SLATON BOY DECORATED SECOND TIME

REQUESTS BEING MADE FOR ITALIAN LABORERS HERE

In the tentative plans being made by Lubbock County officials to bring approximately 5,000 Italian war prisoners to this county to supply labor, Briggs Robertson reports that he has made requests that this action be allowed as many as possible and that the permit to use the laborers be secured soon.

According to present regulations concerning this kind of labor, a minimum of 15 laborers must be contracted for by each employer and all must be paid by a schedule of wages that has been set up by military authorities.

While no definite allotment of Italian prisoners has been made at the present, Lubbock County officials hope to get them soon. They will be housed at the Lubbock County State Grand.

Business Firm Changes Hands

"It certainly is nice to be back home again in Slaton," says Joe Fondy, who purchased E. J. Shoe Shop this week, and a new busy repairing shoes, sing boots and shoes and other items in the leather shop.

Joe worked ten as a fireman on the Santa Fe for a number of years, before moving to Lubbock in 1935, where he set into the shoe repairing business and did a large business as a maker and designer of hand made leather goods.

Mr. Fondy is a well known bootmaker and has made many fine pairs of cowboy boots for the gentlemen of the area and for those who enjoy their cowboy footwear.

With the modern lines which the shop has equipped, Mr. Fondy anticipates getting out work in readiness that he expects to turn out very fine tooled leather pieces.

Mrs. Fondy has four children will mention as soon as a location for home can be arranged.

Lt. Donald Shelby Receives Silver Star

For the second time in recent months, Lt. Donald Shelby, son of Mrs. J. H. Shelby of Slaton, has received decorations for bravery in action.

The first was The Army Purple Heart, which is one of the oldest and most coveted decorations that is issued by the Army, and is issued to men who have been wounded. The occasion for which he received this medal was when he received wounds when in action against a French mortar nest which was annihilated.

The second decoration, the Army Silver Star, came for heroic action when German held 523 was captured by the Americans in the Tunisian campaign.

A recent issue of Time Magazine gives credit to the regiment that captured this hill, as being one of the finest Infantry regiments in the United States Army. Lt. Shelby has led a very active and interesting life since graduating from the Slaton High School not so many years ago, having lived in Chicago and other large American cities. He entered the Army from Chicago on December 6, 1940, and in the past seven months has participated in nine major battles. He is timid about telling of his decorations and experiences although he is evidently

Slaton Man Dies In Japanese Prison Camp In The Philippines

Mr. and Mrs. B. C. Ehlers, who live at 603 South 8th Street, received a letter last week from the War Department, stating that their son, Sgt. Lawrence Ehlers, had died in a Japanese Prison Camp in the Philippines.

The letter gave no details of how Sergeant Ehlers met his death, but did state that it occurred on June 11th. His parents had not heard from him since last March when the Red Cross reported that he was a captive of the Japanese and his parents were under the impression that he had been taken to Japan.

He had been in the service for the past 11 years, and was captured when the Philippines fell. Sgt. Ehlers was employed as a cook at the Harvey House in Slaton a number of years ago, but remained here only a short time.

Fish Like These Are Now Waiting For You To Catch Them

The above illustration demonstrates what could be done at your favorite fishing resort if you had the gasoline ration coupons to get there, but recent information from the head of the Lubbock County Gasoline Rationing Board is that they are tightening up on the boys who are visiting fishing resorts, so it might be a better idea to look this illustration over carefully and take a fishing trip into the ideal fishing place of all, in the vacation land of dreams, where the fish strike at anything, there are no such things as chiggers or ticks, no game wardens, no sore muscles. All that is required to get you there is an easy riding chair under the shade of the backyard tree on a lazy afternoon.

For Auld Lang Syne, My Friend, For Auld Lang Syne--

The purpose for which the above gathering was held is not on record at our office, but there are many faces that will be familiar to people who have resided here for a number of years.

The young folks who are looking for inspirations in styles that can be revived may find just what they are looking for here.

SOUTH PLAINS BUSINESS AND INDUSTRIAL GUIDE

It Is Fun To Be Well Dressed

Do you like to be original and yet in tune with the times? Do you want to be considered well dressed and to have your children appear well groomed and yet not have them seem conspicuous? This is easy to do if you shop at Christie's in Lubbock for the things that make a woman's wardrobe complete, the small details that make a dress, a pair of slacks or a hat seem to blend with your personality, the kind of clothing that is in perfect tune with the style trends and yet has originality and individuality and the same is true of the little garments of the children and don't think that they do not like to have nice clothing. It is the time to instill into their young minds that appearances count and to have them form habits that will bring them happiness for years to come.

Christie's is the shop in Lubbock to find good things for the family to wear, the kind of clothing that will mark your family as well dressed. These good articles of wearing apparel are not high priced when fine quality is considered and it always pays to consider quality. A visit to Christie's will be a pleasure both to you and to Mrs. Harriett Christie, who is the manager at Christie's.

Venetian Blinds Are The Thing

Do you like to save money and at the same time make your home more attractive? You can do this very thing if you have not already installed Venetian Blinds. These blinds have many advantages. They allow you to see out, yet no one can see in, they are easily dusted and kept clean and in this way do away with expensive laundering of curtains and draperies. They cost less installed than most window decorations and come in colors to blend with any home decorations.

If you do not yet have Venetian Blinds in your home or in your business office, then write or see the Lubbock Venetian Blind Manufacturing Co. They make their own blinds to fit any window, door or other opening and in the color you desire. They have several kinds for you to select from and their prices are most attractive.

If so, you will enjoy a visit to the South Plains Music Co., where you can get the most popular sheet music at all times. This Company is famous all over Texas for its huge stock of sheet music and they receive mail orders for music from all over the United States.

The South Plains Music Company is truly the musical headquarters for the South Plains.

Bugs And Things Are After You

Mites are getting on the chickens and bugs are playing havoc in many a Victory Garden, says Mrs. Gran McWilliams, manager of the City Drug Store, and it is almost unpatriotic to allow this to happen, because it can be so easily stopped.

There are two different kinds of insects that usually destroy flowers and vegetables and both of them can be destroyed with the proper kind of sprays, as can the lice and mites on poultry. The City Drug Store has one of the largest stocks of poultry remedies, stock remedies and garden sprays in Lubbock County. This popular store has supplied the people of this section with these products for years and Mrs. McWilliams is always glad to help and suggest the products that will kill off these pests.

You Can Put New Life In Your Car

Do you remember how much easier a new automobile used to ride than the one you were about to trade in? And do you remember that in a week or two the new car did not seem to ride any easier than the old car did when you sold it? The pleasure of riding in a clean, trim looking car is what counts and since you cannot get a new car the next best thing is to make your present automobile look like a new car and that is where Hoyt Meador can help you out. Hoyt's Body and Fender Shop is equipped to turn out work that is a good as a factory job. They can repair fenders and automobile bodies to look just like they did when the manufacturer ran them off the assembly line and he can match any color of paint. Hoyt's Body Shop can make seat covers to fit any make of car and they do their work right. If you want to make your car look better and enjoy riding in it, see Hoyt today. He will be glad to quote prices and advise you how to make your car look and act like a new one.

Guard Against The War Jitters

The way you feel has more to do with your success and happiness than any one thing in the world. To keep fit is your duty to your loved ones and to your country so that you can do your share of the work for Victory.

There are hundreds of people in this vicinity who are suffering from war nerves and other disorders that could be easily remedied with a few scientific treatments at the Abell Sanatorium, says R. Z. Abell, the owner, who is one of the best known masseurs in the Southwest. Mr. Abell gives treatments that relieve many ailments that do not respond to ordinary treatment and he is always glad to give examinations free. His Sanatorium is always open and he will be glad to have visitors at any time.

Better Check Up On Your Roof

The high winds and hail storms that have been unusually heavy this spring and summer have damaged hundreds of roofs in this section. Some of these roofs have shown the effect of the storms immediately and have been repaired, while others will not begin to leak for some time yet. If your property is in the region where these storms have occurred, you should have the Texas Roofing Company of Lubbock to make an inspection immediately, so that they can make minor repairs before big leaks occur.

This big Roofing Co. services this part of Lubbock County with roofing work of all kinds. They not only install new roofs, but make roof repairs of all kinds. A postcard or letter will bring one of their men to call upon you the first time one of the Texas Roofing men come to Slaton or this vicinity. They are always glad to make estimates and quote prices.

"The flowers are for yesterday and the monuments for tomorrow."

"I'd like to tell you what the Japs did to some friends of mine"

"I AM LIEUTENANT (j. g.) ANN B. BERNATITUS, U. S. N.—a nurse, back from Bataan. I have a message for you . . .

