through the years to making our Children's Center truly a 'home away from home.' A P.S. was added to the letter stating - If your account is not up to date, please pay the final amount on or before August 29, 1975 so that OUR obligations can be met and our records cleared.

The Harvey's enclosed a letter to Mrs. Lindsey, SWDL representative, reading: "The enclosure is self-explanatory and will inform you as to our decision concerning Muleshoe Children's Center. There will be many disappointed parents in Muleshoe in the next few days as they receive their letters.

"We realize the Welfare Department is bigger than we and with much more money to fight than we have. It seems a shame that the government can overrun even establishments that receive not one bit of support from the same but are self-supporting and contributing to the good of the community!!! Regrettably yours, Muleshoe Children's Center, Darlene Harvey, Director.

Mrs. Harvey was contacted and told the reporter that she has been with the center four years and that the license was revalidated one and a half ago, the center was licensed. She said everything was in order. The center director, said that previously a woman from the licensing department visited and upon another occasion a man visited the center and both told her, she was doing a good job. "Last winter, a license lady came out and informed Mrs. Harvey, if things didn't get in order, they would have to close by the first of 1976." "We are going to close, rather than be closed," stated Mrs. Harvey.

When asked why, when it seems the center and staff is meeting standards, Mrs. Harvey replied, "There is no need to go into that according to the standards. There have been workers before Mrs. Lindsey, and there are other things that I won't go into at this time."

The local Center is presently licensed for 30 children and as of now, during the summertime, they take care of less than 20 children a day, or up to 20.

The local Center is presently licensed for 30 children, and as of now, during the summertime, they take care of less than 20 children a day, or up to 20.

Mrs. Lamont Whitaker is the cook and one of the teachers when she is not cooking. Mrs. Eva Carpenter and Mrs. Bonnie Carpenter, are also regular workers and there is other part-time help, Mrs. Harvey pointed out.

Mrs. Lindsey, licensing representative, feels the present staff is doing a very good job and have complied with the minimum standards for Day Care Centers. She said any time an improvement was needed, it was always taken care of by the next time they paid the center a visit.

Contrary to the statement made in Mrs. Harvey's letter to the parents, Mrs. Lindsey, pointed out in the book of standards she left with the news office, the director for a center the size of the one in Muleshoe does not have to have a college education in order to hold that position.

The book states - "The director of a day care facility licensed for from 16-30 children shall be 18 years of age and shall have, as a minimum, a high school diploma or its equivalent and one year of experience in family day care or group child care."

Mrs. Lindsey stated, "The director of a day care facility licensed for 31 children or more shall be 18 years of age, have a high school diploma or its equivalent and three years of experience in group child care; or, one year of year of college and two years of experience in family day care or group child care; or, two years of college and one year of experience in family day care or group child care; or have a bachelor's degree or graduate training or degrees from an accredited college or university."

Since the local center is licensed only for up to 30 children, only the first paragraph applies to the Muleshoe center.

The license representative also pointed out that the local center is very well equipped, both inside and on the playground, and the book of standards, simply states, "equipment need not be of the purchased, commercial type. Use of homemade equipment shall be permitted so long as it is durable, safe and of a size and weight suitable for children."

According to the book of standards, staff qualifications are listed as follows: "Staff members with primary responsibility for direct child care shall be 18 years of age or older; shall be mentally, physically and emotionally able to assume assigned responsibilities; demonstrate child care competency; and sufficient staff shall have current knowledge of first aid training so that a staff member trained in first aid shall be on the day care premises at all times when children are in attendance. Any adult staff who is delegated primary responsibility for water activities shall have current knowledge of water safety practices."

Licensing Representative, Mrs. Barbara Lindsey, stated

her department was going to do everything in their power to keep the center open in Muleshoe.

year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Pedroza, Sr., who is a junior in high school has entered the Miss Muleshoe competition. She plans to further her education at West Texas at Canyon, when she graduates from Muleshoe High.

Her favorite sport is playing Volleyball and she enjoys reading and sewing. A member of the Spanish Club at school, she also belongs to Decca and FHA.

