Farmer Questioned Every Day About Gravel Packed 8 Ft. Diameter Well

Last year J. B. Kitten tried a new experiment in irrigation well drilling on his farm near Slaton. Now people ask him every day how the well is doing and whether or not he plans to drill another like it.

As a matter of fact, it wasn't drilled, it was dug. A hole 8 feet in diameter was dug with a clam by C. R. Caperton Construction Co. of Lubbock. Dynamite was used to blast rock formations during the digging. The well was dug to a depth of 127 feet. The water stood at 88 before pumping and at 115 feet while pumping.

A 16 inch casing was braced in the center of the hole and gravel was packed around it to above water level. Time was allowed for the gravel to settle, then the hole was filled with dirt. The 270 sq. yds. of gravel used filled the hole to 65 feet from the top.

J. B. would not dig another well of this type. That doesn't mean that this one was a failure—on the contrary he considers it a real success. He would not dig another because he doesn't dig "careful."

"I wouldn't," he thinks he could get the same amount of water from a smaller hole of gravel packed in the same way, but made with the usual drilling equipment. However, some wells of that type have given trouble and he knows his never will.

Kitten used his new well for part of his pre-planting irrigation last year, to irrigate last year's crop, and for pre-planting irrigation this year, and it's just as good as last year if not better. When he starts the well it pumps a full 8 inch pump for about a week and then levels off to a 6 inch and holds that.

The well is a little better this spring than it was last year, but J. B. says a 10 foot rise in the water level would account for that. During the process of digging the big hole J. B. went down in the well several times to examine the earth, clay and rock formations. He has satisfied his curiosity about the source and type of underground water here, and he knows for sure that he is getting all the water that is there. He is glad he made the experiment; it was worth the extra expense, but he doesn't plan another well of that type.

Reporting on the cost of the well, J. B. itemized his expenses as follows: 152 hours of labor at $7.00 per hour, 270 yds. of gravel at $1.50 a yd. and $1.50 a yd. for hauling. Including the cost of moving a pump and casing from an abandoned well on his farm, the total cost was close to $2,000 and it was well worth it. Large crowds of spectators were present during the digging, and some spent hours examining the various types of rock, sand, clay, and gravel taken from the hole.

Caperton started a well for Chancey Sand and Gravel but the man who was doing the dynamiting quit and the work was abandoned, because no one could be found who was both capable of doing the work and willing. It is dangerous work. He was out of J. B.'s well just a minute and a half when the first charge went off. The charges had to be placed to keep the shape of the hole and timed to go off one at a time so they could be counted, eliminating the danger of going down with live dynamite still in the hole. There was the danger of the engine dying, the cable slipping, etc.

IS IT RIGHT IN THE SIGHT OF GOD

On the evening of April the seventh, 1953, there were serious charges brought against all religious people who teach that man must do anything in order to obtain forgiveness of his sins. Such charges as those that follow were made: "They are Sons of Hell, LIARS, SWINE, FALSE PROPHETS, etc." The writer asked for an opportunity to discuss these charges publicly with the one who made them; but the accuser refused. The following proposition was presented to J. J. (Chief) Hendricks (Cherokee Baptist evangelist, who is preaching in a revival at Southland, Texas):

The Scriptures teach that baptism is necessary for the remission of sins.

(Signed by writer) AFFIRMATIVE

NEGATIVE

This is the teaching that he called "DAMNABLE DOCTRINE"; yet these are the words of the Apostle Peter (Acts 2:38). If you would like to read this proposition, open your New Testament and read it. Peter was speaking as the Holy Spirit (vs. 4). Therefore, the charges that were made would apply to this great apostle and to the HOLY SPIRIT who moved him. Peter said "save yourselves" (vs. 40); yet the Chief says that anyone who so teaches is a swine.

When the above proposition was presented to the Chief, he refused on the grounds that he did not believe in arguing. He was reminded that he wasn't being asked to argue; but, on the contrary, he was being asked to defend publicly the doctrine that he professed to believe. Peter exhorted all Christians to "be ready always to give unto EVERY MAN that asketh you, a reason of the hope that is in you" (1 Pet. 3:15). He was also reminded that the Lord was always ready to present His teaching in the face of all opposition. Even when a boy, twelve years of age, he was "in the temple, sitting in the midst of the teachers, both hearing them and asking them questions" (Lu. 2:46). He was not only the great Teacher and Reasoner of His age, but the greatest—the world has ever seen. He was openly attacked by the Jews in a fruitless effort to defend their system against His claims, but He promptly joined issue with them, and the sharp debate which followed was unique in the fact that, being unable to meet His logic, they broke up the discussion by taking up stones to cast at Him.

Turning now from the life of the Master to that of Paul, we find an almost unbroken series of sharp contentions with the enemies of the truth. He was at home in debate, whether reasoning in the school of Tyrannus (Acts 19:9), or answering the proud philosophers of Athens (Acts 17:17). Read also Acts 24:12. In each case the word dispute (or a participle thereof) was used. Let attention be called to the fact that the word dispute means "TO SPEAK DIVERSELY." The scriptures clearly testify to the fact that men of GOD DEBATED, and that PUBLICLY. Why then the Chief's refusal? Could it be that he is afraid the doctrine which he preaches will not stand up under the searchlight of God's Word (why else would a man refuse to follow the example of these Godly men)? The truth has stood throughout the ages against every conceivable religious error. It stands today as unfurnished as it was in the beginning. Those who hold to the TRUTH today have nothing to fear in the face of any opposition. It has been and shall always be able to defeat error. Why then, should he that preaches the truth be unwilling to preach it under any circumstances? It is the firm conviction of the writer, that anyone who counts Christ's word as sacred, should be willing at any time to preach it; whatever might be the occasion, whoever might be the audience, and whenever the need arises.

