OUR BOYS WITH THE COLORS

S 2/c Robert Clyde Gentry, who has been in Rhode Island, has gone across. He has been in service only four months.

Staff Sgt. Melvin L. Burrell has written his sister, Mrs. J. F. Boldin, that he is married safely in Northern Ireland.

Sgt. John B. Winchester has returned to the Dalhart Air Base after a three day visit with Miss Alene Jones. Sgt. Winchester has served 18 months in foreign service.

Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Geer have just received a check from their son, S 2/c Charles Odell Geer, for a Christmas present. Charles Odell enlisted 11 months ago and is somewhere in the Pacific now. He lived in Slaton three years. The Geers have another son in the service, S 2/c Millard D. Geer, San Diego, Calif., who visited them recently.

Pueblo Army Air Base, Pueblo, Colo.—Sgt. Fred E. Splawn, son of L. D. Splawn, 410 South Ninth street, was recently promoted to the grade of Staff Sergeant, at Pueblo Army Air Base, Pueblo, Colo. S/Sgt. Splawn entered the service December 10, 1941.

Mrs. J. H. Brewer had a letter dated Nov. 1, from her son, First Lt. J. H. Brewer, Jr., stating that by the time his letter reached her he would be on his way home, and added how glad he would be to sleep in a nice soft bed once more and eat fried chicken, that is, if chicken wasn't rationed. A second letter from North Africa stated he was on his way and the place he was spending the night was filled with Frenchmen, Italians, Englishmen and Americans and they had argued all night in the halls, therefore, he hadn't had much sleep.

Sgt. Wayne E. Polk, son of Mrs. Verna Patterson, left the port of embarkment in New York recently with "destination unknown". He has been in the army for six years, and is now a paratrooper.

Staff Sgt. Duck Shelby, has been transferred from Hondo, Texas, to Selman Field, Monroe, Louisiana.

Harold Brown, Chief Radio Technician on a destroyer in the Atlantic Fleet, paid Slaton friends a visit Sunday and Monday. He was a guest in the home of Uncle Geo. Marriott. Harold spoke a few minutes Saturday night at the First Baptist Church, which was much enjoyed by the friends who heard him. Before entering the service, Harold was for some five or six years employed at the Marriott Electric Shop. He left Tuesday for Brooklyn, N. Y., where he will join his wife and little son, Tommie, who were unable to make the trip back to Texas with him. This is the first visit Harold has made home since enlisting nearly three years ago.

Pfc. Melvin Henzler, who is stationed at Bryan, Texas, in reply to an inquiry from his brother, Leo, wrote that he did not want one thing for Christmas, but pleaded with his brother, Leo, to buy as many Bonds as possible, so that the Army could buy some decent wrenches for the mechanics in the Air Forces to work with. Melvin said the ones he is working with are worse than those of the automobile factories used to supply with each new car sold.

Lubbock Army Air Field.—After hearing a WAC recruitment talk before the Kiwanis Club of Big Spring, Texas, President of the Cosden Refinery, Mr. R. L. Tollett, placed the following notice on his company bulletin board:

"Any employee enlisting in the Women's Army Corps will do so with best wishes of the management, and her salary will be continued for one month after she takes leave of her duties. If she wishes to interview the local recruiting Officer, arrangements will be made for her to be relieved from duty during business hours."

AAA Organization Is Formed For Slaton Territory

At a farmers' meeting held last week at the City Hall, here in Slaton, S. N. Gentry was chosen as delegate to the Lubbock County AAA Convention that is to be held tomorrow at Lubbock. At the meeting held here, Joe Walker was elected as Chairman, S. N. Gentry as Vice Chairman, R. A. Meeks as regular member, P. H. Appling as first alternate and Chester Williams as second alternate.

The purpose of the organization is to cooperate with the County and the State AAA organizations in getting the farm program worked out for the farmers in this section.

While the proration on most crops that are raised in this country has been cancelled there are still a good many ways in which farmers may earn farm credits, among them terracing and plowing under stubble. The Slaton committee hope to get the full information to the farmers of this section so that they may take advantage of any of the credits that are available.

Slaton Boys Take Post 15 to 11

The Slaton High School Basketball team is improving fast, reports Professor Earl Brasfield, who is coaching the boys. In the two games played at the High School gym last Friday night the Slaton High School boys' team won by a score of 15 to 11. The Slaton girls' team lost to the Post girls' team by a score of 19 to 13. The girls are being coached by Mrs. W. V. Childers.

Both the boys' and girls' teams are developing into first grade teams that will soon be giving good accounts in games that are being arranged between Slaton and Wilson, Tahoka, Cooper, Ralls and Lorenzo.

The only game that is now definite will be played Friday, Dec. 7, with Ropesville.

Santa On Way To See Former Santa Fe Folks In Armed Forces

Christmas cheer, multiplied more than 8,000 times in the form of checks to employees of the Santa Fe Railway System, are in the mails today bound for fighting theaters throughout the world. Here two former employees, on military furlough, receive their checks in advance of the advent of Santa Claus.

Left to right, Pfc. J. M. Childs, former engine fireman receives check from his sister, Mary, another Santa Fe employee, while J. J. Crogan, vice president in charge of traffic, and G. C. Jefferis, general manager Santa Fe Western Lines, look on; Sgt. E. O. Chaddock, formerly in the dispatcher's office, smiles with pleasure after receiving check from E. F. Browder, treasurer.

Several hundred of these checks are scheduled for delivery to employees in military service from Texas, New Mexico and Colorado.

Slaton Guard Unit Inspected

The local unit of the Texas State Guard was given its first Federal inspection Wednesday night, Nov. 24, by Major Haugs, who is the inspecting officer of the State organization.

The Major reported that the Slaton Unit is above par in training and that the interest in the work by those who are members is keen, but that the numerical strength of the unit is not what it should be and urged that the public be made conscious of the importance of the work and the need for every able bodied man in the community to take part in the work.

Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Wootton are spending Thanksgiving with their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Bryan Williams, of Post.

CALLED TO BEDSIDE OF BROTHER

L. W. Smith, 650 South Eighth Street, was called to Temple last Thursday afternoon by news of the grave illness of his brother, Mr. Walker Smith of Cleburne. Mr. Smith has been in poor health for some months, but following the death of his son several weeks ago, suffered a complete collapse. Attending physicians at the hospital have expressed the opinion that he is suffering from cirrhosis of the liver, and that in his weakened condition, little hope can be held for his recovery.

Mrs. Earl D. Eblen of Coleman, Texas visited last week in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. T. Garland.

Guests in the W. T. Davis home last week end were Mr. Davis's mother, Mrs. M. G. Davis, and Mrs. Cliff Davis of Trenton, Mr. and Mrs. Porter Davis, from Tulsa, and M. G. Davis, from A & M College.

This Section Is Producing Much Small Grain

That the Slaton territory is one of the most prolific producers of maize and small grain, is not the best in the nation, is evidenced by the fact that 1500 carloads of small grain have been cleared through the Ray C. Ayers & Son plant so far this season, with more than a full month yet to go. This is equal to the amount cleared all of last year.

Henry Eldson, who is one of the best informed men in the Southwest, on the marketing of small grains, says that this section produces an excellent quality of grain and that the development of the Martin maize has made this particular section one of the best in the world.

After the war and when the artificial demand for cotton has decreased, the need for diversification of farm crops will be more important than ever before, is Mr. Eldson's belief, and with the ever increasing uses for small grain, the market will always be good. Quite often certain communities become prosperous because the farmers or business men of some section or town build up a center for trade on one or more nationally or internationally wanted necessities. With the progress already made, this section could very easily become the small grain capital of the world and with the revenue from other marketable crops that can be grown on the South Plains become one of the richest areas in Texas.

Rev. Butler Delivers Thanksgiving Message

In order that many who were unable to attend the Thanksgiving Services held last evening at the Presbyterian Church and did not hear the message of Reverend Howard Butler of the First Christian Church, may receive this message, we are publishing a part of his sermon. His subject was, "Our Pilgrim Heritage."

There is an ancient oriental proverb that says: "An ungrateful man is like a hog under a tree eating acorns, but never looking up to see where they come from." If there be a short-coming of deeper dye than all the guilty train of human vices, it is ingratitude. Ausonius once said, "Earth produces nothing worse than an ungrateful man." In the play, "As You Like It," Shakespeare puts into the mouth of one of his characters these words: "Blow, blow, thou winter wind, thou art not so unkind as man's ingratitude. Freeze, freeze, thou bitter sky, thou dost not bite so nigh, as benefits forgotten." A generation that forgets God might well be forgotten of God. Therefore it is good that we should gather together this day to render thanks unto the Lord.

While Thanksgiving in its present form is a distinctively American holiday, it did not spring first from the brain of Governor Bradford in 1621 as so many have imagined. On the contrary, we may trace the origin of Thanksgiving back through the ages and the nations to the land of the Canaanites back from whom the children of Israel copied many of their customs. In the book of Judges we read of the Canaanites:

"And they went out into the field, and gathered their vineyards, and trode the grapes and held festival, and went into the house of their God, and did eat and drink."

This vintage or harvest celebration appeared later among the Hebrews, as an act of worship to Jehovah and was called the Feast of Tabernacles because everyone lived in booths or tents during the festival in memory of the years when the nation had no settled home. In Leviticus we find this command, "When ye have gathered in the fruit of the land, ye shall keep a feast unto the Lord... and ye shall rejoice before the Lord your God seven days." And thus we see that Thanksgiving has its ancient origin. Giving thanks to God was an act of people long ago.

In a proclamation by the President of the United States, there occurs this felicitous phrase: "Thanksgiving Day is the most characteristic of our national observances." And truly it is this and more—it characterizes the great religious spirit of the early fathers of our nation.

Living in an age of skyscrapers, subways, and electric lights as we do, we cannot fully appreciate the significance of Thanksgiving until we look back on those early Pilgrim Fathers with their first day of giving thanks to God.

It was during a bad winter that the little colony had been sorely tried. Only fifty-five of the one hundred and one settlers remained alive. They had suffered cold, hunger, and disease and were terrified by the wild attacks of Indians.

The spring of 1621 opened and the seeds were sown in the fields. They watched with great anxiety, for well they knew that their lives depended on that harvest. Finally, autumn came and they were bountifully blessed by the harvest. They were so thankful and grateful that in the bleak month of December, 1621, they gathered together under the huge oaks and thanked God for the rather meager crops that were theirs. When we look back and recall how few they were in number, how far they were from their homelands and that they were encircled by dangerous perils, then we can appreciate a little of that spirit that was manifested that day. The spirit of the first Thanksgiving was in great sincerity. Let us not forget that spirit as we come again to this national day.

If the Pilgrim Fathers could visit this generation, I wonder what they would think of the way we have used our heritage. They were a deeply religious group of people who were so devoted to God that they were willing to sail an ocean for the right to worship Him. Could that be said of this generation? Are we not more concerned today about the material things of the world than we are of spiritual things?

The life of each one of us is divided into two factors—the means by which we live and the ends for which we live. Nothing enters more deeply into determining the quality of a man or an era in history than the handling of those two factors. The fact that distinguishes our day from previous ones is obviously our mastery over the scientific means of life. One after another of the forces of the universe, from steam to the impalpable vibrations of the ether, have been harnessed for our service, until now we possess, as no previous age even in its dreams possessed, the means of living. But when we turn our thought from the means by which we live to the ends for which we live, are we so sure that we are on a correspondingly higher level with our early Pilgrim Fathers? The means by which the Pilgrims lived were crude indeed. Their houses were of one room, with two small windows and a dirt floor. The swiftest method of travel was to start out and walk. They had to struggle with the earth to obtain their food and Indians were a constant peril. But when one thinks of the ends for which they lived... Oh, my soul!