The 16 year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Willie Martin, Tonya Lynn James, is a contestant of the Miss Muleshoe Pageant and plans to go to modeling school or become an airline hostess when she graduates from high school. A junior at Muleshoe High, Miss James plans to attend Oregon Junior College. Rodeoing is her favorite sport and for the quiet times, she enjoys sewing, decoupage and writing short stories.

The fifth contestant is Yolonda Kay Zackoski of 1825 W. Avenue D in Muleshoe.

To be eligible to enter the Miss Muleshoe contest, the entrant must be a resident of Bailey County or the Lubbock School District and between the ages of 16 and 22.

She will be judged on talent, formal and swimsuit competition. She will have a personal interview with the judges at 1 p.m. August 16.

Church...

There will be several youth groups from the local churches who will participate in the activities. The Catholic Church, First Christian, Trinity Baptist, Primitive Baptist, First United Methodist and the Calvary Baptist, will all participate.

The churches welcome everyone to attend the activities taking place on the evening of August 11.

should have occurred about three weeks ago."

Tanksley said cotton has received some heavy thrip damage as well as seedling disease, due to the cold temperatures during May and June. There has also been some wind or blowing sand damage to the cotton and light to heavy hail in many areas in the county. "That's the type of cotton crop Bailey County is looking at now," he commented.

Generally, local cotton farmers have excellent moisture conditions. "I anticipate no irrigation of cotton for the rest of the year," he said. "We would probably make a better crop if we have a late freeze, in November." If it freezes in October, we will be in trouble, according to Tanksley. Tanksley also pointed out that the weather is also a big factor in the bumper crop prediction on the High Plains. Bailey County is on the northern border of the state and will be hit first when the bad weather hits, Tanksley said.

"All of the farmers I have talked to are kind of discouraged right now with the cotton outlook, but things may change by October 1, if we don't have a freeze," he said.

A bumper crop of cotton has been predicted on the High Plains, officials of the Lubbock Cotton Exchange and the Plains Cotton Growers, Inc. (PCG) said Tuesday. Production in the 25-county area is estimated at 2,103,000 bales, up from last year's drought-shortened 1,193,100 bales.

The heavy rains during July have bolstered production prospects, officials said, and they feel the below-normal temperatures last month have not had a material effect on the quality outlook, since cotton is just now entering the most important period in the fiber development process.

There is little difference at this stage in irrigated cotton and the dryland crop, with the bountiful subsoil moisture going into the crop season. Some dryland cotton looks superior to some irrigated crops on the High Plains. While much of the crop has more vegetative growth than might be desirable, the cotton on the High Plains, as a whole is fruiting well. Cotton needs more moisture as it begins to bloom, but some crops did receive a somewhat excessive amount.

The bollworm egg count has been light and some beneficial insects will take care of the aphid problem, as they have in the past.

The industry officials, preferring not to try to outguess the market, estimated farm value of the 1975 crop "is, if anything, conservative."

"Rhyme Of The Ancient Water Heater"

Water, water everywhere
 And not a drop to drink;
 And none to bathe and none to wash.
 There's something wrong, I think.
 Our ancient water heater,
 It burst at 3a.m.
 The signs of strain and stress,
 I never thought to check for them.
 So first thing in the morning
 I'll remove this albatross.
 An electric water heater
 Will alleviate my loss!

US.

"Us" is a service organization big enough to care for a big machine. One that's designed to last you 15-20 years, or more. Valley Electrics are built to such high industry standards, that they invite a critical inspection. Measurement by measurement, and specification by specification, a close look at a Valley Center Pivot will point out one thing more than any other - heavy duty construction. Season after season a Valley Electric proves that the extra effort was well worth it. A wide wheel base, extra broad double trussing, a full three-directional coupling, structurally superior gearboxes and sturdy construction throughout make this tough irrigation equipment, the kind that value-minded farmers demand. Miss Benter, Black Married In Austin

Wedding vows uniting Deborah Kay Benter and Richard Lee Black were exchanged in Austin on the evening of August 9, at the Northeast Baptist Church. The Rev. John Karcher performed the ceremony. Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Benter of Austin and Mr. and Mrs. Richard E. Black of Sudan.

