Lt. Vernon Wright Completes His First Combat Mission Over Korea

Lt. Vernon L. Wright, son of Mrs. Alta Mae Wright, scored heavily against the enemy on his first bombing mission over Korea. He is in Japan with the 51st Fighter-Interceptor wing with the Fifth Air Force. He attacked the North Korean supply center of Yonan with a flight of four F-80 Shooting Stars, carrying 500 lb. bombs and fifty caliber machine guns. The jet fighters dive bombed and strafed warehouses, vehicles and troops, destroying 15 buildings, damaging 12 more, two vehicles and 19 supply carts. In addition his flight inflicted 8 enemy casualties. Lt. Wright worked for the Western Cottonoll Co. in Slaton and was a brakeman for the Santa Fe before joining the Air Force. He played softball at Slaton on the Drive-In Food Mart team. He decided to join the Air Force while he was working for the Santa Fe. He signed up and passed his examination in Kansas. He received his wings as a fighter pilot at Williams Air Force Base, Ariz. Lt. Wright was home on a 20 day leave in April.

In describing his first combat mission, Lt. Wright said: "We were on an armed reconnoissance when I spotted a group of supply warehouses just south of Yonan." "We dived down in our first pass, releasing the bombs just as we neared the target. They landed smack in the center of a cluster of buildings, blowing them skyhigh." "There were a bunch of camouflaged tanks parked beside the warehouses. I could see fire eating into them as we pulled up." "I strafed those buildings in four passes. When we left the area two of the warehouses were already gutted, and the fire was spreading."

June 14, 1952 To Be Slaton's Frontier Day

At the regular meeting of the Slaton Chamber of Commerce held last Tuesday night the Directors voted to name Saturday, June 14, 1952, as Frontier Day in Slaton, this being the nearest Saturday to June 15 of that year. As June 15, 1911 has been designated as Slaton Birthday, the Slaton Chamber of Commerce Directors inaugurated Frontier Day in 1910 to commemorate Slaton's Birthday, and it is planned to have a Slaton Frontier Day on the Saturday nearest the 15th of June each year. In 1952 the date will be Saturday, June 14th.

The success of the 1951 Frontier Day was discussed and a number of ideas for the 1952 day were submitted, among them, to have a meeting place, and some special entertainment, for old timers, who come to the celebration.

Plans also included ways to add variety to Frontier Day. The officers of the Western Square Dance Association have expressed their desire to have their open air convention here again next year at the same time the Frontier Day is observed and the Directors of the Chamber of Commerce voted to invite them back again.

Jack Clark and Teddy Swanner, who are on the Publicity Committee for the Chamber of Commerce, said that they expect the 1952 Frontier Day to be the "BEST EVER."

No Work Is Done On Wild Cat Well

No work has been done on the well that is to be drilled on the Clifford Young farm, 5 1/2 miles southwest of Slaton. The Hunt Oil Co. will do the drilling, but the rig was still at Whiteface on Tuesday. Two men from Cities Service, which has the land under lease, were at the Young farm Tuesday and they expressed disappointment that drilling operations had not started. Their lease will expire soon.

Mr. Young thinks drilling will start within a few days, but this is not definite, he says. The well near Wilson, which is located 2 1/2 miles northeast of the Young location, has been abandoned.

Slaton Softball Team Wins Again

The Slaton Softball team has won two more games, both of them good, close games. Last Thursday they defeated the Hot Toddlies of Lubbock by a score of 14 to 13. Up to that time the Hot Toddlies had a record of 18 wins and only 2 losses.

Tuesday they won over Architectural Stone of Lubbock 3 to 2. The batteries were Joe Lester, pitching and Tony Poulos, catching. Home runs accounted for two of the three runs. Bill Kelly got one in the first inning with no one on, and Weldon Martin hit a home run in the fifth with the bases empty. Weldon Martin had had a homer in each of the last three games; he has played in seven games and has five home runs for the season. In the sixth Tony Poulos singled and Shorty Donaldson doubled to score him for the final run. Pitcher Lester struck out seven opposing batters.

Games are being played every Tuesday and Thursday at Roosevelt. There is no admission charge.

Baptist To Have Revival Meeting

A large group of Teachers and Officers of the First Baptist Church met Monday evening in the Fellowship Hall of the new Educational building to discuss plans for the Revival meeting, to begin on August 5.

Rev. L. D. Ball, formerly pastor of First Church, Greenville, Texas, now pastor of First Church, Lamesa, Texas, brought the message of the evening. The Church leaders seemed enthusiastic about the plans and are hoping for the greatest Revival in the history of the Church.

Fourteen Junior Girls and three adults attended the camp this week. The girls especially enjoy the large swimming pool, the hikes and the services each day.

O. P. S. REPRESENTATIVES EXPLAIN REGULATIONS.

About 30 or 35 people were present at the O. P. S. meeting held in the City Hall Auditorium on Monday night. Those present were divided into three groups, with an O. P. S. representative explaining the price regulations which pertain to their group. Those representing groceries were in one group, those selling services in another, and those affected by Regulation 7, such as hardware store representatives, in the third.

Mrs. John Fertig accompanied her husband, who is with the Santa Fe, to San Angelo last week.

Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Edwards, Jr., are spending a week at Ruidoso, New Mexico.

MUSIC TO THEIR EARS—Glee, awe and puzzlement were the reactions of these deaf and dumb Tokyo youngsters as they listened to music for the first time in their lives. The never-to-be-forgotten experience was made possible for them by a group-a-cousticon, one of seven such instruments given to the Nippon Deaf and Dumb school by Tokyo SCAP.

Make A Guess On The Money Orders Issued In Slaton

On July 1st the form that has been used ever since Postal Money Orders were first issued, was changed, making the arrangement more simplified and arranging it so that the Postal Money Order may be cashed in any Post Office in the United States instead of having them payable only at the point to which they have been addressed.

Postmaster Scudder of the Slaton Office has a record on the number of Postal Money Orders that have been issued from this office since it was first established and just to make things interesting the Slatonite will give a one-year subscription to the three persons who can guess the nearest to the total number. The contest is not open to employees of the Post Office, as a number of them know what the number is.

Three are no strings attached to the contest and replies can be sent in by mail or brought to the Slatonite office. Any concern wishing to give extra prizes in the contest may do so and receive publicity by calling the Slatonite office. The contest will end Tuesday, July 31st, and the winners names will be published in the issue of Friday, August 3rd.

Large Groups Go Swimming Weekly

The swimmer's bus leaves Slaton at 7:00 p.m. Thursday. The pool is reserved from 8:00 p.m. to 10:00 p.m. Transportation is free. The charge for swimming is 9c for children and 35c for adults.

