Rains Prepare All Of County For Planting

Rain, accompanied by a shelling of hail, violent electrical displays and high wind, closed up the dry spots in Howard County's weather picture Sunday evening and early Monday morning.

While many areas will have to replant, there was not any spot which now lacked planting moisture, according to reports Monday noon.

Lakes were swelling under the impact of heavy run-off from a series of showers. Lake J. B. Thomas, the Colorado River Municipal Water District reservoir, had gained 2.5 feet shortly before noon Monday. This accounted for 10,000 acre feet. Moss Creek and Powell Creek lakes, two municipal reservoirs in southeast Howard County, each gained three feet and added nearly 1,000 acre feet between them.

Elbow and Lomas, missed by showers of the past two weeks, came in for approximately an inch of moisture, enough to assure planting.

Coahoma was whitened by a heavy hail, which let up before it inflicted much damage Sunday evening. Then miles to the east rain and hail came in blinding waves.

Twisters Spin Over State But No One Injured

Tornadoes spun out of dark skies into the South Plains during the night, causing property damage but no reported injuries. Rain of up to 3 inches and hail hammered some spots as the twisters roared through.

Rains continued in scattered portions of Texas Monday. A heavy rain started falling in Tyler at 8:30 a.m. and then turned to a lighter but steady rain after 20 minutes. The sky turned dark, causing motorists to drive with their lights turned on. Streets were filled with water.

Skies turned dark as night and heavy rain also fell at Kilgore. A shower about midnight dumped 1.45 inches of rain on Colorado City in West Texas.

The Weather Bureau gauge at Electra in North Central Texas recorded .58 inches of rain between midnight and 5 a.m. Farmers in the Electra area reported as much as 1.75 inches of rain.

The Weather Bureau forecast more scattered thunderstorms in all sections of Texas. It said, however, the storms weren't expected to be nearly as severe as those last week which threatened to flood parts of the state.

Reports of rain in the city showed: HOJC 8, Herald 85, south of town 7, Texas Electric Service switching station east of town 56, U. S. Experiment farm north of town 1.2, Webb AFB west of town 1.12.

Knott, in northwest Howard, had better than an inch. Ackerly reported 1.4, Lamesa .25 to .4 with upwards of 2 and 3 inches north of town. Lightfoot, Snyder 1.27, Colorado City 4.5, Sweetwater 4.2, Fossan 7, Stanton from .8 to an inch.

The light spot was Garden City with only a sprinkle. While the northern edge of Glascock County came in for showers, most of it was missed. Raging winds aloft kept residents awake around midnight.

Here are some random reports: Watson station five miles northeast of Snyder highway 1 inch; J. W. Kilpatrick 1 inch at Luther, gin, Mrs. O. R. Crow 1.3 inches at Luther; S. L. Lockhart 1.7 inches, four miles northeast of Luther, Earl Hull 7 in the R-Bar community, Easton Barbee 1.5 with briar up. He said .80 inch of rain fell in 3 minutes. A well house was demolished on a farm next to Harrison's.

Within the next 15 minutes a twister, possibly the same one, hit Jack Lee's farm 10 miles northwest of Abernathy. It demolished a barn and a 50x70-foot pile of heavy timbers. It toppled two cotton trailers and a tree. Said Lee: "It was raining and hailing so loud I didn't hear it."

A tornado blew away a granary 10 miles north of Lamesa and unroofed several outbuildings. A tornado funnel was sighted near Fairview in Howard County but vanished between Fairview and Snyder.

A severe electrical storm accompanied by high winds unleashed downpour near Lamesa. Heavy rain and hail fell at Slaton, 15 miles southeast of Lubbock. They figure Slaton got some 1.5 inches of moisture. Hail damaged only gardens. Winds reached 40-45 m. p.h.

High wind that accompanied 1/2 inch of rain damaged some plate glass windows at Wilson, some 25 miles south of Lubbock. Heavy hail fell east of Wilson.

Senate Bill Bans Cut-Rate Food Sale

AUSTIN (AP)—The Senate today passed and sent back to the House a bill designed to control below-cost sales of retail groceries.

The House passed the measure originally and must now concur in Senate changes, or call for a conference committee to adjust differences.

The controversial key amendment in the administration's state-wide water program was brought up in the House this morning, but action on it was postponed until Thursday. The Senate has approved a conference report on the 100 million dollar water bond plan, but the House has not.

THE WEATHER

BIG SPRING AND VICINITY: Partly cloudy this afternoon. High today 86, low tonight 60, high tomorrow 84, low tomorrow night 62. Wind S.W. 10 to 20 m.p.h. Rainfall 1.13 inches since 1949. Station 4101. Date 5-23-55. Dial 4-4337.

Paul Butler, U.S. Demo Chief, To Speak At Local Party Dinner

Paul Butler, national chairman of the Democratic Party, will speak here June 15 on what is being considered a "party harmony" swing through Texas.

The Democratic leader will make eight other appearances in his five-day tour of Texas, including one at the state convention of Young Democrats in Houston after he leaves Big Spring.

The Big Spring luncheon, designed as a fund raiser for Democrats of the 24th Texas Senatorial District, is expected to attract some 300 persons from the area from Abilene, to Odessa, Frank Hardesty, who with W. D. Boyd is serving as chairman of arrangements for the meeting, said plates will be $5 each.

Butler will speak at the luncheon in the Settles Hotel ballroom on Wednesday, June 15.

Hardesty said all factions of the Democratic Party in the district are being invited to attend. He said the national chairman will attempt to restore harmony to the ranks of Texas Democrats who split over the 1952 presidential election.

Butler will come here from Lubbock, where he is to speak on the evening of June 14. From Big Spring, he will fly to Dallas for a speech Wednesday evening. From Dallas, he will go to Tyler, Westlake, Corpus Christi and then to Houston for the Young Democrats meeting.

J. P. Sewell, county judge from Corsicana and leader of the "loyal" faction of Texas Democrats, is expected to accompany Butler, Hardesty said.

The Democratic chairman will speak at Hamilton Field here about 10 a.m. on June 15 and will depart at about 2 p.m. A reception will be held prior to the luncheon and probably after the speech, according to Hardesty.

Butler's tour of Texas was planned at a meeting of the Texas Democratic Advisory Committee meeting in Austin recently. Hardesty is a member of the committee which was formed after the state Democratic Executive Committee decided to back the Republican candidate for president in 1952.

The 24th Senatorial District covers 15 counties, extending from Howland to Shackelford (Albany) and including Borden, Scurry, Kent, Garza and Dickens counties to the north.

Hardesty said the district's quota of party funds this year is $3,450 and it is hoped the Big Spring dinner will raise all of the dues.

Dulles Whipping Boy For Pravda

MOSCOW (AP)—Pravda made Secretary of State Dulles its chief whipping boy today.

The Communist party newspaper continued its criticism of the United States in articles touching on topics that may come up in the summit meeting of the Big Four.

A Vienna dispatch declared American oil companies long based in Austria. A Paris dispatch condemned the North Atlantic Treaty Organization and West German rearmament, to which Pravda referred as "a new rearmament Wehrmacht" under American sponsorship.

But the sharpest words came in a long article by Boleslaw Wlasczycki, a Polish writer, charging that Dulles, his brother Allen Dulles, U. S. Central Intelligence Agency chief, and W. Averell Harriman, the former ambassador to Moscow, who is now governor of New York, want to subjugate the Communist people's democracies of East Europe.

U. S. rulers are engaged in restoring the rearmament Wehrmacht in West Germany, declaring one of their aims is to liberate Poland, Czechoslovakia and other people's democracies, Wlasczycki wrote.

He charged the Americans want to subjugate those countries and alleged that one aim was to recover business interests of the Dulles brothers and Harriman.

John Foster Dulles was closely associated with German firms such as I. G. Farben; his brother, Allen, head of the American Intelligence Service, was one of the organizers of the so-called Committee of Free Europe; and Harriman is a former owner of many mines and plants in Poland," the Pole declared.

There was no immediate reaction from Secretary Dulles at the State Department in Washington. The office of Allen Dulles said he would have no comment.

