BOY SCOUTS TO CELEBRATE

EFFORTS BEING MADE TO GET ALCOHOL PLANT BUILT HERE

That there is a faint possibility of securing an Alcohol Plant in Slaton is the hope of Briggs Robertson and the Slaton Chamber of Commerce and Mr. Robertson is endeavoring to get in touch with the Committee appointed by Administrator Jeffers to select locations in West Texas for one or more plants that will make alcohol from grains.

Mr. Robertson has contacted one of the officials stationed in Amarillo who is assisting in the work of the Committee and placed before him data showing the advantages that Slaton can give an enterprise of this kind.

The alcohol from the proposed plants will be used in the manufacture of synthetic rubber and in all probabilities will be a permanent plant and be used after the war is over.

When asked if he had the plant in the bag Briggs said he did not even have the bag yet but that he could smell a faint tinge of alcohol in the air.

Votes for C of C Directors To Be Counted Tuesday

Due to the fact that the Slaton Chamber of Commerce has not had a regular meeting since the Annual Banquet held January 26th, no official count of the votes cast at the banquet, for five new members of the Slaton Board of City Development and Chamber of Commerce has been tabulated.

The next meeting of the organization is scheduled for Tuesday, February 9th, at which time the votes will be counted. Those who received the most votes will be announced in next week's Slatonite. There were five new members to be elected. A new President and other new officers will be chosen at the meeting of the Directors after the new members have been announced.

More Beer Taken By Officers

Another big haul of beer was confiscated by the State Liquor Control Board officers down in the Flats last Saturday morning.

Thirty-two cases of beer were taken over by the officers who were assisted by Austin Yeats. One arrest was made.

Potluck Supper And Program To Be Monday

To help celebrate the 33rd birthday of Boy Scouting in America, the Boy Scouts and the Cub Scouts of Slaton will hold a Potluck Supper at the Slaton Club House, beginning at 7:00 p. m., Monday, February 8th, to which everyone in this section of Lubbock County is invited.

Those who attend should make plans to bring food and drink for each person in their party, and a tip to the Scouts and Cubs is to help their parent in preparing for the Potluck Supper.

In addition to the Potluck Supper, a very interesting program is being prepared to follow the feed, featuring the Candle Lighting Advancement Ceremony by the Cub Scouts and a Court of Honor by the Boy Scouts. An official of Boy Scouting from out of town has been invited to make an address to the Slaton gathering and other features will be included that will be both entertaining and instructive.

The interest in Boy Scouting in Slaton was allowed to drag until recently, reports one of the Slaton parents of a Scout, but a number of patriotic Slaton men and women have taken up the work and it is going forward at a lively pace.

Whether you have a boy taking Cub Scouting or Boy Scouting or not, you will be welcome at the Potluck Supper and a large attendance will be most encouraging to the boys.

Post Office Busy Place

Even though Slaton has been overlooked by all of the Wartime programs, it is evident from the Postal Receipts for 1942 that we are a growing community and that the general prosperity has not passed us by.

According to figures just compiled, the Postal Receipts for 1942 at the Post Office here were $18,071.62, which was the highest on record for Slaton. The 1941 Postal receipts were $14,326.85 and the increase for the past year placed Slaton one grade higher as a 2nd grade Post Office than it has ever been graded before.

Not only did we show a substantial increase in 1942, but the first month of 1943 shows a substantial increase over the same month of 1941. In January, 1941, the Postal receipts here were $1,136.69, in 1942 they increased to $1,480.75, and in Jan., 1943, the total was $1,831.45, and February is off to a big start. It looks like 1943 will be a good business year for Slaton, if rationing don't get us.

Brother Of Mrs. Eckert Feared Lost

Mrs. Dayton Eckert received a telegram yesterday from her father, who resides in Mexia, Texas, stating that the War Department has informed him that Mrs. Eckert's brother Capt. Felton Lancaster, and plane crew, have been missing in action since January 18. Capt. Lancaster was serving in the African campaign.

OUR BOYS WITH THE COLORS

A Chicago glider pilot at South Plains Army Flying School is a professional blood donor who has given all the pints of blood he has given for transfusions. But when he went to the hospital for a blood test recently and they pricked his arm with a needle, he fainted.

