Many Folks Remember When Slaton Was A Tent Town With Little Water

Due to the fact that a great deal of information came in late last week concerning people who were here when Slaton first became a town, a good deal of the interesting information was omitted because of mechanical difficulties for setting the material up and because of the lack of space in the paper at the late hour that the information came to us.

Few people realize the difficulties that face the workers on a weekly newspaper. The entire paper cannot be printed in one or two days, but the entire operation requires that some of the pages be printed on Monday, some on Tuesday, Wednesday and the final four pages on Thursdays.

In the flurry and hurry of publishing twenty-four pages for the Slaton Frontier Birthday Party last week a number of people's names and experiences were omitted. Among them were some of the original settlers of this area and of Slaton.

Clifford Young has been in this section the most of his life having come to this immediate area in 1898, his father F. D. Young bought a farm here one year earlier. Mrs. Clifford Young, daughter of Mrs. Lula Caldwell, was born near Slaton, and Mr. and Mrs. Young have seen Slaton and this territory grow from open range country to one of the richest agricultural areas in the United States. Both have many interesting details to tell of early days on the South Plains, of dust storms, droughts and blizzards and of hardships that folks went through.

B. G. Guinn says he has chased antelope and prairie chickens over land where Slaton now stands and when he came here in 1911 there was but two fences between Slaton and Lubbock. To go to Tahoka and other places one had to know all of the cattle trails by heart and it was no trick at all to get lost.

One of the longest time residents of Slaton is R. G. Shankle, who bought and sold cattle in this area long before Slaton was a town. He took up residence here when Slaton was established.

Bill Selge graduated from the Slaton High School as did B. G. Guinn. Mr. Selge remembers when he arrived in Slaton in 1911. His family came here at the same time as the Hoffman and his family came. The two families came from Texas in wagons, the household goods was shipped by train. At that time Slaton was little more than a Post Office, a few houses and a good many tents. The Hoffmans and the Hoffmans lived in tents for some time. The only place where the folks could get water was from a well that had been dug near the swimming pool. Now Slaton looks better to me than it ever did. I get to stick around here for a hundred years more."

One of the most aggressive business men of this area was the Robinson family. The late Mr. A. B. Robinson owned and operated a number of businesses including a grocery store.

Mr. Payne, owner of Payne's Hardware, was connected with Slaton for many years. He came from Colorado City. Mr. Payne has seen Slaton through many ups and downs and he considers it the best town he has ever lived in and he hopes to see it grow to a size in the next 30 years.

Many other folks who have similar or better tales to relate of the Slatonite era are impossible to list. In the future more interesting tales will be told with the experiences of those who were here.

City Health Dr. Urges A "Clean Up"

Last year was the worst year for polio in history. And if the present ratio for the first six months of 1950 continues, there will be twice as much polio in Texas this year than there was last.

Dr. W. E. Payne, Slaton City Health Officer, urged this week that a local clean-up drive should be begun to get rid of certain nuisances which aid in disease spread.

The doctor explained that in Slaton there are some 100 residences which do not have adequate sewage but are located favorably for city disposal. "As soon as notices can be prepared, each residence or business building requiring sewage connections will receive such notices stating that they must make these connections within a definite and limited period of time," Dr. Payne stated.

Explanation was continued by the health officer by saying, "The city ordinance is sufficient that it can enforce these legal notices. Of course, we had rather see these connections made voluntarily."

In order to get rid of flies, odors and other contaminations, proper sewage connections must be made. Out-of-the-way places must have city approved out-door toilets; but if they are within reach of city sewage connections, such places will not be approved.

"We would like to see every residence with proper garbage disposal cans enabling the city to collect it. Everyone owning lots which are grown up with weeds should have them cut at once. All unnecessary trash and accumulation should be disposed of or placed in alleys where they can be picked up," Dr. Payne concluded.

Slaton residents should feel their duties to work together to have a clean city with the least confusion possible. Polio is not the only disease to dread. Such diseases as typhoid fever, dysentery and tuberculosis are also spread by flies which feed on germ laden filth.

Let's all work toward the goal of making Slaton a sanitary and disease-free community—work toward the goal by doing our part.

C. Of C. Thanks Local Citizens

Following is a statement made by the local Chamber of Commerce in regard to the recent Slaton Frontier Day Celebration.

"The Board of Directors of the Chamber of Commerce and Board of City Development wish to take these means of expressing the sincere thanks and deep appreciation to all who helped make our Birthday Party a success.

