, March 7th, at the high school auditorium to a crowded house.

The high school orchestra, under the direction of Miss Frances Guffin, furnished the music for the evening.

The play was an overwhelming success and many people were turned away at the door on account of the lack of seats and standing room. The total amount received summed up to one-hundred sixty dollars, which will go on the expenses for the Junior-Senior Banquet.

In a contest staged between the Freshman and Sophomore classes, as to which would sell the most tickets, the Freshman class was victorious and their president, Floyd Collins, will have a seat at the banquet. Vee Jackson receive the complimentary ticket awarded for selling the greatest number of tickets, as an individual.

The cast of characters was as follows:

Mrs. Ballou	Jewel Smith
Higgins	Jim Smith
Senator Withrow	Carl
Watson W. Higbee	Lorin Higbee
	Theodore D.
	Malvina

The rumpus over the Cruiser bill and the Kellogg pact simply proves that world peace is an interesting subject because it will always raise a good fight.

One of our farmer friends announced the other day that there are many different plans for agricultural relief as there are members of Congress. We are surprised. We thought there were more.

PREACHERS WORK HARD.

Give a thought to your preacher. He is a hard working man.

During 1928, President Coolidge wrote 22 public speeches and messages to Congress.

These required much concentrated thought. The industry of the President was commented on everywhere. True, the feat was remarkable and the work it necessitated heavy indeed.

But give a thought to your preacher. During 1928 he wrote 52 sermons.

Each time the congregation expected something new and true of him—something they hadn't heard before, couched elegantly, phrased interestingly.

This comparison in no way detracts from the importance of the messages delivered by Coolidge and our sincere admiration for his hard work and his courage in facing the arduous tasks of preparation for these messages of such world-wide importance.

We only make the comparison to picture to you vividly the giant task that is required of every preacher, poor and rich, obscure or famous, of every denomination, throughout the length and breadth of the land. These many bringers of light certainly deserve to have their churches well filled and to have the utmost attention paid to what they have to say.

DUST OFF THAT DICTIONARY.

Some of our folks were reminded of their school days, on reading that Yale university has been giving an exhibit in honor of Noah Webster, celebrating the centenary of that noted man's dictionary.

Also many will recall the old Webster spelling book, of which 60,000,000 copies had been sold at a date many years ago. Many of us used to weep salty tears while studying those well thumbed volumes. But no kind of effort ever brought us more generous rewards.

Today the family dictionary usually reposes on some inaccessible shelf.

Texas May Have a Children's Hospital

The first move is under way in Texas to provide badly needed hospital facilities for children of the Southwest.

Although the need of specialized childrens hospitals is generally recognized throughout the country, there is no such institution in the entire Southwest, the nearest being located in St. Louis and Denver, according to Dr. B. W. Caldwell, of Chicago, secretary of the American Hospital Association, who has strongly endorsed the Texas project.

Headed by J. Edgar Pew, vice-president of the Sun Oil Company, a group of leading Texans have formed a Board of Sponsors that will seek the establishment of a Texas Childrens Hospital. This body is now being enlarged with representatives from leading cities and towns of the state. It will be the permanent organization of the institution.

The hospital will be a non-profit, non-sectarian institution, it is stated. Its doors will be open to children of the Southwest on a basis of complete equality, regardless of financial responsibility. To this end half of its 100 beds will be designated for totally free service and maintained by a $1,000,000 endowment fund. The hospital building will cost $600,000.

Ground has already been given across the street from the Shrine Crippled Childrens Hospital in Dallas where the two institutions will work in close cooperation. The Shrine hospital provides for children who have deformed bones. The new hospital will treat those afflicted with the multiple of physical and mental diseases, many of them exclusively the ailments of children.

Realizing that such a hospital cannot fully serve Texas unless its facilities are made wholly available, the institution will be placed at the disposal of physicians throughout the state, not only for the treatment of their own patients, but for research and study of the latest developments in that highly specialized branch of medicine, Pediatric—the treatment of child diseases.

This entire project had its inception with three men: Mr. G. B. Dealey, publisher of the Dallas Morning News; Mr. F. R. Freeman, who recently built a $70,000 free childrens clinic upon which he settled an endowment of $200,000, and Mr. W. M. Whittenton, former vice-president of the M. K. & T. Railroad. These men have interested a large number of equally prominent Texans throughout the state and members are still being invited to the Board of Sponsors, the permanent organization of the hospital.

