President Hopes U. S. Can Stay Out Of Conflict

In a Government report received this week the following gives some very concise and interesting information concerning the United States and Defense:

President Roosevelt told his press conference he still hopes the U. S. can stay out of the world conflict. His statement was made in answer to a reporter's question if changing international situations had caused the President to alter his belief, stated in 1939, that the U. S. could and would stay out of the war.

Navy Secretary Knox told his press conference reports that Navy vessels were engaged in convoy duty were "absolutely untrue," and said reports that the Navy had lost lives, material and equipment or had been involved in any encounter with belligerent craft, were "most decidedly" not true.

OPM Director Knudsen issued a statement urging greater defense efforts and said "nothing could be further from the truth" than that Russia's entry into the war had averted danger to this country. Mr. Knudsen said, "We are in somewhat better shape than we were last Summer but we need the spark of enthusiasm—yes, of patriotism—to carry the program forward faster."

Aid to Russia, France, China. Acting Secretary of State Welles announced Russian requests to buy strategic materials had been received and brought to the attention of the proper Government officials. Mr. Welles also said the U. S. has under consideration a plan to relax restrictions on Russian commerce to permit the flow of war materials to that country. He also announced U. S. and North African officials have arranged a plan calling for continuous movement of two ships carrying tea, sugar and other food to Africa, and two carrying strategic materials to the U. S.

President Roosevelt suspended duties on British Burma vessels reaching the U. S., to aid the flow of supplies to China over the Burma Road. Treasury Secretary Morgenthau extended China's $50,000,000 credit here for another year. Assistant Commerce Secretary Hinkle asked commercial airlines for 12 transport planes to meet "emergency defense requirements of the democracies."

Army. In his bi-annual report to the Secretary of War, Army Chief of Staff Marshall urged that Congress pass legislation permitting use of armed forces outside the Western Hemisphere and permitting holding selectees, National Guardsmen and Reserve Officers in the service for more than one year. Gen. Marshall said that conditions have changed to such an extent that a "grave national emergency" exists of a more severe character than the public realizes.

The War Department announced it will promote its officers on the basis of merit instead of seniority and permit re-enlistment for Regular Army men only if they are qualified for promotion in order to weed out those not able to take advantage of further training.

Air. The War Department awarded contracts totaling more than $478,000,000 for planes, engines and parts. The OPM announced its aircraft specialist, Merrill Meigs, will go to England to confer on production methods.

Gen. Arnold, Chief of the Army Air Forces, lowered requirements for pilots of heavy bombers so that fliers with 750 hours military air experience could man the ships to be built at a rate of 500 a month. The Air Forces also announced experimentation with glider train-

The sales of Defense Bonds and Savings Stamps through the Post Office and the Bank here in Slaton has been very satisfactory for June, according to those in charge of Bond sales here. Especially encouraging is the sale record for June, for the sales through our Post Office here were greater than those through the Post Office in Lubbock during the first half of June, and will probably equal or exceed the sale in Post Offices many times the size of Slaton.

"While we got off to a slow start on the sale of Bonds and Stamps," said Postmaster Scudder, "we have been making an unusually good showing for the last few weeks."

The sale of Bonds and Stamps for May and June are as follows: Bonds sold through Post Office $13,885.80 Bonds sold through Bank 4,200.00

Total $18,085.80

From all indications the sales of Bonds through both outlets here in Slaton will continue to be most gratifying and the officials in charge of the Lubbock County area are very much pleased with Bond sales here in Slaton.

"We hope the good work will continue," said Mr. Scudder, "we will be glad to give full details concerning the purchase of both bonds and stamps at any time."

C of C Makes Plans For Fall Laborers

At the regular meeting of the Board of City Development and Chamber of Commerce last Tuesday night the inauguration of the Campaign to improve the appearance of the business property in Slaton was discussed and plans laid to follow up the work started in the last meeting along this line.

The necessity of securing camp grounds, amusements and other accommodations for transient laborers, negro and Mexican, was discussed and a committee of Ed Haddock, Fred Schmidt, Horace Sanders was appointed to arrange to care for the influx of laborers. As a bumper crop is in prospect, a large number of laborers are expected and unless proper plans are made, the facilities for caring for them will be taxed.

Southland Church Anniversary Sunday

The First Baptist church of Southland is observing its Twenty-fifth anniversary Sunday, July 13. Former pastors will be speakers for the day. Mr. Hubert Taylor will lead the song service, with Mrs. Aubrey McNeeley at the piano.