Denys Walden of Austin attended the bride as maid of honor. Serving as bridesmaids were sisters of the bridegroom, Susan Black and Sheryl Black, both of Sudan, and cousins of the bride, Kim Hibler and Lisa Hibler, both of Mason, Flowergirl was Natasha Tichavsky, and Dean Buchanan served as ringbearer.

Best man was Dan Couture of Austin. Acting as groomsmen were James Black of Sudan, brother of the bridegroom, Robert Benter of Austin, brother of the bride, Roland Flowers of San Antonio, and Vance Holliday of Lubbock.

With the traditional veil, the bride wore a gown of white organza-on-satin, a floral brocade emphasizing the empire waist and train. The bridesmaids wore blue floor-length dresses, white brocade lace accenting the empire waist. The bride and bridesmaids each carried spring bouquets. The groom and groomsmen were attired in dark gray Prince Edward suits with vests.

A rehearsal supper was hosted by the grooms parents the evening before the wedding at the Ramada Inn of Austin.

Fashion

Many women are now busy letting out the hems of this past year's dresses. Even an inch makes a difference but the entire length can be used by facing the hem with other cloth. Skirt lengths for fall are definitely below the knees.

Plaids and patchwork pant suits for youngsters are being shown in smart shops.

Snug sweaters and A-line skirts make a good combination.

TOPS Presents Attendance Award

Mrs. Bobby Newman presided over the TOPS meeting Thursday night. There were 19 members weighed in. Laura Helton was a guest of Mrs. Walter Sain for the evening. This meeting was to select the monthly queen and Mrs. Walter Sain received the honor of being chosen the monthly queen. She received a basket of fruit for her loss of weight last month. Mrs. J. J. Chill candles in refrigerator 24 hours and they will burn more evenly.

To reclose partially used bags of frozen vegetables, use a spring-type clothes pin, they also work well on bread bags.

Prune your rambler roses immediately after blooming unless you need the foliage for shade or screening.

Save on your food budget by planning menus for a week and buying accordingly. Why not have a "left-over" meal and serve portions in individual servings?

When your new magazines arrive, tape a recipe card on the front cover and jot down the page numbers with recipes or other information you wish to clip out.

Texas Expects New Record In Corn Yield

AUSTIN—Texas farmers are expected to harvest the third largest corn crop on record this year, Agriculture Commissioner John C. White reported.

A 11.1 million bushels yield is estimated by the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service for Texas. This will be the largest since the 11.2 million bushels produced in 1919. Texas' record crop of 117 million was harvested in 1910.

"In 1910, it took five million acres to produce those 117 million bushels," White noted. "This year, our farmers are going to produce that near-record crop on only 1.1 million acres."

White attributed this ability to produce more on fewer acres to an increase in irrigated acreage on the Texas High Plains.

Yield per harvested acre is expected to reach 101 bushels per acre—a record for Texas.

According to the July crop report, production for other grain crops has also shown significant increases. Oat yield is expected to top 18 million bushels; barley, 3 million bushels; and rye, 594,000 bushels.

Friendship Club Held Prayer

The Friendship Club met Thursday evening at 7:30 p.m. in the home of Mrs. W. T. Andrews. They held their regular business and social meeting and afterwards, the hostesses for the meeting, Mrs. W. T. Andrews and Mrs. F. W. Watts served everyone homemade ice cream and cake for refreshment.

President, Mrs. Harold Griffith called the meeting to order and roll call, the reading of the minutes and the treasure report, was given at this time.

The Friendship committee gave a report on those having sick folks. Mrs. Ray Griffith held a special prayer for those who are ill.

After the special prayer, the meeting was turned over to the program chairman, Mrs. George Johns, who gave a lesson on "Samaritan Woman". This was taken from the fourth chapter of John.