When we compare ourselves with previous generation with reference to our means for living, we are everywhere supreme, but when we turn our attention to the ends for which we live, a different picture presents itself. We have been so preoccupied with trivialities that we have no time left for religion and things of the spirit. Like the child's doll that is stuffed with sawdust, we have over-stuffed our lives with fine home, refrigerators and automobiles.

Why is it that in this last generation so many people have supposed that they could get on without religion? It is because this last generation has been absorbed in the provision of more means by which to live and that is not religion's realm. When some one says today that the dominant enter of our time is not religion but science, he speaks the truth.

Today we are engaged in a great war to protect this heritage which is ours. If we are not careful, we will lose that heritage—not by a ruthless enemy, but by the failure of our own generation.

America, cherish your Pilgrim Heritage! Take care lest you lose it!

Sugar Allowances To Be Maintained

LUBBOCK. — Increased allowances in sugar inventories permitted wholesalers and retailers on a temporary basis through November 15 will be maintained indefinitely, the Office of Price Administration announced today.

Temporary increases were originally allowed by OPA to take care of the anticipated demand for sugar for home canning, and were later continued in effect to supply the heavier supplemental rations allowed to bakeries, confectioners and other "industrial" users.

Since the industrial use continues heavy and at the same time transportation difficulties make it important that adequate stocks of sugar be kept in the hands of both wholesalers and retailers, the increased allowances for inventories will be continued indefinitely. They may, however, be cancelled by OPA on 30 days' notice if such action should become necessary.

WAR BEAUTIES

CHICAGO, ILL.—Twice in a recent war-worker beauty contest, Cook Electric Co., a war plant here, scored with Lorraine Remington (left) and Sunnie Anderson. Miss Remington, a former model, and Miss Anderson, whose last job was "student," both have given up their former occupations to devote full time to war production.

TRIPLE THREAT CALVES MAY BE SOLD ANY TIME

"Triple-threat" calves which make use of roughage and minimum use of grain and protein concentrates, and offer feeders a wide choice of time and method of sale, should be very popular this year, says A. L. Ward, Educational Director, National Cottonseed Products Association.

Under the "triple-threat" plan, choice calves are wintered by one of the following methods: (1) Feed all of the hay, silage or other roughage they will eat, and 3/4 to 1 pound of protein concentrate, or 2 pounds of oats, ground wheat or barley, or 3 pounds of legume hay, daily; (2) If small grain pasture is available, calves need only some dry roughage; (3) If good native grass is available, feed 3/4 to 1 pound, daily, of protein concentrate, such as cottonseed cake; (4) Where corn and velvet beans are interplanted, and corn has been snapped, calves can clean up fields, and then receive roughage and protein concentrate. Salt and a mineral mixture should be available.

Calves wintered by one of these methods should gain about 200 pounds each, making 600-pound choice yearling feeders in the spring. Gains seldom cost over $6 to $7 per hundred pounds.

In the spring, calves can: (1) Be sold as yearling feeders; (2) Go immediately into the dry lot for full feeding; (3) Be grazed on Sudan or other good spring or summer pasture. After grazing, they can be sold as feeders, or for slaughter if they have sufficient finish; or they can be full fed for 80 days in the dry lot.

For farmers with roughage or pasture available, and for 4-H Club boys and Future Farmers, the plan, with its wide choice of sale time and method, offers a practical opportunity for producing needed beef economically and efficiently, with minimum risk for the feeder. The plan is well-adapted for a small number of calves, or as many as the feeder is equipped to handle.

Packers Benefit And Stockmen Lose From OPA Ceiling Prices

How much of the incentive for setting a ceiling price on live cattle was inspired by the major packing companies, and how much was directed by the necessity of pulling OPA lawsuits out of the fire?

That question is, being asked by cattlemen as they look over the market quotations, study the rebellious attitude of the feeder, contemplate an impending beef shortage, wrestle with the feed problem, and learn that their assets are considerably below what they were a few months ago.

There are many answers to the question. Some now in the drought as a condition that has contributed to the flood of cattle on the market; but sooner or later they all get back to the big packers, the OPA price ceiling, and the philosophy of doing business under the directives of certain government bureaus.

The San Angelo Standard in an article last week quoting J. S. Triplett, Jr., Amarillo, a major buyer of West Texas stockers and feeder cattle, put the issue squarely on the big packer's shoulder. Said the Standard article:

"The OPA ceilings on live cattle are apparently the result of the smartest bit of manipulation in high places so far achieved by the packing industry. The joker in this deck which is obviously stacked against the producer and the feeder, is that packers will be paid a subsidy on slaughtering cattle AFTER THE SLAUGHTER HAS TAKEN PLACE, and the producer paid at market agreement. Therefore, if the packer buys low and the animal grades high the packer is ahead.

Break for Packers

"Why anybody should think subsidizing the packer can possibly encourage meat production when prices to be paid the grower and feeder are lowered and the subsidy is not, is hard to see.

"In addition to the privilege of paying less than the animal is worth, the packer also receives a guarantee of up to $20 a head bonus on cattle he kills, and the government says that is a subsidy. This is the tip-off on the masterful way the cattlemen are out-lobbed in Washington by packing interests. This is the best legislation the packing industry ever got passed for itself.

"If the most chaotic situation in the history of the cattle business as well as the most critical meat shortage the country has ever seen, is to be averted, this price ceiling schedule must never be allowed to go into effect as it now stands.

"The feeder has lost; the raiser of cattle has lost; the big packer stands out alone with a legalized guarantee of a profit and a ready market for all he can process.

Japs Point Out U. S. Strength And Weakness

The American fighting spirit "cannot be underestimated," a Japanese repatriate told a Tokyo mass meeting today.

