HELEN BAILY'S ADVICE ON Human Relations

Dear Helen:
I am a high school girl and am very much in love with a boy my own age. He graduates this fall and wants to go on to college, but will have to work his way through. I have tried to persuade him to get a job so we won't have to wait four years to be married. Don't you think he would do this if he really loved me.

SEVENTEEN

Dear Seventeen:
I think you are a very foolish girl to try and deny this boy his education. It is a common fault of the young people (of all generations) to want to strike out on the road of life without adequate preparation. I think your boy friend shows a very mature judgment in wanting to continue his education and you should not try to dissuade him from this objective.

As for being afraid your love will die in four years I can only say that the old adage that "true love never dies," has some truth to it after all. He is not going to be so far away that you two can't see and be with each other often. And I think that you'll find your love for each other will grow during his years at college.

HELEN

Dear Helen:
I am the mother of two small children of pre-school age. Several of my friends have been trying to get me to attend their clubs in the afternoon but I have been refusing as I don't think it would be right to leave my children alone. My friends ridicule this idea. What do you think?

MOTHER

Answer:
I believe you are wise in wanting to stay with your children. You didn't mention their age other than saying they were VERY small children. However, if your children are old enough, I don't think it would be harmful occasionally to leave them with a qualified baby sitter.

Mothers need some time to themselves.

HELEN

Helen Baily cannot answer mail personally, nor can she publish each letter she receives. Instead, she chooses representative problems that would be of interest to all. Write her in care of the Slatonite, P.O. Box 775, Slaton, Texas, for forwarding.

LAST RITES HELD ARE FOR JOHN PURDUE OF WILSON

Services for John M. Purdue who died following a heart attack in Amherst Wednesday, were held Friday, August 10 at 3 p. m. in the Wilson Baptist Church.

Purdue was a retired farmer and had lived in the Wilson community for 19 years, until he recently moved to Amherst.

Interment was in the Englewood Cemetery, under the direction of Williams Funeral Home, Rev. J. M. McGraw, pastor of the Wilson Baptist Church officiated at the services.

Survivors include four sons, J. J. Purdue, White Deer; M. S. Purdue, Olney; Fred Purdue, Lubbock, and Raymond Purdue, Posey; and five daughters, Mrs. Thelma Hogan, Wolfforth; Mrs. Ola Emdren, Amarillo; Mrs. Grace Tins San Angelo; and Mrs. Merle Oburn, Amherst. Also surviving are 19 grandchildren and one great grandchild.

Relaxing Eyes

Here's a simple way to relax your eyes before going to sleep. First, close your eyes. Then open them as wide as possible. Roll your eyeballs in a circle very slowly first right, then left. Look at the center of the room, then at every object around the room. Close your eyes and rest. Repeat this exercise ten times. Sleep should then come easily, if you have a level, comfortable mattress and bed-spring.

C. A. Pierce "One Up" On H. Stokes

C. A. Pierce and Harry Stokes have been going to the mountains in New Mexico to fish for years. Two or three years ago, while discussing their "luck", C. A. said, "Confidentially, Harry, have you ever caught a trout?" to which Harry replied, "Confidentially, no, I've never caught a trout", since then their greeting to each other has been, "Hello there trout fisherman!" Now Mr. Pierce is "one up" on Mr. Stokes. Mr. Pierce has caught a trout, in fact, he caught several trout on a recent trip to Red River, New Mexico.

Mr. and Mrs. Pierce and son Hugh Van; Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Wills and daughter San; and Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Felty and daughter Bobbie left Slaton two weeks ago in a party. They spent the first night of their trip in Tres Ritas, N. M. The next two days and nights they camped at Cabriato Lake, at the foot of Wheeler Peak. The remainder of their time was spent at the Tall Pine Lodge in Red River, and there, in Red River, Mr. Pierce caught the trout that Mr. Stokes will probably never be allowed to live down. They weren't monsters, they were about 14 inches long, but they were trout and he's got witnesses.

Most of their time was spent fishing although they did take off one night to watch a dance. A free dance is held each night in Red River. "A string band, with really good guitar playing, furnishes the music," said Mr. Pierce. The dancers don't jitterbug, they dance the old-time dances.

The group left Red River at 8:00 a. m. (Texas Time) and drove until 9:00 a. m., muffled up in coats, and with the car heaters on. After 9:00, however, off came the coats, the heaters were turned off, the windows lowered, and every place that sold "snow cones" or anything cold, was patronized; as back they came to the "sizzling" South Planes.

Miss Dorothy Mosser has returned from a week vacation in Dallas and Fort Worth.

