Cotton Stockings To Help Cotton Mills

AUSTIN, Aug. 25.—The furor over a silk stocking shortage doesn't amount to much, as far as the Texas cotton farmer is concerned, a University of Texas agricultural expert believes.

LABOR DAY WARNING To All Motorists

AUSTIN.—"Help Defense—Stop Accidents!" is the rallying cry issued by the Texas Safety Association in its role as state co-ordinator in the nationwide campaign against accidents launched by President Roosevelt.

By proclamation the President called on every American citizen to devote maximum effort to a "concerted campaign against accidents which are wasting the manpower and resources so sorely needed for national defense."

The statewide campaign against accidents on the highways, on the farms, in industry, and at home will be waged by more than 30 organizations cooperating with the Texas Safety Association.

Appeal Made For More Bond Buyers

Reports from the Post Office here are that the sale of Defense Bonds and Stamps has fallen off considerably and that although the response was very gratifying during May and June, the interest in the bonds has almost ceased.

It is called to the attention of the public that it is not expected that each one make heavy investments but that every one should show their confidence in the Government by buying either bonds or stamps.

Fruit and Vegetable Crop Prolific Here

Some agricultural scientist should be employed to make a test of the land around Slaton to find out just how many varieties of fruits and vegetables will grow in this vicinity.

Nowhere in the state are the watermelons better than those grown here, corn ten feet high with six to eight ears to the stalk have been raised here this year, peaches that would make Georgia ashamed of itself are being gathered and now comes Lee Tudor with a tree full of big apples that he says make the Arkansas varieties look like dried up lemons.

Taps Sound For William Kircheval

William Edward Kircheval, long time resident of Slaton, died here last Saturday afternoon after a long illness. He was born in Vigo county, Indiana, in 1879, and married Miss Ida Pearl Davis on April 21, 1910 at Haileyville, Oklahoma.

Mr. Kircheval is survived by his wife and two sons, Earnest A. Kircheval and W. E. Kircheval, both of Slaton, and two sisters, Mrs. Berlista Davis of Vernon, Texas, and Mrs. Mary Sanborn of Los Angeles, California.

Mr. Kircheval was a member of the Luther Powers Post of the American Legion and took active part in the organization before his illness.

Jim Elliott was called to Dallas Tuesday to be at the bedside of his brother-in-law, Jack Lokey, who underwent a serious operation Thursday.

Last Flight for Nazi

According to the Moscow censor-approved caption for this radiophoto received in New York from the Soviet capital, Soviet sailors are shown inspecting the remains of a German plane. It was not stated where the plane was brought to earth.

Health Conditions Good In Slaton

"There are no contagious diseases in Slaton," says Dr. W. E. Payne, City Health Physician, "and while there has been nothing done about the weed situation, the citizens have co-operated well in having the weeds cut on many vacant lots and on the premises. It is not considered a health hazard except from the standpoint of hay fever and there is not much chance of this scourge improving until frost."

At Commissioning of New Hospital Ship

General view of scene on deck of U. S. S. Solace, first hospital ship to be added to U. S. navy since World war, as the craft was commissioned in Brooklyn. The new addition to the navy was formerly the Clyde Mallery liner, Iroquois. The ship has 400 beds and will carry 13 medical officers and 3 dental officers.

FOUR TEACHERS AND ASSISTANT COACH ELECTED TUESDAY

Post Office And Bank To Close Mon.

At a recent meeting of the Retail Credit Association it was decided not to ask the merchants of Slaton to close on account of Labor Day, as merchants in other towns in this vicinity are not observing the day in this way.

The Slaton Post Office will be closed all day, as will the Citizens State Bank. No deliveries will be made of mail, nor will the stamp window or the General Delivery window be open.

A Labor Day Parade is scheduled in Lubbock for ten o'clock, but the stores will open after the parade has been completed.

It's Corporal Kahlich Now!

