John Gulley Manager For CofC

A Muleshoe native, John Gulley, was employed by the Board of Directors of the Muleshoe Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture as manager of the CofC and began his new duties Thursday morning.

He was born in this area and attended the Lazbuddie Schools for eight years before transferring to Muleshoe for his high school years.

After graduating from Muleshoe High School in 1968, he attended Texas Tech University where he received a BA in Political Science.

Gulley taught for four years at Midland High School, then received a fellowship to complete his education. He received his master's degree from Tech in Public Administration. Gulley was recently employed as the emergency loan supervisor for Farmers Home Administration in Lamb County.

"I am really pleased to be back in my hometown," he commented, "and am looking forward to working with people in Muleshoe again."

"As time permits, I will be visiting with each business in Muleshoe to become acquainted or re-acquainted and will be asking for you to determine your needs. I hope to have a lot of input from the local merchants, business and professional people and the local citizens to try to help make Muleshoe a better place in which to live."

TRYING FOR YARDAGE--Muleshoe Mules' quarterback Mike Northcutt makes a dash with the ball as he is pursued by several Portales Rams Friday night at Portales. Although he made the attempt, the Mules failed to get on the scoreboard except for a deliberate two-point safety late in the game.

In a scoreless first half, the Mules and Rams failed to find the right combination to go into the end zone. The Mules did make five first downs in the first half of the game, while holding the Rams to two first downs.

As the Mules held the Rams' ground game to -1, they managed 89 yards during the first half, and no aerial yardage, while

In the second, the Mules gained 77 yards for a total of 166 on the ground and had 21 yards in the air. Another aerial, which would have gained the Mules another first down and additional yardage was called back on a penalty.

Quarterback Mike Northcutt found the going rough just before halftime as the Rams on strong defense sacked him three straight times, ending a downfield drive.

However, the Muleshoe defensive game was very good, and the Mules' defense managed to hold the Rams except for the Rams' passing game.

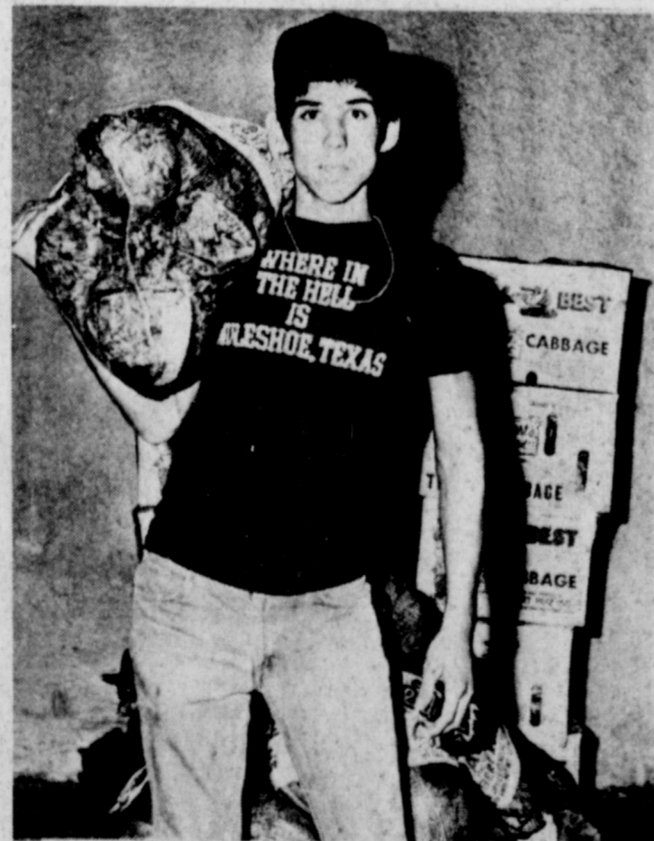

Eddy Poe played all the way as quarterback for the Rams, and completed

Eagles Drop Southland With 58-18

At Three Way, the Eagles got the season off to a flying start with a 58-18 romp over the Southland Eagles and put the 'icing on the cake' with three fourth-quarter TDs.