Enlisted men at SPAFS are planning to do a welding job on broken hearts, starting with their own. They have organized a "Jilted G. I. Club." With a twice-jilted president and a thrice-jilted secretary, the club is for men who have been "grounded" by their one-time sweethearts. Proof of membership is a letter from the girl friend who did the jilting. The membership grows with each mail, say the Jilted G. I.'s. P. S. It's all in fun. Girl civilian employees at SPAFS have found a new use for gummed paper tape. What with the rubber shortage taking all the snap out of garters—they use it to keep up their stockings.

South Plains residents can help win the war just by picking up rope. A number of tow-ropes have been lost from South Plains Army Flying School towplanes recently. Used in towing the big gliders used at the school, the ropes are very valuable, although they appear to be ordinary ropes. Attachments at each end of the lines add to their value, and these are very hard to replace. The SPAFS post intelligence office appealed to land-owners to comb their property for the ropes and to call Capt. David Schurger, post intelligence officer, whenever they find one. It was warned that the ropes are government property.

The South Plains Army Flying School basketball team will fly to Albuquerque for games with Kirtland Field on Feb. 9 and 10 and to Fort Worth for a game with Tarrant Field on Feb. 18. The team has lost to Texas Tech and won from Lubbock Army Flying School.

Patriotic Talk To Be Made 11th

"If unity can win wars it can also be used to win the peace that follows," declares Briggs Robertson, who is scheduled to deliver the 27th in a series of "Speak Up For Democracy" talks over Station KFYO at 4:00 p. m., Thursday, February 11.

Speaking in behalf of V. F. W. Post No. 2466, Veterans of Foreign Wars of the U. S., Mr. Robertson will stress the similarity between prevailing political sentiments within the United States with those which confronted Abraham Lincoln during his administration. The address will not only commemorate the anniversary of Lincoln's birthday on February 12, but will also pay tribute to the fundamental purposes of "Brotherhood Week" to be observed throughout the nation February 19-28.

Mrs. Henry Eidson has been named to serve on the district P. T. A. Board of Managers as secretary, and attended the board meeting Saturday in Lubbock at the Hilton hotel.

Plans were made for the Spring Conference which is to be held in Painesville April 29-30. Mrs. L. C. Odom introduced Mrs. Eidson to the Board of Managers.

MRS. M. G. MARTIN'S FATHER PASSES AWAY

Mr. F. A. Stedley of Timpson, Texas died Wednesday morning at 10:30, after a long illness. He was 83 years old. He is survived by his wife and three children, Milton Stedley of Louisiana, Alfred Miller Stedley of Oklahoma and Mrs. M. G. Martin of Slaton. Plans for the funeral service are incomplete.

Mrs. Martin has been in Timpson with her father since January 16, and Mr. Martin left Wednesday night to be with his wife.

OUR WHO'S IT DEPARTMENT

The old cowhides from the Rio Grande as illustrated in last weeks Who's it Contest must have stumped everyone else as much as it has the force at the Slatonite for we did not get a single answer to the perplexing question as to who the men were and we will have to face future in ignorance as to who these men were.

This week we have one that may be equally as difficult to recognize. We have a suspicion that the young man whose picture we illustrate this week may have long whiskers by now or at least is old enough to be past the draft age.

To the first person who can identify him we will give a pass to the Palace Theatre and will in addition give him or her our heartfelt thanks for putting a brand on this Maverick illustration that has been haunting us for the past two and one half years.

Local Stockmen Feeding Cattle More Proteins

With local livestock producers doing an outstanding job of "Food for Freedom" production, more than 95 per cent of the cottonseed meal produced by the local oil mill this season and all of the stocks carried over from last season have been fed within the immediate trade territory of the oil mill, the manager reports.

"Our sales records are tangible evidence that livestock production is increasing locally, and that our stockmen are feeding better-balanced rations", he adds. "We have sold practically all of our 1942-43 production of both meal and hulls for use here at home and, in fact, most of it for immediate feeding. In contrast with some past seasons, relatively little has gone to dealers outside of this territory or to mixed feed manufacturers."