"Those American boys—who fought for you with their backs to the wall, waiting for help that never reached them—came from the land of plenty. But when their lives were at stake, all they had was . . . plenty of nothing!

"They were outnumbered, outgunned, and out-supplied. They were so short of ammunition that antiaircraft gunners often had to hold their fire until the enemy planes were on top of them. They were so short of bandages and gauze that we nurses had to wash out the old ones and use them again.

"But they were never short of courage. They never spoke of surrender. They just went on fighting, and hoping, and dying. And no sacrifice was ever too great.

"Let me give you an example. One terrible day on Bataan we had 285 patients on our operating tables in 8 hours—a new patient every two minutes of the day.

"A sailor was brought in with his abdomen blown to bits. He was a goner and I think he knew it. 'Doctor,' he asked, 'is there any hope at all?'

"The doctor wished to reassure him and replied, 'We'll do everything we can!' The sailor tried to roll over. 'Doc,' he begged, 'get me off this table and save one of those other fellows who still has a fighting chance.'

"That was the kind of men we had at Bataan. And they would want you to remember not only what they did, but what they did without.

"They would want you to remember it, but not with flowers and memorials. The flowers are for yesterday and the monuments for tomorrow.

"Remember them now—this month and every month—by buying War Bonds!

"Buy guns and planes and shells and ships and tanks—for those other countrymen of yours who are fighting so far from home. See to it that never again, any place in the world, will American fighting men be caught short as they were on Bataan! That never again will American wounded perish for the help your dollars might have sent!

"Certainly taxes are higher. Certainly the cost of living has gone up. But the men on Bataan were never ten-percenters!

"They gave everything they had. And now it's up to you to buy War Bonds not only if you can, but all you can! Please believe me, folks—that's the way the boys on Bataan would like to be remembered!"

Ronald Colman and Greer Garson, teamed for the first time, provide haunting romance and a dramatic story in "Random Harvest," Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer screen presentation of James Hilton's best-selling novel, showing at the Palace Theatre Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday.

Closely following the book, except that the story is told in chronological order instead of in "flash-backs," it deals with a wealthy Englishman who loses all memory of his past during the first World War. Be-friended by a young actress, he starts life anew and wins note as a writer. They marry. Then, in an accident, his memory of the past comes back, but memory of the space after the war vanishes. He assumes his old identity and becomes a powerful figure in industry. The wife, realizing that she now is a stranger to him, becomes his secretary, never mentioning their marriage, and essays the task of winning back his memory and love. How this is accomplished provides a haunting romantic climax.

Comicality piles on comicality as Lana Turner and Robert Young romp through a series of adventures in high gear in M-G-M's "Slightly Dangerous," the romantic comedy playing at the Palace Theatre preview Saturday night, Sunday and Monday.

Lana plays the soda clerk in a department store, of which Young is the new manager. Tired of her routine, she puts on an exhibition of mixing sodas blindfolded. Young "fires" her. She leaves a suicide note, poses as an amnesia victim and is "discovered" as a millionaire's long lost daughter.

Blamed for the "suicide," Young hunts for her to save his job. He finds her and then proceeds to expose her. But it is not until a series of laugh-provoking episodes are unfurled that they discover they are really in love.

The adventure comes to an end in a delightful manner, cleverly worked out and also effectively handled by all of the principals.

PLANE TALK

by the Observer

There is little doubt that aircraft engineering design will be ready to fit the products to the needs of the post-war era. Already wartime necessity has advanced the industry 20 years, according to some observers.

The big problem faced by the aircraft manufacturers—and a bigger one than that faced by industry in general because of a precedent-shattering expansion—is the transition from all-out war production to peacetime operations.

Obviously there will be a cut in production but how great it will be no one knows. To meet the emergency and to cushion against the shock of greatly curtailed production and unemployment, aircraft manufacturers are trying to build up post-war reserves.

It's not for an amateur like The Observer to get too deeply into this problem but we are passing on an interesting excerpt from a memorandum written by one of the best informed men in the aviation business.

"Adequate reserves are needed to effect the transition into peacetime development of products and full peacetime employment. Thus, the most important existing factor in the situation is the ability of companies to build up adequate reserves—which are a primary requisite for the life of these companies and for their usefulness to the national economy. Renegotiation of contracts, as provided for under a law enacted last April, is an incubus on the industry because of confusion and uncertainty regarding corporate earnings and assets exist over a long period."

An encouraging sign, so far as the manufacturers are concerned, is a recent recommendation by the Senate Truman Committee investigating the war effort. It urges the adoption of a national policy to provide "liberal profit margins" for war contractors who create reasonable reserves for post-war reconversion purposes.

The Committee, after studying the existing contract renegotiations law and operations of the price adjustment boards under it, also urged more general adoption of the so-called future-pricing policy used by the War Department as an incentive for efficiency in war production.

LONG WAY TO GO

Any idea any of us may have that the railroads and trucking companies will be put out of business by cargo airplanes after the war certainly is dispelled by the following (from Washington)—The volume of air cargo now carried by U.S. airlines could increase a hundred times and yet capture only one-tenth of one-percent of the freight-ton miles now carried by American railroads and trucks.

NOT ART, BUT...

Maybe it's the picturesque scenery, but we think it's a desire to help win the war that prompted five of America's most widely known artists to go to work at the Tucson (Ariz.) Division of Consolidated Vultee.

Working on Liberator (B-24) bombers are Ray Strang, noted illustrator; Jack Van Ryder, famed for his western paintings; Gerry Pierce, who does etchings and water colors; Oscar Davisson, sculptor, and Edith Hamlin, famous muralist.

NO MORE, BROTHER

Anyone who has ever voiced the thought that a policeman hasn't a heart could not have had Officer Carl C. Neuman in mind.

This burly, 49-year-old ex-baseball umpire, who now guards the Pennsylvania-Central Airline hangars and offices at Washington National Airport, has a heart that's as big as his blood supply, and the latter is monumental. Neuman's a blood donor and too modest to talk about it, but he has given exactly 77 pints of blood to aid suffering humanity. He says he keeps in trim by drinking plenty of milk and eating steaks that would put Diamond Jim Brady to shame.

All this, you will agree, is something of a record—but it was set before meat rationing began.

Current Summary War Information

Because of strikes, only 838,000 tons of bituminous coal were added to the nation's stockpiles in May, according to solid fuels administrator Ickes. "Since we must build up stockpiles in the spring and summer if we are to have sufficient coal to carry us through the fall and winter, our failure to increase them now to the full extent of our capacity will multiply our difficulties next winter," Administrator Ickes said.

Chiropractic does not "treat" effects. Its objective is to "adjust" causes. There must be a cause for every effect, and the Chiropractic premise is that interference to the proper transmission of nerve force creates a bodily condition of dis-ease. Vigorous health is only contributed by the healthy and normal function of the forces within your own body. Chiropractic adjustments restore and maintain normal function.

With large supplies of new potatoes coming to market, the War Food Administration has assured producers that it intends to provide full support to the potato market by government purchases. Potatoes are being purchased at prices equivalent to about 92 percent of parity. WFA also will try to divert shipments to areas needing potatoes.

Complaints have reached OPA from various parts of the country that farm radio batteries which are being purchased at retail prices of $5 to $7, lately—because of scarcity—have been selling for $10 to $14 each. Retail prices on batteries are "frozen" under the general maximum price regulation at the March, 1942, level of the individual dealer. OPA encourages farmers to report any overcharge.

The War Food Administration has requisitioned the corn stocks in 96 midwestern terminal elevators in a further effort to break the distribution jam that has prevented corn processing plants from obtaining supplies with which to produce feed and industrial products essential to the war effort. Farmers have been reluctant to sell corn at ceiling prices, ($1.07 per bushel, Chicago basis) because corn is worth more when fed to hogs than sold as corn. Speculative buyers also have held corn firmly.

The closing down of corn processing plants seriously cripples war production of explosives, aluminum, magnesium, and other war products, WFA officials said. Inability of feeders and mixed feed producers to obtain supplies is detrimental to the production of livestock, poultry and milk.

Beginning July 1, a motorist to be eligible for a used tire must show he used his car for an essential occupational purpose. The applicant must also meet certain other tests, including formation of a ride-sharing club where possible, or establishing the lack of reasonably adequate alternative transportation.

ago when she broke her arm.) Two whole rows! Long, too.

