Monday Is The Day To Change Habits

Get set, folks, and set your alarm clock Sunday night, so that you can start out one hour earlier Monday than you have for many years. Daylight saving time will effect on February 9th.

Train and Radio schedules will be changed so that no serious difficulties will arise, but there is nothing that has been suggested to take the place of that enjoyable last hour's sleep that comes just before time to get us and go to work.

All Slaton business houses have made plans to open one hour earlier than has been the custom and to close on daylight saving time. The time this section will operate under will be designated as Central Daylight Savings time.

While the change will be a new experience for the younger generation, many people will remember how the same schedule was inaugurated during the war of 1918. O' Hum, get set for Monday morning and after that, it will not be bad at all.

WILEY MUDGETT AT SHEPPARD FIELD, TEX.

Sheppard Field, Texas, Feb. 5—Private Wiley H. Mudgett, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Mudgett of 440 W. Lynn St., Slaton has enrolled in the world's largest Air Corps Technical School at Sheppard Field, Texas, where he is working toward a rating as an aviation mechanic.

Private Mudgett, attached to the 315th Technical School Squadron, began class work January 23 and is scheduled to be graduated in May. He attended San Mato Junior College.

At present, he is in the 1st phase of school and is studying the basic phase. Before he qualifies as one of the eight specialists necessary to keep one plane in the sky, he will have undergone intensive training designed to give him a complete working knowledge of the battle birds.

JANUARY TAX PAYMENTS BEST IN MANY YEARS

F. A. Drewry, secretary for the Slaton Independent Schools, reports that collection of school taxes in January was the best in the past fifteen years. Ninety-two per cent of all current taxes were paid, and many of the back taxes were taken care of.

City Manager W. T. Ward also reported the best collections of City taxes in years and that 550 poll taxes were paid here during the fifteen days that the County tax rolls were at the city hall. This does not mean, however, that only 550 poll taxes were paid by voters of this precinct, as many were paid in Lubbock before the rolls were brought here and many were also paid in Lubbock while the tax records were in Slaton.

The increase in farm revenue and the corresponding increase in business activity is given as the reason for the unusually high percentage of tax payments, as well as the fact that the state penalties were deducted on many of the old unpaid taxes.

The unusually large number of poll tax payments is a good indication that people in this vicinity are more interested in the political activities this year than is usually the case in off year elections, and does not bear out the predictions that politics will not create as much interest as usual on account of the war.

BOXING TOURNAMENT TO BE BIGGER AND BETTER THAN EVER

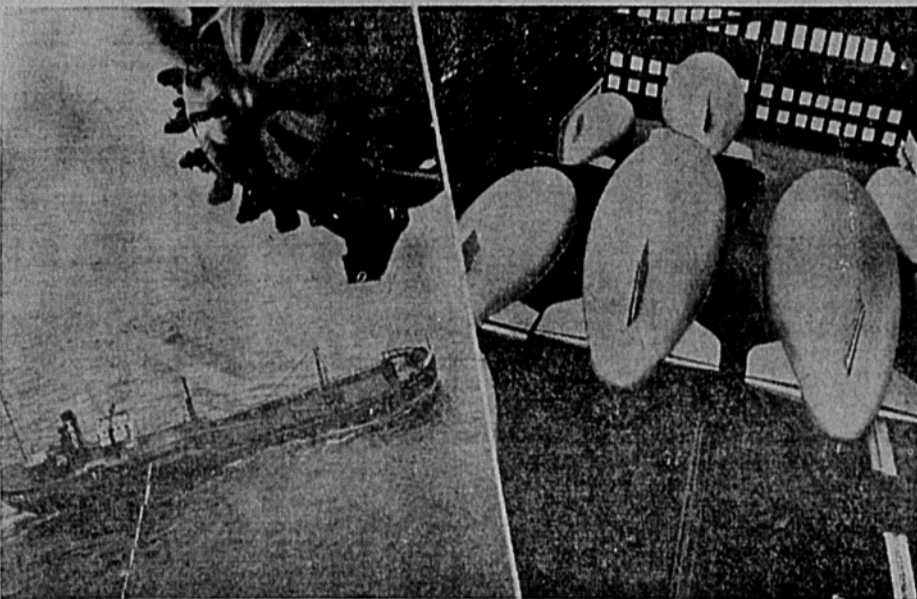

Coach Stump Hamilton is very enthusiastic over prospects for the amateur boxing tournament that is scheduled to be held at the High School auditorium Monday and Tuesday, Feb. 16th and 17th.

