CHICK CHATS
 by Robert Huser of Huser's Hatchery
 Birds Require Balanced Diet

Birds whose daily feed continually lacks one or more of the essential food elements not only lag behind in growth or produce fewer eggs, but also may develop one of various nutritional deficiency, diseases. To function properly, a chicken's body needs a balanced diet of minerals, vitamins, proteins, carbohydrates, and fats. When just one of these is missing, trouble may soon develop.

Here are some of the common nutritional ailments, their symptoms, causes, and curative or preventive measures:
Rickets—Caused by the lack of vitamin D or of certain minerals, particularly calcium. Chicks suffering from the disease have soft and rubbery beaks, breastbones and legs. Crooked breasts and breast bones frequently develop. Chief effect on adult birds has to do with the production of eggs, lack of minerals resulting in the production of thin- or soft-shelled eggs. To correct the condition give the birds adequate amounts of the deficient nutrients. Fish liver oils will supply the required vitamins, while powdered limestone or oyster shell will give the fowl the minerals they need.

Slipped Tendon—This is a disease in which the large hock tendon of the bird's leg slips from its normal position, causing the leg to become bowed or twisted. It usually occurs among chicks. Causes are deficiencies of manganese or choline. Make certain the feed contains four to six ounces of manganese sulphate per ton.
Curly Toe Paralysis—Afflicted birds walk on their hocks with toes curled inward. It is caused by a vitamin G or riboflavin. Dried liver, dried yeast, milk products and green feeds are some of the food products which will provide plenty of riboflavin when needed.

Nutritional Roup—This condition, caused by a lack of vitamin A, affects the lining of the upper respiratory and digestive tracts. Nutritional roup is marked by the formation of milky white material in the nasal cavities, sinuses and under the eyelids. Small white nodules form in the esophagus. Correct the condition by feeding green, yellow corn, dried liver meal or cod liver meal to the birds.

"Oh, I wouldn't say he was so generous! After all, he DID leave his relatives ten per cent!"

This Week's Lesson
 "Soul" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, August 17.
 The Golden Text is: "Lo, this is our God; we have waited for him, and he will save us: this is the Lord; we have waited for him, and we will be glad and rejoice in his salvation." (Isaiah 25:9)
 Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Yea, in the way of thy judgements, O Lord, have we waited for thee: the desire of our soul is to thy name, and to the remembrance of thee." (Isaiah 26:8)
 The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "The Science of being reveals man as perfect, even as the Father is perfect, because the Soul, or Mind, of the spiritual man is God, the divine Principle of all being, and because this real man is governed by Soul, instead of sense, by the law of the Spirit, not by the so-called laws of matter." (page 302)

Things were in a mighty bad situation last week and Howard Swanner has gotten to the point where he said he is going to pray for rain. When Howard begins to repent and would go far enough to do some heavy praying it is time the old sinners should do some checking up.

A letter from Irene Hollinden, who used to throw things around at the Slatonite, but who is now visiting in Indiana, said that she had seen a lot of beautiful country and queer animals but no wild cats or bull snakes like we have seen on nearly every corner in Slaton. Perhaps Irene has been seeing some wolves.

It seems to me that we have printed more shower invitations and wedding announcements this last year and a half than we have ever printed and now we are beginning to reap the harvest . . . birth announcements . . . If everything works out as it should we will have to open a birth announcement department.

Several folks have asked me when I expect a rain and my sad predictions are beginning to strain some of the thin threads of friendship that are always threatening to break asunder, but I am sticking with it, we are going to have a chocky time of it for awhile, maybe we'll get a rain this week but it's not going to be a heavy rain and we are going to have to help Howard Swanner out if the crops are to be saved.

Perhaps the DDT fog is harmless to all red blooded animals, to draperies and home furnishing but I am sure that if the women of Slaton could have gotten to the driver of the fog machine that went through the town about two weeks ago, he would have been very badly crippled up.

Mayor Wootton and his wife did not agree too well on the fog machine and she and a group of her friends had the Mayor doing some fast talking soon after most of the houses were fogged up with the DDT and I feel sure that if the women find out in advance that the outfit is coming then every house in town will be closed tight instead of open to let the fog in to kill all the bugs and things that are living with us.

It goes to prove that women won't let the men improve the town unless it is done in a sweet scented way.