All former members are urged to attend. A basket lunch will be served at the noon hour. Rev. Hubert Foust is the present pastor.

It is estimated that if terracing needed on farms in the United States were done it would call for moving as much earth as in the digging of 40 Panama Canals.

Selective Service

More than 750,000 men who reached 21 since Selective Service registration last October registered for service this week throughout the nation. President Roosevelt ordered 900,000 men inducted into the Army as selectees now in service finish their year of training.

Pending final action by Congress on legislation deferring men who were 28 in July 1 or before, Selective Service Director Hershey ordered temporary deferment of this age group. He also advised local boards to defer registrants with one or more dependents to whose support they make "any substantial contribution." The only exception to this, he said, would be men who married in the hope of evading service.

Empire of Reds, and Leader in Nazi Drive

A graphic illustration of the vastness of Russia is presented by this map of the Soviet Union with an outline of the U. S. superimposed on it. Russia comprises over 8,000,000 square miles; the U. S. only 3,026,789. Initialed areas identify various republics included in the Soviet Union. Inset: General Von Blaskowitz, Nazi hero of Polish campaign, who leads in Hitler's drive on Stalin's armies.

Austin Appointed On School Board

At the Slaton Independent School District Board meeting last Monday night, Charlie Austin, who operates a farm about three miles southeast of Slaton, was appointed as a new member of the board to fill the vacancy left by R. D. Shelton, who was transferred to San Angelo recently by the Santa Fe Railway System.

Mr. Austin, who at one time was a member of the board, will serve the remainder of the term to which Mr. Shelton was elected only a few months ago.

"Plans for construction of a new West Ward School building are being considered by the Board."

STAR ROUTE THROUGH SLATON TO SNYDER TO BE INAUGURATED

Postmaster Scudder was informed last week, through the Post Office Department, in Washington, that a Star Route between Lubbock and Snyder would be inaugurated July 14th and that Slaton and Post would receive one more delivery of mail from each direction than they have received in the past.

The need of the route was called to the attention of the Post Office Department through a petition circulated through the efforts of the Slaton Chamber of Commerce several months ago.

The schedule of the route is as follows:

Leaves Lubbock by bus at 8:00 a. m., arrives Slaton 8:25 and at Snyder at 10:00 a. m.

The north bound bus leaves Snyder at 6:35 p. m., arrives in Slaton at 8:05, and in Lubbock at 8:30 p. m., and will make connection with the Star Route out of Lubbock, leaving at 9:00 for Amarillo and points north. This will give Slaton and Post much better mail connection to all points in that direction. Any mail placed in the Post Office here between noon and 7:30 p. m. will leave Slaton at 8:05 p. m. The schedule now in effect causes mail to be held over many hours and would make very poor connection in Lubbock.

The new Star Route will give both Slaton and Post the best mail service that they have ever enjoyed and will enable the Postal employees here to distribute their work to better advantage of the public.

"We are very much pleased with the success of our petition," said Mr. Norman, Secretary to the Slaton Chamber of Commerce, "for we feel that the petition did call the attention of the Post Office Officials to the need of the route. The co-operation of the Postal Officials is greatly appreciated."

Brewer Talks To Rotary Club

J. H. Brewer, member of the Lubbock County Draft Board made a talk yesterday at the Rotary Club on "Selective Service and Classification". A question box was held after the talk and Mr. Brewer gave his interpretation of his views of the questions.

Mr. Brewer has given much time and thought to this branch of the Government work. The Draft Boards receive no remuneration for their work.

Air Conditioning Very Popular

Mr. G. B. Alford, who takes a pride in operating one of the best arranged and neatest appearing Grocery Stores in the town, has just installed an air cooling system in his store that is going over big with his shoppers. "They all seem to enjoy the cool comfort of shopping here, and I have become quite a ladies man since my air conditioner has been operating," said Mr. Alford.

Mr. Alford, who was a mechanic for the Oil Mill here for a number of years, built and installed his air cooling system and it is regulated to keep the store at the most desirable temperature. "We are very proud of our store for a good many reasons," he said "and the public will find our mountain air temperature most invigorating."

Slatonite's Mother Death Victim Monday

Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Layne were called to Moran Monday night by the death of Mrs. Layne's mother, Mrs. J. C. Smith.