Members attending were Mrs. E. N. Darsey, Mrs. Ray Griffith, Mrs. Harold Griffith, Mrs. M. T. Huckill, Mrs. E. W. Johnson, Mrs. George Johns, Mrs. H. B. Mathis, Mrs. N. C. Moore, Mrs. Blonda Ray, Mrs. A. J. Shafer, Mrs. Scott Swofford, Mrs. Tye Young, Mrs. W. T. Andrews, the hostesses and Mrs. F. W. Watts, co-hostess, Miss Jan Whitt was a visitor and helped with refreshments.

Mrs. Max Lee Mayse

Miss Finley, Mayse Unites In Marriage

Nelda Owetha Finley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Clifton Finley of Muleshoe and Max Lee Mayse, son of Mrs. Richard Mayse and the late Mr. Mayse, were united in marriage in the First Baptist Church of Muleshoe.

The double-ring ceremony was performed by Rev. Baldwin J. Stribling of Canyon, on the evening of Friday, August 8, at 8:00 p.m.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attired in a white organza gown featuring a natural waistline and puffed sleeves. The bodice was of organza overlaid with chantilly lace. The detachable chapel length train was gathered to a bow and accented with appliques of chantilly and baby blue bows. The three tiered finger tip veil of organza and chantilly was held by a Camelot cap of lace and pearls. The bride's bouquet was a nosegay of blue tipped white roses, blue stephanotis and baby's breath.

The bride carried a white linen handkerchief borrowed from her mother. For something old, she wore a string of pearls belonging to her grandmother, Mrs. Mary Finley. She carried pennies in her shoe minted in the years of the couple's births.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Stanley Harrison of Arch, N.M., and the bridesmaid was Mrs. Neil Finley, sister-in-law of the bride, of Lubbock. The matron of honor's empire waisted dress was of light blue dotted polyester over a medium blue. It featured puffed sleeves and ruffles. Her headpiece consisted of blue daisies and baby's breath. She carried a nosegay of blue and white pompons, miniature carnations and daisies. The bridesmaid wore the same as the matron of honor and carried the same flowers.

Candlelighters were Stanley Harrison of Arch, N.M., and Mac Phillips of Muleshoe. Jim Hogan of Pampa served as best man and Neil Finley of Lubbock, brother of the bride served as groomsman. Ushers were Mac Phillips of Muleshoe and Stanley Harrison of Arch, N.M.

An alter arrangement featuring a bouquet of white gladiolas, blue killian daisies, white carnations and baby's breath flanked by 15 branch spiral candelabras, and blue tapers in blue crystal hurricane lamps with greenery, lighted the pews.

After the mothers were seated, Neil Finley, brother of the bride sang, "O God of Love" and then sang "The Lord's Prayer". Other wedding selections presented by the organist, Miss Mary Ruth McCulley of Amarillo, were "St. Anthony's Chorale," "Trumpet Tune in D" by Clarke and "Wh'er'er You Walk" by Handel.

The bride's mother's dress was a blue formal length gown of soft pique knit with white accessories and pearls, accented with a white accessories and pearls, accented with a blue cymbidium orchid corsage.

The groom's mother wore a dress of soft, pink chiffon, formal length, with pink accessories and a pink cymbidium orchid.

A reception was held in the fellowship hall of the First Baptist Church, immediately following the ceremony.

Registering the guests was Mrs. Chester Huff of Lubbock and serving were Miss Mary Hasse and Mrs. Shawn Potter, both of Canyon and Miss Lawana Page of Muleshoe. Miniature scrolls were passed out to guests as they registered.

Centering the table at the reception was a four armed silver candelabra with blue tapers and a bouquet of miniature essence, pompons and baby's breath. The table was laid with a white linen cloth edged in lace. The four-tiered wedding cake was trimmed in blue. Blue and white mints, nuts and punch were served from crystal appointments.

For their trip to Kansas where they will be living, the bride wore a blue dress with white accessories and lifted a corsage of roses from the bridal bouquet.

The couple will move right away after the wedding to Lawrence, Kansas where they will make their new home. The bride is a graduate of West Texas State University where she was a member of Alpha Chi Honor Society. She was employed as a teacher in the Amarillo district this past year. The groom is a graduate of West Texas State University where he was a member of Phi Mu Alpha Sumpsonia and Alpha Chi Honor Society. He is employed as a technician for the Reuter Organ Company in Lawrence, Kansas.