Despite the increased protein production this season for the United States, as a whole, and the effective efforts of the oil mill here to conserve supplies for local feeders, the use of protein concentrates and many other feeds to date this season has exceeded production, the manager reports. This condition has been general in all sections of the United States, perhaps worse in some other sections than in the Cotton Belt.

"Supplies of cottonseed here are, naturally, smaller than before cotton acreage was limited, but the cotton oil industry is actively working to help farmers and the Department of Agriculture convert other oilseed crops, such as peanuts and soybeans, into needed meal or cake and oil. This takes time, however, especially when transportation, labor and supplies are scarce and many details of handling relatively new crops has to be worked out. Supplies of cottonseed meal and hulls have been made available and used much more rapidly than supplies of other protein meals, but it is hoped that supplies of other meals will steadily increase."

Make Every Pound Count

To meet the situation, livestock authorities are stressing the need for feeding more efficiently, "sharing" feed among different classes of stock so that each will get at least its minimum requirements, and—in the cases where some feeder does have more protein on hand than is needed immediately—sharing feed supplies among neighbors. "Every pound of protein—or of cottonseed hulls, for that matter—has got to count this year," says A. L. Ward, Educational Director, National Cottonseed Products Association. "And, anyone who knows American farmers and ranchers know that they will make it count, too; the fine job that they did in 1942 is only the foundation for a better job in 1943 toward producing the food to help win the war."

With reference to hulls, he explains, some of the Cotton Belt's supply is having to be used in the production of furfural, used to help make synthetic rubber. Although oil mills, generally, have retained all of the hulls they could for local use, synthetic rubber production

Kidneys Must Work Well

For You To Feel Well

24 hours every day, 7 days every week, never stopping, the kidneys filter waste matter from the blood. If more people were aware of how the kidneys must constantly remove surplus fluid, excess acids and other waste matter that cannot stay in the blood without injury to health, there would be better understanding of why the whole system is upset when kidneys fail to function properly. Burning, scanty or too frequent urination sometimes warns that something is wrong. You may suffer nagging backache, headaches, dizziness, rheumatic pains, getting up at night, swelling.

Why not try Doan's Pills? You will be using a medicine recommended the country over. Doan's stimulates the function of the kidneys and help them to flush out poisonous waste from the blood. They contain nothing harmful. Get Doan's today. Use with confidence. At all drug stores.

On The Home Front

Agriculture continued to hold the war spotlight on the Home Front in the Southwest during the last week, as farmers and gardeners enlisted with determination in the Food for Freedom battle. At the same time, major activities of war agencies were pointed toward solution of agriculture's war problems.

To help farmers increase production this year, Agriculture Secretary Wickard made available a new source of farm credit for the production of essential wartime food and fiber. Between $200,000,000 and $225,000,000 will be available immediately at the county level through the regional Agriculture Credit Corporation, for shorttime loans at 5 per cent interest. The loan limit will be only the amount needed to get the production job done.

Although admitting that the farmer's share of the consumer's food dollar is now larger than it has been in many years, Mr. Wickard said the retail cost of food now represents the smallest share on record of the industrial worker's income. In the first 11 months of 1942, the retail cost of food for the average industrial worker family amounted to 28 per cent of the worker's earnings, a record low in relation to income, while the farmer's share of the consumer's food dollar averaged 53 per cent, the largest share since 1920.

The farmer's labor problem also got attention of the War Manpower Commission, with a liberalization of the requirements for agricultural Selective Service deferments to keep additional workers on the farms. This policy provides that a local draft board may be justified in some cases in deferring an agricultural worker producing as little as eight war units of essential products. The new guide no longer considers 16 units a standard, but it emphasizes that the national objective is still a minimum per-worker production or more of war units.

While these steps were being taken to ease the farm labor situation the War Production Board hit at the machinery-shortage problem. It authorized increases of 30 per cent in farm machinery production, with emphasis on a greater supply of repair and maintenance parts.

The price control picture was brighter in spots for the farmer at the same time. As a result of its effort to restore the balance in milk marketing, for instance, the Dallas regional Office of Price Administration headquarters received several reports that milk distributors had given or were planning to give increases to producers after the recent milk price adjustment order applying to all of the Southwestern region.

From the distributors' point of view, Mr. Wickard's order cutting out the frills in retail milk marketing was a help toward reduction of overhead and increasing payment to the producers.