It is said that he that tooteth not his own tooter same shall not be tooted and I would like to have every one know that the 1909 awning that almost fell down in front of the Slatonite has now been replaced by a hand made, lace trimmed outfit that gives the front of the Slatonite a Spanish mantilla effect and should make us very popular with the women, an idea that was not overlooked when the awning was first considered. You boys with the ripple edge, spavined old awnings should come down and look at ours and see what can really be done, that is if you don't mind getting bogged down in debt to your belt line.

Mrs. L. E. Brasfield came in the office last week and said we had not delivered her paper. Every once in a while some one complains that their Slatonite was not delivered and for these omissions on our part, for any errors the Post Office department may have made or for any miscarriage of justice, we make our apologies and wish to say that we are glad that our subscribers miss the Slatonite enough to raise a howl when they do not get it. We take it as a compliment that you want your paper and if you are a subscriber, and do not get your paper please phone, write or come in to see us and raise a howl, we'll do our best to get the Post Office to correct its errors.

While on the subject of the Post Office I'd like to say that we have some mighty fine folks working at the Post Office and that my experience with all of them has been extra pleasant. Occasionally the Citizen State Bank mail gets into the Slatonite box but most of it seems to be about the same kind of stuff that comes to the Slatonite circulars, bills and second class matter and to date I have not made a dime because our box is right next to the Banks. If they do not quit putting such trash in our box I'm going to ask that our box be put next to some concern that gets more interesting mail, such as Esquire, Mademoiselle and Look.

A business man from Lubbock who came into the office last week said that he thinks Slaton is one of the best towns on the South Plains. In comparing it with Leveland he said that perhaps Slaton does not have as many business houses nor are raising as much ballahoo but he said that he feels sure over a long period of time that Slaton will prove the most prosperous and dependable as we have better streets, more substantial homes and are what he considers a solid town.

Personally I agree with him but there is such a thing as becoming too solid and a little fun is mighty good for folks. Let's not get so solid that we will set like concrete. The Last Word?

A husband and wife couldn't speak to each other except in sign language. One night when the husband came home rather late, the wife let him have her raging anger, her fingers flying a mile a minute. Just as he raised his hands to answer her, she turned out the light!—Quote.

A young man had picked out the material for a new suit.

"I can't make it for at least 30 days," the overworked tailor told him.

"Thirty days!" protested the customer. "Why the whole world was made in six days."

"True," replied the tailor, but have you taken a good look at it lately?"

A visitor to the big city approached an old panhandler and asked him why he was holding a hat in each hand.

The bum grinned: "Business has been so good, I had to open a branch office."

A Great Oil Company introduces a Great NEW Oil!

Phillips Research brings you the finest motor oil for your car ever to bear Phillips 66 trade-mark!

When a great oil company brings out a completely new, different motor oil—that's news!

And when that oil company is willing to stake its reputation—to come right out and say, "This is the finest motor oil for your car ever to bear the Phillips 66 trade-mark!"—

That's food for thought for every man who owns a car!

