Some progress has been noted this week on securing options from some 31 landowners who will be affected if the proposed Lake Thomas is to be built on Morgan creek by the Texas Electric Service company. The lake would furnish some 2 1/2 million gallons of water daily for Colorado City and at the same time would furnish sufficient water to enable the corporation to build a 40,000 kilowatt power plant near the damsite.

According to the Texas Employment Commission, approximately 47 per cent of the cotton raised in 14 counties on the South Plains, had been ginned up to the 8th, presumably, when statistics are taken. But in traveling over the county or this section, fields that have never been touched are the rule rather than the exception. So, like the election, some one may be wrong when the windup of the crop comes.

Slaton Football Fans Are Proud Of Defeated Tiger Eleven

Slaton football fans were happily surprised last Thursday afternoon when the Tigers closed the season by playing a magnificent game against the reputedly far superior Post Antelopes. Although they lost to Post by a score of 12 to 6, the boys put up such a splendid fight that the hometown folks were very proud of them.

Going into the game with all previous records favoring Post to win by a large score, the first quarter showed neither team able to gain much ground against the other. Coach Tillery's starting lineup contained all of his senior men, with Laurence Morgan back in his regular halfback position after being out for some time because of injuries. Early in the first quarter, Taylor, first string halfback, who is a sophomore, replaced Strickland. Taylor has also been out because of injuries.

Tom Smith, senior fullback, played the entire game. Tom has been the mainstay of the Tiger team all year, playing top grade football in every game. Morgan, whose speed and ball carrying ability have been sorely missed, looked like his former self again. Cecil Bybee, at quarterback, played a fine game, and has a beautiful pass interception chalked up to his credit. Carl Lewis, who replaced Taylor in the last of the second quarter, made some substantial gains through the line and was very good on secondary defense. Smith made Slaton's only touchdown on an end run from the 8 yard line in the second quarter.

Johnny Melcher was a standout in the line, followed closely by Pete Williams, Leon Moore, Alton Perry, C. E. Rhodes, Glyndon Dawson, Alvis Collins, George Young, and Jerry Hucksaby. Every boy on the squad was playing his heart out to win this final game.

Coaches Tillery and Barnett are deserving of the highest praise for the good showing they have made this season. They have been handicapped from the star by a shortage of players, and injuries have crippled them still further. They have taken part in practice themselves in order that the team might have opposition enough for scrimmage. Although the Tigers have lost most of their games, they have showed good coaching and it is hoped that next season enough power will be available to give Slaton a winning team. Credit is also due to the managers of this year's Tigers, Joe Tucker and Claud Ward, who were ineligible to play, but who have aided the coaches and players in every way possible all through the season. The boys who have spent most of the season on the bench should also be remembered. Without them, there would be no football stars.

Following the game Thursday, Coach Bingham of Post, chose Morgan as the outstanding Slaton man on the field, and Coach Tillery chose J. D. Smith, center, as Post's outstanding player. These boys received engraved gold watch chains presented by Lucian Thomas of Lubbock.

The Post Antelopes will meet the Littlefield Wildcats at 2:30 o'clock today on the Post gridiron in the play-off for the championship of District 4-A. The winner of this game will then play Lockney, the 3-A winner, in a bi-district tilt.

WELFARE DRIVE TO BE MADE NEXT WEEK

The Slaton Welfare League will conduct their annual drive for funds beginning next Monday, Nov. 22, and continuing through the following Saturday. The need for funds is great, says Mrs. Lee Green, chairman of the League, and workers are needed to assist in the drive. Those who will be able to help are asked to contact Mrs. Green at the Retail Merchants office in the City Hall.

The Lubbock County Agricultural Conservation Committee realizes that moisture conditions at this time are almost identical to those of the early 1930's when the dust storms were at their worst and have approved several practices to help prevent wind erosion. When these practices are carried out, the U. S. Department of Agriculture will pay part of the cost of doing the work because Congress has recognized the need for saving the soil of our nation and has appropriated money to encourage more and better soil conserving and soil building practices. These payments are made through the Agricultural Conservation Association.

The program is administered on the county level by a county committee of three members who are elected annually. The present committee is R. C. Pace, Chairman, Homer R. Sullivan, Vice Chairman, and Alfred Jackson, regular member. The county committee is assisted by community committeesmen who are also elected annually by the farmers in each of the twelve communities in the county.