Slaton Women Give Their Favorite Tested Recipes

The easy-going, good natured disposition of Mrs. Forrest Davis has won her many friends. She likes people and seems happiest when her friends are around her. Dorothy can plan as nice a "party dinner" as anybody, but she likes best to issue invitations at the "drop of a hat". Any lucky person accepting one of these invitations, whether it be "party" or "pot-luck" can depend on a mouth watering treat. Dorothy chose to give us a recipe that can be whipped up in no time at all; it's good for family dinners or when guests drop in unexpectedly.

Veal Scallopine

1 1/2 lbs. veal cutlets, sliced thin; 1/3 cup flour; 1 teaspoon salt; 1/4 teaspoon pepper; 1/3 cup cooking oil; 1 can condensed tomato soup; 1/2 cup water—1/2 cup grated cheese. Roll veal slices in flour, salt and pepper. Heat cooking oil in LARGE skillet, fry onion and green pepper until tender. Remove. Add veal; brown both sides. POUR OFF EXCESS OIL. Add soup mixed with water. Return the onion and green pepper. Cover, simmer 10 minutes, or until meat is tender. Sprinkle with cheese; heat until melted. 6 servings.

Dorothy Davis first came to Slaton as Dorothy Childress. Mr. and Mrs. Ed Childress moved here when Dorothy was eight. She attended Slaton Schools and graduated from High School here. She took a Beauty Course and worked in several beauty shops after graduation.

For six years she worked as a beauty operator in and around Corpus Christi. She met Forrest Davis in Corpus in 1938, he was working for Humble Oil Refinery. Forrest served four years in the army in World War II in Africa and Italy. He and Dorothy were married in August 1944 when he was discharged. They moved to Slaton in 1945 and live at 320 South 6th St.

Also living at 320 South 6th is Master Gayland Davis, age three. Forrest as Superintendent of Water and Sewage and chief plumbing inspector may be able to give a few orders, but when Gayland says "Daddy push me in my swing", daddy pushes, and don't you think he doesn't either.

Dorothy and Forrest have some beautiful fruit trees. They had so many cherries, off of four trees, that the whole neighborhood was supplied. One plum tree was so full the branches were bent down almost to the ground. The whole neighborhood had plums, too. Now the peaches are getting ripe, nice, big, sweet, juicy ones, that make the best sweetpickles.

Dorothy attends the First Baptist Church where she is a worker in the Cradle Roll Department, and she is reporter for the Auxiliary of Volunteer Fire Department.

Dorothy and Forrest both like Slaton very much and are very happy here with their friends.

BABY SITTER—Though boasting no previous experience or special training, the Great Dane above proved big enough for the job of taking care of a dog-tired spectator at a San Mateo, Calif., Kennel Club show. The thoroughbred baby sitter was one of 1500 dogs competing for blue ribbons.

TASTE OF TOMORROW—Well-dressed men of the far future will wear radar rings matching their ensembles and their dates will be expected to carry interplanetary telephones on their belts. This was the prediction of a recent New York City television production featuring the "Man of Tomorrow" and the "Woman of Tomorrow," who is about to make short work of a—you guessed it—"Hot Dog of Tomorrow."

RAY MAKES RING RETURN AS REF—Still feeling the effects of the Randy Turpin fight in which he lost his title, ex-middleweight champ Ray Robinson cancelled an exhibition fight against Tiberio Mitri in Italy but agreed to referee in Milan. Above, he tries to free his sparring partner, "Bomber" Womber, from the clutches of Italy's Michele Palermo.

AAAAAH—CHOOOO!—Chicago hay fever sufferers are in for the sneezing jubes this summer, thanks to bumper crops of ragweed growing on vacant lots like the one above. Pollen counts indicate that late summer will be an exceptionally uncomfortable season for Chicagoans allergic to pollen, a prediction which caused L. F. Corritter (background) to wave his hands for help.

Sgt. J. C. Burton, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. John C. Burton, will receive his discharge about the 18th of August. He and his wife are not certain they will live in Slaton, but they will come here for a visit, at least, as soon as he is discharged.

Cpl. "Bunky" Guinn has resigned leadership school. The training for the school takes about six months and after talking with his superior officers and his parents he decided to "get it over with." He is now on his way to Korea.

Pfc. Bill Wilson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Wilson is now stationed at Biggs Air Force Base at El Paso. Bill has been in the Air Corps about a year. He took his recruit training at Lackland Air Force Base, San Antonio, from there he went to Keesler Air Force Base in Mississippi, for a course in radar. After completing the school in Mississippi, in July, he was given sixteen days leave. He visited here with his parents, and they took a trip together. When his leave was up, he was sent to Biggs Air Force Base. He wrote his parents, not long ago, that a group of the boys from Biggs planned to make a trip to Carlsbad. If they do, Mr. and Mrs. Wilson hope to meet them there for a short visit.