Pravda's display today follows up front-page editorial Saturday accusing President Eisenhower, Dulles and British leaders of "clearly planning to wreck" the projected talks of the Big Four government chiefs.

A short course in uranium prospecting is to be offered at Howard County Junior College this summer.

Interested parties may register now and registration will continue for two or three weeks, said James Bruce Frazier, instructor, Frazier, in collaboration with Lt. Walter Stewart, who has had considerable experience in the nuclear physics field as well as in writing, is publishing a book on the subject in June. Much of the material will be used in the course.

Report On Vaccine Release Expected

Experts To Give Inspection Data

WASHINGTON (AP)—Polio vaccine experts opened a two-stage meeting today which may determine how soon the nation's polio inoculation program resumes and how far it will go this summer.

Scientists and consultants of the U. S. Public Health Service gathered this morning to study reports of plant inspections of five of the six vaccine manufacturers.

The same group was scheduled to meet in the afternoon with scientific representatives of all six producers.

A spokesman for the National Institute of Health said the government experts would then go back into session to wrestle with these questions:

"1. What if any changes need to be made in standards governing the manufacture and testing of the vaccine."

"2. What this means insofar as we can establish it in terms of supply for the rest of the summer."

When the answers will be announced was uncertain. Surgeon General Leonard A. Scheele has said the group's recommendations would be "advisory" and that he will make known his decisions "as soon as possible."

The result could mean early clearance of existing supplies or added time on summing tests which might further delay release of vaccine.

A halt in the program was recommended 15 days ago. Since that time, the U. S. Public Health Service has cleared the vaccine previously distributed by two makers, but much of that has been used.

The Senate Labor and Public Welfare Committee, meanwhile, arranged to meet in closed session to consider various proposals for federal controls over manufacture and distribution of the vaccine.

The Eisenhower administration has said there is no need for such controls, but "Democratic leaders forecast the committee would approve a steady control bill."

Chairman Hill (D-Ala.) said over the weekend he hoped the committee could complete work in a few days on a bill under which the President could "absolutely control the distribution" of the vaccine in the event black markets or any other unforeseen factor should develop.

Chairman Priest (D-Tenn.) of the House Commerce Committee announced plans to start hearings Wednesday on Eisenhower's request for $3 million dollars to assure vaccine shots for children whose families could not afford to pay for them.

In Chicago, a hope that every child can get the vaccine was voiced by Mrs. Newton P. Leonard, of Providence, R. I., outgoing president of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers.

In Chicago for the PTA's annual convention, Mrs. Leonard told newsmen the organization has "every confidence" in the vaccine program "although it might have been put in operation a bit hastily."

There was added urgency in the situation because of the imminent closing of schools for the summer. If second shots of the vaccine are not given to first and second-grade children by then in the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis' free program, presumably clinics will have to be set up.

There was no new report from the government yesterday on the number of postinjection polio cases.

Saturday's report put the confirmed total at 79, of which 5 were fatal, out of nearly 6 million children vaccinated.

Car Prowlers Pick On Wrong Victims

DALLAS (AP)—Two detectives walked up to their unmarked police car yesterday and found two men rummaging through the glove compartment. They jailed them for investigation of theft.

Swimming Pool Opens Saturday

The municipal park swimming pool will open for summer business at 1 p.m. Saturday.

Pool hours will be from 1 p.m. to 9 p.m. daily thereafter, said W. O. Maxwell Jr., superintendent. Cost of admission this summer will be 25 cents for youngsters and 35 cents for adults.

All-pool equipment has been renovated, and the pool itself has been painted. Water has already been pumped into it, and for all practical purposes operations are ready to begin now, Maxwell said.

It is the policy in Big Spring to wait until school has dismissed for the year before opening the pool, however.

Season tickets will be sold for $10.20 to adults and $6 to children. Tickets which are good for 10 admissions will cost $2.40 for adults and $1.20 for children.

Green Paint Mystery Marks Shooting Death

DALLAS (AP)—Jesse Abelino, about 29, was found shot to death in West Dallas yesterday, his hands and face splattered with green paint. Tire marks on the road shoulder indicated the body had been dumped from a car. There was no explanation for the green paint.

Johnson Hits Ike Highway Bond Plan

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex.) said today President Eisenhower's highway program proposes "bonds for boulevards" and "leaves out farm-to-market roads."

Daughter Killed

Mrs. McMillen, 21, is being treated for cuts received when she ran through a plate glass store front in an effort to help her daughter. The girl and her brother, John, 7, had been left in the family's car while the parents shopped.

Giles Wins Delay In Bribery Trial

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—Former Texas as Land Commissioner Bascom Giles won a postponement today until Aug. 15 of his bribery trial on grounds that a member of the Legislature, Rep. Cecil Storey of Longview, had been employed by the defense.

Judge M. D. Jones ruled the court has no discretion in granting the continuance in such an instance when the Legislature is in session.

The state vigorously condemned the defense legal maneuver. Asst. Dist. Atty. James Olson called it an "undignified abuse of the privilege."

He said it was a black mark on other members of the Legislature and a "reflecting on democracy."

When the case was called in Criminal Court this morning, Defense Atty. C. C. Small Sr. presented the court with a motion for a continuance and an affidavit by Rep. Storey supporting the motion. Small told the court the defendant was unable to go to trial at this time without the services of Storey and that it was impossible for Storey to leave the Legislature.

Olson called on the court for Giles to take the stand to answer questions in regard to the affidavit.

Louis Schlessinger, defense counsel, jumped to his feet, calling Olson's request "a grand stand play" intended "to humiliate and intimidate" Giles.

Judge Jones interrupted the proceedings, calling counsel for both sides to the bench for a consultation.

Later Olson renewed his request to question Giles on the stand. Small countered the Legislature has done "meticulous things" to take discretion out of the matter and contended the law in mandating in providing for a continuance without any requirement of corroboration for the affidavit.

JAPS GO FOR U.S. MUSICIANS

TOKYO (AP)—Japan has fallen for 94 men, and the feeling is mutual.

The men are the members of the touring American orchestra Symphony of the Air.

Witness these examples: Every ticket for every performance in Japan was sold out weeks before the orchestra arrived.

Some 2,600 schoolchildren stood in line all night to buy tickets to a student's concert.

Scalpels are collecting up to $20 a pair.

Restaurants have refused to accept payment for meals served to orchestra members; waitresses have turned down tips.

House May Slap Down Pay Hike Veto

WASHINGTON (AP)—House Majority Leader McCormack (D-Mass.) said today there is a "good chance" the House will override President Eisenhower's veto of the postal pay hike if it gets a chance.

Eisenhower turned down a compromise 3.6 per cent average pay boost for the half million postal workers Thursday, saying the bill was too expensive and not fair to some groups it would have affected.

Don't Dump That Minnow Pail, Chum

By DION HENDERSON
The Associated Press
Don't empty that minnow bucket into the lake chum, the results might make you turn pale. Many a fisherman has done just that, dumping his leftover bait overboard, and many a cherished lake has gone to pot shortly thereafter.

regulations on what bait can be imported and sold, and also forbid the release of live fish of any kind by fishermen. Some even prohibit release of predatory species back into its home waters if it was caught by accident.

BET THAT ONE STARTLED HIM

LOS ANGELES (U.P.) — Mrs. Louis E. Jackson, 45, has been granted a restraining order to keep her estranged husband, Robert, 42, from annoying or molesting her. She testified yesterday she had threatened to kill her with a push button knife. Thrown a lit cigarette at her eyes. Broken her nose three times. Blacked both her eyes. Forced her to sign her paycheck over to him. Telephoned her on the eve of her court appearance and told her she was No. 1 on his list of persons who would soon be dead. Her son by a former marriage was No. 2 and her lawyer No. 3. Judge Elmer D. Doyle asked, "Did he say anything about the judge?" "He probably will," Mrs. Jackson replied, "when he finds out I've been talking to you. You'll probably be No. 4."

