First Freeze Contest Winners Have Prizes At Slatonite Office

Ninety-seven answers to the First Freeze contest came into the Slatonite office during the time the contest was in progress. As was stated in the rules, the West Texas Gas Companies thermometer, which is on top of the building here, has been used to make the awards.

As the instrument showed that 32 degrees was reached at 11:15, the prize of $5.00 and six months subscription to the Slatonite, will go to Don Crow, whose prediction shows 11:24 on Nov. 3rd. To Mrs. H. L. Marsh, as a consolation prize, goes a one year subscription to the Slatonite, her guess was Nov. 3rd, at 1:30 p. m., and to the following, who estimated that the freeze would come on Nov. 3rd, but missed the exact time of the night that the freeze would come, goes a box of Christmas cards: Mrs. J. C. Hennington, Mrs. Robert Schumm, Donald Polk, Mrs. John Furr and Mrs. Wayne K. Smith.

According to Billy Ball, who was an officer in the Army during the last world war, and who was stationed in the Arctic with a weather observation unit, the proper way to take weather temperatures is to place the instrument at least six feet above the ground. At ground level the temperature always shows considerably lower than it does in the higher levels, and that is the reason the West Texas Gas Company thermometer did not agree with the readings of many other instruments.

According to the Lubbock papers the thermometer reached a low of 32 on Nov. 2nd., but as was stated in the rules of the Slatonite contest, the thermometer at the West Texas Gas Company was used, and the lowest it showed on that night was 34 degrees.

It is possible that the first freeze contest may become an annual feature with the Slatonite, as so many folks seemed to be interested in it. Next year it will be better worked out with stricter rules than it was this time.

Winners in this contest will receive their awards when they call at the Slatonite for them.

National Book Week Observed By Local Schools

"Make Friends With Books," is the slogan for National Book Week, November 12-18. The students, faculty and patrons of Slaton Elementary Schools are making plans to carry out the slogan. Children can not make friends with books unless they have ready access to them. Last year through the sales of book tags, $96 were collected for the purchase of library books. The library chairman, Mrs. L. O. Kenney, and the faculty selected and ordered over a hundred books for our elementary schools. As room prizes for P.T.A. attendance, books were given. A special credit arrangement with a national publishing company, made by the P.T.A., allowed a 20 per cent discount on the purchase of all books. This gave more books per dollar value.

Book markers will be given to the children to distribute again this year. Any contributions made by parents, relatives and friends of the children will be appreciated. You are urged to help make a good library for the elementary school children of Slaton.

AUXILIARY PLANS XMAS PARTY FOR FIREMEN

The Firemen's Auxiliary met in its regular monthly meeting, Nov. 6 at the fire station. In a business meeting, plans were made for a Christmas party to be held on December 4. The party will be for members of the auxiliary, firemen and their families. Refreshments will be served and gifts exchanged.

About 8 members attended the meeting.

Guests of J. H. Brewer, sr., and family Sunday were his nephew and wife, Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Brewer from Midland. Also visiting the Brewers' was their son, J. H., jr., a student at Texas Tech.

Allen Dane of Ft. Worth was a business visitor in Slaton Monday.

Joe Brewer of Fort Worth visited last week with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Brewer, sr.

Musical toys, $5.95 and up. Lay-away one for Christmas now. Champions Jewelry.

November 23 Will Be Thanksgiving Day In Slaton

There has been quite a little speculation in Slaton since Governor Allan Shivers proclaimed two Thanksgiving days for this year, as to which one would be observed here. According to Mayor L. B. Wootton, Slaton will celebrate Thanksgiving on the traditional fourth Thursday in November, which will be November 23. Stores will be closed that day so that everyone may be in observance of the holiday.

The price of your Thanksgiving turkey this year will be about the same as it was last year according to some local dealers in turkeys. There is a chance however, that they may be a little cheaper on foot, and possibly a little higher dressed.

Legion Auxiliary To Sell Poppies In Slaton Today

Honor the dead and cheer the living heroes of two world wars today, November 10, by wearing an American Legion Auxiliary poppy. These bright red poppies are a tribute to brotherhood—a memorial to courage—and a practical way to help our disabled to help themselves. "There's a long, long trail a-riding" for most of those disabled veterans who have not yet won a hard-earned chance at their dream of postwar living.

The poppy is his badge of courage—his symbol of hope. Buy one and wear it proudly in memory of one who was dear to you.

Rainbow Girls Attend Meeting In Amarillo

Several Rainbow girls from Slaton attended School of Instruction in Amarillo, Saturday, November 4 from 9 a. m. until 4 p. m. Mrs. Martha Marie Whitfield, Supreme Instructor of Dallas, conducted the school. There were approximately 265 Rainbow girls at the meeting.

Attending from Slaton were Joyce Burns, Ethlyn Young, Annette Wilson, Nancy Clifton, and mother advisor, Mrs. Jack Cook.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Ayers returned Sunday from a few weeks stay in their cottage on Lake Texhoma, near Sherman, Texas.

Mrs. A. D. Williams of San Bernardino, Calif., daughter of Mrs. A. C. Benton, underwent major surgery last week. Mrs. Williams is a former Slatonite.

With gratitude in our hearts, we the surviving Americans, pause on November 11, in memory of those many thousands of men and women who gave their lives on the field of battle so that we might continue to enjoy the many freedoms offered by our democracy.

When we think of the supreme sacrifice made by these innumerable heroes of World Wars I and II, and the added number of Americans who have given their lives so recently in the Korean War, there comes a sense of great pride for those men and women who placed the welfare of their country above their own lives.

It is not enough for us to set aside one day out of the year to recall the memory of those dead heroes. It is through our determination to live up to the principles for which they died, that we can repay the debt we owe to them. We can do this by striving always to make America a stronger nation, not only militarily, but by upholding the ideals and standards of democracy.

