Work Progressing On Methodist Church

Rev. Lloyd Mayhew reports that work on the Methodist Church is progressing nicely. All metal lath is on and all is in readiness for the plasterers to begin work. The windows in the educational building (the back) have been installed and the stained glass windows for the other part of the building are expected to arrive soon.

The date that the new building will be finished is indefinite at this time, but if material shortage or some other unexpected delay does not occur it should not be too long.

A demonstration of some chimes and bells will be made at a future date. So if you hear sweet music filling the air and can't locate the source, look toward the Methodist Church.

WEATHER REPORT

The highest for this week was 104 on Saturday, Sept. 1, while the coolest temperature recorded was 73 on Sunday morning, Sept. 2.

Phil Brewer, Fred Schmidt, Cliff Hatch, and Bill Cherry have gone to Colorado on a fishing trip.

Week's Question.....

Will Prices Go Up And Materials Be Scarce Again Soon? Who Knows?

Probably, if a poll were taken, we would find that if prices didn't win first prize as the most talked about subject in America today, they would certainly rate a close second. Everybody from the housewife to the business men of America's largest firms and corporations discuss the price situation from one standpoint or another.

In 1938 one could buy a nice cotton dress for $1.98, a pound of good coffee for 26¢, steak for 15¢ a pound and so on down the line. Today, one pays at least $5.98 for a cotton dress, around 90¢ a pound of good coffee and $1.00 or more for a pound of steak. "Well," people argue, "look at the difference in salaries of 1938 and today!" That's true, salaries were very different. It's the old story of the vicious circle.

One hears all sorts of stories. First, prices are going up, then prices are staying where they are, materials are plentiful, or else they will be hard to get. This week we have asked a group of business people, who handle different lines of stock, "Do you think there will be any changes in the supply of merchandise or prices in the near future?"

Tip Kendrick, Slaton Implement Co., "I think that there will definitely be an increase in prices in the near future. Also, some things will be more scarce. We have more and more difficulty every day in getting things that we have been able to get quickly, on short notice, before."

Cliff Cox, White Auto Store, "That's a good question, I just wish I knew the answer, myself. I have asked several wholesalers the same question, and they can't answer it either. We thought prices would go up last year, but they didn't. At least, we have been

Slaton Tigers Host To Floydada Whirlwinds Friday In First Game

Strong Tiger Team Hoping For Win To Start Season

The Slaton High School Tigers lift the curtain tonight on the 1951 football season when they meet the Floydada Whirlwinds in a non-district tilt here. Game time is 8:00 p.m.

With their strongest team in recent years the Tigers are pre-season favorites to take top honors in District 4-AA. Only three men are gone from last year's starting offensive and defensive platoons.

Tonight they meet a team that is rated fairly high in its 2-AA district. The Whirlwinds have 16 returning lettermen and four backs that can move on the ground, although the Floydada passing game is not too strong.

Lost Last Year
The Whirlwinds will be out to make up for last year's 19-7 loss to Slaton and what they lack in ability, and you'd get an argument on that score in some quarters, they make up in spirit and drive. And last year's loss will be spurring them on.

The Whirlwinds will top the Tigers in at least one instance also. They have Purvey Parrish, a giant tackle who tips the scales at 270 pounds. Parrish is up from last year's B-team.

Coach Preston Watson will be counting heavily on his speedy backs to out-run Slaton. Jackie Hutchison, 160-pound halfback, is rated the fastest of the quartet and will probably start for the Whirlwinds.

Slaton fans will find this game a ready-made yardstick for measuring the Tigers chances this fall. Floydada meets the Post Antelope the week following the Slaton game, and some forecasts have predicted a battle between Post and the Tigers for 4-AA honors. Needless to say, Coach Bing Bingham of Post will have scouts closely watching the game.

Tigers Ready
The Tigers have had two weeks of rigorous practice to prepare for tonight's contest and Coach Poulos said, "we'll be as ready as we'll ever be" for the Whirlwinds.

The battle royal between the nine Tiger backs vying for a starting berth on the team is still on, and Poulos hadn't decided definitely on tonight's starters.

Glen Akin, 140-pound Junior, and R. A. Thompson, 165-pound Junior, are Slaton's two quarterbacks, both an asset to any team. Thompson is a classy passer, although Akin would rate an edge over him in ball handling.

One certain starter tonight will be Lee Ray Dillard. He will be the Tigers starting center and will play tackle on defense. The big boy, he weighs 190-pounds and stands six foot three, has been classified by Coach Poulos as "one of the best offensive centers I've ever seen."

Field Is Ready
Tiger field is in condition for the opening game. The Tigers have been holding skull practice on the field adjacent to the high school in order to spare Tiger field's sod, only holding light drills at the stadium in order to familiarize themselves with it.

Tonight's unveiling of the 1951 Tiger team will also be the debut of a new assistant coach, Homer Tompkins, TCU graduate, is the new addition to the Tiger coaching staff. He has handled the Tiger backs on defensive work as well as the team's defensive drills.

Zac Henderson, the other assistant, is back. Zac is Coach Tony Poulos' chief scout, and will not be present tonight but will be watching the Abernathy Antelope's Slaton's second opponent.

Poulos has been stressing defensive work in preparatory drills, aiming to stop Floydada's running game. Tackles Warren West, Gene Berkley and Marcus Crumbly will anchor the Tiger line and Erds Ezra Corley, Richard Gentry and Raymond Turner watching for the Whirlwind's end sweeps.

The Slaton High School Band, under the direction of new bandmaster Bill Townsend, will play during the game and at half-time. Townsend, from Hugo, Okla., arrived in Slaton three weeks ago and has been holding band practice. The Pep Squad of the high school will be present also.

A large crowd is expected out for the Tiger's season opener and since no reserved seats are sold, fans are being urged to come early for choice seats.

