SCHOOL BOND ELECTION CALLED FOR SATURDAY, JULY 15th

Slaton To Be Location For July 20 Meeting Of Dist. Rotary Assembly

A District Rotary Club Assembly for the 183 districts of the organization will be held in Slaton on Thursday, July 20 with Secretary Lloyd A. Wicks, Sr., District Rotary Governor, conducting activities throughout the day.

Some 37 Rotary Clubs in this particular area are members of the 183 district. The assembly will be attended by all the Slaton members and by representatives from each of the member clubs, presidents, secretaries and committee members.

Primary purpose of the assembly will be to line-up and plan Rotary activities for the coming year. Committee meeting will be discussed and organized.

O. Z. Ball, newly installed president of the local club, has recently returned from an International Rotary meeting in Detroit, Michigan where practically the whole world was represented. During the three-day meeting, June 18th through June 22nd, many new ideas were presented and evaluated.

A great deal was accomplished in the District Meeting," Ball explained. "I plan to present some of these ideas before our club with the hope that they will fit into the Slaton Rotary program."

New officers of the Slaton Club for the following year are O. Z. Ball, president; Howard Hoffman, vice-president; and P. G. Meading, secretary-treasurer. Retiring officers are J. M. Roddy, president; Z. Ball, vice-president, and J. Maxey, secretary-treasurer. Directors for the 1950-51 Rotary year are Hollingsworth and Tip Meading, newly elected, and Ed Meading, Howard Swanner and J. M. Roddy.

George Gabel Has Major Operation

Week's Question

Local Opinions Result In Connection With $105,000 School Bond Election

A special election will be held on Monday, July 15, to determine whether or not a $105,000 bond should be passed to improve the Slaton school system, to build a gymnasium and additional classrooms in order to take care of the growing student populace. As our question this week, we have asked: "Do you favor the school bond?"

"I am 100 per cent for it," replied Equire Peavy emphatically. "It is a matter of fact," he continued, "I have been fighting for a gym for a hundred years myself and as for the additional classrooms—that is something we will have to have in order to accommodate our young people properly."

Norman Spears, another voter answered, "Definitely a good thing. We're desperate for a new gymnasium, that will seat the local people and-of-town fans too. It's my hope that more people would like the games if we had a nicer, more comfortable place for them."

O. F. Kitten, a Slaton district voter, says, "I don't believe that Slaton needs adequate facilities, so naturally I would be for such a move. It would lead to improvement, in a connection with another school where Slaton falls short. Having too few school buses, they should add more in order to give better service to the students out of the district."

"I think it is somewhat almost have to keep up with the times, increase in taxes, etc.," says Tip Ken-

Even U. S. Mail Fluctuates With Business Cycle

Often in economic discussions will be heard the statement that when one business "falls off," they all do. A very concrete example of the fact was brought before the Slatonite this week when Postmaster Kirby Scudder showed how even postal receipts, or so-called "postal receipts," fluctuate with other businesses and also follow in the same cycles.

Postal receipts, according to the Slaton postmaster, are based primarily on stamp sales and on such small income items as box rent.

The past ten years has watched American business make a steady climb, with postal receipts sharing in the economic rise. During the first six months of 1940, Slaton postal receipts totaled $6,662.40; while over the same period of time in 1950 the receipts totaled $12,760.51, an increase of $6,098.11.

In accounting for this growth, Scudder explained that it was a combination of better business and population increase; but mainly better business, since the economic standard has risen far more than the "nose count."

The new postal rate would affect the year's total by about 2½ per cent, but this would not be greatly effective until December when the Christmas cards are mailed, the local postal official pointed out.

Slaton's best postal year was recorded in 1945, at the peak of the war with the first six months recording a $13,537.71 total, only $537.84 over the first half of 1950. However, it will not be nearly so close in comparing the second half of the two years as the Christmas war mail must be considered during 1949.

Mr. and Mrs. Sug Robertson and little daughters, Susannah and Ruth, have returned from a two-weeks vacation in Colorado.

SUSPECT BEING HELD IN THEFT CONNECTION

A Negro boy is being held in the Slaton jail this morning for suspected robbery.

A radio was taken from the Milton Granville residence on Oklahoma street. Mr. Granville is out of town.

Entrance was gained through a window which was broken by the robber. The radio was taken by the suspect to another boy in the Davis Hotel, where it was recovered by the police.

Mrs. G. H. Sargent and Mrs. J. D. Sargent accompanied friends from Colorado City to visit several days in Ruidoso.

Miss Cora Sealey left Saturday for a two-weeks vacation in Albuquerque, N. M., where she will visit with a sister and friends.

Boy Scout Conference Concluded; Memorable Programs Observed

The Boy Scout conference at Valley Forge, Pennsylvania, was so large and impressive that it was almost unbelievable according to Mr. L. B. Hagerman who attended the meeting, taking with him Melvin Gattis, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Gattis. Mr. Hagerman and Melvin returned from the trip Monday evening, July 10.

One of the most thrilling sights of the camp to Mr. Hagerman was the large number of boys and men who were assembled together in

Election Getting Little Interest

While some mild interest is being shown locally, in County and State Democratic candidates there is none of the fervor that has been shown at this stage in elections in previous years.

Most of the enthusiasm and interest in past elections has been caused by competition in County and District offices, but many of the offices have only one candidate each this time, with the exception of the offices for State Representative, 119th district, with Forrest Weinhold of Levelland, newspaper publisher, and Waggoner Carr, present Lubbock County Attorney in competition, and C. L. Harris and Travis Shelton of Lubbock wanting to be District Attorney, 72nd Judicial District.