Second Best Isn't Good Enough

American jet pilots who grew accustomed to having anywhere from three to six MIGs breathing down their necks every time they flew over North Korea in the early stages of that war must be watching the progress of the current quarter over whether the U. S. or the U. S. S. R. has superiority in the air. And if a sardonic smile, occasionally flickers across their faces, it wouldn't be surprising.

lashed from the skies. Back of that was the fact that the President had asked Congress for 5,000 planes when the situation became grave and war was imminent, but the best Congress could do was 500 planes. It took the U. S. a long time to tool up and turn out enough warplanes in World War II before we gained equality and finally superiority over the Axis air forces.

State Charter Needs New Model

The Texas Almanac says that since its adoption in 1878 and up to Jan. 1 this year more than 1,700 resolutions proposing to amend the Constitution of Texas have been introduced in the Legislature. Of these, 213 received the necessary two-thirds majority required to bring them to a vote of the people, and of this number 113 have been approved by the people and 87 rejected. At the time these figures were compiled the 11 amendments voted on last November were not included.

from under the wicked Reconstruction era less than ten. Its economy was cotton-and-cattle, and there was not a single mile of railroad west of Fort Worth. Of all the 1,700 resolutions proposing to amend the Texas Constitution since its adoption, there probably were a few proposing the obvious, namely, to call a constitutional convention for the purpose of bringing it into focus with the times by rewriting it from stem to stern. If so, none of them got to first base as far as we know.

Stock Market Springs Slow Leak

NEW YORK (U) — The stock market springs a slow leak three weeks ago. Watching stock prices going soft, the public took to the sidelines. The professionals, however, had a wide variety of ready explanations and some are looking eagerly for signs of recovery and revival of public interest.

note, just about the time the market turned soft. Businessmen would welcome peace. But it is recognized that one of the first results of any real lessening in world tension which the American people could believe trustworthy would be a demand that defense spending be cut further so that taxes could be lowered.

Hamburger People Have Real Beef

NEW YORK (U) — Imagine how your dear old Mom would feel if a stranger suddenly hauled off and gave her a black eye on Mother's Day.

cheeseburgers, nutburgers, chick-burgers, steerburgers, chowburgers. When a man asks for a plain old-fashioned hamburger, few people even know what he wants.

Hurt? Bewildered? Angry? Well, this is how the canned hamburger industry feels today. Here its members were, quietly observing National Canned Hamburger Month, and what happens?

The hope of the people who lauded National Canned Hamburger Week was to alert the public to the growing desecration of "the true hamburger."

The resulting hullabaloo calmed down after Navy officials and President Eisenhower pointed out the difference between wartime needs and emergency wartime needs.

The Army has asked for bids on 1,900,000 more cans of hamburgers, said Gervin. The bidding date is tomorrow.

That announcement was made at Ann Arbor, Mich., about last summer's tests under the sponsorship of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

Each Wednesday there is a special table for eight. Such things as baba au rhum, oysters on the half shell, frog legs Provençal, baked boneless squab stuffed with wild rice, bisque tortonia and crepe suzettes are some of the items that have been served.

My experience with the armed forces for 15 years is that they have always been cautious and circumspect in their buying. The Hoover Commission has given the public the wrong impression.

Chisholm says studies and appetites fall off during the year and the special meals are a stimulant for students. No extra charge is made and the idea has proved popular.

But Garvin, who happens also to be a big man in meatballs, said the all-beef canned hamburger has to compete with 113 kinds of "sham" burgers.

They include shrimpburgers, chickenburgers, nutburgers, chick-burgers, steerburgers, chowburgers. When a man asks for a plain old-fashioned hamburger, few people even know what he wants.

Around The Rim

Ways To Wise Up In The Stock Market

Many a party who regarded a bull and a bear as something animal when they were out at the elbows, now court the favor and try to bend the ears of both species in the stock market.

And many a party who hasn't yet got his brogan in the door is spilling for the opportunity to mix and mingle with the high chapeaus who etch the figures that wind up in agate type in the Wall Street Journal.

Like baseball players and the jack tars, the market dabblers have their own glossary. Some of it is self-explanatory, some is enigmatic but all of it is picturesque and peculiar to the endeavor.

For the edification of those wishing to 'get their feet wet,' a few of the terms are reprinted here. The next time you run into a Vanderbilt or an Astor, you can shoot straight from the shoulder. You might have to paste some of the jargon in your hat, and hold it obliquely when you're chatting.

An "airdale" is not a dog but a Wall Street gentleman, the interpreter said. A "back off" is a sudden sinking of a stock after a rise in price. (This is a broader explanation, I suggest you write to Walter Wichell).

A "bear," for the uninitiated, means a trader, who counts on the market going down, and carries on in the market accordingly. A "bull" is the name for a trader who counts on a rise in the market and is said to be derived from El Toro's inclination to toss things up in the air.

"Chasing eights" is a term saved for the operations of a small broker in search of a fast buck. "Holding the baby," in stock market phraseology, means the act of keeping a stock in hopes of making a larger profit at some future date.

An "easy market" may be hard to find in the business, it applies to a condition where money is plentiful and interest rates are low.

A "melon" means the same to a bank bandit that it does to a stock broker — a large dividend.

Terms like "Monkey," "Bessie," and "Burlaycuse" apply to concerns, and mean, respectively, "Montgomery Ward," "Bethlehem Steel" and "Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railroad."

A "reloader" is a broker who resells issues consistently to the same customers, a "scalper" applies to a broker who buys and sells for small, quick gains while the term "seven sisters" conveys the seven Federal anti-trust laws.

A "shake-out" can cause a panic among small investors because it means a market crisis in which small investors fall by the way. When a man completes a big deal in the market, he often refers to himself as "standing on velvet."

A "war bride," in market slang, applies to a securities issue whose past, present and future depends largely on war or the prospect of war.

The word "scenery" is meant to apply to a board of directors chosen for little more than formidable respectability. A "swimming market" means a very buoyant one, one that causes palpitations of the heart for those who took the dip.

A "dead duck" in stock market slang is the same as in all languages, distinguished from a "live pigeon."

Prediction For '56: Ike Versus Adlai

Many newspapers and news periodicals these days are full of "think" pieces by political savants dealing with the probability that Mr. Eisenhower will or will not run for re-election in '56 and that Adlai Stevenson will or will not be his Democratic opponent.

All of these pieces are "iffy," studded with "buts" and circumscribed by more hedges than the fields of Normandy. Scorning such capricious tactics, this columnist is crawling right out on a limb and starting to saw.

Butressed by womanly intuition and a fair working knowledge of political skulduggery, I am prepared flatly to predict that Mr. Eisenhower will be the Republican candidate and Mr. Stevenson the Democratic candidate in 1956, even as in 1952.

At this point in the course of human events, it must be fairly apparent that Mr. Eisenhower is all things to all Republicans, with the possible exception of Sen. William F. Knowland, who hath a lean and hungry look every time his glance strays toward the White House.

That is, Republicanism is all things to all Republicans and to a good many independents—except one thing: the President is no Houdini.

And Mr. Eisenhower will need to be a Houdini, a real escape artist, raised to the nth power. If he makes good his getaway from the fearful entreaties of the Republican National Committee, powerful Republican politicians who hope to catch a victory ride on his coattails, and assorted GOP bureaucrats who would be flung out to pasture if the President cries "quits."

If the GOP brain-trusters could persuade a reluctant Ike to save the nation and the GOP by running in 1952, it should be duck soup to persuade him that the nation and the Republican party are in even more dire peril in '56.

Some Republican '56 were furious in print when Vice Pres. Richard Nixon said the GOP couldn't win in '56 without Mr. Eisenhower. But they probably will make no bones about that harsh fact when they have Ike's ear to private.

The President is a great man for fulfilling his duty and performing his obligations. The GOPers will prove to him beyond shadow of doubt that he will be walking out on his duty and selling his obligations short if he refuses to run for a second term.

So-o-o—what about Mr. Stevenson as fall guy for the Democrats in '56? He polled a tremendous vote in '52 against one of the nation's greatest public heroes. And I have a feeling the Democrats will no more let him get away in '56 than the GOP will forego Mr. Eisenhower.