The Japanese radio reported the meeting.

The repatriate, Michio Ito, said the American spirit is higher than at the outbreak of war and he cited as an illustration American students volunteering in the air forces, high school students aiding in farming and women working in war factories.

American weak points, he said, included the democratic system which permits freedom of speech, lack of unity in public opinion and the freely stated opposition of some Americans to the war strategy. He also cited lack of "unified relationships" among government departments and the "festive mood" of the people who "do not know what war is."

War workers, he said, seek to make more money rather than "increase the fighting strength of the nation."

"They have no plan for certain victory. They have no determination that they must carry through this war or that this war must be won; but instead the desire for luxury is more dominant in their minds. However, as an enemy, we should never underestimate them."

"If the people of all the livestock producing states do not angrily and insistently demand attention from their senators and congressmen and speak up, they may as well forever hold their peace. Their money will be lost and their armies will not be fed."

Citizens of this section are making their protests in telegrams and letters. Thus far Sen. Tom Connally and Sen. W. Lee O'Daniel have replied by wire. The Connally wire says:

The purpose of this library is to give students and faculty members access to books or manuscripts that the regular library cannot afford or for some other reason is not able to obtain.

Microfilms have recently been secured of the works of world renowned music masters, such as Handel, Bach, and Beethoven, whose original works are now in Germany, where reprints cannot be made. Even if these books were in circulation, they would cost approximately $1,000 a set, while the average 200-page book when produced on microfilm costs $1.50.

Microfilm copies have also been secured of books reprinted as early as the seventeenth century which are no longer in circulation. Personal letters, diaries, and famous historical documents are put at the disposal of students through microfilm.

Nearly 50 per cent of the films now in the library were made and developed with especially designed Graflex Recordak cameras owned by the college and operated by students, under faculty direction. Rare books are borrowed from other libraries and lasting records made of them in picture.

War demands have curtailed the making of new films during the past year and at the present time plans are being made for colleges and universities throughout the nation who have microfilm libraries to list their holdings for national use, and thus provide a nation-wide library loan plan.

If you have a cold, the Texas Safety Association urges these precautions: sneeze or cough into a handkerchief; do others a good turn by keeping your distance when talking to them; go to bed if you have a fever.

BOOKS YOU CAN CARRY IN YOUR VEST POCKET

DENTON, Nov. 22.—Students of North Texas State Teachers College may some day carry an entire set of text books tucked in a vest pocket or wrapped up in a lace handkerchief if the unique college microfilm library increases in the future as it has since its beginning in 1939.

The campus library of microfilms, which now includes over a thousand rare volumes, is kept in two small cabinets about four and a half feet high and about two feet wide. The large volumes weigh nearly an ounce and it is easily possible to hold eight or ten in your hand at once.

A far cry from the ancient handwritten manuscripts, the microfilm library is filled with pictures of books that may be projected onto a screen and the original copy of old, no longer attainable books is produced. Each page is filmed separately and when a student finishes one, the view is changed and he goes on with his reading.

To Hold Down Flour Prices

To hold flour and bread prices at present levels, the Office of Economic Stabilization has inaugurated a subsidy program that will enable wheat flour millers to pay as high as parity prices for wheat (should the market go that high) and at the same time sell flour for no more than present ceiling prices. Without the subsidy, the Office of Economic Stabilization says, it would be necessary to increase in bread prices.

OPA Authority Upheld

Authority of OPA to forbid persons from dealing in rationed commodities as a result of violations of rationing regulations was upheld in a recent decision by Federal Judge Archibald Lovett of Georgia. Judge Lovett ruled that OPA does have the authority, under the second War Powers Act, to issue such suspension orders and dismissed the complaint filed by a gas dealer who had been suspended from dealing in gasoline for 90 days because of violations of the rationing regulations.

Lift Pork, Lard Restrictions

Restrictions on the number of pounds of pork and lard made from home-slaughtered hogs that can be sold or given by a farmer to people not living on his farm have been lifted from November 17 to February 17, 1944. The War Food Administration lifted the restrictions to help handle the slaughter and distribution of this year's record hog supply. Farmers are asked to find out from their market agency or processor whether their hogs can be handled before sending them to market.

Apple Products To Cost More

Consumers will pay more for apple products because OPA has increased maximum prices for apples in sales to processors. The amount of the increase at the consumer level will vary with the product and the size of the package.

Increase In Unemployed Money

Unspent and unemployed money in the United States during the second quarter of 1943 amounted to 2.6 billion dollars, compared to the 1.7 billion dollars in the second quarter, 1942, the Office of War Information said in its first quarterly report on economical stabilization. In spite of paying more taxes and buying more War Bonds, Americans still were able to build up a store of unspent money. Should holders of this money now begin to bid against each other for scarce products, it would make the job of holding the line against rising prices enormously more difficult.

May Cut Point Values

Storekeepers, distributors, and others in the food trade may cut point values of canned, frozen, and dried rationed foods that might spoil if held in stock too long, OPA announced recently. However, point values may be cut only if prices are cut at least 25 per cent.

FLU EPIDEMIC MAY STRIKE THIS WINTER

THIS winter of 1943 we may have to contend with that same dread disease which swept across the world in 1918, leaving victims by the millions on every continent. Flu may strike . . . not the mild type, but the kind calculated to throw terror into populations already suffering from the shortage of physicians and the dislocations of war.

Gretta Palmer, in the November issue of Cosmopolitan Magazine, says, "Science is ready to fight the flu." Articles reviewing all that has been learned about flu since 1918 has recently appeared in several medical journals. We have come a long way in twenty-five years, and that is the time many students believe it takes for the recurrence of the influenza cycle.

"When influenza strikes, it comes with devastating speed, sweeping through thousands of homes and camps in a few weeks. It spreads so fast because it is 'highly communicable' . . . the disease is borne by droplets of air." You may catch flu from breathing the same air as one of the victims.