The coach has made a number of trips to the tournaments that have been held in other communities and has been assured that complete teams will be present from Tahoka, Lockney, Lubbock and the Air Base at Lubbock.

"We expect all the champions from the Golden Gloves Tournament in Lubbock to appear in the contests here," said Mr. Hamilton, "and from all prospects, we will have the best fighters here that we have ever had. Preparations are being made to care for capacity crowds and tickets will be on sale at once. Reservations will be sold for ringside seats and the prices will be the same as last year, except the tax will be added."

Eyes of Navy Look Down on a 'Ward'

HITCH HIKING SOLDIER IS VERY SOUND SLEEPER

The restrictions of communications between soldiers and their relatives has led to some unusual and sometimes amusing incidents.

Last week, one of the soldiers from Brownwood received an unlooked for four day furlough and decided to visit one of his cousins, who has a farm several miles south of Slaton. After an all night hitch hike from Brownwood, the soldier reached the farm and found that no one was at home, so he opened a window, crawled in and went to bed, not knowing that his cousin had moved and that a woman relative was living in the house alone.

When the woman returned during the day and found a strange man asleep in her bedroom, she called in her neighbors. The soldier was so exhausted from hitch hiking and army training that he could not be awakened and it took a lot of explaining to the deputy sheriff when he arrived and finally got the soldier aroused.

SLATON SCOUT LEADERS ATTEND BANQUET TUES.

Those active in Boy Scout work in Slaton were well represented last Tuesday evening at the meeting of the South Plains Scout Leaders in Lubbock where more than 250 Scout Leaders were addressed by Gerald Mann and witnessed the awards given active members in Boy Scout work.

Among those who attended from Slaton were Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Cherry, J. C. Jenkins, Roy Boyd, Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Welch, Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Hagerman, A. M. Jackson and Charles Reese.

The ambitious outlines for Boy Scout work for the coming year were explained which included close co-operation with all Home Defense activities.

Defense Stamps To Be Paid To School Children For Old Papers

Superintendent M. S. Kavanaugh of the Slaton Independent School District, reports that arrangements have been made to sell scrap paper of all kinds and that the school children are collecting it.

The plan that has been worked out is for each school child to get paid for the paper in defense stamps after the paper has been sold. The price now being paid for the scrap paper is 40¢ per one hundred pounds delivered here in Slaton.

Professor Jenkins of the West Ward School has accepted the responsibility of the project and will arrange for collecting the paper and requests anyone who has old magazines, newspapers or paper of any kind to phone 452 and arrangements will be made for some school child to come after it.

"This plan will help in many ways," said Mr. Kavanaugh, "it will supply the much needed defense material that the Government has asked for, it will clean up a lot of trash that is in every ones way and it will enable many children who do not have the means to buy defense bonds and stamps, to do so. By paying the children in defense stamps they will have a real incentive to gather all of this material possible and we will all feel that we are doing something worthwhile for the children, for the community and for the defense move."

The school children are also very anxious to secure old tooth paste tubes. These tubes are made of tin and can be sold by the children as scrap metal.

Now The Farmers Can Insure Crops

Insurance will take the guess out of cotton farming this year. Mr. Jim P. Steele, chairman of the Lubbock county AAA committee, announced this week.

Federal Crop Insurance Corporation has been writing wheat insurance since 1938 but cotton insurance is being offered for the first time this year, the committeeman said. Under the program, either 50 or 75 percent of the normal yield established for a farm may be covered by insurance. Mr. Steele stated that if a farmer covers his cotton crop by 75 percent insurance he will be paid for the amount by which he falls below three-fourths of a normal crop. The 50 percent contract works in the same way.