The USDA milk order forbids the sale of milk in pints and half pints, eliminates the practice of selling milk on consignment which allowed return of unsold milk, and effects other retailing savings.

Also, following its ceiling price order on mixed feeds, which benefits dairymen and livestock feeders, the OPA announced that it likewise was preparing a ceiling price order for alfalfa hay, another livestock feed.

Truck farmers and food growers of all kinds also are going to benefit from the forthcoming processed food rationing program, because the curtailment of canned food purchases is going to provide a big market for more fresh farm products.

And the food rationing program is going to be a boom to city dwellers as well, in addition to the health factor arising from consumption of more fresh products. Under the point system of rationing, all available supplies of canned and processed goods will be distributed evenly so that everyone may share and share alike from whatever is on hand. As it has been those with the most money and those who get there first, buy up the shortage commodities to the exclusion of others. There also has been a great amount of hoarding that has penalized the more patriotic and cooperative consumers.

Motorists who are not sure what kind of anti-freeze solution they have in their radiators should check at once, J. B. Royce, deputy regional WPB director in charge of production service, warned. WPB has just issued an order for bidding manufacture of anti-freeze solutions made from inorganic salts or petroleum distillates. Such solutions, widely sold during recent weeks, have been found highly destructive to radiators, ignition systems and rubber connections.

Acting quickly to correct certain inequalities brought to light after issuance of a region-wide milk price revision, the Office of Price Administration at Dallas has ruled that distributors with Class 1 or Class 2 ceiling prices may "carry" their ceilings with them into Class 3 areas, even though their deliveries extend beyond the 5 and 10 mile limits set out in the original order. OPA officials pointed out that sales of milk by sellers of food such as restaurants, cafes, hotels and drug stores still are under price control, with the maximum prices of each seller set at the highest price he charged in March, 1942, under the General Maximum Price Regulation.

Under an order issued by the Petroleum Administrator for War, filling stations throughout the country began January 23 to operate on either a 72-hour a week schedule, or a 24-hour a day, seven days a week schedule, according to their choice. Dealers who elected to remain open 24 hours a day must serve all customers for 12 consecutive hours for six days of the week, but may serve only vehicles bearing "T" stickers for the remaining time. Station operators who operate on a 72-hour week, twelve hours a day, may select their closing day.

Under a sweeping decentralization program, the National War Labor Board is establishing 12 regional war labor boards, with full authority to make final decision in labor disputes and in voluntary wage and salary adjustment cases. Each of the regional boards will be set up on the NWLB tripartite system of public, employer and labor representatives. William Davis, chairman of the NWLB, said that under this plan wage stabilization will be done primarily in the field, with the NLWB in Washington sitting as a sort of supreme court selecting its own cases for decision by orders for review. Only policy defining cases will be brought to the national board.

In October 1941, the NWLB was given the task of stabilizing wages and salaries, of assuming jurisdiction over the wage and salary

IT TAKES FROM 12 TO 18 MONTHS TO PRODUCE. SEASON AND TREAT A RAILROAD CROSSING.

A RECENT NATIONWIDE SURVEY SHOWED THAT 23,578 FREIGHT TRAINS, TOTALING 1,408,964 CARS, WERE DISPATCHED IN THE UNITED STATES WITHIN A 24-HOUR PERIOD—OR AN AVERAGE TRAIN OF 59 CARS WAS STARTED ON ITS WAY EVERY 3.7 SECONDS.

rates of roughly 31,000,000 employees of some 300,000 non-agricultural business enterprises, ranging from restaurants to huge war factories.

The Board found that between January, 1941 and May 1942, when the President announced his severe anti-inflation program, the cost of living had gone up 15 percent. During that time, about two-thirds of all manufacturing wages had also risen at least 15 percent. Therefore, in ruling on wage increases, the board felt that those whose wages had already risen high enough to cover the cost of living increase should not be granted further general increases, but that all others were entitled to have their average straight-time rates brought up to a point 15 percent nearer.

To help farmers increase production in 1943, Agriculture Secretary Wickard has made available through the Food Production Administration a new source of credit for the production of essential war-time food and fiber. Between $200,000,000 and $225,000,000 of additional funds will become immediately available at the county level, and the loans (shorttime loans at five percent interest), which will be made through the Regional Agriculture Credit Corporation, will be limited only by the amount needed to do the production job.