The accuser also made a statement to the effect that no good could come of such a discussion. BUT let it be remembered that God teaches: "It (God's Word) shall not return unto me void" (Isa. 55:11). Never has God's Word been preached without doing good; so shall it ever be. It was to this end that the proposition was drawn up. Notice the word "scriptures," which is contained in the proposition. This word means GOD'S SACRED TRUTH.

Presbyterians Set Special Service

A special service—"One Great Hour of Sharing"—will feature this Sunday morning's worship at the First Presbyterian Church, it was announced yesterday by Rev. Jim Engel, pastor.

Rev. Engel extended a cordial invitation to townspeople to attend this service, which will culminate a fund-raising effort on the part of local Presbyterians to obtain funds for the "One Great Hour" drive, a concerted appeal aimed at meeting the continuing needs of people in Europe and Asia.

The local drive is part of a nationwide fund-seeking campaign. In 1952, the drive realized $828,523. Of that amount, most of the funds contributed were used for European relief ($154,600) and Asian relief ($530,183).

Presbyterian church members here are slated this Sunday to bring to church special offering boxes in which they have been accumulating "One Great Hour of Sharing" contributions for more than a month. For those who do not have special contribution boxes, there will be special envelopes in the pews, Rev. Engel explained.

The Share the Fun Program designed to give young people the opportunity to create fun and entertainment for themselves, their families and friends. It is the recreational phase of the 4-H program and is nationwide.

Week's Question . . .

Slaton Men Give First Glance To Face Or Hair When Meeting Women

"When you meet a woman on the street, what area of feminine anatomy do you look at first; what rates a first glance?"

This week's question is an old one that has been asked many times in polls taken all over the world. Statistics have been compiled showing comparisons of answers given by men of different countries, single and married men, men in different age groups. The statisticians made long and involved reports, a glance at which makes one thing apparent. Women's faces and hair rate more first glances in Slaton than anywhere else in the world. And Frenchmen are either more prone to look first at that portion of feminine anatomy currently being outlawed as book cover material by Texas lawmakers, or just more willing to say so. Here are the replies of Slaton men who were put on the spot this week.

Cliff Cox. "Actually I imagine I usually look at her face first. I couldn't always give the exact color of her eyes and hair later, but I think the face gives away a person's personality. After I glance at her face, I give her an all over once-over."

Clyde Doherty. "When it comes to answering questions on the opposite sex, I have no comment."

Phil Brewer. "Her toenails. I notice her facial features first and then the way she's dressed. If she's pretty I might go ahead and scrutinize her more closely."

Don Brush. "Her face, and I just stop there."

Dub Riddle. "I don't know where I look. Actually I think I look at her hair first."

Claude Cravens. "Did you get that approved by the Legion of Decency? Truthfully the thing I always look at first, and think is the most striking thing about any woman is the color of her hair. Platinum blondes and red heads particularly stand out. When two men are discussing a woman whose name they don't know, the first thing they say in describing her is whether she is blond, brunette, or red headed."

James Brush. (Censored). Erwin Heinrich. "I usually look at the face. Well sometimes I do, and sometimes I don't. I never think of looking at the color of their eyes, and I never look at their hair. I knew my wife six months before I knew what color her eyes are. I would say the face."

Glenn Crews. "I start from the feet and go up." Roscoe Mercer. "The way she's dressed. The build has something to do with where I look next. I usually notice the dress and how they walk. I wouldn't want them to catch me looking too hard, but I can see a lot in a glance."

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Klesel will attend the Locker Convention at Houston at the Shamrock Hotel April 12, 13 and 14. They plan to spend a few days fishing at Corpus Christi and to visit Mr. Klesel's relatives at Weimar and Schulenburg.

Mr. and Mrs. George Green spent the Easter holidays "down South," mostly at Lake Buchanan, fishing. The scenery was beautiful, with bluebonnets, red buds, phlox, and whole carpets of yellow, blue, and white wild flowers in bloom. They also visited their daughter, Joan, at Belton, where she is in school.

SCOOPIN' AROUND

with the S.H.S. Snooper

Well, this certainly isn't a good week to have any news about what's going on in school because there was hardly any school. I'll tell you as much as I can about what did happen.

Monday, Slaton High received a new student. His name is Charles Hendricks, a Junior, 17, and is from Lancaster, California. So far as I know he hasn't taken part in any school activity. We certainly hope you enjoy it in Slaton, Charles.

Tuesday night, some kids were cleaning up Tiger Town and having lots of fun doing it. They are getting ready to fix up the floors. There wasn't really very much to do and it wasn't at all hard. When we re-open Tiger Town let's put it over better and make it a better one than it was the last time.

Wednesday in assembly Mr. Gilbert talked to the student body about having a Western Day instead of class picnics and Senior Day. Patsy, why didn't they trust you to take the votes to the office? Now to get back to the subject. We will dress in western clothes and there will be prizes given for many different things. There will be a fine of 25c or do a number on the assembly program for those that do not dress western or pioneer. When Mr. Gilbert finished telling us about it the classes went to their regular meeting places and voted. They also took care of any business that they needed to. The Freshmen elected Martha Allred as their other representative on the student council since Donna Pearson had to move to Amarillo. Wednesday night the tennis courts were swarmed with kids. The kids in Slaton sure do go out for tennis. I think you'd really be surprised how many have just learned to play in the last year or two. Thursday school was very dull. The band practiced on their contest pieces and were informed that they would have to play their part solo before this week is up. In some of the other classes they were told when they would have their six-weeks test. Friday morning some kids went to Tiger Town and worked on the floors. They only got to do part of it because they had to store the furniture in one end of it. Saturday and Sunday all of the kids were out of town or at home, so I'll skip those two days. Monday, the floor of Tiger Town was finished and it looked better than we had expected it to. Well, I've covered that week as good as I know how and I'll see you next week. Good-bye.