The $1,600,000 necessary to build and endow the hospital will be sought from the philanthropic people of Texas in a fund activity to begin soon. The various departments of the hospital are to be reserved for donors for their use in the establishment of personal memorials to loved ones or to perpetuate family names. Instead of number, the various departments and rooms will be known by their memorial names, thus making this hospital a register of those whose enterprise has brought prosperity to Texas and the first place in the entire Southwest for the adequate treatment of children. State headquarters of the undertaking have been opened at 505 Republic Bank Building, Dallas, under the direction of Mr. Pew.

IDALOU BANK RE-OPENS.

The First State Bank, of Idalou, which went into the hands of the State Banking Commission January 30, is now open for business as the Security State Bank, of Idalou, with W. L. Bradley, of that city, as president, according to recent press dispatches.

Sale of the bank by James Shaw, banking commissioner of Texas, to J. M. Crews, of Childress, for a consideration of $55,000, was approved by the State Banking Commission.

Leasing Active Around Justiceburg
Following Bringing in of Boren No. 4;
Will Produce 100 Barrels Daily, Report

Oil excitement has been aroused in Garza County to its highest peak, due to the shooting of the Boren No. 4, located in the northeast corner of section 136 three miles east of Justiceburg.

The shot was placed in the well late Sunday afternoon and fifty-two minutes after it was tapped, oil gushed fifteen feet above the derrick, and continued to do so for several minutes. The sowing was found at a depth of 2575 feet. It is reported that drillers had given up hopes for a showing in this hole and had asked permission to plug the hole, when it was discovered that oil was standing several hundred feet in the hole, Saturday afternoon.

This is the fourth well to be drilled by the Emerald Oil Company in the Justiceburg locality. According to the drillers the well is estimated to produce from 50 to 100 barrels daily.

At the time of this writing, a pump is being placed over the hole, and it is understood that as soon as the rigging is completed it will be thoroughly tested with the pump. The past few days the crew has been engaged in cleaning the hole and preparing it for the pump.

It is also understood that this Company will within the next few weeks start another well on the J. S. Reed ranch, to the east of the Boren No. 4 and plans are also being made to shoot the well on the bank of Double Mountain river on the Dee Boren lease, within the next few weeks. This well is reported to have a fair showing of oil in it, and drillers predict a good producing well of it.

Leasing has been active in the Justiceburg locality the past week and it is understood that land within half a mile of the Boren lease, is leasing for $25.00 per acre. Also real estate in Justiceburg has taken a substantial rise and is selling actively.

Rotary Program
Has Discussions
On World Topics

"The World About Us" was the general subject for the luncheon program of the Slaton Rotary Club last Friday. Ben G. Holloway was one of the speakers, using the subject, "The Outstanding Achievements of 1928, and Their Meaning to Us". Lloyd A. Wilson had for his subject, "Men Now Living and Conditions Now Existing That Will Leave Their Impress on History".

The first speaker, Ben Holloway, referred to development of the Kellogg Peace Pact as one of the outstanding world events during the past year. He also mentioned the fact that many national leaders in this country, excluding any partisan political spirit, believed the coming of Herbert Hoover to the presidency of the United States to be one of the important world events accomplished during the past year.

Briefly naming only a very few of the chief characters of the world who will go down in history as great leaders, Lloyd A. Wilson included Thomas A. Edison, Henry Ford, John D. Rockefeller, Professor Einstein, Charles A. Lindbergh, Richard E. Byrd, Calvin Coolidge, Herbert Hoover, M. Briand, of France, Benito Mussolini, Italian premier, and others.

Conditions now existent that will leave their mark upon history were very briefly touched upon by the speaker, due to lack of time. America's increasingly important position of dominance as a world power was mentioned first. The tendency of all nations to seek means of outlawing war was the second point made. Vast changes as a result of scientific and inventive skill were predicted to increase force. Educational changes were forecast, and perhaps the most striking statement made by the speaker was that "there are now some very distinct rumblings of a great religious reformation, perhaps greater even than the Reformation in which Martin Luther played such a large part".

Rotary's place in advancing the cause of world peace and the brotherhood of man was declared to be of importance, too.

