

SLATON TERRITORY TO GET OIL DRILLING TEST SOON

For the first time, a real test is to be made for oil near Slaton, with the setting up of a drill about twelve miles southeast of here.

Actual drilling has not started, but the equipment is being moved onto the ground, according to reports, and the drilling is to be done by a man who has operated in the largest fields of the Southwest.

A large part of the land in and near Slaton is under oil lease by different large and small oil companies and geologists consider the formations in this section as excellent for oil prospects.

Another oil well is being drilled in the Buffalo Lakes area and the drill has reached a depth at which oil may be found at any time.

"Somewhere in the Atlantic. Dear Mr. Jackson:

"I wish to extend my Christmas greetings to all of my friends of Slaton and to wish them the best of luck in the future year. If I had my way, the war would be over in '44'. I wish the best of luck to these especially: my father, M. L. Taylor, brothers, Leslie, Melvin and David, also one sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. Commer, all of 350 So. 8th St., and Miss Viola Gartman of 400 South 8th St.

"Everyone asks me what I want for Christmas and the only reply is TEXAS.

"Gobs of luck from a Gob.
Yours,
Robert Taylor."

The basket sent by the Sergeant is the only one in her thousands of baskets that has come from Palermo.

Fire Department Has Busy Week

The Slaton Fire Department has had a busy week and can chalk up three worth while missions to their credit. Last Monday night they made a run to help extinguish a fire that damaged the cab and engine of an oil truck that caught fire near the cemetery. It was the property of the Slaton Motor Co.

On Wednesday evening they were called to the residence of O. O. Crow, where a grass fire had ignited a fence and garage, and at 10 o'clock Wednesday night a third alarm was turned in from the Sain Gin on North 9th St. No damage to the gin was reported.

GET NEW RATION BOOKS TODAY

The issuing of Ration Book No. 4 starts today and will continue through tomorrow, under the direction of the Superintendent of the Slaton schools, M. S. Kavanaugh, who will be assisted by Earl Brasfield, Principal of the High School, R. M. Nash, director of the business department of the High School, and members of the Senior Class and by Briggs Robertson, manager of the Slaton Ration Office.

One of the features of the issuing of the new Ration Books will be a campaign to get those who receive the new ration books to sign a Consumer's Pledge. There will be a booth at the Club House where the books are to be issued and those who register for ration books will be urged to sign the pledge.

As the work will be done in two days, Mr. Kavanaugh asks those who are to register for the books, to do so as early as possible. It will be necessary for only one person in a family to register for all the members, but no new ration books will be issued to any individual until Ration Book No. 3 has been turned in with all information filled in on the spaces left open for this purpose. In order to save time and confusion, Professor Kavanaugh urgently requests those who will make applications for Ration Book 4, to be sure that they have Books No. 3 for all individuals for whom they are making application and that these have been properly filled out before coming out to the Club House today or tomorrow.

Drive To Start Soon To Recruit More WAC's In This Territory

Lt. Tim Timmons and Warrant Officer Lawrence Bobb from the Lubbock Army Air Field and Lt. Dede Cook and Sgt. Virginia Miller from the Recruiting Headquarters at Lubbock, visited Slaton last Friday to explain the new civilian WAC All-States Recruiting Campaign. Mrs. Joe J. Niehoff was appointed Chairman.

The new WAC campaign will last until the second anniversary of Pearl Harbor, December 7. The object is to enlist a WAC for each casualty in the state. Up to September 1, Texas had suffered 3109 casualties. Therefore, Texas is asked to enlist 3,409 women. For each man killed, captured, or wounded, another must be taken from a training camp army administrative post or non-combat unit. These, in turn, must be replaced. Here is where the WACs come in.

The volunteers during this campaign will be given special sleeve insignia and will be sent as a Texas unit to a training camp under the state flag.

Meet General and Mrs. Patton

ADELA ROGERS ST. JOHNS has never met Lieut. Gen. George S. Patton, Jr., but she says it doesn't matter. She has met his wife, and in the Army it is a recognized fact that to know one of the Pattons is to know the other.