"Honest Abe" Harriman hath a built-in lean and hungry look bestowed on him by nature, ambition and Carmine DeSapio. And he probably has that old seer'sucker suit, worn all during the Democratic National Convention in '52 to prove his affinity for the Common Man, ready for any emergency in '56.

But the Democrats probably will work on Mr. Stevenson in much the same manner as the Republicans on Mr. Eisenhower. Like it or lump it, neither can escape his fate or his party. And, as my sawing arm begins to tire, I give you Ike and Adlai in '56 and may the better man win.

New Germany Wants To Avoid Militarism

BONN, — How can a return to militarism be prevented in Germany and how can an effective army be built without running the risk of bringing back the influences that led to World War II?

This is the question of the hour throughout Germany. It is debated widely, for the German people have just been entrusted by their Allies in Europe with a task they did not want — namely, the rebuilding of a national army.

To get an understanding of how the German people look at it, this correspondent had a long talk with Franz Josef Strauss, minister without portfolio in the Adenauer cabinet who has been given the assignment of planning the structure of the military force in such a way as to avoid the pitfalls of militarism.

Mr. Strauss is one of the younger members of the cabinet, a progressive, forward-looking man who will be heard from some day in the Councils of statesmen in Europe.

To begin with, the minister impressed upon me that for several years now there has been a campaign of education, conducted by American officials, against militaristic tendencies and this has taken hold. That is why the people didn't want an army. But it is recognized, on the other hand, that Soviet Russia is the common enemy and that Germany is in an exposed position.

"One thing is sure," he said, "Germany will never be a military power on her own again. Theoretically she will belong either to the defense system of the West or to the East, and we are convinced it must be with the West. Our future lies more and more in the direction of a United States of Europe, not necessarily in a formal federation of some kind."

We talked then about the nature of the debate concerning the building of the new defense force in Germany and of the extreme views of some here who would democratize the army, for example, to the point of where the officers would be on a parity with the privates and discipline would be impossible. He argues that the American army is not composed of soft men but that the discipline is pretty fine, and he believes that it is possible to preserve the principles of democracy and still build a fighting army.

As for the kind of command setup that would be best, Mr. Strauss is strongly in favor of a separate army, air force and navy, with a commander for each and a top man to coordinate them under civilian control, somewhat as in the American system of a Joint Chiefs of Staff. There are others in the Adenauer cabinet who lean toward the concept of an over all boss of all the armed services. It is an issue as yet unresolved.

Our talk then turned toward a question that has often been in my mind and which I asked Mr. Strauss: "How did it happen that a nation with as fine a culture as Germany has had, a Germany that produced great poets and writers like Schiller and Goethe and Heine, a people that gave the world some of its greatest scientists and medical men and a nation whom Luther led in a religious crusade could have succumbed to Hitlerism?"

"It is not a simple question to answer," was his reply, "nor is it easy to fix all the responsibility. You had a number of influences working together at the same time. The unwise policies of the Allies, who did not know how to turn their victory in World War I into a reconciliation, was a circumstance that built up a fanatical nationalism in Germany and gave the demagogues their chance. Then, coincidentally, we had selfish industrialists who helped to overthrow the Weimar Republic because they thought they could handle Hitler as their tool, though afterwards many of them were killed by him. Finally, we had an unemployment situation that was catastrophic. Everything combined to let Hitler get into office, and then you know what happened."

"Frankly, as I face the future in building up a defense force, I am more afraid of the dangers of militarism that arise from civilians with militaristic minds than I am from generals."

Minister Strauss told me, incidentally, that Germany now has a surplus of generals and that 1,400 who served in World War II still remain, though many are over-age. He said 40 of the best have been picked for service and the rest have been pensioned.

"What is Russia afraid of?" Mr. Strauss asked, in parting. "A rearméd Germany? Or a rearméd West led by the United States? Russia has nothing to fear from Germany alone, as we will not be in a position again to fight alone on two fronts. So her fear must be of the United States, and that is a baseless fear as we all know."

It was an interview that left an indelible impression of the sincerity so typical of the young men around Adenauer who will lead the coalition when he retires from office.

Hyperion Federation Has Installation Tea

One of the two yearly meetings of the Hyperion Federation was held at the Episcopal Parish House Saturday afternoon, with Mrs. Clyde Angel in charge.

Reports from the clubs' accomplishments were given by Mrs. Obie Bristow for the 1955 Hyperion; by Mrs. E. V. Spence for the 1954 and by Mrs. Milton Talbot for the 1953. Mrs. Hayes Stripling told of the work of the 1954 club, and Mrs. James Duncan reported for the 1953 club. Members of the Jubilee Club, organized recently, were introduced.

Members voted to reduce the fees for each group from $15 to seven dollars and 50 cents. Mrs. Loyd Branon was introduced as a new member of the 1955 Hyperion Club.

The installation of officers was done by Mrs. Norman Read, who told each one of what would be expected of her if the federation were other than a social group. Then she told each what her duties were in accordance with the federation's activities. She presented each officer with an emblem of her office.

Installed were Mrs. R. W. Thompson as president; Mrs. Floyd Mayes (by proxy) as secretary and Mrs. John Taylor as treasurer. Mrs. J. T. Brooks was present as a special guest.

For the tea hour, Mrs. Thompson served at a table laid with a pattern cloth and decorated with pale pink carnations in a silvered bowl. Crystal appointments were used. The next meeting will be the one early in the fall.

First Multi-Color Rose Chosen By National Jury

Only one rose will receive the coveted All-America Rose Selections award for 1956. The prize winning variety is "Circus," a multi-colored Floribunda.

The All-America award is the highest honor given in the flower world, and to win, a rose must come through two years of rigid testing in special gardens located throughout the country. It won through competition over the finest new roses developed in this country and in Europe.

The new rose represents a planned development program of six to eight years carried on by hybridizers and horticulture specialists who sifted their way through thousands of seedlings in their search for a variety worthy of the award.

The new titleholder is the 43rd rose to be added to horticulture's Royal Family since the first winners were announced fifteen years ago.

The first All-America winners were named in 1940, and prize roses have been selected annually since that time. The lone exception came in 1951, in that year, none of the roses in the AARS trials could meet the rigid standards set by the National Rose Jury, so instead of choosing a new winner, the jury selected the ten best All-America roses named up to that time.

"Circus" entered the rose trials in competition with virtually all of the world's leading new varieties in 1953. Test plantings were sent to each of the twenty-two AARS gardens located in different climatic sections of the United States. In these gardens, the rose also encounters a wide variety of soil conditions and must prove its ability to give superior results in all sections of the country.

During the two year period, each plant is checked frequently by qualified judges who grade the entrants on thirteen different points, and score them according to a uniform point system. Important points looked for in a prize-winning rose are hardiness, disease resistance, fragrance, flower form, color and other characteristics necessary to a topflight performance. At the completion of the testing period, total scores are submitted to the National Rose Jury which compiles all data from the far-flung trial gardens.

"Only those receiving the highest scores are considered for an award. The work of All-America Rose Selections and of the judges who operate its trial gardens have been instrumental in raising the rose to the highest standards of beauty and performance in its long and illustrious history.

Today, the gardening public can buy varieties which have proved their worth in all sections of the country. This was not always so. Prior to the establishment of the AARS system, the public was confronted with more than five thousand known rose varieties, and dozens of new ones each year. Their capabilities were almost unknown. This meant that the home gardener had to make his own tests, which were often costly and frustrating.

"Circus" is a unique addition to the illustrious All-America family. It is known as a "multi-color" and is the first such type to be selected for an award. The ever-changing colors of Circus vary in a fascinating way from rich yellow and red in the bud to orange-buff, flushed with apple blossom pink, and usually ending with a gay flourish of red as the flower is fully open.

"Circus" adds charm in other ways besides its color. The bud is beautifully formed, and the many-petaled open flower is high centered and as perfect as a rose can be. The plant is full and well-rounded, low to medium in height, and perfectly suited for a variety of garden uses such as hedges, mass planting, border edgings and formal beds. The foliage is large and glossy, giving the plant a well-tailored appearance even between blooming periods.

