MAILMAN SAVES THE DAY . . . Boyd Landers, rural mail carrier was "Johnny on the spot" Friday as he made his route, five miles west on Highway 1760 and one mile north, when he spotted a fire out of control in corn stubble on the Lawrence Shankles place. Landers warned Mrs. Shankles and had her call the Muleshoe Volunteer Fire Department while he rescued a pickup in danger of burning and helped save a row of huge evergreen trees forming a wind-break near the home. The fire which was noticed earlier in the morning on a neighboring farm was apparently fanned by the wind and got into the Shankles field, very nearly getting a barn and the house. The Texas Air Control Board Regulations currently prohibits various types of outdoor burning. Included is outdoor burning of agricultural crop residue. Violators are subject to fines of $50 to $1,000 per day for each day of violation. Joel Young, Highway Patrolman has warned farmers about the burning. A fire was burning out of control near Lazbuddie, also endangering a house was reported at the same time as the fire on the Shankles place. Both were reported shortly after noon Friday.

Corn Harvest Near End, Yields Great

What may be the largest corn crop in the history of Bailey County will soon be harvested and delivered to area elevators. Truck load after truck load of corn has been lining up at the elevators located in Muleshoe and Boon Allison of Farmers Co-Op estimates the average yield to be approximately 9,000 pounds of dry corn to the acre.

He was speaking of yellow corn. Allison said the corn crop is better this year than last, stating it was about 500 pounds per acre better. "The reason for this being," said Allison, "we didn't have as much insect problem this year." He said he would consider this a bumper crop and pointed out that the corn is all coming from irrigated land. The Farmers Co-Op Elevator is receiving on the average of 4 million pounds of corn a day and Allison said, "we're all filled up, and there is still more corn north of here." He also pointed out that the white corn is not all in year. The largest amount of corn coming into this elevator in a one day period was six million pounds. "The corn is of high quality and is grading No. 2," said Allison. He also stated that they are having no problem with the corn being brought in with too high a moisture content. The going price per 100 weight is $4.70, Allison stated and he said the corn is selling mostly

Chief Black Warns Traffic Violators

"The design and plan for the control of traffic around our schools is for the safety of all students and drivers," said Muleshoe Police Chief Buddy Black. He pointed out that the stop signs and speed zones are designed to provide an adequate flow of traffic and still provide the required amount of safety for students. In monitoring the areas around the schools and school crossing zones, and giving warning regarding traffic violations by the Muleshoe Police Department, the following common violations have been noted by Chief Black:

- RUN STOP SIGNS - driver should come to a complete stop.
- SPEED IN EXCESS OF POSTED LIMITS - specific speeds are posted in school areas and school crossing zones.
- IMPROPER TURNS - cutting corner on left turn, wide turn to the right. Cutting across property to avoid traffic control signs (at the intersection of W. Third and Avenue G.). "These violations have been committed by citizens, teachers, and students," stated the Police Chief. "Law enforcement officers will continue to work these areas," Chief Black said, "and violators will be cited for their viola-

Team Effort Needed To Control Crime Rate

An extensive team effort by citizens and law enforcement officers is needed to control this country's rapidly rising crime rate. Operation Identification, the kick-off project of the Muleshoe Police Department's crime prevention program, is the first community-wide crime control project designed to reduce the burglary rate in Muleshoe.

The following is how you can participate: Operation I.D. has basically two parts. First, mark all your easily stolen valuables so they can be identified. Second, display a warning sticker which tells burglars that your property is protected with your mark. Marking property accomplishes several things. Items marked in Operation I.D. are harder for the burglar to see or "fence," and an Operation I.D. sticker on a front and back window or door deters burglars because your property can be easily and positively identified. Also the identification mark makes the owner's chances of returning stolen property much higher in addition to simplifying the apprehension of criminals. The Muleshoe Police Department has purchased engraving are available at Muleshoe Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture for easy access. When home owners and crops most in demand on the world market."

In Texas, a switch from conventional tillage to minimum tillage saves an average of about 5 gallons of tractor fuel per acre per year. Since some 456,000 acres were farmed with minimum tillage last year, this amounted to a saving of some 2.3 million gallons of tractor fuel.

USDA predicts that by the year 2000, minimum tillage could account for annual fuel savings of 850 million gallons in machinery operations.

Another energy saver is better management of irrigation water. According to Davis, SCS estimates that by increasing the efficiency of both delivery systems and on-farm irrigation, farmers could save more than 230 million gallons of fuel each year.

"Although we can save a substantial amount of petroleum using the knowledge we have now," Davis said, "USDA and private groups are researching ways to save even more. And USDA is researching other energy sources, such as solar energy for drying crops and livestock wastes."

Davis appealed to soil and water conservation district officials to stay abreast of continuing research on new energy-saving practices and of all the possible benefits and drawbacks involved.

"By keeping informed of current developments in agriculture, SCS and district people can help farmers use fuel more efficiently without cutting agricultural production," Davis concluded.

 the Administration's moratorium on grain sales to Representative Mahon this past week over a special toll-free telephone hook-up, as the Congressman participated in the Agriculture Council of America's "farm line." Farmers normally man ACA's toll-free Watts line every Wednesday, but last week Congressman Mahon accepted an invitation by officials at ACA to answer the phone and "hear what people at the grassroots level have to say." Mr. Mahon and others in the bipartisan delegation spent a portion of the evening letting farmers and ranchers voice their opinions.