Promotion of Elwood A. Kahlich, member of 63rd Air Base Group (Special), Brooks Field, Texas, from the grade of private first class to the grade of corporal, was announced today by Lieut. Col. Stanton T. Smith, commandant of the Air Corps Advanced Flying School, Brooks Field, Texas.

Cpl. Kahlich is the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Kahlich of 805 South 16th Street of this city. Prior to his original enlistment on Sept. 8, 1940 at Lubbock, Texas, he attended Slaton High School and was a member of the following school teams: Football, three years, under Coach Curtis Hamilton.

In civilian life, Cpl. Kahlich was employed as a city truck driver for Hestand-Kimbell Grocery Company. He also worked for Piggly Wiggly Stores and as an attendant at Heinrich Brothers Service Station.

Stalon Streets Being Cleaned

Have you noticed the street cleaners at work on the paved thoroughfares over the city. This is just another step toward making Slaton a better place in which to live.

Petition Present To City Commission

In response to a petition to City Commission and to the Mayor presented last Monday night asking that they declare the Skating rink that is operating here a nuisance, the Mayor reports that question was submitted to the attorney, Garriott T. Baldwin, that his opinion was as follows:

"Mr. J. H. Teague, Mayor, Slaton, Texas.

"Concerning your inquiry as to whether or not the City Commissioners have at present the authority to stop the operations of the Roller Skating Rink which is now operating on the corner of 8th and Scurry Streets.

"Beg to advise that the City of Slaton has no ordinance defining a nuisance and until such an ordinance is passed the City officials are helpless.

However, if the Rink is proving to be a nuisance, another method of redress is open to those who object by the bringing of a civil action in the Lubbock District Court enjoining the operation of the Rink, provided that the Court should find that same was a nuisance.

Another New Firm Opens In Slaton

A new firm that has just opened for business in Slaton is the V. O. Bailey Furniture located in the first block north of the square. The owner, who is familiarly known as "Buster" is well known here in Slaton and has many years experience in the furniture business. He is an expert upholsterer and will feature this kind of work.

Father Of Mrs. Sims Buried In Crosbyton

Mr. Nelson Young Bicknell, 81, well known Crosbyton resident for many years, was buried in Crosbyton cemetery with services from the Crosbyton Methodist church at 2:30 p. m. Wednesday, with Reverend R. A. Partlow, Superintendent of the El Paso Presbytery, officiating.

Mr. Bicknell was the father of Mrs. O. V. Sims of Slaton. He was a member of the Presbyterian church and was one of the founders of the Citizens National bank in Crosbyton.

He was born August 8, 1860 in Madisonville, Tennessee, moved to Etacado in 1887, moved later to Old Emma and from there to Crosbyton. He was in the ranching business until a few years ago.

TO PLAY FOR SCHOOL OPENING

Twelve students of Mrs. A. B. Griffith's music class will offer a twenty minute musical program at the opening of the New Home High school Monday morning, September 1. Violin students are Emma Euiene Young, Wilma Jean DeBusk, Mary Brasfield, Harold Culver and Brian Sartain. Piano Accordion students are Thelma Ruth Strain, Helen Balch, Maudene Harper and Eileen Baker. Natalie Bailey will perform on the Xylophone and at the piano will be Bill Max Cromer and Bob McAllister.

FOUR TEACHERS AND ASSISTANT COACH ELECTED TUESDAY

At a meeting of the School Board last Tuesday night, four new teachers were elected for the Junior High School and an assistant football coach chosen.

The teachers are Mrs. K. S. McKinnon of Slaton, who will teach English and Literature; Mrs. J. H. Johns, formerly of Lubbock, will teach Math; Miss Reba Pool, formerly of Groom, Texas, will teach English, and Miss Mary Watkins of Slaton.

Ralph Stevenson, formerly of Abernathy, Texas, was elected as assistant football coach.

Registration for the public schools started Thursday and 1,153 students were enrolled for the coming season which is 29 less than were enrolled last season. The number of enrollment will probably be greater this year, however, than last season as the full number have not all been recorded.

School will open Tuesday morning, as Monday will be a holiday. A faculty meeting was held Thursday and plans laid by the teachers for the new school term.