Pfc. Billy G. Greer, son of Mrs. Tom McCain is making the next to the highest grade in his class in Radar. The highest average is 5, his average is 4.8. Pfc. Greer was sworn into the Air Corps December 7, 1950. He was sent to San Antonio for five weeks basic training, then he was sent to Biloxi, Mississippi to Radar School. He is taking a 36 week course. He will get a furlough when the course is finished in September. Mrs. McCain says Billy is really looking forward to his furlough since he has not seen his room in their new home. He flew home on a three day leave in March, and drove his car back. In May, Mr. and Mrs. McCain, Janice, an Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Mann visited Billy in Mississippi.

Sgt. James C. (Jay) Nesbitt wrote his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Nesbitt, of 630 So. 7th., the other day, describing the crash of the plane, attached to the 2nd Air Refueling Sq. 2d. Bomb Wing, formerly based in Savannah, Ga., but at the time of the crash, on a training mission in England. Here is his story of the crash: "We were called out at 2:00 o'clock and they gave us 30 minutes to get ready and catch a plane for Scotland. They told us there had been a plane crash and all men on board were killed. Six of us went and we just got back. It was a ship that refueled other planes in the air, and it was loaded with gasoline. It was scattered over about two miles on the side of a mountain, it was burning pretty bad, there was five of the fellows thrown clear, but the heat was so bad we couldn't get to them, so we had to stand there and watch them burn. They had their parachutes on, I don't know why they didn't jump. I found two of them, after the fires died down, with their arms around one another, they were burned bad, we couldn't tell who they were. I guess they knew they were gonna die. Mom, one of them had a miraculous medal on. He must have been Catholic. The funny thing is, it wasn't even burned, rings and watches were burned, funny isn't it?"

Jay is stationed in Burtonwood, England. He has been there 17 months. Quite often he leaves England with a mission to other countries. He has been to Scotland, France, Germany, and many other places in Europe and Asia. He told in the letter, however, that he will now be in charge of Town Patrol. He will be over 21 men who work Wrenington, Manchester, and Liverpool, England. His job will be going from town to town to check on each post.

Cpl. Jimmy Lovelady, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. T. Lovelady, reports that relief troops are being brought into Korea by the thousands. As yet he hasn't met any Texas boys he knows. He is living for June 2, 1952, when his time will be up, and he will be sent back to the States.

2nd Lt. James W. Marsh, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Marsh, wrote his mother that he wanted some fried chicken. Mrs. Marsh and a friend fried two chickens, wrapped the choice pieces in aluminum foil, and sent them to him in Korea. James wrote his mother that all but four pieces of the chicken were good. James wrote that he has been going out on patrol duty, but now he and his men are being held in reserve.

With the 7th Inf. Div. in Korea — Pfc. Walter O. Heinrich, Route 2, Slaton, Texas, recently joined the 7th Division's 57th Field Artillery Battalion in Korea.

The unit, as a part of the 7th Division, in the past ten months participated in two amphibious landings, drove to the Manchurian border, and fought on both coasts of the Korean peninsula.

Pfc. Heinrich is an artillery forward observer.

Miss Linda German left Wednesday morning for Wichita, Kansas, where she will meet her cousin, Miss Lois German, of Glen Elder, Kansas. They will return to Slaton Friday. Lois will visit with her relatives here for a week or two.

At left, the famous Italian tenor, Enrico Caruso, as he appeared at the height of his singing career at New York's Metropolitan Opera House. And right, Mario Lanza, portraying Caruso in M-G-M's spectacular Technicolor musical production, "The Great Caruso," which comes to the SLATON

THEATRE this week, with Ann Blyth, Dorothy Kirsten, Jarmila Novotna and Blanche Thebom in one of the most impressive musical casts ever brought to the screen. Most of the glorious music made immortal by Caruso during his seventeen years at the "Met" will be heard in the thrilling new production.

Alexis Smith Draws The Curtain On Hollywood Technicolor Sunsets

"And furthermore," adds the actress, "I don't want gingham gowns nor songs sung to me by cowpokes wielding a guitar. "When the boys say they want thataway—that's the way I want to go—riding in the western chase and taking part in the brawls." Alexis gets her wish in Universal-International's Technicolor "Wyoming Mail," opening at the CAPROCK DRIVE-IN THEATRE and starring Stephen McNally with the actress.