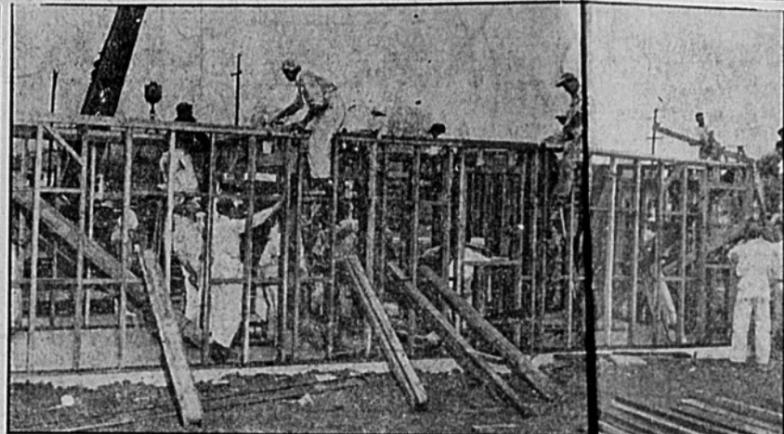

"The cooperation manifested during the promotion of the 39th Birthday Party was everywhere visible and without it the show would hardly have been as successful as it was.

"To those who worked so hard, and gave unstintingly of their time, to those who entered their floats and other parade displays to make this the biggest and best ever held in the history of Slaton, the Board of Directors expresses their thanks and appreciation."

The Chamber of Commerce group explained this week that the Frontier Day Celebration had proved to be so successful, that plans call for making a like celebration a yearly affair.

HOME WAS BUILT IN A DAY—With the framework already up, only five minutes after starting construction, more than 40 workmen, carpenters, electricians and plumbers in Santa Rosa, Calif., swarmed over a new $8500 home, which was completed six and a half hours later, setting a new world record. It was estimated that 120 workers had a hand in the construction of the modern five-room house with attached garage by the time it was completed. The owners moved in the next day.

Cotton Chopping Will Start Soon

Chopping of approximately 250,000 acres of cotton Lubbock County is expected to begin the first of next week, according to a survey made last week by Vernon O'Farrell of the Lubbock branch of the Texas Employment Commission.

Some chopping has been completed by a few of the crews coming into this area from the Valley. Around 2,100 local laborers are in the North and West at present, but most of these are expected to return to the area within a short while. It is estimated by the Lubbock employment office that more than 2,500 hands will be needed to handle Lubbock county alone.

Of the few crews that are coming in now, very few have housing facilities. Any farmer who wants to house a crew, but not use that work group immediately, is urged to contact Mr. O'Farrell at Texas Employment Commission, 1114 Tenth Street, Lubbock. In case interested persons cannot stop by that office, the office phone number there is 4881.

All farmers who do not have their crews lined up yet should contact the commission.

Carl Lewis Wins Tech Scholarship

Twenty-three South Plains area high school graduates, including Carl Lewis, Jr., of Slaton, have been chosen from a slate of 85 contestants as candidates for the Dunlap company scholarships of $50 per semester for the 1950-51 long term at Texas Technological college. The announcement was made Monday by Dean of Mean James C. Allen.

Each of the 85 applicants for the scholarships were given regular college entrance examinations in psychology, English and mathematics. Choices were made on the basis of these tests, coupled with an interview. Those chosen show the "likelihood of greatest success in college," Dean Allen stated.

One-Time Nazi Youth Will Be Local Speaker

Dieter Alten, former Nazi youth leader under Adolf Hitler, will speak to the people of Slaton and surrounding territory at 7:30 p. m. Sunday, June 25 at the local Church of Christ.

DIETER ALTEN

For the past two years Alten has been a ministerial student in David Lipscomb College in Nashville, Tenn. Young Alten, who is only 22 years of age, was converted early in 1948 by Otis Gatewood, a gospel preacher sent to Germany by the Broadway Church of Christ in Lubbock.

The German youth, who speaks English fluently, said he will return to Germany on July 12 after having completed his studies at Nashville the first of June.

Realizing that he and many other youths were greatly disillusioned by the Hitler philosophy, he turned to the New Testament Christianity as solution to the problems of Germany. Alten plans to return to Germany as a Church of Christ minister.

In speaking of Hitler, Dieter Alten said, "He did for us what Franklin D. Roosevelt did when he pulled the United States out of the depression. Consequently, we gave him more power, much to our sorrow later."

Alten said he did not feel badly toward the Russian people, but only toward the dictatorship that keeps them ignorant and poverty stricken. He explained that the Russian people are being misused by the Communists, and that he hopes to reach them in order to teach Christianity.

"The Slaton Church of Christ extends to everyone in this locality a very sincere invitation and hearty welcome to this service," local church officials said.

Over twenty boys from Lubbock were scheduled to go, four boys from Abernathy and many towns over the district have numerous representatives.

The Boy Scout National Jamboree is one of the biggest gatherings ever held, even surpassing big armies in the field. It is estimated that the 55,000 boys and 7,000 leaders will consume 100,000 pounds of meat, including 35 miles of frankfurters, 409,000 quarts of milk, 35,000 loaves of bread, 60,000 cans of vegetables and 2 car loads of breakfast food, 80,000 gallons of water will be used daily during the convention.