A.M.J.

There are more queer melons grown around and in Slaton than any place I have ever lived. Last week the local American Legion Commander, S. N. Gentry, from Posey, brought in a queer looking breed that he called a Cobb melon and now comes F. D. Bostick, who operates the Slaton Helpy-Selfy Laundry, with a long, big hipped variety he calls a toothpick muskmelon. It smells like a muskmelon, tastes like an extra good muskmelon, but looks like a fan dancer... little at the bottom but well filled out at the top.

It seems incongruous, a little bit humorous and not too patriotic to find United States Flags with tags on them signifying that they were made in Japan. Such was the case last Thursday night when the Rotary Club entertained their District Governor at a banquet. Of all the things that one should expect to be made in our country, it would be our own flags.

There is no reason to blame the public and if the Japanese can make the flags, ship them over to us and sell them cheaper than our own manufacturers can make them, there is little our flag manufacturers can do about it, but just the same one feels red in the face when he looks at a little flag of the United States with a sign on it stating that it was made in Japan.

Perhaps we could have gotten even with them by labeling the scrap iron we have been shipping them so that the shells they may soon be shooting at us will be marked, "Made from iron from the U. S. A."

And while on the subject of the Rotary Banquet, Governor Cal Farley had some nice things to say about the Club, Slaton and the Slaton people.

"Your club and the people I have met and seen on the streets of Slaton seem and look more in step with the times than in many of the smaller towns I have visited. They are better dressed, more business-like and metropolitan; I like Slaton very much."

However, he added that the general appearance of the town would be improved if I would pull up my belt or wear suspenders so that my pants would not have the appearance of being just about to fall off.

This crack dampened my spirits some but I felt much better when I watched Cal's footwork under the table while he was making his speech, and Cal's pants were hanging at half mast, too.

When you get right down to facts, there is quite an art in being able to wear a pair of pants in a way that the hip bones are all that keep the police department from picking you up, and it takes years of experience to get the art down to a fine point, but when you do there is real comfort in wearing pants this way... no binding, no slipping and no tightness around the middle; just solid comfort.

A little sloppy looking, but when one gets in the newspaper business, or is District Governor of Rotary, one's appearance amounts to little, anyway.

Mr. Ickes' threat of "gasless" Sundays has caused the Donna News-Advocate to dig up this poem of World War No. 1 days:

My Tuesdays are meatless,
My Wednesdays are wheatless,
I am getting more catless each day.
My, no, it is heatless,
My bed, it is sheetless—
They're all sent to the Y. M. C. A.
The bar-rooms are treatless,
My coffee is sweetless,
Each day I get poorer and wiser.
My stockings are feetless,
My trousers are seatless—
Gosh, how I hate the Kaiser!

trout, but our feelings are hurt because Mr. Lovett did not, "Wish you were here."

It was one of the first cards from a pleasure resort that I have ever received that did not "Wish you were here". Mr. Lovett may have caught fish the size of the boat, but personally, I have a sneaking notion that the fish, if any, that he caught were about the size of the bait the fish is swallowing.

The Lovetts will fight their way back to Slaton via Cody, Cheyenne and Denver and will arrive with a backache, sunburns, indigestion and a lot of broken fishing tackle.

"How I wish I had been there."

If the army has found out that men of twenty-eight years are past their prime, then it must be true that men are really as good as they think they are at the age of twenty-one.

It is a sad thought to have to realize that after twenty-eight, you have slipped so far that you no longer make even good gun fodder and when a man gets up around fifty, he must be practically no good at all... Even a man of thirty-five must be almost in his doatage and when the army gets all the men up to the age of twenty-eight, there is no telling what will become of this country, with a lot of mentally vacant old fellows barely able to creep around trying to get the job done.

There is the danger of the young women of twenty-one taking over everything and wresting what little authority is left in the men and when the war is over the smart guys who come back will find that their country has been lost to the aggressive sex. There should be some plan worked out to leave a few of the smart young men at home to hold the fort against the women, for it is a sure bet that the old fellows of thirty or more who have become foggy mentally and physically deteriorated will not be able to hold out very long.

