

Rain Prevented McClung Visit; June 7 is Date

On account of rain which began falling about an hour before time to start on the good-will trip to McClung last Friday night, the trip was not made. This was decided to be the best course to pursue, after Chamber of Commerce officials talked by telephone with McClung citizens.

Another date for the McClung trip has been set, which is Friday night, June 7. The trip this week is scheduled for New Hope, on Friday night, leaving here at 7:45 p. m., from the city hall lawn. A big attendance for this trip is urged.

ENVIABLE RECORD SET BY S. H. S. GRADUATES

With the passing of another wonderful event in the history of Slaton, the graduating of our young folk, at the close of the scholastic year 1929, a most enviable record has been set by the young people of this class. They have shown wonderful versatility, application to the duties set for them, and the completion of the course as outlined, and as required, to keep Slaton High School in the fore front. To Mr. Sone, as Superintendent, Mr. Pevehouse, as Principal, and Miss Dean, the Sponsor for this year's class, should great credit be given, for their untiring efforts to stimulate the young folks, in the acquisition of knowledge. It is with regret that we learn some are not to return to us the coming school year. Those new faces that will be with us in the future, we earnestly hope may bring to us new ideas, new standards, that our next class may drink freely at the fount of knowledge, thereby keeping the high class of work done in Slaton High School.

To the Fine Arts Department, is Slaton particularly indebted, to Miss Jeannette Ramsey, Mrs. Lillian Butler, Miss Frances Guffin and Miss Ruby Dan Smith. These instructors are preeminent in their respective endeavors. If the patrons of the school, and as well others, availed themselves of the opportunity to have heard rendered the various programs, the impression must be lasting, and proof conclusive, that we have in our midst, wonderful instructors, that there is in Slaton a latent element that needs development goes without question. The parents of our boys and girls need to awake to the wonderful opportunity that is afforded their children through the instructors of the Fine Arts Department of the High School.

Miss Ivy Cary, teacher in the Slaton schools during the past school term, was visiting friends here Monday and Tuesday.

Who Said Baseball!

Several! Is Slaton going to die of dry rot? Baseball fans, awaken, get on your mits. That Santa Fe bunch is cheery, making claims—the entire town is afraid to meet them on the diamond. Let us have some baseball. Are you on? Say something. Snap out of the slough. The triangle at 7th and Texas Ave., is weeping and calling you. Come on, fans.

Summer School is Now a Certainty

The plans are all laid for the summer schools. The ward school will be conducted at West Ward by Miss Cora Sealy and as per announcement, the high school, at the high school building by Misses Watson and Cone.

These schools are conducted for the convenience of those who failed in any of the subjects last year. It is to be hoped that those needing the work will avail themselves of this opportunity of getting their work straightened out and thus be able to secure their promotions with the proper studies and sufficient credits.

Rebekahs to Meet.

A regular meeting of Slaton Rebekah Lodge will be held in the I. O. O. F. Hall on Ninth Street Friday evening, May 31, at which time officers for the ensuing year will be nominated. It is urged by leaders in the fraternity that all members attend this meeting, if possible.

Jackie Lamar Wins Trip to California

Following a recent campaign, conducted by merchants of Borger, announcement was made that Miss Jackie Lamar, formerly of Slaton, now bookkeeper for the Borger Daily Herald, had won a trip to the west coast, and a tour of California.

Several young women of Borger competed in the campaign, and Miss Lamar was first with 14,321,885 votes.

An item appearing in a recent issue of the Daily Herald is, in part, as follows:

"Miss Jackie Lamar, bookkeeper for the Borger Daily Herald office, can continue to assemble her ensemble a la California.

"For Miss Lamar is leaving for the west coast June 20, after having won a California tour contest conducted in Borger.

"Votes were counted by L. E. Brain, Rev. E. Dubbs, Clarence Cosby, Mrs. W. R. White.

"Nine stores were in the contest which offered votes to Borger women on merchandise bought. The 'lucky' winner received a three weeks trip to California with all expenses paid."

Honoring Mrs. U. L. George, who expects to leave Wednesday for California, Mrs. J. H. Teague and Mrs. W. A. McDonald entertained with a handkerchief shower Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Teague on Tenth Street.

MAN ON WAY TO CHURCH IS KILLED BY TRAIN

WHITEWRIGHT, Texas, May 26.—W. L. White, 55, well-known farmer and gin operator of this place, was killed instantly in a grade crossing accident three miles north of White-wright and a few hundred yards north of his farm home Sunday morning.

He was driving alone in his small coupe and was on his way to Sunday school and church services at Canaan when he drove on the Missouri-Kansas-Texas tracks in the path of the southbound Texas Bluebonnet running four hours late. The trainmen brought the badly mangled body to Whitewright.

Mr. White's daughter, Mrs. Mable Fae Victory, met death in an automobile accident in Dallas last August.

New Hope to be Next Point for Good-Will Visit

The next community to be visited by the Slaton good-will trippers will be New Hope, located slightly north of west of this city, a distance of about eight miles. The visit to New Hope will be made on Friday night of this week, it was announced yesterday by officers of the Slaton Chamber of Commerce.