This year's games for the Tigers will not be broadcast as they have been in the past.

Merchants Say Trades Day Was A Big Success; Next To Be Sept. 29th

The Lone Wolf Is Interviewed By Mrs. S. S. Forrest

It was on the patio of the Broadmoor Hotel that I interviewed "Lone Wolf" Gonzauillas, Captain of the Texas Rangers for thirty years before his recent retirement.

Captain M. I. Gonzauillas was spending a few days resting at the famous resort hotel, The Broadmoor, near Colorado Springs, Colorado.

Wearing a soft, rust colored flannel sport shirt, relaxed and at ease, he was, as usual, delighting an ever-present group with his "Tales of the Texas Rangers."

Captain Gonzauillas has recently sold his memories to Hollywood, and last week was working on his new radio serial which he says will star Joel McCrea. The broadcast can be heard over N.B.C. beginning in September. He said he would like for all Texans to listen to the serial. He feels that this accurate program will be good to help advertise the work of the Texas Rangers and certainly will not be "just to glorify him."

Lone Wolf Gonzauillas had to kill several "bad" men while in the service.

He very proudly showed me a tie clasp and cuff button set of gold and silver and set with diamonds. Friends in San Angelo had presented him this gift. He drives a Cadillac and wears a huge diamond ring, but he says this Hollywood offer is "just like a dream." He stated very modestly, "Many of the Texas Rangers have had as long and as colorful careers as I had, and at the end of the time they were just 'out of a job.' But fortunately he had kept his memories. Each case was carefully recorded. And his first work is now proving a fascinating story for the children and grown-ups alike.

Captain Gonzauillas stated "I never took advantage of a man I had to contact. I never beat a man over the head with a gun or pistol. I am indeed fortunate that the good Lord kept me from being disgraced, shot to pieces, or physically maimed, for they tell me I am going to have to make some public appearances."

Lone Wolf is not a large man. He is sun-tanned a deep brown, and his hair is turning gray. He usually has an easy, happy-go-lucky attitude, but changes to seriousness immediately when the situation calls for it.

When asked what some of his most interesting experiences were he said, "Having lunch with Pancho Villa, and the years I 'took charge' in the East Texas oil fields.

The day before I left he presented me with an autographed picture of him on his horse "Charcoal," which he says Joel McCrea calls "Charkey" in his radio serial.

Going on trips and meeting interesting people makes a vacation for me, and I thought this interesting Texan who has helped make all our homes and property safe for 30 years was "one of the best."

Flying Saucers Seen In Slaton By Three Women

Mrs. S. S. Forrest and Mrs. J. S. Edwards, Sr., report that Lubbockites are not the only persons who have seen the strange "flying discs."

Friday night, between 8:30 and 10:30, while the two were sitting on the front porch of Mrs. Edwards home at 245 So. 10th they saw several "sets" of the strange objects.

Mrs. Forrest said, "One looked like a big flying arrow moving from north to south. One group I saw had twelve lights, six on each side. Another group had twenty-five lights on each side. The lights were intermittent like a string of beads. At first I thought it was a falling star, but soon saw that it was not that at all."

Mrs. Edwards said, "It's hard to give any kind of accurate description at all. They passed so fast we couldn't determine just what it was. One larger one was shaped like a big flat airplane with lights, there was no sound. Two others looked like flocks of birds, but passed quickly and were not too distinct."

Mrs. D. C. Stokes of 320 West Floyd was also a witness to these strange "goings on" in the sky. She said, "I was in the back yard around 10:00 o'clock. Suddenly the air seemed to be filled with hundreds of glistening white birds flying in formation. The only sound was a slight 'swishing' noise rather like birds fly that fast. It was there one minute, the next minute it was gone. I first thought of white pigeons, but then I realized the mass had moved too fast. It didn't seem to be so high, but the whole thing was over with so suddenly that one could not be sure."

T.B. Chest X-Rays To Be Made Soon

Miss Virginia Greenwaldt, Executive Secretary for the Lubbock Tuberculosis Association, visited in Slaton Wednesday to prepare for the program for having chest X-rays made here on Saturday, Sept. 29 and Monday, Oct. 1.

The equipment will be brought here from Lubbock and the work will be done at the Southwestern Public Service Building.

Because most cases of tuberculosis can be found with X-ray, it is hoped that every one in the Slaton area will visit the Southwestern Public Service building and have X-rays made. There is no charge for having the work done, it requires only a short time and there is no discomfort to having it done.

Every one should be tested, not only for their own good, but for the protection of the general public.

J. H. Brewer, Jr., left Wednesday for Galveston. He will enter the Medical School of the University of Texas, there.

What's Going On At The Civic Clubs

The Rotary Club heard details of the prospects for the 1951-52 season for the Slaton Tiger Football team from Coach Toney Poulos and assistant Coach Zac Henderson at the meeting of the Club Thursday, August 30th. They were also entertained by two songs by Miss Clydell McGinley, who was accompanied on the piano by Mrs. Webber Williams, the Rotary pianist.

CARTER CALDWELL, being presented with a check for $364.00 by Eugene Brown, President of the Slaton Chamber of Commerce. The award was made to Mr. Caldwell for having the first bale of cotton in Lubbock County ginned at a Slaton gin. Mr. Caldwell was awarded several thousand dollars by the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce for marketing the first bale of cotton of the 1951 season in Lubbock County. Since that time he had two other bales of cotton ginned here. The money awarded Mr. Caldwell was made up by Slaton business men.

"Quebec" Torrid Film Adventure With Top Cast, Unusual Plot

"Quebec" the Paramount release opens Friday at the Slaton Theatre, is a thundering celluloid account of a turbulent and bloody period in Canadian history. Starring John Barrymore, Jr., Corinne Calvet, Patric Knowles and Barbara Rush, this rousing thriller in color by Technicolor tells the story of a glamorous woman who inspired one of the most amazing revolts of all time—and the violent consequences that followed.