Even though Southland scored first, the effort went for naught as Eagle quarterback paced his team with both a running and passing game and Eagle defense held the visiting team scoreless after the second quarter.

What is 4-H? 4-H is an exciting youth program that helps young people learn how to do new and interesting things through learn-by-doing projects.

Members may be found in urban, suburban, and rural areas. 4-H is a non-profit, educational program which is open to all youth regardless of race, color, religion or national origin. There is no membership fee, but each member is usually responsible for financing his or her own projects. 4-H is the youth phase of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Youth between the ages of nine and 19 can learn new skills and interests in short-term project groups, clubs, camps, special interest groups and other activities. Fairs, contests, field trips and tours are also a part of every 4-H member's program.

With the help of 4-H volunteers, youth can select which projects they want to learn and how they will learn them. There are approximately 140 different projects from which a member may choose an individual project. Some projects are conducted on a group basis while others are self-determined and conducted by the individual member to meet his or her special needs.

Practicing good citizenship and developing leadership talents are also important activities of 4-H. Public appearances, speeches committee work and officer elections are just some of the ways 4-H'ers learn the important skills of decision making, democratic behavior, social competence and self-esteem.

4-H is not all work either. 4-H means making new friends, going places, helping others and sharing talents, hobbies and skills.

Being a part of this exciting, action filled program is easy. Young people can join 4-H today.

Consideration Due For Bailey County

U.S. Representative Kent Hance last week announced that nine counties in his 19th Congressional District have been declared official disaster areas following a devastating hailstorm in late August. The Congressman made the announcement following final approval by the Farmers Home Administration (FmHA). Counties declared as natural disaster areas were Deaf Smith, Castro, Parmer, Lamb, Hockley, Terry, Gaines, Dawson and Martin. Also scheduled to be considered is Bailey County.

Clinton Kennedy, manager of the local FmHA office, was in Amarillo Thursday in consultation with his district director. The district director suggested to Kennedy that Bailey County go ahead and recommend a designation for Bailey County as a disaster area.

This decision was recommended following a hailstorm Monday evening which left thousands of acres of crops damaged and destroyed in Northwestern and western Bailey County.

The district director said then if other things happen, such as an early freeze date, which would compound the problem, the county could come back with other requests.

The Bailey County Emergency Committee, which is composed of government employees, has scheduled a meeting for next week to make a final decision about seeking a disaster recommendation at this time.

They will be estimating the damage as closely as possible and will probably make arrangements for the disaster area designation, explained Kennedy.

The Thursday meeting in Amarillo was between the FmHA and PCA who will be cooperating in making loans to farmers and ranchers.

Farmers in the affected counties may apply for emergency loan assistance to recover losses caused by the natural disaster which are expected to exceed $200 million. Applications for the emergency loans should be filed in local FmHA offices. Applications for physical losses will be accepted for nine months and for production losses for 12 months.

"The FmHA loans are made to qualifying farmers

Flag Chairman Said New Flags Did Not Arrive

Charles Moraw, Jaycee flag project chairman, explained that all the flags which were displayed Labor Day were not new flags.