"Steve and I do a complete switch in 'Wyoming Mail,'" claims Alexis. "He has a long series of screen 'heavy' roles and I have a celluloid credit card that reads from forgotten sweetheart to neglected wife.

"But in the new movie I'm the bad 'un and Steve is on the side of law and order."

"Wyoming Mail" is Alexis' first film in almost a year, the actress having secured her acting release from Warner Brothers Studio, where she was under contract for seven years.

"Now enjoying the freedom of free-lance work, Alexis hopes never to sign a long-term contract with any studio.

"From now on," claims Miss Smith, "I want to have a little more to say concerning the stories I do."

"I feel by exercising that privilege I might be able to come in contact with a few more juicy Western scripts that don't fade out with that cactus cliché—the boy and girl strolling into the Technicolor sunset!"

Alexis is married to Craig Stevens, the young actor who played her sweetheart in "The Doughgirls."

Howard Da Silva, Dan Riss, Roy Roberts and Whit Bissell head the supporting cast of "Wyoming Mail," produced by Aubrey Schenck and directed by Reginald LeBorg.

Makes Quick Change
Add to movieland's unusual claims to fame the name of Yvonne DeCarlo, the only actress in Hollywood who wears a man's collar for a belt.

When the sash used to hold up her pirate trousers broke during rehearsal for a scene in Universal-International Technicolor "Buccaneer's Girl," opening Sunday at the CAPROCK DRIVE-IN THEATRE, it was replaced by the kerchief being worn around the neck of Dewey Robinson, who plays one of the pirates in the Technicolor story.

Cookbook
Fannie Farmer, author of the famous "Boston Cooking School Cook Book," first turned to cooking because ill-health interfered with her plans for a college education.

Raises Bugs
A laboratory in Delaware raised about a million and a half flies a year, and the same number of other bugs. The purpose of this is to test out various insecticides.

Steel Titan
For every ton of steel poured by Russia and her satellites, it is estimated nearly three tons were poured in the United States in the first half of 1950.

U. S. Egg Production
Egg production in the U.S. the first nine months of 1950 was seven per cent more than in 1949 and 14 per cent above the average for the years 1939 to 1948.

New Cagney Film Opens Tuesday

"Kiss Tomorrow Goodbye," Warner Bros. release starring James Cagney, showing Tuesday only at the SLATON THEATRE.

Jimmy portrays a college professor gone wrong, an educated tough guy who uses his fists and Phi Beta Kappa key to open the door to criminal wealth and love.

Barbara Payton, Helena Carter, Steve Brodie, and Luther Adler are featured in the film produced by William Cagney.

Parisian Tobacco Shop
The tobacco shops of Paris are distinguished at night by diamond-shaped red lamps which brightly illuminate the narrow streets.

Biggest Egg Layer
Oceanographers estimate that the average female cod lays five million eggs at a time, of which 10 survive to maturity.

West Texas Roundup

In view of the short oat and wheat crops this year, farmers should save all possible seed for planting, particularly of the approved varieties, says E. A. Miller, agronomist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Enough oats were produced to plant the 1952 crop, but Miller warns that there will be a shortage if farmers use all their oat feed. The situation is a little better for wheat than for oats.

"Save good planting seed," Miller advises. "There will be a demand for seed where no oats were made."

—The Terry County Herald

Not a single case of smallpox has occurred in Texas this year, said Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer. Unfortunately, the fact that we have had no smallpox does not mean we are immune for all time.

"Smallpox can strike again. For example, in 1947, an infected individual from Mexico innocently carried the disease to New York City. The result was 13 cases and three deaths, the first deaths in 35 years. Service men returning from the Orient caused an epidemic of 68 cases and 20 deaths in Seattle in 1946.

"In spite of Texas apparent freedom from smallpox, vaccination of every child before he is a year old and re-vaccination every three to five years is imperative. This is the only sure way to prevent the disease."

—Gaines County News

The Agriculture department in North Carolina is conducting tests of gasoline to provide better protection of the public against adulterated or illegally blended gasoline which has a flash point so low that its use might be hazardous. The tests are conducted in twelve laboratories on wheels. Retail outlets, terminals and sources of distribution are being checked.

—The Floyd County Hesperian

Thousands of children and adults die every year from diseases carried by the fly. Typhoid fever, tuberculosis, polio, summer complaint, cholera, intestinal diseases and frequently death follow closely in the trail of the common house fly.

"The control of the fly menace comes at the top of the list of necessary public health measures which should be applied by every city and community in the State," urged Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer.

—The Canyon News

Andrews men who complain about their wife's cooking should take warning. An Andrews man was hospitalized Tuesday for a stab wound in his tummy inflicted by his wife with a butcher knife.