Some of the practices the committee believes are beneficial in preventing wind erosion are growing a cover crop of rye or winter legumes. This practice can be carried out on irrigated land or on dry land in years when there is sufficient moisture to get the crop started in the fall. Another very good practice is leaving the stalks or stubble of grain sorghums on the surface of the soil. If there is not sufficient cover for either of these practices the county committee recommends either listing or chiseling on the contour.

The payment for either of these practices is about one-half to two-thirds the actual cost of carrying out the practice. Anyone who is interested in doing the work and receiving the payment is urged to get approval in writing before beginning the work.

So far in 1948 the county committee has issued approval for a total of $90,865.00 worth of practices. R. C. Pace, chairman said.

This is divided as follows for terracing, a total of 1,021,830 feet; leveling land for irrigation, 3734 acres; constructing permanent irrigation ditches, concrete spillways or installing concrete or metal pipe, a total of $32,997.00. This is on about 70,000 acres of cropland. Approval has also been given for contour farming crops on 86,934 acres, for leaving the stubble on 35,831 acres, chiseling land not on the contour on 15,479 acres and for seeding pasture grasses, applying superphosphate to legumes and grasses and planting winter cover on a few farms.

We believe each of these practices will help conserve our land and help prevent wind erosion this winter and early spring. Mr. Pace said.

Services under the Agricultural Conservation Program are available to any farmer in the county or in the United States.

Among the rules governing the schoolroom was one prohibiting the eating of candy or the chewing of gum during school hours. The teacher, noticing a suspicious lump in Johnny's cheek, said: "Johnny, are you eating candy or chewing gum?"

"No, I'm not, teacher," Johnny replied, "I'm just soaking a prune to eat at recess." — Wisconsin Journal of Education.

DISEASE LURKS IN CROWDED HOUSES
Many a laying house will be the scene of a disease outbreak this winter, and yours may be one of them unless preventive care is taken. If you value the health of your birds, overlook nothing in your effort to provide them with healthy, comfortable quarters.

One of the commonest mistakes is that of crowding more birds into a poultry house than it is meant to accommodate. Overcrowding, if continued, can cut into your profits by encouraging the spread of disease, the development of cannibalism, and egg-picking. Lagging birds may become even more run-down because they are lost in the rush to the crowded feed troughs. Egg production per hen may drop for the same reason.

They Need Room
Remember this guide in determining the number of birds you may safely put into a poultry house:

1. Provide about 3 square feet of floor space per bird for light breeds.
2. Provide about 4 square feet of floor space per bird for heavy breeds.

Make sure there is no crowding to the feeders and waters, and that there is an adequate amount of roosting space, and plenty of nests. If feeders or waterers are too small, they are much more likely to be come contaminated, thus helping to spread disease. Roosts, when crowded do not allow birds to obtain the proper amount of rest. When there are not enough nests, eggs become dirty, and a considerable number of them may be broken or eaten by the hens.

Plenty of Feeding Space
Allow at least 36 feet of feeder space and 2 5-gallon waterers for every 100 birds. Provide enough roosting space so that each bird has from 8 to 10 inches of space. Each pole should be 14 to 16 inches apart. There should be about 1 nest for each 5 chickens.

A dirty, unsanitary poultry house is a perfect breeding ground for disease. Keep it clean and disinfected. Wet litter is another favorite of disease organisms: keep the litter dry. Watch the litter surrounding waterers, and, when it becomes damp, replace it with dry litter.

AT SELF'S SERVICE STATION

Howdy Folks: There's a vast difference between a horse race and a political race. In the horse race, the whole horse runs.

You can't fool all the people all the time, but a politician is contented with a sizeable majority.

A politician is one who talks himself red, white and blue in the face.

That little boy who was sent to the store and forgot what he was sent for grew up to be a politician.

We make no bones of the fact that we are running after your business.

JUST TALK

by
A.M.J.

Being a groceryman these days is almost as tough as being in the newspaper business. Most every magazine and daily paper has some dirty cracks or pointed drawings about the price of food. The butcher is the main butt of the jokes and some of them are really good.

The only advantage of being a grocer or butcher over being a newspaper man or woman, is that eventually the public will get weary of throwing rocks at the food merchant but it has always been the custom of the average citizen to say that newspapers are always wrong, that there is no news in them and that the men who operate them are way off center.

However it seems to me that the main trouble with us guys is that we are not far enough off center and that we stick too closely to the actual reporting of news to make it as interesting as could be and most of us are too conservative to get too far off the beaten opinion to get folks for or against us.