Mr. Mahon stated, "The suspension of sales is completely contrary to everything the government has been telling the American farmer throughout the past year about all out production and the assurance of free access to foreign markets. This action will undoubtedly erode confidence in the U.S. as a dependable supplier of food and feed grains and could understandably discourage farmers from all out production of these valuable commodities."

It was also pointed out by the ASCS manager, that effective October 1, 1975, CCC interest rates on commodity loans and storage facility loans was increased from 6.125 per cent to 7.500 per cent.

Fuston reminded those who plan to nominate someone for a position on their community committee, to keep in mind the petition must be filed by October 28, 1975.

West Texas Industries, Inc. of Muleshoe, has been approved for storage of CCC cotton, Fuston concluded.

Use your driver's license number to mark your property in the following manner: Engrave TX for state identification, so that if the property is taken out of the state, the number can be easily traced; then write your license number. (Example: TX 555 1212).

If you don't have a driver's license, call the Muleshoe Police Department and ask for a number you can use.

Once items have been marked, use the Property Listing form supplied with the pen for your own reference. This is your check list of your property in case of theft.

 for poultry, cattle feeds and swine. He also said some grain is starting to come in.

Bill Wimberly of Texas Sesame Elevator said the yields are real varied because of the hail earlier this year. "Some fields are yielding between 9,000 and 10,000 per acre while some yields are disappointing because of the hail, making only 1,500 pounds per acre.

Five million pounds was the most corn coming in to Texas Sesame Elevator in one day, Wimberly said. He said he feels the quality is excellent and he has been getting both yellow and white corn.

Wimberly said the market value per 100 weight is $4.71 for yellow corn while it is $5 on white corn which is used for food. He pointed out that the market on white corn is very tight and there is not much corn being sold by the farmers as yet as they are holding, hoping for better prices, more in line with the market value.

Max King of King Elevators said the amount of corn he has received today is in excess of 50 million pounds with over three million received in one day's time as the maximum. He agreed that the price for corn is $4.71 per 100 weight, stating the price has not varied much and no one is selling. He said the corn is to be used for cattle feed mostly.

TELCOT System Excites Patrons

LUBBOCK--In its 23-year history, Plains Cotton Cooperative Association (PCCA) has implemented several innovative cotton marketing programs for its 20,000 members in Texas and Oklahoma but nothing has excited association patrons as has this season's TELCOT system.

"We believe it is a major breakthrough in cotton marketing and offers a number of distinct advantages to our members and to those merchants who provide a market for Southwestern cotton," said L. Davis, PCCA General Manager and Executive Vice President, who has headed the staff since 1956.

TELCOT incorporates the use of modern-day electronic technology. It relies on televisual Cathode Ray Tube (CRT) units and data printers to offer PCCA members' cotton for bid to major merchants situated in Lubbock, Dallas and Memphis. About 20 merchant offices will be linked by electronic circuits to the PCCA computer in Lubbock. Each participating merchant office will be equipped with a CRT unit and data printer.

During the marketing season, PCCA will continually receive bids from merchants, over the CRT units, for cotton lots of various qualities. From these bids, market price for each quality level will be computed. A gin can call the TELCOT center and obtain the general price level for any particular list of cotton. If a producer wishes to offer his cotton at that "going price" level, his listing will be electronically flashed to the data printers in the merchant offices.

Merchants will study cotton lists offered and will make their bids, within a short period of time, on that cotton offered which meets their requirements. To make a bid, a merchant simply keys his "sealed" bid on his own private CRT unit.

Since each outside unit is on a separate circuit when linked to the PCCA computer, no merchant will know what his competitor has bid. In the event of a tie bid, the computer will award the cotton to the first bidder at the top price.

A key feature of the bidding system, Davis explains, is the participation of PCCA which will bid "in the blind" on the lists of cotton. The computer will award the same manner as in the past. The association on the basis of price alone.

When a producer's cotton has been sold, the cotton will be invoiced by PCCA in the same manner as in the past. The association will retain the Deferred Payment Program for members who prefer it and the Loan Advance Program option will be maintained and improved.

Merchants will pay a service charge of $2.50 per bale for each bale purchased--$1 of the charge will go to the local gins and $1.50 will go to PCCA to cover costs of the service. The producer will pay the same costs as under PCCA's previous system with no additional charge.

Davis lists some of the advantages of TELCOT thusly:

Gins, producers and merchants will have a constant flow of current market information each day on which to base marketing decisions;

The system will create a centralized electronic market for PCCA members' cotton;

There will be competitive bidding by merchants in a unique, rapid process using the "sealed bid" principle; and

The producer will make the decision on when to offer his cotton for sale.

Shortages This Winter

DALLAS, TEXAS--Authority to allocate and establish reasonable prices for propane is being urged by the Federal Energy Administration, it was reported today by Delbert M. Fowler of Dallas, FEA regional administrator.

"We are expecting very serious shortages this winter, as industries with interruptible natural gas service enter the propane market to obtain fuel as a natural gas substitute," Fowler explained.