When losses are determined by the FCIC, certificates of indemnity are issued producers. The certificates may be converted into cash equivalent through FCIC, or turned over to Commodity Credit Corporation for a cotton loan on the amount of cotton represented.

Premiums for insurance contracts may be paid in cash, cotton, or deducted from payments earned under the AAA program. They also may be deducted from loss payments, if any, or cotton loans, if available.

Amounts of premiums will vary by farms, the chairman explained. (Continued on Back Page)

Employees Allotment Purchase Plan For Stamps And Bonds To Be Inaugurated By Slaton Merchants

VOLUNTEERED? IF NOT, DO SO AT ONCE

Although approximately fifty more men and women of this vicinity have registered this week at the Chamber of Commerce office as volunteers for Home Defense work, we are still very far behind other communities in showing our willingness to cooperate with this vital program.

Reports from Post are that over five hundred people have registered there and many other towns much smaller than Slaton have several hundred more names on the rolls that are shown here.

"We believe that the people of Slaton are just as patriotic as they are in other communities," said Mayor Teague, "the sale of Defense Bonds and Stamps has been gratifying but the registration of volunteers is just as important and I most urgently request the co-operation of every citizen in Slaton and surrounding communities to come in and give us the information we need to properly function as a Defense Council."

"Many people do not realize that we are in a total war," said Father O'Brien, "and that many of these moves are for our own protection. Every one should volunteer."

While there may never be any demand for the services of those who volunteer still that possibility is always present and the information that is being sought is most needed.

LUMBER DEMAND GROWS

Austin, Texas, Feb. 5—Unfilled orders for Southern lumber piled up at mills during December, as shipments fell 11 per cent and production dropped 3.7 per cent, University of Texas Bureau of Business Research reports.

Weekly production average of 293,595 board feet per unit compared with shipments of 284,992 feet per unit. Average unfilled orders at each mill, however, amounted to 1,231,622 feet, 27.6 per cent above orders a year earlier.

At a called meeting of Slaton Retail Merchants and business men at the Chamber of Commerce Office last Tuesday afternoon plans were discussed whereby the sales of Defense Stamps and Bonds could be promoted through the stores and business institutions.

The twelve men who were present were all in favor of promoting the employees allotment system in all business institutions where by employees authorize the employers to reserve a small portion of salaries each pay day for purchase of stamps and bonds. Those present were also in favor of all retail stores carrying Defense stamps for sale.

Abe Kessel and C. C. Hoffman were appointed to contact all business establishments on Texas Ave. and Lynn Street, Robert Scott and Ed Haddock for the West and South side of the Square and Horace Sanders and O. Z. Ball for the North side of the Square to secure co-operation with the plan.

All retail stores will be urged to keep a stock of Defense Stamps for sale to the public according to methods now being followed in hundreds of large and small towns in all parts of the United States.

This meeting was the second in connection with the sale of Stamps and Bonds here to meet the quota set for the Slaton district which is $240,000.00 for the year. The first meeting was held last Saturday and was attended by Briggs Robertson, M. S. Kavanaugh, J. S. Edwards, Mayor J. H. Teague and Postmaster K. L. Seudder. At this meeting those present endorsed the plan to get the merchants and business men to inaugurate the Employees allotment plan and to promote the sale of Defense Stamps and Bonds through the stores. The Citizens State Bank has reported that plans are being completed whereby Defense Stamps and Bonds can be purchased through the Bank.

Two Slaton Men Get Promotions

Reports from Goodfellow Field at San Angelo are that James F. Grinstead of Slaton, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Grinstead of Posey, has been promoted from the rank of private first class to the rank of Sergeant. Sergeant Grinstead is attached to Headquarters Squadron, 64th air base.

Notice has also been received that Perry W. Reed, son of Mr. and Mrs. (Continued on Back Page)

Reports from the public schools show that measles and mumps have developed into an epidemic. Last week better than thirty per cent of the children in the Junior High, West Ward and East Ward schools were ill with either the mumps or measles. The contagions were just beginning to develop in the lower grades this week and one teacher had more than fifty per cent of her pupils out.