"When a man's wife, having lived with him half a lifetime, gives him full and unqualified respect glinting with steel truth, it's a decoration beyond any even the Commander in Chief can bestow," Miss St. Johns says in the November issue of Cosmopolitan Magazine.

The Pattons have been a partnership that has become a tradition of real union. You know that the man who is leading American forces into battle must be a great guy. You know it because his wife is a great woman, and she reflects a two-fisted husband who has never been away from her except when he's gone to war.

Typical of the devotion of this General and his lady... illuminating the character of one of our Country's leaders is the straightforward simple directness of Mrs. Patton's answer to how she felt when she knew that her husband held in his hand the lives of many thousands of American men. She said what she thought, what she believed, simply without hesitation: "I always think how lucky they are to be with General Patton."

Across the miles of sea and sand, danger and terror, the General's wife was sending him supplies no submarine could menace, no torpedo destroy—supplies of faith and steadfast courage.

They will be used by consumers as change for processed foods and meat-fats ration stamps. The ration meats, made of layers of vulcanized fiber, will be slightly larger than a nickel and smaller than a quarter.

Slaton Water Graded High

Grady Elder, manager of the Slaton Water Department, and R. R. Gentry, his assistant, attended a meeting of Water Work operators for this section of the state and held under the direction of the State Health Department.

Methods for treating water for human consumption were discussed and demonstrated by State Health Department experts.

Mr. Elder reports that the water from the Slaton wells lacks one point of being up to the standards set by the State Health Department for State Approval. The Slaton Water Department Superintendent says that very few towns can meet the water standard set by the State and Slaton's water supply has much less harmful bacteria than Lubbock and other towns over the state.

Twenty-eight boys from Arizona, California, Kansas, New Mexico and Oklahoma won Santa Fe educational awards to the candidates for the American Farmer degree or as official delegates. Accompanying them were six adult leaders who also received Santa Fe awards.

Members of this group, National officers of the FFA Organization, and representatives of the Kansas City livestock industry were breakfast guests of the Santa Fe at a special program early in the morning.

JUST TALK

A.M.J.

Mr. Finney came in the office and told us about his sons who are in the service. He said that he felt that Pat's friends would be glad that he is in England. However, he is not like a man back in Tennessee who stopped a newspaper reporter on the street and told him that his brother had died and that a lot of folks would be glad to know about it.

I'm still anxious to see something done about the unsightly spaces in the center of most of our paved streets. If there are any women's clubs or any other kind of organizations in town that would like to sponsor the work, or part of it, I will be glad to help them get the plants and things to put in the spaces. The city has agreed to supply the water.

And while I am on the subject it seems to me that most clubs are doing less than they have ever done before and this includes both men's and women's clubs. The war or something put the kibosh on the interest the property owners of Slaton had in lawns and gardens. There are a few civic activities that cannot be carried through to successful conclusions on account of war restrictions of some kind or another, but, there must be some good work that can be accomplished by us folks that are too worthless to fight.

Most of the war jokes that I have heard since the second world war started, have been about the Wac's and on the difficulties men have encountered in getting in or out of the armed forces. The best one I can remember from the first world war is about a negro who became sea sick on a transport and when he did not show up on deck during fire drill, a Sergeant was sent down into the bowels of the ship where the negro was groaning with pain. "Get up Sergeant, the ship has been torpedoed and we're sinking fast."

"Dat's good," said the negro. "How long will it be?"

Land prices are going up all over the United States and farm land around Slaton is selling for more money than it has in many a day. Bill Meurer says that several men who have figured with him on buying farms have seemed highly indignant about the prices he had quoted. Bill agreed with them that the price per acre was very high, only to have them come back and buy the land at the price he had quoted. Folks are funny people says Bill.

