TO FIND TROUBLE OPEN DEAD BIRDS
When you find dead chickens in your flock, do you immediately disposing of them by tossing them in the manure pile or throwing them to the hogs?

To be sure, dead birds should be gotten rid of quickly. But, first, why not take a few minutes to try to determine what has caused their death? You may save yourself later trouble and expense.

Look For Clues
Open a few of the dead birds and look over their internal organs for clues to the trouble.
It's hard to tell what's troubling a chicken merely by observing the external symptoms of disease. But there are a few conditions most poultrymen can recognize by posting a bird, observing the internal lesions, and then consulting disease bulletins or pamphlets which are published by colleges, manufacturers of feeds and poultry medicines, and others. This literature will tell what you need to know to identify worms or tuberculosis, for example. Both are easily recognized.

T. B. in Swine
There have been cases in which birds of tuberculosis have been fed to hogs. Swine, of course, are susceptible to the avian form of tuberculosis, and such an error has costly consequences. Therefore, if you're able to tell when a dead bird has the lesions of tuberculosis, you can avoid making this mistake.

The literature also will tell you how to find worm parasites by opening the intestine of the dead fowl.
There are some other conditions which can be recognized without too much difficulty by consulting published material on poultry diseases. Read this material to determine how to treat a disease from your own observations, what you read will tell you how you should proceed to prevent the trouble from occurring again.
In all cases in which there is any doubt, consult a poultry specialist.

Texas Business

The United States cotton balance sheet shows a May 1 balance of 5,792,000 running bales on hand, the lowest May 1 balance since the 1928-29 season when it slid to 4,- 701,000 running bales, according to the Texas Business Review, monthly publication of The University of Texas.

Balance on hand at this time during the 1945-46 season was 11,- 115,000 running bales. The August running bales compared to 11,164,- 000 at the same time last year.

The Texas fruit and vegetable season slowed down in April as rail shipments dropped 12 per cent below March shipments and 18 per cent lower than in April 1946.

Texas electric power consumption, a primary indicator of industrial activity, recovered March losses to show a 3 per cent gain in April.

April building permits in Texas totaled $22,970,732, for the greatest monthly total since March 1946.

Advertising linage in Texas newspapers saw its second consecutive increase in April as linage rose 2 per cent above the March level.

Domestic corporations chartered in Texas during April numbered 130 to fall below charters for the previous months of this year.

Wheat grindings totaled 4,425,- 000 bushels in March to score a 52 per cent gain over March 1946 grindings.

Cotton consumption in Texas slid 4 per cent to total 16,263 running bales in April, the Bureau of the Census reported to The University of Texas Bureau of Business Research. Consumption slipped 8 per cent below that of April 1946.

NEW COMMERCIAL CARS TO BE SHOWN HERE SOON Chevrolet will soon present a new line of commercial cars and trucks, Mr. Harral of the Crow-Harral Chevrolet Co. said upon his return from Oklahoma City last week, where he witnessed a pre-showing for Chevrolet dealers in this area.
"Without doubt, the new line of Chevrolet trucks is the finest ever offered to the American public," Mr. Harral said. "In style, comfort and hauling efficiency, the vehicles set new standards which are certain to secure endorsement of all truck owners and drivers." The new line of trucks will be shown in Slaton within the near future, the exact date to be announced later, Mr. Harral said.
Truck owners and operators and all others interested in truck transportation will be welcome, Mr.
Harral said.

Air Freight Widens Farm Produce Market

Peaches, melons and other farm products being put aboard airplane plane for quick haul to consumers.

A thriving new air freight industry crisscrossing the skies with cargo planes is opening a wider market to farmers for perishable products which need rapid transit to reach consumers in top quality condition, Clyde Zimmerman writes in an article in nationally-circulated Capper's Farmer.

In the last 2 years, tonnage cargo shipped by plane has increased 600 per cent, he points out.

"Current trends indicate fresh fruits and vegetables, flowers, meat and baby chicks, already moving by air, will vastly increase in amount," he declares in the magazine read by 1,300,000 farm families.

Air freight is fast. New, larger faster 4-engine planes will cut transcontinental schedules to 10 or 11 hours. This speed is expensive.
Products hauled by air must sell at premium prices.

Current air rates, although still above those of surface carriers, are low enough so crops such as berries, lima beans, spinach, lettuce, tomatoes, cherries, cauliflower and melons are moving in sky vans from certain areas to Middle Western and Eastern cities.

"Farmers can look to broader markets with air freight because consumers prefer vine-ripened and tree-ripened fruits and vegetables over those that ripen in transit," writes Zimmerman. "Eating quality and nutritional value of such products are higher."

Railroads may enter the air-freight business, Zimmerman says. A few railroads have already announced the organization of air-freight corporations as affiliated companies to engage in air transportation.

THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES: "The problem of lowering the highway death rate remains one of the nation's most serious problems. It is an appalling fact that 33,500 American citizens were killed in automobile accidents in 1946. I therefore call upon every State and every community in the land to work unceasingly through 1947 to promote highway safety.

"Laws and regulations will be of little avail unless the individual driver holds himself strictly accountable to his own conscience."

That call is to you personally to cooperate as a citizen of the United States in helping reduce highway accidents. It is a shameful record when in one year 33,500 lives are sacrificed; 1,150,000 persons are injured and $750,000,000 in property destroyed, resulting in an economic cost to the nation of $2,000,000,000 because of careless, reckless driving.

It is a national problem, but essentially the solution is in your hands. Drive safely — live and let live!

[ This is the first of a series of advertisements presented in the public interest by the President's Highway Safety Conference and the daily and weekly newspapers of the nation through their Press and Publisher Associations. ]

JUST TALK

by
A.M.J.

The repairing of the signal lights may eventually make things safer for the motorists around here but one of them made me very unpopular with a woman driver the first day they went back into action.

At the corner of Lynn and 9th I came to the signal just as it turned green and I drove onto 9th with supreme confidence, however, I had not calculated on a certain Slaton woman not knowing of the lights and she was headed North in somewhat of a hurry. If her eyes had been machine guns she would have massacred me, she blew her horn in a very irritated way and blazed on through the red light in a high dudgeon at me while I drove on home at 2 miles per hour and shaking in my boots at the narrow escape I had.

Last Thursday night Harry Stokes, Leonard Harral and I sat in the sub zero weather watching the soft ball game between Robinson and the Barbers. Most of the game was well played but when one of the men made a bad catch I said "I could play better soft ball than that," then Harry Stokes said that he would bet me ten dollars that I could not run from home plate to third base without falling on my face. Leonard wanted to make the same kind of deal and after I failed to call the money Harry told of the time about seven or eight years ago when some of the business men who still felt young and ambitious played a game with another team. Harry and Lee Wooten were on the same team and Lee accidentally whammed one for quite a ways. He tore out at top speed, made first, slowed to a walk at second and passed out on third and had to be carried to home plate. Harry also socked one but he never reached second and he does not know to this day what happened after that except that his side lost. Leonard Harral has also retired as a soft ball player because he remembers having lost one toe nail and broken two fingers while enjoying the game as a player.

From now on I'm going to keep my trap shut regardless of how sorry the players do their part, some one might insist on my trotting from home plate to first base.

Our new Methodist minister Cal C. Wright visited last week at the office among the sinners, as Mr. S. S. Forrest classes folks who work at the Slatonite. The minister was telling of a bum who visited him some months ago in Lamesa, he told an excellent story of being stranded while on his way to his daughters home out near Miami. He had accidentally left his pocket book in his best suit that had been shipped to his daughters ranch and the story fitted together like a jig saw puzzle. Reverend Wright enjoyed the travelogue so much that he gave the bum a dollar. Last week he went to the door in answer to a knock and the same bum was there. The same story was repeated with only a few minor changes as the daughters ranch had shifted to a location near Hereford. The minister listened patiently until almost the end then he finished the story for the old man. The bum became very much irritated and went off up the street mumbling dire threats against Reverend Wright. It's a cruel world no doubt.

Slaton is beginning to improve in appearance, the nice clean repainted and repaired buildings stand out like a sore thumb in a poker game and the unpainted, ill kept places look even more delapidated than they did before. If we could get a good sign painter and advertising card writer to locate here in Slaton I feel sure he could do a good business. One business man told me last week that he would give such a man at least $12.00 in business every week and probably more, there are many signs that need working over in Slaton and the new concerns that are coming to our town are having a tough time getting work of this kind done. It seems to me that some organization in Slaton should have a list of the kinds of trades open here that are not represented or where there are not enough workmen to do the work. We should try to encourage men in these trades to locate here. Slaton can and should make some substantial growth in the next five or ten years and it should be planned as much as possible and not left to chance. The people who are here now can influence the kinds of businesses that come here or it can be left to chance so that there will be too many of some kinds of businesses and none of kinds that we need. Cut throat competition will hurt the town just as much as monopolies that keep prices out of reason so it seems to me that some effort should be made to plan for the future of the town.

It seems to me that more things can happen to gardens, flowers and fruit in this country than in any other section that I know of. We have one large apricot tree that has a few dejected blooms on it most every year but occasionally gets ambitious and really does a good job. This was one season when it bloomed on a year when a freeze did not get the blossoms, everything has gone along fairly well until last week when a squirrel found out about the half grown apricots and now we are about as bad off for apricots as we usually are. Personally I have no idea as to why I am so discouraged about the apricots, the flowers or a garden for three or four apricots will satisfy my desire for apricots, I do not stay home long enough to enjoy flowers in a vase nor am I a hog for vegetables, just give me a good thick T-bone and I can get along nicely but I've got my blood pressure way up over the apricots, the squirrel and the bugs that eat on everything including me.