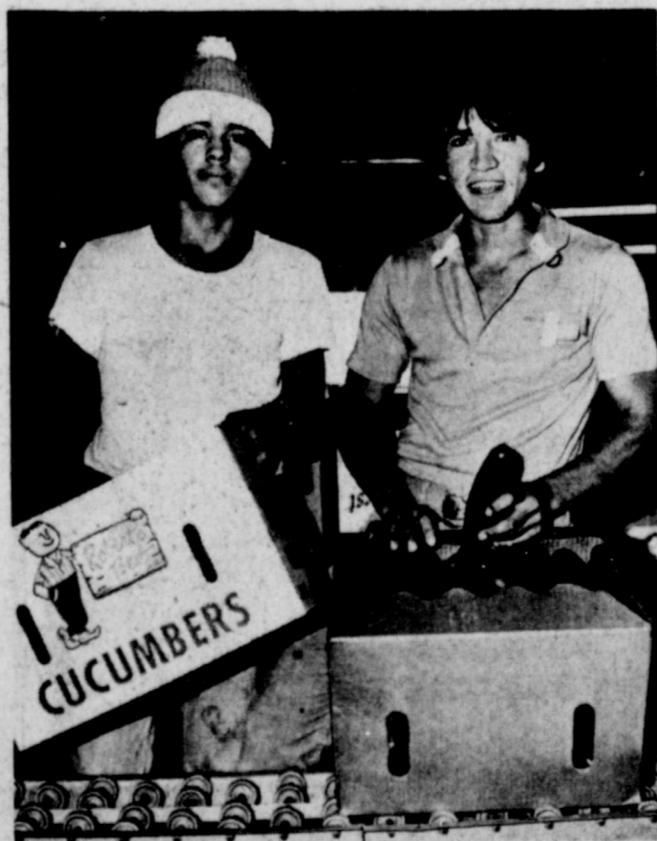

He said although new flags had been ordered, all the new flags did not arrive in time for the Labor Day holiday.

He said persons who have signed up for the flag project will be billed for the year from Columbus Day, October 8, 1979 to the Columbus Day holiday in 1980. No business will be billed for Labor Day, 1979.

Moraw apologized for the inconvenience, but said the new flags should be in Muleshoe for the next holiday which will be Columbus day.

PIVOT TALK
by Arnie

A standard feature on Lockwood pivots is the overwatering timer. This basically is a back-up safety separate from the alignment safety group which monitors the end tower. If a malfunction were to occur on the end tower the system would remain in alignment and continue to overwater in one spot until noticed by the operator. This safety allows the operator to set a timer range of from two (2) to ten (10) minutes to allow the next to end tower to move. If no movement is forthcoming in that period of time the system would shutdown avoiding this overwatering condition and beyond that if fertilizer or chemicals are injected into the water system from perhaps permanent field damage.

Field Day To Highlight Grain Sorghum Research

Grain sorghum research, emphasizing drought tolerance and midge resistance, will be one of the several highlights of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station's (TAES) 70th annual field day.

The annual field tour will be held on Tuesday Sept. 11, from 1 to 4 p.m. at the Texas A&M University Agricultural Research and Extension Center, north of Lubbock International Airport on F.M. 1294.

Dr. Jerry Johnson, TAES plant scientist, will present the latest research information about grain sorghum during the field tour.

"We are conducting research that is intended to improve grain sorghum as a crop for the Texas South Plains," Dr. Johnson said. Field day visitors will be given an opportunity to observe grain sorghum performance tests containing 119 commercial entries from several seed companies. These tests are grown on both dryland and irrigated plots and should be of interest to producers that anticipate planting grain sorghum in 1980, Johnson said.

Additional stops on the field day tour will include soil fertility, cotton breeding, water use efficiency, and weed control. Grape vineyard tours and soybean research will be among the added attractions this year.

The annual field day is a cooperative presentation of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, High Plains Research Foundation, USDA-Science and Education Administration, Texas Agricultural Extension Service, and the National Weather Service Agricultural Meteorology Office. Professional staffs of these organizations, state and federal agencies will be on hand during the field day to answer questions and discuss topics of interest with farmers, home owners and gardeners.

Unhelmeted riders more likely to die

COLLEGE STATION — Deaths and injuries resulting from motorcycle accidents have increased drastically in Texas since repeal of the rider helmet law, concludes a statewide study by Texas A&M University traffic safety engineers.

One of every four motorcycle accident fatalities can be prevented simply by requiring drivers and passengers to wear helmets, according to the report, jointly released by Texas A&M and the Texas Office of Traffic Safety in Austin.

In addition, it states an unhelmeted rider is 2.5 times more likely to die and 2.67 times more likely to sustain a head injury that is incapacitating or fatal.

Museum Will Show Work Of Robin Nelson Gregory

The Pioneer Museum and Gallery is now presenting an exhibit of thirty-five water colors and pastel paintings by Robin Nelson Gregory, a former north-west Oklahoma resident who now lives near Farwell, Texas.

The Gallery director, Mrs. C.E. Williams, extends a particular invitation to residents of western Texas, Kansas and Oklahoma to visit the museum-gallery during the month of September to see this exhibit of regional art.