Canada Is Building Tanks

—Passed by Censor.
CANADIAN industry performed a miracle when it fashioned its first heavy infantry tank. At the outbreak of war, the Dominion had no facilities for the manufacture of such military monsters as tanks and no means of making armor plate such as tank specifications call for. But brains, perseverance and expediency combined to make possible the overcoming of these serious obstacles and today, not only is Canada producing tanks at the rate of three per day but our daily work. Almost every task we do calls for some movement of the hands. From his very beginning on earth, man has done things with his hands.

First, let us think of TOILING HANDS. These are represented by those of the farmer. They are bronzed and calloused, for they belong to a healthy, hard working man. They are busy, useful hands. Tilling hands alone, however, do not receive favor with God. The story of Cain makes this plain (Gen. 4). He brought the fruit of the ground as an offering to the Lord, and his brother, Abel, brought of his flock. Cain had toiled long and hard with his hands, but his offering did not please God, while Abel's offering did, for God demands a consecrated and devoted heart. No matter how hard we TOIL, we cannot obtain salvation. Salvation is a free gift of God.

In contrast with toiling hands will be Sunday School. Services will be resumed on Sunday, the 31st of August.

After 12 Years Stork Derby Winners Still Hate Publicity

WHEN the executors of Charles Vance Millar's estate revealed the contents of his will, it was to an astonished public. The startled citizenry of Canada, Millar's home, and the United States, learned with horror that outside of a few formal bequests, the residue of his estate, which amounted to $500,000, was to be awarded to the Toronto mother, who in the ten years following his death should have given birth to the greatest number of children.

This publicized race for babies, recalled by Margaret Case Harriman in the September issue of Good Housekeeping Magazine, started in 1926 and lasted for almost twelve years, but few people are aware of the final outcome of the contest. It caused a storm of protest, Mrs. Harriman says, and the money was finally awarded not to one, but to four women, each of whom was entitled to $125,000.
 But by the time the case was settled, Mrs. Harriman discloses that the winners received only $75,000 apiece. Two entrants, who claimed to be the real winners, had to be paid $12,500, lawyers fees were extracted, and the executors reserved $100,000 for future costs. It would be pleasant, says Mrs. Harriman, to report that the winners' good luck had left them unspoiled, but it would be untrue. The publicity they received went to their heads, and all four mothers are now harder to interview than a Morgan or a Rockefeller. Letters and telegrams to them remain unanswered, and a reporter is accorded only icy glares and an open crack in the front doorway.
 Mrs. Harriman writes that it is to the winners' credit that they invested their money wisely. Some of them invested in businesses which they gave their children to run, and others bought securities which would give them a substantial monthly check.

Oddly enough, none of the Stork Derby mothers named any of their children after their male benefactor, Mrs. Harriman relates, except one of the disqualified contestants, and this child happened to be still-born.
 We find IDLE HANDS. With idle hands go idle bodies and idle minds and idle tongues. We read in I Timothy 5:13: "And withal they learn to be idle, wandering about from house to house; and not only idle, but tattlers also and busybodies, speaking things which they ought not." Let us keep busy, serving the Lord; then there will be no time for the sins of idleness to creep in.

Then, there are STRONG HANDS. We see these pictured in the story of David and Goliath. The huge Philistine came with a sword and a spear and a shield. But David came with the strength of the Lord in his hands.

In contrast with strong hands we find WEAK HANDS. In II Chronicles 15:7, we read: "Be ye strong therefore, and let not your hands be weak: for your work shall be rewarded." It is easy to be strong when things go smoothly, but when adversity comes, too often we submit to the easy way and let our hands become weak and unproductive.

We must not overlook YIELDED HANDS. God can use these better than any other, for through yieldedness come all types of service. Yielded hands are portrayed by Moses' deliverance of Israel from Egypt. As Moses yielded his hands, they were used to perform miracles.