Most of us are screaming to high heaven about the high prices and some of them do suck the old bankroll down pretty fast, but things are not yet nearly as high as they were in 1918-19. Butter got up to 75c per pound, men's seven dollar shoes were $15 and a man almost had to get a deed to a suit of clothes and sign notes and have security. The trouble with this war is that a lot of things are not on the market at any price and what gets me is that most of the things I want are in the off-the-market list. The men who own the drug stores act as if they prefer not to sell ice cream; if you try to get away with more than one candy bar, J. D. Holt or Charlie Walton will chase you around the square to get the extra ones away from you; ask for an alarm clock in a store and get your nerves on edge from the dirty laugh that clerks give you and I dare you to try to buy a flash light battery, even the request for a few will get Nick Carter upset for the day and a customer trying to get a pair of shorts with a push-button fastener may suffer bodily harm from a men's clothing dealer. It is most discouraging, and if the boys don't get Hitler and his gang whipped pretty soon I am going to write Congressman Mahon and tell him that I'm getting weary of the war and want something done about it, in fact, I may turn Russian and want a few more fronts opened up.

Running a newspaper under present conditions is not as profitable as many other lines of businesses and I am like an old fellow who was one of a group of people who were telling of the cures that a noted doctor had performed for each one.

This particular old gentleman arose very painfully, and equally as painfully, stooped down to the floor to pick up his false teeth that fell out, and when he arose, his eyes were foggy and his hearing bad. "The doctor may have done all of these wonderful things for you folks," he said, "but he darn nigh ruined me."

Newspaper paper is getting mighty scarce. The wholesale paper house told me that the shipment of bond paper for printing letter heads, etc., that I received this week, would probably be the last I would get for a long time and they would not promise any more at all.

The merchants do not seem to want any more customers storming through their stores, getting in their way. They are taking in so much money that they are baling it like hay and they do not have time to bother with an advertising man when they've got more customers now than they can wait on. This war has passed me by as far as giving me a chance to be a profiteer and I feel terribly neglected.

A man got a letter the contents of which irritated greatly. He rushed over to the telegraph office and wrote out the following wire, requesting the operator to rush it to the writer of the letter: "Piffle Piffle Piffle Piffle Piffle Piffle Piffle Piffle." The operator said, "You know you can send ten words as cheaply as nine. You can send another word without extra charge."

The man replied, "Well I can't think of another word." She suggested, "You might add another 'Piffle.'"

He thought about it for a moment, and then said, "Well wouldn't that sound rather silly?"

OUR WEEKLY SERMON.

"Buy War Bonds"

Text: "Let not your heart be troubled: ye believe in God, believe also in Me. In my Father's house are many mansions; if it were not so, I would have told you. I go to prepare a place for you. And if I go and prepare a place for you I will come again, and receive you unto myself; that where I am, there ye may be also."—John 14:1-3.

What an admirable solicitation—"Buy War Bonds!" A patriotic act indeed, which rewards the purchaser with national, social, and humanitarian liberties, and at the same time is far-reaching to at least one or two generations.

While the subject of war bonds is on the lips of every knowing American, many do not have the slightest inkling that "peace bonds" may also be secured. But these are "without money and without price," as the prophet of old declared.

What are these "peace bonds"? They are the assurance given by our Lord to those who have the Prince of Peace abiding in their hearts. The Lord Jesus, the Prince of Peace, has opened the doors of heaven so that all may enter where He dwells, a place without wars or even rumors of wars, without sickness or death; where eternal life is without wrinkle or ruff or shadow, but where He is light.

The invitation is, "Come unto me, all ye that labor and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest." What eternal values these "peace bonds" will bring! And what could be more amazing than the knowledge that God issues these bonds to those who will partake of His divine love for lost sinners.

To explain why so many have that circumscribed outlook on life which embraces only the physical, political, humanitarian, and national, while at the same time they are so desperately ignorant of spiritual life, is a subject for consideration some other time. When one awakens to the fact that spiritual life is paramount in the existence of every human being, what a flood of peace and joy and delight submerges the soul in heavenly ecstasy. It is for this reason that the painful and merely physical elements of life, which those of poor Europe are experiencing today, are but trivial matters in the life of a Christian.