During the last war, the flu epidemic swept across the globe, causing twenty million deaths, killing more persons than the World War did. In the United States alone, 548,000 died. While influenza was the cause, a vast majority of the victims died from pneumonia. Flu paves the way for the other diseases to add the finishing touches.

Even if the dreaded influenza of the 1918 type does come, we can effectively combat it. Science has moved along at great speed. In the meantime, all the rules of good health should be followed. Many a person has sailed through an epidemic with no greater protection than those health rules which are a common basis for building up resistance.

Many Pianos Now In Stock

Even though all of the famous piano manufacturers in the United States have been in war production for the past year, there are still many perfectly tuned and beautifully made pianos on the market and the Adair Music Company in Lubbock has just received several carloads of them.

All of these fine instruments have been checked for perfection in tune, the finish on them has been touched up where slight scratches were evident and they are now on sale in Lubbock at most attractive prices.

The Adair Music Company has several very convenient payment plans that will fit the budget of those who wish to purchase a piano. While most everything else has gone up in price since the war started, these fine pianos can still be purchased at prices that are the same as they were many months ago.

Anyone interested in buying a good piano can find the size and make of piano they desire at the Adair Music Company in Lubbock, where they are always glad to have you look over their stock.

MAN POWER SHORTAGE BEING FELT HERE

Not being able to secure a competent delivery man, Mr. M. L. Murray, local wholesale dealer for Conoco Products, is driving his own truck and up to date has not been able to find a competent man to handle his office work. This compels him to close his office when he is out on deliveries. "There are many phone calls and men who call at my office in person," said Mr. Murray, "but as I cannot be in two places at once, I must ask those who wish to get me on the telephone or to contact me, to keep on trying."

Even with the strict gasoline rationing, Mr. Murray says that Conoco Products are in great demand and that he feels that when the war is over that Conoco will be one of the most popular brands on the market.

FLENTY OF COAL TO MEET LOCAL DEMANDS

Even though there have been coal strikes all over the nation and a shortage of coal in many areas, there is enough coal in this section to meet all ordinary needs, said Lee Tudor of the Slaton Coal and Grain Co.

Of course there is not the big variety of different kinds of coal, but there is enough of every kind to meet most demands. The Slaton Coal and Grain Company has an ample supply of coal on hand, as well as a big stock of the best feeds for poultry and livestock in both bulk and in sacks.

The Slaton Coal and Grain Company has several different brands of feeds, including Ayers Supreme Feeds. Lee says it will pay you to get his prices.

OUR WEEKLY SERMON.

Praising God For His Blessings.
By the Rev. Harold L. Lundquist, D. D., Member of Faculty, Moody Bible Institute, Chicago.

In these difficult days we must exercise care lest the temptation overtake us who are Christians of falling into a bitter, complaining attitude. It is easy to praise God when all goes well, but the Christian should recognize that praise is a vital part of his daily fellowship with God, an expression of his appreciation of all that God is and does for him.

The psalmist exhorts us: "Bless the Lord, O my soul, and forget not all his benefits: who forgiveth all thine iniquities; who healeth all thy diseases; who redeemeth thy life from destruction; who redeemeth thee with lovingkindness and tender mercies; who satisfieth thy mouth with good things . . . The Lord is merciful and gracious . . . For as the heaven is high above the earth, so great is His mercy toward them that fear Him. As far as the east is from the west, so far hath he removed our transgressions from us. Like as a father pitieth his children, so the Lord pitieth them that fear Him . . . As for man . . . as a flower of the field, so he flourisheth . . . But the mercy of the Lord is from everlasting to everlasting . . . to such as . . . remember His commandments to do them" (Ps. 103).

How prone we are to "forget". We have become so accustomed to the many blessings of God that we accept them as a matter of course. The spiritual is far more important than the physical, but even that too is included. Only God can heal our diseases, whether by means or by direct intervention. He also meets with true satisfaction every right and normal desire, whether it be physical, social, mental or spiritual. That calls for praise from the depths of our being.

The chief of all blessings is the forgiveness of sin; and the mercy of God; high as the heavens, is revealed nowhere in such overflowing measure as in His dealing with sin. But note, this blessing is for "them that fear Him." For them He has the pity of a father; but He has more. He has the authority and power to cast our sins as far as the east is from the west, and how far that is, no one knows. "God resisteth the proud, but giveth grace unto the humble" (James 4:6; I Pet. 5:6, 7). Whoever will, may come and receive of Him abundant pardon.

What a fool that man is who lives only for the things of this world. How tragic to come into eternity and to face God empty-handed and condemned because of one's own selfishness and folly, when God is willing to show unto us that loving kindness which is not only for this life, but also for the life that is to come.

"Bless the Lord, O my soul; and all that is within me, bless His Holy Name."

THIS WEEK'S LESSON

"Ancient and Modern Necromancy, Alias Mesmerism and Hypnotism, Denounced" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, November 28.

The Golden Text is: "Be merciful unto me, O God: for man would swallow me up; he fighting daily oppresseth me . . . What time I am afraid, I will trust in thee" (Psalms 56: 1,3).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "There shall no evil befall thee, neither shall any plague come nigh thy dwelling. For he shall give his angels charge over thee, to keep thee in all thy ways" (Psalms 91: 10, 11).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Truth and Love come nearer in the hour of woe, when strong faith or spiritual strength wrestles and prevails through the understanding of God" (page 567).

Scorn Overweight Motor Oil this Winter of War

"The Lighter the oil the better" . . . Discover how very light, by changing to Winter OIL-PLATING

Have you ever been a new papa? Have you ever had to enlarge the hole in the nipple of baby's bottle? The hot milk, just about as fluid as anything, barely comes through. Far "skinnier" than small holes in nipples are many of the oil spaces in your car's engine. That's still true after it is middle-aged or beyond. Any oil . . . any oil . . . has a hard enough time coming through and spreading all around. Overweight oil—easily thickened by cold—is far worse. The lightest oil your engine can use this season is rightest. And you can know that light oil will more than stand the gaff when it includes the ability to give your engine internal OIL-PLATING.

