CALF, HOG AND LAMB SHOW LAST SATURDAY HAD BIG ATTENDANCE

On The HOME FRONT

Our big "home front" offensive, the War Production Drive, this week began to make its effects felt, directly on the dinner table, in the living room, the bedroom and the bath of the average citizen, and on the retailer's shelves and in the dealer's show rooms of Texas, Oklahoma, Louisiana and the other States.

Production has been halted on a list of American household products that grows longer and longer. That means, of course, that most of us are going to have to work and eat and play differently. Our way of living must change—and change quickly.

And, as production and the accompanying drain of materials and supplies increases, the Office of Price Administration continues to extend its orders fixing maximum prices for materials, products and household articles, as part of its determination that "the public shall not be compelled to submit to unreasonable and inflated prices, simply because supplies are short."

Many retailers have been fighting a good fight to keep prices down, but as Dexter M. Keezer, assistant OPA administrator, told the National Conference of Business Paper Editors a few days ago, these retailers must have allies if the war against the terror of inflation is to be won.

"The simple fact is that today we are losing the battle against inflation," Mr. Keezer emphasized. "Prices are going up all along the line—and at a dangerously accelerated pace."

Dutcher shops and retail meat markets, for instance, were called upon by OPA not to raise prices of ham, bacon, pork chops and other pork cuts above mid-March prices. Dan West, director of the OPA Consumer Division, pointed out that OPA put a ceiling on wholesale prices of pork products on March 23, and it is now up to retailers not to boost prices to consumers. He advised consumers to question any price increase above that level.

The War Production Board has placed restrictions on distribution of the country's entire tea supply, and has called upon grocers to limit tea sales to each family so that available supplies will be distributed.

James Savell, who managed Slaton's first Lubbock County Calf, Hog and Lamb Show here last Saturday says that the interest shown by the members of the FFA and the 4-H Clubs and the interest in the show by the public was most encouraging. "We were very much pleased with our first show and consider the work done by Casey Fine, who judged the animals, and the work done by A. C. Strickland as supervisor as most valuable to our organizations. All animals shown were raised by members of the F.F.A. or 4-H Club members and were a credit to the efforts of the young men who raised them. Kenneth Lilley was the clerk and was a big help in making the show a success."

It is planned to make the Lubbock County Calf, Hog and Lamb Show an annual affair. The winners as judged by Mr. Fine were:

Heavy Calves: 1st place, Austin Rose, Lubbock; 2nd place, J. B. Potts, Lubbock; 3rd place, Benny Bob Hoppgood, Ropes; 4th place, Edwin Rush, Slaton.

At the time of his death he was enroute from Lubbock to San Antonio where he was to have taken a business position. He was seventeen years of age at the time of his death and had recently finished two years of college work at Texas Technological College where he had received many honors. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Wells who have lived in Slaton for many years. Mr. Wells is now working in Clovis, New Mexico.

Burial was Tuesday, March 28, at Rogers, Texas, the former home of the Wells family. He is survived by his mother, father and Berwyn Wells, a younger brother.

During the afternoon flight training of the school's cadet classes will go on uninterrupted, and visitors may observe the training in progress. Several types of Air Corps training planes will be exhibited.

War Board Says Full Allotment

Farmers of Lubbock County should plant their full cotton acreage allotments if they are equipped to do it and if such plantings will not interfere with the production of food for home use or other war crops.

In urging farmers to plant their cotton allotments, Mr. Jim P. Steele, chairman of the county USDA War Board, pointed out that the nation needs more longer staple cotton and that the Commodity Credit Corporation this year is offering greater premiums on longer staple lengths.

Shifting part of all the acreage from short to long staple cotton in areas where soils are suited to long staple production is not only good business but a patriotic contribution to total war, the chairman declared.

"We need medium and long staple cotton for use in manufacture of balloon and parachute cloth pontoons for seaplanes, and other military needs. We need more fats and oils and it's up to us to produce them," the chairman said.

The percentage of cotton planted in Lubbock county has remained while too. It is almost impossible to acquire a position without knowing typing these days. Business, social and other positions require that you be able to type if you expect to be able to take care of the responsibilities of this type of employment.

Why not take advantage of a first class business college and learn accuracy and speed in typing, shorthand and bookkeeping. You will be in demand if you attend Draughon's Business College.

ed about steady during the last four years with 95 percent of the allotment planted in 1941. The supplementary cotton program and abandonment of acres unfit for harvest, were reasons cited for the decline last year.