Local color and interest is being whipped up by Charley Yates, present Constable, and E. A. Gentry who would like to have the place. The cotton weavers job is the one that will likely get the spotlight with four men wanting the place. They are David (Bob) Burnett, C. A. Wells, E. T. Caldwell, and Jack Cooper. Hugo W. Mosser announced as a candidate early in the year but dropped out when he failed to get his name on the printed ballot because of an oversight.

The election will be held Saturday, July 22nd, with all of the local boxes at the City Hall. It is probable that most people will not go to the trouble of voting although many of them have their poll taxes paid and will be entitled to vote.

Contract Let For New Street Paving

Mr. J. J. Maxey, city secretary, announces a paving program for Slaton.

Four blocks on S. 18th street are being paved, one block on 17th between Division and Lubbock streets, and one block between Division and Lubbock on 16th street.

The contract was let to Kerr and Middleton of Lubbock. According to Mr. Maxey, the project should be completed in about two weeks.

Mrs. W. T. Driver, who has been ill in the hospital in Austin has returned home and is in much better health.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Rackler and daughter, Patricia, have returned from a four day visit with Mr. Rackler's sister, Mrs. Fred Knapp and family of Marlow, Oklahoma.

Slaton Students In Need Of More School Buildings

Qualified voters who live in the Slaton Independent School District should, by all means, go to the polls and vote on the proposed School Bond that comes up for consideration tomorrow Saturday, July 15th.

The election was called and recommended by the Slaton Independent School district and if the 105,000 in bonds is all authorized, work will start as soon as possible on the construction of a Gymnasium on the High School Grounds and six new class rooms for High School Students.

Superintendent Vardy and the members of the Slaton Independent School District feel sure, due to the increased population of Slaton, that more students must be accommodated next year than were cared for last year and unless some unforeseen recession comes that Slaton Schools will have to take care of more and more students in the future.

"We need more school accommodations badly," said Superintendent Vardy, "and the longer construction is postponed the higher prices seem to get and the more difficulties we run into in giving students proper attention. The bonds must assuredly be voted."

"One thing that should be called to the attention of the voters is the fact that there would be no additional taxes added, as the present tax rate and collections would take care of the additional bonds," said the Superintendent.

Should the bonds be authorized the present plans call for a gymnasium of brick, tile and steel semi-fire proof construction, 50 x 90 feet with hardwood floors. The permanent type bleachers will seat 800 people. It would be of the very latest type construction.

Should the class rooms be constructed according to the suggested plans, there would be six additional classrooms built which will probably be in a separate structure from any other building. The general type of construction would be the same as the new elementary building recently completed. In addition to the classrooms there would be restrooms, a heater room, a library, a bookroom and an office. This building would be 57 by 110. The exact location has not been selected. It would be constructed so that an addition can be made in the event of oil development or future growth demands it.

This last year which was the first complete year that the new building was used, there were three elementary classrooms in the High School building.

Mosser Out Of Race For Cotton Weigher

Hugo W. Mosser, who, early in the year, made his announcement as a candidate for Cotton Weigher for Precinct 2 of Lubbock County, reported that he has withdrawn his name from the list, due to the fact that his name was omitted from the names that will appear on the Democratic ballot when the election is held next week.

"It was my intention to run for the office," said Mr. Mosser, "but when I applied to the Lubbock County Democratic Committee to place my name upon the list the application blanks were not available and I was told that I would be notified when they became available. Through an oversight on my part I did not find until too late that my application should have been made by a certain date. I regret very much that I did not get my name on the ballot, however, it is probable that I will make the race when another election is held."

Mr. and Mrs. S. S. Brasfield and two children, of Austin, visited Mr. Brasfield's parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Brasfield, last week.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Henry and daughter, Cheryl Kay of Austin, are visiting their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Luther Faulkner and Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Henry.

Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Hickman and daughter, Patsy, left Saturday for Forest Grove, Oregon, to visit their daughter Mr. and Mrs. Jack Nesbit. They plan to go on to Canada from Oregon.

Leasing of land for oil in Floyd county continues sporadically as different oil companies and individuals become interested in the possibilities of development, one such transaction being recorded for land adjacent to Floydada last week-end. Three of the quite few tracts not now under contract were taken. The lease price was said to be $25 per acre with a dollar rental. But the most activity has been around Cedar Hill where buying of royalties got under way two months ago. A portion of the royalty on a spread of approximately eight sections of land has been sold at figures ranging from $25 per acre to $60. Most of the royalty has been sold on a 15 or 20 year, non-participating basis, and prices most commonly paid were $40 to $50 per acre.

 An election for the issuance of hospital bonds in the amount of $175,000 has been called by the commissioners court for July 22 here. Taxpayers property owners who have rendered their property for taxation will be eligible to vote. Bonds shall not bear interest at a rate exceeding three per cent yearly. They will mature serially within a given number of years not to exceed 20. The election question will be listed on the ballot as for or against: "the issuance of hospital bonds and the levy of taxes in payment thereof."

 Colorado City's water shortage continues to be serious city officials informed the Record Thursday. However, there is some prospect that the curtailment of water supplied city consumers will be eased somewhat, soon with the contractors making available for use some of the filtration facilities which have already been completed. The use of the new facilities at the filtration plant will enable the city to obtain some of its water requirements from Lake Colorado City.

 Harvest began last Monday on an estimated 3,000 acres of potatoes in the Hereford area, with yields which have been reported to range from 100 sacks an acre to 225 sacks. Hereford Potato Growers report about 12 cars have been shipped out this week to various points throughout the United States. Henry Benson said he would guess the average yield of the crops they have been working to be in the neighborhood of 165 to 175 sacks per acre. He said, however, the average doesn't necessarily hold true for the entire 1950 crop.