1930 Grads "Turn Out" For Reunion

Paul W. Wright of Gunnison, Colo., 1930 Slaton High School coach, was the principal speaker at the Saturday evening banquet which was one of the highlights of the Twentieth Anniversary Celebration of the 1930 class.

Mr. Wright, present mayor of Gunnison and athletic director of Western State College, spoke briefly to the group in a humorous and reminiscent vein. "You were the firecracker class," Wright jested; "you wouldn't any more than get one put out at the top of the stairs until one was going off at the bottom. Really though," he continued, "you were the meanest bunch of kids I ever saw."

Coach Wright's vivacious personality and sense of humor was one of his outstanding characteristics which made him ever popular with the youngsters.

Week's Question Questioned Slatonites Unanimously Pick Shivers To Win Governor Race

Now that the gubernatorial race is drawing a little closer, people are beginning to give a little conversational time to the subject of who would make a good state leader. This being the case, we have chosen a question along this line as our topic this week. "Who do you think will be the next governor of Texas and Why?"

Every one of the persons questioned said they believe Allan Shivers will be re-elected; some seemed pleased, others not so pleased.

Postmaster Kirby Scudder said, "Oh, I think Shivers will win since he is already in and he hasn't completed a term yet. And as a matter of fact, I think he's about as good material as they have."

"Shivers is sure to win," says Alan Griffith. Jokingly he added, "And especially since W. Lee isn't giving him any of his special competition."

J. J. Maxey's explanation for Shivers' winning the race was, "Since he's in now, and since he's never been in office on his own, and since he seems to have the 'inside track,' I don't see any reason for his not winning without any trouble whatsoever."

Asked who he thought would take the governorship, Dave Sanders answered, "Oh, Shivers will be re-elected I guess." And a local citizen who was standing by said jokingly, "Why just a minute ago Dave told me that he intended to wait until W. Lee - O runs again before he worries, because he doesn't want to waste any votes." Sanders replied that the statement was a falsehood, and that he refused to be quoted.

Slaton's Frontier Day Celebration which has been in the local spotlight for the past month and a half proved itself to be one of the most successful community events which the town and surrounding area have ever witnessed. Some eight or ten thousand spectators were estimated as participating in the day's activities.

Awards of $50 each went to the two prize winning floats entered in the pioneer parade which, led by Reese Air Force Band, opened the celebration festivities. The plan called for one award to go to the winning Slaton float and the other award to the winning float entered by a neighboring town or community.

From Slaton, the Daughters of the Pioneer Study Club took the prize with their jeep float decorated as an old-fashioned lady dressed in a white ruffled hoop skirt dress and carrying a white ruffled parasol. Mrs. Robert Hall Davis rode in the float as the lady.

Winning from out-of-town was the float entered by Midway. Decorated in rugged frontier style, the float depicted the pioneer chuck wagon which was used to a great extent during those early days.

Winners of the beard contest were as follows: Elton Smith, best all-around beard; J. J. Maxey, neatest beard; J. Ed Martin, blackest beard; R. M. DeMoss, reddest beard; Henry Thorne, whitest beard; W. W. Watson, oddest beard; and Charles D. Yates, fullest beard.

T. L. Weaver won first place in the fiddlers' contest, and was awarded $15. Second place prize of $10 went to E. A. Gentry.

A matched roping contest held at 1:30 p. m. in the Slaton High School football stadium was won by Red Whatley of Crosbyton over Sam Baugh of Rotan. First place in the jackpot roping contest went to Jack Lowe of Plains, with second and third places going to Jimmy Byrd of Post and Whatley respectively.

Local merchants who remained open during the day or part of the day reported that business was exceptionally good and that many out-of-town people visited their stores.

Chief of Police Ernest Ward said that the day's activities moved along unusually well considering the large crowd, and that little corrective action was necessary during the day.

F. D. Youngs Have 2 Pioneer Floats

The float entered in the Frontier parade Saturday by Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Young represented the progress of this country—first the prairies and ranch land, followed by the farming.

Directly behind the Young float was a white and gold float entered in memory of Mr. Young's parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. D. Young, and Mrs. Young's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Andy Caldwell, all pioneers of this country. Mrs. Caldwell still resides here.

Mr. and Mrs. F. D. Young were represented on the float by their great grandchildren, Ronnie and Barbara White; and the Caldwell's were represented by their great grandson Cliff King and by their granddaughter, Carolyn Jo Rhoads. Mr. and Mrs. W. F. White assisted with the float.

Kay, Billy and Harley Castleberry are visiting their grandparents in Stephenville.