Although admitting that the farmer's share of the consumer's food dollar is now larger than it has been in many years, Mr. Wickard said the retail cost of food now represents the smallest share on record of the industrial worker's income. According to data available for the first 11 months of 1942, the retail cost of food for the average industrial worker's family amounted to 28 per cent of the worker's earnings, a record low in relation to income, while the farmer's share of the consumer's food dollar averaged 53 per cent, the largest share since 1920.

The War Manpower Commission's Selective Service Bureau has liberalized the requirements for agricultural deferments, expected to keep many additional workers on the farms. The revised guide—approved by the Agriculture Department, the WMC, the farm organizations and other groups—provides that a local draft board may be justified in some cases in deferring an agricultural worker producing as little as eight war units of essential products. While emphasizing that the national objective is still a minimum per worker production of 16 or more war units, the new guide no longer considers 16 units a standard.

More About Income Tax

(Editor's Note: This is the fourth in a series of articles by the Treasury Department on your income tax.)

A taxpayer is entitled to a credit for each person other than husband or wife, whether related to him or not, and whether living with him or not who during the taxable year was dependent upon and received his chief support from the taxpayer, provided the dependent was either (a) under 18 years of age, or (b) incapable of self-support because mentally or physically defective.

The credit for dependents is based upon ACTUAL FINANCIAL DEPENDENCY and not mere legal dependency. It is not necessary that the dependent be related to the taxpayer, but the taxpayer must have provided more than one-half of the support, or there is no dependency.

The term "mentally or physically defective" includes not only those who are mentally afflicted and physically crippled, but also persons who, by reason of old age or impaired health, are incapable of self-support. The state of mental or physical defect need not be of a permanent nature, but if it existed for only a portion of the year, then the credit for dependent can be claimed only for that portion of the year during which the dependent was supported by the taxpayer.

A person may not acquire a credit for dependent by reason of support of a person qualifying as a dependent if, as a result of such support, he acquires a head of family exemption, but may acquire a credit for dependent by reason of additional persons qualifying as dependents, whom he supports. Thus, if a person claims head of a family exemption on account of support of an aged mother or father, incapable of self-support or a child, he would not be entitled to a credit for such dependent; but if he supported more than one such person he could claim credit for such additional persons provided they were under 18 years of age or incapable of self-support.

Credit for dependents may not be divided between two persons filing separate returns, but must be taken by the one contributing the chief support. A credit for dependents may be claimed by a father who provides the support for his children living with his divorced wife, if the support is provided as a result of a court decree or as the result of an agreement between husband and wife.

The credit for dependent, allowable to a taxpayer filing on Form 1040, is $350, and is proportionate with the number of months of dependency. Thus, for a child born on July 1, the credit allowable would be $175, for six months, and if a child became 18 years of age on July 1 the credit allowable would be $175. One-half a month or less is not counted as a month; more than one-half a month is counted as a month in calculating the credit.

A credit of $385 for each dependent on July 1 of the year is allowable to a taxpayer using Simplified Form 1040A.

We take great pride in our livestock, for we have some of the best to be found anywhere.

England also takes pride in its livestock. Many breeds of cattle, sheep and horses come from there.

We think farming has been hard this past season, with the shortage of labor and machinery. It has been harder elsewhere. In England, for example, feed is scarce, meats are needed badly by the people, and German airmen machine gun the farm animals in the fields every chance they get. We must remember this all the time—and buy War Bonds—all that we possibly can.

There are two good reasons for buying War Bonds. The first is that it will give our boys the guns and planes and tanks they must have. The second is that War Bonds are a sound investment. They never depreciate in value. They return a third more than the original cost in ten years. You can cash them any time after sixty days. Buy Bonds now—to help your country and to help yourself—at your bank or post office.

Texas Corn Proving Best

COLLEGE STATION, Feb. 1—Hybrid corn, one of the magic developments of plant breeders, is proving its value to Texas farmers. According to E. A. Miller, agronomist for the A. and M. College Extension Service, the average increased yield of hybrid varieties developed by the Texas Agricultural Extension Station is about 20 per cent on an actual weight basis. Miller points out that northern hybrid corn, so far, has not been as satisfactory in this state as the new Texas strains, and some of the former have been very unsatisfactory. But it is noteworthy, he adds, "that the increased yield of Texas hybrid on a percentage basis is just as high in this state as are the adapted varieties grown in the Corn Belt states."