NEW ATOM SUBMARINE IS FAR CRY FROM FIRST MODEL ACCEPTED 53 YEARS AGO

April 11 is the 53rd anniversary of the acceptance of the submarine Holland by the Navy Department. John Phillip Holland built the first submarine for the Navy in 1900. It was a stubby cigar shaped craft powered by a four cylinder gasoline engine. The boat could submerge for short periods and was considered of slight military significance at the time.

Germany was the first to exploit the submarine as a major weapon of naval warfare. In the "unsinkable" Kaiser found the one weapon that could challenge the might of the British Navy.

In both World Wars of the 20th Century the Allies developed methods of combating the submarine menace before the German Navy completely strangled our war effort, but not before millions of tons of vital war materials and thousands of lives were lost.

In the Pacific, our fleet type submarines virtually dominated the sea lanes. They sank two thirds of Japan's merchant tonnage, and one third of her naval losses.

In addition to sinking enemy ships, submarines scouted enemy waters, took reconnaissance photographs, landed pre-invasion scouting parties, supported guerrillas in occupied countries, evacuated the enemy encircled outposts, mined Japanese home waters, and rescued downed airmen.

After the war, the Navy modernized and improved submarines. One of the improvements was the addition of the snorkel or breathing tube. This tube enables submarines to cruise submerged at periscope depths on their diesel engines since air needed for the diesels is inducted via the tube.

Another improvement was the modification of fleet type boats into "guppies." Guppy means greater underwater propulsion power with the "Y" added for cuphony. The greater speed was attained by installing higher capacity electric storage batteries and streamlining the submarine.

Last summer, the keel of the USS Nautilus, the Navy's first atomic powered submarine was laid. Its launching is expected in less than two years. When this submersible slides down the ways it will probably surpass even the mechanical perfection and performance of Jules Verne's fictional Nautilus.

The operation data of the new submarine is classified information, but we can be sure that she'll out fight our "souped up" submarines of post war days, make our World War II boats look like pre-war status in the used car lot and our first submarine like something out of the Smithsonian Institute.

A MODEL of the USS Nautilus, nuclear powered atomic submarine of tomorrow. The keel of the Nautilus was laid last year at the Electric Boat Company, New London, Conn. (Official U. S. Navy Photograph—12808)

YOUR SENATOR REPORTS

(Senator Lyndon B. Johnson, writing from Washington, gives a weekly report on happenings in the National Capitol as they affect Texas and Texans.)

The Senate took up last Wednesday the legislation restoring Texas' title to every foot of land she had as an independent Republic and which we retain when we entered the United States.

This is the so-called Holland Bill, of which Senator Price Daniel and I are co-sponsors. Senator Daniel and I worked very closely together to get this bill out of committee. Forty Senators are co-sponsors of this bill and it has the support of the Administration. The House passed similar legislation last week.

Texas' historic boundaries will be restored.

I understand that bills are to be introduced in the Senate and House to reorganize the Farm Credit Administration and make it an independent agency. I have not yet seen copies of the proposed bills, but the principle involved seems sound. The legislation would bring control and participation in all functions of the agency down to local levels within the 12 agricultural credit districts throughout the country. I think the agency should also be permitted to make economic emergency loans for any agricultural purpose, as well as for the disaster type loans now authorized.

Secretary of Agriculture Benson called a grain sorghum industry conference here Tuesday of last week. Purpose was to review the present grain sorghum situation and to consider measures to help stabilize prices and production. Invited from Texas were B. J. Gist of Abilene; Jack N. Greenman of Fort Worth, and Bob Yeager and Mark Triplett, both of Amarillo.

The FSA reorganization bill, main effect of which so far as Texans are concerned will be to make Oveta Culp Hobby of Houston the first Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare, sailed through the Senate last week. Nobody registered a negative vote.

Remember the "Enola Gay"? It's the B-29 from which the atomic bomb was dropped on Hiroshima nearly eight years ago. This plane, which is now the property of the National Air Museum, is in moth balls at Pyote Air Force Base. The Air Force informs me that the famous plane will be on display at Pyote Air Force Base on May 16 for an Armed Forces Day open house celebration.

I have given Senator William Langer, Chairman of the Committee on the Judiciary, additional information on the work load in the Eastern District of Texas, which has only one Federal Judge. I am pressing for action on my bill to provide an additional judgeship in this district.

The 1953 Texas Cancer Crusade is now under way, with Arch S. Underwood, Lubbock, as chairman. Financial goal is $60,000. Every day over 600 Americans die of cancer. . . . John S. Clark, El Paso, has been named project manager for a $100,000,000 sub-contract for electrical work on the Atomic Energy Commission's new gaseous diffusion plant in Ohio.

Mrs. H. H. Weinert, Sec'y, Democratic National Committee-woman, was a welcome visitor at the office. Mrs. Weinert attended my luncheon for Col. Royal N.

Highlights and Sidelights FROM Your State CAPITOL

BY VERN SANFORD
Texas Press Association

AUSTIN, Tex.—Behind closed doors went senators and representatives trying to agree on the Legislature's big spending bill.

A guard kept out reporters, one of whom recalled, somewhat bitterly, that a House committee had recommended passage of a resolution condemning the federal government for doing business behind closed doors. The Senate had already passed such a resolution.

Senator Otis Lock and Representative Max Smith explained that it is customary for conference committees to meet privately. These men, chairmen of the Senate and House appropriations committees, said the conferees were trying to get together on policy.