Strength Through Putty

Bouncing putty is even popping up on doctors' prescriptions these days. Putting the squeeze on a handful of this silicone product has been found to help in exercising the muscles of polio, arthritis, and broken-bone sufferers. In this capacity, bouncing putty is replacing the rubber ball in many hospitals and occupational therapy schools.

RED GOES WEST - One of many Communist youth taking refuge in West Berlin, afraid of Red reprisals if they return to their homes in Eastern Germany, appears to enjoy a taste of freedom after his sample life behind the Iron Curtain. Though still wearing the blue uniform shirt of the Communist Youth Organization, he has slipped off the insignia, and wears American tie and socks, gift of the U.S. Red Cross.

JUST TALK

by A.M.J.

the way, but he let the caravan get away while he was visiting friends. Postmaster Scudder had on one of the 1911 latest model hats, a shirt that had to be locked up at night in a dark closet by itself, his set of whiskers was styled after "Uncle Ezra" of the radio, and he looked like a picture out of the album.

We hesitate here for you to imagine just what you would do in such a case.

As he wandered around the streets of Brownfield folks took one glance and gave him a wide berth, the boys and girls gave him the horse laugh and the Postmaster soon felt like a culprit on whose trail the FBI were concentrating. There was no place to hide so he went into a men's furnishing store and bought himself another hat and shirt, boarded the bus, got in the back seat and cowered until he got home.

So, as Ray Ayers often says, "Let this be a lesson to you."

There are a lot of things that modern methods have improved upon, but there is one item of food that factory methods have certainly messed up and that is in making potato chips.

When I was young and had the appetite of what they say an Anaconda has, I used to get my mother to cook what they then called Saratoga chips. You could not buy potato chips in a little bag, eight or ten chips for a dime, but they were made at home by painstakingly slicing potatoes into very thin slices, putting the slices in real cold water for a while and then dropping them into boiling grease. That is what I called real eating. What you get now is something about the consistency of newspaper, soaked in rancid grease and they taste like something no one would eat intentionally.

As we have quite a lot of scrap newsprint I am considering buying some stale fuel oil and starting a potato chip factor, as a side line.

In thinking back over the potato chip problem I can also think of a lot of good things to eat that one never hears or sees these days. Mainly because it is too much trouble to cook. My mother cooked on a wood stove, the wood for which I had to split and bring into the house, and it took the stove at least thirty minutes to get hot enough to cook upon, that is if you could get a fire started in that length of time.

Does any one ever make corn meal hot cakes any more? My mother made the best ones I have ever seen, or was it that Anaconda appetite of mine that made them have such a wonderful flavor.

Did you ever see or hear of such a thing as apple fritters, a kind of flap jack with thin slices of apples in them. Man, they tasted fine a lot of years ago.

And then there were such things as real lye hominy that some folks in the country made by soaking corn in lye water until the husk came off. Some folks said that it was dangerous to eat but if it ever did me any damage I did not know it. The stuff you get in a can that is called hominy now, tastes as much like that old time hominy as the jelly that comes out of a store tastes like real jelly.

And did you ever taste melon rind preserves? But why go on—If you are not old enough to remember real jelly made from the fruit and not diluted with some kind of chemical, old time lye hominy, and such things, then you never will know how good these things were, and if you are old enough you can have something to think about and cherish until you no longer will need even the stuff they feed you now, that is called food.

And while I am thinking about how things used to be I cannot help but compare the way folks dress these days and when I was what I thought a "Dude." We wore high stiff collars the year around, a young man never thought of going out without a tie and in straw hats then were only sailors, no flop eared ones like they wear now.

The well dressed young man had a crease in his trousers that were no such things as leather jackets and sport coats. He might not have been flashy, but he was neat, something that you cannot say for most of the young men today.

While women's clothes have changed a lot and the lengths of their dresses run up and down like a window shade, they still keep trim although they are gradually stripping down to where about all they will have on in the summer time are something like a hula hula skirt.

While I must admit that styles have changed, but so far as I can see they are not any better looking, in fact most men dress sloppier than they ever did, the women take as much pride in their appearance as ever but their styles are no better than they ever were.

Things may change, but its no sure sign that they are always better.

A recent issue of the Magazine Digest has a story about a man who publishes what he calls a semi-monthly newspaper. This is a very peculiar newspaper. The name of it is the Rat Trap Review and it is published in a little desert town on the Mohave Desert. It has a wide circulation although it seldom comes out at the time it is supposed to be issued. The editor, a former scenario writer in Hollywood, states that he prints it when ever he feels like it. Sometimes it comes out once a week then it may go for a month or two without appearing.

The publisher and one Mexican boy do the mechanical work and the publication is full of errors, some of them accidental, others put in on purpose, to give the old fuddie duddies something to work on, says the editor.

Fort Macon, on Beaufort Inlet, four miles from Morehead City, N. C., is considered to be the finest example of 19th century military architecture in America.