The year of the story is 1837 and there is a plan afoot to overthrow British rule in Canada. Corinne Calvet, as a beautiful French Canadian, has been tricked into marrying the commander of British forces in the Citadel of Quebec. Secretly taking charge of insurrection, she plots her husband's downfall and the advance of the rebel cause.

Known to the rebels only as La Fleur, her orders are relayed to a former lover, Patric Knowles, who with his son, John Barrymore, Jr., is organizing a vast army of trappers and backwoodsmen to capture the city of Quebec.

Under La Fleur's direction, a violent series of ambushes and pitched battles with the Redcoats ensue, and the struggle reaches a climax in a mammoth attack on the heretofore impregnable fortress of Quebec, an attack which finally resolves the fates of all concerned.

These seething adventures have been expertly staged by director George Templeton. Photographed at the authentic Canadian locations they are briskly linked in a rapid succession of episodes that highlight the drama of an unusual and absorbing tale. The big scale battle scenes are set in some of the most colorful areas ever photographed, and the intrigue and espionage lend rare suspense to an explosive action picture.

Corinne Calvet is outstanding as the beautiful and daring woman who risks her life in the revolutionary cause, and in the role of a backwoods youth who proves himself more than a match for any veteran in battle, John Barrymore, Jr., turns in a fine performance. Patric Knowles is superb as the rebel who leads a ragged army into a walled city, and Barbara Rush acquires herself with honors as a young girl torn between love and loyalty.

Produced and written for the screen by Alan LeMay and directed by George Templeton, "Quebec" is a sure-fire entry on anyone's list of top action films.

Smallest Republic
San Marino, the oldest and smallest republic in the world, is about one-tenth the size of New York City. It is surrounded by Italy.

Ruth Roman Meets Actor, Quickly Slays Him In Pic

Wearing a pink chiffon evening gown, Ruth Roman was about to commit a murder for a scene in "Three Secrets," a United States production for Warner Bros. release.

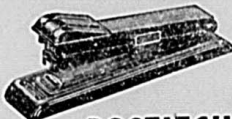

In the film due Tuesday at the Slaton Theatre, the victim-to-be was John Dehner, who is seated at a table in an ornate suite of a Los Angeles Hotel.

Because of the action of the story, this was the only scene in which Miss Roman and Dehner worked together, although the audience knows all about him, and their relationship.

Setting up the scene, Director Robert Wise instructed Miss Roman: "You walk in here, Ruth. You look at him—your eyes pleading. This is the man who deserted you. Everyone has told you he's through with you. But you don't believe it."

"Then, as you look at him, for the first time you realize it is true. He's thrown you over. The love you felt turns to hate. You walk towards him. Unconsciously your hand gropes towards a statue on the table. You never take your eyes off him. Suddenly you raise your hand and—"

"Wait a minute," Ruth interrupted. "As long as I'm going to murder the man, don't you think it would be nice if somebody were to introduce us?"

Film Heavies Today Boast Glamor Look

There was a time when the movie villain was spotted by the audience the moment he appeared on the screen. He acted the "heavy" and above all looked the type.

But it looks like those days are gone forever. Today Hollywood masks its villains in chiselled profiles, dashing personalities and handsome physiques. It's the answer to an unexplainable fad among movie fans today to go for the men who act mean on the screen.

Newest leet on the cinema horizon belongs to young Alex Nicol, a recent recruit from the Broadway presentation of "Mr. Roberts," whom Universal-International is launching toward stardom in the nasty role of a sadistic Indian killer in the Technicolor "Tomahawk," showing Thursday and Friday at the Caprock Drive-In Theatre.

By all standards, Nicol is an ideal leading man. Tall and well-built, with a heart-melting smile and crew-cut blonde hair, he is without doubt Hollywood's handsomest villain.

"Tomahawk" stars Van Hefline and Yvonne De Carlo with an outstanding supporting cast headed by Preston Foster, Jack Oakie, Nicol and Susan Cabot. George Sherman directed and Leonard Goldstein produced.

Electric Cooking Is

...as MODERN women KNOW!

- Easy because accurate, finger-tip heat control gives you the correct amount of measured heat called for by your recipe.
- Easy because clean electricity — cleanest of all heat producing methods — cuts down wall and curtain cleaning, eliminates entirely muss, fuss, dirt, grease and grime.
- Easy because automatic electric cooking lets your meal start while you're away from home—stops it while you're gone, too, if that's your wish.
- Easy because cool electric cooking brings added comfort to your kitchen — added pleasure to your meal planning.
- Easy because your electric range can be placed in the most convenient kitchen location without worry about flames or flues — matchless electric cooking requires neither.

One Way Streets In Cities . . .

Now our country folks are likely going to have it rough when the larger towns, because the latest wrinkle in traffic is to make, nearly all of the streets one way thorough-

The City of Austin now has practically all of its streets such regulations. Amarillo is seriously considering a move like her streets one way, and the trend seems to be increasing. It may not be long before Lubbock will inaugurate such a plan, and the smaller towns such as Slaton, Tahoka, Wilson, Ida- and others should benefit considerably should such regulations be put into effect.

Occasional, or fairly regular visitors, to Lubbock and other towns of considerable size find it increasingly difficult to shop, and a system of one way streets should put a big head- lock on shoppers from outside points.

Even under present conditions in Lubbock, the shopping problem is a big headache, for parking spaces at the parking meters are seldom vacant, add the difficulty of making complicated one way drives of from four to eight blocks off of a straight line, to get to a given location, and if such procedure does not drive shoppers to the smaller towns then it cannot be done.

Never has the opportunity been as good for the smaller communities to increase traffic than is now offered, for it is probable that it will soon be easier for the people who live in the larger communities to drive to a nearby smaller town to do their shopping, than to endeavor to fight their way through the traffic of the larger towns, and there is no assurance that one can get within two or three blocks of a business place in the cities after driving miles and miles to get there.

