Nursing Home Heading Up Card Project

"How would you like to have your name, family name, or your business listed on a gigantic Community Christmas Card and help a very worthy project at the same time?" asks the Muleshoe Nursing Home.

It's almost time for the ever-popular annual Community Christmas Card project! This year, the project will be sponsored by the Muleshoe Nursing Home, and they hope that in lieu of sending Christmas cards locally, that your money be used to participate in this community-wide project.

The Nursing Home reminds that this is the perfect way to use the cost of cards and postage to wish a Happy Holiday Season to your friends and business associated.

Then, in the Christmas issue of the newspaper, your name will appear on a large Christmas Card page, greeting your friends and expressing concern for your fellow man. The Muleshoe Journal and Bailey County Journal has co-sponsored this project for many years, helping to obtain many items for the hospital when it was open, and the Nursing Home.

Proceeds from this project will be used to help continue the efforts that never end -- adding to the happiness and comfort of the Nursing Home residents.

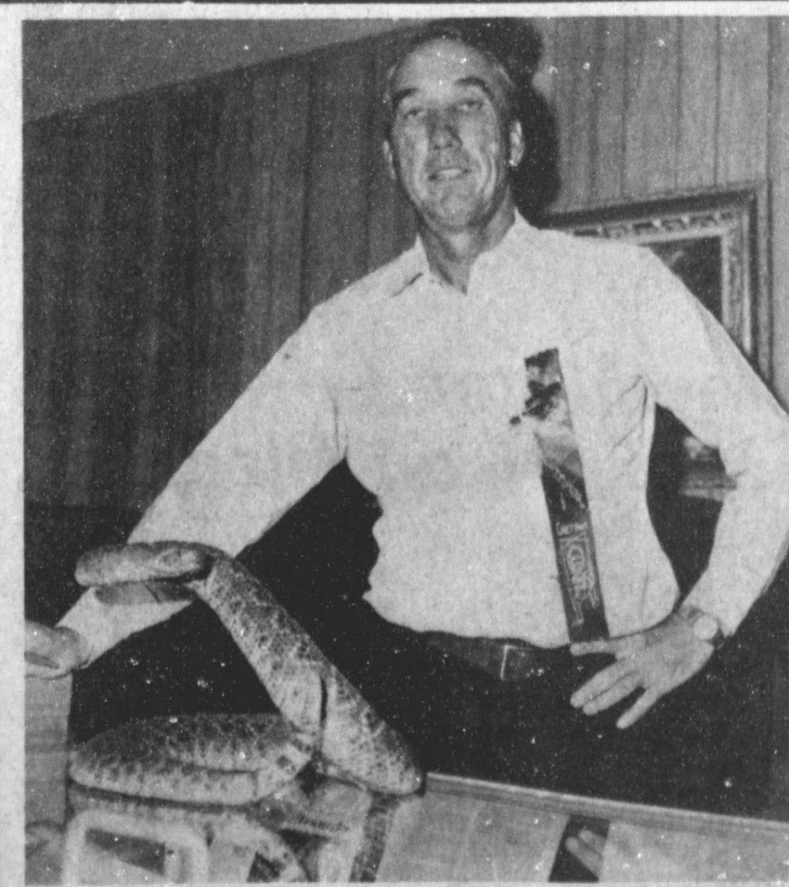

Contributions will be received, beginning on November 9, with the cutoff date set for Friday, December 18, 1987 at 5 p.m. Your contribution may be left at either bank or mailed to: Muleshoe Nursing Home, Christmas Card Project, 106 W. Ave. H, Muleshoe, TX 79347.

SNAKES ALIVE!!--They're really not, but Harold Mardis, science teacher at Watson Junior High School has created a lot of interest with his rattlesnake displays at the school library during the past week. He used the mounted rattlesnake, cases of rattles and snake heads in lucite during his classes last week.