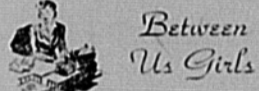

Her chickens (she's got gobs of them) run around peach, pear and plum trees in the back yard. The two pear trees are so loaded with fruit that the branches almost touch the ground. I'm waiting for those Alberta peaches to get ripe. I had no idea peaches grew as large as baseballs around here. Now I know everything!

I could go on for paragraphs and still not tell you all about the grapes, egg plant, lima beans, okra, peanuts, cabbage and tomatoes (here I go!) Mrs. Gregory is raising. I'll just sit by and take pity on all you people who didn't have such good luck with your garden this year. "If at first you don't succeed, try, try again!"

Don't believe a word of this because Leroy Lively is just popping off, but I think it's pretty cute, anyway:

I, Pvt. Wyatt B. Nesbitt, 28514460, Hut 6, Co. A 66th Battalion, 14th Training Regiment, United States Army, Camp Fannin, Texas, request all my friends to write to me immediately. I am very lonely here as there are only 14,000 other boys to keep me company. All letters, PARCELS, cigarettes, eats, blondes and redheads will be appreciated. Signed, Pvt. Nesbitt.

Leroy had better watch his step when "Buck" comes home on furlough. Oh well, Roy always manages to stay out of the way of those who are bigger than he. (Did you ever notice the way he dodges me?)

Between Us Girls

BY DONNA SANNER

Oh golly! I really walked into a fairyland when I wandered amongst the carrots, cauliflower and watermelons belonging to Mrs. L. R. Gregory, Wednesday. That woman has everything imaginable in her garden. I can most certainly place it in the very highest class, along with Mr. Scudder's.

Mrs. Gregory has raised 250 lbs. of potatoes off of two rows! Not very long, either. She has picked 100 lbs. of green beans and 16 gallons of plums. Nice, huh? That's not counting what she kept out for herself. That's a good deal!

Editor Jackson is always making some bright remark about his broccoli, but if he wants to see some broccoli that is REALLY broccoli, he should oughta' take a meander over to the Gregory's and take a long, envious look. Bet his eyes would pop out of his head!

The pumpkins are soon going to be ready to adorn a tender, flaky pie crust. (My, my! Doesn't your mouth simply water?) The black-eyed pie surely caught my eye! (They are planted right next to the alley, too. Can you imagine?) The corn is as tall as I am and twice as green. Mrs. Gregory can pat herself on the back for raising such a nice strawberry patch. She planted those berries with only one hand. (Not so long

THIS WEEK'S LESSON.

"Sacrament" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, July 11.

The Golden Text is: "We being many are one bread, and one body: for we are all partakers of that one bread" (I Corinthians 10:17).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "For as many of you as have been baptized into Christ have put on Christ" (Galatians 3:27).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "In proportion to his purity is man perfect; and perfection is the order of celestial being which demonstrates Life in Christ, Life's spiritual ideal" (page 337).

Southwestern PUBLIC SERVICE Company

PROGRESSIVE MEN AND CIVIC LEADERS OF LUBBOCK

This department has been worked up as a reflection of public opinion. No man has written of himself or his business, all articles having been compiled by a Slatonite representative as he saw conditions. These men are all leaders in their various lines of endeavor, and the co-operation of those citizens of Lubbock who helped to make this department possible is sincerely appreciated by the publisher.

Ruth Barnard And Marvin L. Stone

Miss Ruth Barnard and Mr. Marvin L. Stone of the Blue Bonnett Laundry, are those progressive type of citizens upon whom the community depends a great deal for leadership in business and civic matters. They have in the past and no doubt will continue in the future to give more than their share of time and energy for the welfare of others than themselves. Miss Barnard and Mr. Stone are the type of people who make friends, and friendships once formed by them are never broken by an unfriendly act on their part, and they spare no effort in order that their services to the people of the community shall be dependable.

Ruth Barnard and Marvin Stone have never been known to inject themselves into a situation for the mere purpose of gaining publicity. However, they proceed in a calm unostentatious manner, and accomplish their objectives with a quiet dignity. We do not hesitate to recommend these people to our friends as good examples of the more progressive type of business leaders who have aided in the growth and development of Lubbock.

Fred B. and Mrs. Durham

Good tourist courts are indispensable to the progress and development of a growing city such as Lubbock. And the Camp-O-Tel, being one of the finest in this part of the state, has caused many business men and tourists to make Lubbock their headquarters when covering this section of the state.

The management of the Camp-O-Tel has maintained an ideal of service which is thoroughly exemplified in the manner in which every employee attends to his duties. Nothing is taken for granted; nothing is forgotten. Hospitality and service are always their first and last consideration.

Much of the credit for the splendid reputation of this modern drive in hotel is due Mr. and Mrs. Fred B. Durham, whose untiring efforts, foresightedness and careful attention to detail, has maintained a standard for hospitality and popularity which would be difficult to surpass. It is a pleasure to say these few words of praise about the Camp-O-Tel and the friendly managers, Mr. and Mrs. Durham.

C. S. Walker

Civic pride is one of those things that go hand in hand with success, because a man must have been successful to fully appreciate the advantages that were offered him by the community in which he lives.

Mr. C. S. Walker of Bray's Cleaners, is one of those business men of Lubbock who has shown appreciation for his success by his attention to all civic matters. His willingness to become a part of the wheel of community progress when united effort was put over some movement for the good of the city has always been taken for granted.

His quiet assumption of responsibility, not only in connection with his own business but in civic matters as well, has a feeling of interest in the welfare of the community.

C. H. Brazier

In compiling this review of progressive Lubbock business men, we have endeavored to select those men, who, by the manner in which they have conducted themselves and their business, have caused the public to spot in them certain qualities over and above the average. Such a man is Mr. C. H. Brazier of the Clarence Candy Co., who is well known and has many friends throughout this entire district.

Mr. Brazier's main interests have not been solely confined to his own private affairs and the conduct of his business, but have also included the development of those projects of a civic nature which come within the scope of his activities.

C. H. Brazier is a man of wide experience whose exploits in the business and civic life of Lubbock and vicinity merits more than passing attention and this writer is privileged to pay this tribute to such a man as he.

J. M. Aura

It is a privilege in this review of progressive men and firms that have been a great aid to the growth and development of Lubbock, to place such a man as J. M. Aura of M. Aura & Co. on an equal plane with all others of his rank. In the past, few men have exceeded him in contributing their time and energy to the civic improvement of Lubbock and this district.

Mr. Aura, for many years recognized as one of the more progressive cotton men of this section of the state, still retains that distinction in the admiration and respect of his wide circle of friends. His interest in and the very valuable assistance he has rendered to many projects of a civic nature reflect the principles which he always so successfully applied in his business affairs.

We of the Slaton Slatonite congratulate J. M. Aura on his record, and sincerely hope that his career will be as useful and completely successful in the years ahead as it has been in the past.

Benj. Cave

In bestowing credit upon some of those progressive business men of Lubbock who, in their own way, have contributed their bit to improve both business and civic conditions we wish to say a few words of praise about Mr. Benj. Cave of Cave's Helpy-Selfy Ldry.

Mr. Cave has set a standard for himself and the operation of his business that, under the existing conditions, has been very difficult to maintain. However, that he has done so is proved by the continued popularity and patronage enjoyed by his laundry, much of which is due to his unceasing attention to detail and his ability to cope with new and unexpected problems.

Benj. Cave is also civic minded and has, when asked, cheerfully cooperated on those civic activities to which he has been able to lend assistance. He deserves the respect and good-will he has earned and we and his friends are confident that he will continue to maintain his standing in the community.

J. A. and Earl J. Hodges

Lubbock owes much to those progressive citizens who have taken an active part in the growth and progress of the city and who, because of their activities, have aided in the growth and development of the surrounding territory. In mentioning some of these men it is only fair to include J. A. and Earl Hodges of the Auto Tractor Co.

They have devoted much of their time to civic activities and their main interests have always been directed to the welfare and building up of a greater Lubbock.

E. W. Maben

Because this is a period of growth and expansion for Lubbock those business leaders who had the foresight and ability to lay their plans so as to be able to take advantage of those conditions are entitled to more than ordinary acclaim. We are therefore glad to pay tribute to E. W. Maben of the All American Device Co., for he is becoming a well-known figure in the business life of the city. His persistent optimism and steadfast belief in the continued prosperity of the people of Lubbock and vicinity are characteristics which are deserving of our highest praise.

Mr. Maben has always shown a willingness to do his part in civic advancement, and has contributed repeatedly of his time and energy to the welfare of his city. We believe that this type of business leader is entitled to our sincere praise both because he has achieved success in his private affairs and because he is willing to contribute to the public good.

Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Haney

In paying tribute to some of the more progressive business people of Lubbock we would be remiss in our duty were we to fail to include Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Haney, of Haney's Helpy-Selfy Ldry., and who have recently taken over the operation of Campbell's Laundry.

They are people who have contributed much to the welfare of Lubbock and the community for many miles around. Their civic spirit is evidenced by the many services they have performed and which they continue to perform in the interests of the people as a whole. No worthwhile enterprise which promises to benefit the community escapes their attention.

They are people of wide acquaintance, whose many friends admire and respect in them those virtues which inspire confidence and promote good feeling. Their upright business methods are a credit to their high sense of honor. There is always a place in any community for citizens of their type. We congratulate W. D. and Mrs. Haney on their splendid record of service and trust they shall continue to assist us for many years to come.

Mrs. Mollie D. Abernathy

Performing an outstanding service for the people of Lubbock and the surrounding area, Mrs. Mollie D. Abernathy, a leading real estate operator, has achieved an enviable reputation for her progressive policies of business administration. Her knowledge of real estate values and ability to forecast the directional growth of the city have been important factors in her well-earned success.

Mollie Abernathy is a business woman of ideas and she is as practical as she is aggressive in putting those ideas to beneficial use in furthering the service she renders to the people. Her sound business judgment and unwavering honesty are characteristics which place her in the front rank of the business leaders of Lubbock. And yet she is unassuming and modest in her personal contact with the people; always ready and willing to listen to their ideas and desires.

We are glad to pay tribute to this type of business leader, for it is such people as Mollie D. Abernathy who are making Lubbock a city to which prospective investors and residents turn with ever increasing favor.

The value of such men to the community cannot be overestimated when taking into consideration the many things they have accomplished that have been such an asset to this city and this entire district.

J. A. and Earl Hodges are wholly deserving of praise, and these few words of commendation are but a just recognition of the many activities which they have conducted on behalf of the general welfare of the community. The honest and successful conduct of their business affairs is but a reflection of their character. We trust that they shall continue to serve Lubbock and vicinity for many years.

D. O. Gentry

The progress of any community hinges to a great extent upon the activities of the more progressive men and women in the world of business. This is as true in this locality as in any other sector and local readers are thus to be congratulated for their part in the general advancement of the area's status. One of the more progressive tourist court operators in this section is Mr. D. O. Gentry, who is widely known and universally liked.

Few people have so clearly shown the success possible through the tireless effort and fine conduct with the public, and he fully deserves that success for which he has worked so hard.

The success of D. O. Gentry illustrates the merits of ability grounded in experience and coupled with added asset of a pleasing and sincere personality. The Auto Inn Hotel, which features every hotel service, of which he is the manager, is a recognized asset to the business life of Lubbock. We compliment Mr. Gentry for the successful management of the Auto Inn Hotel and hope he will have many more years of continued success.

Clark Wood

There are a number of business and professional men in Lubbock who are recognized as leaders in their lines. This is especially true in the case of Clark Wood of the Clark Wood Insurance Service. Mr. Wood has long been in the forefront of the business and civic life of Lubbock. He is an aggressive person, yet one whose genial personality has earned for him and the companies he represents a host of friends and policy holders in this district.

Mr. Wood's intuitive understanding of the needs of the city are a valuable and important factor in the successful promotion of many civic activities. As a result of the combined efforts of men like him Lubbock is firmly established in the minds of the people for many miles around, and as a growing metropolis which they regard as the logical business center of South Plains country.

We congratulate Clark Wood for his success in business and public affairs and say without fear of contradiction that he will continue to enjoy that success which he has so justly earned.

Thos. F. Carver

Mr. Thos. F. Carver of the Tom Carver Boilers & Pipe Supply, is one of those men who has always gone his bit to maintain the prestige of the city of Lubbock as the leading metropolis of this section of the state. He has always worked for the development of the city and his many services are worthy of sincere appreciation.

Tom Carver has proved himself worthy of extended mention and these few words are not really adequate recognition of the many services he has performed in the promotion of public welfare. His well-earned success as a business man is easily understood knowing as the people do his widespread reputation for the honesty which characterizes all of his business dealings.

Mr. Carver is completely aware of his civic responsibilities and he is wide awake to the many opportunities for service. He is always ready and willing to lend his support to any project which promises to benefit the community as a whole. We compliment Tom Carver on his accomplishments and wish for him continued success.

R. M. Bowron

The true value of a citizen is not gauged by his personal success but rather by the manner in which he shares that success by his contribution to the community in which he lives. A city grows and flourishes according to the number of public spirited men and women who compose its population.

Mr. R. M. Bowron of the A. & B. Refrigeration Co., is one of those men who has given much toward the development of Lubbock. He

J. C. Hindman

Mr. J. C. Hindman of the Bowman Lmbr. Co. is one of those quiet unassuming, yet progressive business men who has consistently forged ahead in his business. And he has also put his shoulder to the wheel of civic progress any time his help was needed in furthering civic enterprise which showed definite promise of being beneficial to the welfare of the people.

Mr. Hindman was never a man who was given to wishful thinking. His methods are those of direct action, and whether the problem at hand is one concerning his own business or that of a civic nature he attacks it with optimism and vigorous enthusiasm. Add to this his acknowledged business ability and keen sense of values and it is easily understood why he is successful in business.

We feel it is our duty to call the attention of our readers to these worthwhile characteristics of J. C. Hindman and to pay him a deserved tribute for his straightforward business methods and for the unselfish interest he has shown in public welfare.

H. B. Hankins

Mr. H. B. Hankins of the Burrus Elevators has won the universal commendation of the people of Lubbock and our community for the progressive manner in which he has kept his company in the forefront of the business and rural life of this district. Also for the efficient and friendly willingness he has displayed in accepting his share of responsibility in aiding civic projects.

H. B. Hankins is not the kind of a man who makes himself conspicuous by the manner in which he conducts himself either in business or civic matters. Yet his quiet reserve and air of confidence mark him as a man of sound judgment whose opinion and advice is sought after and listened to with respect.

We compliment Mr. Hankins on the successful operation of the Burrus Elevators, also for his constructive advice and help in those civic activities in which he has found time to interest himself. He is a man whom many are proud to call a friend.

R. C. Garrett

Recognized as one of the more progressive business men of Lubbock, Mr. R. C. Garrett, the manager of the Cloverlake Dairy Stores, performs a real service for the people of his city and this district, and his many contributions to civic betterment are too well known to require repetition in these columns. His personal success has been turned to the advantage of his fellow citizens and he is always ready to assist in any enterprise which promises to advance the welfare of the community.

Mr. Garrett is deserving of praise, and this small tribute is but a just recognition of the many services which he has performed in the way of civic and business activities. His reputation for the successful conduct of his business is no greater than his reputation for the honest practices which

A. M. Chism

Our issue today proposes to call the attention of our readers to some of the progressive business and civic minded people who have contributed their share of time and energy to the building up of Lubbock and the surrounding territory to the position of prominence which it enjoys at the present. One of these men to whom we wish to direct attention is A. M. Chism of the Joe Chism Garage.

A business man who has never spared himself his aggressive march forward. He is a man whose competitors respect as much as do all others with whom he comes in contact.

A. M. Chism is at all times conscious of his civic responsibilities and may be depended upon to meet in every detail the many opportunities which present themselves to be of service to the city. Mr. Chism's record of achievement is one of which he may well be proud. His rise to the city, and this district is an established fact and we hasten to give him the credit which is his just due.

We congratulate R. C. Garrett on his splendid record and trust that he shall continue to serve the people of Lubbock and vicinity.

JUST TALK by A.M.J.

Whether there are more men from Texas and California in the Armed Forces, or whether the men from New York are better at dodging bullets, was explained in the last issue of Life, but the casualty lists showed that California has several times as many as New York, and New York and Texas were about equal.

Heinrich Bros. have a sign over their cold drink refrigerator that says, "Only one Pop to a Customer, Please Drink It in the Drive-way."

With cold drinks at a premium it is easy enough to understand why they have put a limit of one to a customer, but why you have to guzzle it out in the driveway like filling your tank with gasoline, is a little vague to me. Per-sure that after you get an incoming automobile that you will quit drinking drinks altogether, which is a bad idea.

Leo Henzler has quite a fishing outfit in the way of a collapsible boat. It is made of canvas and boards and he ties it on the outside of his automobile. Since constructing his boat, Leo has had very little sleep, as he fishes all night and works all day, proving that sleep is a waste of time.