A good attendance of New Hope people is expected at the meeting, it having been given good publicity by J. N. Townsend, principal of the New Hope school.

Another large delegation to make the trip to New Hope is hoped for, Chamber of Commerce officials said. All business men and their families are especially urged to make their plans to go to the meeting.

Closing Out.

The stock of the Model Dry Goods Co., here will be closed out during an intensive two-weeks "Quit Business Sale," according to J. D. Cunningham, of the Cunningham Sales Service, who was in the Slaton office Monday morning, ordering a considerable amount of printing and advertising. Mr. Cunningham stated the sale will begin at 9:00 o'clock Friday morning.

Married.

O. L. Head, manager of the Farmers Produce here, and Miss Wilma Robinson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Robinson, of Muleshoe, were married Monday evening, May 20, at Lubbock, a justice of the peace performing the ceremony, in the presence of only a few friends of the contracting parties. Mr. and Mrs. Head are now at home in Slaton.

Records Broken.

FORT WORTH, May 27.—A world's record for endurance flying safely tucked away, R. L. Robbins and James Kelly today awoke from a long sleep to be greeted by the plaudits of thousands throughout the world.

They added almost a full day to the sustained flight record when they landed their single-motored plane here yesterday afternoon after 172 hours, 32 minutes and 1 second aloft, and today the barograph from that plane was it way to Washington where it will be examined, photographed and recorded before the fliers gain official recognition.

TUDOR BOY OUTSTANDING IN TRINIDAD GRID CLASH

Melvin Tudor, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Tudor, of Slaton, who is a student in the Trinidad, Colo., high school, is scoring high among his classmates. Showing Melvin's ability on the grid-iron, a Trinidad paper carries the following story:

"The Seniors of Trinidad high school yesterday won the inter-class football championship when they defeated the Sophomores, 13 to 6, in a well played game at the Miner stadium.

"The Seniors possessed too much offensive power when needed, which factor decided the issue.

"The upper classmen scored on in the first half when Jim McCluskey lugged the oval across the Sophomore goal line. They were awarded the extra point when a Sophomore was offside on the lineup for the play.

"Play zig-zagged back and forth during the third period with both teams threatening at times.

The lone Sophomore score came suddenly in the early part of the fourth quarter. Gagliardi snared a pass for a good gain and the Seniors suffered a 15 yard penalty for piling on which took the ball deep into Senior territory. On the first play McCluskey shot a pass to Tudor who had sneaked out to the sidelines, and he managed to drive across the goal line. Try for the extra point failed.

"The seniors, however, came right back, took the kickoff and marched down the field to a touchdown with McCluskey and Pulliam bearing the brunt of the attack. McCluskey scored the touchdown on a neat end run."

Boy Scout Work To be Aided by Campaign Here

A campaign started in Slaton Tuesday morning to raise Slaton's quota for the coming year in supporting the work of the South Plains Area Council, Boy Scouts of America, which includes about fifteen South Plains counties.

Slaton's portion of the Council's budget was set this year at $1,000, according to officials of the Scout Council. This was done after conferences were held with officers of the Slaton Rotary Club. The committees for the campaign work were selected last week, some of them coming from the Rotary Club and some from outside of its membership.

L. A. Wilson was named director of the campaign, and W. E. Olive and J. H. Brewer were selected as team captains. Members of the committees that had volunteered to work included: C. E. Hicks, Tom J. Abel, Jess Swint, C. B. Jordan, T. E. Roderick, C. C. Hoffman, Jr., Fred B. Tudor, and others were expected to get busy during Tuesday and Wednesday.

K. N. Clapp, G. E. Eaton and Rev. L. G. H. Williams, Lubbock Scout workers, were here last week and again this week in the interest of the campaign. Funds derived from the campaign will be used to help retire the debt on the Post Memorial Boy Scout Camp, at Post, and for expense of the organization's work in the counties of the South Plains Area Council, it was announced.

Sledge's Father Dies.

George L. Sledge received a telegram early Tuesday, advising him of the death of his father, J. M. Sledge, aged 93 years. Mr. Sledge died at the old soldiers home at Austin, Monday night. Surviving the deceased are his wife, two sons and one daughter. They are G. L. Sledge, Slaton; J. D. Sledge, Eldorado, and Mrs. Julia Little, of Altus, Okla. The body will be buried at Austin Wednesday, May 29.

Two Texas young women who won in the recent All-Southwestern Piano Tournament, held at Simmons University, are Misses Beryl Hardesty, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Jno. P. Hardesty, of Abilene, and Mary Olive Bennett, of Normangee. Miss Hardesty carried off honors in the technique event, and Miss Bennett won in the romantic contest. The Hardesty family formerly made their home in Slaton, when the Rev. Hardesty was pastor of the First Baptist church here. For several years, Miss Beryl was a piano pupil of Miss Jeannette Ramsey, in the Slaton High School.

HOLLYWOOD SCHOOLGIRL JOINS "WHOOPEE GANG"

Amo Ingram is one of the vivacious beauties, who has a part as one of the "whoopie" sisters in Clara Bow's "The Wild Party," an all-talking Paramount production, which comes to the Lindsey Theatre, Lubbock, for 7 days, beginning Sunday.