As we remember the great battles of past wars we must remember, too, that until the greatest battle, that of bringing about world peace, is won, we will not have fulfilled the purpose for which our loved ones died.

Slaton Likely To Get Deep Test In The Near Future Indicated

A big pile of pipe, that is stacked in the rear of the Jack Berkeley trucking companies office on the northeast corner of the square, has caused considerable comment by oil minded folks around town.

The pipe, according to grapevine information, belongs to the Birdwell Oil Co. of Snyder, and was hauled here last Monday. There are conflicting reports as to what the pipe is to be used for; one that it is for a pipe line, and the other that it will be used on an oil well that is to be started somewhere near Slaton at an early date.

As there is no information concerning any kind of pipe line that is under construction for this part of the country, it is probable that the oil well story is nearer correct.

There are continued rumors concerning a deep test well that is to be started soon to the north of Slaton. Reports on the Holland well, where operations were resumed about three weeks ago after it had been abandoned at around 4000 feet, are that the well is now down to 7000 and that the contract is for 9000, if oil is not brought in before that depth is reached.

The Holland well is about six and one half miles south of Slaton. Very little information is available concerning the operations at this test.

As most all of the land around Slaton is under lease there is no great activity in the leasing of land, but there are a good many sales on royalties.

A number of leases are to expire in the near future and it is probable that the reports concerning test wells are more or less dependable.

TIGERS CLASH WITH ANTELOPES TONITE IN 29th ANNUAL MEETING

Supt. Vardy, Zac Henderson, Leon Moore, Bob Taylor, Coach Poulos

In a game that local fans have been looking forward to all season, Coach Tony Poulos' Slaton Tigers clash with Bing Bingham's powerful Post Antelopes here tonight at Tiger Field in the 29th annual meeting of these two clubs.

It is expected that a capacity crowd will witness this meeting between two great rivals. Additional stands, which will accommodate more than seven hundred football enthusiasts, have been erected on the west side of Tiger Stadium and will be ready for use tonight.

The Tiger football team had November 3 off and have been holding strenuous workouts since their last game on October 27 with Levelland. Coming out of that game with few serious injuries the Tigers should be in top shape for this battle.

A victory over Post will not mean much to the Tigers, who are resting next to the cellar in 4-A conference play with a lone victory against four setbacks. On the other hand, an Antelope win would give the Garza County boys another crack at the district title. They have lost only one game so far this season, that being to the Defending State Champion Littlefield Wildcats.

Last year the team from Slaton went into the game at Post rated as underdogs but squeezed out a 7-6 victory to give them the 4-A South Half championship. They lost to Littlefield in playoffs, however.

The Post squad was weakened considerably this year by losses via graduation, and are reportedly fielding one of the smallest teams in this region. But they have shown plenty of power during this 1950 campaign in taking seven wins with only one loss.

Jack Kirkpatrick, 155-pound field general, was one of the main cogs in the Post offensive last season, and his key passing and efficient ball handling has kept the Antelopes in the win column this year. Rounding out the backfield are R. J. Babb, 130-pound halfback, Norman Cash, 107-pound halfback, and Billy Jones, fullback. They have teamed up to cause the opposition plenty of trouble.

The Tigers may be rated as underdogs by some, but with no injuries on the list and spirits high, they will enter the game tonight with hopes of victory.

Little Interest Is Shown In General Election Here

Very little interest was shown in the general election here, Nov. 7, with only about 275 people voting. There were several people voting the Republican ticket, according to J. H. Brewer.

Mrs. S. H. Adams arrived back in Slaton Saturday evening after being in Princeton, N. J. about eleven months with her two daughters.

Recruit Robert C. Stone, Co. B, 46th Engr. Const. Bn., Fort Sill, Okla., visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Stone over the week end.

Seth Thomas mantle clocks, $33.00 and up. Champions Jewelry.

WILD CATTERS STARTS DRILL

A rig was being placed yesterday on the J. O. Long place, 6 1/2 miles north of Slaton by the Birdwell Oil Company with headquarters in Snyder. The location is only a short distance from the W. E. Smart Ranch and to one of Judge Smith's farms.

The contract is for 8000 feet depth and more if necessary.

Many Farmers Say Freeze "What The Doctor Ordered"

While the freeze last week damaged the late cotton and grain, many farmers feel that the dip in temperature was a blessing in disguise.

A considerable amount of the crop was planted early and a number of the bolls had reached the stage where they were not developing, but were not open. Mr. Bert Andrews was seriously considering having his cotton defoliated just before the freeze came and says he saved several hundred dollars by waiting a few days. On the other hand J. H. Brewer, whose grain was planted late on a deep plowed field says the feed was much better on the field than it was on other fields in the vicinity, but that it had not ripened as quickly as it would have if he had followed his usual custom of plowing his field in the regulation way. The freeze damaged his feed crop considerably. His cotton would have produced more also if the freeze had come about the middle of November.

T. H. Basinger, cashier at the Campbell Gin, says that he does not believe that the freeze damaged the crop to any great extent, and that it helped some fields and damaged others. He estimates that about half the crop in the immediate area has been gathered.

Cotton pulling machines will be more in evidence and the transient laborers are expected to start moving out of this area slowly in the next two weeks.

Many farmers agree that they are getting more cotton out of their fields than they expected to get and most of them expect the Government to lift restrictions on acreage next year.

Miss Pratt Gives Demonstration For Club Members

The Junior Civic and Culture Club met November 7 in the home of Mrs. Charlie Walton at 445 W. Lynn. A demonstration on the "Master Mix" was given by Miss Clara Pratt, Home Demonstration Agent. The rolls she mixed were cooked and served as part of the refreshments.