 Lamb county's 1950 population is 19,953, according to preliminary figures released Wednesday by L. D. Whiteley of Lubbock, district census supervisor. The county total was disappointing to many since the count was at least 2,000 below the figure that had been generally predicted. The census, however, showed a gain of 2,247 over the 1940 population of 17,606. The 19,953 figure may be increased by the time the official population is released by the Bureau of the Census in Washington next Autumn.

—County Wide News
 A heavy registration of $62,950 worth of building permits in the city of Morton during the first 26 days of June left the city a total of more than $145,000 in construction on business enterprises and private homes in the last six months. Big factors in the boom during the past month have been a $15,000 frame and brick home and a $12,000 building. In addition to those already listed in City Hall, several contracts for homes, businesses and lot improvements have already been estimated but are not yet registered.

—Morton Tribune
 All in all, the oil business of the Brownfield area is looking decidedly on the optimistic side for the past few weeks, and especially the past week. Many think that in the next year or two oil in various sections of Terry and east Yoakum will really be going places. This, they say, would happen sooner, but most leases are held by majors, and they never get in any hurry about developing new fields.

—Terry County Herald
 Several city streets in both Wink and Kermit will be hard-surfaced this summer by the county. A bid was let Monday to Ned B. Hoffman of Fort Worth for $49,281 for asphalt surfacing alone. Grading and base work will be done with county equipment and labor.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

There it Was— Right in The Middle!
 Easy Roberts mowed his lawn early last Saturday. Then he sat on the porch, and watched Handy Peterson cutting his grass. The Roberts' property and the Peterson's border each other— with no hedge or fence between them. So, when Easy notices Handy had left about a four-foot strip unmowed along the boundary, he walks over and asks why. "That's your land," says Handy. "Mine ends here. See, it lines up with that oak tree across the road!" Easy didn't think so, so they went up and down looking for the surveyor's marker. Where did they find it? Right in the middle of their "no man's land!" Well, they both grin and take turns finishing the job and then retreat to Easy's for a friendly glass of beer together. From where I sit, a little searching around for the truth of the matter often shows that the other fellow is as much right as you are—at which point the whole thing doesn't seem as important anyway.

Folks Are Fortunate Here . . .

People who live in Slaton and on the South Plains do not realize how fortunate they are nor how prosperous this part of the country is.

Many who visit here from the crowded cities of Dallas, Fort Worth and from the big towns in the far west and in the east report many conditions that are, to say the least, not good.

Lloyd Moyer, former minister at the Church of Christ in Slaton was a visitor in town last week. His home is now located in a township just out of Oakland, California, and he said that it is hard to realize the difference in conditions, and in the people that there is in California and the South Plains.

"It would be impossible, so far as I know," said Mr. Moyer, "to find an admitted communist in all of West Texas, but in the community where I live there are a good many people who make no secret of the fact that they believe in communism. There are people of most every nationality in the world, many of them do not even realize nor appreciate the privileges the people in this nation have. It seems like coming from a stagnant sewer into the clean air to come from associations with people like some of the people in California are, and to come into places like we have in West Texas.

There are of course many things in West Texas, the South Plains and in Slaton that could be improved upon, but at least our patriotism, our faith in humanity and in the future is still firm, and people of other parts of the nation come here and seem greatly surprised that, in places that they have always considered out in the sticks, are people who are still innocent enough to feel there is a future.

Most all visitors speak as if surprised and pleased that this part of the country is so different, the people so friendly and every one glad to help and work with people from everywhere.

We Are At War Says Slaton Men . . .

Most everyone will agree that the nations of the world are on the brink of war if not actually in the beginning of another world wide conflict, but few of us agree as to what the economic affect is going to be.

As in the beginning of the last war some of the more impetuous young men, enlisting either in the reserves or are ready to direct into the armed forces; it is said that practically the entire reserve stock of automobile tires have been bought up and that there has been a heavy run on womens nylon stockings. To date no great activity in sugar and food stuffs have been reported.

What some folks consider a bomb shelter for atomic bombs, have been constructed, few if any have any idea as to what could be done for self protection against atomic warfare and most business firms are curtailing their buying instead of buying more.

Salesmen for wholesale houses report that runs are being made on certain kinds of merchandise and that there is a shortage of many items, particularly those that have never gotten very plentiful since the last war. It would seem that items made of metal would be the greatest in demand but this does not seem to be true. Many things that were not particularly scarce during the last war are being bought and the general public, while not panicky, is getting jumpy.

Some folks seem to feel secure because they believe this war will be won or lost in the air and that our air force will be able to carry the war to the enemy without the aid of navy or the need of convoys.

While Russia has no navy to speak of, it is claimed they have thousands of submarines of very new type that the United States has no defense against.

Some war experts claim that the Russian submarines could possibly cause the United States, and what allies we may be able to hold to lose a war, others hold the opinion that transport planes and planes based at convenient places would not be needed and that both fighter and transport planes could cover what is needed to war zones in distant parts quicker, safer and at no added expense.

One Slaton business man in discussing the present situation said that he does not see how either Russia or the United States could possibly back down. He believes that the people in Russia have been fed propaganda that has welded them into a bloc and that all communist people are being imposed upon and the United States is the aggressor. According to his reasoning the United States has refrained from endeavoring to stop the Russians and that all the world is in a precarious condition. It would take a miracle to head off another war, said this business man.

Life's Safer In Slaton . . .

The big cities may boast of their immense buildings, amusements, parks and zoos, they may call attention with pride, to the ever spreading additions to their cities, but few of them call attention to the crime records, to the gambling halls and to the many dives where prostitutes and criminals hang out.