"Without propane price and allocation controls, desperate buyers will bid up the price of propane beyond what many traditional users can afford to pay," Fowler predicted.

Fowler said Frank G. Zarb, FEA administrator, has sent a letter to House Speaker Carl Albert asking to push for legislation that would help avert an anticipated serious propane shortage this winter. Meanwhile, regional administrators are attempting to bring home the seriousness of the problem to local congressmen.

Fowler said propane supplies will be further diminished by the decline in natural gas production, since some 70 percent of the nation's propane is extracted from raw natural gas as it is brought from the ground. The remaining 30 percent of propane is a by-product of the crude oil refining process.

The FEA administrator noted the reinstatement of the petroleum regulations September 29 is only a stop-gap measure, and these controls, which had previously expired August 31, are in effect only through November 15.

In the five-state southwest region under Fowler's jurisdiction, rural residents are heavy propane users, especially in Arkansas and New Mexico. Use is heavy also in Texas, Oklahoma and Louisiana. Crop drying uses a substantial amount of propane.

The nation's consumption of propane stands at about 350 million barrels per year. Some 61 percent is projected for rural residential and commercial use in 1975. Another four percent will be used for crop drying.

Quilted Fabrics "Wrap Up" Fashion

COLLEGE STATION--Quilted fabrics will make fashionable cold weather clothing this year, Mrs. Becky Culp, a clothing specialist, reports.

Quilted vests and jackets, garment details such as yokes, pockets, collars or cuffs, and accessories such as hats and bags are in the limelight, she noted.

Mrs. Culp is an area specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, the Texas A&M University System.

"In buying quilted fabrics by the yard, consider weight, thickness and texture most suitable for the garment's design."

"Also, the inside batting should be an even thickness throughout. The stitch length of the quilting threads should be short enough to avoid catching or snagging while wearing or cleaning. When stretched diagonally, quilting threads should give with the fabric without breaking," she pointed out.

Doing your own quilting can give custom or unique detail effect. Sandwich a lightweight batting, such as polyester fleece, between the fashion fabric and the backing of lightweight material, such as muslin. Baste layers together so they won't shift during quilting.

"Quilt by hand or machine, outlining designs in the fashion fabric or create an original design with matching or contrasting thread. A quilting foot on the machine is a useful and time-saving guide for stitching straight designs such as diagonal squares. Designs also can be marked or drawn on the backing fabric," the specialist said.

Other sewing hints especially helpful with quilted fabrics include:

--Experiment with machine pre-ure, tension and stitch length adjustments to achieve the most satisfactory stitch.

--Always finish quilting before laying and cutting out the pattern since quilting reduces the size of the fabric.

--Eliminate extra bulk in seams and darts by trimming away the batting layer in the seam allowance.

Answers to these questions and many more will be offered at an Estate Planning Seminar at Texas A&M University, Dec. 15-16.

The seminar, which will be held in the Rudder Conference Center, is being sponsored by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service and is open to all farmers, ranchers and other property owners as well as professional estate planners such as attorneys, tax accountants, insurance underwriters and trust officers, announces Tom Prater, Extension Service economist in management who is chairman of the event.

Leadoff speaker for the seminar will be State Extension Service Director Dr. John E. Hutchison, who will discuss the importance of estate planning in the full utilization of farm and ranch resources.

Remember November

That's right, remember November; because, during the first week in November, the special bicentennial issue of M.H.S.'s yearbook, "The Muletrain," will be on sale. Monday, November 3, is the big first day of annual sales, so those wishing to purchase this unique issue should bring their money on the 3rd. Annuals will be on sale for a limited time only.

Because the yearbook is a bicentennial issue, some may think it is a continuation of a tired idea; but in ten years, students will look back to their annual as a memory book of the most special year in this century.

This year's publication will have a base price of $8.00 per copy which can be paid in $4.00 installments this fall and next August when the books arrive. This price will include more pages, more color and good quality pictures. Students, teachers, parents and businessmen should also be aware of a new, special offer from the staff this year. Any person who buys an annual can have his name printed on the cover of the book and a clear plastic cover on it for protection; all this-the yearbook, professionally printed name, and plastic cover for only $10.00. The $10.00 personalized edition must be paid in full during the week of November 3.

Speaks

Mr. Dale Edmunson, Counselor and Psychologist at the Mental Health Center in Plainview spoke to the Home and Family Living classes Tuesday, October 7, Mrs. Harbin is the teacher.

He spoke of the purpose of the Center, and the advantage of going to a counselor. He explained the class that having a mental problem is as common as a physical problem.

The students asked questions on various subjects pertaining to the center and mental health.

DECA Club Sponsors Mexican Supper

The Muleshoe DECA club will be sponsoring a pre-game Mexican style supper before the Perryton-Muleshoe football game here on Oct. 24.

If you would like to have a reserved plate delivered to your home, you can call 3080 from 1:00-3:15 p.m. and 4830 from 4:00-8:00 p.m. In town deliveries only.

Senate passes Voting Rights bill.

Seniors All The Way!

The Senior Class of 1976 is very proud to be named the winner of the Hall Decoration Contest for Homecoming. The theme of the Senior's Hall was "Ye Olde Mule's Towne." It was related to the 200th Anniversary of our country - the Bicentennial Year. The Seniors are one of the few Senior Classes to win the Contest in the history of Muleshoe High. The Junior Class has been known to hold the candle for the past seven years until it was blown out this year by the Class of 1976.