Miss Ingram was chosen from among several score of lovely, peppy candidates for the roles of members of Clara's "gang" of classmates in the play. She is a graduate of the Hollywood School for Girls and of Fairfax high school in Los Angeles. A New York girl, Miss Ingram has been in pictures ever since leaving Hollywood School for Girls, a select training school.

Her first screen work was for Sennett and she has played in several Fox comedies. She has had parts in two of Clara Bow's most recent pictures, "Get Your Man" and "The Fleet's In."

WOMAN FILES APPEAL IN BOOTLEGGING CHARGE

AUSTIN, Texas, May 26.—Lorena Pond, a Mitchell County woman, convicted of selling liquor, mainly on the testimony of an informer and sentenced to a year in the penitentiary, filed an appeal Saturday. Harry Williams, convicted in Hill County on a charge of murder in connection with the killing of Bob Bailey, Nov. 18, 1928, and sentenced to twenty years, also appealed.

Freak Chicken.

Jess Garland, Slaton farmer living a mile west of the city, was in town last week exhibiting a very unusual specimen of a chicken. It was a Rhode Island Red baby chick, just hatched out, and the little fellow boasted four legs instead of only two.

Two of the four legs were in the correct position, and were apparently normal. Their use, however, might be interfered with by the location of the other two legs just in front of them. The front legs were fully developed, but it was evident that the chick could not control the use of them.

The little fellow was seemingly full of life and vim, but Mr. Garland said he doubted if the freak could live in competition with his two-legged brothers and sisters—due to the handicap his extra two legs would cause in his attempts at locomotion.

New Hope Recital.

Miss Frances Guffin, violin teacher in the Slaton High School, gave a recital at the New Hope School House Friday night. Each pupil did honor to their teacher as well as to themselves. At the close of the program, Ophelia Walls, President of the 4-H Clubs of which Miss Guffin's class were members, presented Miss Guffin with a five dollar gold piece as a token of the appreciation in which she is held by her class. Miss Guffin will attend the Encampment with the New Hope Clubs and help them put over their musical program.

Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Overby have returned from Kentucky, where they visited with Mr. Overby's mother, and attended the annual Kentucky Derby. They report a very enjoyable trip and visit.

Dr. Miller Was Rotary Speaker At Club Meeting

Having as his subject, "Immunity from the Standpoint of Medical Science," Dr. H. Frank Miller was the principal speaker at the luncheon of the Slaton Rotary Club last Friday. P. G. Stokes and Tom J. Abel, who were also to appear on the program, did not make addresses as scheduled.

Dr. Miller said immunity means that an individual is immune from, or will not contract a disease. It is acquired in two ways, he stated, by artificial means, such as injection of typhoid serum or smallpox vaccine, or by having the disease, thereby developing in the system an immunity against its recurrence.

The speaker pointed out that a small percentage of people possess immunity from certain contagious diseases, without ever having had such disease, and without having been given artificial immunity.

Following his address, K. N. Clapp, Lubbock Boy Scout worker, made a short talk in which he stressed the work now being done by the South Plains Area Council, Boy Scouts of America, and urged Slaton citizens to give the Scout work in this section their loyal support in every way.

At the beginning of the program, a vocal quartet was rendered by Claude F. Anderson, Walter E. Olive, C. Elbert Hicks and Dr. George W. Shanks. In fact, the number was made an octet by the help of others, including C. Lem Sone, Lloyd A. Wilson, and some of the visitors.

Dr. Paul W. Horn, of the Lubbock club, was a visitor at the meeting, and other visitors included: Mayor W. G. Reese, W. P. Moore, R. D. Griffin, of Slaton; Rev. L. G. H. Williams, K. N. Clapp, and G. E. Eaton, of Lubbock; F. A. Heath, a guest of Jim A. Elliott; Mr. Sewell, guest of Ed B. Carroll; and E. Fritz, a guest of Allan J. Payne.

Lindy Weds.

Col. Charles A. Lindbergh, ace of American aviators, and the first man to make a flight across the Atlantic Ocean, and Miss Anne Spencer Morrow, daughter of the U. S. Ambassador to Mexico, were married at the Morrow home in Englewood, N. J., Thursday, only immediate relatives of the families witnessing the ceremony. Plans for Mr. and Mrs. Lindbergh's honeymoon had not been revealed, though newspaper reports indicated he had ordered his plane, which was in a hangar at Roosevelt Field, New York, serviced for a take-off Tuesday.

Birthday Party.

The first anniversary event, conducted last Saturday by the Texas Market, of which Luster Gentry is owner, was a success in every particular. Gentry stated to a Slatonite representative Monday. R. A. Meeks was awarded the large birthday cake, while L. R. Cypert won the first prize of aluminumware. His guess was $934, Gentry said, while the actual amount of ware on display was $903.95. H. A. Ferrell won second, guessing $873.75. Previous to the celebration, Gentry had written letters to several broadcasting stations of the country, announcing the event. During the day and evening Saturday, some of them were heard to make the announcement, the management said, and following the occasion the Texas Market received congratulatory letters from several broadcasting stations.