A rehearsal dinner was held at the Corral Restaurant in Muleshoe on Thursday, August 7, at 8:00 p.m. by the groom's mother, Mrs. Richard Mayse.

"Sew It With Cotton" Contest In October

The executive committee of the Bailey-Lamb County Women's Cotton Promotion Association, met Tuesday afternoon, Mrs. Richard Black gave a report of the District meeting, she had recently attended in Lubbock. The rules for the County and District "Sew it With Cotton" contest were read over and discussed. A definite date has not been set for the County contest and style show this year. The plans are to have it in Muleshoe. The date will have to either be the fourth or eleventh of October as the District Show will be in Lubbock this year some time the last of October. Rules for the contest have been printed and will soon be in local piece goods stores to be picked up by contestants.

The "Sew it With Cotton" contest, as before is not limited to Cotton Clubs or Cotton Association members, but to women who sew for the public or home making girls. Anyone who is not a professional seamstress (currently employed as Home Economics instructor or Home Extension agent) can enter the contest. The garment can be worn by the one who makes it or can be made for some one else.

Bula News

By Mrs. J. Blackman

Bob and Sharron Stone, both students of Eastern New Mexico University in Portales, graduated Friday evening, August 1. Bob received his degree in religion, and Sharron received her degree in drama.

The Stones left Wednesday for Fort Worth, where he will be entering Perkins Seminary, for two years. He will also be pastoring three small Methodist churches just over the line, in Oklahoma.

Rev. Stone has been preaching for the Bula and Enoch's Methodist churches for two years, while he was attending ENMU. He has made many friends both in his church and outside the church, during his stay here.

Mr. and Mrs. James Sinclair were in Elk, N.M., last week, where they led the music for the Cowboy Camp meeting.

Jackie Withrow returned home Wednesday, from a trip to Six Flags. She went as a guest, of a friend, Miss Sandy Roberts, of Smyer. They went with a group of other young people from the Church of Christ, there and in Lubbock. The group left Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Glen Salyer and children, Shelly and Greg are with her parents, the L. H. Medlins, while they are in the process of getting moved to Friona, from Felt, Okla.

Mr. and Mrs. Barney Oldfield spent the weekend here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Hubbard. Their daughters, Jacque, Kimberly and Shannon had been here the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. Oldfield were returning from a four week stay in Las Cruces, N.M., where they have been attending NM State College summer workshop. Mr. Oldfield spent this week at ENMU, in Portales, attending a vocational education workshop.

Mrs. Oldfield left Wednesday from Kirkland Air Force base in Albuquerque, with a group from the state of New Mexico, for Memphis, Tenn. They attended a two day workshop at the Naval Training Station there. They returned to Albuquerque on Friday. This workshop was sponsored by the Department of Defense for Educators in the State of New Mexico, for career orientation, to acquaint them with the facilities and programs available, to our young people, when they enter the service.

Mrs. Oldfield is coordinator for Career Education, at Franklin Junior High School in Grants, N.M. She teaches World of Work, which is self awareness and career exploration to 9th graders.

Threeway school, which Bula is a part of this year, will have two days of in-service training for teachers, August 18 and 19. Wednesday August 20, all students will enroll and a full day of school will be held. Buses will run and lunches will be served. The faculty is complete with the exception of two teachers.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Black enjoyed having two couples visit over the weekend in their home, over the weekend in their home. They were Mr. and Mrs. Ronnie Thompson, Vance Holliday and Miss Sheila Wood. They are working this summer at the Lubbock Archaeological Excavation site, and are residents of Lubbock.

Mr. and Mrs. Nolan Harlan and son, John David spent Sunday at Whittharrel with their daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Rodney Marshall. Rodney filled the pulpit Sunday, at both morning and evening services, at the Whittharrel Church of Christ.

Herman Nichols and son are spending much of their time recently at Lubbock, to be with their sister, Mrs. Hardin, while her husband, Jack Hardin is confined in the ICU, at Lubbock Methodist Hospital. The Hardins live in Littlefield.