The smaller towns should start planning now to make it as pleasant as possible for out of town shoppers as well as for the comfort of the home folks. Land values are not too high at present for providing parking space in the business district and all towns that hope to grow into larger towns should start making preparations.

Not only should the welcome mat be put out for the unhappy shopper but bigger and better stocks of both medium and higher priced merchandise should be on hand. The people of West Texas have prospered over the past ten years and most all of them can afford, and, most insist on, top quality foods, clothing, house furnishings and what have you. The small town merchants are underselling their markets and missing the cream of the profit that is available.

City Commissioners, Chamber of Commerce organizations, or special committees of business men, should get busy and work in the smaller communities to make shopping easier and better for the folks who are being pushed around in the bigger cities. When the residents in the larger towns find out that prices are the same, and sometimes lower, than they are in the bigger towns, the parade of buyers might turn the tide and instead of the people in the smaller towns going to the bigger towns to shop the shoppers from the bigger towns might come to the smaller towns.

A few welcome signs to the farmers and their families might not be out of place in the smaller towns. In most communities the out of town shopper has few if any conveniences. There are no clean rest rooms provided by the stores or by the City Commissioners, there is little for them to do when they arrive at a small town, except to shop, and most of them will go through the inconveniences of a bigger town in order to find amusements and good restaurants.

Such things could be provided by the smaller towns but it would take considerable doing and that's where most of the folks in a small community fall down, they are not organized to go after business in an effective way.

There's A Great Day Coming . . .

Recent rains have benefitted the cotton on the South Plains more than even the most optimistic farmers could hope for, and now the problem of farm help looms as the dark spot on the horizon. Unless the ways of the farmers have changed there will be a wild scramble for workers and the price of cotton pulling will start up and keep going up until the major part of the crop has been gathered.

The farm labor board has issued warnings that pullers will not be as easily secured as in the past, but no answer to the problem is offered. The day of the mechanical cotton puller gets nearer and nearer each year and when it comes it will mean that the smaller towns and even the larger ones will be seriously hurt because the traffic that the farm laborers provide will not be here.

Youthful Aspirant . . .

Among the hundreds of thousands of young Americans flocking back to universities and colleges this fall will be Ziegler Sargent. Mr. Sargent will be distinguished from other candidates for the master's degree at Yale by the fact that he has reached the age of three score years and ten and has behind him a long and successful career as a manufacturer.

Thus as he turns his gaze back on American history (the subject of his studies-to-be) this intrapud student also propels himself forward into that stream of American thought which has always held future possibilities to be of greater account than past achievements. To conquer the past as well as the future is the reward of him who adventures out from the point of present security to new horizons in an expanding universe of comprehension.

The United States is often called a young nation, but its youth is not a matter of years. Youth, considered merely in terms of inexperience, may be thoughtless and immature. But seen in terms of keen expectancy, of outreaching energy and generous concern, it is a vital and continuing part not only of the American character but of that maturity of spirit to which all mankind aspires. —Selected.

$100,000.00 Union Salaries . . .

A $100,000 salary for a labor leader draws protest from Daniel J. Tobin, president of the biggest union in the American Federation of Labor, the International Brotherhood of Teamsters. Mr. Tobin told his convention last year that he would resign if his salary was raised to $50,000. He is now getting $30,000. Unusually high labor salaries—$80,000, $76,000 and now $100,000—are coming into question. While few as yet, they may indicate a trend. Apprehension is taking shape in organized labor because of the possible draw-backs resulting to the labor movement.

No matter how able the labor man—and some are extremely so—a huge salary for a trade unionist is far different than for a business executive. If the latter loses his job, he may pick up a good place in another company. But if a labor leader gets out he often is through. One outstanding union chief, for instance, who accepted appointment to a state labor post but was not reappointed is now back at the bench at his old job in the shop.

Consequently, there may be a temptation for some coming into big pay to build up a personal faction within the union to perpetuate themselves in office. And then there is the possibility that a high-pay president may see that the union holds its conventions—and elections—less frequently.

However, many of the best-known union executives, who hold positions comparable to their responsibilities with those of front-line business chiefs, content themselves today with modest incomes. The CIO unions have notably held down their salaries. —The Christian Science Monitor.

Quotes . . .

"To believe in continued deficit spending is like believing frost will not kill apples if Uncle Sam owns the orchard." —James S. Kemper, chairman, Lumbermen's Mutual Casualty Co.

... What are your chances of being struck by lightning? About one in 75,000. In the United States each year about 2,000 persons are struck and 500 killed by lightning. —Pagent.

... Why doesn't an ice-cold drink really cool you off? According to recent medical research, an ice-cold drink will temporarily numb the central nervous system, which ordinarily tells you when you're hot. In the absence of news to the contrary, therefore, you're duped into thinking you're cool. Actually, neither your body temperature nor the temperature about you changes as the result of drinking or eating anything—hot or cold. —Pagent.

THIS and THAT FROM HERE and THERE

Anyone seen a stray alligator? Just in case you do it will pay to exercise a little caution, for although he isn't very big he packs a mean bite.

Sunday night, Hershmer (that's his name, although he won't answer to it when you call him) floated out of his pen during the brief but strong shower Brownfield received.

He belongs to Jimmie Cope at the Community Drug and he usually feeds on rabbits. So if you have a pet rabbit you might warn it to be on the lookout too.

If you see a little alligator about 18 inches long call Jimmie and he'll take it off your hands. —The Brownfield News

A newspaper publisher and a merchant had an argument on the best medium of advertising. The merchant said more people read the bill boards than read the editor's newspaper.

The merchant's daughter got married, amid all the pomp and splendor of a fashionable wedding. Of course the paper was furnished a copy of the wedding along with a picture of the bride.