Look at their newspapers, listen to the radios and talk to people who live in big cities and you will wonder why anyone would want to live where so much danger lies.

True, many of these things are exaggerated, but, even the most enthusiastic big city dweller will admit that he, or she, is constantly in danger of being gyped. Few of them leave without wondering whether their belongings will be in there when they return. It is dangerous for a woman to walk across a street after dark and there are about as many hoodlums as there were in Shakespeare's time.

When one considers these facts and then examines the crime record in Slaton it is not too difficult to see that there are some advantages in living in a community where one goes to sleep at night and not have too many fears about the safety of your property, there are no immense buildings to mar the view of a glorious sun set and the stench from some glue factory or chemical works does not foul up the air around Slaton.

You can live in comfort, have practically everything you want, see a lot of old time pleasures to be had here that have long been forgotten where too many bright lights glow.

Angs Are Hunkadory In Slaton . . .

The economic condition of the Slaton area is most interesting if bank deposits and loans are any indications of prosperity. At present there is over a million dollars more on deposit in banks than there was one year ago while there is one million less in loans. While this condition may be due to a lot of the folks who have enough money to finance their business and it is probably not as pleasing to the men who are banking business and unless war comes it is barely possible that the bank may be hunting folks to do some borrowing. It is said that the only time a bank wants to lend is when no one needs it.

Up to date prospects for a cotton crop are better than last year and last year was a banner year. The allowance was cut, but a good many farmers say that if conditions continue as favorable for the remainder of the season as they have to date that the reduced acreage will likely produce almost as much cotton as was produced last season.

The grain crop is also equally as good as last year and could produce as much or more than last year. With world conditions as they now appear the price of all commodities will likely be high and if the crops can be gathered there will be better financial conditions in this area than ever before, that is of course, if some hard luck does not come to the farmers.

While stocks in Slaton stores are adequate at present it is most likely that shortages will appear before the fall season arrives and about all the investors will have to put their money into will be Savings Bonds or oil leases.

QUOTES . . .

How should we think about the hydrogen bomb? Well, how would we think of a rat who designed a rat-proof trap capable of killing all rats in the most painful way? Or a mallard who designed a guaranteed no-miss pump gun? Or a brook trout who somehow contrived a fly capable of hooking all brook trout? —Frederick J. Lipp, "Viewpoints by Lipp," Exponent, Oak Harbor, Ohio.

I read where a scientist has predicted that by the end of this century the average work-week will be twenty-four hours. I mentioned this to some of my neighbors, and they got into an argument over whether a man could stand to work that little and stay out of trouble. Now, I never was one to go stumbling into a new situation, but I don't feel right about this nation being on the verge of an unknown experience, and while it hadn't occurred to me before as something to get alarmed about, if people are afraid of the prospect of working only twenty-four hours a week, I will blaze the trail myself, submit to the experiment, and find out if it is safe.—H. B. Fox, "Circleville Philosopher," News, Granger, Texas.

Turkey in Franklin's Time

The turkey is not exactly the "bird of courage" Benjamin Franklin thought it was when he nominated that all-American fowl to be the official national bird. The turkey would never, except by mistake, attack a British redcoat in the barnyard, as Franklin said he would. And so, the powerful bald eagle became the national bird, but the juicy, succulent Thanksgiving turkey has come to be the national trade-mark of abundant living.

CHICK CHATS Presented By Dr. Salsbury's Laboratories DON'T NEGLECT SUMMER WORMING

Generally, birds kept in the open during summer months are healthier than those that remain in confinement. But that is no reason to neglect or ignore, the threat of disease or heavy worm infections to a flock. Fresh air, freedom of movement, and plenty of green forage not always can be counted on to guide birds safely through the summer months.

To keep poultry in good health through the range period requires summer worm control. It is during the range season that growing pullets are expected to build up body strength and develop into sturdy, ready-to-lay birds. With proper management, they should come off the range well-feathered, capable of going into heavy production. If the worm problem is not adequately handled at this time, a weak, poorly-developed flock of pullets may go into the laying house.

Intestinal Worms Costly

A good worm-control program during the summer will not only encourage high egg production in the fall, it will also promote uniform growth. Damaging intestinal worms, once they get started in a flock, spread quickly. If no method or means of worm control is enforced, an entire flock may soon be ruined.

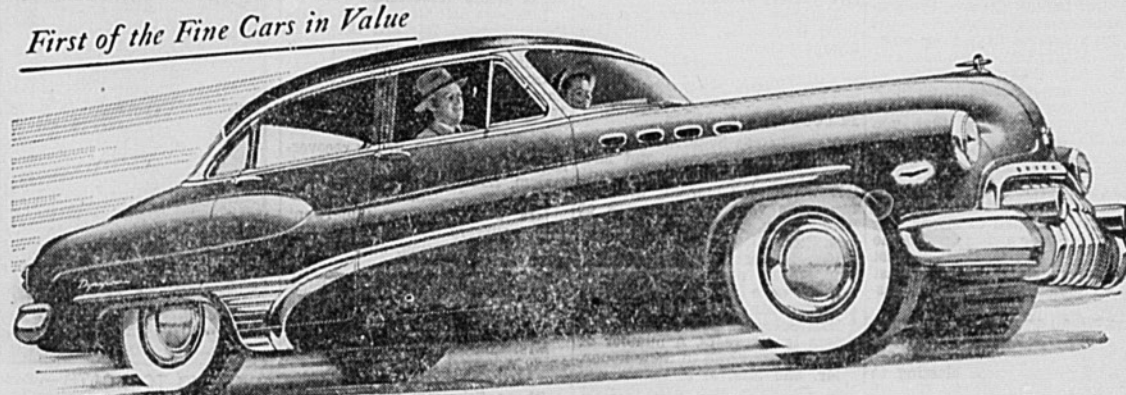

For such familiar worm species as large roundworms and cecal worms, there are dependable commercial medicines which may be given to birds with effective results. Destructive tapeworms may also be controlled. Usually, individual treatments are most successful against these worms.