While none of the cases have been severe to date, Dr. Payne, city health physician, warns all parents that great care should be taken of all children who become ill, as quite often the after results from both measles and mumps are worse than the diseases themselves and relapses from allowing the children to become active before they are completely recovered, often prove very serious.

When light cases develop, the children are restive under constraint, but Dr. Payne advises that the children be kept indoors and watched carefully.

There is danger of complications from measles that affect the eyes and ears and can cause permanent injury and in some cases, mastoid trouble develops, said Dr. Payne. He advises inspection when any child's eyes and ears become affected.

Roy Boyd, principal of the High School, says that the outbreak at the High School has been lighter than in the other schools, as many of the older children have had both measles and mumps, however, the older children who do have the diseases are usually affected more seriously and should be given most careful attention.

ROY BOYD RECEIVES LETTERS FROM BOYS IN ARMY AIR CORPS

Mr. Roy Boyd, Principal at the High School and Candidate for County School Superintendent, has received letters from four of the boys who left school just before midterm to join the Army Air Corps. Jack Cleveland, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Cleveland, is stationed at March Field, California. Luther Faulkner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Luther Faulkner, is stationed at Keesler Field, Biloxi, Mississippi. Shirley Butler, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Butler, more often referred to as "Shug", is stationed at Fort Sill, Oklahoma. Shirley writes Mr. Boyd to tell all the boys "to mind their mothers." Fred Splawn, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Splawn, is also located at Keesler Field, Biloxi, Mississippi.

JUST TALK
A.M.J.

Well dressed and overfed folks are going to be out of style before long. The big fronts that important business men have developed over a long period of time are likely to disappear and the overstuffed type of women will not have to go on a diet to control their circumference; sugar rationing will do that for them. It is going to be sad to see these same men shuffling around in drop seat pants, shirts that fit like horse collars, and the women with wrinkled stockings, or no stockings at all, and wearing skirts that droop in the back.

Just what effect sugar rationing will have on men like Howard Hoffman, L. E. Braasfield and O. D. McClintock would be hard to diagnose, but we might have to keep a bloodhound or two to find them if they get any thinner.

If trash and old papers will win the war, Slaton can almost do the job by itself. On a windy day there are enough old papers floating around in the air to carpet the moon. If we could go into partnership with Amarillo and Lubbock on pulling papers out of the air, the remainder of the nation could concentrate their efforts on something else, for on a fresh Fanhandle day you can stand most anywhere on the prairie and reach up and get a newspaper from most any city in the nation.

If I could control the wind direction, I could do away entirely with the mail service and just dump the Slatonites out the front door during the spring months and let the wind deliver them.

Who said, "It's nothing but trash, anyway"?

If you are looking for two men who wear neither suspenders nor belts, in other words, if you are looking for two optimists, just drop into Crow-Harral Chevrolet Company and ask for O. O. Crow, or at the Palace of Eats and page Vasker Browning.

They drove six hundred miles last week to go fishing, did not catch a single fish and now they are planning on another trip. A check up shows that neither Mrs. Crow nor Mrs. Browning like fish, they won't clean a fish and are set against cooking fish. That's what I call cooperation.

I'm still thinking about the many advantages Grandpa had over us modern day up and at 'em boys. Especially convenient was the old uncles beard and whiskers. It was handy to pull on when in medication, it covered many flaws in facial construction, such as double action open throttle Adam's apple, receding chin, hairlips and buck teeth. There was one old cowman in Amarillo who used to tuck his beard in his shirt and use it as a kind of undershirt. He said it was warm in the winter and cool in the summer; a kind of insulation, as it were. He is dead now and maybe where he needs insulation.