The Senior Class would like to thank the Muleshoe Jaycees for lending the Class twenty American Flags for use in the Hall Decorations. We would like to extend a special thanks to Dr. and Mrs. Charles Lewis for letting us use their beautiful home for planning and working on Hall decorations.

Several local Seniors helped work very hard and diligently on the Decorations for the Contest and should be appreciated by those people who have forgotten what it means to be a Senior. Congratulations for a job well done!

The Seniors will order invitations for Graduation on Tuesday, October 21, at 8:30 in the morning in the auditorium. A deposit of $5.00 is required to order invitations.

Spanish Club Organizes

A Weekly Report Of Agri-Business News

Compiled From Sources Of The Texas Department of Agriculture
John C. White, Commissioner

A Picture Of Contrasts... Give A Little, Give A Lot... Keep In Touch... A Final Reminder.

Texas agriculture at this season of the year is a picture of contrasts. While harvesting of some crops continues at a rapid pace, planting of crops is active in other parts of the state.

All in all, it shows the bigness of this state's agricultural production capacity, and the variety of crops grown.

In northern sections of Texas, for example, wheat seeding is continuing. About two-thirds of that crop has been seeded thus far. Earlier stands have made good growth and grazing is available.

Meanwhile, in deep South Texas, citrus harvest is underway, and indications now point to one of the best quality grapefruit crops on record.

Harvesting of major crops continues as well. Sorghum harvest is nearing the finishing stages as is corn. Peanut harvesting is around the two-thirds completion mark, while cotton is about half through.

Although there were some disappointments, farmers generally were satisfied with sorghum yields. The corn per acre yield set a new high for Texas with an estimated 105 bushels.

ALTHOUGH THIS IS STILL OCTOBER, it's time to think about the giving of gifts this coming Holiday season. A sure-fire gift is food, produced here in Texas. So is fiber - cotton, wool or mohair.

A gift of food is always a welcome gift; nothing could be more practical. The same is true for wool, mohair or cotton garments.

Texas is the nation's leader in many categories of food production; it also is a leader in production of mohair, cotton and wool.

IF YOU DEPEND ON NATURAL GAS or propane in your agricultural operations, now is the time to check with your supplier to make sure supplies will be available.

Curtailements in natural gas supplies and availability of propane are among question marks for agricultural producers. The best solution to this problem now is to be sure to keep in touch with your supplier and let him know your requirements.

HERE IS ONE MORE REMINDER about the screwworm situation in the state. It continues to be important that livestock producers check their livestock regularly, delay surgery on livestock as long as possible, treat wounds on livestock with approved screwworm-control remedies, and submit samples of suspected screwworms to the livestock laboratory at Mission.

Authorities at the lab need to know the exact whereabouts of the pest so they can make plans for control the rest of this season and on into 1976.

You can get the vials needed to mail in the screwworm samples by contacting your county agent. Cooperation with the program will insure the success of eradication measures now being used throughout the state.

Senator Lloyd Bentsen Watching Washington

One autumn evening, as Air Force One lifted away from the midwestern city former President Lyndon Johnson had just visited, one of his young aides looked out the window at a giant tract of houses.

They were all nearly identical, and they seemed to go on forever. As they were slowly left behind, the aide made a casual comment about the sameness and the cheapness of those houses.

But the late president neither smiled with approval, nor chuckled. He looked his young assistant straight in the eye and said: "Just remember one thing. For every family in one of those houses, it represents a step up."

A step up. Where the aide could see only row on row of identical housing, the president saw hundreds of American families, each sharing in the promise of this country, each realizing future generations would have things a little better than the one that went before.

Throughout the 1960's, those hopes were steadily being met. The "step up" became reality for millions of more Americans. Between 1961 and 1969, real take home pay rose. Fifteen million Americans climbed out of poverty. And the quality of life for everyone, by every measure, went up.

All this was the visible result of a healthy and vital and growing national economy. Industries were thriving, factories were operating at full capacity, and most of the men and women of this country who wanted to work were working. Economic Growth. It was the only way then to achieve the American dream, and I believe it still is.

Unfortunately, today there is a fashionable lie in this country that is threatening to prolong the economic disaster we have experienced these past few years. That lie is that economic growth is somehow bad for Americans.

There are those who persist in telling us that growth breeds inflation. But you can fight inflation by putting more goods on the shelf, rather than making it harder to buy what's already there.

We have, after all, been testing these theories for the past seven years. We have had seven years of no growth and slow growth. And we have had seven years of inflation.

Others suggest that economic growth is the natural enemy of the environment. They say that economic expansion equals a declining quality of life. And that too is a beguiling lie.

Funny, isn't it? The people who argue against economic growth are always people who have enough for themselves.

Someone must make them understand that healthy and well-managed economic growth is the best long-term solution to the problems of inflation and unemployment, the best cure for poverty and a declining quality of life.

This was true during the vigorous economic growth of the sixties. Goals were reachable then, goals like owning a comfortable home and providing for the education of children, goals like making ends meet better today than they did yesterday.