Mrs. Smith became ill Saturday, and Mr. and Mrs. Layne visited her Sunday. They left for Slaton Monday night and two hours after they had departed, Mrs. Smith died suddenly of heart attack.

Funeral services were conducted Tuesday afternoon at 4 o'clock in Albany. Four children survive.

RODEO ACCOUNTS BEING PAID

Mr. Jack Norman, Secretary to the South Plains Round Up Association, reports that the accounts for the Rodeo held on June 27 and 28 are being closed and that anyone who has an account against the Association should present all bills to him at the Chamber of Commerce office as soon as possible.

"We will have a few dollars left after all bills have been paid," said Mr. Norman.

Texas business, steadily gaining, will hit the highest peak in its history during the next year, University of Texas business experts declare.

Slaton Ball Team Issues Challenge

Ray Molina, Secretary of the Slaton Mexican Ball club, reports that the club is fully equipped and armed with heavy artillery and dressed up in uniforms, thanks to many kind-hearted Slaton citizens and ready to meet all comers in mortal combat for the championship of the world, the South Plains or Lubbock County.

"It is only with the kind help of many Slaton business firms and individuals that we were able to organize and get the club into action," said Pedro Romine, manager of the team. From them we received $20.00 and have spent $85.52 in equipping the team. Several games have been played. Those who wish to match games with the Slaton Mexican team may get in touch with the Manager. Firms and individuals who contributed to the support of the team were:

Lunch Room Canning Progressing Quickly

Three hundred and two quarts of beans have been canned for use in the W. P. A. lunch rooms of the Slaton schools this year. The beans are from the first planting in the garden plot, and picking of the second planting of vegetables is to begin this week.

Goal of those in charge of the garden and cafeterias is 35 quarts of canned goods for each child who is to eat in the lunch rooms during the coming year. Parents who know their child or children will eat at the lunch rooms are asked to aid in securing 35 empty jars or cans for their child.

The fall garden is to be planned next week in order to supply the cafeterias with fresh vegetables until frost.

Otis Cannon of Amarillo was a week end visitor in Slaton.

THE TIME HAS COME FOR US TO FULFIL OUR DREAMS AND GROW TO MANHOOD --

There are very few people who will not admit that there are times when people as individuals, and as members of a community, have much to gain and little to lose.

Such a time seems to be upon us now. Prices on all supplies, regardless of Government attempt at control, are going up daily. Business shows a steady increase and the merchants in the smaller towns are fast getting on the same footing as the chain store operators and big volume merchant, for the manufacturer can sell all he can make at a profit. The small merchant can now buy at practically the same price that a large operator can. With a little intestinal fortitude the small town merchant can stock up now and offer prices that will bring back to him much of the trade that has gone to the larger centers.

Money is flowing freely, jobs are plentiful and the town or individual that steps out now will have the advantage.

What will happen in the future is past our control. We must take it for granted that The United States will come out on the victorious side of the war.

The longer the war continues, the higher will go prices on certain commodities used in warfare. Once peace comes, the demand for materials to rebuild the world will be on. High prices, fast action and quick turn over is the spirit of the day. Now is the time for Slaton and Slaton merchants to get set to take part in a fast changing situation. We can step forward as a town if we go out after the business that is growing in leaps and bounds.

The longer we wait the harder it will be to remodel our homes, business buildings and repair and repaint, and the longer the merchant waits to stock up, the higher the prices will be. We have much to gain and very little chance of losing, for all the nations of the world are in the game of war and those that lose everything and those that win will have the responsibility of the future of the world on their shoulders. We of Slaton have, with all other towns and communities, much to gain and little to lose, by stepping out and doing things to get business and make Slaton a better town to ship in and to live in.

JUST TALK

A.M.J.

The bleary eye and crimson beak are becoming a familiar sight as the hay fever addicts sneeze their way down the streets.

Dr. Howard has an unusually loud sneeze and wicked eye when his fever is at the boiling point. Jack Norman shakes the whole building when he blasts away and mine explodes like a firecracker. It is a list of fun to give a fellow fever sufferer a good remedy, like sitting in a hot corner where the wind don't blow or wearing dark glasses. It is like collecting stamps. I tried drinking buttermilk every three hours for nearly two weeks. My fever got worse, my milk bill went up and my digestion went haywire. Never have liked buttermilk since. I have squirted sulphuric acid in my eyes, rubbed my nose with salve that smelled like a skunk, I have worn dark glasses, taken fizzes and medicine and carried potatoes in my pocket. In fact, I have done everything but go to a doctor and would have tried that but I have seen more doctors with hay fever than I have men of any other profession.