The club's attendance record for February was announced by Lloyd A. Wilson, secretary pro. tem. The average attendance of the month was 90.69.

Upon invitation of the Post Rotary Club, the Slaton club will be guests of Post Rotarians at a meeting in Post on Tuesday night, April 12, and the Slaton Club will furnish the program. Walter E. Olive, Lloyd A. Wilson and Will P. Florence were named as a committee to arrange the program.

Claude F. Anderson, chairman of the "On-to-Ranger" committee, having the responsibility of securing a large attendance of Slaton Rotarians upon the district Rotary convention at Ranger, on March 21-22, reported that his committee was anxious to know how many would make the Ranger trip. Reservations for four members were agreed upon.

Visitors at the Friday program were, Miniard Abel, Stockton, Calif., who was visiting his father, Tom J. Abel, member of the club; and Lettrial Heddins, of Slaton, Boy Scout leader here.

Next Friday's program will have Will P. Florence and C. Lem Sone as speakers. The former will talk on "The Great and Outstanding Concepts That Man Has Developed Throughout History Which Have Been Important Factors in His Development". The latter will give a discussion of "The Institutions That Are Directly the Outgrowth of Man's Altruistic (not religious) Ideals". Each speaker will use from ten to twenty minutes.

The club will have a ladies' night program two weeks from next Friday, which will be Mar. 29. Claude F. Anderson and Floyd C. Rector are in charge of arrangements.

T. C. U. STUD. BROADCASTS.

FORT WORTH.—Thompson Shannon of Durant, Okla., a sophomore in Texas Christian University here, will broadcast piano solos every Saturday afternoon over WBAP, Star-Telegram station of Fort Worth. Shannon's program consists mainly of popular piano numbers.

RATES ARE REDUCED BY WESTERN UNION

The Western Union Telegraph Company announced two drastic reductions in its over night cable rates to Great Britain and Ireland, Monday, March fourth. The company's rate for short cable night letters is reduced from nine cents to seven cents per word or twenty-two percent, and the rate for short week-end cable letters is reduced from eight cents to six cents per word or twenty-five percent. Both of these reduced word rates had been in effect by Western Union for a short time previously but in conjunction with lengthy messages of not less than fifty and one hundred words respectively. These minimums are now reduced to twenty-five words under the new tariffs. A twenty-five word cable night letter may be sent from Slaton to London for $1.75. The previous rate was $1.80. For a twenty-five word night letter.

The new week-end cable letter rates permit the sending of a twenty-five word week-end cable letter between Slaton and London for $1.50 as against a previous charge of $1.60 for a twenty word cable letter. The new rates mark the third reduction in rates for overnight services made by Western Union since the first of the year.

THE LAST LAUGH.

Something less than a hundred years ago the city fathers of a small town in a New England state were debating over the advisability of changing from whale oil to the newly discovered kerosene for street lamps.

The town was stirred by the controversy until finally a citizen, doubtless of the reactionary school, contributed this bit of verse:

"It would not cause us great surprise
If some presumptuous ass
Should snatch the lightning
From the skies
Or light our streets with gas."

The author has been forgotten. But he unknowingly proved himself a true prophet. What was conceived in ire and sent on its way as a bit of withering satire became an actuality, probably within the author's lifetime.

Those who are skeptical of our modern industrial age and its future may find themselves in the same position as this village wit. Progress waits for no man and has a talent for turning jokes back upon their creators.

T. C. U. Founded 2000 Years Ago is Belief of President

FORT WORTH.—"Texas Christian University was not founded in 1873; it was founded in spirit 2000 years ago. Its real builder was the Carpenter of Nazareth," said President E. M. Waits of T. C. U., in a discussion on Christian Education as a part of his annual report to the board of trustees of T. C. U. at its recent meeting here.

"We believe Christian education is the cure for the moral bankruptcy of our day," Waits said. "We do not believe it is ever necessary to soft-pedal the positive Christian note. Christian education should be Christian without hesitation, or intimidation.

"I believe that the Christian college, in spite of its faults, is our best American institution. The present generation of college men and women is, I believe, on the whole cleaner, more intelligent, more interesting and more promising than its predecessors of a generation ago. The students are more frank, in some ways more free, but certainly no worse.

"They have wider intellectual interests," Waits stated. "Perhaps they are less religious—that is, less orthodox. The facts of science and philosophy produce less commotion than formerly. All of which, I think, is merely a reflection of the general situation in American society as a whole.