Characteristics of hybrid corn, in addition to greater yield, are (1) stalks and types of ears are very uniform and there are few barren stalks; (2) stalks stand up straighter because the stronger root system prevents blowing over easily; and (3) ears all reach the roasting stage at about the same time.

The seed of Texas hybrid still is rather limited and it now appears that the supply this year will not meet the demand. Miller reminds buyers that hybrid seed will produce maximum yield the first year only. New seed should be obtained yearly.

In terms of bushels and profits good hybrid will average about four bushels more on land which produces 20 bushels of ordinary corn; on 30-bushel land six bushels more and on 40-bushel land eight bushels more. "Even if the cost of hybrid seed is 75 cents to $1 an acre more than for home-grown seed of standard varieties, the extra profit on the increased yields will amount to about 100, 200, and 300 per cent respectively on the investment," Miller says. No extra work is involved except harvesting the additional bushels.

move to another site and build a new barrier rather than repair the old one. The industrious beavers provide water for stock, and swimming and fishing for the boys by impounding water in the streams.

In addition, these club boys furnished feed for quail along with protecting shelter against marauding coyotes and hawks.

Through the efforts of Richard Adams, Jr., 4-H Club boy, a game conservation district comprising 15,000 acres was organized in Sherman County, and game conservation signs posted. Last spring Richard bought a Chinese pheasant cock and four hens, and when the first batch of young birds matured he released them on his father's ranch. His father cooperated in providing cover protection of bushes and shrubs.

The ranch also is a refuge for quail, doves, wild ducks and geese, jackrabbits, owls and skunks. The state game commission appointed a farmer as game warden to protect wild life in the district.

Young Adams became interested in game conservation while attending two district 4-H Club encampments. In his active club career, Richard has received the County Wilson meat animal reward, the county achievement award, and an all-expense trip to the National 4-H Congress at Chicago as guest of a railroad company.

WANT TO FIRE 12,000 BULLETS AT THE JAPS?

Buying War Stamps and Bonds is one way to fight the Japs and Nazis—growing cotton is another way to contribute directly to the war effort.

Every pound of Cotton Linters we can produce from available cottonseed goes to war industries—ONE BALE OF COTTON LINTERS MAKES ENOUGH POWDER TO FIRE 100,000 BULLETS.

About 75 to 80 pounds of Linters are produced from the cottonseed that comes with every 500-pound bale of lint cotton. By producing an extra bale of cotton in 1943, you can add the powder to fire thousands of extra bullets at the enemy—about 12,000 bullets per bale of lint cotton.

By planting all of the cotton acreage legally permitted, and producing every possible pound per acre, cotton growers will directly help to win the war. This advertisement sponsored as a contribution to the war effort, by

 by
A.M.J.

J. E. Nickerson wants to know if I am the 5B classification referred to in the following clipped from the Amarillo News:

There is an old boy in the Panhandle who says that his classification in this selective selecting is 5B, because of Baldness, Bridgework, Bifocals, Belly, and Bunions. After a close inventory of my qualifications I find that 5B fits me like a grapefruit skin fits the grapefruit but I had hoped that by wearing my hat most of the time, by keeping my mouth closed as much as possible, my spectacles in my pocket except when at work, by wearing an extra wide belt and by letting my pants drop down over the slits in my shoes that no one would notice my baldness, bridgework bifocals, belly and bunions, but it is evident that I'll have to get better camouflaging.

Every time the fire alarm has gone into action the last few days I expect to find the Slaton Post Office in flames but so far have been disappointed, however, I feel sure some one will accommodate whoever it is who is soaking the floor with coal oil every day, by dropping a lighted match.