Monthly Treatments

A systematic control program is the most reliable method of worming. This type of program should include regular cleaning of shelters, runs and equipment, and the use of medications that will remove worms from infected birds.

Many raisers administer worm-removers to birds every month. This is usually done with a flock-type worm treatment which can be mixed in the mash. When continued throughout the growing season and also after fall housing, this system is very effective. The cost of the medication is largely offset by the high egg production of a worm-clean flock.

Of course you recognize it. Who doesn't know that those four Ventiports, that graceful sweep of fender-chrome, mark ROADMASTER—best of all the Buicks, unquestioned "big buy" of the fine-car field? But have you tried it? Have you matched this sweet-stepping bonny against the tall hills, and the call of the straight-away? Ever toiled it across town—and seen how Dynaflo's quick surge and smooth take-off slip you through traffic with minimum of foot-motion and maximum of timesaving? Ever known the good feel of a light and easy wheel, swinging almost at a finger's touch—the soul-satisfying lift in a big 152-hp Fireball engine just waiting for the release your toe-pressure gives it? Ever sampled that famous Buick ride—steady, level, unperturbed, soft with the special gentleness of coil springs on all four wheels, sweetly restful in both front and rear seats? There's no reason, really, to wait longer for such satisfying experience. There's a Buick dealer near you. He delights in showing off ROADMASTER. He'll arrange—unless all his demonstration cars have been snatched away from him by eager buyers—to put you behind a ROADMASTER wheel. Why not see him now—to find out what's finest in today's fine cars, and how little it takes to buy one?

TOWER TUMBLES—In Germany's Soviet sector, Communist authorities ordered the famous Georgen Church destroyed, charging that the historic tower was near collapse. Days later, sticks of TNT beneath the church were detonated by the Reds. The resulting explosion muffled the protests of irate Evangelical clergymen, and their beloved bell tower toppled to the ground.

PEEPING TOM CATS—Two cowardly Kings of the Jungle peeked around a corner of the Brookfield Zoo cave in Chicago, fearful of a photographer sighting in on them with a loaded camera. Their caution was to no avail for, with deadly accuracy, the cameraman tripped his shutter, bagging two more trophies for his picture album.

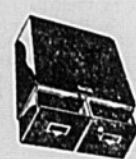

TRAPPED FARMER—Buried neck-deep in dirt by a well cave-in, farmer Henry Randall of Elkhart, Ind., was saved from smothering to death by quick-witted rescuers who slipped a bottomless ashcan over his head to prevent sifting soil from completely covering him up. A tractor and slip-scraper freed Randall before he was forced to use a garden hose as a breathing tube.

ROBERT S. CALVERT
Robert S. Calvert, who was appointed State Comptroller of Public Accounts by the late Governor Buford H. Jester following the death of George H. Sheppard, has served one year and a half and is now seeking to be elected Comptroller.

He has served as a cashier for the Santa Fe Railroad, as chief clerk for the West Texas Electric Co., and as assistant cashier in a bank. He is a veteran of the first world war and has had training at Cornell University.

Mr. Calvert states that with the experience he has gained in the past one year and a half directing the office of Comptroller, together with his past experience, he can serve the people of the state better than any one else can.

MINUTE EDITORIAL — Post's growin, but fluctuating, oil population has spotlighted the need for apartments here. Chamber of Commerce officials estimate that right now 25 or 30 two and three room furnished apartments could be rented here. The problem is getting capital interested. A second problem would be reasonable rents without subsidization. Two years ago some brick apartment buildings were constructed to be rented to veterans at $94.50 monthly for four rooms and bath, unfurnished, in Lubbock. Another private enterprise built similar apartments in Abilene to rent for $100 to $125 monthly, unfurnished. On the other hand, there were the government-subsidized housing projects during the war with rentals as unreasonably small—$20 to $50 for four rooms basically furnished and bath. Surely, there is a margin of profit that will still permit reasonable return on investment as medium rents. We feel that investors are hurting themselves, trying to get their money back too soon. Of course, an inflated, false economy will burst. Investors in Post can make their contribution to continued prosperity here by keeping things on an even keel, accepting a smaller return over a longer period of time. It is our belief that one cannot lose by doing right. Those wealthy enough to build an apartment house here, one of our greatest needs, should be wealthy enough to spread their return over a few more years. Post needs apartments. —Post Dispatch.

HEREFORD BULL — At every turn you hear talk regarding the possibility of war. It is sad to realize how familiar are some of the discussions, but sadder still is the occasion when you stop and analyze a certain lack of familiarity. The same boys who were anxious to get into the fray last time are still making the same jests and wisecracks—but there is a difference. There is perhaps a twinge of remorse and anxiety expressed in the tone of voice. Many of these boys, in fact most of them, are still in the reserve corps. Most of them have wives now, and many of them have children. Responsibilities have crowded out the old attitude of carefree abandon. For many of these fellows it was a tough job to cast aside their rifles and take up a pencil or a shovel or a plow.

They succeeded, however, and in their hands today rests the operation of the country as civilians. Hearing these boys talk puts a new angle on things. When they speak, America speaks—and justly so. —Hereford Brand.

SUPPLY CONQUERED DEMAND THE OTHER IN LAMESA —As a matter of fact it forced the price of Horned toads down to rock bottom.