Amherst Declines To Play Lazbuddie

Everyone was all set at Lazbuddie -- Homecoming 1987 was coming up on Friday, October 16, and the Lazbuddie Longhorns, unbeaten this year, were all ready to tangle with the Amherst Bulldogs.

But - that will not come to pass, as the Amherst Bulldogs have elected not to play the powerhouse Longhorns.

When contacted Thursday morning by telephone, Amherst Superintendent Kermit Sorrells told The Journal they were not playing Lazbuddie because they have had several injuries. However, the superintendent went on to say they were Cont. Page 6, Col. 1

Rattlesnakes On Display At WJHS

Reactions range from, "Oh, look! How cute!" to "Yuck!" when students at Watson Junior High School first see Harold Mardis's display in the library.

Mardis, a science teacher, utilizes rattlesnakes, not live, but stuffed, along with display cases of rattles, rattlesnake heads cased in lucite and printed materials in his classes.

In the early 60's, Mardis said he studied with a snake expert, Angus Woodbury, of the University of Utah. This started an existing fascination with snakes, especially rattlesnakes.

"No, I don't like them," said Mardis, in response to a question, "I do like to study and read about them."

He has been on many snake hunts, and his largest snake on display is from the Hondo Mountains in New Mexico. He has had the snake 10-15 years, and the stuffed snake draws a lot of attention when it is on display.

When people find his interest in rattlesnakes, they have been generous in giving him many rattles, which are arranged in display cases.

Mardis has much literature on snakes and his classes study Cont. Page 6, Col. 4

3-Way Loses Quarterback For Season

It was not a good night for football for the Three Way Eagles Friday night when they traveled to New Home.

Not only did the undefeated New Home team keep their unbeaten record intact with a 53-6 victory over the Three Way Eagles, but the Eagles lost their quarterback for the season.

Saul Guillen, a senior, and starting quarterback for the Eagles received a broken ankle in the first three minutes of play at New Home.

He was taken to St. Mary's Hospital in Lubbock for treatment of his broken ankle and released.

Also receiving ankle injuries in the game were back up quarterbacks Jarrod Sowder and Mario Guillen.

Before he was injured, Jarrod Sowder made the Eagles' only TD of the game, when he returned a kickoff 70 yards to the end zone.

With Guillen out for the rest of the season with his broken ankle, another Three Way player, Bryan Kindle, will also be out for the year. He will be undergoing knee surgery tomorrow, Monday, in Lubbock.

Three Way Coach Greg Jeffcoat commented Saturday morning, "The kids were fired up and really ready to play."

"After all the injuries, they still had a good attitude, and just hung in there. I was real proud of them."

Mules Lose Quarterback; Inexperience 'Pays Off'

Unexpected! That word describes the football game played Friday night in Benny Douglass Stadium between the Muleshoe Mules and the Friona Chieftains. The 27-17 loss by Muleshoe was a loss after a three game winning streak. The Mules also threw in several unexpected plays during the game.

The first quarter, although evenly balanced possession-wise between the two teams, became a warning to the Mules as to what was to come. With 5:18 left to play in the first quarter, Chieftain Daniel Echols made a 12-yard touchdown making the score 6-0. The PAT attempt failed after a bad snap.

The Chieftains first mistake of the night led to a Mule touchdown early in the second quarter. Because of a bad snap on the part of Friona, with 1:23 left in the first quarter, Muleshoe was able to take over the ball at Friona's 18 yard line.

Fifty seconds into the second quarter, a one yard pass from quarterback Jeff Hicks to #44, Michael Dunham, proved to be enough to take the Mules across the line and tie the game 6-6. The PAT by Ronnie Perez brought the Muleshoe team into the lead, 7-6.

The Chieftains, however, returned the favor and took the ball home on their next possession. The Chieftains showed what has kept them undefeated this season with a one yard touchdown run by #33, Ben Osborn, with 6:14 left to play in the second quarter. Their attempt for two extra points failed when Jeff Hicks caught their pass in the end zone, making the score 12-7.