The Pioneer Museum and Gallery is open, without charge, from 12-5 p.m.,

Tuesday through Saturday, and from 2-5 p.m. on Sunday. Much of the gallery's year is devoted to the presentation of regional artist.

Robin Gregory enjoys working in the medium of water colors to depict western Texas and Oklahoma landscapes. Windmills and mailboxes, old barns and houses appear in her western scenes.

Attention to detail is the artist's specialty. She has worked with this technique under Susan Dowds Lee, the New Mexican water colorist.

She uses pastels primarily for portraits. She has worked with the use of pastels in portraits under Mac Carrow of Lubbock, Texas.

The former Woodward, Okla. resident has now been painting professionally for about three years. Much of her time is devoted to commission painting, but she has exhibited in shows and galleries in Texas and New Mexico.

Mrs. Gregory is a graduate of Woodward High School and Oklahoma State University's school of business. After graduation she enjoyed working with a real estate firm in Dallas.

Painting professionally became a part of her life after her marriage to Larry Gregory and moving to West Texas near Farwell.

Gregory is a co-owner of Gregory Produce, Inc. which is in Lariat, Texas. Larry and Robin Gregory are sports enthusiasts, and they both enjoy golf, tennis and show skiing.

two-thirds of his nine passes for a total yardage of 75, including a nine yard touchdown at 7:09 of the third quarter.

Penalties also hurt the Mules. The Mules had 50 yards in penalties to only 22 for the Rams. One pass interference call on a long pass possibly helped set up the Rams touchdown, the only one of the game.

Both teams punted five times; the Mules for an average of 43.4 yards and the Rams for an average of 36.4 yards.

The Mules had nine first downs in the game to only six for the Rams and the only fumble was by the Mules shortly after the game got underway. Last year, the Mules defeated the Rams with 24 seconds on the clock in the game. This year, with 24 seconds left to play, the Mules two point safety came after the Mule defense had shoved the Rams back against the goalline, and instead of kicking the ball away, the Ram punter was tabbed for a two point safety to thwart any possible scoring drive as the Mules would have had fairly short yardage to make it into the end zone.

The stands at Greyhound stadium were filled with Mule fans, who saw a defensive game. Next Friday night, the Floydada Whirlwinds will be coming to Muleshoe to seek revenge for their loss to the Mules in Floydada last year. Gametime will be 8 p.m. at Benny Douglass stadium in Muleshoe.

"Kiss A Baby" because a salty taste is one of the symptoms of the disease and many parents have detected the symptoms by kissing their children, explained Mrs. Lenau. She said the funds raised from the campaign will go to support research, care and education programs aimed at lengthening lives and finding a cure for Cystic Fibrosis. These programs include support for more than 100 Cystic Fibrosis centers across the nation which provide diagnosis, treatment and referral to children suffering from asthma, chronic bronchitis, childhood emphysema and recurrent pneumonia as well as Cystic Fibrosis.

"In addition to finding a cure for Cystic Fibrosis," said Mrs. Treadwell, "researchers are hoping to find a test to detect carriers of the Cystic Fibrosis gene, and also a method of diagnosing the disease at birth. Early diagnosis and treatment helps extend and improve lives."

"In 1955, when the Cystic Fibrosis Foundation was established, most children with Cystic Fibrosis died before reaching three years of age. Now, more than 50 percent can be expected to live past age 19. But, we want to make it possible for all children with Cystic Fibrosis to live normal, full lives."

"Volunteers can help," she added, "by giving of their time to support the giving of the Most precious gift of all--the Breath of Life."

To volunteer for the "Kiss A Baby" campaign, contact Mrs. Dee Treadwell at 272-3347 or 272-3861; or Mrs. Charles Lenau at 272-3181 or 272-3485.

dist Church.

Ballengue's remarks to the Muleshoe Rotarians will address the present energy crisis and what SPS is doing and planning to assure its customers a continuing supply of dependable electrical service.

Southwestern Public Service Company, in its present form, came into being in September, 1942.