Lubbock County farmers should not exceed 1942 allotments and allotments will not be increased, the chairman said.

"The AAA regulations on cotton are the same. Allotments still stand. Marketing quotas still stand," he said.

Premiums will be increased on cotton 1-1/8 inches and longer in order to encourage producers to plant longer staple cotton instead of the shorter staple varieties usually planted in most of the cotton producing areas of the state.

ly 300 per cent increase over the 1941 crop.

"Peanuts are in the war for the duration because we need fats and oils we formerly imported from the Far East where the Japs are now," Mr. Steele said.

At the same time farmers are being asked to increase peanuts, they are not being asked to produce them at a financial loss, the War Board chairman said in explaining that farmers would receive a fair price for the peanuts produced.

Secretary of Agriculture Claude R. Wickard has announced that the price of U. S. No. 1 White Spanish type peanuts will be supported at not less than $82 per ton, with differentials for grades and location. "This doesn't mean all peanut farmers will receive $82 per ton, but it does mean they'll receive a fair price for what they raise," he said.

Peanut seed are available to county farmers on a cash or loan basis and may be obtained by applying at the A.C.A. Office.

"If a farmer wants credit in buying peanut seed to produce peanuts for oil, he'll sign a promissory note which is due November 1. The note can be satisfied with cash or peanuts from his 1942 production," the chairman said.

Science Says Flowers Do Not Need Vitamin

The amazing story of Vitamin B1, as told by promoters of its use for flowers and plants, is seen to be only a dream in the daylight of scientific investigation. Not justified by the evidence, is the scientific verdict upon such claims as "vitamins now discovered to work wonders with plants; tremendously successful results; 5 inch rose buds; daffodils larger than a salad plate; snapdragons 6 feet tall; vitamin B1 releases the plant food in the soil and magnifies it."

The true story of Vitamin B1 for plants and flowers is told by G. S. Fraps and J. F. Fudge in Circular 95 entitled Vitamin B1 (thiamin) and other vitamins as fertilizers. This circular can be obtained free of charge from the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station at College Station, Texas. This is summarized below.

Vitamin B1 (thiamin) has been claimed by persons interested in selling this material to produce considerable increases in plant and flower growth. Experiments conducted by qualified scientific investigators in a large number of laboratories, including that of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, have shown that in nearly all cases the application of commercial preparations of vitamin B1 (thiamin) is without value.

Pioneer Slaton Concern Developing New Fields For Products Of South Plains

Illustrated above is the RAY C. AYERS & SON PLANT, a Slaton industry that does business all over the nation. It is one of the largest concerns of its kind and when established approximately 12 years ago, was the only concern of its kind in America. Not only do they thrash all kinds of grain but they also manufacture Cattle Cubes, and a full line of mixed feeds for Cattle, Sheep and Poultry, under the trade name of AYERS' SUPREME FEEDS. The mixed feed is a new industry with this firm which has proven very popular wherever it has been introduced.

One of the most important activities of Ray C. Ayers & Son is that of Texas Cotton Oil Co., a scene of which is shown in the lower part of the illustration above. Many thousand Herefords have been fed on a commercial basis this season and a test made of 155 of these cattle head when fed Ayers Supreme Range Meal.

GOVERNMENT WANTS ALL SCRAP METALS

Industrial leaders here were today asked to co-operate in a southwest-wide industrial scrap collection campaign to help the War Production Board to "get in the scrap."

Announcement of the co-ordination of all southwestern industrial scrap collection activities and appointment of George C. Gibbons of Dallas as their regional director was received here today from Geo. T. Weymouth, chief of the WPB's industrial salvage section in Washington. The southwestern industrial scrap program will use chambers of commerce, trade associations and other bodies already prepared to help their members collect and move the scrap metals and rubber now needed for the nation's war program.

Mr. Gibbons is executive vice-president of the Texas Mid-Continental Oil and Gas Association which has just sponsored a Texas petroleum industry scrap drive which netted over 65,000,000 pounds of scrap. Serving the government as a dollar-a-year man, he will continue his association duties in addition.

The campaign of local industries to collect the scrap from their own plants supplements the general domestic salvage drive now under way, Mr. Gibbons emphasized in a statement accompanying the announcement.

"In many places, this work is already well under way. In others, it will be organized at once through the chamber of commerce, trade bodies and other groups. The campaign does NOT conflict in any way with the general domestic scrap drives. In fact, it will supplement these so as to get large quantities of scrap back to the mills needing it, in the shortest possible time."