To save material, the tailors are going to make pants without a cuff around the bottom and the legs are to be considerably tighter. This will make it very inconvenient. While cuffs on the bottom of my pants do not add greatly to my debonair appearance, they do serve as very handy hiding places from my wife. They are particularly nice to slip a nickel or dime into just before going to bed at night. Of course, these cuffs do gather up a lot of burnt matches, rocks and some scrap metal, but the money is usually easy to find when you get down to the restaurant and out of the danger zone for a cup of coffee. The restaurant owners usually kick some when the debris is dumped in to the middle of the floor, but such are the trials of restaurant operators.

As to making pants tighter around the legs, that is a more serious matter. It will cause every man in the nation to have to change his habits. It is hard enough now to put on a pair of pants with your shoes on, but if they make pants tighter, it just can't be done. As for myself, I am in favor of doing like the Scotch and go to wearing kilts, or bring back the old Roman toga, either one of these garments might offer many desirable hiding places never available in just an ordinary pair of pants.

Warning! Look out for women riding bicycles. They are more dangerous than a drunk man in an automobile. The best idea is to climb a tree or telephone post. Mrs. Dick Ragsdale, Mrs. Roy Mack, Mrs. Tess Bruner and Mrs. Louie Ares are all weaving and swaying around the town in reckless abandon and with sympathy for none. Take to the tall timber if you have any hopes for the future or want to live long enough to see the end of the war.

While the results might not be as damaging, the danger of getting smacked down by a bicycle is getting greater every minute, as the new and inexperienced riders careen down the streets. And it takes a different kind of technique to dodge a bicycle.

When a two hundred pound woman comes snaking down the avenue with arms and legs thrashing the air and screaming at the top of her voice, you must remain collected, close your eyes and start praying. Whether she knocks you out or just breezes by, it will be your fault. You should boast her up from the entangling alliances of telephone posts and things that she has collided with. You will probably get your face slapped for getting in the way, but it is always best to remember to be a gentleman.

The war between the daily newspapers and the radio for the interest of the public in world news events has the daily newspapers in about the same shape as the English are in at Singapore. The radio gets the events so far in advance of the paper that each day's headlines sound like a report of Dewey at Manila. Even an extra edition is like cold potatoes or warmed over coffee and the daily newspapers will sooner or later have to follow the lead of the weeklies and depend upon more local news for reader interest.

It is quite sad to look over the papers and see their feeble effort to put life into war news that the radio has been blaring over the air for hours and hours and even the radio announcers strain themselves for hoary to scream about for fifteen minutes at a time, repeating day after day, the same accounts that they have told for a week at a time until everyone, including themselves, is so addled mentally that we are all going to be cutting out paper dolls in the near future.

Water, light and gas bills are like crossword puzzles to me. I have never figured one of them out yet. Quite often I have gone to the water, light and gas offices and tried to persuade the dictators who collect these bills, that perhaps some of the meters they use might have slipped a little on addition in counting out watts, feet of gas and gallons of water, but up to date I have never found one that would admit that a meter could go haywire, and until I do, I have no hope that an after the war peace will be evolved from the present conflict; we'll still have dictators among us.

Do you ever sit and think of the good things that you used to get to eat when you were a kid? How I would enjoy a big bowl of gumbo soup, made with garden tomatoes, calico butter beans, okra, sweet corn, and served with spoon cornbread. And I never will forget the little teacakes that our next door neighbor used to make, as thin as my pocketbook and as crisp as my old maid aunt's front curls. Just one good bite in each cake and I could eat a hundred at one sitting, and those little second growth tomatoes that came late in the fall, that were full of seed and squirted juice in your eye, and hot tamale pie that my mother used to make that was served so hot that it raised blisters on my tongue and rice pudding made with raisins in it; but why go on?—none of these things would taste as good now, if I could get them, for my capacity is not nearly as great as it was "way back when".

A boy came home from school one day and asked: "Pop, how much is a billion dollars?"

And his dad replied: "It's a helluva lot of money."

The next day the boy came home from school crying, and the father asked, "What is the matter, son?"

"That wasn't the right answer," the boy replied.

ter vanity, and are become vain? . . . Wherefore, I will yet plead with you, saith the Lord . . . For my people have committed two evils; they have forsaken me the fountain of living waters, and hewed them out cisterns, broken cisterns, that can hold no water." (2:5, 9, 13).