If some of us who are writing for the papers should really go haywire and tell the truth about some of the things that happen and some of the things we think about then a lot of folks including ourselves would have to leave town.

Don't hold your breath until I tell all.

It seems that the nation is off to another buggy ride of strikes and threatened strikes and we might as well look forward to a continuous hullabaloo over the radio and in the daily press about strikes, strikes, strikes.

J. D. Norris says that he is still a new dealer and that he still believes that it is better for the big shots to pay off and for the working people to get high wages. He is very much in favor of paying high taxes and having a little more money than enough to pay them with than not to have high taxes and not having the money.

Personally I'd feel a lot better if things would settle down, I'm weary of wondering what is coming next, whether war is just around the corner, a depression creeping up on us or a blow up into something no one has ever heard of before.

In a discussion last week the subject came up on how to enjoy living and I said that very few people could enjoy considerable money if they had it and that most people spend their lives chasing the dollar and that those who gave up the race and enjoyed living on what comes their way are the happiest.

The other party contended that money has very little to do with it and that ones state of mind and attitude toward life is all that matters.

We both cited instances of men who have the right attitude and both admitted that we could never get into the right attitude and would spend the remainder of our lives worrying about prices, crops, weather, old age, water pressure, blood pressure, the stock market, war, peace, depression, inflation, sand storms, floods, womens styles, high wages, low wages, football, elections, baseball games, juvenile delinquency, the divorce rate, the loss of our hair, wrinkles, stomach ulcers and the price of aspirin.

There are more people who complain about the street arrangement and the traffic in Slaton than on most any other civic problem. That the motor traffic in Slaton is confusing is putting it mildly but there is one outstanding fact that cannot be denied and that is that we have very few automobile accidents in the city limits of Slaton. This I believe is at least partly due to the very fact that things are so confusing here that most motorists know that they are on their own and that they should look, stop and listen or the car coming to the right, the one coming from the left or the one coming straight on is going to smack them.

It is not unusual for a motorist to turn around in the middle of a business block, to stop too deep and block the entire street or for trucks to stop up the widest street in town but we have become so used to these dangers and inconveniences that we get along better than one can in a town like Lubbock where the motorists depend upon the light signals and when some one goes through them then a real accident occurs. Personally I am very much against the parking meters for it does nothing except gouge the motorists, they do not provide any more parking space and are a nuisance. The stop and go lights are a very poor excuse for controlling traffic but I have no better plan to offer, so I'll just stay in Slaton as much as I can and keep my eye peeled for you.

Slaton is an outstanding town in many respects; some of them make the town attractive and others detract in no uncertain terms.

We have more paved streets and alleys than most any town in West Texas, perhaps if actual statistics were available Slaton would be tops in this line. Slaton has one of the best cared for and most attractive parks of any town its size that I know of and our Club House is something unique and attractive, we have an above the average water system, our fire department is well organized and alert, the improved sanitary equipment should help make Slaton a clean town and our store buildings are beginning to show some improvements but to the stranger who comes to Slaton many of our buildings still make bad impressions. We need many new and modernized signs, a lot of fresh paint could be used to advantage and some of our buildings still have signs on them that were put there perhaps thirty years ago. Many of our homes have no numbers, most of our streets have no markers and there are many unsightly dead trees and most of the time many weeds and much refuse around the town.

Slaton is one of the best home towns anywhere and is fast getting to be an excellent business town. Let's go all the way and make Slaton tops in every way.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

It's Your Fight, Too!

Bing Crowley was "beefing" the other day about all that Our Town's doing in the way of sending food and clothes to Europe. Bing felt that those struggling democracies should look after themselves.

But most agreed with Judge Cunningham who said: "So long as any family or individual in Europe is helping hold the line for freedom—against the forces of intolerance—it's common sense, and common decency, to help 'em."

Because that's everybody's fight: To see that individual freedom is preserved in every aspect, big or little—whether it's the right to vote, or the right to enjoy a temperate glass of beer or ale with friends.

And from where I sit, no liberty's too small to overlook. Because the minute one small freedom is threatened, all the others are in jeopardy—just as the minute one small country loses freedom, all its neighbors are in danger!

Kitten - Jansa Wedding Vows Are Spoken In Rowena Church

A double-ring ceremony held at 9 o'clock Tuesday morning united in marriage, Miss Alice Jansa of Rowena and Wilfred Kitten, son of Mr. and Mrs. August Kitten of Slaton. The wedding was solemnized at St. Joseph's Church in Rowena, with the Rev. Father Bosen officiating before an altar decorated with salmon pink gladioli and fern, and flanked by white candles in candelabra.