Nineteen members were present and the following guests: Miss Rebecca Bolding, Mrs. Joe Belote, and Miss Elizabeth Elliott. Viola Mae Walton assisted her mother in serving.

Mrs. J. A. Wright attended a business session and dinner of the South Plains Music Teachers Association in the Yaqui Room of the Hilton Hotel in Lubbock, on November 3rd.

Sunbeam irons, two and one-half and four and one-half pounds, $12.95 at Champions Jewelry.

New Stands At Tiger Stadium Ready For Use

The new stands added on the west side of Tiger Stadium are completed and ready for use, according to Superintendent P. L. Vardy. The press box will probably be completed in time for the Post-Slaton game tonight, he said.

The new stands will seat approximately seven hundred people. It is of steel under structure on concrete piers. It is 96 feet long and 10 rows high, with a protective steel rail all the way around. The old wooden stands have been moved, allowing passage way between them and the addition.

Last Rites Read November 7 For Slaton Resident

Ambrose Ford Pierce, 81, for the past 15 years a resident of Slaton, died at 3:45 p. m. Sunday at his home.

Pierce is survived by his wife, one daughter, Mrs. Will Wright, Post; a brother, Medford Pierce, Ector; a sister, Mrs. Lucy Dulaney, Ector, and four grandchildren. Funeral services were held in the Slaton Church of Christ at 2:30 Tuesday. Burial was in the Englewood Cemetery.

First Aid Course To Be Offered At Local Fire Station

A class in First Aid will begin at the Fire Station Monday night, November 13. "Anyone wishing to take the course is invited to come or contact me by phone," said Bart Jones, who will conduct the class.

There will be no charge for those wishing to enroll in the course.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Dikson flew to California last week to spend a vacation with relatives there.

Mrs. John Hannah has been ill in Mercy Hospital, but is now at her home on South 10th.

Parents Elated Over Election Of Thornton As Colorado Governor

C. C. Thornton generously said "Dan takes after his mother" Wednesday, after learning that their son, who was the Republican candidate for governor of Colorado, had won the election. The proud parents were very elated early Wednesday morning when Governor Thornton telephoned them to share his victory with them. Mr. Thornton feels "just wonderful" and Mrs. Thornton was "singing like a mockingbird" after being advised of his election. Mr. Thornton said the governor was very tired after his five weeks of personal campaigning all over the state of Colorado, but he was much encouraged and extremely happy.

To the Thorntons, who have reared six children, Dan is just one of the family. They are proud of all their children, and have tried to give them a strong foundation on which to build their lives. "We are pleased with all of their achievements," said Mr. Thornton.

Mr. and Mrs. Thornton have been married about fifty years and feel that they have conquered life in a quiet way. Their motto through the years has been "What ye sew, that shall ye also reap," which has proved to be very true for them.

They plan to go to Colorado to visit their son as soon as possible. They hope that they can be present for his inauguration, which will be sometime around the first of the year.

The governor-elect attended the Slaton Schools, but graduated from Lubbock High School. He is also a graduate of Texas Tech. He has served as a State Senator in Colorado, been a movie actor and a football player for Tech and U.C.L.A. in Los Angeles, Calif. He is an ardent sportsman, and a well-known rancher and cattleman in Gunnison, Colorado.

His parents, who live at 755 S. 12th in Slaton, express sincere thanks and appreciation to the people of Slaton for their interest and good wishes in the success of their son.

THIS and THAT FROM HERE and THERE

ODDS and ENDS—When I was about to leave out on this last trip down to Central Texas some two weeks ago, everybody was advising me to "Be Careful." I think I must have heard that admonition a dozen times. In fact, it was the last thing that was said to me as I drove out. So I went down the highway through Post, Snyder, Sweetwater, and Abilene with that warning ringing in my ears, "Be Careful," "Be Careful." And I was careful; but I met up with a white-face heifer down the road that wasn't. She was downright fool-hardy. She didn't seem to use as much judgment as a drunken Mexican coming up highway No. 87 from O'Donnell. And her fool-hardiness came very near to costing her her life.
 —The Lynn Co. News

AROUND TOWN—When the town of Hereford is fortunately unable to provide any items of sensational news the Brand office usually comes through. Jim O'Hair, new shop foreman at the Brand, was taken to the hospital Monday about 8:15 a.m. after he was hit with 110 volts of electricity while attempting to make a minor repair on a linotype machine. Jim was holding a trouble light and was perfectly grounded against the machine when the drop cord shorted and sent the terrific voltage through him. He was unable to release it until the current was cut off.
 —The Sunday Brand

DRIFTING SANDS—Tuesday was United Nations Day. Bells were rung, and fitting ceremonies were observed on the Fifth Anniversary of its organization. The United Nations organization apparently is stronger to-day than at any time since its founding. The Korean war fought largely by United States but in the name of the U.N. is largely responsible for the prestige it now enjoys.

 It will grow in power and respect as long as it puts down aggression anywhere in the world. This is a big order, but that is what it will take.
 —The Andrews Co. News

STRICKLINLY SPEAKING—All of us live to learn. Grandma was real sore because the kids and other femes of the community teased her about a shiner, she received by "running into" a door knob. She then raised a rucus with the wrong dame about the matter and got another shiner. Some people are never satisfied. And speaking of rukes, reminds us that Deputy Sheriff Cliff Jones told a reporter for this sheet that in a raid the Sheriff's department had arrested 16 of the local gambling fraternity, all prominent citizens, and offered to give the names if we wanted to print them.
 We deferred the matter, but if there is another raid, we are going to print the names of all participants if it takes all the capital letters we have in the office. Grown men have no more right to break the law than the teenagers. And most of us are all on their necks if they deviate in the least from the path of righteousness.
 —The Terry Co. News

TRENDS—It was a hot Poppy Day and her feet hurt. If she just hadn't worn those darn high heels—
 Well, only a few more popples left. Soon she could dash home and relax. Relax! What a laugh! She corrected her thinking to "dash home and start washing". She began to wonder how the baby setter was getting along with her three youngsters, but her mind kept coming back to her feet. Gosh, she wished she could step out of her shoes!
 Well, she couldn't, so she might as well quit griping about her feet, her children and the washing. After all, this was the one day of the whole year she gave to those almost forgotten heroes—those poor hospitalized guys.