Both the Senate and House have passed appropriations bills, but they differ in amount. The Senate bill is about six million dollars higher.

Action on other spending bills was held up until the houses finally passed the big one, which is for general government expense.

That was a ruling of House Speaker Reuben Stenterfitt, the case in point being a move to change a teachers pay-raise bill from the appropriations committee to the public lands and buildings committee.

The motion failed, but the appropriations committee set a hearing on three bills to hike teachers salaries. Under Stenterfitt's ruling it is proper to hold the hearings, but no action can be taken on these or any other spending measures until the general appropriations bill is finally passed.

One of the teacher bills would boost all teacher's salaries $600 a year, another would give them $240, and the third sets up a sliding scale giving lower bracket teachers $504 additional and less for the higher-paid pedagogues.

Opposition developed quickly to a tax bill that would raise $34 million a year in new money.

Earle Cabell, Dallas business

Baker, McKinney's jet air ace. In this Holy Week, a time of resurrection and hope, all our prayers are for an end to the fighting in Korea—and for lasting peace in the world.

man, told the legislature he feared higher taxes would retard the growth and prosperity of the state.

Favoring the bill were a group of West Texans who insisted that more money is needed for schools, roads, and other purposes.

Committee hearings will be held twice weekly for three weeks so that all may express their opinions on this measure.

Representative George S. Berry of Lubbock is author of the tax bill, which levies on manufacture of lumber and lime; mining of coal, lignite, asphaltic limestone, gypsum, salt, sand, gravel, shell, clay, limestone, granite, marble, sandstone, asphalt and Fuller's earth; oil production; beer gross receipts of chemical manufacturers; refining of gasoline; and imports.

The state health officer has a clean bill of health.

Charges against Dr. George W. Cox were dismissed by the state board of health, and the board elected him to serve another two-year term.

Senator J. T. Rutherford of Odessa had charged Dr. Cox with irregularities, but the board, after holding an investigation, found that the state health officer and his associates were innocent of "any misconduct or misappropriation of moneys or materials."

Dr. O. B. Kiel of Wichita Falls, chairman of the board, said members had "a great deal of faith and confidence in Dr. Cox."

Texas officials expressed gratification when the national house of representatives passed a bill returning ownership of the tidelands to Texas.

Governor Allan Shivers, Land Commissioner Bascom Giles, and Attorney General John Ben Shepperd comprise the Texas School land board, which would administer the vast area.

They all expressed the wish that Congress will give Texas a part of the revenue from all of the continental shelf. The present bill puts Texas' boundary at three leagues out in the Gulf of Mexico.

Congress last year passed legislation returning ownership of the tidelands to the states, but the measure was vetoed by President Truman.

The tidelands are particularly valuable because they are rich in oil.

The Senate approved a proposed constitutional amendment that would give four-year terms of office to precinct, county, and district officials, except members of the House of Representatives.

In the house there is a similar proposal which includes the representatives in the four-year term of office. Several senators have expressed their opposition to this aspect of the resolution.

Those who favor the change reason that local officials usually serve two terms anyway, and that running for office every two years takes time and costs money.

"Lascivious and misleading" book covers would be barred from the newsstands under the terms of a bill passed by the Senate and sent to the house.

There are teeth in the bill, too. Publishers, jobbers, and retailers who handle the books with the sexy covers would be subject to a fine of $1,000, or a jail sentence of six months, or both.

Careless application, poor atmospheric conditions at the time of painting and too much moisture are listed as the three main reasons why many paint jobs deteriorate too rapidly.

Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Middleton and son, Tracy, of Amarillo, visited last week end with Mrs. Middleton's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Culwell. Mrs. Middleton and Tracy are spending the week here.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugo Piwonka and Mrs. Mary Wotipka have recently returned from a trip to Caldwell, Tex., where they attended funeral services for Charles Hlavaty, Mrs. Piwonka's uncle and Mrs. Wotipka's brother.

TO THE VOTERS OF PRECINCT 3....

I want to take this method to express my thanks to Precinct Three voters for having elected me as your City Commissioner.

I say unto you, that likewise joy shall be in Heaven over one sinner that repenteth, more than over ninety and nine just persons, which need no repentance. — (St. Luke XV, 7.)

We can be living, or trying to live, Christian lives ourselves and still, at the same time, often be too sure of our own righteousness to think of our neighbor who, not living in Christ, seems beneath our notice. Wolves Firm Grip On Second Place In Jungle Softball

The Wolves fashioned a narrow 9-8 win over the Lions at West Ward field Saturday to take a firm grip on second place in the Junior League. Slaton's softball loop for boys 12 and under.

The victory gives the Wolves a 2-1 league record, second only to the 3-0 record compiled by the front-running Bears. Steve Smith and Sammy Wilson each tallied two runs to lead the Wolves to victory, and Rantzy Sanders counted twice for the losers. Lavy Reed did the hurling and Virgil Coffee was behind the plate for the winners. Sanders and Jerry Harlan composed the Lion battery.

A scheduled game between the Bobcats and the Tigers failed to materialize when neither team could field a sufficient number of players. In place of that game, the Bears whacked out a 28-4 triumph over a combination of Lions and Bobcats. Dale Gordon, Bear captain and pitcher, smacked two homers and scored five runs to lead his team to the practice game victory.

This Saturday's schedule pits the Wolves against the Tigers at 9 a.m. and the Bears against the Lions at 10:30 a.m. Both games will be played at West Ward School.

Up-to-date league standings include Bears 3-0, Wolves 2-1, Lions 1-2, Tigers 0-1, and Bobcats 0-2.