A Lamesa boy ready to leave for the Boy Scout jamboree in Valley Forge, Pa., took a hint from an older brother who went to a similar meet 10 years before and decided to take a few horned toads from West Texas to trade to the Scouts from other parts of the world.

Told that horned toads sometimes sell for as much as $1 each to people who have never seen them, the boy figured a classified ad was the best angle. He ran the following ad:

Wanted: Horned Toads. Will pay 5c cash for every live horned toad brought to Dyer Hardware before June 26.

After a day's busy trading he called in with the message that 75 horned toads at five cents a piece had just about exhausted his spending money. For anybody in the horned toad business, it was just too bad. The current price—two cents. —Hockley County Herald.

IT SEZ HERE — Our respected friend, Ben Ezell of the prize-winning Canadian Record, thinks dropping the title "Dr." from before the name of a medical doctor in news columns isn't such a good idea. In his "Spur of the Moment" column, he says: "We have a profound and sincere respect for the men of that profession who, having assisted in bringing us into this world, remain on call day and night to deliver their best efforts toward keeping us alive in it, and as a last resort, toward easing our passing from it. The word 'Doctor' is, to our mind, a title commanding respect and admiration, and one which we're proud to bestow in print or in person." Fifty years ago, before medicine started being "big business," we would have held the same attitude. Then, the local doctor was probably the most learned man in town. He could read, write, and had been to school. He was at one time the oracle of wisdom, a personal friend and guide. His judgment was sought on everything from domestic trouble to investments. He served the poor and rich alike, and his overdue accounts were not placed in the hands of a lawyer for collection. He deserved great respect. Today lots of folks read and write. Many are better educated than the doctor. He runs a 100 per cent business institution, complete with business manager, collectors and assembly-line methods. He maintains the strongest union in America, and spends huge sums of money influencing legislation in county, state and nation. He incorporates for charity to evade taxes. But he still insists on preserving the halo well earned when he was a true servant of suffering humanity. When a doctor delivers a baby for cash in advance or 30 days net, he is well paid for whatever humanitarian instincts he possesses, and we feel the bill marked "paid" is adequate compensation without fawning sentimentality over the mere fact that we're alive. Maybe we should harbor the same gratitude for the truck driver who narrowly missed us, for the grocer who refuses to sell poisonous food, or for the policeman who doesn't shoot us. —The Ralls Banner.

When Painting Wires
Use caution when painting around electric wires in your home. If bare wires are noted, it is well to notify the electric company or call in a private electrician.

Prospects are excellent that the Rural Electrification Administration will receive a loan for building the proposed Poka-Lambro Rural Telephone Cooperative system. President J. Sam Allen of Lamesa, Director J. C. Wells and Attorney Tom Garrard of Tahoka reported at a meeting of the Poka-Lambro board here Saturday afternoon following their trip to Washington.

What They Write

Mr. Jackson, Editor
Slatonite
Slaton, Texas

Dear Mr. Jackson:
I realize that anyone never makes anything off of an editor when they have a complaint, however, I noticed in your last week's paper where you stated that there wasn't a modern pool to be found anywhere in west Texas. I am just wondering if you have taken time to visit our pool here in Lubbock, if not, I feel that you should come to our pool and look it over before making rash statements about pools. I feel confident that the reason you made these statements was to promote a pool in Slaton which I am aware you need very badly. Enclosed you will find two passes to our pool.

We had a man visit our pool last week and this was the 138th pool he had visited on the way from the east down to west Texas and I have statements to the effect that he said our pool was the cleanest and best looking pool he had seen.

I am looking forward to seeing you this next Sunday.
Sincerely yours,
A. C. Hamilton

Slaton Women Give Their Favorite Tested Recipes

This week we're going to ignore the heading of this recipe column—Slaton Women's Favorite Recipes—because we have a local gentleman who says he not only enjoys getting in the kitchen and "whipping up" a few tasty morsels, but he also has two short favorite recipes of his own originality which he considers just right for hot summer day snacks.

The chef to whom we refer is Dr. Elbert Loveless, and his two recipes are for (1) an Avacado Cracker Spread and (2) some unidentifiable English pea concoction with no name—just guaranteed to be good.

Ingredients for the Avacado Spread call for:

- 1 very ripe avacado, must be soft
- 1 package of cream cheese
- 1 teaspoon very finely chopped onions

pineapple, just a bit to flavor. In the good doctor's own words, "Just mash it all up together until it is real creamy and spread on Ritz Crackers and sit back and enjoy it." Dr. Loveless also suggested mixing in a little lemon juice if you do not intend to use all the spread at one time, as the juice will keep the avacado a nice rich green and will not turn black.

For the English Pea recipe you need:

- 1 can English peas
- diced carrots, about the same size as the peas
- 1 hard boiled egg
- onions

Again, the only instructions are—mix it all up together and serve cold with crackers.

Dr. Loveless tells us that these two little dishes are best for late at night or in-between-meal snacks.

The Loveless clan which lives in Slaton at 935 South 10th, consists of Dr. Elbert, Mrs. Loveless, Kathleen, 3½ and Jimmy, 9 months.

CHARLEY YATES

Charley Yates, who has been a resident of Lubbock County since 1912 and with whom most people of this precinct are familiar, was elected to the office of Constable of this precinct in 1938 and served in this capacity for three terms. He was chosen to fill this place again in 1948 by write in votes. "If re-elected I will serve to the best of my ability," said Mr. Yates. "I have raised four children all of whom went to school in Slaton. In the past I have done my best to serve the people of this precinct well and I promise to do so as long as I hold the office. The support of my friends is greatly appreciated."

JUST TALK

by A.M.J.

Folks who write stuff for newspapers should be more careful about the things they put down, but like most of them I go banging around making statements that I sometimes have to swallow.