 She twisted her pretty face into a smile:
 "A veteran-made poppy for you sir?"
 The martyred voice that answered was tinged with sarcasm:
 "Do I have to buy one?"
 "That did it! That and the heat, and her aching feet, and her worry about the children, and her waiting washing. She shot back:
 "Would you rather have to buy one or have to make one?"
 John Q's face broke into a slow, red smile as he breathed ever so softly:
 "Sister, did you ever tell me off—and did I ever need it!"
 The money he put into the donation box was folded.
 Don't forget Poppy Day on November 11th.
 —The Crosbyton Review

EDITORIAL—Maybe some benefits will result in the long run from the federal child labor law which prohibits children under 16 years of age to work in agriculture during school hours.
 Although the law will work serious hardships on the farmers in harvesting this fall's crops—cutting overall labor supply in the area by at least 40 percent—we believe adjustments will be made in time and that it will work to our advantage in the years to come, even if the law remains in its present status.
 Since the farmer's normal labor supply will be reduced sharply, he will be forced to resort to other methods to harvest his crop. Mechanization would seem to be the logical method in this area. As more and more mechanization is used in gathering our crops, it will mean the farmer's labor expenditures will be greatly whittled down, that he will realize more profits from his crops and that considerable more money will remain at home.
 For years now a large percent of our crop revenue has gone out of the county. By employing more mechanized equipment in harvesting, more money would remain in the pockets of the farmer.

Thin, but Efficient
 The film of palm oil on the finished hot dipped tin plate used in making "tin cans" is so thin that it can barely be seen with the naked eye. It is five times thicker than the average coating of tin on steel.

Newspapers May Be Hard To Get

It is the time of the year when a great many people renew their newspaper subscriptions and the Fort Worth Star-Telegram is offering advanced special rates on both new and renewal subscriptions. In a recent letter the Circulation manager of the Star-Telegram stated that there are indications that conditions similar to those that prevailed during World War II might prevail again and that the feature rates might be cancelled at any time, and new subscriptions become unobtainable.

Here are the rates now available on the Star-Telegram:
1 year by mail with Sunday, $13.95; in combination with the Slatonite, $15.95. The Star-Telegram, 1 year without the Sunday edition, $12.60. The Star-Telegram, 1 year by mail without the Sunday edition and the Slatonite, $14.60.

The Star-Telegram usually offers Bargain Prices later in the year, but it is likely that after the next sixty days that these special prices will be withdrawn.

The rates are for either renewal subscriptions or for new subscribers, and if you would like to get this paper along with the Slatonite we advise subscribing now at the Slatonite office.

Any one wishing to subscribe or renew mail subscriptions for the Lubbock Avalanche can do so at the Slatonite office. The present rates are: Avalanche with Sunday, $10.95, without Sunday $9.00 per year. Those who wish to subscribe to both the Avalanche and the Slatonite will be charged $11.95 for Avalanche with Sunday and $11.00 without the Sunday Avalanche-Journal.

Even if your Avalanche and Slatonite do not expire at the same time the renewals can be made, and it is not necessary to wait until your Avalanche expires to renew, as the expiration dates will be moved up from the date of expiration, and not on the day when payments are made.

It would be well to subscribe now for the Avalanche, as the same conditions that control the Star-Telegram are likely to have the same effect upon all other newspapers over the nation.

Contending Earnestly for the Faith

Some one who writes is interested in the use Jesus made of the psalm in worship. All can see the simple use he made of it if we read carefully his teachings. I shall here point out the only use he made of it in worship.

First, we do notice that he taught the use of the psalm in worship (Jas. 5:13). Second, we notice that he commanded us to use the psalm in singing, (Jas. 5:13), in speaking, (Ephs. 5:19), and in teaching, (Col. 3:16). But you will also notice that there is no word or example for playing on a mechanical instrument the psalm in worship. If any follows the simple teaching of Jesus, he shall only sing the psalm in worship; this is the only use in worship Jesus authorized. I sincerely hope this some one is seeking only to follow Jesus. May God help us all to do just that.

A.M.J.

It is very nice and convenient to have a proof reader, especially when one is such a sorry speller as I am. Some weeks ago I had an occasion to get familiar with the word rhinoceros, and never having tried to put the word down on paper before I started screaming for some one to look it up in the dictionary. Miss Joyce Sherrill, who has the dubious honor of reading most of the proofs for the Slatonite, dutifully got the dictionary and spelled the word out for me, which I, being a little deaf in my south ear, got down "rhinocers", at least that is the way it got into the paper and now the "Old He" in "Stricklinly Speaking" a feature column in the Terry County Herald, calls me to task for not adding a few "cererrers" to the word.

As Miss Sherrill's shoulders are broad when she puts on her new fall coat, I am dumping the blame of the badly misspelled word on her and have given her quite a balling out to satisfy Mr. Stricklin's rigid demands, and after a close inspection I'd like to inform him that the name rhinoceros is for one rhinoceros or a whole flock of them, like the word sheep, and in case he ever gets into a mess and wants to use such a useless word, rhinoceros, he won't add any cererrers.

Not only did Editor Stricklin point the finger of shame at me for the rhinoceros, but the Methodist minister, Rev. Herring, reported that he has been wondering just what kind of animal a rhinoceros could be, could be it is closely related to a newspaper man, half blind, dumb and with a hide two inches thick.