Heads of industries here and throughout the southwestern states are being asked to see that all the scrap metals and rubber now at their own plants, yards and other properties are gathered and sold to scrap-dealers. The government has requested that the scrap NOT be donated, but sold to established scrap-buyers, Mr. Gibbons stressed.

MIDLAND HAS THE LARGEST BOMBARDIER BASE IN THE WORLD

High over the flat gray plains of oil-rich West Texas America is training the young men who will carry the war to the enemy.

You'll be reading about them in the newspapers soon. You'll see their names in the headlines.

They are "The Hell from Heaven Men," the bombardiers.

Midland Army Flying School, "home" for the duration of their trailing period, is the greatest bombardier training base in the world today. From its maze of airport runways an endless procession of silver, twin-motored bombardier training planes goes roaring off on practice missions day and night.

What the bombardiers study in their classrooms and the huge training hangers is as secret as the workings of the bombsight itself. Each cadet is sworn to reveal nothing of the training he receives. "Don't talk" is more than a slogan for the bombardiers. It is an unbroken rule.

In the air, they put into practice the theories of ground school. Their flying classrooms are especially designed bombardier training planes, the AT-11's. Swift-flying, twin-motored ships, the AT-11's carry four men—pilot, bombardier instructor and two students. From the bombardier training planes thousands of practice missiles are rained down daily on the platter-like targets.

Bomb hits, from which the bombardier's grade in the course is determined, are checked from spotting towers on the bombing ranges, and recorded by aerial cameras from the planes. Loosing their bombs from heights of 100 to 18000 feet, the tyro bombardiers learn and practice every phase of their business, bringing the targets under their sights day and night, under all sorts of conditions.

THERE'S a lot of talk about capital punishment every time some bozo that has killed three policemen and their wives and kids gets himself condemned to death. If the case is notorious enough, everybody quits talking about the case and talks about whether capital punishment is right or wrong.

Well, there was a lot of this discussion around the country lately. I heard about a woman that was called up for jury service, and she had been hearing the talk. She stood up when her name was called, and said: "I can't serve. I'm opposed to capital punishment!"

"That has nothing to do with the case you are called for," said the judge. "This is where a woman is suing her husband for damages because he is alleged to have called her a loquacious old bore in the presence of her friends."

"Oh, well," says the woman. "I'll serve then. Capital punishment is sometimes justified, I'll have to admit."

Our Weekly Sermon—

What Christ's Resurrection Says to Us Today

By the Rev. Will H. Houghton, D. D., President, Moody Bible Institute, Chicago

Man did the worst he could when Christ was crucified. Jesus Christ had claimed to be the only begotten Son of God—and for that claim He was nailed to the cross.

When Jesus was arrested, many thought that would be the end of the new teaching. But the way of Christ became more dynamic and challenging after His death than during His life. All men found themselves forced to take sides. Whatever may be the division over His teachings or the indifference in regard to His example, His death and resurrection admit of no neutrality. They demand identification with Him, a living Person, or deliberate denial of Him. The resurrection brought God actively into the thing—and when God moves His arm, man had better heed. The resurrection was God's blanket approval of all that Christ had claimed to be.

Ordinary observance of Easter will not do. Fashion parades are unintelligent. Symbols in spring and flowers and rabbits are trivial. Much of the worship and music are mere mockery. Jesus Christ is too big for patronage. If the resurrection of Christ is not a fact, then let us cast Easter aside; but if it is a fact—and it is—let us refuse to be satisfied with externals; let us fall at His feet with one of old and cry, "My Lord and my God."

The apostle Paul, who was about the same age as Jesus, understood well the value of the cross and the empty tomb. He had once hated and persecuted Christians; he had mocked at the cross and resurrection. But Paul met the living Christ and was transformed. From that moment he was concerned that men one by one should meet Jesus Christ and know the power of His resurrection. Paul seems to say that God has stored up treasures of wisdom and power which are released to men in Jesus Christ through His death and resurrection.

Hear me, young people, who have already discovered the impermanent character of human existence; hear me, middle aged, you who have lived long enough to be ashamed of the past and afraid of the future; hear me, you whose feet are going with increasing pace down the hill toward life's sunset; Life for the believer in Christ only begins here. Do you want to know of the life that has no end? Jesus Christ is that life. It is written, "He that believeth on the Son of God hath everlasting life." And I declare to you, it is possible for each one of you to know this Christ as your personal Saviour, Lord, and shalt believe in thine heart that God hath raised him from the dead, thou shalt be saved" (Rom. 10: 9, 10).