"The fact that a higher percentage of students is succeeding in T. C. U. than ever before means that our student body and its ideals are more stable. The floater, the idler, the drifter are running a shorter course each year."

Congressman Upshaw Will Speak Here

The coming to our city of former Congressman, Will D. Upshaw, calls to the minds of some of our local dry leaders an incident that startled Congress and the Nation a few years ago. When the subject of prohibition was upon the lips of everyone, Mr. Upshaw from the floor of the House of Congress called upon the officials of our Nation, from President to Governor, including Congressmen and the United States Senators, to set an example before the Nation by refusing to drink bootleg liquor. At that time the Literary Digest said, "To Congressman Upshaw is due the credit of awakening the conscience of America on the subject of sober leadership."

Will D. Upshaw.

Our local dries believe the time is here when a clarion call should be issued and pressed home upon our public officials to respect the law they swear to uphold, and no one can sound that call quite so effectively as Mr. Upshaw, who has been a total abstainer all his life.

Mr. Upshaw will speak in this city on Tuesday, March 19th, at 7:30 p. m. Of this remarkable man, United States Senator M. M. Neeley has said: "Upshaw has done more notable, remarkable things than any other man I know now before the people of the Nation. His ideals and achievements should be an inspiration to every young man in America."

There is a treat in the way of entertainment and inspiration awaiting those who hear Mr. Upshaw on this occasion.

SMILES.

Chase that gloomy frown away,
Oh, quit your grouch, look pleasant.
Give a smile a chance today,
When other folks are present.

Yes, I know you've been hard hit,
And fortune might be kinder;
Raise your head and smile a bit;
Just throw a bluff to blind her.

Others, too, have much to bear,
And yet you never know it;
Not because they do not care;
They're far too proud to show it.

Just as sunshine lights the day
As soon as rain is ended,
So a smile may pave the way
To get the trouble ended.

Smiles are welcome things to see,
You feel their warmth beguiling;
'Tis good for you and good for me;
Keep smiling, friend, keep smiling.

Tires on Model A Ford Cars Suited For all Conditions

One of the problems which demanded most careful study and exhaustive experimenting in the building and equipping of the new Model A Ford car was that of tires.

The new Ford was an entirely new car in its class, with power, speed and acceleration that were also new to the field of light, moderate priced cars. The very first test models of the car proved that tires which could be counted upon to "stand the gaff" with the Model A Ford must be larger, tougher and better able in every way to withstand wear, heat from road friction and ordinarily damaging action of bumps, ruts and other uneven road surfaces upon the tread and the sidewall of the tire.

To begin with, these tires with which all Model A Fords are equipped, while designated as 30x4.50 in size, actually give an effect equal to that of tires measuring 30x4.75, when fitted to the special drop center steel spoke wheels of the car.

The designers of the Model A Ford realized that this car would go into many parts of the world and find many varied road conditions. So the tires with which the first few test models of the new car were equipped were subjected to every possible type of service and from these tests Ford engineers were able to determine specifications that would produce a truly modern balloon tire with all the excellence of design, workmanship and material to insure its giving a service on a par with that of the Model A car itself.

Tires for the Model A Ford are made by several of the best manufacturers of the country, but every tire must be of the finest grade, new, live rubber that has been properly cured. Just so much of this rubber, to within a fraction of an ounce—and no less—must be used. The cotton from which the cord is manufactured must be of fine, long-fibre variety, tough and durable. And each lot of tires received at the Ford assembly lines must first be carefully inspected and tested to see that they meet these specifications and that there are no flaws or defects in tread, sidewall or shoulder.

In testing sample tires from lots delivered to the assembly lines, the Ford Motor Company subjects them in many instances to treatment they will never receive at the hands of the average owner. One of the testing devices drops the tire down from a height of several feet, under a weight equivalent to that of a fully loaded car, upon a section of steel rail similar to those at a railroad crossing. Tires are also placed on test cars and operated over rough roads at below normal pressures, over gravel, crushed stone and through sand and mud. For Ford engineers have determined there shall be no chronic troubles in the tires of the Model A Ford.

DID YOU EVER STOP TO THINK?

By Edson R. Waite,
Shawnee, Oklahoma

THAT two requisites are necessary to make a successful business. Good merchandise and good advertising.