After the first day the yellow buds change to apricot-orange, in cool weather they shade into pastel pink and back to red again. The gay, bright colors, changing and shading with infinite variety, suggest the excitement and activity of the "Big Top."

The new winner will be available for planting in the fall of 1955.

Plans were completed for the Cats Canyon Retreat which is to be held on July 23-24.

Mrs. Flewellen gave the report from her guild and Mrs. Bill Estes reported from the Wesleyan Guild. Mrs. Howard Stephens, District WSCS president, spoke appreciatively of the work done by the guild and the help it has been to the unit.

Sixteen local women attended the meeting.

Members of the Turtle Club of St. Thomas Catholic Church met at the home of Mrs. J. D. Jenkins Sunday evening and from there to the City Park where they held a picnic.

The affair was held at the park pavilion where the group played charades. Following the party which was cut short by the rain, the ten who attended went to the home of Mary Harris for additional games.

Members of the Xi Mu (Exemplar Chapter) of Beta Sigma Chi are asked to bring their yearbooks to the meeting Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Travia Carlton, 1905 Johnson.

Mrs. Jewel Richter of Colorado City, district secretary, was in charge of the meeting, which will be held in Big Spring next October. The First Methodist and Wesleyan Methodist guilds are to be hosts.

She Likes Home Permanents

Virginia Gibson, one of the stars of NBC-TV's "So This is Hollywood," is a do-it-yourselfer girl when it comes to care of her hair. She passes on some good suggestions to Lydia Lane.

HOLLYWOOD BEAUTY

Take It Easy With The Sun-Tan, Virginia Says

By LYDIA LANE

HOLLYWOOD—When I first met Virginia Gibson she was a dancer under contract to a major studio but now she is devoting her time and talent to TV. Virginia co-stars on NBC-TV's "So This is Hollywood"—a non-musical production.

"Even though I'm not doing any dancing on the show," Virginia told me when I visited her at NBC, "I'm sticking with my dancing lessons. I live the way it makes me feel. It's wonderful exercise."

"I thought Virginia's hair looked lighter, and I asked what she had done to it.

"It is lighter," she admitted. "I'm a natural redhead, but my hair is actually an auburn tone and I think a lighter shade is more becoming to me."

"I'm my own hair dresser," she informed me when I admired her coiffure. "I used to go to a beauty salon regularly but often when a last minute date came up or I got a hurried call from the studio, I couldn't get an appointment so I learned to do my own hair in self-permanent sessions."

"How often do you have to get a wave?" I asked.

"With my hair so short," Virginia explained, "it gets cut so often I need a fresh wave about every nine or ten weeks."

"Don't you find it hard on your hair using a bleach and getting permanents so often?" I wanted to know.

"No, because I use the very mildest permanent wave and I condition my hair and scalp regularly with an oil treatment. I'm also very careful to have some kind of covering on my hair when I'm in the sun."

Virginia's tan is spectacular and she admitted that she got it by taking the sun in small doses.

"Being a redhead, I have to be extra careful or I turn a lobster red. I make my own suntan lotion out of baby oil and 'Joline'—about six drops of Joline to a small bottle of oil. I usually start out by lying on one side for about 7 minutes, then turning over for another seven minutes. I gradually increase this until I can take an hour or more on each side, and after a few weeks I can stay out as long as I like."

"If you want a really good tan, you might be too eager and try for it in one day. If you do you'll end up red and sore instead of tan and healthy."

Informal Wedding Unites Lamesans In New Mexico

LAMESA, (SC) — In an informal wedding ceremony on May 12 in Lovington, N. M., Pernelia Lou Sharp became the bride of Joseph Winford Drake, both of Lamesa.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Sharp, 713 Nassau Street, Plainview, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Drake of Dallas are parents of the bridegroom.

The double ring ceremony was read by the Rev. J. M. Mahaffey, pastor of the First Methodist Church, in the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Love, who served as the couple's wedding attendants.

The bride wore a light blue tissue taffeta gown designed on princess lines. The fitted bodice was fashioned with a boat neck and short sleeves. Her accessories were of light blue and her corsage was white gardenias.

The bride is a graduate of Plainview High School. She attended Texas Tech in Lubbock for two years before entering Wayland College where she received her degree with a major in English and a minor in elementary education. She is now employed in Lamesa Central Elementary School as a teacher of the second grade.

The bridegroom was graduated from Forrest High School in Dallas before entering East Texas Baptist College. He received his degree with a major in physical education from McMurry College in Abilene, before coming to Lamesa as football and basketball coach of the Junior High School.

People Pleased With Results Shown In Yard Pilgrimage

Small yards of Big Spring were shown Sunday afternoon in the Garden Club Council pilgrimage to prove what can be done with local small plots and a lot of hard work.

Generally speaking, those who attended the pilgrimage were surprised and pleased with what they were shown in the way of flower growing, luxuriant green lawns, fruiting trees and shrubbery.

At the A. A. Marchant home, where the tea was held, the vegetable garden and fruiting trees drew as much if not more attention than the flowers and the well-trimmed and kept lawn.

Mrs. J. N. Lane, whose yard is a profusion of spring flowers, attributes her success in growing such handsome specimen to sowing the seed on top of the ground and keeping it very damp. She says as long as it is so difficult to measure 1-16th of an inch, it is simpler to put it on top and let it sink in.

Outstanding flower grown by Mrs. Lane is a double ruffled petunia, as large as a salad plate.

Tea was served on the terrace at the Marchant's by the council president, Mrs. V. A. Whittington, and other club presidents, who are Mrs. Tip Anderson, Mrs. Rosebud; Mrs. J. W. Dickens, Planters; Mrs. Bruce Frazer, Spaders; Mrs. Don Burk, Green Thumb; and Mrs. D. S. Riley, Big Spring Garden Club.

Others in the houseparty were Mrs. Cliff Wiley, Mrs. John Knox, Mrs. John Coffey, Mrs. Norman Reed, Mrs. Loyd Branon, Mrs. D. M. Fenn, Mrs. J. D. Elliott, Mrs. J. E. Hogan, Mrs. Clyde Angel and Mrs. Robert Stripling.

Planters Club hostesses at the Raymond River home were Mrs. Frank Wilson, Mrs. C. R. McCleeny, Mrs. H. W. Glau, and Mrs. Ennis Cochran.

Mrs. Fred Larting was the Green Thumb hostess at the R. L. Beale home and at J. N. Lane garden the Spaders hostesses were Mrs. Don Williams, Mrs. Allen Orr, Mrs. John Bowman, Mrs. Zack Gray and Mrs. Odie Wilson. At the E. R. Cravens home Mrs. David E. Barker and Mrs. Jackson Friedlander from the Rosebud Club greeted guests.

The proceeds are to go to the council projects.

'Joint's Jumping' As Trip To Paris Nears

By LUCILLE PICKLE

Beginning June the first, the "joint is going to be jumping" at the Adolph Swartz household.

That's when Sandra, twenty-year-old Texas University Junior, and the Swartz' daughter comes home to get ready for a vacation trip to Neuilly-on-the-Seine, France.

Of course there are any number of things that must be taken care of before the young lady sails from New York on June 10.

After she arrives home, she is to plan and have two pre-nuptial parties for friends whose weddings will take place soon. In fact, she is to be a bridesmaid in one of them. Then her parents will leave on June 4 for New York and market. This will probably be restful to Mrs. Swartz but "Sandy" is to remain here for the friends' wedding on the seventh. Then she will fly to New York on the eighth where she will meet the roommate who started all of this.

The roommate is Toni Slaughter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Slaughter who reside in Neuilly-on-the-Seine, a little town on the outskirts of Paris. Mr. Slaughter is a native of San Antonio who met and married Toni's mother in Brazil when Toni was ten years of age. He is with the Paris branch of International Harvester.

During each winter, Toni vacations here with the Swartz family. The girls have been roommates for the past two years. The Slaughter girl has always flown back home but as she is to have a companion this trip, they elected to sail. Miss Slaughter is to leave Austin on June 1 and visit with a cousin in Georgia and plans to arrive in New York on the eighth.