Osborn again proved his dexterity when he scored the last touchdown of the half, late in the second quarter. Friona made another one yard TD and ran the ball in, making the halftime score 20-7.

Despite the fact Friona came within one yard of a touchdown, they were unable to overthrow the Mule defense. Friona bounced back from the setback and scored the only TD of the third quarter on a 20-yard pass to Stephen Thornton with :28 left in the quarter. The PAT was good, giving Friona a 27-7 lead over the Mules.

The fourth quarter was, by

Parents Will Get Students' Report Cards

In what H. John Fuller, Superintendent of Schools, describes as "the first step," parents will be asked to come by the school next Wednesday (October 14) or Thursday (October 15) to personally pick up their child's or children's report card. School will be dismissed early on both days to allow teachers the opportunity to provide additional "feedback" to parents on how well their child is doing in school.

On Wednesday, parents will be scheduled to pick up report cards between 1:30 and 5 p.m. while on Thursday, teachers will return to school at 6 p.m. in order for parents to come by between 6 and 8 p.m.

According to Fuller, "this is a type of 'open house' where parents and teachers will have an opportunity to personally ask questions about the school program and about student performance."

"Hopefully," Fuller continues "we will do a better job of conveying the true meaning of grades. Grades should not be used to compare one student against another or for any competitive reason."

WJHS Students Conduct Fun-Filled 'Spirit' Week

Last week, the halls of Watson Junior High School were filled with 'spirit' -- not the ghost-type spirits, but the spirits that leave good feelings toward the school - the athletes - the arts - the students - the faculty - and everyone else coming into contact with WJHS.

During the week, the students wrote essays, did various art work, including posters, did a spirit chain and chose two spirit princesses, one from the seventh grade and one from the eighth grade.

Kip McCall won a first place for his 'Spirit Speech.'

Sixth grade winners of the poster contest were Courtney Tanksley, first and Chad Montgomery, second. Honorable Mention went to Andy Wilson and Emily Harris, while Gage Angeley won the 'Better Late Than Never' award.

For the seventh graders, it was Rachel McAdams, first and Sergio Marquez, second; with honorable mention going to Mandy Shipman.

Virgil Snell was the winner in the eighth grade, with David Quintana being second.

For the essay contest, in the sixth grade, the winner was Jeanne Cox, with honorable mention going to Cathy Espinosa and Roxanne Rodriguez.

Seventh grade winners were Clay Grant and Stephanie Langfitt, with honorable mention winners, Amelia Flores and Jeff Bradley.