THIS and THAT FROM HERE and THERE

Drifting Sands—

Well, Spring is here, and Easter is just around the corner. The daughters of Eve, from the tiny tots to the grown-ups are busy shopping here and there for Easter finery. It will be a grand day April 5th, when the daughters adorned and bedecked from head to foot will sally forth in all their radiant splendor to receive the homage and the plaudits of the sons of Adam.

This sort of thing is frowned upon by some religious organizations, but we think the Good Lord smiles from behind his hand, as he watches his children on the Easter parade.

Judge Dent was telling this column about children who are taken from broken and unfit homes and those who are willingly released by uncaring parents. The details of some of these transactions are too sordid to be printed here, but hearing these stories leaves a lasting impression on the mind of anyone who knows about these pitiful youngsters.

In the cases where the children are taken from homes unfit to keep them, the situation is bad enough, but when parents willingly give the kids away because they don't want them, then that is truly a pitiful situation.

Now that it's too late, it occurs to me that it might have been a good idea had Slaton staged some sort of public forum just prior to the city election. That would have given the candidates for mayor and the city commission a chance to air their views to all of those interested enough to attend. More important, probably, it would have given the people a chance to ask the opinion of any or all candidates on any given question.

"Do right" and "justice for all" platforms sound fine. But they do nothing to help inform the voter on the specific views of a candidate.

New Mexico has a sort of "fair trade" law on liquor and beer. A case of Falstaff, for example, costs the same at Roswell as at Broncho as at Albuquerque.

Texas has no such law. A package store operator in this state may sell his beer and liquor at whatever price he chooses.

In New Mexico then, no price competition. In Texas, lots of it. In Roswell, for example, you'll pay at least a dollar more for a case of beer than in Amarillo. You'll pay close to two dollars more in New Mexico for a fifth of good bourbon whiskey.

The old-fashioned American system of freedom of enterprise often results in a pretty fair shake for the consumer. But a fella can't help but wonder sometimes how much fairness there is in some of the "fair trades" laws.

If this column were asked to submit the names of Slaton's three hardest workers, we would suggest Hack Lasater, Barney Wilson and Ray "Flap" Samples.

It occurs to me occasionally that it might be a good idea if pastors and college professors had to make their own way in the world of business for two or three years before they launch themselves on a career of telling other people how everything is or ought to be.

Is it an erroneous impression or are there a higher-than-average number of "For Sale" signs dotting Slaton residences these days?

One of the most delicious meat dishes I have ever eaten is a thing called veal scaloppini (sp?) served by a little Italian restaurant in Austin. Recipes for this concoction, however, seem to be scarce. Non-existent, in fact. Do any of you women know what this is, and how to prepare it?

Speaking of things to eat, decent sweet rolls and coffee cakes seem to be things of the past. The breakfast delicacies offered by today's mass-production bakeries more closely resemble a dried-out knurl of putty temptingly topped off with an almost invisible coating of shellac.

CAR OUTPUT UP
LOS ANGELES—PF Automotive Digest, a report on monthly auto city in the auto industry, reported today that passenger car plants are now operating at rates higher than any time during the past two years. "March assemblies exceeded 550,000 units — the best of 1951," the news letter reports.

A national cotton crop of 12 to 12.5 million bales is the goal set by the USDA for 1953. Such a crop will meet domestic and export demands and will leave a sufficiently large amount for reserves.

Meet A Newsboy

Mike Lovelady, one of the Slatonites' littlest newsboys, is 8 years old and in the third grade. He covers both sides of North 10th St. on his paper route. Mike says he weighs about 50 lbs., and doesn't know how tall he is. He has big brown eyes, light brown hair, is a little shy and very friendly. Mike is easy going, has a good disposition, and is not the least bit opinionated. He likes everything so much that it is hard for him to name favorites.

He lives at 305 North 10th St. with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. T. Lovelady, and his sisters, Susan, 7, and Mary Jane, 12. He has a brother, Scott, who is married and lives in Lubbock, and two brothers, Jimmy and Jerry, in the Marine Corps. He says Jimmy will be home soon. Mike really lights up with enthusiasm at the mention of his Marines. He will be glad when they get home.

Christmas is the best day in the year from Mike's point of view, and Spring is the best season. He likes school better than vacation and English is his favorite subject. He likes to draw.

Mike likes all foods; he doesn't have a favorite. He says his mother is a real good cook.

If he could do anything he wanted to anywhere in the world, he would stay right here and play baseball. Baseball is his favorite sport. He is catcher for the Yankees.

Mike doesn't have a girl friend — not yet. When he is old enough to have girl friends, he says it won't make a bit of difference to him whether they are fat or thin, tall or short, blond or dark. He just won't care. Right now he'd rather play with boys than girls. He thinks Jimmy and Jerry are old enough to have girl friends.

Mike belongs to Cub Scouts. He is a collector. He collects rocks and things like that.

His ambition is to be a Marine when he grows up.

TSTA Executive Stresses Need Of More Public Interest In Education

Editor's note: This is the third and last in a series of articles on the needs of the Texas public schools.

By Charles H. Tennyson
Executive Secretary, TSTA
More than anything else, our Texas public schools need public interest in education because such interest would provide the support necessary to solve most public school problems.

If the people of Texas were familiar with such problems as low teacher salaries and inadequate, unsafe buildings, they would not tolerate these things.

They would insist that our public schools have safe, sanitary buildings, staffed by alert, capable, conscientious teachers in sufficient numbers. They would take the initiative in raising the money necessary to provide the best possible education for the youngsters who face the task of preserving our American way of life.

Education is big business. It is the biggest business, in which our people are engaged. The Texas Public Schools involve more than 3,000,000 parents, 60,000 teachers, nearly 20,000 non-professional employees and, above all, approximately 1,634,000 school children.

The latter figure is expected to increase by 300,000 by 1960. An additional teacher will be needed for every 26 children in average daily attendance.