Through mid-1976, the Company was virtually fueled 100 percent by natural gas. However, in 1970, SPS management had decided that coal was the fuel of the future and started making plans for the Company's first coal-fired plant. In August 1976, shortly after President Carter's energy speech requesting electrical utilities to switch to coal, the first of three 350-megawatt coal-fired units at Harrington Station went on the line. The second unit went on the line in the summer of 1978, and the third unit is scheduled for completion about June of 1980. When the third unit is on the line, almost 60 percent of Southwestern's generation will be from coal.

"SPS has long been recognized for its foresight and imaginative approach to providing dependable electric service at the lowest possible cost," said Ballengee. "Southwestern engineers design and supervise the construction of all power plants for the Company. The first economic loading system in the country, a system that is operated from a central dispatching center and automatically adds the most efficient generating unit available to the system when additional load requires more electric energy, was installed by SPS.

"The Company pioneered the use of sewage effluent as cooling and makeup water and, with further treatment, as boiler make-up water at its Jones Station in Lubbock," he added, "with a savings of gallons of fresh water daily. Sewage effluent is also used at Harrington Station and Nichols Station in Amarillo."

When SPS went to coal, a scrubber was installed on the Harrington unit One to make sure that the Company was in compliance with all clean air standards. Then, for unit Two, a fabric filter system, commonly known as a baghouse, was installed. It was the largest baghouse ever built.

Southwestern has actively supported nuclear development, added Ballengee, and has waged a strong campaign for a helium breeder reactor program.

It has also been active in the research and development of the generation of electric energy. SPS is a charter member of the Texas Atomic Energy Research Foundation (TAERF) which was created in 1957 by ten investor-owned electric utilities in Texas for the advancement of energy knowledge, particularly nuclear energy. Research in the field of nuclear fusion is now being carried out by TAERF on the campus of the University of Texas at Austin.

"Still not content to stand pat on tradition," said the vice president, "Southwestern recently announced that the Department of Energy has awarded SPS and General Electric a grant of approximately $500 thousand to study the feasibility of repowering one of SPS's generating units with a solar system. If built, it would be one of the largest solar projects of its kind in the United States."

INVENTORIES PILE UP
Another recession signal has appeared as the government reported that business inventories swelled in June by 1.3 percent. June's increase followed rises of 1.1 percent in May and 1.4 percent in April.

High School Expects Good Year In '79-'80

Student Council Will Be Active In School Year

Student Council is an organization that serves the student body and the community. Student Council is not another popularity contest and is set up to involve a large number of students.

Anyone can become a member as long as he is willing to do his share of work and respect others in the Council. Do not be an 8:30 to 3:15 student. Student Council is a chance to get involved in student activities.

Student Council officers met Tuesday and Wednesday mornings of the last week to discuss activities and projects for the 1979-80 school year. Projects considered for the coming year were Junior Olympics, Speech tournament concession stand, Homecoming football and basketball, Exes' Tea, Christmas tree, Christmas food drive, a Santa Claus to visit the elementary schools, a talent show, and many others. Student Council sends delegates and officers to a District meeting and a State Convention. Student Council also sells beat tags Friday mornings for the Varsity football games and will sponsor the only movie to be shown this year.

The Student Council is composed of eight elected officers, elected representatives (elected by the four classes and school organizations), and honorary members. Honorary members are not elected but can sign up at the office Monday and Tuesday.

Students are encouraged to get involved in student activities. Student Council officers met Tuesday and Wednesday mornings of the last week to discuss activities and projects for the 1979-80 school year.

date October 20 must have their registration materials completed and mailed before the September 21 deadline. The full 1979-80 schedule of test dates and deadlines is as follows: Test Date: October 20, 1979, Registration Period: August 6-September 21; Test Date: December 8, 1979, Registration Period: October 8-November 9; Test Date: February 16, 1980, Registration Period: November 26-January 18; Test Date: April 12, 1980, Registration Period: February 4-March 14; Test Date: June 14, 1980, Registration Period: March 24-May 16. At area test centers on those dates it will take students about three hours to complete the four exams (English, math, social studies, natural sciences) that make up the ACT Assessment's test section. The program's other section is a two-part questionnaire, which is completed at home by students as part of the registration process.