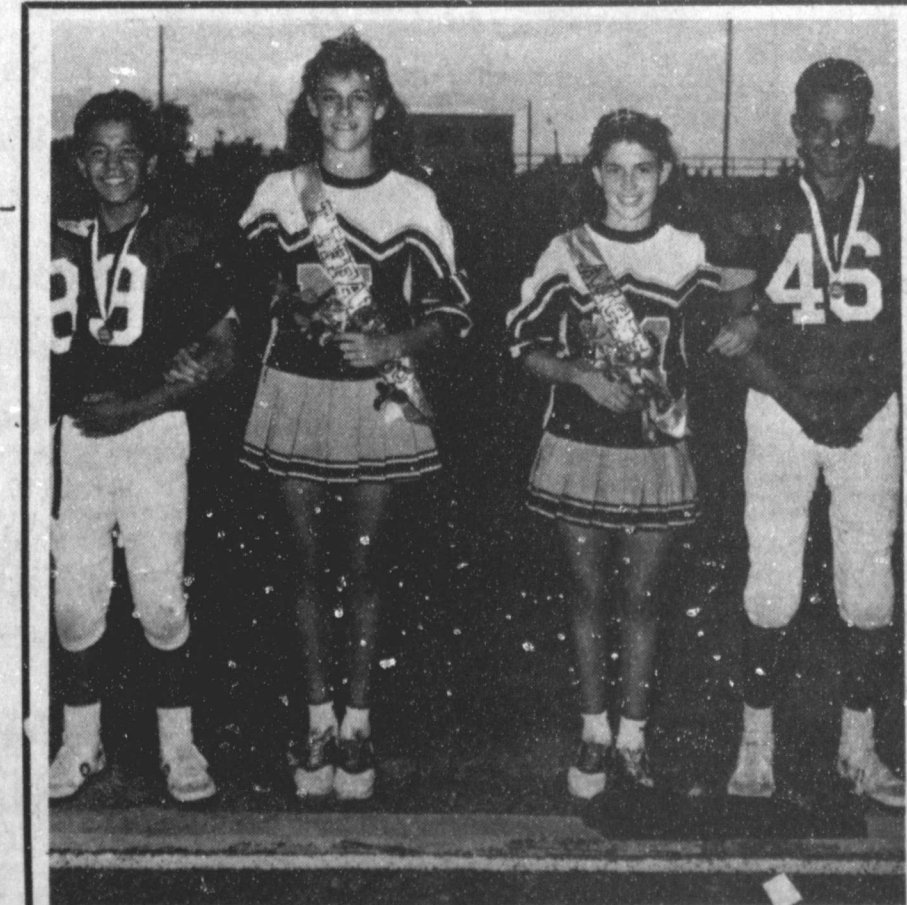

For the eighth grade, it was Jill Foster, with honorable mention going to Galin Latham and LaShelle Scoggin.

Thursday afternoon, the seventh grade Mules took to the field against the Friona Chieftains.

By the end of the game, the smiling seventh grade Mules had won the game by a score of 32-14.

Between the two games, the Spirit Princess was crowned and presented roses.

Touch Of History

High Plains Area Vastness Very Hard To Visualize Now

If we sit back now in 1963 and take a slice out of the map of Texas' High Plains to include Bailey County and its historically-joined neighbors, we see the vastness of this area's early history as shown in terms of the ranch lands some 80-years past.

In the frontier days of the year 1880, statistics show just an immense map with space and scattered small figures of a few cowboys on horseback and cattle on the High Plains. The U.S. Census of 1880 shows no inhabitants in Bailey or in neighboring Castro, Parmer, Terry or Yoakum Counties. From the sparse population it is evident that ranching was almost the exclusive means of livelihood in this slice of Texas, wherever it was inhabited at all.

Through the decades, on the map below us, we see great changes coming in 1900, 1910, 1920, then 1930, followed by 1940, 1950 and finally 1960. People have come to settle this wide open country. The big ranches split and changed to several smaller ranches; with tillable land sold to the settlers. The railroad, the settlers, the coloration - now cattle, the plow, towns and cities share the soil.

The Melvin, Blum and Blum land, known as the VVN ranch, located in the southwestern part documented record in the county, of Bailey County is the earliest dating back to a state grant given in July 14, 1879. The Snyder Ranch in the southeastern section of the county, followed in 1883.

Following the splitting up of the great XIT ranch, which began in 1887 and ended in 1912, the Bovina Cattle Company's ranch, in the north and northwestern part of the county, and the smaller YL ranch, located in the extreme northeastern section of the county - and of course, the Muleshoe Ranch which is a part of these two northern ranches - are shown on our early history map.

From the pages of history of these original ranches that controlled the land in Bailey county and their predecessors, come stories of ranching, brands, cattle and men.

PIONEERS REMEMBER
Mrs. C.V. Stevnes tells their stories here:

"The ranches passed through many trials together, such as droughts, blizzards, sand storms, prairie fires, poor market prices, ravages by the wolves, and the coming of the settlers.

"One of the worst blizzards in the county was in the winter of 1904 and 1905. It began on afternoon in February, lasted that night, the next day, and the next night. There was a whirling, blinding mass of snow, rain and sleet. Snow was over two feet deep. It was so cold that the dry cattle died while asleep. Thousands of cattle died: hundreds of antelope froze to death. As long as the poor yearlings kept moving, they kept alive but their feet froze. After the storm the cowboys examined them and thought they were all right. But when the yearling would run, their feet would break off." This story is by W.O. Laurence.