GAS GENERATOR EXPLODES, BUT ONLY CAT IS KILLED

SAN BENITO, Texas, May 26.—Although there were workmen within three feet of a carbide gas generator which exploded in the shop of Joe G. Balenger, death of a cat was the only casualty. The cat was killed when part of the generator, blown sixty feet into the air, fell on it. The explosion was caused by the carbide hopper becoming loose and precipitating all its contents into the water at once.

The shop was whitewashed by carbide solution and the neighborhood, largely residential, was shocked.

Emerald Charms For the Month of May

By PAULINE

"You may have riches,
I'm content with less.
Fame is not vital
To me, I confess.
You may have them both
I'll take Happiness!"

If you were born in the month of May the emerald is your birthstone, and, according to ancient wisdom, the wearing of this gem should bring you your heart's desire, for it is the emblem of true love and happiness.

The emerald belongs to Venus, which is also the ruling planet of many May people, but because of its pure, deep green color, symbolical of early spring and eternal youth, its vibrations are on a spiritual plane rather than the material one usually associated with this goddess. Not only does it favor love in its most sacred, idealistic form, but at one time it was popularly supposed to turn pale at infidelity, as is shown in the old verse:

"It is a gem which hath the power to show
If plighted lovers keep their troth or no;
If faithful, it is like the leaves of spring,
If faithless, like those leaves when withering."

Besides its sensitiveness in this respect, the emerald was also credited with the power to foretell events, being greatly cherished by all the early Magi for this purpose. In fact, it was claimed that they could do nothing with their magic if an emerald, with its acute sympathy with the occult, were in the hands of the opposing side. Hence, it became known as the "Gem of Intuition," and as late as the seventeenth century an emerald device was in fashion having much the same properties as the modern ouija board.

This consisted of an emerald ring which was held suspended over a water-filled bowl, the edges of which were marked by letters of the alphabet. As the string swayed back and forth in the hands of the operator, the emerald bit various letters, thus spelling out the answers to questions. Such a bowl, easily constructed at home, would make an interesting novelty for a May birthday party, featuring in the color scheme of the table decorations and favors, the emerald birthstone.

Prized by all ages, the emerald, which is the most distinguished member of the beryl family, has always been extremely rare, and incidentally, a flawless emerald is considered a phenomenon, since the stone is soft when it is taken from the earth and hardens only by exposure to the air. Perhaps it is just as well for this day's emerald addicts that for centuries several emerald mines known to the ancients, including the famous mines of Cleopatra, were lost, for the demand for this gem in recent years has been such as to tax these re-discovered sources of supply to the utmost. Emeralds still come from Egypt and the once-lost Indian mines of Bogota, but the Ural Mountains of Russia have lately become the chief resource of jewelers.

NEW SALES HEAD OF CHEVROLET CO. NAMED

DETROIT.—A new figure rose to prominence on the automobile horizon a few weeks ago with the appointment of H. J. Klingler as Vice President and General Sales Manager of the Chevrolet Motor Company. Mr. Klingler takes charge of a selling force of more than 35,000 people and becomes the leader of an organization geared up to sell more than one million automobiles annually.

In his new position, Mr. Klingler, at 40, takes over the work formerly directed by R. H. Grant, now a Vice President of General Motors.

Mr. Klingler was born July 5, 1889, at St. Clair, Mich., where he lived until finishing at the St. Clair high school in 1908. That fall he entered the University of Michigan becoming a member of the Lit-Law class of 1912.

He left the University before taking his degree to become associated with the Chalmers Motor Company, where he remained for a short time. His first introduction to sales work was in the summer of 1912 when he went with the Murphy Chair Company in Detroit. During his five years with this organization, the new Chevrolet sales chief had a hand in the company's advertising work, served as traffic manager and later as sales manager.

At the outbreak of the war he volunteered and was sent to the officers' training camp at Fort Sheridan, Ill., where he was commissioned a First Lieutenant of Infantry. He was transferred later to the Fourth Anti-Aircraft Machine Gun Battalion with which he saw a year's service overseas.

After he was mustered out of service early in 1919, opportunity beckoned in Dayton and he went to the Ohio city and joined the sales organization of the Delco-Light Company. In his five years with this company he gained a broad knowledge of sales and advertising in varied capacities and in many sections of the country. This was his first contact with R. H. Grant with whom he was later to become closely associated.

Mr. Grant came to Chevrolet early in 1924 and recognizing Mr. Klingler's success in Delco-Light, urged him to join Chevrolet. The new Chevrolet sales chief then resigned his post as branch manager for Delco-Light at Sioux Falls, S. D., and went to St. Louis, as zone sales manager for Chevrolet.

A year later he was called to the central office of the company in Detroit and in 1926 was made an assistant general sales manager.

Public acceptance of the Chevrolet car had been increasing by leaps and bounds and it became necessary for Mr. Grant as director of the far-flung selling organization to extend and expand his sales force to cope with the growing demand for the product. In the working out of his plan of perfecting the organization that was soon to sell more than one million cars annually, Mr. Grant found it advisable to share more of the responsibility with Mr. Klingler. As a result in May, 1927, Mr. Grant became general sales manager.