Simple goals, yet they sum up much of what this country is all about.

We are fortunate in that there is nothing basically wrong with our American economic system.

The worker wants to work, but he can't find a job. The consumer wants to spend, but fear of tomorrow makes him cautious today.

The Sandhills Philosopher

Editor's note: The Sandhill Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm ranges far and wide in his letter this week.

Dear editor:

By the time this appears in your paper New York City may have been saved or lost, or possibly neither, the latter being brought about possibly by the environmentalists, who are bound to get an injunction against it. Having heard leading officials say "Washington cannot afford to let New York go down the drain," you know the environmentalists aren't going to sit still and allow the whole city, un-treated, to flow into the Hudson River. It'd take years to get that stream cleared of all the raw editors, publishers, newscasters, financiers and such like. And what the untreated politicians who got the city in its present plight would do to the fish is unthinkable.

But to get serious, I believe a compromise ought to be worked out between Washington and New York. Naturally Washington can't be bailing out every city that gets into trouble—airlines and railroads maybe and a foreign country here and there, but not every Tom, Dick and Harry of a city that runs out of money—but, New York, being the biggest and all, is a special case. Therefore Washington ought to make a deal with New York: we'll bail you out this time if you'll bail us out next time. After all, the Potomac needs protecting just as much as the Hudson.

Letter Answers Questions About Student Fees

AUSTIN—A seven-point letter designed to answer questions raised by the recent Attorney General's Opinion eliminating many fees traditionally charged public school students will be mailed to school administrators across the state Friday (October 10) by Dr. M.L. Brockette, Commissioner of Education. The opinion on October 1 by Attorney General John L. Hill covered three key areas: tuition for driver education, charges for school supplies and instruction and lab fees, and fees for extra curricular activities. Hill's ruling confines itself to the specific questions asked. Brockette's letter to the school

Changing the subject, I notice that Dr. Kissenger has made part of a deal with Russia. He's gotten Russia to agree to buy some more of our grain, but he hasn't gotten her to agree to sell us some of her oil. That's the trouble with sending a college professor to horse-trade. Changing the subject one more time, a flippant neighbor of mine said it looks like President Ford would know better than to run a red light without his seat belt fastened. Yours faithfully, J. A.

superintendents points out. It also states that all areas addressed in the Opinion that are not permitted by law are prohibited. "The following statements are submitted in response to the many questions from local school districts," Brockette says in his letter to some 1,100 district superintendents. "We hope the following will help you in implementing the Opinion." (1.) The effective date is the date of the ruling, October 1, 1975. The Attorney General's Opinion did not cover fees collected prior to the date of October 1, 1975. (2.) The ruling does not speak

Survey Indicates Texans Want Malpractice Solution

Eight out of ten Texans feel that legislation is needed to help solve the medical malpractice insurance problem, according to a recent survey by Belden Associates.

Physicians are particularly concerned about the rising cost of malpractice insurance. At a special conference last weekend in Austin called to review the situation, 800 doctors representing every county medical society in the state agreed the situation is deteriorating, rather than improving.

To learn whether the Texas public agrees with the doctors, who say the situation has reached "crisis" proportions, Belden Associates conducted a statewide public opinion study on the malpractice insurance situation. Under the sponsorship of the Texas Medical Association, the research firm interviewed 504 persons representing a complete cross-section of the state's population.

Joe Belden, president of Belden Associates, said questions in the survey were designed to learn the public's attitudes about the issue of medical malpractice, and to determine how urgent the public feels the solution to the problem is.

Results of the survey indicate strong majorities of Texans believe legislation is necessary to solve the medical malpractice insurance problem and give indications of the type of new laws the people would support: .80 percent of the public agreed with the statement, "Our state legislature should immediately pass laws to change the conditions which cause high malpractice insurance rates." 9 percent disagreed, and 11 percent did not express opinions.

.70 percent of the Texans agreed, "A person should have no more than two years after treatment to sue for malpractice." 22 percent disagreed, and 8 percent had no opinion.

.61 percent majority agreed, "The amount that can be paid to the injured person in a malpractice suit should be limited to a half million dollars." 25 percent disagreed, and 14 percent had no opinion.

.More Texans—.83 percent—agreed, "Doctors and patients should have the right to settle malpractice disputes through arbitration rather than taking them to court." 11 percent disagreed, and 6 percent had no opinion.

.The largest majority received in the survey, 87 percent, agreed, "Lawyers' fees in malpractice suits should be limited, so that the injured person gets the major part of any award." 5 percent disagreed, and 8 percent had no opinion.

.53 percent of those surveyed agreed, "An important reason for the higher cost of medical care in Texas is that doctors have to pay higher malpractice insurance rates." 33 percent disagreed, and 14 percent had no opinion.

"The medical profession and the state's Board of Medical Examiners should be given more legal power to regulate doctors," met with agreement by 65 percent. 19 percent disagreed, and 16 percent had no opinion. .63 percent of the public agreed with the statement, "Generally, today people get more effective medical care from their doctors than ever before," while 31 percent disagreed, and 6 percent had no opinion.

As we look back over the past months and years, our thoughts return to this little verse. It is true and one which I enjoy reading because of its simple truths.