Hands reveal character. Barring accident, our hands never change. What kind of hands do you have? Are they young or old, representing youth with its ambition and possibilities for good, or old age, having lived a rich and abundant life? Are they eager or lazy hands, ready to do the Master's bidding, or sluggish and slothful? Are they clean or soiled hands, denoting honesty or dishonesty? Are they warm or cold hands, full of sympathy or apathy? Are they giving or taking hands, symbolizing charity or greed? Are they peaceful or fighting hands, revealing a spirit of love or hate?

Lord, "take my hands, and let them move at the impulse of Thy love."

The Bride To End All Hollywood Brides

DEANNA DURBIN is something new in Hollywood brides. She is as unspoiled, as daffy-in-love, as proud of her husband, as pleased with her new life and future plans as the shyest, sweetest Missus in your neighborhood.

To begin with, writes Mary Hamman in the September issue of Good Housekeeping, Deanna's romance with her husband Vaughn Paul, is touching and sweet, and decidedly small town. The pair met, Miss Hamman says when Deanna, then only fourteen, was making her first film on which Vaughn was working as an assistant director. (He worked in a similar capacity on three other Durbin pictures) But Deanna was too busy learning how to act, and Vaughn too wrapped up in his work for either to notice the other.

When Vaughn took Deanna out on her very first date, Miss Hamman reveals that it was love at first sight. Since then neither Vaughn or Deanna has had a date with another boy or girl. Right from the start the Pauls' marriage has been a bang-up success. They like the same things—football games and picnics, and bowling, horrendous mystery stories, tennis, silly jokes and amateur movies.

Right now, Deanna is pleased as a child with a new toy about the house the two are building in Brentwood, California. It manages to be the center of every conversation you have with the Pauls, Miss Hamman says. For weeks, the couple have been haunting nurseries, and Deanna's chatter is decidedly horticultural, spiked with references to the sycamore, acacia, oaks, and maples they are transplanting.
 And so there they are, these docile, domestic charming Pauls—Deanna and Vaughn, ideal bride and groom, Hollywood's phenomenal newlyweds.

Mrs. Vaughn Paul, Deanna Durbin to you, is "daffy-in-love" and Hollywood's happiest bride.

And so there they are, these docile, domestic charming Pauls—Deanna and Vaughn, ideal bride and groom, Hollywood's phenomenal newlyweds.

13,398 MILES ON 5-QUART FILL OF OIL in the Certified DEATH VALLEY DESTRUCTION TEST

Revolutionary New Oil tested against 5 other big brands. 6 new cars Destroyed to prove Economy and Protection.

The oil that reeled off an amazing 13,398 miles on one regular fill, in blazing Death Valley, was proved to be an oil of the Nth degree—an oil of new high character... Hence its name: CONOCO Nth MOTOR OIL

This dramatic test, supervised impartially and Officially Certified, was simple, yet harsh. 6 identical new cars were taken to Death Valley—where the heat hits record highs. 5 of these cars were each assigned a different widely-known, highly advertised motor oil. The sixth car used new Conoco Nth motor oil.

Each car was broken-in on a brand assigned by lot. Then, one 5-quart fill of this same oil went into the crankcase—kept under lock. The cars were driven 57 miles an hour until oil failure cracked up each engine—utterly wrecked it! All of this under impartial official scrutiny, as was every step in the test, right on through the dramatic finish.

Here is what happened
 New Conoco Nth oil went 13,398.8 miles. Not another oil came within 5,683 miles of this. One outstanding oil failed 8,268.6 miles sooner than new Conoco Nth motor oil. So it outdistanced the five competing oils by 74% to 161%.

Why this Astounding result was possible
 New Conoco Nth motor oil contains a Conoco-originated synthetic (U. S. Patent 2,218,132) called Thiathene inhibitor. An inhibitor in motor oil acts pretty much as an inhibition acts on you. Inhibitions hold you back; police many actions. And so Conoco's Thiathene inhibitor polices Conoco Nth oil... arrests pollution that otherwise comes from normal operation. And that's your aid against a dirty engine with inferior lubrication.