Reports from Amarillo are that there is no beer in the beer joints, no whiskey in the liquor stores, no water in the bath tubs and that things are so dry that a soldier back on leave from Africa dug himself a foxhole in his father's back yard, and one man has been trying to buy a camel so he can make a safari cross country to Daltart.

My mind has been upset all week and will not be at ease until I find out whether Mrs. H. L. Carruth burned her roast last Tuesday noon. Mrs. Carruth came in the Slatonite Office along with her young son, who reminded her several times that the roast was in the stove cooking. Just thinking of a big hunk of roast getting burned to a cinder has almost ruined the week for me, and I'll bet it had little potatoes swimming around in the gravy, too.

Mark Twain says that the ant is a very much over-rated insect and that although ants work very hard all their lives, most of the work they do is wasted. According to Mark, an ant never tries to carry anything near his own size, but tackles dead beetles, defunct grass hoppers and other things, and instead of dragging them, he hoists his load up at the most difficult angles. Instead of going around an obstacle, the ant endeavors to pull his load over the mountain. Instead of pushing his oversized load down the obstacle, he pulls it down on top of himself and falls a distance that would compare with a man falling from the top of a six story building. After such an experience, the ant gives up, wanders around in a dazed condition for an hour or two and finds the same grass hopper leg again, hoists it on his back and starts over the mountain again, only this time he goes into the opposite direction, and falls off on the other side.

After watching folks over a vacation day, I have come to the conclusion that a great many of us are in the same classification with the ant. At a recreation resort you will find one person rushing to get to the bathing beach, another, with a bored expression and a sore back will be leaving; one will be stuffing a hamburger into his mouth with both hands and another will be over in the corner with indigestion; one group will be steaming at full speed to get to a place on the bank of a stream or lake with the sincere belief that right there is where the fish are waiting, while just as many will be headed for the place the first group just left. How do I know?

SYNTHETIC RUBBER NEWS

Phillips Petroleum Company Announces the Completion and First Operation of its 90,000,000 Lb. Butadiene Manufacturing Plant

For an annual production of rubber equivalent to 11,000,000 tires

A MODERN miracle of petroleum research and chemistry has figuratively transformed a few acres in the Panhandle of Texas into one-third of a million acres of rubber plantation.

Here rubber will be drilled from the depths of the U. S. earth, instead of tapped from East Indian and Malayan trees.

From wells overlying the greatest raw gas field ever discovered, will come the natural gas to be processed into butadiene, the basic and major ingredient in synthetic rubber.

This great plant . . . designed and built by Phillips . . . based on Phillips research . . . using Phillips own patented processes . . . independent of German research . . . will make butadiene for an equivalent of 30,000,000 rubber trees.

Thus is brought nearer the no-longer distant day of U. S. self-sufficiency in rubber. Thus is Victory made more certain. And with that great day will come the full peacetime benefits of this outstanding wartime development.

Brief Notes about Phillips as Trail Blazer in the Synthetic Rubber Field. Tires containing rubber produced from Phillips butadiene have been on the nation's highways for more than two years. In 1941 Phillips produced, for commercial rubber use, more than four times as much butadiene as any other oil company. Phillips has freely supplied technical data on butadiene, styrene, and other related processes, to the petroleum and other industries participating in the Government rubber program. As a matter of company policy, Phillips advocated the production of butadiene by all dependable processes, from all possible raw materials, including products of the farm.

FOR VICTORY... Buy U.S. War Savings Bonds and Stamps

—why from experience! Things have certainly changed fast in Slaton, as they probably have in most every place since the war started. A lot of folks who used to have time to take an interest in civic work must be too busy to even come down town these days. John Hannah used to make the rounds of the square most every afternoon, carrying his lantern like Diogenes looking for an honest man. He must have found the man or given up hope.

Arthur Dennis used to be on the streets occasionally, but he seems to be too busy to stop between home and work. I miss such men as Van Stokes, Louie Ares, Squire Peavy and P. G. Meading. The war seems to have made a lot of difference in every one's life. The young fellows who have gone to war have left things too quiet around here and all the real zip of life is at a low ebb. And the trouble is that things will never be the same again; that is, if all the supposed to be improvements in our way of life take effect. Freight being dumped from the sky keeping us dodging to keep from being hit in the head with a tractor, automobiles with plastic bodies and chewing gum made out of sulphanimamide.

It is going to be tough to be neither an old timer nor one of the new generation—just a lost soul wandering around in a new age when you cannot be content sticking on the ground and still are too timid to go into the air.

However there seems to be room for a lot of improvements in our way of life and its not automobiles air-conditioning and airplanes that will make life more comfortable either. To me there is nothing more inconvenient than to try to wipe gravy off my face with a paper napkin, or to try to dry my hands on a paper towel. There is nothing more uncomfortable than sitting in a breakfast room made with built in benches that make you feel as if your head were going to drop into the scrambled eggs every time you bend forward to gnaw a bite of burnt toast. If some one would invent a divan that does not let you sag down to the floor and a bed that leaves at least three inches space between one's head and the headboard, then I would feel more like a few steps forward have been taken. Folks, this is not going to be a perfect world even after the war unless a lot of remodeling is done, and I am one who feels like the time is way past for it to be done. All that I am afraid of is that some fool will get some paper clothes on the market, then I will be ready to call it quits and go back to the horse and buggy, the coal oil lamp and the gourd dipper.

R. H. McDonald

Mr. R. H. McDonald of the Ada Williams Pest Control, has a well earned reputation for progressiveness, because he has consistently forged ahead in business, never letting up in his efforts to make the services his company renders to the people more valuable. This invariable policy has made the Ada Williams Pest Control service outstanding in his field, a fact that is well known to the public.

But Mr. McDonald has accomplished much more than just making a success of his business, and we take this opportunity to pay tribute to him for devoting all of the time he could spare to the welfare, not only of his own city, but of this entire district as well.

It is such men as he who are both successful in business and appreciative of their civic obligations, that are deserving of recognition. We take pleasure in publicly giving R. H. McDonald the credit for his accomplishments which his friends and associates have so long accorded him.

Gilbert F. Hill

We desire in this Lubbock review to call the attention of our readers to the leading position which Mr. Gilbert F. Hill has reached in the business life of this section. During the comparatively short time he has been the manager of the Bowman Wholesale Coal Yard in Lubbock he has made many personal friends as well as a host of new friends and customers for his business.

Mr. Hill has worked hard to deserve the confidence which the people of the community have in him and he continues to work hard to maintain in every way that high standard which he has set for himself.

He has shown a willingness to assist in every manner at his disposal in the growth and development of the city of Lubbock and is always ready and willing to lend his support to any project which promises to benefit the community as a whole. Gilbert Hill deserves our heartiest congratulations on the splendid record he has already established and we sincerely hope for his continued success.

E. C. Wallace

In making this review of progressive Lubbock business men it is fitting that we include some of those men who have by their progressiveness definitely established themselves in the business and civic activities of the city.

Such a man is E. C. Wallace of the Avinger Lmb. Co., who also deserves an additional word of praise for being more than just a successful business man; he is a consistent and enthusiastic booster of the home community and in this way has done much to advertise the city.

Mr. Wallace has pursued the progressive policy of stepping up his business ahead of the times, thus setting a pace for which he has earned the reputation for being a go-getter who does not sit back and wait for business to come to him.

We are glad to pay this tribute to E. C. Wallace, and to point out to our readers that his magnetic personality and enterprising methods are largely responsible for the standing of the Avinger Lmbr. Co. in this district.

Operator: No, indeed! X-ville is only sixty miles away. We hardly ever have delays to near-by towns where there are no big camps or factories.

Traveler: That's fine, I do want to call, but it's not terribly important, mind you!

PROGRESSIVE MEN AND CIVIC LEADERS OF LUBBOCK

This department has been worked up as a reflection of public opinion. No man has written of himself or his business, all articles having been compiled by a Slatonite representative as he saw conditions. These men are all leaders in their various lines of endeavor, and the co-operation of those citizens of Lubbock who helped to make this department possible is sincerely appreciated by the publisher.

Ruth Barnard And Marvin L. Stone

Miss Ruth Barnard and Mr. Marvin L. Stone of the Blue Bonnet Laundry, are those progressive type of citizens upon whom the community depends a great deal for leadership in business and civic matters. They have in the past and no doubt will continue in the future to give more than their share of time and energy for the welfare of others than themselves. Miss Barnard and Mr. Stone are the type of people who make friends, and friendships once formed by them are never broken by an unfriendly act on their part, and they spare no effort in order that their services to the people of the community shall be dependable.