The objective of the citizens of Texas should be to make it possible to secure the most able and best qualified teachers possible.

Texas is a fast-growing state. It is becoming an urban state. It is receiving annually thousands of additional citizens from other states, bringing more children to be educated.

We feel that to provide second-rate facilities and second-rate teachers is inadequate, unfair to the children and on Texas.

Our schools belong to the people and it is up to the people to do more than simply provide transportation and lunch money for their children.

How many times have you visited the school where your child spends almost half of his waking hours? Do you know the teachers? Are they good ones and does your school have enough? Do you know whether the classrooms are safe and whether they are overcrowded? Do you know whether the school has adequate sanitary facilities?

The answers to these questions should be on the lips of every parent.

In a monetary sense, our schools represent a multi-million dollar investment on the part of the people. In a more important sense, they represent a huge investment in America and in democracy.

Education is responsible more than any other single factor for the high standard of living we enjoy. Education has made possible great production and marvelous inventions. Have you ever stopped to think of how much education went into your television set?

Texas has the framework, established by the Gilmer-Aikin bills in 1949, for a first-class educational system; but, during the past four years, it has failed to keep pace. The state has dropped so swiftly, in comparison with other states, that it now ranks 26th in teacher salaries and 27th in the amount of money spent for each school child.

Since the people own the schools, only an alert, well-informed public can improve them.

Peanuts should be grown in combination with other crops, pastures and livestock for balanced farming.

Death losses on the range can be prevented, during the early spring when poisonous plants commence growing, through the use of good range management practices.

Weather conditions in most sections of the state during late spring are favorable for doing the outside painting job on the farm.

Towel Monograms On A Shoestring

It's easy to personalize your towels, even on a shoestring budget. Make your own monogram with a shoe lace! Use the gay, colorful kind the teen-agers wear in saddle shoes. Here are the simple directions, from the Cannon Homemaking Institute. Trace an initial or monogram with chalk on a towel. Then pin or baste the shoe lace to the tracing—one shoe lace makes an initial. Stitch the lace securely to the towel by hand or by machine, adding little loops for a decorative touch, as shown. The tips may be cut off, if desired. These colorful shoe lace monograms are inexpensive, and it's good to know they are washable.

State Spending Rise Stressed In Survey

FOR WORTH — Texans paid more than 10 times as much for state government in 1952 as they did in 1924. Taxes on property, which amounted to almost 40 per cent of the State's income 25 years ago, now account for less than 4 per cent of the total revenue. Spendings for highways, which once amounted to 40 per cent of the total, now takes only 22.3 cents of each dollar.

Such were some of the figures turned up by Dr. Leland W. McClelland, director of the Bureau of Business Research of the TCU School of Business and published this month in the Fort Worth Business Review.

In 1924, the cost of State government was $61.8 million. In fiscal 1952 ending Aug. 31, the total was $689.3 million.

LUBBOCK — Texas Tech's half million dollar Student Union Building will be formally opened April 12.

The new student social center will be open to the public from 2 to 6 p.m. with conducted tours of the building's two main floors. As it stands, the Student Union Building is only one-third finished with the other two-thirds to be completed in a 12-year building plan.

Money for the building, which cost $542,000, was raised on the campus through profits from the College Bookstore, the Infirmary, campus concessions, senior class gifts, and the Tech Ex Students Association.

THE SYMBOL OF QUALITY

Worth more... and why

There's an old saying that a thing is worth what someone is willing to pay for it. Well, if you could tour the wholesale and retail used car auctions around the country, if you could survey hundreds of used car lots you would discover that used Fords bring higher prices than any competitive make—and by substantial amounts.

THAT'S WHY we feel our '53 cars should not be compared with cars in the same price range. Not because our competitors don't do a good job—obviously they do—but because we feel Ford Cars have more in common with the highest priced automobiles. The similarities are far greater than the differences.

For example. Today, the most expensive cars in this country have V-type, 8-cylinder engines. Ford Cars have had this exact same type of engine for over 20 years.

What's more astounding, the current Strato-Star V-8 sells for hundreds of dollars less than several other makers charge for a six-cylinder car. Now there's nothing wrong with a Six but they do cost less to make. Ford makes a Six—the most modern overhead valve Six in the industry. And if it's a six-cylinder car you want, Ford has it and for less money than the V-8, which is as it should be.

What about ride? Here's another Ford similarity with high-priced cars . . . Riding Comfort. One of the misconceptions for many years has been that weight—sheer weight—is what it takes to make a car ride well. Ford has found that you can make a 3000-pound car ride softer and hold the road better by far than many cars that weigh a full 1000 pounds more. In the '53 Ford, for example, front end road shock has been reduced up to 80%. We say it compares most favorably with the heaviest cars sold today.

What about automatic transmissions? It would take the fingers of both hands to count the various kinds of automatic and semi-automatic transmissions on the market today. The one we offer is called Fordomatic. It is the most versatile on the market, it represents the most profound consideration of engine-to-wheel power transfer—and that it does the best job for our engines isn't even open to question. It "shifts" better than you could shift by hand.

What you can see is also important. Here again Ford Cars lead not only in their price field but in the medium and upper brackets as well. Ford visibility is Full-Circle Visibility. This means huge, curved unobstructed glass area, front and rear, plus side windows that allow all passengers what the hotels call "room with a view."

Appearance? A higher price, of course, does not make a car more beautiful. Conversely, beauty in a Ford comes "for free." Ford has found that it costs no more to develop a beautiful car than one that is less pleasing in appearance. You can drive up to the most exclusive doorways in the world and feel perfectly at home in your Ford. Fords "belong" . . . in exactly the same social category as the finest, one-of-kind creations. After all, a Ford is a custom creation multiplied.