THAT facts are facts, and when anything is proven to be true it then becomes an established fact. It is an established fact that no business can succeed without advertising.

THAT good advertising of good goods gives the public an opportunity to buy right and save right.

THAT when you buy all you buy in the city in which you live, you benefit your city and yourself; therefore, it is easy to see that only foolish people spend their money away from home.

THAT some people never seriously attempt to learn anything about the business concerns of their home city and permit themselves to go along with a mistaken idea that their city can progress without business. It can't be done, and the sooner they realize this fact the sooner their city will grow to be a better place in which to live and make a living.

THAT a dam of education should be erected to stop the flow of money that is made in a city and allowed to flow to other cities, building up other cities at the expense of the home city.

Every effort should be made to divert this money back into the right channel so it will be spent at home where it will do constructive work and benefit all.

Pictures Have a Wonderful Influence

COLLEGE STATION.—The old story of the boy who ran away to sea because of the stirring picture of a full-masted schooner hanging in the sitting room at home should not discourage people from adorning their walls with pictures but rather call attention to their powerful influence in daily living. "There is an art in selecting pictures for the home, as women in the improved living room contests are learning," declares Mrs. Bernice Claytor, home improvement specialist in the Extension Service. "In the living or dining room pictures should be general in nature such as will appeal to all members of the family, like landscapes, architecture, portraits, religious subjects and flower studies. Pictures of a more personal nature may be reserved for bedrooms.

"Housewives may well begin their improvement in this line by courageously disposing of poor and inartistic pictures even though they may be gifts, for poor art is terribly destructive of an atmosphere of good taste. Old fashioned enlarged portraits are usually so poorly done and are so out of place in the living room as to merit their removal to the attic. Excellent reproductions of the world's masterpieces may be had cheaply today at most department stores and may well be used to create a wholesome influence for the beautiful and good in our homes."

Never Had 'em.

Teacher: "Worms do a great deal of damage to growing vegetables, and sparrows are a great nuisance, but they eat the worms. Now, children, which do you think the worse, the sparrows or the worms?"

Bobby: "I don't know, Miss Jones. I never had sparrows."

Ford Opposes Public Ownership of Utilities, He Says

"I do not hold to the theory of government ownership and operation in any industry," said Henry Ford recently, according to an interview in the Electrical World. "The political control of any productive mechanism has no possible end but inefficiency and failure. This is not opinion; it is experience.

"In theory, the idea of political ownership and operation seems plausible, but it fails in practice. The law of the land is not so swift to the punishment of wrong or vicious business practices as is the unerring economic law.

"Private enterprise is the road on which progress travels; that is, if any enterprise may be called 'private'. Back in the beginnings of the light and power companies the element I heard most discussed was service. Well, service is always a public result, but it requires people with strong personal pride, interest and ability to make service possible, especially where initiative is required. Progress is personal effort personally applied for personal good. Somehow, politically controlled and operated enterprises have not been able to draw out this kind of personal effort.

"Disillusionment awaits the government that would undertake the business of generating, transmitting and distributing electric power. The reason is simple—a government is not built for that purpose.

"We may be sure that any opposition to industrial advancement made by men who see political advantage in it will fail to recommend itself to the common sense of the American people. The record of electricity supply in the United States is one of continuously better service at continuously lower rates. I believe that record can be maintained and will be maintained by the men who made it, not by political meddlers."

Conserves Moisture; Doubles Cotton Yield

Sagerton (Haskell County).—How contouring land to conserve moisture doubled the cotton yield is told by W. P. Trice, county agent, in describing a demonstration with G. H. Nehring who lives near here. "Due to the lateness of the season only two contour lines were run last year on this farm and from 30 acres of cotton planted on this contoured land 7 bales were gathered. Mr. Nehring's son planted 50 acres of the same land, only separated by a turning plow, in rows running up and down the hill. He made 6 bales of cotton."

SCORES OF BEAUTIFUL GOWNS CREATED FOR "THE RED DANCE"

More than a score of beautiful gowns, creations worn by Dolores Del Rio and Dorothy Revier in Raoul Walsh's super production of "The Red Dance," were designed, after the Russian vogue, and executed on the Fox lot.