Because a Winter change to Conoco Nth motor oil adds OIL-PLATING to engine parts, you can go your car's limit on lightness. Any good plating is a protective surface, and so is OIL-PLATING—attached all over your engine's insides, as if strongly "magnetized" there by a synthetic that's part of patented Conoco Nth. Now every moving part enveloped in its close-fastened OIL-PLATING must slide upon the rupture-resistant fluid film of Conoco Nth. Safety is multiplied!—though your economical Conoco Nth is so light that your battery, too, has every chance to outlive the Winter, and the War. OIL-PLATE at Your Conoco Mileage Merchant's—today. Continental Oil Co.

Dread Engine Acid Fought by OIL-PLATING

Normal combustion always leaves acids inside of your engine when it stops.

Formerly it seldom stood idle long. Soon mileage and speed heated your engine enough to oust acids.

But nowadays rationing may force long rests, while corrosive acids gnaw. To combat corrosion, metals are plated. You combat acid corrosion with your engine OIL-PLATED.

Thanksgiving Tea Is Given In Mrs. A. E. Whitehead's Home

One of the most enjoyable social events of the season was a seated Thanksgiving Tea given on the afternoon of Nov. 19 at the home of Mrs. Fred Whitehead, 625 W. Garza Street. Hostesses for the occasion were Mrs. Whitehead, Mrs. Tom Hutchison, of Lubbock, daughter of Mrs. Whitehead, and Mrs. R. H. Spikes.

Guests were received at the door by Mrs. S. H. Adams, who in turn presented them to the hostesses. Assisting in receiving the guests were Mrs. L. A. Harrah, Mrs. R. H. Todd, Mrs. S. S. Forrest, Sr., and Mrs. Dick Ragsdale. Misses Mary Culwell, Mary Harrah and Martha Loveless assisted serving in the dining room.

Yellow roses were on the coffee table in the living room. The tea table in the dining room was laid with an exquisite Normandy lace cloth. The antique silver tea service was presided over by Mrs. R. E. McReynolds the first hour and Mrs. O. D. McClintock the second hour. The floral decorations were yellow and white chrysanthemums in twin silver bowls at each end of the table. Vases of purple chrysanthemums were placed on pedestals in all the reception rooms. Members of the house party wore corsages of tiny chrysanthemums.

Musical numbers were given throughout the evening by Miss June Scott and Mrs. Webber Williams.

In Memory Of Billie Bartley

God needed another sweet flower in Heaven, so He sent the death angel to earth at eight o'clock, Tuesday night, November 16, 1943, and took our dear Billie. No one else could fill the vacancy in God's bouquet of angels, it was Billie's place. Billie, who was so sweet that all who knew him loved him, so dear to his parents, his brothers and sisters, and his friends, filled the vacancy in God's great bouquet.

If we could hold back the curtain of Heaven and look for just a few moments, we would see our dear Billie, in his robes of pure white, seated among the other angels around God's great throne, and though we miss him so much and long so to have him near, we know he is home—at last.

A Friend.

★ Sidelights on the War ★

All "B" and "C" gasoline coupons issued after December 1 will be worth five gallons each, compared with the present value of two gallons for coupons of those types in the east and midwest and three gallons in the far west. This means "B" and "C" books will contain fewer coupons than in the past, but each coupon will be good for more gallons than before. No increase in the amount of gasoline allowed is involved.

All Americans owning any foreign bonds, or $10,000 or more in any foreign property are required to report such holdings on or before December 1 to their nearest Federal Reserve Bank. Practically every type of property must be reported—real estate holdings, cash assets, foreign currency, foreign securities, interests in foreign organizations, patent and trade mark agreements and contracts. Order can be restored more readily, as territories are occupied, if military authorities have such information at hand, states the Treasury Department. All information will be confidential and will be available only to accredited representatives of the Treasury.

Approximately 20 per cent of the fourth quarter production of

Our Merchant Marine

Our armed merchant ships bore the brunt of sea warfare in the Revolution.

These privateers carried our ambassadors, dispatches and gold to Europe, under the enemy's guns, and brought back arms and ammunition for our troops.

1,000 merchantmen, commissioned as privateers, captured at least 3,000 enemy ships.

The greatest transportation job in history is now being done by the American Merchant Marine, moving men, equipment and materials of war to all parts of the world.

flashlight batteries will be distributed to farmers, according to WPB. This makes enough batteries for about normal rural consumption available through farm outlets.

Production of infants' and children's hosiery will be stepped up shortly as a result of priority assistance given to manufacturers for procurement of necessary yarn. The W. P. B. action resulted from a falling supply of infants' and children's stockings.

The public is urged to complete its Christmas shopping this month and to send all packages destined to other cities, whether by parcel post or express, before December 10. Early Christmas shopping and shipping are necessary this year to enable satisfactory handling of the extra Christmas load, Joseph B. Eastman, Director of the Office of Defense Transportation, said. "Remember," Mr. Eastman added, "that the best gifts for this wartime Christmas are War Bonds or Stamps."

A four-fold increase in its 1944 civilian truck production program has been announced by the War Production Board. So important is this program that it has been given priority ratings equal to aircraft and high octane gas. Provisions are also made for production of replacement parts for civilian use. In spite of the four-fold increase, the new goal of 123,492 trucks is still far short of the pre-war production of approximately 700,000.

A wider variety of rationed meats will be available to the housewife during the low ebb of meat production next spring under a rationing plan recently announced by OPA. Meat wholesalers will be loaned points to fill their storage freezers with veal, lamb, mutton, and the lower grades of beef between now and mid-January, the peak period of meat output.