The bride, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Louis Jansa, was given in marriage by her brother, Alton. She wore a gown of white satin with high rounded neckline and long sleeves tapering to points over her hands. Heavy embroidered lace outlined the deep sheer yoke of the fitted bodice, from which flowed a full skirt extending into a long train. Her fingertip veil of bridal illusion, edged in wide lace, was attached to a tiara of orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of white carnations and gladioli centered with an orchid. She also wore a rhinestone necklace and earclips to match, a gift of the groom.

Miss Gertrude Jansa, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. She wore a dress of aqua net with circular ruffled bertha over tiny cap sleeves. Her headpiece was of shirred organdy to match the dress. She wore aqua gloves and carried a bouquet of salmon pink gladioli.

Miss Joerita Kitten of Slaton, cousin of the bridegroom, was bridesmaid and was dressed identically as the maid of honor.

The groom was attended by his brother, Marvin Kitten, and the bride's brother, Andrew Jansa. Ushers were Clarence Kitten and Alton Jansa.

Sister Michael Marie, organist, played the traditional wedding march and accompanied the school choir during the Mass. Following the Mass, the bride was presented with a statue of the Blessed Virgin Mary, from the Sodality by Misses Bernice Lange and Elvera Werner.

All-Day Reception Held

An all-day reception was held in the home of the bride for close relatives and friends. The table was centered with a three-tiered cake topped with a miniature bride and groom. White candles burned in crystal holders. Miss Alma Kitten presided at the wedding cake, while Betty Jo Kitten registered guests in the bride's book.

The bridegroom's mother wore an ash gray suit with white and black accessories and a corsage of white gladioli.

For their wedding trip to Mexico and California, the bride chose a brown wool gabardine suit with white and green accessories and an orchid corsage. The couple will be at home on an irrigated farm near Slaton.

Mrs. Kitten was a graduate of St. Joseph's High School in Rowena and Mr. Kitten attended Slaton and Cooper High Schools. He served in the U. S. Army for twenty-one months, sixteen of which were spent overseas.

About seventy Slaton people attended the wedding, including the grandparents of the groom, Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Strube, and Rev. Father T. D. O'Brien.

Mrs. Sug Robertson brought the devotional message and Mrs. Max Arrants led the lesson on Korea.

Ten members were present with one new member, Mrs. R. W. Ragsdale, jr. Refreshments were served by the hostesses.

The December meeting will be held Monday, Dec. 13, in the home of Mrs. S. H. Adams.

Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Harp and daughter, Gwendolyn, of San Angelo came to Slaton last Wednesday. They were joined here by Mr. and Mrs. Ed Blair who accompanied them to Amarillo to spend Armistice Day with friends. Returning to Slaton, the Harps spent the week end in the Blair home here.

Armistice Day guest in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Parks was Mrs. Parks' nephew, Bobby Maxcey, who is a student at W.T.S.T.C. in Canyon.

IRA HARRISON
Manager

How's our railroad doing, young man?

"Is it making any money?"
"What are they paying for fuel these days?"
"Are you hauling much freight?"
"Do you like your job?"

The little old lady is not a busybody—she is merely looking after one of her investments.

She has some money in the Santa Fe. Maybe it's ten, maybe it's twenty, maybe it's fifty shares of Santa Fe stock.

She is entitled to attend a stockholders' meeting. She can get on her feet and ask our board of directors questions just like the above. She can compliment those gentlemen for their management, or she can bang her umbrella on the table and tell them off.

Alone, her few shares of stock can't do a lot. Alone, she couldn't elect a president of the United States. But stockholders just like her—housewives, teachers, merchants, salesmen, laborers—can tell us how to run the Santa Fe, and they do. (Actually 29,178 Santa Fe stockholders are women, most of them holding only a small number of shares each.)

And that's the beauty of America—the voice of the people is the voice that runs things, whether it's operating a transcontinental railroad or putting a man in the White House.

Isn't it a wonderful country where so many can own so much? That's "Free Enterprise."

Santa Fe stockholders, just as those of any railroad, know that American railroads must be permitted to earn at least 6% (many other industries earn more) on their investment in order to maintain sound and progressive operations and to continue to provide shippers and passengers with the finest in rail transportation.