It is reported that his wife had cooked him a good dinner, and he came in slightly intoxicated and started complaining about the food and throwing things around, including his wife.

It was at this point that she seized a butcher knife from the sink and let her husband have it. His physician reports that he will be all right in a few days.

—The Andrews County News

There's a good chance that tobacco raising may become a regular thing in the Rio Grande Valley. Climate is favorable, and test plantings thrive exceptionally well. However the burning quality of the tobacco leaves grown here has not been satisfactory. This is expected to be overcome by finding the best variety suited to this area.

—The Wink Bulletin

The concentrated drive against Garza county bootleggers by the Sheriff's office has been no arm-chair project as figures of "hauls" made since the first of the year readily point out.

And should they be bold enough to come forward, the bootleggers would certainly be the first to vouch for the fact that the Sheriff's office has grabbed sizeable chunks of money out of their pockets in the past seven months.

Figures released this week by the Sheriff's office on results of raids made by Sheriff Carl Rains and Deputies Fay and Luther Claborn since January 1 total up to a sizeable 'stash' of beverages in any man's book.

They include 466 fifths of wine, 277 pints of whiskey, 114 half pints of whiskey, 67 fifths of whiskey, 61 bottles of home brew and 5,429 cans of beer.

—The Post Dispatch

During World War I, Walter Camp, the athletic authority, declared it was essential that the members of President Wilson's cabinet "keep fit" so Camp worked up a set of exercises which he called the "daily dozen." All the cabinet members took the exercises except Secretary of the Navy Josephus Daniels.

He outlived them all.

—The Canyon News

Changes in the proposed 1951 dove seasons in Texas are foreseen by the Executive Secretary of the Game, Fish, and Oyster Commission following a conference with Clarence Cotton, assistant director of the Federal Fish and Wildlife Service.

The Fish and Wildlife service and the state jointly set seasons on both mourning doves and white wing doves because they are migratory birds.

The Commission, at its last regular meeting, recommended that the mourning dove season open in the North Zone September 1, and open in the South Zone November 15 to run 45 days. The Executive Secretary understood from the conference with Cotton that the opening dates may stand but that the season would run 40 instead of 45 days. The bag limits of ten per day and ten in possession seemingly will continue. Shooting hours would be from noon to sunset instead of all day.

Perry Caddell Is Assistant Manager Of New Auto Firm

PERRY CADDELL

Assistant manager, and head of the service department of Sparkman Motor Company, which is opening this week is Perry Caddell, formerly of Levelland, a veteran in the automotive field. Caddell, a native West Texan, was born in Snyder but moved to Levelland at an early age and except for a three-year-period of duty with the Army during World War II has resided continuously at Levelland. Experienced and familiar with all phases of automotive work, Caddell has made a speciality of autoservice, estimating and auto parts. At Levelland he was service manager of the DeSoto-Plymouth dealership for six years. Sparkman Motor Company, said Caddell, will have a complete line of auto parts, recommended by the factory, for all makes and model cars. "The service department will be equipped to handle any type of auto trouble and experienced mechanics will be working," he said. "For the Dodge, Plymouth and Dodge truck owners in the Slaton area Sparkman Motor Company will be especially helpful," Caddell said, "since we will be able to keep in touch with the latest factory methods of the Chrysler Corporation." Mr. Caddell, his wife, Othell, and 8-year-old daughter Barbara Ella have already moved to Slaton, and are living at 625 E. 17th St. They are members of the First Baptist Church.

Sparkman Motor Company Features Service, Repairs On Any Make Car

Sparkman Motor Company, opening here this week, has service facilities and equipment to service any make or model car. "The latest automotive equipment has been installed," said A. A. Sparkman, owner, "and we promise to have quick service on repairs but at the same time thorough service using factory methods."

For Dodge and Plymouth car owners and Dodge truck owners, Sparkman Motor Company will provide a place for repairs and service using "the methods recommended by the Chrysler Corporation."

Perry Caddell, service manager, said he has been working all week unloading auto parts and promises, "the most complete line of auto parts and accessories possible." MoPar auto parts for Dodge, Plymouth and Dodge trucks will be available, he said. Vernon Bradley, who formerly worked at the Dodge-Plymouth dealership in Post, will be Sparkman's mechanic. Experienced on all type repairs, Bradley also was a former Slatonite; working for a while at Slaton Motor Co.

Besides being dealer for Dodge and Plymouth, Sparkman will handle also Chrysler Corporations Industrial Irrigation Motors. Repair service on all type irrigation motors will be a feature.