Inasmuch as the action of the picture takes place at a period just prior to the Menshevik revolution in Russia, technical research was employed so that the gowns will pass inspection not alone by authorities in this country, but in the exact locale of the picture, for Fox Films have a great vogue in Russia.

"The Red Dance," which has been playing to capacity audiences at the Globe Theatre in New York, is coming to the Palace Theatre Wednesday and Thursday.

Del Rio "Loves" Her Role in "Red Dance"

"I love the role of Tasia. It's the finest characterization I ever have had."

inspired portrayal.

Miss Del Rio might have added that it was the most colorful role she ever has portrayed—that of a Russian peasant girl who later becomes the mysterious Red Dancer and leads the revolutionists.

Likewise it can truly be said that Miss Del Rio never had a more handsome leading man than Charles Farrell of "7th Heaven" fame.

Top this with the superb direction of Raoul Walsh, who made "What Price Glory" and one has the ingredients that make this production the tremendous success it has been acclaimed during its Broadway run.

Texas Marine Is Dead Shot

Though many medals for marksmanship adorn the breast of Sergeant C. J. Cagle, U. S. Marine from Texas, he is likely to win more decorations soon. The sharpshooting Texan has been selected to take part in the International Rifle Team try-outs to be held at Quantico, Va., early in April. If he shows his usual skill in hitting the bull's-eye, he will go abroad with a team representing the United States, which will compete in the International matches to be held at Stockholm, Sweden, in July.

Sergeant Cagle achieved distinction in the National Matches held at Camp Perry, O., last September, when he won the National Individual rifle match by outshooting 1,453 crack riflemen, both military and civilian. He is 28 years old, was born in McGregor, Tex., and has been with the U. S. Marines about eight years.

A PROCLAMATION. BY THE MAYOR OF THE CITY OF SLATON.

The American Legion will soon celebrate the tenth anniversary of its organization. To those who so nobly served their country in time of great peril it will be an anniversary of achievement for a great work has been performed by the Legion in the decade of peace that has followed the close of the World War. The American Legion was born out of the spirit of comradeship and mutual helpfulness that was so outstanding among those who fought side by side in the great struggle and it is today carrying on a program of public service that has no parallel in the nation's history.

The greatest work of the Legion has been to care for those who suffered most by the war. The best efforts of the organization have been exerted in the behalf of the disabled soldiers, the war orphans and those who were left widows by the war. Although much has been accomplished for these war sufferers there is still a great deal to be done. The Legion has given assurance that this work will be continued as long as there is need for it. In the field of community service the Legion has successfully conducted civic betterment projects in all parts of the country that have demonstrated in a concrete way the power of the Legion to serve in time of peace. The celebration of the Legion's tenth anniversary on March 15 and 16 will be the occasion for a renewed effort to enroll more war veterans in this work. It is the purpose of the Legion to increase its membership in order that its work for the year may be broadened and extended. The people of this city are truly appreciative of the character of the work that is being done by the Legion and they believe every encouragement should be given for its continuance.

NOW, THEREFORE, I, W. G. REESE, Mayor of the City of Slaton, do hereby proclaim Friday, March 15, and Saturday, March 16, as the dates for the Tenth Anniversary Celebration of The American Legion and urge all citizens to aid the Legion in every possible way to increase its membership strength. Every veteran should subscribe to the program of the organization by wearing the Legion button.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the City of Slaton to be affixed. Done in the City of Slaton this 9th day of March, in the year of our Lord, One Thousand Nine Hundred and Twenty-Nine.

(Signed) W. G. REESE, Mayor of Slaton, Texas.

ROTARY AGAIN ATTACKED BY VATICAN PAPERS

Rome, Italy.—Although high circles of the Vatican announced recently that international Rotary would not be denounced by the Holy See, the newspaper Osservatore Romano, which has close relations with the Vatican, has renewed its attacks upon that organization, according to Associated Press dispatches.

The article, it was stated, was in answer to one published in Il Rotary, Italian organ of the international body. The newspaper said a Masonic lodge recently was formed in London made up entirely of Rotarians. This alliance, it added, was detrimental to the cause of the church in Mexico and Latin-America.

CLEAN UP.

Spring, the season of awakening life steps into the spotlight. The snow, and slush, and frost give way before the balmy breezes from the South. Ash piles and a winter's accumulation of rubbish litter up the back doorways. Trees, shrubbery, and lawns have not yet put on their new verdant coats, and the residential district of every community presents a rather drab and unpleasing appearance.