A good many years ago when I notified my father, who was familiar with the proper spelling of most every word that had been thought up, that I was dallying with the idea of going into the newspaper business. He said, "son any one who does not know any more about spelling than you do should never go into the newspaper business." So like all dutiful sons I did not take my father's advise, and I think I have been sorry ever since.

There are occasions when I do not feel so sorry for myself as usual, and I enjoyed feeling mighty proud of my efforts not long ago when "ann england," who writes "annagrams" in the Morton Tribune picked up one of my columns and repeated it in the Morton Tribune. "annagrams" gets quoted all over the country, and the Cosmopolitan magazine not long ago complimented her by using some of her comments, so when she feels like my stuff is good enough to feed her very particular readers, I know that I am improving even if I have been at it a long time.

Mrs. England said that the reason she was using "Just Talk" was because she was feeling puny. I hope she was not entirely delirious.

Things can certainly go haywire around this place. If you are as close an observer as Preacher Herring or Editor Stricklin you found two headings in last week's paper for "This And That From Here And There" and you did not find "Just Talk." That calamity was caused by the carelessness of some one in the composing room. It nearly broke my heart, and I'm going to try to improve things around here, especially the spelling of rhinoceros.

If there is any way for me to get in a jam I'll automatically go to a lot of trouble to get in up to my neck.

Last Friday a lot of folks came in to tell me that we had a freeze sometime during the night before, and they all wanted to know who had won the prize for guessing when the first freeze had arrived.

The West Texas Gas Company is the official judge as to when a freeze arrives and their thermometer did not register as low as 32 degrees on that night, and so I had to hide in the stock room all day Friday, and I have been sweeping cobwebs out of my hair ever since. Is there anyone who wants to hire out as a goat at the Slatonite?

We have been carrying the favorite recipes of some of the fine ladies of the town in each issue of the Slatonite for over a year, but only once have we carried one from a man, and that was for Dr. Elbert Loveless. I feel that the men have been neglected.

From now on this column is open for any recipes that the men wish to submit. Weldon Martin's favorite is to get a bag of frites, a can of chili and a hunk of cheese and mix it all up together. Just what such a concoction might turn out to be, he has no idea, but he says it makes a mighty tasty dish.

My favorite sandwich is to take a hunk of roast and slice it into very small bits, pour a halffull of home grown mayonnaise on it, slice some lettuce real fine and then run a hard boiled egg through the meat grinder, spread the mess between two slices of home made bread and there you are.

The hardest part of the course is getting the home grown mayonnaise and the home cooked bread. From my own experience I suggest that you start working on your wife about three weeks before you expect to get the stuff to make the sandwiches out of.

From now on until June 1st I am not going to feel as good as I have been feeling for the past five months, except I won't be having hay fever. Of course after one has the hay fever for two or three months it gives you something to do with spare time such as waking up everybody in the house and the dog next door, at two, four and six o'clock with explosive sneezes. You can go on buttermilk diets, put sulphur in your shoes and carry dried up potatoes around with you with the hopes that any one of them might cure your hay fever. Now I have to get into my winter routine, such as taking cold and waking folks and dogs up at one, three and five in the morning with explosive sneezes, and by telling a lot of folks that it is plenty cold enough for me, regardless of the temperature. I like summer.

TYPENITERS for rent $1.00 per week. $3.00 per month. At the Slatonite.

Now it can be told. This clean-lined, smart-stepping 1950 version is the most popular Buick ever built.

Ever since early in the present year, a value-wise public has been taking them away from us as fast as—or faster than—the great Buick factories could roll them out. Within recent weeks, production and sales have set an all-time record.

Count off the distinguished and time-tried features of this winner and you'll know why.

It has a Very Exclusive Motor—Buick's own high-compression Fireball—which gets its driving power from a combustion chamber found in no other car in the world.

It has the bump-smothering softness of coil springs on all four wheels and a torque-tube drive—a comfort combination that no other car provides.

It has Dynaflo Drive*—which ushered in a whole new concept of effortless travel.

It has a brilliant styling which sets it apart from every other car on the road.

And it has prices which say "buy me" to any motorist who's looking for maximum money's worth.

Isn't it sensible, while these great cars are still coming off the line, to check with your Buick dealer about getting one to call your own?

Slaton Women Give Their Favorite Tested Recipes

Again this week our favorite recipe is a cake. This one is a Prune Cake, tested and proved by Mrs. W. D. Adkins, 405 W. Garza St. She says she has never had a failure with it. Not only is this cake a favorite of the immediate Adkins family, but with the entire clan. Try this one on your family some time real soon.

- 1 1/2 cups sugar
- 1/2 cup butter
- 1 cup sour milk
- 2 eggs
- 2 scant cups flour
- 2 level teaspoons soda
- about 14 large, cooked prunes cut in small pieces
- 1 cup nut meats
- 1 tsp. each of cinnamon, cloves, and allspice.

Cream butter and sugar. Add beaten eggs. Sift flour with spices and add alternately with milk. Add prunes and nut meats, then soda, dissolved in a little warm water. Beat for a minute. Bake in 3 nine inch cake pans in a moderate oven until the cake loosens from the sides of the pan. When cool ice with white, boiled powdered sugar frosting.

Mr. and Mrs. Adkins have lived in Slaton for over thirty years. They have one daughter, Mrs. Travis Melton of Quitaque.

Mrs. Adkins, a member of the Baptist Church and the Eastern Star, spends her leisure time visiting the sick.

Mr. Adkins works for the railroad.

Mrs. Adkins says, "I just like Slaton so well that I wouldn't want to live anywhere else. It is one of the nicest little towns I know of."

Moore of Rt. 2, Slaton, were united in marriage October 28, in a military wedding in Hampton, Virginia. Rev. Edward E. Ruthledge, pastor of the First Baptist Church read the double ring ceremony.