Are you an OIL-PLATING "fan"?

If you are, more power to you! Don't for a minute feel let down, for Conoco Nth also contains the famous synthetic that OIL-PLATES engines. OIL-PLATING comes from the magnet-like attraction that keeps it bonded to inner engine parts, so that it can't all quickly drain down to the crankcase—not while you're using Conoco Nth oil. This same famed OIL-PLATING is still yours to guard against wear.

Because of OIL-PLATING and Thiathene inhibitor, one 5-quart fill of new Conoco Nth oil went an astounding 13,398.8 miles. Of course, you'll never Death-Test your Conoco Nth oil in sinister Death Valley, nor repeat any other proving-ground tortures. You'll still drain and refill at the intervals recommended by qualified authorities. But how you'll expect to stretch the distance before you ever add a quart, judging by this big fact:

5 heavily advertised oils in the Certified Death Valley Test were out-mileaged 74% to 161% by Conoco Nth oil. Economy like that counts up into dollars! Change to Nth oil today at Your Mileage Merchant's Conoco station. Continental Oil Co.—Pioneers in Bettering America's oil with Synthetics

CONOCO Nth MOTOR OIL

CERTIFIED I hereby certify that the Death Valley Test and related work were thoroughly and fairly conducted. The Destruction occurred in each at the mileage stated.

Four Easy Ways To Bid a "Slam"

DOWN through the years has raged the controversy of the proper method of bidding a "grand slam" in bridge. Nearly everyone can rush forth eagerly with his advice but no one can guarantee that his ideas are foolproof.

Four top bridge players of the land have gone on record in the September issue of Good Housekeeping Magazine to tell the panting public what they think should be the first requisites for bidding (and making) a "grand slam."

Easley Blackwood demands information about controls, simplicity and, not entirely unnaturally, the use of the Blackwood Slam Convention. Morrie Ellis advocates recognizing slam possibilities in the earliest bidding. "don't", says he, "keep your partner guessing what you have. Tell your partner immediately by making a skip bid in your best suit, provided you have either a fit in partner's suit, or a suit of your own which does not require trump support."

Robert McPherran says sound slam contracts are not achieved by violent leaps. He believes that the slow and easy method of exchanging all the information possible and recognition of forcing situations to keep the bidding alive will produce the best results. Mrs. Ralph C. Young thinks that hypnosis of your opponents would be effective but, if that fails, she says that timing and, like M. Ellis, fully informing your partner in the early stages of bidding are about the most important recipes always providing, of course, that you hold the cards.

Tapping 'Ever Normal Granary'

At left a farmer of Midwest corn belt shovels corn from one of the bins of the department of agriculture's "ever normal granary." The department took over this surplus corn in payment of loans to farmers in '38 and '39. Now farmers are buying it back to feed their stock. Right: A farmer shoveling corn from "granary" to his hogs.

An Acid Deficiency Causes Gray Hair

FOR thousands of years gray hair has been an unwelcome sign of approaching old age, and as such, a source of worry and irritation to countless people. Dyeing has been the usual and unsatisfactory remedy.

But seven or eight years ago scientists isolated a substance they called panothenic acid and experimented with it in the diet of rats. The results, as explained by Dr. P. W. Punnett and M. E. Badger, in the September issue of Good Housekeeping magazine, showed that when the acid was withheld from their food, patches of gray appeared amid the brown fur. By the end of 6 to 8 weeks practically all the brown had changed to gray. When the substance was put back in the rats' diet the dark hair reappeared in the same amount of time it had taken to disappear.

All these tests, the authors writes, were carried on by the Good Housekeeping bureau, but they did not, of course answer the vital question, "Will it work the same way for humans?" To experiment further the Bureau gathered a group of men and women old and young, some just beginning to show a few gray hairs, and fed them large doses of the acid in tomato juice. The experiment is still being carried on, for the life processes of humans consume a much longer time than rats.