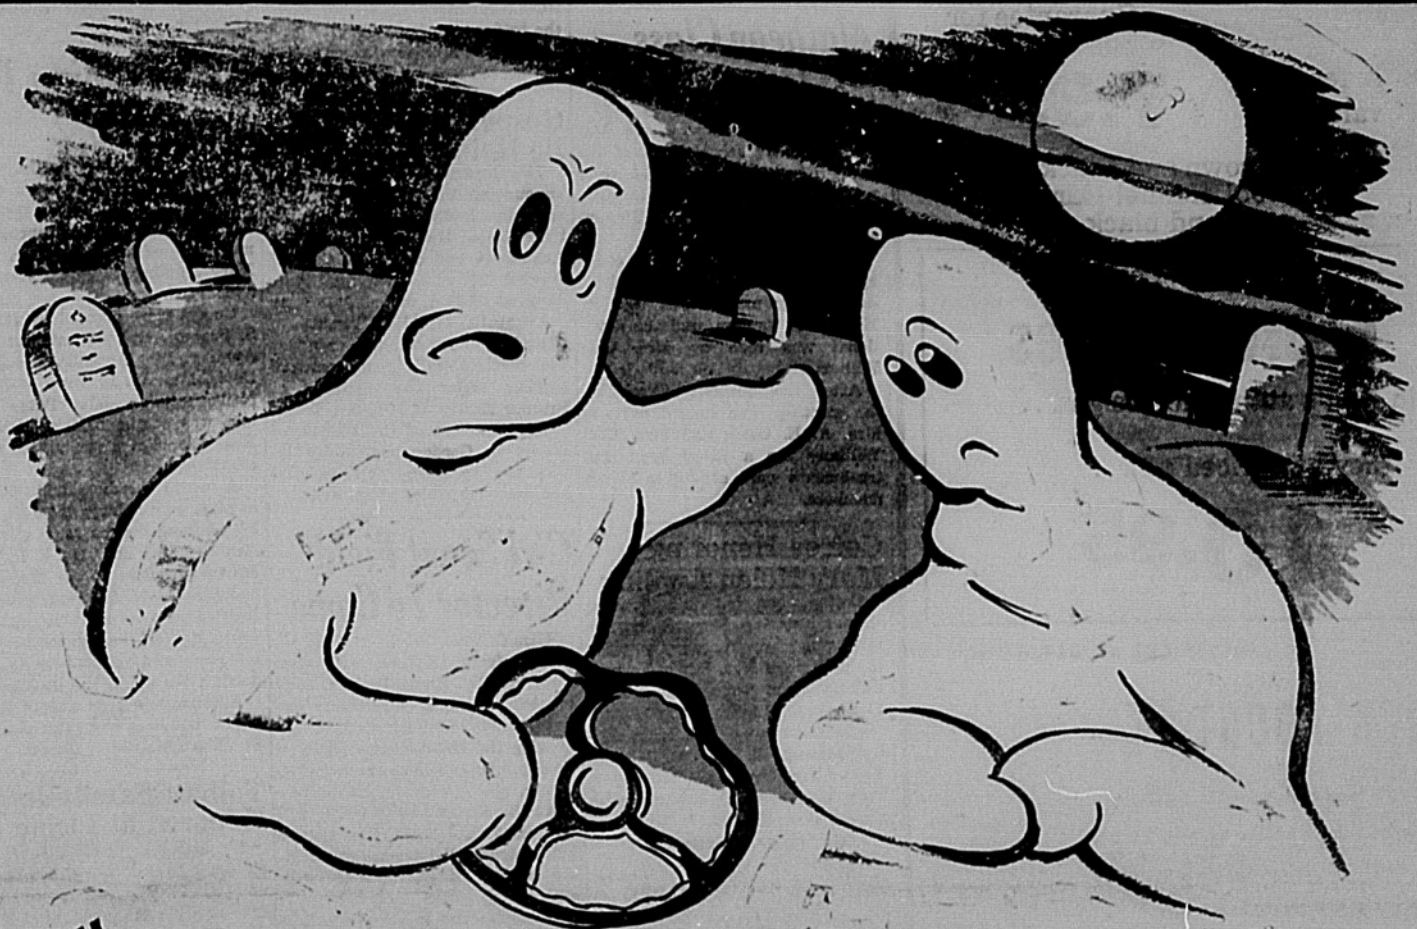

This new Phillips 66 Premium Motor Oil is the result of extensive research, conducted over a number of years by Phillips research scientists. It is of the modern detergent (self-cleaning), oxidation-resistant type. Lessons learned in developing heavy duty lubricants for Army tanks and trucks, the experiences of others who have developed detergent-type oils, and demands of engine manufacturers for their higher-speed, higher-pressure engines, have all been taken into consideration.

The base stocks from the Oklahoma fields, which oil men now recognize as among the finest in the world, are another contributing feature of this great new oil.

This new Phillips 66 Premium Motor Oil is now on sale at all Phillips 66 Dealers. We urge you to provide your car with our finer, newer automotive lubricant.

"- BUT I WAS RIGHT DEAD RIGHT!"

"I was going into that intersection first. I had the right of way—that truck driver should have stopped when he saw me—I was right, dead right!"

"Yes dear — you always were right — the other fellow always wrong. That's why we're here."

You know the kind, you've met him on the road—and ducked. He always barges through traffic when it's a question of split-second judgment. Never anticipates other drivers' actions — just assumes that traffic will give way. Owns the road. Drives with his horn.

He may get away with it for a time, plus a few tickets, because other drivers are more careful, more conscientious. But his kind eventually steps on the gas once too often—and for the last time he is "right—dead right!"

4,000 people died last year because "know-it-all" drivers violated rules of the road and the courtesies of driving. Good drivers never need to hold cemetery post-mortems. They drive carefully and live longer.