Collecting hay fever remedies has become my hobby just like collecting salt cellars, old bottles or what have you. If you have any old cracked, disjointed hay fever remedies, please send them to me for I have just about run out of my last batch and I do not want to lose hope that there is such a thing as a remedy for this hilarious disease.

Having hay fever has its compensations too. It is the best excuse in the world for not mowing the lawn, clipping the hedge or doing most anything you do not care to do. It can keep you home from a soul engagement, help you dodge bill collectors and is a good excuse for being late to work. Your wife will sympathize with you for a week or two, but it does not pay to string it out too long, for she will get enough of mowing the lawn herself after the second time. It is worth trying though to the fifth time.

HE WASN'T FOOLING!
The following sign, copied from one posted by an irate farmer, has for years hung in the Austin office of the Game Department. It occasions so much comment and produces so many requests for copies of it that it is reproduced here:

NOTIS!

Did you ever watch a painter at work . . . and then try to paint a room yourself? A good painter can paint all day in a dress suit and go home without a drop of paint on his clothes. How he can do it is as mysterious to me as how a woman can be sawed in half.

At regular intervals in my life I have gotten the artistic desire to slosh paint around on the wall. I have just recovered from one of those seizures. There is a wisp of hair on the south side of my head that is a garden green color and as stiff as an Ice Cream Supper for the Ladies' Aid Society. My elbows feel as if they were in plaster of paris and I can lean one pair of my pants up in the corner like you would an umbrella. My thumbs and the back of my hands are as raw as a Slaton recruit in the army, from being scrubbed with everything from sandpaper to hard water soap, and they are still covered with patches of paint that will probably be a part of the scenery from now on.

Eddie Hoffman painted our kitchen in two days time, slapped two rooms of paper up on the wall and left both evenings with his work clothes cleaner than mine were after I had spent my time on the streets or in the office. He put his paint and paper on as easy as a dog scratches his ear. I could tell that his arm was not as stiff as a step ladder, like mine gets after a painting spree, and I have come to the conclusion that it is all right to get on a paint spree once every year or two, but it is best to stay out of doors and do your painting on a chicken coop or garage, and don't expect to save any money, for the amount of paint you will get on your neck, clothes, and surrounding trees, bushes and out buildings will cost you more than hiring a painter to do the work.

In another part of the paper appears the picture of Cal Farley, who has recently been elected District Governor of Rotary International . . . Cal is quite a show man and at one time was a top ranking wrestler . . . and in a demonstration at the News-Globe office in Amarillo, curled all the desire I ever had for being a champion bone crusher and head lock artist.

Cal came into the newspaper office, was strutting around like a bantam rooster, and more to be polite than for any other reason, I asked him what the difference was between the Flying Dutchman wrestling hold, that he had developed, and the Airplane spin, that was being written about in the papers.

"Why there's a lot of difference," said Cal, "Here, I'll show you." And Cal lifted me up in the air and twisted me around over his head with one hand. Cal weighed 135 and I pushed the scales down to 190. My equilibrium has never been normal since, I see specks before my eyes and hear strange noises . . . and after this demonstration I know the Rotary Club is in for a dizzy ride under the guidance of Cal.

What should be done when your next door neighbor trims your hedge while you are at work?

Yesterday, while I was not looking, Leonard Harral slipped up in broad daylight and had my ten foot high hedge trimmed down to where you can see over it. Of course, I admit that he and is family had to trust to luck and the care that the Lord takes of folks who live right, when they backed out into the street, for our hedge blocked the view from every direction. I have a faint recollection of the hedge spreading out until the family had to chop their way across their driveway into the front door, but these things had been taken into consideration, and I had been considering trimming the hedge for several weeks; in fact, I asked a colored man who was leaning against Berkley & Haddock's grocery store, about clipping the hedge. He said he had to go get a washing for his wife. Perhaps we have been insulted or something, and perhaps we should do something about the hedge on the east side of our house, for H. W. Stotts and his family have almost quit using their driveway and park their car out in front. When they do use the driveway they have some one stand out in the street and give signals as to when the way is clear.

A hedge gone wild is a great care and responsibility and my advice to those of you who are considering planting a flock of hedges here and there, is to think twice and then build a fence, if something has to be done to keep the dogs out of the flowers.