SANTA FE SYSTEM LINES
Serving the West and Southwest

Chief Topics

Application was filed with the Interstate Commerce Commission, November 3, by the Panhandle and Santa Fe Railway Company for permission to merge six non-operating subsidiary railroad companies, according to Fred W. Gurley, Santa Fe Railway president. The Gulf, Colorado and Santa Fe also filed with the Commission to merge eight non-operating subsidiary railroad companies, Gurley added.

Purpose of the proposed mergers is to simplify systems, corporate structure and accounting. The properties of all the merging companies are leased to the Panhandle and Santa Fe Railway Company for operation within the State of Texas. No changes in operating or working conditions will occur if the mergers are approved by the Commission, but the mergers will create an internal simplification.

G. H. Minchin, operating vice president of the Santa Fe Railway today announced the expansion and enlargement of the Santa Fe's Research Department beginning November 16.

J. M. Nicholson, assistant to the operating vice president, has been appointed Director of the Department of Research, with headquarters in Chicago, Minchin said.

J. P. Morris, now general assistant, mechanical department, at Chicago, succeeds Nicholson as assistant to the operating vice president.

1. Cranberry sauce and jelly go as well with chicken, pork, game and other meats as with the traditional turkey.
2. Canned supplies make it possible to serve cranberries the year around.
3. The fresh berries can be used in many different desserts and are recommended as good pie fruit. Combined with apples, they give color and extra flavor to pie filling; combined with raisins they add tartness to keep the pie from being too sweet.

Cradle of Semitic Literature
The kingdom of Ugarit—which was destroyed by fire and disappeared some 13 centuries before the beginning of the Christian era—produced the oldest known Semitic literature from the Mediterranean region of the Near East, preceding about 1,000 years the flourish of the Old Testament writings. It was located adjacent to Palestine and Phoenicia, in what is now northern Syria, on the coast of the Mediterranean, opposite Cyprus.

MISCHIEF MAKER—Beryl Vaughan looks very much like the character she portrays every Saturday on NBC's "Meet the Meeks" program. Beryl plays Peggy, mischievous daughter of the slightly erratic Meek family.

Land of Sportsmen
Records show that 4,650,000 sportsmen hunted or fished on national forests last year compared to the pre-war high of 3,540,000 in 1941.

Farm Cash Income
Farm cash income, which has increased each year since 1933, rose to an all-time high of 30.5 billion dollars in 1947.

Fuegians, Primitive People
Fuegians, now almost extinct, are among the most primitive peoples of the world. There are four tribes of Fuegians, the Yahgan, Alacalof, Ona, and Haush. The Yahgan and Alacalof are canoe people of the channelways and coastal regions of the Fuegian Archipelago; the Ona and Haush are foot people of the forest fastnesses of Tierra-del-Fuego, the Ona tribe living like stone age men.

Preserving Wood with Salt
Salt treatments are particularly suited for the preservation of wood to be used in parks and playgrounds for the reason that the material so treated is left with a clean surface which can be readily painted.

Mechanizing Cotton Farms
Use of mechanized equipment holds great hope for cotton farmers. Experiments across the cotton belt indicate that drastic reductions in man-hour requirements can be brought about by mechanical equipment.

Registered Nurse Count
There are approximately 320,000 registered professional nurses in the United States today.

When Apple Trees Bear
Apple trees do not start to produce profitable crops until they are seven to 10 years of age and made a growth large enough to support three to eight bushels of apples.

How To Get More Milk This Winter

COLLEGE STATION, Nov. 15—This fall and winter it may pay Texas dairymen to feed their cows more grain. Of course, it's a good idea for dairymen to always feed their cows well, says G. G. Gibson, extension dairy husbandman of Texas A. & M. College. Give them all the good roughage they will eat and feed them more grain, especially the higher producing cows.

This year there is a rather special situation. Texas has had a long drouth, but in some places light sprinkles are trying to put an end to it. With labor still a problem, the high prices for meat have caused a cut in the size of dairy herds. Gibson says that far from now, there are about four per cent fewer milk cows than a year ago. And if the total milk production is going to meet the big demand that customers are calling for, then dairymen will have to get more milk from the cows they have.

Gibson says that up to a certain point, each pound of grain added to the ration will boost the milk production a little higher. He points out that how much extra grain they get depends on how much they are getting now, and on the local price of grain compared to the price of milk.