For the last two years, Mr. Klingler has been closely associated with Mr. Grant in the designing and carrying out of plans that brought to Chevrolet such a spectacular measure of success. He has seen Chevrolet sales double in volume since he joined the organization and has seen the personnel of the organization double in size.

Mr. Klingler, an outstanding successful man, has no patent formulas for success and knows of no short cuts to independence. He dispatches the question with the admonition that work—and plenty of it, is the best guaranty.

HE SPRAYS HENS. THE NEW FARM PLAN. HEADS AND FISTS. FIRST AID FOR HOOVER.

Thousands that would not read an Einstein pamphlet will read this.

Walter Dorsey, colored, of Atlanta, Ga., confessing to chicken stealing on a wholesale basis tells the judge, "I just sprays 'em with chloroform. Then stand back and wait. In about five minutes they flop off the roost and are ready for my sack."

That's more interesting to many of us than the distance of the farthest star.

The "William and Mary" plan to subsidize exports of farm products is rejected by Mr. Hoover. The Senate plans, nevertheless, to try it.

The plan is to give farmers exporting wheat, etc., a bonus of one-half the American tariff on all the wheat or other farm products exported.

After consulting the Departments of Agriculture, Commerce and Treasury, Mr. Hoover says the plan would enrich the speculators and reduce world prices, since foreign markets would have to meet the competition of subsidized products.

Also, says the President, the plan would cost the country $200,000,000 a year, cause much bankruptcy and it would not solve the farm problem.

Farmers will cease moaning when they realize that the bonus money would be paid not direct to them but to merchants exporting products.

It means "no ghost come from the grave" to tell farmers how little they would get of that bonus. Wheat gamblers and the middle-men would get it. The farmer in his taxes would have to pay part of it.

Mr. Tunney, world heavyweight champion, retired, has been visiting George Bernard Shaw on a small sunny island in the Adriatic Sea.

Tunney is barely thirty. Shaw is seventy-three. And Shaw, who has NOT retired, has no idea of retiring. The head lasts longer than the fists.

Eight hundred delegates to the Red Cross Convention called upon President and Mrs. Hoover, and contributed first "First Aid" by refraining from the usual hand-shaking nonsense.

Why eight hundred intelligent human beings should want to squeeze the joints of the hand and tug at the muscles in the arm of a busy man is not easily understood.

Handshaking should be abolished, Second Sheets at this office. Cheap.

THOUGHTS ON MOSSBACKS.

Before beginning a dissertation on the fads and follies of my fellow beings, let me state that I am a firm believer in discipline. Many animals, fowls and insects recognize the need of leaders; and I assume that presupposes the need of discipline.

Anyway, if I speak of revolts, I will not mean revolutions against established government, or law and order. If I start a revolt it will be in the realms of thought, and against established falacies and dogmatic principles. Such, for instance, as following the crooked path of the gambling calf because father followed that path. Honoring those who have gone before is noble and important. But following in their footsteps, in an age of changing conditions, is a different matter.

We are living today in an age of graft, when the weak are being fleeced by the strong. The few stronger combine their forces and control and fleece the rest like a flock of sheep. The weak are mostly weak from following the path of least resistance and letting a part of our mind lie dormant. And a sleeping flock is an easy mark for the fleecer.

If just you and I slept, and had to meet the consequences, it would make little difference. But when a majority of us sleep, and let the whole in for the consequences, then the whole is responsible, each to the other, as long as the conditions remain unchanged. With fewer facts to add this time, I'm ending with some nonsense rhyme, to "My Honey Girl":

A precious pearl, my honey girl,
Of such divine completeness
That one who sips those nectar lips
Eschews all milder sweetness.
Most superfine, that girl of mine,
Of most divine proportions
Once you embrace that supergrace
You shun more mild contortions.

ROTARIANS FROM 48 NATIONS MEET IN DALLAS PARK

DALLAS, Texas, May 25.—The people of Texas opened wide their arms today to extend a traditional Southern welcome to the Rotarians representing 48 nations, arriving for their twentieth annual international convention. In its beautiful early summer dress of green, the Texas State Fair park beckoned to the thousands of visitors who will hold their meetings and most of their entertainment affairs in the park buildings. Special trains, automobiles and airplanes are beginning to unload their delegations, some of which have been enroute for weeks, and the international house-warming for which the Texas Rotarians have been planning for months is ready.

One of the outstanding features of this convention is the division of the thousands of visiting business and professional men into separate groups according to their several vocations, so that the aims and objects of Rotary as applicable to their own particular craft may be freely discussed by Rotarians from many different parts of the world. There will be more than a hundred of these miniature international craft conventions on Tuesday afternoon of Convention Week.

The international fellowship which is one of the great objects of Rotarians will find in the Texas State Fair Park and in the warmth of the welcome of Dallas an especially beneficent atmosphere. The House of Friendship, a distinctive institution of Rotary conventions, has for its setting this year a huge exhibition building filled with cozy little Spanish bungalows in which each of the 72 districts into which Rotary clubs are grouped, will have its personal headquarters for leisure moments. The young ladies of Dallas are to have a prominent part on the program. Five hundred of them, in groups of nine, costumed in the native dress of each of the countries in which there are Rotary clubs, will escort the colors of those countries into the stadium to surround a mammoth Rotary wheel in Monday evening's pageant. In the chief social affair for the visiting ladies, hundreds of girls will scatter flowers in the path of their guests as they enter the grounds of the beautiful Dallas Country Club for "An Afternoon in the Old South." And as hostesses at the grand ball in honor of President and Mrs. I. B. Sutton, of Tampico, Mexico, and the other officers of Rotary International and their ladies, on Wednesday evening, the Dallas girls will have an important part in that brilliant fete.