If there is anything else besides salt bacon, coal oil, liquid sulphur, nail polish, paregoric, medicated soap and campho phenique that will relieve chigger bites, please phone Tess Bruner, Dan Liles, Jack Norman, Kirby Scudder and both the J. H. Teagues.

All of these men have given these remedies a fair trial and have found that they are just like throwing coal oil on a blazing fire.

Walk up to any one of these men and ask them, "How's fishing?" and they will make a wild grab for some part of their anatomy. It is dangerous to stay within arms length of any one of them, as they flay themselves, as one chigger after the other starts gnawing . . . and there seems to be some magic power about the word fish that starts them going, especially those from South Texas where Tess has been playing around.

It's there with an Extra Wallop in reserve

SOMETIMES in your automobile you want zip and ginger, sometimes thrift.

Just name your choice. In this high-stepping Buick straight-eight with Compound Carburetion you can have either, each in its proper place.

You can go about your business in easy, ordinary, everyday travel—and this frugal, two-carburetor system will keep you rolling smoothly with only the forward, thrift-size mixer on the job.

Yet any time you want life, lift, super-power it's there with an extra wallop in reserve—just step down on the treadle and you've got it.

That simple move sends the second carburetor into action; steps up not only fuel supply but the air supply as well.

Thus you have your fun—and frugality too. Owners report mileage figures as much as 10% to 15% higher than on previous Buicks of the same size.

Which means, better go look at the engine that's both thrill-packed and thrifty too. You'll find it in a bigger, roomier, smarter-looking automobile that gives you more value per dollar than anything else you can buy.

Our Weekly Sermon—

The Book That Shall Last Forever
By Rev. Will H. Houghton, D. D.,
President Moody Bible Institute,
Chicago.

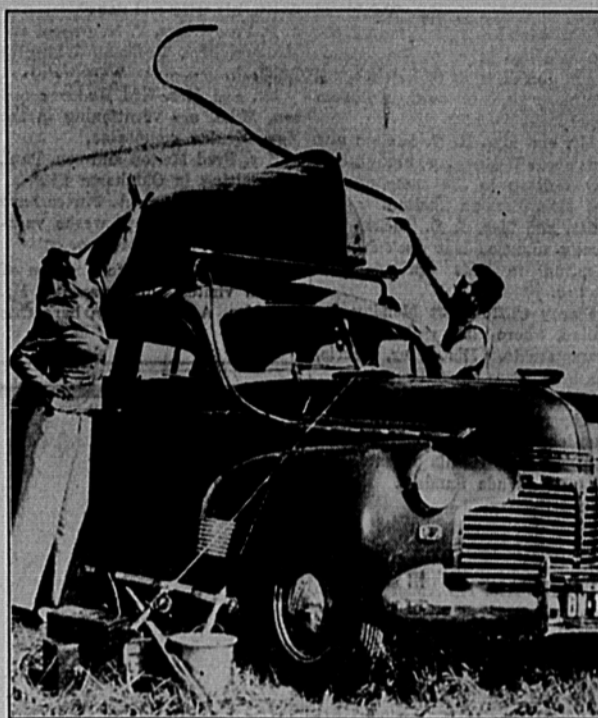

What an interesting place is a secondhand bookstore. The dreams of men are here held in dusty volumes. Nearly every book was a brain child, born out of pain and labor. It is true, some were still-born and others died in infancy, but in back of every book was a hopeful parent.

Some books are like peacocks—mere expressions of pride and human strut. Other books are like snakes, carrying their poison wherever they go. Some are like semi-precious or even precious stones of varying value. But there is one book, called the Bible, which is the diamond of jewels, the lion of strength, and yet it is the bread of nourishment.

The Bible is entitled to live, if for nothing other than its daring and unrefuted claim—its claim to be the Word of God. According to its own evaluation, revelation is its content, inspiration its method, salvation its goal. Who but God could conceive such a plan and theme? And who but He could achieve it so gloriously?

Those who would deny inspira-

Auto Vacuum Aids Anglers

To many the call of the open road also means the call of the open water. The automobile and good roads have brought thousands of beautiful lakes and streams within reach of the vacationist or the week-end. Fishing seasons throughout the country are opening, and these young people were among the first to seek their favorite stream. They carry their own boat, lashed to the top of their Chevrolet, and held securely with a new vacuum-grip holding device actuated by vacuum power from the motor. Note the tube connecting boat rack with motor vacuum.

tion to the Bible are under the necessity of explaining difficult literary phenomena. How could Moses give laws which are still formative and normative? How could the prophets tell of nations not yet existent and of kings yet unborn? How could such a book of fine artistry come from an in-artistic people?