Two buses have been needed to accommodate those who go down for a cool refreshing swim on Thursday nights. There have been over 100 people every week recently. Last week 71 of a group of 102 were under 12 years of age. Mr. Poulos says they would like to have more mothers and fathers accompany the group, or any other adults who are interested. They are trying to give the small boys who are eager to learn to swim a little instruction. The pool officials provide lifeguards and Mr. Poulos and other adults walk around the pool watching for trouble. Adults as well as children enjoy the swimming. The water is fine and swimming is good exercise as well as good fun.

No Gloom In Slaton Say Most Of The City Business Executives

Mr. Heaton Finds Work Interesting In County Court

"The County Court at Law is a very necessary adjunct to jurisprudence in a county this size," says Judge Heaton, who was elected as temporary judge of Lubbock County Court-at-Law during the absence of James G. Denton. Mr. Nat Heaton explains that this court takes care in its jurisdiction of civil cases in which the amount involved does not exceed $1,000. Its Criminal jurisdiction is limited to misdemeanors in which punishment is limited to jail sentences and offenses punishable by fine in excess of $200. Judge Heaton says, "It insures a court presided over by a lawyer in these cases, rather than by laymen, and most county judges are laymen. In the absence of the regular judge there are no juries, and the work of the court on lists of hearing, fixing bonds, and access-giving punishment on pleas of 'guilty.' On the civil docket the work consists of passing on pleadings and rendering judgments on special pleas, such as pleas of privilege, where there is no jury."

Judge Heaton, who was chosen as temporary judge at a special meeting of the Lubbock County Bar Association says he finds the work very interesting and adds, "To a man who has done comparatively little court work it's a good review of pleading."

Increase Seen In Old-Age Benefits

The number of old-age and survivors insurance beneficiaries in the 18 county South Plains area administered by the Lubbock social security office increased 26 per cent in the first six months after amendments to the Social Security Act became effective last September.

Increase in the amounts being paid was even more substantial, jumping 220 per cent from $31,000 to $68,000 monthly, according to John G. Hutton manager of the Lubbock office.

Hutton said that as of August 31, 1950, it was estimated that 3000 persons were receiving $81,000 monthly in these insurance payments in the area. A tabulation recently completed shows that as of February 28, 1951, there were 2542 men, women, and children in the area receiving $68,291 monthly. The manager pointed out that the reason for the proportionately greater rise in amount of payments was that the new law, effective last September, not only made many additional persons eligible for payments but also very substantially increased the general level of benefits.

Mr. Nick Carter and son, Keith, and daughter, Julie Nell, of Lampasas spent Monday in Slaton enroute to Lubbock on business. The Carters lived here seventeen years.

Week's Question

Air-Conditioners, Drinks, Trips To Mountains Keep Slatonites Cool

Some say tomato; some say tomahto . . . You can read any number of articles these summer days on how to keep cool. One says drink cold beverages, another says take off everything the law allows, another says cover up with high necks and long sleeves. One says take warm baths, another says take cold showers. One says get enough outdoor exercise, another says avoid exertion. With all this contradictory advice available, we thought it would be interesting to learn what people are finding most effective. Slaton residents told how they keep cool when asked this week's question, "What do you do to beat the heat?"

Mrs. A. E. Whitehead: "Stay inside under the air conditioner." Mrs. Whitehead has good air-conditioner, so she stays home and reads and sews and takes care of her grandbabies.

J. C. Champion: "Endure it—or go to the mountains. All I know to do to beat the heat is to leave here for somewhere cooler. But there are hotter places than this." Marcella Hollinden: "I'm afraid I'm not beating the heat, that's the trouble. The office is cool, but when I'm not there I just suffer along with everybody else." Sally went swimming to cool off and got burned to a crisp, so she felt she Various sources over the radio and through the press have left the impression that a good many people in this area, that business has not been as thriving so far in 1951 as it was in 1950. Reports from business men over town do not bear out this report.

Vice-president of the Citizens State Bank, Howard Swanner, says that deposits in the bank on the last of June '50 were $3,827,277.95, while on the last of June 1951 the deposits were $3,891,995.53. There was $29,215.80 more on deposit at the end of the second quarter of 1951 than at the end of the second quarter of 1950. There are more loans out now than there were at the same period in 1950 although not as much in proportion as the gains in deposits.

Postmaster Scudder says that the last quarter shows a ten per cent increase in traffic through the office here and an eight per cent increase over 1950 in the first six months of 1951. The Slaton Post Office has been showing a steady increase in traffic for a past four years and the town seems to be showing a steady, healthy growth, says the Postmaster.

Competition is some stiffer in some lines says Mr. Scudder and a few business men have expressed some disappointment but the majority of the business executives are optimistic.

A home appliance dealer reports that his business is considerably better the first half of this year than it was in 1950 although the sale of refrigerators has not been as active as last year. A real estate and insurance dealer says that real estate is not moving as often as it did last year but that the insurance business is better.

A ready-to-wear dealer said that people are buying better merchandise this year than they did last year but that the sale of lower priced goods is slower than last year.

Most business men are discouraged about weather conditions but like most folks in West Texas they are hard to keep down and it is evident that things are going to be better than ever whenever that two inch rain comes.

Boys Club Meets Every Afternoon

Mr. Tony Poulos states that there will be no Boy's Club meetings in the morning because attendance has dwindled. The boys are now meeting every afternoon from 2:00 until they get tired.

Mr. Poulos is trying to arrange a tennis tournament for boys and girls, before the summer is over, with prizes for the winners. Plans for the tournament are not complete.

Mrs. Harvey Tunnell and daughter, Leonita, returned Tuesday from Lemon Grove, Calif., where they visited Mr. and Mrs. C. Dally.

Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Neill are fishing at Almont, Calif.

You know there is an old tradition about mothers-in-law. They all have the reputation of being gossipy, meddling, and mean gossypers whose heart is as cold as the locker compartment of a refrigerator.

Then there is the tradition about grandmothers who are all supposed to be sweet, kindly souls and soft-hearted toward every one.

Now one thing in this connection has us worried.—How can this be when every woman is a mother-in-law before she is a grandmother.

Exceedingly fortunate from the standpoint of moisture and in having escaped serious crop damage from hail and washouts, Hockley county may lead the state in cotton ginning this year, according to reports following a community-by-community survey by K. N. Clapp of Lubbock, area observer since 1923 for Anderson, Clayton and company, Houston cotton exporters.

With an enormous crop in prospect from the 400,000 acres of cotton land in the county, Hockley should lead the state this year, observers say, depriving Lubbock county of a distinction it has held for three consecutive years.

Burglars who broke into the local Coca-Cola warehouse on the Levelnd highway must have had a very frustrating experience. The building was entered Friday night by unknown burglars, who tried unsuccessfully to break into or carry off a 1700-pound steel and reinforced concrete safe from the office and generally raised havoc.

However, John Alford, manager of the local plant, said Saturday that as far as he could determine the burglars left with nothing more for their labors than two soft drinks.

Cows And Plows—
Texas cotton farmers who paid $3 a hundred to get cotton picked last year can pay $3 again this year without violating farm wage regulations of the U. S. Government.