Consumers will be able to buy more canned luncheon meat during the coming year, according to the War Food Administration. Canning of this product is encouraged because it prevents waste of good bits and trimmings of meat at packing plants.

Service men on leave can get temporary food rations without the forms usually furnished by the armed services, according to OPA. In an emergency, application may be made on forms available at local ration boards.

Peanut shells, ground corncobs, and similar waste agricultural materials have been found useful for cleaning engines, bearings, valves, pumps, and many other machinery and metal parts, the Department of Agriculture has announced. The new use has been found by scientists at The Northern Regional Research Laboratory at Peoria, Ill. Several hundred tons of ground corncobs now are being used each month for burnishing metals and cleaning war machinery.

Triple A Man To Be Selected

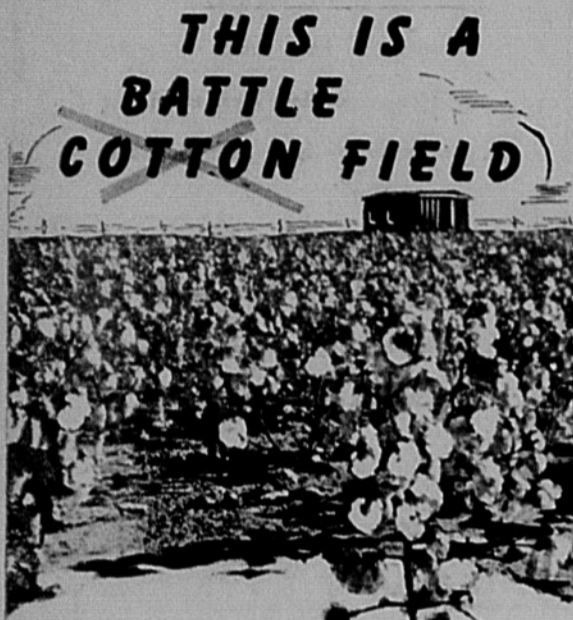

Triple-A community committees for Lubbock county were elected on November 19, to serve from December 1, 1943 through December 1, 1944, according to R. A. Loyd, county AAA chairman.

Formerly, committees were elected in December and began serving on January 1, but since the work in connection with the 1944 food production program should begin in December, the election dates were changed to allow the new committees to begin work a month earlier.

How many miles older is your car this week?

"Every mile you drive makes it more important than ever to Care for your Car for your Country"

IF TIRE AND GASOLINE RATIONING were removed tomorrow, no victory-minded American would permit himself one single mile of unnecessary automobile driving!

Let the truth of this fact sink in. Even if gasoline and tires were plentiful, cars are not. There will be no new cars for the duration. And every mile you drive, today and tomorrow and the day after, is an irreplaceable withdrawal from the Nation's bank of total transportation miles.

That is why your Uncle Sam is talking like a Dutch uncle when he tells you to care for your car for your country. You must protect and even pamper your car to coax every last bit of mileage from its aging engine and chassis.

Phillips 66 Service Wardens are pledged to do their utmost to perform all services which will improve the efficiency of your car and lengthen its life. Remember, the car which is driven this winter with tires unchecked... with battery uninspected... with friction points unlubricated... may literally be running at the expense of the Nation's war effort.

The Phillips 66 Service Warden is waiting at every Phillips 66 Service Station, ready and anxious to do his part to help you "Guard America's Mileage." Drive in soon for complete Service Warden Service at the Orange and Black 66 Shield... sign of famous Phillips 66 Gasoline and Phillips 66 Motor Oil.

YOUR GOVERNMENT ASKS YOU TO USE LESS GAS

and Help Keep War Plants Humming

- HERE IS HOW YOU CAN HELP
1. Winterize your home by insulation, weather stripping, caulking and storm windows if possible.
  2. Close off all unused rooms.
  3. Keep home temperatures as low as possible.
  4. Reduce temperatures to 55 degrees at night and when home is not occupied.
  5. Do not use range ovens or top burners for room heating.
  6. Save gas in other ways which will occur to you.

The natural gas that heats your home and fries your breakfast bacon is used also for many vital war purposes. Pipe lines to transport it are over-taxed. New materials cannot be secured to bring you all that is required for unrestrained consumption.

The conservation of gas is the home-front duty of every man, woman and child, at home or at place of business. Uncle Sam is counting on you to do your part.

INSIDE NEW YORK

"THERE is a saloon on upper Broadway," writes George Jean Nathan, "called the Oasis whose juke box contains one item billed so: 'Five minutes of silence for a nickel.' You drop in your nickel and enjoy the five minutes of welcome quiet in which to drink in peace. The item, the boss tells me, does a land-office business."

To complete the Insides of this place, that place, and the other places, Mr. Nathan gives the readers of the November issue of Cosmopolitan Magazine the Inside New York, which seems to have been overlooked as a place where many interesting things happen.

George Jean Nathan takes you round the town, with a lowdown on the high spots, and with highlights on things not usually covered by the New York snoopsters. He gets around. . . . "There are more supreme lulus, take my eye for it, running the elevators in the Chrysler Building, hat-checking at the Stork Club, Morocco and Monte Carlo Beach, and working as stenographers and telephone girls in the General Electric Building, for example, than you'll see in a month's steady round of all the musical shows and floor shows in town. . . ."

What's new in New York, is the theme of this metropolitan tour. It's refreshingly unusual.

Trained Women Needed
at $1,752 Per Year

A letter just received from Office of Dependency Benefits says thousands of trained clerical employees are needed for vacancies that are developing every day, and urges us to recruit, train, and recommend women for these positions.

About three times as many calls as we can fill are being received from business concerns for trained office help—stenographers, secretaries, accountants, and the like—even though many undergraduates are being placed at unprecedented salaries.