The merchant was waiting at the post office for his copy, as the papers were mailed—but he found no wedding story or picture of the bride in the paper. He called up the editor, and in an infuriated voice said: "What happened to that story about my daughter's wedding?"

The editor explained that he knew the merchant wanted as many people to read about the wedding as possible so he tacked the story and picture on the sign board. —The Anton News

The hostess at a large party, rather proud of her voice, rendered "Carry Me Back To Old Virginia" in a rich and throaty tremolo. She was touched to notice a distinguished, white-haired man bow his head and weep quietly as the last notes floated over the room.

As soon as she could, she went over to him and said: "Pardon me, but are you a Virginian?" "No, madam," said the elderly man, brushing away a tear, "I'm a musician." —The Wink Bulletin

The following ad appeared in the Green Forest, Ark., paper on March 17, 1848. It speaks for itself:

"At the same time I will sell my Negro slaves, two men 35 and 50 years old, two boys, 12 and 18 years old, two mulatto wenches, 40 and 30 years old. Will sell all together to same party, as will not separate them.

"Terms of sale—cash in hand, or notes to draw 4 per cent interest with Bob McConnell as security.

"My home is two miles south of Varsailles, on the McCouns ferry pike. Sale will begin at 9 a.m." —The Terry County Herald

TEN TIPS TO SUCCESS—

1. Work hard—tackle the hardest job first each day.
2. Study hard—the more you know the easier and more effective is your work.
3. Have initiative—rats often deepen into graves.
4. Love your work—there is a sense of satisfaction in doing work well.
5. Be exact—accuracy is better than haste.
6. Have courage—stout heart that year was absurd.

 Job, accused of stealing chickens, was taken before the judge. His lawyer made such a stirring plea that Job was acquitted. Outside the court room his friend turned to him and said, "Job, did you or didn't you steal those chickens?" "Well," replied Job, "to tell the truth I thought I did, but after hearing that there lawyer, I'm darned if I know whether I did or not." —The Anton News

"What did you come to college for anyway?" asked the digested professor. "You are not studying."

"Well," said the students, "Moth-

Near Record Low
 While American families borrowed half a billion dollars on their life insurance policies during 1950, the ratio of outstanding loans to loanable funds at year-end was very near the record low which has held for four years, the Institute of Life Insurance reports.

A modern footnote may be added to the decline of the once mighty Portuguese empire, if India succeeds to annexing the erstwhile rich and powerful colony of Goa. Time and encroaching jungle vines have obliterated all but a few scattered traces of Old Goa's magnificence. One portal remains of the palace built by Albuquerque. The Palace of the Inquisition, which once covered two acres, is a mouldering ruin. The territory of the present colony covers a total area of about 1,300 square miles. The population, mostly native, exceeds 500,000.

TRAIL BLAZER - with plenty on the ball

How long since you lifted the hood of a car, and took a good look at what's beneath? We like to have folks do that with a Buick.

You'll find that broad bonnet isn't put there for show. It's packed with horsepower—high, wide and handsome—more horsepower than normal drivers will ever use in full. And—if you're up to date on modern features—you'll find that this bonnet is packed with these too.

Do you know, for example, that every new engine introduced or previewed in recent years is built on the valve-in-head principle? Score one for Buick. No Buick engine has ever been built in any other way.

Do you know what it takes to make full use of high compression? A valve-in-head engine!

Score two: Buick has been stepping up compression ratios for years. But Buick has blazed one trail which other engines still haven't followed—don't ask us why.

Every Buick has a Fireball Engine which, as we've said before, is like having a string of comets by the tail. Fact is, in every flame-packed cylinder there is a comet—rolled into a swirling ball by a special turbo-top piston—touched off by a flashing spark every 5 inches you travel in a Buick.

That's why we're proud to show folks that Buicks have a Fireball Engine—and prouder still to have them take one of these thrilling performers out on the road.

Want to try it? Come in and see us soon.

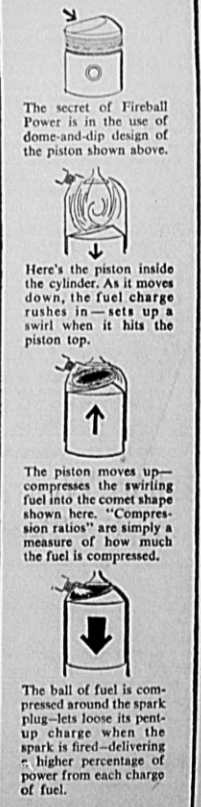

Equipment, accessories, trim and models are subject to change without notice.

Slaton Women Give Their Favorite Tested Recipes

Mrs. Bobbie Edmondson of 750 S. 10th likes to cook, and she can make a fine showing in the art of cookery too. Not only will Mr. Edmondson back me up in this statement, so will the members of the young married set here, who are lucky enough to have been dinner guests of the Edmondsons. She gave me this recipe for the most eatable cookies you ever popped into your mouth.

Icebox Cookies
2 cups brown sugar, 1 cup shortening or 1/2 lb. butter, 2 eggs, 1 teaspoon cream of tartar, 1 teaspoon soda, 1 teaspoon vanilla, 1 cup nuts chopped fine, 3 1/2 cups flour. You may think you'll never get all that flour worked in, but keep trying and eventually you will. Roll in wax paper (makes three or four rolls) chill in icebox three or four hours, slice, sprinkle a few finely chopped nuts over the top, and bake for a very few minutes at 350. This makes about five dozen cookies.

Mrs. Bobby Edmondson was born Billie Jean Jarman, here in Slaton in 1928. Her parents are Mr. and Mrs. H. V. Jarman. She attended grade school here, and graduated from Slaton High in 1945. She had known Bobby, who is a hometown boy for quite a while. They were married in 1946, right after Bobby received his discharge from the Navy. They have a little boy, Robby, age four.