The maximum rate of 95 cents an hour for farm labor ordered by the Wage stabilization Board does not apply to piece work such as cotton picking, it has been ruled. It is pointed out that the general wage regulation which authorizes 95 cents an hour maximum, specifically provides that piece work can be paid for at the base rate of last year plus 10 per cent.

If cotton pickers got $3 last year they can be paid $3.30 this year. If a farmer during the rush season last year paid $5, then this year he can pay $5.50 if he wants to or has to pay this much to get the job done.

Fisher Alsop, Temple's contribution to the story-telling art, was once a school teacher. He attended an institute where an eminent educator, a very wise man from the East, made a speech in which he said, over and over, "Study the child! Study the child!" In the open forum, Alsop was called on for his views. He drawled, "In my school, there are 85 students and I'm the only teacher. So since there are 85 of them and only one of me, it would be simpler for them to study the teacher! Study the teacher!"

F.Y.I.—

Stories about the low standard of living in Soviet Russia abound and one of them amused us recently. It seems that a teacher in a Russian school distributed pictures of Stalin to each of the pupils. The next day he questioned each of them to see if the great Stalin's picture had been enshrined on their walls at home. One after another, the pupils said this had been done until the teacher came to Ivan. Ivan admitted that the picture had not been hung. "But, Ivan, why did you not hang up the picture of our great leader?" the teacher asked. "Because, sir," Ivan stated, "we live in the center of the room and have no wall. The four families who live around us each have a wall, but we have none."

Worth Knowing

Mrs. Earl Reasoner has been in Slaton since 1922. Born Ardell Wicker, she married Earl Reasoner 13 years ago. She received her B. S. from Tech, majoring in elementary education, and has taught school for eleven years.

Mrs. Reasoner is a woman of many interests. Chief among them is the mutual interest of farming and ranching shared with her husband. Square dancing rates high on the list and interior decorating runs a close second. There's proof of this in the Reasoner's charming Early American home located on the rim of the canyon. She is a member of the Daughters of the Pioneer Study Club.

Mrs. Reasoner is an active member of the First Christian Church, serving as a deaconess, choir member, and Sunday School teacher of the young people's group.

She has seen many changes made as Slaton progressed. It's her town and she likes it.

Peanut Hams
They are usually called Smithfield hams, although hams from peanut-fed hogs come from other sections than Smithfield, Virginia. Peanut-fed hogs produce specially flavored hams. So farmers in the peanut belt usually plant peanuts for "hogging off," meaning a field of matured peanuts just for hogs to graze in and where they root out the peanuts and eat them. If turned into a field after the threshing, hogs glean the nuts lost from the vines.

Iron Ores
In the past decade, according to the New York State department of commerce, New York state has risen to fourth place nationally in the production of iron ores, with nearly 8,000,000 long tons in 1948, and has become the leading producer of titanium. More than a billion miles of thread, millions of belts, buckles, buttons, hooks, eyes, zippers, and snaps, are used each year by the dress industry in New York City, according to the New York state department of commerce.

Good Repair Lumber
A farmer who doesn't keep a stack of home-grown, custom-sawn boards often pays a high price for good repair lumber. Usually cheaper boards would serve the purpose and save him money. The man who cuts his low grade logs and hauls them to the mill for custom sawing gets his repair lumber for about one-third of the cash cost of the same lumber purchased outright. He adds that there are few wet weather jobs around the farm that will pay more money.

You've Arrived

HERE pictured is an automobile that may well be the fulfillment of any man's dream of a fine motorcar.

For you've a right to expect, when you pay a fine-car price, that your money will buy more distinction, more comfort, more performance than are to be found in vehicles of lesser worth.

So mark well the things that a ROADMASTER offers.

No other car on the American scene has a prouder bearing.

No other automobile has more spacious dimensions, more luxurious comfort, or finer appointments.

No other car has a ride more serenely smooth on curve or straightaway, highway or byway.

And no other car, at ROADMASTER's price or above, has Dynaflow, and the supreme command of every traffic condition which it provides.

So you, at the wheel of Buick's biggest and best, have a right to feel distinguished.

But there's a joy of possession which goes deeper than visible things.

There's the feel of a power plant as brilliantly eager as this great car's valve-in-head Fireball Engine—and the satisfying companionship of a brawny traveler instantly responsive to your every wish.

And there's one thing more, which only ROADMASTER can give you in such generous measure. That is the pride of a wise investment, based on the fact that this car stands alone in price per pound, among fine cars similarly equipped.

So why not take that very important first step—and come in and see us soon?

Where Well Dressed Men Dress Up...

News Of Slaton Men In Service

Cpl. Robert H. Cook, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Cook, has been placed in the 3rd Brigade and thinks he will have several more months training at Camp Pendleton.

Seaman Bob Thompson's ship will soon be enroute to the States. He expects to have a 15 day leave home in August and will be in the States for two or three months.

Yeoman 2C John Fry, who works in the office of the C. O., and has not been off Midway Island since his arrival there in September, is looking forward to a trip in a Navy boat to an island 60 miles away for purposes of investigation.

Marvin F. Heinrich S. A., son of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Heinrich, who joined the Navy last September, writes, "It's interesting to see the world, but nothing could look as good to me as Texas and home." He took his boot training in San Diego, Cal., then went to Pearl Harbor, where he stayed until March, when he was assigned to the U.S.S. Platte, the largest tanker in commission. He is a diesel mechanic and is trying for helmsman. He says steering the ship means more work and less sleep, but he enjoys it. He thinks they may be in the States by the last of July and he may have a 10 or 15 day leave.

Marvin says they caught some nice fish while in the Marshall Islands, but couldn't eat them because they were radio active from the H-bomb tests. During one two week period they touched Kwajalin, Antawek, Guam and Japan. He tells how the Japanese men and women pump passengers on Rickshaws, three wheeled bicycles, sometimes carrying three at a time as fast as they can go for a distance of two miles. He says they have well developed leg muscles. They have woven straw rugs on the floors of their homes and are very strict about removing shoes before entering the house.

There are nice, rather modern homes in the parts of Korea that he has seen on their stops there. They were at Formosa on Memorial Day and the Chinese came aboard the ship and presented them with flowers. At Hong Kong they had to break out the fire hose to keep the Chinese from coming aboard to sell things. They had Chinese women doing painting for the garbage. He says they have the same products there that we have, such as "Libbys" and "Welshes", and the people there drive all the popular make cars. He had a chance to buy any General Motors make car, 1951 model for $500.00 less than they list in the States, deliverable at certain points here, the nearest being Corpus Christi. They were lucky in getting away from Wonsan the night before the enemy attack on our ships there.