Several of the delegations brought along Boys Bands to add to the musical entertainment and jollity of the convention. The plans of a large number of American Rotarians to tour Mexico and Cuba after the Convention, and the proximity of Dallas to the Central and South American countries attracted an unusual number of visitors from that part of the world. Japan sent a numerous delegation, and special trains came from all parts of the United States.

Formal sessions will start on Tuesday, when President Sutton will deliver the annual message of the president. His years of travel for Rotary have given him a graphic picture of "Rotary Around the World" and its future problems and possibilities. These will form the theme of his address.

MEMORIAL DAY.

Thursday, May 30, we will unite in paying tribute to the memory of America's heroic dead, those who paid the supreme sacrifice for the maintenance of those American institutions so dear to every loyal heart.

Memorial day has become a well established institution in this country. Year after year we observe it by certain established formalities. But it should be something more than a mere ritualistic observance. Rather it should be a time of profound thought and serious dedication to the cause which claimed the lives of the war heroes whom we honor.

Memorial day should be a time when we give thought to the wounded victims of the world war who are spending their rapidly declining years in the government's care. We should throw the weight of our opinion to the cause of giving them adequate hospitalization and full compensation.

Memorial day should also be a time when we think upon the devastating horror of modern warfare, and when we throw what influence we may have to the cause of peace without the sacrifice of national honor.

Memorial day should also be a time when we consider those essentials of true patriotism and good citizenship—when we recognize the duties we owe to the state that protects and maintains our society, to the need of informed public opinion on local and national affairs, and the necessity of patriotism without profit.

When these ideas come to our thoughts on this day, then we will best be honoring the memory of the heroes who laid down their lives for the happiness and welfare of our whole people.

A CORRESPONDENT.

WOMEN ARE BEST AVIATORS.

The woman who faints at the sight of a mouse, or jumps off her feet when an auto horn bugles behind her, can take courage. An official of an aero club in England has announced that women aviators are more fearless than men.

An exhaustive study was made by experts along this line, according to an announcement, and they have come to the conclusion that the feminine reaction to fear is less pronounced than the masculine.

Scientists declare that women who have submitted themselves to blood-pressure and other tests before and after participating in unnerving stunts have been found practically unaffected by the ordeal. They add that all but the most hardened men pilots show very definite reactions under similar circumstances.

Far-seeing men in several European countries have not been slow to observe this unaccountable superiority of women in the face of aerial dangers. They have not waited for science to come forward and demonstrate the fact, but have made use of feminine indifference to danger in the air to organize flying schools for women, and, in Russia, flying units said to be available for national defense.

The old fashioned mother who used to drive a slow and gentle horse, now has a daughter who flashes down the road at a sixty mile an hour clip.

Three brothers were jailed the other day in a nearby state. They probably have family rates for padlocks.

Years of service in MODEL T FORDS

THE Model T was so strongly and sturdily built that it is still rendering reliable, economical service to motorists in every section of the country. Millions of these cars can be put in shape for two, three and five more years of use at very small cost.

So that you may have this work done economically and satisfactorily, the Ford Motor Company is still developing a considerable section of its plants to the manufacture of Model T parts. It will continue to do so as long as they are needed by Model T owners. The following list gives the approximate labor charges for reconditioning the Model T Ford:—

Engine
Tune motor (including replacement of commutator case, brush and vibrator points if necessary)	$1.00
Grind valves and clean carbon	$3.75 to 4.00
Overhaul carburetor	1.50
Re-line detachable car transmission bands	1.50
Install new pistons or connecting rods	6.00
Tighten all main bearings	6.00
Overhaul motor and transmission	$20.00 to 25.00
Rear System
Replace rear axle assembly	2.50
Install universal joint	3.00
Re-line brake shoes	1.50
Replace rear axle shaft, drive shaft pinion, or drive gear	5.00
Overhaul complete rear axle assembly	$5.75 to 7.00
Rebush spring and perches	1.75
Oil and graphite springs	3.00
Front System
Overhaul front axle	$4.00 to 5.00
Rebush spindle bodies and arms (both sides)	2.50
Replace or straighten spindle connecting rod	.75
Tighten radius rod or steering ball cap	.60
Tighten all sockets and joints of front end	1.50
Replace front spring tie bolt or new leaf	2.50
Straighten front axle	3.00
Chassis
Replace rear fender	1.75
Overhaul steering gear	3.50
Repair muffler	1.00
Overhaul radiator	7.50
Repaint Coupe	25.00
Repaint Sedan	25.00
Repaint Touring Car	20.00
Reupholster Runabout	8.00
Reupholster Touring Car	15.00
Replace top deck (Coupe or Sedan)	4.00
Overhaul starting motor	3.00
Overhaul generator	2.60

These prices are approximate and are for labor only, because the need and number of new parts depend on the condition of each car. The charge for these parts is low, however, because of the established Ford policy of manufacturing and selling at a small margin of profit.