For the fifth consecutive year, the basic student fee for using the program is $7.50. Information reports resulting from the test and questionnaire sections are sent to the students and their high school counselors, as well as to those colleges and other institutions specifically designated by the students.

Muleshoe High School students who are uncertain if they need to use the ACT Assessment, or are concerned about location of the nearest test center, are urged to contact Mr. Gramling. Students can also obtain ACT Assessment registration packets, as well as other college and career planning materials, from the counseling office.

It is recommended that students use the ACT Assessment during their junior year or early in the senior year so that resulting information will be available in time to be of maximum assistance students and their counselors in education and career planning.

Recommended or required for use by applicants at nearly 2,700 colleges, other postsecondary education schools, and scholarship programs, the ACT Assessment is used each year by nearly one million students.

The ACT Assessment Program is one of several educational services provided by The American College Testing Program (ACT) which has its national headquarters in Iowa City, Iowa.

ASTIGMATISM

Dear Dr. Pettey: What is astigmatism? My doctor told me I have myopic astigmatism but didn't explain it.

The words and the term are easy to understand and should have been explained to you.

Astigmatism: Take a soft rubber ball between your fingers and thumb and squeeze; note the change in the shape of the ball—one curve sharp and the other flatter. You are now looking at what the curve of the front of the eye looks like when astigmatism is present. Even a slight difference in the curves is astigmatism. The side of a basketball is round: no astigmatism; the side of a football is not round: astigmatism. If the eye is like the football, light going into it is distorted and causes either eyestrain or blur or both. Until about the turn of the century, no lens was devised to correct for astigmatism.

Myopic: Nearsighted or sighted-for-near. That means you do not see as well at distance as you do at near and, when combined with astigmatism, glasses or contact lenses, or both, are usually needed to let you see clearly and be visually comfortable.

Readers with other questions about eye care may address Dr. Pettey in care of this paper or the Texas Optometric Association, Box 2242, Austin, Texas 78768.

LUBBOCK-- The enjoyment of a safe hunting trip cannot be measured by normal standards, but one careless act or misjudgment on the part of the shooter, and the trip will be remembered for many seasons.

The number and type of hunting accidents are monitored annually by the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department since the agency regulates Texas hunting and trains safe hunters through its volunteer hunter safety program.

Comparisons of the number accidents and fatalities between 1978 and previous years indicate that a small number of hunters are continuing to violate the rules of safe gun handling.

"Texas recorded 83 accidents in 1978 and 19 of these were fatal," said

Theron D. Carroll, P&WD hunter safety coordinator. "Only 30 of the 125 persons involved in these accidents were under 17 years of age which indicates that our volunteer hunter safety program is working," Carroll continued.

Of the 10,890 students certified in 1978 by the P&WD, over 57 percent were in the 12-17 age bracket.

Hunting accidents occurred every month of 1978 with December recording a total of 20. Deer, dove, and rabbit were the three species of wildlife involved in the majority of the hunting accidents. These three species require continual judgment on the part of the shooter as to the correct time to shoot, identification of target, and zone or area of fire.

Visible identification in the field is necessary for both the shooter and other hunters. This is normally accomplished by the wearing or displaying of bright colored clothing such as hunter blaze orange.

Of the 23 hunting accidents occurring in 1978 dealing with hunter judgment, none of the victims had any bright colors displayed.

All shooters should review their firearms handling procedures and remember the 12 commandments of shooting safety.

1. Treat every gun with the respect due a loaded gun. This is the cardinal rule.

2. Guns carried into camp or home must be unloaded and cased.

3. Always be sure that the barrel and action are clear of obstructions.

4. Always carry the gun so the direction of the barrel can be controlled.

5. Keep the safety ON until you are ready to shoot.

6. Be sure of your target before you pull the trigger.

7. Never point a gun at anything you don't want to shoot.

8. Unattended guns should be unloaded.

9. Guns and ammunition should be stored safely beyond the reach of children.

10. Never climb a tree or a fence with a loaded gun.

11. Never shoot at a flat.

Fans lower home cooling costs
COLLEGE STATION — A floor fan or even an old oscillating fan can help people live comfortably with home air conditioning set at an energy-conserving 78 degrees.