Therefore, we emphasize this as the season to "clean-up and paint-up." Help make Slaton a more beautiful city by tackling this job as early as possible, and by doing it as thoroughly and carefully as time and opportunity will permit.

The way to make our city a more attractive place is for each resident to look well to the appearance of his own property. Dispose of the rubbish as quickly as possible. Clean-up the lawn, trim the shrubbery, apply a coat of paint wherever it may seem needed, and thus contribute your part toward making Slaton the city beautiful.

He's Got a Pull.

A policeman detailed to stop traffic from going over a certain bridge, hailed a large car: "Stop, you can't cross this bridge."

"Is that so. Well this is Judge Brown, now will you step aside."

"I didn't recognize yer honor," came the policeman's answer. "You see I was ordered to stop all traffic from going over this bridge because it is condemned as unsafe, but seein' as how it's Yer Honor, it's a pleasure. Go right ahead."

Hoover's Head is Full Size Larger Than Lincoln's, Hat Chart Shows

Lincoln was rarely seen without his black "stovepipe."

Chart giving head shapes of 9 U. S. Presidents.

Herbert Hoover has discarded his dark felt hat for a grey fedora.

A Study of the Head Sizes of Our Presidents Provides Interesting Information About Their Heads and Hats.

CORRESPONDENTS who have spent much time in describing President elect Hoover's double breasted blue serge suit have overlooked, his friends say, the Callifollian's most obvious sartorial effect—his grey felt hat.

Mr. Hoover has forsaken almost entirely the dark felt hat of other years—a style for which he showed partiality on most informal occasions. During the summer months the President elect changes to a stiff American straw and, and of course, on formal occasions wears his silk topper.

It is no secret that the President elect does not take kindly to the high silk hat, just as he does not take kindly to anything stiff or formal in business relationships. Some early pictures show Herbert Hoover in a black derby. On rare occasions he has been seen in a rough finish fur felt.

Mr. Hoover has no bumps or protuberances on his head as has Al Smith. Al, it will be remembered, once told a municipal court judge that the reason he wore his hat on the side of his head was because it hurt to wear it absolutely horizontal.

Mr. Hoover's head compares favorably as to size with the heads of former occupants of the White House.

Stylists of the John B. Stetson

Company of Philadelphia have assembled some interesting "head facts" about our former Presidents as well as about other notables of history.

Measured in eighth's, Mr. Hoover's seven and a quarter is a size larger than Abraham Lincoln's, and a size smaller than Ulysses S. Grant's, according to Stetson officials. Of the eleven presidents about whom information has been secured, Rutherford B. Hayes takes first honors in small sizes with 7 1/16. James A. Garfield had the largest head and wore a 7 3/4 hat. William McKinley and Calvin Coolidge are credited with size 7 1/2. Grover Cleveland and Benjamin Harrison each wore a size 7 1/2 hat. Warren G. Harding's size was 7 1/4, while Chester A. Arthur wore a 7 1/4 hat.

Johnson's Head Irregular
Lincoln's head is described as small, well shaped and almost a perfect oval. The general character of the contour pointed to firmness, caution and the domestic virtues. President Johnson's head was larger and more irregular with a big bump of concentration. Grant's head was also large and wide across the front showing special genius for construction and generalship.

That the appearance of heads may be deceiving is seen from a comparison of the measurements of Cleveland's and McKinley's skulls with those of the other Presidents. Cleveland's hat size was supposed to be very large, but in reality it was not as large as that of Harrison's. McKinley, who seemed to have an abnormally large skull, actually had a small one. It was, however, extremely long and had a pronounced bump of cautiousness.

"T. R." Had Conscience Bump

Some of the statistics the Stetson Company has compiled run true to popular conception, while others are at variance with what the layman is prone to believe. For instance, Joseph Hume, the philosopher, required an 8 1/2 hat, while the size of the head of the former German Emperor is listed as 6 3/4.

Probably the late Theodore Roosevelt never heard of an inferiority complex, yet phenologists insist that the formation of his head showed a tendency to dependency. They also state that Teddy had a big conscience bump.

Mr. Hoover's frontal development is pronounced. It conforms with the orthodox theories of phrenology as to the proper shape of a highly trained executive's cranium.