How to Raise Poultry

By Dr. L. D. LeGear, V. S.
St. Louis, Mo.

Dr. LeGear is a graduate of the Ontario Veterinary College, 1892. Thirty-six years of veterinary practice on diseases of live stock and poultry. Eminent authority on poultry and stock raising. Nationally known poultry breeder. Noted author and lecturer.

ARTICLE XI BLOOD WILL TELL.

There is no Best Breed of Chickens—Select Your Breed According to What You Want to Accomplish. Keep the Strain Pure and Breed Carefully to Strengthen the Natural Tendencies of Your Choice.

Editor's Note—This is another story in a series of 52 stories on poultry raising written by the well known national poultry authority, Dr. L. D. LeGear, V. S., of St. Louis. The entire series will appear in this paper. Our readers are urged to read them carefully and clip them out for future reference.

In the first place, let me make this emphatic statement: There is no best breed or variety of chicken. In due respect to all, I make this statement. If you have a certain breed or variety, do not think they are the best because they are not. There are good strains in all breeds and in all varieties of chickens. Choose the breed or variety that suits your fancy, and devote your energies to making them profitable. It is the strain or blood lines that really counts. Just because a chicken is a Plymouth Rock, a Leghorn, an Orpington or a Rhode Island Red is not what makes it a world beater. It is the breeding up of any flock to higher egg production that makes record producers. By trap nesting any breed or flock of hens, and using for breeders only those that are high producers, good size and chuck full of vigor, and are reasonably close to the standard requirements, you can in a few years build up a strain with blood lines behind them that makes them far superior to the ordinary flock of the same breed or variety with which such careful methods have not been used. In this way, or by line breeding, all strains of chickens originate.

"What breed shall I select?" is the question some one is always sure to ask whenever I make the foregoing statement. To that, I make the foregoing statement. To that, I can only make the classic reply, "It all depends." Then I counter with the question, "What do you want to accomplish?" There are three general classes, the meat class, the egg class and the general purpose class. The purpose of the first two named is perfectly plain and that of the third is almost equally so.

General purpose fowls are very often little inferior as layers to the so-called "egg-class" and will often compare favorably with "meat class" fowls for table use. They make excellent broilers, fryers, roasters and capons and the old hens, if fat, will usually bring good prices. Perhaps the most popular general purpose breed is the Plymouth Rocks which may be had in several varieties. The Barred Plymouth Rocks are the most popular farm flock chicken in the corn belt sections of the Middle West, as well as in many other sections. They outlayed all other breeds and varieties of chickens in all the egg laying contests in the United States in 1927. Second only to the Plymouth Rocks, if even to them, are Rhode Island Reds. Wyandottes are still highly esteemed by many fanciers and justly so. Orpingtons, of which there are several varieties, are a very popular English breed. The eggs of this class are brown and usually of good size.

The egg-class is a particularly important one for commercial poultry raisers. The various egg-breeds are usually small in size and do not get broody often, so they can seldom be used for hatching or mothering chicks. As the name of this class indicates, however, they are specialists in the art of laying eggs. In addition to that, their eggs are white in color. This feature is desired in some markets and such eggs frequently bring higher prices than brown eggs.

Exceedingly popular among the egg-class breeds are the Leghorn, of which there are several varieties, the White Leghorn being the most popular. Having been bred almost exclusively for egg production, the Leghorn lives up to its nick-name, "The Egg Machine." Consequently, if egg production is the major requirement, you cannot well afford to overlook the Leghorns. Other desirable egg-class breeds are Minorcas, Anconas, and others of the so-called Mediterranean breeds.

While the meat-class is not so extensively raised as the others described, they are very desirable for many reasons. Although not such star performers as Leghorns or good general purpose breeds, they are usually fair layers and bring top prices for table use. The capons from these breeds are particularly fine. Some of the better known breeds in this class are Brahmas, Cochins and Langshans.

Now is must be understood that these classifications are not matters of hard and fast differentiation. Some egg-class fowls are excellent for table use and some meat-class fowls are good layers. Conversely, some general purpose breeds are as good layers as some egg-type breeds and as good for the table as some meat-types. Nevertheless, these classifications are fairly accurate guides and will help considerably in selecting the breed best suited to your own requirements. Choose thoroughbred chickens that have been specifically developed for some definite purpose. That way lies the best chance for success and satisfaction.

Finally, let me emphasize, one breed or one variety of chickens is enough on one farm, and never cross breeds of chickens. If you wish to keep more than one breed or variety, keep them absolutely separate. Never let them run together, especially at breeding time. Cross bred or mongrel chickens do not pay. Nothing is worse than a conglomerated dukes mixture of all breeds, all varieties and all colors of chickens in one flock. They do not grow as fast or as large, nor lay as well as pure bred chickens.

GREATEST SOIL LOSS.