Glacier National Park

Glacier national park, on the line between the United States and Canada, is one of the greatest public preserves in the world. It has an area of approximately 1,500 square miles.

Fisherman's Paradise

Chesapeake bay offers fishing for striped bass, sea trout, blue fish, hardheads, perch, bass, spots, pike and black drum. The bay's fish bite from March to November. Rod fishermen in bay waters are not required to have a license.

Crow Repellent

Pop corn is injured seriously by treating it with crow repellent. Experiments on pop corn by the University of New Hampshire extension service showed a difference of between 95 per cent germination with no treatment and about 65 per cent germination in seed treated with crow repellent. On the other hand, with sweet corn the results were just the opposite. In many cases, the treated corn germinated from 5 to 10 per cent higher than the untreated corn. In other words, the crow repellent actually protected the corn seed from injurious soil fungi.

Tobacco Land Losses

On average tobacco land in the United States, from 10 to 25 tons of fertile topsoil per acre are lost each year through erosion. By laying out rows on the contour, these soil losses could be held to a minimum.

Sun Heats Water

Old Sol heats the hot water in Miami homes. A system of pipes under glass outmoded other forms of heating water. Three hours of sunshine on a "solar heater" provides enough hot water to supply a family for several days.

Home Accidents in 1947

For the first time in recent years, motor vehicles were deposed in 1947 as the champion accident killer. National Safety council figures show home accidents took 33,500 lives, well ahead of the traffic toll of 32,000.

Casual Comment

By Mrs. Nora Billingsley

"Just for fun" I looked over a copy of News Week dated Sept. 27. The papers have certainly "changed their tune" since then, and these excerpts, printed only a short time ago, are really out dated:—"A Republican sweep—of the Presidency and Congress—is now claimed by Republican managers and privately conceded by Democratic insiders." "Extensive private surveys—give Truman no chance, barring a miracle that isn't in sight." Truman's hell-raising campaign tactics will continue to be used even though their results, to date, have been disappointing. "Dewey's sweep will be so great, unless the present trend is reversed — etc."

A nice little qualifying word, that "unless." Certainly "nothing succeeds like success," and the scramble to get on the Truman bandwagon—after the need for a band is over—is little short of ludicrous. Even Mrs. Roosevelt pipes up from Paris, "Purge the Dixiecrats." I have never heard that she favored purging the communists, who are certainly a much greater menace to our country. Her sons certainly did nothing to contribute to the triumph of the Democrats, and, while they may not have voted Dixiecrat, they probably did not vote for Truman. Anyway, here in the good old U.S.A. people are still allowed to vote as they please.

Well, we can only hope that all this adulation does not "go to Mr. Truman's head." It is really a test. All of us have seen ordinary, friendly folk transformed by any small scrap of place or power into snooty little fools, filled with a much exaggerated sense of their own importance. Should the President develop a "dictator complex," it would perhaps lead to another "tug of war" between he and congress, in which nothing could be accomplished for anybody.

So "here's hoping" that the President can hold on to his commonsense and "keep his feet on the ground,"—which reminds me of an old history book of long ago, that told of a king, surrounded by the splendor and flattering sycophants of his court. He had an old servant that helped him keep a true perspective of life, and reminded him of the transient nature of his glory, by often whispering, "Remember, thou too, must die."

Japanese Birth Rate

Population of Japan is increasing at the rate of a million a year. At present Japan is growing only about about 80% of its food requirements.

Drunkometer Installed

A drunkometer, a chemical device registering alcoholic content in the blood, has been set up on the bay bridge at San Francisco for testing the sobriety of drivers. Drivers suspected of being drunk are given a balloon to blow up and the air in the balloon is then forced through the machine to determine the amount of alcohol in the blood. If the meter registers over .15 of 1 per cent—the equivalent of more than six ounces of whiskey or six bottles of beer—the man is too drunk to drive.

WILL pay 5c per pound for clean cotton rags at the SLATONITE.

Washing All-Nylons

Any all-nylon fabric may be washed if the finishing materials, dyes and trimmings, will withstand laundering. If in doubt, test an inconspicuous part of the item such as a hem for color and finishing fastness. Warm sudsy water should be used. Garment should be rinsed thoroughly and hung up away from contact with hot radiators or pipes.

Thawing Out Meats

Slow-thawed and fast-thawed meat give equally good results in cooking according to a survey. No difference in flavor, juiciness and shrinkage between meats thawed slowly in the refrigerator and thawed out rapidly on the kitchen table was found.