Early Milk Containers
In the early days, milk was distributed from door to door in bulk by the dairy farmer. He would fill the crocks, pails or jars that the housewife left on the doorstep from the milk cans that he carried in his milk wagon. This method of distribution was used until the glass milk bottles were developed in 1879. Being transparent, the bottles clearly revealed the cream line. Being filled and capped at the plant, they were more sanitary than the bulk milk. It was not until 1906 that the paper container for milk was developed.

Puerto Rico Not Tropical
The island of Puerto Rico lies definitely within the tropics. The climate, however, is not tropical. The island lies directly in the path of the constant trade winds which temper the heat of the tropical sun. The average daily maximum temperature is 86.0 degrees, and the average daily minimum temperature is 66.9 degrees. The highest temperature occurs in August and the lowest is recorded in February.

Many Rural Scouts
There are approximately 285,000 Boy Scouts and 90,000 Cub Scouts in 22,062 units in the rural areas of the United States. This is only one-fourth of the membership of the Boy Scouts of America, which represents 51 per cent of the boy population of America. Many boys of scout age exert their efforts in 4-H and Future Farmer work in farm districts, which may account for fewer farm boys being scouts than city boys.

Lot of Cigarettes
Tobacco used in cigarette manufacture brought $50 million dollars to producers last year. The tobacco went into 1.5 trillion cigarettes made in the United States.

Accepted Medical Schools
There are 77 acceptable or approved medical schools in the United States and only one outside the pale of acceptability.

The foxglove gives us the valuable heart remedy, digitalis, the name of which is taken from the botanical name of the flower.

Fifteen educational awards to outstanding young future farmers in Texas will be offered by the Santa Fe Railway in continuance of its annual educational program, it is announced by President Fred G. Gurley of that company.

Winners will be selected by the State Department of Agricultural Education under the direction of R. A. Manire, Director, Agricultural Education, Austin. The awards are cash sums approximating the expense incident to attendance by the winners at the National F.F.A. Convention held in Kansas City in October. Winners of the Santa Fe award must reside in counties served by the Santa Fe Railway.

In renewing its annual offer, Gurley said the Santa Fe this year will extend its awards to livestock and meat judging teams, or American farmer candidates, or both, within the quotas previously observed for each state in which the awards are made.

"Livestock and meat judging will be revived at the F.F.A. Convention in Kansas City in 1947 for the first time since the war," Gurley said, "and judging teams of those classifications will again be included in our awards this fall as well as official delegates and candidates for the American farmer degree."

Dining Room Is Center of Family Gatherings

Dining rooms are happy rooms. There has been much talk about doing away with them in modern houses because of the space required, but there is no denying that they add much to the graciousness of living.

In this busy work-a-day world, each member of the family is constantly on the go, and it is only at the dining room table that they all congregate for good food and genial get-togethers. It should be not only a functional room, but a pleasant room since it is the center of so many of the most pleasant moments of life.

The dining room pictured here is the essence of charm with its large, sunny windows. The vividly colored wall paper not only brings the garden inside the house, but also sets the color scheme for the entire room. The crisp ruffled curtains repeat the white ground of the wall paper, while the slip seats on the chairs and the rug pick up the reds and greens in the flowers. The plants on the window seat and the collection of glass and copper bric-a-brac make interesting accessories for a thoroughly delightful room.

Preserving Tips

Here's a tip for housewives on making preserves out of the fruit crop that's coming to market now.

Fruit preserves are successful only if the fruit holds its shape, yet is tender and translucent in the syrup, home economists for the U. S. Department of Agriculture say as they explain that sugar has a firming effect on fruit tissues but must be applied differently to various types of fruit.

Sugar is added "straight" to tender, juicy fruits like peaches, cherries and berries. If the fruits stand overnight in sugar, they become firmer and are less likely to go to pieces in cooking. The sugar draws out the juice and shrinks the fruit somewhat, but the juice provides enough liquid so that no water need be added, and this shortens the cooking time. The shorter the cooking, the better the color and flavor.

Juicy fruits with a firm skin, like plums, do not need overnight firming. But because they are juicy, they are put in a thick syrup. This helps keep their shape as they cook, and the juice, as it cooks out, thins the necessary amount.

Firm fruits like quinces and crabapples are put in thin syrup to cook, for thick syrup toughens them, and too, they have time to cook tender while the syrup boils down.

Dairy cows do best when given a six weeks to two months rest between lactation periods.

MARKET NEWS

Many farm products gained ground on southwest markets last week, and others held their own fairly well, according to the Production and Marketing Administration, U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Newly ginned cotton from South Texas found good demand, and most offerings graded strict middling or better. However, spot prices netted losses of $1 to $2.