Mrs. Swartz is leaving a lot about transportation over the Atlantic these days. She has found out that the airlines would be delighted to sell a round trip ticket for Sandy but they will not allow her to pre-purchase a ticket by air from Paris to the United States.

She is also doing a lot of figuring about how she can pack all the things a young lady on her first trip to Paris would want and still keep it under 66 pounds which is the air limit. She has been told that each pound over the limit is too dear to be comfortable. Sandy is to make the return trip by air on June 18.

Things sure were simple when she just played dolls.

his 11-day visit to the Red capital, he "found a willingness by Chou En-lai to be friendly," he reported.

Indian Prime Minister Nehru sent Menon, his top foreign affairs adviser, to talk with the Red Chinese Premier about Chou's offer at the Asian-African conference to negotiate directly with the United States on Far Eastern questions.

Menon crossed the border into Hong Kong yesterday. He leaves for home tomorrow.

"I must first report to my Prime Minister," he told reporters who pressed him for more specific information. "You may not have to wait very long for details," he added.

In New Delhi, a Foreign Ministry spokesman said the special envoy had reported "satisfactory progress" in his talks. He said that Menon hopes to give President Eisenhower an account of the Peking discussions when he goes to the United States next month for the United Nations' 10th anniversary celebration in San Francisco.

Asked if he had discussed the American fliers captured by the Chinese in Korea and still imprisoned, Menon replied: "I talked about all subjects that happened to come up."

Advertising helped make the difference

WASHDAY WAS DRUDGERY in Grandmother's day... long hours of sweating, straining, back-breaking work. Today's housewife uses a modern washer and dryer. Manufacturers have reduced washday chores to a turn of a dial.

But to mass produce millions of washers and dryers, manufacturers must be able to sell them by the millions. Only by advertising can a manufacturer talk to millions of people at one time.

ADVERTISING TELLS the story of new home appliances... and helps sell them. The more it sells, the more must be made—keeping the production lines and the jobs going. The result: newer, better home appliances at prices more people can afford to pay. Advertising helped make the difference—in home appliances, and in our American way of life.

East Gets Cool, Wet Weather

It was pretty generally cool and wet in the eastern half of the nation today, but overnight precipitation amounts were mostly less than an inch.

There were a few scattered twisters in the Southwest, but reports of damage were less extensive than for the tornado that ripped through Macon, Ga., Saturday.

Two tornadoes were reported in western Oklahoma, one at Balke in the Panhandle and another near Gage. Two more caused minor damage and were accompanied by scattered deluges of rain on the Southern Plains of western Texas last night.

24 Virginians Die By Violence

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — Twenty-four persons died by violent means in Virginia Saturday and yesterday. It was one of the bloodiest two-day periods in the state's history.

Sixteen persons perished in an automobile accident—five in a head-on crash Saturday near Fredericksburg, three more in another collision yesterday near Jetersville.

Three small children burned to death in a fire yesterday near Charlottesville. Three men, one a Marine pilot and the other two prominent West Virginia businessmen, died in plane crashes.

There were two fatal shootings, one a homicide, the other a suicide.

Driver Concern Shows New IHC Refrigerator

The Driver Truck and Implement Company on the Lamesa Highway now has the International Harvester refrigerator in plentiful supply and on display for your inspection.

The company is proud to announce that the refrigerator is the biggest appliance that will fit in the smallest space. Designed to make the utmost use out of floor space, the refrigerator is a marvel of engineering and it was designed with the customer in mind.

The refrigerator has 8.5 cubic foot capacity and is only 25 inches wide. In this seemingly tiny space, there is a giant 14.3 square feet of shelf space and each of the three shelves are adjustable. A full width freezer and chill tray hold 46 pounds of frozen food and the door has another 5.8 linear feet of shelf area.

For convenience, the refrigerator has a butter keeper, egg racks, and a built-in bottle opener. A large crisper will hold 16 quarts of fruits and vegetables.

The styling is most distinctive. The interior of the box has a "Sunshine Yellow" color with copper trim. You can decorate the exterior to match your kitchen. A famous "decorator" feature lets you match the refrigerator to the curtains, wall or wood paneling. Or you can leave it beautiful white.

The refrigerator is insulated with laminated glass fiber and the compressor has a five-year warranty. Push button defrosting keeps the temperatures at an even temperature and makes the job of defrosting so very easy.

The refrigerator is just one of the many international Harvester products carried at the Driver Truck and Implement Company.

A complete line of tractors, latest design and manufacture, are on display. From the small, but powerful, little Farmall one-plow Cub to the giant all purpose Farmall "400", your tractor needs can be readily supplied.

And other farm supplies are here. Plows, planters, harrow lists, hoes, carriers, mowers and cultivators are on hand for the most particular job. And remember that "fast-hitch" feature of the Farmall tractor line. No wrestling with your accessories. Just back up to them and the "fast-hitch" does the rest.

Stop by and see those tractors and other implements as soon as is possible. And don't forget that refrigerator. It's a real buy in these times of high prices.

Jones Dedicated To Family Car's Care

As essential to an automobile as its wheels is a service station, where the personnel dedicates its efforts to keep your family vehicle running.

The station stocks the fuels necessary to "feed" the engine. In addition, it sees that all tires of the vehicle are kept workable and periodically gives the machine such services as greasing, and the changing of crankcase oil.

One such establishment here is the Jones Humble Service Station, located at 401 Scurry St., owned and operated by Relfer Jones.

As the name suggests, Jones Humble Service Station keeps an adequate supply of the finest Humble premium gasolines and motor oils made today.

Motorists do not always agree on the number of miles a car should be driven before the oil is changed. Whether they change at 1,000 or 5,000-mile intervals, the place to take it is the Jones Humble Service Station.

If a person is in doubt as to the type and grade of oil to use in his car, he can feel free to consult employees of the station about the matter.

The station is located so close to the business district that persons planning downtown shopping hours will find they can leave their vehicles at the concern for servicing and take care of shopping needs, at the same time.

Jones' station is open seven days a week, although it slightly curtails its schedule on Sunday.

Among the types of services, the establishment fixes flats and changes tires.

Kills Household Insects

No-Roach, a liquid insecticide that can be used safely around the house, is claimed by its manufacturer to be a sure-fire means of killing roaches and other household insects. You apply No-Roach by brushing it on baseboards, around draft openings and near the cabinet and sink. One application is said to last for months. Insects pick up the deadly chlordane as they crawl across the painted area.

Restaurant One Of Southwest's Finest

For breakfast, lunch or dinner — or parties of up to 80 people — the Wagon Wheel Restaurant is "Big Spring's Finest."

In fact, it's one of the finest in the entire Southwest, as the establishment's new sign at Fourth and Owens proclaims to highway travelers passing through Big Spring. Conveniently located at Third and Owens, the Wagon Wheel provides its patrons with ample paved parking space, as well as with the finest food that can be prepared. The parking area on three sides of the restaurant is accessible from Third, Owens or Second Street. Travelers on Fourth Street, down a segment of the U. S. 80 Freeway, reach the Wagon Wheel simply by driving north one block on Owens.

The Wagon Wheel, long known as "Big Spring's Finest Restaurant," is now ranked as one of the finest in the entire Southwest, owners and operators of the establishment proudly claim.

It is recommended by Duncan Hines, world-famous gourmet, as well as by the American Automobile Association, H. M. Rainbolt, owner, has announced.

The Wagon Wheel was organized 12 years ago by H. M. and Ruby Rainbolt.

Rainbolt said there has been much thought and study, as well as a lot of hard work, put into the Wagon Wheel to make it the fine restaurant that it is.

"As a result, its reputation and the customers' viewpoint of it as a perfect place to dine is convincing of its success," the veteran restaurateur declared. "Of course, the very best food has always been paramount, as well as good service and cleanliness, but there are so many more things the customers appreciate, such as a variety of food cooked to an appetizing taste and served in a pleasing environment. The customers also appreciate a 'good morning' greeting from the waitress and her interest in his enjoyment of his food."