It follows, "It isn't your years, but how you have lived them. It isn't the cares that life may bring; but it's the joys and dreams and friendships that are worth remembering."

As we look back we find the joy we have had with our association of friends and loved ones. Truly, we pass this way but once, and if we but stay to think and enjoy each other as the days come and go, our lives will be richer and fuller, for having known the love of friends and those who are near and dear to us.

Texas Taxes

By BOB BULLOCK, State Comptroller

Austin—I'm just like every body else when it comes to a bargain. And, like most cigarette smokers these days I sure wish I could find a way to quit paying such high prices for a pack of cigarettes.

Recently this office has been seeing some advertisements offering to sell cigarettes by mail for prices as low as $2.95 per carton. Some of these advertisements originate in North Carolina.

The real reason those cigarettes are being offered at such low prices is probably that the Texas cigarette tax hasn't been paid on them. Texas law imposes a tax of 18.5 cents per package of cigarettes or $1.85 per carton.

Legally those cigarettes can't come through the mail unless the tax is paid. The Comptroller is required by law to hunt up folks who buy cigarettes without paying the state tax on them and collect both the tax and a penalty.

Under the law I am required to collect the 18.5

cents per pack tax and then impose a penalty of another 18.5 cents per pack because the purchaser didn't pay the tax in the first place.

Getting the cigarettes through the mail in a plain brown paper wrapper won't work either. Under federal law anyone who ships cigarettes across state lines is required to report the name and address of the purchaser to the state to which the cigarettes were shipped.

Under new regulations my office will soon be getting those reports from out-of-state shippers every month.

A lot of people are also learning the hard way that the bargain cigarettes they buy in the Republic of Mexico aren't bargains when they try to bring them back across the border into Texas.

The Mexican merchant doesn't have to collect the Texas cigarette tax when he sells a package or carton of cigarettes. But it's illegal to bring more than two packages of cigarettes into Texas from Mexico unless they bear the Texas cigarette tax stamp.

You can bring two packages of cigarettes from Mexico into Texas with your tax free, as long as the seal is broken on each package.

But if you attempt to bring more than two packages of cigarettes into Texas you better be prepared to pay the tax on them.

There is provision in the law for seizure of a vehicle used to transport illegal — untaxed — cigarettes across the border. There are also heavy fines and penalties for attempting to bring untaxed cigarettes into the state.

The law doesn't differentiate between American and foreign brands of cigarettes when it comes to taxes, either.

That 18.5 cents per package tax on cigarettes applies to Mexican brands, too.

Prize List Mailed

The 1976 Premium List, outlining a record $192,753 in prizes, was mailed this week to almost 5,000 past and prospective exhibitors at the Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show, reported W.R. Watt, Jr., general manager.

Judging at the Stock Show will begin at 8 a.m. Jan. 28 when Paso Fino Horses will make their debut. The show will conclude Feb. 8. All activities will be held in the 39-acre, all-weather show barns and arenas on Amon Carter Square.

Another record Rodeo purse will be distributed to winners at the big Fort Worth Rodeo, scheduled Jan. 30 through Feb. 8 in conjunction with the Stock Show. Special entertainment at the Rodeo will be provided by the 17-member cast of "the Kids from Charlie's Place."

Stock Show entry deadline for horses, sheep, swine and cattle is Dec. 15. Exhibitors of poultry, rabbits and pigeons must enter by Jan. 15. More than 13,000 head of livestock is expected to be on exhibit at this 80th anniversary show.

Entry cards and other information is available by writing P.O. Box 150, Fort Worth, Texas 76101, or in person at the Stock Show office at 3400 Crestline Drive.

"Potential exhibitors are urged to read the 1976 Premium List carefully," Watt said. "Many rules, as well as arrival dates for some horse breeds, have been changed. Entry forms should be returned to the Stock Show office promptly."

Watt pointed out that junior steers this year will be required to gain a minimum of 1 1/4 pounds per day from Oct. 1 to weigh-in at the Stock Show. Junior Show premiums are up over $7,000 to $54,900 for the 1976 show.

Livestock auctions at the 1975 show pushed a record $1.8 million through the rings. The 1976 Stock Show has scheduled 10 cattle sales and three horse auctions, in addition to the sale of champion steers, barrows and lambs.

The American Chianina Association has designated the Stock Show to host its National Chianina Show and Sale. Other breed sales will be conducted for Angus performance tested bulls, Polled Herefords, Blonde d'Aquitaine, Brahmans, Maine-Anjou, Limousin, Charolais and Simmental.

Also on tap will be the annual commercial Hereford female sale, sponsored by the Texas Hereford Association. Cattle offered in this "pen of 20" division will be representative of the outstanding herds of the Southwest.

The annual sale of champion junior steers will be held at 9 a.m. Feb. 3, and champion barrows and lambs will be sold at 1 p.m. Feb. 7.

New this year will be auctions for Paint and Palomino Horses, under direction of Bob Walton of Fort Worth. These breeds will be in addition to the 20th annual Stock Show Quarter Horse sale, managed by John Carlile of Amarillo.

Increased participation by youth exhibitors in Horse Show events has brought added performance classes to the Quarter Horse Division. New classes include bridle path hack youth rider 13 years and under, bridle path hack youth rider 14 years and not over 18, western riding and trail horse. The latter two classes will be for any aged rider.