Billie Jean works part-time at Ayers, that, with keeping her house keeps her busy. She belongs to the Athenian Study Club, a Bridge Club, and she is secretary of the Ruth Sunday School class of the First Baptist Church.

She likes outdoor sports and activities, especially favoring as much swimming as possible. She likes very much to listen to good music and she likes to sew, but most of all she really enjoys cooking. I am sure Bobby approves her choice of favorite activities.

Need Special Finish Because the power tubes in television sets cause wide changes in the temperature of wood, cabinet manufacturers were faced with special problems. Ordinary cabinet finishes checked and cracked. Special television lacquers and sealers that are extremely tough and flexible have been developed. They are now used on both light and dark woods and are also employed on any furniture where the highest durability and quality of finish is desired.

Sleep Value Longfellow once said, "Joy, temperance and repose slam the door on the doctor's nose." He didn't state that this repose should be on good resilient bedding, but it's true that only on the proper sleep foundation can complete, restful repose be obtained—the kind of repose that will make one healthier, happier and more efficient.

The Third Annual Palo Duro Canyon Treasure Hunt will close at 6 o'clock Labor Day, September 3.

The event which has attracted hundreds of treasure seekers has been slow about yielding prizes this year. The coins, dropped from an airplane, late in June, have pretty well eluded searchers. Less than 30 of more than 2,300 prizes have been claimed to date. Many of the most attractive prizes remain un-found.

In addition to the Treasure coins some 2,000 Peruvian and about 2,600 Mexican coins were dropped. These coins make beautiful souvenirs.

Finders of prize coins must report them to El Comodoro Lodge by the 6 o'clock Labor Day deadline to claim their prizes. The prize certificates, however, will be honored by merchants until October 1.

Following a meeting in the court house Monday of representatives of the various offices of the county and state and members of the Commissioners court, it was announced by Judge Frank L. Moore that date set for open house for the new Floyd County Court House is Monday, September 17.

The hour for the opening will be 7:30 in the evening. Speaking and entertainment will begin at 8:30.

A process for making high-quality dry ice from natural gas containing gaseous to heavy crude oil hydrocarbons has been perfected by oil scientists. The product is odorless, colorless, tasteless and non-toxic, so it is suitable for use in the refrigeration of foods.

A machine which rips up deteriorated asphalt pavements and uses old material to lay down a new pavement simultaneously has been developed by the joint efforts of an oil company and an allied firm. The mechanical monster permits roads to be rebuilt speedily and is expected to save up to 50 percent in highway repair costs. The broken-up pavement which formerly was hauled away and discarded is pulverized and mixed with a special asphalt softener developed by the oil company. Thus, not only are materials salvaged but inconvenience for motorists is reduced.

Mr. and Mrs. P. H. Dobkins, who had been visiting out in this section, called by this week on their way home. He was a resident of Brownfield for several years, but they now live at Comanche, Texas.

He told us the true story of that old oak that stands on the southwest corner of the square at Comanche. Way back in Indian days, a young fellow had killed a deer, when he was jumped by a bunch of Indians. He took refuge behind the tree, killed four of the Comanches, and the others left.

When the highway came thru Comanche, they wanted to dig up that old oak. The man, now quite aged, took his old Winchester and told the highway engineers that the man that dug up that tree would be killed. "It once protected me; I'll protect it now." And he did.

Although 20,000 cotton pickers are needed for the Lamb-Parmer-Bailey-Castro county area, only about 8,000 are expected, according to James Preston, farm labor specialist of Littlefield. To this 8,000 local people will add 1,000, he said making a total of 9,000 pickers.

Few Mexican nationals are expected.

While the old vault of the First National Bank was being cleared out Thursday morning, a package was discovered which was suspicious in character.

W. C. Black and L. W. Cole decided to open the package, which had been in the vault for several years.

They were amazed to find 900 morphine tablets and a quantity of other dope which might bring a fancy price on the black market.

Federal authorities were called to take charge of the dope. Bill Lampe, deputy marshal, was here Friday morning to inspect the package.

From the wrapping and labels on the packages it is evident that the dope had been in the vault for several years. If placed there by a customer of the bank, it was either forgotten, or the party who brought it became frightened that he would be arrested for having such a large amount of morphine on hand.

The mystery is complete.

POULTRY PESTS CAN BE COSTLY

Many damaging parasites attack poultry on the outside of the body, they are known as external parasites. Included among these are lice, mites, ticks (blue bugs), fleas and bedbugs.

Some of the external parasites pass their entire lives on the towel's body. Others attack the birds for brief nightly periods, taking refuge in the poultry house's cracks by day.

Big Financial Loss
The harm done by these external pests is hard to measure, but one thing is certain—they do cause a big financial loss to poultry-raisers. Lice and mites cause such acute irritation and discomfort that the birds cannot eat, sleep, or produce properly. Therefore, the wise poultry-raiser controls pest infestations constantly.

Control of lice is accomplished through sanitation and through the use of good, specific insecticides. There are various methods of treatment for lousy birds: one is the dusting method; another is the roost application method; and a third is a spray.

Three Methods
To use the first method, apply a louse powder to louse-infested areas of the birds' bodies—around the vent, along the back, under the wings, and about the head. Work the powder well into the feathers.

The roost application method consists of applying a roost application to the roost poles before birds go to roost. This method allows fumigation of the lice on the birds' bodies while they roost. It is probably the most convenient method of louse control for most raisers.

The spraying method consists of spraying a solution over the birds. Control of red, or roost, mites is best won through application of a contact poison to crevices about the poultry house where the mites hide.

Practice good sanitation constantly to control external parasites. A clean poultry house presents no foothold for these profit-stealing pests.

Round-Up Of Tiger Foes . . .