Notice that the Lord did not forsake them, but they forsook Him. And this, too, without cause. Is not God the same today as when you came to Him first? Has God changed? Men are apt to think that God has changed, but the fault is with them. Backslider, I would ask you, What iniquity is there in God, that you have left Him and gone far from Him? You have, He says, hewed out to yourselves broken cisterns that hold no water. No earthly well can satisfy the soul that has become a partaker of the heavenly nature. Earthly wells will get dry. They cannot quench spiritual thirst.

In verse 32 we read: "Can a maid forget her ornaments, or a bride her attire? Yet my people have forgotten me days without number."

That is the charge which God brings against the backslider. I have often startled a young woman by saying, "My friend, you think more of your earrings than of the Lord." The reply has been, "No, I do not." But when I have asked, "Would you not be troubled if you lost one; and would you not set about seeking for it?" the answer has been, "Well, yes, I think I should." But though she has turned from the Lord, it did not give her any trouble; nor did she seek after Him that she might find Him.

The most tender and loving words to be found in the whole of the Bible are from Jehovah to those who have left Him without a cause: "Thine own wickedness shall correct thee, and thy backslidings shall reprove thee: know therefore and see that it is an evil thing and bitter, that thou hast forsaken the Lord thy God, and that my fear is not in thee, saith the Lord God of hosts" (Jer. 2:19).

I do not know of any one verse more used to bring back wanderers than that one. May it bring YOU back if you have wandered into the far country.

Our Weekly Sermon—

(The following sermon, an abridgement of one appearing in "The Way to God," is presented this week to mark the 105th anniversary of the great evangelist's birth, Feb. 5.)

Text: "I will heal their backsliding, I will love them freely: for mine anger is turned away from him."—Hosea 14:4.

Nothing will do backsliders so much good as to come in contact with the Word of God. They have got away from the good old Book. Adam and Eve fell by not hearkening to the word of God. They did not believe God's word; but they believed the tempter. That is the way backsliders fall—by turning away from the word of God.

The book of Jeremiah has some wonderful passages for the wanderer. In chapter two we find God pleading as a father would plead with a son. "Thus saith the Lord, 'What iniquity have your fathers found in me, that they are gone from me, and have walked af-

MOTHER CUSTER. (Contributed)

There is no one like mother, Never a pal, like she, And never a heart ache, like giving her up. The terrible loneliness, that will be. But O thank God for memory. Nothing can take that away. The many thing she did for us, day after day. The little home cant be the same. And humble tho it may be, Every where we turn, at work, the touch of her hand we see. So just at dawn of a wind swept day. The death Angel came through the door. And said, "To she who has suffered so much, I'll take her home, where she'll suffer no more." And now we ask God to give us strength, to bear, The awful loneliness here. That fills our hearts at such great loss, Of our precious mother, so dear, I want us to let your sweet clean life, Be to us our guiding star, and surely, dear mother, we can never stray From the path of right, far. We all love you so much, dear mother, Our children will miss you so, But may we teach them the thing you would teach, To be ready when their time comes, to go.

To The Voters Of Lubbock County

ED. D. ALLEN

It is with a great deal of pleasure and satisfaction that I have this opportunity of thanking the people of Lubbock County, who have voted for me, worked with me, and supported me in my years of public service.

In asking again that you vote for me, as your County Clerk, it is with full knowledge that we are facing perhaps the greatest emergency in the history of our Country—a time when the people should work together in complete unity and cooperation, both among the Civilians and those in Public service during these trying times. The years I have served, afford me experience that is so essentially necessary, and at all times, I have endeavored to employ experienced help, and those who know how to deal with the public, and how to treat them with courtesy and consideration. Assuring you of my hearty cooperation, and thanking you in advance for your help and support at the coming Primary, I am Your Friend and Public Servant, ED. D. ALLEN, County Clerk.