To our Easter Prayer this year, let us add a very special prayer for America's legions of men in uniform. For those who are far from home in defense of our faith and civilization.

The work of the Churches in the coming year and the years to come will be of vital importance to the world, to our nation and to you as an individual, your active participation in the work of your Church is more important now than ever before in the history of the world.

GO TO CHURCH EASTER AND EVERY SUNDAY.

YOU CAN'T STOP A TORNADO

You can prevent fires by being careful; you can fight them after they are started. However, no amount of prevention will prevent a TORNADO or WINDSTORM; nor can either be stopped once it has started. TORNADOES and WINDSTORMS come at all seasons of the year and in all parts of the country. Your only defense is INSURANCE to pay for the DAMAGE they cause, to your property. TORNADOES and WINDSTORM INSURANCE is one of the cheapest, yet one of the necessary, forms of INSURANCE for home owners, merchants—in fact, anyone who owns property. Buy your TORNADO and WINDSTORM INSURANCE NOW before the storm hits and destroys your property. A lot of protection costs very little.

Supply Of Cotton Seed Very Short

The supply of seed cotton for 1942 planting in Texas is spotty, according to M. C. Jaynes, cotton work specialist of the A. and M. College Extension Service. Most of the geographical divisions of the state probably will be self-sustaining, and a few may have some seed to spare for other areas, while in the remainder the situation generally is classified as "bad."

Based upon information assembled by the Texas Cotton Crushers Association, Jaynes says that sufficient seed has been brought in for several plantings in the cotton counties of the Panhandle.

The situation in the south plains seems bad and more seed is needed. The El Paso area needs more SXP seed, but has some of other varieties which may be made available to other areas by the middle of May or June 1.

In the northwestern counties, Motley and Dickens eastward to Montague and Wise, there may be sufficient seed to plant, Jaynes says, but there is not enough of high germination. In the northern blacklands area from Hill County to the Red River, however, the situation looks "fairly good," and there appears to be enough seed for at least one planting. Some gin-run seed is available for other areas.

The western portion of the middle blacklands area will need more seed if it is necessary to plant seed, tested 79 to 83 percent, culled more than twice. Some gin-run and re-cleaned, may be available for other areas. Southward to Travis and Hays and eastward to Houston and Anderson counties, sufficient seed is indicated. There appears to be sufficient seed available in the south central counties. Southeastern counties, with some exceptions, seem to have sufficient seed. Part of the Rio Grande Valley counties have sufficient for at least one, possible two, plantings.

Nautical and nice is this SUPPER LOAF

by Dorothy Greig

FISHERMEN say that the tuna is a doughy fighter, a game fish to land. You would never guess it, though, when you meet him, canned, in your own kitchen. For out of the can he comes, in flavor meek and mild, the pieces smooth, meaty and cooperative.

Tuna fish is used as the basis for this nourishing supper loaf. That rich chicken flavor? Oh, for that we took condensed chicken soup and mixed it through the tuna and other ingredients. Then we patted the mixture into a pan and into the oven it went, to come out a firm loaf that is as delicious as it is sustaining:

Tuna-Chicken Loaf
1 can condensed chicken soup
1 can tuna fish (7 oz. size)
1 1/2 cups soft bread crumbs
1 tablespoon pimiento, chopped
1 tablespoon parsley, chopped
2 eggs

Strain the rice, celery and chicken from the chicken soup. Combine them with the tuna fish (over which has been poured a cupful of hot water to remove excess oil) and put through the food chopper using the small blade. Then mix the tuna fish with the soft bread crumbs, chicken soup, chopped pimiento, parsley and eggs. Put into a buttered loaf pan and bake in a moderate oven (350°) 45-60 minutes or until firm. Garnish with parsley potato balls. Serves 4.

Briggs Robertson is telling a story about a negro who was called up for physical examination for the army. Before reporting he complained of having many infirmities and felt sure that he would not be accepted. After his examination he appeared more forlorn than ever.

"What did they do to you," he was asked.
"De man axed me if I could see him and I said 'Yes suh.' Den he axed me if I could hear him and I said 'Yes suh,' den he said 'Good yeh'll take you.'"