Interest continues to climb in Stock Show's poultry, pigeon and rabbit division. Watt said officials are optimistic for another good show in these groups which posted a 33 per cent increase in entries during the previous show.

If you get a phone call one of these days offering you a "chance of a lifetime" deal on 1/32 or 1/64 of an oil lease for as little as $500 or $1,000, tell the salesman to send you some material on the deal so you can study it. After receiving the material (it's doubtful you will receive anything), drop a line to the state securities board in Austin asking if the offering is legitimate. Chances are it isn't because this is a popular way to unscrupulous promoters to fleece the public, using a loophole in the 1933 Securities Act.

A promoter buys the oil and gas leases, gets a supply of telephone directories of northern cities, rents a room, gets phones installed, hires salesmen and calls all the likely prospects in sight, especially membership rosters of local bar associations and medical societies. A boiler room operation like that will often sell fractional interests in as many as 50 different oil and gas leases at a time. Telephone bills of $35,000 are not unusual and a fast talking, glib salesman, experienced in selling everything from Bibles to encyclopedias, can make as much as $50,000 a year hustling people on the worthless leases.

Michigan is a favorite target of the promoters, although plenty of the interests have been sold right here in Texas. Some of the promoters have gotten into school and factory systems selling interests broken down into as small as 1/1000 in one Flint, Michigan factory.

State securities laws usually require registration of the oil and gas leases with the state securities department prior to sale, but most of the promoters ignore the law, preferring to peddle the worthless lease interests over the phone. And it works like a charm. In 1974 loophole oil and gas deals totaling over $156 million were filed. You can bet they were all sold.

Texas used to be a favorite haunt for the promoters. Since the Texas Securities Commissioner got tough with the con artists, most of them have headed for Oklahoma, which does not require that interests in oil wells be registered with the state.

AG Trade Surplus Continues

COLLEGE STATION--Agriculture continues to carry the load as far as the United States' balance of trade is concerned. In fact, it's the only trade area operating "in the black."

While the U.S. agricultural trade balance had a surplus of $11.7 billion in 1974, the non-agricultural trade balance showed a deficit of $14.7 billion, points out Dr. Russell McDonald, marketing specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

The U.S. exported $22 billion worth of agricultural goods last year and imported just over $10 billion. The increase in exports was due mainly to higher commodity prices, notes McDonald.

Agricultural exports for fiscal 1975 were valued at $21.6 billion.

"Agriculture has enjoyed a surplus in the trade balance every year since 1971," says the specialist with the Texas A&M University System. "Except for a $1.2 billion surplus in 1973, the nonagricultural trade balance has had a deficit over the past four years."

Trade balance is the difference between the value of exports and imports in one year of trading.

In 1974 nonagricultural imports were worth $90 billion while exports were worth $75 billion, says McDonald. This created a deficit of almost $15 billion compared to a deficit of only $8 billion in 1973. Over half this increase in the trade deficit was due to higher oil prices. The import value of petroleum and petroleum products jumped from $7.6 billion in 1973 to $24.2 billion in 1974.

Where do the agricultural exports come from?

In 1974 the U.S. exported 58 percent of its wheat crop, 56 percent of the rice crop, more than half the soybean crop and about a third of the tobacco and cotton crops, to name a few, points out McDonald.

"Crops produced on three of every ten acres in this country were shipped abroad last year. As far as Texas is concerned, the production of an estimated one of every four acres goes to markets overseas," notes the economist.

"Individual commitment to a group effort for the common good—that's how so many worthwhile things have been accomplished in this country, and that's what Plains Cotton Growers is all about."

This is a quote from a speech delivered September 8 to the Lamesa Cotton Growers Association by W.B. Criswell of Idalou, President of Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., Lubbock.

PCG is a regional association representing cotton producers in Dawson and 24 other counties surrounding Lubbock. The Lamesa association, with membership in Dawson and adjoining counties, asked Criswell to speak to their Fall meeting on the assigned subject "Why Plains Cotton Growers" as a part of a campaign to increase awareness and support for PCG, Cotton Incorporated and the National Cotton Council.

Directly answering the title question Criswell said, "I've been a longtime member of PCG because it is an organization that gets things done, and is made up of the kind of people I like and appreciate—the kind of people who instead of crying about their problems are willing to devote time and money to solving those problems."

As one example Criswell cited the boll weevil invasion of the High Plains from below the Caprock in 1963 and the weevil control program conceived and initiated by PCG in 1964 to avert impending disaster.

"There is no doubt in my mind," Criswell stated, "that without PCG's control program, which is still in operation, we would now be spending a lot of money to control weevil infestation in every acre of High Plains cotton, plus losing some of our yield and quality potential."

He went on to recall figures from a study made by the National Science Foundation and Texas A&M University which proclaim that the program, during its first nine years, saved every High Plains producer an average of $28.00 on every bale produced. He compared this to the producer's average cost of 37 cents per bale for the boll weevil program, plus 15 cents per bale in dues to Plains Cotton Growers, a total of 42 cents a bale.