Several Slaton People are Heirs to Estate Left by Indiana Millionaire

The following news dispatch, appearing in recent issues of Texas state daily newspapers, indicates that five residents of Slaton will be recipients of nice sums of money, as a result of a will, made out by the late William R. Meredith, Indiana millionaire:

"EASTLAND, March 5.—Two newspaper dispatches—one of them appearing in the Austin Statesman—played an important part in the drama of real life which has just resulted in the awarding to the Springer heirs of Texas approximately $290,000.

"Carl Springer, Eastland attorney, read a brief 'story' in a newspaper one morning back in April, 1925, telling of the death of William R. Meredith, Indiana millionaire, and stating that a relative had come to Texas 80 years before. Springer laid the paper aside for further consideration and then, that afternoon, he received a clip."

The clipping was mailed to him by P. Braay, well-known West Texas banker, who at that time was connected with a construction concern in Austin. The Statesman dispatch suggested that anyone interested might get in touch with that newspaper.

"Acting on the suggestion, Springer called the Statesman by long distance telephone and was assured that the affair was not a hoax but that there really was a fortune back in Indiana. The attorney then called his father, A. W. Springer of Aspermont, ranchman and former Indian fighter, and from his father's recollection of early family history, Springer was convinced that they were cousins of Meredith, who had no near kin and had willed his entire estate to his first and second cousins.

"The law firm of Turner, Seabury and Springer, of Eastland, represented the 37 Springer heirs and court proceedings have just resulted in a decision by the Indiana circuit court in favor of these heirs. Three of them—A. W. Springer of Aspermont and his sisters, Mrs. Orlean Moore of Slaton, and Mrs. Barbara Annie Castleberry, will receive $14,000 each, as they were first cousins, while the 34 second cousins will receive $7,000 each. The total awarded to the Springer heirs is approximately $290,000. The remainder of the $1,250,000 will go to 114 cousins, most of whom live in Indiana.

"Carl Springer never saw William Meredith. Carl's father never saw the Indiana millionaire. Nor did Carl's grandfather, Edward Fayette Springer, who left Indiana before his nephew, the future millionaire, was born. Springer landed in Galveston on Jan. 1, 1845, and proceeded with a group of settlers by ox team to McKinney. Albert Sidney Johnston, afterward a Confederate general, was in the party. Springer fought at the battle of Buena Vista in the war with Mexico. He died about 30 years ago."

In addition to Mrs. Barbara Castleberry, of Slaton, who is named as one of the first cousins of the deceased millionaire, and who is to receive $14,000, according to the terms of the will, there are several in Slaton, second cousins of the late Mr. Meredith, who are to receive $7,000 each. They are children of Mrs. Castleberry, as follows: Mrs. B. O. Bailey, Mrs. R. Adkins, J. E. Castleberry and B. B. Castleberry, all of Slaton; also C. C. Castleberry, of Portersville, Calif.; J. T. Castleberry, of Fresno, Calif.; Mrs. Bertie Marr, of Plainview, and Miss Fannie Castleberry, of Amarillo.

T. C. U. Student Tells Interesting Russian Experiences

FORT WORTH.—Miss Eva Greenspun, sophomore in Texas Christian University here, lived in Russia during the worst of the World War days. She tells of living in a cellar for days, without food or drink, in order to keep out of the way of mad soldiers. "Bullets came from all directions,"

Miss Greenspun recalls, with a shudder of horror of it all even after ten years. "The walls of the house above the cellar in which we hid were often pierced by bullets."

"Bribery was our means of salvation, finally. By bribing guards, my mother succeeded in having herself and three children smuggled through the military lines and out of the country. We had to crawl much of the distance, to keep from being discovered."

Miss Greenspun's parents are Russian and came to the United States before she was born. Early in 1914 her mother took her three children and started back to her native land for a visit. Then the World War broke.

"I saw Russia under four governments within twenty-four hours," Miss Greenspun relates. "My mother's joy at seeing Russia again was as nothing compared to our joy at returning to the United States!"

That was seven years ago. Since then Miss Greenspun has graduated from high school and is now studying at T. C. U. for the degree of Bachelor of Business Administration.

It required seven years and two months to produce the millionth Model T Ford motor. The millionth Model T Ford motor was produced in slightly over fifteen months.