Its Fun If You Know How To Enjoy Life

People who live in small or medium size towns and who have never lived in large cities, and those who have always lived in large cities, have little idea as to how others live. The man in the big city thinks everyone in the smaller towns are hicks who do little but sit around and whittle while the small town folks think that all the big town men do is high pressure each other into buying something or other.

Of course both the small town folks and the city dudes are both wrong and it takes most of a lifetime for most people to realize that there are advantages in both ways of life.

Young men and women who grow up in a small town are usually anxious to get into the big cities as soon as they are able to support themselves, but few people wish to come to the small town from the larger cities and that is where a good many of them make mistakes.

For a young person seeking adventure and excitement the big city seems the very place to go but unless the individual has unusual talents that are saleable they soon find the big city the most desolate place on earth while the person coming from the big cities to small town finds it difficult to adjust himself to the personal intimacies of the small town.

It is nice to know that your next door neighbor in the small town is really interested in your welfare and it is also nice to know that the man or woman in the city apartment next door is not such a busy body that they will interpret many things you do in the wrong light.

The folks in the small towns should know the folks better who live in the bigger towns and visa versa.

Which Kind Are You?

There are two kinds of folks, those who are for things and those who are against, and there is a great deal of benefit done by both classes.

It makes little difference what is started in a town there are some people who will complain because all of these activities bring on expense, trouble and a risk of not benefitted each and every one directly. Those who object to such things all have good reasons and even when such things are successful there are those who say "so what."

Fortunately there are a lot of folks who do consider cooperative activities in a town being worth while, they will tell you that such efforts place most of the citizens of a town, the size of Slaton, and larger, in closer touch with each other, it gives these folks an opportunity to find out that there are some mighty fine folks in the community and the pleasure of working together to make such things a success is more fun than it is work.

To take part in a whisker growing contest, to dress up in out of date clothes and to meet and be met by other folks of the town with a smile and some good natured ribbing is worth while. Such enthusiastic endeavor is valuable in many ways whether it means direct benefit to any one individual or not.

Slaton needs more of this kind of opportunity for the citizens of the town to work together. The youth's center has proven very valuable, the Lions Club ball park could be made even more valuable than it is, there are many, many other activities that could be undertaken.

Who Gets The Benefits?

There are many things that could be desired about Social Security. This form of forced savings for every one in the United States except the men who have self reliance enough to want to do something for themselves, will likely be messed up worse than it is now as soon as the Congress gets around to get things more tangled than ever.

While Social Security was not designed to encourage more and more people to depend on Uncle for every thing and to do most of their thinking, the Government is taking over all the duties of the family except the increase in population.

There is less and less incentive for the man of small means to go into business for himself, especially after he has worked for someone else for six or eight years. If he quits and tries his own wings all of the social money that the Government has taken away from him is gradually taken away until after a few years he has no Security at all. The man or woman from whose earnings the money is taken may never reach the age at which Social Security starts and when he or she does, it amounts to so little and his, or her, wants are so few that it means little to the average person.

Money in itself will not guarantee that a person over 65 years of age will be taken care of and an able bodied person who has worked to that age seldom wants to quit and take the benefits. Some means should be provided to take care of elderly people not able to do so themselves, even if each such person were given a thousand dollars per week the money would not buy the friendship or companionship that older people need.

Folks Are Coming This Way

Census reports from all over the state show that Texas is increasing in population while Central and East Texas are gradually losing a lot of their citizens.

How long this tendency will continue is anybody's guess, but it is likely that people will be moving into this part of the country until our land is worn out from erosion or until it is worn out by the repeat crops of cotton and grain year after year.

Slaton will need to plan for future growth if the town is to attract more citizens that are worth while. It is very tempting for the operators of a city owned public utility to divert revenue from the money collected to uses other than the expansion and upkeep of the service.

The longer the development of sewage facilities, lines and drainage is postponed the greater becomes the cost of doing the work. Just what the situation is in Slaton is very well known. The locating of water mains is a haphazard undertaking and no one knows where the smaller lines run. The sewage system is taxed now and if the town grows the system will prove inadequate. Money spent now to modernize the town and keep it that way will pay big dividends in the future.

A town cannot be run without spending money and the people who receive the conveniences that a good town provides should be glad to pay for them. If your home gets flooded, if the sewer pressure gets low or if the sewer line gets overloaded we should be to blame.

Memory is the only thing that keeps mothers from themselves gray. The way my daughter comes home with her coat unbuttoned and no mittens or overalls positively she was headed straight for pneumonia—have a memory. But I was a little farm girl whose mother on her wearing long-legged underwear, the kind that makes horrible bumps on the legs. Each morning I stopped at the home of one of my mother's friends and rolled those hated long legs securely above my knees. It's better to have rheumatism when you're old than to have lumps on your legs when you're young. Especially when the town girls don't have them. I often think of my mother's friend and say, "Bless her understanding heart." —Mrs. Laura M. Klienfelder, Times, Adams, Wisconsin.