Weather predictions—the scorching hot spell has just about burned itself and everybody in this section to a crisp and I'm looking for some real rainy spells. From now on we'll have a few warm days and then a lot of sloppy ones and this summer is going to be somewhat of a freak when we're not going to get much out of straw hats and summer clothes. The bugs are gonna eat on the cotton, the farmers should start to griping pretty loud and we should have the best fall in years and years.

Eliminate the Positive
 There was a knock at the kitchen door. When Mrs. Smith opened the door, there stood a lanky youth, black as the ace of spades. "Good mawin', ma'am," he said, "I is lookin' fo' somebody that wants somebody to do sump'in. You all don't know nobody that want to hiah nobody to do nothing' does you?"

"So Help Me!"
 The cross-examiner was having trouble with a difficult witness. Exasperated he asked if he was acquainted with anyone on the jury. "Yes, sir, more than half of them," the prospective witness replied. "Are you willing to swear that you know more than half of them?" persisted the lawyer. "As far as that goes, I'm willing to swear that I know more than all of them put together."

HOW TRUE
 "Mandy, what's the secret of your long and placid life?" "Well, when Ah walks, Ah walks slow; when Ah sets, Ah sets loose, and when Ah worries, Ah sleeps."
Search Warrant Needed
 A salesman making a month's stay in town bought some limburger cheese to eat in his room.

When he got ready to leave he still had about half the cheese left. He didn't want to pack it, nor did he want to leave it lying in the room. He went over to the window-sill, carefully removed a plant from the pot, buried the cheese and replaced the plant.

A few days later he received a telegram from the hotel: "We give up. Where did you put it?"

Cleaning the Oven
 Grease "baked on" in range ovens is hard to remove, the Rural Home editor of nationally-circulated Capper's Farmer points out. Scouring, unless done with care, may damage the enamel finish. So home economists with the U. S. Department of Agriculture suggest placing a shallow bowl of household ammonia — or a wadded cloth dampened in ammonia — in the oven for several hours or overnight. Fumes help loosen greasy film; a badly soiled oven may need several treatments.

Can't Break His Good Habits!

Bert Childers was saying, it's funny how so many of our wartime habits stick with us. Bert likes plenty of butter on his bread, but even now he can't get over spreading it like it was scarce as hen's teeth. And as a war-worker, Bert used to stick to a temperate glass of beer on time off; and he still holds fast to beer and moderation. Same way with Bert's wife. She not only has no trouble saving used fats, and waste paper. She's learned from wartime necessity to save every single thing that might possibly be used again. From where I sit, it's mighty good that so many of these common-sense habits like thrift and moderation have stayed with us. Because they belong in America—along with tolerance, and mutual respect for one another's rights. They're habits that have helped to make this country strong and neighborly and free.

DDT and Sulphur Help To Alfalfa

DDT and sulphur mixture can mean dollars saved to West Texas alfalfa growers this year, judging from the experience of Hale County farmers.

Hale County Agricultural Agent M. M. Ayers reports that the DDT and sulphur mixture now has the nod of approval from several farmers who had a severe infestation of pea aphids on alfalfa recently. Before the aphid poisoning could get underway, however, the insects had slowed down alfalfa growth to the extent that some farmers lost their entire first planting.

A local insecticide dealer cooperated with the county agent and a few farmers in running some field trials in an effort to find the best poison to use against the aphids on alfalfa. Their best results were obtained with ten percent DDT and sulphur, applied at the rate of 20 to 30 pounds per acre. Most of the poison trials were done by airplane.

The farmers who have used the treatment are well satisfied that it will pay dividends, says County Agent Ayers.

Marriage, symbolized by the wedding ring, is a tie which binds hearts and hands in a union which forms the basis of human society. Its purpose is to improve human relations, provide for the continuity of the race, and enrich human lives with the blessings of companionship and love.

A wedding is rightly an occasion of great joy; but it is also an event which marks the assumption of solemn responsibilities. It is a pledge of fidelity and wholehearted devotion which forecasts the establishment of a home and the rearing of children.

To meet these responsibilities and make marriage a success, men and women need divine guidance and the strength and inspiration which come from religion. A home without these lacks one of the first essentials to successful living and true happiness.

A church connection should be one of the first considerations of the young couple who leave the altar as man and wife. A home founded upon faith in God and the precepts of religion will stand unshaken in all the vicissitudes of life.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . .
ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend and support the church of his choice. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church on Sunday and read your Bible daily.