Few persons probably realize that the annual loss in this country each year reaches the two billion dollar mark, due to the washing away of good soil by the rivers and streams, but a soil expert has announced this astounding fact.

This soil expert says that wherever you see a muddy stream, you are witnessing a part of this vast loss. Washing away of soil robs the land owner of not only the soil itself, but of twenty times as much plant food each year, which could otherwise be used in growing crops.

Why do we permit the loss? The answer is that the American farmer whose ancestors settled on rich virgin lands has not yet been brought to realize that the reservoir of his wealth is being drained. Some of them, the more farseeing, appreciate the significance of the muddy stream. The government agricultural services have made some attempt to rouse the agricultural interests and the people as a whole to a realization of the situation. But, so far, what has been done is infinitesimal when compared with what remains to be done.

The loss probably can never be stopped entirely, but it can be reduced to a minimum by educational campaigns which will induce land owners to terrace their fields where erosion is rapid, to reforest their lands and to plant protective crops of alfalfa and other growths which will also aid the soil to recoup its losses to nature.

Europe learned the lesson after the Roman Empire was reduced to sterility. There are few muddy streams on that continent today. America has that example to go by, if it will only apply the lesson in time.

"YOUNGER GENERATION" TOUCHING DRAMA OF REAL HEART INTEREST

Against shifting backgrounds of New York's colorful East Side and the luxurious surroundings of Riverside Drive Columbia's "Younger Generation" which will be shown at the Palace Theatre Lubbock, on Sunday, presents a drama of touching heart interest.

Pathos is relieved by deft touches of humor that hide tears with smiles. Love ready to sacrifice itself for another is revealed in tense situations. A fire in a tenement house, a bold daylight robbery on Fifth Avenue and gay social functions are among the highlights.

"The Younger Generation" is an adaptation of the stage play "It Is to Laugh," and the story "The Gold in the Fish," by Fannie Hurst. It has been pronounced her best work. As a play it made a tremendous hit. As a story it thrilled millions of readers. As a photodrama it is the sensation of the year.

Jean Hersholt has the stellar role and gives one of the best performances of his long and varied career. He is supported by an all star cast, one of the best ever assembled for a single production. The list includes the names of Lina Basquette, Rosa Rosanova, Ricard Cortez, Rex Lease, Martha Franklin, Julianne Johnston, Jack Raymond, Sydney Crossley, Otto Fries, Julia Swayne Gordon and Donald Hall.

The production was made under the direction of Frank Capra, with Teddy Tetzlaff at the camera.

WILLYS-OVERLAND IN SECOND POSITION IN REGISTRATION GAINS

TOLEDO, O.—New car registrations of the ten leading makes in all states, for the first three months this year, and in 14 states for April, place the Willys-Overland company in second position in the automobile industry in point of increase over the same period of last year.

Analysis of the Whippet and Willys-Knight increase over last year, as compared with the gains of other manufacturers, places the Willys-Knight registration gains in second place with an increase of 49.7 percent, while the Whippet gain is 33.1 percent. This places the increases of Willys-Knight registrations above the increase of the industry as a whole. Of the ten car manufacturers listed, six showed a loss in comparison with last year's registrations, while four made gains.

From Willys-Knights increase in the current year, it is evident the Toledo manufacturer is getting a considerably greater share of the six cylinder business in the Willys-Knight price bracket than last year, with an apparent influence toward increased profit possibilities during the second quarter.

LOOK NOW FOR INFERTILE EGG MARKETS

COLLEGE STATION.—It is wise for poultry raisers to begin now to look for markets that will pay a premium for infertile eggs, for with the coming of warm weather next month farm eggs will likely be discriminated against in price because of the wide prevalence of fertile eggs. Producers who follow the good management method of selling off most of the roosters now and penning the remainder will be well repaid, provided they make arrangements to dispose of fresh infertile eggs for extra prices.

In suggesting such a course of action, E. N. Holmgreen, Poultry Specialist in the Extension Service of A. and M. College, calls attention to the great increase in recent years of co-operative selling of fresh, infertile eggs in Texas. Last year alone groups of farmers and farm women in more than 100 counties sold eggs for premiums ranging from two cents to seven cents per dozen. In most cases local merchants handled these quality eggs on a small margin or bought them outright for re-sale.

"Summer poultry success," says Mr. Holmgreen, "depends on keeping up production and getting premiums on infertile eggs. With the coming of warm weather broodiness increases and production falls off unless something is done about it. Put the broody hens into coops in order to break up broodiness and maintain high production so necessary to profits."

TEACHERS' COLLEGE HAS NEW FOOTBALL COACH

CANYON.—Claude Reeds, first assistant coach of the University of Oklahoma, has been elected football coach at the West Texas State Teachers College, and has accepted the position, according to announcement by President J. A. Hill.

His athletic experience includes membership on the Oklahoma University football team where he played fullback in stellar style. He was chosen as a member of the All Southwestern football squad as fullback. His coaching experience includes one year at the Teachers College at Weatherford, Oklahoma, a year as assistant coach at the Colorado Agricultural College at Fort Collins, and the five years just ending in association with Bennie Owen.

Reeds has been in Canyon, has looked over the situation and will return in a few days for a short spring practice season. He begins his duties August 1.