Many a woman has paced the sidewalks in front of her apartment until three o'clock in the morning waiting for her daughter to come home and let her in.—"Weiser Wise Crax," American, Weiser, Idaho.

Scientists have discovered that the most powerful health-building vitamin known, B-12, is found in milk. To live long, start drinking lots of it now B-4 it is 2-LB.—Sol H. Lewis, Tribune, Lynden, Washington.

Alimony is a poor substitute on a cold night.—Ben J. Sallows, "Peep Sights," Herald, Fort Morgan, Colorado.

Give me the man of eighty, who is planning to put a dam on his place and stock it with fish, so in a few years he won't have to go so far to fish. That kind of a man will catch fish.—Mrs. Claude O. Kelley, "Out with the Hill Billies," Herald, Oberlin, Kansas.

Ever may have been an unsatisfactory spouse in many ways, but she never cited to Adam the names of the men she could have married if she'd just wanted to.—Dewey Akers, "That's Right," Harbor Pilot, Brookings, Oregon.

A party of scientists found the skull of a woman twenty thousand years old. But the more gallant members of the group quickly declared she certainly didn't look it.—The Pendulum, East Greenwich, Rhode Island.

About the only thing shocking about beauty contests anymore is the ideas of some of the judges.—Budget News, Revere, Massachusetts.

Spectacle Lenses

More than 100 different kinds of ophthalmic glass are used in making the lenses of spectacles. Each has a different job to do in correcting eyesight.

Poultry Disease

The following three-point program—designed to reduce losses from coccidiosis as well as other costly poultry diseases—is recommended to broiler producers by poultry disease authorities. (1) Keep the brooder house well ventilated but free of drafts, and guard against overheating. (2) Avoid crowding birds. (3) Use deep, dry litter and provide wire platforms under waterers. Dryness retards the development of coccidiosis organisms.

First Graders

One out of four children repeats the first grade, usually because he is slow in learning to read. Dr. Emmett A. Betts, Temple university, has found that 50 to 70 per cent of the retarded readers have visual problems.

International Refugee Organization (IRO) disclosed that she was the 150,000th displaced person to be admitted to the USA under its DP law. Her mother and father, leaving an IRO camp with Dace for their new home, stand with her in front of the sign. At right, Dace is shown aboard an IRO-chartered ship just after she first saw the towering buildings of New York. Large numbers of refugees from European lands have also received new homes in Israel, Australia, the United Kingdom, Canada, France, Argentina and Brazil.

Slaton Women Give Their Favorite Tested Recipes

Mrs. H. M. (Bud) Englund gave us this week's recipe for good old fashioned Chocolate Brownies. If you've had trouble making your brownies turn out right, Glenna suggests this recipe as it is so simple that they turn out good every time.

Ingredients for her recipe call for:

- 4 eggs
- 2 cups sugar
- 1 cup melted butter or oleo
- 1 cup flour
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 2 teaspoons vanilla
- 4 tablespoons cocoa
- 1 cup nuts

Beat eggs slightly and add sugar and melted butter and mix. Sift flour, salt and cocoa and add egg mixture. Add vanilla and nuts.

Pour batter (about 1/2 or 3/4 inch thick) into long, flat greased pan. Bake for about twenty-five or thirty-five minutes in oven set at 300 or 325 degrees. Remove from oven and allow to cool before slicing into squares.

Mrs. Englund said that the recipe is one of her mother's (Mrs. Webber Williams) which she found in one of her cook books written in long hand. "Mother can't even remember herself where the recipe came from," Glenna explained, "but we make the brownies two or three times a week because they are not only good, but also so easy to mix up."

Bud and Glenna are one of the most active and outstanding young couples in town, as well as one of the most popular. And the other important member of the Englund family is thirteen-month-old "Darwin Williams Englund" — better known as Dubbin.

Mr. Englund, in conjunction with Mrs. Williams, operates the Williams Funeral Home.

Trying a Twig to Save a Tooth

School children in an Indian village learn how to brush their teeth with twigs and charcoal powder. Their teachers are public health specialists attached to a malaria control team sent to India under a joint program of the United Nations International Children's Emergency Fund (UNICEF) and the World Health Organization. Members of the team use spare time to show children in villages getting malaria protection how to protect teeth with materials at hand.

THESE WOMEN!