Important Information Concerning Defense

Orders designed to prevent excessive or abnormal inventories of direct consumption (refined) sugar by wholesalers, jobbers, and industrial users have been issued by the OPM. Thus it is intended to assure normal supplies for home and industrial consumption. Under the order, industrial users, jobbers and wholesale receivers will be allowed normal one-month stock comparable with the corresponding month of 1940. The order freezes present stocks in excess of 60 days' supply, and prevents acceptance of deliveries that would increase stocks in excess of a 30-day supply.

First Meeting of War Labor Board

ply. Intention of the order is to prevent possible hoarding or speculation.

Utilization of old flashlights by having them repaired, instead of purchase of new, is urged by Leon Henderson, Director of Civilian Supply, OPM. Millions of flashlights in the possession of 70 per cent of American's families apparently have been forgotten, tucked away in attics and cellars, Mr. Henderson said. Needless purchase of new flashlights when the old can be repaired results in a costly drain on critical materials and plastics, he said.

Purchase of new materials for blackout purposes is discouraged by OPM. Sufficient substitute articles can be found in most homes. For blackouts, the OPM suggests that windows and glass doors be covered with such things as rugs, blankets, quilts, carpets, draperies or overcoats—IF lights in specified rooms are required.

Fifty pounds of waste paper a month from every American home is the goal in the OPM salvage campaign. Newspapers, magazines, wrapping paper and old boxes should be saved and bundled for salvage. These may be given to charitable or waste dealers. Local defense councils and committees are being asked to organize local salvage committees to GET IN THE SCRAP. Waste dealers will sell that salvaged waste paper, scrap metals, old rags, and old rubber get back into production for war use. Communities having no waste dealers should locate their nearest dealer or assist in establishing a nearby salvage market available to surrounding communities, OPM officials suggest.

All supplies of tin in the United States have been placed under Government control under orders of Donald M. Nelson, Director of Priorities. Under the orders, all tin is subject to specified allocation; sale and delivery of tin is under priority control.

The only exception is that a distributor may deliver to his regular customers less than 5-ton lots, subject to Priorities Regulation No. 1. Purpose of the order is to conserve present stock piles as practically all of our tin comes from Malay and the Netherlands Indies.

Procedure for obtaining materials and parts for maintenance, repairs, and operating supplies has been changed under new orders issued through field offices of the Priorities Division, OPM. Procedure as outlined previously under Preference Rating Order No. P-22 as amended was ordered discarded immediately. Replacing it is the new order, identified as P-100.

Manufacturers, processors, fabricators and others who have been operating under P-22 should cease to do so immediately and obtain necessary materials as provided under the P-100 regulations. Copies of the new order are available at the nearest Priorities field office, including those at Oklahoma City, Tulsa, Little Rock, New Orleans, Dallas, Houston, El Paso, and San Antonio.

DEPENDABLE SERVICE COMES WITH GOOD FEED

At this particular time of year when the hatcheries and produce houses are setting their incubators for the spring hatches, there is a great demand for lots of good grade eggs. In order to have good eggs, an important factor is good feeding for the hens. Not only should eggs for setting be good, but commercial eggs cannot be best if the hens are not well fed. Nationally advertised brands of feeds can be obtained most any place and it is always wise to get the best, because in the long run, cheap, uncertain feeds will not save you anything.

Lee Tudor, at Slaton Coal & Grain Co., carries a complete line of feeds and seeds in nationally advertised brands. Mr Tudor suggests that you come in and look over the line of products, he carries.

You will find courteous and prompt service at the Slaton Coal and Grain Co.

FEDERAL INCOME TAX MATERIAL

Many farmers will be liable for filing income tax returns and payment of tax for the first time this year. The term "farmers" includes livestock raisers, fruit and truck growers, and operators of plantations and ranches.

Farmers may maintain their records and file their returns of income on either the cash receipts and disbursements basis or on the accrual basis of accounting. A consistent method must, however, be employed. If a cash basis is used, Form 1040F, "Schedule of Farm Income and Expenses, is required to be filled out and filed in conjunction with Form 1040.