"A Mr. Hoover, freighting for the Yellow House, carried 2,000 hides to Portales, N.M., for that one ranch. He said that half the cattle were not skinned. All the ranches lost many cattle. Small ranchmen were left bankrupt. Their stock was gone, and they had nothing left but a few horses and the ranches themselves.

"Another bad blizzard came in the winter of 1911 and 1912. As long as the cattle traveled, they kept alive. However, the fences halted them. The cattle bunched close together as for a last protection, and helplessly dropped in their tracks and froze. There were piles of them. This blizzard, too, put many a ranchman out of business."

Mrs. Beulah Carles went with her husband to get some corn the day after the blizzard. She said to Mrs. Stevens in 1939 "I actually saw piles of them. It was such a sickening, pitiful sight. I am glad that I saw them because I could never have believed how bad it was if someone had just told me about it."

During the ranching era there were no wagon roads. People traveled mostly on horseback or in wagons, using cow trails for roads. Neighbors in those days were "closer" than they are today, in spite of the great distances between them. Mrs. Stevens observed.

At Christmas and other holiday periods they all gathered at the home of one or another of a group, like relatives in other places and times. They had great fun and pleasure together, the pioneers like to relate to newcomers.

For pastimes the cowboys hunted antelope, coyotes and wild mustangs. They also had contests to see who was the best calf roper, bronco rider and steer roper. After the settlers began coming to the county, the cowboys would stop by a farmer's house and visit with the daughters of the family. These men would take part in the colonists' social gatherings.

Miss Dottie Wilterding, who was seventeen when she came to the county in 1908, said "the cowboys always treated the girls with the greatest respect."

In the early ranching days the cows depended on the native grass for feed. Corn was brought to Bailey County from Kansas City for the horses. The first wire posts and lumber were freighted from Dodge City and Colorado City. Each ranch had its own freighter.

After the railroad was built to Amarillo in 1887, supplies were freighted from there, a distance of 100 miles. As soon as the railroad was completed between Amarillo and Clovis in 1895, supplies were freighted from Hereford, a distance of 50 miles.

In the early days of the ranching era, the cattle were driven to Montana and Wyoming. Later they were driven to Amarillo and then shipped to market. As soon as the railroad was built to Clovis, the cattle were shipped from Bovina. At one time Bovina was the largest cattle shipping point in the world.

THREE CENTS AN ACRE
Hands with trail herds were paid about $35 a month and board. Ranch hands received $25. Some foremen got $50, others $60 a month. Land leased for three cents an acre.

A round-up was held on each ranch once a year to gather up the year's crop of calves. Sometimes the branding was done on the open range. Instead of throwing the cattle into a corral, the cowboys held them "under herd" on the range while the other cowboys roped and dragged the calves away from the other animals to a convenient spot near a branding fire. On some ranches the calves were driven into a large corral into which a smaller one supplied with a chute opened. In this passageway the actual branding was done.

During the branding season the cook had breakfast ready for the cowboys before daylight, then the real work of the day began. A short time out was taken for the noon meal, after which the work was continued until dark.

Each cow carried its life history in signs burned deep into its hide. Cattle that passed frequently from one owner to another were seared with many branding irons. There is an old joke that an owner often placed brands all over the side of an animal, put a hyphen on the tail, and continued the brand on the other side.

Nowhere else in the world have brands been so important to people or so closely interwoven in their lives as on the ranges of the Texas Panhandle-Plains. The history of the Panhandle-Plains is written in the symbols the cattle bore. These symbols are also branded on the lives of the people and the towns of the area.

Nature covers all her works with a varnish of beauty.

Mules Fall

for the most exciting of the game. After a loss of both quarterbacks to injuries, Muleshoe had no alternative but to use kicker Ronnie Perez in their place. Perez proved his worth as a football player when proved his arm to be as good as his foot.