A couple of weeks ago I got all steamed up over the fact that Slaton needs a good swimming pool and I made the statement that there is not a modern swimming pool in all West Texas.

That is something that I should not have written and now I've got to apologize to the former athletic coach of the Slaton High School, A. C. "Stump" Hamilton, who is now Superintendent of City Recreation for Lubbock, and, who I understand, is doing a mighty fine job. He was one of the best athletic directors who ever worried with a bunch of youngsters at our High School and if Stump says that the Mackenzie Park Pool is one of the best in West Texas, if not in the state of Texas, I'll drop my head in shame and admit that I made a rash statement when I wrote that there is not a modern swimming pool in all West Texas.

At my age I do not get about much to the popular pools. My blood is thin, my respiration poor, my eyesight dim and I've practically lost interest in everything but something good to eat. When I get my new glasses fixed I'm going out to Mackenzie Park and see if they have any French-style bathing suits out there.

It seems that Billy Ball is still trying to pose as a weather predictor even after many dismal failures and I'm having a rough time getting rid of his competition. He was one of the Government weather men during the World War II and he went to Greenland and Alaska trying to find out whether we would have light showers on Tuesday with clearing skies on Wednesday, but since he does not have all the queer little instruments to dinker with and does not have the nose for rain or hot spells, like I do, he mistakes his next door neighbor's lawn sprinkler odor as a sign of rain while I watch the cats and dogs, the birds and bees, the bark on the trees and Charlie Austin for my line-up on what is going to happen.

Last week Billy predicted rain for the last of the week, but most any one could predict rain when rain was falling at the time. It takes an artist to do the long range predicting that I do.

Preacher Herring was in the office last week and Mrs. Guhl tried to pin him down about when the new Methodist Church would be started but the Minister said that his conscience was a little tender that morning and he was in no condition to make statements to the press.

While I have known for a long time that a lot of folks who make statements to the press had very little conscience, I did not know that a minister was bothered with such a thing. It has always been my belief that a preacher's conscience was clear and that he could speak right out at any time without looking backward, sideways or forward.

Preacher Herring admitted that he at one time was a newspaper man, which no doubt accounts for the fact that he has a well developed conscience and tries never to do the wrong thing.

Women are nervous creatures. My almost new swivel chair at the office has a little squeak in it when I rock back and forth and the women in the office have used up about two quarts of oil trying to cure it.

When I get my mind to rolling at top speed, throwing off sparks and radiating atomic energy, I go to twisting, turning and rolling around in my chair, the squeak goes to howling, the women in the office to gritting their teeth and they start on the run for the oil can. The flooring around my desk is all smeared with oil and the women wrestle with the chair every time I leave the office.

It would be a grave disappointment to me if they should ever get the oil in the right place to stop the squeak for I can do my best work when the high pitched tone is there to spur me on. It may be that I will lose all my valuable help, but until then I'm going to keep on riding in high C.

And there is something else about women that is queer. It makes no difference what they are going to do they have to dress up to do it. Take any woman who is going out to the garden to dig weeds and before she starts she will go to the mirror, get her nose right up against it, puff up her hair and smear some rouge and powder on her face. Even the women who go around with the slopiest of Indian moccasins on their feet, slouchy overalls and a shirt with the tail flying around in the wind will have their faces all fixed up and everything arranged just so, even though they are trying to appear slouchy. Its down right deceitful.

—000—

Lubbock had nothing on Slaton last week when folks in the south part of Lubbock heard strange noises and could not locate what was causing it. These weird noises were on Friday night and a number of people reported that noises similar to those heard in Lubbock were heard here.

The Lubbock Avalanche laid the origin of the noises to boys who had secured police or ambulance sirens but several people in Slaton who heard similar noises Friday night say that the noises heard here were similar to sirens, but had a slightly higher tone and was not exactly like any sirens they have ever heard.

One thing that was unusual about the sounds was the fact that practically every dog that heard them set up howls that might have indicated that the sounds were different from any with which they were familiar.

We'll put the noises down in the same class with flying saucers and spend the next few years wondering whether there are such things as queer objects flitting around in the sky and spine chilling noises that may come at any moment.

Between the mysteries that surround us concerning what the scientists have developed in the way of weapons and the uncertainties of the next few moments there never is a dull time for the modern man or woman. In fact if most of the future generation are not all neurotics it will be because they are a sturdier race than those of today. Get set here comes something new to make you shudder.

Contending Earnestly for the Faith

Although God and his word remain the same, there have been some radical changes in religious practices in the last few centuries. One thing that has experienced the incredible change is the way God saves alien sinners who were penitent believers guidance of apostles and God's pure word, alien sinners who were penitent believers were baptized (buried in water, Rom. 6:4) to be saved from their sins (Mk. 16:16; Acts 2:38; Acts 8:36-39; Acts 10:48; I Pet. 2:21). In the sixth century the change was to a semi dry cleaning; sprinkling water on the head of the candidate, but in this century the change is to dry cleaning exclusively. No baptism in water is necessary now regardless of the primitive way or how the Bible reads.

We must remember that this drastic change was not made or even allowed by God but by mere man. Authority for such practice cannot be found in His word. Rejecting baptism in water, judge ye yourselves, is departing from the faith. It is beyond any sound question unfaithfulness to God.

Screen's Favorite Teen-Ager Stars In "Dear Ruth" At Slaton Sunday

If Mona Freeman ever acted her age, the screen would lose its foremost bobby-soxer. Although she's married and is the mother of a two-year old daughter, Mona has been a teen-ager in all but three of her 12 pictures. Currently she's a not so sweet 16 in Paramount's new comedy "Dear Wife" which shows at the Slaton Theatre Sunday and Monday.