Even the few sparse scientific references in the Bible seem to be in anticipation of recent discoveries. One race said the world rests on the shoulders of Atlas; another said the world rests on four turtles. The Bible says, "He hangeth the earth upon nothing." The word "nothing" is literally "thinness." Do you know of a better word for ether than thinness? And while the cultured heathen races discussed a flat earth and wondered how far the sea could be traveled without reaching the dropping-off place, the Bible held hidden in its depths the simple statement, "He sitteth upon the sphere of the earth." Harvey is given credit for the discovery of the laws of blood circulation, but one many centuries before Harvey said, "The life of the flesh is in the blood."

It is everywhere evident in the Scriptures that the writers are on the side of truth. They abominate lying and deception. They advocate veracity, and glory in integrity. If these ideas are according to their standards, are they then liars or deceivers?

The Bible claims to be without a rival. It is not only a word from God, it is the Word of God. There are other religious books, but there is no other divine revelation. The detractors will one day be retractors, but too late. The men who now say to the Bible, "You are wrong," will one day—too late—say, "I am wrong." "Forever, O Lord, thy word is settled in heaven."

BIBLE STUDY

The Tuesday Bible Study will meet at 3 p. m. at the Methodist church.

Lesson: A Message From God.
(1) Thou art a sinner.
(2) Thy very nature is corrupt.
(3) God loves thee.
(4) Christ died for thy sins.
(5) Faith in Christ will save thee now.

(6) Christ gives thee great promises.
(7) Unbelief will damn thee.
Mrs. S. S. Forrest, Teacher.

PLANT FISH FOOD

AUSTIN.—Not only will the Texas Game, Fish and Oyster Commission restock lakes and streams of the state with millions of fish this summer, but food in the form of tadpoles, crayfish and minnows, which are also being raised in the ten hatcheries of the Department, will be planted in rivers and lakes to provide additional food for members of the finny tribe.

All three species of food are highly desirable to many types of fish. It has been found that all three species can be raised in large numbers in hatchery ponds without slowing down the production of fish. When the bass, crappie, bream and other types of fingerling fish are taken from the hatchery ponds for restocking, the minnows, crayfish and tadpoles which are in the ponds will also be taken along.

Since lack of food and improper habitat, along with over-fishing and too long an open season, are the main contributing factors in the scarcity of fish, it is believed by the executive secretary and the chief aquatic biologist of the Game

Department that the food supply being planted will aid in producing more of those big 'uns for anglers to catch.

Prosene indications are that the Game Department will increase its production of fish in the ten hatcheries by 5,000,000 this year. Last season there was an increase in production of more than a million and a half. A total of 7,464,962 fish were distributed. Barring ill luck, the crop this year probably will exceed 12,000,000. New methods of fish production, many of them worked out by the Texas Department's aquatic biologists, are responsible for the vast increase.

In The Army Now

Greeley Sanders began his year's service in the Army last Wednesday. He was called into duty in Lubbock and went from there to El Paso, from which post he will go to some permanent camp.

His father has a plan to get Greeley to write, if Greeley does not keep up his correspondence properly. H. C. says he will write Greeley and tell him there is a check enclosed and then leave the check out and that he feels sure Greeley will answer by wire, telling him of the omission.

The Movie Reporter Local Mexican Nine

A short time ago Warner Bros., realizing America's interest in the new program of national defense, released for the second time a thrilling picture of life in the U. S. Navy called "Here Comes The Navy", starring James Cagney and Pat O'Brien. The film was even more successful than had been anticipated. Knowing that since that time world events have increased the interest of the American people in all phases of defense, Warners bring back to the screen another exciting film adventure of Cagney and O'Brien, "Devil Dogs of the Air." The film will start its local run at the Palace theatre this Sunday.

Cagney and O'Brien play the roles of two tough marines in the Aviation Corps who are determined to outsmart each other both in flying and in romance. The romance comes when each makes a play for lovely Margaret Lindsay who has the task of trying to keep them from committing mayhem. Frank McHugh plays the part of an ambulance driver who is sad because no one gets hurt.