Perez hadn't played in the quarter back since his freshman year, but he soon showed he was the right choice after completing several passes.

It seemed to be a turning point for Muleshoe when Friona backed into the Mule end zone, resulting in a safety and two more points for the Mules. This extra bonus seemed to spur the Mules on to another unexpected bonus as they made the final touchdown of the night.

Michael Dunham made a nine yard touchdown after taking the pass from Perez with 0:33 left in the game. He then ran the ball into the end zone to make two extra points. This score, however, still left the Mules behind, 27-17, which is how the game ended.

Following the game, Quarterback Jeff Hicks was taken to Cannon Air Force Base Hospital at Clovis, where it was found he had three broken bones in his left foot. He will be going to an orthopedic specialist on Tuesday to find out what further treatment will be necessary. Of course, this will mean that the young quarterback is lost to the Mules for the season.

Starting Quarterback Johnny Garcia, who was seeing limited play due to a pre-season knee injury, was only seeing limited action at mid-way in the season. He was taken from the game on Friday night, after receiving a concussion early in the game.

Next Friday night, the Mules will be traveling to Floydada to take on the Whirlwinds. Be sure to travel to Floydada for the 7:30 p.m. game, as the Mules need and deserve your support.

Homecoming

playing on the Friday night before the homecoming at Lazbuddie, against Cotton Center, on October 9.

He also said they planned to complete their season in football, except for the Lazbuddie game, which they will not play. "One of the reasons we are not going to play Lazbuddie," said the superintendent, "is that we have district games coming up, and this is not a district game."

This is the second year of 6-man football for Amherst, according to Superintendent Sorrells, who added they have two seniors on their 13-man football team.

A disappointed Superintendent Joe Hall at Lazbuddie, said they were told the same thing about the cancelled ball game, which will count as a forfeit by the Amherst Bulldogs.

"I really don't know why they won't play us," said the Superintendent at Lazbuddie, "we had a UIL contract for the game."

Lazbuddie is in the first year as a six-man football team, and is under the guidance of C.W. Williams, who moved from Three Way, after successfully converting the Three Way Eagles to six-man football, and championship teams.

For this year, Lazbuddie is playing an 'independent' team, but will be joining the six-man district next fall.

Superintendent Hall said the lack of players on the team is also felt at Lazbuddie where they have 14 players, however, five of the Longhorns are seniors. He said the players, especially the seniors, are very disappointed that the upcoming game was cancelled. The scoring would have helped them down the road, when they were looking at college careers and college football playing, said Superintendent Hall.

Last weekend, the Lazbuddie Longhorns finished the first game this year, when they met Higgins, and defeated them 47-30. "They really played us a game of football," said Hall. "They were a very good team."

Under six man rules, the game is over once one team is 45 points ahead of their opponent.

This Saturday, just about the time this edition of the Journal, is on the streets, the Lazbuddie Longhorns, unbeaten this year, will take on powerhouse Jayton, also unbeaten for the year.

The game was underway at Silverton at 2 p.m.

As an alternate to the proposed Lazbuddie-Amherst game that will never take place, Lazbuddie Homecoming will be a little different this year, and has moved to Friday, October 23.

It will get underway at 5 p.m. when the Lazbuddie JV takes on Midland Baptist Temple. This will be followed by the Longhorn varsity team meeting Northeast Christian Academy at 7:30 p.m.

The Lazbuddie senior supper will precede the games, with the times to be announced when details are worked out.

Firemen Present Programs At Schools

Muleshoe volunteer firemen presented a program on "Fire Prevention" to students at Dillman Elementary School at 8:30 a.m. Wednesday. At 1 p.m. they showed a film "Learn Not To Burn" and presented a program for students at Mary DeShazo Elementary School.

J.O. Parker, training officer, spoke to the students stating that the most important thing to remember when a fire breaks out is to remain calm and get out whether it is a school or home.