Yes, buy war bonds, and at the same time, do not forget about those "peace bonds" which Christ offers free to all who will accept.

THIS WEEK'S LESSON.

"Probation After Death" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ Scientist, on Sunday, October 24.

"The Golden Text is: "I have set the Lord always before me; because He is at my right hand, I shall be not be moved" (Psalm 16:8).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Cast away from you all your transgressions, whereby ye have transgressed; and make you a new heart and a new spirit: for why will ye die, O house of Israel?" (Ezekiel 18:31.)

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Imperfect mortals grasp the ultimate of spiritual perfection slowly; but to begin aright and to continue the strife of demonstrating the great problem of being, is doing much" (page 254).

DRAFT DELINQUENTS TO BE INDUCTED

Beginning November 1, all men 18 to 38 years of age who are subject to selective service but who are delinquent will be put into class 1-A immediately and ordered to report for induction, the Selective Bureau of the War Manpower Commission has stated.

WHAT THEY SAY

We would be glad to hear from you, Too!

The way to be patriotic is to buy War Bonds and Stamps. Every penny you put in Bonds and Stamps is powder for guns. You should save all your waste fats. They also help win the war. While you are going to school you should save your paper, ink, pencils, shoes and clothing.

If this war is going to be won, it is up to us, just as it is up to our boys in service. While America is free, let's keep her free, and let our Flag keep waving. Keep your chin up and be patriotic for dear old America, the home of the brave and free.

Overweight Oil makes Old Cars Older—Fast

Note how Light a grade of oil can make good, with your engine Winter OIL-PLATED

You can change to an OIL-PLATED engine by changing to any grade of Conoco Nth motor oil—from lightest to heaviest—and you can change to any grade of Conoco Nth at the same popular price. But the lightest possible grade of oil that's fit for the Winter change your car needs now will help to save your battery—your gasoline—your engine. The more the oil is overweight the greater the wear, and when that makes you try still heavier oil you get still more wear—still more oil and gasoline consumption—worse and worse and worse. Short-circuit this ruinous process by having your engine OIL-PLATED.

OIL-PLATING is distinct from the familiar liquid type of high-strength oil film also provided by Conoco Nth oil. Both oil film and OIL-PLATING are paired against wear every mile. Every time your engine rests, however, any liquid film drains down to the crankcase. But OIL-PLATING doesn't all drain down. It tends to stay wherever attached by Conoco Nth oil's "magnet-like" action—achieved synthetically. Often now you don't use your car for days. Yet when you start, the OIL-PLATED surfaces are still ready-lubricated... "faster than instantly." That's how the former fierce wear of cold starting is reduced by OIL-PLATING your engine. All other wear, too, meets its match in your OIL-PLATED engine. Change at Your Mileage Merchant's Conoco station—today. He knows the lightest grade of Nth for you. Continental Oil Co.

Dread Engine Acid is Fought by OIL-PLATING

Normal combustion always leaves acids inside of your engine when it stops.

Formerly it seldom stood idle long. Soon mileage and speed heated your engine enough to oust acids.

But nowadays rationing may force long rests, while corrosive acids gnaw. To combat corrosion, metals are plated. You combat acid corrosion with your engine OIL-PLATED.

A "new deal" that occurred in the seventh century B. C. is analyzed in a book just released by the University of Texas press. "Modern Problems in an Ancient World" was written by the late Dr. F. B. Marsh, professor of history.

One or two hours of music played during the working day in war factories has caused production increases of from 1.3 per cent to 11.4 per cent, Dr. Archie Jones, University of Texas professor of Music has found.

Movie Reporter.

The teen age movie fan comes into his own in M-G-M's filmization of Lillian Day's popular novel, "The Youngest Profession," with Virginia Weidler, Edward Arnold, Marta Linden and Agnes Moorehead.