Like its famous predecessor, "Here Comes The Navy," this picture was produced under a special arrangement with the U. S. Government.

Lloyd Bacon directed the picture from the screen play by Malcolm Stuart Boylan and Earl Baldwin, based on John Monk Saunders' story.

Experiments at the Weslaco Station of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station have resulted in the development of improved varieties of papayas that are being used in commercial plantings in the Rio Grande Valley.

Chungking, China,—Most Bombed City in World

This photo of a 5½-hour bombing of Chungking, China, by Japanese planes, was released by United China Relief, New York, now conducting a $5,000,000 campaign for relief work among the Chinese. Dennis McEvey, one of the best-informed newspaper men in Chungking, says: "Chungking looks as if a huge hammer from the heavens had struck, wildly, blindly, with crushing effect. But the sounds of hammering could be heard almost immediately after the all-clear signal. If the Japanese can dish it out the Chinese can take it."

Used Trucks
Increase In Value

As solid as bedrock itself in the national business picture is the manufacture and sale of motor trucks, for a surprisingly large percentage of the national income is interdependent with dependable truck transportation, in the opinion of W. E. Fish, manager of Chevrolet's commercial car department.

"A thoroughly prosaic side of our business, yet one that annually merits increased attention, is the turnover of the used truck," Mr. Fish points out. "Chevrolet dealers in 1940 retailed 218,632 used trucks. Setting an average price of $275 upon these hard-working units, this represents a 'sideline' business source for the dealer amounting to roughly 65 million dollars.

"Each year, with the greater value and longer life being built into our trucks, used truck values increase, and today, when such vast quantities of materials, supplies, and finished products must be transported from source to outlet, the old army slogan 'keep 'em rolling' applies equally well to highway transportation."

Three Ways To Make Fried Chicken

By Katharine Fisher
Director, Good Housekeeping Institute

The fried-chicken season is here! The supply of fryers—fresh and quick-frozen—is usually at its best at this time of the year. So get out your skillet, and treat your family to some good fried chicken. Follow any of these recipes, and you'll have the family loudly clamoring for more.

All recipes tested by Good Housekeeping Institute Use Institute-approved measuring cups and spoons. Measure level.

Pan-Fried Chicken
With Flour or Corn-Meal Coating:

1. Buy fryers (1½ to 2½ lbs. each) split lengthwise, quartered, or cut up as for fricassee. Roasting chickens may be pan-fried if first simmered tender after cutting up.
2. Heat enough fat or oil in skillet or chicken fryer to make a ¼" to ½" layer. Use 2 skillets to save time.
3. Clean but do not dry the chicken. Coat by shaking in a paper bag with 1 c. flour (or ½ c. flour and ½ c. corn meal) mixed with 1 tsp. salt.
4. Place a few pieces at a time in hot fat, and brown on all sides. Reduce heat; cover or not as preferred, and fry 35 to 40 min. longer, or until tender. (2 to 4 tbsp. water or cream may be added to chicken after browning if desired.)
5. As the pieces are fried, keep hot in a covered double boiler, in a bowl set over hot water, or in a covered casserole or roasting pan in a warm oven.

WITH EGG AND CRUMB COATING:

1. To 1 c. sifted, dried bread crumbs or cracker crumbs, add 1 tsp. salt. Beat 1 egg with 2 tsp. cold water.
2. Dip chicken in crumbs, then in egg, then in crumbs, and fry as above. Flour may be substituted for bread or cracker crumbs.

Oven-Fried Chicken

Here's a method that is especially convenient when several chickens are to be fried, since it cuts down on the turning and watching necessary when chicken is fried in a skillet.

1. Coat, and fry cut-up chicken in a skillet to a golden brown on all sides, as we do in Pan-Fried Chicken.
2. Then transfer the chicken to a covered casserole or roaster; cover, and complete the cooking in moderate oven of 350° F. for 1 hr., or until the chicken is deliciously tender.
3. Serve with or without Cream Gravy, as desired.

Deep-Fried Chicken

1. Dip cut-up fryers in egg and crumbs (see Pan-Fried Chicken) or in following batter: Stir 1 beaten egg and ¼ c. milk into 1 c. sifted all-purpose flour with 1½ tsp. salt and ½ tsp. pepper.
2. Fry a few pieces at a time in deep fat or oil heated to 375° F., or hot enough to brown a cube of day-old bread in 1 min. Keep the fat at 350° F., and fry until tender—about 20 to 30 min.
3. Or simmer cut-up chicken until just tender. Then skin; coat with eggs and crumbs (see Pan-Fried Chicken) and deep fry at 375° F. until golden brown—about 3 min.