Music was played during the ceremony by Mrs. E. E. Ruthledge. The bride wore a royal blue suit, styled with a wedding ring waistline, with a high neck line. Her accessories were of blue velvet. Her white blouse and gloves were a wedding gift. Her corsage was of white rose buds.

Mrs. Garland Taylor, jr., was matron of honor. She wore an off brown suit, fitted in the waist with a tiered hip line effect. Her accessories were dark brown and she wore a white carnation corsage. Cpl. Garland Taylor, jr., served as best man. Pictures were made during and after the ceremony. After a short wedding trip the couple will live at 1148 Orchard Avenue in New Port News, Va. Cpl. Moore is with the 411th Transportation unit and is stationed at Fort Eustis, Va. Cpl. and Mrs. Moore attended the Slaton schools, both graduating here.

CORRECTION OF RECIPE—

An error was made in last week's recipe, given by Mrs. C. M. Fields. Instead of adding milk and sugar after the egg yolks have been added to the chocolate, they are mixed with the chocolate in the double broiler and the egg yolks added.

Our apologies to Mrs. Fields for this mistake.

West Texas Roundup

Another important wildcat discovery in Northwest Andrews County is testing to completion. The discovery is The Texas Company No. 1 Biles, Clear Fork Opener, three miles west of the Union field, which gets its production from that formation.

The No. 1 Biles flowed 131 barrels of oil plus one and three-tenths per cent basic sediment in 14 hours on last reported gauge.

Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower will make a 4-day visit in Texas next month. He will make three speeches, in Dallas, College Station and Houston.

A spokesman for Eisenhower said, "this is not a speaking tour by any means, but is a trip completely dedicated to furthering the work of the American Assembly, in which he is primarily interested at the present time."

—The Wink Bulletin

The Federal Communication Commission Tuesday morning entered an order which gives assurance that Floydada is to have a radio voice. Ed Holmes, president of West Texas Broadcasters, incorporated, had a telegram from Dorothy Rylander in Washington, secretary to Congressman George Mahon, to the effect that the permit for the construction of the radio station had been approved. A telephone call from the station's Washington attorney confirmed this news.

A 20-day period is given from the date of the order for objections to be raised by any interested persons and the likelihood is that the local corporation will not contract for equipment until the period elapses. However, said Holmes yesterday, the construction of the building to house the new station will be undertaken at once.

Colorado City is to have a new street lighting system. Council voted to accept a contract for the installation of a new system in both the business and residential area offered by the Texas Electric Service Company last Thursday. The present "whiteway" system, long antiquated, will be replaced with powerful 16,000 lumens mercury vapor lamps at 100-foot intervals to provide the city with a modern business street lighting system.

—The Colorado City Rec.

Details of a plan whereby the city and county will cooperate in construction of a sheet iron building to shelter migrant laborers overnight will be worked out at a joint meeting of the city and county commissioners at 8 p. m. tonight in the courthouse.

City Commissioners Tuesday signified their willingness to participate in such a plan, while the County Commissioners previously had pledged their aid.

Russell McGehee formerly mortician with the Stanley Funeral Home, Monday officially assumed his duties as auditor for the City of Tahoka and secretary of the Tahoka Chamber of Commerce.

With the City, Mr. McGehee's duties will be somewhat that of a city manager. Also, he will serve as tax assessor, help with the book work, and attend to other office duties.

This is a new office recently created by the City Council and augments the work of the City Secretary. The duties of City Secretary, which office Mrs. Nettie Jackson holds, have become so great of late that more office help was deemed necessary.

Grand opening of Furr's Super Market in its beautiful new building at the northeast corner of Cardwell and Fifth streets will be held from 6 p. m. to 9 p. m., Thursday, with the store re-opening for business at 8:30 a. m. Friday.

The firm, which has been in Brownfield for a number of years, is moving from its location at the southwest corner of Main and Fifth streets.

The management of the store invites everyone in the Brownfield trade territory to attend their big grand opening party. There will be wonderful gifts, including bags of groceries valued at $1,500, meats, produce and drugs.

To the first 1,000 women attending the opening, gardenias fresh from the West Coast, will be given.

—The Brownfield News

A fire, estimated to have caused $12,000 in damage, swept the Whiteface Grain Company's elevator at Whiteface last Tuesday night.

Levelland Fire Chief H. B. Johnson estimated that loss to the building was $8,000 and to grain $4,000.

The elevator, managed by Culum Cooksey, is owned by the Bailey interests of Dallas. Eight cars of grain were reported to have been in the elevator at the time of the blaze. Johnson estimated that six cars might be salvaged.

Thought to have started from a spark which caught in the elevator Tuesday afternoon while welding was being done, the fire was discovered by Joe Bridges as he was leaving the last show at the Home theatre at Whiteface Tuesday night.

Howdy Folks; Over in a nearby town a farmer is reported to have fed his cows bird seed so he could sell cheap milk.

They tell, also he has a helper so clumsy he's always getting in the whey.

We could even go farther and say he had a duck that got smaller and smaller. He grew down.

Daisy Dope laughed and laughed when some one told her evaporated milk came from a can. She said no one could fool her, she knows it comes from a dry cow.

They say that cows give milk. We always found you had to take it from them.

We DO give service. You have to take that from us.

Give us a chance to prove it.

What Happened In Slaton Last Year

Taken from the November 11, 1949 issue of the Slatonite:

In the November 3 business session of the Junior-Senior Parent-Teachers Association, Supt. Lee Vardy announced that Gov. Shivers had tentatively accepted an invitation to be the speaker at the District PTA Conference to be held in Slaton this spring.

Slaton business firms reported last week end as having been the best business period they had seen for several years. Some of the older establishments even said it was the best they had ever seen since their opening.

Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Lott left on Monday for Waldron, Ark. where they will visit their son, Leonard Lott and family there. Before returning to Slaton they will also visit another son, Wilson and family in Tyler.

Peggy Jean Abernathy of Slaton, Glenda Shewmaker of Midland, Gene Spivey of Childress and Jimmy Condon of Midland, all Tech students, spent the week end here with Miss Abernathy's parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Abernathy.

Phyllis Leach, Slaton, has been selected as one of the 16 coeds for the beauty section of the 1950 Texas Tech student year book, La Ventana.

With the date set and the play selected, the Junior class ended first preparations for their Nov. play, "It's A Riot," by selecting the cast October 27.

Visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Olive over the week end were Mr. A. Olive of Little Rock, Ark., son of J. M. Olive; Mrs. T. C. Johnson and children of Lubbock; Mrs. Johnson is the daughter of J. M. Olive; Mrs. W. R. Tucker of Tahoka, and Tommy Davis of Tahoka. Tommy is the grandson of Mr. Olive.

Mrs. D. J. Neill resumed her duties Monday, October 31 as English teacher.

Mrs. Henry Easley of Lockney is visiting this week in the home of her sister, Mrs. Jerry Mudgett.

Jo Ann Green, Wayland student visited last week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Green.

Mr. and Mrs. George Payne left Sunday, October 29, for a vacation trip to Michigan and Pennsylvania.

Flomot High Rout Southland, 32 To 0

Fullback Tanner led Flomot High to a 32 to 0 victory over Southland's Eagles Friday night at Southland Field. Tanner received and cut his way to the 15 yard marker before being hauled down from behind. On the next play he scored standing to start the rout of Southland. Score at the end of the first quarter, Flomot 6, Southland 0. Try for extra point missed.

Clay received and returned to the 30 yard line. Tanner then bullied his way over for another TD. The extra try missed.

Woods recovered a Southland fumble in the backfield and on the next play Gary Slover ran through the entire Southland team to score another touchdown. Tanner drop kicked the extra point to run the count to 20-0.

Donald Basinger got Southland back in the game with a run to the 20-yard line of Flomot. Stanley Wheeler got a first down on the 5 and T. Basinger was stopped short of the two yard line. Southland took too much time and received a five yard penalty. T. Basinger then lost seven yards on a slippery handout as both sides were braving bitter cold to play in this game. A fourth down pass by Basinger fell incomplete. The half ended with Flomot in possession of the ball on its own 30 yard line.

With the third quarter three minutes old Tanner passed to end Woods for another score. Score: Flomot 26, Southland 0. The extra was missed. Basinger had his punt blocked on the 12 and from there Slover scored on a line smash to run the count to 32-0 and the small crowd began to leave the field to escape the bitter wind. Leake recovered a Flomot fumble on the 15 yard line as the game ended.

Starting lineups:
Flomot: Starkey, center; Monk, end; Woods, end; Clay, halfback; Purcell, quarterback, and Tanner, Fullback.

Southland: D. Stotts, center; D. Basinger, end; J. Haire, end; M. Basinger, quarterback, and T. Leake, Halfback.

Attending the Halloween Carnival at Garnolia October 31 were Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Butler, Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Wootton, Miss Cora Sealy, and Boyd Duckett. Linda Kay Reed, granddaughter of the Butlers, was a contestant for the Carnival Queen. Her escort was Lee Williams, grandson of the Woottons. These visitors reported that $328 was made on the carnival.

Rev. and Mrs. J. T. Bolding left Monday to attend the Baptist Convention in Fort Worth.

Are Our Texas Highways Being Destroyed by 1% of Highway Users?

This question is presented squarely for the first time by the Texas Tax Journal in its booklet, "The Case of the One Per Centers."

Every Texan who wants good highways, adequate for 99 of every 100 users, should write for a free copy of this revealing booklet.

Approximately 99% of all Texas motor vehicles are registered for a gross weight of 20,000 pounds or less.*

All Texas taxpayers, including your Texas Railroads, have reason to be concerned about the high cost of constructing and repairing our highways and the prospect of building more costly roads made necessary by the operation of highway "box cars."

No one has any desire to bar vehicles of reasonable size from our highways, so long as each pays its fair share of construction and repair costs.

Other Texas taxpayers should not be required to shoulder the burden of a roadway system for highway "box cars", representing only 1% of highway users.

Every Texan interested in good highways without increasing the growing tax burden should fill out the coupon below and get a copy of this valuable booklet.

The Traffic Snarl Is Being Untangled

While Slaton has one of the lowest traffic accident records of most any town in the state the danger is ever present for something to happen to mar our records and to bring tragedy to our citizens. It is with words of praise that most people comment upon the improvements that have been made in the parking arrangements that have been made around town, and for the stop signals that have been installed at the most dangerous intersections.

The low accident rate in Slaton is possible because the people who drive on the streets know that they are "on their own" and must watch the other motorists for erratic driving, such as turning in the middle of the block, parking on the wrong side of the street, or for two cars to stop side by side and block the traffic both ways while the occupants do some choice gossiping, and one must keep their eyes peeled or get wrecked.

Investigations prove that there are more accidents at intersections where light signals are than at intersections where no signals are placed, but it must also be taken into account that the light signals are always placed at the most congested intersections. There are some indications that traffic regulations can be overdone.

The continuous snarl that has been so irritating on the streets around the square has been relieved to some extent, but on Saturdays this situation on the square is something to give even the most daring motorist the fan tods and the sooner this particular problem is solved the better pleased most every one will be.

Are Slaton Children Better Than Average

Either the boys and girls of Slaton are better trained than the younger people of Lubbock and some other communities or the Halloween entertainment that is provided for the Slaton youngsters is better than is provided in the other communities.