As other examples of how PCG "meets problems head-on and gets things done," Criswell pointed to the inclusion of the "Light Spot" grade in the cotton loan schedule, "which has been worth at least $10.00 per bale on every bale of Light Spot cotton produced since 1958," permission for farmers to purchase and lease allotments, a PCG proposal when the Agriculture Act of 1965 was being developed; the disaster program section of the 1973 cotton program; removal of the "double penalty" on barked cotton beginning in 1973, and other PCG accomplishments.

"When I think of all these and many other ways in which PCG has helped make my farming operation profitable, I have no problem whatsoever in answering 'Why Plains Cotton Growers'."

Criswell concluded by saying, "The answer is simple: Through Plains Cotton Growers we have in the past and can in the future, to a large degree, shape our own destiny."

An investment in Your Future ATTEND CHURCH

LITTLE FRIEND

Any mother can tell about a child's love for her doll, and the world of PRETEND that they live in. They confide in the doll, reprimand them, and care for them.

The church is a real and true friend. The church may be counted on in times of need, in times of trouble, and in times of sorrow. The church also wants to share in your times of joy.

"A friend loveth at all times."

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny, the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

CORNER CATCHER
The only center pivot in the world that hits the corners.

In a typical quarter section where a regular center pivot is irrigating 132 acres, you can now do about 150 acres. But the new Valley Corner System isn't limited to squares. Irrigate both ends of a rectangle. Irrigate odd shaped pieces of land too. It's the answer to getting valuable productive land that's been wasted, back under center pivot irrigation.

For flood irrigators, it's also the answer to automatic water and labor saving center pivot, without wasting valuable acres. No monitoring, no labor problems, no night work. But you have all the advantages of precise irrigation and fertilizer application through the system, that produces higher yields than ever before. It's a simple concept, precise in operation and engineered with quality of all Valley-built Center Pivots.

For Rent

You're doing without a Zimmatic center pivot. Saving your hard-earned capital for other improvements. Don't want to borrow right now. But it's costing you money every year you wait. Two ways. First, you're losing the extra crop production you get under irrigation. Second, inflation is at work. Boosting prices, dropping the value of your dollars.

Why not rent a Zimmatic under our new lease plan? Let the system pay for itself and put some extra money in the bank for you at the same time. Our rates are reasonable. You can include freight, installation, pump... other "above ground" items in one flexible package, tailored to your needs. Why wait to irrigate? It's just costing you money. Call us today for details on our new lease plan.

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights

by Lyndell Williams
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN - Insurance made news again, as the State Insurance Board hiked rates for homeowners coverage effective February 16.

Board staffers a week earlier recommended an average 17 per cent increase statewide in auto insurance premiums.

The Board-approved homeowners' rates will increase at an average of 8.3 per cent, fire insurance rates on homes 7.9 per cent for single-year policies and 14 per cent on three-year policies.

Rates were far less than those requested by the insurance industry.

Homeowners policy rates and extended coverage (storms, hail, riots, accidents, etc), vary by territories.

Homeowners' rates for average residences would increase as follows:
- Seacoast, 7.6 per cent.
- Central, 7.6 per cent.
- North-Northwest, 12 per cent.

Rate on a $35,000 brick veneer home in Galveston will go up from $940 to $1,021 for a three-year homeowners policy. The same type home in Houston would see a rate increase from $814 to $886, in Austin from $654 to $714 and in Lubbock from $1,137 to $1,283.

Amount of the annual increase on the same home would be $17 in Galveston, $24 in Houston, $20 in Austin and $49 in Lubbock.

All governmental units, under VRA, must submit to the U.S. Department of Justice any changes in their election laws, procedures or voting precinct boundaries dating back to Nov. 1, 1972, and in the future.

Elections Committee Chairman Rep. Luther Jones of El Paso said many small cities and other units don't have resources or required data to make full submissions and will have serious difficulty complying with requirements without assistance.

Lands Leased

Oil and gas exploration firms bid cash bonus payments of more than $3.4 million on 91,000 acres of state land at a recent lease sale.

Most bidding activity was concentrated on state submerged tracts located in Texas bays. More than $2.1 million of the total was put up for leases on 55,383 acres in the bay tracts.

Inexo Oil Company bid more than $600,000 for 13 tracts, Monsanto $377,609 for 11 tracts, Houston Oil and Minerals Corp. $338,381 for 11 tracts and Exxon, $200,004 for 12 tracts.

Atty. Gen. John Hill said "short" (90-day) sessions of the legislature under the proposed new constitution cannot be confined to fiscal matters.

In other recent opinions, Hill concluded:

Merlin the Magician on how to solve your heating problem

"Those drafty old castles are notorious even today for being dreadfully hot in summer and frigidly cold in winter. We didn't have the heat pump in those days, of course. I think what I like best about the heat pump is its simplicity. One unit provides heating and cooling... complete comfort in any kind of weather with one setting of the thermostat. And the heat pump is environmentally-sound... when heating, it actually provides more energy than it uses. Yes, if I'd had a heat pump, I wouldn't have been so cranky about passing on my magic secrets..."

BE SWITCHED TO ELECTRIC HEAT

You've got Merlin the Magician beat when it comes to conjuring up a heating system that answers all your needs. Just call us this week and we'll show you how to have complete comfort in your home with our FREE electric heat cost survey. Electric heat... it's not magic... it just acts that way.