Post Antelopes, Littlefield Loom As Tops Among Slaton Opponents

Post, in district play, and Littlefield in non-district seem to be the two teams for Coach Tony Poulos to worry about in the 1951 football season, although Poulos would probably give you a different story.

The Post Antelopes along with dark-horse Spur are picked in most quarters to vie with Slaton for the championship of district 4-AA.

Always powerful, the Wildcats of Littlefield, have only two seniors back from last years powerhouse, but are nevertheless favorites in their district.

Here's how Slaton's opponents stack up just prior to season opening.

Floydada Whirlwinds—Playing here tonight (Friday) the Whirlwinds have 53 football candidates out including 16 lettermen. Four more or less regular backs from last year's squad are returning. In district 2-A-2, Floydada's first two games will be watched closely by district 4-A observers since the Whirlwinds meet Slaton and Post district favorites on successive week-ends.

Abernathy Antelopes—Abernathy's Antelopes are generally conceded to be the top choice in it's district composed of Hale Center, Crosbyton, Kress and Lockney. The Antelopes have seven regulars returning from last years team which wound up with a 4-5 season record. Coach Royal James has a squad of 30 boys out this year but will be weak on experienced reserves. The Tigers, who upset the Antelopes last year, 24-12, play Abernathy here Sept. 14.

Seagraves Eagles—Meeting the Tigers on their home field Sept. 21, the Eagles will be out to avenge last year's 13-0 defeat. Coach Leo Fields is in his first year at Seagraves, but the Eagles are expected to be no great team this year. About half of last year's lettermen are returnees.

Littlefield Wildcats—The Wildcats are out of Slaton's district this year and there are many who say, "thank goodness." Gene Renfro, all-stater for Littlefield is gone and the Wildcats have only two seniors left from last years powerhouse, Freddie Howard, Jackie, and Joe Walden, tailback. Thirty-five are out for the team. Coach Jay Eikes charges meet Slaton on Sept. 28 at Littlefield. Last year they squeezed by the Tigers 21-13. The Wildcats are moaning the blues this year but like Notre Dame are always dangerous and are one of the teams Coach Tony Poulos is definitely "pointing for."

Morton Indians—The Indians are in a new district this year, 7-AA along with Littlefield, Levelland, Muleshoe, and Brownfield, which should have head coach Herman Raphael jittery enough. Morton plays at Slaton on Oct 5. They lost to the Tigers 6-0 last year. With only four starters back from the 1950 squad, the Indians have 37 candidates out. They are looking forward to a "rough and rugged season," according to Coach Raphael.

Spur Bulldogs—Darkhorse of the new 4-AA district, Spur is picked in many quarters to top the district. One observer picked Spur, Slaton to tie and Post to be runner-up for the 4-AA crown. The Tigers meet Spur on Oct. 12 here.

Ralls Jackrabbits—Another newcomer to play Slaton, Ralls isn't expected to come up with much in district play although pre-season forecasts are subject to much revision, usually. Ralls meets Slaton on Oct. 19 here.

Tahoka Bulldogs—New coach Bill Haralson has 35 boys out for the team including eight lettermen from last years squad. Tahoka finished up last year with a 5-4 record, but this year Coach Haralson is on record as saying he will be lucky to break even in a tough ten-game schedule. The Bulldogs meet Spur the week before Slaton which will give Slaton fans a fairly good yardstick to measure Tahoka's chances with the Tigers. Oct. 26 is the date the Tigers meet Tahoka in a game to be played there.

Post Antelopes—Twenty-seven players are out for the Antelope team. Coach Bing Bingham lost 18 lettermen and 7 first-stringers from last years squad. Triple-threat Jack Kirkpatrick is back, though, and the Antelopes are rated one of the top teams in district 4-AA with a very real possibility of being champions. Kirkpatrick will be the cog the Post team is being built around. The Antelopes have both tackles from last year's squad returning and L. W. Evans, left end, another returnee, will figure in the Post offense providing a target for Kirkpatrick's deadly passes. The Antelopes meet the Tigers in the wind-up of the season on Nov. 9 there. They tied Slaton 26-26 last year.

More Paving To Be Done At Fair

Additional paving and improvements at the Panhandle South Plains Fairgrounds this year, and the election of new Fair Association officers and directors, were announced recently by fair officials.

Improvements to be made at the grounds for this years fair—including the paving of the carnival midway, paving service roads and walkways to the stock judging arena—will round out an extensive paving and improvement program begun last year with the paving of the midway from the south end of the merchants building up to the carnival midway. The entire midway will be completely paved with the additional improvements now in progress. Other improvements last year included installation of paved walkways, service aisles, and remodeling stalls in the livestock barns. This program attracted much favorable attention from exhibitors and spectators alike, and the additional paving to be accomplished will make the 34th annual fair "the most comfortable exposition in its history," a fair spokesman said.

The entire fair grounds will be graded and drained and the usual painting and remodeling which goes on all year long will be completed before fair time, October 1 through 6. The West Parking area will be graded and drained—and the open space exhibit area, implement and industrial areas will be stabilized with a surface coating of fine caliche which will reduce the rocks and blowing dust. The trees and grass on the grounds "have never been in better condition" according to fair officials.

Homemakers can put left-over potatoes to good use by adding them to stews and chowders.

4-H Club Camp
The 1951 national 4-H club camp in Washington, D.C., was June 13 to 20.

There comes days when I should be tied at home to the bed post and I'm sure that a lot of other men should have to undergo the same treatment on occasions. If I had been confined at certain times during my life I'd be almost rich today.

My most dangerous times are when I get my head set on pooping off money. The days when I get that new suit feeling, or a new car, tizzy, or the day when I feel that I can no longer be at all satisfied unless I have a motor boat, a triple action fishing reel, or a purple shirt that has attracted my attention in a show window.