Night Yardmaster Greer had the misfortune of fracturing a bone in his leg just above the ankle. This accident happened while on duty about 5:30 a. m., June 24th. Fred England was to relieve him, but after two days he had to lay off with the flu and Chas Lee is filling the vacancy. We hope both the boys will be with us again soon.

Two chain gang turns have been pulled off on account of business dropping. Some of the younger men have been cut off and some of the older ones cut back to the extra board. As the process of bumping has not yet been completed, we cannot say just who has been cut off and who is on the extra board.

Mr. P. Moss has told us he will soon be with us again. Glad to hear it.

Amos Clark is marked up again after being away for several days' outing.

J. B. Adams has been added to the clerical force in Agent's office. His hours are from 8 p. m. to 4 a. m., helping the night clerks. Yep, there is plenty of work to do at night, too. The trains must go and many of them originate around this terminal after dark. Many of us who sleep nights do not realize this.

Things we hear about: Yardmaster Turner sending his daughter, Betty, down for the car after he has walked home. "Totty" Scott's wife calling the station at 6:30 p. m., trying to find the old man. (Scott is off duty at 4 p. m.)

Night Yardmaster Greer getting tired of sitting around. He states that if he had a motorized wheel chair he could work the job.

Switchman Stump Hamilton passing signals in the yard. (We understand the coach has changed his plans for his son, instead of making a football coach out of him he is training him to be a switchman.)

Switchman Sledge, drinking a coke after turning in, walking along the platform, hearing an auto horn sound, started toward the car and then his wife driving up.

Scott says: Come down FOM that WOOF off.

The Santa Fe Railway System carloadings for the week ending July 5, 1941, were 26,054 compared with 24,423 for the same week in 1940. Receipt from connections were 7,851 compared with 5,597 for the same week in 1940. The total cars moved were 33,905 compared with 30,020 for the same week in 1940. The Santa Fe handled a total of 35,238 cars during the preceding week of this year.

The Colonel's wife sent the following note to Captain Brown: "Colonel and Mrs. White request the pleasure of Captain Brown's company to dinner on the 20th."

Captain's Brown's reply gave her quite a sock. It read: "With the exception of two sick men, Captain Brown's company have very great pleasure in accepting your kind invitation."—Santa Fe Magazine.

Emily Post Notes
Social Changes
Of Two Decades

JUST because she receives some three thousand letters a day from people asking advice about social and personal problems doesn't mean that Emily Post isn't a woman confronted with several deep perplexities of her own.

One of the greatest, writes Margaret Case Harriman in the June issue of Good Housekeeping magazine, is the fact that although she has written five novels and three other books, she is known chiefly for Etiquette or the Blue Book of Social Usage which she wrote in 1922. It has made her the foremost authority on social manners in the country. Mrs. Harriman says it has run through four editions, which means sixty printings or more than half a million copies.

Even though it's logical to guess from her book that Mrs. Post is a stickler for formality, Mrs. Harriman reveals that her manner has an easy charm that breaks candidly into impatience or an occasional mild profanity in the presence of anything fussy or phony. When asked by a linen company to comment on an advertisement of a table fancily set for a formal dinner, "Lord," she stammered, "it's lousy."

Mrs. Harriman's article relates that Mrs. Post was born and bred in New York City where she was the belle of her debutante season, 1892. Now she is a gray, friendly woman, very handsome and with the spirited good looks one romantically associates with the eighteen sixties. Shortly after Mrs. Post's father died, she divorced her husband, and suddenly found herself a divorcee and, through necessity, a working woman at a time when neither divorce nor gainful employment by gentlewomen was recognized by the kind of people Mrs. Post had known.

Among many other virtues, Mrs. Post's volume on etiquette presents a panorama of the vast changes in America's social scene during the last two decades. When the first edition appeared it was filled with hints on how to handle butlers, chauffeurs, and footmen. The latest edition (1940) now has a scant two-and-a-half pages on butlers and almost none on the woman who wants to be an efficient cook, waitress and hostess at the same time. The chaperon who figured so largely in the early editions has completely vanished, and as for that old bugaboo about which fork one should use in eating, Mrs. Post has this to say, "Nothing is of less importance."