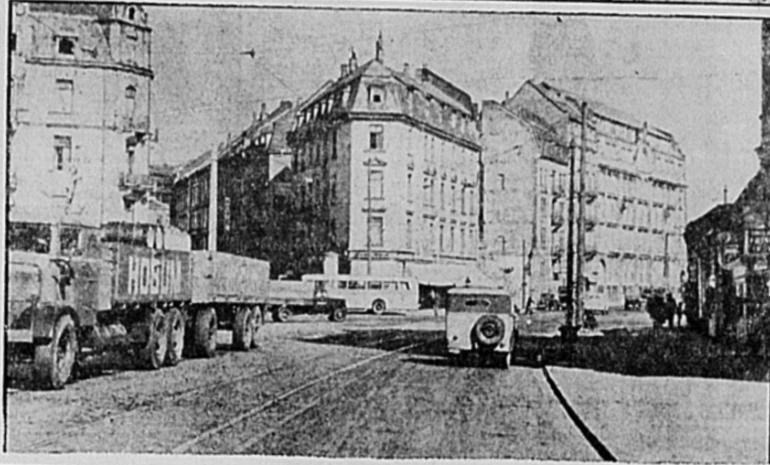

By d'Alessio

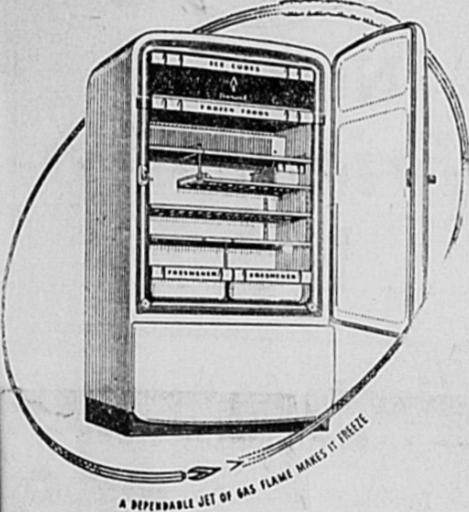

"You'll meet a tall, dark, handsome man who is extremely wealthy, but forget about him—you won't have a chance!"

D-DAY PLUS SIX YEARS

Six years have passed since American troops stormed the Normandy beaches. The successive campaigns through France, Belgium, Holland and Germany will long be remembered, but time already has erased many of the scars of war. The wartime picture, at right, of Fifth Army infantrymen advancing cautiously through the rubble-littered streets of Frankfurt, Germany, contrasts strongly with the picture below, which shows the same scene today. The peaceful atmosphere in which civilians move quietly about their business is a far cry from the constant rumbling of artillery six years ago. And the clean streets and patched-up buildings bear few traces of the wreckage of the world's costliest war.

Compare both types

- Only the GAS Refrigerator STAYS SILENT-LASTS LONGER
- Only Servel HAS NO MOVING PARTS
- Only Servel HAS A TEN-YEAR GUARANTEE

Don't choose any refrigerator until you compare both types! Ask "How long will it last?" "Will it grow noisy?" Then, you'll choose Servel—the Gas Refrigerator. For only Servel has no moving parts in its Jet Freeze system. And no moving parts means no wearing parts. That's why Servel stays silent—lasts longer. You'll like Servel's new Long-Life Design and its new Quick-Change Interior. Come in and see how much more you get with a Servel Gas Refrigerator.

Lubbock Legion Defeats Slaton Tuesday, 22-7

Lubbock's Allen Brothers Post Junior Legionnaires whaloped Slaton's Juniors, 22-7, here last Tuesday afternoon in a district game played at Lions Park. For Lubbock it was the second victory in three starts. Slaton lost its initial outing to Levelland. Webb, Lubbock hurler, pitched a neat game, allowing only eight well-scattered hits. He was handicapped by six errors by the Lubbock defense. Lewis went the route for Slaton but was touched for 19 hits. He fanned 10 but walked 13. Slaton's hitting was spaced as evenly as eight hits can be scattered. No player collected more than one safe blow. All but right fielder Thompson hit safely, but he scored a run. Slaton runs came in the third, sixth, and seventh innings. Starting line-up for the local team were Reynolds, second base; Hitt, first base; Lemon, center field; Biggs, catcher; Maeker, third base; Lewis, pitcher; Sasser, short stop; Thompson, right field, and J. Reynolds, left field. Next home game for the Slaton Juniors will be this afternoon at 4:00 p. m. against Brownfield. On Monday they journey to O'Donnell for an afternoon game.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Smart had as their guest over the week end Miss Elizabeth Lanham of Austin, formerly of Slaton. Miss Lanham, a Slaton High School graduate, is now an instructor in Austin at the University of Texas.

Miss Fannie Castleberry is visiting in Albuquerque with her sister, Mrs. W. A. Marr, and family.