Dr. W. E. Payne has a letter that he claims was mailed to J. H. Brewer, our local Draft Board member, by a woman whose husband has been inducted. Here is the letter:

Dear Mr. Headquarters:
My husband was inducted into the surface long months ago and I ain't received no pay from him since he was gone. Please send me my elopement as I have a four months old baby and he is my only support and I kneed it every day to buy food and keep us enclosed. I am a poor woman and all that I have is at the front. Both sides of my parents are very old and I can't suspect anything from them. My husband is in charge of a spittoon. Do I get any more than I am going to get? Please send me a letter and tell me if my husband made application for a wife and child and please send a wife form to fill out. I have already written to Mr. Roosevelt and get no answer and if I don't hear from you, I will write Uncle Sam about you and him.

Very truly
Mrs. Paul Smith
P. S. My husband says he sets in the Y.C.C.A. every nite with the piano playing in his uniform. I think you can find him there.

Last week while listlessly stirring the dirt around a lilac bush I turned up an angle worm, which stirred the iron, or perhaps it was lead, in my blood. The fishing fever got me and I dropped my hoe, went into the house and dug out my tackle box. It was in a mess, so I straightened it out and went back to the lilac bush, turned over another hoe full of dirt and uncovered another angle worm which, disturbed my soul again, so I gave up and went into the house to read Collier's weekly. The first thing I turned to was "How to Catch Trout." After reading the article I am convinced the man who wrote it had very little knowledge on how to catch fish; he had been digging around a lilac bush and turned over an angle worm which gave him his inspiration.

Just what it is about a hunting and fishing magazine that makes a man lie on a couch with his heels hung over the chandelier is hard to analyze. As for myself I have never hunted bears in Alaska or fished for tarpon in the Gulf. I have no hopes or intentions of doing so, but I diligently read through page after page of the most insipid description on how to creep up on a grizzly or what kind of grappling hook should be used to snare a tarpon. The writers who go into detail about the kind of nigger fishing that I do ramble on for page after page on how the tackle box should be packed or what weight leader should be used when these small details mean nothing when the fish are striking and still less when they are not in the mood to take food. Most of the "hokey" in the magazines about fishing and hunting is pure slush but I am beginning to feel the hunger for a good long-winded page or two that starts out "On a blustery morning in March we started out from the cabin, Tolliver Cat Fish Calkins, who was to be our guide, and I. The trail led down to the waters edge through the cat tails and we could see, etc., etc."

There is something inspiring about watching a showing of farm animals. It makes no difference where you put a hog or a cow they do not lose their composure and dignity, they do not let small matters get their digestion all out of order nor do they drive themselves to extreme exertion when the occasion does not call for it, but to watch the people at these shows or anywhere else is to wonder whether we are as far advanced in mental equipment as we think we are. At a time like this when all the world is in a turmoil it might be a good idea to go out and take a few lessons from the farm animals.

The light fixers who have been experimenting with the signal light on the corner of Ninth street on the highway to Lubbock have not only gotten the through town traffic all befuddled but now have the home town residents so mixed up that none of us know whether the light is supposed to be working or not. One day it is doing its duty and the next it has gone hay-wire again and now it is just a toss-up whether to stop, look, listen, go on through or back up and drive around the block.

Mrs. T. J. Settle and those who took part in International Night as well as the show for the Postal Employees deserve honor for composing and presenting a performance that would be a credit to any community large or small. When nearly two hundred men whose feet are covered with bunions will go into hysterics over a performance as the Postal Employees did then I say we really put on a show. Let's have some more good ones like it.

The boys down at the Santa Fe Machine Shops have a few more stiff thumbs and an extra Charley Horse or two but they are beginning to look like a real Soft Ball team and if they are half as good as they say they are then Slaton should have at least one good team. The Santa Fe men want some competition and are daring any group of men, women or children to come out to the soft ball field to meet them.

Although I have not let my whiskers grow down to my lower vest pocket, I still feel a little like a prophet. Not long ago I said that the tire shortage and the curtailment of many lines of merchandise would help business in the smaller communities. From all appearances around Slaton, business is getting better every day. There were more cars on the streets last Saturday and all of the week days than there has been at this time of the year for many many seasons. The merchants report business to be improving and we have more business property and residential property filled than in many, many years. Pass me my glass ball, I wanna take another look into the crystal.

"Slaton has one of the best civic centers of any town I know," says W. L. Scudder, "in the Slaton Club House and the beautiful grounds surrounding it, but there is one thing that I believe would be a great improvement to the Club house and that is a stage, or at least, a platform in the main auditorium. There are a great many artists who perform at the Club House and it is very difficult to see any performance from the rear of the house."