Women who aspire to an important part in the war effort at good incomes now, or who want to become thoroughly established in business positions so that their future will be secure, should enroll as once, where the nationally known Draughon's training and placement facilities assure not only quick and thorough training, but superior starting positions.

New class starts soon. Call, phone, mail, or mention coupon, for low rates and special information.

JUST TALK

A.M.J.

Last Sunday after church Fred Whitehead threatened to sue me for telling in last week's paper how he threatened to kill his wife, before their marriage, unless she consented to be his bride. However, Mrs. Whitehead told me that the old fellow in Amarillo who had given me the information, had told the truth. She also told me the man's name. He gave them a cow when they married and it was the best milk cow that they ever had. The man's name is Joe Powell and he was quite wealthy at the time he donated the cow.

If I had known my chance acquaintance in Amarillo is so well informed about the folks in Slaton as he evidently is, I would have gotten more valuable information and could tell of some of the methods used to get wives by such men as R. C. Sanner, O. O. Crow, Howard Swanner, Jake Martin and J. H. Brewer, for I am sure there must have been some kind of cave man stuff pulled, and then, of course, there are probably cases like my own, where there was no escape for the man.

I have some good news for the weed growing champions of our city who have been negligent about having their weeds cut or burned. There is a new fad among the women that may make the weeds most valuable. This fad is making fancy bouquets for the home out of dried weeds by painting them all kinds of fancy colors... colors that no flower ever thought of being. The thornier the weeds are and the scragglier they look, the more valuable they are for this purpose and I am spreading this glad news in case some brash weed grower should get too energetic and cut down the weeds when there will probably be a flock of women looking for them in just a short time.

Mrs. J. H. Brewer gave me a clipping last week about a newspaper man who advertised for a printer and offered free lunch, no heavy lifting and two blondes to serve the lunch. The advertiser received only two replies. What I would like to know is where the publisher hoped to find the two blondes, with the war industries, public service companies and meat markets hiring every woman who has strength enough to lift a powder puff to her nose.

We visited with that horny handed son of toil, Sam Gentry, last week, only his hands are not half as horny as a farmer's hands are supposed to be, nor was he telling to any great extent.

When I see Sam on the street in Slaton he is quite often wearing overalls and a farm style hat, but he cannot fool me any more, for he is not even sunburnt and I want to expose him as just a good business man, who, like most successful business men, puts up a big front about how hard he works, but gets most of the work done by some one else.

And Sam's wife is getting just like him. She has help to do the dishes and family washing, has electric refrigeration and hot and cold running water and two or three good rocking chairs, a radio with all of the most modern attachments, three children at home, and several grandchildren to keep her amused.

Of course Sam gripes a lot above the high prices of everything but farm produce, and is looking forward to having a tough year every year, but I have a suspicion that farming, when it is done right, is a better business than selling hotdogs at a County Fair.

Are women less courteous than men? Do they expect the men to step aside and show them every respect, and yet do things that are selfish and dangerous?

All of the double parking that is done in Slaton, is not being done by women, but a big part of it is. For the past week, I have made it a point to check up on the sex of the drivers who are double-parked in front of the Post Office at most all times of the day, and I have not found a single man driver.

Those who are considerate of the other fellow, and park their cars as they should be parked are usually blocked when they endeavor to back out and resume their journey. There have been more minor accidents in front of the Post Office than at most any other place on the streets.

It would be almost impossible to see a child or a boy on a bicycle in the confusion that is usually around the Post Office and, even if for no other reason except for the protection of one's own automobile, it would seem to be good judgment to park correctly.

One man made the objection this week that any regulations of traffic in Slaton would make the farmers angry when they visit our town, and there is no denying that most everyone resents being arrested or corrected, but from my observations, the farmers have not stopped going to Lubbock and other towns because safety driving measures are being followed. Of course there would be no reason for arresting people for every minor infringement, but there is an urgent reason for some restrictions, now.

Up until last year I have wondered how thick the three cornered hulls around coconuts are and how they should be removed. Last November, when the first coconuts came, with their peeling still intact, my wife bought several, and now I know how thick the peelings are, but I still do not know how they should be removed. A saw does a mighty ragged job and there is no way on earth of holding the thing still while you try to saw it, the spongy outside is a hard to cut with a butcher knife as a six ply tire, it will not burn off with a blow torch and a chisel bounces off it like a tennis ball, you cannot chew it off with your teeth and dynamite has very little effect.

Any suggestions will be appreciated, for I see that this year's coconuts are coming with their peelings on and I must have my coconut cake for Christmas, even if I have to get Bill Deal to take the peelings of the coconuts off with his acetylene torch.

J. H. Brewer tells one that is a little sacrilegious about a letter written by a Jewish boy who was sent across and landed in Jerusalem. In the letter the boy said that he had always wanted to see the land where Christ was born and that now he wished to Christ he was back where he was born.

The censor of the letter had written in the margin that the part referring to the Holy Land should have been eliminated, but that he did not have the heart to cut it out.

Dick Kagsdale's favorite is the one about the Sergeant who socked the Captain and the private who socked the Sergeant immediately afterwards. When the Sergeant and the private came up for trial before a Court Martial, the Sergeant testified that he hit the Captain because the Captain stepped on his corn... the private said that he saw the Sergeant hit the Captain and thought the war was over and took a poke at the Sergeant.

Do You Remember When Cotton Sold For 62c Per Pound

The following, taken from The Slatonite of Nov. 21, 1919, gives some idea of what inflation did then: "S. R. Lynn this week marketed the first bale of long staple cotton ever grown on the South Plains, and sold it for 62 cents per pound. The cotton was shipped to Houston by express. Mr. Lynn has four more bales of this cotton which proves that the long staple can be grown on the Plains and no doubt a good acreage of this variety will be grown here next year. The yield is fully as great as other cotton and the extra price of 20 cents per pound makes it more desirable to grow."