What about running costs? Here's one place that Ford's advantages are obvious. For oil and gas economy Ford has the big cars whipped. Ford parts cost less. Ford service charges are less. Ford tire mileage is thousands of miles greater. And, Ford depreciation is the lowest of any car on the market—bar none.

What are Fords made of? Some people have the idea that the costliest cars are made of "better stuff." It's true that some high-priced cars have costlier upholstery and fittings. What Ford has in so good, both in durability and appearance, that you probably could not tell the difference. You might even prefer it, because of its better design and more pleasing appearance.

Then there's the question of sheet metal. If you were to measure and analyze the sheet metal structure in the most expensive car, you most likely would find it identical in thickness to the corresponding panels in Ford.

After all, then, what is the difference between a Ford and the costliest cars?

In our opinion, the difference is largely a matter of dimensions, weight (and the power required to move it) plus the distinction of owning a car that not so many other people own. The desire for these things is understandable . . . and probably justified for people who are willing to pay the price to satisfy it.

As to comparing Ford with other cars in its price range, by all means do so if you wish. But, as we said before, you'll get a better picture of Ford value by comparing with cars that are most like Fords—those that are priced up to twice as much. In fact, we think you'll quickly begin comparing the other cars with Ford—because the 1953 Ford has really established the New Standard of the American Road.

JUST TALK

is down, because he said the doctor told him to take a pill and light out. He lights out too.

Knowing that I might have a hard time finding something worth while for "Just Talk" this week, Mr. Pember saved up some things he thinks worth reading and sent them to me. Here they are:

So THAT'S How Come!

All I know is what has happened to me here at home where my wife, my sister, and the neighbors come in to tell me what to do next. Dr. McSwain comes around and thumps me on the chest and looks very solemn and I try to find out how I am feeling, but he gives me very little encouragement and insists that I keep on taking some bilious green pills that cause everything I eat to taste like it had been sprinkled with quinine. Even the drinking water is nauseating and I feel like a man on board a ship in a storm who has never been on board a ship before.

Last week I took an automobile trip to Lubbock to get some going over by Doctor Gordon, and three women went along to see that I did not escape. My wife, my sister and Mrs. Gordon Tompkins, Sr., who was visiting her son here, and went along just in case.

When we got to the Doctor's office I wanted to go in by myself, but I did not have a chance. My wife got me by one arm, Mrs. Tompkins by the other, and my sister pushed Doctor Gordon has a machine for taking blood pressure that looks like a muscle testing outfit at a carnival where you hit a stub with a sledge hammer. If you ring the bell you get a cigar. My pressure was pretty high, but I did not get even a cigarette.

A number of folks have suggested that I can stay around home and enjoy a nice long rest, which I am trying to do, but I am wondering if there will be any free soup kitchens around by the time I am ready to stumble back to work.

Insurance men in Slaton say that M. A. Pember is one of the hardest salesman to get ahead of, in his line, in West Texas. It has been his habit in the past to get up each morning and make an early trip around town looking for signs of new buildings going up, such as piles of lumber, stacks of brick, a trench, or some tools laying around. He knows the owner of every piece of land in town and any one who started building would get a call from Mr. Pember.

But lately Mr. Pember, who celebrated his eightieth birthday last week, has been having a few pains in his chest and his son, Bruce Pember, persuaded him to see a doctor.

"Not much wrong with him," said the doctor, "but I'd advise him, when he has pains in his chest, to take a nitroglycerine pill and lie down until he feels strong again."

Not long after the visit to the doctor Mr. Pember had occasion to take a pill, but he refused to

Once they was a king and he hired him a prophet to prophesize the weather.

One day the king notioned to visit his best girl. So he asked his prophet was it liable to come rain before sundown. And the prophet says, "No, King, not even a sizzle-sizzle."

So the king puts on his best clothes and starts out. Along come a farmer riding a jackass. "King," says the farmer, "if'n you ain't ainin' to git wetted, you'd best go back home 'cause hit's comin' a trash-mover and a gully-washer."

The king laughed. "I hired me a high-waged prophet to prophesize me my weather. He 'toves it hain't comin' on, not even a sizzle-sizzle."

So the king went on, and hit come a trash-mover and a gully-washer. The king's clothes was wetted. His best girl seen him and laughed. So the king called the farmer and said, "I ain't to hire you to prophesize me my weather."

"King," said the farmer, "I ain't no prophet. All I know is that when hit's a comin' on to rain the ears of my jackass lop down. The lower they lops the harder hit's a comin' on to rain."

And that's how come jackasses have been holdin' most of the high-waged gov'ment jobs ever since.

A friend of ours was stopped cold after this exchange with his three-year-old daughter.

"Have you a kiss for Daddy?"

"No."

"Shame on you. Your Daddy works hard all day to bring home a little money and you behave like that. Come on now, where's the kiss?"

Looking him right in the eye, the sagacious tot countered, "Where's the money?"

A staid gentleman, honorary judge of a horse show, was upset by the dress of some of the girls.

"Just look at that young person there with the poodle cut, the cigarette and the blue jeans," he cried to a bystander. "Is it a boy or a girl?"

"It's a girl," was the reply. "She's my daughter."

"Oh, forgive me, sir," apologized the old fellow. "I never dreamed you were her father."

"I'm not," snapped the other. "I'm her mother."

He: "You know, drinking makes you look so beautiful."

She: "But I haven't been drinking."

He: "No, but I have."

It is colder at the south than at the north pole.

The CHIROPRACTOR and YOU

BLINDNESS and PARALYSIS
Case History No. 1953; young girl, age 5, symptoms; Unable to walk or even move legs or feet, almost completely blind.