Laughing Around the World
With IRVIN S. COBB

The Disturbing Element
By IRVIN S. COBB

THE terrible tempered Mr. Pepper came home from business in an especially irritated frame of mind. The supper did not suit him; news of what had gone on in the household, as detailed by his patient wife, served only to put an added edge upon his frown.

Through long experience, Mrs. Pepper knew the signs. In an effort to avert a storm, or at least in the hope of not being present when it burst, she hurried the children off to bed and then set out for a call upon one of the neighbors, leaving Mr. Pepper in his favorite chair—if he had any favorite chair—with the library lamp placed where the light would fall just over his left shoulder and with the evening paper across his lap.

But Mr. Pepper declined to be soothed. A student of psychology would have said he registered disappointment. Everything was so peaceful and calm. There was no one within earshot with whom he might find fault.

As listlessly he took up the newspaper, a very small kitten came silently in through the half-open door. As it crept across the floor toward him, Mr. Pepper, with the manner of one driven beyond control, flung the sheet from him and in a voice of thunder roared at the offending creature:

"What the devil do you mean by stamping in here like that!"

Officials of Mexico and the United States joined with railway executives in the celebration at Juarez, Mexico, recently of the 58th anniversary of operation of the first passenger train between Mexico City and Chicago.

International solidarity and friendship were keynotes of talks made by federal and railway officials who hailed the first train over the National Railway of Mexico and the Santa Fe as a forerunner of a lasting friendship and social friendship. The occasion cordially was emphasized.

Speakers and honored guests included J. M. Benitez, of the National Railways; E. P. Dudley, assistant general manager of the Santa Fe Western Lines; Mayor Antonio Bermudez of Juarez; Harria Walthall, representing Mayor Anderson of El Paso; Gen. J. Jaimie Quinones, in charge of the Mexican military department of the Northern District; W. P. Blocker, American consul general in Juarez; and Adrian Pool of the U. S. Treasury Department.

Afiesta followed the historical ceremonies in Juarez.

The Santa Fe System carloadings for the week ending March 28, 1942, were 21,639 compared with 19,091 for the same week in 1941. Received from connections were 8,906 compared with 7,171 for the same week in 1941. The total cars moved were 30,545 compared with 26,262 for the same week in 1941. The Santa Fe handled a total of 30,630 cars during the preceding week of this year.

The New Roll of Honor

Condensed from April Cosmopolitan

SECOND LIEUTENANT
GEORGE S. WELCH
U. S. Army (Air Corps)

MAJOR
EMMETT O'DONNELL, JR.
U. S. Army (Air Corps)

Even before that fateful December seventh, Lieutenant George Welch liked guns. He was practicing ground gunnery early that morning. When the first Jap bomb blasted Wheeler Field, it was ten miles to Haleiwa, where his own squadron was stationed. With Ken Taylor, another Army pilot, he dove it in six minutes, with Jap planes strafing their ear.

At Haleiwa, he took off with ylor zooming behind him. Twelve my dive-bombers swept in over a thousand feet below Welch and his comrade. Welch dove, Jap acers all but boxing him in. His heavier guns were dead, but he cut in the 30 calibers, swung onto the nearest dive-bomber. In a single burst, he killed the gunner, dropped the plane out of control.

With one gun jammed, he pulled into the clouds. Reversing his course, he dove back, shot a fleeing Jap plane down into the sea. By now his gun belt was empty and he raced back to reload at Haleiwa.

As he took off again, fifteen Jap planes came after them. Seeing Taylor trapped, Welch charged into the Jap formation. Taylor's attacker went down in flames. Another dive-bomber was fleeing seaward when Welch caught it with the last of his bullets.

There were fourteen Japs above Legaspi in the Philippines until they met "Rosie" O'Donnell. When the big Air Corps bomber came out of the clouds, O'Donnell was at the controls. Twelve miles ahead, offshore, lay the target—four Jap transports. Twelve miles—and fighters swarming in, guns blazing.

With pursuit-pilot skill, he banked the big ship, splitting the nearest Jap flight. Two of his gunners converged their fire, and a fighter spun down in flames. Five more fighters cut in, and bullets tore through sides of the bomber. Again O'Donnell reversed his turn, barely avoiding collision. His wounded gunners clung to their weapons—and two more Jap planes went down.

The remaining Japs sheered off. O'Donnell swung back to his target through a storm of antiaircraft fire. The bombs flashed down. Two direct hits on crowded transports, then back through another attack. A fourth fighter fell to pilot-crew teamwork, before a perilous landing on bullet-gashed tires.