The Wagon Wheel is not so large that all these features are overlooked and yet it is now large enough to serve promptly any group of up to 80 persons on short notice, Rainbolt said.

The staff of some 30 courteous employees is of the highest type to be found in any restaurant anywhere. The AAA has seen fit to recommend the Wagon Wheel to its many members during the past three years. Duncan Hines also now endorses it to his followers as meeting his specifications of the finest restaurant," Rainbolt concluded.

Gilliland Firm Distributes Elna, Necchi Sew Machines

Gilliland Sewing Machine Exchange, 129 E. 2nd, is the Big Spring agency for two of the most popular sewing machines in the nation — the Necchi and Elna.

Both these famous machines can be viewed at Gilliland's, and demonstrations will be given to all desiring them.

The ingenious Necchi performs 56 different type stitches without the bother of worrisome attachments, and the portable Elna is versatile also — and just as easily operated.

Both these machines will save the housewife untold work, and they enable the women to do things with cloth and thread that was never thought possible.

The automatic attachments on the machines take all the worry and detail off the sewer's mind. The machines sew forward and in reverse, plain or zig-zag. They embroider, sew two rows simultaneously, do "hand-look" hemstitching, make perfect buttonholes, monograms, and sew on buttons, snaps and hooks.

Gilliland Sewing Machine Center is also the agency here for Good Housekeeper models, and a number of secondhand machines are available to supplement the mainline.

Individuals desiring a new or used machine, or those who have machines which need repair are invited to visit Gilliland's.

The shop is equipped for repairing any make and model sewing machine, and all work is guaranteed. Practically any old model can be made to function and look like new, says A. F. Gilliland, owner.

Equipment is stocked for all machine types, and substitute parts are available in quantity. Cleaning and "motorizing" old machines are specialties of the house.

"Ordinarily we can offer a day's service on repair of practically any machine," Gilliland stated. "A customer who brings one for repair today can expect to pick it up tomorrow."

The firm offers free delivery and pick-up service. Phone number is 4-5011.

Rain-Soaked Town May Get More

GENEVA, Ala. (AP)—The threat of more rain hung over this south Alabama community today as townspeople began mopping up flood damage brought by a 12 1/2-inch downpour yesterday.

Many streets were still under water early today. City officials warned that Geneva's dike and drainage system might overflow seriously if the rains begin again.

NEW LIQUID KILLS ROACHES and ANTS
Scientists recommend that you control roaches and ants the modern way — with Johnston's NO-ROACH. Brushed just where you want it, (not a messy spray) the colorless, odorless coating kills these pests. It's effective for months, sanitary, and so easy to use. 8 oz., pint, quart. Available at Safeway, Furr Food Stores, Piggy Wiggy, Red & White, Cunningham & Phillips, Collins Bros., & your local drug or grocery store.

BUZ SAWYER

COLD! MY STARS, IT'S COLD!

GLOWING, SLOWLY, BUZ DRIFTS DOWNWARD, ALTERNATING BETWEEN CONSCIOUSNESS AND GRAY-OUT.

SPLASH!

WHEW! GREAT SCOTTY! I THOUGHT I WAS OVER LAND! WHERE AM I?

THE SHOCK OF THE WATER BONDS HIM TO.

DIXIE DUGAN

YOU MEAN THERE'S SOMETHING WILDER THAN BEAR UP THERE, MR. JAWY WAGGONER?

YEP—A MAN! A WILD MAN! I?/?

NOT WILD IN THE SENSE YOU'RE THINKING—BUT HE'S CONSIDERED FAIRLY DANGEROUS!

HE WENT UP THERE A FEW YEARS AGO, TO LOOK OVER THE PROPERTY LIKE YOU'RE DOING, AND NEVER CAME BACK!

NANCY

BANG BANG BANG BANG BANG

WHAT'S GOING ON IN THERE?

THIS RAIN ISN'T STOPPING SLUGGO AND ME FROM PLAYING COWBOY.

LIT ABNER

IT'S HIM!! THE GENTLEMAN AM SHORT-CHANGED A NICKEL!!

—BUT—IT'S ALL RIPPED!—DON'T SAY WHO HE IS?—OR—MISTAKE—YOU KNOW WHO THIS IS?

SIGH!! I DO!!

KNOW WHAT HE LIVES?

YES—THERE—

MY!—THAT'S A NICE HOUSE! I'D LIKE TO LIVE THERE!!

WHO WOULDNT?

BLONDIE

I'M STARTING AN EGG ROUTE.

AN HONORABLE PROFESSION.

WOULDN'T YOU LIKE A NICE FRESH EGG FOR BREAKFAST EVERY MORNING?

I SURE WOULD.

THE EGGS ARE SEVENTY CENTS FOR A DOZEN.

HERE'S SEVENTY CENTS FOR A DOZEN.

I'LL COME BACK AND GET THE CHICKEN IN TWELVE DAYS.

ANNIE ROONEY

GEEWHIZ, MRS. THATCH, IT AIN'T MY FAULT THAT CAPT. BARK LET THE BOAT SINK INTO THAT OIL FLOATH'N LOG, IS IT?

OF COURSE NOT, CHILD.

HE WAS SO BUSY TELLIN' ME HOW I WAS A STOWAWAY THAT HE WASN'T WATCHIN' HIS STEERIN'—AH, BAM, WE RAN SMACK-DAB INTO THAT MEAN OIL LOG!

SURE—YOU'RE QUITE RIGHT, ANNIE—

—BUT SOMETIMES A BODY CAN BE RIGHT AND STILL BE IN WRONG, IF I WAS YOU I'D KEEP OUT OF O' BARK'S BARKS UNTIL THAT MESS O' LOG IS UNTANGLED COMPLETE!!

SNUFFY SMITH

DOC PRITCHART—TH' STATE MEDICAL EXAMINATOR IS IN VORE WAITIN' ROOM.

OH, LAWSY!! HE FOUND OUT ABOUT ME SEWIN' UP THAT RAFFLE TICKET IN SNUFFY'S PUNKIN HAIR—HE'S COME TO TAKE AWAY MY LICENSE.

IT WUZ A PURE ACCIDENT, DOC—AN' BESIDES, TH' EVIDENCE IS HID IN SNUFFY'S PUNKIN HAIR!

NO, SIREE!! I AINT HIDIN' NO EVIDENCE—I GOT TO OPERATE AGIN' AN' TAKE IT OUT.

I RECKON IT IS TH' ETHIC THING TO DO, DOC—

ETHIC, MY AUNT DOOZIE!! THAT THAR RAFFLE TICKET WON TH' TURKEY.

GRANDMA

AH, THAT BEAUTIFUL RAIN!! WE SURELY DO NEED IT, AN'...

OH, MY GOSH!!

MY WASH ON TH' LINE!!

DONALD DUCK

SAY, DADDY—WHY DON'T YOU HAVE US OVER TO DINNER?

WELL, YOU CERTAINLY AREN'T BASHFUL!

TELL YOU WHAT, I'LL HAVE YOU OVER IF YOU'LL BRING ME A PRESENT AND DO THE DISHES!

IT'S A DEAL!

HMM... BRING A PRESENT AND DO THE DISHES.

HERE WE ARE, PRESENT AND ALL!

JOE PALOOKA

WHERE YA BEEN... HEARD ANYTHING ABOUT DONNIE...?

I FOUND 'EM... AN' TOOK 'EM HOME... EVERYTHING'S CHAY... LET'S GO...

I'LL TELL YA EVERYTHING ON 'M WAY.

...AN' DONNIE WANTED T'GO WITH ME... WOODEN PILL... ISN'T IT...?

MIAMI AIRPORT

YEAH... GEE, KNOBS... YOU'RE A GREAT SPORT!

SCORCHY SMITH

SO NICE OF YOU TO SEE ME HOME... I WAS QUITE FRIGHTENED!

IT WAS VERY NECESSARY THAT I DO—

WHAT DO YOU MEAN?

A LONG STORY MAM, OF A BLACKMAIL OPERATION— I COULD NOT TELL YOU BEFORE FOR FEAR WE WERE BEING WATCHED...