With hotter weather, top quality eggs became even more scarce, and markets held firm. Prices went up fairly well on liberal offerings of medium to lower grade eggs. Demand for poultry slowed some, but prices remained generally firm on moderate receipts. Heavy hens brought mostly 22 to 26 cents, and fryers 32 to 37.

Hog markets generally overcame early-week losses to close mostly 25 to 50 cents higher. Closing bulk of good and choice medium weight butchers sold at $27 at San Antonio, $27.50 at Fort Worth, $27.75 at Oklahoma City; and $26.50 to $27.25 at Wichita. Week's top at Denver was $30, within 25 cents of all time high.

Many cattle classes brought lower prices last week. Most stocker and feeder types, as well as slaughter cows, calves, vealers, and bulls dropped from 50 cents to $1.50. Steers and yearlings weakened at some markets. Common and medium cows brought $11.50 to $14.50 at Houston and Fort Worth, and $12 to $15 at San Antonio and Wichita. Medium and good kinds moved at $13 to $15.50 at Oklahoma City, while common to good kinds sold at $15 to $19 at Denver.

Ninety-five pounds of ground wheat or 99 pounds of un-ground wheat is equal to about 100 pounds of No. 2 shelled corn in a hog ration. Wheat is lacking in Vitamins A and D, however, which can be made up with alfalfa meal or hay, or green grazing.

Lookin'
Thinkin'

The little girl in the picture gazes across the tumbling waters of the mountain stream and wonders about things.

She wonders about the other side of the stream; about the wild life that flourishes in its depths and along its banks; about the great mystery of the waters as they roll on to the distant river and the far-off sea.

As she grows in years and stature and her mental horizon expands she will know more about these and many other things; but always there will be things to be learned, problems to be solved, mysteries to be explained.

The little girl is a symbol of humanity as she stands and looks and wonders. For man is always peering into the dim distances and wondering what lies beyond.

But there is a key to all human problems and a solution for all mysteries. It is the key of faith. It is found in the Scriptures and the teachings of the Church. It is God's gift to those who live by faith.

Religion helps men to solve present perplexities and lights up the dim beyond.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend and support the church of his choice. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church on Sunday and read your Bible daily.

Trees Tell the Time
 Since 200 B. C. successive generations of American trees have kept an accurate record of the weather in the United States. Variations in width of the tree's annual rings indicate the weather for each year. The name "lumber" is derived from "lombard," the name of a money lender or banker. So trees tell time as well as being bankers.

Blanching is a treatment given to peanuts to give a whiter and more homogenous appearance to products made from them. These products include peanut butter, peanut candies, salted peanuts, bakery products and peanut flour. This whitening is accomplished by removing the skin of peanuts, and may or may not include removing the hearts or germs.

Hadrian's Wall Blankets
 Built 2,000 years ago as a barrier against the invasions of the Scots, Hadrian's Roman wall is still one of the wonders of northern England.

Synthetic Gems Made
 Synthetic rubies and sapphires, made by electric furnaces in Switzerland and France, amounted to thousands annually before the war.

Steps in the Training of a Good Hunting Companion

There's nothing like a good dog to add pleasure and profit to the hunt. But good dog companions don't just happen; practically without exception they are the products of long, conscientious training in the demands of the woods and fields. Some of the steps in the training of a good gun dog are here illustrated by Elias C. Fial, widely-known trainer of field dogs and director of the Gaines Research Kennels, Ridgefield, Conn.

"NO!" is one of the most valuable commands in preventing waste motion in hunting. A dog who will refrain from eating when commanded "No!" is well on the way toward being well trained.

"HEEL!" This command keeps the dog at his master's side ready for any contingency. Pointers and Setters "heel" on the right side while Retrievers walk on their master's left side.

"WHOA!" Picking the dog up and then planting him down firmly on all four feet while restraining him from moving is the best way to teach him to stop in his tracks on this command.

THE YOUNG DOG learns the correct form for a point by example from association with an older and well-trained dog. Constant correction leads to ultimate perfection of stance.

"COME!" is the first step in training a field dog. He learns from repeated tugs on a long lead and from pats when he obeys.

FIELD TRIAL DOGS are run in braces. Exuberant dogs HOLDING a point until a gun is fired is taught by having one man flush the bird while another holds the dog. After the gun is fired the dog is allowed to run to the lead while waiting for the starting signal.