Other full-time employees at Sparkman Motor Company beside Caddell and Bradley is Mrs. Kirby Scudder, wife of Postmaster Scudder, who will be bookkeeper. The new motor company is in the building which used to house Dickson Hatchery. Re-modeling, painting and clean-up work has been going on the past three weeks and the building is now in good condition.

In addition to the building Sparkman Motor owns and leases 50-feet of the adjoining lot, where parking space for cars and a used car lot will be available. Major re-modeling included the installation of a wash a grease rack, enlarging the back entrance and the addition of an over-head door on the side of the building. A large, neon sign stretches across the front of the building.

Mr. Sparkman said he is already received delivery on Dodge and Plymouth cars and Dodge trucks.

What's Going To Happen . . .

Will early marriages break down the social structure of the people of our nation? The tendency today is swinging back to early marriages with the young women becoming more and more aggressive in bringing on this condition. The results are that both the young wife and the young husband must work to keep the family going or the couple must be assisted by either the brides or the grooms parents.

The first condition soon brings unhappiness because no woman can make a home comfortable and work, nor can a man accept help from his parents, or from the parents of his wife, without losing some of his initiative.

Young people cannot go through college and become self supporting at the age most of them are now getting married, and yet late marriages are neither good for the young people, nor are they likely to be of benefit to the growth of the population. This generation is faced with problems that could bring a lot of troubled conditions to make or break up families, or to make men more, and more dependent, breaking down their independence because they accept money for which they have made no effort.

What the results will be only history can tell.

Success Means Many Things . . .

What does success mean to you? The people of the United States look upon worldly goods, and money in the bank, as the symbol of success, and overlook, and do not recognize, any other kind of success.

The town or community that sets a goal to make it a better place in which to live where the good health of its citizens and freedom from crime is more important than becoming a big city, is more of a success and means more to the nation even if it never becomes a metropolis.

This town has so far managed to be the kind of town that most folks like to live in; a town where people want to continue to live, and where many folks want to come back to after they have moved away. There are hundreds of people who once lived here who are still subscribing to this paper even though they have not been residents for a long, long time. Many of them will come back here when they retire, if Slaton does not get too much like some of the overgrown places where living is a great hazard, where crime and congestion make it a bad place to live, and where the friendliness of a home town have disappeared.

With the proper planning for the future this can be a bigger town, a more prosperous town, and a town that we can all call successful.

Means For Deferment . . .

Selective Service has just made a head-on collision with a situation that has long dismayed top-flight educators unable to inure themselves to cynicism. No small part of the mass student body in universities and colleges are not there for education but for a degree. As Selective Service has been given a sort of a mandate to let education take its course, it is going to have to make a choice of standards.

The theory of draft deferment is wisely extended to the cultivated mind. The country stands in need of that. The nation can not spare good doctors, engineers, scientists, builders in the true sense of the word, to get a few more riflemen into the ranks. But the need is for the type of mind that education has "plowed like a field, not filled as a bottle."

The draft deferment tests merely spotlight what every educator knows, that our colleges are inhabited by thousands of young folk who are not fitted to their service. Business and industry as well as education now place a premium on the degree and every youngster feels that once he gets his name on a sheepskin, he will be a success, regardless of what he knows. This idea now gets an extra fillip from the draft deferment provision. Going to college may avert and at least postpone service.

We are told that it is not democratic to weed out the people who can enter public-supported higher education, but annually at high cost we discharge from these institutions young men and women whose embarrassing failure could have been prevented by evaluating their limitations before these became painfully apparent in the classroom.

Selective Service deferment can have but one sound standard. It must be applied only where the merit is more than ambition for a meaningless degree. —The Dallas News.

Public School: Enemies And Friends . . .

One of the oldest and commonest of all fallacies is to explain ferment and discontent wholly in terms of "agitators." Where there is small basis for dissatisfaction the agitator soon finds he has little to work on. The danger he presents where there is a basis is the danger of rousing the emotions and playing upon the suspicions and prejudices of the ingenious until they can be organized by the purposeful. The result, then, may be less reform than demolition.

The American public school is under attack. It is an attack which charges infiltration by anything from parlor pink to deepest crimson. Recoiling from anything new and experimental, it would sweep away much of the progress in pedagogy achieved during the last half century, change the definition of education from "a leading out of" back into "a pounding into," and in the process breach the wall of separation between church and state.

The failures to understand the methods and goals of modern education, the confusion and near-hysteria which have in part underlain these attacks are subjects this newspaper has discussed frequently in the past. But it is just as important here, as elsewhere, not to blame the troubles of the public school on its enemies, bigoted or Machiavellian as they may be and to leave the matter there. Rather it is wiser to inquire also whether the public school in any way is providing gratuitous handles for its enemies to grasp.