YOU'RE STILL BEING WATCHED, BUB! AND NICK WILL ENJOY HEARING YOU'RE A DOUBLE-CROSSING PUNK!

OAKY DOAKS

A VISITING QUEEN HAS JUST BEEN USHERED INTO KING CORNY'S THRONE ROOM...

TOMATO QUEEN? I DON'T GET IT!

IT'S THE LATEST THING YOUR MAJESTY.

LOTS OF GIRLS GET TO BE QUEEN OF SOMETHING OR OTHER THESE DAYS!

THEY DO??

HOW DID YOU GET TO BE THE TOMATO QUEEN?

THE TOMATO GROWERS' GUILD HELD A CONTEST...

Presbyterians To Vote Today On Two Issues

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Presbyterians vote today on proposals to ordain women as ministers and to criticize what the church terms a progressive trend by Roman Catholics to exalt the Virgin Mother.

The two issues come before the 167th General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States of America, as it resumes business sessions continuing through Wednesday.

The lengthy statement on "the Marian cult in relation to the lordship of Christ and the unity of the church" was offered by the Presbyterian Board of Christian Education on Interchurch Relations.

The commission asked the assembly's 880 lay and clerical delegates representing 2,658,903 church members to approve the statement.

After noting that last year's assembly asked the commission "to study the significance of the Marian Year in relation to Christ's place in the Christian religion and to the unity of the church which we founded," the commission reported in part:

"The festivals in honor of the Virgin Mary which marked the Marian Year of 1954 set in bold relief the status now accorded to the mother of Our Lord in Roman communion.

"In the celebrations of that year the progressive trend to exalt the figure of the Virgin Mother to the office of associate partner in the work of redemption reached its culminating point. Mary of Nazareth has become co-redemptrix with her son.

"Nothing is more distasteful than to subject to unfavorable analysis developments which occur in another Christian communion. Only when such developments affect the very core of the Christian religion... can such a course be justified.

"The development of the Marian cult has widened the breach between the Roman Catholic Church and all other Christian communions.

"In the figure of the Virgin the church of Rome has created a semidivine female being who becomes virtual head of the church, the hope of all who are distressed and the sovereign overlord of all that occurs in history. The devotion to Mary now equals, and even exceeds, the devotion to Christ himself."

The Committee on the Ordination of Women to the Gospel Ministry proposed that the church's constitution be amended to read: "Both men and women may be called to this office."

7 Killed In Truck Crash

CAGLIARI, Sardinia (AP)—Singing turned suddenly into cries of terror late last night when a truck taking 50 persons home from a wedding party plunged into a ravine.

Seven persons were killed and another 20 injured, four of them gravely. The dead included two women, three men, a 14-year-old girl and a 3-year-old girl.

EDWARDS AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP)—Two of the new B-52 Stratofortresses started yesterday for a military show in Washington but came back because they could not have been seen from the ground.

Officials at Bolling AFB, Washington, told the planes to turn around because of poor visibility from the ground.

Quake Recorded

SAN SALVADOR, El Salvador (AP)—A strong earth tremor was felt here today. There were no reports of injuries or damage.

NAACP Executive Secretary Roy Wilkins promised the court battle at a mass meeting yesterday of some 400 Negroes, called to protest the handling of the Rev. George Lee's death.

Wilkins, from New York, charged that an "atmosphere of racial hatred" stirred up by the segregationist Citizens Councils "brought about this slaying."

UNCLE RAY'S CORNER

Are the blind fish of Mammoth Cave the only ones which have been found?

Not by any means! Many fish in the deep ocean are blind, and several kinds of blind fish live in fresh water.

Q. Did the ancestors of blind fish lose their sight before, or after, they started to swim in dark places such as the waters of caves?

A. Scientists believe that the ancestors of present-day blind fish were able to see. After taking up life in caves, the fish were as well off whether they had eyesight or not. Slowly (it is believed) the sense of sight was lost.

Q. Do blind fish have the remnants of eyes?

A. Many of them do; they have markings which look like eyes. Q. What about the blind fish without any markings at the places where their eyes should be?

A. More than two dozen species of blind fish without eye markings have been discovered. This is true of the adults. The young, however, have eyes which start to develop inside the eggs. This may continue after the eyes hatch, but are covered with skin before the young become adults.

Q. What is a characin?

A. A characin is a blind fish of Mexico. It has been found (naturally) only in a single small cave. Fish of this type have been raised, however, for general sale to those who make a hobby of tropical fish. Hundreds of homes in the United States and Europe have one or more of these little blind fish.

After being placed in a tank, a blind cave characin is likely to suffer bumps while it explores its new home. At length, however, it learns the size of the tank and the location of objects inside. Unless things are changed, the fish seldom, if ever, will bump its head during the months which follow. Tomorrow: Fish Which Walk.

Atom Ships Seen As Way To U.S. Maritime Power

NEW YORK (AP)—A member of the Federal Maritime Board says atom-powered ships could make the United States "the pre-eminent maritime nation of all history."

Joseph Minetti, speaking yesterday at a celebratory National Maritime Day, said a planned sister ship of the 53,000-ton United States might have atomic propulsion.

Service For Queen Raises Graham Stock

WINDSOR, England (AP)—American evangelist Billy Graham's prestige rose to new heights in Britain today after his first sermon for Queen Elizabeth and the royal family.

The 36-year-old American preached at the Queen's invitation for 25 minutes yesterday in the private chapel at Windsor's royal lodge, 20 miles west of London. Afterward he and his wife lunched with the Queen and the Duke of Edinburgh.

The Queen and the duke drove over from nearby Windsor Castle for the private service, which was attended also by the Queen Mother and Princess Margaret. It was Graham's first meeting with the Queen.

"I can only say that it was a great privilege to be at Windsor today and that the Queen was very charming and gracious to us," he told reporters.

Other sources said Graham took as his text "Acts 17:25: 'Wherefore, alms, be of good cheer: for I believe God, that it shall be eved as he told me.'"

Queen Elizabeth is titular head of the Church of England. Although her church has never officially endorsed Graham's crusades, it has given them strong support.

Graham is ordained a Southern Baptist minister but has emphasized an interdenominational approach in his crusades.

He wound up his seven weeks of public meetings in Scotland and London Saturday night with an impassioned sermon before 90,000 in the capital's Wembley Stadium. The meeting was broadcast by the British Broadcasting Corp.

Graham's aides said attendance at his meetings in Britain this year totaled 3,139,365.

Graham left for Edinburgh last night to attend a general assembly of the Church of Scotland. Next Sunday he will go to Paris to begin crusade meetings on the Continent.

NAACP Promises Fight On Mississippi Voting Laws

MELZONI, Miss. (AP)—The National Assn. for Advancement of Colored People pledged legal war against Mississippi's voting laws today after the death of a Negro civil rights leader under mysterious circumstances.

NAACP Executive Secretary Roy Wilkins promised the court battle at a mass meeting yesterday of some 400 Negroes, called to protest the handling of the Rev. George Lee's death.

Wilkins, from New York, charged that an "atmosphere of racial hatred" stirred up by the segregationist Citizens Councils "brought about this slaying."

Lee was found fatally injured when his car crashed into a house. The FBI laboratory said specks of metal around his face resembled buckshot.

Negro leaders believe he was killed for urging other Negroes to register to vote in Humphreys County, where Negroes outnumber whites.

Sheriff Ike Shelton called Lee's death "one of the most puzzling" he has ever handled.

How To Keep Man

Dear Miss Brandow: What are a few little things that a girl can do to impress a boy? How about some hints on "how to keep your man"?

Barbara

"One man's meat is another man's poison," tis said, and one fellow's dream girl could possibly rate "the least" with another boy, but of course even though no sure fire list can be drawn up, there are certain basic do's and don'ts that apply to all girl-boy relationships.

Do be ready on time for your date. Do pay more attention to him than any other boy present. Do act interested, if not informed, on his subject of conversation.

Do dress appropriately for the occasion and do consider his bill-fold. Don't try to dictate anything to him. Let him make decisions unless he specifically asks you to. Don't giggle too much or act silly.