The recommendation is made by Dr. Dennis Driscoll, biometeorologist at Texas A&M University. His specialty is how weather affects people.

Home air conditioners have only a temperature control, but two other factors, water vapor in the air and air movement, affect comfort. Relative humidity of 50 to 60 percent and air movement are built into units at the factory.

Driscoll says 80 degrees, 60 percent relative humidity and little or no air movement are "right on the edge of the comfort zone." At that combination most people will be comfortable and a few will be slightly uncomfortable.

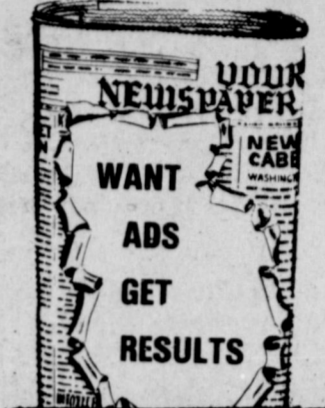

"The simplest and least expensive remedy is to increase air movement to get back into the comfort zone." That's where the fans come in because they circulate the cool air more efficiently.

hard surface or the surface of water.

12. Do not mix gunpowder and alcohol. Drinking alcoholic beverages slows the reaction of the hunter and affects the judgment of the shooter.

More information and training is available by attending a Texas Volunteer hunter safety class.

Contact the nearest Texas game warden, P&WD office, or call Austin at 512/475-4895 for classes in your area.

Solar greenhouse conserves energy
COLLEGE STATION — Higher transportation costs may increase the demand for locally grown foods, and a solar greenhouse being built and tested at Texas A&M University could be the first step toward efficient, year-round vegetable gardening.

Dr. Cornelius van Bavel, who heads the solar energy research project, has developed a fluid roof greenhouse that stores excess energy.

The greenhouse has a transparent, hollow-core roof through which a sky-blue solution of copper chloride is circulated. The chloride solution acts as a selective filter to gather heat from the sun but does not interfere with the transmission of light. The heat captured in the fluid roof is stored in the solution in a 500-gallon underground tank for use during cool nights to keep the plants at a uniform temperature.

Other methods can be used now to conserve energy in greenhouses, the researcher says. For example, he suggests reducing air leakage, providing double glazing, using thermal screens at night and improving the efficiency of heating systems.

ATTEND THE CHURCH OF YOUR CHOICE

The RESPECTED WORD

The bible is a book translated into every known language. It is the word that men have died for, in order that it may be available to all men. It is the textbook for God's people.

The bible, itself, is not worshipped, but is respected, for it is the story of God and his relationship to man. It is man's guide for worship and daily living.

Attend church regularly, study, and seek God's will in your life.

"I wait for the Lord, my soul doth wait, and in his word do I hope."

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

Some people get the "Crazies" when they shop -- then their budget goes "crazy," too. Some of those people are me and you. Experts have "names" for these shoppers -- the "bargain buyers," the "depressed shopper," the "spiteful buyer," the "status" buyer and the "wishful" buyer. These "names" describe several spending personalities. Study their symptoms below, and if any are yours, then fight the "crazies" and save more

DEPRESSED SHOPPERS -- use buying to compensate for frustration and gloom. It's a way to "boost the spirits," they think. Once in awhile, a "fling" may be emotionally healthy, but when it becomes a habit, or the items are expensive, new ways of solving depression would be more economical. SPITEFUL BUYERS -- they "work so hard and get so little attention" that they just go out and buy something to get back. Unfortunately a buying spree rarely relieves the feeling of neglect for very long, and, worse yet, the purchase is rarely something they feel good about later. STATUS BUYERS -- will fall for anything that makes them stand out in a crowd. Sellers know people are willing to pay more for a product that reflects luxury. For example, cars feature options that have nothing to do with safety or economy. These luxury options simply appeal to status buyers. WISHFUL BUYERS -- spend money on products that promise a "wish come true" -- young, slim, smooth skinned. Did you make a wishful purchase today? or any other "crazy" purchase? We hope not. They Are! Some people are like blotters--soak it all in, but get it all backwards! -Shipyard, Philadelphia.