Actually in her early twenties, Mona has a perpetually youthful appearance that makes it possible for her to portray youngsters half her age with complete authority. Yet, she's equally adept at playing adult roles as she demonstrated in "Streets of Laredo" and "The Heiress."

A model at 14, Mona was "discovered" by Howard Hughes who saw her picture on a magazine cover. He signed her—sight-unseen—to a contract calling for her exclusive services. Two years went by and she not only made a picture but never even saw Hughes.

Mona made her screen debut as Irene Dunne's daughter in "Together Again," but not until

VIEWS ON FARM PROGRAM EXPRESSED BY McDONALD

Veteran Commissioner of Agriculture, J. E. McDonald, has definite views on a national farm program.

He believes in a two-price system for marketing agricultural products—a full parity price for that portion allotted for consumption in the United States, this allotment to be made in units such as bales, bushels or pounds and NOT in acres—and the farmer left free to produce in excess of American needs for sale in foreign markets at world market prices.

McDonald believes that each commodity should finance its own program.

Waggoner Carr Makes Statement

WAGGONER CARR

Waggoner Carr, who has represented the people of Crosby, Lubbock, Hockley and Cochran Counties in the State Courts as prosecuting attorney was in Slaton this week in the interest of his campaign for State Representative.

Carr, 31, has led vigorous prosecutions against the post war crime wave in this district. When he was elected County Attorney of Lubbock County in 1948, plans had already been made for open gun warfare between rival criminal gangs. His relentless prosecution of members of these gangs has prevented these plans from being carried out, thus resulting in a savings of lives and thousands of dollars to the people of this area.

In his campaign for State Representative, Waggoner Carr has emphasized the importance of the legislature to this 119th District. "The 52nd session of the Texas Legislature will be one of tremendous importance," Carr stated. "The matter of redistricting the State will be one of concern to all the people of Texas and the job should be done equitably for both rural and urban areas." Carr strongly supports local control of our underground water, elimination of government waste and duplication, better and more farm to market roads, the veterans land program, soil conservation and conservation of our natural resources, and submission for a vote of the people on the question of removal of the constitutional limitation on welfare payments.

"It cannot be overemphasized that the people of this area must work together in solving their state problems. Every person must be, and will be, fairly represented regardless of where he lives," Carr stated.

Carr has been a long time resident of this district and is a graduate of Texas Tech.

HAND-PICKED COLOR GUARD—In Washington, D. C., this first official photograph of the secretary of defense's color guard was taken by Department of Defense photographers. The ceremonial group, who bear the defense flag first used by the late secretary James Forrestal, will appear with the secretary of defense at certain official functions.

Drying Nylons
Many nylon fabrics when hung wet and smoothed with the hands will dry in good shape without help from the iron. Gently squeezing out the water will hasten drying but it is all right to hang nylon dripping wet.

Cortisone
Cortisone, an adrenal hormone formerly known as compound E, is prepared at present from ox or sheep bile, and the yield is so small that 40 head of cattle are needed to provide the cortisone requirements of one arthritic patient for one day.

All in Knowing How
"Hammered" finishes, which resemble hammered metal, have become increasingly popular in recent years. A coat of paint that contains aluminum or copper powder is applied in the factory to metal or wood surfaces. While the paint is still wet, a thinner is sprayed on. This thinner strikes the surface in droplets and produces the hammered effect.

Movable Fire Escape
A rolling fire escape is among the newest inventions, according to National Patent Council. The escape device calls for a series of lightweight metal ladders mounted on a monorail located near the roof of a building. The escape ladders can be moved around the outside of the building to afford a means of escape to all occupants.

SEEKS HIGHER POSITION

More than seven years of fighting the people's battles against monopoly, waste of natural resources and public school fund raiders as a key member of the State Attorney General's Office have earned him a promotion, says Fagan Dickson of Austin and San Antonio, candidate for the State Supreme Court, Place One.

"My opponent has bought all the billboards," said Dickson. "I can only offer my services on the basis of my qualifications. My 21 years experience as a trial lawyer, representing small, independent clients and the state in Texas civil courts, I believe have fitted me for service on the highest civil court."

100,000 Expected Rural Youth Day

One hundred thousand 4-H Club boys and girls, Future Farmers and Future Homemakers, the largest gathering of rural youth in the world, is the goal set for Rural Youth Day at the Mid-Century Exposition of the 1950 State Fair of Texas, Ray W. Wilson, manager of the Fair's Rural Youth activities program, has announced.

This group of young and enthusiastic future farmers, future homemakers and ranchers will swarm the grounds of the greatest state fair in the world on Opening Day, October 7, as guests of the State Fair, Wilson said.

The farm youngsters are expected to converge on Dallas from every corner of Texas. They will be admitted free to the Fair and will be furnished with a free lunch, provided by Dallas business leaders and the Dallas Chamber of Commerce.

WILSON CONTINUES TOUR

AUSTIN, July 8 (Special) — Texas has seen much of Will Wilson of late. The Dallas County District Attorney, who is candidate for the Supreme Court, has campaigned vigorously in West and South Texas since he announced his candidacy in Austin the latter part of May. His plans include visits to East Texas and other sections of the state during his campaign tour.

"Justice is the only thing that a candidate for the Texas Supreme Court can promise voters," Wilson stated in addressing the Army and Navy Association in San Antonio Thursday. "I pledge, if elected, to add my efforts to those of the present court, toward this end."

New Plaster

Water paints of the casein type can be used on new plaster surfaces without regard for the moisture present unless it is very excessive. It is, of course, necessary that the wall dry eventually. Other emulsion paints are also suitable for new plaster.