"RICH FOR PRESIDENT" with JIMMY LYDON and June Preisser. "I'll get elected if I have to kiss every baby in town," says Henry, "and if I'm elected I'll kiss every baby in town." He's out to get the feminine vote and it looks as if he's doing allright. Showing Friday and Saturday, April 10-11.

BING CROSBY, MARY MARTIN, BRIAN DONLEVY, CAROLYN LEE and ROCHESTER in "BIRTH OF THE BLUES" coming April 12-13. "Tiger Rag," "Waiting at the Church," "At a Georgia Camp Meeting," "Memphis Blues," and many many others are sung in this musical of musicals.

We must call special attention to the State Theatres April 1-18 program. The western features GENE AUTRY in "SIERRA SOLE," singing songs like "I Don't Want to Set the World On Fire" and their popular quartets. The second feature is "30, 000, 000."

FAT STOCK SHOW IN LULBE

Lubbock is the site of the top quality livestock from 30 counties—27 in Texas and 3 in New Mexico—will be on exhibit at the twelfth annual Junior Fair show in this city, April 6, 7, and 8.

Jobsen, Lubbock county agent and general superintendent of the exhibit, and Vernice Ford, finance committee chairman, had a large number of Lubbock business and professional men working on various details of the affair for several weeks, and all arrangements for a successful show are complete.

Animals entered in the various divisions will be sold for prizes and cash awards will be distributed to the boys owning the winners.

On account of air conditions, the downtown parade hereof is a feature of the show has been cancelled. Several entertainments will be provided for the club boy exhibitors.

A total of 1,074,506 life insurance policies were paid as death claims during 1941.

During 1941, life insurance companies purchased more than $800,000,000 of bonds of factories and industrial plants of America, 35 per cent more than in 1940 and twice the 1939 total.

You Certainly CAN AFFORD

Get the TRUE facts about the low cost of Electric Cooking... the real cost is much less than you think! Many a homemaker who has switched to Electric Cooking has found that her cooking costs are actually LESS than she had ever expected.

Electric Cooking!

Here's a real value! An Electric Range is not only easy to OWN—it's easy and economical to USE! For surface cooking you can choose the RIGHT heat—and the most economical heat.

In the big ovens, current is used only a few minutes out of each hour to maintain average baking and roasting temperatures.

You can cook a complete meal for five people in the large Deep-Well Cooker for about one cent.

Porcelain finish, generous storage space and many other convenient features make an Electric Range an outstanding BARGAIN VALUE!

Texas-New Mexico Utilities Company

About "once in a blue moon" you add a quart

Authorities insist: CHANGE OIL FOR SPRING. And you can insist on this oil that outlasted five other big quality brands by far. Not one came nearer than 56% of its mileage!

DOWN where the desert slew gold-hunters—down where 100° heat is "cool"—down in Death Valley six cars streaked. All were alike... all ran till wrecked. All started with 5-quart fills of oil—locked in. All conditions were alike—certified. Five cars—five boasted brands of oil—went as dead as the cattle skulls in the sands, while the other oil still had quarts to go!

That was Conoco Nth motor oil, which can refill your crankcase today with the Nth degree of mileage and engine endurance. Changing from weakened Winter leftovers to Conoco Nth gives your engine OIL-PLATING for Spring. And OIL-PLATING is closely fastened all over inner engine parts as if "magnetized" against all draining back down to the crankcase. Bonded in place—even on straight-up surfaces—even overnight—OIL-PLATING can cut down the raw rubbing of precious parts during starting and running.

That's all against hollowing out your engine till it eats too much oil, and may demand replacements that are getting scarcer. But another big thing is to keep the oil itself in shape. And Conoco Nth oil—at a popular price—comes to you with Thialkene inhibitor... the modern synthetic developed to check or inhibit effects that would otherwise degenerate your oil.

The science of it is a long story, but the mileage is a thousand times longer, and Death Valley proved it. So can you by changing today for Spring, at Your Mileage Merchant's Conoco station. Continental Oil Company

Pep Easter Nests Made In Ten Minutes

Chief charm of these delightful, crunchy nests is the speed with which they can be turned out! But take note—they require no sugar. Milk chocolate, Pep cereal and jelly beans are the only ingredients. Happily, the cereal is vitamin-enriched so that these attractive Easter sweets have a "god-for-you-ness" as well. The recipe follows.

Make Your Own Easter Sweets Minus Sugar

NOT even a sugar ration card can stop the Easter bunny this year! It's the time to follow loved traditions rather than discard them. And for youngsters, Easter, next to Christmas, is the gayest, happiest day of the whole year.