Cpl. Jessie O. Eckles, Jr., brother of Mrs. Grady Patterson is at Darmstadt, Germany. He is up for Sgt.'s rating again and hopes he will make it this time. He has been appointed a member of the Royal Order of Atlantic Voyagers, at Headquarters Atlantic Army, Kingdom of the Briny Deep, by Carlton C. French, Royal Chamberlain, for having demonstrated bravery, ability and fortitude, beyond mortal comprehension by knowingly and willingly embarking at Pier No. 10, New York, N. Y. on U.S. Naval Ship Gen. R. E. Callan bound across the briny deep for the port of Bremerhaven and for having completed said voyage to ultimate satisfaction.

Cpl. Tip Culver, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. Culver, is home on a twenty day leave from Camp Pendleton, Calif. Driving back with Tip in his car was Cpl. Bobby Cook, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Cook, Bobby is on a 14 day leave. Bobby and Tip joined the Marines together Oct. 1, 1950.

Marine Pvt. J. Charles Herring was enlisted in the U. S. Marine Corps on July 5, 1951. He was transferred to the Marine Corps Recruiting Depot in San Diego, California for his recruit training.

Pvt. Herring is a graduate of the Erick High school in Erick, Okla. He worked for the Corner Drug Store and the Beckham County Democrat. Just prior to his enlistment he was employed by the Swanson-Linderer Printing Co. of Clinton, Okla.

His hobby is radio, and after his recruit training he hopes to attend radio school or continue his work as a printer. His wife, Mrs. Peggy Herring, resides with her mother in Shamrock, Texas.

Pvt. Herring's brother, Elmer Lee Herring, U. S. Navy, has been in Japan since August. They are sons of Mrs. Bill Clary.

Marine Lt. James W. Marsh, back with his Co. in Korea after recovering from a head injury suffered when the fellow ahead of him stepped on a "bouncing Betty" land mine, has written to his mother, Mrs. H. L. Marsh, asking her to send him some fried chicken. Mrs. Marsh says because she comes from the North she doesn't know how to fry chicken properly, so she called in a dyed-in-the-wool Texan, Mrs. Vivian Williams, who fried the chicken. She wrapped it in tinfoil and sent it airmail. The postage was $4.00. Lt. Marsh's trip back to his platoon was a rough one, including a ride in a damp truck "mit no springs yet." They were in the front lines when he arrived. Later they camped in a hill with an 8 inch Doggie artillery battery right down the valley from them. Every time they fired they raised the hill about 6 inches. Lt. Marsh writes that the weather is extremely hot but nothing bothers him any more.

Fred P. Stolle, seaman apprentice, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred H. Stolle of Route 1, Slaton, Texas, has reenlisted in the Navy for an additional six years.

He is serving at the U. S. Fleet Activities, Yokosuka, Japan. Private Welker L. McDonald, whose wife, Mrs. Myrtle Anna Lee McDonald resides at 830 So. 14th St., Slaton, Texas, recently joined the Seventh Division's 48th Field Artillery Battalion in Korea.

As a member of the "Hourglass" Division, McDonald has joined the most traveled unit in the Far East. In nine months of Korean action, his unit has made two amphibious landings, gained the Manchurian border, and fought on both coasts of the Korean peninsula.

"All Bets Lost"

Five members of M-G-M's "Intruder in the Dust" location company at Oxford, Miss., recently lost their bets.

In the film version of William Faulkner's best-seller novel, showing Thursday at the Caprock Drive-In Theatre, Elizabeth Patterson is required to drive an old Model T. The bets were two to one that the actress could not master the now obsolete planetary transmission.

But on her arrival in Oxford, Miss. Patterson blithely stepped in to the Model T and took off in a cloud of dust. Later, consulting the losers of the bet, she explained that she had learned to drive a Model T while making "Welcome Stranger" with Bing Crosby.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Layne have returned from Amarillo, where they attended the dedication services of the Methodist Young People's Camp.

Brennan Is Ranch Owner In Oregon

Walter Brennan, master of a 12,000-acre ranch estate in northern Oregon, complete with several thousand head of cattle, plays a cattle rustler in "Along The Great Divide," Warner Bros. western epic, due at the Slaton Theatre on Wednesday, July 25.

"We don't have much cattle rustling in Oregon any more," declared the beloved character actor during a recent interview. "But all through the West, I guess, the word 'rustler' still means a low-down kind of a character. If I caught one around my own ranch, I'd probably get in touch with the sheriff pronto. Yet here I am, a cattleman myself, playing a no-account rustler."

"At that, though, one can't be too harsh on 'Pop' Keith, the marv I portray. He's a homesteader and the cattlemen have about driven him to the wall, so he steals a few head of beef to feed himself and his daughter, played by Virginia Mayo. It's when 'Pop' swipes the cattle that he gets into a mess of trouble," said Brennan, "namely, murder."

For Brennan, winner of three Academy Awards and a nomination for a fourth, his role in "Along The Great Divide," is reportedly one of the best in his distinguished career in that it gives full rein to the famous Brennan capacity for sly humor and dry wit.

Kirk Douglas heads the stellar cast of the film which was directed by Raoul Walsh.

Barbara Stephens, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Stephens of 1035 West Crosby, left Monday for California on a two weeks vacation. She went with Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Scarborough of Snyder to visit their son, Hollis, who is in Naval Pharmacy School, San Diego, Calif.

Mr. and Mrs. Clark Self and Clark Self, Jr., left this week for New Mexico and Colorado on a pleasure trip.

Mr. and Mrs. Olan Griffith are fishing at Lake Texhoma this week.

Dee Fondy Plays Ball With Angels

The following letter and a clipping from the Los Angeles Times, which is quoted in part below, were received this week.

Editor, Newspaper Slaton, Texas

Dear Sir:

I thought you might be interested in this clipping from the Los Angeles Times on Mr. Fondy. He is making quite a hit out this way.

I used to live up at Hamlin, Texas. Wonder if that place is still on the map.

Best wishes to all the fine people out in West Texas.

Sincerely yours,

Ernest R. Camfield
Associate Principal
Chaffey Union High School
Ontario, California.

SPORTS PARADE

Most Angel followers still are disappointed over the departure of Chuck Connors, one of the most popular men ever to play for the Wrigley Fielders.

But there's no disappointment over the performance of his replacement—Dee Fondy, the San Berdno beauty.

Finishing the Sacramento series Wednesday night, Fondy had appeared in 10 games, made 15 hits in 37 times at bat for a robust .454 average.

His fielding has been well-nigh perfect and he's even started to maintain his record of 34 bases per year for the past seasons.

Dee Fondy doesn't much. He was born in Tex., on Oct. 31, 1925, a baby inherited some of the too-much-talk of the Texas

He hasn't had too much since he joined the Angels to remark that he is glad every day of the chance to speak just a bit on the trade that the Cubs and Braves made that involved Andy departure to Flatbush.

In that deal Fondy thinks Cubs got the best of it, and is how he analyzes it.

"The Cubs needed catch second-base strength much than they needed outfield he said. In Bruce Edward got much better than they Rube Walker. And in Eddie right now, anyway, they be themselves over Wayne Texer. I think, too, that Hatter improvement over Schmitt course Gene Hermanski might be a farko, but he is a good at outfielding and hitting, don't by any means undim."