"Every home should have an escape plan, with two ways out, and practice it with their family," Parker said. "Have a central place to meet and stay there, don't hide from the fire "It Will Find You."

"Smoke detectors save more lives than anything else, including firemen. If a fire breaks out at night, roll out of bed and crawl to the door, below knee level, smoke rises."

He also pointed out that if your clothes were on fire you should stop, drop and roll.

"Most fatal home fires start in the living room with cigarettes being the major cause.

"The firemen depend on the dispatcher and their pagers. When reporting a fire give name and location and don't hang up."

Jimmy Mills, fire marshal also spoke to the group thanking the school personnel for inviting them to school.

Joe Cearley, principal, reported that a fire drill was held Tuesday in conjunction with "Fire Prevention Week" and stated that it took a little over a minute to empty the school.

Following the program, students went out to fire trucks where Scott Churchman, fireman, showed the group the fire suit and mask firemen use when entering a burning building. Another fireman, Charles Lawrence, and Mills showed the group different fire fighting equipment while Parker explained the controls on the fire trucks.

FIREMEN PRESENT PROGRAM---Scott Churchman, Muleshoe Volunteer Fireman, shows third grade students the fire suit and mask that the firemen wear to enter burning buildings as J.O. Parker, training officer for the fire department looks on. In the foreground firemen, Charles Lawrence and Jimmy Mills, who also helped with the demonstration. Parker also showed the students the controls on the fire truck.

MAGNUM

Introducing the first all-new tractors from Case IH

Case IH put more into the new MAGNUM tractor line than any farm tractors developed in over twenty years. Here's why you'll get more out of it:

MAGNUM means more. Outstanding field performance from a new 505 cubic inch turbocharged engine with reserve power. MAGNUM power.

The MAGNUM tractor's powershift puts 18-speeds of shift-on-the-go workpower at your fingertips—standard. And only MAGNUM tractors offer a full powershift creeper transmission with six additional speeds from .5 to 2.1 mph... for more control and performance. MAGNUM performance.

The MAGNUM tractor's new larger cab has 48 square feet of window area... virtually unobstructed visibility... more room... and more seating comfort. MAGNUM comfort.

It all adds up: Case IH MAGNUM tractors are setting new standards for the 130-195 PTO hp power range and for you. See us for details.

MAGNUM means more.

New research shows: parents' problems cause adulthood depression

COLLEGE STATION — Marital problems and disagreements between parents in child-rearing can affect children so profoundly that they become depressed adults, new research at Texas A&M University has revealed.
 Dr. Karen Carlson questioned 45 clinically diagnosed depressed adults to determine the measure of current depression, the measure of parent-child interaction, the quality of family environment and parental marriage status when the subject was 16 years old.
 Carlson, who specialized in counseling psychology for her dissertation in Texas A&M's College of Education, found that 31 percent of depression was related to negative childhood experiences.
 "It's important for parents and psychologists to know that these things affect children early and have a great impact on the family," Carlson said. "We can use this new information as a preventative measure and keep these negative things from affecting children."
 The lack of affectional expression between parents, marital satisfaction of the father, and the father's acceptance of the child were the chief contributors to depression in their children.

end the SEARCH go to CHURCH

Are you searching for the way to a more meaningful life for yourself and your loved ones? Millions have placed their trust in God for eternal happiness and He has not failed one. Neither power nor pleasure can fill the emptiness of the human heart. We are made for God and there is an emptiness, a restlessness about us until we are right with Him.

End the search - go to Church.

EVERYONE IN THE CHURCH
 THE CHURCH IN EVERYONE

Is something wrong with your life - an inner restless dissatisfaction? The answer to every human problem comes only from God our Maker. He alone can forgive and reassure. Through the church God has committed the provision and proclamation of His forgiveness and redeeming love. Without a church relation no one is securely related to God. Everyone should be in the Church and the Church in everyone!