But if Easter sweets are to be made at home they'll have to be turned out without benefit of sugar. Actually, that's no chore. Here are three dainties: Pep Easter Nests (pictured above); Marshmallow Dream Candy, and Maple All-Brain Creams.

Pep Easter Nests
¾ pound milk chocolate
¾ cup Pep, vitamin enriched wheat flakes
½ pound egg-shaped jelly beans

Melt chocolate over hot but not boiling water; stir in Pep, vitamin enriched wheat flakes. Place tablespoonfuls of mixture on wax paper and form into shape of a nest. Allow chocolate to harden. Fill nests with colored jelly beans to represent eggs. (Use as favors.)

Yield: 10 nests (2½-inch diameter).

Marshmallow Dream Candy
12 marshmallows, ½ cup broken nut cut in quarters
1 pound sweet or dipping chocolate, melted

Arrange marshmallows and nuts in greased pan; cover with melted chocolate. When cool cut in squares. Approximate yield: 15 pieces.

Maple All-Brain Creams
1½ cups maple syrup
½ cup cream
¼ cup chopped nuts

Place the maple syrup, cream and salt in a saucepan and stir until blended. Cover the pan for one minute so that steam will wash sugar crystals from side of pan. Cook slowly to 236° F. or until a soft ball forms when a little of the mixture is dropped in cold water. Pour on a cold wet platter and cool to lukewarm. Work the mixture with a spatula, folding it over and over until it begins to grow firm. Knead with the hands until smooth and creamy. Form into balls the size of a large hickory nut and roll in bran which has been crushed and mixed with nutmeats. Yield: 15 candies (¾-inch in diameter).

SHOWN ABOVE is Peg Moreland, one of the oldest radio performers in the nation from the standpoint of service. He will accompany the "Victory Special" from Dallas to Slaton and add color to the entertainment which the Dallas delegation will stage here Wednesday, April 22.

tributed evenly and won't be bought up by hoarders. Moreover, the WPB forbade tea packers from selling more than 50 per cent of their monthly deliveries in a corresponding quarter of 1941, while wholesalers and retailers were than 50 per cent of their average prohibited from accepting more monthly purchases during 1941. Thus consumer purchases of tea are automatically cut in half, and the six months' supply is stretched to a year's supply.

WPB also acted to conserve present stocks of honey for household consumers, for military purposes, and for industrial users. It found that some manufacturers had become heavy purchasers of honey as a sugar substitute. So WPB ordered that manufacturers of such products as ice cream, candy, soft drinks, bakery goods and medicines may not consume more honey than they used during corresponding periods of 1941. Users of small amounts may consume up to 60 pounds without restriction.

New OPA orders have fixed retail prices ceilings on new mechanical refrigerators, new vacuum cleaners and attachments, new heating and cooking stoves and ranges, new radio sets and phonographs, and new typewriters—in addition to the orders already in effect on automobiles and tires. Moreover, gasoline prices have been pegged in 19 States.

Thus price control becomes this week a matter of direct and personal interest to millions of citizens.

WPB Region Set-Up

The War Production Board started plans in motion this week to bring the Production Drive even closer to home in the Southwest for both manufacturers and the various district procurement officials.

Among 13 region WPB offices to be set up in the nation will be one in Dallas, to serve Texas, Louisiana and Oklahoma, with branches in key cities of those States. As announced by James S. Knowlson, director of Industrial Operations, this move is another step toward decentralization of WPB activities.

As Mr. Knowlson explained this move: "Determination of policies and programs will rest with the divisions of the WPB in Washington. But as time goes on, it is expected that more and more WPB activities will be actually directed in the field, in accordance with over-all WPB policy."

Inside and Out Changes

All of us know by now that we cannot have "business as usual" and beat the Axis, too. So one of the expected changes is that all new civilian building, including residential construction and remodeling, will be placed under strict control very soon, for all projects that cannot be classified definitely as bearing directly on the war effort, or as being essential to civilian health and safety.

On May 1, the manufacture of portable electric lamps and shades for them, of electric light bulbs, switches, sockets and cords will be cut 60 per cent of the 1940 output.

Metal furniture such as beds and bathroom medicine cabinets will become harder to buy. There will be no more metal frames for windows, iron and plastics won't be available for the bathroom, and plumbing and heating installations will be different. Wood is expected to regain its popularity and utility in the making of home furnishings.