While there was some mischief done last Halloween night, most of it was of minor nature and not seriously destructive. Many towns including the folks of Slaton plan ahead each year to give the children something to do on Halloween night so that their activities are controlled and where they prefer to attend the entertainments provided for them rather than to go on destructive raids that often get them into serious trouble and do damage that is often very hard on many of the towns people.

Not only do the youngsters of Slaton look forward to the Halloween entertainment each year, but so do a good many of the old heads who get a thrill out of preparing for the yearly carnival, and quite often some of the enthusiasm of the youths rubs off on them and they have as much fun as the boys and girls.

The success of the Halloween carnival for the past year could mean that a much more expansive entertainment program could be staged each Halloween and that a city-wide activity could be worked out with grown folks taking part in parades and prizes offered for the different costumes, etc. The tradition of Halloween offers the opportunity for older people to make merry without seeming foolish and it could give us all an opportunity to be happy children again.

Are We Asleep?

Whether the United States is training men as fast as it can, and whether the nation is whole heartedly getting ready for war or not, are questions that few people can answer. It takes more time than most people realize for factories to transfer from peace time manufacture of civilian goods to war materials and it also takes a lot of time to train men for active military service, but to the average citizen it seems that our leaders let down a lot when the Korean Army was pushed back to the Manchurian border. Now it seems that we are going to have to start retreating again, and the time that we have had to get more men into training has been frittered away in a half hearted effort to leisurely get a medium size army together.

Perhaps this feeling is unjustified, and that a full effort is being made to get ready for a World War that seems to be gaining momentum every day. Korea itself is a small country and of no particular use to the United Nations and if this nation is saddled with the responsibility of taking care of the people of that backward country all that could come of it would be a big expense to the people of the United States.

Sooner or later the United States will have to go to war with Russia, and if a great part of our forces are going to be sacrificed fighting in the jungles with primitive people, then we are going to be in a very messed up condition when it comes time to go after the real enemy.

Slaton Has "Growing Pains"

That Slaton is not in a state of coma as it seemed in the years after the depression and well into the recovery years, is evidenced by the fact that practically all or many of the firms that are doing business in this town were not here ten years ago. There is a constant change in the business operations of the town, with new places opening up constantly.

The people of Slaton had, at one time, almost persuaded themselves that Slaton could never be much of a town, as it is so near to Lubbock, but this idea is not so popular in Slaton as it used to be.

In the first place the merchandise offered in Lubbock is often higher priced than it is in Slaton due to the fact that mass buying does not give the big operator the advantage it once did, and in the second place the congestion in the bigger towns has gotten to where shopping in a big town is very much of a task. Slaton is coming into its own and indications are that the advantages of buying in Slaton may cause the same problem that has made Lubbock such a hard place in which to trade, over congestion, and unless some well worked out plan is inaugurated before long our advantage may be nullified.

Slaton, as it is today, with its unusual street arrangement offers problems that few other towns have, but there is yet time enough to make plans for the future so that as Slaton gets into the small city class the shopping problems will not be as they are in other towns.

Slaton will have to grow away from the square if the business section is not to be centered in four blocks of the town. The direction that the business section will grow will depend upon which property owners improve their locations. Ninth street is well filled at the present time, but the better business buildings might go north or south or perhaps the residential property on West Lubbock or Garza Streets might prove the business streets of the future.

The trend these days is for business buildings to be constructed so that parking space is available near them and the firms that take this into their plans will likely be the ones that have the best locations in the time to come.

Most all towns that have been planned around a square, or Plaza, have had difficulty in expanding when the locations on the square filled up, and this is fast getting to be the case in Slaton.

Waco, Paris, Dallas and other larger towns in Texas were at one time centered around a square, but they have all grown away from such restricted areas and the squares have become second rate and third rate districts. This will likely happen to Slaton some day, and those who are planning on expanding their business should take this into consideration when expansion is to be made. Slaton is a growing, active town, and its future progress does not depend upon Lubbock, but upon the foresight and activity of the men and women who make Slaton their home.

Make no mistake Slaton has a bright future, as it is in the very center of the richest cotton producing land in the nation, and, who knows, we may be sitting on top of a big oil field.

HOW TO CHECK POULTRY COLDS

The annual threat of fall and early winter colds is here again. And to the average poultry raiser, this means another season of coughing, rattling, and perhaps lowered disease resistance in his flock.

Yes, colds and respiratory conditions are prevalent in poultry this time of year. But such conditions can be controlled—and greatly reduced—if Mr. average poultry raiser follows a few rules of management and takes certain preventive measures.

A Comfortable House

The condition of the laying house is all-important. Therefore, as part of the overall precautions against colds, it should be kept as free from drafts as possible. In doing this, the area around nests and roosts should be given special attention, since any sudden change in temperatures is likely to upset layers—and production. But layers must provide protection against cold air throughout the house. In fact, every effort should be made to duplicate springtime conditions in the laying house. A good ventilation system will go a long way in achieving these ends.

In guarding against colds, it also is necessary to keep the flock eating well. To do this, poultrymen must keep up the vitality of layers and see to it that birds' diets are well supplied with vitamins and trace mineral elements. Stomachic appetizers can usually be fed with good results.

Treat Colds Promptly

If poultry should develop colds during the forthcoming cold-weather months there are several means of easing the conditions. When poultry have trouble breathing, it is advisable to treat them with an inhalant. There are good vaporizing spray treatments available at most hatcheries, feed stores, and farm supply stores. Prompt use of a spray or nasal wash usually brings quick relief to birds' clogged nasal passages. Sulfa-drug aids are also useful in bringing colds under control. Used in either drinking water or mash, sulfa aids are excellent treatments for such troubles as coryza and roup. Many poultrymen also use certain vaccines and bacterins for colds.