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Welch were guests for the H. L. Mansell family reunion, Sunday, August 3. The reunion was held at McKenzie Park Party House, in Lubbock. The Mansell family lived in our community for several years, while rearing their nine children. Mr. Mansell has passed away, but Mrs. Ida Mansell lives in Lubbock. The children will be remembered here as Ruth, H. L. Jr., Clarence, David, Glen, Terry, Joyce, Mary and Minnie. All of the children attended for the day, but two. A number of grandchildren and great grandchildren also attended.

Sharon Murphey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Murphy of Houston, is visiting with her great-grandparents, the F. L. Simmons, this week.

The Sandhills Philosopher

Editor's note: The Sandhills Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm touches on a couple of subjects this week, however lightly.

Dear editor: Never having mastered the old math, I can't tell you anything about the New Math, but I was interested in an article I read the other day about the subject.

According to it, a generation of kids has grown up on the New Math and as a result they understand how math works but they can't figure up what a grocery bill comes to at the check-out counter and what's worse can't even balance a checkbook.

"What's to become of these kids?" the writer of the article moaned.

Obviously he can't see very far. There are thousands and thousands of jobs in Washington for people who can't balance figures. If you want to get thrown out of work, out of office, and out of town, go to Washington with the idea of balancing the budget. These kids have been superbly trained.

Changing the subject, I see that the Russians are buying some more American grain. Will you have The Journal news bureau chief in Washington ask somebody up there if the Russians ever paid us for the grain they bought two years ago? You know, the 17 million tons they bought at a ridiculously low price with money we loaned them? I don't know why the New York Times' Washington correspondent or NBC or CBS or somebody has never thought of asking the question. It'd be the first thing a Muleshoe banker would ask.

Of course, we want to handle this with the utmost delicacy; can't afford to interfere with detente. You question Russia's credit rating too closely and no telling how mad you'll make Dr. Kissinger.

Edward Gierek, First Secretary of Poland's Communist party.

MANMADE

A man made this beautiful little waterfall and improved his part of a little stream that ran by his house. Another man on another stream threw trash in the water and let weeds grow up around it so that the beauty of the creek was obscured. Man fashions many things out of that which God has created. Beauty or ugliness can result from our decisions as to what we will do with divine raw materials. Dedication to God and the desire to emulate Him usually makes the difference in what we do with what God has provided. Let God find you in His church.

WASHINGTON REPORT BY Lloyd Bentsen, United States Senator

Deep in the heart of the Washington bureaucracy, there is a little-known largely-inactive agency called the Federal Metal and Non-Metallic Mine Safety Board. Its only task is to hear appeals on the shut-down of mines, other than coal mines. There have been 4,000 such shut-downs in this agency's 4-year history, but not one has been appealed to the Mine Safety Board. And, in the absence of anything better to do, the Executive Director candidly says he whittles away the time by reading books and listening to Beethoven day after day. American tax dollars support this agency to the tune of $60,000 a year. And, although Congress is now moving to abolish it, the Mine Safety Agency is but one very minor example of the type of bureaucratic waste that pervades the Federal government. As a matter of very solemn protocol no bureaucrat, however lowly, moves into his predecessor's office without completely refurbishing it. The upshot of this is that literally millions of dollars each year are spent by government agencies to re-decorate and re-furnish offices so that they fit the personalities of new directors. As the new Social and Rehabilitation Administrator, James S. Dwight, a stern critic of welfare abusers, lavished

TEXAS TALK
BY RAY DAVIS

Protein potency is one of the terms being used to describe the positive aspects of beef promoters arguments supporting the favorable factors of beef protein versus plant protein. The beef backer with one of the most impressive data accumulations to support the meat producers position is Dr. Bruce Taylor, an animal nutritionist at Arizona University. Dr. Taylor says one of the most important aspects of judging protein is an evaluation of the amount of protein actually utilized by the body compared to the amount of intake. Using a scale with egg protein rated at 100, Dr. Taylor says beef would rate at 80 and corn and milo at 56. Citing statistics based on feeding out a 650 pound steer with a ton of grain. Dr. Taylor says the human body would actually utilize exactly the same weight of protein whether consuming the 160 pounds of protein in the feed or the 112 pounds in the finished steer. His final conclusion - a choice between corn and milo or beef.