Deductions from gross income may be made by farmers as necessary expenses, all amounts expended (other than those constituting capital expenditures) in carrying on the business of farming. Deductions for expenses include such items as cost of feeding and raising livestock (except the value of farm produce grown upon the farm and the labor of the taxpayer); cost of seed, minor repairs to farm buildings (other than the dwelling of the farmer), small tools used up in the course of a year or two; fuel and oil used for farm work; repairs and maintenance of farm machinery; hired laborers and hired machines, and cost of commercial fertilizers, the benefit of which is of short duration.

The cost of farm machinery, tection when it's in guns or ships.

Having cut the output of radios and radio-phonographs by more than 40 per cent—and there probably are still more cuts ahead—the WPB has moved to reduce the production of "non-essential" incandescent lamps by 50 per cent. The Price Administrator's office has asked makers of electric hearing aids not to raise prices, too.

OPA has begun a checkup of dealers in new tires and tubes throughout the country, to find out who has been breaking the rationing regulations.

WPB's Industrial Conservation Bureau has launched a drive on automobile boneyards. The goal: 5 or 6 million old cars in six months for scrap metal.

More than 15,000 retail merchants throughout the country are aiding the drive to salvage materials for war, and the WPB is receiving new pledges at the rate of thousands each day.

The country's entire supply of aluminum has now been marshalled for war!

Losses incurred in the operation of farms as business enterprises are deductible from gross income. PROPER FEEDING PAYS DAIRYMEN

With January 1, 1942, milk production per cow in the United States the largest on record for that date, American dairy farmers are proving their ability to produce increased supplies of milk needed for "Food for Freedom," Department of Agriculture records indicate. Even greater increases are expected, dairy authorities say, as dairymen take full advantage of the dairy cow's outstanding efficiency in converting low-cost roughages, properly balanced with concentrates, into human food. By feeding cows, at all times, all of the roughage they will eat, dairymen reduce their costs and the amount of concentrate required to secure full milk production. Even when cows are on pasture, feeding of such dry roughages as cottonseed hulls or hay helps to maintain and increase production. In the late winter and early spring, dairymen often find that they have underestimated the amount of hay or silage needed by the dairy herd, and may be tempted to underfeed roughage until spring pastures are available. To do this is costly, and especially so at a time when the United States needs maximum production from every cow. In cottonseed hulls, Southern dairymen have an efficient, low-cost roughage to supplement and conserve hay, silage and pasture. A practical rule is to feed 2 pounds of cottonseed hulls, or hay, for each 100 pounds of body-weight of the cow; or 1 pound of cottonseed hulls, hay or fodder, and 3 pounds of silage for each 100 pounds of bodyweight. Many dairymen find it profitable to keep hulls always available for cows on pasture. Adequate amounts of protein in the grain mixture are essential for cows fed a combination of cottonseed hulls and grass hays, sorghum fodder or silage. Practical mixtures for dairy cows in the South and Southwest, fed at the rate of 3½ pounds for each gallon of milk produced, are:

No. 1—200 pounds of ear corn chops or grain sorghum head chops; 100 pounds of ground oats or wheat bran; 200 pounds of cottonseed meal; 10 pounds of ground limestone; and 5 pounds of salt.

No. 2—100 pounds of corn meal, ground barley or sorghum grain chops; 100 pounds of ground oats or wheat bran; 100 pounds of cottonseed meal; 6 pounds of ground limestone; and 3 pounds of salt.

No. 3—400 pounds of ear corn chops or grain sorghum head chops 300 pounds of cottonseed meal; 14 pounds of ground limestone; and 7 pounds of salt.

Rusty on Biology, Too
"Now, Willie," said the teacher to a rather stupid pupil, "listen to me very carefully. If I had five eggs in this basket and laid three on the table, how many eggs would I have?"
"Eight," was the cheerful reply.

Before the war only 37 percent of England's food was produced on the British Isles; today the figure is around 60 percent. Usually the Isles have around 12 million acres of land in cultivation; in 1941, some 16 million acres were put under the plow.