Ruth Barnard and Marvin Stone have never been known to inject themselves into a situation for the mere purpose of gaining publicity. However, they proceed in a calm unostentatious manner, and accomplish their objectives with a quiet dignity. We do not hesitate to recommend these people to our friends as good examples of the more progressive type of business leaders who have aided in the growth and development of Lubbock.

Fred B. and Mrs. Durham

Good tourist courts are indispensable to the progress and development of a growing city such as Lubbock. And the Camp-O-Tel, being one of the finest in this part of the state, has caused many business men and tourists to make Lubbock their headquarters when covering this section of the state. The management of the Camp-O-Tel has maintained an ideal of service which is thoroughly exemplified in the manner in which every employee attends to his duties. Nothing is taken for granted; nothing is forgotten. Hospitality and service are always their first and last consideration.

Much of the credit for the splendid reputation of this modern drive in hotel is due Mr. and Mrs. Fred B. Durham, whose untiring efforts, foresightedness and careful attention to detail, has maintained a standard for hospitality and popularity which would be difficult to surpass. It is a pleasure to say these few words of praise about the Camp-O-Tel and its family managers, Mr. and Mrs. Durham.

C. S. Walker

Civic pride is one of those things that go hand in hand with success; because a man must have been successful to fully appreciate the advantages that were offered him by the community in which he lives. Mr. C. S. Walker of Bray's Cleaners, is one of those business men of Lubbock who has shown his appreciation for his success by his attention to all civic matters. His willingness to become a part of the wheel of community progress when united effort was needed to put over some movement or project for the good of the city, has always been taken for granted.

Walker's quiet assumption of responsibility, not only in connection with his own business but in civic matters as well, has lent a feeling of confidence to others interested in community development. It is a comment that Mr. Walker derives from their business and civic activities in Lubbock. In some of his leading civic projects we do not find the admiration of many of our citizens who have taken an active part in the growth and progress of the city and who, because of their activities, have aided in the growth and development of the surrounding territory. In mentioning some of these men it is only fair to include J. A. and Earl J. Hodges of the Auto Tractor Co. They have devoted much of their time to civic activities and their main interests have always been devoted to the welfare and the building up of a greater Lubbock.

C. H. Brazier

In compiling this review of progressive Lubbock business men, we have endeavored to select those men, who, by the manner in which they have conducted themselves and their business, have caused the public to spot in them certain qualities over and above the average. Such a man is Mr. C. H. Brazier of the Clarence Candy Co., who is well known and has many friends throughout this entire district.

Mr. Brazier's main interests have not been solely confined to his own private affairs and the conduct of his business, but have also included the development of those projects of a civic nature which come within the scope of his activities.

C. H. Brazier is a man of wide experience whose exploits in the business and civic life of Lubbock and vicinity merits more than passing attention and this writer is privileged to pay this tribute to such a man as he.

J. M. Aura

It is a privilege in this review of progressive men and firms that have been a great aid to the growth and development of Lubbock, to place such a man as J. M. Aura of M. Aura & Co. on an equal plane with all others of his rank. In the past, few men have exceeded him in contributing their time and energy to the civic improvement of Lubbock and this district.

Mr. Aura, for many years recognized as one of the more progressive cotton men of this section of the state, still retains that distinction in the admiration and respect of his wide circle of friends. His interest in and the very valuable assistance he has rendered to many projects of a civic nature reflect the principles which he always so successfully applied in his business affairs.

We of the Slaton Slatonite congratulate J. M. Aura on his record, and sincerely hope that his career will be as useful and completely successful in the years ahead as it has been in the past.

Benj. Cave

In bestowing credit upon some of those progressive business men of Lubbock who, in their own way, have contributed their bit to improve both business and civic conditions we wish to say a few words of praise about Mr. Benj. Cave of Cave's Helpy-Selfy Ldry. Mr. Cave has set a standard for himself and the operation of his business that, under the existing conditions, has been very difficult to maintain. However, that he has done so is proved by the continued popularity and patronage enjoyed by his laundry, much of which is due to his unceasing attention to detail and his ability to cope with new and unexpected problems.

Benj. Cave is also civic minded and has, when asked, cheerfully cooperated on those civic activities to which he has been able to lend assistance. He deserves the respect and good-will he has earned and we and his friends are confident that he will continue to maintain his standing in the community.

J. A. and Earl J. Hodges

Lubbock owes much to those progressive citizens who have taken an active part in the growth and progress of the city and who, because of their activities, have aided in the growth and development of the surrounding territory. In mentioning some of these men it is only fair to include J. A. and Earl Hodges of the Auto Tractor Co. They have devoted much of their time to civic activities and their main interests have always been devoted to the welfare and the building up of a greater Lubbock.

E. W. Maben

Because this is a period of growth and expansion for Lubbock those business leaders who had the foresight and ability to lay their plans so as to be able to take advantage of those conditions are entitled to more than ordinary acclaim. We are therefore glad to pay tribute to E. W. Maben of the All American Device Co., for he is becoming a well-known figure in the business life of the city. His persistent optimism and steadfast belief in the continued prosperity of the people of Lubbock and vicinity are characteristics which are deserving of our highest praise.

Mr. Maben has always shown a willingness to do his part in civic advancement, and has contributed repeatedly of his time and energy to the welfare of his city. We believe that this type of business leader is entitled to our sincere praise both because he has achieved success in his private affairs and because he is willing to contribute to the public good.

Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Haney

In paying tribute to some of the more progressive business people of Lubbock we would be remiss in our duty were we to fail to include Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Haney, of Haney's Helpy Selfy Ldry., and who have recently taken over the operation of Campbell's Laundry.

They are people who have contributed much to the welfare of Lubbock and the community for many miles around. Their civic spirit is evidenced by the many services they have performed and which they continue to perform in the interests of the people as a whole. No worthwhile enterprise which promises to benefit the community escapes their attention.

They are people of wide acquaintance, whose many friends admire and respect in them those virtues which inspire confidence and promote good feeling. Their upright business methods are a credit to their high sense of honor. There is always a place in any community for citizens of their type. We congratulate W. D. and Mrs. Haney on their splendid record of service and trust they shall continue to assist us for many years to come.

Mrs. Mollie D. Abernathy

Performing an outstanding service for the people of Lubbock and the surrounding area, Mrs. Mollie D. Abernathy, a leading real estate operator, has achieved an enviable reputation for her progressive policies of business administration. Her knowledge of real estate values and ability to forecast the directional growth of the city have been important factors in her well-earned success.

Mollie Abernathy is a business woman of ideas and she is as practical as she is aggressive in putting those ideas to beneficial use in furthering the service she renders to the people. Her sound business judgment and unwavering honesty are characteristics which place her in the front rank of the business leaders of Lubbock. And yet she is unassuming and modest in her personal contact with the people; always ready and willing to listen to their ideas and desires.

We are glad to pay tribute to this type of business leader, for it is such people as Mollie D. Abernathy who are making Lubbock a city to which prospective investors and residents turn with ever increasing favor.

The value of such men to the community cannot be overestimated when taking into consideration the many things they have accomplished that have been such an asset to this city and this entire district.

J. A. and Earl Hodges are wholly deserving of praise, and these few words of commendation are but a just recognition of the many activities which they have conducted on behalf of the general welfare of the community. The honest and successful conduct of their business affairs is but a reflection of their character. We trust that they shall continue to serve Lubbock and vicinity for many years.

D. O. Gentry

The progress of any community hinges to a great extent upon the activities of the more progressive men and women in the world of business. This is as true in this locality as in any other sector and local readers are thus to be congratulated for their part in the general advancement of the area's status. One of the more progressive tourist court operators in this section is Mr. D. O. Gentry, who is widely known and universally liked.

Few people have so clearly shown the success possible through the tireless effort and fine conduct with the public, and he fully deserves that success for which he has worked so hard.

The success of D. O. Gentry illustrates the merits of ability grounded in experience and coupled with added asset of a pleasing and sincere personality. The Auto Inn Hotel, which features every hotel service, of which he is the manager, is a recognized asset to the business life of Lubbock. We compliment Mr. Gentry for the successful management of the Auto Inn Hotel and hope he will have many more years of continued success.

J. C. Hindman

Mr. J. C. Hindman of the Bowman Lmbr. Co. is one of those quiet unassuming, yet progressive business men who has consistently forged ahead in his business. And he has also put his shoulder to the wheel of civic progress any time his help was needed in furthering civic enterprise which showed definite promise of being beneficial to the welfare of the people.

Mr. Hindman was never a man who was given to wishful thinking. His methods are those of direct action, and whether the problem at hand is one concerning his own business or that of a civic nature he attacks it with optimism and vigorous enthusiasm. Add to this his acknowledged business ability and keen sense of values and it is easily understood why he is successful in business.