In one Southwestern city, a large and modern job-training center was built with a massive block of Health, Education and Welfare funds. Only three blocks away, an identical center was subsidized by the Department of Labor for exactly the same purpose. The duplication was discovered too late to avoid the waste. And each department claimed it had no knowledge of the other's plans. The Department of Agriculture employs thousands of inspectors on a permanent basis in egg, milk and meat plants. Yet the Food and Drug Administration regularly sends its own team of inspectors to check the very same plants. And the waste goes on and on, with examples too numerous to list. In Congress, we've already taken initial steps against some of this waste, but much remains to be done. I introduced legislation creating the Federal Paperwork Commission, which is right now working on the problem of excessive and costly bureaucratic paperwork and red tape. And we've set up the Congressional Budget Committees, charged with making sure that all proposed expenditures in any given year are considered against income. In past years there was no mechanism for matching expenses against income. But, these steps are only a beginning. A much broader and more concerned effort is going to be needed before we make a noticeable dent in the waste pervading the Federal bureaucracy. This effort must come hand-in-hand with a real commitment -- from the President, from his Administration, from all the agencies working under him, and from Congress -- before we can again assure taxpayers in Texas and across the country that their tax dollars are not being wasted. We must demand an end to waste. And then we must work to see that demand carried out. Always Housework is what a woman does that no one ever notices unless she doesn't do it. -Tribune, Des Moines.

$120,000 installing plush carpets and tinted glass throughout his suite of offices. For the Bureau of Standards Director Richard Roberts, the cost of remodeling soared to $55,000; for Postal Service Chief Elmer Klassen, the tab was more than $60,000; Alexander Butterfield became head of the Federal Aviation Administration and promptly installed new drapes and furniture at a cost of $5,400. The new Secret Service Director H. Stewart Knight spent over $11,000.

It sometimes seems that the bigger and more prestigious the agency, the more flagrant the waste. The Law Enforcement Administration Agency or LEAA spent hundreds of thousands of dollars renovating and redecorating its offices in a privately owned building. The pity is that the agency's lease only runs three years.

Other law enforcement agencies across the country are guilty of another form of waste. As they pay upwards of $100,000 for new police helicopters, hundreds of other perfectly air-worthy helicopters are shuttled to the scrap heap of a Tucson, Arizona air force base.

Yet, the cost of converting these combat vehicles for police use would only come to a few thousand dollars.

There is no reason to allow this type of extravagance to continue. During a time when over eight and one half million Americans are out of work, during a time when food and housing are being priced beyond the reach of many average citizens, such excess spending on the part of the Federal government also wastes enormous sums in duplication. The purpose of some agencies are so similar that they find themselves locked in conflict, as each one tries to justify its continued existence.

On Wall Street
By Bob Hill

Three years ago the Consumer Product Safety Commission was given the job of setting standards of safety for products sold to the public. Thus far, private industry has been able to get along with the federal agency. But, the CPSC has stirred up a hornet's nest with a new set of standards proposed for power lawn mowers. Lawn mower sales top the $1 billion mark every year. But mower sales are down about 30% from the 8 million units sold last year. Two large manufacturers are dropping the production of lawn mowers and another has gone bankrupt. The proposed safety code which is causing such an uproar could add as much as 75% to the retail prices of inexpensive power mowers and shrink the market another 5% to 17%.

that having to yank the starter cord every time would cause users to disconnect the "dead man's" controls.

How the commission will rule on the standard depends on how a cost-benefit analysis turns out. Power mowers kill about 30 people a year and injure 160,000. The new standards could cost consumers $380 million a year, but could save them as much as $419 million in medical expenses and lost income.

It is Alimony is like paying off the installments on the car after the wreck. -Coast Guard Magazine.

Field Days Set At Lubbock And Halfway

LUBBOCK -- Two field days depicting a variety of crop research programs and special attractions have been announced by officials of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station at Lubbock and Halfway.