What gets my goat is why I can rock along for weeks and weeks and never realize that the suit I am wearing makes me look like a sack of potatoes, and suddenly want a new one. The fact that I go fishing about once every three years did not keep me from buying a motor boat, and a set of oars, even if I do use a casting reel like a woman playing baseball. I laid down seventeen fifty for one that can tangle up more fishing line than a two year old can tangle grandmas ball of crochet thread, and, although I may have fifty shirts at home, I am a sucker for most any kind of lurid colored ones in a show window.

Leonard Harral, who lives next door to us goes in for electrical equipment and for collecting old trees to make wood for his fire place. Leonard has an electric hedge clipper, although he has only about ten foot of hedge and could hire some one to clip the thing for two years for what he paid for the hedge clippers, and an electric lawn mower that gallops at twenty miles per hour. He has a fire place inside his house for burning wood and a gas connection in the same room to keep it warm, and pays truckers to go all over town to get trees that have died or have been pulled up to get rid of them and if there is any fancy outfits run by electricity. Leonard is one of the first men to buy them.

Now Doc Crow goes in for fancy fishing equipment and a fishing tackle catalogue is like a bag of candy is to me. My wife cannot resist buying vases and we have them in the bath room, on the pantry shelves, and in the clothes closets which I have to guard myself against getting conked when I drag down my fishing reel or suit case from the top shelf. I have been considering getting myself a second hand football players helmet so that I can put it on can go get any item in the dark, but at our house it is dangerous to go into the storage room in broad open day light. Once I stepped on a hoe that was leaning in the corner and it knocked me flat. But all in all most of us would be doing fine if, on certain days, we could be confined. Our wives could easily know when those days are on us for it is no trouble at all to see when a man has that desperate look, won't answer questions and keeps figuring little sums on the table cloth.

There are a lot more peaches raised in Slaton than most folks know about. J. R. Welborn, who operates the Red Top Motel on South 9th St. is going to have peach preserves every morning for breakfast for the next ten years if he and his wife put up even half the peaches they have raised erent kinds of fruit will bear out here just about as often as it will anywhere else in Texas. The biggest trouble is that after the first year or two all fruit trees get infected with worms. Most of us are not familiar with the proper method of spraying our trees against pests and most all of the fruit raised in this area is wormy.

But it is not too much trouble to contest with a few worms for a good ripe peach and who has the right to say that a worm should not have the privilege of living a age, things did not happen until just before the paper went to press, all the salesmen who call on us came on Thursday. Sandy, our cocker spaniel, chewed up some cuts for the paper, the plumbing went hay wire, everybody in the building got ink on their clothes, and my wife burnt the toast on Thursday morning, and I tore my pants.

Perhaps last Tuesday seemed like Doomsday to a lot of the young folks, who started back to do business in a lions cage until they got their papers to sell. Of course we could have pushed them all out in front in the heat and made them get in the way of everyone using the sidewalks on Texas Avenue, but ever since we put air conditioning in our place we have been bragging about it. The kids seemed to enjoy it more than anyone else.

We wish to express our sincere thanks to Superintendent Vardy, and to all the Slaton teachers who have to put up with these kids men are too dignified. Last Friday morning I saw a well put together young lady strolling down Texas Avenue. She had an oblong package with her that looked as if it might be a sheet or some soft article that made a fairly nice size package. She was skipping along and throwing the package up in the air and catching it as she went along. Made me feel young again, to some extent, and I thought how I used to find pleasure in doing just such things. She is the only female, above eight years of age, cloudy scowl from most of them. Some times some grim faced she-male comes into the office and to see what can happen, I have, on a few instances, tried to make them realize that every man is not a demon in disguise but it has so far proven a waste of time. When a woman once gets the idea that all men are beasts and that the world is one H I of a place to live in, there is not much that can be done except let her enjoy the pleasure of hating all the men in the world.

Slaton People Worth Knowing

W. T. Cherry was born in Garland, Texas in 1893. In 1912, when he was 19, he went to work for the Orient Railroad, later bought by Santa Fe, in Wichita, Kansas. He had a room in the home of one of his friends, who also worked for Orient. When the friend's pretty sister-in-law, Miss Nanie Sue Davis of Clayton, Texas, visited there in 1922, Mr. Cherry was quite taken with her. He was sent to Hamlin, Texas as station agent later that year, and the next year he and Miss Davis were married. Mr. and Mrs. Cherry made their home in Hamlin until 1939, when he was transferred to Slaton. He has been Agent here ever since.

The Cherrys have three boys and one grandchild. Don Cherry, his wife and daughter live in Houston, where he is employed by Humble Oil Company. Jim Cherry and his wife live in Canyon, where he is a senior at West Texas State. Bill, just recently returned from Korea, is with his parents now. He will enter West Texas State next semester.

Mr. Cherry has served with the Chamber of Commerce here and as a deacon of the Church of Christ and helped organize the Cub Scouts here. He has been a member of the Rotary Club until recently. Now he has a problem. He feels that he has given a good many years of his life to Civil Clubs and interests and now that the boys are grown, and he doesn't have to mend broken toys or supervise activities, he feels that he is entitled to spend his spare time on a private hobby. There's just one little item in the way of this—he doesn't have a hobby. He's been so busy taking care of his family, he never had time to take up a hobby. Now he's looking for one and would probably be delighted to accept any ideas or suggestions you may submit. He is an avid reader of papers, books and magazines, he appreciates good music, but this isn't enough, he wants a hobby, and maybe the people of Slaton can help him decide on the right one.

OPS Representative To Be Here Sept. 11

Department and furniture stores, jewelry and variety stores, and all other firms covered by Ceiling Price Regulation 7 and its amendments may obtain information regarding pricing and pricing formulas under their pricing charts if they will contact Fidel R. Egge who will be in Slaton next Tuesday morning, September 11.

Through the co-sponsorship of the Slaton Chamber of Commerce, he will maintain offices at the Chamber of Commerce.