A good starting point for such an inquiry might be an enlightened view set forth in a recent Christian Century by Mortimer Smith. Mr. Smith is a Connecticut writer who suddenly found himself on his local school board and had to face with some of the vices as well as the virtues of the system.

He bases his article largely on letters from parents and teachers—chiefly teachers. Their criticisms in the main are these: The school is trying to be all things to every child, ignoring the role of the home, the play group, and the community; it attempts to present a "slice of life," yet does not hold the children up to the demands of life; it is so concerned with methods of teaching it forgets that there are things worthy to be comprehended and taught.

This newspaper stands unreservedly on the side of the public school. We have yet to see evidence of any really extensive Communism infiltration or influence. We do not wish to return to the dunce cap and the birch rod. But there is evidence of much "unbottomed" thinking and overprofessionalization. The public school will triumph over its enemies more quickly and surely to the extent that more of its educators join those who take account of the things that trouble its friends. — The Christian Science Monitor.

They Like it a Million!

Last week Buick set a proud record.

The millionth Dynaflo Drive* was delivered to a happy owner.

That's a new peak in popularity for modern drives which take you from a standing start to any cruising speed desired with a smooth, unfaltering swoop of power.

"The biggest advance since the self-starter" is what the motorwise press called this Buick development back in 1948—and now a million owners can tell you how right that proved to be.

Here, they found, was a basically different way of delivering power.

It was the first drive to get completely away from any gears which function in a series of fixed stages—the first to apply supercharging principles that did new tricks with spinning oil.

And how folks loved it!

They loved the freedom from strain in traffic. And the new "sweetness" of ride which every passenger could enjoy.

They loved the command it gives them of every traffic situation—and the relaxation it contributes to a long day's drive.

They loved its extra safety in slippery going, and the improved control in mud and snow.

As they piled up experience, they loved the unexpected savings of rear tire wear and the reduced strain on all driving parts, from engine to differential.

And finally—they loved what it does for the value of a Buick, as reflected in the extra dollars that Dynaflo* adds to the resale price of a car.

Have you sampled this driving sensation?

There's no time like the present for discovering the thrills that more than a million Buick owners already know.

Equipment, accessories, trim and models are subject to change without notice. *Standard on ROADMASTER, optional at extra cost on other Series.

JUST TALK

by
A.M.J.

A couple of week ago I mentioned in "Just Talk" that one of the Slatonite newsboys, Jerry Pricer, told my wife that he loved little Jackie Shepard's guts. Now Jerry says that he is famous all over town.

When he related his experiences to my wife she said "maybe folks like you."

"Oh, yes," said Jerry. "I have lots of friends. Everybody likes me."

Jerry has flaming red hair and could win a prize in a freckle contest, he weighs a little less than a ton and he wears a smile a yard wide and six feet deep. It's no wonder he has so many friends.

If Jerry can hold onto his cheerful attitude and not let the troubles of the world, his own experiences, and the efforts of folks in general to bring the darker side of life to his attention, he'll have a successful life if he never gets rich.

Jerry is quite a guy, and so is Jackie Shepard, Don Marsh and all the rest of the young hopefuls who fuss, fight, and hustle to sell Slatonites over town.

Squire Peavy said that he felt sorry for Jackie Shepard the week that he was selling Slaton's Frontier Celebration edition of the Slatonite. Jackie's sack full of papers was about the same size as Jackie, and probably weighed more than he does, he was dragging it along, sweating and howling at the top of his voice. "I bought two of the papers to help get them off his back, although I had one in the mail," said the Squire.

Publishing the Slatonite causes a lot of trouble to a lot of people, including me.

There's one unselfish woman in town and that's Mrs. Si Wilson. She was in the office last week when she subscribed to a four-years sentence of the Slatonite. She was telling of some of the things she is going to have in her new home and all of them were planned to make life easy for Si.

She never did mention one thing that she had figured out for herself. Everything has been planned for comfort and life is certainly going to be easy for Mr. Wilson. If he wants a drink of ice water, while he is sitting at his desk, he'll have it right there handy in his office, if he wants to shave, his shaving outfit will be there and so will a shower bath.

Things are changing fast and maybe some day we men will have it as easy as the women do. Mrs.

Wilson has things started in the right direction.

Last week I saw a sign above some corn in the grocery store that said "Yellow Bantam" and I bought some even though I knew it was not likely yellow bantam sweet corn. The man who wrote the sign either willfully misrepresented the truth or he don't know yellow bantam sweet corn when he meets it in the middle of the corn row.