The Texas Agricultural Experiment Station at Lubbock has set Tuesday, September 9 for its 66th Annual Field Day. Two days later, Sept. 11, the Experiment Station at Halfway kicks off its field day with an exposition of agricultural research on the upper South Plains.

TAES at Lubbock, which is headquartered at the Texas A&M University Agricultural Research and Extension Center, has scheduled for its field day a five-stop field tour along with machinery displays, ginning research tours and a special Extension Service seminar on home food processing.

The Halfway field day also includes a five-stop tour, with an emphasis on corn and sunflower production. Dr. George McBee, resident director of research, general field day chairman Dr. Earl Minton of Lubbock, and chairman Dr. Douglas Owen of the Halfway station made the announcements.

On hand for both programs will be professional staffs of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, USDA-ARS, NWS, and specialists with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. They'll review latest research developments and discuss problems and accomplishments of agriculture on the High Plains. TAES Lubbock field day activities begin at 1:00 p.m., with field tours continuing until 5:00. The tours, by way of tractor-pulled trailers, will leave the center's headquarters every 15 minutes throughout the afternoon, says Minton.

"Visitors are encouraged to stay as long as they wish at any stop and continue along the tour route when ever they get ready," he adds. "Tours should last about 45 minutes with a five-minute talk presented at each of the five field stops.

Stops along the tour will include irrigation, sunflower, cottons, weeds and greenbug resistant sorghum varieties. Another point of interest for the Lubbock field day is a seminar on home food processing presented by County Extension Agents (home economics) of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, says Minton.

Also, a special tour of the USDA-ARS South Plains Ginning Research Laboratory has been added to this year's calendar. Tours of the ginning laboratory will emphasize current research activities in universal bale packaging, cleaning cotton for maximum return to the producer, and natural gas conservation, reports laboratory director Roy V. Baker. Laboratory staff will be available to discuss other topics of interest to visitors.

The 275-acre Lubbock center, which houses TAES and Extension Service staffs, USDA-ARS personnel, and the agricultural meteorologist of the National Weather Service, is located 7 1/2 miles north of the city on Hwy 87, just north of the Lubbock Regional Airport. The Experiment Station at Halfway, conducting its field day in cooperation with the High Plains Research Foundation on Thursday, will also include 40-minute field tours with five-minute talks at each stop. According to Dr. Douglas Owen, presentations will include recent developments in corn research, irrigation studies, grain sorghum pest management, cropping systems and sunflower research. Says Resident Director McBee, "A popular bumper tag says, 'If you eat you're involved in agriculture.' We believe this is true. We encourage everyone to come out to these field days to see what agricultural scientists, specialists, agri-businessmen and farmers are doing to improve our American way of life."

Selective Traffic Enforcement Programs

The Governor's Office of Traffic Safety is taking additional "STEPS" to reduce accidents at high frequency crash locations.

Selective Traffic Enforcement Programs (STEP) were implemented in 18 communities across Texas last year with funds totaling approximately $350,000. Now, plans have started to continue the ongoing STEP programs and to implement new programs as planned and will be funded as needed.

STEP utilizes off duty police officers, at an overtime pay rate, to patrol particularly hazardous intersection or roadways with a watchful eye for violations that have contributed to accident causes. The evidence of having identifiable police units at the scene of potentially dangerous locations will often reduce the number of crashes. Additionally, with increased citations, warnings and traffic control produced by the STEP's, they are definitely expected to reduce the accidents and deaths.

Governor Briscoe said the increase of accidents and deaths on U. S., State and rural roads reflects the need for this type of program on highways other than the Interstates. "Often police officers have to be involved in crime related investigations and traffic safety may have to take a back seat to the criminal element. However, it should be noted that nearly three times as many people are killed in traffic than are murdered and the traffic accident economic cost contributes billions of dollars each year to our already inflated economy. I am confident that these STEP grants, coupled with other traffic safety programs will be instrumental in helping to solve the traffic safety problem at the local police departments will undoubtedly help the officer to work on traffic problems as the priority exists."

Briscoe said the STEP grants have been used at the municipal level, but are being expanded to include counties and cooperative efforts of other jurisdictions.