ACCIDENT
This little girl fell out of a swing a few weeks ago and the next month she went blind. Her parents took her to various specialists to locate the cause of her blindness, without results. Soon she developed paralysis in her legs, and could not move them.

CAME TO STEPHENS CHIROPRACTIC CLINIC
In the meantime, another patient referred her to this Clinic, stating that SPECIFIC CHIROPRACTIC has made it possible for other paralyzed cases to walk again.

After the CHIROPRACTIC EXAMINATION made in the STEPHENS CHIROPRACTIC CLINIC consisting of the X-Ray pictures of the spine and (nerve test) analyses, the primary CAUSE of her trouble were located.

WHAT CHIROPRACTIC HAS DONE FOR HER

From the very first chiropractic adjustment this child began to improve rapidly. Her eyes began to improve and then she began moving her legs for the first time since her paralysis developed. In one month she began to walk alone and see things for the first time since her blindness occurred. At the present time she walks into the Clinic alone for her checkups and her parents are so thrilled what scientific chiropractic has done for her that they are spreading the good news to the house-tops, as it were, and other people with whom they come in contact are thrilled for them. It would be rather difficult for anyone to tell this family that it wasn't anything to chiropractic; for they have investigated the merits of the science.

Safe Trash Burner

Here's how one farmer made a safe, but very effective incinerator for trash and rubbish: He used an ordinary 50-gallon steel drum, and cut the top from one end. Four small holes were punched along the rim at the bottom of the other end to serve as a rainwater drain. A half dozen larger, 1 1/2-inch holes were punched six to eight inches above the bottom for a draft. It'll burn rubbish fast, but he keeps a sheet of metal for the top to shut off the flames—in case the fire burns too fiercely.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Petty and children, Donald and Nancy, from Shreveport, La., spent Easter week end, Wednesday through Sunday, visiting with Mrs. Petty's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Crawford, and other relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Legg have returned from a two month's stay in the Valley at McAllen, Texas.

The world supply of cotton for the 1952-53 season is estimated at 48,700,000 bales. This is 1,900,000 bales above the supply of a year ago.

Seed Testing Procedure

There is an old farm maxim which states, "The harvest is no better than the seed."

You don't have to be a Biblical scholar to recognize the origin and wisdom of that saying. And right now is the time to prepare for sowing good seed in order to reap a high production harvest this year!

When you buy your seed from a dealer, the Tested Seed Tag required by law on all bags, tells you what to expect in germination quality and seed purity. Yet, what about that last year's crop of seed stored in the bin on your farm? Wouldn't it be a good idea to know as much about the qualities of your farm-grown seed as that which you buy at the store?

If you plan to sell some of that stored seed, the Texas Seed Act says it must be state inspected, and tested. But whether you intend to sell it or plant it, a comprehensive test of the seed will pay dividends at harvest time.

Two laboratories are operated by the Texas Department of Agriculture for purity and germination tests. No charge is made for testing field seed of Texas residents but a fee of 25 cents per sample is levied for all vegetable and flower seed.

To expedite testing operations, a few suggestions are offered to the sender:

1. How To Take Samples—Only samples of recleaned seeds can be accepted. When you have five bags or less of seed, take a sample from each bag. If there are more than five bags, send samples from at least every fifth bag, but never less than five bags should be sampled. In sampling bulk seed, thrust your hand or a long probe into the bin in at least seven uniformly distributed spots.

2. Sizes Of Samples—Send 2 ozs. of small seed like white or alsike clover and most grasses; 5 ozs. of red or crimson clover, alfalfa, lespedeza, ryegrass, broome, millet, flax, rape or seeds of similar sizes; 1 lb. of sudan grass, sorghum, proso and like sizes; 2 lbs. of corn, cotton, cereals, vetches, cowpeas or larger seeds.

3. Information Needed—Print your name and address, include the kind and variety of seed (the lab does not make varietal identification); the lot number or stock identification; the month and year of harvest and where grown; the test desired (whether purity, germination or both). If the seed has been treated, give name of material and rate of application.

4. Forwarding Samples—Samples should be mailed in cloth bags or strong cardboard containers. Paper bags and ice cream cartons are unsatisfactory, since they usually burst in transit. Depending on your location, samples may be sent to either of the following addresses: Seed Laboratory, Texas Dept. of Agriculture, Austin, or Seed Laboratory, 116 Agriculture Bldg., Texas Tech College, Lubbock.

5. Tested Seed Labels—Labels are 1 cent each and one tag must be attached to each bag of seed offered for sale, showing the complete analysis and other information. Tags cannot be issued for seed tested for germination only. Include your order for tags along with the samples.

15 People for Dinner

A farmer today has to feed himself and fifteen other people. Back in 1930 he had to supply food for 11 other people. By 1975, experts predict, for each farmer there may be 25 at the dinner table.

It would be nice if there were more land. But last year there was only 1% more land under cultivation than prewar.

What's more, there are fewer farmers. 17% fewer man-hours were spent in agriculture last year.

Yet the farmer in 1952, with less help and about the same acreage, managed to produce 40% more livestock, vegetables, cotton, grain, milk than before the war.

Who helps the American farmer in a spot like that?

Electricity for one thing, and of course, more tractors, trucks, farm machinery, pesticides, chemical fertilizers, and a lot more.

One big clue to productivity is his increased use of electricity. Farmers today use 500% more electric power than in 1940.

Electricity pumps water, dries hay, keeps chicks warm, grinds feed, milks cows. In fact, the "electrical hired man" can do more than 400 farm jobs.

But the important thing is that there need be no empty plates tonight, and that this was done in a typically American way.

Many people and many companies, General Electric among them, developed labor-saving ideas and products. The best were tried and chosen. They have helped to make the American farmer the most productive in the world.