THIS And THAT —FROM— HERE And THERE

WILL POLIO STRIKE?—The people of Deaf Smith County, in common with others throughout the nation, are hoping that the current year will not produce a repetition of the 1949 poliomyelitis epidemic which was the worst in the country's history, striking 42,375 persons. If the disease continues its attacks, we can be comforted by the information reported by the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

This organization admits that "no practical means of control" can be promised within a given number of years but reports "promising leads" to discoveries that may make possible control of the feared disease. Drugs, serums and vaccines against polio are at least "within the realm of possibility." Already definite progress has been made in isolation and identifying the types of virus or poison that cause infantile paralysis.

Another interesting item in the annual report of the organization, issued late in May, is that eighty per cent of the 1949 victims were assisted by the 2,822 chapters scattered throughout the United States. No person who came to the organization for help was turned away, although 1,089 chapters went broke "meeting" the demands of the epidemic. All told, the chapters spent about $16,000,000 of their own funds and, in addition, about $11,000,000 in emergency assistance from the Foundation itself. — The Hereford Sunday Brand.

IT SEZ HERE.—When a wife goes on her husband's vacation, some startling discoveries are made. To begin with, friend husband has developed neuroses and ulcers listening to the wife's un-subtle comment about having nothing to wear and wondering why he isn't like other husbands who are glad to put clothes on their wives' back. But comes the day when wifey goes on a vacation. Hubby and most of the neighbors are summoned in to help with the packing. Clothes the boy hasn't seen in weeks, months and years come to light. Clothes he never saw at all are dragged out. Garments are stacked about the house in piles labeled for use in: early spring, late spring, early summer, late summer, early fall, Indian summer, late summer, early fall, rainy weather, sunny weather, cool weather, vacation, business, social, meeting relatives, impressing friends and slumming. Three camel loads of clothes are taken to storage. One pile of dresses contains those the wife wore when a friend remarked "my, don't you look stunning in that outfit," which, freely translated, means, "I recall seeing you in that suit before." These dresses, obviously unsuited to wear again because they have already been seen in public once, are filed away to be worn east or west of the Mississippi, in equatorial Africa or on a walking tour through rural America. If it weren't for the dresses American women have been seen in once, the Salvation Army wouldn't have a decent rag to hang on the back of a broken-down countess from the continent. But after this final screening, the wife surveys mountains of 100 per cent wool and nylon and waves us over to where 14 steamer trunks of clothes adaptable to the climate of southwest Georgia awaits transportation to the station. That wasn't Ringling Bros. circus leaving Fort Worth Sunday—only the editor's wife, who never has a thing to wear! —The Ralls Banner.

TRENDS.—The South in general and Texas in particular "took it on the chin" in two rulings made by the United States Supreme Court Monday. Hitting Texas the hardest was the ruling that the Federal government had the paramount interest in the rich tidelands oil area. Income from this oil land has been going to the public school funds of Texas.

Taking greater public interest, however, were the rulings that a Houston negro must be admitted to the University of Houston law school, and that railroads can no longer segregate negroes in their dining cars in the south.

Although staying clear of a general ruling, there is no question that any negro can attend any public school in the south provided he wants to badly enough to carry the case through the courts. This ruling is a forerunner of one that is bound to come soon, saying that negroes may attend the south's elementary and high schools. It is also a forerunner of many "incidents" which, instead of improving the relationship between the negroes and white people, will put the emphasis on race hatred. With the negroes improving their lot generally in the past few years, it is regrettable that such a ruling had to be made at the present time. Such incidents as the bombing of negro homes in Dallas last week are likely to be repeated multiplied hundreds of times.

Having ruled one way for nearly a hundred years, the Supreme Court has reversed itself, showing that even these great judges can also be wrong. — The Crosbyton Review.

TALL TAIL TEST—Fifty feet above the floor of a hangar at Ames Aeronautical Laboratory, Moffett Field, Calif., technicians install pressure measuring equipment in the towering tail of the Navy's Lockheed Constitution transport plane. Research flights will provide valuable data on tail loads during flight of very large aircraft. The Constitution, with a wingspan of 189 feet, will have a maximum weight of approximately 80 tons during the tests.

Superstitions about Vision
Stones have been used as talismans to restore good vision—sometimes ordinary stones and sometimes rarer ones such as amber. Water also has been hailed in bygone days of unenlightenment, not merely as a necessary cleansing agent but as an "infallible cure for sore and weak eyes." In parts of England, for example, it was believed that rain water collected in July was such a cure, while in other parts the water had to be collected on religious holidays. Another remedy consisted of bathing the eyes with water taken from the hollow of a teazel leaf.

Rabbit Fever
If rabbits become scarce in an area where they always were plentiful, watch out for tularemia, a veterinary medical bulletin warns. Hunters are told that tularemia, or rabbit fever, may kill large numbers of rabbits in a short time. Because the disease also infects human beings, handlers are urged to protect themselves by wearing rubber gloves while skinning and cleaning the animals.

Safest Age
An insurance company says from studies it has made over a period of years, the safest year of life for residents of the United States is—age 11.