Virginia is president of her fan club comprising a group of adolescents bound together by their devotion to the movies and who spend their time collecting autographs from visiting stars.

Showing at the Palace Theatre Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday.

While Virginia and her chum, Jean Porter are busy tracking down visiting stars, a meddling governess, portrayed by Agnes Moorehead, starts a vicious rumor about her father and his pretty secretary. While this story is completely unfounded, Virginia is heartbroken and sets out to save her parents' marriage. Acting in the true movie style she hires a professional strong man, Hercules, enacted by John Carroll, to court her mother, pretty Marta Linden, and make her father jealous. Carroll does a good job and the brawl which results leads to a hilarious climax.

Head meets red head in "Du Barry Was a Lady" for an explosion of laughs, cannon loads of music and a machine gun full of beauty and bombardment of entertainment. The redheads are Red Skelton and Lucille Ball. The picture is to show at the Palace Theatre Saturday night preview, Sunday and Monday.

AMERICAN HEROES

BY LEFF

High on a Tunisian cliff a Free French soldier lay wounded. A litter squad started up. Enemy bullets spatted against the cliff. The squad went on. In a whining hail of lead they brought their ally down. For that exploit Staff Sergeant Roy L. Bates of Fairfield, Ill., and Privates Hobert Branscum of Delta, Ky., Anthony P. Coll of Johnstown, Pa., and William B. Griffin of Sylvester, Texas, won Silver Stars. They deserve your War Bond backing.

Barry was a lady" for an explosion of laughs, cannon loads of music and a machine gun full of beauty and bombardment of entertainment. The redheads are Red Skelton and Lucille Ball. The picture is to show at the Palace Theatre Saturday night preview, Sunday and Monday.

They're the Generals in Fun who lead Gene Kelly, Zero Mostel, Tommy Dorsey and his swingsters plus twenty-six dancing beauties and an even dozen of gorgeous show girls in a rainbow parade of Technicolor splendor.

Red Skelton plays a cloakroom attendant who drinks a "mickey" and dreams he's Louis XV of France. Redheaded Lucille Ball, his secret love, is a reincarnation of the Du Barry in his dream.

Tommy Dorsey and his swingsters give forth with the jive. This is a repeat performance for him and his gang after "Ship Ahoy".

WATER IN COW MEANS MORE MILK IN PAIL

Plenty of water—in the cow—is one of the most important ways to maintain milk production during winter months, dairy authorities agree. Since milk consists of about 85 per cent water, cows should have clean, fresh water available, a fact often overlooked during winter months.

With both feed and labor limited, dairymen this winter will need to exercise greater skill than ever before to meet the nation's milk requirement; and better management can do much to increase production and offset shortages of feedstuffs.

Concentrating feed and labor upon efficient producing cows is a first step in sound management, with prompt elimination of inefficient cows from herds. Some authorities have estimated that total production would not suffer but increase, if as many as 15 per cent of the low-producing cows in Cotton Belt herds were culled and available feed used for the remaining animals.

Providing more green feed, especially during winter months, is another major recommendation. Well-planned pastures not only provide vitamins, minerals and roughages; they also can produce concentrate requirements by one-half to one-thirds. Oats and other small grains make winter grazing and the first grain for harvest next spring. Dairymen should follow Extension Service planting recommendations for their locality and produce maximum grazing this fall and winter. In addition to pasture, or when in the dry lot, every cow should have all of the dry roughage she will eat. Silage is ideal for cows where only dry grass or

With ample green pasture, or legume hay, cows can be fed to 12 per cent protein mixture. Cows receiving medium protein roughage need a mixture containing 15 per cent protein; and with low protein roughage an 18 per cent protein mixture is required. Proper shelter, better care, adequate mineral supplies and other sound practices are essential to maintain production and use available feed efficiently.

Men and women students at the University of Texas divided the available part-time jobs pretty evenly last year, with men securing 1,007 jobs through the Student Employment Bureau, and the girls finding 1,041 jobs.