The pungent odor that staggers me as I enter the building takes me back to my boyhood days when I used to deliver groceries. Most every one in those days used coal oil lamps and a five-gallon can of the sloshing liquid was a part of practically every order sent out. As the little metal caps on the spouts of the can were always missing an Irish potato was stuck over the opening, after a jolt or two the potato usually came off and the coal oil would spray out and soak everything in the cart. Most customers would not complain unless the oil got on a loaf of bread or on a sack of flour but I always found it a good idea to unload these orders as quickly as possible and drive off in a mad gallop and clutter that would drown out the screaming threats of the negro cooks and the irate housewives who were usually on the watch for just such catastrophes.

K. C. Scott told me last week that several railroad men had accused me of never being able to recognize them by their names even when they came into my office. Not having a single worthwhile excuse to offer I must hang my head in shame and plead guilty to the charge. Just why I can sometimes remember a name such as Grochowsky but black out on names such as Smith is a sad condition that I cannot explain. Once I undertook to follow a memory instruction book. The idea promulgated by the book was to associate the names of each person you meet with some familiar object. For instance if one met a Mr. White, think of snow, if you met a Miss Jones, think of something that rhymed with Jones such as bones, especially if Miss Jones happened to have a few angles here and there. It worked fairly well until I called Miss Jones Miss Hightower and since then I have gotten worse and worse until I am sure I will go off into a bad case of amnesia where I will not know my own name, and when I do there is no telling what I will do but I feel sure I will not go around a newspaper.

"Things have changed" says Nick Carter. "Last week a man came into our store with a sample case. A salesman is a rare enough animal these days but for one to have a sample case is like finding a pearl in an oyster so I cleared off the best chair in the place, dumped Nadyene Smith, our girl who keeps the books out on the floor and grabbed her cushion for him to sit on. I put my after dinner cigar in his mouth and went next door and brought him a cold drink and told him that if he would open the sample case I would buy anything he had. I was very lucky, says Nick, and am going to get 1800 lbs. of BB shot for air guns, three dozen buckets and some straw hats. I am figuring on building a special entertainment room for any stray salesman that might come in, with couches, soft lights and a boy to carry any heavy cases that they might have although most of them can keep their samples in their inside breast pocket these days."

Our Freedom Is Priceless

By JOSEPH E. DAVIES
Former Ambassador to Russia and Belgium.

(Written for the Treasury Department in cooperation with the Retailers' "BUY U. S. BONDS" campaign to complete the nation's 100,000,000 partially filled War Stamp album.)

What I myself saw in my four years in Europe gave me a new realization of the priceless rights which we here enjoy.

No secret police can in the night whisk us away, never again to be seen by those we love.

None of us can be persecuted by any party, state or tyrant of those precious civil liberties which our laws and our courts guarantee.

None of us can be persecuted for practicing the faith which we found at our mother's knee.

None of us can be persecuted, tortured or killed because of the fact that an accident of fate might have made us of the same race as the Nazarene.

No American can be placed by any party or government in a regimented vise which takes from him or her either freedom of economic opportunity or political religious liberty.

What would the millions of unfortunate men, women and children in Europe give to be able to live and enjoy such a way of life?

Well, in this war, those are the things in our lives which are in jeopardy. Our boys are dying to preserve them for us.

Then we can do no less than to "say yes" and fill those war stamp albums. It is our duty and privilege to help the secretary of the treasury, Mr. Morgenthau, in his magnificent effort to do the tremendous job of getting the money to keep our boys supplied with the weapons with which to fight our fight.

Surely that is little enough for us to do on the home front.

THIS WEEK'S LESSON

"Spirit" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist on Sunday, February 7.

The Golden Text is: "Not by might, nor by power, but by my spirit, saith the Lord of hosts" (Zechariah 4:6).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the hath directed the Spirit of the following from the Bible: "Who taught him?" (Isaiah 40:13).

WARTIME BEEF STEW

by Dorothy Greig

WTS named Wartime Beef Stew because it gets along with but one pound of beef instead of the two or more pounds ordinarily required for six to eight servings.

The reason is the can of new and improved consommé that goes into the stew. This consommé is rich beef stock which steps up the beef nourishment and gives extra savor and zest both to meat and vegetables. And as for what it does to deepen and enrich the gravy! Wonderful! Watch the family sop it up with slices of bread!