We feel it is our duty to call the attention of our readers to these worthwhile characteristics of J. C. Hindman and to pay him a deserved tribute for his straightforward business methods and for the unselfish interest he has shown in public welfare.

H. B. Hankins

Mr. H. B. Hankins of the Burrus Elevators has won the universal commendation of the people of Lubbock and our community for the progressive manner in which he has kept his company in the forefront of the business and rural life of this district. Also for the efficient and friendly willingness he has displayed in accepting his share of responsibility in aiding civic projects.

H. B. Hankins is not the kind of a man who makes himself conspicuous by the manner in which he conducts himself either in business or civic matters. Yet his quiet reserve and air of confidence mark him as a man of sound judgment whose opinion and advice is sought after and listened to with respect.

We compliment Mr. Hankins on the successful operation of the Burrus Elevators, also for his constructive advice and help in those civic activities in which he has found time to interest himself. He is a man whom many are proud to call a friend.

R. C. Garrett

Recognized as one of the more progressive business men of Lubbock, Mr. R. C. Garrett, the manager of the Cloverlake Dairy Stores, performs a real service for the people of his city and this district, and his many contributions to civic betterment are too well known to require repetition in these columns. His personal success has been turned to the advantage of his fellow citizens and he is always ready to assist in any enterprise which promises to advance the welfare of the community.

Mr. Garrett is deserving of praise, and this small tribute is but a just recognition of the many services which he has performed in the way of civic and business activities. His reputation for the successful conduct of his business is no greater than his reputation for the honest practices which

There are a number of business and professional men in Lubbock who are recognized as leaders in their lines. This is especially true in the case of Clark Wood of the Clark Wood Insurance Service. Mr. Wood has long been in the forefront of the business and civic life of Lubbock. He is an aggressive person, yet one whose genial personality has earned for him and the companies he represents a host of friends and policy holders in this district.

Mr. Wood's intuitive understanding of the needs of the city are a valuable and important factor in the successful promotion of many civic activities. As a result of the combined efforts of men like him Lubbock is firmly established in the minds of the people for many miles around, and as a growing metropolis which they regard as the logical business center of South Plains country.

We congratulate Clark Wood for his success in business and public affairs and say without fear of contradiction that he will continue to enjoy that success which he has so justly earned.

John Kattmann

To be a consistent and persistent booster of the home community very often takes courage and optimism. It is because of his unflinching faith in the future of Lubbock and his unflagging efforts to promote its development that John Kattmann is selected now for this brief review.

Mr. Kattmann has proved very ably that he is a restaurant operator of unusual ability, for it is largely due to his ideals of service coupled with a determination to serve only the best that The Chicken House Cafe holds its high position in the public's favor.

He is a man of keen business judgment, whose ideas have been the inspiration of many who know him. His personality and energy in directing the operation of his cafe are important factors in its outstanding success.

We are glad to pay this deserved tribute to John Kattmann and to point out to our readers that his is the guiding influence behind the splendid service and delicious foods to be had at The Chicken House Cafe in Lubbock.

C. J. Simpson

Every progressive, successful business man in Lubbock contributes in some manner to the growth and progress of the city. And a man who has always done his bit in both civic and business activities is Mr. C. J. Simpson of the Baker Bros. Nursery Co., who is well known and has many customers throughout this entire district.

The prominent part that the Baker Bros. Nursery Co. has played in the business and civic life of Lubbock and vicinity mirrors the progressiveness and ability of such men as C. J. Simpson. He has at all times been steadfast in his devotion to the city and the surrounding country and on many occasions lent his support to the successful promotion of meritorious civic projects.

Lubbock and this district are fortunate to have such a man as C. J. Simpson in a position of responsibility and service and this newspaper feels that it merely reflects public opinion in paying this brief tribute to a man of such worth.

Thos. F. Carver

Mr. Thos. F. Carver of the Tom Carver Boilers & Pipe Supply, is one of those men who has always done his bit to maintain the prestige of the city of Lubbock as the leading metropolis of this section of the state. He has always worked for the development of the city and his many services are worthy of sincere appreciation.

Tom Carver has proved himself worthy of extended mention and these few words are not really adequate recognition of the many services he has performed in the promotion of public welfare. His well-earned success as a business man is easily understood knowing as the people do his widespread reputation for the honesty which characterizes all of his business dealings.

Mr. Carver is completely aware of his civic responsibilities and he is wide awake to the many opportunities for service. He is always ready and willing to lend his support to any project which promises to benefit the community as a whole. We compliment Tom Carver on his accomplishments and wish for him continued success.

R. M. Bowron

The true value of a citizen is not gauged by his personal success but rather by the manner in which he shares that success by his contribution to the community in which he lives. A city grows and flourishes according to the number of public spirited men and women who compose its population. Mr. R. M. Bowron of the A. & B. Refrigeration Co., is one of those men who has given much toward the development of Lubbock. He

A. M. Chism

Our issue today proposes to call the attention of our readers to some of the progressive business and civic minded people who have contributed their share of time and energy to the building up of Lubbock and the surrounding territory to the position of prominence which it enjoys at the present. One of these men to whom we wish to direct attention is A. M. Chism of the Joe Chism Garage. A business man who has never spared himself in his aggressive march forward. He is a man whose competitors respect as much as do all others with whom he comes in contact.

A. M. Chism is at all times conscious of his civic responsibilities and may be depended upon to meet in every detail the many opportunities which present themselves to be of service to the city. Mr. Chism's record of achievement is one of which he may well be proud. His rise to the city, and this district is an established fact and he hastens to give him the credit which is his just due.

We congratulate R. C. Garrett on his splendid record and trust that he shall continue to serve the people of Lubbock and vicinity.

JUST TALK
by
A.M.J.

Whether there are more men from Texas and California in the Armed Forces, or whether the men from New York are better at dodging bullets, was explained in the last issue of Life, but the casualty lists showed that California has several times as many as New York, and New York and Texas were about equal.

Heinrich Bros. have a sign over their cold drink refrigerator that says, "Only one Pop to a Customer, Please Drink It in the Drive-way."

With cold drinks at a premium it is easy enough to understand why they have put a limit of one to a customer, but why they have to guzzle it out in the driveway like filling your tank with gasoline, is a little vague to me. Per-sure that after you see an incoming automobile that you will quit drinking drinks altogether, which is a bad idea.

Leo Henzler has quite a fishing outfit in the way of a collapsible boat. It is made of canvas and boards and he ties it on the outside of his automobile. Since constructing his boat, Leo has had very little sleep, as he fishes all night and works all day, proving that sleep is a waste of time.

Reports from Amarillo are that there is no beer in the beer joints, no whiskey in the liquor stores, no water in the bath tubs and that things are so dry that a soldier back on leave from Africa dug himself a foxhole in his father's back yard, and one man has been trying to buy a camel so he can make a safari cross country to Dalt-hart.

My mind has been upset all week and will not be at ease until I find out whether Mrs. H. L. Carruth burned her roast last Tuesday noon. Mrs. Carruth came in the Slatonite Office talking with her young son, who reminded her several times that the roast was in the stove cooking. Just thinking of a big hunk of roast getting burned to a cinder has almost ruined the week for me, and I'll bet it had little potatoes swimming around in the gravy, too.

Mark Twain says that the ant is a very much over-rated insect and that although ants work very hard all their lives, most of the work they do is wasted. According to Mark, an ant never tries to carry anything near his own size, but tackles dead beetles, defunct grass hoppers and other things, and instead of dragging them, he hoists his load up at the most difficult angles. Instead of going around an obstacle, the ant endeavors to pull his load over the mountain. Instead of pushing his oversize load down the obstacle, he pulls it down on top of himself and falls a distance that would compare with a man falling from the top of a six story building. After such an experience, the ant gives up, wanders around in a dazed condition for an hour or two and finds the same grass hopper leg again, hoists it on his back and starts over the mountain again, only this time he goes into the opposite direction, and falls off on the other side.

After watching folks over a vacation day, I have come to the conclusion that a great many of us are in the same classification with the ant. At a recreation resort you will find one person rushing to get to the bathing beach, another, with a bored expression and a sore back will be leaving; one will be stuffing a hamburger into his mouth with both hands and another will be over in the corner with indigestion; one group will be steaming at full speed to get to a place on the bank of a stream or lake with the sincere belief that right there is where the fish are waiting, while just as many will be headed for the place the first group just left. How do I know?