Dr. Punnett and Mr. Badger express the opinion that, while it may be successful for some subjects, it may not be completely successful. There may be other causes for gray hair which cannot be cured by this new vitamin.

Cars Should Be Put In Order Now

Unless conditions change, there will be fewer new cars sold in the United States from now on and even those who own new cars should be more careful in keeping them all in good condition.

Reports from Government agencies are that the supply of automobile parts will not be reduced so that the cars now in use can be made to give longer service.

There has been no regulation on the price of standard automobile parts and accessories but the tendency is toward an increase and it is probable that those who have their cars put in good mechanical condition now will save money.

O. D. Kenney Auto Parts still has a large stock of standard lines of automobile and tractor parts that were bought at low prices and these parts are still being offered to the public at prices that make it very economical to have cars put in good mechanical condition. Not only do they still have a wide variety of automobile accessories, polishes and wax.

Mr. Kenney is always glad to have motorists to come in and just look around. There are many gadgets that make motoring more pleasant to be found in this large stock.

New Kind Of Silo Proves Successful

COLLEGE STATION, Aug. 28.—A "box" silo, built above ground, is a substitute for a trench silo in regions where the land is more or less level and keeping water out of a trench silo is a problem.

E. R. Eudaly and M. R. Bentley, respectively dairyman and agricultural engineer of the A. and M. College Extension Service, suggest two methods of constructing such a feed container: One—build two parallel levees of dirt any height and width desired, then fill between the levees with silage and cover with earth. This sometimes is called a trench silo upside down. Two—in places where lumber is cheap it might be advisable to build the upside down trench out of lumber and tar paper. This is called a "box" silo.

The specialists say that it is not advisable to build a "box" of smaller dimensions than four feet between walls, six feet high and 20 feet long. Lesser space between walls would be hazardous since a little spoilage at the edges would be too high a percentage of waste. A minimum height of six feet is suggested because of settling and the possibility of some spoilage on top. If the silage settles a whole lot there might be a high percentage of spoilage.

Chart Shows Tests For Common Disease

MANY tests and laboratory examinations play a large part in the daily work of physicians. These tests and examinations are not relied on in themselves to make diagnoses, but are, rather, helpful adjuncts.

To present to the public a clear, concise picture of what these tests are like, Good Housekeeping with the aid of the foremost medical authorities, has prepared a home medical chart to give people a better understanding of the procedures of the modern physician.

The chart, which appears in the September issue of the magazine, explains first the Schick test, given to indicate susceptibility to diphtheria. The test is made by injecting a minute amount of diluted diphtheria toxin into the skin on the forearm with a hypodermic needle. A red reaction is shown by the top of the arm where the toxin was injected. The redness will appear slowly, becoming more distinct over a period of 72 hours. If this redness does not appear, the reaction is negative, indicating that the person is immune to diphtheria. Most physicians, according to the Good Housekeeping chart, advise giving this test to children every two or three years.

To determine if a person is immune to scarlet fever the Dick test is administered in much the same fashion. A small amount of the scarlet fever is injected into the forearm with a hypodermic needle, and the appearance 24 hours later of a red area indicates susceptibility to the disease. Although doctors frequently make use of the test, the Good Housekeeping chart reveals that some physicians do not consider the results comparable in dependability with those of the Schick test.

greater profit possibilities in order that the industry may be in line with the trend of the last decade in the field, William E. Holler, general sales manager of the Chevrolet Motor Division, told more than 50 field executives of the sales organization at the Detroit Athletic Club last week. The field men are assistant regional managers and zone managers attending the Executives Specialization Conference for two weeks and represent all sections of the country.

Mr. Holler cited that the trend is to lower numbers of automobile dealers. In 1929 there were 52,000 whereas now there are approximately 44,000 dealers representing the industry, he said.

"The Chevrolet Division was represented by 10,800 dealers in 1929," Mr. Holler said. "Now it is represented by 8,400 dealers in round numbers. The School of Modern Merchandising and Management, originated and developed by Chevrolet, is practically the only source that is manufacturing