The Valley Corner System

Valmont Industries, Inc., of Valley, Nebraska, today announced the shipment of its 25,000th center pivot irrigation system. The machine, a Valley Corner System, was presented to Jim and Larry Mamot of St. Libory, Nebraska, today at a ceremony attended by nearly a thousand Valmont employees. Featured speaker Nebraska Governor Charles Thone called the center pivot "a major breakthrough for U.S. agriculture." At the ceremony, Valmont Chief Executive Officer Robert Daugherty reviewed the first quarter century of center pivot development, giving credit to inventor Frank Zybach and to the Valmont dealers and employees who had to fight hard to overcome skepticism in the marketplace. Valmont's first 10 years of center pivots were lean ones as the odd-looking invention was refined and perfected. By 1962, 10 years after Zybach got his patent, only 75,000 acres were under center pivots. The majority of farmers were understandably reluctant to leave behind irrigation practices that were literally thousands of years old. The irrigation establishment staunchly resisted the center pivot concept. But the center pivot was an idea whose time had come. Today Valmont is the leader of a $500-million-a-year industry that may yet be in its infancy. Acceptance is now an international phenomenon. There are Valley systems operating on six continents and in 20 foreign countries, including the Soviet Union and the Peoples' Republic of China. Center pivot and linear move irrigation systems are now irrigating 7.5 million acres, helping to produce $2.5 billion worth of crops a year. With the world population expected to double in the next 35 years, the automatic irrigation system will play a vital role in helping to feed a hungry world. The center pivot has been described by a leading technical publication, Scientific American, as "perhaps the most significant mechanical innovation in agriculture since the replacement of draft animals by the tractor." The growth of recent years has been astounding. In Nebraska, for example, as recently as 1972 there were 2,734 center pivots on 373,000 acres. Today, there are more than 18,000, covering 2.5 million acres. Until the center pivot came along, the method of distributing irrigation water had been virtually unchanged for 6,000 years. Despite some 20th Century developments in the U.S. -- tow lines, wheel-moves and side-rolls -- irrigation had been synonymous with intensive, backbreaking labor, requiring monumental time and energy. The center pivot made irrigation a push-button affair, allowing one farmer working alone to irrigate hundreds, even thousands of acres. The center pivot became a success story because it solved so many problems while paying farmers back many times over for their original investments. It allowed farmers and ranchers to irrigate rolling land that could not be irrigated by other methods. And they found they could save both water and energy by applying just the amount of water needed, precisely when needed, with great uniformity of application. The center pivot gave them crop insurance -- the insurance that their total investment in a crop wouldn't be wiped out by a dry spell. It opened marginal dryland acres to cultivation, making them fully as productive as the richest American farmlands. In the present climate of concern for both water and energy conservation, the significant water savings with center pivots and energy savings with low-energy systems point to an even brighter future for the equipment. Valmont's early years were devoted to the development and marketing of the Water Drive, a pivot powered by a water-hydraulic cylinder that ratchets the towers ahead. The 1970's have seen the replacement of the Water Drive by the Electric Drive as the standard center pivot. In 1973, with the introduction of the Valley Corner System, Valmont gave farmers a way to irrigate the valuable corners and odd shapes left dry by conventional center pivots. With more than 2,000 Corner Systems now in the field, Valmont is outselling its nearest competitors better than 20 to 1. Development has continued with the Rainer Linear Move System and the fast-growing wastewater treatment field. Using either wire-follow or above-ground guidance, the Linear Move goes straight down a rectangular field, saving water, labor and energy over flood irrigation techniques. In wastewater treatment, center pivots and linear moves in increasing numbers are being used to distribute wastes from cities, manufacturers, feedlots, and animal-confinement operations onto nearby fields. The need for expensive chemical treatment of wastes is eliminated and the water and nitrogen in the effluent allows for high-yield farming even on poor soils. As Daugherty said in a recent speech, "Many wonderful and not-so-wonderful things were said about the invention of the center pivot. The skepticism hung over it like a black fog."

WELCOME TO MULESHOE

Rev. Terry Burke