That probably was Fondy's est oration as an Angel. C could rattle off a few in well-chosen words on any at a moment's notice.

Both boys are hustling men. Connors hits the longe but Fondy figures to hit o and in the field there isn comparison.

We Need A Four Laner To Lubbock . . .

"We need a four lane highway from Lubbock to the South through Slaton," says Dr. W. E. Payne, "and the folks of Slaton, Posey, Southland, and Post should start promoting such a construction."

The traffic to Slaton, Post and on to Snyder, and the oil fields is extra heavy and will likely increase in the near future believes the Doctor, and the sooner the paving is constructed the better driving conditions will be. That more oil development will be made can hardly be doubted, and with the present crowded conditions on the highway the risks for accidents will increase more and more.

"We do not want half way success with a three lane highway, as some of the territory is served," said Dr. Payne, "for a three lane would be worse than the two way lane we now have."

"The work could be done and the expense would be less right now than it would be in the future believes the Doctor and he wants to see some action on the proposition soon."

Who Gets Social Security? . . .

Most people seem to think that Social Security is a kind of insurance that will pay them an income after the age of sixty-five regardless of whether they are well fixed or whether they continue to be employed after that time or not. In other words, some folks think that it is money that the Government is putting up for them and that dear "Old Uncle" will return it with interest when they get old and feel like sitting back and taking life easy.

But such is not a fact. If you reach the age of sixty-five and desire to keep on working and can earn a living wage you don't get Social Security aid and you cannot until your earnings are limited to a very small sum each month. What becomes of the money you have paid into Social Security should you pass out before sixty-five is not very clear and is so tangled in Government red tape that most folks, who survive the one who has paid Social Security, do not want to go to the trouble to get the money.

Should you have worked in the past, and paid considerable Social Security, but gone into business of your own, your benefits have gradually been decreasing. Beginning next year those who are self-employed will be paying along with the rest of the folks.

It might seem that Social Security is for the folks who reach the age of sixty-five and are so lazy or worn out that they do not want to work, or are unable to produce any longer. The man or woman who is willing and eager to help give the world the things that are so sorely needed, is squeezed out of the picture.

Social Security may be a good thing to protect the nation against the pauperism of the aged, but it promises little to those who are able and willing to keep on working after the age of sixty-five.

We Look Forward . . .

Many visitors to this part of the country say that West Texas is one of the few sections of the nation where people are looking forward and not backward. Folks from this part of Texas say that even the old settled part of the state is showing the effect of deterioration along with the deterioration of the soil and the congestion of people in bigger and bigger cities.

That West Texas is still primarily an agricultural and cattle raising area may account for the fact that we do not know when we are licked and still look forward a future where the individual has some rights to do as he desires.

It is hard to realize that there is so much confusion and lack of aggressiveness in people who have lived a long time under the control of immense industrialization where individual interests are influenced so much by the foreman, the head of a department or the big boss himself. Most of the larger industrial concerns censor information concerning even their most minor activities, as strictly as Russia does news releases to the Western world.

West Texas is perhaps on its way to industrialization because of its low cost natural gas rates and its high priced markets. If trends in controls of the individuals thinking and actions keep spreading as they have in the past then the people in our area will succumb to the lethargy that is so apparent to us when we visit other parts of the country.

All of the responsibility for conditions over the country cannot be laid at the door of the big industries. The special interests of the farmers, the labor unions and the politicians is steadily whittling away at the individual freedoms of folks who cannot defend themselves individually and must submit to being taxed to keep up the prices of eggs, milk, beef and cotton.

We in this part of the country are all in favor of farm price control, but when it comes to controls on manufactured articles we howl our heads off. In the end it will be likely that we will be paying more in taxes, both hidden and direct, than we are for the actual value of the food items and the manufactured articles we buy.

When full industrialization hits this part of the country then we will find it just as hard to keep our individuality as the people of New England and those in the Southern part of the State do today.

His Honor Explains . . .

Herbert Y. Cartwright, the mayor of Galveston, faced the crime probe committee of the Texas House with truth and without vision. The laws are not enforced in Galveston, said His Honor, because we don't want them enforced. "We believe in open gambling and licensed prostitution."

And, thinks the Mayor, Galveston freedom from hypocrisy deserves praise. But is Mayor Cartwright quite right about that? There is the little matter of the oath he has taken to enforce his city's laws. I he quite square with that?

Mr. Cartwright's position is not new in this troubled world. The human race is prone to sin and has never lacked exploiters with the yearn to make a profit from that tendency to err. Galveston's case, as Mr. Cartwright puts it, is that an "open city" attracts conventions and Galveston makes money. The phrase "open city" is hypocritical in itself. What Mr. Cartwright means is that there is money to be made in Galveston out of the losses of women in games of chance and out of prostituting the bodies of women for hire. Officially, Galveston, according to its chief executive, is willing to join both the pandering trade and the profit that can be made out of the weakest of human wills. Civiely, the theory is as old as Sodom and Gomorrah.

Man's struggle upward has been made in the face of his tendency to fall. For at least the two thousand years since Jesus of Nazareth was born, the nobility of the human soul has striven to rise above the ethics of the barnyard. This country rose to greatness in the era when the puritan revolt placed woman on a pedestal in place of trying to wring a wretched penny from her sprawl in the gutter.

Vice and luxury have never made either a man or a nation great. Come to think of it, Mr. Cartwright, no city either. Not even an honest confession that Galveston prefers the mire can do that.—The Dallas News.

DALLAS (Special), June 20—For 13 years, Earl Harvey, Sr., of Dallas has contributed blood to the Texas Scottish Rite Hospital for Crippled Children. Mr. Harvey estimates that he has donated more than twelve gallons in surgery cases where blood transfusions are needed. In the picture with Mr. Harvey is one of the SRH Nurse's Aids with one of her grateful little patients. Parkland Hospital, blood bank for Scottish Rite Hospital, is currently appealing for more blood to replace an acute shortage of the life fluid.

Junior Rodeo To Be Held At Post

POST, Texas (Special) — The Post Junior Rodeo, Inc., will present the fourth annual Southwestern Championship Junior Rodeo at Post, Texas on August 14, 15, 16, 17, and 18. This is one week later than the rodeo was originally scheduled for. The rodeo is produced by and for boys and girls who are nineteen years of age or younger. Events to be included are: calf roping, bull riding, calf belling, cutting horse contest, bareback bronc riding, flag race, and barrel race.