Phillips Petroleum Company
Announces the Completion and First Operation of its 90,000,000 Lb. Butadiene Manufacturing Plant

For an annual production of rubber equivalent to 11,000,000 tires

A MODERN miracle of petroleum research and chemistry has figuratively transformed a few acres in the Panhandle of Texas into one-third of a million acres of rubber plantation.

Here rubber will be drilled from the depths of the U. S. earth, instead of tapped from East Indian and Malayan trees.

From wells overlying the greatest raw gas field ever discovered, will come the natural gas to be processed into butadiene, the basic and major ingredient in synthetic rubber.

This great plant . . . designed and built by Phillips . . . based on Phillips research . . . using Phillips own patented processes . . . independent of German research . . . will make butadiene for an equivalent of 30,000,000 rubber trees.

Thus is brought nearer the no-longer distant day of U. S. self-sufficiency in rubber. Thus is Victory made more certain. And with that great day will come the full peacetime benefits of this outstanding wartime development.

FOR VICTORY... Buy U.S. War Savings Bonds and Stamps

—why from experience!

Things have certainly changed fast in Slaton, as they probably have in most every place since the war started. A lot of folks who used to have time to take an interest in civic work must be too busy to even come down town these days. John Hannah used to make the rounds of the square most every afternoon, carrying his lantern like Diogenes looking for an honest man. He must have found the man or given up hope.

Arthur Dennis used to be on the streets occasionally, but he seems to be too busy to stop between home and work. I miss such men as Van Stokes, Louie Ares, Squire Peavy and P. G. Meading.

The war seems to have made a lot of difference in every one's life. The young fellows who have gone to war have left things too quiet around here and all the real zip of life is at a low ebb.

And the trouble is that things will never be the same again; that is, if all the supposed to be improvements in our way of life take effect. Freight being dumped from the sky keeping us dodging to keep from being hit in the head with a tractor, automobiles with plastic bodies and chewing gum made out of sulphanimide.

It is going to be tough to be neither an old timer nor one of the new generation—just a lost soul wandering around in a new age when you cannot be content sticking on the ground and still are too timid to go into the air.

However there seems to be room for a lot of improvements in our way of life and its not automobiles air-conditioning and airplanes that will make life more comfortable

either. To me there is nothing more inconvenient than to try to wipe gravy off my face with a paper napkin, or to try to dry my hands on a paper towel. There is nothing more uncomfortable than sitting in a breakfast room made with built in benches that make you feel as if your head were going to drop into the scrambled eggs every time you bend forward to gnaw a bite of burnt toast. If some one would invent a divan that does not let you sag down to the floor and a bed that leaves at least three inches space between one's head and the head board, then I would feel more like a few steps forward have been taken. Folks, this is not going to be a perfect world even after the war unless a lot of remodeling is done, and I am one who feels like the time is way past for it to be done. All that I am afraid of is that some fool will get some paper clothes on the market, — then I will be ready to call it quits and go back to the horse and buggy, the coal oil lamp and the gourd dipper.

R. H. McDonald

Mr. R. H. McDonald of the Ada Williams Pest Control, has a well earned reputation for progressive-ness, because he has consistently forged ahead in business, never letting up in his efforts to make the services his company renders to the people more valuable. This invariable policy has made the Ada Williams Pest Control service outstanding in his field, a fact that is well known to the public.

But Mr. McDonald has accomplished much more than just making a success of his business and we take this opportunity to pay tribute to him for devoting all of the time he could spare to the welfare, not only of his own city, but of this entire district as well.

It is such men as he who are both successful in business and appreciative of their civic obligations, that are deserving of recognition. We take pleasure in publicly giving R. H. McDonald the credit for his accomplishments which his friends and associates have so long accorded him.

Gilbert F. Hill

We desire in this Lubbock review to call the attention of our readers to the leading position which Mr. Gilbert F. Hill has reached in the business life of this section. During the comparatively short time he has been the manager of the Bowman Wholesale Coal Yard in Lubbock he has made many personal friends as well as a host of new friends and customers for his business.

Mr. Hill has worked hard to deserve the confidence which the people of the community have in-him and he continues to work hard to maintain in every way that high standard which he has set for himself.

He has shown a willingness to assist in every manner at his disposal in the growth and development of the city of Lubbock and is always ready and willing to lend his support to any project which promises to benefit the community as a whole. Gilbert Hill deserves our heartiest congratulations on the splendid record he has already established and we sincerely hope for his continued success.

E. C. Wallace

In making this review of progressive Lubbock business men it is fitting that we include some of those men who have by their progressiveness definitely established themselves in the business and civic activities of the city.

Such a man is E. C. Wallace of the Avinger Lmb. Co., who also deserves an additional word of praise for being more than just a successful business man; he is a consistent and enthusiastic booster of the home community and in this way has done much to advertise the city.

Mr. Wallace has pursued the progressive policy of stepping up his business ahead of the times, thus setting a pace for which he has earned the reputation for being a go-getter who does not sit back and wait for business to come to him.

We are glad to pay this tribute to E. C. Wallace, and to point out to our readers that his magnetic personality and enterprising methods are largely responsible for the standing of the Avinger Lmb. Co. in this district.

Despite gas rationing, sales of Texas filling stations during May were up 26 per cent over May a year ago, the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research reports.

University of Texas men students who recently sold their furniture and other equipment from the Oak Grove Cooperative Dormitory—turned over to the Navy—have

"salted away" the proceeds in a trust fund for resuming operations after the war.

More than 1,500 Navy overcaats for V-12 trainees—engineers and pre-med students—and for aviation cadets arrived at the U. of Texas recently.

"Will my call to X-ville delay a war call?"*

Traveler: I thought maybe ordinary, personal long distance calls were out for the duration.

Operator: No, indeed! X-ville is only sixty miles away. We hardly ever have delays to near-by towns where there are no big camps or factories.

Traveler: That's fine, I do want to call, but it's not terribly important, mind you!

Operator: Believe me, we appreciate the way everybody tries to help. The operator will always tell you if others are waiting for the line. She'll ask that you limit your calls to five minutes.

*To telephone users: "X-ville" stands for any town within about 100 miles of here which is not busy with war work and not near big cantonments.

RED FACED PEDESTRIANS TO INCREASE IN THIS COUNTY

LUBBOCK.—There are going to be some awfully red faces and some motorists who are going to get used to the idea of walking. Howard Gholson, district director of the Office of Price Administration, advised today. Throughout the Lubbock district covering 71 counties ranging from the top of the Panhandle to Brewster on the Mexican border, legal investigators have been busy checking license numbers and A, B, and C windshield stickers.

There have been some very interesting findings, the OPA chief revealed. For instance, if a man from Breckenridge is seen at a Lubbock night club or a Lubbock man at a fishing resort on the Pecos, they may have some tall explaining to do to their local War Price and Rationing Boards on how they are using their gasoline coupons. The "B" and "C" coupons are special allotments for business or emergency purposes and not to be used in wearing out tires on pleasure trips, Gholson said.

Local ration boards are authorized to call in a motorist found to be violating regulations and take away his rations or refuse renewal of coupons when he next applies, the OPA director pointed out. Many boards in the district have found that motorists who were tempted to speed have slowed down to the legal limit when they learned they were in danger of losing rations, he added.

HACKBERRY RED CROSS CHAPTER MAKES REPORT

At our last meeting we had twenty-three present and made 1455 surgical dressings, making a total of 16,225 made at the Hackberry Unit.

We wish to urge all women of the community who possibly can to come out and "lend a hand" that still more may be accomplished.

If we will only stop to think that these very dressings, made by us in our pleasant club rooms amid cheerful chatter and laughter, will soon be red with the blood of our wounded on some far off battle field or first aid station, and if we will consider how very important it is that these supplies, which are being needed constantly, are not allowed to lag in production, it should be very easy for us to budget our time in a way that will leave our Thursday free for

We wish to thank all visitors from other communities who have helped us at various times, and to assure them that their presence and help is always appreciated. And especially does this unit wish to thank Mr. Porter of the Plains Lumber Co., who so generously contributed, among other things, material for our work tables. This has been appreciated more than we can say—and after all, co-operation along a unified "home front" is what our country needs.

Some people think it their destiny to suffer from insomnia, nervousness, or disease of the body, but how wrong they are. Just remember the central and peripheral nervous system, when working in perfect co-ordination, keeps the special and general senses normal, transmits impulses which keep the thoracic abdominal and pelvic viscera normal, and also regulates the blood vascular system and the phenomena of secretion. But—if you do not have perfect co-ordination you can have it by releasing the nerve supply through a chiropractic adjustment. For further information, visit your chiropractor