1 pound beef (chuck, neck or shin)
2 tablespoons flour
2 tablespoons fat
1 can new and improved condensed consommé
2 cans water (using soup can for measure)
2 cups carrots
2 cups diced potatoes
2 teaspoons salt

1/4 teaspoon pepper
12-14 small onions, cooked
2 tablespoons flour
3/4 cup cold water
1 cup green peas, cooked

Cut the meat into 3/4 inch squares. Dredge in the flour, then brown in hot fat in a heavy skillet or Dutch oven. Heat the consommé and water together and pour over the meat. Cover and simmer gently over low heat for 1 1/2 hours. Then add carrots (which have been cut into quarters and then into 1/2 inch lengths) and ten minutes later add diced potatoes and seasoning. Simmer for 30 minutes. Then add cooked onions and thickener (flour and water mixed together) and simmer for 10 minutes. Serve on large platter or chop plate and garnish top with broiled tomato halves, dumplings and green peas. Serves 6 to 8.

Lord, or being his counsellor hath The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Spirit being God, there is but one Spirit, for there can be but one infinite and therefore one God" (page 334).

Acorns, the seeds which each oak tree drops annually by the hundreds, and which were used during the Revolutionary and Civil Wars as a coffee substitute, are again listed today as suitable for the same purpose. They are prepared as a beverage by being roasted and ground, and then boiled in the same manner as coffee.

You Can't Re-Fuse?

Sure You Can!

... and you'll help save time, money, and vital equipment

1. Go to the main switch at your meter box. Stand on a DRY SURFACE and turn off electricity.

2. Remove "blown" fuse, touching only its top. The fuse with the scorched spot in the "window" on top is the one to remove.

It's easy to replace a fuse... almost as simple as replacing a light bulb. You save yourself inconvenience, too... when you re-fuse... because you restore your electric service immediately. No need to wait for a service man! And your cooperation will save tires, gasoline, truck wear, time and money... all mighty important for the duration.

When a fuse blows at your house... locate the trouble, disconnect the defective cord or appliance... then "light 'er up" in the few easy steps shown here. Or next time you're downtown, come in and see us. We'll be glad to show you how to replace "blown" fuses... and see that you get the size to fit your needs.

3. Replace "blown" fuse with new one, as you would a lamp bulb. Then turn on the main switch.

Broadcasts represent a major phase of the Americanism educational campaign being conducted by the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the U. S., throughout the nation in cooperation with 477 radio stations on the 11th day of each month.

"We regard this radio campaign as a major war service project," explained Mr. Robertson, "because we believe the American people will never break faith with the men in uniform if they know the truth about the insidious forces which are trying to divide us long ourselves in order to sabotage our support of the war effort."

"Although complete victory is not yet within our grasp, the Axis nations know they are doomed to crushing defeat. They know they are helpless before the united strength of the 30 nations which compose the United Nations group. The veterans of the last World War are convinced that this tremendous strength which we possess within the United Nations must be used intelligently after the victory is won. We must use this unity as a weapon to make sure that our grandchildren will not be called upon to take part in another World War 25 years hence."

THE STORY OF A MAKE-UP SCAR

Lloyd Nolan, who has been playing screen villains since he began his movie career in 1936, wears his first scar for his role in Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's "Apache Trail," which opens Friday at the Palace Theatre. Portraying Peco Bill, outlaw brother of William Lundigan, Nolan's face will have a two-inch gash on his right cheek.

Although no reason is given in the movie itself for the scar, make-up expert Jack Dawn designed it to resemble a wound that might have been made by an Indian arrow. The actor was required to report to work two hours earlier than usual each morning to have the scar made up.

4 DAYS EQUALS 63 MINUTES
—IN HOLLYWOOD
It took James J. Corbett something less than 63 minutes to knock out John L. Sullivan and win the heavyweight boxing championship of the world.

And it took four days for Errol Flynn, cast as Corbett and Ward Bond, (Sullivan) to do Warner Bros. reenactment of that title fight for "Gentleman Jim," the story of Jim's rise from a San Francisco bank clerk to world champion. The picture is now playing at the Strand Theatre.

Corbett, the fancy dancer and left-hooker, knocked out the "unbeatable" Sullivan in the 21st round of their scheduled finish fight in New Orleans on September 7, 1892.

"Gentleman Jim" comes to the Palace Theatre Prevue Saturday night, Sunday and Monday.