More than two hundred and fifty boys and girls entered the show last year and more are expected this year. Goat Mayo of Petrolia is furnishing the stock for the rodeo and several specialty acts will be featured. Leon Miller of Post is secretary of the rodeo and should be contacted for any information on it. The second annual Quarter Horse Show to be held with the rodeo will be held on August 14 with the judging starting at nine a.m. Horses may be entered by adults as well as juniors. It will include all halter classes as well as a performance class. Entry blanks are available on request. Entries for the rodeo will close on August 13 at noon and the horse show entries will close at 8 a.m. on the 14. Two long parades featuring riding groups from all over West Texas, national magazine and movie coverage, top stock and specialty acts, outstanding junior cowboy and cowgirls, and champion horses should make the show one of the best to be presented this season.

Mr. Dick Ragsdale and Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Ecker are in Colorado on a two weeks vacation. The weather is cool, they have a big lake with lots of fish and have never had a better time.

Slaton Women Give Their Favorite Tested Recipes

Mrs. Leo Kitten's favorite recipe is "Oven Barbequed Chicken." When she serves it, the ladies rave about it and the men overeat, taking time only to grunt agreement with their wives. Everyone who has tasted it has asked for the recipe, and the barbecue sauce is being used by many of her friends on hot dogs and beef as well as chicken. She suggests adding a little mustard to the sauce if you use this recipe for making barbequed beef ribs.

Oven Barbequed Chicken

Mix:
1 cup catsup
1/4 cup worchester sauce
1/4 cup beefsteak sauce
1/4 cup water
1/4 cup vinegar
1/4 cup sugar
dash tabasco sauce

Cut 3 young chickens, about 2 lb. size, into quarters. Brown in 1 cup fat with 1 tablespoon butter added. Do not roll chicken in flour. Salt and put browned chicken in a roasting pan. Add 1 large onion and 2 or 3 cloves garlic tied in a thin cloth bag. Bake in a slow oven, 300 degrees F. for about two hours. Baste every 20 minutes while baking.

Mrs. Kitten came to Slaton 35 years ago, having previously lived in Indiana, Nebraska, and Kentucky. She has six children and seven grandchildren. Her hobbies are crocheting and cooking. She enjoys trying new recipes and has a large collection, including an old book of recipes written in the days when they included such instructions as "add butter the size of a hen egg, and throw in two handfuls of flour."

Mrs. Kitten is a member of St. Joseph's Catholic Church and of the Alter Society and the C. D. of A.

SLATONITES RETURN FROM TRIP TO NEW MEXICO

Mrs. Alta Mae Wright and Mrs. Billy Tom Taylor, her daughter, and Mrs. Vern Weaver have returned from a vacation trip to New Mexico. They went to Red River, where they enjoyed a nice cool stay. They saw the Pueblo Indian Village at Taos, the House of Governors at Santa Fe, the Twin Lakes and Blue Lake at Santa Rosa, Billy the Kid's grave and other points of interest at Fort Sumner. They stopped at Truth and Consequences and visited Mr. and Mrs. Devoney, who took them picnicking and motor boat riding on Elephant Butte Lake. They say the lake, which used to be 40 miles long is now only 10 miles long and there is some talk of closing it as a recreation area. Mrs. Wright says she never saw so many fish. People were catching them right and left.

Mrs. Dorothy Willoughby and son, Bobby, came by plane from Detroit, Mich., to spend their vacation with Mr. and Mrs. Dick Taylor. Accompanied by the Taylor's they left Wednesday morning for the mountains in New Mexico. They will visit points of interest in Santa Fe, Albuquerque, the White Sands, and Carlsbad Caverns. Mrs. Willoughby is Mrs. Taylor's niece.

Society Clubs

Homemakers Hold Regular Meeting

The Homemakers Class met July 12 in regular session in the new home of Mrs. Fannie Teague. Mrs. Troy Melton served as co-hostess. Mrs. E. M. Lott presided. The devotional was read by Mrs. L. S. Jeffcoat, followed by prayer. Discussions were heard on ways to improve class work and on buying a desk for the class room. Mrs. Lott gave a very interesting report on her trip to the convention.

The hostess served delicious refreshments to 21 members and 4 visitors. A free will offering of $2.27 was taken. Mrs. A. A. Devore led the class in prayer.

Davis' Attend State Florist's Convention

"Flowers are the language of the heart which everyone may understand." The old saying was made incarnate Tuesday and Wednesday in the floral exhibits and Period Arrangements at the Baker Hotel in Dallas. The occasion was the 38th Annual Convention of the Texas State Florists' Association.

Roses, gardenias, carnations, lilies, and even the faded lotus blossoms were evident in lavish color and arrangements. The scene was a bower of delight for homemakers seeking new ways to decorate dinner tables, tea party settings, and wedding scenes. Receiving particular attention was an oval table covered in pale pink satin with a pink net overskirt. From out a crystal urn spilled a profusion of pink carnations, roses, and pom-pom mums, and scattered about the table were pale pink gardenias. Crystal candelabra held tall, pink tapers.

Another table with eye-appeal was the Georgian English, which featured red roses and silver on a cut lace cloth over red satin.

The Chinese and Chinese Modern held a special appeal for some, and the South American theme was a vivid, colorful arrangement of red, yellow, and salmon colored blossoms set on a green metallic lace cloth.

Tables for special occasions were prominent, such as the Pink Elephant motif for cocktail parties, the stork in a hurricane lamp for baby showers and the silver Christmas trees with gardenia decoration for holiday wedding receptions.

Among the Period Arrangements were Modern, Early American, Renaissance, Georgian, Japanese Modern, and numerous others. The 17th and 18th century Dutch-Flemish exhibit was attracting considerable attention in this group, and a photograph of the French Period Arrangement will be used on the cover of a Southwestern magazine in the Spring.

As the poet, Thomas Hood, once wrote, "I remember, I remember the roses, red and white, the violets, the lily-cups" so, too, will the delegates to the 38th Convention of the Texas State Florists' Association remember . . . and remember!

Delegates to the convention from Slaton were Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Davis, George, and Peggy.

MEXICAN-GROWN CORTISONE—Will the "miracle" hormone drug Cortisone ever be plentiful and inexpensive? Above, a Mexican laborer carries what scientists believe to be the answer, "Cabeza de Negra," the root of a wild, poisonous plant. Synthetic Cortisone made from the vegetable source appears to be as effective as the Cortisone derived from ox-bile, being used at present in the treatment of arthritis, critical burns and some types of cancer.

Never Too Old

Dr. G. H. Branham of Menard, Mo., who lived here for several years about 1916, and might be remembered by some to the old-time celebration of his 100th birthday in October. Since that time he has gotten married.

Roscoe Mercer, Paul R. Mercer, Butch Hillen, Roy Saage, Quentin Wicker and Boyce Wicker are planning a two-week party in La Plata City, Colo. Mr. Roscoe Mercer is supposedly they are going to be at least part of the time.

chair roller hung in a groove in the concrete floor of our office. I move and heave around considerably and when the roller gets in the groove I have to wrestle and jump around all over the building and by the time I get the chair out I'm so boiling mad I could head a lioness in front of her boyfriend. When I get this problem worked out I'll be a very friendly man.

Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Wollbrueck and daughter, Dora, of Taylor, Texas, are visiting and attending to business in Slaton. They expect to be here about a month.

ed the cherries because their husbands had gotten use to the queer tasting stuff the grocers call jelly and if they ever tasted the real stuff again it might take a long time to get things under control again.

There are certain things that irritate me and get my blood pressure to going up and down like a monkey on a string. One of the biggest nuisances of my work is getting my double action revolving and few people want bananas when they are plentiful and at their best. They are left to rot on the fruit racks, but let the supply get scarce and the few that can be had, get tasteless and they are small but everybody wants bananas, says Hack Lasater at Piggly Wiggly's.

Now it seems that I am responsible for the hot weather, or at least for the discomfort of my wife. Most everybody has air conditioned homes except us and its my fault.

Personally I don't care for having a wet breeze blow down the back of my neck while I wrestle with the wind to keep my news paper from getting sucked out the front door and it seems to me that one might easily get an unexpected shower bath unless there is a good understanding between you and the air conditioner. Up to this summer I have been able to postpone the installation of one of the squirrel cages in our window by saying that I felt sure that great improvements would soon be made in them, but this excuse does not get the approval that it used to do and when we go into homes where the temperature is under 100 I get an accusing look that reminds me of the first time I forgot our marriage anniversary.

And speaking of marriage anniversaries I'd like to know why it is that men are supposed to remember them and the women can do so or not without causing a terrible upset in the ordinary run of things. It seems to me that the women started the whole business and they should be thankful that they are having such an easy time and should get their can openers out and have an extra special dinner on each marriage anniversary.

It seems that women don't like to make home made preserves jelly and stuff like that any more and us men are going to have to learn to eat the mullage that comes in little thimble size glasses at the grocery. The only way we know what the stuff is will be to read the label on the little jars and it won't be long before the art of making jelly and canning stuff will be lost arts.

What has brought on this exposure of the modern woman is the fact that we had a lot of compass cherries to ripen in our back yard. After my wife had stewed up a lot of jelly and got her temper to the boiling point we tried to give the surplus supply away. Would our neighbors take them? No. The women all said that they did not know how to make jelly, did not want to know how and requested that we keep secret that they had been offered by A.M.J.

There are times, especially at three o'clock in the morning, when the world seems to be in one awful mess. The Iranian problems, what to do in Korea, and what will the Russians do next, which plumber would consent to come out and fix the hydrant that is dripping, so that I cannot sleep, and whether it would be a good idea to phone the man who lives three doors down the street and tell him that his dog is barking, always come up for consideration.

And then there is the problem of a place in the middle of my back that cannot be reached and needs scratching. It would be a relief to get up and go sit on the front porch but my wife would surely hear me sneaking through the front door, that groans and moans every time it is opened, and she'd mistake me for a burglar or ask if I had suddenly gone off my rocker, either one of which would call for a long argument and so I stay awake and listen to the water drip, the big bug butting its head against the screen, wipe the sweat off the back of my neck and wonder why I feel so delapidated when morning comes. The responsibility of things is certainly heavy these days and I don't know yet, after trying four places, where to get a plumber.

The boys at the Post Office are in a switch. Their supply of paste has expired. The Government is out of glue, according to the notation on the requisition slip, and with things coming apart, such as packages that the women bring in, the place is getting very well cluttered up.

It's surprising the way some things come into the Post Office, says T. E. McClannahan. Some of the packages are tied with sewing thread, some with rope and some with pieces of wire. The packages and letters come untied or unglued and fall to pieces, and the boys in the Post Office need glue in their business as much as a barber needs adhesive plaster to mend his customers. It's going to be a messy place if the Government doesn't come to the rescue with some paste mighty soon.

And it seems that the Post Office is not the only place in town that has troubles. Doctor W. E. Payne says that folks with a skinned thumb phone him in the middle of the night and want immediate attention, everybody turned on their water when the supply is low, says Water Superintendent Davis, nobody wants the cheaper cuts of meat says John Berkeley,

Dear Mr. Jackson:

I have only received one issue of the Slatonite since I got here two weeks ago and that is a slow way to keep abreast of the times around Slaton. And, as Slaton is still "my town" as well as my in-still it is only natural that The Slatonite is important to yours truly.

The weather here reminds me of mid-October in Slaton. It is too cool for B.V.D.'s, and too hot for long handles. Good place to sleep, eat and visit, but not my choice for a place to live. Give me the good old Texas sunshine and hospitality. Even with the wind and sand, it is a very comfortable and relaxing place of abode.

We expect to be here until mid-Sept. So I will notify you when, to discontinue sending The Slatonite to the above address.

Respect, yours,
A. P. Wilson

"AMERICO" IS AMERICA BOUND—For the first time in 16 years, the Italian training ship Amerigo Vespucci will pay her respects to the country named after Italy's famous explorer. Before setting sail and starting out from Leghorn, Italy, 140 cadets, looking forward to liberty in Annapolis, Boston and New York, manned the ship's yards to acknowledge the bon voyage wishes of Italian Defense Minister R. Pacciardi and U. S. Ambassador James C. Dunn.

Fair Gets Two New Divisions

Two new livestock divisions have been added to this year's Panhandle-South Plains Fair to be held in Lubbock October 1-6, fair officials announced this week. An Aberdeen-Angus division and a Chester White division, both on the exhibit program for the first time this year, will boost entry lists and premiums at the thirty-fourth annual fair.

Preparations for this year's fair are well underway, with all but three superintendents named and work under way on the fair catalogue. The Bill Hames Shows, Inc., has been contracted to provide carnival facilities.

The fair catalogs, almost completed, will be ready for distribution next month.

IN OIL TURMOIL — Iranian Premier Mohammed Mossadegh had many reasons for gnawing his nails at a recent session of Parliament held in Teheran. As a result of actions that forced British oil technicians to leave Iran, the nervous premier had precipitated an international oil crisis. In the ensuing turmoil, Parliament gave Mossadegh a special vote of confidence. But fearing assassination, the premier's nerves remained ragged.

SIMPLY UN-BEAR-ABLE — When the heat is too much to bear, according to the grizzled gent above who has had to bear ever since he can remember, there's only one thing to do: fold your hands, tilt your head back, and bellow until you feel better. Bruin developed this ritual at Vincennes Zoo in Paris. He's still there and still using it.

"My ranch 'workhorse' runs for only 2 2/5¢ a mile!"

Ranch owner George Stephens proved for himself, in the big Economy Run, just how little it costs to run his Ford Truck!

"The Lazy J's Ford Express did itself proud in the Ford Truck Economy Run," says Stephens. "Daily records kept during the entire six months show that our Ford Truck ran up a total of 5,109 miles. My out-of-pocket expense for gas, oil, maintenance and repairs was exactly $123.51 . . . about a $20 bill each month . . . only 2 2/5 cents a mile!"