I first met a big bait of yellow bantam sweet corn in Creede, Colorado, and I asked my wife why in the world she had spent my hard chiseled vacation money on such tough looking little nubbins of corn. We had been eating mountain trout and Irish potatoes until I was gagging at our meals and she had, in desperation, bought the corn from a vegetable man who was peddling green stuff at the fishing resort where we were roughing it. We did not miss a day eating yellow bantam corn from that day until we started home, but when we got back to Amarillo we never could find any more yellow bantam. I want to warn you folks who see signs that read yellow bantam sweet corn that yellow bantam is the sorriest looking little nubbins of corn you could hope to find, but the sweetest tasting, the tenderest hearted and carries the most powerful stomach ache you could hope to find, if you eat too much of it. That corn labelled yellow bantam in the grocery stores is fairly good horse corn, but it cannot hold a dim light to yellow bantam. If you ever get the opportunity try greasing your ears with some genuine yellow bantam. Don't miss it.

It does not pay to read too many magazines for they soon break down all of the faith you have in most everything. One writer who claims to have done some scientific experimenting on the things folks do to beat the heat wrote that ice water does no good, a fan makes little difference, a cold bath is not as good as a lukewarm one, that cold food is no better than hot food, and that exercise is better than sitting down in the shade with a lemonade.

He made one suggestion. Put your hand and arm up to the elbow in cool, but not cold, water.

If you see me lugging a tub of water around in a wheel barrow with one arm stuck in it you'll know I'm just cooling off, and that I have quit drinking ice water, lemonade and that I have stopped lapping up ice cream, which is my favorite past-time.

And while thinking about ice cream I find that a lot of folks have not eaten my favorite kind, orange ice cream, and my next best favorite is apricot ice cream. Both of them have a refreshing flavor that seems so cooling to me, however I hardly ever get any of either kind, because I can't get my wife to mix up the stuff to make it, and I don't know how to do it myself. If there are any of you readers who would like to try some I'll endeavor to get the recipe in the paper for you. Just drop me a card or phone me.

Another favorite past-time of mine is sticking my nose into a big slice of orange pie, but like the ice cream, I can't get my wife to bake them for me and as she is the only one who I know of who can make orange pie, I'm nearly at the point of starvation, down to 185 pounds and losing ground all the time.

Slaton People Worth Knowing

Mrs. F. B. Tudor was Bessie Wallace, when she married F. B. Tudor in Plainview, in December of 1921. They came directly to Slaton. Mr. Tudor and his brother owned a gin and feed store where the Ayers Feed and Seed Co. is now. There was a small house on this land and Mr. and Mrs. Tudor lived there until July of 1922. At that time they moved into their newly-completed home at 245 N. 5th St., and have lived here ever since. Mr. and Mrs. Tudor have one son, Alton. He and his wife live at Poesy. They have two grandsons, Arthur and Stanley, and of course, the Tudors think them the finest boys alive.

Mrs. Tudor is a member of the First Methodist Church, the W.S. C.S. (of the First Methodist Church) and she is a Charter member of the Bluebonnet Club. For years she sang with the choir of the First Methodist Church. In ginning season she helps with the office work at the gin.

She likes to fish. She and Mr. Tudor have a cabin on the Pedernalas river near Austin. They spend a lot of their leisure time there, and get in lots of good fishing.

Next to fishing, Mrs. Tudor likes flowers and gardening. She cans and preserves quarts and quarts of taste-tingling fruits and vegetables from her garden. She works hard on her back-yard. She has a beautiful assortment of flowers there. Next year she plans on putting in a barbecue pit to add to the fun of 'living outdoors'.

In the winter time, when the canning is done, and it's out of season for gardening and fishing, Mrs. Tudor will read. No matter what it is, fiction, science, autobiography, anything as long as it's good. No dime novels. With a life full of good works, good books, good food, beautiful flowers, and fishing, Mrs. Tudor wouldn't trade places with anyone or live anywhere but here for anything in the world.

Mr. and Mrs. Max Arrants and Mr. and Mrs. Howard Swanner are in Ruidoso, N. M. this week.

Miss Pauline Lokey, of Amarillo, is visiting her sisters Mrs. Paterson and Mrs. J. A. Elliott. Also visiting the sisters is a nephew, Paula Cato, of Amarillo.

Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Lovett as their guests last week-end, son, Cecil Lovett, Mrs. Lovett's daughters, Barbara Ann, DeJo, Frances Kay, and Jay, Karnes City, Texas. They arrived Monday morning for points in Mexico and Colorado. They expect to return via Carlsbad Caverns.