The Ford Truck POWER PILOT carburetion-ignition system is one reason why Ford Trucks cost so little to run, in ranch work or any work. The POWER PILOT gives you the most power from the least gas. In the low-price field, only Ford has it!

Two building permits issued to W. L. Brashears for the construction of two $10,000 homes in the 13th addition in Levelland boosted the final June total to $55,125 this week.

The total thus far in 1951 is $438,200, considerably below the same period of last year when more than $1,500,000 in permits gave the city its second largest year of building.

Two twisters, riding in on the tail of a blinding rainstorm, and mixed liberally with hail and a driving wind, struck heavy blows at Olton and surrounding farms Sunday night.

Damage in the city to Olton itself was heavy, with many houses feeling the force of the storm on roofs or windows.

An announcement from the Chamber of Commerce office reveals that Post merchants and business men have decided to re-change their closing time to 6 p. m. on week days.

In doing this they are revoking a decision made recently to close at 5 p. m. during the summer. This new decision was reached earlier this week when several of the merchants and business men met at the Chamber of Commerce office and decided the 6 p. m. closing time was more plausible.

Army air force engineers were in Andrews this week looking over the county air field and investigating the possibility of locating an auxiliary field here for the jet fighter school at Big Spring.

John R. Slay, real estate division of the corps of engineers, of Fort Worth, conferred with Andrews county commissioners court here Thursday on the proposition.

The problem of lengthening and widening one of the runways was discussed. It calls for the acquisition of more land by the county as the present runway is not long or wide enough to accommodate jet trainer planes.

The court, meeting in a called session, agreed to secure the necessary land for lengthening of the runway.

The Levelland area of Cochran County reported one new location and one new completion according to reports submitted to the Midland District office of the Oil and Gas Division of the Railroad Commission for Texas this last week.

One amended location was reported for the Levelland field of Hockley County.

The Yellowhouse field of Hockley county gained one new oiler.

Loan contract and other necessary papers making the Poka-Lambro Rural Telephone Cooperative, which has headquarters in Tahoka, eligible for requisition of funds was received here Tuesday by Sam L. Allen, the cooperative coordinator.

Mr. Allen had been reassured last week of a loan approval of $910,000.00 of the $1,837,000.00 allotted for the project by George W. Haggard, acting REA administrator who was killed in a plane crash early Saturday.

Construction of a rural cooperative telephone system in the Southland, Tahoka, O'Donnell, and Lamesa areas is assured.

Two men died about 5 p. m. Saturday in the wreckage of the Piper Cub plane near the spot where it fell in a cotton field about 13 miles west of Plainview. Killed instantly were George Tom Allen, 30 of the Halway community located near the crash site; and Dan Clark, 33, who resided near Olton. A witness said the light plane fell after spinning out of a stall at an altitude of possibly less than 500 feet. Both men were farmers.

We feel sorry for farmers that are not fortunate enough to be farming in the Petersburg area, the favored spot of the South Plains, where cotton, feed (and a few weeds) and alfalfa are far advanced and growing season and conditions are ideal with ample moisture to carry along for quite a while, all caused by a nice rain Sunday night that amounted to all the way from 1.25 to 2.25 inches over the area. Here in Petersburg it amounted to 1.67 inches.

—The Petersburg Journal

Gusts of hot wind blowing across the South Plains have made city fogging somewhat difficult. Fire Chief H. B. Johnson reported this week, but the winds have subsided long enough in the early morning and late evening hours to permit the city's fogger to make its rounds.

The local sprayer completed a round of the town Tuesday morning and is now at work spraying barrels and containers that may be breeding places for insects.

Also included in the spraying rounds this week was the city dump grounds, one and one-half miles southeast of town where the biggest concentration of mosquitoes in the neighborhood was reported. The chief said that high weeds around the grounds seemed to harbor swarms of the pests and were thoroughly doused with the DDT mixture.

For next week, only the basketball meetings will not be held. When Mr. Poulos returns the club will continue to meet as usual. The swimming group will meet however, Thursday night, at the side of City Hall square, with Marey and Bill Kelly in charge.

Lutheran Church Is Rededicated

Sunday morning, July 29, is red-letter day for the Lutherans in the Slaton area. Special festivities will mark the rededication of the new Evangelical Lutheran Church.

The Rev. C. C. Ehler, new pastor of the St. John Lutheran Church, Wilson, will deliver the sermon, while the Rev. Lowell Green, local pastor, will serve as liturgist and officiate in the dedicatory rite.

Special music will be provided by the local choir, consisting of "O Lord, How Manifold Are Thy Works," Joseph Barnby, and "Deum Laudamus," from the Anglican chants. Miss Burdine Beck of Slaton will be at the organ.

Rededication of the renovated church, which was recently moved to Slaton from Southland, marks the beginning of the congregation building program. It is hoped the members that work on the new church may be begun at an early date. The Slaton Lutheran Church is affiliated with the Lutheran World Federation, the National Lutheran Council, the American Lutheran Conference, and the Texas District of the American Lutheran Church.

Mayor Lee Wootton is expected to return home from the hospital Saturday. He underwent surgery week ago. He will be back at his desk in a few days.

"Rusty" Kitten, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Kitten, left early Sunday morning for Boulder, Colorado, where she will attend Colorado University for the summer session.

LABOR EFFICIENCY IN POULTRY-RAISING

The way to greater profits in poultry-raising is through improved labor efficiency, or the production of more poultry meat and eggs with about the same labor output.

Improved labor efficiency is an objective you should keep in mind at all times. By watching your management program carefully and observing sound management practices, you can do much to accomplish success in poultry-raising. Below are a few suggestions that should help you realize a more productive, more profitable poultry flock.

Pen Arrangement

In setting up your pens remember that large pens save time in care and management of the birds and permit a more efficient use of equipment. For example, a pen of 300 birds requires only half as many waterers as two pens of 150 birds each.

Arrangement of feeders is also important. It is a good idea to place feeders in a row so you can service them quickly and easily. Birds will eat just as readily with the feeders in this position. There is certainly no need for the feeders to be located in every corner of the poultry house.

The nests should be placed as near to the door of the pen as possible. By having the nests close to the door you can gather eggs from them without walking through the pen two or three times a day.

More Layers

Greater efficiency also may be gained by increasing the number of layers on your farm. Since time and labor required to do most jobs does not increase as fast as numbers are increased, you possibly can raise a few more birds without greatly expanding your present efforts.

Mechanical equipment also makes poultry farming easier. You should make use of as much mechanical equipment as you can. And the more automatic such equipment is the better. As an example, automatic waterers reduce the watering job to almost nothing. Another labor saver is an elevator to raise feed to a bin at the top of the laying house. Gates arranged so as to return feed to the pens also save time and steps. These and numerous other types of equipment enable one man to take care of more chickens.

Of course, a planned work schedule is of great importance. By combining such tasks as feeding and egg-gathering, or watering and medicating, you can reduce the number of trips to the poultry house. By saving time and labor, you reduce costs and increase the profit margin.
